He Says He Will Not Tamely Submit to Criticism of His Career—Speer Says Country Will Be Amazed.

By John Corrigan, Jr. Washington, August 30.—(Special.) Judge Speer is quoted in The New York Sun today as denouncing the department of justice "spies" for the report, made as the result of the investigation of his career on the bench.

It was said he would not "submit tamely" to the criticisms of his private and judicial career. Influential litigants in his court, against whom adverse decisions had been rendered, were charged with responsibility for the "clamor" against him.

FIGHT WITH GANG HAS FATAL ENDING

John T. Miller, Watchman for A. B. & A. Building, Shoots Down Lee Maddox in the Waiting Room.

Maddox died at 2 o'clock this morning at Grady hospital.

Attacked, he claims, by rowdies as he attempted to close the waiting room of the A. B. & A. building, on Walton street, at midnight, John T. Miller, watchman, fired into the gang, fatally wounding Lee Maddox, a young man apparently about 25 years of age.

The bullet penetrated the skull and brain. The wounded man was rushed to the Grady hospital dying. Miller surrendered to Policeman T. D. Shaw, and was carried to police headquarters. He is held under a technical charge of suspicion.

The only eye-witness, members of the gang who assailed the watchman, escaped through the rear of the building and into Fairlie street. Detectives have been stationed at the hospital to investigate every visitor who inquires of the injured youth's condition, hoping to catch others of the crowd.

Maddox Still Unconscious. Nothing is known of Maddox. He was unconscious from the time the wound was inflicted. Until a late hour no inquiries had been made for him at Grady. He was well dressed.

The watchman was badly beaten by the gang, which he stated, numbered six or more. His face is swollen and scratched, the left eye was blackened and the right eye was reddened by finger gouging.

According to his story, which he told Night Chief Jett upon arriving at headquarters, Miller had gone to the waiting rooms of the A. B. & A. building, where passengers catch the Marietta suburban cars of the Georgia Railway and Power company. The last car had run at midnight, and the two rooms were dark except for the reflection of a nearby street lamp.

He closed the colored waiting room and crossed to the other. The gang of youths were talking loudly and cursing, he said, and all had been drinking heavily. The watchman stepped to the doorway and asked them to vacate. He was told that they did not have to leave until they wanted to go.

Threatened to Call Police. Miller stepped into the room, telling the crowd that if they did not leave, he would call the police. He was grabbed by the shoulders and forced to the floor. The entire gang piled upon him. He was humiliated on the head and face severely. As he tried to wrench himself loose, his revolver dropped from his holster.

One of the youngsters reached for it as he did, Miller grabbed the butt end. One of his assailants caught the barrel and tried to wrest it away. The watchman pulled the trigger. The hand relaxed and the bullet and the youth's body fell across the night watchman pulled the trigger once. The bullet took to his heels.

The wounded man lay bleeding and unheeded, containing many women who were shouting. As he crawled through the entrance, Policeman Shaw stepped up. Shaw was patrolling his beat over on Walton street when he heard the shot. He ran into Fairlie street and through the rear end of the car shed. Two young men were running from the vicinity of the white waiting room.

Turned Two Men Loose. Shaw grabbed them. A third man, bringing up the rear, called out: "Them ain't the ones. The man what did the shooting's back there with the fellow what's shot."

He called an ambulance and took Miller in custody, carrying him to headquarters in a cab. A large crowd gathered, containing many women who were shouting in nearby clothing from nearby boarding houses where they had been awakened by the shot.

Detectives are trying to find the dying boy's relatives. Hospital authorities said they cannot survive the night. The bullet entered his forehead between the eyes.

HAROLD LEWIS DROWNS IN HARBOR AT BUFFALO

His Second Attempt at Suicide, According to Asa Mattice, His Uncle.

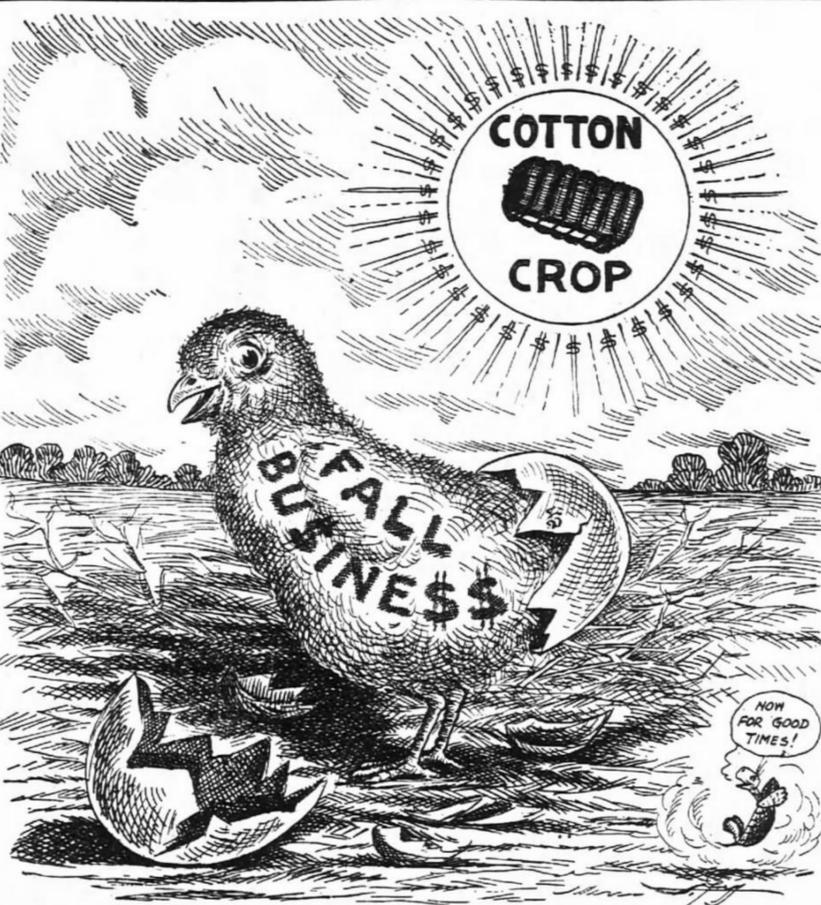

Buffalo, N. Y., August 30.—(Special.) Harold B. Lewis, son of late Brigadier General John R. Lewis, of Atlanta, Ga., committed suicide here last night by drowning in the harbor at the foot of Porter avenue.

Adams Smith, watchman for the Empire Construction company, notified the police that the man jumped into the river. On the bank was found a straw hat, gray coat, pair of tan shoes and bank book bearing name Harold B. Lewis, also his note.

Will finder please notify Asa M. Mattice, 50 Locust street, Lockport, N. Y.

Mattice, who is Lewis' uncle, declared Lewis tried to kill himself six years ago in Philadelphia. When the body is recovered the burial will be in Atlanta.

MRS. ARMOR IS NAMED BY SECRETARY BRYAN

"Georgia Cyclone" Will Represent United States at World Congress on Alcoholism.

Washington, D. C., August 30.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, of Eastman, Ga., known as the "Georgia Cyclone," and one of the leading prohibition workers of the country, has been designated as a delegate to the fourteenth international congress on alcoholism to be held September 15, at Milan, Italy.

Congress has appropriated $750 to defray the traveling expenses of each of the delegates. Mrs. Armor and Mrs. Susan B. Elaine, of New York, are the only two women delegates.

Mrs. Armor is well known in Washington, having appeared frequently before committees of congress in behalf of the Webb-Stephens liquor bill, and delivered a number of lectures in this city.

She was urged upon Secretary of State Bryan for appointment by Senator Hoke Smith.

"UNCLE DUDLEY" DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Body Will Be Taken to Macon for Funeral Services and Interment.

John G. Postell, affectionately known to his intimates as "Uncle Dudley," editor of the Postory Department of The Constitution, and a man universally esteemed and beloved by all who knew him, died at his home, 39 South Gordon street, Saturday night at 11 o'clock, surrounded by his sorrowing family.

Mr. Postell was 73 years of age, and about two months ago was compelled to give up active work. He had been confined to his bed for several weeks. Of a genial, sunny nature, with a kind, cheery word for everyone with whom he came in contact, Mr. Postell had endeared himself to a circle of friends who will deeply mourn his loss.

Served in Civil War. Mr. Postell was born in May, 1841, in Orangeburg, S. C., where he made his home for many years. When the war between the states was declared, Mr. Postell enlisted in the Washington Light Infantry of South Carolina, better known as the "Handsome Legion," and served throughout the entire war. He took great pride in stating that he served in every campaign as a private, shouldering his musket and fighting for the south with the other non-commissioned men. He was a member of Macon Camp, U. C. V.

Shortly after the war "Uncle Dudley" engaged in the railroad business in his home state. He was married in 1867 to Miss Lizzie Walton, of Fort Valley, Ga. About thirty years ago, Mr. Postell removed with his family to Macon, where he continued in the railroad business for a number of years, giving up this work to engage in writing expert advice on the care of poultry.

Expert on Poultry. He was considered by a large number of people the highest authority on poultry in the south, and was always in demand as a judge at all big poultry shows held in this part of the country. While in Macon, where he resided for 22 years before coming to Atlanta five years ago, Mr. Postell was for many years chaplain of the city fire department.

Mr. Postell is survived by his wife, two daughters, Miss Mary Postell, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Charles C. Martin, of Macon, one son, R. C. Postell, of Tifton, Ga., and two sisters, Misses Lou and Julia Postell, of Macon.

The body will be taken to Macon for the funeral services, which will be held in the Mulberry Street Methodist church, of Macon, of which church he was an active member Monday afternoon. Rev. W. N. Ainsworth, pastor of the church, will officiate. The interment will be in the family plot of the Rose Hill cemetery.

COMETS INFLUENCE ACTION OF THE SUN

San Jose, Cal., August 30.—Professor A. Orta, of the observatory of the University of Santa Clara, today announced that he had discovered that the activity of the sun in phenomena, known as sun spots, is intimately related to the proximity of comets.

He said that during a period of 154 years of date there have been 228 comets (their return included), which apparently have influenced the action of the sun, having their perihelion coincidentally with the minima of spot frequency.

BEATEN BY ROBBERS, MAN OF 60 MAY DIE

Found Unconscious on Street With No Papers to Give Clue to His Identity.

A well-dressed man, apparently about 60 years of age, was found by the police Saturday night shortly before midnight, lying on the curb near the corner of Deatur and Butler streets in a serious condition from a knife wound in the back.

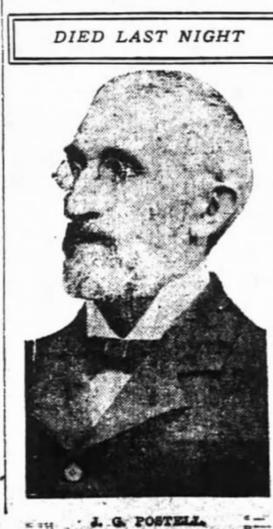

Absolutely nothing was found on the man which will prove a clue in aiding the police in his identification, and the entire affair is shrouded in deepest mystery. It is the theory of the police that he was set upon by robbers, who took everything from his pockets after inflicting the wound.

The man is said by the authorities of Grady hospital, where he was taken for treatment, to be in a most serious condition, and it is more than possible that he will die from the effects of the wound without regaining consciousness. Detectives have been set to work on the case, but unless the assailants can be run to earth, the police have but little hope of solving the mystery of the man's identity.

AVIATOR IS INJURED BY FALL OF AEROPLANE

London, August 30.—Andrew De Buissey, an aviator, and two passengers, were badly injured by the fall of an aeroplane this evening. De Buissey had raced his machine at Hendon in the afternoon, finishing second in the contest. He then started for Aldershot with the two passengers to deliver the machine to the army authorities. Near Maidenhead the engine went wrong. De Buissey tried to volplane, but in the descent the machine tumbled fifty feet from the ground. De Buissey, who was pinned under the wreckage, was the most severely hurt of the trio.

DIED LAST NIGHT

HUERTA RECRUITING ARMY AND IS PLACING TROOPS ALONG AMERICAN BORDER

ACTUAL SITUATION OF HUERTA REGIME WILL BE REVEALED

President Wilson Thinks That Something Will Happen in the Mexican Republic in a Short While.

BETTER FOR AMERICANS TO GET OUT OF COUNTRY

When the Expected Explosion Occurs It Is Said That a Discontented Army Might Be Uncontrollable.

Washington, August 30.—With President Wilson at the summer capital in Cornish, N. H., Secretary of State Bryan lecturing in Pennsylvania and Maryland, and the secretary to the president, Mr. Tumulty, spending the week-end in New Jersey, the waiting policy of this government in the Mexican situation becomes more emphasized today.

Before Secretary Bryan and Mr. Tumulty left Washington early in the day, messages were received from John Lind, the special American envoy at Vera Cruz, which added assurances to the already confident attitude of the administration. Secretary Bryan asserted nothing had been received to cause any discouragement.

Lind at Vera Cruz. Mr. Lind, it was authoritatively stated, had no thought of returning to the United States at this time, and was ready to proceed again to Mexico City at a moment's notice. It was the general opinion, however, that he would remain at Vera Cruz for some time, keeping in touch, through Charge O'Shaughnessy, of the American embassy in Mexico City, with the actual condition of the Huerta provisional government and aiding American citizens who desired to return to this country.

President Wilson's urgent appeal to Americans in Mexico to leave the country was declared to have been determined upon after wise counsel, not alone because of the present situation in Mexico but because of conditions which might develop in spite of the efforts of the provisional government to prevent any harm coming to foreigners.

Early Developments Expected. It was recalled that President Wilson, in his message to congress Wednesday, laid special emphasis on the suggestion that "the situation of the authorities at Mexico City will presently be given a little more time to work itself out in the new circumstances." That the administration is content to give the situation plenty of time to work itself out is demonstrated by the present attitude of the president and his advisers, and regarding the special envoy Lind remaining in Vera Cruz. Under no circumstances, it was learned, would Mr. Lind leave Mexico at this time. Not only would his departure be an indication that this government had abandoned hope in the situation, but it is thought it would have a depressing effect upon Americans who choose to remain in the country.

The provisional Mexican government has been pointed out, is encountering financial difficulties, and there have been intimations that there might be a change in the government which would open the way to negotiations upon a definite basis that would lead to an election for the Mexican presidency under constitutional regulation.

With Huerta Eliminated. Washington officials seem to be convinced that Senator Gombos's second note gave assurance that Huerta would not be a candidate for election under any circumstances. With Huerta removed from the possibilities, the administration has been suggested with strict adherence to the fundamental grounds of the original proposals to the defunct Mexican government. But until some such development, the administration has ground for the belief that there is danger to Americans remaining in Mexico, because of the straits in which the provisional government finds itself. A discontented army it has been suggested, might become uncontrollable.

Secretary Bryan, before he left Washington for the day, did not discuss the protest which came from Mexico City against President Wilson's advice to Americans to leave the country.

RESENTMENT SHOWN AT ORDER FOR EXODUS

New York, August 30.—President Wilson's recommendation that American residents of Mexico leave the country, is "resented" by the American colony in Mexico City; few Americans intend to leave; if they do leave, their welfare and financial interests "would be seriously prejudiced"; the president's action was "unwarranted" and due to "simple ignorance of what is actually transpiring in Mexico"—this summarizes the contents of various telegrams of protest received in the city yesterday and today from Mexico City.

Senator Sebastian Camacho, president of the Mexican senate, and one of Mexico's elder statesmen, telegraphed Every Planter in the Mexican Republic Is Ordered to Arm and to Equip for Service Ten Men.

ALL ABLE-BODIED MEN ARE FORCED INTO ARMY

Streets of Mexico City Daily Traversed by Marching Students—Hundreds of Americans Fleeing From Mexico.

Mexico City, August 30.—With negotiations between the United States and Mexico looking to a continuation of peace, at a standstill, Mexico has issued orders for a new disposition of the troops and for the militarization of all able-bodied men in each portion of the republic under control of the central government.

To Guard the Coast. There also will be a general shifting of headquarters to cities along both coasts and the northern frontier. General Robles, who has been in command of operations in the south against the Zapata forces, has been transferred to Acapulco, on the west coast. General Joaquin Maas will go from Guadalajara to Manzanillo. General Eugenio Racon will be sent to Progreso on the coast of Yucatan. General Mercado will be transferred from Chihuahua to Juarez.

It is announced that to each general have been sent instructions of importance, but their character is not revealed. The war department, in explanation of these changes, say that the revolutionary conditions no longer demand the presence of these men in the interior, and that their new positions will enable them better to guard against smugglers.

To Drill All Able-Bodied Men.

Recently orders were issued to every governor and jefe politico to organize and drill all able-bodied men under their respective jurisdictions for the ostensible purpose of taking part in parades September 16, National Independence day. The minister of interior, Dr. Uruitia, has notified every planter in the republic to arm and equip for service ten men. This is for the purpose of defending individual properties against bandits. It being pointed out that the revolutionary conditions had so far abated that the only menace to these properties was from bandits.

Students Parade Streets. The streets of the capital are daily traversed by marching students, armed with rifles under officers of the regular army. Not infrequently whole companies of boys from 15 to 15 years are seen and occasionally these pass a company of poorly dressed youths, sterner typical of the bootblack and newsboy element.

These have been caught by the wave of enthusiasm, but the parading students, while professing willingness, have been left little choice since the government order that students in all government schools shall be subjected to military training.

The minister of foreign affairs, Senator Gombos, is still awaiting a reply from the American envoy, Mr. Lind, to his last note, but if there have been any further exchanges, the fact has not been admitted by either the foreign office or the embassy. Many telegrams and letters congratulating General Huerta on the "patriotic and virile stand" as he has taken before the "colours of the north," continue to be published.

$25,000 REBATE ASKED BY MAYOR

J. G. Woodward Says Atlanta Should Get Lower Price for Fire and Police Alarm System by Cash Payment.

After a two-hour conference with representatives of the Okenite company, of New York, the corporation affiliated with the Gramwell company in the contract for installing the new $106,000 fire and police system, Mayor James G. Woodward stated that he demanded a rebate of $25,000 from the contract price on the basis of a cash settlement.

The mayor's proposal is being carried to New York by J. H. Underhill, the representative of both corporations. He declared that negotiations will be opened with the city immediately upon his arrival.

