NATIONAL BANKS TO PAY INTEREST TO UNITED STATES

All Depositaries, Beginning June 1, Must Pay 2 Per Cent Per Annum on All Government Deposits.

ORDER MEANS INCREASE IN CIRCULATING MEDIUM

McAdoo Says With Banks Paying Interest Government Deposits Will Be Increased—Other Changes.

Washington, April 30.—The fiscal system of the United States governing deposits of federal funds in national banks was revolutionized today by Secretary McAdoo, of the treasury department, with an announcement that all government depositaries, whether active or inactive, would be required to pay interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum beginning June 1 upon deposits of the government.

Simultaneously with this action the secretary authorized an immediate increase of $10,000,000 in government deposits in the national banks, making the total $52,640,564, from which the federal treasury will earn, under the new interest order, $1,053,000 annually. There are indications that Secretary McAdoo intends to release still more surplus money from the treasury vaults and place it in general circulation through increased deposits with the national banks.

Statement by McAdoo.

In a statement tonight he said:

"With the banks paying interest on government deposits the secretary may be justified in keeping larger balances in the national banks, thereby increasing the volume of money in circulation and to that extent reducing the amount locked up in the treasury."

Mr. McAdoo also announced a radical change in the character of securities which the treasury department would accept for government deposits. Instead of requiring that the national banks secure treasury deposits exclusively with the United States or provincial government bonds, they will be allowed in future to secure 70 per cent with government bonds and the remaining 30 per cent with high-class state, city and county bonds acceptable to the secretary of the treasury, to be taken as security at 75 per cent of their market value, but not to exceed par.

This is the first time in history that the treasury department has called upon the banks to pay interest on what are known as active deposits or accepted, except in periods of financial stress security other than government bonds. Active depositaries are those which conduct a checking account for the government, cashing checks of disbursing officers and replenishing their authorized government deposits from customs and internal revenue receipts deposited with them. There are 900 inactive depositaries, each holding $1,000 of government funds. Upon these deposits which are not disturbed by checking accounts, the government has drawn 2 per cent interest for the past five years. These are the only government accounts which ever have earned interest.

For years there has been agitation in and out of congress to assess the national banks interest on their government deposits. This sinvariably has been resisted by previous administrations on the theory that the banks, with accounts, performed a clerical work for the government. The house committee on expenditures in the treasury department, at the last session, investigated the question and recommended that the secretary of the treasury be required to charge interest for the use of the government's money.

Banks Will Not Resist.

Secretary McAdoo tonight declared he did not anticipate any serious resistance on the part of the banks to the new policy. If any bank was disposed to surrender its account by reason of the order, he said, there were many others willing to take it up.

The 2 per cent interest charge will be based upon the average monthly balances of the government's account in each depository, payable January 1 and July 1 of each year. The $10,000,000 today ordered transferred from the treasury vaults to the national banks will be distributed over the country.

The free balance in the general fund, including money in the Philippine treasury and in the national bank depositories amounted, at the beginning of business today, to $141,025,263. Of this, $72,791,405, which will now be decreased by $10,000,000, constituted money lying idle in the vaults of the treasury or subtreasuries. Treasury experts estimate that the minimum upon which the government can transact its daily business is $15,000,000, and that a substantial portion of the working balance could with ease be deposited.

NORMAL SENIOR CLASS IN ATLANTA ON VISIT

Clad in caps and gowns, the girls from Milledgeville are in Atlanta today, 150 strong. They are the senior class of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college, and, accompanied by President Parks and the faculty, they will be royally entertained while here. Their trip is an annual affair, and the two days they spend in Atlanta are brimful of excitement for the graduates who comprise the party.

Automobile rides and visits to the federal prison, state capitol building and other points of interest are calculated to consume much of their time, and arrangements for a banquet at the Piedmont hotel are now under way.

Young Coachman Drowned.

Clearwarter, Fla., April 30.—S. B. Coachman, Jr., of this city, son of Judge S. S. Coachman, was drowned this afternoon in a small pond when a rowboat which he and his 8-year-old brother were sailing out overturned. Both boys went down, but the younger was resuscitated.

NEGRO ASSAILANT KILLS PURSUERS

Two Whites Slain and Many Wounded by Negro Who Attempted to Assault a Woman.

Hampton, S. C., April 30.—Two prominent Hampton county white men were killed and several wounded in a pitched battle this afternoon and tonight with Richard Henry Austin, a negro accused of attempting to criminally assault a white woman at Luray, S. C., today. The dead are J. Frank Bowers, a Hampton county planter and magistrate F. H. Baerfield, sician, and magistrate F. H. Edenfield, of Allendale, S. C. The wounded include Dr. S. C. Moore, George Hanna, McTeer Bowers and an unidentified white man. Hanna, Dr. Moore and an unidentified white man probably fatally injured.

Austin is alleged to have gone to the home of a prominent citizen of Luray and attempted an assault upon a young woman about 4 o'clock this afternoon. Cries of his intended victim are said to have attracted passersby. The negro escaped and sought refuge in a thick woods. He was armed with a shotgun, a bag filled with shells, a large revolver and a belt filled with cartridges.

When the pursuers approached the negro in the woods he opened fire, the negro penetrated farther into a little bay nearly entirely surrounded by heavy undergrowth. An attempt was made to follow by the white men and the negro opened fire. In the first exchange of shots J. Frank Bowers was killed, Dr. Moore wounded, and George Hanna was shot in the back.

The pursuers retreated a short distance and kept up a scattered fire at the negro. Help was summoned from Allendale and Hampton and blood hounds were ordered.

About 8 o'clock tonight magistrate F. H. Edenfield, of Allendale, who had joined the posse, attempted to lead a dash into the swamp. He was shot and instantly killed, and an unidentified man with him was probably fatally wounded.

A cordon was drawn around the section of the swamp where the negro was at bay and reinforcements were awaited. Shortly after 9 o'clock the negro made a dash for liberty. Fully fifty shots were exchanged, but he broke through the cordon and escaped.

Bloodhounds are being rushed to the scene from Barnwell, S. C., and from the state penitentiary. Governor Blease also has been requested to send troops to the swamp, but at a late hour no action had been taken by the governor.

CITY OFFERS $1,000 REWARD FOR CAPTURE OF PHAGAN SLAYERS

Atlanta's city council met at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, adopted a resolution appropriating $1,000 as a reward for information which may lead to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties responsible for the death of Mary Phagan, and immediately afterwards the aldermanic board met and approved the action of council.

The resolution went to Mayor Woodward before noon and he immediately attached his signature to it giving itofficial approval. The money is now available.

MRS. GEORGE W. OCHS DIES IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., April 30.—Mrs. George W. Ochs, editor of The Public Ledger, died today at her home at Elkins Park, after a brief illness. Mrs. Ochs was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Gans and was born in this city 56 years ago. She is survived by her husband, one son, aged 1½ years, and an infant son, 7 days old.

RANSOM FORCED FROM AMERICANS

One American Who Refused to Pay Is Murdered by Mexicans—Other Foreigners Put to Death.

Washington, April 30.—Mexican constitutionalists at San Dimas have forced Americans there to pay ransom of 18,000 Mexican dollars and have confiscated their arms. Official reports today from Mazatlan say great unrest prevails among American residents there, as the Huerta forces are said to be insufficient to protect property.

Foreign merchants in Piedras Negras are alarmed over a proclamation by Governor Carranza, chief of the state troops, authorizing an interior debt of 5,000,000 pesos to be guaranteed by the constitutionalists. The proclamation says persons refusing to receive or circulate any of the money will be imprisoned.

The manager of a British-owned mine at Matehuala, San Luis Potosi, and several other foreigners have been put to death by Mexican rebels because they refused to contribute money to the revolution.

Neither names nor numbers were given in the report received late today.

American Is Murdered.

Mexico City, April 30.—William E. A. Dinwall, an American citizen, the owner of a foundry and director of the Santa Maria de la Paz Mining company, was killed by the rebels in their attack yesterday on Matehuala, state of San Luis Potosi, according to reports which have reached here.

Dinwall, who is said to have been one of the wealthiest residents of the district, was killed owing to his refusal to give up money to the rebels.

Rebels Issue Paper Money.

Eagle Pass, Texas, April 30.—A decree issuing $5,000,000 worth of paper currency was made public today by Governor Carranza, the constitutionalist war leader. The paper is to be redeemable after the constitutionalists obtain control of the national government.

Any person refusing this paper or trying to enforce its acceptance at a discount is decreed liable to imprisonment. Three Mexicans, claiming to represent General Vega, of Mexico City, as peace emissaries to Carranza, were imprisoned at Piedras Negras last night under Carranza's orders to arrest all persons claiming to be peace emissaries.

Huerta to Quit Juares.

El Paso, Texas, April 30.—Federal forces are to evacuate Juares, the most important port of entry on the border and terminus of the Mexican Central railway. Orders to hasten to Chihuahua City, the state capital, were received late today by Colonel Juan N. Isurgents.

100,000 SOLDIERS MOVING TO ATTACK

Austria Sending an Immense Army Against Montenegro. Last Effort for Peace to Be Made Today.

London, May 1.—One hundred thousand Austrian troops are moving in the direction of the Montenegrin frontier, according to an Antivari dispatch to The Mail. The majority of these are from Styria. A large number of Austrian troops also are proceeding to Antivari by sea.

The Austrian ambassador had a prolonged conference with Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, who was also consulted by the Russian ambassador.

Both Austria and Montenegro, according to Vienna advices, are continuing their military preparations. Montenegro has dispatched 5,000 troops drawn from Scutari towards the Austrian frontier and has mounted heavy guns above Cattaro.

Great ministerial and diplomatic activity prevails in Vienna, where a council of war was held at the foreign office this evening.

Last Peace Effort Today.

Rome, April 30.—It is considered here that the last hopeof avoiding the gravest complications in the Balkan situation lies in the meeting of ambassadors in London tomorrow, when the question of united action by the European powers is expected to be decided.

The general fear in Rome is that Great Britain, France and Russia, not because they desire discord, but because they do not wish to back Austria in immediate action against Montenegro, may procrastinate, thus forcing the isolation of Austria. In such case Italy, for the protection of her own interests, will almost certainly intervene to ensure order in Albania and enforce there the decisions of Europe.

Vasquez, the Juares garrison commander.

The projected movement is in keeping with the general order issued some days ago that all federal forces in the state mobilise at Chihuahua City, threatened by attack from the south. Already constitutionalists are pressing close to Juares from the territory along the Rio Grande to the east.

The movement to the state capital will be hastened by today's desertion from the Juares garrison to the in-

TRUITT INDICTED ON THREE COUNTS

Larceny After Trust, and Cheating and Swindling Are Charges Made Against Prominent Coal Man..

Charles L. Truitt, of S. M. Truitt & Son, wholesale and retail coal dealers, was indicted on three counts yesterday afternoon by the Fulton county grand jury in connection with the recent charges of giving short weights, made against him by City Weight Inspector W. T. Buchanan.

Larceny after trust is the specific charge in one of the indictments and the other two are based on charges of cheating and swindling. Mr. Truitt was haled into police court recently by Inspector Buchanan and gave a bond of $100 for his appearance. When the case was called on April 18 he failed to appear and Recorder Nash R. Broyles ordered the bond forfeited and declared that should another such charge be brought against him and he be convicted that he would send him to the stockade without the alternative of a fine.

According to the testimony of two former drivers for the firm and of customers who claim to have been defrauded the giving of short weights has been going on for four years. It is claimed that when coal was weighed on the city scales another wagon would be substituted for the one that ha' been weighed. When the coal was not thus weighed it is claimed that Truitt used a system of double tickets.

It is claimed that in sending out one-horse loads of coal that the loads would be from 400 to 500 pounds short, while on two-horse loads the shortage is asserted to have amounted to from 800 to 900 pounds.

In the indictment for larceny after trust it is charged that Truitt sold approximately two wagon loads of coal from a car of the fuel which he was supposed to deliver to a customer. The cheating and swindling charges are based upon allegations of ordinary short weight.

What Do You Need For Dinner Today?

There are many good things to be had cheap if you know where to buy. And you'll know where to buy if you read carefully the ads in The Constitution. Take these items, for example:

Fresh Country Eggs, 16½c dozen.
Meadow Gold Butter, 35c pound.
20-pound sack Granulated Sugar, $1.12.
10-pound pail Silver Leaf Lard, $1.20.
Fresh Country Butter, 22½c pound.
New Potatoes, 3½c peck.

Compare these prices with what you must pay to most dealers. Figure the saving on one day's buying—then consider what you can save in a year. Worth while, isn't it? Rather tumbles the talk about high cost of living!

FRANK TRIED TO FLIRT WITH MURDERED GIRL SAYS HER BOY CHUM.

COMMITTEE WILL CLEAR ALDERMEN OF GRAFT CHARGE

Four Members Say They Are Satisfied That the Evidence Does Not Sustain Statements of McClelland.

CANDLER TO CONSIDER EVIDENCE AGAIN FIRST

Near Beer Dealers Declare They Lent Spratling Money Out of Friendship and Not for Protection.

The probe of charges of alleged graft made by Alderman John E. McClelland against Aldermen F. J. Spratling, James W. Maddox and I. N. Ragsdale was concluded at 11:30 o'clock last night.

After hearing all the witnesses summoned by the committee through Assistant District Attorney W. D. Ellis, Jr., and those summoned from a list furnished the committee by Alderman McClelland, four members of the committee of five declared that they were satisfied that the charges were not sustained. The committee will make a report to council Monday afternoon, recommending the absolute vindication of the three accused.

Candler Is Noncommittal.

"I won't say anything until I have carefully gone over all the testimony again," declared Judge John S. Candler, when he was asked for an opinion.

The charges against Alderman Spratling and Ragsdale were taken up at 7:30 o'clock. In his communication to council, Alderman McClelland charged that Alderman Spratling borrowed large sums of money from near beer dealers; that Alderman Ragsdale, as member of the firm of Lawson & Co., dealers in mules, speculated with the city, and that Alderman Maddox used his influence to secure subcontracts from contractors engaged by the city for public improvements. The Maddox charges were concluded Thursday afternoon.

Tried to Influence Spratling.

Briefly there was little evidence of a startling nature adduced at the hearing, except a statement made by Alderman Spratling from the stand to the effect that Alderman McClelland called at his office during the crematory fight and tried to influence him (Spratling) to vote against the tearing down of the old $35,000 crematory plant to make room for the erection of the new $75,000 building.

"He told me that he would guarantee that I would get any chairmanship that I wanted provided I voted against the contract," Alderman Spratling said. "He tried to urge me to leave the city when the vote was to be taken."

Albert Steiner, president of the Atlanta Brewing and Ice company, told the committee that he loaned Spratling $300 in October, 1910. He said that the loan was made before Spratling became a member of the city government. He said that Spratling told him that he was in trouble, and he gave him the money through friendship. President Steiner said that he did not expect protection; in fact, he did not know Spratling was going to be on the police committee.

Loan Made Through Friendship.

James Lynch, a wholesale and retail beer dealer, told the committee that he loaned Spratling $500 on a note on June 27, 1910, long before Spratling was even nominated. He said that he made the loan through friendship, because Spratling represented to him that he was in need of money because of some trouble he had. T. O. Poole, of the beer firm of Poole & McCullough, told the committee that he loaned Spratling $250 in July, 1910, and loaned him $300 in August of the same year. He said that he considered the loan a personal matter, made through friendship, because he wanted to help Spratling out in a time of trouble and need. He denied that he was promised protection in his business. On the contrary, he knew that Spratling was not connected with the city government and had no idea that he was going to be elected to council.

Charles S. Jones and Lorenzo Jones, beer dealers, denied that they ever loaned money to Spratling. Captain James W. English, president of the Fourth National bank; J. K. Ottley, vice president; Charles Ryan, cashier, and W. T. Perkerson, assistant cashier, denied that they had information of transactions between Alderman Spratling and near beer dealers, as was charged by Alderman McClelland in a statement before the committee.

Frank M. Berry, assistant cashier and paying teller at the Fourth National, and the committee that Paul Smith, a beer dealer, now dead, asked him for advice as to a loan he contemplated making Spratling. He said that he advised Smith what to do, and shortly afterwards he was accosted by Spratling and was informed by him that he did not think it was becoming for an officer of the bank to discuss bank business.

"Spratling told me that he had a right to borrow money from beer dealers," Berry told the committee.

Alderman Spratling stoutly denied the above statement when he went on the stand.

Councilman on the Stand.

Councilman W. G. Humphrey told the committee that he did not seek the chairmanship of the police committee. Mayor Winn sent for him and told him that he would not appoint Alderman Spratling because of the rumors that reached him concerning the loans made to him by beer dealers.

Mary Phagan Was Growing Afraid of Advances Made to Her by Superintendent of the Factory, George W. Epps, 15 Years Old, Tells the Coroner's Jury.

BOY HAD ENGAGEMENT TO MEET HER SATURDAY BUT SHE DID NOT COME

Newt Lee, Night Watchman, on Stand Declared Frank Was Much Excited on Saturday Afternoon—Pearl Robinson Testifies for Arthur Mullinax—Two Mechanics Brought by Detectives to the Inquest.

LEO FRANK REFUSES TO DISCUSS EVIDENCE

When a Constitution reporter saw Leo M. Frank early this morning and told him of the testimony to the effect that he had annoyed Mary Phagan by an attempted flirtation, the prisoner said that he had not heard of this accusation before, but that he did not want to talk. He would neither affirm nor deny the negro's accusation that never before the night of the tragedy had Frank phoned to inquire if all was well at the factory, as he did on the night of the killing.

Evidence that Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the pencil factory in which the lifeless body of Mary Phagan was found, had tried to flirt with her, and that she was growing afraid of his advances, was submitted to the coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday afternoon. A short time before adjournment was taken until 4:30 o'clock today by George W. Epps, aged 15, a chum of the murdered victim.

George rode with Mary to the city Saturday morning an hour before she disappeared at noon. He testified last Wednesday afternoon that the girl had told him of attempts Leo Frank had made to flirt with her, and of repeated advances in which he was becoming bolder.

"She said she was getting afraid," he told at the inquest. "She wanted me to come to the factory every afternoon in the future and escort her home. She didn't like the way Frank was acting toward her."

Waited Two Hours For Girl.

George had an engagement to meet the girl Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, he said. They were scheduled to see the Memorial parade and tour the picture shows. He waited two hours for her. She had disappeared, so he knows of her was when the lifeless form was found in the factory basement.

Frank was not present during the investigation but once. Detectives brought him before the jury for identification by E. S. Skippen, a boy who saw the mysterious gathering of youths and girls Saturday night or Whitehall and Trinity. He remained but a moment.

