". Mr. Dorsey: Mr. Arnold brought this in, and I telegraphed to San Francisco, and I want to read this telegram to the jury; can't I do it?"

"Mr. Arnold: If the Court please I want to object to any particular letter or telegram, I can telegraph and get my information as well as he can, I don't know whether the information is true, I don't know who he telegraphed about it; I have got a right to argue a matter that appears in the public prints and that's all I argued,—what appears in the papers,— it may be right or wrong, but if my friend has a friend he knows there and writes and gets some information, that's introducing evidence, and I want to put him on notice that I object to it. I have got the sameright to telegraph there and get my own information. And besides, my friend seems to know about that case pret ty well, he's writing four months ago. Why did he do it?"

Mr. Dorsey, (resuming): "Because I anticipated some such claim would be made in this presence."

". Mr. Arnold: You anticipated it, then, I presume, because you knew it was published; that's what I went on".

Mr. Doresy (resuming); " I anticipated it, and I know the truth about that case".

Mr. Arnold, I object to his reading any communication unless I havethe right to investigate it also; I am going only on what I read in the public press. April 15th, is nearly two weeks before the crime is alleged to have been committed. I want to record an objections right now to my friend doing any such thing as that, reading a telegram from anybody picked out by my friend Dorsey to give him the kind of information he wants for his speech, and I claim the right to communicate out there myself and get such information as I can, if he's given the right to do it."

" The Court:- I'll either have to expunge from the jury what you told the jury, in your argument, or —"

" Mr. Arnold: I don't want it expunged, I stand on it."

"The Court: I have either got to do one of the two."

"Mr. Dorsey: No sir, can't I stated to this jury what I know about it, as well as he can state what he knows"?
