MEXIC SITUATION GRAVE; GEN. HUERTA'S DEFIANCE MAY RESULT IN TROUBLE

Official Washington Regards Situation as Even Graver Than That Which Preceded the War With Spain.

PRECEDENT REALIZES GRAVITY OF THE CASE, BUT HOPES FOR PEACE

Wilson Regards as Almost Incredible Some of the Statements Issued on Behalf of Huerta—Huerta's Course May Drive United States to Recognize His Foes.

Washington, August 7.—The American government tonight was confronted with the most delicate situation in its relations with Mexico that has yet developed since armed revolution disturbed the peace of the southern republic.

The threatened relief from the Huerta administration to the mission of John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson, expressed in Mexico City to expound the hopes of the United States for a suspension of hostilities and an orderly constitutional election in Mexico, drew from Senator Bacon, chairman of the foreign relations committee, a declaration on the floor of the senate today that the present situation was by far the most grave, much graver than confronted him when the Cuban question was here.

WILSON REALIZES GRAVITY. President Wilson realizes the gravity of the situation and manifested during the day his displeasure at the attitude of some members of the minority party in congress, calling for a debate in the senate on the resolution.

Without radical change in the attitude of the minority party, it will not be given an opportunity to talk with President Huerta, even though he is permitted to remain in the capital, nor will he be any more successful in meeting any official of the government.

How Huerta Will Treat Lind. The note issued by the Mexican foreign office to the effect that Lind would be persona non grata in the event of his coming to Mexico, together with recognition of the government of Mexico, is regarded as a reply to Secretary of State Bryan's message of yesterday.

Native newspapers today express indignation at the declaration that John Lind will not be received in Mexico. The independent press of the United States has also expressed indignation at the declaration that Lind will not be received in Mexico.

MAJOR W. W. SCREWS ANSWERS LAST CALL

Montgomery, Ala., August 7.—Major William Wallace Screws, editor of the Montgomery Advertiser, died suddenly tonight at his country home at Coosa, Ala., fourteen miles from town, of an attack of acute indigestion.

When he was your age and wanted a job he had to go out and tramp around looking for it.

Unless some friend of his or his father knew of an opening.

But all you need to find a job is to read the Want Ads in The Constitution.

They are the representatives of business men who need your services and will pay you well.

Or, if you've a definite idea of what you want and don't find it advertised, go after it with a Wanted Situation ad.

As your paid representative, it will be read by business men who know as well as you that—

"You Can't Get Something For Nothing."

With a ten-minute limit on speeches in debate, Mr. Smith, of Fulton, took the floor, discussing the good effects of the law in other states, the increase in this state's revenues that might be expected from the passage of the bill, and touching upon the constitutional issue.

Mr. Slaton, of Bryan, pointed out that the bill does not call for an appropriation of a tax out of the time of the treasury.

Message, Oliver, of Richmond, and Wright, of Floyd, argued that this bill is the fairest of all taxation by virtue of the fact that it asks for a part of a person's wealth that has passed but which is a pure gift.

Mr. Slaton, of Bryan, pointed out that the bill does not call for an appropriation of a tax out of the time of the treasury.

Harris Sticks to Testimony As to Time of Girl's Death

Dr. H. F. Harris, the state's final witness against Leo M. Frank, was put on the stand for cross-examination shortly after 10 o'clock Thursday morning, and through a series of questions Attorney General Gordon, for the defense, sought to make him testify definite in regard to the time of Mary Phagan's death after eating the meal of cabbage and bread about 11:30 on the day she was killed.

"Well, I mean that wild cats eat only meat, don't they?" "Well, I mean that wild cats eat only meat, don't they?" "Well, I mean that wild cats eat only meat, don't they?"

Will Defense Put Character Of Leo Frank Before Jury?

Will Leo Frank's character be one of the issues in his trial for the murder of little Mary Phagan? That is a question which has been the subject of speculation since it was first known that he would be tried for the murder, and as the case has progressed the subject has been discussed frequently.

He had parted company with them on several occasions when they started out to indulge in forms of dissipation. He was a man who knew how to get on with a superior of the large factory as well as with a man when the case started to trial on July 23 there were nearly a hundred witnesses.

Round-worms, next to hookworms, are the most common of the intestinal parasites. They are found most often in children, but are not rare in adults. The female is larger than the male.