Sensational developments were predicted shortly after the inquest was resumed at 2:15 o'clock, when Coroner Donehoo ordered detectives to bring to police headquarters the two negroes who were in the factory building with Frank during the early part of Saturday afternoon.

They are Harry Denham and Arthur White, two youths who have been connected with the plant for several years. Detective Scott found them at work in the factory and they were sworn at the inquest. They left the police station immediately after being examined. A mystifying phase was added to the progress of the inquest when gar L. Sentell, a clerk in Kamper's grocery, declared positively that he had seen Mary Phagan with Arthur Mullinax at midnight Saturday as they crossed the corner of Hunter and Forsyth streets a few yards distant from the pencil factory.

Sentell had known the dead girl since early childhood. They were intimate friends, he said. Asserting that he had spoken to her, he stoutly maintained that she had answered his greeting.

J. L. Watkins, a neighbor to the home in which Mary lived, also testified that he had seen her Saturday afternoon when she crossed Ashby street at Bellwood. She presumably was on her way home, he stated.

George Epps is a bright, quick-witted chap and proved an eager witness. He was brought before the inquest following the examination of Pearl Robinson, the sweetheart of Arthur Mullinax, who testified in that youth's behalf.

"How old are you, son?" was the first question asked him.

"Fifteen—going on sixteen," he answered with alacrity.

"Do you work or go to school?"

"I work at a furniture store. In the afternoon I sell papers."

His answers were clear and brief. He made a pleasing impression.

Lives Near Phagan Girl.

"How far do you live from 136 Lindsay street—the home of Mary Phagan?"

"Did you know Mary?"

"Yes, sir; I certainly did. We were good friends."

"When did you last see her alive?"

"Saturday morning, just before dinner, when we came to town together on a street car."

"Did you arrange to meet her that afternoon?"

"Yes, sir! We were to have met at 2 o'clock in Elkin & Watson's drug store at Five Points. We were going to see the parade and go to the moving picture shows."

"How long did you wait for her when she failed to show up?"

"Until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. I stuck around two hours waiting for her. Then I had to go and sell my papers."

"Did you inquire for her?"

"Yes! I went to her house when I got through with my papers. She hadn't got back. The folks were looking for her."

"When you and Mary were riding to town, did you talk any?"

She Wanted Money Mighty Bad.

"We talked a whole lot. She said she was going to the pencil factory to draw the wages due her. She said she didn't have but $1.60 coming to her, but wanted that mighty bad."

"How was she dressed?"

"She had on a blue dress and a dark blue hat. I remember that hat mighty well, because I asked her why didn't she buy a 'stylish lid?' 'Umph!' she said, 'I'm no stylish girl. I don't need one.'"

"Did you both get on the car at the same time?"

"No! She was on first. When I got on she mentioned for me to come and sit beside her. While we were coming to town she began talking about Mr. Frank. When she would leave the factory on some afternoons, she said, Frank would rush out in front of her and try to flirt with her as she passed.

"She told me that he had often winked at her and tried to pay her attention. He would look hard and straight at her, she said, and then would smile. She called him Mr. Frank. It happened often, she said."

"How was the subject of Mr. Frank brought up?"

"She told me she wanted me to come down to the factory when she got off as often as I could to escort her home and hinder protect her."

"When did you hear she was killed?"

"Sunday."

Positive that he had seen Mary Phagan at midnight Saturday, Edgar L. Sentell offered to swear that it was the pretty victim whom he encountered with the suspected Mullinax at Forsyth and Hunter streets. He was the first witness during the afternoon session.

"I met Mary Phagan and Mullinax at Hunter and South Forsyth streets either between 11:30 and 12, or a little later. I am not positive which," he stated.

"Were they standing together?" he was questioned.

"No. They were walking along."

"Are you confident you knew both Mullinax and Mary?"

"I knew Mullinax at the car barns. I had known Mary all my life. I was born and raised with her."

"When was the last time you saw her?"

"One week previous to Saturday night."

"Did you speak to her?"

"I did. I said: 'Hello, Mary.'"

"Did she reply?"

"She did. She said: 'Hello, Edgar.'"

"Were her parents accustomed to letting her go with boys?"

Amazed to See Her Uptown.

"No. They were not. It amazed me when I saw her uptown at such an hour with a man. She looked like she was tired and fagged out."

"What did she wear?"

"A light purple dress, black shoes with a light blue ribbon tied in her hair. She didn't have a hat. An umbrella was in her hand."

"Can you swear that it was Mary Phagan you saw?"

"I can and will. I am swearing now that it was Mary Phagan I saw."

"Can you swear it was Mullinax?"

"I am not so positive about him. If it wasn't, it was his spit-and-image."

"Did you know Mullinax's name?"

"No. Not at that time. I had seen him so much around the car barns, though. I learned his name later."

"When did you first hear of Mary's murder?"

"Sunday morning on an English avenue trolley car."

"Who did you first tell?"

"Mrs. Coleman, her mother."

"Did the paper tell who was killed?"

Went to Mother Of Girl.

"No. I heard men at the car barn say the girl's name was Phagan. I immediately remembered seeing Mary at midnight. I went straight to Mrs. Coleman, and learned that it was her daughter."

"Where did you work before becoming connected with your present employers?"

"I was in the navy."

"When did you leave?"

"April 18, 1913."

"How long had you been there?"

"Three months."

"Why did you leave?"

"Because of eye affliction. I couldn't read the targets on the rifle range."

"Is your eye-sight ordinarily affected?"

"Not particularly so."

"Are you sure your eyes didn't fail you when you saw this girl Saturday at midnight?"

"I am positive they did not."

"Do you drink?"

"Occasionally. But I never get drunk."

"Were you drinking Saturday night?"

"Not a drop."

At this juncture the clothing worn by the murdered girl was held to the questioned man's gaze.

"Is this the dress she wore when you saw her Saturday night?"

"It is."

Bloody Hairs Are Found.

The discovery of a dozen strands of bloody hair, identified by her sister workers as that of the murdered girl's, was related by R. P. Barrett, a mechanic in the pencil plant, who made the find.

He was placed upon the stand directly after it had been vacated by Policeman Lasseter.

"What is your employment?"

"I am a machinist with the National Pencil company."

"How long have you been with them?"

"Seven weeks."

"Did you know Mary Phagan?"

"Yes. She ran a nulling machine at the factory.

"When did you see her last?"

"Tuesday one week ago. She didn't work after that because of shortage in metal."

"How far is her machine from the dressing room she used?"

"About six feet."

"Was anything unusual found around the machin. at which she worked?"

Splotches Of Blood.

"The girls at the factory told me Monday that Mary had been murdered. They were dim, and looked as the floor at the base of her machine. I found several dim, and looked as though whitewash had been spread over them. It looked as though the floor had been swept carefully."

"Was anything else found on the floor?"

"Yes. Monday morning, I started to work upon a lathing machine nearby the nulling machine of Mary's. My hands became tangled with long hair. I picked out a dozen strands or more. They were bloody. A number of the girls came and identified them as having come from Mary's head."

"Was Mary a quiet girl?"

"Exceptionally quiet, and a very well behaved one."

"Did anyone pay, or attempt to pay, attention to her?"

"Not of my knowledge. No one did around the factory."

"How large was the spot of blood you found near the machine at which she worked?"

"About six inches in diameter. There were several smaller spots."

"What floor?"

"Second."

"How near the elevator?"

"At the extreme end—200 or more feet, I would judge, from the lift."

Girls Afraid Of Frank.

"Did you ever know of familiarity which Frank tried with Mary?"

"No."

Declaring that, in his opinion, both of the notes found beside the dead girl's body were written by the same person, F. M. Berry, assistant cashier of the Fourth National bank, and a handwriting expert, said that the script in the mysterious missives resembled only slightly that of the writing of the suspected watchman.

He took the stand at 3:30 p. m.

"What experience have you in distinguishing handwriting?"

"Only the experience that could be gained by my twenty-three years of service with the bank."

The notes were shown him. He inspected them closely in the light of a window fronting Decatur street.

"Were they written by the same person?" he was asked.

"In my opinion, they were."

Was Factory Used For Assignation?

Berry, the factory mechanic, was recalled to the stand at 4:10 o'clock. Sensational evidence was gained from him relative to the usage of the factory building as an alleged place of assignation for men and women.

"Did anybody work in the plant during aSturday?" was the first question.

"No one of my direct knowledge. I heard, however, of two young employees who were at work on the top floor."

"Do you know them?"

"Not their names."

"Could you point them out to the detectives?"

"I could."

"Then," from Coroner Donehoo, "I will send a man after them. You go with him."

"What is the usual pay hour of the factory?"

"At 12 noon on Saturdays."

"Have you ever heard of the building being used for immoral purposes?"

"Yes. Frequently. A Mr. Asbury Calloway, connected with the Seaboard offices near the factory building, has told me that he has often seen men and women and girls going in and out of the building at night."

"Had you heard such rumors from the inside of the concern—by that, is meant from attaches to the plant?"

"No."

"Don't you suspect that some of the girls of the factory have filled clandestine appointments in the building?"

"I don't think so. I believe every girl in the place is straight—absolutely."

Gantt Smiles During Quiz.

J. M. Gantt, the Marietta youth, who is held as a suspect in the Phagan case, was put through a gruelling examination. He never flinched through the ordeal, answered the questions promptly and concisely, and smiled during the entire procedure.

He was put on the rack the moment his sweetheart, Pearl Robinson, had been excused. He remained under examination probably longer than any other witness except the negro, Newt Lee. The time was an hour.

"Did you know Mary Phagan?"

"I did. I had known her since she was a little tot."

"Were you ever employed with the pencil factory?"

"I was—up until three weeks ago."

"Why did you leave them?"

"I was discharged."

"Why were you discharged?"

Alleged Shortage the Trouble.

"Because of personal differences with Mr. Frank, the superintendent."

"What were the differences?"

"Two dollars short in the pay roll."

"Were you in charge of the pay roll?"

"I was paymaster."

"Did you ever see Frank with Mary Phagan?"

"No."

"You always paid off the employees, did you not?"

"I did."

"How were they paid?"

"With the envelope method."

"Did you ever pay Mary Phagan?"

"Yes."

"What did she make?"

"Presumably $4.05 a week, judging by the wage scale of the plant."

"When did you see her last?"

"The day I quit the pencil company."

"Had you seen her since?"

"No."

"Where did you go on Saturday?"

Went to the Factory.

"I went to the pencil factory about 6:30 o'clock that afternoon."

"Did you see Mr. Frank there?"

"Yes."

"Did he appear excited, agitated?"

"Yes. He seemed nervous."

"Did you ever hear Mary Phagan say she couldn't trust Frank—that she feared him in any manner?"

"No."

"How long were you in the building Saturday afternoon?"

"No longer than ten minutes."

"What did you do?"

"I got a pair of shoes I had left in the place when I quit. Also, I telephoned my sister, Mrs. F. C. Terrell what time I intended coming home that night. I used the phone in Mr. Frank's office."

"Then what did you do?"

"Went to a poolroom, watched several games of pool and went home."

"What time did you arrive home?"

"10:30 p. m."

"Were you there when the police came?"

"No."

"Did your sister tell of their visit?"

"No."

Shank Takes Stand.

Other testimony relative to the rumored immoral reputation of the factory building was gained from V. F. Shank, of Shank Bros., whose establishment is on Forsyth street, near the pencil plant.

Shank was called immediately after Barrett had left the stand.

"Do you work at night?"

"I do."

"Have you ever seen couples going into the pencil factory?"

"I have seen no couples. I have witnessed girls and men going singly into the place after dark."

"How long has it been since you've seen this?"

"Last summer some time."

"Did you make a statement recently of having seen girls enter the building?"

"[illegible] a crowd of such sights I had seen. We were discussing the question of whether or not 'frolics' were secretly held in the place."

Thought Girl Was Mary.

E. S. Skipper, of 224 1-2 Peters street, testified that he saw a sextet of men and women reeling drunkenly up Trinity avenue from Whitehall street Saturday night shortly before 11 o'clock. One of the girls, he said, answered the description of Mary Phagan.

"What did you see at Trinity and Whitehall?"

"Three men, two women and a girl dressed like and resembling the dead girl, whom I saw at Bloomfield's. The girl was weeping and trying to break away from the party. She was being led up the street."

"Did either man answer the description of Frank?"

"I haven't seen Frank."

At this juncture the examination was stopped. Frank was brought down from the detectives' quarters and put face to face with the witness.

"That's not the man," Skipper said.

"When you saw these drunken men and women leading a reluctant girl, didn't you think it your duty to call the police?"

"I see scenes like that on the streets every Saturday night."

Step-Father Tells of Grief.

J. W. Coleman, step-father of the murdered girl, told graphically of the grief in the little home on Lindsay street over the death when he took the stand at dusk.

"How old was Mary Phagan?"

"She would have been 14 next June."

"When did you last see her alive?"

"Friday night. She was at home early and was helping her mother with the housework. I left for work too early to see her Saturday morning."

"When you got home Saturday afternoon, was Mary there?"

"No. My wife came and said: 'Mary has not come home. What do you suppose is the trouble? I am scared to death.' I couldn't eat supper. Her absence affected me. Mary was never known to be away from home at night.

"I came to town and visited all the picture shows, staying until they all had closed. When I returned, my wife and I speculated on what could have become of the child. We never slept any that night. At daybreak, Helen Ferguson, a girl chum of Mary's, came over.

"The moment she rang the door bell my wife jumped from her seat. 'Oh, Lord, that's bad news from Mary,' she said. The Ferguson girl came in: 'Mary has been murdered,' she told us. My wife fainted, and she has been almost unable to walk since."

The coroner then adjourned the inquest until 4:30 o'clock today.

HEAD TAX IS PROPOSED ON CIGAR FACTORIES

Tampa, Fla., April 30.—A "head tax" is proposed in the state revenue measure to be placed before the legislature. Representative Goldstein, who has the measure in charge, proposes to have the state place a tax of 25 cents per man on cigar factories employing more than ten cigar-makers. It is estimated that about 20,000 cigar-makers are employed in the factories at Tampa and Key West. The proposed tax is a new departure in Florida revenue-raising legislation and will be fought.

Frank Not Apparently Nervous Say Last Men to Leave Factory

Following Mechanic Barrett's declaration that there were two men at work Saturday at noon on the top floor of the factory building, Coroner Donehoo ordered detectives to accompany the machinist to the plant and bring the two employees to police headquarters.

They were brought immediately into the inquest. Their names were given as Harry Denham and J. Arthur White. Denham was first placed on the stand. His examination began immediately upon arrival.

"Did you see the blood on the lathing machine?"

"I saw it Monday."

"Were you on that floor Saturday?"

"No. I was on the top floor."

"Did you see Frank at any time of the day?"

"Yes."

Asked When They Would Finish.

"Did he offer you holiday as the others had been given?"

"No. He came up to where we were working and asked us if we would be through by 1 o'clock.

"Did you ever know Mary Phagan?"

"I knew her only by sight."

"Did you see her Saturday?"

"No. I never left the top floor."

"Were you aware of everything which transpired in the building during the time you were within it?"

"No. A person could have come into the plant and we never would have known anything about it."

"How long have you worked with the pencil company?"

"Three years."

"Have you ever heard of couples going into the building at night?"

"No."

"Have you ever heard of complaints of that nature?"

"No."

"Have you ever been in the partitioned room in Frank's office?"

"No."

Apparently Not Nervous.

"When Frank came to where you were working at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon to tell you that you could quit, did he seem nervous or agitated?"

"Not that I noticed. He didn't come all the way. He came to the head of the steps and called to us.

"Did you go down with him?"

"No. He went down ahead of us."

"Was he in his office?"

"Yes. When I went down I borrowed $2 from him."

"Where did you leave him?"

"Writing at his desk."

"Was anyone else in the factory?"

"No one of whom I knew, except Frank."

"How many rooms are there in Frank's office?"

"Only two—his and the stenographer's."

"Can you see any one in the private office from the stenographer's room?"

"Yes, if you try to."

"As you left the building Saturday afternoon, did you notice in Frank's office any change from the customary state in the condition of furniture?"

"No."

"Who uses the office beside Frank?"

"Mr. Darley, the assistant superintendent."

Left Building for a While.

Arthur White's story coincided with that told by Denham. He was examined mostly, though, along different lines.

"Who was in the building besides you, Denham and Frank?"

"My wife came up shortly after noon. Mr. Frank came to her and told her he was going to lock up and advised her to leave the building. He also asked us if we didn't think we'd bettold him we weren't through. When we told him we wern't through, he said for us to stay in the place until he returned, as he was going out on the street. He came back at 3:08 and we punched out at 3:10 oclock."

"When did Frank leave?"

"He left right away."

"Do you know where he went?"

"No. He locked us in the building, though."

"Is there a closet in Frank's office?"

"Yes, there is. A kind of wardrobe."

"Did it look big enough to hold a human body?"

"Yes. It was about nine feet high and four feet wide."

"Where was it located?"

"Behind the door of his private office?"

"Was the door closed?"

"I didn't notice."

NEWT LEE TELLS HIS STORY DURING MORNING SESSION

Was the man who first assaulted and then brutally killed Mary Phagan last Saturday night hiding in the basement of the National Pencil company when the watchman, Newt Lee, came down and discovered the girl's mutilated body early Sunday morning?

This is the question that rose to everyone's mind, following the testimony of the negro nightwatchman, at the coroner's inquest Wednesday, in direct contradiction to the evidence of every policeman who had been on the scene, the negro declared that he found the body, lying face up, with the head toward the wall. When the police arrived, the body was lying face down, with the head pointing toward the front of the building.

The most severe cross examination could not shake the negro. He stuck to his story, never seeming to waver for an instant. So convincing was his air that it became the general idea that the murderer must have been in the cellar at the time, waiting to burn the body of his victim. Lee's coming down into the cellar may have frightened him away.

He declared that when he reported for work at 4 o'clock on the afternoon before the tragedy, his employer told him to go home until 6 o'clock. Frank looked nervous and excited at the time, he said. He also said that Frank had called him up later in the night, to find if everything was all right, something that he had never done before.

What was thought earlier in the day to be damaging to the negro—his declaration that he was positive that it was the body of a white girl as soon as he saw it—was brushed aside when he explained that he saw the difference because of the hair, which was straight and brown, totally unlike that of a negress.

The same jury that was used by Coroner Donehoo Monday morning was reimpaneled at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, when the inquest reconvened.

Inquest at Police Headquarters.

The inquest was held at police headquarters. W. F. Anderson, a call officer on the police force, who took the negro's message, when he reported the finding of the body, was the first to testify.

He described the body as he found it after the negro had led him and other officers to it. He stated specifically that the head pointed toward the front of the building and that the body was lying face down.

Minutely, he gave all of the grewsome details of the dead girl's appearance. He told how evident it had been that she had been in a struggle to the death, how her stocking was torn, her shoe missing and her whole face discolored by bruises and grime. So shocking was her state, he declared, that he did not know at first whether she was white or colored.

