

HOLLOWAY DENIES AFFIDAVIT SIGNED FOR SOLICITOR

LIPSCOMB'S TAX BILL ONCE MORE MUTILATED AT HANDS OF THE HOUSE

Tax Reformers May Turn to Sheppard Substitute as Last Resort and Amend It.

COUNTIES SHOW NOW HALF-MILLION SLUMP

Forty-Eight Heard From and Twenty-Eight Show Decreases Aggregating $475,000.

With the counties reported to date showing a net loss in tax assessments of nearly half a million dollars, and with this loss being increased with two out of every three counties heard from indicating a marked slump in the assessments this year, the house spent practically all of yesterday's session in eliminating vital sections of the ways and means committee equalization bill.

Thursday's action was a continuation of the process started Wednesday, when the house struck from the measure the vital section 16, which defined the powers of the state board of tax equalizers.

Under the leadership of Dr. Stovall, of Elbert, the house went on yesterday and struck from the bill sections 19 and 20.

More Sections Stricken. The first of these two sections gave the state board the power to make rules and regulations for the own government and also for the government of the county boards.

The second section stricken yesterday gave the state board of tax equalizers the power to inquire into the value of property not reported on the digest of the preceding year, and to have such property placed upon the digest of the current year, and further provided that, in case there should be a conflict between the regulation of a state board and the county board the regulation of the state board should control.

In section 21, which provided that wherever the act conferred any authority or power upon the state or county boards, such power or authority might be exercised by a majority of the state or county boards, the word "estate" was stricken wherever it occurred.

Hardly anyone believes that the ways and means committee bill, now that it has been amended, stands any chance of passage, though there are some earnest tax reformers who believe that the measure, even in its mutilated form, is preferable to the Sheppard substitute.

Will Amend Substitute. The proposition was made today, after a substitute tax bill offered by Representative Wright, of Floyd, is gotten out of the way, to take the Sheppard substitute, section by section, and the work of amending it will be begun.

As it is the only measure which seems to have a chance of passing, the real friends of tax revision will make an effort to prevent it from being changed in the same way that the Lipscomb bill has been.

Amendments in the Sheppard substitute will be offered that will incorporate into it, as far as the humor of the house will permit, some of the principles that have been stricken from the ways and means bill, so that it will be a tax reform to work upon.

The Real Danger Now. The real danger now lies in the fact that a considerable minority of the membership of the house, which has been using the Sheppard substitute.

$30,000 PRUNED AWAY FROM COMMON SCHOOLS

State Agricultural College Loses $10,000, Pension Fund $50,000, and $15,000 Increases Recommended.

The senate committee on appropriations yesterday presented to the general appropriations bill as passed by the house and at the same time proposed a $95,000 cut in the total appropriation from $1,838,000, still leaving a big gap between the resources of the state and the appropriations.

The common school fund was lowered from $120,000 to $120,000, another $10,000 reduction. The fund for the extension work of the State Agricultural college, at Athens, was reduced from $48,000 to $48,000.

In this way $110,000 was deducted from the state bill. The appropriation for the State Normal school, at Athens, was increased from $75,000 to $90,000, and the appropriation for the Georgia State Normal and Industrial school, at Milledgeville, was raised to $140,000.

RED PEPPER USED BY THE STRIKERS

Women in the Copper District Make It Hot for Deputy Sheriffs—Alleged Rioters Are Arrested.

Chattahoochee, Mich., July 31.—Incidents in the copper miners' strike, but water, red pepper and various household utensils were used as a supplement to revolvers and bayonets in a fight between deputy sheriffs and men and women inmates of a Hungarian boarding house at Waukegan, Mich. late today.

The battle ended with the arrest of three alleged rioters after troops had rescued the deputies from a street.

The arrests were made of a woman who the sheriff's office had identified within the last twenty-four hours in an effort to imprison finger-liners of the district which marched on Tuesday last.