The only sure proof is in seeing the worms themselves when they are passed, or finding the eggs in the stool. The eggs are very small and are often overlooked.

The Numbers 4, 11, 21 in Georgia

When you have destroyed the boy's pride and honor, When you have killed the soul of the girl, This year, Next year to adopt Probation and a home for the wayward Will not help them or their mothers. For those now in need we plead.

Cholera serum for hogs has been provided. Good! Protection for cows from the tick— Fine! Expert knowledge of bugs and chemicals to save and foster our crops— Splendid! Higher education for men and boys— Excellent!

But the miserable—the unfortunate—those who are slipping down into the slime which underlies—what of these? In one home lives a mother. Her boy cut four stalks of sugarcane and with another boy stole them from a field.

Your court and ours fined them forty dollars apiece. They were strangers, one nineteen and the other twenty. They had thirty cents between them and no friends. Eight months in our chaingang was their sentence for not having forty dollars each.

IS THIS RIGHT? You can— you will prevent the recurrence of such cases. Pass the Probation Bill. Give your Judge the power to save first offenders. E. C. Branson, of the Normal College at Athens, states that crime has increased in Georgia since 1880 approximately twice as fast as the population.

Think of this. Then consider Illinois. In that State, commitments have decreased forty per cent in the ten years since the adoption of the Indeterminate Sentence, despite the great increase of population. Half of the States have incorporated the Indeterminate Sentence in their laws.

IT WILL ENCOURAGE ROAD BUILDING. To the fear of the lash it adds the far greater incentive, the hope of winning freedom by good work. Senate Bill No. 11 provides for Probation. Senate Bill No. 21 covers the Indeterminate Sentence. The Senate has passed both of them without opposition. And the Judiciary Committee of the House has again favorably reported both Bills for passage in the House.

To incorporate them into the laws of Georgia only an opportunity for a vote in the House is needed. With them goes House Bill No. 4. This provides the home for wayward girls. They, today, are the pressing problem in our courts. They are prisoners. They would not place them in the chaingang or with hardened criminals.

Since you will not do that with a boy under sixteen for whom you provide a home, you can scarcely do it with a girl. And yet the State has to care for them. While providing serum for sick hogs, and a tick cure for cattle, and horticulture and entomology for our fields, and college training for our boys, surely you will provide for these, our girls.

THESE NUMBERS, 4, 11 and 21, entitle these bills to a hearing. But, more than this, the meaning of these measures to Georgia and the unfortunate—that there is nothing in them for any one excepting the miserable at the bottom of the pit—these facts make certain, we believe, that they will be heard and made the law of our State.

Stop and think of the homes they touch. And you will urge and give them the right way of. Remember the purpose of the Crucified— Jesus died, not alone that you might live, but "to give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death."

HE WILL KILL THE MAN WHO GAVE HIM LEPROSY

St. Louis, August 7.—Leprosy contracted in the Philippine islands more than nine years ago, was discovered today when George Hartman returned to a hospital to have a skin disease treated. Hartman, since his return to St. Louis, has been in the Philippines, has married. While in the Philippines I was cured over a leper colony and I know what it is. It was there probably that I contracted the disease, he said. They tell me I am to be sent to a farm down the river to keep company with a Chinese leper. Well, I am, there will be two less lepers in the world the first time I see a chance to kill the Chinese and then myself. I am going to have a skin disease treated. Three hundred members and more of the old Nisbet family of Virginia, Maryland and Georgia gathered yesterday at Grant park in its seventh annual reunion. The Nisbet family was present at the first assembly six years ago. They only responded to the roll call Thursday. Dr. J. H. Nisbet, aged 53 years, and Mrs. S. H. Nisbet, 52 years of age, both residing in Hanover, Va., and both in excellent health, were eight generations of the Nisbet family to attend and the day was most pleasantly spent. A census made of the family during the day indicates more than 500 living within the eight generations.

BANKERS OF SOUTH ENDORSE WILSON

Washington, August 7.—Representatives of thirty-six southern cities gathered at the treasury department today to discuss with Secretary McAdoo and Assistant Secretary Williams plans for the distribution of the south's share of the $100,000,000 of government funds about to be deposited in banks throughout the agricultural section of the country to aid in financing the fall movement of crops.