He said that her neck was knotted around with twine and a piece of cloth, evidently torn from her underskirt.

He declared that the staple that had been used to hold the door from the basement closed had been drawn.

Physician Does Questioning.

Dr. J. W. Hurt took up the questioning at this point.

"Could the negro have seen a body lying 20 or 30 feet away from where he was standing, by the light of the lantern that he carried?" he asked.

"He could not," replied the policeman. "At the most he could have seen for 12 or 15 feet. His lantern was very old and dirty."

Sergeant R. J. Brown, who also went to the scene of the crime, was next called before the jury. He corroborated the other policeman's testimony, in regard to the impossibility for anyone to distinguish the race of the girl without the most minute examination. He also declared that the negro could have seen nothing, standing 25 feet away from the body. "It was very hard to see, with our regulation police flash lights," he said, "and the negro only had a very weak lamp. I am sure that he could not have seen anything at a distance of 25 feet."

"This is nothing but a child," he testified that he exclaimed when he first saw the body. He said that he could not tell her color until he rolled down one stocking and looked at the knee.

He went over the revolting details of the girl's condition. His testimony did not conflict with his brother officers' in any way, but he told of some matters which the other had failed to bring out.

He said that there was dirt in her mouth even. The negro nightwatchman had told him, he said, that he rarely came down in the cellar, but that he had a special reason for doing so on that night.

When he was questioned about the telephoning of the news to Superintendent Frank that the sergeant's information became most damaging.

"We called up at once almost," he testified, "but, although we told central that a girl had been murdered and that it was of the utmost importance that we get the number, we could not get in communication with Mr. Frank until much later in the day."

Blood-Stained Garments Shown.

It was then that the most dramatic occurrence of the whole day took place, that tragically stared. For a moment he stood so, and then walked out, his head bowed, his hands over his eyes.

Upon being recalled, Officer Anderson testified that the body of the girl had still been warm when he came there and that blood was flowing from some of the wounds.

Police Sergeant L. S. Dobbs, who was next called, identified the notes that had been found on the girl's body. He declared that, after a minute examination, he had been able to say with authority that the body was that of a white girl. External appearances, he said, tended to show that the body had been dragged and thrown into the corner.

He said that after examining the body he turned to the negro watchman and accused him of having either committed the crime or of knowing something of it. The negro, he said, denied all knowledge of the affair.

Read Note to Negro.

He said that he then read him the note in which the girl is purported to have written: "Tall, black, thin negro did this. He will try to lay it on night—" The negro then replied, he declared, "That means me—the night watchman."

Other evidence simply corroborated the testimony of his brother officers.

Newt Lee, the negro night watchman, was called on the stand at 11:45 o'clock. He testified that Frank had especially instructed him to come to work two hours earlier than usual that Saturday, because of its being a holiday.

"Go out and have some more fun," Frank told him when he came to work at 4 o'clock, he declared. He explained that he made a round of the building every half-hour, only going to the basement when he had an unusual amount of time on his hands.

He said that Frank was still in the building when Gantt, a former bookkeeper, came to the door and asked to be allowed in to get an old pair of shoes that he had left inside. The negro declared that he had told Gantt that it was against the rules, but that he would ask his employer.

Frank Looked Frightened.

Lee declared that Frank looked frightened when he told him that Gantt was downstairs. He thought that this might have been caused by Frank's fear that the other, whom he had recently quarreled with and discharged, might "do him dirt."

He said that Gantt got the shoes, strapped them up and made an engagement with someone over the telephone for 9 o'clock that night. The negro was unable to say who Gantt had talked to, but he said that it was a lady.

"How did you know?" he was asked "By the name," he replied. He could not remember the name when further questioned, however.

He said that he saw Gantt leave, passing on down the street. He said that he did not know when Frank left, however. He explained the superintendent might have come back at any time, anyway, as he had a key.

He said that he went down into the basement at about 7 o'clock, after making a round of the building. He declared that the gas jet, which he had left burning when he left before, that morning, was not burning as brightly as before.

Frank Calls Up.

He said that shortly after this Frank called up to find if everything was all right. "It is as far as I know," he declared he answered.

He said Frank called before at night.

When he declared that he had found the body lying with the face up, the coroner directly asked him, "Why did you turn it over?"

"I didn't," stoutly averred the negro.

He declared that he had punched the time clock every half-hour; that he himself had put in a fresh slip with Frank.

He said that when he first saw the body in the basement it had looked very ague-like outline, and that he thought that boys had put it there to frighten him. It was only when he saw the bloody face and straight hair, he said, that he recognized it as the body of a white woman. He then became frightened and called up the police.

He said that he had been told by employers on Sunday following his arrest that he had punched the clock regularly Saturday night.

He emphatically declared that his lantern had been cleaned Friday and that it was in good condition. He said that a negro fireman (Knollys) probably had a key to the back door of the building, kept open during the day.

Thinks He Saw Girl.

J. G. Spier, of Cartersville, testified that Saturday afternoon at about 4 o'clock he passed the factory and saw in front of it a 17-year-old girl and a man about 25 years old, both very much excited. He said that he came back nearly an hour later and noticed the same couple standing at the same place.

He said that he visited the body at Bloomfield's undertaking establishment and was sure that the dead girl was the same one that he saw Saturday afternoon. He said that Frank had the same "outline" as the man he saw, but would not identify him positively. Mr. Spier's testimony brought the morning session to a close.

Friends of L. M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil company, gave out yesterday for the first time their theory of how Mary Phagan came to her tragic death. They visited the scene of the crime, and, claiming that Frank has been unjustly held and questioned by the police, they are pointing out how the girl could have been robbed, assaulted and murdered without anyone connected with the factory knowing anything about it.

They point to the foot of the stairway by which the girl would have left the factory and show how easily a man could have hidden behind the railing, which is closely boarded up.

"The foul criminal," they state, "knew it was pay day, and as it was Memorial day, the place would close early in the afternoon. He could have hidden at the foot of the stairway and when the girl came down the steps with her money in her purse, seized her and thrown her into the hole which leads to the basement to the left of the elevator shaft. It could all have been done so swiftly by a strong-armed man that the girl would have had no time to make an outcry before she was insensible in the basement.

"Then the criminal could have quickly followed on the ladder that stood in the hole and led from the first floor to the basement. Down in the basement he had ample opportunity to carry out his hellish purposes. His exit was easy, as has been shown in the newspapers. No one could have heard or seen the crime committed who was passing in the street or who was on the second or third floors."

"We are not advancing theories in the defense of Mr. Frank," states S. S. Selig, who was among those who made an inspection of the factory Wednesday, "for he needs no defense. But the theory we advance is so plausible and fits so well into the clues that have been found that it is remarkable the officers have not worked along that line. The girl's parasol was found at the foot of the ladder, where it could have fallen when she was thrown into the hole. That the purse and money were missing shows that there was robbery as well as assault and murder."

Waycross Tax Returns.

Waycross, Ga., April 30.—(Special.) property in Waycross gained $661,000 during the past twelve months. This is no larger gain than Waycross has been accustomed to in recent years, but shows that the city is growing steadily. Most of the increase for the year was in improved real estate.

New Two-Piece English Models

Let us talk to you of the fabric of these newly-arrived two-piece English models in unusual novelty patterns. It is a most perfect reproduction of imported woolen. The texture of the worsted-cheviot is marvelously soft and fine and light of weight; colors combined in the patterns are beautiful blends of gray and green, with threads of gold, silk threads, deep in the soft wool, in groups of twos and threes.

Such written description would cover the three suits selected as being specially attractive, and yet each one is different, owing to the variety of arrangements. One has a predominance of gray, another green, another brown, each having the rich yellow-brown silk decoration.

Beautifully made, beautifully lined with rich silky mohair; sleeve lining of pongee.

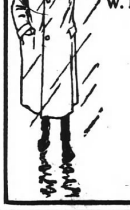

To say that the style and the quality are there is superfluous.

STRIKE SYMPATHIZERS CHARGED BY POLICE

Attack on the Street Car Barns at Asheville Is Frustrated.

Asheville, N. C., April 30.—Following a comparatively quiet day in the strike situation a mob of three or four hundred men and boys tonight attacked the barns of the Asheville Power and Light company, whose motormen and conductors went on strike for an advance in wages of 3 cents an hour last Saturday afternoon. Several windows were broken by volleys of bricks and stones.

The police charged the crowd on several occasions, making twelve arrests of men alleged to have been the ring-leaders. Extra policemen and deputies were hurried to the scene and at midnight the crowd had practically dispersed.

The street car company operated six cars today with strike-breakers, the first car going over the Biltmore lines under heavy guard at 11:30 o'clock this morning.

The cars moved all day without interruption, the city police rigidly enforcing the "move on" ordinance with a view to preventing the formation of mobs. Additional cars will be operated tomorrow and it is reported tonight that in the event of further trouble from strike sympathizers Governor Craig will be asked to send state troops to this city.

Representatives of the street car workers and the company stated tonight that the strike situation was unchanged and that there was no prospect of settlement.

Girl Was Dead Ten Hours Before Her Body Was Found

Mary Phagan had been dead ten hours or more beforeher body was discovered in the basement darkness of the factory building.

This is the opinion of expert embalmists of Bloomfield's undertaking establishment, who made a thorough examination of the corpse immediately after it had been removed to the shop, less than thirty minutes following the discovery.

This disclosure may shift the investigation of detectives to new channels.

SPIRIT OF FELLOWSHIP REVEALED BY CONTEST

Rival S. S. Teachers, 150 Strong, Gather at Supper and Love Feast.

"This is truly a great occasion, for it reveals the fact that when men and women are working for the Lord through a great Sunday school contest like ours they can work against each other and with each other at the same time."

Dr. L. O. Bricker thus crystallized the noble spirit of fellowship that overspread the gathering in the First Christian church Wednesday evening when the teachers of the two contesting Sunday schools sat down to supper together and discussed Sunday school methods.

There were many other methods recounted, and the meeting proved a revelation along the line of Sunday school development and organization. Talks were made by the two superintendents, John S. Spalding, of the Second Baptist, and C. V. LeCraw, of the First Christian. Dr. John E. White and Dr. Bricker, the pastors of the two churches, sat together at the supper table and were given the opportunity of a few minutes' talk.

The ladies of the First Christian, who prepared the supper in the splendidly equipped kitchen of the church, served it in the large dining-room. It was in the nature of a return courtesy, as the First Christian was entertained in a like manner by the Second Baptist four weeks ago—the first of these unique suppers ever held in Atlanta.

Plans were discussed for the joint auditorium meeting of the two Sunday schools next Sunday morning, beginning at 10:45 o'clock, and an entertaining program decided upon.

FARMERS' UNION LANDS ON COTTON SCHEDULE

Alleged New Rates Will Injure Cotton Planters—Plea to Southern Congressmen.

New Orleans, April 30.—The cotton schedule of the democratic tariff revision bill now pending in congress will result in heavy financial losses to the cotton planters and cotton manufacturers, according to statements made by representatives of these interests today at a special hearing being conducted here by a committee representing the National Farmers' union.

J. D. Brown, member of a spot cotton firm of New Orleans, stated that the pending bill already had resulted in a decline of nearly $5 a bale in the price of raw cotton, representing a loss of millions of dollars to the planters.

Sigmund Odenheimer, president of the Lane Cotton mills, who yesterday told the committee that the American mills could not possibly compete with the English mills in the manufacture of the finer grades of cotton goods, was recalled today. He gave further detailed information regarding the bad effect which he claimed the passage of the Underwood bill will have upon the cotton industry. He declared that if this schedule is adopted in its present form it will result in serious loss to the mills of the United States, many of which, he said, were not now paying profitable dividends.

The committee telegraphed senators from the southern states to refrain from pledging their support to the Underwood bill until the testimony which it is securing can be presented to the senate. The committee is composed of officers of the Farmers' union of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma. The hearings will continue for several days.

COMMITTEE WILL CLEA RALDERMEN

in the Atlanta Brewing and Ice company, denied that he loaned Spratling money.

J. R. Westley told the committee that he made an investigation of the rumors that Spratling borrowed from beer men, and found them to be true. The committee would not admit what Westley said others told him. Westley admitted that he is not friendly with Spratling.

Alderman Spratling told the committee of the conversation he had with Alderman McClelland on the crematory project. He said that he went to Alderman McClelland recently and asked him if it was true that Charles T. Hopkins was going to make public his transaction with the beer men and made a frank admission to him of his affairs.

"All my affairs have been honest and above board," he said. "I went to those gentlemen before I was connected with the city. I felt that I had a right to appeal to my friends for help. I was in hard lines. I had trouble and they assisted me."

he has never been able to take up the notes for the reason that he lost money in his business during the past two years. He said that he owed $12,000 and has paid up nearly one-third of it in two years.

Will Pay His Debts.

"I lost clients because of my financial condition," he explained. "I am working harder than ever to pay up all my debts, and I will do so in a few years."

The charges against Alderman Ragsdale were probed at great length. Nearly every stockman from the national yards were called and examined. The substance of the testimony was that while Alderman Ragsdale was a member of the firm of Lawson & Co., still he refused to sell the city stock. Chief Cummings, of the fire department, and Chief John Jentzen, of the sanitary department, testified that Alderman Ragsdale made the city money by purchasing fresh stock for the city and disposing of the old down and out mules at high prices.

J. R. Lawhon said that he sold mules to the city despite Alderman Ragsdale's injunction because he believed he had the right to enter into a legitimate transaction with anyone.

Most of the witnesses summoned from the stock yards testified that they preferred not to deal with Alderman Ragsdale in the matter of stock purchased for the city because he got the better of them. Among the witnesses were Frank Harper, of Harper Brothers; S. W. Herring, C. G. Turner, Councilman Claude L. Ashley, W. C. Harper, J. A. Latta, M. Hall, J. P. Oglesby, W. B. Jernigan, City Veterinarian Jolly and the representatives of mercantile agencies.

The committe will meet aSturday to formulate the report to council.

Georgian Will Be Confirmed Director of Census—Washington Post's Tribute.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 30.—(Special.)—Opposition to William J. Harris' nomination to be director of the census has practically fallen through. He was today given the almost unanimous indorsement of the census committee, only one vote being recorded against favorable action, and that was cast by Senator Townsend, of Michigan, which is the home state of E. Dana Durand, the incumbent.

There were never any charges filed against Mr. Harris or any argument that he was unfitted for the position to which the president appointed him. It was simply a case of the incumbent desiring to hold on, even though not a trained statistician. Mr. Harris' friends insisted he was a splendid administrative officer and pointed to his success in organizing an insurance company which now employs 700 agents and is doing a large business. Such a man was needed, they said, to direct the work of the statistical experts of the bureau.

The Washington Post, in an editorial indorsement of Mr. Harris, today had this to say:

"Those who know Mr. Harris are aware of his especial fitness for the office to which President Wilson has appointed him. He has demonstrated unusual ability in his own business, and it is not to his discredit that he has displayed ability, also as chairman of the democratic state committee of Georgia. He is in sympathy with the aims and ideals of President Wilson, and the president is entitled to have about him men in whom he has confidence, who are in sympathy with him, and who are anxious to make his administration a success.

"Mr. Harris is entitled to prompt confirmation by the senate. This is the president's desire and in the absence of any reason for holding up the nomination, it is his right to expect that the senate will act favorably at once."

The Peace Congress.

St. Louis, April 30.—With the meeting tonight of the American School Peace league, the last of the preliminary events of the fourth American Peace congress was held. The first session of the congress will be held tomorrow. Andrew Carnegie arrived this afternoon and will speak at the opening session on "The Baseless Fear of War." This afternoon he occupied a place on the stand at the ceremonies of dedication for the Jefferson memorial.

SOUTH STANDING WITH CALIFORNIA AGAINST JAPANESE

So President Wilson Is Informed by the Senators and Representatives From This Section.

ANTI-ALIEN AGITATION COVERS WIDE SECTION

President Wilson Will Take No Further Steps at Present—Bryan to Remain in California Until Settlement

Washington, April 30.—Inquiry at the white house today as to what might be President Wilson's attitude toward the Webb bill with its affirmative clause permitting "all aliens eligible to citizenship" to acquire land in California, on which California legislative leaders are now said to be agreed, brought the information that the president deemed it prudent not to discuss at this time the negotiations toward an adjustment of the controversy.

In a Delicate Status.

The president let it be known that the entire subject was in a delicate status and that it was necessary further to study the proposals of the California legislative leaders before the position of the national government could be announced. It is believed the Japanese ambassador will be sounded out as to the probable reception of the Webb bill in Japan and the legal officers of the state department may render an opinion as to whether the language now employed would be construed as a discrimination or in conflict of treaty obligations.

There is no disposition at the white house to regard Secretary Bryan's mission as having been completed. Mr. Bryan probably will stay on the ground until the whole matter is definitely cleared up.

Officials here commented today on the apparent fact that anti-alien agitation suddenly brought into prominence through the proceedings of the California legislature, is not confined to California, but extends over the whole Pacific coast and Rocky mountain section even as far north at Alaska.

Southern Senators Back California.

It also was pointed out that recent utterances of southern senators and representatives in congress indicated that the sympathies of that section were strongly with the Californians in this issue.

It is regarded as probable that the president, immediately upon the return of Secretary Bryan, will begin consideration of a general policy for the treatment of the important question of the extent to which the national government may or should go toward enforcing the treaty rights of aliens within the states. The negotiations with the Japanese government, which are expected to follow the action in California, probably will be the means of developing this policy.

The president may deem it advisable to undertake the negotiation of a new treaty of trade and commerce with Japan, and, though it is realized that agreement on such a convention, satisfying to Japanese pride yet permanently guarding against a Japanese "invasion," would be fraught with great difficulty, some of the officials are inclined to the belief that the thing can be done.

Meanwhile beyond speculating upon the possibilities of developments in Sacramento and perhaps quietly admonishing the territorial authorities of Alaska to abstain from any such action in the direction of discriminating against Japanese fishermen, as would add to its difficulty, there is little that can be done in Washington until Secretary Bryan returns to the capital.

CALIFORNIA PASSES DRASTIC LAW TODAY

Sacramento, Cal., April 30.—An open right of way for final action in the senate tomorrow morning on the Webb anti-alien land act was prepared today by floor leaders in the upper house, and before tomorrow night a concrete expression of the legislature's attitude toward Secretary of State Bryan's diplomatic visit will be at hand in the shape of a vote on the most drastic land-holding act yet proposed.

Secretary Bryan spent the day in San Francisco, not returning until late tonight. It was not known whether he had received further instructions from President Wilson regarding his propositions to the legislature.

A few amendments may be offered, but they will be resisted by the full force of the administration leaders, who stated tonight that they expected the act to be passed in its present form.

