...ERALS SURRENDER ...D GENERAL VILLA IN ...TRUGGLE AT TORREON

...spatches From American Consul Say Truce Has Been Granted and Leaders of Both Sides Are Arranging Terms

...LASCO PLEADS TO VILLA ...R LIVES OF SOLDIERS

...deral General Asked for Three Hours' Armistice to March His Troops Out of City With Honors

(By Associated Press.)
EAGLE PASS, Tex., April 1.—Dispatches from the American consul at Durango forwarded to Washington via this city are reported today to announce that a federal commander at Torreon had agreed to surrender to General Villa, that a truce has been granted and that a general and constitutionalist commanders have met and are today arranging the terms of capitulation.

A telegram sent from the front last night by George C. Caruthers, United States government representative, received today, says all foreigners in the threatened district are safe, including H. Clifford Cummins, British consul at the Palacio. The telegram makes no reference to the military situation.

...ants Volunteers to Be Saved From Death

EAGLE PASS, Texas., April 1.—General Velasco first called for a three-hour armistice and offered to surrender if the garrison could march out with honors of war, and if Villa would parole the officers and guarantee not to kill the volunteers as he had threatened. The dispatch announced the truce and offer of surrender has been forwarded to Washington.

William H. Blocker, American consul at Piedras Negras, refused to reveal the contents of the dispatch from Durango, but admitted that the message had been received and forwarded to Secretary Bryan.

According to information from authoritative sources, General Villa had taken the railroad station in Torreon, and for the past two days has been working his way from house to house to...ward the center of the city.

It is said that Villa has nearly half a town with an appalling loss of...m both sides.

Last night General Velasco sent out white flag and asked for three hours' truce, to present a proposition for surrender. The truce was granted and the...deral commander's offer to turn over the city with all military stores if the lives of all officers and men were assented.

It is understood that Villa at first refused at this, saying that many of the garrison, including General Orozco, ...d is said to be in Torreon, were traitors and must be executed. It is said that another armistice was arranged for today, however, and that Villa would probably accept the offer of the federal commander.

It is known that a federal column of reinforcements left Saltillo for Torreon March 30, but as all railroad lines...re cut it will require several days for the relieving force to arrive at Torreon.

...ews Eagerly Awaited Of Result at Torreon

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 1.—Juarez hotel today for definite news of Villa's position in his attack on Torreon. Reports received by General Carranza last night stated that fighting still was in progress.

Carranza today seemed confident that the military chieftain would conquer the federals under general Rufugio Velasco. The reports that heavy reinforcements for the federal garrison approaching Torreon did not shake his confidence.

Both armies are said to be so worn and exhausted by continued fighting that the present action marks the climax of the rebel conquest of Gomez Palacio.

The new column reported marching to the relief of General Velasco was said to be under the command of General Joaquin Maas and to number 4,500 men.

To meet him it was reported General Teodelero Herrera was detailed by General Villa. An engagement between these forces was expected hourly.

General Carranza today informed American, British and German consuls that reports of the fall of Torreon were premature.

...suna Said to Have Taken Sides With Revolutionists

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 1.—Andrew Osuna, of this city, Spanish translator in the publishing house of the Southern Methodist church and a volunteer in the army of Lower California, when told of Washington dispatch today, said his brother had gone over to the revolutionists, having revolted at Huerta's commands to enlist the people in the army. The message from Washington dispatch is a Mexican ship, according to Osuna. Governor Osuna's wife and nine children are reported being here.

...Ship Seized by Governor Said Not to Be Spanish

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Delayed reports to the state department concerning the reported capture by the rebels and sinking of the Spanish steamer Bolita, make it appear that, as reported a week ago from La Paz, Lower California, Federal Governor Osuna revolted, seized the Bonita and with a volunteer crew, including the prisoners in the local jail and $50,000, taken from business houses, sailed for unknown destination. State department advices make no mention of the reported sinking of the ship, and they also indicate that it was a Mexican and not a Spanish vessel which destroyed the incident of international significance.

CONVICT FLOGGINGS REDUCED TO HALF, SAYS NEW WARDEN

Charles H. Girardeau Makes Many Recommendations in His First Report on Conditions in Fulton's Camps

OPPOSES CHAINING OF SLEEPING PRISONERS

More Cooks Needed So as to Insure Better Preparation of Food, Says Report of New Warden

The first monthly report of Charles H. Girardeau, who was named warden following the recent shake-up in the county convict camps, shows that whippings under the new regime have been reduced by more than 50 per cent. He admits the truth of the report that the food served the convicts was bad in some instances and makes a number of recommendations for further reforms in the system.

Evidences of a little clash between Girardeau and the man he succeeded as warden, S. Donaldson, the present superintendent of public works, were also contained in the report.

Mr. Girardeau says that he finds that frequently the food of the convicts is poorly prepared and the foodstuffs not judiciously selected. Accordingly he asks the authority of the board to employ experienced cooks when none are to be found in the camps, and to put some of the present cooks to work on the roads.

"The chaining of the men together in sleeping quarters seems barbarous to me," Warden Girardeau states. "and I recommend that they not be chained in sleeping quarters even if it is necessary to employ an additional night guard to make certain that they do not escape."

REFORM STARTED.

This reform has been put into effect already at the Bellwood camp, the Adamsville camp (white) and the Sandy Springs, or colored honor camp.

In addition a move to employ cooks for the camps, when he deems it necessary, he recommends that a better grade of flour than that now used be purchased for the convicts; a better grade of molasses also, and he further recommends that a mill be erected at the Bellwood camps in order that the county can manufacture its own meal. He recommends that a number of cows be purchased in order to supply the convict hospital with milk. He also recommends the abolishment of allowing employes of the public works department to keep their own chickens about the convict camps and recommends that the county buy chickens of its own for use of the convicts.

DENTIST NEEDED.

While the health of the convicts generally is good, the warden says that it would be well to have the employment of a dentist to care for the teeth of the men. In support of this recommendation he read a letter from Dr. Paul McDonald, the physician of the camps, urging the necessity of a dentist.

Warden Girardeau asserts in the report that when he took charge of the camps a shortage was found that was owing to a misunderstanding of the action of the grand jury and the prison commission, though that fact could not be compelled to work and accordingly were motionless.

He went immediately to every camp and talked personally to the men, telling them that the rules of the prison commission could and would be enforced to the letter.

As the result of his prompt action he asserts that there has been a marked improvement in the conduct of the men.

Fully 75 per cent of the men, he asserts, are doing their work well. The other 25 per cent of the 760 convicts in Fulton county are mental, moral and physical degenerates, he says, and many of them are unable to do any work, while others can do very little. They came to the camps subject to all sorts of diseases he says.

In his report the warden explained that he made this statement in view of the fact that the superintendent of public works had repeatedly stated that the men are not working.

Girardeau was asked by the board to explain this remark, and said that after hearing repeatedly that Superintendent Donaldson claimed that the convicts were not working, he went to him, and Donaldson told him that he did not think that the men were working properly and that they seemed mutinous.

Mr. Girardeau added that there had been quite a bit of shirking, when he first took charge, and that some of the convicts had refused to work on the claim that they were ill. Some of them were examined by the physician and found to be in good health and were forced to work, he said. The situation, however, he said, has greatly improved.

Recommendations are also made in a motion that the guards be instructed to make a special report to the warden on the men's conditions.

During the month of March only thirty-five convicts were whipped, Girardeau says, according to Mr. Girardeau, the whippings in the camps averaged between eighty and ninety per month.

The men were whipped last month, he said, for mutiny, for laziness, for cursing and for gambling.

The majority of the recommendations of Mr. Girardeau, which included a plan that the showers baths for the convicts be installed as quickly as possible, were referred to the public works committee with power to act. The others will go the entire board for action at the next meeting.

NEGRO ON TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Burrett Hickman, a negro, was placed on trial in the criminal division of the superior court Wednesday afternoon charged with the murder of a white man, E. G. Bennett, formerly night watchman for the Seaboard Air Line railroad at Inman Yards.

The tragedy occurred on February 27, and the negro was still weak from his wounds, when he went on trial for his life.

League's Motive To Make People Sit Correctly

Posture League Incorporated in New York—Standing Properly Also One of Aims

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 1.—The American Posture league, whose object is to make people stand and sit properly, was incorporated yesterday in Albany.

The league is working to have proper seats put in schools, shops and other places where present seats are conducive to unhealthy attitudes.

Seats in the new Brooklyn Rapid Transit subway are being constructed in accordance with its recommendations.

Miss Jessie H. Bancroft, assistant director of physical training in New York schools, founded the league, and is its president.

GOV. SLATON EXPECTED TO ANNOUNCE STAND SUNDAY

General Belief Is That He Will Enter Race for U. S. Senate

Although Governor Slaton continues his sphinxlike attitude relative to his future political plans the politicians confidently expect him to announce his intentions within the next few days, probably in the newspapers next Sunday, following the meeting of the state Democratic executive committee on Saturday.

The belief is general that the governor will announce himself a candidate for the unexpired term of the late Senator Bacon, making this another three-cornered affair, Congressman T. W. Hardwick and Attorney General W. J. Peeler having already announced for his office.

Senator W. S. West, appointed by Governor Slaton as the ad interim successor to Senator Bacon, has not yet made known his plans, but he is expected to do so before the meeting of the state committee on Saturday.

Should Senator West announce to succeed himself Governor Slaton will not, of course, be a candidate against his own appointee, but will either announce for the long senatorial term in opposition to Senator Hoke Smith, or stand for re-election to the governorship.

The general impression is that Governor Slaton will either be a candidate for the short senatorial term or seek re-election as governor with chances largely favoring the former proposition, it not being expected that Senator West will be a candidate.

There is much speculation as to whether Governor Slaton, in the event he announces for the senate, will resign the governorship. The governor is as silent on this point as he is on all others touching his political future.

Should Governor Slaton resign after April 7—six months before the regular state election.—J. Randolph Anderson, of Savannah, president of the state senate, will by operation of law, become governor for the remainder of Governor Slaton's term, which does not expire until the legislature meets in June, 1915.

THREE MEMBERS OF ONE FAMILY ARE FOUND SLAIN

Murderers of Jacob Seivers, Wife and Son, Near Clinton, Tenn., Leave No Clue

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 1.—Jacob Seiers and wife were found dead this morning in their home near Clinton, Tenn., about two miles distant at his home there, son, Millar Seivers, was also found dead.

The tragedy is unexplained, there being no clue as to the authorship of the deeds. Robbery and personal spite are both said to be absent.

PITTSBURG BANK CUTS SURPLUS BY $600,000

PITTSBURG, April 1.—To avoid larger participation in the federal reserve bank soon to be organized under the new currency system, the German National bank of Allegheny today divided among its stockholders a dividend of 30S per cent, amounting to $600,000.

The bank had accumulated a surplus of $800,000 and as every national bank must subscribe to the stock of the federal reserve bank in proportion to its capital and surplus, it was decided to reduce the surplus. F. N. Hoffstot, of New York, is president of the bank.

JOURNAL'S EDITORIAL USED IN TOLL FIGHT

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—In his speech closing the debate for the repeal of free Panama canal tolls, Congressman Adamson used an editorial from The Atlanta Journal of March 26. The editorial in full appears in today's edition of the Congressional Record and is regarded as one of the most illuminating and convincing written arguments in advocacy of the administration's position.

The editorial from The Journal appears under the heading "The Whys and 'Hows' of the Canal Tolls Question," and was written in answer to a letter received by The Journal from one of its readers.

Congressman Adamson, who is chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee of the house and who drafted the original Panama canal act, bearing his name, was in sole charge of the administration fight in the house. He opened and closed the debate, and his speeches were among the most notable contributions to the memorable discussion.

Arrayed against the Georgian in the tolls fight were each of the house leaders—Speaker Clark, Majority Leader Underwood, Minority Leader Mann, Progressive Leader Murdock and Representative John J. Fitzgerald, appropriations committee chairman. Adamson was moreover a match for this galaxy of congressional talent. He never lost a trick throughout the fight, and the administration victory was no more of a recognition of the strength and popularity of the president than it was a tribute to the sagacity of the congressman from the Fourth district.

COTTON EXCHANGE BILL MUST HAVE TEETH IN IT

Senator Smith's Measure Will Be Approved, Chairman Levy Indicates

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—"If the Smith cotton futures bill has teeth it will be reported favorably by the committee on agriculture and passed by the house within three weeks," declared Representative Lever, of South Carolina, chairman of the committee, today, "if the bill hasn't teeth to check the practices and reform the methods of the exchange it will be amended by us to make it effective."

Mr. Lever said the agriculture committee might allow hearings on the bill to be limited to two days.

"There is no occasion for extended hearings," he said. "The question is familiar to congress, but we do not wish to be placed in the attitude of taking snap judgment."

Southern members of congress feel an interest in the reported desire of certain cotton operators in New York to have certificated by the New York exchange the cotton that was rejected by the classification on March contracts. They are watching closely to see if the classification for May is less rigid than it was for March with a view to depressing the price of May options on the exchange, thereby increasing the disparity between the futures and the actual spots in the south. Representative Heflin, of Alabama, said yesterday that if such manipulations were sanctioned by the exchange he thought the matter should be investigated by the department of justice.

LAFOLLETTE TO TALK ON RATE CASE INFLUENCES

Wants Bill to Prevent Interference of Proceedings Before Acted On

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Senator La Follette today introduced a bill to make unlawful any attempt to influence any proceeding before the interstate commerce except in accordance with its regulations, and says notice he would speak tomorrow presenting evidence of efforts to influence the commission in connection with the western rate case now pending.

COUNCIL TO ACT TODAY ON BONDS FOR HOSPITAL

Plaza Bonds Will Also Be Considered, as to Proper Date for Submitting Them

The general council Wednesday afternoon at an adjourned special meeting will take action in regard to the proposed $750,000 bond issue for Grady hospital and possibly in regard to the proposed $2,000,000 bond issue for the plaza.

The supporters of the movement for a larger and greater Grady hospital are asking that council submit the hospital bond issue to the voters of Atlanta on May 5, which is the date for the county primary. Council already has indicated its willingness to comply with this request.

With reference to the plaza bond issue there is a difference of opinion as to the proper time for submitting the issue to the people. Some favor submitting it on May 5, along with the Grady bond issue, but on fixed that the voters will pass separately on each proposed issue. Others entertain the opinion that it would be better to defer the plaza bond election until after the legislature has adjourned, inasmuch as the consent of the legislature must be obtained before the plaza can be built.

Mayor Woodward is inclined to the latter opinion, and it is altogether possible that the general council Wednesday afternoon will decide to leave the plaza bond issue alone for the present and take it up toward the latter part of the summer.

HOKE SMITH WILL LEAD TOLLS REPEAL BATTLE IN SENATE

President Wilson Summons Georgian to White House for Conference on Fight to Be Waged for Sims Bill

SENATOR PLANS SHORT REST BEFORE IT BEGINS

Administration Leaders Plan to Force Committee to Make Report on Measure in Reasonable Time

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—After the smashing administration victory in the house yesterday, in which Speaker Clark and the ship subsidists were crushed overwhelmingly, the canal tolls fight shifted to the senate today, where for the next four or five weeks it will hold the center of the stage.

In the senate, as in the house, a large part of the burden of defending the policy of the administration will be shouldered by a Georgian, Senator Smith. Smith is priming himself to take an active hand in the fight against the free tolls subsidy, and his colleague, Senator West, has assured the president of his purpose to stand with the administration.

Senator Smith was summoned to the White House last night for a conference with the president concerning the fight in the senate. He acted mostly an hour canvassing the situation in all of its phases with Mr. Wilson. Other than to admit that the tolls question was the subject of the conference the senior senator today would not discuss his interview with the president. It is expected, however, that he will become one of the leaders in the senate, owing to the fact that Senator O'Gorman, of New York, chairman of the inter-oceanic canal committee having charge of the bill, is lined up squarely against the administration.

It will be a week or ten days before the debate gets under way in the senate, as the repeal bill must first be referred to the canal committee.

Pending its report there may be some desultory debate on the subject in general, but no one can be induced to speed the measure to a vote.

SMITH TO TAKE REST.

Pending the delay, Senator Smith probably will take a week's rest at Asheville, N. C., on the advice of Dr. Hoyle, his physician. The senator has never fully recovered his strength since he suffered an attack of the grip on his return from his late colleague's funeral, and Dr. Ruffin regards it as imperative that he take his vacation now, for the time being, otherwise he may break down completely under the strain.

The speech of the senior Georgian in the house yesterday was a surprise only in the unexpected strength developed by the administration. The victory was more complete than had been looked for. The vote developed that the Democrats are less divided than are the Republicans. Whereas 21 per cent of the Republicans voted with the president, and against their leadership, only 13 per cent of the Democrats followed Speaker Clark or the Democratic administration.

The speaker's appeal to the house, while dramatic and remarkable in some respects, was reflective of his leadership. As a eulogy of himself the speech could not have been improved upon, but as an argument for the free tolls subsidy, it did not compare in merit to scores of other addresses heard in the memorable debate. It did not go to the merits of the question, and as an argument was not in line with the speech delivered by Congressman Adamson, of Georgia, in conclusion.

HELPED THE REPUBLICANS.

There is no questioning the fact that as a party measure, to be lined against the administration and the Democratic party, the speech was a success. The speaker took the stump for democracy with a vengeance, the effect of which to make them solid on the issue. It is regarded as fortunate in this section, however, that the press of the country, as reflecting public sentiment without regard to partisan politics, is against the speaker and with the president in the fight against the subsidy and for the preservation of the national honor.

Representatives Henry, of Texas; Palmer, of Pennsylvania; Sherley, of Kentucky, and Hardwick, of Georgia.

FAIR WEATHER THURSDAY, IS FORECASTER'S PROMISE

Showers and Sloppy Streets to Take Temporarily Back Seat

Fair weather for Thursday is the weather bureau's forecast, and the news will be received with much joy. During the past several days Atlanta has been a dreary city with uncertain showers and sloppy streets, and the weather man, in self-defense, has had to change the weather on the letter.

He predicts a drop in temperature Thursday night, but says that it will not amount to much, the mercury will probably go to 43 degrees.

FOUR POLICE WOMEN NAMED FOR PITTSBURG

They Will Look After Young Girls and Keep Eye on Liquor-Selling Cafes

(By Associated Press.)
PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1.—C. P. Hubbard, director of public safety, today announced the appointment of four police women, the first in Pittsburg. They are attached to the secret service department and their names are known to none but the director and the officer to whom they will report. Their activities will be confined solely to looking after the welfare of women.

They will direct young girls coming to the city to places of safety and investigate violations of the law in cafes where liquor is served to women.

$200,000,000 BOND ISSUE AUTHORIZED FOR A. C. L.

RICHMOND, Va., April 1.—Atlantic Coast Line stockholders, in called meeting here today, authorized a bond issue of $200,000,000 at 4 1-2 per cent, to retire the outstanding $50,000,000 of the 4 per cent issue of November 18, 1909, closing the mortgage of that date, and for other purposes.

BURNS MAY REPORT ON FRANK CASE THIS WEEK

Detective Expected to Return to Atlanta Thursday—Work Nears Completion

The final report of William J. Burns in which he claims he will name the murderer of Mary Phagan and demonstrate that person's guilt to the satisfaction of every fair-minded man, is expected within the present week.

Guy W. Biddinger, of New York, one of his chief lieutenants, has been in Atlanta since Saturday working incognito on the case in conjunction with Dan S. Lehon, of New Orleans, another lieutenant of the Burns forces, and their reports will be completed Wednesday, according to Mr. Biddinger. Then, in all probability, if the report of Burns will be completed and made public within a few days.

Burns is expected to return to Atlanta Thursday morning at the latest, Mr. Biddinger says.

Biddinger, the man who Burns says "drove a coach and four through the Quebec legislature" in the recent graft probe, arrived Saturday and "put one over" on reporters by simply registering at the Georgian Terrace hotel as "G. B. Butler, of Chicago."

Since that time withe Mr. Lehon he has gone carefully over the Phagan case in its various angles.

WORKED ON CASE FROM START.

"I took up the case as if it were an absolutely fresh crime," he says. "I worked it out from the beginning."

"Well do you think there is any truth in the defense's charge that much of the case against Leo Frank was framed?" was another question.

"I should think that a number of the affidavits which have already been published, are enough for the public to draw its own conclusions on that point," he replied.

Biddinger started his work by going over the National Pencil factory, the scene of the crime, and it has been learned that he has made frequent trips to the factory, both at night and in the day.

While not a word will either of the Burns men say about specific phases of the case, both Lehon and Biddinger say that much evidence, absolutely new to the public, has been turned by the investigation and will be included in the report.

Both reiterate the confident statement of Burns that they are certain the mystery about the case will be dispelled by Burns' final report.

They were both loath to give an estimate as to the length of time which will probably elapse before the final report is published.

"We are ready," they say, "to hand in our report just as soon as Mr. Burns arrives. Our work may not meet with his approval, and his report may be delayed. Both of us think, however, that he will make the report within a few days after his arrival.

WILL FINGHT AMENDMENTS.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey is making a close study of the law to determine whether the filing of amendments to the extraordinary motion for a new trial can be blocked.

The solicitor will make no statement about the case, but it is known he has been making a close study of the point with a view to combating the more or less certain efforts of the defense to amend the motion which was served on him last Friday.

As a result a court fight is generally expected when the defense attempts to incorporate into the motion any additional new evidence that may have been discovered by William J. Burns or agents of the defense.

At the time the solicitor was served with the extraordinary motion attorneys or Frank stated they had the right to amend.

Burns, whose mysterious mission in New York has been completed, was expected by the attorneys for the Frank defense also by his own agents to return to the city Tuesday. He failed to arrive, and in the absence of any explanation, it is expected to arrive from the east.

Burns' mission to New York, it is said, did not involve either H. F. Becker or Mrs. Nina Formby, but an entirely new angle to the case.

J. L. ROBB IS APPOINTED POSTMASTER AT CAMDEN

WASHINGTON, April 1.—J. L. Robb has been appointed postmaster at Camden, Camden county, vice H. J. Hayes resigned. Rural route No. 1, serving 300 families, established to commence June 1, at Colesburg.