Flood of Federal Money Will Be Poured at Once Into Banks of the South

Secretary McAdoo to Deposit $50,000,000 in Southern and Western Banks to Aid in Moving Crops.

STEP TAKEN TO MEET POSSIBLE STRINGENCY

For First Time Government Will Accept Prime Commercial Paper as Security. McAdoo Talks of Plan.

Washington, July 31.—Twenty-two to fifty million dollars of government funds will be deposited in the national banks of the south and west at once by Secretary McAdoo to facilitate the movement of crops.

Federal, state and municipal bonds and prime commercial paper will be accepted as security for the money, upon which the banks will pay 2 per cent interest.

The motive of Secretary McAdoo in establishing this new policy is to anticipate the money stringency in the latter summer and fall, which invariably accompanies the marketing and movement of crops, especially when the crops are unusually large, as the harvest now beginning forecasts. He intends to take time by the forelock and prevent or minimize the usual tightness of money.

In a statement today the secretary made the significant answer that government bonds would be accepted as security for the new deposits, and placed only with banks which have taken out at least 40 per cent of their authorized circulation.

United States 2 per cent bonds, serving as security for most of the national bank circulation, have been placed in the hands of the public, records, dropping to 52, during the last few days.

NEW TESTIMONY GIVEN AT TRIAL OF LEO M. FRANK

BY R. B. BARRETT

Machinist at Pencil Factory Tells Jury of Discovery of Murdered Girl's Pay Envelope and of Strands of Hair Near Her Machine in Metal Room on Second Floor.

HENRY SCOTT PUZZLES BOTH SIDES OF CASE BY EVIDENCE THURSDAY

E. L. Holloway, Who Swore in Affidavit That Elevator Was Closed on Saturday, the Day of the Murder, Admits on Stand That He Was Mistaken—"I've Been Trapped" Cries Dorsey.

The first piece of new testimony of any importance which has developed since the beginning of the Leo M. Frank trial came Thursday morning, when R. B. Barrett, a machinist employed at the National Pencil factory, testified that he had found what was supposed to be Mary Phagan's pay envelope near her machine in the metal room. Up to this time the part of the pay envelope had been a complete mystery. Barrett also testified that he had discovered blood stains on the floor near her machine, and a strand of hair on the machine. The blood stains were wiped over with some kind of white preparation.

The whole gist of Solicitor Dorsey's questioning was to prove that Leo M. Frank was not guilty. Scott was asked if, on his first meeting with Leo M. Frank, he had seen any blood stains on the floor near her machine. This was on Monday following the murder. Scott testified that he had seen blood stains on the floor near her machine.

The case before we would handle it in that way. Scott was then made to describe the locality where the supposed blood spots were found near the girls' dressing room and he declared that the spots had been wiped out when he went there, but that a white substance was smeared around the place as if someone had taken a cloth and rubbed the white substance over the spots.

"Did you search the factory?" "Yes, I searched thoroughly around the elevator shaft, but only on one surface, I did not dig up the dirt." "Did you find anything like a ribbon, a piece of paper, envelope or a stick of bludgeon?" asked Dorsey quickly.

"No," he said, "but after I had looked and looked thoroughly, but I found nothing like what you describe," Scott declared with emphasis. "Cross-Questioned by Rosser." Mr. Rosser then took up the cross-examination.

"On the faces you have told about Frank's appearance are you willing to tell whether or not Frank was nervous?" asked the solicitor, referring to Scott's testimony about the defendant's being pale and taking one breath during the first conference.

"Well, there certainly no one here who would think that I had anything to do with it, and I know it," blurted out Rosser, apparently addressing himself to sport ad spectators as well as to the jury.

"You just go right down the road with them do you?" said Mr. Rosser. Scott made no particular reply and the cross-examination went on.

"Search Made in Factory." "Black and I went to the factory and carried him to the station house and there a conference decided to keep him here," Scott declared next in answer to the solicitor's question about the time that Frank was first arrested.