Arrangements for handling the money were agreed upon tentatively. The final plans will be discussed and adopted until after conference to be held at the department tomorrow with bankers. The southern bankers asked for about half of the total amount to be deposited. It was agreed that one-half the amount given to each bank should be deposited in August and the remainder in September, and that the money should be returned to the treasury 25 per cent by December 15, 25 per cent by February 15, 25 per cent by March 15, and 25 per cent by May 15.

Bankers Land Administration.

At the conclusion of the conference the bankers were assured of the administration's appreciation of the administration's proposed relief and agreeing to the terms and conditions outlined. The bankers also, by resolution, expressed confidence in the administration and the belief that its cooperation in assisting the government of the country was an indication of its desire to faithfully serve the needs of the whole country.

Wilson's Talk to Bankers.

While the president's remarks were of a confidential character and the bankers were loath to discuss them, the president told the delegation that the banks of the country would be treated on an equal basis. He made it plain that the purpose of this administration was to bring about a balance between banks in any section of the country and the government. $2,500,000 WANTED BY ATLANTA BANKS

Robert F. Maddox Puts in the Bid for Federal Money.

By John C. Gorman, Jr. Washington, August 7.—(Special.)—Atlanta wants $2,500,000 of the $100,000,000 of government funds which Mr. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, proposed to deposit in southern and western banks to help move this fall's crop. The bid was put in today by Robert F. Maddox, vice president of the American National Bank. Maddox asked for $1,000,000 and August for $1,500,000. Savannah was not represented at today's conference and made no request.

In writing the claims of Atlanta Mr. Maddox mentioned her great banking power and her large commercial and agricultural interests. He says the money could be quickly distributed from Atlanta to a large agricultural section. He was most pleased at the outcome of today's conference and endorsing the proposed deposit of government funds. The treasury department wishes it understood that this deposit of between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 is primarily to aid in the movement of crops this fall. It is not to be used for speculative purposes and must be paid back to the treasury by December 15, 25 per cent by February 15, 25 per cent by March 15, and 25 per cent by May 15.

United States Trade at High Water Mark

Washington, August 7.—The trade of the United States in the past fiscal year was $1,500,000,000, the highest in our history. The year's total reached a momentary total of $4,200,000,000. The year's total reached a momentary total of $4,200,000,000. The year's total reached a momentary total of $4,200,000,000. The year's total reached a momentary total of $4,200,000,000. The year's total reached a momentary total of $4,200,000,000.

How Deposits Will Be Made.

It is proposed that one-half of the amount deposited to each bank will be deposited with that bank in the month of August. The funds deposited, 25 per cent shall be returned by December 15, 25 per cent by February 15, 25 per cent by March 15, and 25 per cent by May 15. Some of the bankers present expressed a desire to return the entire deposits on or before January 15. The president of the American Union building, just before his address in which he emphasized the determination of the government to protect and maintain the currency, declared that all of its obligations, direct and indirect, would be fully and faithfully carried out.

JUDGES COERCED BY FEDERAL SPIES

So Senator Borah Charges. Says Department of Justice Has Probed Judges to Influence Their Decisions.

Washington, August 7.—The flat charge that department of justice agents had investigated federal judges to influence their action in cases in which the government was interested, was made in the senate today by Senator Borah and endorsed, partially, at least, by Senator Norris.

Senator Borah's charge was brought today by a report from Attorney General McReynolds, responding to a senate resolution asking where federal agents were investigating judges. The resolution reflected some sentiment against the department of justice. The speaker of the senate, whose court had been investigated and who had attacked the department of justice in a public speech.

Mr. Borah Responded with his Charge.

The attorney general's reply to the inquiry was that any report that the federal department of justice was maintaining a system of espionage over judges was entirely without foundation. Mr. Borah responded with his charge. "I know this is a very serious charge," said he, "but I am so reliably informed that I make the statement that within the last four or six years special agents have carried on such investigations with a view to influencing judges." Senator Norris declared he did not have all the information Senator Borah had, but that he believed his statements were based on fact.