SAYS KIDNEY REMEDY ACTS LIKE MAGIC

I have been a terrible sufferer for a number of years with kidney and liver trouble, also nervous prostration. My health generally poor, constitution entirely run down until life became a burden. I tried physicians and every available remedy but found no relief. Was induced to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a trial, which acted like magic, and am happy to say that I believe I am entirely cured and now as good a man as ever.

I believe it my duty to make this public statement that I may help others who may be suffering from the same trouble. Swamp-Root is without question the greatest remedy in the world. Any doubt of this statement or of the authenticity can address me as below.

Yours very truly,
M. H. McCOY,
Van Wert, Ohio.

State of Ohio, } ss.
Van Wert County, }

The foregoing statement sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 18th day of July, 1909, by the said M. H. McCoy.

R. C. GILPIN, Notary Public.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You.

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing be sure and mention The Atlanta Daily Journal. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

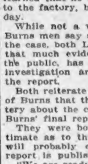
CATARRH RELIEF IN FIVE MINUTES

Use Hyomei—You Breathe It



When your head is stuffed up from a cold or catarrh, and you suffer with dull headache, or are constantly sniffling, coughing, and have that disagreeable morning chicking, you need a remedy that will give the quickest, most effective and lasting relief possible—something that will go right to the spot, clear the head and throat and end your misery.

Surely use Hyomei—It is just such a remedy—is entirely harmless and pleasant to use. All druggists sell it.

The antiseptic oils of Hyomei are vaporized with the air you breathe, so that its healthgiving medication immediately reaches the sore and inflamed mucous membrane—you feel better in five minutes. It is practically impossible to use Hyomei and not only be relieved, but permanently benefited.

Always sold with agreement to refund your money if you are not satisfied. Ask for the complete outfit—$1.00 size. It contains inhaler and bottle of Hyomei.—(Advt.)

A SURE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp—At Once.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need) apply it at night when retiring: use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.—(Advt.)

French Remedy for Stomach Troubles

The leading doctors of France have for years used a prescription of vegetable oils for chronic stomach trouble and constipation that acts like a charm. One dose will convince you. Several cases of years' standing are often greatly benefited within 24 hours. So many people are getting surprising results that we feel all persons suffering from constipation, lower bowel, liver and stomach troubles should try Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. It is now sold by Jacobs' Pharmacy.—(Advt.)

BILL ON RURAL CREDITS WILL BE READY SOON

Committee Chairmen Tell President Wilson Fundamentals Are Agreed On

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Senator Hollis, of New Hampshire, and Representative Bulkley, of Ohio, chairmen of the two subcommittees in charge of rural credits legislation, told President Wilson today that Republicans and Democrats alike of their committees were unanimously agreed on the fundamentals and that a bill would be ready shortly embodying their views. The president impressed his callers with what seemed to him to be a necessity for prompt action and were told in detail of the program. Mr. Bulkley believed rural credits would follow the appropriation bills in the house.

In the senate Mr. Hollis said the committee today and appropriation bills would occupy many weeks, but that rural credits would be disposed of ahead of the trust question.

CAMPBELL KID MAN IS PAYING ATLANTA A VISIT

Len M. Fralley, of Soup Concern, Tells of Times When He Traveled in South

Len M. Fralley, the Campbell Kid man, the man who directs the advertising of Campbell's soups, is visiting Atlanta and recalling the days when he was a jelly drummer in this territory. Mr. Fralley is secretary and a director of the Joseph Campbell company of Camden, N. J. He graduated into that position from the road by the simple process of transferring his selling methods to paper and growing up with one of the biggest businesses in the country.

"I covered this southern territory of sixteen states for fifteen years," said he, looking over the Georgia metropolis and trying to find some reminders of the little town he used to visit here. Preserves and jellies and things of that order were my line. I used to sell jelly all around through this country at 60 cents a pail, delivered. It always took four months for me to get over my territory, hitting nothing but the high spots.

"The Campbell company wasn't making soup then. Now it makes nothing but soup and pork-and-beans. Often our factories turn out a million and a half cans of soup in a day during the tomato season.

Mr. Fralley talked interestingly of the growth of the soup business. Nineteen years ago he quit the road to take charge of the sales force of the company. Another man directed what little advertising was done. Two years later the Campbell company began its soup business. That was seventeen years ago. At first the soup end of the manufacturing was inconsiderable enough. Gradually it grew. About ten years ago the Campbell Kid was discovered as an advertising asset. The company began to use it more generally, with catchy little verses. The soup business outgrew everything else, and now the Campbell Kid is known around the world and the word "soup" is synonymous with the name "Campbell."

"We have distributed 280,000 Campbell Kid dolls in the last two years," said Mr. Fralley Wednesday. "Each one is an advertisement for us. Children are playing with those little dolls today in practically every country in the world. Nations that never knew what real soup was are learning to eat Campbell's. Our car card advertising has developed from nothing to the point last year where we displayed them everywhere. Our newspaper advertising has grown to tremendous proportions. We have made people want Campbell's soup, and we have made the soup so excellent that they wanted more when they tasted it once.

"Quality has been our aim from the very start. We have made the soup famous on the basis of its quality. We buy absolutely nothing but the best raw product."

The company contracted last year, said Mr. Fralley, for the output of 6,000 acres of tomatoes, in addition to those it grew on its own farm at Camden. That farm comprises 230 acres, said Mr. Fralley, and is located in what many consider the world's best truck-growing section. It was established as an experimental farm, for the purpose of educating the New Jersey truck farmers to the cultivation of nothing but the most perfect vegetables. There is a laboratory on it, in charge of an expert agricultural chemist. There, too, are greenhouses in which the finest possible specimens of vegetables are cultivated. In order to develop a decided tomato seedling, for instance, as many as 10,000 plants of many varieties will be grown. This work is in charge of S. F. Hall, the president of

Georgia Boy Composes Song in Honor of Visit Of Shriners to Atlanta

The "song of the Shri[ners" has been] discovered by Forrest [Adair with the] aid of the young lady [who plays the] piano all day long in [Kress' viaduct] store. It is the work of a [Georgia boy] who recently came back [home from the] west after making a [reputation out] there in music circles [as a composer] and player. Arthur C. [Wilson is his] name. His native home [is Milledge]ville. And the name of [the song is] "You Are Welcome to [Atlanta—We'll] Be Sorry When You Go."

"It is a crackerjack [a "dandy" is] the estimate the potentate puts on it. "With a [ate of Yaarah] full orchestration of [will send the] and every glee club [to every band] and other musical aggregation [quartet and] coming to Atlanta. We will [that is com]playing it before they [have them all] everybody will be [get here, and] singing it and dancing [selling it and] during Shrine week. [he tango to it] that catches the ear.

The "song of the [got a swing] ision here next [trinera" prom]ised to be the hit of [the big occa]sion here next [The Shriners] not only will allow [dedication, but] will boost it by march[ing and dancing] to the music of it and [ranging it every]where they go.

Pickaninny, Chastised By Ma, Roams Street A la September Morn

His name was Clarence Banks, he was ten years old and black as tar. Early Tuesday afternoon Clarence's ma whipped him severely. To prevent Clarence running away, his mother took all his clothes off and locked him in a room by himself.

All ready for bed with the exception of his pajamas, Clarence decided that locked doors do not [illegible] make for lack of clothes a escape.

So about 4 o'clock the police received a call from Hunter street that a wild animal was hiding beneath a residence there. Sergeant Reed and Officer McWilliams hastened to the "jungle" with all speed in the patrol wagon.

Sergeant Reed peered beneath the house, saw the gleaming eyes and the shiny black body. He called to the "animal" and Clarence came forth.

Clarence informed the officers that he was getting cold, on condition that he parade himself no longer about the highways a la September Morn, he was taken to his home, six blocks away and restored to his mother and his garments.

THREE MEN ARE HELD FOR ROBBING MAIL CAR

Fields, Perry and Grant Locked in Tower in Lieu of $5,000 Each

Charged by a federal warrant with having robbed the mail car on the Queen and Crescent route near Birmingham, Ala., of $40,000 on the night of February 16, Rexford F. Fields, Arthur O. Perry and William B. Grant, alias "Des Moines Bill," arrested here by the local police at 89 Brookline street, were Wednesday morning taken before United States Commissioner Carter and ordered held under bond of $5,000 each.

The commissioner also set April 18 as the date for the preliminary hearing.

Though the crime for which the alleged "yeggs" are wanted was committed in Alabama they may be held here for their preliminary hearing. It is possible, however, that they may be taken to Birmingham before the date named.

Following the arrest of the men on Brookline street by Sergeant Bullard, Plain Clothes Officer Shaw and Harry Scott, of the Pinkertons, who claim to have found a complete "yegg" outfit and cans of nitroglycerin hidden under the house, A. B. Merville, the postal clerk on the robbed car who was stabbed and severely beaten by the bandits, came to Atlanta and identified Perry as the one who wielded the knife and was partially certain Fields and Gray were also in the gang.

Since that time postoffice inspectors under the direction of Inspector In Charge R. E. Barry have been working on the case.

None of the three prisoners was able to make bail and were taken back to the Fulton county tower.

INJURED IN RUNAWAY, SUES CITY FOR $2,500

R. J. Williams has sued the city for $2,500 for injuries alleged to have been sustained when a horse he was driving down Peachtree street became frightened and ran when the wheel of the buggy was caught in a hole.

Brought Tuesday asks $5,000 from William E. Dunn and B. F. Meaks, contractors, alleging he was digging a sewer for the contractors when the wall caved in and he was seriously injured.

EARLY ADVANCE IN COTTON MET BY HEAVY SELLING

Market in New York Closed 2 to 12 Points Down From the Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 1.—The cotton market opened firm 8 to 10 points higher today in response to higher cables and reports that English spot sales and unfavorable weather advices from the southwest. These were reasons that leading spot interests were preparing to ship cotton out of the local stock during April. Prices later eased off with May at last night's price, while later deliveries held 1 to 4 points net higher.

Business was less active during the early afternoon and prices held steadily, with May about 8 points lower while other months ruled within a point or two of last night's closing figures.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—Cotton futures today opened steady at an advance of 4 to 5 points on good cables and more rain 1 nine cotton belt. Around the call the market stood 5 to 8 points up, but profit-taking by those set in against half an hour after the opening prices were only 1 to 2 points up.

Realizing increased on the long side and offerings were not well received. In the trading up to evening prices went 3 to 4 points under yesterday's close.

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS

Hayden, Stone & Co.: A decidedly more conservative feeling now prevails.

Rothschild & Co.: We continue to advise purchases.

Josephthal, Lourheim & Co.: For the time recessions may be considered unsafe. We see no reason to change our position of advising sales on advances.

S. M. Weld & Co.: We advise purchases of the next drop on all early months.

Shearson, Hammill & Co.: We believe new crops are fairly oversold. And think purchases advisable on declines.

HAYWARD & CLARK COTTON LETTER.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 1.—Liverpool shows subdued strength, with futures this morning fully 5 points higher than due; spots 1 point higher with sales 15,000 bales; English consols ¾ higher.

Weather continues over the belt with general rains, heavy over night in parts of east Texas and central Texas.

There has been enough rain over a wide area of the belt to delay planting for a week or more and for prospects for an early new supply is not good. Cotton and corn planting are forced together in the central states, which will retard work.

Indications are for partly cloudy to fair weather west of the river, colder in the northwestern quarter, continued unsettled and rainy weather in the rest of the belt. Conditions are not settled and prospects favor that we will hardly last over this week.

Liverpool cables: The steady market, offerings limited; good demand for old crops; English mills quiet; Continental coffee; "Healthy business in Manchester, looks like continuing."

Our market opened about 8 points higher and feeling in favor of further advance, with good support, however, is restricting on account of hesitancy from Wall Street and New York, but there seems no good reason for contracts to weaken in the face of a large spot demand in Liverpool from consumers and firm spots in the south.

EDWIN WALL CLEARED AT THIRD TRIAL FOR LIFE

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 1.—At his third trial Edwin Wall was acquitted of murder by a jury in the superior court last night.

"It is a case of failure of justice," said Judge Charlton as he discharged the prisoner.

Wall was tried twice for shooting and stabbing Marshall Hodges to death August 3, 1913. He was held over from the juries failed to agree.

MARKET TO IMPROVE

Changes in General Were Small, but Movement Was Almost Uniformly Upward

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 1.—Belmont Pacific continued at the opening to day the advance begun on Saturday on reports that large holdings in the property would be taken over by the Canadian Pacific interests. That stock and United Central advanced a point. Changes in general were small, but the movement was almost uniformly upward.

Professional traders said when they perceived that the rise was producing a more abundant supply of stocks, prices fell back closely to below yesterday's closing figures. It was then that St. Louis preferred, which has been more frequently dealt in since the dividend was reduced, lost ¾.

Later the market today lacked the vitality which characterized the preceding session. Initial gains were soon converted into equally slight losses and the main tendency of the market was downward. The impulse lent by indications of an early decision in the freight rates case seemed to have spent its force and with no new influence to take its place speculative interest waned.

Reports of advances in steel prices were without effect and Valley Steel was dragged with the rest of the list. Traders soli short more freely than at any other time this week but long stock and there were appearances of underlying support despite the morning's recessions.

Bonds were steady.

Purchases by recent sellers forced the market upward again in the afternoon. The shorts showed some nervousness over the heavy accumulation of Missouri Pacific, which was advanced 27. Rock Island collaterals dropped 1¼ to 2¾, a new low level, but only small professional issues were active and heavy.

Increase of $4,454,000 in the Central Pacific February net earnings depressed the stock a point. Industrial specialties showed some steadiness.

Increased demand for the coupons stocks effected by general list which reached its best figures for some of the coalers and western shares.

STOCK MARKET OPINIONS

Financial Bureau: Bullish tactics along conservative lines may be considered. The technique is good. Cotton remains in the trading house. Grain is undecided.

Financial Chronicle: The dealings continue to be largely confined to professional traders.

Financial Journal: It takes very little to send prices up.

Wall Street Journal: Careful observers say it is easier to sell stocks than to buy them.

New York Sun: Dealings are professional and short covering influenced the advance. Continuation of the market is the most important factor in the situation.

New York Post: Although the movement is not accelerated and is not accompanied by heavy buying the undertone is excellent.

LONDON STOCKS.

INTERESTING NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MARKETS

Weather Reports, Crop Advices, Expert Opinions and Newspaper Comment

COTTON GOSSIP.

Times-Democrat says: With March out of the way, the bears are free to discuss the probable course of the May liquidation, more especially in the face of the fact that, although there are two theories on the one hand it is quite likely that the shorts will be repeated, and on a still grander scale; per contra, some well informed interests think that the bulls, instead of the bears, will be attacked in the next few months by "the gods of finance" and "the on the knees of the gods." And, in fact, the bulls will not be free to confine their activities to the fall and winter months, for in the long broad field of the future lies a good deal of room for another "bear" campaign. And in that broad field the outsider is furnished forthwith a fine object lesson of the shape of discounts which will break the force of any decline that may come. Not that we anticipate any decline of might be got by buying January-February, but it is the principle involved in the case which is understood to be well below 6 pedro. Assuming that March crop conditions and spinners' supply three years hence at a reduction of 10,000,000 bales, we have the present prices. According to history the breed of the present is completely extinct, so that this immortal line had to be kept intact by shooting. But the point is, as some intimate about this, for the sellers of January-February 1917 to be in a position to buy for delivery to-day their twins. Many close students of the cotton situation are inclined to believe now that there is no pressure to buy for delivery at distant dates. March crop twins alone can tell, and the trade may be in for the biggest kind of a surprise if April 1st notices are more normal, from the beginning of this fresh season and one more marvel would be added to all.

Forecast:

Georgia and Alabama—Fair tonight and Thursday.

Kentucky—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; colder tonight.

Tennessee—Fair tonight and Thursday, somewhat colder tonight in the north and west portion.

Mississippi—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; slightly colder tonight in the interior portion.

Louisiana—Tonight fair and cooler; frost in the northeast portion; Thursday fair.

Oklahoma—Tonight fair and colder in the east portion; Thursday fair and warmer.

East Texas—Tonight fair and cooler in the northeast portion; Thursday fair; probably frost in northwest portion; Thursday fair, light, variable winds.

West Texas—Tonight fair and cooler in the north portion; Thursday fair.

11 a. m. bids in New York were as follows: May 12.38; July 11.52; August 11.83; October 11.44.

10 a. m. bids in New Orleans were: May 12.49; July 12.58; August 11.86; October 11.44.

Man shows cloudy entire belt, except fair to partly cloudy in portions; heavy in parts of east Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, western Alabama and Georgia; rains have been needed for part cloudy to fair in the western states, but rains have been heavy and delayed seeding; rainy weather east of the Mississippi river; prospects for early planting poor.

Local crowd selling market, playing for a reaction.

W. Anderson says: Commission business is waking up and moving pretty well. Most of the commission business been the largest for three weeks. Everything looks better for the cotton trade. The situation at Washington looks like part politics, but generally speaking, will not destroy it. Prices here are more on a parity with spots. Prices for next crop months is increasing. It looks as though the planting season will be late. If it be late the market will show it, you may be sure. The general business conditions in this country are sound. Manufacturing in the North is very active. People talk; why should the cotton trade be peculiarly barren. Wall street is the creation of an advance in freight rates has nothing to do with cotton. The bears are trying to create a spread rewarranking of American business and with it a revival of speculation movements. Options warrant.

Hubbard Bros.: Buying on the bad weather, shorts are buying the old crop, which is worth the money.

Houston, Tex., wires: Demand enormous for new crop. Offerings scarce and prices unreasonable. Local available low grade stock being depleted rapidly. Very little to be had. Conditions southwest Texas very backward, extremely wet; heavy rains throughout belt.

Liverpool cables: "Healthy business in Manchester, looks like continuing."

Liverpool cables: "Very steady market, offerings limited; good demand for old crops. English spinners calling cotton."

STOCK GOSSIP.

Dow Jones' summary: Pennsylvania system, all companies, for February shows net after taxes $646,206, decrease of $2,810,106. Eureka Pipe Line declares quarterly dividend of $5, against $7.50 on the last declaration. Panama foils reveal bill passed house, vote of 72 to 162. James Campbell, chairman of North American board, predicts dividend increase from dividend from 8 to 8 per cent. Chairman Gary says Steel corporation has been considering reduction of wages. Special meeting of stockholders of Atlantic Coast Line today to create new mortgage of $200,000,000. Bethlehem Steel reports its 10 to twenty active rails 104.75, up .75.

The market is showing great strength and I believe will sell considerably higher. Stocks are beginning to be accumulated on all recessions, as a market that refuses to decline on bad news usually advances. Buying by the active lames such as Union Pacific, the Hill stocks and the Copper issues.—Potter.

GRAIN GOSSIP

Chicago Inter Ocean says:

It was the gossip of the grain trade last night that liquidation was on in all grains and that while there would be a temporary set back as a result of over-selling on the part of local elevator interests, there is no profit to be made on buying side until it had run its course.

Oklahoma Farmer: Reported by Secretary Ring, of Toledo, makes winter wheat condition 88 against 86 in March, 91 in April and 74 last April when the crop was 17,500,000 bushels. Oats average 30 per cent of last year's. Condition 90.

Wheat was higher on better Liverpool and scattered short covering and scattered local buying on reports to unfavorable markets. Map shows good rains in Mississippi and Ohio valleys, but eastern western Kansas got practically none. However only part of the belt is reported to be suffering for lack of moisture.

Corn was higher on bad weather for the movement and good buying by prominent locals on the Kessler theory.

We think corn ought to be sold on this rally as we can find no positive evidence of any betterment in the demand either east or west.—A. G. Martin.

I think wheat, corn and oats are a sale on this rally, which is nothing more or less than covering by local traders.—Rycroft.

NEW YORK STOCK LETTER.

NEW YORK, April 1.—While the market is dull it maintains its advance well, indicating there are few stocks for sale. Stocks are in strong hands, in the hands of the people who believe higher freight rates will be granted to railroads. While these conditions exist, I do not believe we will have any decline of consequence, and expect any increased activity to produce a higher level of values.—Porter.

ESTIMATED COTTON RECEIPTS

New Orleans expects receipts to-day 2,500 to 3,500 bales, against 3,811 bales last year.

Galveston expects receipts to-day 2,000 to 3,000 bales, against 2,479 bales last year.

SHORT COVERING CAUSED THE ADVANCE IN WHEAT

Wheat Closed 1-4 to 3-8c Up, Corn, Oats, Pork, Lard and Sides Are Up

CHICAGO, April 1.—Although unexpectedly steady cables from Liverpool put some strength into wheat today the effect was not of a lasting character. Reports of conditions and lack of export demand led to renewed selling. Diminishing supplies in Argentina and Australia counted temporarily on the side of the bulls. Opening prices were unchanged to ¼@¾c higher and there was some further advance, but then came a decided setback.

Subsequent advices of a little export business at New York resulted in a fresh upturn in wheat. Closing prices were ¼ to ⅝@⅝c net advance.

Corn gave way with wheat after a moderate bulge, due to covering by shorts. Country orders seemed to indicate a belief in lessened necessity for food, owing to the mild weather. The market opened ¼ to ⅛c up.

Reports of improved seaters demand brought about a corn rally. For the first time for record at this time of the year, a round lot of corn was today sent from store here to Iowa for industrial purposes. First ¼ to ⅜@⅜c above last night.

In the oats trade prices followed corn. Business reached a fair volume.

Falling off in hog receipts west caused an advance in provisions. First sales ranged from a shade to 10@12½c higher, with transactions afterward at a still higher level.

NEW YORK COTTON LETTER.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The market opened about as it should on strong cables, but after opening sold in sympathy with the heavy sales of purchases in Liverpool and local traders find. The demand for May much less urgent than of late sold freely and by noon had practically wiped out yesterday's gains from the initial quotations.

A decided set-back in recession homes were heavy sellers of May in the second hour, probably liquidating a line of long cotton taken on during the last two weeks.

May acted as though the majority of distress shorts came in on Saturday and on Monday and the technical position appears to have been considerably weakened.

I do not favor short sales of May as I understand a large quantity will be covered on contract and it would seem that no cotton can come here except at a much higher level. —Anderson.

NATION-WIDE RALLY CALL FOR SUFFRAGISTS

President of Georgia Association Gives Notice of Meetings to Be Held May 2

Official call for Georgia's participation in a nation-wide rally of suffragists, to be held in every city and village of the land on May 2, was issued Tuesday by Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association.