"I don't know whether he did or not," he said. "I was away at the time, and I don't know what happened while I was away." "When you work with the police do you follow them or the facts in the case?"

Spots Were Large As Fan, Declares Woman Who Saw Them

Mrs. George W. Jefferson, who is an employee of the pencil factory, was called to the stand. Her examination was begun by Solicitor Dorsey.

"Where do you work?"

"In the National Pencil factory."

"Where were you working Friday, April 24?"

"In the National Pencil factory."

"Were you there Monday?"

"Yes."

"Did you see anything on the floor near a dressing room?"

"Yes. It looked like something white had been spread over a spot of blood."

"How far is the toilet room from the ladies' dressing room?"

"Four or five feet."

"How far are the cords from the dressing room?"

"They are hanging up on the wall. There are many red paint in your department used in polishing pencils."

"Is there any difficulty in distinguishing the different shades of red paint?"

"Yes."

"Attorney Rosser took up the interrogation."

"Did you see any spots on the floor?"

"No."

"I've Been Trapped By Witness," Cries Dorsey When Holloway Goes Back on His Affidavit

E. F. Holloway, a general superintendent in the pencil factory, who has been in the employ of that concern for three years, was called to the stand.

"It was during Holloway's statement that the solicitor charged him with having trapped the state in attesting his signature to a sworn statement and making a conflicting statement before the jury."

"How long have you been employed at the pencil factory?" the solicitor asked.

"Three years."

"Are you working there now?"

"Yes."

"Were you there on Saturday, April 26?"

"There from 6:30 a. m. until 11:15 a. m."

"What is your business?"

"Attending to the elevator, freight and looking after general business."

"What do you do upon leaving in reference to the elevator?"

"Nothing in particular."

"Did you leave the elevator unlocked on Saturday, April 26?"

"Yes."

"Trapped by witness."

"Instantly upon the witness' answer the solicitor cried to Judge Ross:

"Your honor, I've been trapped by the witness. On May 12, before the jurors Campbell, Starnes, John Black and my attorney, Mr. Holloman, the witness that he had locked this power box on Saturday, April 26, and that he always kept it locked."

"Holloway in answer to this, said: 'I said I had locked it on Friday.'"

"The witness on May 12 that he had locked it on Friday and Saturday, didn't you, Mr. witness?"

"I don't remember."

"Did you deny having sworn it?"

"No."

"Was it locked that Saturday?"

"Because I forgot."

"Why did you say it was locked?"

"Because I forgot."

"He signed your name to this affidavit and told it, didn't you?"

"Who was the next man?"

"Mr. Darley."

"Who was the next man or woman?"

"Mattie Smith."

"Did you turn the building over to the factory?"

"Yes."

"How many negroes worked in the building?"

"Seven or eight."

"Always sweeping."

"Did you ever hear of a man named Stanford who had a man for sweeping out and couldn't stop until he had swept the whole floor?"

"Yes. He did it frequently."

"Do you remember seeing Mrs. Arthur White at the plant on the morning of the last?"

"Yes."

"Do you remember Miss Hall coming?"

"Yes."

"What was she doing?"

"Writing on the typewriter."

"Remember Frank coming back from Montana?"

"Yes."

"Do you see these wrapping cords in any other part of the building besides the third floor?"

"Yes—everywhere."

"Does the elevator or motor make the least noise?"

"Every day."

"Did not see Phagan."

"Did you see Mary Phagan that day?"

FRANK'S PRESENCE IN OFFICE At Time He Says He Was There IS DENIED BY GIRL ON STAND

Following the Finkerton detective testimony the state introduced Miss Monteen Stover, who worked in the factory when Mary Phagan was killed. The girl was rather abashed when she first appeared, but turned out to be a witness who could relate exactly what she started out to tell and who did not seem to get confused.