Senator Borah's Charge was Characterized as Startling by Senators

"Lawful and Substantial. The latter declared it needed investigation, and that if such ' sinister influences' continued, the ' soul of the republic was in sight.' Senator Smith Waste Facts. Senator Hoke Smith asked Senator Borah for the exact time when federal agents had been making efforts to influence judges in behalf of government cases. "I think it has been going on more or less continually for the last four or five years," responded Mr. Borah. "These judges are gradually under the control of the department as far as promotion and demotion is concerned," said Senator Borah. "I have been made to know what the great desire in cases, and what kind of a decision the government desires handed down. If we are going to have a judiciary subject to secret influences, I am in favor of popular election and recall of judges." Senator Cull of Rhode Island declared that in his thirty-one years' experience on the federal bench in New England never had he seen

MADE BY THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE TO INFLUENCE THE JUDGES.

He knew, however, that special agents had been sent to proceed of any of the courts of justice especially. No final action was taken on the attorney general's report.

No Probe of Judges.

"No inspectors or other agents are appointed by the attorney general or by the department of justice especially to investigate subjects that it is the duty of the department to follow," said the attorney general's report. "The constitution provides that it is impossible to be fairly executed. It is impossible for him to discharge this obligation unless the judges whom he appoints are faithful to the trust imposed upon them, and consequently it has become highly important that he should know the real facts in reference to charges preferred against them."

The Keynote of Modern Business Is "Service"

TODAY'S PROGRAM OF VAST IMPORT

Subjects Scheduled Promise Valuable Discussion—Main Topic Is Proposed, Local Merchants' Associations.

The complete program for the session in the Auditorium this morning given herewith, shows that it will be the most important meeting of the convention. The last session of the week, there are many subjects listed which will certainly arouse big interest in all who hear them. The speakers who are announced are all men who command the most attentive hearings at all times and it is certain that there will be a bigger crowd than ever in Taft hall when the meeting is called to order.

Probably the most important topic of the entire convention is the concluding one on this program. All the discussion in the world is of little use unless suitable steps are taken to bring about permanent good as a result. The idea of organizing permanent local merchants' associations in each district or county ought to be an ever-lasting benefit as a result of the work done. It is to be hoped that something of this nature will be done.

AN INSPIRATION. Merchant Whose Career Should Be Inspiration to Young Men.

There was a merchant in the city yesterday afternoon, the convention who was induced to tell a few facts about his career. He is a man of vast interest and are here given as a source of inspiration to any young man who feels that he is starting out in life under too big a handicap and that the odds are against him.

The merchant referred to is F. T. Davies, of the Flower Branch, Ga. Mr. Davies is the proprietor of a general merchandise store there, and while not a multi-millionaire, is regarded as a very well-to-do citizen. Mr. Davies states that he was brought up on a farm and followed the plow into the city at an early age. He started in business for himself with little or no capital, and his first schooling at a very short interval of $116. He has been in business for forty years, has never had a partner and for that reason has been in exactly the same location. So when the young man says he lacks capital or education for him, think of F. T. Davies, who Flower Branch, and remember what he has done. Doubtless Mr. Davies could have been an exceedingly wealthy man by this time if his ambitions had run that way. But he is a broad, Christian gentleman and no needy fellow being was ever turned away without being helped to better things. Also he has not hoarded his money, but has enjoyed every day he has lived, and what more could any man ask.

BIG CROWD HEARS THURSDAY SPEAKERS

Buying and Selling—The Fundamentals of Business Ably Discussed.

When the program committee for the Merchants and Manufacturers' association drew up the list of subjects for yesterday's convention, they were got down to bed rock in the matter of vital questions for the wide-awake merchant of the south. Each subject as "Merchandising as a Career," "When and How to Buy," and "Keeping Up Sales and Keeping Down Accumulations of Stock" are matters which every merchant takes home to himself, and which, discussed as they were yesterday, are bound to prove of big interest to all who hear or take part in the speaking.