Following is the call:

To the Woman Suffragists of Georgia.

Greeting:

By request of Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, I gladly publish the following:

"The official board of the National Woman Suffrage association hereby issues a call to the suffragists of the country, to rally at an open air mass meeting on the second day of May, 1914, in every city, village and hamlet from the Atlantic to the Pacific, to sound to a trumpet blast by singing a hymn of suffrage faith and by adopting a nation-wide resolution to be presented to the congress of these United States calling upon congress to meet the demand of the American women for political freedom.

"ANNA HOWARD SHAW,
"President,

"JANE ADDAMS,
"First Vice President.

"MRS. DESA BRECKINRIDGE,
"Second Vice President.

"CAROLINE KRUTZ-REES,
"Third Vice President.

"SUSAN W. FITZGERALD,
"Recording Secretary.

"MARY WARE DENNETT,
"Corresponding Secretary.

"KATHERINE DEXTER M'CORMICK
"Treasurer.

"MRS. JAMES LEES LAIDLAW,
"First Auditor.

"MRS. JOSEPH TILTON BOWEN,
"Second Auditor."

The national board wishes the suffragists of Georgia to co-operate with them and with all the other states in the union in organizing a simultaneous open air demonstration, to be held in all the cities and in all the small communities in Georgia on the second day of May, 1914, at 12 noon.

This demonstration should be called to order by a trumpet blast. The program is to be: A song, an address, resolutions to be sent to congress; national hymn of suffrage faith.

Let us take advantage of this day set apart by the national association, to demonstrate to those who profess to doubt that Georgia women want the ballot, that we realize the fact, as Georgia men did in 1869, that a disfranchised class of Georgia's citizens are at a very great disadvantage in the protection of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Dr. Shaw has requested President Woodrow Wilson to set apart the first Saturday in May as a Woman's Independence day, and gives her reasons for the same in a clear-cut, independent class of Georgia's citizens are at a very great disadvantage in the protection of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Without question, "Northern Lights" is the most elaborate production yet presented by Raymond Hitchcock and his associate players at the Bijou. The play is a genuine thriller, is proving tremendously popular with patrons of the Marietta street play house. The plot is strong, the lines brilliant and amusing, there is a big cast and the scenic effects are on a large scale. The representation of the aurora borealis in the final act is one of the spectacular features of the play.

Eddie Blake has the cast for a capital comedy part and gets a lot of fun out of his lines. Edwin Vail, the new leading man, has an exceptionally strong role and his actice at every performance has won unstinted praise. Miss Marie Claire, leading woman, has a charming role, and the same can well be said of Miss Anne Brandt. Miss Alice DeLane, Miss Marjorie Bosel, Frank Dare, Walter Vandyke, Newton Ross, John Allen, Harry Skelton, R. H. Turner all appear to advantage.

Should any organization in Georgia desire to make further demonstration on May 2, in the way of parades, festivals, banquets or celebrations of any nature, they are of course urged to do so by both national and the State Woman Suffrage association.

If there are localities in Georgia where there are relatively few suffragists as yet unorganized who desire to participate in suffrage day celebrations, please communicate with me, or with the National American Woman Suffrage association, 505 Fifth avenue, N. Y., so that some plan can be worked out to meet this demand to aid in the great demonstration of women.

Faithfully yours,
MARY L. McLENDON,
President of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association.

SENTENCE IS POSTPONED ON WOUNDED PRISONER

Man Charged With Attempt to Kill Policeman Is Returned to Hospital

After pleading guilty to assault with intent to murder Patrolman W. A. McKinney, Charles S. Oliver, colored, crippled by bullet wounds in his abdomen so that he could barely walk, appeared before Judge Hill Tuesday afternoon for sentence.

Because of the condition of the prisoner, who had been confined to the Grady hospital for five weeks in a precarious condition, Judge Hill ordered that he be taken back to the jail or the hospital, and deferred sentence until the man's condition improved.

Oliver and Patrolman McKinney it will be remembered, fought a terrific revolver duel in a Decatur street estaurant early in February. The patrolman and the negro were both so badly wounded that neither was at first expected to recover.

COMMERCE CHAMBER WERE NOT PUBLISHERS

March 31, 1914.

Editor The Journal: Allow us to correct what seems to be an erroneous impression. The Georgia chamber of commerce has never published a periodical. The "call of the south" very kindly volunteered to bring out a special edition in behalf of our welfare work upon the condition that we would procure the literary material for it. This was done. We circulated a large number of copies of the edition. Our chamber had no pecuniary interest whatever in the edition. We wish to express our appreciation to the publishers.

Very truly yours,
GEORGIA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
By C. J. Haden, President.

THEATERS

(Criticisms of initial performances of the local theaters are written by members of The Journal staff. All other matter appearing in this column is furnished by the theater managements.)

"Adele," the biggest musical success in years, by Paul Herve and Jean Briquet, author of "Alma," it opens at the Atlanta tonight, remaining through the week with a matinee Saturday.

"Adele" is a dainty young miss who is in love with the son of her father's business rival. On account of parental objection and the necessity of obtaining their consent to marriage, she schemes to secure the aid of her father in settling upon a member of the French nobility a large sum of money to marry her. She determines, if successful, immediately after the marriage ceremony to separate and secure a divorce, then marry the man she really loves, since by a provision in the French law, once having been married the second time she is free to marry whom she will without obtaining the consent of her parents. All goes well for a few months, but finally arrives the moment to become the husband of Adele. He, too, is in love with another, but cannot marry her because he has no money. The ceremony is performed and they proceed to Trouville, a fashionable French watering place, and the plans to separate then carry and this creates a comedy full of amusing complications and when an opportunity arrives that the original plans can be successfully carried out, Adele finds herself in love with her husband and he with her.

A splendid bill of vaudeville is crowding the Forsyth this week. There are headliners who have met with the greatest success in principal cities and features that have never failed to make good.

Taylor Granville, Laura Pierpont and a supporting company of fifteen players present "The System," vaudeville's greatest melodramatic sketch. It is a story that shows up the police of a big city in stage fashion. It tells how a detective from headquarters frames up a robbery on an ex-convict just to get the crook out of his way. An inspector who believes something wrong, has a dictagraph placed in a meeting place and catches the crooked detective and squares the former crook.

One of the biggest hits ever credited to an act at the Forsyth has been registered by Stan Stanley. He is a comedian of natural ability and one of the funniest bicycle gymnasts the stage has known. The act is of great value in helping to give the Forsyth an attendance record.

An act of special interest is the Trans-Atlantic Trio, with Harry Clarke, an Atlanta boy. It is a special musical novelty feature and very pleasing. Raymond and Caverly, the German comedians, Grace Wilson, the singing comedienne, and others contribute hit, winning features. Next week's headliners will be Ray Cox, the American comedienne, in a new cycle of songs.

INSANITY PLEA FAILS TO SAVE CLYDE DAVIDSON

Young Man Convicted of Forgery and Sentenced to Two Years on State Farm

Clyde Davidson, the young man who on January 1 startled officials of the Standard Auto company at 125 Peachtree street by offering to buy out the concern with a false "cashier's check" of $21,000, was found guilty of forgery Wednesday morning in the Fulton criminal court.

Judge Hill sentenced him to two years at the state farm.

A plea of insanity was entered in Davidson's defense, but the jury, after deliberating an hour, returned a verdict of guilty.

Davidson's attorney, Albert Kemper, in addition to the insanity plea, made another defense that the check was so palpibly a forgery that no business man could be deceived by it, and as a result his client's action could not be construed as an attempt to defraud.

Davidson told the court in a very incoherent statement that he had not intended to actually take over any money on the check, but had put it up simply as "security." Davidson didn't say what he intended to secure by it.

The $21,000 check looked quite real for a few moments, officials of the auto company told the court. It was signed by the name "T. J. Byerly" as cashier of the Davis bank, of Mocksville, N. C., and was marked by a protest-grath.

Young Davidson had had a previous transaction with the company before he presented the $21,000 forgery.

The trial will not be concluded until Wednesday morning.

LUCILLE LAVERNE TO OPEN IN "THE LILY"

New Stock Season to Begin on April 12 at Grand or Lyric

For the week beginning April 12 Atlanta theatergoers will have the opportunity of seeing for the first time Belasco's success, "The Lily." This will be the initial offering of the Lucille LaVerne company, which will hold the boards at the Grand or Lyric.

Not only is this the first time "The Lily" has been seen in Atlanta—it is the first time it has ever been offered anywhere at less than $2 prices, with one exception, and that is when it was presented by Miss LaVerne in Richmond last spring. At that time there was not a seat available after the opening night, and the play broke all records for performance at the theater.

Miss LaVerne is paying Mr. Belasco $500 and a percentage of the receipts for the use of "The Lily" for one week in Atlanta. This figure has been prohibitive to other managers, but Miss LaVerne has drawn on a good plunger, and feels confident the Atlanta public want and will support the best.

TILLMAN WILL CONDUCT SALVATION ARMY SERVICE

Rev. Charlie Tillman will conduct a special service at the Salvation Army hall, 29-31-2 Marietta street, Sunday night, April 6. Mr. Tillman will be assisted by the local corps of the Salvation Army.

An original musical program has been arranged and there will be good instrumental and vocal music. Services will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

ACTRESSES AND ESCORTS FINED FOR HAVING FIGHT

Grace Mettler, an actress, twenty years old, 11 Garnett street, and four male companions, were arrested in a down-town chop suey restaurant late Tuesday night charged with participating in a free-for-all fight.

The four men are Ed. Kearney, a clerk, 47 Hendricks street; W. F. Kerr, a paper hanger, 47 Hendricks street; Will Norton, a bartender, 87 Whitehall terrace, and H. W. Caldwell, a bartender, Kirkwood.

The quintet was arraigned before Recorder Broyles Wednesday morning and fined $10.75 apiece. Tina Rose, another actress, was arrested Wednesday morning on the charge of being in the party, and was also fined $10.75.

New $1 Silk Foulards 69c

PARDON the large heavy type; it's done to appease the silk buyer. He's wroth. After clipping the price of his beloved silk foulards to 69c, he says the writer, Sunday, "buried the item in small type." The foulards are worthy; we'll give 'em the prominence they deserve.

—April showers will not spot these foulards. The designs include dainty sprays and buds, spaced figures and regulation patterns. Staple colorings and the newest spring shades. Our entire stock of 85c and $1 foulards is included at this profit-sharing price of 69c.

$1.25 to $2 Wool Dress Goods 79c

IF you're planning a new wool dress, suit or skirt, you can doubtless find the very fabric you want among these odd pieces here. Odd pieces, of course, but they include such splendid fabrics as stylish fabrics and staple French and storm serges, worsteds and cheviots; Bedford and whipcords; gabardines and poplins; voiles and vigereaux; suitings and novelties. Light and medium weight Navy, Copenhagen, brown, tan, green, red, wine, king's blue. Not all colors, of course, in each fabric. 42 to 54 inches wide. Values $1.25, $1.50 and $2. Choice 79c.

(Silks, Annex, Main Floor, Right.)

$1.50 Pompadour Nets $1

—Pretty printed nets for blouses, foundations and over-draperies. Winsome floral patterns in soft pastel shades. 36 inches.

10c to 20c Val and Linen Laces 5c

—10c linen laces in edges and insertings from 1 to 2 inches wide. 10c to 20c Val laces in edges and insertings 2 to 4 inches wide. Choice 5c.

$2 to $2.50 Emb'd Flouncings $1.69

—A soft batiste is bewitchingly embroidered in flat Venise or Baby Irish designs; 45 inches wide; delightful for Spring frocks and swirling draperies.

(Laces, Main Floor, Right.)

A Fascinating Assemblage of Easter Hats at $10

FRESH from our work rooms come these attractive hats for Easter. Priced at $10, but who can measure the artistic genius that fashions each hat, that makes $10 worth of material and workmanship look like twice that sum? The same artists who create our finest hats have created these. They couldn't produce a false line or a poor color effect if they tried. In each of these hats at $10 are incorporated the smartest features of our fashionable styles. Here are beautiful braids and beautiful trimmings in the happiest of Spring shades and combinations. Captivating styles with a wealth of charm that one would deem impossible at $10. Please see them—tomorrow.

50,000 COAL MINERS THROWN IDLE IN OHIO

Failure of Operators and Union Leaders to Agree on Wage Scale Closes Mines

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 1.—Nearly 50,000 Ohio bituminous coal miners were forced into indefinite idleness today and 25,000 Pennsylvania miners may be thrown out of employment Friday because of failure of the recent Chicago conference between the operators and officials of the United Mine Workers of America to reach a new wage agreement to take the place of the one which expired last midnight.

Pending negotiations for a new agreement, coal miners in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa will continue at work.

The agreement which expired yesterday was made at a joint conference of miners and operators at Cleveland in 1910. Several weeks ago a joint conference was held at Philadelphia to frame a new agreement to take effect today.

The operators refused to grant a wage increase and other concessions demanded by the miners and the conference was adjourned to Chicago. The miners modified their demands at the Chicago conference, but the negotiations were concluded when an agreement could not be reached.

The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America then decided that the mines should remain at work under the old agreement and that new agreements should be made by local districts conforming to the plan to be ratified by a referendum vote of the miners in the affected districts.

NEW YORK ASKS HELP IN FIGHT ON GUNMEN

Nearby States Will Be Asked to Put Ban on Sale of Weapons

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 1.—In the campaign to drive gunmen from the city, Chief Police Inspector Dominick McAdoo has the help of Governor Fielder, of New Jersey, with the view of having laws passed in that state which will prevent the purchase there of weapons to be sent here. Correspondence made public today promises to lead to suitable enactments in New Jersey.

Mr. McAdoo announces his intention to draw similar laws in Connecticut. Inquiry by the police showed an active sale of pistols in Jersey City shortly after the passage of the Sullivan anti-weapon law.

In New York state no citizen can buy a revolver without a permit. There is no such restriction in New Jersey. A New York citizen cannot have a revolver in his house without a permit, and possession of six shooters is but a misdemeanor under any circumstances. Possession in New York without a permit is conclusive evidence of felony, punishable by imprisonment up to ten years and a fine.

BOY TAKES LONG RIDE LOCKED IN FREIGHT CAR

Served Three Days for Fruit He Could See but Could Not Reach

(By Associated Press.)

CRAWFORDVILLE, Fla., April 1.—In matinee court here Benjamin Wickman, 14 years old, told of his experiences of three days locked in a refrigerator car filled with fruit that he could see through a grating but could not reach.

The boy lived in Sun View, Fla., where his uncle, Charles Wickham, resided, but a year ago his parents moved to Florida. He said he longed to be back in New York and had climbed into a refrigerator car in Jacksonville, Fla., and started north. The doors were locked and sealed up on him. He tried to get to the fruit but found it was sealed in compartments where it would be cooled by ice on the trip north. In that manner, he starved and thirsted for the three days until the car was opened near here and he was found. His uncle was notified and came for the boy.

PLANS HARD JOURNEY IN INTEREST OF SCIENCE

(By Associated Press.)

TORONTO, Ont., April 1.—A 4,000-mile trip through the Canadian far north in the interest of science and a meeting with Vilhjarar Stefansson early in July is planned by John Patterson, physicist of the meteorological service of Canada and representative of the international meteorological committee formed for the purpose of heading to advantage the data resulting from the Amundsen and Stefansson Arctic exploration work.

Mr. Patterson proposes to follow the route of Slave river and descend the Mackenzie river to the Arctic sea.

WILSON REWARDS BRAVE RAILROAD BRAKEMAN

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—On recommendation of the Interstate Commerce commission, President Wilson has awarded a medal of honor to A. C. Stamper, a railroad brakeman of Smithville, Tex., who at peril of his own life, saved a child who was standing in front of a moving freight train.

The president also sent a personal letter of commendation to Werner. This was the fourteenth medal thus far awarded on recommendation of the commission.

Uncle Sam Reduces Money Mill's Output; Hands Must Lay Off

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Director Ralph, of the bureau of engraving and printing, today served notice on 4,000 employes in the government's money shop that every plate printer in the establishment must take eighteen days' furlough in the next three months.

Congress has refused to allow the customary appropriation for new money and in consequence the usual fifteen million sheets of paper that are made into money will be reduced this fiscal year by five million sheets. The reduction will affect about 2,100 employes in the bureau, will lessen the supply of reserve notes in the office of the United States treasurer, and officials say probably will increase the amount of dirty bills in circulation.

CATTLE DISEASE INSTITUTE MAY BE AT RAHWAY, N. J.

Bill Which Authorizes Location in That State Is Passed by Legislature

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 1.—The new department of the Rockefeller Institute for the study of animal disease, for the establishment of which John D. Rockefeller has given $1,000,000, probably will be located at Rahway, N. J., near the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. This fact became known through the passage of a bill in the New Jersey legislature yesterday that will permit outside medical societies to engage in experiments on animals in the state.

The bill was introduced in the New Jersey senate immediately following a conference between several members of the legislature and Starr J. Murphy, counsel and secretary of the Rockefeller institute. It passed the house last night and now is before Governor Fielder for his signature.

It is understood one of the big features of the work of the new department will be the study of cattle tuberculosis, with which large numbers of cows are afflicted throughout the country. Bovine tuberculosis is often contracted by persons through the bacilli in milk.

GRAND JURY WILL PROBE SOCIETY WOMAN'S DEATH

Shooting of Mrs. Laura Wilder Simpson in Lexington, Ky., Will Be Investigated

(By Associated Press.)

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 1.—That the regular grand jury which will convene here next Monday will have its attention called to the recent death of Mrs. Laura Wilder Simpson, who died here February 23 from the effects of a bullet wound through the head, was made publicly certain today when Coroner Gordon gave a statement saying he would go before the grand jury and ask that a full investigation be made. Previously, Circuit Judge Kerr had stated that he would "bring the grand jury's attention to" Mrs. Simpson's death.

Mrs. Simpson was the wife of Lawrence Simpson, a wealthy stock breeder and farmer of this city, and daughter of Dr. W. H. Wilder, of Chicago. She was known prominently in Chicago society.

NO OPPOSITION EXPECTED TO CONGRESSMAN TRIBBLE

Covington News Predicts Representative Will Have Clear Field

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COVINGTON, Ga., April 1.—Although Newton county is one of the new counties in the Eighth congressional district having entered under the reapportionment plan along with Walton county, the voters of this section have taken much interest in the congressional situation.

At this time Newton county is interested in the possibility of whether or not Congressman Samuel T. Tribble will have opposition in his race for re-election.

The first intimation of Newton's attitude towards Congressman Tribble was given in the Covington News in its last issue, when it was said, "Despite the efforts of various parties throughout the Eighth congressional district it appears that Samuel J. Tribble, the present congressman, will have no opposition in his race for re-election this summer.

"One by one the possibilities among the politicians who were thought to be considering the race have been weeded out, some by deductions and others by elimination."

Only one candidate for the state legislature from Newton county has made his formal announcement, but A. L. Quid, the present representative, will be a candidate. R. W. Campbell, of Mansfield, has issued his announcement. He has been a member of the board of county commissioners of Newton county. O. L. Lloyd is serving his first term in the legislature and he will make the race in the primary to select the representative.

Newton county is very much interested in the three cornered race in Rockdale county to get the nomination of state senator from the 27th district, which is composed of Rockdale, Newton Walton and Oconee counties. Newton nominated the last senator from the district.

The primary to nominate officials for the county offices will be held on April 30. The county executive committee has announced that April 15 is the last date on which a candidate may enter the primary.

Not an Announcement

In Greene County Yet

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

GREENSBORO, Ga., April 1.—Greene county politics is the quietest in years. The county democratic executive committee has not met and set a date for the primary which goes to intimate the likelihood that Greene county will have a very late primary.

Not a single formal announcement has been made. Although it is certain that several of the county officers will have opposition.

The Nineteenth senatorial district is composed of Greene, Taliaferro and Warren counties, but it is Taliaferro's time to nominate the senator. W. R. Reid, of Crawfordville, has announced as a candidate for the state senate and Carvel Hall Major, solicitor, Major Charles E. McGregor, of Warren county, is a probable candidate for the United States senate, is retiring state senator from the Nineteenth district.

State politics is fast becoming interesting in Greene, despite the lack of developments in the several races for state house offices are awaited. Speaker Harris, Chairman R. E. Davison, of Greene county, a member of the state prison commission, will be a candidate for re-election.

Street Cleaning Will Be Taught in School In City of New York

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 1.—A school in which street cleaning will be taught and at the same time serve as an exchange for ideas on the best methods in that department will be established here soon it was announced by Street Cleaning Commissioner J. J. Petherstone. The school will be modeled after the police and fire department schools and while for the present being it is proposed to have some of the more efficient men in the department serve as temporary instructors, Mr. Petherstone hopes he will get authority to appoint regular instructors and get a building in which the school may be housed.

The commissioner thinks much effort is misdirected in street cleaning, a condition which is to be removed by evolving a standard method that will insure a maximum result with a minimum of effort.

SAYS ALL MILITANTS WOULD DIE FOR CAUSE

Follower of Mrs. Pankhurst Defends Militant Methods of Suffrage

NEW YORK, April 1.—"All the women are willing to die. We are fighting with our lives."

These statements characterized the defense of militant suffragist methods in England by Miss Dorothy Pethick, sister of Mrs. Pethick-Lawrence and follower of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, at a meeting yesterday of the Equal Franchise society. In answer to a question as to what the British government could do the women whom they imprisoned, Miss Pethick replied:

"Let them die."

Then she added that she was never so happy in her life as when she thought she had been so reduced by forcible feeding that the end appeared near.

Continuing, Miss Pethick told of the first woman who undertook a hunger strike and resisted until the doctor said that he would not be responsible an hour longer for her life and told of her hunger strike.

Miss Margaret Hodge, who is with Miss Pethick, also made an address. The women will oppose Mr. Asquith in his coming fight for election, she said.

MOB LYNCHES A NEGRO WHO STRUCK FARMER

(By Associated Press.)

NATCHEZ, Miss., April 1.—News of a lynching in an isolated section of Winn parish, La., Sunday night has just reached here, according to meager reports J. P. McDougall, a farmer, had a dispute with Allen Turner, a negro, after which the negro struck the farmer with a hoe, inflicting a serious wound. A constable arrested Turner and when taking him to jail was confronted by a band of farmers who shot the negro to death.