System to Cost $1,000. If the mayor's demand is assented to the city will get the system for $81,000. Under the contract the city is obligated to pay $106,000 in installments covering a period of five years. The payments carry interest at the rate of 7 per cent, equivalent to $12,000.

"I am not taking any unfair advantage of the company," Mayor Woodward explained Saturday. "My inaugural address, in January, I told the contractors and the city officials that there were discrepancies in the contract, and that I would make an investigation. I called attention at the time to the fact that the contract was based on a moral obligation and that I was going to oppose it. I am now preparing to carry out the promise I made to the people."

Mayor Woodward is also informed that the city will not pay $50 per box for signal stations, for the reason that the patent on the boxes has expired and the price has been reduced $50 on each box.

Bids Not Itemized. "I was amazed by the fact that the bids were not submitted in itemized form. The Okenite company bid on the cable and wiring in a lump sum, and the same thing was done in the instance of the Gramwell company, bidding on the fixtures and electrical features. There is no way of even estimating, by reading the bids, just how much the city is paying the Okenite company per foot for installing the cable and wiring, and how much the city is paying for switch boards."

While Mayor Woodward has bared his proposition of a settlement for $81,000 cash, he will not be asked to entertain any proposition which carries a rebate of $14,500, or thereabouts. The new fire alarm system is nearly complete, according to City Electrician R. C. Turner, who, despite Mayor Woodward's assertion that the system is not the best to be secured for the money, declares that it is one of the best and that the city is getting value. He takes the position, however, that Mayor Woodward is correct in his demand for a rebate for cash. The city has already paid the company $6,000 on the contract. The payment represents work and material furnished on estimated by the city electrician.

WITNESSES IN HARRY K. THAW'S CASE

He threatened to divulge the entire escape conspiracy. Sheriff B. H. Kelsea, of New Hampshire, the man who discovered Thaw on a train bound for Canada, and brought about his capture, is shown with Chief of Police John Boeadreau, of Coaticook, Canada. Chief Boeadreau was the one who actually arrested Thaw. These two officials each claim the $500 reward offered for Thaw's capture by Superintendent Kieb, of Matteawan. Two of the immigration officials who figure in the case are T. B. Williams and E. Blake Robertson.

Scared to Death.

Seabright, N. J., August 30.—Mrs. B. C. McLaughlin, an aged resident of New York, here on a visit, was scared to death by a clap of thunder during a severe electrical storm which swept the northern New Jersey coast early today.

PLANNING UNIFORMITY OF COURT PROCEDURE

Interstate Conference of Judges at Montreal—To Eliminate Delay. Montreal, August 30.—The first interstate conference of judges since the United States of America became a nation met here tonight to plan for uniformity of judicial procedure. The conference was preliminary to the annual meeting of the American Bar Association, which opens here Monday. Every state was represented, most of them by the presiding judges of their courts of last resort. There were present also judges representing the nine federal circuit courts of appeals and the federal courts of Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. The aim of the conference is to eliminate delay and reduce the expense of litigation. The judges wish to have the courts released from some of the statutes that now bind them and left free to make their own rules. It was suggested that the supreme court have superintendence over the rules of pleading and practice in all federal and state courts and gradually bring about uniform court procedure. Thomas W. Shelton, of Virginia, chairman of the commission on uniform judicial procedure of the bar association, presided. In his address, Mr. Shelton predicted that the gathering would mean to interstate judicial relations what the Mount Vernon conference of 1785 between Virginia and Maryland meant to interstate commerce relations. The practical men of commerce, said Mr. Shelton, are demanding the injection of practical common sense in the machinery of the courts and congress, and the legislatures are being called upon to give the courts the necessary power. He advocated "a fixed system of interstate judicial relations," declaring that it ought to be quite as possible and even less difficult than the present plan of interstate commerce relations. Instead of thousands of merchants, manufacturers and bankers and hundreds of railroads and other human endeavors creating difficult complications to solve, there would be forty-eight supreme appellate courts and nine federal circuit courts of appeals to agree upon any given principle. "We need a little more friendly gossiping by the judges over the back fences," he added.

EUBANKS TO BE NEXT HEAD OF KHORASSANS

Now Occupies Second Highest Office in the Imperial Palace. Kibla Temple to Hold Seance. On next Wednesday night the votaries of Kibla Temple No. 123, Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan, will hold the first of their fall ceremonies in their hall in the Kieer building, at which time more than fifty Tysons will be put through the trying ordeal of becoming acquainted with the mysterious customs of this Arabic order. One feature of interest to all the votaries will be the report of the GEORGE EUBANKS, Who will be elected Imperial Prince of Knights of Khorassan at the next national meeting.

AMERICUS WAREHOUSES RECEIVE 2,200 BALES

Americus, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—The close of the cotton tonight shows total warehouse receipts of 2,200 bales of cotton to date. Five hundred bales were marketed at Americus warehouses today. Farmers evince perfect willingness to sell cotton at current prices which is 12 cents for best grades. Recent rains will improve conditions of cotton of late planting.

T. C. Miller Returns.

T. C. Miller, deputy clerk of the superior court, who, through his position as filing clerk, comes into contact with Atlanta's large array of attorneys and newspaper men, and is liked by all, is back at his desk after two weeks' visit in New York. During his trip, Mr. Miller took several delightful excursions on the Hudson river and out into the sound, and has returned thoroughly rested and refreshed.

Pistol-Toter Nabbed.

Griffin, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—Columbus Collier, a negro living near Orchard Hill, was arrested last night at Holly Grove Baptist church by Sheriff Hutson and Bailiff Leon. The negro was the happy owner of a new automatic pistol, and nothing seemed to please him better than to occasionally get in a crowd about the church after the services were over and fire off his gun at random.

Girls' Night School Opens Sept. 8; All Welcome—No Tuition Asked

The girls' night school, of Atlanta, which is directed and maintained under the public school system, will open Monday night, September 8, in viaduct place, the Emery-Stelner building, the locality selected because of its proximity to the business institutions of the city, where many young women are employed. The purpose of the school is to help the young woman worker who has been unable to continue her study at school during the day, because of the necessity to earn a wage. There is no tuition charged, the school being free to all, and providing every opportunity for the girl at night. That the one who attends day school has there are countless girls in Atlanta today who regretfully leave school before they have acquired the elementary principles of education, and to these the night school proves a blessing.

Course in Shorthand. The school not only gives the regular grammar course, but in addition furnishes a course in shorthand writing and typewriting. There are unfortunately too many young women struggling in shorthand writing and typewriting, whose instruction is limited, and who consequently make little advancement, and stand little show of increased wage.

The girls who have come to Atlanta and not knowing well the English language and who must work, have their chance in the night school. There is a special class, a special teacher provided for them, and they have been among the most efficient workers in the school. Last year there were girls representing as many as six nations in the school, each one improving herself in the line of work she had chosen.

The supper provided. In order to save the girl who attends the school the hurried trip home for supper after work, and the return through the city, provision has been made to supply supper at a nominal cost. There is also a rest room. The regular classes are on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursday and Fridays, with Wednesday reserved for the shorthand and typewriting classes. Young women and their parents are invited to visit the school and see for themselves the advantages of it. Mrs. Oscar Gamble is principal, with two competent assistants, Miss Evin Motes and Miss Rosa Sugarman.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK TO SOUTH SIDE CLUB

The South Side Improvement club will hold a mass meeting at the Pryor Street school next Thursday evening. Mayor James G. Woodward has been asked to attend the meeting, and the various candidates who have announced for council and the aldermanic board will be on hand to make speeches. The meeting has been called for the purpose of arousing interest in the improvement of South Pryor street, also to give impetus to the movement for greater improvement on the south side. A committee has been at work for weeks making a canvass among the property owners between Georgia avenue and Ridge avenue to get their signatures to an agreement to donate strips from their property in order that Pryor street might be widened. About 75 per cent of the owners have agreed to waive claims for damages. There will be an effort to get the matter before council in October, and in the event the attempt fails, it will be taken up with the city finance committee in January.

FINE PROGRAM TODAY FOR SUNDAY CONCERT

The Grand March from "Aida," Mendelssohn's spring song, the Lohengrin Prelude and several other numbers of equal merit will make the free organ concert this afternoon one of the most brilliant ever heard at the Auditorium-Armory. The organist will be Ferdinand Dunkley, fellow of the Royal College of Organists, London, who has been brought here for the occasion by the Atlanta Music Festival association. He will also play at St. Mark's Methodist church at the 11 o'clock service. Mr. Dunkley bears the reputation of being one of the finest organists who ever came from England to America. The program will be as follows: Prelude to "Lohengrin" (Wagner); Overture to "D Minor" (Bach); "The Little Shepherd" (Claude Debussy); "Capriccioso" (E. Lemaître); "Grand Sonata" 84th Psalm (Julius Reubke); "Spring Song" (Mendelssohn); "Reve Angeliqum" (Rubenstein); Grand March from "Aida" (Verdi).

MASSACHUSETTS G. A. R. COMING TO ATLANTA

There will be an invasion of Atlanta by the Department of Massachusetts, Grand Army of the Republic, on Sunday, September 14. The invaders are coming on a special train and will spend the entire day sightseeing. They are on their way to the encampment of the Grand Army at Chattanooga, on September 14. The visitors will be Hoffman has in Atlanta by the various confederate organizations.

Tallapoosa School.

Tallapoosa, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—The Tallapoosa public school will open on September 1 with Professor S. J. Smith, of Acworth, Ga., as superintendent, and the following corps of teachers: Miss Ada Wilcox, Miss Marie Featherstone, Miss Mary Thomas, Miss Ruth Dodge, Miss Della Craven, Miss Lucile Higdon, Miss Earnest, Miss Estle Treadway, Miss Hallie Humphries, Miss Josephine Jones, Miss Edna McDaniel, Miss Frances Jones, Miss Helen White.

PTOMAIN POISONING KILLS JOHN MORGAN

Lawrenceville, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—John Morgan, postmaster at Auburn, died last night from ptomaine poisoning. Mr. Morgan went to Winder last Saturday and while there ate a dish of salmon. Soon afterward he became ill and despite all efforts of the physicians died within a week. He was 63 years of age and leaves several children, besides his wife. The remains will be buried at Appalachee cemetery Sunday.

ANNA VON HOFFMAN SINGS AT MONTGOMERY

Anna Von Hoffman, grand opera prima donna, will continue her engagement at the Montgomery theater all this week. Miss Von Hoffman has been very well received by her audiences every day, and seems to grow in popular favor. First run exclusive pictures, the pick of the entire output of the General Film company, are shown at this popular playhouse every week. Three reels of exclusive new pictures are shown each day.

For Augusta Building.

Washington, August 30.—Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, today introduced a bill to increase the limit of the cost of the federal building at Augusta from $250,000 to $325,000.

A VALUABLE FOLDER

Those who have been thinking of investing in Atlanta property will find the new folder issued by the Atlanta Development Co. in the Third National Bank Bldg., of great value. It is free to all, and worth reading.—(adv.)

BIG COTTON SHORTAGE AT PORT OF SAVANNAH

1912-13 Season Closed Friday With Decrease of 1,078,803 Bales Over Last Season.

Savannah, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—The 1912-13 cotton season at the port of Savannah officially closed at 1 o'clock today with a decrease of about a million bales under the previous season. Contrary to the conditions obtaining one year earlier the port, primarily because of the shortage in the production of the staple throughout the country, received only a trifle more than 50 per cent of the cotton usually handled, hence it is with a sigh of relief that the old year is consigned to the things that have been.

The actual shortage for the season was 1,078,803. The future was never brighter than it is today on the eve of another year. Cotton, the wealth producer of the south, is growing profusely and the trade generally is awaiting the new movement in the confident belief that business will return to the normal in the new season.

GEORGIA INSURANCE COMPANIES MAKE GAINS

Georgia life and fire insurance companies have made big gains in the amount of insurance written over last year, according to a report made public by Deputy Commissioner of Insurance John A. Copeland yesterday. The report covers the insurance year ending April 30, 1913. The amount of life insurance written by Georgia companies is shown to be $64,970,598, against $61,687,660 in 1912, a net gain of $3,282,938 for the year. The gain in premiums collected was $428,457, the amount collected this year being $10,891,842, as compared with $10,463,385 in 1912. The fire insurance premiums collected for the current year were $4,171,441, against $3,937,738, a net gain of $233,703.

PLEASANT DAY PROMISED ATLANTA CHURCH-GOERS

A delightfully pleasant day, with clear skies and a temperature ranging somewhere about 85 degrees, is the forecast for Sunday, announced by the local weather bureau. No particular change has taken place in the weather within the past few days. A shower on Friday afternoon lowered the temperature slightly and cooled off the atmosphere but the shower expected on Saturday failed to appear. None is predicted for today.

Severe Cough Led to Lung Trouble

Sufferers with Lung Trouble are rarely willing to acknowledge the fact. If you have a so-called "cold" that has long persisted, or a cough that keeps you up at night, or any of the symptoms of Lung Trouble, such as fever or night sweats, weakness, loss of appetite, or perhaps some raising of mucus, take Eckman's Alternative as Mr. Betterworth did: "Gentlemen: The spring of 1908 I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my doctor recommended, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But at last, James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, insisted that I try your medicine. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I desire the world to know that I firmly believe that your Eckman's Alternative will cure any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage." (Abbreviated more on request.) Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stomach Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all Jacobs' drug stores and other leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

DODGE The Standard of "Power-Quality" and Prompt Delivery Dismiss forever from your mind the thought that your equipment must be "specially built"— "Specially built" machinery is the foundation of delays—and losses— The first principle of efficiency is Standardization— If you standardize your equipment with Dodge—you have laid the corner stone of manufacturing supremacy. In the Dodge line there is everything for the mechanical transmission of power. The most difficult conditions are met successfully by the Dodge Standard. Dodge is your insurance against expensive delays and heavy losses. The great Dodge factory at Mishawaka stands high in manufacturing efficiency because of Dodge machinery. # THAW'S WEAPON TURNED UPON HIM

Jerome Uses Habeas Corpus Writ to Force Thaw Into Court Preliminary to Deportation.

Sherbrooke, Quebec, August 30.—Harry K. Thaw's favorite, though ineffective, weapon in the New York courts—the writ of habeas corpus—was turned upon him today by his old prosecutor, William Travers Jerome, as a means of forcing Thaw into court here next Tuesday, in order that the immigration authorities may deport him to Vermont, which Mr. Jerome hopes will be the first leg of the trip to Matteawan asylum.

Tonight satisfied with his work, Jerome left for Quebec to spend Sunday. He was accompanied by Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general of New York.

John Boudreau, the rural chief of police at Coaticook, Thaw's proud captor, after he had crossed the Canadian frontier, was the fulcrum used by Jerome, and his Canadian lawyers, in obtaining the writ. Thaw's chief was persuaded that Thaw's detention in the Sherbrooke jail on a defective commitment might result in a damage suit for false arrest, so he petitioned Superior Judge Samuel Hutchinson to have the prisoner produced in court.

Judge Hutchinson, at first loath to disturb the status of the case, Thaw having been remanded to jail for an indefinite term by a brother judge, Arthur Globensky, finally consented to hear arguments on the writ at 10 a. m. Tuesday, when Thaw's lawyers will have an opportunity to oppose it.

If Writ is Sustained.
If the writ is sustained, Thaw will be turned over to the immigration officers at once, will be taken to Coaticook for hearing, and doubtless thrust across the Vermont border, there to be seized by deputy sheriffs, acting for New York state, and carried to Sherbrooke after leaping from a train bound for Montreal. The immigration authorities, also bound thither, returned on the next train and waited about the courthouse today in the hope that the hearing on the habeas corpus writ would be held at once.

Thaw's lawyers were taken completely by surprise. Only two of them—Charles D. White and Harry Fraser, were in Sherbrooke. There was talk of bringing the chief counsel, J. N. Greenhalgh, of Montreal, here by special train, but he was cruising on his yacht in the St. Lawrence river and could not be reached until tonight. He will be here tomorrow. The second in command, W. K. McKeown, arrived from Montreal this afternoon, after the writ had been granted.

Don't Think Move Will Stand.
"We don't think this move will stand in court," said McKeown. "New York is using John Boudreau as a pawn. It is an abuse of the writ of habeas corpus. A writ of habeas corpus is issued presumably in a prisoner's behalf. In this case, it has been used to deliver him into the hands of his enemies. It is a mere subterfuge. We do not criticize the action in court, but we doubtless should have taken like advantage, should we have had the opportunity. However, there was a sort of mutual understanding that nothing was to be done in the case until Wednesday next, when Roger Thompson's trial is to go on."

Mr. Jerome smiled grimly at his victory. The Thaw lawyers had thought the next move would be made through Alexis Dupuis, the Coaticook justice of the peace, who committed Thaw. It had been said that New York was bringing pressure to bear on Dupuis to withdraw his commitment. With the attention of the Thaw lawyers riveted on this suggestion, some one quietly visited Boudreau, and got him to strip the petition.

Stripped of Legal Verbiage.
It was presented to Judge Hutchinson in chambers by Samuel Jacobs, acting for New York. Stripped of its legal verbiage, it reviews the details of Thaw's arrest at Coaticook on August 19; maintains that he is held on a faulty commitment; sets forth the desire of the petitioner to redress any wrong done Thaw, and to avoid "any further liability for damages" and concludes as follows:

"Wherefore your petitioner prays that a writ of habeas corpus issue, addressed to the said J. H. LaForte, who illegally detains the said Harry K. Thaw, in the common jail for said district, ordering him to forthwith bring and produce before a judge of the superior court for the said district the body of the said Harry K. Thaw and show cause why the said Harry K. Thaw should today be detained and that unless proper and legal cause of detention be shown, that the habeas corpus be maintained and said Harry K. Thaw set at liberty, and your petitioner will ever pray."

Children Plunge to Death.
New York, August 30.—Edith Killoran, aged 2, toddled to the elevator cage in the apartment house where she lived and opened the door today. Her brother, George, 5 years old, saw her peril and ran to rescue her. He was too late, but clutched at her clothing. Both children plunged down the shaft 75 feet to death.

ANNOUNCE ATTRACTIONS FOR ALKAHEST COURSE

Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, Will Open the Lyceum Season.

Patrons of the Alkahest Lyceum Course will be interested to know that arrangements have just been closed whereby they will hear the Hon. Robert M. La Follette, United States senator from Wisconsin, at the Lyceum season.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE.