There was wide discussion of the new bill today, although but little criticism was forthcoming from the standpoint of California. In comparison with various drafts that preceded it, the Webb act is said to be more drastic and effective in reaching the Japanese farmers of the state than any other proposed measure, and at the same time least objectionable of all from an international point of view.

Senator Thompson declared tonight that the bill provided for "the immediate and direct solution of the Japanese problem," and to this extent it is the most rigid and uncompromising measure that has been suggested. Senator Thompson denied that the wording of the act or any part of it can be taken as a concession to the objections of Secretary Bryan, and Governor Johnson stated today that from what he understood of the situation, the measure did not have the approval of President Wilson.

Will Bar the Japanese.

A close study of the Webb bill shows the full extent of the restrictions placed upon aliens who are not permitted to become citizens, although the limitations are precisely those imposed in the existing treaty between the United States and Japan, China and other nations whose subjects are ineligible. In the case of the Japanese, they are prohibited entirely from acquiring or holding land for farming or agricultural purposes, and it is declared the passage of the act will put an end ellgible. In the case of the Japanese, farming colonies but eventually to the colonies themselves.

This purpose of the cat is effected in two ways:

"1. On the death of an alien landowner the bill provides that his ownership ceases and that the property must be taken over by the probate court and sold to the highest bidder. Under its terms an alien cannot bequeath real property except to a citizen. The proceeds from the sale of such land are distibuted to the heirs by the court.

"2. No leases whatsoever are permitted. Originally it was planned to permit leases covering a maximum period of three to five years, but the Webb act denies this opportunity for colonization by aliens and provides that any lease of agricultural lands is subject to escheat to the state on the day it is begun. To make this more effective the bill provides that when suit is begun to escheat such lease the court shall appraise the lease, sell the property at a forced sale and pay the value of the lease to the state. The remainder of the proceeds shall go to the citizen owner of the land."

Will Prohibit Leases.

It is held that this section of the act will be absolutely prohibitory upon all leases of agricultural lands whether for gardening purposes or otherwise.

According to Senator Thompson, who has made a study of the bill, the theory is as follows:

Only citizens and those eligible to become citizens may be proprietors of land. They may employ Japanese and Chinese, but they cannot lease or otherwise give such aliens an interest or share in their proprietorship. Such land as is now held by Japanese and Chinese cannot be bequeathed to their alien heirs. It must be sold.

"The practical result of the bill," said Senator Thompson, "will be that all further acquisition will be prevented, leasing colonies will be exterminated and at the end of the present generation most of the land now held by Japanese and Chinese will be owned by citizens."

DIRECTORS OF LOWRY REGRET ORME'S DEATH

The board of directors of the Lowry National bank has adopted resolutions expressing sorrow over the death of former Vice President Joseph T. Orme.

The resolutions state that his character inspired confidence, his influence was of value to the business community and that the banking interests of the country, as well as his city, have suffered a severe loss by his death.

Copies of the resolutions were sent to his family and a page of the minutes of the board set apart as a permanent record of the same.

INCREASE IS SHOWN IN COTTON ACREAGE

But It Is Only 2.8 Per Cent for Belt—Georgia Shows a Small Decrease.

New York, April 30.—(Special.)—Preliminary estimates of acreage, the amount of fertilizers used and the earliness or lateness of the season as ascertained by The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin through 1,000 replies of special correspondents of an average date of April 23 indicate an increase in acreage over last year of 2.8 per cent. As many correspondents regarded it as too early to take definite estimates this result must be regarded as tentative and subject to revision in our next month's report. A year ago no estimate was attempted owing to the lateness of the season.

Acreage increases or decreases and days late or early are shown by states in the accompanying table:

	Late or Inc. or Dec.	Early.
North Carolina	Plus 1.3	2L
South Carolina	Plus 0.0	7L
Georgia	Minus 1.7	6L
Florida	Minus 6.2	8L
Alabama	Minus 0.5	5L
Mississippi	Plus 3.5
Louisiana	Plus 20.0	3L
Texas	Plus 3.6	10L
Arkansas	Plus 4.3
Tennessee	Minus 0.3
Missouri	Plus 9.0	1L
Oklahoma	Plus 9.0	1L

Average plus 2.8.

Important increases are shown in Mississippi with 3.5 per cent, Louisiana with 20 per cent, Texas with 3.6 per cent, Arkansas with 4.3 per cent and Oklahoma with 9 per cent. Decreases are noted in Georgia with 1.7 per cent, Alabama with 0.8 per cent and Tennessee with 0.3 per cent.

The lessened fear of the boll weevil has induced many farmers to heavily increase their cotton acreage, which is particularly noticeable in Louisiana, but part of this is due to sugar land going into cotton. Fertilizers are more liberally used in nearly all sections.

Too much rain with low temperatures early in the season left the ground cloddy and hard; this was followed by dry weather, preventing germination and necessitating considerable replanting. Stands where obtained were generally poor except in Texas, and most states are badly needing a good warm rain.

Compared with a year ago prospects are much more favorable, when rains were so excessive as to make the season two to three weeks backward.

Miller to Assist Lane.

Washington, April 30.—Secretary Lane late today announced the selection of Professor Adolph C. Miller, of Berkeley, Cal., to be first assistant secretary of the interior department. The nomination will be sent to the senate in the near future. He has been a professor at the University of California since 1902.

Pretty Young Sweetheart Comes To the Aid of Arthur Mullinax

Pearl Robinson, the pretty 16-year-old sweetheart of Arthur Mullinax, came nobly to his defense with testimoney that corroborated that suspect's alibi. She was placed on the stand late in the afternoon.

"Do you know Arthur Mullinax?"

"I am well acquainted with him."

"Do you go with him?"

"Yes!"

"Were you with him Saturday?"

"Yes! At supper and to the theater."

"What time did you get home?"

"About 10:30 o'clock."

"Was he with you at that time?"

"He was."

"Did he go in when you returned home."

"No. He left for his home."

"Did you know Mary Phagan?"

"I never saw her."

Best in the long run—
Goodrich Tires

The tread of a Goodrich Tire, instead of being a separate piece or part, is actually the outside of the tire.

It is of the tire—not merely put on it.

This is one reason why the thick, tough Goodrich tread does not peel or strip.

Unit molding is the great principle of construction in Goodrich Tires. It was the way we made the first American clincher tire, sixteen years ago. We have never changed the method, because it is a principle proven over and over in our forty-three years of successful rubber manufacturing.

The whole Goodrich Tire—layers of rubber-impregnated fabric, strips of pure rubber, extra strips thickening and reinforcing the sides and eliminating chances for rim injury, beads and thick, tough tread—is converted into a single, strong, lively, integral structure—a unit.

No weak places—no dead spots because of over vulcanising.

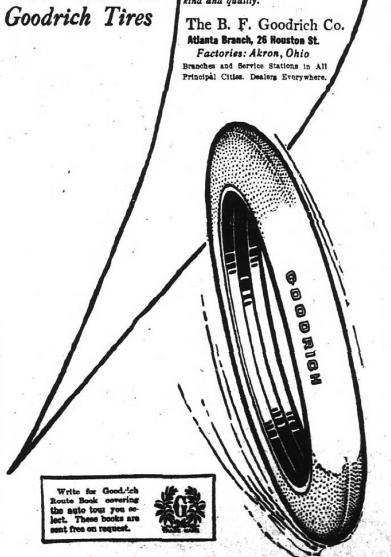

The result is long, satisfactory, uniform service and wear.

We'll send you free our folders telling you how to get the most service from your tires.

Your tire dealer will supply you with whatever style of Goodrich Tire is best for your needs. They are all the same kind and quality.

ATLANTA AND THE PRESBYTERIANS.

The traditional hospitality of Atlanta faces a unique opportunity in the convening here on May 15 of the executive bodies of every branch of the Presbyterian church in America. The event is an epoch in the world of religion. Between 1,500 and 2,000 visitors will be in attendance, divided between delegates and others attracted by the historic importance of the occasion.

The Presbyterians of Atlanta do not ask a penny for the entertainment of the guests of the city. They have subscribed the funds necessary; but they do ask, with confidence, that the homes of the city be opened to these guests, without regard to denomination. One thousand homes have been offered by the Presbyterians of the city. It is estimated that 500 additional homes will be needed. Feeling that the unprecedented nature of the event lifts it far above denominational significance, those in charge of the gathering issue an invitation to Methodist, Baptist, Catholic, Jew, Episcopalian, Christian, Congregationalist, Unitarian—people of all creeds—to cooperate in the housing of the city's visitors.

There is no doubt that Atlanta will promptly respond. The Presbyterians were invited as Atlanta's guests, all denominations, the chamber of commerce and other civic organizations participating in the invitation. As an instance of the readiness with which the Atlanta spirit is already meeting the situation, action taken yesterday at a lady's luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club and, reported elsewhere, is significant. Here the scope and purposes of the gathering were stated, and in short order the guarantee of a large part of the homes needed was forthcoming. Plans and an organization for the canvassing of the city were perfected. Response should be so prompt that by Saturday night the list should be over-subscribed with the same spontaneity which has now for four times oversubscribed the grand opera guarantee.

The unprecedented character of the gathering itself, bringing together representatives of every branch of the Presbyterian faith the world over, in itself should guarantee full response to the call. For the first time in sixty years the executive bodies of the church in America meet at the same time and place, holding in several instances common sessions.

If this were not enough Atlanta's obligation to itself simply in the matter of hospitality should open every home that is needed.

The Presbyterian element in Atlanta has ever been in the front ranks of those giving freely of time, brain and money to the advancement of the civic, religious and material interests of this city. If this request for the opening of 500 non-Presbyterian homes had no stronger a basis than that of merely expressing reciprocal appreciation of the splendid public spirit of the Presbyterians of Atlanta it should meet with quick response.

The Constitution has no doubt that by Saturday enough homes will be registered to accommodate every prospective visitor.

It's up to prospective guests who do not approve of Secretary Bryan's wireless dinners to fold their tents and plead previous engagements.

The vice president's utterances indicate that his private and public opinion is that the president himself is not "the only one."

Cheer up. It hasn't been cold enough to snow under one picnic train this winter.

RAILWAY MAIL PAY.

Of a part with the general indictment of Hitchcockism and its ruinous policy of "parsimony" is the blunt denial by the railways—backed by proof—of the claim of the former postmaster general that they are being overpaid for carrying the mails of the country. They declare on the contrary, substantiating their claims with figures, that they are actually underpaid, and that Hitchcock's allegations are based on deliberate juggling of figures. Whether credence is to be given to Hitchcock or the railroads is not an issue. The statements made by the latter are so circumstantial that, in common fairness, it is likely congress will give them a full hearing, especially since Hitchcock has practically admitted the injustice of his course.

It is impossible to give the technical detail of the railroads' contentions, but their chief points, summarized, are that Hitchcock's claims were based upon figures of railroad cost and revenue in November, 1909, which the railroads say is one of the smallest months of the year, or at least thoroughly untypical. They show that they are at enormous expense to build, furnish and maintain special postoffice cars, and that the transportation of the messengers brings them nothing, contrary to the regulations applying to the transportation of all other classes of individuals. The point is made that Hitchcock based his charge of overpay largely upon a remuneration to the railroads of "cost" of transportation plus 6 per cent, making no allowance whatever for the cost of value of the property, nor even of the cost of cars. That principle applied to any business would, it is declared, bring bankruptcy. Hitchcock claims it cost the railroads $2,676,503 in November to carry the mails; the railroads' claim is $4,009,184. He made this reduction of 50 per cent, the railroads say, by "kiting" expenses between passenger and freight service, and regulating the estimate of floor space used to suit himself. In a subsequent letter to Senator Bourne, written as he was about to leave office, Postmaster General Hitchcock agreed to make substantial changes in his first recommendations, covering many of the points above alluded to.

The allegations of the railroads are sufficiently serious to justify their thorough investigation by congress. It is due not only to the people of this country, but equally to the railroads, that they be paid a fair price for carrying the mails. The main witness for the railroads' side is the known tendency of the former postmaster to mold facts and figures to suit his "economy" policy. If he has done so in this instance the injustice should be repaired.

PENNY SCHOOL LUNCHES.

Council's favorable consideration of the recommendation of the board of education looking to the introduction of penny lunches in the school system of Atlanta would be well received by the city. The board of lady visitors to the schools, at the instance of Mrs. V. H. Kriegshaber, inaugurated the movement, and it has been tried with great success at the Inman Park school. For a penny the pupil is sold an appetizing and nutritious lunch. The manner in which the enterprise has been patronized in this one school is an indication of its need throughout the system.

The sum asked of council will simply provide the equipment needed to extend the movement to other schools. It will not, of course, purchase food, pay cooks or provide for other indispensable incidentals. The lady visitors, in co-operation with the Parent-Teacher associations, hope that once the plan is thoroughly launched they can obtain enough subscriptions to greatly broaden its usefulness. Already public-spirited merchants have given freely to the movement.

The citizen unacquainted with the routine of school life scarcely realizes the part the penny lunch can be made to play in the betterment of the system. It is a common practice for the children in all grades to carry lunch to school with them. Classes open at 8:30 a. m., and from that hour until 2 p. m., when school closes, is a long interval for pupils, especially the younger ones, to go without food. In many of the cities of the east and the middle west the penny lunch has solved the problem. More than one municipality considers the matter of such importance that it supplies the lunches gratis to the pupils.

The board of education has recommended that council appropriate $2,500 as an aid to get the movement on its feet in Atlanta. Money applied to that end would be well invested.

Sympathy From Texas.

Here is a note of sympathy from The Houston Post:

"Ging-Ging-Goophus of the Springfield Union is in a Springfield hospital, surrounded by pretty nurses who are pulling his leg. His right leg. He broke it while trying to board a Springfield street car. From which we deduce that the car had a high step and that Ging was wearing the skin-tight trousers which are said to be the fashion in New England. Here's hoping that the nurses are as beautiful as we hope they are, and that the physician prescribes milk punch, regularly. Also that the claim agent of the street railway company does the right thing."

What Is the Remedy?

Editor Constitution: A social condition and atmosphere that would produce a desire to commit a crime so horrible as that of Saturday night should claim the consideration of society. The condition of a heart that should find pleasure and satisfaction in subjecting God's fairest and purest creation to such horror is beyond picture or description. What's the remedy?

Has a New Explanation.

Editor Constitution: I notice with interest the reward your most worthy paper is offering for the brutal murderer of Mary Phagan. To say words of praise for you would only be adding to what many others have said, and it would only be another testimonial of your love for your city and state, which you have always shown, and which you show now in trying to avenge the death of this pure girl. I truly hope the murderer will be caught and convicted, and in that way we can help to wipe the stain from our state as much as is now possible. But, what about the future?

The cause of this brutal murder is whisky; the murderer formed his hellish plot while under the influence of whisky. Plead as much as they wish for a clean city, until you strike in your might, and crush this liquor evil from the state, never will your city be free from the black crimes that disgrace Georgia. Whisky and alcohol are the root and foundation of 90 per cent of all crime. Some years ago we banished the open saloon, where only a man could drink; but as a substitute you have the saloon that is open, and not looked down upon, where mere children can be seen, where pure girls of tender years can be carried for suppers, and drink. There is the cabaret on your streets to lure the unsuspecting.

Write one more editorial, indorse your offer of reward with a plea for a cleanup of the places that ruin, that operate on Sundays when the picture shows have to close, that go on all day when the church can only run an hour.

How Colonel Fellows Happened to Settle in New York

By E. J. EDWARDS.

At the democratic national convention of 1884 the two conspicuously brilliant orators were Bourke Cockran, of New York, and John R. Fellows, at that time assistant district attorney of New York city. Of great local prominence before this national gathering, they gained national reputations by reason of their brilliant oratory. Afterwards Colonel Fellows became district attorney for the county of New York and, later, was elected to congress. He died while serving as a representative in the first part of Cleveland's second administration.

Mr. Cockran was also elected to congress, where he served for several terms. Shortly after the democratic national convention of 1884 Colonel Fellows was asked how he, who had served in the confederate army and afterwards practiced law in Arkansas, happened to go to New York and begin a new career in the metropolis.

E. J. Edwards.

"Well," said Colonel Fellows, "it was all owing, I suppose, to Horatio Seymour, who was a democratic candidate for the presidency in 1868. Somewhat unexpectedly, certainly without any solicitation on my part, I was elected as a delegate to the democratic national convention of 1868, representing in part my state of Arkansas. I was not particularly anxious to spend the time or more which would be required if I attended the convention, for at that time it would have taken the greater part of a week to get from my home in Arkansas to New York city, where the convention was held, and, of course, a similar period of time for returning. Then we would have to be upon the ground a few days before the convention met, and nobody could tell how long it would be in session.

"I figured that it would take at least the best part of a month. It so happened that I had some important law matters which were coming to a head in that month. However, I was able to arrange these, and I thought the experience would be worth while, so I attended the convention as a delegate.

"It was immensely pleasant with the personality of Horatio Seymour, who was the presiding officer of that convention. Personally I favored the nomination of George H. Pendleton, of Ohio, for president.

"I think it was the second day of the session that a friend said to me: 'John, Horatio Seymour has been asking all about you. He was attracted to you by your personal appearance and by the reputation that has reached him of your abilities as an orator. He says that you strongly resemble in personality Stephen A. Douglas, for whom Horatio Seymour had unbounded admiration.'

"I said that I had been told before that my short stature, robust build and the size and shape of my head had caused other people to speak of a fancied resemblance between Douglas and myself.

"My friend replied that, anyway, Seymour thought he discovered a resemblance, and that he was very anxious to meet me.

"Well, at the first convenient opportunity—I think it was just after Seymour had been nominated for the presidency—I introduced myself. He took me aside and we had a chat which changed my entire career. He told me that Arkansas offered no sufficient opportunity at that time for a man of my abilities. He urged me to give up my residence in Arkansas and to open a law office in New York. He said he would speak to a few of his influential friends in New York city about me.

"Well, I was delighted with the idea of opening a law office in New York, and now that Seymour had given me assurance that he would help me until I got started I felt that it was safe to make the venture.

"The governor was as good as his word, and he interested a few men in me so that I was able to secure a comfortable income until I was fairly launched in law practice. From a money point of view, I should have done better if I had stuck to my practice instead of accepting political office. I have been almost constantly in political office since I removed from Arkansas to New York. I might have had a political career if I had stayed in Arkansas."

APPRECIATION

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Appreciation is the Salt that savors the work and life of the World. Without Appreciation for what we do and without Appreciation for what is done for us, the merest task would become a burden and the Sunshine would go down out of the Hearts of People.

Express your Appreciation.