"Where do you work?" asked the solicitor of the girl.

"Nowhere."

"Were you working on April 26?"

"No."

"When did you last work before the murder?"

"On Monday before the murder, she answered."

"Were you in the factory on April 26?"

"Yes, at 12:01."

"How long did you stay there?"

"Five minutes."

"Why did you go there?"

"To get my pay."

"What part of the factory were you in?"

"I was on the second floor in Mr. Frank's office."

"Was Frank there, or was anybody in the building?"

"I was Frank was not there and I saw no one in the building."

"How about the door jank and it showed that it was 12:05 and I looked at it when I went out and it showed 12:05."

"Did you see a coat or hat or any part of a man's apparel in Frank's office?"

"No."

"Why did you leave?"

"I thought that they had finished paying off."

"Were you thought that office before?"

"No."

"May I show the witness this affidavit which she made and signed, and then you?" asked Mr. Dorsey.

"Mr. Dorsey about this?"

"Once."

"Who work on the fourth floor?"

"No one."

"Who your foreman?"

"No one."

"Do you get paid off in the office?"

"No outside."

"Does Schill pay off?"

"No outside."

"Do you know anybody on the second floor?"

"Yes, Mr. Darley and some of the girls who work there."

"After an argument the solicitor then won his point for the girl to read her affidavit. She was told to read it to herself and read slowly and with perfect composure, her lips moving as she scanned the words, like a child would do."

"Well, what about that back door now?" asked Mr. Dorsey.

"Sometimes it was open and sometimes it was closed," replied the girl, "and I was standing at her original statement on the stand."

William Gheesling, Embalmer, Tells of Wounds on Girl's Body

William Gheesling, the undertaker who embalmed Mary Phagan's body, was next called in.

"What is your business?" queried Solicitor Dorsey.

"I am an embalmer."

"How long have you been in that service?"

"Fifteen years, or more."

"When did you see the body of Mary Phagan?"

"I first saw it at 11 minutes to 6 on the morning of April 24."

"Where was it?"

"In the basement of the National Pencil factory."

"How long was it lying?"

"It was lying on the face, arms crossed, and with a piece of wrapping paper and part of her underclothing looped around the throat. I put it in a basket and brought it to the P. J. Blumfield undertaking establishment."

"Was there any impress on the throat?"

"Yes. An eighth-of-an-inch impression of the cord."

"Did you observe about the tongue?"

"It protruded about a quarter of an inch from the mouth."

"How many hours had she been dead?"

"From 10 to 15 hours—possibly longer."

"Had rigor-mortis set in?"

"Yes. It had been in effect for some time."

"What was the condition of the body?"

"Very congested."

"How long does it require blood to set in?"

"It is slow."

"Did you examine the finger nails?"

"Yes, and found nothing but dirt."

"Anything on her underclothing?"

"Yes, blood."

"Did you observe anything else?"

"Black Spot on Eye."

"A black spot on the eye that had been inflicted before death because of its swollen condition?"

"Did you examine a wound in the skull?"

"Yes. There was no fracture, although the scalp had been broken."

"Was there any indication of the wound having been sustained before death?"

"Yes. Blood that had run from the scalp was matted in the hair."

"Were you present when Frank came into your place that morning?"

"No."

"It would take an expert medical man to..."

"The operation was interrupted by the witness, who said: 'No. A medical man need not necessarily know anything about embalming.'"

"Embalming the Body."

"In case of death you embalm the body before the end of rigor-mortis, don't you, so that the rigor can be removed?"

"When the heart stops the blood stops wherever it is, doesn't it?"

"No. It goes back to the heart."

"What helped you examine the body?"

"The heart."

"What kind of fluid did you use?"

"No private kind."

"What ingredients is it composed of?"

"I would rather not reveal them. It is a formula of my own, and I would rather not tell it."

"His request was granted."

"John Black and Frank to your place?"

