WHY GERMAN REFUSE TO FEED THE BELGIANS

Question Is Discussed by Herbert C. Hoover, of American Commission.

London, December 18.—Critics of the American commission for relief in Belgium who have asserted that an attitude of impartiality would have left the burden of caring for the starving Belgians to the belligerent power responsible for their condition, were answered today by Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the commission, in an address here. He declared that before the question of moral responsibility was settled, starvation and violence would have finished war's work of destruction in the ill-starred little country. It is enough for America that seven millions of humanity are in the horrors,

Cold Weather Means Finer Fish

Fish are no fresher because of cold weather, but they are firmer in flavor.

Our fish are always the freshest, whatever the season.

But it is a noted fact that oysters and certain fish take on a finer flavor when it gets real cold.

The recent cold snap has done the work.

MISS KING ENTERTAINS AT BEAUTIFUL RECEPTION

The first large party of the holiday season was the afternoon tea given by Miss Mary King, at her home, the occasion a compliment to her guest, Miss Margaret Gage, of Birmingham, and to her sister, Miss Louise King, who is home from school for the holidays.

The plan of the entertainment was elaborate in detail and picturesque with the Christmas decorations. An orchestra provided bright music, and a dainty repast was served.

The guests were received in the drawing room, hostess and guests of honor grouped before a mantel of palms. The mantel was half concealed by holly, and poinsettias rose out of the red-berried foliage.

In the reception hall palms and holly were massed effectively, and on a great Christmas tree, shining with tinsel and red lights, were favors for all the guests.

In the dining room the sideboard and mantel were decked with ferns, mistletoes and growing narcissi, and the table was brilliant in crystal and white and green. The cloth was covered with snow, which sparkled in the lights from the chandelier, these lights seen through a big parrot made of tinsel and silver. The handle was wound with tinsel, and around its base were white carnations. The service was all of crystal.

Miss King was becomingly gowned in white Olga crepe draped with green chiffon embroidered in silver roses. Mrs. King wore black satin charmeuse and jet. Miss Louise King wore pink chiffon and cloth of silver. Miss Gage was gowned in white brocade and princess lace.

Mrs. William Akers wore white Olga crepe edged with seaweed and embroidered in silver.

Mrs. James Thompson Williams wore lavender crepe and silver lace.

Assisting in the entertainment of the guests were Miss Dorothy High, Miss Fio Carter and Miss Jose Carter, of Tampa, Fla.; Miss Alline McCarthy, of New York city; Miss Rose Holman, of Evansville, Ind.; Miss Rosalie Davis, Miss Marion Vaughan, Miss Anne Patterson, Miss Isoline Campbell, Miss Amelia Smith, Miss Patsy McChesney, Miss Grace LaCraw, Miss Margaret McCarty, Miss Grace Sims, Miss Marie Kirpatrick, Miss Mai Horine, Miss Elizabeth Blain and Miss Grace Hammond.

Beautiful Tea-Dance Is Given To Three Popular Debutantes

In compliment to Miss Isoline Campbell, Miss Rosalie Davis and Miss Josephine Mobley, popular members of the debutante set, Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy entertained at a beautiful tea-dance at their home on Peachtree street, yesterday afternoon.

The guests, bidden at 5 o'clock, were received in the rose drawing room. Mrs. Murphy assisted in entertaining by her lovely young daughter, Miss Julia Murphy, and her sister, Miss Gattine. Later, dancing was enjoyed in the ball room on the third floor, where the decorations presented the picturesque of a flower garden.

On the top of the Maxwell post at the head of the stairway, two begonias in white and pink blossoms, gave the lions. From the center of the ceiling hung an umbrella, its silver frame-work hung with garlands of pink and white flowers, among which showed tiny electric lights.

Each mirror were gilded old-fashioned grilles, which showed enchantment carvations, while in each of the alcoves, on each side of the ballroom, was a pedestal, on which was a gold basket, filled with roses and carnations. The orchestra played behind a lattice hung with bamboo and reeds. At the other end of the ballroom was a long buffet table with decorations still in pink, and silver vases filled with white and pink roses and sweet peas. The cakes were embossed in roses, and baskets of roses and silver cardholders, written in pink, studied completed the decorative effect.

Mrs. Murphy's dancing gown was in turquoise blue tulle, the corsage embroidered in sequins the same color. In apricot-colored silk with tunic drapery of tulle, Miss Isoline Campbell wore a Parisian toilet in blue brocade silk, matching the tulle. The dress of the same name, Miss Rosalie Davis wore a quality fashioned gown of brocade silk and tulle. The tulle, which skirt finished with bands of gold lace. Miss Josephine Mobley's dancing gown was artistic and combined satin and tulle in the popular fresh color.

During the afternoon, Miss Hopper and Mr. Cook, of New York, danced a group of famous dances with marked grace and they also demonstrated a number of the new dances being in vogue.

The occasion was one of the most enjoyable of the season.

TWO ATTEMPTS MADE TO BURN EDWARDS' HOME Milledgeville, Ga., December 18.—(Special.)—An attempt was made Wednesday night to burn the country home of Warren Edwards, former postmaster of Milledgeville. The house was found to be on fire about 1 o'clock in the night, the blaze starting from under the front steps. It was extinguished having been discovered before it had made much headway.