Appreciation is often withheld for fear of an advantage being taken of it. Nothing could be so foolish. Such a man takes advantage of himself. Appreciation acts like oil on the dry, worn parts of a machine. It starts everything to running smoothly. Continued Appreciation keeps things running smoothly. Also it saves wear.

Express your Appreciation.

People wash it away, render but half service, and finally drop back in the race simply through a lack of Appreciation. Appreciation is not only one of the most powerful Tonics on earth—it's an actual necessary Food, and without it no one partakes of a Balanced Diet.

Express your Appreciation.

If you are an Employer and one of your Helpers does good work, tell him so. And if you are a Helper and your Employer encourages you on, tell him so in thanks and increased service. Appreciation stirs and stimulates. It goes to a man's soul as an electric current to the sensitive nerve centers.

Express your Appreciation.

Appreciate the chance to Live. Appreciate your Health, your Home, your Father and Mother, your Friends, your Opportunity. Some of these you may not have. But appreciate what you do have—and greater gifts will hourly be added.

The World's Mysteries

WHAT BECAME OF HENDRIK HUDSON?

Of no one who has figured prominently in connection with the early history of this country is there so little known as there is regarding Hendrik Hudson. He was born—no one knows where and when. He died—no one knows when or how. Historians first present him standing on the quarter-deck of a small ship bound for the North Pole. They draw the veil over him at the moment that he took to the small boat in Hudson's bay with eight other sailors, all of whom were completely lost to the world.

Hudson was the discoverer of the mighty river and the bay that are named for him. He suddenly flashed before the republic, remained a prominent figure for four brief years, and then disappeared as if the sea had swallowed him up. No one knew his age at the time he made his discoveries. He may have been somewhere in England and some time in the sixteenth century. His father and grandfather are vaguely supposed to have been London merchants and interested in the Muscovy company.

Hudson first appeared in history on April 19, 1607. In that year, with his 16-year-old son, John, and ten mariners, he sailed from England as captain of the Muscovy Company's little sixty-ton ship Hopewell. His object was to discover the North Pole and to sail across it to China or India. He believed that he could reach the Orient through a sea passage somewhere in the frozen north. He was frustrated by the ice and returned home with this first voyage a disappointed man. He made a second attempt with the same result.

It was on April 4, 1609, that Hudson sailed from Amsterdam in the "Half-Moon" and entered Delaware Bay. Finding this bay was not the transcontinental strait he sought, he sailed northward along the coast and on September 3, 1609, reached lower New York Bay, landing at Coney Island. From there he proceeded to Manhattan Island and sailed up the river which now bears his name. He no doubt thought that this might be the long-sought "strait" for which he was searching. He went as far as the stream was navigable, and, heartsick at his disappointment, he turned again to Holland.

It was the report that Hudson made to the Dutch that decided them to settle New York. He called what we now know as Hudson river, the "River of the Mountains" on account of the high bluffs that reach up from each bank almost its entire distance.

But Hudson was not satisfied and in 1610 he again set sail for the new world in the hope of eventually finding the passage, for which he had worked so earnestly. He steered his course farther north, and sailed along the inlet until he came into the wide waters of what is now known as Hudson Bay. This bay, it is thought, he mistook for the Polar Sea, but after learning his mistake he continued to push onward in his insane search.

Finally his crew mutinied because the food supplies ran low, and they decided to return home. So, on June 25, 1611, Hudson, his son and seven of the most diseased of the seamen were set adrift in an open boat. This was the last that was ever heard of Hudson or any of his party. An expedition was sent out from England to search for them some time afterward, but no trace of the boat or its occupants could be found.

No one has ever been able to learn the fate of the miserable little boat-load. It is not known whether they perished in the waters of the bay which bears Hudson's name or whether they reached land and kept themselves alive by hunting and fishing. Perhaps they joined some friendly Indian tribe, or, more likely, were they killed by a savage and unfriendly one?

For many years rumors were plentiful. The quaintest of these stories is told in legend form by Washington Irving. Other unverified stories speak of a queer settlement of white men in the north country and of its gradual merging with native tribes.

It was reported that a document had been discovered among the papers of the Hudson Bay Company which is a confession of one of the mutineers, but this the company den'es. Though it is generally supposed that Hudson and his followers either died of starvation or were murdered, there is absolutely no proof or indication as to what befell the castaways after the "Discovery" left them to their fate in the open boat on Hudson's Bay.

Cerebrospinal Meningitis.

(The first of a series of bulletins by the state board of health, Dr. S. C. Benedict, president; Dr. F. H. Harris, secretary. Other bulletins of timely interest will appear in The Constitution from time to time.)

Cerebrospinal meningitis, spotted fever, or as it is more commonly called, simply meningitis, is one of the most terrible and fatal of all the diseases, the mortality running up to as high as 100 per cent in some local epidemics.

Although the cause of the disease has been known for a number of years, the exact method by which the germ that produces it spreads from man to man was until quite recently unrecognized, and even now it cannot be said that the whole matter has been demonstrated with scientific exactness; notwithstanding this—in view of the fact that the disease has recently existed to a considerable extent in Atlanta, and has appeared in a number of the smaller towns of Georgia—the state board of health deems it its duty to furnish to the people such information concerning the malady as may be thought to be of value in connection with it.

Character of the Disease.

Cerebrospinal meningitis is a disease which is produced by a minute vegetable organism known as the Micrococcus intracellularis. It is very fortunately a germ of low vitality, as it develops only at about blood heat, and when expelled from its normal dwelling place in the human body it dies very quickly. The germs get into the skull and spinal canal and produce violent inflammation of the coverings of the brain and cord. These membranes are called "meninges" hence the name "cerebrospinal meningitis." Within a short time after their entrance pus is produced and the condition becomes practically one of abscess around the brain and spinal cord.

Course of the Disease.

It is not within the province of this article to go into detail concerning the symptoms of this disease, space only permitting a brief statement of the principal manifestations that occur in those afflicted with the malady. In almost all cases the disease is preceded by a slight catarrhal condition of the nose and throat, the symptoms being those of an ordinary cold. The symptoms that point to the covering of the brain being attacked come on with great suddenness; there is usually a chill followed by intense headache, vomiting, restlessness, with great dread of noises and bright light; in many cases reddish spots appear beneath the skin, these being usually quite tender on pressure. In some cases the muscles of the neck become very stiff, and contract so that the head is drawn backward. The temperature is somewhat irregular, but is always above normal in the beginning, and sometimes goes very high; the pulse is, as a rule, normal, or but little accelerated. After the patient remains in the condition just described for from a few hours to several days he generally becomes unconscious, and in a comparatively short time dies. In some cases the symptoms, after starting off very violently, quickly subside, and the patient makes a comparatively rapid recovery. In other instances the disease begins more mildly, the patient having more or less of the usual symptoms, but not so severely as is ordinarily the case; in such cases the patient may die after lingering weeks or months; or may make a protracted recovery, with frequently partial paralytic conditions that permanently remain.

Prevention.

There is reason to believe that this germ first attacks the mucus membranes of the nose, and in many mercly causes the symptoms of an ordinary cold, and goes no further. However, in those with weak resisting powers to the disease the germs spread from the nose into the skull by the blood or by other means, and there set up an inflammation with the resulting symptoms described above. So it is seen that it is important during epidemics that persons with colds should be very careful not to allow other people to become infected from them. As cold and wet are undoubtedly predisposing causes to colds it is well for every one to shun such exposure during periods when meningitis is prevalent. Debilitating influences, such as alcoholic excess and lack of sleep, should also be avoided. Those exposed to the disease should be given three injections of the so-called meningo-bacterins; these bacterins are believed to create an artificial immunity against meningitis in very much the same way that vaccination protects a person against smallpox. In addition to this treatment those exposed should use several times a day an antiseptic mouth and nasal spray.

It is needless to say that those suffering from meningitis should be rigidly quarantined, and every precaution taken to prevent the spread of this dreadful disease.

Treatment.

Unfortunately we possess no sure cure for meningitis. It is believed, however, that the present method of treatment has very materially lessened the death rate. This treatment consists in the injection into the spinal canal of a serum which finds its way up the canal and into the skull and attacks directly the cause of the disease. Under this form of treatment it is claimed that the death rate has been lowered from 70 per cent to about 40 per cent. For the serum treatment to be of any value, however, it is highly important that it should be given early. In addition to this treatment it is often also necessary to keep the patient quiet with anodynes and to control other symptoms with remedial measures as they may be indicated.

The state board of health upon request, to its office at the capitol, will gladly furnish the anti-meningitis serum and the meningo-bacterins free of charge.

THUNDER

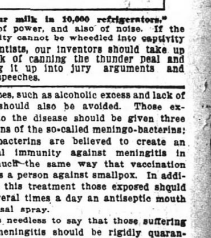

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

Thunder is Nature's favorite and greatest bluff.

It is the most tremendous and impressive of noises. A robust clap of thunder can be heard for twenty miles, and can sour the milk in ten thousand refrigerators. Few things inspire man with more awe than a peal of thunder, rolling majestically from cloud to cloud, and grumbling slowly out of hearing, like a titanic lion who has had a mass meeting for breakfast and isn't satisfied. Many times a year thunder fills the closets of this country with frightened women, but it has never hurt anyone. No one can be blamed for paying attention to a dog's bark, because in that case the noise precedes the danger, but it is foolish to flee from thunder. By the time an adult thunder clap has crashed into the conversation and has jarred the chandeliers, the lightning, of which it pretends to be a warning, has already messed up the vicinity and retired to parts unknown. Thunder is the great "I told you so" of the elements, and is as useful as a whistle on the rear end of a train.

Thunder is very impressive, like campaign oratory, and is the only thing which exceeds it in grandeur. Thunder is produced by vast quantities of air rushing into a vacuum, while campaign oratory is usually produced in exactly the opposite manner. There are many points of similarity between Nature's greatest noise and man's loudest remark, however. The man who can fill an auditorium with ponderous reverberating phrases, which do not mean anything, even when they can be heard four blocks, is usually more feared than the speaker who uses the swift, scathing simile in a quiet voice, and does not wilt one collar a week.

In order to make a single clap of thunder, it is necessary for Nature to employ several million cubic feet of enthusiasm, leaving a vacuum in the air. This is a great "Sour milk in 10,000 refrigerators," waste of power, and also of noise. If the electricity cannot be wheedled into captivity by scientists, our inventors should take up the task of calming the thunder peal and working it up into fury arguments and stump speeches.

ADDRESSES ARE HEARD BY SCHOOL OFFICIALS

Committees Named at Morning Session—Educational Association Meets Tonight.

Three sessions were held yesterday by the convention of county school officials of Georgia at Taft hall and the attendance was much larger than on Tuesday evening when the opening exercises took place. The feature of the day was the masterly address by United States Commissioner of Education Claxton on the need of public schools.

At Wednesday morning's session the first thing done was the appointment of special committees to consider the various matters which were to come up for discussion.

After the committees had been appointed several interesting and instructive talks were made.

"The School as a Community Center," was the subject of an address by T. E. Waldron, industrial agent of the Southern railroad, and the matter was discussed by Superintendent E. T. Sneed, of Carroll county, and Superintendent C. H. Cox, of Pickens county.

Superintendent J. O. Martin, of Newton county, spoke on "The Standard School," and the discussion was led by C. F. Barnett, of Morgan county, and Superintendent Henry Milam, of Bartow county.

"The County Board of Education" was the subject of a talk made by J. J. Nunally, of Walton county, and the discussion was led by Dr. W. W. Pilcher, of Warren county, and Superintendent J. O. O'Quinn, of Lowndes county.

Professor J. Phill Campbell made a talk on the Corn Club work, and the discussion of the subject was led by H. G. Hastings, of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, and Superintendent S. E. Jones, of Chatooga county.

The Afternoon Session.

At the afternoon session the following addresses were made:

"Adult Illiteracy," by Judge Frank Park, of Worth county; discussion led by Superintendent Walter R. Summer, of Worth county, and Superintendent J. W. McWhorter, of Oconee county.

An address was made by Hon. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Claxton spoke of the great need of more public schools throughout the country and of the national government lending its aid to the states.

The evening session was devoted to a discussion of the work that is being done in the state by the women's clubs, and the following addresses were made:

"The Woman's Club and the School Improvement Work," by Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, president of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs.

"The Woman's Work in Tift County," by Mrs. N. Peterson, chairman of the educational work committee of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Co-Operation Between the Women's Clubs and the County Educational Authorities," by Miss C. S. Parrish, state school supervisor.

There will be two sessions of the convention today, one at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and the other at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Especially interesting talks will be made on topics relating to school and school work.

The sessions of the Georgia county school officials will be immediately followed by the meeting of the Georgia Educational association, which holds its first session this evening at aft hall at 8 o'clock. The opening program of the association will be as follows:

Invocation—Rev. R. O. Flinn, North avenue Presbyterian church, Atlanta, Ga.

ANOTHER PLEA MADE FOR DR. M'NAUGHTON

A plea was made to the governor yesterday morning for the pardon of Dr. W. J. McNaughton, who is under sentence of death for the killing of Fred Flanders, at Swainsboro.

Judge Frank Safford, of Swainsboro, attorney for the condemned man, appeared before the governor Wednesday and stated that Mrs. Flanders, who is being held for the same crime, would not be tried until next fall and Dr. McNaughton is sentenced to be hanged in May. He claimed that the evidence had not been sufficient to convict Dr. McNaughton.

Dr. McNaughton has been respited already three times because of the postponement of the trial of his alleged accomplice, Mrs. Flanders.

Governor Brown took the matter under advisement.

$196,002 IN DAMAGES ASKED BY T. E. PURCELL

A suit for $196,002.16 against the Texas company, a corporation under the laws of the Lone Star state, filed a few weeks ago in the Fulton superior court by T. E. Purcell, of Atlanta, manager of a garage, was yesterday transferred to the federal district court to await trial. The plaintiff's papers show that the Texas company had engaged in selling gasoline, oil and similar products and the plaintiff, proprietor of Purcell's garage, entered into a contract with the defendant on March 23, 1912, in which the Texas company agreed to deliver to the plaintiff 50,000 barrels of motor gasoline in quantities of fifty (50) barrels each as it was requested. It is declared that only 49,973 gallons of such gasoline has been delivered by the defendant, leaving the balance due under the contract of 2,450,027 gallons.

Though the Texas company had been notified, says the petition, to deliver more gasoline under the contract, it has failed to do so. The petition shows that the price of the contracted gasoline has increased eight cents a gallon and after asserting the willingness, readiness and ability of the plaintiff to comply with its part of the contract it asks for a verdict against the Texas company in the sum indicated.

Rubo Arnold and Hill & Wright appear as counsel for the Atlanta plaintiff, while Slaton & Phillips are looking after the interests of the Texas company.

RECEPTION IS GIVEN AT CRITTENTON HOME

At the Florence Crittenton home the lady board of managers yesterday tendered a reception to delegates to Sociological congress remaining in the city, to the city council and county commissioners and other friends.

The delightful refreshments were prepared at the home. Hot rolls and butter, such as were described by Mrs. Barrett in her recent address on the home, met the expectations raised by her enthusiasm. The cake and ice cream made there, also gave evidence of the value of the training given the inmates.

The prize was offered by Wilmer L. Moore, president of the chamber of commerce, and Dr. Claude H. Smith, city bacteriologist. It is believed that the contest will create much interest in a very vital subject, and may result in the war on flies being carried on more vigorously this summer.

LONG FIGHT PREDICTED IN CAR MURDER TRIAL

Augusta, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The first intimation that there will be a long drawn-out fight in the trial of the street car murder cases came today when Judge Hammond announced from the bench the postponement of the case against W. E. (Buddie) Kennedy from today until some day next week. He explained that a murder case has been set on the docket for next Monday which has a prior right to trial, and if the Kennedy case should be entered into this week it probably would extend over into next week and disrupt those other arrangements. This will mean that the case will not be tried before Wednesday.

The case against Marshal Shedd for the murder of Edward Collins is set for Monday, and it is expected that the jury will be secured in less than a day, while the trial of the case will consume two days.

FOR FALSE ARREST THOS. LYERLA HOPES TO PUNISH RELATIVE

Cartersville, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Thomas Lyerla, arrested in Calhoun by Sheriff Smith, of Bartow county, as the suspected perpetrator of a murder three years ago in Pumdac, Ill., was released immediately upon his arrival in Cartersville. He proved himself not the man wanted.

Lyerla is well known in Bartow county, and he and his friends are loud in expressions of indignation at what they term a false and unjust arrest.

Lyerla was arrested at the instance of Bob Jones, a citizen of Cartersville, and a relative by marriage of the alleged suspect. There seems to have been bad feeling between Jones and the erstwhile prisoner, which is said to be responsible, with the large reward offered, for Lyerla's arrest. Lyerla is said to have declared his intentions of making it hot for those who caused his arrest as well as officers who brought him to Cartersville.

Lyerla has lived in this part of the state for eight years, which fact proved him clear of the Illinois murder charge. The Pontac officer who was here today prompt'y declared that the wrong man had been taken. Lyerla declares he will bring action against those who caused his arrest and humiliation, and sensational developments are to be expected.

COLUMBUS WATERWORKS SYSTEM IS IMPROVED

Columbus, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Substantial improvements are being made in the Columbus waterworks system at a cost said to be well up in six figures.

The new owners, Birmingham people, who formed a new corporation, the Columbus Water Supply company, are now laying much larger pipe on various streets and avenues, and plan to replace the greater part of the present distributing system with larger and more adequate pipe. Just now 16-inch pipe is replacing 6-inch pipe on Fourth avenue and 12-inch pipe is being laid on Eleventh street, an important thoroughfare which heretofore has had no pipe line of its own, but has been supplied from the avenue pipes. In the southern section of the city a number of dead ends will be done away with, all pipes being connected and this will substantially increase the water pressure.

A settling basin and reservoir will be created north of Bibb City, near the Chattahoochee river, and a 24-inch pipe will be laid to the reservoir. At present three 12-inch pipes are used to bring water to the city. Creek water and river water are both used.

ECZEMA COVERED WHOLE SIDE OF FACE

Blisters Broke. Would Inflame, Itch and Burn. Terrible Sores. Had to Keep Hands Pinned in Towel. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Face Entirely Well.

West Point, Miss.—"When my little boy was three months old a little blister came on his face on the right side. When the blisters broke they would inflame and itch and burn until he scratched it so bad that he made terrible sores and I had to keep his hands pinned down in a towel so he could not raise them at all. Each day it became worse. He had a terrible case of eczema and had not been able to sleep at all he suffered so much.

"We tried two treatments and both failed to cure it. By this time it had covered the whole side of his face, causing disfigurement and had eaten out the whole side so deep I could lay a pencil in it. I saw Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised so highly we began the treatment and it began to get well right straight and stopped spreading. I used the Cuticura Soap to bathe him once a day and the Cuticura Ointment about three times a day. In about one month his little face was entirely well and he has not been troubled any more with it." (Signed) Mrs. Spence Murphy, Mar. 10, 1912.