"The same in and I went back and returned to the front of the shop."

"How much blood was extracted from her body?"

"One-half gallon."

"How much did it generally require?"

"Embalming fluid tapered."

"Enough to clear the corpse's features and skin?"

"How much fluid was injected?"

"One-half gallon."

"Did Mr. Hart examine the body's fingers?"

"Yes. He removed the substance."

"What happened Monday?"

"Mr. Hart took a post-mortem examination."

"The solicitor began questioning at this point."

"What was the girl's body like much blood?"

"No."

"Was anything torn about her corpse?"

"Yes. A hose supporter was ripped loose."

"He was removed from the stand."

"Many a man gets ahead by inducing other men to put their shoulders to his wheel—Chicago News."

BLOOD FOUND BY DR. SMITH ON CHIPS AND LEE'S SHIRT

Dr. Claude A. Smith, the medical expert, who made microscopic examinations of the blood-spotted chips obtained from the floor of the pencil factory and of the bloody shirt discovered in New Lee's home, was next called in.

"Possibly," "The shirt had the odor of blood on it when you first got it, didn't it?" "Yes."

LEO FRANK INNOCENT, SAYS MRS. APPELBAUM

Accused in Same Courtroom, She Is Now Eager Spectator at Big Trial.

A little woman, neatly dressed and wearing a dark hat crowned with a flowing aigrette, slipped quietly into the rear of the courtroom at the afternoon session of the Frank trial yesterday afternoon, and sat down near the press table unnoticed.

Sweeper Swears No Spots Were On Floor Day Before Murder

Stanford, a sweeper and plaster at the factory, was put on the stand at 11:30. He testified that he had worked there for about two years and was there on Friday, April 18, on the second floor.

Stanford still on the stand. He was being examined by Attorney Rouben Arnold. "Are your duties at the pencil factory as plaster or sweeper?" "It is my duty to sweep my side of the floor in the metal room."

SOLD BEER TO MINOR; MUST EXPLAIN TODAY

Directly across the street from police headquarters, on DeSoto street, and in front of the station house, E. L. Church, operating a near beer stand for colored only, sold a glass of beer yesterday night to John Barker, 17 years of age.

The bar can be easily seen from across the street, and when Officers Haslett and Maddox saw the negro porter serve the boy with beer they ran across the street and placed him under arrest. Church, a white man, who was behind the bar, was also ordered to appear in the recorder's court this morning to answer to charges of selling intoxicants to minors and selling to white people in a negro bar.

FIT-U EYEGLASSES are comfortable, cling with ease, no irritating grip. When properly adjusted by our trained and expert man, they are a thing of beauty and joy.

Haslett Describes Visit To Home of Leo Frank

Detective R. B. Haslett, who went with Detective John Black on Monday morning, April 17, to Leo Frank's home to summon him to the police headquarters for a statement Chief Lanford wished him to give, was next called to the stand.

"Wasn't it later?" "No, I don't think so." "Whatever time it was, Haas also went."

Finding of Hair and Envelope Described by Factory Machinist

R. B. Barrett, a machinist at the National Pencil factory, who declares that he found strands of hair similar to Mary Phagan's on his machine after the murder, and who also told of finding a torn piece of pay envelope in the same room under the machine where the hair was found, followed Monteen Stover on the stand.

"Did the broom show evidence of being used?" "No, no more than that it was dirty."

Believes Frank Innocent

"I do not believe Frank committed the crime," she testified. "It doesn't look possible. It looks too much like the work of a negro."

"I think you boys owe me some consideration. I've been here for a long time and I've been treated like a dog."

Amos Cross-Examined

The afternoon session resumed with Amos Cross-Examined.

"The first thing she did was to drop the rumor that has been in circulation for several days to the effect that she had admitted to Detective Bob Waggoner and Attorney Bob Thompson that she shot her husband."

"I think you boys owe me some consideration. I've been here for a long time and I've been treated like a dog."