Senator La Follette has a hold upon the interest and confidence of the American people of every section, enjoyed by but few men in public life, and it is not due to chance or favor. In all America there is no stronger man upon the platform than Senator La Follette. His address is always fresh with the vital facts of the hour and full of human interest, which centers about the men who are in the thick of the great fight for government by the people.

Other celebrities who have been engaged to appear on the Alkahest course the coming season are: Detective William J. Burns, who will give his great lecture on "American Citizenship"; Miss Helen Keller, who will give the most remarkable lecture ever heard anywhere, entitled, "The Deafening Silence of the Deaf"; and "The Right Use of Our Senses."

Benjamin Chapin, of New York, in his great dramatic monologue, portrayal of "Abraham Lincoln, a Character Drama in the White House"; Dr. Hugh Black, Scotland's greatest preacher, who is at present at the head of the Union Theological seminary of New York city. He will show us America through Scotch spectacles.

Rhynopavi, the great Moqui Indian, wondrous worker. The famous Kneisel String quartet, with Fraulein Frieda Siemens, a noted German pianist, as soloist. Madame Grace Hall Riheldaffer, a noted grand opera soprano, of St. Louis, assisted by Mary Dennison Gable, violinist, and Thomas W. Musgrave, pianist, in grand concert. The Hettie Jane Dunaway company is a beautifully costumed presentation of "The Lady of the Decoration," with musical accompaniment.

The famous Chicago Glee club, male quartet. Season tickets for this all-star course will go on sale about the middle of September at the usual prices.

SACRED HARP SINGERS GATHER HERE SEPT. 12

The United Sacred Harp Musical convention will hold its eighth annual session at the Auditorium September 12, 13 and 14. This musical association is widely known throughout the country. For the last seven years it has convened in the Baptist Tabernacle of this city, but the church and convention have both grown to such an extent that the Auditorium-Armory has been procured so as to accommodate the ardent congregation of singers of church music that has ever perhaps assembled in the southern states before.

A number of states and other associations will be represented in this musical gathering. The convention meets at 9 a. m. September 12. There will be song services Friday and Saturday nights, the 12th and 13th, and the convention will close its session at 4 p. m. on September 14, Sunday.

Atlanta Chamber Activities "BOOST CITY," MOTTO OF DEPARTMENTS

Pure Milk Meeting.
A big meeting in the interest of pure milk for Atlanta will be held under the auspices of the chamber of commerce in Taft hall, the evening of October 3. Dr. S. A. Vianska, chairman of the chamber of commerce pure milk committee, will preside.

More Space is Available.
The City Federation of Women's Clubs of which Mrs. Charles J. Haden is president, will turn out full force. The Mothers' congress, which has done splendid work in the past, will be fully represented. The majority of the trained nurses of the city will be present in their uniforms, as hundreds of school children of the upper grades. Among the speakers of the evening will be R. E. Stallings, of the state department of agriculture; Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian; Dr. F. A. Vianska, State Bacteriologist Adkins, and other noted men.

The next effort of the industrial and statistical bureau will be to get out a comprehensive, illustrated book, giving in full detail the industrial, commercial and civil life of Atlanta.

W. H. Leashy, head of the bureau, will have complete charge of the work and hopes to have it on the press some time in the near future. So far as is known, no other southern city has ever published such a book. The volume will contain several hundred pages, with illustrations of all the leading industrial and commercial plants of the city, the principal buildings and monuments, views of the parks, of Fort McPherson, the skyscrapers, hotels and everything pertaining to the life of Atlanta.

In addition to the illustrations, a comprehensive section of statistics will be published, in which Atlanta's payroll, bank clearings, and all commercial matters will be tabulated, making the volume a most valuable one to all business men in the city, and those contemplating residing or entering business here.

A complete history of the city will be printed, showing the marvelous growth of Atlanta, and what it offers to future generations.

Industrial Bulletin Ready Tuesday.
Mr. Leashy announced Saturday that on Tuesday the industrial and commercial bulletin of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, which was prepared by him, will be off the press, and mailed to all chamber members, and bankers and others throughout the state, who may wish it free of charge.

A complete copy of the "Industrial Bulletin," passed by the last session of the legislature, is contained in the booklet.

Besides this, a number of other valuable features will be found among them upon the convention bureau and matters dealing with the industrial and commercial life of Atlanta. One of the attractive articles is a treatise on Georgia Tech, stating the aims of the school, its history, the work done, etc.

This bulletin will be eight and a half by eleven inches, eight pages, and will be revised and published from time to time.

New Slogan Coined.
Mr. Leashy has coined a new slogan for Atlanta, which will be used on all the chamber publications in the future. It is—"People who come to Atlanta stay—the best evidence of their success."

As the chamber bulletins will be mailed to the ends of the earth, so to speak, this slogan will be a familiar one to business men everywhere, and it is thought it will have a tremendous pulling power for the city.

The most recent and unique acquisition to Atlanta's activities which W. H. Leashy, of the industrial and statistical bureau, has arranged to bring to this city is the Memphis Shade Tree company, E. W. Clapp president. This branch will open by October 1.

Mr. Clapp has been in correspondence for some time with Mr. Leashy and finally decided that Atlanta offered better advantages than any other southern city for such an institution.

This company makes a specialty of moving large trees from one locality to another. For this purpose the company has its own special machinery and trained men for the work.

It is the plan of the company to transplant huge trees from all sections of Georgia and replant them in Atlanta, on the thoroughfares, should the city desire them, in private residences, grounds, parks, etc.

Fred Houser Hostling.
Fred Houser, head of the convention bureau, is hustling about twenty-four hours of the day at the present time, pulling for more conventions for Atlanta. So far Mr. Houser has "booked" for Atlanta some of the greatest conventions, which will be held during next year, but is pulling for more just the same.

"Not only do we want the big conventions, but we want a multitude of the medium-sized ones as well," he said Friday. "It is the smaller conventions, one every week or so, which, after all, keep the name of Atlanta before the people of the country, though it is true that the larger ones advertise us to the ends of the globe, as in the recent sociological and Presbyterian convention."

Cooper Returns in Fall.
Walter Cooper, whose efficient work as secretary of the chamber for the past ten or twelve years has made the organization rank with the best in the country, is still abroad, enjoying a well-earned vacation.

When heard from a week ago Mr. Cooper was in Bremen, Germany, and preparing to take a trip down the Rhine. He will return some time in the fall.

Offices Closed Saturday Afternoon.
All of the offices of the chamber of

LIGHTNING SHOCKS THREE UNDER TREE; ONE MAY NOT LIVE

Rome, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—As the result of a bolt of lightning which struck a party of three men who took refuge under a tree, J. W. Freeman is not expected to live, Benjamin Hitchcock, wealthy lumberman of this county, may be marked for life with a permanent scar, and John Carroll was knocked unconscious.

Freeman's injuries are internal and his death is hourly expected. The bolt ran around Hitchcock's head just beneath the hat band, making a mark as if a red-hot knife had been used.

No other bad results were reported from the severe storm which visited this community.

ATLANTA MAY BE WIPED OFF THE CIRCUUS MAP

Atlanta is in danger of being wiped off the circus map, according to J. T. McIntyre, advance agent for Barnum & Bailey, who was in the city looking for a lot for a performance on October 27.

In years past Atlanta offered the big showmen great salars, but in the march of progress vacant lots have been improved so that at the present time there is no space large enough for a three-ring circus. The old circus grounds on Jackson street are no longer available for the reason that Jack Prince has erected a motorhome thereon. The old Brisbane park, on the south side, is too small for a three-ring circus, and the only space left in the city is the race track at Piedmont park.

Agent McIntyre has asked the park board for permission to use Piedmont park for one performance, and a special meeting of the board has been called for Tuesday by President J. O. Cochran to consider the proposition. The circus has offered the city $250 for the use of the grounds, and will also pay the city $500 if the city will give the permit.

However, opposition has arisen. Mayor Woodward declares that the idea of the city allowing the use of Piedmont park for circus purposes is preposterous.

Mayor Woodward takes the position that if the city allows the circus to camp at Piedmont park one day the damage will be greater than $500, and that it will take the park board years to repair it.

A majority of the members of the park board are said to be opposed to the use of Piedmont for circus show grounds, and the prospects are that Barnum & Bailey will be forced to look elsewhere.

Object to Circus.
The citizens in the neighborhood of Piedmont park are up in arms over the matter, some of them being quoted last night as saying that the circus would bring about their homes a "large crowd of second-story workers, pickpockets, thugs and other undesirable hoodlums that always follow a circus."

A large and influential committee of residents of the eighth ward will wait upon the park board at the meeting to be held Tuesday and protest against the proposed stand of the circus in Piedmont park.

OHIO SOCIETY TO HOLD ITS ANNUAL PICNIC

The annual basket picnic of the Ohio Society of Georgia will take place Friday at the water works park. Lunch will be served at 1:30 p. m.

Games will be arranged for. All Oklons are urged to attend whether members of the society or not.

DANCING STARS COMING TO ATLANTA THIS YEAR

Hoffman, Polaire and Constance Richardson Will Be Seen in One Show.

With Gertrude Hoffman as its leading member, the greatest dancing and specialty combination on the road this winter is announced as one of the leading features of the theatrical season at the Atlanta theater.

Lady Constance Richardson, of London, and Mme. Polaire, of Paris. This trio not only represents the highest exponents of dancing today, but is the highest salaried combination in history. They are expected soon after Christmas.

Miss Hoffman is already known in Atlanta as one of the most popular members of the summer company of Wells-Dunne-Harris, which played here several years ago. This will be her first appearance since she came here with that company. She has a world-wide reputation.

Lady Constance Richardson, as a London society woman, took up dancing as a pastime and later took it up professionally, with the result that she is internationally known. She danced at Hammerstein's during the summer for a salary of $2,500 per week. Mme. Polaire has been seen twice at Hammerstein's in the last ten years.

Manager George, of the Atlanta, also announces the DeKoven Opera company in a big revival of "Robin Hood." The company is an all-star organization with 30 people and its own orchestra. This company is expected early in October.

STRUCK BY FLAT CAR, YOUNG TIFTON BOY IS INSTANTLY KILLED

Tifton, Ga., Aug. 30.—(Special.)—Geo. aged 7-1/2 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Baker, was struck by a flat car this morning about 7:10 o'clock and instantly killed. The car was loaded with lumber, and was on the tracks of the Tifton Terminal company. The accident occurred at the Love avenue crossing, in the heart of the city.

Engineer McDuffie, whose locomotive had stopped about the middle of the street, saw the child had stopped on the sidewalk about the center of the siding and was watching the locomotive. Perhaps waiting for it to pass. He also saw the car coming up noisily behind the unsuspecting child, and realizing its danger, jumped from his engine and ran toward it. He was just a second too late, for as he reached for the boy, who, seeing his danger, held his hands out, the car struck him.

Two wheels of the car passed over the child's body at the waist and the car stopped with the third wheel on him. Mr. McDuffie, with the assistance of others, moved the wheel off and lifted the body from the track. The child had screamed only once, and was instantly killed. The body was almost severed at the waist and the right arm cut off.

To Attend Cattle Tick Meeting.

Washington, D. C., August 30.—Representative D. M. Hughes was today

To the Voters at Large of the City of Atlanta

Having served two years as Councilman, the experience I gained while there would be of great value to both myself and the City in serving the City as Alderman.

I am not seeking the office personally, and have said on several occasions that I would not consent to re-enter politics, but within the last few days I have been so strongly urged by a great number of citizens to run for Alderman from the seventh ward, that I have agreed to do so, with the understanding that I would not make a personal canvass of the voters, as it would take entirely too much time from my business. My experience has shown me that I found it takes enough time from a man's business to look after the interest of the people after he is elected. Therefore, in making this announcement, I want every voter advised by the department of agriculture that Dr. M. N. Nighbert, now stationed at Atlanta, would attend the meeting on October 13 at Swainsboro. The acting chief of the bureau 'of animal industry states that full information concerning the means recommended by the department for eradicating the tick are contained in farmers' bulletin 498. This tells how to prepare dipping vats for dipping infected cattle.

And, too, where doubt of us exists, one little thoughtful thing will dispel it all.

J. C. HARRISON Announces Candidacy for Aldermanic Board.

J. C. Harrison, formerly a member of council for two terms from the third ward, has announced his candidacy for Alderman in opposition to James E. Warren, mayor pro tem. In making the announcement Saturday afternoon, Mr. Harrison declared that he was in the race to stay.

"I have been urged by my friends to try for the Aldermanic board, and I feel confident that I am going to win out," he said. "I think my record in council is enough to recommend me to the voters of the entire city."

While he was a member of council, Mr. Harrison served as chairman of the board of firewaters, and it was chiefly through his efforts that the department has attained its present high standard of efficiency. He was also a member of the streets committee, and succeeded in getting a number of improvements on the south side.

One of the crowning works of his administration was his fight for a tuberculosis sanitarium, The Battle Hill Sanitarium, which is one of the first institutions in the South today stands a monument to his efforts along with others in the important project.

Mr. Harrison is a business man and has a wide knowledge of city affairs—(adv.)

DAN S. WALRAVEN.

My policy will ever be to give the city a good sound business policy administration, being liberal and conservative in every matter that may come before the general council.

So I am in the race—to stay and to win—and not to take up the time of the people soliciting votes and arguing about a thousand things that will never come before the general council.

Earnestly soliciting the vote of every citizen of Atlanta, I beg to remain, yours very respectfully.

DAN S. WALRAVEN. (adv.)

GOVERNOR TO APPOINT THOUSAND DELEGATES

Ten Gatherings for Which Chief Executive Is Asked to Choose Georgia Representatives.

Among the other matters which will be confronting Governor Slaton when he returns to his duties at the capitol about the middle of this week will be the appointment of nearly 1,000 delegates to ten conventions of a national or international character which are to be held in various cities of the country this fall.

It is doubtful whether any other governor has ever been burdened with the duty of appointing so many delegates to represent the state at one time. Secretary Hardy Elm has been in receipt of letters almost daily from the officers of these various conventions, conferences and congresses requesting the governor to see to it that Georgia is represented.

New Y. W. C. A. Home Is Open; Mrs. Osborne Is the Hostess

At last the Young Women's Christian association of Atlanta has a home where the members can be at home. Heretofore there have been the meeting place, the cafe and classrooms, but they were separate from the residence, and there was not the central home which the Young Women's Christian Association building now represents on Ellis street.

The building, a two-story brick structure, is situated just back of the new Wincoff hotel, on Peachtree street. It is well ventilated with large front porch, and in winter is well heated. It has been renovated and the interior decorations have been accomplished with a view not only to cleanliness and attractiveness, but cheerfulness and homelikeness.

Miss Wingo, the general secretary of the Atlanta branch of the work, has her office at the home, a cheerful apartment, where, in time, her personal secretary will be installed.

Mrs. Osborne Is Hostess. Mrs. Cornelia Bacon Osborne, of Columbus, Ga., is the hostess and director of the home, and her reception room adjoins the reading room and library of the home, which is in close proximity with the music and classroom, also the general rest and reading room.

The dining room is a commodious apartment on the first floor, well equipped with furnishings and accessories. The butler's pantry and china closet are in the rear, and back of that the kitchen. There are two bedrooms and two large bedrooms on the first floor. On the second floor are accommodations for eleven permanent boarders and eight transients. The rooms are well ventilated and dainty in furnishing and decoration, and there is ample service to warrant the entire rest and comfort of the young women boarders in the home.

The home opened formally Friday with eight permanent boarders, with many more applying, and yesterday there were the first transient patrons. The home has an excellent cook, and the menu yesterday was most tempting.

In the library the bookcases are just beginning to be filled, and on the reading table were the leading periodicals of the moment. In the room adjoining the piano, and it is the hope of the management to have soon a victrola.

Miss Wingo Talks. Miss Wingo, the general secretary of the organization, explained in an interesting interview that the new home represents the center of the Christian association work, from which the organization will work out meeting the demands of Atlanta, with the various well-established branches which belong to the work in other cities.

Besides the establishment of the home life here for the young women.

What Efficiency Is Not. (From "The Story of Emerson, High Priest of the New Science of Efficiency," by Herbert N. Casson, in The American Review of Reviews for September.)

Efficiency is not a new name for an old truth, so far as it relates to industry and to individual success. It is an absolutely new point of view in the business world.

It is not expert accounting, for the reason that accounting deals only with records and not with methods. It is not energy, for the reason that misdirected energy is often the most suicidal of all business policies.

Efficiency means more net. This little word of three letters—N-E-T, has in recent years become the most important word in the vocabulary of business. Net means not how much money you took in, but how much you have left.

It is the net that decides whether or not we are winning or losing. In the game of business, gross receipts may pile up as high as a mountain, and yet the net result may be a mere residue of profit. It is not volume of business that makes net.

But try as you will, there are times when the little one will become constipated and bilious. In hot weather and in winter, attention is necessary, as many serious diseases result from stuffed-up bowels. Don't give salts or cathartics or purgatives, as they are too harsh, but give a gentle, pleasant-tasting bowel stimulant like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been used by the children of this as well as a former generation, and thousands of families are proud to speak well of it.

Every druggist sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the price is only 50 cents a bottle. It will cure constipation and biliousness in young or old, break up a cold and stop summer diarrhea by ridding the bowels of the poisons and germs that cause the trouble. It is a grand family laxative, with valuable tonic properties.

WANT PHONE SERVICE THOROUGHLY PROBED

Railroad Commission Will Be Petitioned to Investigate Complaints Against the System.

A resolution urging the Georgia railroad commission to make an investigation of the service which the Southern Bell Telephone company gives its Atlanta patrons, will be introduced in council Monday afternoon.

Alderman Arthur H. Van Dyke, who says he has been "besieged by complaints against the company," declared Saturday that he will offer the resolution. He explained that he had written a letter to President W. T. Gentry, in which he informed him of his contemplated action. He said that he had also sought a conference with M. O. Jackson, assistant general manager of the company, for the purpose of laying the complaints before the proper officials.

"I am not making an attack on the company, nor am I trying to antagonize its officers," Alderman Van Dyke said. "I have been besieged by complaints, and I know of my own knowledge that the service that the company is giving its Atlanta patrons is not what it should be. A number of persons have asked me to get council to urge the railroad commission to get after the company, but I have done nothing because I realize that every public utility corporation has its troubles, and I waited in hope that something would be done, and that it would be unnecessary for me to take this step."