MILLIONAIRE PACKER'S DAUGHTER TO BE NURSE

BOSTON, April 1.—Miss Helen Cudahy, daughter of Patrick Cudahy, the wealthy Milwaukee packer, will begin the training school for nurses at the Massachusetts general hospital today.

Accepts Invitation

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Vice President Marshall has accepted an invitation to attend the annual dinner of the Pittsburg Publicity association on May 14.

Mr. M. L. Connor Dead

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

GRIFFIN, Ga., April 1.—Mr. M. L. Connor, a well-known citizen of Griffin, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of his son, W. H. Connor, Spalding county's representative in the legislature.

He was 66 years of age and is survived by the following children: Messrs. W. H., B. H., and Walter Connor, of Griffin, and Mrs. J. D. Phillips, of Tifton, Ga. The funeral was held from the residence of Colonel W. H. Connor this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

INDIGESTION CURED EVERY DAY

How Many People You Hear Say, "Oh, If I Did Not Have Indigestion, I Would Feel Good; If I Could Only Get Something That Would Cure Me I Would Be Happy."

Mr. J. M. Backus, aged 54 years, who lives at 16 Cooper street, certainly owes his happiness to Quaker Herb Extract. During many years of Coursey & Munn's experience they have seen many remarkable cases where results were shown in an astonishingly short time, but this case of Mr. Backus has no equal. For over six years the man suffered from a severe case of indigestion. When the results of the wonderful Quaker Extract became known by the people who care to investigate the case here reported, it will be seen that the suffering public should be thankful that such a grand remedy is within their reach.

It would be a very difficult thing to thoroughly and minutely describe all the distresses that were endured by Mr. Backus. He often had such pains in his stomach that he would be in an agony, from which it was hard to recover. His stomach would bloat fearfully. He was at times so nauseated at the sight of foods that he could not eat. He kept getting weaker and weaker; he was in a miserable condition. Money was spent by Mr. Backus in his trials for relief, and many different remedies were used, but all to no avail. The day of results was a little temporary relief. Of this he finally tired and made up his mind to make one more effort in his endeavors to find a cure. He called at the Coursey & Munn drug store, and after explaining his case, decided to purchase a treatment, which was four bottles, and it had done so much good work in this city. He began using the Quaker Extract according to directions, and soon began to find relief from the very start, but it was so different from the average medicine's relief, most of which was a mere exhilaration, that he knew he was on the right track at last. He continued faithfully, and he called again at the drug store and said: "Well, I feel as though I should tell you that your remedy has cured me. After suffering so many years, I can hardly believe it true that I have no more of the former distresses; but it must be so. I can eat a hearty meal with a relish and feel perfect digestion. I feel like a new man, and can appreciate the real work that has been done in my case. You can bet I will always tell what Quaker Extract has done for me. Thank God that He has sent such a wonderful remedy as Quaker Extract into this city."

Call today. Do not delay; but obtain Quaker Extract, 4 for $5.00; 2 for $2.50. Oil of Balm, the bottle, 2 for $1.50. At Coursey & Munn's Drug Store, 39 Marietta street. We prepay all express charges.—(Adv.)

BIG INDUSTRIAL BUILDING PLANNED FOR ATLANTA

Industrial Committee of Chamber of Commerce Takes Up Question

The industrial and statistical bureau of the chamber of commerce is tentatively planning for the erection of a big industrial building in Atlanta at a cost of about $100,000. The matter was taken up Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the industrial committee and was discussed at length.

Should the plan materialize the building will be large enough to accommodate about 600 manufacturing plants and will provide every facility for low cost production.

The committee feels such a building would be an economic asset to the city and that it would aid largely in furthering Atlanta's industrial development. In other cities such buildings have filled up rapidly, and in Baltimore it has been necessary to enlarge the plant several times.

The great advantage of such a building is that it enables the small manufacturer to compete successfully with the larger manufacturers. It relieves him of the necessity of large capital expenditure, giving him working space at a reasonable rent.

Such a building, decided the committee, should be centrally located, near railroad facilities, and convenient to street car lines.

The committee will give the matter further consideration at an early date.

The members of the industrial committee are Wilmer L. Moore, chairman; E. H. Inman, W. Rawson Collier, W. P. Stringfellow, C. E. Harman, J. S. Floyd, V. H. Kriegshaber, D. W. Appley, T. Lamb, J. R. A. Hobson, C. A. Wickersham, Henry W. Davis.

DEPARTMENT PRAISES SCHOOL IN LETTER

Certificate of Merit Giving to School Erected on Site of Jeff Davis's Capture

The state department of education Wednesday sent a certificate showing that the Irwinville school, Irwin county, measures up to the standard of efficiency at all points.

This school is located at a small village celebrated through being the place where Jefferson Davis was captured by the federal troops in 1865.

Representative J. B. Clements owns the land where the tent of the president of the southern Confederacy was pitched and has offered to donate it as a park, provided the state will keep it up in the style suitable to its value as a place of historic importance.

J. W. Weaver is superintendent of the Irwin county schools and under his direction at this little place of 300 inhabitants there has been built a $6,000 school of white pressed brick, colonial style. It has a handsome auditorium making it a center of community interest for miles around.

FORM ALUMNUS CHAPTER OF PI KAPPA ALPHA

Rev. C. B. Wilmer Elected President at Meeting Held Tuesday Night

The Atlanta alumni chapter of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity was formally organized Tuesday night at the chapter house of the local chapter, at Georgia Tech, there being thirty-five members present.

The following officers were selected: Rev. C. B. Wilmer, D. D., president; Dudley B. Cowles, first vice president; Dr. A. B. Elkin, second vice president; M. T. Robertson, secretary, and S. N. Hodges, treasurer.

J. R. McClelland was appointed chairman of the membership committee, and C. M. Wood chairman of the committee on arrangements, which will have charge of arranging the annual meeting.

The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity was organized at the University of Virginia March 1, 1868, and for many years was a strictly southern fraternity. It has recently branched out into the west and north, and has forty active chapters and twenty alumni chapters.

MISS WYCOFF'S SINGING IS FEATURE OF CONCERT

With the singing of Miss Eva Emma Wycoff, the noted Chicago soprano, as the feature of the evening, the concert of the Philharmonic orchestra at the Atlanta theater Tuesday night was a decided success.

Miss Wycoff's solo, "The Cross of Fire," by M. Bruch, from Ava Maria, received tremendous applause.

"The Light That Failed," Kipling's gripping tragedy, told in music in a symphonic poem by C. E. Pemberton, also was most enthusiastically received.

PUBLICATION ILLUSTRATES RIGHT WAY TO DO THINGS

The current March issue of "The Right Way," the monthly published in the interests of the employes of the Central of Georgia railway, contains many articles of a nature calculated to arouse higher standards among its readers.

"The Right Way" has "Always Safety First" for its motto, and lives up to it to the letter. Among the many interesting things in its pages last month is a series of pictures showing the right and wrong ways to work in the railroad yards.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND Vinol for Run-Down People.

If any one person should know the value of medicines it is the druggist who dispenses them and from our experience we want to say if people in this vicinity only knew the value of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) at this season of the year, we would not be able to supply the demand.

This is because Vinol is a combination of the two most world- famed tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of cods' livers without the oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol tones up the digestive organs, purifies and enriches the blood, promotes healthful sleep and a normal appetite.

Old people, delicate children, run-down, overworked and tired women, should try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Elkin Drug Co., Atlanta, Ga.

EYES OF WIFE TO ADORN HIS NEW SCARF PIN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHICAGO, Ill., April 1.—Ira M. Cobe, the traction line owner, and his wife recently employed the English miniature painter, Alyn Williams, to make paintings of their eyes. The price was $2,000.

The painting of Mr. Cobe's eye will decorate a ring to be worn on the little finger of Mrs. Cobe. And the painting of Mrs. Cobe's will be worn in a scarf pin by her husband.

Fair Dancer Blames Buzzer for Having To Pay Heavy Fine

A flat denial that the manager of a local theater had paid her fine of $50 assessed by Judge Nash R. Broyles in recorder's court Tuesday afternoon as the result of [illegible] gyrations, dubbed "nasty" by Special Officer Ed Arthur, was made by Mildred Kelly to a Journal reporter who talked with her in her apartments at the Aragon hotel Wednesday morning.

Miss Kelly declared the manager said he had no use money to pay out for a fine and would [illegible] from the court room, leaving her [illegible] the bag to hold. "A kindly disposed policeman," said the dancause, loaned me the amount on three of my diamond rings as security and he is to come and get the money today.

"The fault of the whole thing was that the buzzer in front failed to work. What's a buzzer? Why, whenever a policeman or a plain clothes man comes in the theater, the man in the box office presses a button. It rings in the dressing room and warns the girls to cut out the rough stuff.

"Either the buzzer failed to work or the man forgot to press it. Anyway, I didn't hear it. I had been told to go as far as I liked at the performance and I did. Afterward the manager told me I should have heard the buzzer buzz and toned the dance down. Well, if my deafness cost me the fifty, I guess I'll just buzz around a bit myself."

SERMON ON REALITY OF HELL PROVES EFFECTIVE

Many Persons Are Converted by Powerful Sermon of L. B. Bridgers

Following a powerful sermon by L. B. Bridgers at the First Methodist church Tuesday night on "The Reality of Hell," a dozen or more conversions were made and many went to the altar for prayer.

Dr. Bridgers said the existence of hell is proved both by the Scriptures and the consciences of men, and that judgment inevitably follows sin. He said future punishment is absolutely certain for the transgressor, and emphasized the need of right living.

A special musical program contributed to the interest of the meeting and Mr. Bridgers' singing was much enjoyed.

ATLANTA WOMEN LEAVE FOR MISSIONARY MEETING

Council of Methodist Church Convenes in Fort Worth, Tex., April 8

The Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, representing more than 1,000,000 women and their work and interests, will convene in Fort Worth, Tex., April 8.

A large delegation of Atlanta women will leave this week to attend the session, and Monday a special Pullman will leave Atlanta with seventeen women.

Several of the officers of the general council are Atlanta women. Among them are Mrs. Luke G. Johnson, wife of the pastor of Trinity church; Mrs. W. A. Albright, Mrs. John N. McEachern and Miss Daisy Davies. These will leave Thursday for Fort Worth to carry out preliminary plans for the session. Mrs. W. B. Higginbotham, of West Point, president of the Woman's Missionary union of the North Georgia conference, and Mrs. H. K. Gardiner, of Elberton, secretary, will leave Monday for Fort Worth.

More than usual interest attaches to the convention this year as it will precede the session of the general conference. Several matters of importance affecting the position of women in church work will be discussed, and the convention will also take up for consideration the question of legislation desired in the general conference of Methodist ministers.

Bank Teller Injured

ROME, Ga., April 1.—In a motorcycle accident, Jack Bryan, teller of the Citizens Bank, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg. The machine skidded on the wood pavement, and in trying to save himself Bryan jumped from the machine, the motion causing it to turn over.

KIDNEY OR BLADDER WEAK?

Just Mix Juniper and Buchu. Old Folks' Recipe

The symptoms of diseased kidneys and bladder: Scalding, dribbling, straining or too frequent passage of urine; forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; stitches and pains in the back; growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; slurish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and despondency. Diabetes, Bright's Disease. The moment you have any of the above symptoms or a dull backache and rheumatic twinges, get from any reliable druggist a bottle of Stuart's Buchu and Juniper. Take a tablespoonful after meals. Drink plenty of fresh water and abstain from eating too much sugar, sweets or highly seasoned foods. Your kidneys and bladder will then act fine and natural. Stuart's Buchu and Juniper has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer hurts you to pass water. Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound is an old Tudor recipe for kidney trouble because it strengthens these organs at once.—(Advt.)

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR B'NAI B'RITH LODGE

F. L. Rosenthal, of Columbus, Succeeds Lionel Weil to Presidency

At the annual election of District Lodge, 5, of the Independent Order of B'Nai B'rith, held Tuesday afternoon, the following officers were chosen:

President, F. L. Rosenthal, Columbus, Ga.; first vice president, I. E. Marcuson, of Charleston; second vice president, Harold Bloomberg, of Richmond, Va.; sergeant at arms, Milton Klein, of Atlanta; secretary, Dr. George Solomon, of Savannah; treasurer, H. Sternberger, of Greensboro, N. C.

Lionel Weil, retiring president, was elected representative of the B'Nai B'rith on the board of directors of the Hebrew Orphans' home in Atlanta, and L. Lowenherz, of Columbus, was placed on the board of the National Consumptive hospital at Denver, Col.

Tuesday's session of the B'Nai B'rith was mainly concerned with routine matters. The convention voted to pay the mileage of delegates to the grand lodge hereafter, and decided to donate $100 to the Leo M. Levi Memorial hospital which has just been completed at Hot Springs, Ark., and which will be formally dedicated in a few months.

Tuesday's afternoon session closed the convention, which was a most successful one in every way.

GIRLS' CANNING CLUBS ORGANIZED IN ELBERT

ELBERTON, Ga., April 1.—Miss Elizabeth Holt, state agent in charge of the girls' canning club work in Georgia, was here Monday and made arrangements for organizing clubs in Elbert. Miss Laura Stilwell, teacher of domestic science in the city schools of Elberton, will be the county agent in charge.

Pupils of the Elberton city schools will put in one-tenth of an acre in tomatoes and compete for prizes. Nearly every one of the forty white rural schools will do likewise, although all of them have not yet sent in their names.

DRAINAGE TO RECLAIM WHITFIELD FARM LANDS

DALTON, Ga., April 1.—Considerable interest among the farmers, whose lands lie along Coahulla creek, attaches to the coming of J. V. Phillips, drainage engineer of the government, here next Friday. Mr. Phillips has telegraphed from Savannah that he will be here to make an investigation and report on the advisability of properly draining the creek.

It is believed here that if the creek were properly drained it would be the means of reclaiming thousands of acres of the most fertile farming lands, now rendered worthless because the slightest of rains cause the creek to overflow its banks.

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

"Vogue" Pictures Estelle Mershon Hats As Representative of the Season's Best Styles

"Vogue" is one of the recognized fashion authorities of America. Women look to it as a guide, as an index to what is correct in styles.

When "Vogue" holds up a hat, a gown, or a suit as a model of the latest style, women, whether they live in New York or Atlanta, accept it as such.

It is significant then that "Vogue," in its millinery number this Spring, should give over a page to hats by Estelle Mershon of 20 East 46th Street, New York.

"Vogue" looks upon Estelle Mershon hats as correct, authentic styles.

These are the hats that you may see here! Through our connection with Estelle Mershon, women of Atlanta and vicinity have the same privilege of choosing from correct hats as do the women of New York.

Now for the Easter Hat!

That it may be all that fashions say it should be, all that you would have it, is much a matter of your choice of stores.

We have, through this connection with one of New York's smartest shops, put ourselves in the way of having correct hats.

The Jewelry Section Shows Many Attractive Easter Gifts at Little Prices

The giving of Easter gifts is happy custom. It is a season of renewing friendships, of starting a-fresh.

A little remembrance, be it ever so inexpensive, seems in harmony with the spirit of the day. We have gathered many little pieces of jewelry that as gifts will typify the Easter spirit. Here---

Braid Pins of exceptionally beautiful appearance; the popular loop design, set with tiny brilliants. We have never seen the equal of these for less than $1.00. A special new lot just received to sell at	50c	Blue Birds, "The Soul of Happiness," set of three pins	50c
Violet Brooches, simulating a large double Parma violet, with "dew drop" brilliant, each	25c	Blue Bird "V" shaped Pins for low neck blouses, each	25c
Violet Hat Pins, small double violets with brilliant center, pair on card	25c	Jet Bead Necklaces, with pendant cross or heart; $1.25 to	$2.00
Coral Rose Hat Pins, small rosebuds carved of imitation coral, pair	50c	Crosses of imitation jet and ivory, in several sizes; 25c to	75c
		Solid Gold Crosses; $2.50 to	$9.50
		Beads, in necklaces and long chains, in many new and novel styles and combinations; 25c up to	$7.50

Choose the Easter Suits Where Styles Are Choicest

Although quantity in itself is of very little concern, we must emphasize the number of suits a woman may see here. It is our only way of telling of the variety. We have not been satisfied to show a woman just one or two styles at the price she wishes to pay for her suit, but a half-dozen or a dozen.

Moreover it is not possible this season to do justice to the fashions by showing only a few suits at a price.

Styles are too varied.

They demand a fuller expression than in former years.

We have undertaken to give them fullest expression!

So the woman who turns to this suit section for her Easter suit may know that the best work of New York's acknowledged leading makers is here for her selection.

Many novelties have come in this week.

Novelties in silks, poplins, taffetas, moires, crepes, radium and failles---at $18.75 upwards.

Novelties in woolens, serges, shepherd checks, gabardines, failles, poplins---at $17.50 upwards.

And tomorrow will be the best day this side of Easter for making your choice.

Victory Supreme.

The towering majority by which the House of Representatives has sustained the President on the canal tolls issue is a triumph of the Wilson leadership over the Clark revolt, a triumph of true Democracy over ship subsidists, of public interests over special privilege, a triumph of national honor over miserable demagogy.

Two hundred and twenty Democrats stood stanchly by the President and by party principle; only fifty-two Democrats voted with the Speaker and with the shameful alliance that had made him its instrument. Evidently, the Democratic party is not split; with the exception of an inconsiderable fragment, it is united more loyally than ever under the President's leadership.

The total vote for the repeal of tolls exemption was two hundred and forty-seven, twenty-five Republicans and two "Progressives" having stood with the Administration.

Such a majority leaves no doubt as to the judgment of Congress, and the judgment of the country, on this important issue. The repeal bill has yet to pass the Senate, but its success there is now virtually assured. The United States will live up to its treaty obligations, it will stand before the world as a nation which keeps its word and "entertains a decent respect for the opinions of mankind." And the Democratic party will stand before the country as a party that is true to its traditions and true to responsible leadership.

Our idea of not much news is another Wilson victory. There are so many of them.

There may not be much money in Mexico, but a person may choose from a great variety.

Spring is now so well established that no correspondent can hope to sell a news item about the death of the peach crop.

The Soul of Ham and Bacon.

"The soul of salt," says Maeterlinck, "is as interesting as the soul of sugar." What say you, reader, to the soul of ham and bacon? Were you ever possessed by the inner spirit of these goodly edibles, and embraced, as it were, by their astral selves? Then, you were conscious, we are sure, of a subtler delight than the most festal gobbler could ever impart.

It is a singular and regretiable fact that our present-day poets, with their keen sense for the significance of the homely, have not given due meed of song to the virtues of ham and bacon. We have sonnets to dish pans, odes to skillets, and one of the most charming lyrics of the year is entitled, "An Old Boot Lying in a Ditch;" but we have yet to find a line of worthy verse on the beatitudes of bacon, or the heavenliness of ham. The fact is, it would require a rarely endowed poet to do these viands justice. Walt Whitman might have portrayed the fine vigor of a red-gravied ham, Swinburne or Keats, in their happiest moods, might have described the teasing aroma of a well-broiled slice of bacon; but it is doubtful that any poet, unless it be Shakespeare himself, could have wrought into words the soul of ham and bacon. Yes, we are sure, on sober, second thought that only the creator of Hamlet and Perdita could have done so.

Charles Lamb, to be sure, in his delightful "Dissertation on Roast Pig," touches the suburbs of the subject when he says, "Of all the delicacies in the whole mundus edibilis, I will maintain it to be the most delicate—princeps obsoniorum." But then Lamb, was writing only of roast pig, not of cured pig, not of pig translated on a fiery chariot to the seventh heaven of things palatable.

This is a matter in which every one must be his own poet, and, luckily, everyone can be. You have but to sniff the morning air as it floats from the benevolent kitchen; you will catch not merely an odor, but an incense, an afflatus, a soul—the soul of bacon or ham.

If the world paid more attention to restitution there would be less destitution.

The Importance of Plaza Bonds.

A bond issue for the construction of a plaza will enable the City of Atlanta to go before the Legislature with a conclusive argument for the State's sanction of this important enterprise. The benefits the plaza would bring the State and the Western and Atlantic railroad are obvious, but it is essential that the City shall show itself willing and prepared to carry the plan to success. By voting a sufficient bond issue for that purpose, Atlanta will offer the Legislature a definite proposition and the strongest possible appeal for the State's consent.

We can then say to the General Assembly: "The property owners of this community have created a fund of two million dollars with which to bridge over the railroad gorge that cuts the city in two and with which to provide, at the same time, a new passenger station and more adequate facilities for the Western and Atlantic terminals. The money is ready. The State has but to speak the word, and this enterprise, which will immeasurably enhance the value of the State's property and immeasurably promote Atlanta's well-being, will be carried promptly to completion." That, we say, is the most effective argument the City can advance to secure the State's consent for the construction of the plaza.

If, then, we want to get rid of the sewer of smoke, which is the gravest hindrance to Atlanta's development and the worst discomfort the public suffers, it behooves us to to be prepared to make such a proposition at the next session of the Legislature. And that means that plaza bonds should be submitted to the people at the earliest feasible date.

Public-spirited citizens are now working for a bond issue to meet the urgent needs of Grady hospital. Their cause is entirely meritorious, and it has The Journal's hearty indorsement. It is evident, however, that the plaza represents the most popular bond idea now before the people, wherefore it will be to the interest of hospital improvement to submit hospital bonds and plaza bonds at the same time.

Such an arrangement will bring to the polls a far larger number of voters than the question of hospital bonds alone could ever bring. It will fuse all progressive elements into an earnest campaign of civic upbuilding. Plaza bonds and hospital bonds would be voted on separately, but people who support the one will probably support the other, if they are presented at the same election, and thus both enterprises will have double assurance of success.

It should be remembered in this connection that a bond issue requires the indorsement of two-thirds of the registered voters. It will be necessary, therefore, to arouse public interest to an extraordinary degree and to bring to the polls an unusually large percentage of the registered voters, if either of these bond issues is to receive sufficient approval. By virtue of its broad popularity, the plaza proposition would greatly strengthen the cause of hospital improvement. The friends of the hospital should avail themselves of this opportunity and use their influence to secure a joint election at which both propositions may be submitted.

