no way of dividing the time. I should say that perhaps he was talking and not acting for about fifteen minutes. Of course he was talking all the time that he was acting. I did not say that I thought he was talking half of the time.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION. In going through his performance he walked very rapidly. We were almost on a trot behind him. I was at the factory fifty minutes while he enacted his story. I left him after he had written one note in Mr. Frank's office. He wrote the note very rapidly. It took him about two minutes. He didn't stay in the wardrobe over a minute. He just got in, closed the door and got right out. In approximating the time of his performance I gave a minute to his staying in the wardrobe and two minutes to writing the one note. If you add six minutes to writing the other notes and eight minutes to the time he said he stayed in the wardrobe, that would be fourteen minutes added to the ~~thirty~~ fifty minutes, which would be sixty four minutes for the time of the performance. If you deduct the fifteen minutes, which I saw he was talking, would leave forty minutes net which he took to enact the story.

RECROSS EXAMINATION. That is just an estimate. The only time I had was the time I left my office and the time I got back. Conley got to the factory 12.15 and I left there between 1.05 and 1.10. I saw Conley pick up a paper in the newspaper room and he looked like he was reading it. It had pictures on the front page and I judge he looked at them first, because afterwards he folded it. He had several minutes while I was telephoning.

JOHN M. MINAR, Sworn for the defendant.

I am a newspaper reporter for the "Atlanta Georgian". I visited George Epps Sunday night, April 27th. I went there to ask him and his sister when was the last time either of them had seen Mary Phagan. George Epps and sister were both present. I asked them who had seen Mary Phagan last, and the little girl Epps said she had seen her on the previous Thursday. George Epps was standing right there and he said nothing, about having seen her Thursday. He said he knew the girl, that he had ridden to town with her in the mornings,