EISEMAN BROS., Inc. ANNUAL Midsummer Sale in Full Swing! Discount Prices in All Departments!

Men's and Young Men's Clothing Main Floor

The success of our REBUILDING DISCOUNT SALE has reached and passed all former records in the history of the "Big Store's" CLEARANCE campaigns. From the very start of the Sale the fact became obvious that early depletions of CLOTHING STOCKS in particular was imminent; and when well swung into July we found that a continuance of the sale depended (insofar as the CLOTHING was concerned) in obtaining NEW goods to sustain the sale through its normal period.

Confronted with this ultimatum, we bought all the short lengths of piece goods our various manufacturers had on hand and ordered them made up into SUITS; with the results that no lot contains more than three suits of a kind, many of them but one or two. Of course, we bought these at quite a concession in price, which fact materially advances values at the special mid-summer clearance prices. These handsomely tailored SUITS are now being received daily by Express, and your special attention is called to the extraordinary merit of these models.

THE CONSTITUTION IS SOLD IN NEW YORK CITY BY J. R. HOLLIDAY, 100 N. W. 11th St., New York City.

NOTICE TO OLD-TOWN SUBSCRIBERS: The address in the Washington Bureau is No. 112 1/2 Street, N. W., Mr. John Corbitt.

The Constitution is not responsible for advertisements in out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

IN THE MELTING POT: The honor of the state of Georgia is in the melting pot.

The house has passed an appropriations bill carrying $280,000 in excess of revenue for the current year.

Governor Slaton said in a recent address that no member could defend a vote for increased appropriations unless he voted for revenue with which to meet it.

No legislator in house or senate would attempt to conduct his private business by spending a sum in excess of revenue without providing for that revenue.

The Constitution is as yet unwilling to concede that the general assembly will be so lacking in patriotism that it may throw the state's honor to the winds.

We trust that today the members of the house, having had opportunity to fully canvass the situation, may yet pass a bill embodying the principle of state-wide equalization.

Maintenance of her institutions depend upon the enactment of such a principle into law. In the hour of crisis we are unwilling to believe the general assembly will be able to muster patriotism to meet an urgent situation.

TWO CHICAGO WOMEN: A matter of interest to the entire country is the fact that Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, for several years superintendent of schools in Chicago, has resigned her position.

Two women who have rendered service of a distinctly national and international nature have come out of Chicago. They are Ella Flagg Young and Jane Addams.

These two Chicago women exemplify the most constructive attributes of the feminist movement.

THE MOTHER'S RIGHT: If every superior court judge in Georgia were polled they would probably agree with Judge John T. Pendleton that the law should be amended to give to mothers in the case of domestic litigation, the right to their children where their usefulness is not clearly established.

NO RECOGNITION OF HUERTA: From the points of view either of morality or policy President Wilson's refusal to recognize the government of Huerta of Mexico is amply justified.

LOBBYISTS AND DEMAGOGUES: As sound and deliberate a thinker as the Springfield (Mass.) Republican joyfully makes the Mullah disclosures a fairer basis for business and politics.

Another phase of the situation is rarely canvassed, and that is the manner in which the activities of the demagogue make necessary the exertions before coming to a check on the demagogue.

A college for baseball instruction is the latest California enterprise. And yet every old college in the country is constantly graduating baseball experts.

There may be congressmen who are not sufficiently distinguished to be impersonated. A letter from the Hon. Charles D. Wick.

Life-Counsel: Keep the road without a fear—fend the wind in the wind, my dear. Maybe 'twill blow you.

Pat Names: "Don't give your boy the names of holy men," says a writer in The Holton Recorder.

Traveling Via the Movies: There was a young fellow named Claude. Just returned from a long trip abroad.

At Fort: When forty winters shall besiege thy brow, and dig deep trenches in thy beauty's field.