It was originally proposed to hold the bond election on May the fifth, the date announced for the county primary. That, however, would give far too little time for a fair presentation of these important matters. The county primary could be postponed until May the twenty-fifth without inconvenience to any one concerned. Indeed, we feel sure that all the candidates would agree to that plan, especially in view of the great importance of the bond question. It is earnestly to be hoped that this readjustment will be effected, so that the people may have an opportunity to vote on both plaza bonds and hospital bonds at the same election.

These issues should be the only ones submitted at that time. They both involve matters of peculiar urgency. The needs of the hospital are imperative. The plaza question must be settled before the Legislature meets. Other bonds can easily be submitted at the city primary next autumn, but these two issues demand the earliest possible attention.

They concern the immediate interests, the vital interests of the entire community. If Atlanta is ever to be quit of the intolerable ills that accompany the sewer of smoke running through its very heart, she must act without delay; she must be ready to make the State a clear-cut proposition at the next session of the General Assembly. Likewise, the needs of Grady hospital can no longer be safely or justly neglected. Let these two supremely important questions be submitted to the voters at the same time and as soon as practical conditions allow.

THE SEARCHLIGHT

One Woman's Work.

The single-handed education of a whole county in the mountains of Kentucky wherein illiteracy was the traditional, accepted state of being, was the unusual task undertaken and accomplished by Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, superintendent for Rowan county, two years ago. Her work forms a striking illustration of the tremendous possibilities of well-directed, enthusiastic school campaigns. It would also seem to indicate that, barring the weak minded, obstructive illiteracy can be eliminated in this country by short, concerted effort.

When Mrs. Stewart began her campaign in 1910 to wipe illiteracy from her district, she began the first practical demonstration of the ability of a community to educate all of its members that has been furnished by any portion of the United States. At the conclusion of her campaign, she had placed a record of achievement above that of any other county in America.

In 1910 the United States census gave a count of 1,152 adult illiterates in Rowan county. Then Mrs. Stewart started her campaign. According to the most recent returns from her district, there are now just twenty-three adult illiterates remaining. These twenty-three are classified as follows:

"Too stubborn to learn, four; confirmed invalids or sick during campaign, six; defective eyesight, six; idiots, five; moved in during the closing days of the campaign, two."

Curing Poverty Through the Schools.

A New York educator has formulated the tenet that there is no need for any one to be poor, that all poverty results from mismanagement and that tendencies toward mismanagement can be reached and corrected in the schools. Provided the school does its whole duty, he believes, there will be no need of almshouses and organised charities. As the first step toward the elimination of poverty he would have the children taught the value and proper use of money as part of their school course.

His creed is that there can be no excuse for the development of wretchedness and want in the lives of men and women who have been average children endowed with ordinary physical and mental capacity. Part of the plan is to teach all average boys and girls to save their pennies, providing a nucleus for capital and prosperity, instead of spending them for gum and, while accustoming them to thrifty habits, to also instill in them a determination to be economically independent.

Thrift teaching in the schools has long passed an experimental stage, but that the schools can exert the strongest power for the stifling of poverty is a new ideal. John H. Thiry gave the impulse to thrift teaching when, in 1886, he established the school savings bank system in School No. 4, Long Island City on the plan used in the schools of France. This feature in education work has spread through many schools in the country, and accounts opened by the children have amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars formerly wasted on half-appreciated fripperies.

Quips and Quiddities

An Irishman who had come to New York was met at Ellis Island by his brother Mike. The latter undertook to show Pat the sights of the big city, pointing out the City Hall, Trinity church, and the tall buildings. At length they came to Chinatown.

Pointing to a Chinese laundry, Mike exclaimed: "Look at that sign, Pat! Sure, an' ye never saw the like o' that in Ireland! Can you read it?"

"No," replied Pat, "but, begorra, if I had me flute here I could play it."

It was a very youthful class in physiology.

"Why," asked the teacher, "is it best to eat soup first when one is very hungry?"

The pupils stared at her blankly. Then Jamie enlightened them from the depths of his experience.

"You can get it down faster," he announced.—The Delineator.

The Journal's Letter Box

Editor The Journal:

Atlanta is a marvelous city. Its growth and development have been wonderful. It will soon be the largest city in the south.

It is already the most progressive and important. New Orleans and Louisville, Ky., are the only southern cities whose population is larger than Atlanta's. Atlanta's postal receipts are larger than either.

According to the census of 1910, there are only thirty cities in the United States larger than Atlanta. In 1900 there were forty.

The cities that "lost out" during this decade are Albany and Syracuse, N. Y.; Fall River and Worcester, Mass.; Memphis, Tenn.; New Haven, Conn.; Omaha, Neb.; Paterson, N. J.; Scranton, Pa., and St. Joseph, Mo. The population of Atlanta in 1900 was 89,872; that of Albany, N. Y., 94,151. In 1910 the census gave Atlanta 154,839, and Albany 100,253, the latter gaining only 16,102, while Atlanta gained 64,967—over four to one.

The only cities in the United States larger than Atlanta are New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Cleveland, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Detroit, Buffalo, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Newark, New Orleans, Washington, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, Jersey City, Kansas City, Seattle, Indianapolis, Providence, Louisville, Rochester, St. Paul, Denver Portland, Columbus and Toledo.

The present estimated population of Atlanta is over 200,000. Including the suburbs, it is no doubt more than this.

Our new postoffice building is already inadequate to business demands. The contemplated $2,000,000 postoffice will soon be a realization and the present building will be used by the regional bank, which we are sure to get, and the federal court and government offices, as at present. Oglethorpe university will prove a splendid asset for Atlanta, both financially, socially and morally, and will be a magnificent educational and enlightening force. Now is the time for Atlanta to project a movement to build a great Methodist university.

According to the recent decision of the Tennessee supreme court, Vanderbilt university is no longer under the control of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, and the Southern Methodist church is sure to establish a great university somewhere. Atlanta is the logical point. Our professional and business men should lose no time in going after it.

I am sure this suggestion will find a responsive chord in the heart of every Atlantian, and if we get busy we will get the results. W. C. DAVIS.

Southern Dialects

To the Editor of the Sun—Sir: The question of dialect is, and must always be, a vexed one; we southerners do not deny, defend or blush for the inaccuracies and inconsistencies of our speech, nor do "we-all" seek to hurl a specific tu quoque, with illustrations, at our accusers. But perhaps I may be pardoned, these premises being borne in mind, if I offer a few observations" from the angle of vision of a southerner who has often and for long periods crossed Mason and Dixon's line on even remoter lines, and who, therefore, may venture to regard himself as in some degree enlightened, if not wholly unbiased.

Traveling or even residence in the south does not guarantee one's dialect; any unaccustomed locution will be heard in as many ways as there are persons present to hear it. Moreover, the user of dialect distracts the reader's color by often using it for disregard for uniformity. Mr. Horace Kephart, in his recent able book upon the people of Appalachia, points out that the same person will say, for example, "it" or "hit" as euphony or the occasion may demand. The same is true in varying degrees of other southerners, widely different as they are from the mountain people; but if a general rule can be laid down it will, I think, be found that the friendlier and less formal our attitude toward our audience the more likely we are to indulge ourselves in half humorous quotation of the slipshod talk of the "mammies" and other house servants of our early youth. This is by no means a trick of the uneducated; it can hardly be called a vulgarism. It was the charming Virginia born wife of a professor of Greek who said to me: "I'd like mightily to have y'all (singular) come," and a professor in a northern college has frequently delighted my soul with "Sure enough? Hucoome?"

Your three correspondents upon the "you-all" problem, and I, the fourth, as well, no doubt, are all both right and wrong; it is a matter of geography, "and then some." "You-all," for "you" singular is, as I have heard it all over the south, generally the colored house servant's way of softening courteously the too abrupt and direct pronoun. Miss Ma'y, does y'all wan' me to set de table?" "Teddy, y'all git burn' right black in de hot sun." "Mist' Rob, I's all raidy to go whenever you-all is." The children catch up the phrase; later they quote it in jest, and often, like slang, it "slips out" unintended. It is difficult for the unaccustomed ear to differentiate these shades of usage, as difficult as it is to catch the down or up intonation. To hear a singer who has never lived among southerners trying to cope with "Mighty Lak a Rose" lends a comical zest to the song. I had a weird experience. On the other hand, the ultimate joke may be on us. A Georgia friend and I once, seeking to revenge ourselves upon a Chicago man, who had jeered at the "provincialism" of dialect, treated him without warning to all the variants of southern dialect. We talked like coast negroes, like field hands, like very old ladies, like "furrin born so'therners who" to Key West. "It was all thrown away on me," he said calmly when we owned up; "I didn't notice any difference from your usual way of speaking."

Probably it was the difficulty of discriminating between the varying degrees of softness and slurring of consonants which caused Mr. Governeur Morris in one of his earlier stories to make his lovely heroine, daughter of a thousand Virginia "cunnels" (g-rrr) to talk like a "cawn fiel' darky." No housemaid in the south would be guilty of such speech. Mr. Robert W. Chambers, in a Civil war story of some years ago, did a little better for his southern lady, but not much. Still, need we cavil? Does not a writer in a current magazine, speaking to quote a Dorsetshire man in the heart of the Thomas Hardy country, give him the language of a London cockney, and even that inaccurately?

Yet there is one warm protest of Mr. W. Sheridan Kane in which, heartily thanking him, I must concur; anathema maranatha upon that cacliff who, "though the Christy Minstrels are a 'provincialism' of England," persists in writing "Ah" for "I." When Mr. Kabs, upon whom be peace, decides whether to deal with this miscreant in polemics or in fisticuffs he not of his grace remember me? I should be glad to be there.—Robert Emmet Ward, Highlands, N. C., in a letter to the New York Sun.

The Frank Trial

(Chicago Tribune.)

Leo M. Frank was convicted of murder in Atlanta when admittedly the public mind was inflamed. Authorities are sensitive to such conditions, and the reaction is not always in the direction of justice. The possibility opens for legalised lynch law. Judgment may be warped. Prejudices rule, passions prevail over justice, and a victim be found to whom no guilt is attached.

This is worse than a crime of mob violence. Mobs may be swayed by passion, but not the state. The evidence against Frank is pronounced by fair examiners to be uncertain, if not worthless. Sentiment is changing. The community is not seeking a victim.

A retrial of Leo Frank is needed if the state of Georgia is not to have in its criminal court records the case of a man who went to the gallows although he might have been innocent and who did not have a fair chance to defend himself.

THE AMERICAN LIBRARY

V.—THE CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON.
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The American library association will meet in annual conference in Washington, the capital of the nation, on May 25, for a session of five days. This is the first conference held in Washington since 1881, when there was an attendance of only seventy persons. This year it is expected that out of the total membership of nearly 3,700 represented in the association, there will be in attendance between 1,000 and 1,200 members from outside of Washington, in addition to the membership of nearly 100 persons who live in the national capital.

* * *

It is expected that the attendance will be larger than ever before for several reasons: One is that most of the conferences heretofore have been in mountain or seashore resorts. On account of the high prices of the resort hotels, many representatives of the smaller libraries have never thought that they could afford to attend, but now that the meeting is to be held in Washington where living accommodations at almost any price may be obtained and their attendance on the conference will mean also a visit to the capital, a large number of representatives of the smaller libraries will attend.

* * *

Washington is always a mecca for librarians, because of the presence in the national capital of such a large number of libraries of almost every conceivable type. The Library of Congress, the public library, the great medical library, the various departmental and scientific collections, all will be attractive to librarians in all parts of the country—this quite apart from the fact that Washington itself is so well worth visiting.

* * *

The importance of a national convention of American librarians may be easily underestimated. A few statistics of library work will dispel any such misapprehension. It is only since 1867 that the federal government has deemed it worth while to compile library statistics and, indeed, there were no comprehensive figures until 1875. In the latter year the census bureau embraced in its returns all libraries comprising 300 volumes. By 1893 the standard was so raised that no mention was made of collections of books of fewer than 1,000. The last census takes no account of any library containing fewer than 5,000 volumes. This illustrates the great growth of libraries, both in gross number and in the size of the individual collections.

* * *

In 1875 there were 2,039 libraries in the United States, including school libraries, that had 1,000 volumes and more. In 1885 there were 4,026 such libraries, ten years after that there were 8,000, and not there are not less than 12,000 libraries of more than 1,000 books. The recorded number of libraries comprising 5,000 volumes or more now reaches to a total of 15,834, and of these no less than 2,328 have in excess of 5,000 volumes each.

* * *

In the United States there are 1,522 incorporated cities of 5,000 or more inhabitants, and their libraries boast of no less than 80,000,000 books—one for every man, woman and child in the country. These have a total yearly circulation of 110,000,000 issues. These libraries are adding to their collections at the rate of 4,000,000 volumes a year, and collectively they receive and expend $20,000,000 annually.

* * *

Nearly all of these libraries occupy buildings of their own, the total value reaching $100,000,000, approximately half of which has been donated by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. The population of these 1,522 places is 39,000,000, considerably less than half of the population of continental United States. However, their book possessions are nine times as great as those of all the rest of the country and the circulation of the books is nearly twelve times as great in volume.

* * *

In this last statement may be found an inspiration for many of the discussions that will occupy the time of the Washington conference—the extension of library work in communities not now reached. Especial emphasis will be put on the plans of extending the work of traveling libraries and in other ways to meet the necessity of taking the library into the rural communities of the country.

* * *

In fact, the coming convention, it is announced, will concern itself much less than usual with the technical matters of librarianship, but will be devoted to the larger and more general aspects of library work. It will have a certain literary flavor, although it will be largely devoted to some of the great questions of the day and their bearing on library work. In the sectional meetings more attention will be given to technique, though even in these the close relations of the library to present day affairs will be reflected.

* * *

The sections that will hold separate meetings include the following: College and reference section, trustees, catalog, library work with children, professional training, and agricultural library sections.

* * *

A particularly instructive feature planned for the Washington conference is the exhibition of library labor-saving devices, which will be open to the delegates throughout the time of the conference.

* * *

In an earlier article of this series mention was made of the fact that the American library, among other things, is a business institution, and that the libraries collectively spend large sums of money. Modern librarians, being wideawake business men, keenly realize the value of the economy and efficiency movement, and are in the habit of looking for the most improved appliances and devices to save time and money, and to eliminate non-productive drudgery.

* * *

In an effort to bring to the attention of librarians all labor-saving devices suitable for library work, the committee on administration has arranged for a comprehensive exhibit and demonstration. The committee is composed of Dr. Arthur E. Bostwick, librarian of the St. Louis public library; Dr. George F. Bowerman, librarian of the Washington public library, and John S. Cleavinger, librarian of the Jackson, Mich., public library. The exhibition, which will be installed in the central building of the Washington public library, will be under the immediate direction of C. Seymour Thompson, assistant librarian of that institution.

* * *

The library profession has contributed to modern commerce the card catalog cases and all of the modifications including the vertical file. It is, therefore, appropriate that the library should get back from the business world all the many devices invented by it, as well as the ideas applicable to the more commercial side or the professional and technical side of library administration.

* * *

The articles shown in this exhibit will range from manifolding machines and vacuum cleaners to staple fasteners and other desk appliances. Among them will be improved shelving, book trucks, book dumbwaiters, catalog card trays, typewriters, computing machines, perforating machines, dictating machines, machines for photographing manuscripts and documents, and many other appliances, large and small.

* * *

The present officers of the American library association well represent the interests of American library interests. They include the president, Edwin H. Anderson, director of the New York public library, and vice presidents, Hiller C. Wellman, librarian of the public library of Springfield, Mass., and Miss Gratia A. Countryman, librarian of the Minneapolis public library. The other members of the executive board are Dr. Clement W. Andrews, librarian of the John Crerar library, Chicago; Miss Linda A. Eastman, vice librarian of the Cleveland public library; W. N. C. Carlton, librarian of the Newberry library, Chicago; Theodore W. Koch, librarian of the University of Michigan; Harrison W. Craver, librarian of the Carnegie library of Pittsburg, and Dr. Herbert Putnam, librarian of congress. The secretary is George B. Utley, Chicago, and the treasurer is Carl B. Roden, assistant librarian of the Chicago public library.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT NOW IN PANAMA CANAL ZONE

Colonel Goethals First Governor Following Dissolving of Commission

PANAMA, April 1.—The Panama canal zone began business today under a permanent form of government.

The isthmian canal commission, which has governed the zone during the construction of the waterway, was dissolved, and a civil administration, semi-military in character, was established.

Colonel George W. Goethals, by appointment of the president of the United States, became its first governor. His inauguration was remarkable. There were no ceremonies, no speeches, no display.

In his office on the top of Culebra hill, overlooking the now famous cut of that name, Colonel Goethals, chairman and chief engineer of the isthmian canal commission, simply began his day's work under a new title—"Governor and chief of the department of operation and maintenance."

In the big cut below, while the colonel figuratively transferred his power from out hand to another, the steam dredges were tearing away at the foot of Curcaracha slide, and locomotives were busy hauling away more of the daily spoil. Work progressed as usual along the whole route of the canal. There were no extra flags flying, no outward show of any kind that the government of the one was undergoing any changes. These were changes in name merely, so far as most of the canal workers were concerned. Ever since Colonel Goethals became the guiding spirit of the work he has been the "benevolent despot" of the isthmus, and there are few new faces in the group of men who have found a place in the permanent government.

The list has been announced as follows:

Engineer of Maintenance—Colonel Harry F. Hodges, of the army engineers.

Superintendent of Transportation—Captain Hugh Rodman, U. S. N.

Electrical Engineer—Captain W. H. Rose, of the army engineers.

Captains for the Terminal Ports—Commander D. E. Dismukes and Lieutenant Commander Henry V. Butler, U. S. N.

Superintendent of Shops and Drydocks—Naval Constructor D. C. Nutting.

General Purchasing Officer—Major F. C. Boggs, army engineers.

Chief Quartermaster—Captain R. E. Wood, United States cavalry (temporarily, pending reorganization of the supply department).

Auditor—H. A. A. Smith; assistant, B. F. Harrah.

Chief Health Officer—Lieutenant Colonel Charles F. Mason, medical corps, U. S. A.

Chief Officer of the Quarantine Division—Passed Assistant Surgeon Marshall C. Guthrie, U. S. bureau of public health.

Executive Secretary—C. A. McIlvaine.

Only a small portion of the permanent organization became actually effective today; it probably will not be perfected until all of the construction work has been done, which will require probably another year.

FRUIT GROWERS ADVISED ON SPRAYING OF TREES

The season for spraying fruit trees in Georgia is rapidly approaching, and for the benefit of the fruit growers the state department of entomology has prepared a circular which affords comprehensive information concerning the time for spraying different kinds of trees, the sort of spray to be used in each instance and other valuable points for the growers. Copies of these circulars may be obtained free of cost from the department of entomology, state capitol, Atlanta, Ga. The department advises that spraying is necessary if perfect fruit is to be grown.

Represented at the gathering were the following firms: Chattanooga Furniture company, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Cherokee Manufacturing company, of Maryland, Tenn.; Marietta Chair and Furniture company, of Marietta, Ga.; Knoxville Chair and Furniture company, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Dalton Chair and Furniture company, of Dalton, Ga.; Mount Airy Furniture company, of Mount Airy, Ga., and Young Miles Furniture company, of Atlanta.

BIG SUFFRAGE PAGEANT IN ATLANTA ON MAY 2

One Thousand Men and Women to Parade Peachtree and Whitehall

Atlanta's first woman suffrage parade will be staged on Peachtree and Whitehall streets on May 2, the date set by the national association for country-wide demonstrations for the cause.

This was decided at a meeting at the Piedmont hotel convention hall Tuesday night of the Equal Suffrage party of Georgia, recently granted a charter. The meeting was attended by over one hundred people.

It was announced that a parade committee had been appointed with representatives from each of the three local suffrage organizations.

While plans have not yet been completed it is known that the women will dress in white, carrying yellow ribbons and banners bearing the slogan, "votes for women." Nearly a thousand men and women are expected to participate in the procession.

At Tuesday's meeting, it was announced that the publicity committee was waging an active advertising campaign. Slides advertising the suffrage party have been installed in several motion-picture shows, while the Montgomery theater will put on a suffrage play next Tuesday.

Tuesday's meeting was presided over by Mrs. Emily McDougald. Interesting talks were made by Mrs. Linton C. Hopkins and Dr. Rebecca Brannen.

Nashville Gets Suffrage Convention in 1914

(By Associated Press.)

CHATTANOOGA, April 1.—A telegram from Miss Sarah Barnwell Elliott, of Sewanee, president of the Tennessee Equal Suffrage league, announced here this morning that she had just received a telegram from Miss Marie Thompson Davies, of Greenville, temporarily in New York, that she had changed her vote on the place of meeting of the National Equal Suffrage association from Chattanooga to Nashville, thus giving Nashville the 1914 convention by one vote instead of Chattanooga as announced yesterday.

Chattanooga suffragists insist that the vote in favor of Chattanooga was officially announced yesterday, and Miss Davies was too late in changing her vote, and they will make a fight for the convention before the national executive committee, if any attempt is made to change the result of yesterday's vote.

DECIDE TO MAKE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TOUR OF CITY

Bureau of Commerce Chamber to Start Trip on May 6

At a meeting of the Industrial and Statistical bureau of the Atlanta chamber of commerce on Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to operate a second industrial tour to show Atlanta's splendid commercial and industrial activities. Wednesday, May 6, was set as the date, and the train will start at 10 o'clock in the morning, returning to the first station at 4 o'clock.

Ample time will be allowed at each stopping point for the tourists to become thoroughly acquainted with the plant.

The success of the first industrial tour and the advantage derived therefrom led to the planning of the second one.

May Apple Root

Oldest Known Medicine Mentioned in Genesis and Songs of Solomon

"Mandrake" is the Biblical name of what we call May Apple. Of the May Apple. Encyclopedia Britannica defining the word Podophyllin says: "Mandrake or May Apple Root, a popular remedy much used by those averse to calomel or other mercurial preparations, hence has been called 'Vegetable Calomel.'"

Our grandsires used May Apple Root, tea or powder as a Liver Regulator. It has survived by virtue of its merit as a starter of Bile. Our forefathers said: "It makes the Liver act"—which is true in the sense that it releases the Bile from the Liver.

Bile is the one natural germicide that overcomes germ growth in the intestines. A free normal flow of Bile is essential to immunity from germ infection and intestinal disorders.