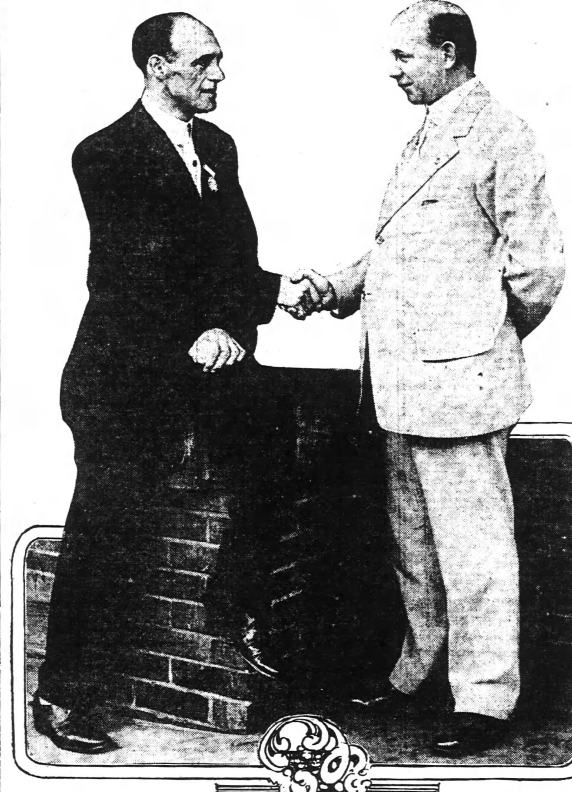

W. W. Orr, secretary and treasurer of the Home Dress Clothing company, spoke on the first subject. He said that today is essentially a buying and selling day. The day has passed, said he, when we look to political big game for our ideals. We are getting rather to the big and successful business men are the men whose lives are an inspiration.

Chili Con Carne

W. T. Cawthon, representing J. H. Hardy, of Glen Hill, Ga., was one of Thursday's speakers. He discussed several fine bills of goods. Mr. Cawthon stated and stated that he would probably be in the city several days before the convention closed.

C. W. McClure, president of the Merchants Ten Cent company, will leave the city tonight and will go to Indianapolis in that city for a day or two. In Indianapolis he will preside at the meeting of the National Association of Five and Ten Cent stores, of which he is president. From there Mr. McClure will go to New York, where he sails for Europe on the steamship America, of the Hamburg-American line, on August 21. In Europe Mr. McClure will attend the Leipzig fair.

"WELL DONE," SAY BOTH

NORMAN H. JOHNSON AND HARRY T. MOORE shaking hands after yesterday's convention. Mr. Johnson is congratulating Mr. Moore on his work for the convention as secretary of the M. & M. association, and Mr. Moore is reciprocating the congratulations by referring to the splendid speech Mr. Johnson had just made at the Thursday session.

been exceptionally well pleased with the numbers of merchants and also Atlanta residents who have visited his firm's display of their stoves and ranges at 97 Peachtree street. They arranged this display for the convenience in order to show their splendid line of Atlanta-made goods closer to the merchants' eye.

Ward-Traut company report that their oldest customers in the house yesterday at one time. Every one bought a good bill and Mr. Ward states that the outlook is brilliant.

John Silvey & Co. have been constantly busy ever since Monday morning waiting on their customers. They have every salesman in practically, and yet each one is kept on the keen jump attending to the house full of merchants which they have all the time. Banks Whitman says that while Atlanta has grown on the outside, there is no change for any kind of goods to grow under their feet during the convention, at any rate.

TENTACLES OF LOBBY REACHED EVERYWHERE

So Former Employee of the Manufacturers Tell the House Probers.

Washington, August 5.—The house lobby committee today heard James L. Ewell, a former employee of the National Association of Manufacturers, describe its activities.

"They reached out into almost every matter connected with the commerce and business of the country," said Ewell.

The internal workings of the National Association of Manufacturers were also explained to the committee today by Ewell, who was formerly manager of a trade publication issued in connection with the organization.

Colonel Martin M. Mulhall, at which he was present.

Lacked Money to Buy Democrats. "On one occasion," he said, "I know there was a tremendous fight on in the district of Representative Hughes, of New Jersey, I was talking to Mr. Bird when Mr. Mulhall came into the room in his characteristic way he shouted:

"Well, I could have done better if I had more money. I didn't have enough money. There were plenty of Democrats over there and I didn't have enough money to buy them. I think I did do well with the money I had, don't you?"

On another occasion Ewell said he had heard Mulhall demand $2,000 from Bird "for work in Washington." Bird promised him the money, the witness declared.

Ewell told the committee of the circumstances of the resignation of Marshall Cushing as secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers. He said Cushing declined to tell the officers and directors the details of the expenditure of money in a campaign to re-elect Representative Littlefield, of Maine.