At Fort: When forty winters shall besiege thy brow, and dig deep trenches in thy beauty's field.

PLAYING WITH DYNAMITE: We have little sympathy with democratic, republican or progressive harangues charging their partisan opponents with manufacturing for the manufacture of a panic.

A few months ago the leading financiers of the country were a trifle pessimistic. Their brooding grew out of world conditions and in no way were affected, save by deliberate distortion, by pending legislation.

Now, a panic or hard times, as most students of economics have learned from close observation, where it is not actually created by a psychological state of mind, is unquestionably aided and abetted by the influence. For struggling partisans, therefore, to be trifling with the public welfare for the sake of a little trivial party advantage, is a spectacle that is puzzling, to say the least of it.

We're not going to have a panic, and these are so recklessly bandying such talk know it. About the most patriotic thing any hands can do is to abate their noise and give the country a chance to make headway against the legislation with which it has been continuously drenched since the first year of the Taft administration.

NO RECOGNITION OF HUERTA: From the points of view either of morality or policy President Wilson's refusal to recognize the government of Huerta of Mexico is amply justified.

The World's Mysteries WAS MARLBOROUGH HONEST IN PURPOSE

The Duke of Marlborough, like most men who have been successful, was the target of many arrows darted at his honesty, his integrity and his loyalty to his country.

"This thing of paying rent," remarked the detachably fastidious, "is a most vexatious thing to most Americans. Every married man should own his home, and then he'll be independent."

The Porch Swing

In spite of the vast growth of the automobile business, the porch swing continues to be the great American vehicle for summer use.

A million Americans climb into automobiles on each hot evening and career gladly through space and over automobiles. But the porch swing is still in vogue.

KEEPING THE MUD FROM MULHALL

Lobby Probers Protect the "Squealer" From Lawyers. He Doesn't Want Questions Put in Regard to His Past.

Washington, July 31.—An accomplishment of arguments between counsel and members of the committee, between democratic and republican committee men, and between Martin M. Mulhall and everybody connected with the case, the cross-examination of the alleged lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers proceeded haltingly today before the senate investigating committee.

In the five hours Mulhall was on the stand about 115 questions submitted for the association were put to him by Chairman Overman. Robert McCarter and James M. McLaughlin for the association were denied the right to cross-examine Mulhall.

Senators Reid and Walsh and Cummins and Nelson were almost as anxious to ask questions as the chairman. He declared once that unless the committee allowed him to cross-examine Mulhall, he would refuse to answer further questions.

Chairman Overman asked Mulhall if he had not been discharged from the committee for force ten years ago for violation of a law which Mulhall refused to be dismissed for moral reasons and demanded evidence.

Mulhall refused to answer the question, "I want to know, I set on it, and refused to answer on until I have it. I'll go to jail before I answer questions about my personal affairs thirty or forty years ago."

Instead of being designed to throw light on this case, many of these questions in the hearing proceeded with the witness, declared Senator Reid. "This is an investigation and it is not in your right to say a word here," he concluded, addressing Mulhall.

Mulhall withdrew his demand for counsel and the hearing proceeded with the attorneys submitting their questions. Chairman Overman asked:

"Victious Lie," Says Mulhall. "It is not true that Samuel H. Springer tried to dispose of these letters to the Atlanta Journal and the Philadelphia Record," Mulhall was asked.

"It is a vicious lie," he shouted. Mulhall denied having made a statement to Richard Barry, who was reported to have said that the Manufacturers' association would pay $15,000 for documents.

With the Atlanta Birmingham and Montgomery News. Mulhall said that he had agreed Barry should sell the letters to the New York Herald for $15,000, but later he testified that at Barry's suggestion he sold them to the association.

Senator Nelson asked about a published statement that Mulhall had accepted $200,000 bribe votes and that lobby work. Mulhall could not tell how much money he had spent and thought $200,000 must be a mistake.