Ison-Butler.

The wedding of Miss Annie Mae Ison and Mr. James Doyle Butler was a pretty event of yesterday, taking place at high noon at the Jackson Hill Baptist church.

The church was artistically decorated with palms and ferns.

High School Alumnae Rally To Social and Civic Needs

To discuss a plan of study or other activity which would secure the common interest and co-operation of the Alumnae association, Girls' High school, for a large part of each year, was the purpose of an informal gathering of class chairmen yesterday with Mrs. Hartwell Spain, president of the association.

Thirty of the Alumnae, including chairmen and a few other members, were present, and a scheme proposed by Miss Jessie Muse received a hearty indorsement, every member of the little company expressing themselves in favor of it. A practical course of study in sociology, to be forwarded through monthly meetings, beginning in the fall and culminating in the spring, with a course of lectures probably by Dr. Edward Howard Greggs, was the program suggested.

The many hundred women composing the Alumnae, it is understood, whether they are married or single, whether they are women of business or leisure, are most actively interested in some one or more of the city's numerous humanaitarian movements.

A course of study then, which would consider social conditions and needs from a scientific and practical standpoint, it was shown, would be a universal basis of appeal to the interest of the members. It would be of both cultural and practical value in itself, and would hold out a good line of suggestions to many women who seeks some leisure direction for their mental activity that would be of abstract cultural interest, and point at the same time their desire to take some part in the welfare of the world.

This kind of study, exceedingly beneficial in itself, was taken by the meeting to promise an ideal means also of bringing the Alumnae more closely and more frequently together, and to give them through personal contract a keener appreciation of the association's other lines of work, hitherto handled actively by only a limited number of the membership.

This plan, it was proposed, should be given over to the executive board for consideration at its next meeting, the details to be worked out by a committee and formally submitted, and as the gathering yesterday was one well representative of the Alumnae body, it is quite probable that their plan will be favorably acted upon.

WAR IS BEING URGED ON PEACE DELEGATION

British Delegate to Celebration Attacked by Irish, Labor Unions and Women.

London, April 30.—The British delegation now on its way to the United States for the celebration of the Anglo American peace centenary may encounter some hostile demonstrations. Certain leaders of the extreme Irish and labor movements are advising their American friends to express opposition to the British mission. Suffragette leaders are appealing to American women to denounce any friendly dealings between the two countries until England gives the vote to women.

Opponents of the peace mission predict that its public appearance will provoke outbreaks such as occurred at the peace meeting at Carnegie hall in December, 1911, in support of the ratification of the arbitration treaties pending between the United States, Great Britain and France.

Because Lord Weardale and other members of the delegation are connected with the Carnegie Peace foundation the laborites call it "the Carnegie mission."

English labor unions will hold meetings, as is their custom, in Hyde Park tomorrow.

Representatives of the German unions will parade with them for the first time and both English and German speakers intend to denounce "the Carnegie mission." Their ground is that the mission is designed to foster an Anglo-American alliance and alienate American sympathies from Germany, whereas, they argue, workers of all nationalities should stand together for their own interests.

Benjamin Tillett, secretary of the dock, wharf, riverside and general workers' union of Great Britain and Ireland, will send a cablegram to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, asking him to oppose the British delegation.

"General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, one of the leaders of the militant suffragettes, who was arrested today, succeeded tonight in smuggling out of the jail to a friend a message for the American suffragettes. This message, which later was cabled to the Women's Suffrage union of New York, was as follows:

"Carnegie's so-called peace delegates are nearing our shores. None of them has raised a voice against the torture of women in English prisons. The tory members of parliament, among them won their seats on a sink-the-German-navy policy. They have all voted against home rule. Suffragettes, Irishmen and Germans organize a national boycott against these war provokers."

Miss Scott-Troy, the San Francisco suffragette, sent a cablegram to Senator O'Gorman at Washington saying:

"If the senate will investigate Carnegie's peace fund they may find an olive branch wrapped around a sword. We hope that the senate will not attend these functions given in honor of the peace delegates who dictate to Americans that they must rewrite their history to save English feelings and sully the fair name of George Washington."

DURAN SENT T OGANG FOR PUBLIC INDECENCY

Lawrenceville, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Albert Duran, charged with public indecency, was convicted in the city court of Buford and sentenced to twelve months in the chaingang by Judge I. L. Oakes.

A few weeks ago two little girls, ages 11 and 13 years, were returning home from school and overtook Duran in a wagon, and he asked them to ride with him. When about half a mile out from Buford, on a lonely part of the road, the children testified that Duran made improper radvances and indecent actions toward them, and they jumped from the wagon and ran. They reported the matter to their father, who went in search of Duran, armed with a heavy stick, and at once began flogging him, but the mules ran away and Duran escaped. He was later arrested and bound over to the city court.

Duran is a middle-aged man with a family.

"BILLY THE KID" WILL CLOSE LYRIC SEASON

The engagement of "Billy, the Kid" this week at the Lyric is drawing splendid audiences to the popular Carnegie Way theater. The bill is one that appeals to all classes of theatergoers, as in addition to its intensely dramatic scenes, the story is logically told and the company has been well selected.

The announcement is made that "Billy, the Kid" will be the last regular theatrical offering of the season at the Lyric and it is quite likely that a stock company will follow shortly, presenting a series of high-class and popular plays. Matinees will be given this week on Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

APRIL, THIRD DRYEST MONTH IN 34 YEARS

April came to a close as the third dryest month in the 34 years' record of the weather bureau in Atlanta, and was also remarkable for the cool days of the last week. On Wednesday the temperature had returned to normal and the mercury climbed up to 76 degrees.

For the entire month the rainfall amounted to only .84 inche, while last year April had 6.65 inches, and the normal for this month of showers is over 5 inches.

The forecast for today is fair weather with no particulr change in temperature. The same forecast applies in general to the entire state.

G. A. R. NOT WANTED AT "BATTLE ABBEY"

Ladysmith, Wis., April 30.—Peter Flurl, a wealthy farmer, placing a stick of dynamite on the ground, lighted the fuse and lay on the charge. He was blown to pieces. An alleged quarrel with his wife was given as the reason for the suicide.

ALLEGED KIDNAPER ACCUSED OF MURDER

Walters, Held for Stealing Dunbar Child Once Under Charges at Brunswick, Ga.

New Orleans, April 30.—Fear that W. C. Walters, alleged kidnaper of the Dunbar child, has "made away" with her child, Bruce was expressed here today by Julia Anderson, a North Carolina woman, who was brought to Louisiana to see if she could identify as hers, the child which Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Dunbar, of Opelousas, have claimed as their kidnaped son, Robert.

Julia Anderson said one of the photographs of the child, taken from Walters, looked like her boy, Bruce, but she was inclined to believe the boy is not her's.

She will take a look at the boy at Opelousas, and if she fails to identify him as Bruce, it is very probable that Governor Brewer, of Mississippi, will grant the requisition for Walters, who is still confined in the Columbia, Miss., jail.

"I am afraid Cantwell Walters has made away with my boy, and that he took the other boy because he did not want to face me without Bruce. There is not anything much that Cantwell would not do."

She said Walters was once charged with murder at Brunswick, Ga., and that he had been a tinker and tramp for years.

HARVESTER STRIKERS VOTE TO ACCEPT TERMS

Auburn, N. Y., April 30.—The 650 employes of the International Harvester companies' twine mills, who went on a strike on March 21 in sympathy with the strikers at the Columbian Rope company mills, late today voted almost unanimously to accept the terms offered by the company for a settlement. Work in the twine mills will be resumed Monday.

Edwin P. Chapman, personal representative of Governor Sulzer, today addressed a mass meeting of the strikers. He told them he had been authorized by the International Harvester company to assure them that the twine mills would be reopened, the machinery that had been packed for shipment to Germany would be brought back, and that all those who left the employ of the company would be given their old places without discrimination.

The terms of the agreement among other things provide for a 54-hour week, minimum wage of $8 per week for females and $9.72 for males, and all night work to be discontinued for this season; the company to provide work for night workers who cannot be placed on the day shift, by making not for them in other branches of the plant.

The indictment alleges that Johnson brought Belle Schreiber from Pittsburg to Chicago, October 18, 1910, "for immoral purposes," and in "perpetration of a serious crime." WHIFFS

A Severe Blow.

HARRY BAILEY'S absence from the line-up of the Crackers is a severe blow. When any team is deprived of the services of its best run-getter, its clean-up hitter and the second highest batsman in the Southern league, it is hurt mortally. It is to be hoped that Bailey will get into harness shortly. Manager Smith feels Bailey's loss keenly.

Stealing Their Fire.

THE VOLS are stealing Comiskey's fire. For years the White Sox were known as the hitless wonders. But the Vols have got that sobriquet these days. Any team that can win three games from another team by making three hits in two of the games and five in the third is certainly getting the break. Outhit in every game but one of the seven the Vols and the Crackers have played, the Schwartzmen have five victories to their credit.

Would Bat .500.

CLAYTON PERRY, the Nashville third baseman, would bat .500 if he played at Ponce de Leon all season. Every time Clayton comes to the local lot he hits like a demon. He'll go along for weeks getting his average number of bingles and when his team comes to Ponce de Leon he hits like a Wagner or a Cobb. Perry's big stick had as much to do with the rooting of the Crackers as any one thing.

A Great Pitcher.

GEORGE BECK, the little sign-hander of the Nashville Vols, is one of the best pitchers that has been turned loose against the Crackers in many a day. His work Tuesday was suberb. In him Schwartz has the best looking right-hander that has appeared here this year. He works coolly, has a nice change of pace and a baffling drop. When you are figuring on the leading pitcher of the Southern league this season, Beck is a formidable candidate.

Tough Luck.

MOLESWORTH is having his troubles. Ray Boyd, one of his winning hurlers last season, and a formidable boxman for any club to beat, may have to be given his outright release. Boyd has a knot in his pitching arm that will not answer to treatment, and it may be several weeks before he can hurl a ball. On top of this, Bob Messenger has been called home for several days by a death in his family. Other teams besides the Crackers are having a run of bad luck.

Pretty Lucky.

JOHNNY DUNDEE can thank his stars that Referee Eyton had one of his off nights, such as referees and all other human beings have every now and then. How Eyton could give Dundee a draw with Kilbane after one reads the fight, round by round, is beyond us. A rally in the final round does not give a man a draw in our opinion, when the editor was so marked in the other man's favor in the rest of the battle. It was just "a drowning man and a straw" affair. You cannot sanely figure it any other way.

After the Bag.

NASHVILLE will not be satisfied with a first division berth this season. Word comes from Nashville that President Hirsig is going to loosen up his purse strings. "It's about time for Nashville to win another pennant, and Manager Schwartz and I are determined to turn the trick, if possible," is the way he puts it. The Vols have a formidable team as it now stands. With a few changes that at a glance are needed, they will require a lot of beating before they are licked.

Turn on the Searchlight.

MIKE DONLIN, the ball player-Thespian, or the Thespian-ball player, whichever you like best, may cause the searchlight of the congressional probe on the baseball trust to be turned on fully. Mike claims that he is being harshly treated by the Philadelphia Nationals. The Phillies sold him to Minneapolis. The Millers wanted him to play for $1,500 less than Philadelphia paid him. This deal was made after the Phillies had blocked his efforts to buy a half interest in a Pacific Coast league club and manage it. Looks like Mike really got the worst of this deal.

Eleven Crackers Hit Air; Bill Foxen in Fine Form; Barons Get Six in Fourth

By Hugh W. Roberts.

Birmingham, Ala., April 30.—(Special.)—While the Barons as a bunch outpointed the Crackers as a bunch in the opening game of the series this afternoon, Billy Smith quite properly attributes his defeat to the excellence of William Foxen. The flingins of the former Cracker, incidentally, was not the sole feature of the game, for the scrimmage developed some exceptionally clever fielding and base running. The score was 8 to 2.

The Atlanta twirler, Musser, pitched a fine game if the reader will eliminate from consideration one inning, the fourth. In that round the Barons latched on to his benders so fearfully that even local fans with difficulty restrained their tears.

The inning not only brought forth timely hitting, but thrilling base running, with the general result that the entire Cracker team was swept off its feet.

The Big Round.

McBride opened the round with a screaming single to left. McGilvray, with the hit-and-run sign out, smashed the first pitched ball to right, McBride going to third. McGilvray figured that he had time enough to slip down to second. He did slip and arrived by a splendid slide.

Then in psychological moment, otherwise known as the pinch, drove the ball screaming to center, on which McBride and McGilvray counted. Ellam flashed the hit-and-run and rolled the pill to short, from which position Williams had just run to second for the purpose of pulling Carroll stealing. On the hit Carroll loped to third.

The fans in the meanwhile were crying with delight, and the Crackers seemed to be high in the ozone. But Musser apparently settled down, for he fanned Mayer, regarded as a hard and timely wather, and made the fatal mistake of passing Foxen, which filled the bags. Marcan hit to Williams and Carroll was forced at the plate, and the ball sent away. Foxen counting and runners moved up to third and second.

Bodus then cracked one to deep center and Marcan and Herndon counted. McBride was at bat for the second time in the inning when the frolicsome Bodus went out to swipe the Keystone.

Foxen's Lone Pass.

The only walk given by Foxen resulted in the first Cracker run. Long drew the pass and went to second when Umpire Wright ruled that one of the Baron pitcher's quick throws to first was a balk. Williams and Graham made easy outs, but Dunn, who alone of all his teammates, could hit the flossy Foxen, smashed safely to center, Long scoring.

The second Cracker run came in the ninth. Smith, who previously had been as helpless as a babe, singled to right and Long clipped one safely to center. Both moved up on a passed ball and the first named scored when Ellam, after a fine backhand run into left, captured the short fly of Williams.

Foxen's work was the feature of the game. He had excellent control and fanned eleven men. Two of the Cracker hits were veritable scratches. In the second Alpermann made a spectacular catch of a drive by McGilvray, which prevented a Baron run.

Ellam also had a great afternoon in the field.

New Orleans, April 30.—Swindell was batted for three runs in the first inning of today's game and Memphis added three more off "Dummy" Taylor in the succeeding rounds to win from New Orleans 6 to 5. Newton's support was largely responsible for his success. Butler played brilliantly at shortstop. Abstein got a three-base, two-base and one-base hit in four times at bat, and stole a base. Shanley beat out a hit to short in the first inning. He stole second and after Barwald had been retired, Scheerer to Walker and Ward's single scored Shanley. Ward was thrown out at second. Abstein's double and Love's single netted two more runs. Taylor was hit hard in the second and Knaupp's error was costly. Abstein scored the only one to be the winning run in the third on his double and an infield out. Hendryx's great catch of Shanley's fly in the fourth was a feature.

Empire State League Opens First Annual Season Today

The Empire State league organized at Waycross last November and composed of Waycross, Valdosta, Brunswick, Cordele, Thomasville and Americus, will open its first annual season today.

The open series of games is as follows:

Waycross in Brunswick.
Americus in Cordele.
Thomasville in Valdosta.

Advance dope from the six cities reports great enthusiasm and there will be record-breaking crowds in the three cities where games are scheduled. Clear, warm weather is promised for the opening.

Great interest centers in the race for the attendance trophy of the league. No effort will be spared by the cities of the six cities to land the trophy for their team.

The three visiting cities in today's opening will be the home towns May 3. The season will close August 12.

The schedule is so arranged that every city will have a game on Fourth of July, the operation of some special trains making it possible for the teams to play in one city in the morning and another in the afternoon.

Efficient Umpires.

An efficient corps of indicator-handlers have been signed and they will be backed by the league officials in seeing that no rowdyism results on the field.

Lamar Ham, Robert Carter and M. J. McLaughlin are the three umpires who will handle the games.

A brief sketch of the six managers is as follows:

Whitey Morse, formerly with Atlanta, more recently of the South Atlantic league, is manager for Valdosta.

Eddie Reagan, former New Orleans player, is manager for Cordele.

Dudley, who caught for Augusta's Sally league team, is in charge of Thomasville's team.

Harry Webber is with Americus.

Bert Kite, formerly of the Carolina association, is at the head of the Brunswick team.

Charles M. Wahoo, the well-known graduate of Carlisle and assistant coach for the University of Georgia, is manager of Waycross.

LEAGUE'S BEST RECEIVER

The Crackers' first string catcher, whose work this year has brought joy to the hearts of Atlanta fandom. Fat was always considered a good catcher when in form. He rounded into shape early this year, and seems destined to lead the league's catchers. He has yet to make his first error behind the plate. He is nipping would-be base-stealers galore, and is hitting well over the .300 mark. Fat is going to give someone a tussle for the title, "The League's Best Catcher."

New Infielder Will Play in Left Against Barons Today. Jack Kernan Gets Outright Release.

Birmingham, Ala., April 30.—(Special.)—Infielder Bisland, recently purchased by Manager Billy Smith from Pittsburg, joined the Atlanta team here tonight, and will get in the game against Birmingham Thursday afternoon.

Bisland says he is in great shape and glad to play for the man who comes from his home town, with whom he played last season.

With the arrival of Bisland, Jack Kernan, the Chicago youngster, was given his unconditional release and sent back to Atlanta. This cuts the Atlanta club down to fourteen men; Harry Bailey, who is injured, being left in Atlanta.

John Morris Hurls No-Hit Game Against Vanderbilt; Georgia Claims the Title

By Clark Howell, Jr.

Athens, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—As a result of an 8 to 0 victory from Valderbilt Commodores this afternoon and as much as an even break with Tennessee and Tech the University of Georgia stands as the undisputed champions of the S. I. A. A.

The credit of the victory goes to big John Morris, who twirled the ablest ball of his college career, letting the heavy hitting visitors down without a hit. Morris pitched masterful ball all through the contest.

There was only one rap which could possibly come under the category of hits. This was from the bat of Morrison in the fourth period and was a short pop over short, which Clements scarcely succeeded in touching. Although the hit was of the Texas leaguer variety, this was scored as an error.

Georgia Hit Hard.

It was the clouting of the local aggregation, however, which sent the Vandy team back to Dudley field to tell of the wonderful bunch of ball players Alex Cunningham has rounded up in Athens to defeat his alma mater. Covington, Georgia's crack third-sacker, was out of the game on account of pending action concerning his eligibility, but Holden, captain of the scrubs, filled his shoes in nice style, preventing a score in the second round by cleverly handling a hard hit ball to his station.

The fireworks started in the initial round and before the second inning had started every man on the team had appeared at the bat, four had hit safely, five had tallied and the game was pleed on ice from the very first. Luck twirled steady ball for the visitors after his first ascension and succeeded in striking out eight of the locals.