A merchant likes to have all classes of people for his customers, but early settlers are his favorites.

Neither is it system nor energy nor resources. It is all these, plus efficiency. Consequently, there is no other subject, just at the present crisis in our industrial evolution, that is attracting such keen interest as efficiency. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent by railroads and other corporations to cut down the wastes and losses that arise from inefficient management. Cities and even states have employed experts to teach them the methods of efficiency, and even the federal government has a president's commission on economy, which is under the supervision of Dr. Frederick A. Cleveland.

Now Are the Days Children Need Care

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones Whose Bowels Are Neglected

A mother cannot do better for her children than to teach them from their earliest days regularity of the bowels. Regularity can be promoted without the child's knowledge by watching their food and by so varying the food that all the elements of digestion are used, when nature will do the rest. The future health of the child depends upon this.

But try as you will, there are times when the little one will become constipated and bilious. In hot weather and in winter, attention is necessary, as many serious diseases result from stuffed-up bowels. Don't give salts or cathartics or purgatives, as they are too harsh, but give a gentle, pleasant-tasting bowel stimulant like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. MOTHER IS CHARGED WITH BEATING CHILDREN

On complaint of several neighbors, in which it was charged that Mrs. Annie Hanson, 32 to 34 years of age, of Brooks, almost daily whipped the two small children of Mrs. Hanson, the mother, arrested Saturday night by Detectives Green and McKibben on a blanket charge of disorderly conduct. The couple live at 41 Mills street, and, according to the complaining neighbors, scarcely a day passes in which the cries of the two little children, aged 3 and 4 years, are not heard as they writhe in pain beneath the lash of the whip. Mrs. Hanson is a strikingly handsome young widow of the brunette type. The woman was released upon making bond for her appearance in the sum of $25, and Brooks is being held at the police station. They will be given a hearing in the recorder's court Monday afternoon.

Epitome of Amended Charter of Atlanta, Made by Citizens Who Have Studied It; Changes to Be Voted on Soon Are Shown

An epitome of the amended charter of the city of Atlanta as passed by the general assembly of Georgia of 1913, and to be voted on by the citizens of Atlanta at an election called for the fourth Wednesday in September, 1913, is presented herewith. The epitome was made by a committee of citizens, consisting of Judge George Hillier, Mayor R. J. Gunn, A. H. Davis, J. S. Thomson and J. R. Nutting. In the act of 1913 amending the charter of the city of Atlanta, Sections 1, 2 and 3 set out the name of the city, the incorporation of its inhabitants and the limits. All these are as now already defined. Section 4 fixes the number of the wards of the city at not exceeding ten. Section 5 extends the authority of the city of Atlanta over all the limits, and this authority includes both powers of taxation as well as the enforcement of city laws.

Sections 6 and 8 inclusive define the police and sanitary limits, being sections outside the ordinary limits which it is deemed necessary to police, such as waterworks, etc.

Sections 9 to 17 define the duties of mayor, of the recorder, of the general council to try impeachments, the oath of office of mayor, all these being as now defined, except that it is provided that if the mayor fails to approve any law within the time specified, his failure shall have the effect of an approval. The present charter is silent as to the effect of the failure of the mayor to act within said four days.

Sections 18 to 22 define the legislative department of the city, to-wit, mayor, board of aldermen and board of councilmen. These sections set forth how they shall be elected, and how they shall be elected, power to succeed themselves, vacancies in office, all of which are now defined.

Number of Committees Reduced.

Section 23 sets out the committees of council beginning with finance and ending with the committee on transportation. The committees on public works, public safety, public recreation, health, hospital and charities are new, but they include committees heretofore known as streets, fire, police, parks, cemetery, health, hospitals and charity. It will be seen that the number of the committees is thus substantially reduced.

Sections 24 and 25 define a quorum of the general council as sixteen instead of eleven, as now fixed. The majority of the board of councilmen and board of aldermen constitute a quorum in each body. The aldermen and councilmen have equal power, except on matters involving expenditure of money, granting of franchises, etc. In these cases they vote separately. The meetings days on the first and third Mondays of each month are preserved.

Section 26 is the general welfare clause by which the general council is empowered to pass any law affecting the peace, order or general welfare of the city.

Section 27 provides that no franchise shall be renewed except during the twelve months immediately preceding the expiration thereof.

Section 28 provides for the installation of fire escapes under penalty.

Section 29 authorizes the mayor and general council to punish all offenses against the ordinance of the city by a fine not exceeding $500 or sentence to labor or imprisonment for not exceeding sixty days, either or both penalties to be inflicted in the discretion of the recorder. This provision is subject to change by vote at this election.

Section 30 defines that ordinances shall undergo two readings on two separate meetings, unless the recorder decides to have them undergo two readings at one meeting, as is the present law.

Officials Cannot Get Contracts.

Section 31 provides that neither the mayor, nor any member of the general council, nor any city official, nor the head of any department nor the member of any board, commission or committee, shall be interested, directly or indirectly, either by themselves, or by any corporation, firm or partnership, or which they are officers, directors or employees, in any contract with the city having for its object the expenditure of the city's money in any way. This prohibition covers contracts including subcontracts or contracts to furnish labor or material to a city contractor.

Section 32 provides that the council may fill a vacancy in the board of aldermen or councilmen and the successor thus elected shall serve until the expiration of the calendar year in which he is elected, as is at present provided.

Sections 33 to 34, inclusive, provide for the choosing of election managers, the appointment of their clerks, the method of holding city elections, the trial of contests thereof, and the prohibition of illegal voting thereat.

The voting offices are those to be filled by public election city attorney, city marshal, city treasurer, building inspector, city comptroller, recorder, clerk of council, city electrician and city tax collector.

Section 35 prescribes the oath of office to be taken by these officials, bonds to be given and salaries to be paid and generally defines their duties.

Section 36 gives the city authority to provide for the registration of voters and to appoint a registrar therefor. Sections 37 and 38 fix the tax limit, to-wit: one and one-fourth per cent per annum on all real and personal property and also a street tax, as at present provided.

Section 39 provides for an emergency tax not exceeding one-half of one per cent as at present provided.

Section 40 to 49, inclusive, authorize the levy and collection of license taxes, not exceeding $300 per annum; also the taxation of vehicles using the streets, the taxation of insurance agents, and the taxation of the city's business. The city is authorized to require all licensees to give a bond in the sum of $5,000 to protect all persons from injury by reason of dishonest or fraudulent conduct of the licensee. The tax valorem tax is made payable in three installments, namely, April 15, July 15 and October 15. Interests is to be collected thereon if not paid when due. This tax is to be collected on or before July 15 of each year.

"Sanitary Tax" Abolished.

However, an important change is made as to taxes levied as follows:

"Section 46: The amendment to the city charter approved September 3, 1881, which authorized the levy of a tax for what is known as 'sanitary tax' and being the particular authority set out in the section of the charter numbered 139 of the city code of 1908 and all similar amendments thereto, and the sanitary tax, are hereby repealed and hereafter no assessment shall be made on any lot or lots in the city of Atlanta for the purpose of collecting a sanitary tax, whether such lots be vacant or improved."

This abolishes the $3 heretofore collected on each house by the city for what is known as "sanitary tax." This charter is adopted, hereafter no such tax shall be collected. This is the only change made in the present scheme of taxation.

Section 50 provides for the election of three tax assessors and authorizes the present method of all personal and real property.

Section 51 provides that the chief clerk in the tax office shall perform such duties as may be required by the tax committee, and gives him authority to receive returns of property for taxation.

Sections 52 and 54, inclusive, provide that the books shall be open for the return of property for taxation on February 1 and close on March 15 each year and the taxing day fixed as January 1. This is a change, as the taxing day at present is fixed by ordinance as January 31.

Any tax payer may appeal to the tax committee, which committee reports its findings to the general council. From any assessment of property by the city a tax payer feels aggrieved. Any tax payer may appeal from any return made by any other taxpayer where same appears to be either false, fraudulent or inaccurate, and the tax committee investigates and its decision is reported to the general council, which finally passes an order settling the issue, as under the present charter.

Section 55 defines the duties of the tax collector, puts a penalty upon defaulters and gives the mayor and general council the power to relieve against such penalty as under present charter.

Section 56 gives the tax deeds of the city the same evidential value as the tax deeds of the county, as under the present charter.

Section 57 requires the council to appropriate the revenues of the city and prohibits the expenditure of any money except by resolution, as under present charter.

Section 58 puts a penalty upon the mayor and members of the general council for voting for any expense in excess of appropriation therefor, and makes it the duty of the city clerk to bring suit against them to recover such penalty, as under the present charter.

Expenses Not to Exceed Funds.

Section 59 provides that the annual expenses of the city shall not exceed the annual income of the city, and section 60 provides that the council may use any excess in receipts over the appropriation provided such expenditures do not in any case exceed the receipts for that year, as under the present charter.

Section 61 authorizes the mayor and general council to borrow $400,000 for any one year to cover the casual deficit, as under the present charter.

Section 62 authorizes the refunding of city bonds as they mature, and section 63 provides for the registration of city bonds in the same manner as state bonds are registered, and section 64 provides for the issuance of credit certificates in lieu of coupon bonds following registration, all as under the present charter.

Section 65 authorizes any guardian or trustee to invest the funds of his ward in city bonds and section 66 provides that the city shall follow the state law in the issuance of any bonds for any purpose as to elections, voting and other formalities.

Sections 67 to 68, inclusive, vest in the mayor and general council the power to lay sewers, to prescribe their size, to extend same to the property line, to levy and collect the cost thereof from abutting property owners. These sections also set out how these ordinances are to be introduced, the requirements of advertisement of ten days, the message of passage and the lien on abutting property for the cost thereof.

All these matters are well defined and generally understood under the present charter, there being no change in same in the new charter.

Streets and Grades.

Sections 70 to 105, inclusive, deal with the general powers of the city to open, widen, straighten and change streets or to abandon same under resolution therefor; to establish and fix a system of grading and draining of the streets. These sections set forth in detail the character of the petition required, the signatures thereto, the method of passing same to the general council, the assessment of the property owners on the abutting property owners, the assessment of the property owners on the abutting property owners, bills and a. fas. therefor, the assessment of street car companies in the streets so paved, the laying of curbs in streets and the collection of cost thereof, condemnation of pavement over streets and sidewalks and the methods of condemning the pavement on sidewalks and streets and the assessment of the cost of repaving same and provisions for the collection thereof, the lien upon the abutting property for the cost of the work, the extension of water mains to the property lines and the collection of the cost thereof, etc. All of these matters are well understood, and there are no changes in the present provisions covering such work.

In these sections there is a new provision authorizing general council to establish a building line along streets and providing that the construction of buildings over such line shall constitute a nuisance.

Street Curb Pay More.

Formerly the street car company only paid for eleven feet of pavement. Under this charter, the street car company pays for eleven feet where it only has two tracks in the street. These sections conclude in the right in the city to extend Alabama street, but this right has so far not been exercised. The present provision in the charter before council may some time see fit to extend this street.

Sections 106 and 107 provide that the city may require railroads to build sidewalks over crossings where the railroad is constructed over the street after the street or road was established.

Sections 108 to 112, inclusive, contain the present provisions as to the duties and powers of the recorder. No change is made in same and then generally provide that he shall hold recorder's court, have power to inflict the punishments prescribed by ordinance, may be called therefor by the members of the general council may act as recorder in his absence.

Section 113 defines the duties of clerk of council and his duties in the same terms as now established.

Section 114 to 115, inclusive, use the same language as now prescribed by charter, to define the duties of city comptroller, to-wit: to receive the income of the city must be apportioned to each department and shall not be exceeded except by action of the general council and that a warrant may be drawn on his department, and drawn on a proper fund.

Sections 116 to 117 provide for the office of marshal and fix his duties in the same language as the present charter. The marshal is authorized to collect all fines levied by the city, sells property thereunder and makes deeds therefor.

Sections 118 to 122 prescribe the duties of the board of public safety, the number, established, and provide that the revenues of the city shall be deposited in four separate banks which shall be required to pay interest thereon.

Sections 123 to 125, inclusive, prescribe the number and fix the names of the several boards as follows: Board of education, board of public safety, board of health, hospitals and charities, board of public works, board of recreation, board of trustees of Carnegie library.

Number of Boards Reduced.

The number of boards is reduced. For instance, the board of public safety includes the two boards of police and fire. The board of hospitals and charities includes the board of health, trustees of hospitals and committees on charities of the general council.

The board of public recreation includes the board of park commissioners and the cemetery commission.

The board of public works is a new board and is intended to systematize the work of the board of public works, the board of street cleaning, the board of water commissioners, trustees of Carnegie library and sinking fund commission shall likewise serve until the end of their term to which they have been elected.

The board of public safety shall close Wyman street between Tennille street and the Georgia Railroad and Banking company.

Sections 124 and 125-b authorize the city to regulate steam boilers, freight cars, and other vehicles when under inspection; to see that they are properly and safely operated, and to elect an inspector therefor.

Section 125 provides that this act shall not become effective unless the majority of the qualified voters of the city voting in such election shall vote in favor thereof at a special election called for the fourth Wednesday in September, 1913.

Said election to be held, and the result shall have printed or written on their ballots the following words:

"For the amended charter of the city of Atlanta as provided by act of the general assembly of 1913."

Those voting in favor of this act shall have written or printed on their ballots the following words:

"Against the amended charter of the city of Atlanta as provided by act of the general assembly of 1913."

All citizens who have paid their taxes prior to the year 1913; who shall have registered fifteen days prior to the date of the election, and a majority of the votes cast in favor of this act, the same shall thereupon become a law. If a majority of the votes cast is against this act, same shall be held in abeyance until the next election, and the provisions of the act shall be in force until the next election.

Section 172 provides that all city officials, now or hereafter elected, shall perform such duties as required by ordinances of the city, and where not specially assigned to supervision by the board of public safety, when not controlled and supervised by the general council.

Section 173 provides that all officials now serving under terms, to which they have been elected by the people, or council, or boards, or appointed, shall continue to serve until the end of the term to which they have been elected or appointed. All charter officers not included in the list above stated shall be abolished, subject to service until the end of their present term.

Purchasing Agent Provided.

Section 174 authorizes the mayor and general council to elect a purchasing agent, whose duty it shall be to purchase supplies for all departments.

This is a new provision in the charter. Section 175 prohibits dual officeholders, that is, no city official of any kind can hold another city or state or federal office.

Sections 176 to 184 authorize the mayor and general council to establish and maintain the system of pensions now provided by present charter. There is no change whatever as to any of these pensions.

Sections 185 and 186 authorize the condemnation of private property for streets, sewers, water works, public buildings, parks, schools, fire, police, or any other public purpose, all as now provided.

Sections 187 and 188 authorize the regulation of limits in which every building shall be erected, and the enforcing ordinances providing for their cleanliness, etc., as now provided.

Section 189 authorizes the city to buy or lease a market house, as now provided.

Section 192 authorizes the regulation of charges by hacks, transfer companies, etc.

Section 193 authorizes the investigation of any officer or board or department of the city, and the power to subpoena persons and swear them as witnesses, and to make all investigations necessary.

Section 194 gives power to control, regulate and prohibit houses and sanitariums in residence portions of the city, as now provided.

Section 195 requires all claims for damages to be submitted to the city before suit is brought thereon. Section 196 requires the superior court of the city to give precedence to city cases in which the collection of city revenue is involved.

Section 197 provides that the county commissioners, when working on the limits of the city, shall file the grade and locality selected by council.

Section 198 authorizes any city official to justify his acts in such cases as to the limits of the city.

Section 199 authorizes the establishment of a fee bill, there being no change from the present charter.

Section 200 authorizes the fixing of limits in which the prohibition of buildings therein constructed of combustible material.

Section 201 grants authority to require all social, locker, or other clubs, keeping inns, lodging houses, dance halls and similar places by requiring therefor and prohibiting the operation without such permit or license.

Section 202 gives the city authority to require the approval of such ordinance or resolution. If a majority of the votes in said election are cast against such resolution or ordinance, same shall be thereby repealed and shall not be re-submitted for a period of one year after the repeal, and shall not thereafter be of any effect, nor shall same thereafter be adopted by the mayor and general council until re-submitted to and adopted by the qualified voters of the city in the same manner as originally submitted. If same receives a majority vote of the people, when so submitted, then said resolution or ordinance shall stand and be effective in the same manner as other ordinances of the city.

Section 203 provides for the closing of the openings in Forsyth street viaduct, subject to the approval of the railroad commissioner and finally by the governor.

provisions are submitted to a vote of the people as provided in section 115, there shall likewise be separately submitted to a vote the following provisions:

Recorder's Court Defined.

That the mayor and general council are hereby authorized to provide by ordinance for the punishment of offenses against the ordinances of the city, on conviction in the recorder's court, by a sentence to work on the public works for a term not exceeding sixty days or by imprisonment for term not exceeding sixty days, or by a fine not exceeding $500, either one or two or all of said sentences to be inflicted in the discretion of the recorder.

Those voting in favor of this provision shall have printed or written on their ballots the following words:

"For vesting in the recorder's court power to sentence for a term of labor and imprisonment for term not exceeding thirty days or by a fine not exceeding $200."

Those voting in favor of vesting in the recorder's court the power set out in the ballot for it, as aforesaid, then the provisions of this section heretofore contained under the title recorder's court shall thereupon become a law.

If a majority of the votes cast in said election is in favor of vesting in the recorder's court the power set out in the ballot for it, as aforesaid, then the provisions of this section heretofore set out under the title recorder's court shall thereupon become a law.

Initiative and Referendum.

Section 215-b. Whenever ten per cent of the registered voters, as disclosed by registration sheets of the last preceding general municipal election, shall request, in a petition filed in the office of the clerk of council, to be submitted to the people, an ordinance or resolution, the substance of which is incorporated in said petition, for adoption by vote of the people, an election shall be called, to be held within thirty days after same has been read in council. If at said election, said resolution or ordinance receives a majority of the votes cast, it shall become operative and cannot thereafter be repealed except by an election similarly called. Provided, however, if the mayor and general council adopt the resolution or ordinance, no petition shall be filed, then no election shall be called.