For years chemists have labored to overcome the only objection ever raised to Podophyllin—the griping—and at last have succeeded and offer to the world a new formula called "PoDoLax"—"Po" from Podophyllin and "Lax" meaning laxative or gentle in action as constrasted with its former cathartic or purging effect.

PoDoLax is good to taste and is taken by children from a spoon or glass without the usual resistance. Best results are had by a single dose when a bad taste, or bad breath, or coated tongue are first noticed. Ask for PoDoLax and be sure to get PoDoLax.

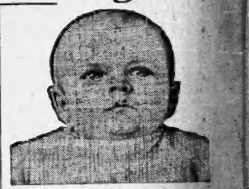
Charles T. & Linton C. Hopkins, attorneys, announce the removal of their offices from the Empire building to Nos. 1423-1430 Healy building.

The law firm was known as John L. Hopkins & Sons until the death of the senior member, Judge John L. Hopkins, more than a year ago.

Turn the Baby's Tears to Laughter

A Gentle Baby Laxative Will Quickly Relieve the Usual Cause of the Trouble



WALTER J. KIRCH

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express its feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels "out of sorts."

The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mrs. John Kirch, Jr., 1527 Abstract Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. She has been giving it successfully to little Walter, whose picture we present at three months, when he weighed 14 1-2 pounds. He is a healthy, laughing young baby to-day and Mrs. Kirch gladly gives Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin credit. It saves many an illness and many a large doctor bill, for by administering it promptly when the first symptoms of illness are noticed it prevents a serious ailment.

It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse it, and as it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families already familiar with its merits. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 412 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

Getting Ready For Easter

Usage has made Easter time the season for donning new Spring attire; and just now Atlanta stores are in the full swing of preparation.

Never were they brighter---never did the new things look more inviting.

And as the advertising naturally reflects the merchandise, the business news as told in today's Journal is exceedingly interesting.

It tells of the styles, the colors, the shapes, the trimmings, the ribbons, the laces, and the furbelows.

It informs women what is new in line and fabric.

It tells where the new things can be seen and what the prices are.

To miss Journal advertising these days is to miss much important news of what is going on in this busy world.

Mr. Henry M. Atkinson, Jr., Leader in College Play

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WELLESLEY, Mass., April 1.—The Hasty Pudding club, most exclusive of all Harvard college societies, gave the first public performance of "The Legend of Loravia," the annual musical show, last evening in Agassiz hall before an unusually large and enthusiastic audience. Although the card as a whole made a remarkable showing especially prominent was the work of Henry Morrell Atkinson, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., one of the most popular men at Harvard, who made a distinct hit.

The play is to be repeated next Monday and Tuesday evening by request.

Rehearsal for Spring Pageant

All the young women taking part in the Indian scene from the "Pageant of Spring," to be given the latter part of April under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian association, are requested to meet for rehearsal Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

There will also be a dress rehearsal of the Nightingale dance at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Miss Patten to Read For Drama League

An interesting event of Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the Carnegie library will be the lecture to be given by Miss Cora Mell Patten, of Chicago, for the members of the Drama league.

Miss Patten, who is one of the three great chairmen of the league and one of the best known readers, will give an address upon the educational value of the Drama league and will cite the splendid work being done by children through the United States in festivals and pageants.

The lecture will be free and all are cordially invited to attend.

Thursday afternoon at 3:30, Miss Patten will give an Ibsen reading at Cable hall. "Brand," one of the most forceful of the Ibsen dramas and one which carries a wide lesson, has been chosen for the reading.

On account of the expense in bringing the lecturer to the city the small sum of 25 cents will be charged for admission.

This lecture will probably close the series given by the league during the winter and it is expected that a large number who are interested in the plays of Ibsen and the vital lessons underlying each one of the great dramas will attend the lecture.

Luncheon to Visitor

Mrs. Emily N. Stewart entertained at luncheon Tuesday afternoon at her home in West End in honor of Miss Mary Bryan, of Birmingham, Ala., a junior at Agnes Scott college.

Large Empress Jonquils were arranged with artistic effect to form the centerpiece, and all minor appointments of the pretty table introduced the bright yellow color motif.

Covers were laid for twelve.

Bridge Club Entertained

Mrs. Louis Moore entertained the members of her bridge club at her home in West End Park on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Moore was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Walter W. Lowe.

Mrs. Frank D. Pierson made top score and received a hand-painted plate. Those present were Mrs. J. Richard Kemp, Mrs. Hebert J. Mason, Mrs. James Shepherd, Mrs. P. J. Zimpelmann, Mrs. Charles W. Bohler, Mrs. W. R. Dunden and Mrs. W. Ernest Williams.

Wood-Reese

Miss Martha Eulalia Reese and Dr. Kenneth Wood were quietly married at the residence of Dr. Huch K. Walker Saturday evening, March 28. Dr. Walker officiated.

Easter Sale of Fancy Articles

The Business Women's league of the Second Baptist church will have a sale of fancy articles especially suitable for Eastertide; also home-made cakes, candies, stuffed dates, dainty sandwiches, on Saturday, April 4, from 10 to 4, at 56 Peachtree street, next door from Walton street.

Luncheon will be served from 12 to 2:30 at 25 cents per lunch.

The proceeds of the sale will be devoted to the Georgia Baptist hospital.

The co-operation of the ladies of the church and their friends is requested.

The guests will include fifty members of the younger set.

Dinner to Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Perryman will entertain a few friends at dinner Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Jay Smith, of New York, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gonzales.

Miss McCarty's Guests

Miss Ellen Stokes, of Nashville, Tenn., is being tendered many parties during her visit to Miss Marian Atchison, and one of the most enjoyable will be the luncheon Thursday, given by Miss Helen McCarty at her home on Piedmont avenue.

The guests will be Miss Stokes, Miss Atchison, Miss Jennie D. Harris, Miss Mamie Ansley and her guest, Miss Lil Hodgson, of Athens; Miss Jessie McKee and Miss Margaret McCarty.

Pages Named for D. A. R. Congress

Two of Georgia's most attractive young women, Miss Ada Young, of Macon, and Miss Cena Whitehead, of Albany, have been named by the president general, Mrs. Story, as pages for the Daughters of the American Revolution congress to be held in Washington, D. C., from April 19 through the 26th.

Miss Young was page for the state regent during the recent Daughters of the American Revolution conference in Macon.

Philharmonic Concert

Miss Eva Emmett Wycoff, noted American singer, was greeted by an enthusiastic audience at the Atlanta theater Tuesday evening, when she appeared in concert with the Atlanta Philharmonic orchestra.

Splendid work was done by the orchestra in their interpretation of the symphonic poem, "The Light That Failed," after Kipling, and set to music by the American composer, Mr. C. E. Pemberton.

A number which brought forth much applause and which was rendered with artistic skill by the orchestra was the intermezzo from "I Pagliacci."

Another number played with pleasing effect in the second half of the program was the "Lullaby," by Brahms.

Miss Wycoff possesses a dramatic soprano of unusual power and beauty which was effectively shown in her singing of the "Ave Maria," from "The Cross of Fire," and in the difficult "Spinning Song," which she gave as an encore.

The dramatic and tuneful Hungarian march from "The Damnation of Faust" brought the program to a brilliant close.

The program in full was as follows: Symphonic overture; Romance Allegro—M. F. Mason.

From "I Pagliacci"—Intermezzo; Mentusto and Gavotte—R. Leoncavallo.

From "The Cross of Fire"—Ave Maria, M. Surch—Miss Wycoff.

Intermission.

Solvejg's "Love Song"—Edv Grieg.

"Lullaby"—Joh Brahms.

Symphonic poem, "The Light That Failed" (after Kipling)—C. E. Pemberton.

From "The Damnation of Faust"—Hungarian March—H. Berlioz.

Miss Davis Entertains At Luncheon

Miss Rosalie Davis was hostess at a beautiful luncheon Wednesday at her home on Peachtree road, in compliment to Miss Dorothy High, who has recently returned from a six months' stay abroad, and to Miss Mary Brown, who is home from Vassar college for the Easter holidays.

The guests were assembled at small tabels placed in the sun parlor, the draperies and furnishings of which were in old blue.

Quantities of white roses, potted daffodils, emperor narcissi, violets and white Japanese cherry blossoms formed an artistic decoration.

The honor guests were presented with white ivory clocks as souvenirs of the occasion.

Miss Davis was attractive in an imported model of tan satin draped with black tulle.

Miss Dorothy High was gowned in brown taffeta, mesaline and crepe de chine combined, and Miss Mary Brown wore a suit of gaberdine serge.

Sixteen guests of the debutante set were present.

OUR ASTROLOGER

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

HOROSCOPE FOR THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1914.

Thou mayst count many woes
While two stars are thy foes.

While Venus is in a place strongly helpful, with Neptune kindly disposed today, astrologers warn men and women to be cautious, as Uranus and Jupiter are adverse in influence.

Although he planet that rules lovers is well disposed, early in the day, the influence of Uranus is held to be sinister enough to give warning against sudden friendship or romances. The sway is said to encourage attractions toward undesirable persons, especially those who have fantastic personalities. Women may be victimized by men of artistic temperament are concerned.

It is rather a fortunae day for weddings. social affairs of all sorts should be successful.

Neptune gives promise of prosperity to all who deal in delicacies for the table. Wholesale and retail grocers are under a fortunate rule.

Bankers, university students, magistrates and clergymen should be careful while Jupiter is evilly disposed toward the inhabitants of the earth.

Wrestlers and athletes may find conditions unsatisfactory while this conjuration prevails. They should guard against physical ills and accidents.

There is a prophecy that the United States will go through a summer of unusual stress. A London astrologer predicts trouble with Germany and other diplomatic complications. There will be a danger which compels a feint with warships. California may have disturbing relations with a foreign nation.

The position of Mars indicates an increase of armaments. A military or naval commander of world fame will die suddenly this month, the seers predict.

An earthquae at thirty-five degrees east longitude is prognosticated. Heavy storms will do damage to crops in the eastern states this month.

Owing to the planetary influences the mania for extremes in fashions and dancing will continue through the summer, but a reaction in the autumn is foreshadowed. Scandals will be numerous and the number of divorces will increase within the next six months, if the readings of the stars are correct.

Persons whose birthdate it is may meet with many annoyances during the coming year. In business both men and women should avoid speculation. In domestic affairs and romances of all sorts, there will be good luck. The young will become engaged or will marry.

Children born on this day have the augury of success and good fortune. Boys will attain high office or reach positions of authority. Girls probably will marry happily.

Build up your baby's strength

Give him the right food. More babies die as a result of the wrong food than from any other cause, and it is so unnecessary. When your milk fails and you find you can't nurse your baby, give him the food on which three generations of boys and girls have grown healthy and strong—

Nestlé's Food

In Nestlé's there is everything your baby needs to make his little body plump, his cheeks rosy and his eyes bright. Pure cows' milk is its basis—but cows' milk so changed and modified and with baby sugar added, that your little baby can digest it just as easily as mother's milk. Add cold water and boil, and you have a Food your baby will thrive on.

Cows' milk alone will not do for your baby. It is dangerously full of germs which may carry disease to your baby. There are only eight clean dairies in a hundred, in this country. And, besides, cows' milk is too heavy and indigestible for your baby's delicate stomach. Nature made cows' milk for calves, not for your delicate little baby.

Let us send you a big box of Nestlé's—enough for twelve feedings—and our Book on the care of Babies. We will send you also our new "Better Babies" Chart. Measure your baby by this chart and see how near he comes to being a perfect baby. Send the coupon today. Your baby's health depends on his food.

PRETTY BOUDOIR CAP

From the time of the French revolution came the mob cap, of which the pretty boudoir cap is only a variation. This one is made of white batiste and edged with black velvet.

To Mr. and Mrs. Wells

The dinner dance given by Mr. Cator Woolford Tuesday evening at the Georgian Terrace was a beautiful compliment to Mr. and Mrs. James R. Wells, who's wedding was an event of the past autumn.

The table represented a miniature Easter garden with tiny chicks, ducklings and bunnies nestled in the smilax festoons which linked two baskets filled with spring flowers on each end of the table to the large basket in the center, which held the same fragrant blossoms.

The handle was tied with yellow tulle.

The cards which marked the places of the guests were hand-painted baskets containing baby chicks.

Mrs. W. P Cooledge, Mr. Prince Webster and Dr. J. T. Williams proposed toasts to the host.

Mrs. Wells wore chiffon and tulle in the pastel shades embroidered in rhinestones. Miss Alice May Freeman was gowned in chiffon and lace with panniers of Dresden figured taffeta. Miss Caroline Muse was attractive in ciel blue chiffon and shadow lace with rhinestone trimmings. Miss Carolyn King wore a becoming toilet of champagne-colored chiffon and tulle, with taffeta girdle of shell pink. Miss Mary Hines was gowned in white messaline and lace. Miss Denk was presented with a silver fruit bowl, Miss Crystal Bosche made top score, the prize for which was a sandal wood fan, and the consolation prize, a piece of lingerie, was cut by Miss Mary Heinee

Miss Denk wore lavender crepe meteor and her corsage was of Parma violets.

Mrs. Mau was attired in black lace over king's blue.

Mrs. R. M. Rollestone, who assisted in the entertainment of the guests, wore gray charmeuse.

The guests of the occasion were Miss Denk, Miss Selina Brantly, Miss Mamie Heim, Miss Minnie Silver, Miss Lottie Meunch, of Benton Harbor, Mich.; Miss Crystal Bosche, Miss Mary Heinee, Miss Maud Rollestone, Miss Ruby Lawton, Miss Bloodworth, of Forsyth; Mrs Thomas Gallop, Mrs. Milner LaHaie, Mrs. Henry Meunch and Mrs. August Denk.

Some of the florists are selling small china jars each containing a single tulip bulb planted in sand, just ready to bloom. The jars are bright red or yellow and with tulips of the same colors they are very effective. The bulb flowers of the spring are certainly appropriate for table decoration. Tulips, daffodils, narcissus all these last fairly well and are very effective.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

PARIS.—How do you like the new fashion for Roman stripes? One cannot really call it new, for Fremet used it all last summer, and Paquin attached it in the form of girdles to her coat suits last winter.

But these people were forerunners of a fashion that has proved to be popular.

Someone has said that it is just as bad to be before hand as behind hand in fashions. It is certainly true that few people will accept a thing until it is general, and the originator never gets due credit. But there is no use sighing over this fact, for it is as true in the great things as in the little things of life.

The fact is Roman striping is in first fashion. The query is whether it will be out of fashion by tomorrow. Is it an April shower that will soon be over? Will its popularity prove its doom?

These are the questions no one can answer. Each individual must work them out for herself. If she is an extremist, and if she has a full purse, she can plunge into the expense of a Roman striped gown, and discard it as soon as she wearies of it.

Will You Have a Shirt of It?

Over here, in Paris, young women are wearing plain skirts in brilliant stripes on a light colored foundation. It is a daring fashion and only belongs to the young and the slim. Yet because it is the fashion it must take its place in reportorial news.

The first suit after this fashion was worn at the races on a grey, blustering day, and its gorgeous coloring did not offend the eye; in fact, it was rather cheering.

The foundation color was of sulphur yellow and the stripes were in blue, red and brown, and they were large enough to be seen across the race course.

Fortunately, there was no minaret tunic on this skirt; it fell in plain lines to the ankles, where the breadth across the hips vanished into a narrow band. There was no attempt on the part of this skirt to outline the figure. That epoch is passing away, although the figure quite clearly reveals itself through the loose transparent fabrics worn.

The coat to this jacket was a short affair that flared out from the waist and made no attempt to meet in front. The broad open expanse across the chest was filled in with a Directoire waistcoat of heavy white linen fastened with round gilt buttons and flaring into a starched pointed collar.

There are Americans who might like such a skirt, but they should have the good taste to keep it out of the city streets. Its place is at the country club in the afternoon.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

This is the story, the amazing story, that Sammy Jay told to Blacky the Crow as they sat in the Lone Pine. It is the same story he had tried to tell all the little people of the Green Meadows and the Green Forest, but that in his excitement he had mixed up so that nobody could make head or tail of it, and so every body had thought he had some crazy.

"I had gone way, way into the Green Forest to look around a little," said Sammy. "I had seen nothing and nobody for a long time, when suddenly I saw something moving on the ground. I flew over to see what it was, and when I got where I could see clearly I nearly fell from the tree in which I was sitting. Yes, sir, I was so surprised and—and frightened that I nearly fell out of that tree!"

Blacky looked as if he didn't quite believe this, but thought that Sammy was just trying to make a big story. But he didn't say anything, and Sammy went on.

"At first I thought that it was Farmer Brown's boy, for the stranger was standing on two legs, just like Farmer Brown's boy, and his back was to me. But in a minute I saw that he had on a black fur coat, and I've never seen Farmer Brown's boy wearing a black fur coat have you?

Blacky shook his head. Was it as black as mine?" he asked.

Sammy nodded. "Just as black," said he. "In a minute he began to walk, and he didn't walk on two feet—he walked on four feet!" Sammy was beginning to get excited again. "I was so surprised that I guess I screamed. Of course, he heard me and looked up. 'Hello, Mr. Jay!' said he and grinned, and when he grinned he showed his teeth, and they were very big. "I had begun to think that nobody lives around here and was getting kind of lonesome. You don't happen to know where there is any honey, do you? The idea of thinking that there would be any honey as early in the spring as this! Then he walked over to a big tree and stood up and stretched his hands way up as high as he could and scratched the bark of the tree, and he has the awfullest claws you ever saw! I didn't suppose anybody even had such claws. When I saw those I just spread my wings and flew away as fast as ever I could. And now when I try to tell about it everybody calls me crazy."

Blacky scratched his head thoughtfully and Sammy suspected that he, too, thought him crazy "Did he have a tail," asked Blacky.

"I—I don't know," confessed Sammy. "I didn't stop to look."

"And you say he is as big as—as Reddy Fox?" asked Blacky, his sharp eyes twinkling shrewdly.

"I said he is as big as Farmer Brown's boy!" replied Sammy indignantly.

"And he walks on four legs?" persisted Blacky.

"Yes," replied Sammy, "but he stands on two legs."

"Hm-m-m," said Blacky. "I've lived a long time in the Green Forest, but I've never seen or heard of any one like that You are sure you didn't dream it, Sammy?"

"Of course, I didn't dream it!" cried Sammy. "Did you ever know me to go to sleep in the daytime? I tell you he is a stranger!"

"Where did you say you saw him?" asked Blacky

"Deep in the Green Forest, beyond the pond of Paddy the Beaver," replied Sammy.

"I believe I'll go have a look for myself," said Blacky. "Won't you come show me the way?"

"No thanks," replied Sammy promptly. "I've seen him once, and that's enough!"

And so Blacky the Crow started alone to hunt or the stranger in the Green excited as Sammy Jay.

MUNICIPAL COURT JUDGES CHANGE PLACES MONDAY

There will be a shift among the judges of the municipal court Monday. Acting under the provision of the act creating the court, Judge Luther Z. Rosser, Jr., who has been on the bench of the criminal division for three months, will exchange places with Judge T. O. Hathcock, of the civil branch.

During the year there will be a rotation of judges on the criminal bench whereby each judge, except Chief Judge E. D. Thomas, will preside over the criminal division for three months.

Our Special Pre-Easter Suit Plan

The Price Is $21.75

Come and See What You Think They're Worth

It is not likely that women generally expect to save money at the season's beginning, and especially on suits just made up---just arrived in town, just put on sale today.

The Fabric Plan

It was in the plan when we bought the fabrics. It began to unroll when we found a goodly lot of fine Spring gabardines, serges, poplins, crepes, novelties and tango cloth—the end of a manufacturer's stock, and ordered them into suits.

Good pickings they were, too, or we wouldn't have bought them. They represent style, durability and all that Fashion's devotees expect. Colors are blue, black and white checks, and beautiful novelties in both light and dark effects.

The Style Plan

(Styles as Pictured)

The style features brought out tell the maker's ability to produce what well-dressed women want. Skirts show the jaunty ripple tunics —one, two, three, as you please.

Coats have the modish, one-button fastening, but vary in the back. There are eighteen different styles; postilion, belted and butterfly being pronounced. The new upstanding collars are a feature.

The Selling Plan

There are 200 of these Suits, and being specially bought they have also been specially priced for selling. Compare these same good styles to the $25, $30 and $35 Suits you've seen this season, then consider these Suits at—

$21.75

A New Blouse Crepe de Chine and Shadow Lace $2.95

The same good taste and economy with which you buy your Spring Suit applies to this new Blouse which we commend.

Crepe de chine, white and colors, forms the upper part of the Blouse, cream shadow lace the lower; embroidered batiste collar: $2.95.

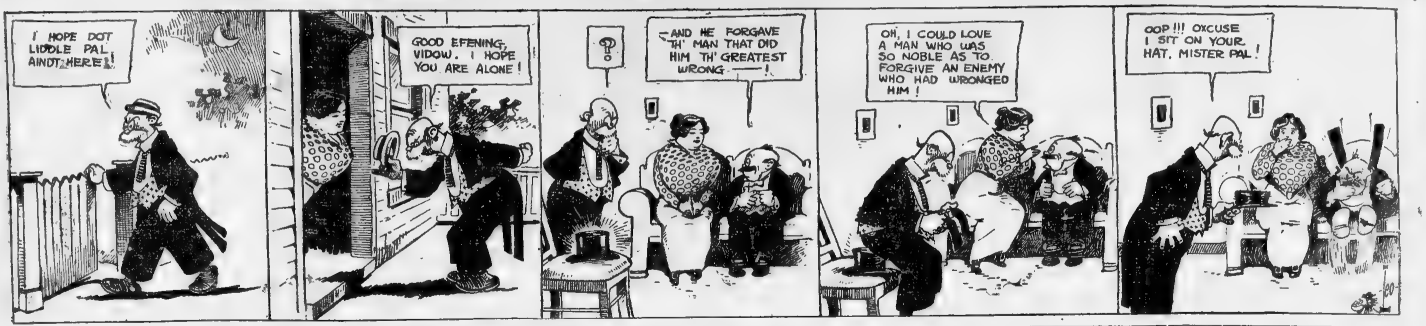
Knockout Eggers Handed Grant Awful Beating at Orpheum

LITTLE PAL---HE TRIES TO BE NOBLE

--BY LEO



Eggers Handed Jimmy Grant Severe Lacing

New York Bantam Beat Chicago Lad in Every Round by Wide Margin—Grant Collapsed at End of Fight – Is at Hospital Reported Improving

Knockout Eggers, the New York bantam, who gave Kid Young a sound mauling at the Georgia Athletic club a couple of weeks ago, handed a package of the same treatment to Jimmy Grant at the Orpheum last night. There was just one difference between the two battles. Last night's mill went ten rounds because of the fact that Grant was willing to take an awful beating and come back for more, whereas Young doubtless figured that discretion is the better part of valor, and that a slight scoreness on the morning after is muchly to be desired in preference to a couple of days in bed, resulting from soreness in more spots than the average man considers possible in the human anatomy.