The division of the Commodores put outs in unusual, the catcher and first baseman getting all but three. Left Fielder Turner pulled a pretty catch in the fourth, robbing Clements of an extra base hit.

Georgia Stars.

Ginn got two doubles, Bowden three hits out of four trials and Clements three stolen bases for the Red and Black.

Davidson was compelled to retire from the game on account of an injured side in the fifth inning. Only one putout was recorded to the Georgia outer gardeners. The amicable relation between the two teams was maintained at all times and the games of today and yesterday were free from all unpleasantness.

The Tennessee played good, clean ball, but were clearly outclassed by the local talent, the Georgians exhibiting the best article of ball they have shown this season in every department of play.

An error by Viox, a walk to Konetchy and singles by Mowrey, Cathers and Steary in the third threw more in the third. O'Toole relieved Robinson in the fourth and pitched fine ball, only one run being made off him. Perry pitched the ninth and allowed another run. Miller's single and out and Butler's single gave Pittsburg its only run in the ninth. It was stated today that Hans Wagner may be able to play in Boston next Tuesday.

Brooklyn, April 30.—Brooklyn came from behind with a rally in the seventh and made it two out of three games in the series with New York. The score was 6 to 5. New York leading by 3 to 1 to the seventh, when with two out and men on first and second and two strikes on Cutshaw, the latter banged a long double to center, sending home the tieing runs. Hits by Stengel, Wheat and Daubert sent two more runs across.

Doak, Rucker and Ames gave way to pinch hitters. A fine line catch by Wheat, Stengel's batting and the fielding of the pitchers were features. Manager McGraw was banished from the field in the ninth for protesting strike decisions.

Chicago, April 30.—The Cincinnati "Reds," with the return of their regular playing paraphernalia, gave the local Nationals a close call in the second game of the series today, but lost 3 to 4.

Suggs and Pierce were opposed to each other in what proved to be a pitchers' battle, but with the luck of the game in favor of the Chicago flinger. The locals were credited with two homers on drives which were misjudged. Had these been played correctly the outcome might have been different. Both pitchers were given sensational support in the field.

Naps Drop Two.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 30.—Catcher Pete Shields, former captain of the University of Mississippi Baseball team, was released to the Portland, Oreg., club by the Cleveland American league club today, and Outfielder Charley Betts was released to the Beaumont club, of the Texas league.

MORE DECORATIONS FOR BAN'S UMPIRES

Chicago, April 30.—In addition to white uniforms which it has been announced umpires in the American league are to wear on special occasions, such as the presence of the president of the United States at a game, President B. B. Johnson said today that he had planned further decorations for his arbiters.

The latest decorative effect will serve a double purpose, of ornament and showing spectators how long the umpires have been in the service of the league.

One rule laid on the sleeve will mean that he has been in service for one year; two braids two years and so on until five years are reached, when a gold star will replace the five braids. Braids will be added to the star until ten years are reached, when two stars will be the insignia.

Tom Connolly will be entitled to wear two stars and two braids, indicating that he has been an umpire since 1901, a year after the league was organized.

Bernhard Cans Four.

Memphis, Tenn., April 30.—Manager Bernhard, of the Memphis, Southern League club, announced tonight that as part of his "weeding out" process, Pitcher Snelberg had been released unconditionally; Otto Jordan, infielder, had been returned to the Chattanooga club from which he was borrowed; Catcher Haigh has been suspended pending the consummation of a deal for his release to a league of lesser standing and, for the time being, Moulton, who was injured recently, will remain on the retired list.

Boxing in Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., April 30.—The assembly today indorsed the Heddin boxing bill, which allows ten rounds no decision bouts. A canvass of the senate indicates that the measure will pass that body.

REMATCH DUNDEE WITH JOHN KILBANE

Los Angeles, April 30.—Negotiations were begun today for a return match between Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, and Johnny Dundee, who fought a twenty-round draw with him at Vernon last night. The contest last night was unsatisfactory in every way, according to the newspaper comment today. Although Kilbane forced on points, the draw decision was commended on the ground that Dundee was the aggressor and coming in at all times, albeit usually covered up.

Tom McCarey and "Scotty" Monteith, manager of Dundee, expressed the hope of getting on the return match in two or three months, preferably July 4.

It was the concensus of opinion among fight frequenters today that neither boy would make good against a lightweight—the often expressed ambition of each. Kilbane did not seem to have a knockout punch last night and Dundee, with his peculiar habit of leaping as he launched a blow, also lacked steam.

WOLGAST MANAGES BOY WHO FLOORED HIM

San Francisco, April 30.—Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion of the world, has announced himself as manager for Willie Hoppe, a local boxer who knocked Wolgast down during the latter's last training season as a champion.

OTTO JORDAN GIVEN OUTRIGHT RELEASE

Is in Atlanta—May Manage Clarksdale, Miss., Team. Is Looking for Berth.

Otto Jordan, ex-Cracker second baseman, captain and manager, is in Atlanta today. He arrived from Chattanooga last night.

Jordan was sent to Memphis by Chattanooga, then turned back to the Lookouts by the Turtles. Elberfeld gave Jordan his unconditional release, out of courtesy to the veteran, who asked for it.

Jordan is undecided what he will do. Clarksdale, Miss., in the Cotton States league, is after him to manage their ball club, and he has submitted his proposition. He expects to hear from them this morning.

Otto also has a line out for a berth with a Southern league club. He would not announce just which club it is.

Otto will close the deal with Clarksdale or this Southern league club today. You can draw your own conclusions as to what Southern league club it is, and if he lands, Otto will prove to the skeptical that he is far from all in.

BURGLARS BLUFFED BY A SILVER PENCIL

New Haven, Conn., April 30.—Henry Wedland and Alexander Drummond, young men of Brooklyn, N. Y., captured last night by R. L. Davison, of Dayton, Ohio, a Yale senior, at the point of a silver pencil while ransacking his room in Vanderbilt hall on the Yale campus, were in the city court today charged with burglary. In the dim light of the room the burglars thought the pencil leveled at them by Davidson as he entered was a pistol. At police headquarters, in addition to watches and a quantity of jewelry taken from the prisoners, Wedland was relieved of a loaded revolver.

The cases were continued until Saturday to give time for further inquiry by the police, who say they have evidence tending to indicate that the men have operated at Harvard and Brown universities.

Philadelphia, April 30.—A pitching duel between Johnson and Plank here this afternoon resulted in a victory for Washington over Philadelphia, by 2 to 0. Both of the visitor's runs were made in the ninth inning, when, with one out, Milan on second and Gandil on first, a double steal was tried on the ball on which Morgan fanned; Lapp threw to catch Gandill at second, but neither Collins nor Barry covered the bag. When the ball went to the outfield, Milan scored and Gandil reached third. The latter scored on Ainsmith's single. Plank fanned twelve batsmen to ten by Johnson, and each gave only one base on balls.

New York, April 30.—The Bostons showed real world's championship from today, and defeated the New Yorks 8 to 1. They batted Schulz, the first New York pitcher, for fourteen hits and scored almost at will. Hoff held the visitors in the last two innings. Bedient pitched a fine game for Boston, and received great support until the ninth inning, when wild throws by Speaker and Engle prevented the box man from scoring a shutout.

St. Louis, April 30.—St. Louis won from Cleveland today, 2 to 0. Pitcher Gregg was unsteady in the early innings, but always pulled out without being scored on. St. Louis won the game in the eighth. J. Johnston singled to left. Williams sacrificed and was safe when Olson fumbled the ball. Both runners advanced on Pratt's sacrifice and scored on Stovall's single to center.

White Sox 8, Tigers 3.

Detroit, Mich., April 30.—Chicago today gave Dubuc one of the worst beatings of his American league career, and defeated Detroit 8 to 3. Consistent hard hitting, coupled with loose fielding and battery errors, enabled the visitors to win with ease. Cicotte was also pounded hard, but his split ball seldom failed him in tight places, and he kept Detroit's hits well scattered.

Weaver's wonderful fielding helped to cut down Detroit's run-getting. In the sixth he robbed Crawford of what appeared to be a clean single by a thrilling stop near second base, and quick throw to first.

Why a Poet Quit Politics.

(From the London Mail.)

Explaining why he gave up politics, W. B. Yeates, in a lecture in Dublin, said: "I saw that when you try to speak high and sincere things and at the same time carry on a political life, sooner or later you give up the sincere and high things and speak expedient things."

COBB'S CASE GOES OVER UNTIL THURSDAY

Chicago, April 30.—Members of the National Baseball commission who were in session heretoday were unable to reach Tyrus Cobb's application for reinstatement and several other important matters that were to have been considered. Routine business was taken up and the commission adjourned until tomorrow.

It was intimated that Cobb would be reinstated and that his fine, if any penalty at all were inflicted, would be light.

AUTO IS HERE TO STAY, SAYS SECRETARY LANE

Washington, April 30.—Secretary Lane today rescinded an order barring automobiles from the Yosemite National park.

"This form of transportation has come to stay," said the secretary in a statement explaining his action, "and to close the park against automobiles would be as absurd as the fight for many years made by old naval men against the adoption of steam in the navy. Before we know it they will be dropping into the Yosemite by airship.

"Some say the automobile is less picturesque than the stage coach," he added. "I think that depends entirely upon the imagination and the association of the stage coach with romance. After a time we will come to associate the automobile with it. For further justification of this view, see Kipling's poem, 'Romance Is Dead, the Cave Man Said.' I want to make our parks as accessible as possible to the great mass of the people."

An entrance fee to be charged automobilists will be added to the fund for maintenance of the park roads.

HAWTHORNE'S PARTNER MUST GIVE $150,000 BAIL

New York, April 30.—The United States circuit court of appeals today granted the application for release under $150,000 bail of Albert W. Freeman, who was convicted on March 11 last, with Julian Hawthorne and Dr. William J. Morton, of using the mails to defraud investors in mining stock. Freeman was sentenced to a five-year term in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, but was granted a stay pending an appeal and since has been confined in the Tombs.

In the prison Freeman has presided over meetings of the directors of a mining company of which he is the head, who called at the prison as visitors, and in his application for release on bail his attorney urged that the affairs of this company and the Hawthorne Mining companies needed his personal attention.

The offense for which Freeman was convicted is not extraditable, and in granting his application for bail the court imposed strict conditions that he should not leave the jurisdiction of the federal court for the southern district of New York.

These restrictions will prevent Freeman from visiting his home at Ramsey, N. J.

Professor W. D. Pence, chief engineer of the Wisconsin railroad and tax commissions.

J. S. Worley, of Kansas City, Mo., a consulting engineer.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

Twenty-five residence lots in the Peachtree Heights subdivision of the E. Rivers Realty company were sold at auction yesterday afternoon.

The property brought from $11 to $35 a front foot, the prices being considered extremely low by practically every one present. Half a dozen purchasers at auction were offered profits of $100 or more while the sale was still in progress. It was generally predicted that every man who bought a lot at this sale would make a splendid profit on it.

The day was a beautiful one and the sale attracted a large crowd. There were some forty or fifty automobiles at the auction, besides large numbers of people who came on the street cars.

The twenty-five lots sold brought an aggregate of $43,365.70.

The auction was conducted by Steve R. Johnston, the well-known auctioneer, who kept everybody in good humor.

The Peachtree Heights subdivision is the only one on the right hand side of Peachtree road between the city limits and Buckhead, which has city water, sewers and other improvements. There have already been some twenty homes built here and many others are projected to be built within the next few months.

The sale began in block 2, lot 15, facing Parkside drive and the park. This lot, with a frontage of 68 feet and 316 feet deep, sold for $26 a front foot, or a total of $1,768. It was bought by H. J. Fear.

Lot 16, in block 2, also 68 feet front by 316 deep, went to S. A. Pegram at the same price per front foot.

Lot 16A, in block 2, 67x316, was bought by J. M. Chapman at $25 a foot, total $1,675.

Lot 17, in block 2, was sold to Mrs. Mathilda Regenstein for 22.50 per foot, a total of $1,507.50. Its size is 67x316.

In block 1, lot 5, facing Peachtree way and immediately back of the Peachtree frontage, 82 feet front by 350 deep, went to W. H. Adkins at $35 per front foot or total of $2,870.

WILSON IS PREPARED FOR STUMPING TOUR

President Will Spend Two Days in New Jersey—Many Nominations Expected Today.

Washington, April 30—President Wilson today put in one of the hardest days of work since he has been at the white house. He talked with a greater number of callers than ever before and dispatched as much work for the week as possible in order to prevent his departure for New Jersey tomorrow on a two-day speaking trip from interfering with national business. Before he leaves tomorrow he will have a three-hour conference with western senators about the tariff.

For the most part the day was spent in talking with members of congress about prospective appointments through the president also was busy on the Japanese situation.

Senator Poindexter, of Washington, had the most extended conference. Many names of prospective appointees were submitted to the senator by the president, the democratic organization of Washington having let it be known that although the senator was a progressive republican, his judgment on matters of appointments would be accepted.

Senators Lafollette and Stephenson, of Wisconsin, were said to have had ony objection to the appointment of Joseph E. Davies, of Madison, Wis., secretary of the democratic national committee, as commissioner of corporations. No objections were recorded.

The president made the usual inquiry of courtesy of Senators Oliver and Penrose, of Pennsylvania, concerning the nomination, expected to go to the senate tomorrow, of George W. Guthrie as ambassador to Japan. Mr. Guthrie was once mayor of Pittsburg, and is the democratic state chairman of Pennsylvania.

Senator Bryan, of Florida, also was summoned by the president to talk about appointments, but the names considered were not divulged. A large list of postmasters is to be sent to the senate tomorrow.

The president talked with Secretary McAdoo about the collectorship of the port of New York, but no intimation came as to whether Frank H. Polk, Mr. McAdoo's candidate, had been withdrawn.

Tonight the president had as dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Glass, of Birmingham, Ala. Mr. Glass was a student in Princeton during the president's college days.

DOCTORS WILL GET DIPLOMAS TONIGHT

The annual commencement exercises of the Georgia College of Eclectic Medicine and Surgery will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Atlant atheneum. Forty-four graduates from fourteen different states will receive their sheepskins from the hands of the president.

Dr. Horace M. DuBose, of the First Methodist church, will pronounce the invocation, and deliver the graduating address to the class of '13.

Dink Frazier Jailed.

Americus, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Dink Frazier, a notorius character here, ofttimes arrested and tried upon charges of violating the state prohibition laws, was placed in jail this afternoon. Frazier's bondsmen, who were Frazier's brother, Oliver and sureties for bonds aggregating approximately $5,000, withdrew and, Frazier's incarceration resulted.

COUNCIL OF GRIFFIN IN ROW WITH MAYOR

Griffin, Ga., April 30.—(Special)—Again the city council of Griffin is in the midst of one of the hottest rows experienced in many a moon, an dagain the councilmen have put on their warpaint and declared their independence in defying the wishes of Mayor J. J. Smith. For two hours at the last meeting they indulged in a free-for-all word scrap, out of which the mayor came limping.

Some weeks ago the council voted to the light, water and sewerage commission the sum of $4,000 for improvements in those departments of the city's properties. Treasurer E. C. Smith, of the commission, learned from City Treasurer Bridges that he had in hand $12,000 of the city's coin. Treasurer Smith then asked for the remainder of the $4,000 voted by the commission, and Treasurer Bridges handed it over and took receipt.

Then came in the kick from council, and the demand was made that the money be returned to the city treasury. Thereby hangs a tale, and Griffin citizens are wondering if the fire engine scrap of an earlier date this year has anything to do with this rumpus. When the councilmen came to bat with their votes they knocked the mayor out of the box, got a home run and made the score 11 to 0 in favor of the councilmen or the return of the money.

So it is . . e city treasury has in it $12,000, and taxpayers are wondering what is to be done with it. They is fire truck. And now the queat . . whether or not the councilmen are trying to hold that money in the treasury so that when the fire engine is delivered they can pay for it.

GREATEST OF FLOODS ROLLS OVER LOUISIANA

Many Towns Are Being Inundated and There Is Much Suffering.

Vidalia, La., April 30.—Flood water from the crevasse near Gibson's Landing has covered Harrisburg, a town of 500 inhabitants, but the rise is slow. The gap is now 2,500 feet wide, according to a report by Captain C. O. Sherrill, United States engineer, who inspected the break today.

Government tugs, barges and the New Orleans and Northwestern railroad took hundreds of refugees to Natchez today. The United States tugs Terence and Tunica alone transported 750 persons and 1,500 head of stock.

The water is encroaching upon the rich plantations on the river front, but is not in sight from Vidalia or the Natchez bluffs. There is an open stretch back of Vidalia upgrade, so that the water can be seen approaching the town.

The Associated Charities is attempting to care for the flood sufferers, but its funds are limited. Many homes have been opened to the sufferers, and the hotels have reduced their rates, one offering half rates.

The town of Ferriday, which is an important railroad junction, with a population of 1,000, is covered with two to five feet of water, but there is no current in the water there and the residents are riding about the streets in skiffs, warrying very little about the water. The bank at Ferriday has been temporarily moved to a second floor and merchandise in the stores has been placed on scaffolding about four feet above the floors.

Backwater from the crevasse has spread thirteen miles north and is in the streets of Waterproof, but the citizens of that place are not alarmed as they do not expect the water to reach a dangerous depth.

The Silver River.

(Grace Fallow Norton, in the May Atlantic.)

Farewell, I said, sweet meadow grass;
Farewell, I let the light wind pass;
I watch the shadows, one by one.
Farewell, thou gold slow-setting sun.
I go within and fold my hands.
Oh, wondrous are the day's bright lands
And evening's robe of roseate hem.
But dearer now my dreams of them.
The stars I know creep to the sky,
The moon will soon be swimming high;
O light-filled pools and silver streams!
O silver river of my dreams!

SPEEDY PASSAGE SAYS UNDERWOOD

Democratic Leader Predicts House Will Finish With the Tariff Bill by Saturday Night—Hot Exchanges.

Washington April 30.—"I think we'll finish with the tariff bill in the house by Saturday night," said Democratic Leader Underwood tonight, after an all-day debate on the iron and steel schedule.

The metal schedule is only the third of the fourteen schedules which are followed by the free list with technicalities of the administrative provisions and the income tax plan many of the members of the house are prepared to see the debate stretch into next week.

Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts, one of the republican members of the ways and means committee, figured on the passage of the revision measure about next Tuesday night. Mr. Underwood, smiling and confident, saw nothing to disturb the plan for shifting the scene of the tariff battle to the senate with the opening of next week.

Bowled Over Amendments.

The democratic leader does not believe a special rule will be necessary to get the measure through the house. The plan is to have the measure adopted within an hour after the reading for amendments has been concluded.

All day and again tonight democrats bowled over amendments proposed by republicans and progressives. The ways and means committee, however, had ready and carried a number of its own amendments, all of a minor character and designed to perfect classification.