Whenever 15 per cent in number of the registered voters, as disclosed by the registration sheets of the last preceding general municipal election, shall so request, in a petition filed with the clerk of council, any ordinance or resolution which may have already been adopted by the mayor and general council, shall be submitted to the qualified voters of said city at the first regular election following the filing of said petition. Provided, said request is filed within thirty days after the approval of such ordinance or resolution. If a majority of the votes in said election are cast against such resolution or ordinance, same shall be thereby repealed and shall not be re-submitted for a period of one year after the repeal, and shall not thereafter be of any effect, nor shall same thereafter be adopted by the mayor and general council until re-submitted to and adopted by the qualified voters of the city in the same manner as originally submitted. If same receives a majority vote of the people, when so submitted, then said resolution or ordinance shall stand and be effective in the same manner as other ordinances of the city.

Provided, however, that no ordinance or resolution shall be submitted to the people by referendum, as herein provided, at a date earlier than sixty days after the date of the election, and shall be submitted at any other time than at the general city election

'Robbing' Princely Hen-Roosts First Taxes Laid On German Royalty

(Copyright, 1913, by Curtis Brown.) Berlin, August 30.—Two and twenty- sovereign German princes are hesitating between the rival virtues of patriotism and thrift. They cannot decide whether it is sweeter to pay the new war tax or to put their savings into sound brewery stocks. Between these temptations they resemble the vacillating lover who says, "How happy could I be with either." The trouble is that this is the first time the twenty-two kings, grand dukes, dukes and princes have ever been asked to pay a pretty stiff tax on their accumulations. So, while patriotic conscience bids them make the sacrifice, their honest pocket interests whisper: Do not pay!

Above: Prince of Schaumburg-Lippe and Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. Below: Duke of Saxe-Weimar and German Secretary of the Treasury Kuehn.

There would be no such dilemma if Europe's sovereigns were ordinary men. So far from being ordinary they enjoy the privilege of "steuerfreiheit." "Steuerfreiheit" is freedom from taxation, and sovereigns and their families have it together with freedom of choice from military service. In addition to the sovereigns there are 600-odd members of mediatized, ex-sovereign families who are exempt from local taxation and from military service. These privileges are steadfastly opposed by progressive Germans, who show that in hard-up times the average sovereign can as well afford to pay his taxes as can a lawyer with $5,000 a year. All the more so because, if sovereigns go into bankruptcy their subjects help them out, as Wilhelm II. discovered two years ago when Prussia's diet raised his salary by three-quarters of a million. But so far the thrifty prince always stoutly resisted being taxed, and until recently Wilhelm II. resisted most of all.

Now, in a fit of patriotism begotten of the 1813 centenary, Wilhelm II. has forsworn his resistance; he is ready to be taxed, and the other one and twenty sovereigns have had to follow him. All that is now known is that there will be "non-recurring contribution" from the capital of real and personal property, and that it will probably amount to 1 per cent. This the sovereigns must pay. There may also be a new imperial income tax, and this the sovereigns may have to pay also.

So at Heart. Naturally the sovereigns are facing the crisis like gentlemen and feeling intensely virtuous. But at heart they are sore, and they are not boasting Kaiser Wilhelm. Rumors of discontent come from various august palaces. A Dresden official newspaper criticizes the scheme, and this means that King Friedrich August does not like it. Or all German princes, except the young Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, Friedrich August is the thirteenth. Another sovereign known for the unprincipled virtue is the Grand Duke of Hesse, but this grand duke is relatively a hard-up man and his ever-ready pen is busy on an article in Darmstadt. Even sovereigns who are willing to pay are said to feel uneasy. For it is the initial step that counts. For the first time in history the sacred principle that royalties are tax-free is broken.

"If we may be taxed for an army increase," reason the sovereigns, "why may we not for a navy increase, for an education increase, or even for old age pensions for us? If we have to pay a non-recurring tax, why shall we escape a recurring one? If we are to pay imperial taxes, why not even municipal taxes?" And having so argued, the twenty-two sovereigns strike a patriotic pose and profess their joy at suffering for their country's greatness.

The sovereigns feel all the more doubtful because such complaints of suffering from chronic poverty, and therefore fees that his miserable taxation will not hurt them. The despotic emperor, Kaiser Wilhelm, it seems, feels this most. He has the biggest income, but he is only the fifth richest individual in Prussia. Richer than him are Frau Bertha Krupp, who possesses $11,000,000; Prince Henckell von Donnersmarck, who has $9,000,000; Baron von Goldschmidt-Rothschild, of Frankfurt, with $9,000,000; and the Duke of Ujest with $7,000,000. After these come poor Kaiser Wilhelm with a miserable $35,000,000. Kaiser Wilhelm's forests and fields are valued at $17,000,000; his forty palaces, country houses, castles and shooting boxes at $1,000,000; and his land estates in Berlin at $4,500,000. That accounts for $22,000,000 out of the $35,000,000. Wilhelm II. also has land in Westphalia and the Rhine province of unknown value. Altogether he has seventy-four different estates in seven different Prussian provinces. Wilhelm II. has no power to dispose of this property, as it is a family trust. Only the great farm at Cadinen and some small farms purchased by himself he can do as he likes with. His trust properties are liable to property tax.

Wilhelm II. will have to pay on other property. There is $2,750,000 left by Friedrich Wilhelm III., to which has been added about $1,000,000 presented by the empire to Wilhelm I. After the war with France, $2,000,000 left by Wilhelm I. and large sums gained by Kaiser Wilhelm from the sale of his land in Berlin. Unluckily for Germany's treasury, Kaiser Wilhelm always kept more than he received, and the result is all the treasure now amounts to only $20,000,000. The land and the money funds altogether are worth $37,000,000. Most of the assets are in the hands of Kaiser Wilhelm's kinsman, Prince Friedrich Heinrich of Prussia, is worth $7,500,000, and at 1 per cent he will have to pay $750,000. Prince Friedrich has another kinsman, will pay on $3,500,000. Kaiser Wilhelm's brother, Henry, has estates in Posen, Brandenburg and Schleswig-Holstein which are worth $2,000,000. Altogether the Kaiser and these relatives are worth $1,500,000. The younger sons of the Kaiser and the other junior Hohenzollern princes have no property worth mentioning. Fifty-three million dollars would cover all the Hohenzollern wealth, and $50,000 is the utmost they will pay in tax.

Rudolph Martin's "Dictionary of Millionaires" says the wealth of the king of Saxony is $6,250,000. Most of it consists of vast Silesian estates, which came from the Duke of Brunswick, who died in 1854. The Duke of Saxe-Weimar, who has big properties in Silesia and Posen, is worth $15,000,000 and he is the only sovereign after the Kaiser, as far as German property is concerned. The Bavarian royal family is hard up. The king of Wurtemberg is worth $5,500,000, the Grand Duke of Hesse $1,500,000, mostly Prussian realty. All the other sovereign families are worth about $50,000,000, counting German land. The richest of all, richer even than the Kaiser, is the Prince of Schaumburg-Lippe. But his estates are in Austria, and under the Austro-German agreement they will pay no tax. The prince is the only German sov-

CHARLTON IS LODGED IN AN ITALIAN PRISON

Genoa, August 30.—Porter Charlton, under escort of Lieutenant Francina and Carabinieri Rizzo, of the Italian military police, was brought ashore here today from the steamship Re Italia. After a few hours in prison he was hurried to Como, where he is to stand trial for the murder of his wife three years ago. The strictest measures of precaution were adopted to guard Charlton. By a stratagem, the newspaper correspondents and photographers were prevented from approaching him. The head of the police invited the newspaper men aboard the launch. The invitation was eagerly accepted in the belief that this would be a good means to reach the prisoner. The launch set out for the Re Italia, but suddenly stopped in midstream. All protesters were thrown overboard. Some of the American reporters threatened to take up the matter with the American authorities. Charlton appeared on the gangway supported on either side by Francina and Rizzo. He was handcuffed for the first time, but tried to conceal the fact by the use of a waterproof folder over his hands.

Instead of the Marassi prison, where a great crowd had gathered, he was taken to the barracks of the carabinieri. The crowd then rushed to the barracks, but the gates were closed and guarded. After a short interrogation by the captain of carabinieri, Charlton was put on the train for Como. Francina and Rizzo still acted as his guard.

MARSHAL IS KILLED BY NEGRO EX-CONVICT

Paducah, Ky., August 30.—Philip Lynn, 69, a well known marshal of Brookport, Ill., was shot to death across the Ohio river, was fatally shot today by a negro said to be Henry Allen and for whom searching parties are scouring the river bottoms. Summary punishment is threatened if the negro is caught. Lynn died as he was brought to a Paducah hospital. Allen, it is said, recently was released from the Illinois penitentiary, where he was confined for the murder of his brother.

MRS. L. Y. SAGE, SR. IS PAINFULLY HURT

Mrs. L. Y. Sage, Sr., a well known resident of Atlanta, was hurt painfully yesterday morning when, as she stepped upon an incoming Peachtree street trolley car, her gown became entangled in the shaft of her right foot. She stumbled and fell to the ground, sustaining bruises and cuts about the arm and face and a broken shoulder. She was carried to the Elkin-Goldschmidt sanatorium.

Getting Ready for the Canal.

Antwerp, August 30.—In view of the approaching opening of the Panama canal, trade and shipping organizations here are appealing energetically to the government to hasten the harbor extension which was voted in 1907. The new canal, it is pointed out, will revolutionize Antwerp's trade and attention is called to the wholly inadequate condition of the port at present.

Chances the Famous Kelly Took.

Hugh S. Fullerton, the baseball writer for the American Magazine, contributes an article to the September issue of that periodical, entitled, "Take a Chance v. Play It Safe" in which he describes two policies in baseball play, and tells many stories to illustrate his points. The following is a story about Mike Kelly, the great Chicago ball player of a generation ago: "The chances Kelly took were the marvels of his era. I have seen him again and again cut straight across the diamond from first to third base, or from second to the home plate, and land in safety because the umpire failed to see his reckless move. One day Kelly cut from first to third on a slow infield bouncer. He ran past the umpire, who was racing toward first, screaming at him to watch the play, and, swinging straight across, he tore for third. Gaffney called the runner out at first and whirled just in time to catch 'Kel' going into third, and called him out. Kelly walked to the umpire, protested an instant, then, knowing Gaffney had caught him in the act, he remarked: 'All right, Mr. Umpire, I've never been on these grounds before and didn't know which was second base.' "Two innings later he scored from second base through the pitcher's box and was not seen."

President Wilson and Mexico.

Philadelphia, Pa., August 30.—With the arrival of three ships next week, there will be concentrated with the Philadelphia navy yard one of the most powerful fleets that has ever been assembled at an American naval station. The vessels to arrive are the battleships Illinois, Alabama and the armored cruiser Montana. The ships now at the yard include the battleships Idaho, Connecticut, Ohio, Kearsarge, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts and Missouri; armored cruisers Washington and North Carolina and the cruisers Birmingham, Chester and Salem.

SEASON FOR SOCKEYES EXTENDED BY CANADA

Bellingham, Washington, August 30. The provincial fisheries department of the Canadian government has officially extended the sockeye salmon open season until September 15, knowing that sockeyes may not be caught in Puget Sound waters after August 25. This information was received today by State Fish Commissioner L. H. Darwin from W. J. Bowcock, commissioner of fisheries of British Columbia.

The extension, according to Commissioner Bowcock, has been authorized as a result of the failure of the United States to ratify or obtain definite action on the recommendation made by the fisheries commission in 1910.

"The regulations pertaining to Canada," says the letter, "recommended by this commission, were made law in 1910 by dominion enactment, but no corresponding legislation has been passed by the United States. This annual close of the season on the Canadian side was one of the suggested regulations and the relaxation of it during the present year merely presages denunciation of the treaty which will take place if effect is not given by the United States to the regulations referred to at the next session of congress."

Sulzer Assailed for Virtues, Not for Faults.

(From "The Progress of the World," in The American Review of Reviews for September.) Quite regardless of Governor Sulzer's mistakes or faults, it is an undoubted fact that he has shown high courage and great virtue as governor of the state of New York during the brief period of his incumbency; and it is further true in the bitterness of the attacks upon him which have led to the impeachment proceedings have been precisely in proportion to his exercise of political duties. However great or small his misdoings, his only fault in the eyes of those who are seeking his downfall lies in the fact that he has been, from their standpoint, to use their own word, an "impossible" governor; that is to say, it has been impossible to get him to obey "Charlie" Cowley, whether by threatening or cajoling.

The legislature had adjourned on May 3, having refused to pass the state-wide primary bill that the democratic platform had promised to legislate, and that Governor Sulzer demanded. Although there was little hope of getting any reversal of its action from the present legislature, Governor Sulzer called a special session, and set June 16 for its beginning. The governor took the stump and attempted to bring popular pressure to bear upon members of the legislature. But Murphy himself was obstructed, and the Murphy control remained unshaken. Under the state constitution, a legislature called in special session may only consider subjects expressly laid before it by the governor. The special session selected to destroy the governor's primary-election bill, and sent up to him again for his veto its own bill, so framed as to permit the machine to control the situation through their conventions. Some other matters were submitted by the governor which are not pertinent for us to present in this connection. The fight became every day more bitter, and the governor's attacks upon Murphy and Tammany had by this time gone so far as to preclude all hope of reconciliation or compromise. The governor was determined to destroy the Tammany Boss and the Tammany boss, in turn, saw no way of escape except to destroy the governor. A good many weeks ago, according to private political information that came to us from sources that we regard as trustworthy, the Tammany leaders and the powerful interests behind them had determined to impeach the governor in order to get him out of the way. A mere majority vote of all that needed to start impeachment proceedings. This majority was in absolute control of Tammany. It was the theory of the Tammany lawyers that, under the constitution of New York, the beginning of such proceedings would summarily suspend the governor from his office and put the lieutenant governor in his place with full and unrestricted authority as governor. At that time the Tammany machine had not decided what kind of charges they would bring against the governor. Attempts were made to find him guilty of some impropriety in a law case twenty-five or thirty years ago. In these matters he was completely exonerated. A breach of promise suit was brought, which seemed on its face absurd, because it related to affairs long since gone by. Finally an investigating committee of the legislature was set to work to find out things against the governor which could be used as a basis of charges in impeachment proceedings.

Many a wise word is spoken in jest, but more foolish ones are spoken in earnest.

Is No. 122 the Most Popular Street Car Conductor in Atlanta?

Contestants Suspect W. H. Forshaw of Having a Trick or Two Up His Sleeve—Says He's Going It Individually. Expects to Win the $100 Solely on His Own Efforts.

"That man's mighty popular, believe me," said a man in blue when reference was made to W. H. Forshaw, whose record in the past has made him famous in the Constitution's Prize Contest. "He just about cleans up every time he enters a contest. People like him and help him every time they get a chance. Are you sure he's working individually? Haven't he a number of people working for him?" "That's the way the conductors speak as well as practically all the men in the blue entered in this Contest. They are out on their own individual ability. They're all depending on their own efforts to win. They travel on their own, they're all striving for that $100 in gold, but they're striving for it fair and square on their own efforts."

Table listing names and addresses of contestants for the Street Car Conductors' Popularity Contest, including names like J. T. Winters, W. C. Hooten, J. T. Taylor, etc.

Yes, you who read this. Have you really begun to get in serious work for your own benefit? You're a hustler, or should be, in this unusual contest. You win a prize on your own merits, your standing at the end of the contest that will show whether or not you've been as active and as energetic as you might have been. Don't let the fact that you get paid for every subscription you turn in. The Constitution office keeps you from putting on full speed and sailing right along toward the top as a prize-winner.

That's all the time you have. Plenty in which to win that $100 if you're a hustler. Not near enough if you're content to go after subscriptions in a haphazard way. And there's absolutely no reason why you should adopt the latter attitude. Folks are willing to subscribe to The Constitution office records show a steady increase in subscriptions. Atlantans and others who while not living in Atlanta, come here now and then and wish to see thoroughly posted on affairs, are subscribers to the Constitution because of its dependable news.

SPEEDY PASSAGE FOR TARIFF BILL

Democrats Think the Measure May Be Put Through in a Week—First Reading Has Been Completed.

Washington, August 30.—The senate heard a sight of relief tonight, when, just before adjournment, it completed the first reading of the new tariff bill.

The rates of the new income tax; the proposed tax on cotton futures; many provisions of the administration features of the law; the suggested rebate of 5 per cent for imports brought in American ships, and many other sections of the measure that will occasion debate were put over until next week.

To Adjust All Differences. Democratic members of the finance committee met again tonight and may continue their sessions tomorrow, to go over the sections laid aside by the senate in its consideration of the bill.

The senate today made a number of important changes in the bill. It proposed to amend the circuit courts of appeal equal jurisdiction with the United States customs court was withdrawn by Senator Williams.

The senate adopted a provision prohibiting importation of goods made by convict labor, or "principally by children under 14 years of age."

Convict-Made Goods. The senate adopted a provision prohibiting importation of goods made by convict labor, or "principally by children under 14 years of age."

The provisions giving the president power to establish a tariff on goods which have the usual tariff rates, against certain imports from countries that might discriminate against the United States were adopted after several fruitless attempts.

Tax on Cotton Futures. The Clark amendment to tax cotton futures is to be considered again by the democratic caucus, it was decided tonight.

Italian Immigrant Rises. In the interesting people department of the September American Magazine appears an article about Cesare Conti, who, thirty-five years ago, was an immigrant from Italy.

Mr. Conti was born in 1848 in the near ancient Florence, Italy. Shortly after his tenth birthday, his family decided to emigrate to the "promised land" across the Atlantic.

Only forty-six, Mr. Conti is the head of a number of firms of the wide activities. Cesare Conti is one of the largest American cities in most of the large American cities.

But no man of his power and temperament could permit himself to be wholly mastered by his business. Cesare Conti is an ambassador between Italy and the United States—official, it is true, but most potent in cementing the money on furthering commercial exchange between the two countries.

WILD MAN OF BORNEO FEARS MANTLE OF G. WASHINGTON

London, August 30.—We all have heard of the Wild Man of Borneo and the rest of his belongings as enumerated in the ditty of our childhood, and now comes a description of his characteristics, which prove to be queer enough, from an English clergyman who knows the wild man better than the late Phineas T. Barnum, who first exhibited one of him in the United States, ever did.

According to Mr. Gomes, George Washington would be canonized by the wild men of Borneo did they happen to know that such a person ever existed, for they are almost, if not quite, the most truthful race on earth.