As regards the bout, Grant never had a chance, and to say that he looked worse than he ever has in a local ring, is putting the matter mildly. To be sure Eggers is a better boy than any of the locals that Grant has met, but then Eggers never let himself out, and only in the last round did he really appear to be going in for the business of the evening. He mauled Grant all over, pretty much as he pleased. Jimmy covered his face and head almost all the time, but when he did happen to leave a jaw unprotected, Eggers would poke one through and remind Jimmy that danger lurked in his immediate vicinity if he failed to keep under cover. However, it may be said to Grant's credit that he stuck to his assignment as doggedly as any youngster who ever found himself in for a drubbing. In the first round Eggers caught him a clip under the chin that sent him reeling backwards to the floor. From that time the defeated entry went stoically about his work. It was a rather unwelcome spectacle to the crowd present to see Grant hammered so thoroughly, as was evidenced by the loud cheering when occasionally during the first four or five rounds Jimmy appeared to get to Eggers with a punch. Grant has established a reputation here as a good, clean boxer, and the fans appreciated him.

Following the battle, Grant collapsed, and after considerable work with him Dr. Louis C. Roughlin ordered that he be removed to a hospital. Jimmy Perry, who was Grant's chief adviser, informed Dr. Roughlin that Grant had eaten a very hearty dinner, consisting chiefly of meats, a couple of hours before the fight in an effort to take on more weight. Dr. Roughlin attributed the trouble following the fight to a bad case of acute indigestion. It was stated at Grady hospital this morning that his condition was improved.

Kid Underwood and Young Goodman fought a ten-round draw in the semi-windup that was a good even battle. The two boys kept after each other throughout the battle, but neither gained any decided advantage. Battling Sheppard beat Young Nelson in the opener.

Edward Ralph Meets Allen for Title

KANSAS CITY, April 1.—The first block of 200 points for the world's championship at pocket billiards will be played tonight between Bennie Allen, of Kansas City, the title holder, and Edward Ralph, of Highstown, N. J. The match will be 400 points.

Ralph is regarded as one of the best players in the east. He has shown well in practice. Allen won the championship from Alfred DeOro in New York City last September.

AFTER THINKING IT OVER.

(In regard to communicating with Mars at the rate of $1,000,000 a throw, as suggested by a certain collegiate or intercollegiate scientist.)

I should like to speak with Mars,
Holding close communication
With that nearest of the stars
To our own revolving nation;
But the terms are so blamed stiff,
Be it gossip and or funny,
That I really wonder if
What I'll learn is worth the money.

I should like to know how they
Keep a cook from weekly dodging,
If the daily poet's pay
Is enough for food and lodging;
I would like to know the way
That a bloke up there can eke
Out existence, day by day.
On about ten bones a week.

If they've found a sane and steady
Umpire who is on the square,
If they've ever heard of Teddy
In their little world up there;
If their legislatures ever,
As they gather fore and aft,
Add on each time new and clever
Little methods in their graft.

I would like to speak with Mars,
Like to have communication
With that nearest of the stars
To our own revolving station;
But my only coat is split,
And I need some shirts and collars,
So I think I'll wait a bit
With my little million dollars.

THE CASE FOR COBB.

While considerable gossip is raging back and forth as to whether Collins is the greatest ball player now extant, as John J. McGraw suggested last fall; as to whether Johnson is the most valuable, or Speaker is the greatest of all-round outfielders, loud and incessant noises are bulging out of the south as of something long and round meeting a baseball squarely on the frontispiece.

The echo, G. Reader, arises from Ty Cobb training hard in March for the purpose of obtaining a running start and proving again that he is the most valuable, or at least the greatest of them all.

Tyrus the Terror has been overshadowed a bit of late, but all for that his record is probably the most remarkable ever established. Absorb for the moment a succulent statistic or two.

WAGNER AVERAGED .344.

Hans Wagner for seventeen years has a grand batting average of .344. For his first nine years in the big show he averaged .350.

Larry Lajoie for eighteen years has a grand batting average of .351. For his first nine years he had an average of .356.

Pop Anson for twenty-two years had a grand average of .337. For his first nine years he had an average of .330.

Cobb has been in the game for only nine years, but in that time, starting with the low average of .240 for his first campaign, he has compiled the munificent average of .371 for his career to date—far in front of the rival field.

Not only that; Cobb hasn't batted under .375 for five seasons—since 1908. And in the last four years he has averaged a trifle over .400.

COBB LEADS FOR SEVEN YEARS.

In addition to which Cobb has led the American league in batting the last seven consecutive years, and he has led both leagues in batting six out of the last seven starts.

In that same period he has averaged a greater number of stolen bases and a greater number of runs scored, which leaves him by all odds the greatest record on attack ever compiled in baseball annals.

Wagner has led his league in batting 8 times in 17 years, Lajoie 4 times in 18 years and Cobb 7 times in 9 years.

In 1911 Cobb batted .420 and in 1912 he reached .410. Last spring, through a misunderstanding as to the minimum wage to be paid center fielders who could hit .400 or better, he drew a late start. He was well back in condition and so only registered .390.

WILL GET EARLY START.

Some few weeks ago he announced that he intended to get away with a running start this spring and set a new mark. He is in far better shape now than he was last year late in April. He is over a month ahead of his 1913 form. And through the south he has been peeling the white, seamy cover off the ball at almost every start.

T. Raymond belongs to the type that rises to its greatest height under fierce competition. Cobb was undoubtedly piqued and peeved last fall at the widespread report proclaiming Eddie Collins the successor of Hans Wagner as the most valuable ball player alive. He had the hunch that he had been overlooked in the shuffle despite the fact that he led both leagues. This season he hopes to equal his 1911 record, when he smeared all past performances by giving vent to 248 hits, 147 runs and 83 stolen bases. Quite a tidy summer's work as such things go.

Secretary Sullivan Names Committeemen

NEW YORK, April 1.—The complete list of members of the American Olympic games at Berlin in 1916 was announced Tuesday by James E. Sullivan, the committee's secretary. The list comprises 121 names.

S.W.P.U. Won From Sewanee

SEWANEE, Tenn., April 1.—Southwestern university succeeded in breaking even in the series with Sewanee Tuesday afternoon and registered three scores while Sewanee was unable to score. Carter, for S. P. U., was at all times master of the situation, and only allowed three hits. Walker, for Sewanee, pitched winning ball and only the three runs secured off him were due to poor fielding on the part of the team. Otherwise the game was fast and snappy throughout the entire contest.

Tennessee Nine Selected With Two Exceptions

Coach Clevenger Has Picked Team Line-Up Except at Shortstop and Third—Chandler and Harris Look Best There—Play Vanderbilt Friday

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 1.—Although the University of Tennessee baseball team has been handicapped considerably this spring in its various workouts by bad weather, yet the squad has rounded to in what promises to be a very formidable college outfit.

Practically every position on the team has been filled, with the possible exception of third base and shortstop, the places left unfilled when Cameron and McClure did not return to school this winter. A youngster by the name of Chandler has been showing considerable class at third, while Harris Hurt, Williams, Johnson, Callahan and Stephens are leading each other a hot chase for the shortstop position.

The first real games of the season for the Volunteers, will be played in this city Friday and Saturday, when Vanderbilt comes to town. The Vols were to play Louisville last week, but a large, luscious snow came trooping along just when the Louisville squad was billed to appear here, and the games were called off. The Newark Internationals were scheduled to play the University of Tennessee squad Monday afternoon, but this game has been cancelled also.

Coach Clevenger has practically picked his team for the series next week with Vanderbilt, which will no doubt be as follows: Catchers, Keith and Oliver; pitchers, Dawson, Hutcheson, Brock and Day; first base, Lindsey; second base, Ashe; third base, Chandler; shortstop, Harris or Stephens; left field Smith; center field, Thomason; right field, Hamilton.

Spring football practice continues at the University of Tennessee. Assistant Coach Miller Pontius, of Michigan, is expected to reach Knoxville about April 1, when he will take charge of the squad for about two weeks.

Athletes Back From Antipodes

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 1.—With four Australia and seventeen state records to their credit, the ten athletes comprising the All-America track team arrived here Tuesday, after to compete again in ten days. The men participated in twenty-one field and during a thirteen weeks' tour of the antipodes.

Among the records brought home was one in the mile run made by James A. Power, of the Boston Athletic association, who covered the distance in minutes 18 2-5 seconds breaking Alfred Shrubbs' mark of nine years' standing. This is said to be the best time for the distance ever made by an American athlete on foreign soil. Aside from individual performances the Americans won the team championship of Australasia and New South Wales.

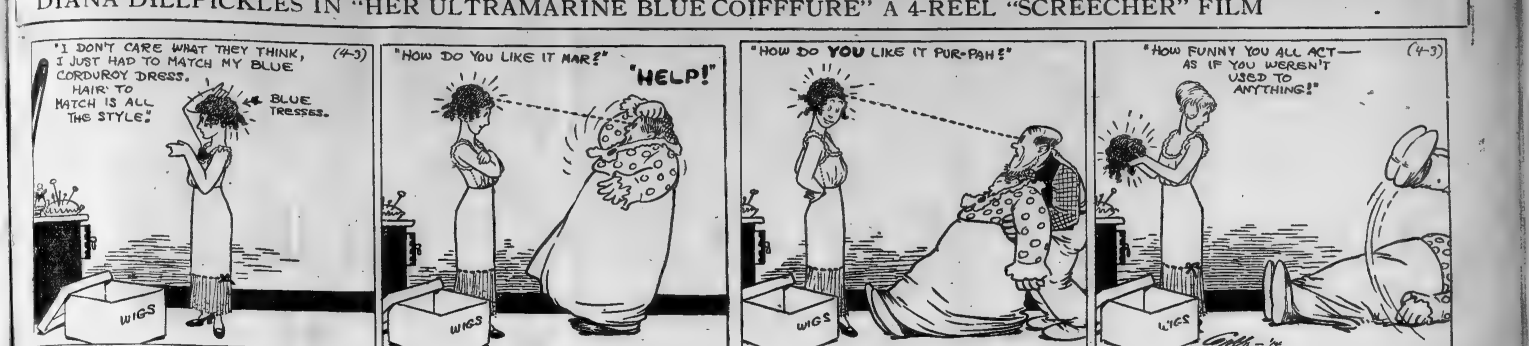
Crackers Meet Naps Today--Tied Braves in Macon Battle

DIANA DILLPICKLES IN "HER ULTRAMARINE BLUE COIFFFURE" A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM



Crackers Play Naps Today; Tied Braves

Locals Will Try Conclusions With Cleveland Club, Provided Rain Does Not Interfere – Birmingham's Bunch Has Two More Games Here. Leibold Sent Home

Provided no further rainfall butts in to interfere, the Crackers will stage the first of their last two games with the Naps at Ponce de Leon this afternoon. So far of the five games which the two teams including the Cracker regulars and an assortment of Crackers and Naps have had on the card, but one has been played, and that resulted in a tie. The big leaguers are accordingly anxious for a chance to mop up with the locals decisively, while the latter are just as willing to take another fall out of the visitors, in the hopes of landing a clean account.

The Naps will line-up the same as they did in the one game played here with the exception of Outfielder Leibold, who has been sent home, owing to trouble with one of his knees. Leibold suffered an injury in a series of games last year against Pittsburg and several days ago he again wrenched the knee. Manager Birmingham has decided that it will be best to send him on home, and give him time to get straightened out for the opening of the regular season. George Kahler, one of the pitchers who went to Cleveland a few days since to confer with attorneys concerning the status of his contract returned to Atlanta Tuesday and Pitcher Fred Blanding is expected back today.

In the Macon game between the Braves and Crackers, the latter lived up to a bit of tradition as regards Hub Perdue. They hammered Hubert so consistently that Manager Stallings derricked him in favor of Ed Strand. When Hub pitched in this league he was always "duck soup" for the locals, and even since then, they have always managed to hang the Indian sign on him in exhibition games. Last year with Hub on the mound, the Crackers handed the Braves a lacing.

A pleasing feature in connection with the games in Macon is the fact that Andy McConnell has begun to hit the ball in the first few games played with Atlanta failed to connect for anything that remotely resembled a safe one, and it was not until the last game was played here with Boston that he got into the hit column.

However, he is pealing the ball in a very satisfactory manner. McConnell would have done well in this league, once he gets started.

Joseph Gondy, who produced the wallop that won for the Braves in Monday's game, also had a good day with the stick for the Braves Tuesday. Hank pulled two safe ones out of three times at bat. Gondy came near being a pitcher at one time. Before he went to the Texas league, whence he was drafted by Manager McGraw he played for Ole. State league. The local club had a deal on or him, but the northern club objected at first, on the ground that he was considered too stiff, and the deal was killed off.

Houston Mgr. Floors McGraw

HOUSTON, Tex., April 1.—A personal encounter between John J. McGraw, manager of the New York National League club, and Pat Newnam, manager of the Houston club of the Texas league, Tuesday resulted in the New Yorker being knocked down and badly bruised. The fight occurred at the baseball park just after the teams arrived for the day's practice, and is said to have been the outcome of remarks on the coaching line yesterday which Newnam resented. McGraw recently opened negotiations for the purchase of the Houston franchise.

City League Meets Tonight

Tonight at 6:30 there will be a meeting of the recently organized City league and all teams that have entered this league, or who desire to secure a franchise with it should have representatives present.

This league was known last year as the Manufacturers' league but as there has been no City league for several years now, they decided to change the name this year to the City league and all of the teams agreed upon it.

Eight teams have already signified their intention of entering and several more are wanted as they wish to have some a double section league, that is to have two leagues operating under the name of the City league and to play a post season series at the end of the season to determine the champion. The league will hold the meeting at the Peachtree, at 6:30.

Reds' Manager Got Early Training at the University of Maryland, and Has Five Graduates of That Institution on His Club

BY RUSK S. FULLERTON.

Home again. Perhaps you who never have spent the month of training with the old-time teams do not appreciate the change for the better. In the old days there were many decent, intelligent players, but the "rowdies" ruled, and even the best of the youngsters imitated the leaders. Now the gentlemanly element is in full control, and the "rough necks" who break in are first to imitate and pattern after the better behaved and better mannered men.

The college man in the major leagues is becoming more and more a factor. Not that the college men, as a rule, is better behaved than any one else. In fact, quite the reverse. But in baseball their influence is for the good of the sport. I have tried to get a complete list of the college men in the three big leagues, but find it unsatisfactory. I have counted 140, representing at least 60 universities and colleges in the 24 teams of the American, National and Federal leagues.

The St. Louis Browns probably lead all in number of university men in the ranks, but the Cincinnati Reds are close to them.

The Reds afford an instance of college loyalty that is interesting. Charlie Herzog is a University of Maryland man, and the entire school is proud of him. They should be. Herzog is a grand fellow off the field, and a grand player on it. He is one of those fellows who could cut your feet off with his spikes in a hot game and make you love him afterward.

Herzog now has five University of Maryland men. They make up in willingness and eagerness to work what they lack in ability and in experience.

I am still wondering who taught the art of sliding at Maryland. These fellows did not show much at bat or in the field, but in the sliding pit every one of them looks like a champion, and they hit the dirt a la Cobb. You know how hard Herzog and Hilder? Well, they all go the same way, and they could give pointers to the best sliders on the team.

Mellon, the big jolly catcher, is one of the best working off the bases. He is big and strong, throws like a shot and has some speed for one of his size. He may be developed into a corking catcher.

Diehl is a fine example of college devotion. He volunteered to drop work and join the Reds in training camp to help Herzog, if possible, with his advice and his work in getting the team into condition.

Players Tied in Checker Tourney

(By Associated Press.)

UNION, S. C., April 1.—F. B. Fleburne, of Greenville, S. C., and G. C. Anderson, of Mount Airy, N. C., were still tied here last night in the checker tournament, the winner of which will claim the southern championship. Four-teen games have been played, each player winning three and eight having been drawn. Thirty games are scheduled.

Wally Smith is drawing his first assignment as utility infielder for the Washington Senators. In the absence from the line-up of George McBride, who is out of the game because of injuries, Wallie is working at short stop. As has been predicted by his friends in Atlanta, the former Cracker is clubbing the ball in a manner highly pleasing to Manager Griffith. In a recent game he led the stickers in safe raps.

Buck Becker, another former Cracker, who has pretty close to zero mixup with the local club by day and betetr than .300 in the Rounders' league by night, is playing third base ball in Washington. Buck has recently had several offers from minor leagues, including one from the Albany club of the New York State league, which he is considering taking.

In the spring series between the Browns and Cardinals in St. Louis Manager Rickey is working Bisland at short. The line-up also includes several other Southern league graduates, among them being Clyde Wares, Ernest Walker and Bob Messenger.

When the Boston Red Sox open their season at Fenway park, the team will be minus the services of Shortstop Heinie Wagner. Wagner has been at Hot Springs for several weeks but has never been out in a suit, in his place, Manager Carrigan will use Scott a youngster, obtained from St. Paul, of the American association.

Manager Hugh Jennings, of the Tigers, has hit on a novel plan of dividing his squad for the games en route from their training camp. Instead of sending the regulars and rookies in separate teams, he divides the players into two squads, each including some regulars and some rookies. They draw bet-tep in exhibition games, when you can bill a few stars with each crew.

Another former Southern leaguer will drift to the Pacific Coast league shortly, when Bill Prough, ex-Baron hurler reports to Harry Wolverton's Oakland team. Prough will join Roy Moran, Roy Castleton, Emil Zecher, Dick Bayless, Clarence Smith, Slim Love and a host of others. Jimmy Callahan did not consider Prough good enough for his White Sox team.

Demmitt—Ray Demmitt—is the name of an outfielder that Manager Jennings is carrying with his Detroit club this season. However, when Ray slammed out a triple with the bases full against the Turties in a game at Memphis a few days since, the fans emitted a yell which smacked of a varied pronunciation of the gardener's name.

Montgomery fans are highly pleased with Jack Holander, the young infielder turned over to the Billikens by Manager Branch Rickey. Holander is said to be a fast brilliant fielder and speedy on the bases. Rickey signed him straight out of Georgetown university. He was one of a big bunch of collegians on Colonel Hedges' pay roll at the beginning of the training season.

Mike Finn has twenty-four players on hand at present. Of this outfit just five, Bert Shanley, at short; Jack Love, in the outfield, and three hurlers, Lieberhardt, Harrell and George Merritt, were with the club last year. Finn has ten pitchers on hand, with four outfielders besides Love. He also has two veteran catchers in Harry Bemis and George Schiel, as well as two youngsters in Wade Reynolds and Gibbonev.

It is hardly likely that any one will contend that Reynolds is an unusually common name, yet baseball catchers by that name are becoming very common. For instance, the Crackers have J. Hans Reynolds, while the Turtles are carrying his brother Wade. The Highlanders have a youngster by the name of Bill Reynolds, and there is still another, from the Western league, with the Tigers.

Nashville has blamed Catcher Snell from Memphis, the latter club having no place for him since Bemis has been signed.

Announcement is made by the owners of the Sioux City baseball club that Frank Schroeder has purchased a block of stock in the club and will act as secretary during the coming season. Schroeder will succeed W. A. Winston.

Polo Grounds Gets Big Game

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 1.—Peaceful adjustment is expected in the army-navy discussion of a place for holding the next annual football game. The Polo grounds tentatively has been agreed upon as the scene. Objections by the midshipmen to the trip from Annapolis and the entraining for home without a chance for sightseeing were partially overcome by an announcement today that arrangements had practically been completed by which the entire student body at Annapolis or all midshipmen permitted to do so, may be brought to New York and given permission to enjoy themselves until 12 o'clock on the night of the game. Under this arrangement a special train with sleeping cars would convey the party to Annapolis.

Lieutenants Mathews and Fairfield, of the army and navy, respectively, who, with others in conference here, returned yesterday to West Point and Annapolis. After formal reports of details by the heads of the two academies an announcement may be made.

Prep League Notes

The local preps will pry off the 1914 baseball lid Friday afternoon, April 3, all except one of the seven teams in the league getting into action of that day.

Boys' High at Donald Fraser, Georgia Military academy at Pascock-Fleet and Marist academy at Stone Mountain is the card that will be played on the opening day. Tech High will have an off day, not starting their season until next Tuesday.

All of the seven teams entered this year appear to have great nines and some very good baseball should be pulled off by the teams when the season has gotten under way.

Some of the fast prep teams of the state will be seen here this year, playing members of the local league. Georgia Military college, who is reputed to have one of the best prep teams in the state will play Tech High here April 24.

Boys' High has a game arranged with Riverside to be played here in Atlanta and also one in Gainesville, but the dates have not been agreed upon yet.

John Stewart has been elected captain of the Boys' High track team and is practicing his distance daily for the coming track meet which will be held on May 9

Gene eWston, who was to have pitched for Tech High this year in the local league, has signed with the LaGrange team under Jim Laffite and will not play in the prep league this year.

Weston is a good pitcher and should make good with LaGrange from the start. He has been practicing every day with the Atlanta team and will be in good condition when he reports on May 11.

Talk of a prep tennis tournament is going on at all of the schools, but nothing definite has been done yet by the association.

Manager Dobbs Will Begin To Cut Down Soon

Pelican Leader Expects to Give Degree of Can to Six Players Within Few Days. Hendryx, Glavenich and Edmondson Will Go

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—Saturday is going to be house-cleaning day at Pelican park. That familiar remark which is slipped recruits every spring, "Sorry, old top, but I can't hold you any longer," will be directed at three or four rookies who have been trying to convince Johnny Dobbs since February 15 that they possess sufficient ability for the Southern league campaign.