Mulhall said he did not know if that amount was right. He said he had written to the Atlanta Journal and the Philadelphia Record and the Atlanta Birmingham and Montgomery News.

Senators Reid and Walsh and Cummins and Nelson were almost as anxious to ask questions as the chairman. He declared once that unless the committee allowed him to cross-examine Mulhall, he would refuse to answer further questions.

Prof. John Milne Dead. Newport, Isle of Wight, England, July 31.—Professor John Milne, eminent astronomer, died here today aged 82 years.

"Victious Lie," Says Mulhall. "It is not true that Samuel H. Springer tried to dispose of these letters to the Atlanta Journal and the Philadelphia Record," Mulhall was asked.

"It is a vicious lie," he shouted. Mulhall denied having made a statement to Richard Barry, who was reported to have said that the Manufacturers' association would pay $15,000 for documents.

BELIEVES IN STATE EQUALIZATION OF TAX

Representative Greene Explains Vote Against Section Sixteen. Says Tax Reform Will Win.

"I voted against the 16th section of the ways and means tax equalization bill," said Hon. Alva B. Greene, one of the representatives from Houston county, yesterday, "but I did so solely on the idea that I thought some better method can be provided for a central equalization authority."

"I do not want my vote to be misunderstood as putting me in opposition to the 16th section of the bill," said Representative Greene, "but I do not believe in the 16th section of the bill."

Representative Alva B. Greene, of Houston, is one of the few members of the house who are in favor of the 16th section of the bill.

Body Votes Unanimously for the Bill—Believed Measure Is Sure of Passage by House.

One of the most interesting contests which has occurred in the legislative committees of the present session was that involving the Ducktown copper lease before the senate judiciary committee of the senate.

The bill was passed by the senate yesterday afternoon and is now in the hands of the house. It is believed that the bill will be passed by the house without any further delay.

Advocates of the contract had petitioned the senate for the bill. The bill was passed by the senate yesterday afternoon and is now in the hands of the house.

SUGGS A STRONG ADVOCATE OF TAX REVISION IN STATE

As the author of the plan by which the ways and means committee of the house was able to bring before the house the cause of tax equalization, Representative Suggs has earned an honorable place for himself in the history of Georgia.

Representative Suggs is a large farming interest and represents a farming county. He is convinced that reform will be of more real advantage to the farming class than any other measure which the legislature could pass.

Born in North Carolina, Mr. Suggs has been for thirty-eight years a resident of Georgia and is probably identified with Georgia interests. He is a heart and soul a Georgian.

For several years of his early life he was a railway conductor and has since been engaged in the banking business in every field. In addition to the farming interests he has met with success in the banking business.

NEGRO GIRL IS KILLED DURING ELECTRIC STORM

Florence Greenwood Struck by Lightning, Her Sister Burned and House Fired.

Florence Greenwood, an 18-year-old negro girl, living at 4 Mougham street, was almost instantly killed by a bolt of lightning which struck the house about 3:10 Thursday afternoon during an electric storm.

The girl was seated in the front room in company with her sister, Alice Greenwood, and Charles Hicks, a young negro man. When the bolt struck the girl fell to the floor with lightning and died a few minutes later.

The dead girl was a graduate last year of the Atlanta university, and had for the past few months been engaged in teaching among her race in Atlanta.

On next Tuesday morning (legal sale day) at 10 o'clock, we are going to sell before the Courthouse Door.

111 WHITEHALL TERRACE

The lot fronts 42 feet, has a depth of 108 feet, and has on it a 7-room, 2-story frame dwelling now renting for $20 per month, and with just a little more on the house it would easily bring $25 per month.

This property is obliged to be sold in order to wind up the estate of Mrs. Victoria A. Foster. There is a mortgage of $1,000 bearing 7 per cent interest, maturing September 1, 1914, which must be assumed by the purchaser, and the balance paid in cash.

Go out and examine this property carefully and attend the sale next Tuesday.