Wanted to Know About Money. "They wanted to know just what he had written the money back," said Ewell. "He said he thought it would be better if he had more money, and he told them. He told me he would not think it likely that Littlefield's election. He wouldn't tell the directors, so he resigned.

During the dismissal of E. A. Cooley and the appointment of F. F. Porter in 1909, as a part of an association campaign for membership, Ewell quoted Cooley as saying that "Porter could get the money, but he didn't like his tactics."

The committee was anxious to locate Cooley and probably will call him later. Robert McCarter, for the National Association of Manufacturers, questioned Ewell about an unsuccessful suit which he prosecuted against the National Association of Manufacturers for some $50,000 which was discharged. Mr. Bird said to Mr. "People are beginning to elect the power of the National Association of Manufacturers. A committee of the association, before Mr. Taft was nominated, went to him and to the convention committee on resolutions and told them that if they put any such labor plank in the platform as was suggested by Gompers and the American Federation of Labor, we would defeat them, but that if they did not and left it to the democrats to support such planks, the democrats would be defeated.

"Then with a little smile Mr. Bird said: 'That plank didn't go in and we felt pretty well satisfied at having put Mr. Taft over.'"

The committee has no further witness available at this time, and probably will not meet again before Monday. On the senate side the committee

CURVE BALL BRINGS PRICE A SUSPENSION

Southpaw and Manager Billy Smith Indulge in Wordy War at Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., August 5.—(Special.)—The curve ball which Gilbert Fry served up to Callahan in the tenth inning of today's game, resulting in Dave's double to the dump, sending Williams across the pan with the winning tally, cost the Cracker southpaw an indefinite suspension.

Manager Smith grew very wrathful with Gilbert asserting that he was threatened to send him home at once, if he went in to pitch, having only started to warm up in the 'Y's' half of the tenth and was far from being right. He and his boss engaged in a wordy war, but the southpaw lost and found himself compelled to turn in his uniform.

The Cracker boss is trying to borrow Daley from the 'Y's, but Schwartz is not inclined to disturb the 'Y's' present line-up.

Continued its examination of James W. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, and will resume questioning him tomorrow.

Gov. Sulzer Charged With Misusing Money

Question of Impeaching Governor to Be Put Up to Legislature.

New York, August 7.—While the Frayley legislative committee's investigation of the campaign funds and contributions of Governor Sulzer stands today incomplete, it was learned that the committee plans within ten days to select, from the various instances where it has been testified contributions were made that were never reported by the governor, several that appear to show that Mr. Sulzer did not comply with the law and place them before the legislators. The committee hopes that the assembly will vote on the question whether impeachment proceedings will be brought against the governor.

Money Used to Buy Stocks. A check for $200 made out by one John Lynn and endorsed by Governor Sulzer, was allowed to have been given for contributions to the campaign funds, a stock exchange firm, according to testimony today before the Frayley legislative committee. The firm, Borer, Glawick & Co., during the state campaign, according to Frederick L. Cowell, said to have been acting as a broker for the governor's transactions, 100 shares of "Big Four" stock, according to the testimony, through Cowell, refused to admit he acted for Governor Sulzer.

No Reply From Sulzer. A check for $200 made out by one John Lynn and endorsed by Governor Sulzer, was allowed to have been given for contributions to the campaign funds, a stock exchange firm, according to testimony today before the Frayley legislative committee. The firm, Borer, Glawick & Co., during the state campaign, according to Frederick L. Cowell, said to have been acting as a broker for the governor's transactions, 100 shares of "Big Four" stock, according to the testimony, through Cowell, refused to admit he acted for Governor Sulzer.

Could not be returned to Sulzer. Frayley's letter inviting Governor Sulzer to appear before the committee, disclosing his efforts to trace other Sulzer campaign checks. Attorney Charles Guthrie, chairman of the committee, announced that a number of checks ranging from $100 to $1,000 had passed through the firm's books since October, 1912.

A dozen or more "Wall Street bank" checks, which the committee has endorsed to have been used by Governor Sulzer, were included in the list. These include the secretary of T. Augustus Heinz and Peter Charles Guthrie, president of the American Sulzer committee, who testified that he had a cancelled check to the credit of Governor Sulzer, which he had never made a contribution to Sulzer's campaign fund.