The Dyaks, who need, of course, to be head-hunters, but are not now to any extent, would also, apparently, agree with the famous clergyman on the question, "Is Life Worth Living?" which was, you will remember, "It Depends on the Liver."

CITY SLOT MACHINE ORDINANCE IS VOID

Court of Appeals Holds State Law Against Gambling Already Covers Subject.

According to a decision of the state court of appeals handed down yesterday in the case of Alexander v. City of Atlanta, the city ordinance against the keeping of slot machines in near beer saloons or other places of business, as an incentive to trade, is void.

The court holds that such slot machines are gambling devices and as such are in contravention of the state law against gambling. It is not allowed in a city ordinance to define a crime and provide a penalty for its violation which is already covered by the state law.

A Gambling Device. The court held that the machine which had in his near beer saloon a slot machine which sold chewing gum by the usual deposit of a nickel.

The case was first tried before the city recorder and a fine imposed upon the defendant for violating the city ordinance. Then it was taken on certiorari to the superior court, where the recorder's decision was affirmed by Judge George Bell.

The Longest Good Road. (From The San Antonio Express.) With the completion of the Meridian highway from Winnipeg, Canada, to Laredo, on the Rio Grande, the most notable undertaking in public road construction in this country, so far as distance is concerned, will have been accomplished, and it seems quite probable that this work will be finished, if not before the close of the year, at least during the first half of 1914.

Mr. Conti was born in 1848 in the near ancient Florence, Italy. Shortly after his tenth birthday, his family decided to emigrate to the "promised land" across the Atlantic.

But no man of his power and temperament could permit himself to be wholly mastered by his business. Cesare Conti is an ambassador between Italy and the United States—official, it is true, but most potent in cementing the money on furthering commercial exchange between the two countries.

"When," says Mr. Gomes, "the Dyaks wish to describe the great courage of a man, they say he has a 'brave liver.' Intelligence also resides in the liver, and a man of knowledge is one possessing an 'enlightened liver.' Kindness is the quality of the man who has a 'large liver,' and perseverance that of one who has a 'strong liver.'"

Logic appears to be the wild man of Borneo's weakest point. "The most contradictory opinions," says Mr. Gomes, "seem to dwell together in perfect harmony, in the wild stream of his mind. He cannot distinguish, for instance, between coincidence and causation, and will argue that because his grandfather died after he had climbed a tree, therefore his death was caused by his climbing the tree, and consequently neither his father, nor himself, nor his wish, nor to climb trees, if they wish to enjoy good health."

This reverend student of the wild man of Borneo winds up by saying that, notwithstanding his "luck of intellect," and other faults, a consideration of his thoughts, customs, belief and ideals shows that he is every inch a man, that his mental powers are quite equal to those of other races in the world, and that his character is far superior to theirs.

JUDSON C. CLEMENTS MAY LOSE HIS PLACE

Rumored Georgian May Not Be Reappointed to Commerce Commission.

Washington, D. C., August 30.—The possibility that Judge Judson C. Clements will not be reappointed to the interstate commerce commission at the expiration of his present term, December 30, is being rumored here, ex-Governor R. B. Glenn, of North Carolina, is being urged for the place and is said to stand a good chance of landing it.

The position pays $10,000 a year. Judge Clements was chairman of the commission for one year.

Yuan Shih-kai, the Diaz of China. (From "Yuan Shih-Kai, Master of China," by Carl Crow, in the American Review of Reviews for September.) Since the abdication of the Manchus, more than a year ago, Yuan Shih-kai has talked a great deal about republican principles, but he has ruled with a power as absolute as that exercised by the deposed monarch.

Superior Court Reversed. The case was first tried before the city recorder and a fine imposed upon the defendant for violating the city ordinance. Then it was taken on certiorari to the superior court, where the recorder's decision was affirmed by Judge George Bell.

NEW MODELS ANNOUNCED BY THE COLE COMPANY

Line for Coming Season Consists of a Four and a Six of Identical Construction.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 30.—(Special.)—In announcing to the public their series nine models for the coming season, the Cole Motor Co. has accomplished what they claim their ambition to produce the standardization of the industry.

The Standardized Cole's roll of honor consists of the Timken Detroit Axle and Bearing company, the Northway three point suspension motor manufacturing company, Mayo Radiator company, Gemmer Steering Gear company, Cal Lester Ignition, Magna Torles company's electric lighting, starting and ignition system, Detroit Steel Products company's springs, hydraulic front end, which includes the frames, Firestone Tire and Rubber company's tires and demountable wheels, Taylor Manufacturing company's tire pump and Stromberg Motor company's carburetor.

Identical in Construction. In mechanical construction throughout both cars are identical, the same axle that is under one six is under the four, the same motor in the four is under the six, the same radiator, the same steering gear, the electric lighting system, the same ignition system. This, it is declared by the local Cole representative, Mr. Carter, is due to Cole's economic standardization policy.

Gordon institute at Barnesville will open next Wednesday, and with its athletic interest is centering in the athletic department of the school and the prospects for the football season.

No Such Simplicity.

SEIBERLING PRAISES SUGGESTION OF O'NEAL

Thinks Days Should Be Set Aside to Cause of Good Roads.

"The setting aside each year of one or two days for the purpose of appropriating money or labor to the cause of good roads," says F. A. Seiberling, president of the Goodbody Tire and Rubber company, Akron, Ohio, "is a fitting suggestion, which, if carried out, will aid materially in promoting the good roads movement."

"Governor O'Neal, of Alabama, certainly hit the nail on the head when he included this in a recent proclamation," says Mr. Seiberling, "if every state would imitate this step, and its citizens would contribute enthusiastically and liberally, splendid results would be achieved. A large percentage of seat would be added to the public's present attitude towards this question, if they could only realize the beneficial results that would be derived from this concerted action."

"Not only should the farmer be interested in such a move for the benefit of the results would afford him in transporting his products to market, but also the city dweller, who commutes every day by automobile or motorcycle between the city and his home."

"Good roads are a valuable asset in maintaining an automobile, and are a large factor in reducing the expense of upkeep to the motorist. Especially, are subject to improper road conditions which have a severe and detrimental effect upon the automobile. When this suggestion of Governor O'Neal's is recognized and taken advantage of by each state, Good Roads Week will be a holiday of note. Each citizen of every state will, no doubt, willingly contribute to the cause, and the many localities will be enabled to come in closer touch with the surrounding country."

Long's Homers Deciding Factors; Pels Fought to Last

Love Blew in the First Game, Pels Winning—Three Fierce Hits in Rally in Seventh Wins Second.

By Dick Jemison The housewives of Atlanta owe a debt of gratitude to Thomas Long, of Borden Springs, Ala., left fielder of the Atlanta baseball club. You can thank the speedy little left fielder for the splendid appetite that your husband exhibited Saturday at supper.

With everyone of the largest crowd of baseball fans of the season having on his glummet look over the possibility of the Crackers losing a doubleheader to the down-trodden Pelicans, and a chance to gain a notch on the leaders, who, as a glance at the scoreboard showed, had been defeated by the Chattanooga Lookouts, Rabbit, with one fell swoop, obliterated all the sour expressions.

Rabbit Gets Busy. But "Rabbit" was yet to be heard from.

In the final session of the first contest, with the count standing 7 to 2, with the locals carrying the small end, Rabbit poked a vicious clout to the score board for the circuit, the final result showing 7-2.

No one in the vast audience expected any such result from the bludgeon of the little speed merchant. But it is always the unexpected that happens. With two and two and Akler on the initial sack as the result of Glavench's liberality in failing to locate the platter, there was a crash. Glavench laid a fast one right in Tommy's wheelhouse. Tommy swung true. Hooking the ball square in the face, he laced it over McKillen's head in left field and, with the fierceness of a deer, chased Akler around the bases to the plate. Again he had come through with a circuit clout and in the time of direct need.

This one blow changed the sour grapes expression to one of tremendous joy. The spectators could not restrain themselves, and cushions rained on the field after the great clout. Everyone was delirious with joy.

This blow put heart into the entire Cracker team. It was really the clout that turned the trick, although great is the credit due Captain Walton and Bizzy for their blows, the former a triple and the latter that old pinch single.

But, after all, it was Rabbit's circuit clout that sent the large crowd of fans home in a good mood, realizing that half a game had been gained on the leaders. And everyone ate ravenously. But for this blow, Atlanta housewives would never, on their drying day, understand what happened to their husbands' appetites.

Nerve-Racking Games. But we are leaving the main track to go in raptures about the blow that routed the Russian artilleryman. The locals and the Pelicans battled through two seven-inning games of nerve-racking ball, with both sides threatening to blow up at any stage. The Crackers, with the assistance of the tallest hurler in captivity, blew in one run in the first game. The Pels' hurler blew at just the psychological time in the second game, the time that they write about in books.

The Pels capped the opening melée by a 7 to 5 count, by getting to Slim Love in the fifth round. Six hits for six runs, with a couple of boots by his support and a homer that all he had to do is to hurt that baseball and then stand flat-footed in the box, no matter what the play, sent him to the bench, where he ought to have gone before the inning started.

Joe Conzelman assumed the hurling burden and, after he got warmed up in that disastrous fifth, hurled as great a game as he pitched the day before. Four of the seven men that faced him in the two and a fraction innings he pitched, did not hit. The Pels were the first to rally. Love pitched McKillen on by issuing free transportation in the first inning. Erwin sacrificed him down, and he moved over to third on an out, scoring on a passed ball.

The Crackers tied it up in their half. Agler singled and stole second and third. Welchone got a free ticket, and while the Pels were chasing him up and down between first and second, Joe counted.

The Crackers grabbed off enough runs to win with ordinary pitching when they annexed a couple in the third frame. Agler smashed one to left field for three cushions, and counted when Welchone laced one to the scoreboard for the circuit.

Fatal Fifth. Then came the large blow-up. Green hit one to Agler, and when Love failed to cover he was safe. Adams slammed one through the box, Love making no attempt to stop it. Stevenson hit one to Agler, and again Love kept anchored in the twisters' box and a run tallied.

SOLICIT STOCK FOR AUTODROME

Committee Will Start Canvass on Monday—Work Is Progressing Rapidly—Grading Soon Finished.

Committees representing the Atlanta Autodrome Athletic association will start a canvass Tuesday for the sale of stock. More than forty subscribers have been secured during the past few days without any canvassing. Every subscriber will receive a life membership, pass good for two free admissions to all the races and a membership in the Automobile club, a social feature of the new company. The track site is practically level, the ground has been cleared and all the grading has to be done before everything is in readiness for the actual building of the big board saucer. The grand stand will have a seating capacity of 10,000 and in front of the grand stand there is a smooth bermada where automobiles are expected to park. Occupants can sit in their cars and see the races.

Clark Griffith Got Wind of the Deal, Hence His Offer of $100,000 for the Great Georgian.

Clark Griffith, manager of the Senators, got wind of the negotiations between the New York and Detroit clubs and offered $100,000 for the great player. He was willing to bid higher, if necessary, but he was too late, as the deal had been consummated.

Griffith was politely ordered by Ban Johnson, president of the American league, to say nothing about Cobb going to New York, and as a result little was heard from the Washington manager after he made his offer.

When President Navin, of the Detroit club, was informed that Griffith had been tipped off that Cobb was to be sold, and that the Senators' manager had made a bid, through the newspapers, for the services of Cobb, Cobb if I offered him for half that amount. Griffith had better figure on paying for his ball park before he said: "The Washington club could not buy."

The Pels apparently made it safe in the seventh. Erwin doubled, a left and counted when McDowell punched out a single. In the Crackers' seventh, Agler gave the glum rosters, teammates and scribes a chance to cheer by getting a free ticket. But sandamonium reigned when Long picked one to the left field fence for the circuit, tying up the old ball game.

Then, with confidence galore, the Crackers rushed to the attack. Valdosta poked one that hit the bull on the first bounce, and he pulled up at the hot corner. With the count 3 and 2 on him, Bisland poked one between short and third, one of his famous pinch hits, and the honor of the Crackers was saved.

The weather was perfect and 50,000 persons saw the contest, in which twelve cars started. Rickenbacher, pilot of a Mason, went out of the race in the first lap. The car ahead of him had skidded and to avoid bumping in, Rickenbacher drove into a ditch, breaking a rear axle. Haupt, another Mason driver, was a contender in the race for 245 miles, when his engine burned out and he limped off the course.

TY COBB SOLD TO NEW YORK YANKEES; REPORTS AT START OF 1914 SEASON

Deal Has Been Closed, According to Stockholder of the Detroit Club—Purchase Price $40,000.

New York, August 30.—(Special.)—Ty Cobb, the great outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, will be a member of the New York Yankees next season.

The "Georgia Peach" has been sold by the Detroit club to the New York club for the largest amount ever paid for a baseball player—$40,000.

The announcement of the sale will not be made officially until after the present season is over, but the news of the sale leaked out today through a stockholder of the Detroit club. The latter refused to have his name used at this time.

Gil Anderson in Stutz Wins Elgin Road Race, Breaking Course Record

Elgin, Ill., August 30.—Gil Anderson, driving a Stutz car, 302 miles at the rate of 71.2 miles an hour today, won the Elgin National Road race in 4:19.38. Ralph Mulford finished second and Spencer Wishart third.

Anderson did more, for he emerged from under the shadow of racing misfortune which had gained him the title of the champion hard luck driver of the country. An Indianapolis last May he held second position until the last 30 miles and in this city a year ago he again was second.

Today's race was the first win of his career as a driver, for which he forsook the earlier calling of a marine engineer. The race was remarkable for the number of cars that stayed on the track and for the closeness of the contest as indicated in the summaries. At 100 miles Dawson, Haupt and Burman were only a few seconds apart.

Five Injured. Five (Chicagoans) were injured in automobile accidents at the Elgin races. They were: Mrs. E. Spencer, kneecap broken and badly bruised, condition critical; T. A. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer, occupants of the same car, badly bruised; George Grundel, crushed. The Spencers were stalled alongside the public road near Bartlett, 7 miles southeast of Elgin, when George Grundel, who drove an Erwin Special, seemed to have third place secured at 259 miles, but he ran out of gasoline on the back stretch and ceased to figure.

Anderson by his performance today broke the record for the event. His speed, 71.2 miles an hour, compared with 62.1-2 made by Mulford in 1910; 64.43 in 1911 by Len Zenzel and 68.4 a year ago when DePalma won.

Contracted for during the above mentioned period, Cincinnati comes next with twenty-one. Detroit is third, with nineteen, while the others are as follows: Cleveland 17, New York Americans 15, Pittsburgh 14, St. Louis Nationals 14, Chicago Americans 14, St. Louis Americans 12, Boston Americans 11, Washington 11, Chicago Nationals 10, Brooklyn Nationals 10, New York Nationals 4, Philadelphia Nationals 4, Philadelphia Americans 2.

VALDOSTA MAKES IT TWO IN ROW

In Post-Season Series With Thomasville—Otto Jordan's Club Hits the Ball Hard. Score 5 to 2.

Thomasville, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—Valdosta took the second game of the post season series this afternoon 5 to 2.

Van Landingham, first man up, started with a home run over center-field fence and from that time until the end of nine rounds, the Valdosta crew pounded Day hard and consistently, getting safe hits in every inning except one.

The game was replete with fast, snappy fielding and the terrific clouting of both clubs. The Thomasville team was out-classed and outplayed at every stage of the game. Dumb playing with men on bases losing several chances to score. Hawkins hit for a homer with one on in the seventh.

Season Wanes

Week From Today 1913 Pennant Race Will Come to Close

Crackers Play Seven More Games—The Season Locally Closes Saturday With the Chattanooga Lookouts.

Table with 5 columns: Year, Team, W., L., P.C. Rows include 1901 Nashville, 1902 Nashville, 1903 Memphis, 1904 Memphis, 1905 New Orleans, 1906 Birmingham, 1907 Atlanta, 1908 Nashville, 1909 Atlanta, 1910 New Orleans, 1911 New Orleans, 1912 Birmingham, 1913 7 7 7 7 7.

One week from today the thirteenth annual season of the Southern Association of Professional Baseball will come to a close and the "big winner" will be decided.

As yet the outcome is in doubt, though the doubt exists only in Atlanta, where everyone concedes the Crackers to have an outside chance, and will continue to so concede until the four-game series with the Mobile Gulls is played.

The season in Atlanta comes to a close Saturday. The Chattanooga Lookouts have the honor of bringing one of the most successful seasons in the history of Atlanta baseball to a close with a single game that afternoon.

Monday the Pelicans meet the Crackers in their final games of the season. Morning and afternoon contests will be played, the morning game starting at 10:30, and the afternoon game at 3:30.

Tuesday, the league leaders, the Mobile Gulls, will be the opponents of the Crackers in a series of games that will determine for good and for all where the pennant will fly.

The outcome of the games that the Crackers and the Pelicans play Monday and the double bill between the Lookouts and the Gulls will decide the importance of the four games between the two leaders.

Should the locals manage to grab off both games Monday, while the Lookouts wait into the Gulls, then old crucial series will pop up right in the midst again, and the four games between the two leaders will decide the ultimate flag winner.

If the opposite result should occur, then it will be all over, but the mere formality of playing out the string of games to the end.

Down to Five Point. This is bringing it down to just about as fine a spot as anyone would see, and for the good of the game, the league and everyone connected with it, we hope that the four games will be the ones that will tell the tale. Mobile has a comfortable lead at present, and are really a 2 to 1 bet to win. But even Monday's game will not settle the matter.

The race has been a pretty one all the way. It has never been and is not now settled. The contest seems to be settled after the seventh and eighth positions, which Nashville and New Orleans will hold to the end.

Montgomery, Chattanooga and Birmingham are having a fierce fight for the two lower positions in the first division. With the season ending these three teams for the remainder of the season is sure to be fierce.

With a fight on for first place between two teams, the season will be a third place between three teams, no one could ask for a race that could create any more interest than all five were battling for the rag itself.

Season Closes Sunday. While the season will end in Birmingham, Chattanooga, Nashville and Atlanta on Saturday, there will be two games yet to be played.

New Orleans plays in Mobile Sunday and Memphis plays in Montgomery on the same day. And it may be that the outcome of these two games will determine the standing of several clubs in the race.