Reliable information has it the Dobbs-Heinemann combination will be cut to less than eighteen players. It is not known whom Dobbs plans to hitch the tinnery, but at least six men are considered within the danger zone.

Those who may be furnish transfers to clubs of lower classification are Pitchers Peddy, Glavenich and Hill; Outfielders Hendryx and Edmonston, and "Buck" Banville, former Boys' High school star. A pink slip will not surprise Banville, for he had no intentions of making the team.

Will Carry Fifteen.

The wearing-out system which Dobbs will inaugurate Saturday night is only a forerunner as to what is scheduled for the next two weeks. Dobbs only figures on carrying fifteen players after the gong sounds on April 3. Those practically certain of regular positions are Start, Knaupp, Lindsay, Northern, Cochran, Burns, Bagby, Weaver, Evans, Wilson, Walker, Adams and Higgins.

For the present, Sylvester is in all probability will remain at first base, pending the consummation of the deal with Cleveland for Bluhm. Once Bluhm reports, Sylvester and Barbare may be found struggling for the utility job.

Only one pitcher—Style—is conceded a chance to ease one of Dobbs' regular men off the job. Styles, in Dobbs' opinion, has the makings of a good man, hence tansfer from the Waterbury, Conn., experimental station.

Of the players to be shifted, indications are that Johnny Dobbs will not need Timothy Hendryx, one of the most popular Pelicane, after Otto Burns reports. Timmy, however, will hardly figure out of the Southern league, for he is capable of playing both the in and outfield. His stopping place will probably be with one of Nashville.

Glavenich and Edmonston, in all probability, will be shifted to the Omaha Western league, a Waterbury clubs. Peddy, Hill and Banville are certain to remain in the south. Dobbs is supposed to have a working agreement with several salt and pepper league magnates in this section.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

The Proper Feed for a Milk Cow

A GREAT many people keep a milk cow, and have never had any experience in feeding or managing a cow, and often do not get results from one that they could if they were properly fed. A cow is like a hen, she cannot produce results unless she has the proper feed to give results with. You can take the best cow on earth and by not properly feeding her she will give only a small quantity of milk and often go dry for the want of feed. On the other hand you can feed something expensive or a feed that has not the necessary elements in it to produce milk and it will be impossible to get the results that a cow is capable of producing on other more suitable feed that cost no more.

Nearly all big milk records made by noted cows show from the feed ration that they have eaten that they have not only received a variety of feed but have had plenty of it. Often a heavy milking cow has consumed as much as thirty pounds of grain feed in a single day and had as much as fifty pounds if coarse food or roughage, and consumed from six to ten buckets of water per day. In order for a cow to give a great quantity of milk unless she has plenty feed, and it is useless to feed a few meals heavy and then starve the cow during other days. This will upset her system, and when a cow once fails off in her milk it is a hard matter to get her back to her full flow again.

A heavy milking cow is a high strung, nervous animal, and their disposition and wants have to be studied and complied with if you expect results from them. Many people complain about their cows not giving milk, when it is their fault and not the cow's. A cow kept in a clean barn or in a small yard can be made to give lots of milk, but she must have a variety of food to do so.

There is nothing better to produce a heavy flow of milk than a succulent quantity of green food of some kind. Many people are not prepared to give this. Ensilage is the cheapest and next best thing to green food, and every dairyman should have a silo if he expects to make money out of his cows. People who keep cows in the city should have something green growing in the garden, or have a small green pasture where the cow can be turned during the day. The best feed that we can possibly get in the city for a cow is alfalfa hay, all she will eat once a day, or twice is better. From one peck to half bushel of cotton seed hulls should be fed twice a day, and should have thoroughly mixed with it equal parts of wheat bran, cotton seed meal, shorts and beet pulp. The beet pulp should be soaked several hours before being mixed with the other feed. This grain should be mixed equal parts by weight. It should be thoroughly mixed with the hulls and a cow giving three gallons of milk per day should have eight pounds of this grain mixed feed to be mixed in each meal with the hulls. This would make from sixteen to twenty pounds of the grain, in addition to the hulls and alfalfa hay. A teaspoonful of salt mixed with this feed is also good, but it is better to have the needed salt brick where a cow can get it at all times, and she should have plenty fresh water where she can get it at will. A cow usually drinks water after each meal and it should be kept where she can get it conveniently.

If a cow fails to eat up all of her feed clean it should be removed and not given her the next time. After a cow blows her breath on feed and leaves it she does not seem to like it for the next feed, and it is best to throw it away rather than to offer it to her at the next feed.

If people would study their cow's wants and habits and give as much of a variety of feed as possible they would get far better results than many are now getting.

When you have the average bred person to attend to and milk your cow it is best for you to get these different grains and have them mixed all at one time, and place convenient to the cow. If you attempt to have them mixed separately as a rule it is not properly done and a cow does not get a sufficient quantity of one and too much of the other.

When it is not convenient to get these different grains the next best one feed that can be given is straight cotton seed meal, or cotton seed meal. If good, bright meal is used and clean hulls that are not musty a cow will do well on this for a certain length of time, even without much other feed, and it is probably the cheapest and best feed that can be given. But after one is used for a time it will be more to the cow's liking or she will get so she will not give as good results, and it is far better to feed a variety and keep a cow in good health and up to a normal flow of milk for a long time rather than to take a chance of feeding just one feed and then having to change after so long a time most likely get out of condition, the same as a person would if fed on meat and bread exclusively for any given length of time.

Exercise of some kind is very essential. It is nature's feed and should by all means be supplied as much as possible during the year.

Yours very truly,

Ginger Blue

QUESTIONS ASKED AND ANSWERED.

QUESTION.
Ward Palm Beach, Fla.

I take this means of inquiring of you if you can give me any information to assist me in getting rid of the Florida jigger which infests the fine fowls in this section.

We bought a few outside chickens during the fall, and got them in our lot, and it seems that there should be some way to exterminate them without applying the fowls or chickens after they get the jiggers.

Any information that you can give me along the line will be appreciated. L. P. M.

ANSWER.
Texas dogs. Jiggers as they are called are a great drawback to poultry raising in our country, as they multiply in dry dusty places and in the sand very rapidly.

It is best to have your chicken house floored and so arranged that the chickens cannot get outside in any dirt or sand. Salty water or salty grease will kill these and if there are any dusty places you can sprinkle some salt around them so that in damp weather the salt will keep the dirt damp and the fowls will not have a chance to propagate. This can be very easily done. It is useless, however, to get the fleas off of the chickens and allow them to go back in the dusty places where the fleas breed, as they will soon become infested again.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

DeKalb County Property

Belonging to Mrs. M. E. McLendon Estate.

Will be sold before the Court House door at Decatur, April 7th. Consists of some of the most desirable property in the county.

One tract consists of 36 acres fronting the Stone Mountain car line and Georgia railroad this side of Clarkston, and has nearly 2,000 feet front on car line. It is a beautiful property for subdivision and is one of the prettiest properties on the whole car line.

Also a new house of 7 room with water and bath, on lot about two acres. This is in the town of Clarkston fronting Warwick street and Georgia railroad and just across railroad from car line. It will make an ideal Suburban home.

Also a tract of 7.3 acres on a 50-foot street, just 1-2 mile south of car line. This is good for chicken or truck farm. It is well wooded.

Also 21.31 acres in Clarkston near school about 4 blocks from car line fronting on two streets, having 1543 feet front on one and 594.5 feet on the other. This is fine to subdivide and will make you money.

Also 6.95 acres about 1-2 mile from car line, not far from school. Good for a little farm.

Also 11.2 acres on one of the prettiest streets in Clarkston, considered the Peachtree of Clarkston. This property is finely shaded and is a beautiful home site.

Also splendid store lot, 40x80, right in the business center of Clarkston. Small building on it.

Remember this: You will put your own price on the property as it will be sold absolutely to the highest bidder on terms of 1-4 cash and the balance in one, two and three years with 7 per cent interest.

For plats and particulars see Wm. S. Ansley, Agt., 217 Atlanta National Bank building or Dr. J. R. Wells, Admr., Stone Mountain, Ga., or Green, Tilson & McKinney, Attorneys, 17th Floor Hurt Building.

WE HAVE for sale on South Side, close in, a number one income piece of renting property, just off South Pryor street, on a large lot, with a double eight-room house on same, making sixteen rooms, that is rented, and has been to same tenants, for four or five years, for $660 per year; has loan of twenty-five hundred dollars on same. The property has an alley in rear and on side, and the house could not be built for the price, to say nothing of the lot. Price $5,500. Call Mr. Whitten.

EDWIN P. ANSLEY

The Real Estate Field

Swift & Mackle Will Erect Apartment House to Cost $60,000 at Juniper and Third Streets—North Avenue Corner Figures in Exchange—Healey Building's Broad Street Entrance — Building Gain — Byron Apartments Sold

He is also making improvements in the basement of No. 54. The Broad street entrance to the Healey building, which will serve until the addition to the building is erected, will be extremely attractive.

Tenants continue to move into the Healey building, one of the latest is the Retail Credit company, which has large space on the fourteenth floor.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.

Below, with the building permits, appears a summary of building as compared between March this year and last, and the periods between January 1 and April 1, 1913 and 1914.

This month is nearly $130,000 ahead of last March, and the year so far is less than $40,000 behind the corresponding period in 1913.

The easing of money has had much to do with the improvement in building developments.

CORRECTION OF ERROR.

The announcement Tuesday of the sale by the Union Realty company of a house and ten acres at Mountain View, the price was given as $7,500. This was the figure in The Journal, but it was an error. The price should have been $10,000.

BYRON APARTMENTS SOLD.

The Byron apartments, at West Peachtree and Linden streets, have changed hands again.

The M. C. Kiser agency sold this property for F. Bradley or Newman, B. Frost for $184,125. Two or parcels were taken as part payment, but their location and price were given.

The building is four stories, and is of pressed brick. It has an assessment of $15,000. The Kiser agency announces that it has either exchanged or sold $500,000 worth of property since its first of the year.

Another announcement of a new apartment house on the north side was made on Wednesday.

A. N. Canton, the architect, is drawing plans for the building, which will be erected by T. L. Swift and F. E. Mackle at the southwest corner of Juniper and Third streets. The Mackle-Coward Construction company has the contract.

The building will be erected on a lot 101x110, which Messrs. Swift and Mackle leased from Mrs. Bertha M. Swift for a period of 25 years. It will cost $60,000, will be three stories, of solid brick construction, and contain eighteen apartments.

These apartments will contain four, three and six rooms, and the building will be set back some distance from Juniper street. An permit for the construction of the apartments will be applied for in about a week. All necessary financing has been completed.

EXCHANGE OF PROPERTIES.

An exchange of properties in which parcels on Peachtree and Rhodes street figured, was announced on Wednesday.

G. M. McKinnon and Charles L. Greene, the latter of the Smith & Ewing agency, sold for Mrs. J. M. Bailey to Dr. J. M. Armstrong, the southwest corner of North avenue and Myrtle street.

The consideration was $13,000, the purchaser making a part payment and the rest a mortgage on a lot 87x150, valued at $3,500.

The North avenue property fronts 100 feet on North avenue, 175 feet on Myrtle street, and 100 feet on Pittman place. There is a large two-story frame residence on part of the North avenue frontage.

BROAD STREET IMPROVEMENT.

W. T. Healey, owner of the Healey building, has practically completed the Broad street entrance to his building. He is now changing the front and lowering the floor of the adjoining property at 54 North Broad street, so as to make it conform to the other frontage.

RING BATTLE MAY CAUSE DEATH OF PRIZE FIGHTER

Jimmie Grant Still Unconscious After 10-Round Bout With Knockout Eggers

Unconscious at the Grady hospital from the time he was taken there from the Orpheum theater Tuesday night at 10 o'clock until early Wednesday afternoon, Jimmy Grant, bantamweight prize fighter, has a chance for recovery as the result of his ten-round bout with Knockout Eggers of New York.

Grant is suffering from concussion of the brain, physicians think, but the fact that he was still living at the end of fifteen hours of coma was stated by physicians to be good grounds for hope that he would recover.

Dr. L. C. Roughlin, the physician who is attending Grant, said Wednesday morning: "He is holding his own. I believe he will pull through. The worst is over, and he is beginning to improve slightly, though he is still unconscious."

The telephone at the hospital was kept constantly busy Wednesday morning by friends of Grant and patrons of the prize fight game who knew and value the sturdy little scrapper.

Many of them were present at the Orpheum ringside when Eggers hammered Grant from the tap of the gong in the first round until the referee awarded the New York slugger the decision in the tenth.

Grant never had a chance. But with the gameness that has made him a favorite with local right fans he stood up under the terrible mauling until the fight was over. Then he collapsed in his corner.

It was not thought at first that Grant was seriously injured. But when he failed to come around under the sponge in fifteen minutes the ambulance was called and he was taken to the Grady.

Knockout Eggers was arrested and taken to the station house. He was later released. No case had been made against him up to 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, but Chief Beavers has ordered an investigation.

Later the chief ordered that Eggers be rearrested.

Grant's friends are hoping almost against hope for his recovery. He is one of the most popular little fighters that ever came to the city.

His home originally was in Chicago, but he has been in Atlanta more than a year.

REV. O. L. KELLEY OPENS EMORY REVIVAL SERVICES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

EMORY COLLEGE, Oxford Ga., April 1.—A revival service has been begun in the Allen Memorial church at Oxford, by the resident pastor, Rev. O. L. Kelley, who is being assisted by Rev. Walter Anthony, of the south Georgia conference. The services will continue for at least two weeks.

Revivals of great magnitude have visited the student body of Emory college during its history, but one of the largest was held in 1912, by Rev. Walter G. Crawley, of Forsyth, when almost every student and a large number of Oxford citizens professed conversion.

REPEAL IS SURE TO PASS

HOKE SMITH WILL LEAD TOLLS REPEAL BATTLE IN SENATE

were especial objects of attack by Speaker Clark. Concerning what the speaker said of him, Mr. Hardwick this morning had this to say:

"In view of the result, I am greatly pleased with the speaker's address. It solidified our ranks and increased our majority. If he can get any comfort out of his reply to my speech, I am content. It certainly does not 'bodder me.'"

The latest poll brought to the White House by an administration senator who canvassed his colleagues and excluded from his count those he considered doubtful, indicated the president would have a majority at least sixteen—Republicans as well as Democrats.

Senator Owen, the administration leader in the canals committee where the measure is pending, was at the White House early conferring with Secretary Tumulty. Asked about the procedure in the senate and length of time for discussion of the Oklahoma senator said:

"It is natural to assume that if the committee does not report promptly, a motion will be made to discharge the measure from consideration o f the committee.

NO DILATORY TACTICS.

"There is to be no effort at forcing unnecessarily but we want no dilatory tactics. The committe stands, I should say, against th epresident and I think when the committee was organized those who were in favor of the tolls exemption were in the majority.

"A week in the committee would be a reasonable time for discussion."

The president had no comment to make on the result in the house but let it be known that he cherished no ill feeling over those who, expressing their convictions, opposed the repeal. There was no comment on the speech of Speaker Clark.

Senator O'Gorman, who will lead the fight against the bill, today planned to have the interoceanic canals committee, of which he is chairman, begin consideration of the measure immediately. The committee already has before it various other bills relating to the tolls exemption. It appeared today that the members are nearly evenly divided on the chief issue. How a vote will result is regarded as extremely uncertain at the present time, but unless there is a change in the line-up the opponents of the repeal appear to have a majority of one.

Senator Lewis, of Illinois, has a bill empowering the president to suspend tolls by proclamation. Senator Reed has introduced a measure which would repeal the toll exemption clause, and grant to foreign vessels the right to compete with American ships now engaged in the coastwise trade.

Senator Owen's bill, identical with that passed by the house yesterday, it was expected, would be replaced by the administration's measure, its purpose to expedite consideration in the senate having failed.

There are other measures pending, including a bill of Senator Thomas, of Colorado, and Senator Gallinger's resolution expressing the sense of the congress that it has the right to do as it pleases with respect to regulating shipping in the Panama canal.

220 Democrats Stand by Wilson in Free Tolls Fight

On the final vote, 220 Democrats in the house stood by the president, giving him in "unrgudging measure" what he had asked "for the honor of the nation" in its foreign relations.

Twenty-five Republicans and two Progressives also voted to sustain the president. Fifty-two Democrats followed Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood to defeat.

The vote follows:

ODD FELLOWS PREPARE FOR CALHOUN MEETING

Four Grand Lodge Officers at Convention of Eighteenth Division

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CALHOUN, Ga., April 1.—Plans have been completed for the meeting of the eighteenth division of Odd Fellows here next Friday. The program now being printed shows the names of four grand lodge officers among the speakers, these being Deputy Grand Master W. B. Sloan, and Grand Secretary T. H. Robertson, of Gainesville; Grand Herald Buell Stark, of this city, and Grand Conductor J. F. Bodenhamer, of Decatur.

The division embraces the forty-four lodges of Whitfield, Murray, Gordon, Catoost and Bartow counties, with a combined membership of 2,500. It is the largest division in the state, and fully 150 delegates are expected to attend.

The first day will be devoted to public exercises, with degree work for prizes in the evening. The second day will be given over to executive sessions, officers will be elected and a place for the fall convention decided on.

Dr. G. W. Mills, of Calhoun, will deliver the address of welcome and Prof. E. H. Beck, of Eton, and T. D. Ridley, of this city, and R. N. Steed, of Spring Place, past district deputy grand masters, will also be among the speakers.

The Chance of a Life.

Opportunity presents itself often enough, but it is an easy knocker and you seldom give it heed. Here, however, is another chance to be exalted at once. The Thornton Lead and Steel Corporation of North Carolina, with a branch office at Knoxville, Tenn., has acquired the entire property of the Piedmont Smelting Co. just across the Chattahoochee river from Atlanta at Oakdale, which comprises 80 acres of land with all the buildings, 250-ton smelter, old type Colorado—and the entire equipment with the ores and ore slag on the yard and dump. These ores and slag contain gold, silver and copper values sufficient to pay for the plant. The ores for the smelter were obtained from Georgia, but a large quantity was shipped from Colorado. The enterprise was badly handled and managed. The old type smelter could not obtain all the values from the ores. The Thornton Lead and Steel Corporation will replace this 250-ton old type smelter by one of their most completed new type 80-ton Partridge Hot Blast Scrollers, the first one of which completed was blown in blast by them recently at Charlotte, N. C., and the old type smelter now at Oakdale will be removed to the enormous lead deposit of the Thornton Lead and Steel Corporation at Knoxville, Tenn., and smelt lead there by simply adding a lead well to the smelter. A 60-ton hot blast smelter is sufficient capacity for the location and ores to be had at Oakdale until mining is increased. The ores available at Oakdale with it can produce values of from $2,500 to $5,000 per day.

The preferred stock of the Thornton Lead and Steel Corporation bears 6 per cent interest from date of issue, is accumulative and addition interest on sliding scale with common up to 14 per cent.

There are 200,000 shares common, $200,000 of preferred and $20,000,000 bonds. The bonds are $210,000 of the preferred has been underwritten in block by bankers who required a contract allowing them to underwrite the bonds when sold. As this enterprise is to be of material advantage to Atlanta and it is desirable to operate the smelter and ore mines in it away from Oakdale, the management has decided to dispose of as much of $60,000 of the preferred stock as may be desired in and around Atlanta. It is an Atlanta industry and an old Atlanta boy, Col. Marcellus F. Thornton, now of Hickory, N. C., is president of this great corporation that has entered into the gigantic branch of industrial business on the biggest there is. In its crude the Georgia-Alabama made many hundreds of millions in the west. Col. Thornton has for his company not only bought lead, gold, silver and copper, tin and iron ores and mines, but has for his company bought the patent for the only smelter furnace that can successfully and economically 90¼ per cent of all the values out of any and all kinds of ores—refractory or any other kind. Having gone into a monopoly of all the ores and values (or so valuable to others) he proceeding and acquired one-half the stock and control of the Partridge Metallurgical and Manufacturing company, which owns the Partridge Hot Blast Furnace patents. There is an enormous demand for these smelters from all over the world where there are ores. Chattanooga wants him to manufacture the smelters here. They are cheap for such a smelter—a 50-ton only $17,500, as against $72,000 old type. The Thornton Lead and Steel requires all the smelters—several hundred—that can be made for some time. The company has already under control property of the value of more than $4,307,000.

Shares are $100 each, par. You can take any number up to 600. The Oakdale Smelter will have to be managed from Atlanta.

Any of the old friends of Col. Thornton, or any one else favorably impressed with the proposition, and think they might invest in this preferred stock, which in less than two years will be selling at 3 for one, or want further information can please address at Hickory, N. C.

MISSING GIRL SOUGHT BY HER SCHOOLMATES

High School Pupil Mysteriously Disappears From Home in Ridgefield Park, N. J.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Examinations were postponed today at the high school in Ridgefield Park, N. J., a suburb, the school was dismissed and the boys and girls were asked to join in the search for Jessie Wood, a first year pupil whose disappearance last night roused the town. Miss Wood is sixteen years of age, daughter of Percy L. Wood, head bookkeeper of the Corn Exchange bank of this city.

The girl left her home to attend a meeting of the Camp Fire Girls at the house of a neighbor. She did not reach the meeting and none of her relatives or friends has seen her since.

DRAWN UP IN A KNOT WALKING

Peculiar Way in Which Lady Had To Walk and How Easily She Was Straightened Out.

Laurel Hill, Fla.—The following advices from this town tell in detail of Mrs. Nellie Moore's peculiar condition. "About three months ago, I was taken down with terrible cramps. I didn't pay much attention to it at first, but slowly and surely I got worse until I could hardly walk, and I had to go drawn up in a knot when I did walk.

My husband got me some medicine, but it did me no good. I suffered that way for a week. Finally, a motherly old lady told me to get a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I knew it was a good medicine from the start. I took it according to directions, and in a short while I felt like a new person.

Cardui is like a dear friend to come and take hold and do women's tiresome work. Now, when I have heavy work, such as washing, ironing, sweeping, or sewing, I take a dose of Cardui and it seems to go to all my aching places and relieves me almost instantly.

I advise all suffering women to give Cardui a trial. It will do wonders for them."

Give Cardui a trial for your troubles. It has helped over a million women in the past 50 years. Why not you?