Committee Admonished Tomorrow. The committee admonished tomorrow to release to make statement. Albany, N. Y., August 7.—Governor Sulzer declined tonight to comment on the charges against him before the Frayley committee concerning his campaign receipts and expenditures. He said that Chester C. Pratt, a contributor to the campaign, had made a statement which he said was untrue, and that he was not sure of the motives which actuated the Frayley committee; that he was not sure why the charges against the governor are being made.

Some of these charges are false; some are true, but they are not explained, and some of the charges are so explained that they are so explained that the governor is wholly ignorant. The committee has made a statement of all the facts which were made just as soon as they were made, and the committee has the facts. Money was received from the governor's campaign fund, and the election of which he had no knowledge. The committee has made a statement of all the facts which were made just as soon as they were made, and the committee has the facts.

This much of an explanation may be given. The committee has made a statement of all the facts which were made just as soon as they were made, and the committee has the facts. The committee has made a statement of all the facts which were made just as soon as they were made, and the committee has the facts.

Incubator Chicks Turned Over to Hens to Mother. A woman contributor to the current issue of Farm and Fireside says that she frequently turns over to her chicks the care of her incubator. She writes as follows:

"I have found that it takes a good deal of time to raise the chicks in the brooder proper, and even then many die of starvation. I have found that if I raise the chicks in the incubator, they are much better off. After they have been sitting a few days, I take them out of the incubator and place them under the hens. The next day I remove them from the nest to a little pen about six feet square made of chicken wire having a good cover over it. I have found that one hen can easily care for thirty chicks, by being confined to a small place until the chickens are six or eight weeks old.

"For the first ten days I feed some good chick food and occasionally a few drops of hard-boiled eggs mashed fine. After this age they can eat cracked corn, but if I have plenty of eggs I continue the hard-boiled egg diet until chickens are of good size."

Dangerous Cousin of House Fly. In the course of a most interesting article about the fly in the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the following description of the stable fly is given:

"The house and stable flies resemble each other very closely, but can be distinguished by a careful examination of the mouth parts. The stable fly is not able to bite, and it does not suck blood. When the house fly is at rest and you look down on it you cannot see the proboscis, but when it is in the same position you can see the proboscis projecting in front of the head. When it is in the same position you can see the proboscis projecting in front of the head."

Do They Grow? (From an August National Monthly.) Little Cal, a 4-year-old, had been leading the cemetery several times in the last of one of the bestest boys and was noticed walking in the cemetery. Finally one day he was seen with his father and asked: "Why don't you go to the cemetery?" "I don't know," he answered. "I don't know," he answered. "I don't know," he answered.

WITH HEADS SEVERED JAPANESE ARE FOUND

Salmon, Ore., August 7.—With their heads almost severed from their bodies, Roye Koda and Mrs. Fami Koda and a young child, all Japanese, were found murdered tonight in an alley near a restaurant owned by the woman's husband.

Police arrested a man who was found with two bloody knives and a revolver. The police said that they seem to have a satisfactory ally.

Knights Choose St. Paul. Boston, August 7.—After voting on the issue of whether to hold the convention in St. Paul, Minn., the Knights of Columbus in supreme convention chose St. Paul as the place for the convention to be held in 1914.

How to Take Care of Little Chickens in Hot Weather. Following is an extract from an article in the current issue of Farm and Fireside, which is entitled "How to Take Care of Little Chickens in Hot Weather."

Extreme hot weather is a worse foe to chicks of from 2 to 4 weeks of age than any other. They should never be left at that age after June unless they are in a well-shaded place. The day may suddenly turn hot, and a few hot spots may often appear, but do not kill some of a whole flock. It is better to have a whole flock of chicks in a well-shaded place than to have a few chicks in a well-shaded place and a few chicks in a hot place.

At the same time, it is better to have a few chicks in a well-shaded place than to have a few chicks in a well-shaded place and a few chicks in a hot place. It is better to have a few chicks in a well-shaded place than to have a few chicks in a well-shaded place and a few chicks in a hot place.

MARRIED MEN TRY WHITE SLAVE CASE

Only Two Bachelors on Digs Jury—Taking of Testimony Is Begun in the Sensational Case.