Mobile might need this game to beat Atlanta in the third-place game, while Montgomery might need her game to finish in third place. You never can tell what may happen between now and next Sunday, with seven games remaining to be played by some teams and eight by others.

Baseball is an uncertain game, and there are all kinds of conjectures that one can arrive at, all kinds of possibilities that may turn up and spoil the best-laid plans.

The southern league season of 1913 should go down into history as the best season from a ball-playing standpoint and from a financial standpoint that the league has ever enjoyed.

VARDON AND RAY WIN BEST BALL FORESOME

Chicago, August 30.—Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the two former professional golf stars, were the champions who are in this country to fall in the open championship this fall, won a close best ball foursome at the Onwentsia club today. Vardon and Ray played 36 holes with Tom Vardon, brother of Harry, and William Marshall, the Onwentsia professional.

The local men held the Britons even nearly all the way but went even down on the thirty-fifth green, when Tom Vardon missed a 4-foot putt, the Britons taking the match 1 up in 36 holes.

The best ball scores were: Morning Round—Vardon and Marshall 67; Vardon and Ray 68. After 60 holes Vardon and Marshall 72; Vardon and Ray 69. The best individual score was a 65 by Marshall—par for the links in 73 and all the most played under that figure.

Rivington Bisland Greatest HITS .384; FIELDS .981 Southern League Shortstop

Who is the best shortstop in the Southern league? Unanimous answer by the fan flock "Bisland," and the echo answers, "Bisland."

Rivington Bisland came to the Crackers by purchase from the Pittsburgh Pirates. He came touted as a "real" shortstop and ever since he has been with the locals he has lived up to his advance notices.

He has exceeded his advance notices during the past two months. His playing in the past forty-seven games has been the best shortstopping that has ever been shown at Ponce de Leon park.

We speak of his all-around playing. Sensational fielder that he is, Johnny Lindsay, of Nashville, considered to be the best fielding shortstop in the league, has not even approached the fielding stunts that our Bizzy has 247 to 308.

From the time he joined the Crackers until July 4, Bisland fielded at a .508 clip. From that time until August 27, he fielded at a .381 clip. He topped his season's fielding average 12 points as the result.

In the last forty-seven games, Bisland has made sixty-seven hits and counted seventeen runs in 170 times at the bat, a percentage of .384.

In the last forty-seven games, Bisland has made sixty-seven hits and counted seventeen runs in 170 times at the bat, a percentage of .384.

Great Hitter. But it has been his hitting that has placed him far in the front rank of any shortstop in the league and has made him one of the most dangerous men in the pinches in the league.

When the team was on its last road trips, the fan flock at the baseball detail counted a run as good as scored with a man on third base and Bisland at the bat.

Just by way of adding nothing else to do and to add spice to this little eulogy of our little friend Bizzy, we kept track of the chances that Bisland had to drive in a run when there was a man on the hot corner waiting to dent the platter with his spikes.

Bisland was not as successful driving them in when they were on the keystone as he was when they were on the hot corner. In these forty-seven games Bizzy had twenty-five opportunities to drive in runs with men on third base. He responded twenty-three times. His pinch hitting average was .920.

All the comments that we are making on Bisland and the figures that we are producing to back up our claims include from the games played in July to the one played Thursday with Memphis.

Some Figures. From the time he joined the Crackers to July 4, Bisland hit at a .247 clip. From July 4 to August 27, he hit at a .384 clip and as the result he boosted his season average from .247 to .381.

Bisland has handled ninety-seven putouts, made 170 assists and only seven errors, a fielding percentage of .981. We defy any other scribe in the league to say that the shortstop on their team is better than Bisland in the face of these figures: .981 fielding at short is about 50 points better than the average shortstop fields, and .384 hitting is 100 points better than the average shortstop hits in the majors.

But despite the fact that he has been piling up this wonderful average those who have not seen him play do not know how really wonderful it has been.

Great Pair of Hands. Bizzy never lets the ball play him. He has as fine a pair of hands as any shortstop in baseball and he knows just what to do with the ball when he gets it.

For the season Bisland has made forty-two errors. Now here is a strong point. No matter where he chases for a fly, be it to the other side of second base, back into the outfield or over on the foul line, he is death on them.

Bisland has yet to drop his first fly ball this season. There is only one other player in the league who can boast of the same record. He is his team mate, Wallop Smith. When you send a fly up within reaching distance of either of these fellows go and sit down. They never miss.

For the entire season, Bisland has had an average of six chances to the game. He got off to a bad start, considering that the ground on the different fields was all new to him, and he did not know how to play for a ball. When he got the swing, notice the improvement—an average of six chances in forty-seven games and but seven errors, four of them on bad throws to first.

Again we remark: The best shortstop that the Southern league ever saw is Rivington Bisland.

RIVINGTON BISLAND. The best shortstop the Southern league ever saw.

The same time. Policemen escorting the New Yorkers, seeing the attack upon their brother officers, went to their rescue and the crowd that was following instantly rushed forward and attacked McGraw and his men. One of the players, said to have been Shafer, was reported to have been struck by a brick.

The crowd also pressed in upon the umpires, the police saw Brennan was struck and almost knocked down. Once inside the station, players and umpires were safe and they left for New York shortly after 6 o'clock.

After McCormick, batting for Merkle in the ninth, had been retired, Manager McGraw complained to Umpire Brennan that spectators waving their straw hats in the center field bleachers reflected the sun's rays into the eyes of the batsmen. Even though the police were called on the spectators would not budge. There was no place to go.

After a long consultation, the game was forfeited. As soon as the word had been spoken the New York players made a rush across the field to the clubhouse. Some fans were there ahead of them and showered upon them all kinds of names.

Manager Dooin said the game would be protested. The game started as a runaway affair for New York, who scored six runs in the first three innings. In the fourth inning Chalmers relieved Alexander and not a New York player got a hit nor did a runner reach first base after that. The Phillies turned upon Mathewson in the sixth and scored five runs in the seventh and eighth.

From the time he joined the Crackers until July 4, Bisland fielded at a .508 clip. From that time until August 27, he fielded at a .381 clip. He topped his season's fielding average 12 points as the result.

Bisland has handled ninety-seven putouts, made 170 assists and only seven errors, a fielding percentage of .981. We defy any other scribe in the league to say that the shortstop on their team is better than Bisland in the face of these figures: .981 fielding at short is about 50 points better than the average shortstop fields, and .384 hitting is 100 points better than the average shortstop hits in the majors.

But despite the fact that he has been piling up this wonderful average those who have not seen him play do not know how really wonderful it has been.

Great Pair of Hands. Bizzy never lets the ball play him. He has as fine a pair of hands as any shortstop in baseball and he knows just what to do with the ball when he gets it.

For the season Bisland has made forty-two errors. Now here is a strong point. No matter where he chases for a fly, be it to the other side of second base, back into the outfield or over on the foul line, he is death on them.

Bisland has yet to drop his first fly ball this season. There is only one other player in the league who can boast of the same record. He is his team mate, Wallop Smith. When you send a fly up within reaching distance of either of these fellows go and sit down. They never miss.

For the entire season, Bisland has had an average of six chances to the game. He got off to a bad start, considering that the ground on the different fields was all new to him, and he did not know how to play for a ball. When he got the swing, notice the improvement—an average of six chances in forty-seven games and but seven errors, four of them on bad throws to first.

Again we remark: The best shortstop that the Southern league ever saw is Rivington Bisland.

Time, 1:40. Umpires, Brennan and Eason. Reds 7, Cards 4. Cincinnati, August 30.—Cincinnati won a slow and ragged game from St. Louis today 7 to 4. Doak was so wild that he retired in favor of Perritt in the third. The latter was hit freely, while Geyer appeared too late to save the day. Ames, on the other hand, pitched fair ball.

GRIDIRON PRACTICE Will Start at University Wednesday, September 10.

Athens, Ga., August 30.—(Special.) Football practice will begin at the University of Georgia on Wednesday, September 10, and all those who will try for the squads are expected to report at that time, according to a statement of Coach Cunningham today. The training table will be operated in Lumpkin hall and scientific feeding of the men will be followed. It is generally reported that Joe Bean may be secured for the coaching force of Georgia for the next year. He is head physical trainer at Marist college and was a baseball player on the Jersey City team at one time. If he should be signed his connection will not effect the relation of Harold Ketter and "Emp" Peacock, who are coming back for the football season to help Alex Cunningham coach the grid workers at Georgia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE Senators Win Two. Boston, August 30.—Hits for extra bases figured largely for Washington in winning both games of a double-header from Boston today, the first by 4 to 1 and the second a shut-out, 4 to 0. Engle had the better of Bedient in the first game. Leonard and Green were both batted hard in the second game, but the Washington pitcher held Boston safe when the bases were occupied.

Yanks Win Two. New York, August 30.—The tall-end New York Americans surprised the pace-making Athletics today by defeating them in a double-header, 5 to 0 and 6 to 4. It was the Philadelphia team's last appearance here in an American league contest this season and marked their first defeat in New York since the spring of 1912.

Tigers & White Sox 5. Chicago, August 30.—Chicago failed to hit Dubuc safely with men on bases today and lost to Detroit, 5 to 3. The local errors also proved costly. Scott, taken out in the fifth to permit Roush to bat, was supplanted by White. Fisher, Scroggins, a recruit from Hugo, Oklahoma, was released by Chicago to the Lincoln club of the Western league.

Phillies & Giants 6; BUT GAME IS FORFEITED. Philadelphia, August 30.—New York won a war-torn game with Philadelphia on a forfeit 6 to 0, after the home team had a lead by the score of 5 to 0, and only good police protection saved the game from being forfeited. The Philadelphia club had failed to move from a section in the center field bleachers spectators who New York players claimed interfered with the vision of batsmen.

Brooklyn Keeps Walker. Brooklyn, August 30.—Fred Walker, the Brooklyn pitcher who received his unconditional release last week at his own request, signed a new contract tendered him by the Brooklyn club today. Walker did so well in the game he has pitched since he began working on his ten days' notice that Manager Dahlen decided to retain him.

Umpires Brennan and Eason were escorted another street by a dozen policemen and when hearing the station they were assailed by a shower of stones and other missiles. The players and the umpires reached the station from different directions about

WESTERN TENNIS STARS STILL WIN

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., August 30.—The international tennis tournament which ended here today was a battle between the east and the west, with the latter the victor. Griffin, of California, a dark horse, won the men's open singles, the most spectacular event of the week. The winning contest between Griffin and Whitney, of Boston, was fast from start to finish and it was after many games almost to the last stroke. The score stood 8-6, 1-8, 8-4 and 8-6.

On the ladies' open Mrs. Mrs. Robert Williams, of Philadelphia, defeated Miss Mary Browne, American national champion in the finals, 8-6, 3-6, 6-4.

Johnston and Griffin, of California, won the men's doubles from Whitton and Seaver, of Boston, 6-2, 6-3 and 6-2.

In the mixed doubles, Miss Mary Browne and Johnston, California, beat Mrs. Williams, Philadelphia, and Griffin, California, 8-6, 6-4.

WHITNEY'S PENNANT WINS THE FUTURITY

Saratoga, N. Y., August 30.—Pennant won the $15,000 futurity at 6 furlongs here today after a desperate drive to ward off Southern Maid and Addie M. who finished second and third, respectively. The result was in doubt until the last few strides. The time was 1:15.

Both Pennant and Southern Maid came from far behind in the stretch, and had Mr. Tazart been able to keep Southern Maid going in the early stages she probably would have beaten Pennant. Brinhurst took the lead in the first few strides, followed by Forum and Early Rose, with Addie M. close up. The trailers were Pennant, Southern Maid, and Early Rose and they were widely separated from the leaders.

Turning out of the back stretch Brinhurst had a commanding lead on Forum and Early Rose, but as they swung for home Pennant entered the argument and during the early stages dropped back, beaten a furlong from home. Pennant challenged Brinhurst and the two led the race for a stretch of a mile, where Pennant began to draw away. Then Southern Maid came up with a wonderful burst of speed. She was taking two strides to the winners' one in the last 50 yards.

Borel went to the whip on Pennant and the colt answered gamely, holding a length's advantage at the close. Addie M. was beaten only half a length for the place.

DR. MITCHELL GIVEN HANDSOME WALKING STICK BY PLAYERS

Dr. J. W. Mitchell, the physician of the Atlanta baseball club, was presented a handsome gold-handled walking stick by the members of the Atlanta baseball club yesterday afternoon as a token of their appreciation of the many little favors he has done for them this season.

The presentation was made between games in the double-header. Umpire Rudderham feigning an injury to get Dr. Mitchell to the plate, where Manager Smith made the presentation. Engraved on the handle was "To Dr. J. W. Mitchell, from the Atlanta Baseball Players, August 30, 1913." On the knob was the monogram "J. W. M."

Dr. Mitchell was profuse in his thanks. The boys could not have picked out anything that could have suited me better," he said after returning to the bench. "I appreciate the gift more than I can say, and turning to The Constitution's sporting editor he said, "You tell them how much I appreciate it."

Overland 1914 35 Horsepower. Value up—price down. THE 1914 Overland is the most wonderful car of the new season. And the price is again reduced. Bigger, better and more beautiful than ever, it is already the biggest seller of its type in the world. The motor is more powerful; the wheelbase longer; the tires larger; the tonneau more roomy; the equipment more complete, better and costlier than ever. In every respect Overland value has been increased while the price has been decreased. The manufacturers have turned their enormous facilities over to the building of this one model. In no other way could such value be secured. The production has been increased to 50,000 cars. There is an even stricter practice of the well-known Overland manufacturing economies. And this means a greater car at less cost to you. So finely drawn is the big 1914 Overland production plan that 50,000 cars will be built; 10,000 men will be kept busy all the year round; every wheel of the $4,000,000 worth of the most modern machinery kept in constant operation, and never a moment's hesitation permitted in a plant that covers more than 100 acres of ground. This is the way the Overland makes possible a $1,200 value for $950. We have the new model 79 Overlands on our salesroom floor now. We urge you to see this new model at once. Ride in the car; feel what a difference the big 114-inch wheelbase makes; note the car's entirely changed appearance. It is neater, prettier than ever—and that means the handsomest car of the year. The long wheelbase gives increased riding comfort. The improved Overland motor is rated at 35-horsepower—plenty of power to give satisfying comfort and speed. You'll find a most efficient and reliable electric lighting system on the new Overland. This costly addition to equipment is worthy a $1,500 car. The new Overland body has a handsome finish—beautiful, rich, dark Brewster green. The trimmings are of heavy nickel and aluminum. And the big, graceful cowl dash gives to the car an appearance of dignity vainly sought in many other cars of higher price. Examine the spacious tonneau; note the big, soft, deep and luxurious folds of upholstery. The new Overland is bigger and better; we can show you point for point where it is the best your money can buy. Stop in today. Overland Southern Automobile Co. L. E. ARMY-NAVY GAME MAY BE PLAYED

Washington, August 30.—Secretary Daniels, of the navy, and Assistant Secretary of War Breckenridge, conferred Friday on the proposed abandonment of the army and navy football game. Mr. Daniels withheld his opinion until later. The general impression in official circles was that the heads of war and navy departments would make an effort to get the midshipmen and the cadets together.

SWINGS HEAVY CLUBS NINETY-SEVEN HOURS

London, August 30.—Tom Burrows, the Australian all-round athlete and champion club swinger, collapsed at the Earl's court exhibition tonight in an attempt to swing a 2 1/2-pound club 100 hours continuously. He kept the clubs in motion for ninety-seven hours and thirty-five minutes and then dropped over. Last April Burrows swung a pair of 8-pound 5-ounce Indian clubs for more than 100 hours, but later became delirious.

Indians 5, Gulls 0.

Charleston, S. C., August 30.—Savannah won the final game of the local Sally league season here today 5 to 0. Adams pitched steady ball at all times for the visitors. Foster was given poor support, errors being made at the critical moments. A one-hand stab by Howell, which robbed Mendice of a sure double, caused the game. A pretty catch by Mayer also saved a hit from being recorded against Adams. The Savannah team played great ball.

"OREGON KID" WINS THE WEBB TROPHY. Keokuk, Iowa, August 30.—The Webb trophy, carrying a first prize of $1,000, and possession of the trophy for one year, together with the championship of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat association, was won by "Oregon Kid" yesterday. The boat is owned and was driven by S. F. Block, of Portland, Ore. The time for the 20 miles was 26:18. The "Kid" was not pushed to win.

Barnacle, owned by Adam Keikler, of Chicago, twice took fire, but finished third with Hydro-bullet second. Earl Deakin was taken from the latter in the third lap, after being injured when the boat capsized on a turn. C. E. Hanley, of Muscatine, newly-elected admiral of the association, then took the wheel and brought the boat in second.

Four-Cylinder Cars Are Becoming Harder to Sell Every Day

As proof of this fact, is it not true that over 90 per cent of the high-class manufacturers have dropped the four-cylinder car absolutely, and are today building nothing but SIXES? The dealer or manufacturer can no longer force upon the public ANY car regardless of reputation, price or looks. Enough cars are being built to supply the demand and the public is buying the cars in which it has confidence, which it KNOWS are not out of date, and the price of which represents good value.

How many manufacturers saw the six-cylinder demand six years ago, and developed a SIX? Not many. And yet there are more than five times as many manufacturers offering six-cylinders today than there were a year ago. This means that more than 80 per cent of the sixes offered today are first-year Sixes---UNPROVEN.

Premier Has Been Building Sixes for Seven Seasons---Therefore a Car of Proven Value

The purchaser not only wants a car of proven value, and one of up-to-date features in every respect, but he also demands a car in which he is assured of CONSTANT SERVICE, both at the present time and more particularly in the future.

REMEMBER that the dealer or representative of any particular make of car who loses money IS SOON OUT OF BUSINESS, and the owners or patrons of any such car or dealer are left absolutely unprotected.

Premier Dealers Make Money

Eighty-five per cent of the dealers who were selling PREMIER cars four years ago are selling PREMIER cars TODAY. Some of them were small dealers then, but you know how PREMIER dealers have grown.

THE REASON FOR THIS PREMIER PROSPERITY is that the PREMIER dealer not only sells a car which is a proven car, a car which is up-to-date in every respect, BUT ALSO BACKS UP EVERY PREMIER OWNER WITH SATISFACTORY SERVICE.