Dogs were secured from the prison farm, which again put out the fire. The dogs went in the same direction, but stopped before they reached the negro house where the man was trapped, but proving to be men of good reputation they were released and sent to go further.

Mr. Edwards is at a loss to understand the affair. He does not know of any reason for the attempt and as for the men arrested the first night he does not know who they should wish to do him harm. They were both negroes of good character and had no trouble in getting home. The only evidence against them is that they were trailed by the dogs. The fire was started in both cases with kerosene.

The house was completed some months ago, and the engine purchased through the diligent efforts of the two eighth ward councilmen, with the co-operation of Chief Cummings. The crew was selected from among men who have been in the service for years, and who have proven their worth as fire-fighters.

GRAND JURY ABANDONS INVESTIGATION OF CLUBS

After Returning Two No Bills, Jury Adjourns for the Term.

Again the grand jury's probe of loose clubs, instigated by the Anti-Saloon league, collapsed yesterday when the jury returned two no-bills against the Metropolitan club, and thereafter adjourned for the term. No decision was reached in the investigation of the Piedmont Driving club. A number of witnesses were called in the locker club cases, including Chief James L. Beavers and Detective Chief Newport A. Lanford.

Following Friday's session the jury went before Judge Pendleton, asking that he discharge them from further duty. In accepting the jury's presentments, Judge Pendleton praised the body highly for its effective campaign against the alleged bad syndicate.

A number of suggestions were made by the jury, among them being requests that the county jail be equipped with an inmate ward and padded cell for emergency cases, for the appropriation of $1,000 annually for secret service agents in the police department, and for plans for the caring of drug victims in the county jail.

The jury also recommended that both the city of Atlanta and the county employ women probation officers. Solicitor Hugh M. Dorey and his staff were highly gratified by their efforts throughout the year.

LID CLAMPED TIGHT. Prohibitory Tax on Billiards and Pool at Cordele.

Cordele, Ga., December 18.—(Special.)—The new administration clamped the lid on billiards in Cordele by their action last night of placing a tax on pool and billiard parlors that is considered prohibitory. Hereafter the business tax on pool parlors has been $10 for the first table and $10 each for all additional tables. The new amendment has named the tax at $100 for the first table and $100 for each additional table. The owners of such parlors in the city are considerably wrought up over the action of the officials.

G. M. C. Closes. Milledgeville, Ga., December 18.—(Special.)—The Georgia Military college, closed for the Christmas holidays on Friday, the 18th, the students leaving for their homes on Saturday. The holidays will continue until Tuesday, January 5.

The term just ended has been a very satisfactory one in every respect. The barracks and boarding department have been filled to the limit and President Horton expresses himself well pleased with the work done and progress made as well as with the spirit with which both students and faculty have gone through their duties. It is expected that the spring term will be even better than the one just ended, and a number of new ones will come in.

MRS. LESLIE FILES AMENDED PETITION

Says the Divorce Petition of Her Husband is Desires for Revenge.

Charging that she is now deprived of the money with which she supported two sisters, one of whom she was educating in college, by the loss of her position as head clerk of the city school system, which loss she attributes to the "scandalous accusations" made by her husband, Mrs. Ethel Leslie yesterday filed an amendment to her divorce petition against G. L. Leslie.

Mrs. Leslie now asks for alimony and attorney's fees. She accuses her husband of falsely and maliciously charging her with dissipation and scandalous conduct purely as a stroke of vengeance for the divorce suit she filed against him several months ago. She likewise avers that she lost her position with the school system on account of the sensational charges.

Mrs. Leslie declares in her suit that she made $150 monthly, all of which sum she contributed to the support of two younger sisters, the elder of whom she was sending to college. Her own livelihood, she avers, was gained from $17.50 monthly rental of property she owns in Kirkwood.

If there is no news-dealer accessible, send the money to us and we will take care of your request. We will put your friend's name on our mailing list and notify him on a neatly engraved Christmas card to whom he is indebted for the favor.

Most of us have a friend living at a distance whom we feel like remembering at this season. Why not give something that will not only furnish a momentary thrill of gratitude, but, coming once a week for the next year, will furnish 52 reminders of your thoughtfulness?

One well-known manufacturer has made it a habit for the past eighteen years to send us a list of from fifteen to twenty-five friends whom he remembers in this way.

THE LITERARY DIGEST is the distinct American mouthpiece for all sides of great events. It does not express opinions of its own; it gathers all the opinions on important subjects as published in the press throughout the world, and prints them in an absolutely impartial manner. It is Public Opinion crystallized.

A million thoughtful readers depend upon it weekly for all the facts in the War News, with Maps, Cartoons, etc. They glean from it the latest developments in Science, Invention, Politics, Religion, Art, Literature, Drama, Sports—every topic that has an interest for mankind—except the sordid or vicious.

Big Professional and Business Men, Scores of Them, are Writing:

"I would hardly know how to do without it."
"Meets the needs of the busy man as nothing else does."
"I like it because I prefer the simple truth once a week rather than a daily hash of horrors and crazy rumors."
"It is impartial without being dull, and thoroughly interesting without being sensational."

"If I was confined to two papers, one would be the local daily and the other 'The Literary Digest.'"

"I could not get along without it."

"There are two things indispensable to my comfort—'The Literary Digest' and my dinner—the 'Digest' first."

"Dear old 'Digest!' I have known it ever since its first appearance and hope to keep up our acquaintance till death do us part!"