San Francisco, August 7.—A jury was sworn, the government stated its case and the taking of testimony was begun today in the first of the Diggins-Caminiti trials. The case was called Tuesday morning in the United States district court on an indictment charging the married men with violation of the Mann white slave law.

What Government Will Prove. Theodore Roche, special counsel for the government, set forth Tuesday morning in the United States district court on an indictment charging the married men with violation of the Mann white slave law.

That the four traveled as married couples, leaving their wives at home on a night train. That on arriving at Reno the morning of March 11, 1913, they registered at Hotel El Comodoro and occupied adjoining rooms with a bath.

That the four were in Reno for three days before they were arrested. Diggins and Roche were occupying the front room and Caminiti and Lola Norris a rear room.

That Diggins was on the night of the burglary to the officers who arrested him the morning of the 14th, and that the officers returned in the living room while the two girls dressed.

That after the return to Sacramento Diggins had written to Marjorie Washington from Berkeley advising all would and well.

London, August 7.—Colonel F. M. Cody, the famous Anglo-American aviator, was killed in an aeroplane accident at Alderhot today. In the machine with Cody was a passenger named Evans, who also was killed.

The aviator was trying out a new aeroplane when he met his death. He was seen flying over the open country, most of which is government land, in the Alderhot district and had just reached the government house when his aeroplane began traveling in a circle. He was seen to land on the ground. Several officials rushed to the spot and found the bodies of Cody and Evans lying beneath the aeroplane.

It was the most interesting figure in aviation in the British Isles. He had a record of 1,000 flights, and a very varied career behind him. He was a pilot, a writer, a lecturer, a land and very popular. He wore a sombrero, a long mustache, an imperial and a top hat, and was almost an exact replica of "Buffalo Bill."

He came to England a number of years ago from the United States, where he had been a cowboy in the West. He had a severe struggle to obtain a start in England. After living precariously for while he attracted the attention of the experts in the British war office on account of his display of natural gifts of construction and became a British subject.

He was able to build anything in the way of a flying machine of balloon.

MARRIED MEN TRY WHITE SLAVE CASE

Only Two Bachelors on Digs Jury—Taking of Testimony Is Begun in the Sensational Case.

San Francisco, August 7.—A jury was sworn, the government stated its case and the taking of testimony was begun today in the first of the Diggins-Caminiti trials. The case was called Tuesday morning in the United States district court on an indictment charging the married men with violation of the Mann white slave law.

What Government Will Prove. Theodore Roche, special counsel for the government, set forth Tuesday morning in the United States district court on an indictment charging the married men with violation of the Mann white slave law.

That the four traveled as married couples, leaving their wives at home on a night train. That on arriving at Reno the morning of March 11, 1913, they registered at Hotel El Comodoro and occupied adjoining rooms with a bath.

That the four were in Reno for three days before they were arrested. Diggins and Roche were occupying the front room and Caminiti and Lola Norris a rear room.

That Diggins was on the night of the burglary to the officers who arrested him the morning of the 14th, and that the officers returned in the living room while the two girls dressed.

That after the return to Sacramento Diggins had written to Marjorie Washington from Berkeley advising all would and well.

CODEY BRAVES AIR ONCE TOO OFTEN

London, August 7.—Colonel F. M. Cody, the famous Anglo-American aviator, was killed in an aeroplane accident at Alderhot today. In the machine with Cody was a passenger named Evans, who also was killed.

The aviator was trying out a new aeroplane when he met his death. He was seen flying over the open country, most of which is government land, in the Alderhot district and had just reached the government house when his aeroplane began traveling in a circle. He was seen to land on the ground. Several officials rushed to the spot and found the bodies of Cody and Evans lying beneath the aeroplane.

It was the most interesting figure in aviation in the British Isles. He had a record of 1,000 flights, and a very varied career behind him. He was a pilot, a writer, a lecturer, a land and very popular. He wore a sombrero, a long mustache, an imperial and a top hat, and was almost an exact replica of "Buffalo Bill."

He came to England a number of years ago from the United States, where he had been a cowboy in the West. He had a severe struggle to obtain a start in England. After living precariously for while he attracted the attention of the experts in the British war office on account of his display of natural gifts of construction and became a British subject.

He was able to build anything in the way of a flying machine of balloon.