The iron and steel schedule was the particular target of attack, and Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania, in charge of that schedule for the ways and means committee, was frequently reminded from the republican side of the fact that the Bethlehem Steel company was in his district.

Representative Mann, of Illinois, the republican leader, and others charged that the duty on ferro manganese was distinctly in favor of the United States Steel corporation, and that the enhancement of the value of ferro manganese in this country, under the proposed advance in rate, should be sufficient to warrant the Pennsylvania member's indefinite continuance in congress.

Won't Prolong Agony.

Mr. Mann declared, however, that while he thought the pending bill would be very injurious to the country, he did not believe in "prolonging the agony" unnecessarily and suggested "that as we are to have the passage in the present form the sooner the better."

Personalities were indulged in several times during the day, particularly during the discussion of the United States Steel corpoation holdings in the Minnesota mines, when Representatives Stanley, of Kentucky, and Miller, of Minnesota, engaged in a bitter exchange. Representative Underwood also replied vigorously to statements by Mr. Miller concerning Alabama iron and steel companies.

Representative Miller, of Minnesota, hotly resented what he characterized as "the habitual looseness of speech" indulged in by Mr. Stanley. Mr. Stanley retorted that Miller's remarks were "rude and impudent."

Mr. Miller retorted by ridiculing the Stanley committee's steel trust investigation.

Representative Stanley, of Kentuckey, aroused Chairman Underwood with a statement that convict labor was employed in the steel mills of Alabama. The convicts were worked in the mines, and that in some instances around police stations to pick up persons arrested for minor offenses and stances corporations had runners send them to the mines

"I want to say," Mr. Underwood declared, jumping to his feet, "that I voted to put iron ore on the free list, thus affecting my own business, but I can't stand here and listen to a slander on my own constituency." He emphatically denied Mr. Stanley's charges.

Representative Austin, of Tennessee, republican, said Charles M. Schwab had succeeded in getting free iron ore after trying unsuccessfully to get it from republican ways and means committees.

When Representative A. F. Kreider, a new republican member from Pennsylvania, offered an amendment today to put hooks and eyes used in shoe manufacture on the free list he aroused criticism from Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, who declared Mr. Kreider was a "shoe manufacturer, the president of the American Shoe Manufacturers' association, whose amendment will put money into his own pocket."

Underwood and Steel Business.

Minority Leader Mann replied that if members were to be thus criticised congressmen from the farms would be prohibited from discussing rates on the agricultural schedule. Mr. Mann also referred to the fact that Majority Leader Underwood, author of the tariff bill, was engaged in the iron and steel business. He said that Mr. Underwood need not apologize to the house for that nor to explain it, that he meant no reflection thereby, but Mr. Underwood answered with a vigorous statement.

"If I could not represent my constituency and at the same time the people of the United States without involving myself as a special pleader for interests in my district I would be unworthy of my position in this house.

"I contend that when representatives of the people stand in this house exercising the power to tax people of this country, that it is at least unbecoming for them to display a selfish interest in these matters. The time has passed when the laws of this country will be written for special interests; when men can come and ask for legislation to convert dollars from the pockets of the masses into their own that they may grow rich."

"The greatest results in life are usually obtained by simple means and the exercise of ordinary qualities. These may, for the most part, be summed in common sense and perseverance."—Owen Feltham.

We have proof of this on every side. Success is seldom to the swift. The sincere man plugging along with one end in view and using the mental faculties his Maker gave him writes a book that is read through the centuries; builds a railroad for millions; paints a picture prized by kings, or builds a business that becomes known the world around.

In the commercial world, a little shoemaker becomes the manufacturer of millions of pairs of shoes each year.

Two brothers, makers of varnishes, establish a wonderful industry.

A baker becomes the president of an enormous bakery erected to produce his biscuit.

An exile from his homeland becomes the foremost maker of men's clothes in the world.

Slowly, surely, they plugged along with faith in themselves and in the goods they made. Just using commonsense and persevering. But—

They didn't hide their light beneath a basket. From the start, they advertised their products, and as demand grew so grew their advertising.

Back of every successful business we find the light of publicity, and no business can hope to succeed today without use of this power.

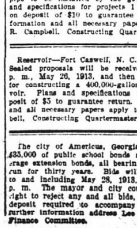

There are bakers, shoemakers, clothiers and others in Atlanta with honest goods to sell. They are persevering, and possess common-sense—but

They do not use it to the greatest advantage. Instead of spending a certain sum each month in advertising in the papers, they wait for the people to come to them. Just so long as they continue hiding their light, just so much longer must their road of toil be. No man with goods or service to offer should hesitate one instant in telling the public what he has, where he has it and what it costs. Phone Main 5000 for the Advertising Manager.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON MADE RALLY AFTER STEADY DECLINE

Best Point Reached in Late Trading—Old Crops Sold Higher.

New York, April 30.—The cotton market seemed to be nervous or unsettled today, but an opening decline was followed by rallies and the close was steady net 2 points higher to 1 point lower; new crops being relatively easy.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 6 to 8 points, with July and later deliveries making new low records for the movement under overnight selling orders, easy Liverpool cables, a favorable weather map and continued uneasiness regarding political conditions in Europe. There was a good demand at the initial figures, however, and in addition to realizing by shorts, there seemed to be considerable buying by reactionists, while Liverpool houses and trade interests supported July. The decline was checked in consequence. In spite to favorable weather forecasts prices soon began to improve.

Demand slackened somewhat after the close of Liverpool and the rally seemed to meet increased offerings from houses with southern connections which caused more or less irregularity, but the best point was reached in the late trading, when old crop positions sold about 3 to 5 points net higher and the new crop recovered to practically the closing figures of last night. Closing prices were within 2 or 3 points of the highest.

Private cables attributed to easy ruling of Liverpool to American and continental selling and the latter was supposed to be partly due to fear of complications in the Balkans. Latest information secured in the trade today indicates that houses with Liverpool connections took up fully 40,000 bales in the shape of May notices.

Cotton spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 11.80; do. gulf, 12.05; sales, 400 bales.

New York, April 30.—While business today was in smaller volume than recently, offerings during the morning were rather heavy and prices declined ten points before they were fully absorbed. The favorable progress of the new crop, coupled with unsettled commercial conditions, both here and in Europe, encourage liquidation and short selling, which continue, despite the severe decline. Investment buying is limited and the steadiness of the market from time to time is due to shorts covering by the large

COVERING OF SHORTS MADE WHEAT STRONG

Market Closed Higher After a Weak Opening—Corn Up.

Chicago, April 30.—Covering by May shorts today gave strength to wheat after a weak opening. A net upturn of a shade of 3-8@1-2 was made. Corn made a net gain of 1 and oats finished 1-2 to 5-8@7-8 up. Provisions closed unchanged to 12 1-2c@15c higher.

Considerable activity was displayed by shorts in wheat who were covering before the first day of the May settlement tomorrow. The ensuing upturn in values was aided by smiling sales of rather large proportions. There was also considerable new investment buying of all months. Weakness was shown at the start on reports placing the probable crop in Kansas at 139,000,000 bushels, and declaring that much of the chinch bug talk lately prevalent affected only certain sections of the state where the wheat acreage was small. Lower cables also had a depressing effect at the start, the trade abroad seemingly ignoring the unsettled European political outlook. When the bulge came later, the market had become weak and nervous. At the finish July was 1-4c higher and May, the short interest in the last named month having apparently been pretty well taken care of. Primary receipts of wheat today were 551,000 bushels, last year 329,000 bushels. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equaled 152,000 bushels.

Decrease in offerings and considerable buying by large houses lifted corn. The market showed stubborn strength all day. Increased contingency in state grain inspection caused short buying that lifted oats.

Strength in prices at the yards and the firmness of the grain list helped provisions.

LEADING STOCKS SHOW SOME IMPROVEMENT

But Many Thirty Stocks Touched New Low Levels for the Year.

New York, April 30.—Irregular movements marked the course of today's stock market. The leading issues were inclined to improve. At the same time more than thirty stocks touched new low levels for the year. Most of these stocks were of secondary importance, although the list included Southern Pacific, New Haven and Baltimore and Ohio. Taken as a whole, the movement was uncertain and confusing. Although Reading, Lehigh, Union Pacific, Amalgamated and a number of other prominent issues ruled a point or more higher at times, this improvement could be said to reflect a growth in confidence or buying power. The demand seemed to arise chiefly from short covering, and whenever stocks were offered other than the speculative favorites in which there has been heavy selling recently, it was necessary to make sharp concessions to find a market.

After a week of incessant selling, it was regarded as natural that there should be a reaction. An upturn was indicated by the sharp advance of American stocks in London, prior to the opening here, although first prices in the market did not follow the improvement abroad to its full extent. Early European advices regarding the international political situation were more cheerful, and London bought about 15,000 shares here on balance.

Whatever help was derived from this source, however, was minimized by the persistent weakness of a long list of stocks. Southern Pacific sold off 2 points to 95 5-8 on the adverse decision of the lower courts in the Oregon-California land grant cases. New Haven broke over 4 points to 106 on the highly unfavorable March statement, disclosing a decrease in net revenue of $809,000. Some other railroads also reported shrinkages in March earnings. Reading's net earnings from all companies decreased $1,246,000. Easing off in the demand for steel products and a growing spirit of caution on the part of buyers were reflected in the weekly trade reviews. In spite of this tendency and the somewhat disappointing quarterly report of the steel corporation, Steel rose and held up well, there being a fairly consistent demand for this stock from the shorts.

The bond market showed a sagging tendency. Total sales, par value, $2,175,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

GENERATING PLANT, PART OF CONTRACT

Agreement With Destructor Company Calls for Electric Feature by July, Declares Alderman Nutting.

Alderman James R. Nutting says that the city has contracted with the Destructor company for the erection of a generating plant in connection with the new $376,800 crematory. He says that the company has until July, 1914, to complete the electric feature of the plant.

One of the agreements in the contract is that in addition to burning 2 0 tons of garbage daily, the plant shall generate 36,000 kilowats of electric current per days.

Alderman Nutting calls attention to the fact that the city has ample space for the erection of the plant on the same site of the crematory, and should it become necessary to have more ground than the city owns on the crematory site proper, a part of the stables on Hulsey street can be used.

Alderman Nutting's Card.

"So much misinformation has been disseminated in reference to the crematory contract and such general misunderstanding seems to exist as to the provisions of the contract covering the electric generating plant, that a short statement touching the matter may not be out of order. A contract was entered into by the city with the Destructor company covering not only the crematory proper, but also covering the erection of an electric generating plant in connection with the crematory, but the company was given till July 1914, to complete the electric generating plant.

"There seems to be an impression that the city simply has the option of adding the electric generating plant, and this impression was probably strengthened by your news story on the subject in last Sunday's issue, but in point of fact, the original contract specifically provides for the electric generating plant as well as for the crematory.

"On basis of the burning of 250 tons of garbage daily, the contract guarantees that there shall be generated 36,000 K. W. hours of electricity per day, this being a considerably greater amount of electric current than is used for all of the city lighting and other municipal purpose at the present time.

There is Ample Space.

"Furthermore, there is ample space on the crematory site for the completed plant, including the electric generating plant, and if extensions in the future become necessary, the city could make such extensions by utilizing the space now occupied by the stables of the sanitary department. There would be no difficulty in securing other conveniently located property for the stables, and by using the present stable site for extensions to the crematory plant, there would be sufficient space for generating current for a city of a million population or more. The crematory site is ideal in everp respect, being only a short distance from the center of the city, and still well removed from stores or residence property."

DEMOCRATIC SENATORS REPUDIATE GOV. SULZER

Albany, N. Y., April 30.—Despite the overwhelming defeat in the senate today of his state-wide direct primary bill, Governor Sulzer will not oppose the plan of the legislative leaders to end the regular session this week, provided a program he outlined tonight is carried out. This calls for the passage of several bills still pending.

Chief among these measures are nine bills providing for the reform of stock exchange methods. The governor is particularly interested in the measures providing for the incorporation of the New York stock exchange and prohibiting discrimination in the printing or engraving of bonds or stock certificates.

The vote on the primary bill was 42 against to 8 favoring it. A lengthy debate preceded the vote, during which several members of the democratic majority, picking up the gauntlet which the governor had thrown down last Saturday when he threatened to drive from the party any who opposed the bill, bitterly arraigned the executive for the language he used in vetoing the Blauvelt primary law. Almost immediately after the decisive vote was announced, the Blauvelt bill, slightly changed from the form in which it was vetoed, on the ground that it "was a fraud" and a "miserable makeshift," was reintroduced and advanced to the order of final passage.

Although he expressed his willingness to allow the legislature to adjourn, Governor Sulzer makes no effort to conceal his purpose to call an extraordinary session to reconsider the bill. He has not indicated the date, however. The fact that he intends to tour the state in an effort to arouse sentiment for the measure is taken to indicate that the legislators may not be recalled until late in the summer.

One of the most severe critics of the governor in the debate was Senator Wagner, the democratic floor leader. He asserted that although the governor was "fully cognizant" of the preparation of democratic plans for election reforms, he had volunteered no suggestions.

"No, no, that would have been uninteresting," he declared. "In that way he might not have received the limelight of the first page nor the publicity that is accorded when you get up upon any proposition, it matters not what it is, and come out and say: 'The bosses are against me; I'm against the bosses and I am for this and the bosses are against me, and I am going to make the fight of my life and I'm going to drive out of the party anyone who dares to disagree with me.' That makes good loading."

Women of Atlanta to Assist In Entertaining Presbyterians; Many Homes Offered Delegates

The spirit of the Atlanta women, tried and proven as it has been, since the days when Atlanta was Marthasville—tried during the days of the confederacy—proven in the days of reconstruction and illuminating every phase of civic life in Atlanta today, asserted itself eloquently yesterday, when a representative group of Atlanta women responded to the call to help the men of Atlanta look after the tremendous gathering of people who will assemble here at the Presbyterian convention in May.

The occasion was a gathering of women at luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club in response to an invitation from Mr. Samuel Inman and Mr. J. K. Orr for the purpose of enlisting the co-operation of the women of the city in securing hospitality in homes for the visiting delegates to a convention which will be unique in the history of the Presbyterian church of today.

The appeal at the luncheon to the good women of the city who have at all times not merely complemented the men of the city in every effort they have made for public upbuild, but who have been an actual part of the great psychological something which has been called the Atlanta spirit, was an appeal to them as homemakers and the agents of the real hospitality for which the south is famed.

Response Is Characteristic.

The response was characteristic of the spirit of Atlanta women, for on the list of hostesses which was read, even before the results of the meetunited spirit every part of the names of women from every denomination—Methodist, Baptist, Episcopalian, Congregationalist, Christian, Unitarian, Jew and Roman Catholic. Verily such is the spirit of the women of Atlanta—that spirit tried and proven since the days when the terminus was marked and the site of the city came to be.

The whole southland knows the story of the forthcoming Presbyterian convention which will bring here in united spirit every part of he church's activities, every branch of it, while the men and women who come as delegates and factors of the church's work represent the best citizenship of the nation—men not alone leaders in religious life, but leaders in every phase of life-making for higher civilization.

The thousands of people who have signified their intention of coming have tried the hotels and boarding houses of the city in that reservations have been made there to the utmost capacity. The homes of the Presbyterians of the city have taken all that they can hold and homes up to the hour of 1 o'clock yesterday were required for 500 more.

Will Provide for Delegates.

But the assembly of women called by Mr. Inman and Mr. Orr pledged themselves to provide for the remaining delegates, and before Saturday at 1 o'clock, when the same committee will meet again, it is safe for the press to predict that everyone of the 500 visitors will have the hospitality of a home provided.

When response was called for from the ladies present, the first speaker was Mrs. Clarence Johnson, who earnestly pledged her support to the entertainment committee and assured them that the ladies of the Methodist church would do their part. Mrs. George Hinman was the next speaker, she a member of the Episcopalian church, and one who had signed to entertain two delegates. Mrs. E. L. Connally responded in behalf of the hospitality of her home first, and then the hospitality of her church. For the co-operation of the ladies of the Baptist church, Mrs. George McCarty, Mrs. William Percy and Mrs. W. R. Wiggs also spoke.

Mrs. C. B. Wilmer made a most impressive address, stressing the significance of the convention, and the fact that opportunity was afforded for everybody to demonstrate their belief in and desire for the unison of all religious forces.

Mrs. Joseph M. Brown and Mrs. John Marshall Slaton were among those who expressed their interest in the great event of the conference and their desire to assist in entertaining.

Miss Martha Boynton suggested that each church appoint a central committee to act in the interest of the convention, and that the ladies of the Presbyterian church send a speaker to the meetings of the ladies which takes place every Monday afternoon in every Methodist church in the city.

This suggestion was favorably acted upon, and Mrs. Archibald Davis, who presided at the informal session which followed the luncheon, will appoint these speakers.

Chairmen were also appointed to appoint committees to interest the various denominations. Mrs. Clarence Johnson was appointed chairman of the Methodist ladies; Mrs. George McCarty, of the Baptist ladies; Mrs. C. B. Wilmer, for those of the Episcopal church, while a large committee is acting to interest the ladies of the city-at-large in the forthcoming event.

Presbyterian Women Aid.

A number of Presbyterian present volunteered to assist these ladies in any way that they could in securing these homes. The Presbyterian women volunteering were: Mrs S. M. Inman, Mrs. W. T. Healey, Mrs. Edward Lyle, Mrs. Doughty Manley, Mrs. E. C. Kontz, Mrs. Clyde King, Mrs. K. G. Matheson, Mrs. W. A. Speer, Mrs. John H. Mullin, Mrs. George Breitenbucher, Mrs. T. P. Hinman, Mrs. Whiteford Russell, Mrs. C. R. Winship, Mrs. George Harrison, Mrs. M. H. Whitner, Mrs. Arnold Broyles, Mrs. J. D. Thompson, Mrs. George Brihe, Mrs. Jacob Patterson, Miss Nagel, Mrs. E. P. GRAND JURY PROBING CONDITIONS AT JAIL

Inquiry into conditions at the county jail, which has been the subject of a grand jury probe recently, was resumed yesterday afternoon and a number of witnesses were heard in regard to existing conditions. The grand jurymen also paid a visit to the jail and partook of the food that is given the prisoners.

"There appears to be nothing radically wrong with affairs at the jail," said Foreman John S. Owens at the conclusion of the Wednesday session, "that has been brought to our notice, but it seems that there is need for an adjustment of affairs down there, so that there may be better management of the jail. We are going to recommend as much in our formal report to the superior court when we are discharged at the latter part of this week."

When the probe was undertaken there were some charges that the negroes had not been given proper bed clothing in their cells, and that pris-Roberts, who is employed there solely as a warden to have charge of the feeding.