AND SELLING SERVICE MEANS WHAT? Selling Satisfaction

With an automobile, does the carrying of a big stock of parts, having an emergency trouble car available all the time, and a man at the telephone constantly, NECESSARILY mean Selling Service?

Could a railroad claim to sell service which has poor engines and rolling stock, and whose trains do not keep going, although this railroad might at all times have an emergency train to send to the help of the stranded passengers?

Taking you to your destination without delay or interruption is dependable service. Can an automobile manufacturer or dealer sell the kind of service the people are looking for? Not unless it is built in the car.

The dealer may assure his patron of prompt assistance and quick relief, but this does not make the car he is selling any more reliable or satisfactory. The public, the user, knows the cars which give service and are dependable. What are the weaknesses of your car? Should they be there? Does the factory know they are there? Do they realize that in order to really sell service, that service must be built in the car? Numerous Premier owners have toured Europe in their cars. When we have been asked what, if any, parts should be taken along, we inquired if experience has shown any parts as unreliable. As a result they left without extra parts. And we have never had a Premier driver stranded in Europe. Is it reasonable to suppose that ten private owners would have left their chauffeurs at home and undertaken a trip across the continent in 1911, in their Premier cars, if the experience they had had with their Premiers had shown them unreliable or had failed to prove them absolutely dependable? Records show that in one of the largest cities in America, one of the largest Premier distributing points, Premier has a record of not having lost a Premier owner in three seasons. Would this be possible if satisfaction was not built in the Premier and if these customers were not getting satisfaction out of their Premiers? Remember, every car sold represents to the dealer either an asset or a liability. Every customer is a knocker or a booster. If he is getting service out of his car he is a booster. If he is not, he will tell his troubles. Investigate Premier's record, analyze Premier construction, and compare it point for point with any car of American or European manufacture, and you will find the answer.

Also Bear This Point In Mind. Selling Satisfaction Means Satisfied Owners, and Satisfied Owners Means a Continuation of a Prosperous Business.

PREMIER DEALERS ARE NOT HERE TODAY AND GONE TOMORROW

GEORGE CHESLEY MAKES RECORD

Runs 224 Out of 225 at 800 Yards at Camp Perry—In- ternational Match on Mon- day.

Camp Perry, Ohio, August 30.—George W. Chesley, of New Haven, Conn., made a world's record on the rifle ranges here today when, in the Palma match elimination shoot, he made a run of 224 out of a possible 225 on the 800-yard range. His total elimination score of 435 in the 1900-yard range was 438. This places him first in the final line-up in the final tryout, which will be held next week.

Private J. S. Stewart, of the Massachusetts Galt corps, also established a record for a 19-year-old boy when he scored a total of 435 in the elimination shoot, which places him in second place for the final tryout next week.

The other ten sharpshooters of the United States who will take part in the final tryout are Second Lieutenant Fred H. Daniels, Second Infantry, Massachusetts; Captain K. V. Casey, Pennsylvania; Lieutenant Colonel C. W. Winder, Ohio; Lieutenant L. L. Waller, Jr., marine corps; Captain E. W. Eddy, Ohio; Second Lieutenant Robert Sears, first United States Infantry; Sergeant J. T. Lawless, fifth Infantry, Massachusetts; Captain J. H. Emerson, sixth Ohio; C. G. Duff, Texas; and First Sergeant James H. Wolford, fourth company, coast artillery reserve, Oregon.

Four teams of three men each from the United States infantry and marines took part this afternoon in the Casey problem match. The result of the shoot has not been given out. This match was held on the 200-yard range in stages at a distance of 100 yards. The targets represented a platoon of infantry firing and the shooters were supposed to be defending themselves.

Chaplain Thomas J. Dickson, of the Sixth Field artillery, will hold memorial services Sunday for Francis Zerkera Ballou, of the Peruvian team, who was accidentally shot and killed Thursday by a teammate.

"Elfie" Fay Meets Ellen For Davis & Freeman Golf Trophy at East Lake

By Carl Taylor.
T. B. ("Elfie") Fay and J. A. Ellen will lock horns Monday in the final round of the Davis & Freeman golf tournament. The winner will have one leg upon the cup, which must be won three times to become the permanent trophy of any one.

The present tournament makes the fifth year that the cup offered by Davis & Freeman has been contested for, in which time no one person has been able to successfully win the tournament three times.

In 1909, the first year of play, J. B. Byrd won it. He also won it in 1910. W. R. Tichenor won the tournament in 1911 and Hamilton Block was the victor in 1912.

Mr. Byrd was not able to enter the tournament this year and attempt to get three legs upon the cup, as he has moved from the city. As Mr. Tichenor was defeated by T. B. Fay at 1 up in the second round while Hamilton Block was losing to J. A. Ellen by the score of 3 up and 2 to play, there is no former winner left in the tournament.

Matches Excellent.

The matches throughout the tournament have been excellent and a beautiful game of golf should be put up Monday. T. B. Fay meets J. A. Ellen in the second flight both matches in the semi-finals were hard fought affairs. H. C. Moore winning his match from W. H. Glenn by the score of 2 up and 1 to play.

ATHLETIC CLUB TENNIS TOURNAMENT

By Carl Taylor.
The Atlanta Athletic club's annual tennis tournament started Sunday on the clay courts at East Lake with a good entry list of club members, sixteen men entered in the singles in and endeavor to win the tournament and have a crash at Carleton Smith, who won the tournament in 1912.

The singles match that attracted most attention was the one between E. M. Grant and O. G. Adams, Jr., which B. M. Grant won in straight sets. At several times Mr. Adams threatened to come from behind and cause Mr. Grant some trouble.

The doubles match between Mansfield and Smith and Grant and Carter was the most spectacular. The match was won by Grant and Carter in straight sets, although at several times the second set Smith and Mansfield led. The place shots of Carleton Smith won many points for his side, while the smashing game put up by Ed Carter was half-raising.

The first and second rounds must be played by Friday and the semi-finals by Saturday and the finals by Sunday morning.

The winner of the tournament will meet Carleton Smith in the challenge round, Saturday afternoon. This is the way the drawings resulted:

(First Round.) B. M. Grant defeated A. G. Adams, Jr., 6-1, 6-1. C. M. Ramspeck defeated M. O. Tupper, 6-1, 6-1. H. P. Ashe defeated G. M. Stout, 6-1, 6-1. E. V. Carter, Jr., defeated Halsey McGovern, 6-0, 6-2.

Men's Doubles.

(First Round.) Grant and Carter defeated Griffith and Partner by default. McMillan and Tupper defeated Wilson and Ashe by default.

Grant and Carter defeated Mansfield and Smith, 6-3, 6-4.

of the above disappointed, but there are many others who will stay away from the above rounds, and there are many who will not carry their things, but will take some steps to have the car company to at least give direct service from the park.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

Barons Win Two.

Birmingham, Ala., August 30.—Birmingham supplanted Montgomery in third place by blanking Montgomery in a double-header, 1 to 0 and 2 to 0. Hardgrove and Case pitched invincibly in the first, but Messinger's daring dive into the plate scored the only run on an infield hit. Case did not yield a clean hit.

In the second, Gregory and Manning fought another pitcher's battle, but Messinger's timely hit downed Manning. After pitching nicely, Gregory weakened in the seventh. Hardgrove relieved him and saved the game.

After losing the first game Manager Dobbie changed every ball to a different position in the line-up, but this failed to bring a victory.

Dear Dickenson, Sporting Editor Constitution: I have noted with pleasure the urgent requests you have been making in "Whisper" upon the fans of Atlanta to swell the attendance at the games at Ponce de Leon during the remainder of the season in order to lead Birmingham in the game, and I was in consequence you on this as well as the good sporting dope you are giving. There is one great feature that has not been mentioned in connection with swelling the attendance and one which I would think would result in considerably more people attending the game, especially when larger crowds than usual are anticipated, and this is the fact that the street car service from the arena.

I have heard numbers of persons remark on this subject, stating that if it was not for the very poor car service after the games, they would attend, but on account of not knowing when they would get away, they are staying from the game, thereby decreasing the attendance to the arena.

On yesterday, being with left, I left the park before the game was over, knowing that I would have to go on the street car to get away. I got on the car, but the street car was only two or three minutes after I got in the car until the car was gradually filled. I waited seven minutes for the car to leave, at which time the conductor would not leave until the street car was crowded to the top.

I have attended the games in Birmingham and notice the street car company at that point beside the roads to and from the park as they should and if Birmingham is ahead of Atlanta at the end of the season it will be no accident of the car company at Birmingham handling the crowd while the car company at Atlanta is doing its best to get away as they possibly can with as few trips to the park.

These are numbers who will attend in face of the above inconveniences, but there are many others who will stay away from the above rounds, and there are many who will not carry their things, but will take some steps to have the car company to at least give direct service from the park.

BOXING SEASON TO OPEN SHORTLY

Classy Bouts Are Promised for New York Rings in the Near Future—Ritchie v. McFarland, Maybe.

By JAMES J. Corbett. (Former Heavyweight Champion of the World. Written for The Constitution.)

New York, August 30.—The return of cool weather should bring about a decided improvement in the class of matches at local boxing clubs. If the press agents are truthful, New Yorkers are in for a season of high-grade entertainment.

In addition to the Garden and St. Nicholas clubs, which between them have monopolized the best matches since boxing was restored to popular favor via the Frawley law, there is the new arena the McMahon Brothers will throw open some time during the coming month, and which is to be located in the old Metropolitan rink building on Broadway near Fifty-second street.

A better location would be hard to find in the entire greater city, and with the enterprise and liberality that has characterized the policy of the McMahon brothers in the past, and their well-known propensity for going after the best in the market regardless of cost, it is only reasonable to look forward to a fall and winter season of classy boxing.

While promoters are planning for the coming season, it will be an opportunity to call their attention to a few bouts the loyal public would delight to see clinched, and, what's better and more to the point, would willingly "ough up" shekels galore for the privilege of seeing. We will begin with the lightweight, or "near" lightweight, division, and run over the list of good matches it might be possible to frame up for the entertainment of the fans.

Ritchie v. McFarland.

A bout which would appeal to sports of both high and low degree and probably draw the largest attendance in New York club has held in years, would be a ten-round session between Willie Ritchie, the champion lightweight, and Paddy McFarland, acknowledged the premier boxer in the game regardless of weight.

McFarland is due to arrive here within the next few ten days to talk over matches for the coming season, and Ritchie has announced that his plans embrace a bout which would include matches with all the leading lights in the division, beginning with Freddy Welsh, there is reason to believe that one of our greatest local fighters should be successful in bringing together these brilliant stars of pugilism.

It surely would be a match far above the ordinary, and undoubtedly the biggest success, from scientific and financial points of view, that could possibly be staged.

However, if a hitch should arise over the matter of weight between Packer and the champion, which is about the only contingency that could develop to hinder the bout, there are one or two other good matches in local stables who would prove good drawing cards, and who could also give the champion spirited arguments over the ten-round course.

Young Shugrue, for example, would make an ideal opponent for the titleholder, and in addition there are Jack Britton, Leach Cross and Tommy Murphy, all three of whom are immensely popular in New York, and whose records place them in the front ranks of those eligible for matches with Ritchie.

If Willie should elect to remain on the Pacific coast, the New York promoters would not lack for a sufficiency of suitable match-making material. A series of bouts between McFarland, Welsh, Britton, Shugrue, Cross and Tommy Murphy, all stars in the 133-pound class, would cause the fans to forget all about the champion.

Of course, McFarland looks to outclass the others named, and for that reason it might be a difficult matter to find opponents for him among the lightweights. But if Packer will agree to concede a few rounds, here and there, he can find plenty of matches in the division higher up, and unless Ritchie or Welsh should elect to place him on it, looks as if his future ring engagements will be in the welterweight class.

Packer is Classiest.

Some reports from Chicago say McFarland can easily make 125 pounds ringside, while others state that he has outgrown the lightweight division by 6 or 7 pounds, and is now a full-fledged welterweight. In either case, if the report is true, it will be a case of goodby to the smaller fellows for McFarland. Even if he stands so far above the majority of lightweights it would be a hard job to persuade his rivals to box him, and the odds are against the chance of any one of them conceding him weight under any conditions.

That old talk about a match between McFarland and Mike Gibbons has been revived, but I doubt if anything will come of it just now. Gibbons would hardly consent to box up and many weight ringside, and that is more weight than Packer would give away to a boxer of the skill of the St. Paul man.

When McFarland boxed Jack Britton last spring, he entered the ring around 140 pounds, but in spite of all the critics had to say about his increasing avoirdupois, the fact is he was several pounds too heavy in that engagement to do his best.

The truth of the matter is that McFarland was so confident of his superiority over his fellow townsmen that he did not apply the usual amount of energy to his training operations, and only did a few days preparatory work for the match. And in the ring that evening he so far outclassed Britton that the bout was too one-sided to be interesting.

To get back to the subject of Gibbons and McFarland getting together, there is no doubt in sight with the single exception of one between Packer and Ritchie that would bring any excitement as a set-to between Gibbons and McFarland. While the bout would determine the no-championship, it is being betwixt and between classes, according to the popular interpretation of the weight governing the several of the ringside, and the fans with a spectacular exhibition of scientific boxing. But as Packer would hardly weigh more than 140 at the most and Gibbons will stick out for 150, it is not likely the matchmakers will be successful in their attempts to bring the boys together.

Glover After Packer.

There is a certain waltzerweight anxiously awaiting the arrival of McFarland in the big city. His name is Mike Glover and his manager says he is so good that he can't get anybody to box him unless he will consent to give a ton of weight away. Glover is a legitimate welter, 142 pounds being his notch, but so eager is he to get a chance at the great McFarland that he will make 140 for the Chicago man.

Clinton Prough Still Leads Southern League Twirlers; Three Crackers Near Lead

BY DICK JEMISON. Clinton Prough, the elongated right hander of the Birmingham Barons, leads the Southern twirlers with 21 victories, 6 defeats and 1 tie, a percentage of 77.

Harry Coveleskie of Chattanooga with 16 wins and 8 losses is second, and Pug Cayet with 21 wins and 9 defeats is third. Conzelmann, Dent and Price, three Crackers, follow in the order named.

Coveleskie has twirled the most number of innings, working in 303. Cayet is second with 273 and Sommers of Chattanooga is third with 264. Parsons of Memphis has yielded the most number of runs, 132. C. Brown of Parsons is next with 121 and Forest More of Nashville third with 119. Parsons has also yielded the most number of hits, 241. Hardgrove of Birmingham is second with 223, C. Brown is third with 240.

Coveleskie has fanned the most number of batters, 146. E. Brown of Montgomery is next with 155. Williams of Nashville is third with 139. Price of Atlanta has walked the most number of batters, 114. Beck of Nashville is next with 112. Coveleskie of Chattanooga is third with 101. Foxen of Birmingham has hit the most number of batters, 31. Fleharty of Nashville is next with 24. Parsons of Memphis is third with 21. Kroh of Chattanooga, C. Brown of Montgomery and Foxen of Birmingham are tied in wild pitches with 9 each.

Elliott Dent of Atlanta has shown the best control of any pitcher in the league. He has only walked 24 men in 27 games, has not uncorked a single wild pitch and has hit but two batters.

Here are the averages of the pitchers up to and including the games played Wednesday, August 27:

Cotton States Tennis Tournery Will Be Played at East Lake

The third annual Cotton States tennis tournament will be played in Atlanta this year. The matches will begin Monday, September 1. There will be several distinct features to the tournament. By scheduling it late in the season, the tennis stars will get the benefit of the best kind of weather, with the base ball season in the Southern league a thing of the past and all the interest therefore center on the tournament.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE ENJOYED PROSPERITY IN ITS FIRST SEASON

Waycross, Ga., August 30.—(Special.) After finishing six of the most progressive cities of Georgia with as fast an article of baseball as that furnished by any class organization, the Empire State league, organized last November in Waycross, came to an end Wednesday. The season just closed was a successful one for the league, and it is believed that the directors decided to divide the season, letting the winners of each half play at the close of the season for the pennant.

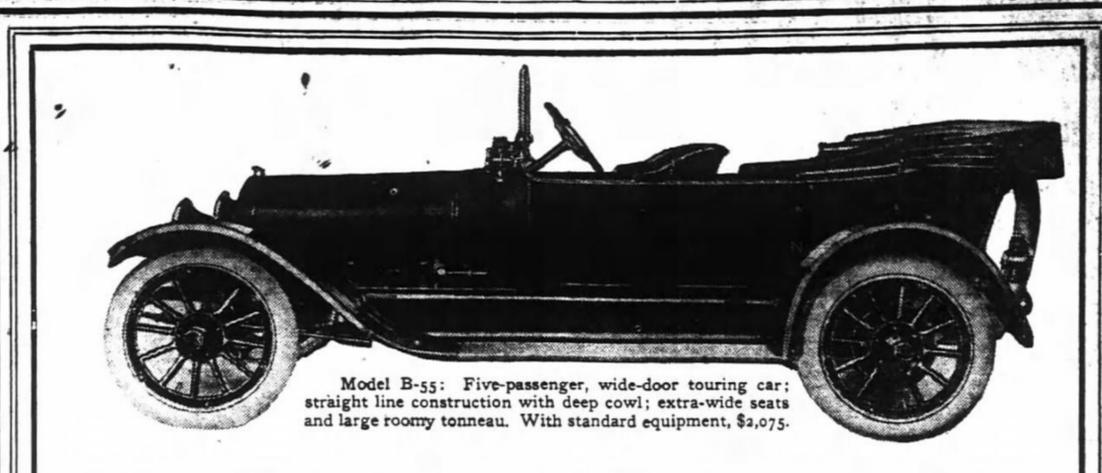

Starting May 1, the league at once claimed recognition and has held its own since. Many records were made during the season, all of them showing that the Empire was a classy organization, and here to stay. Of the six teams that took the race May 1, only two finished without changing their managers, Thomasville and Hinton, while the other four nearly all members of the league changed their managers several times.

The longest scoreless game of the season was played at Valdosta, America, where the home team, the thirteen innings without a run. The fastest game is claimed at Cordele, although several games were played in less than an hour. The game between Wilder and Fulliam, of the Cordele team, have credit for point games, both of them against Waycross, while nearly all pitchers of the league have one and two-hit games to their credit.

Directors of the league will meet in October to make arrangements for next season. Quite a number of changes in the league regulations are anticipated. It is believed that the salary limit will be raised from $1,000 to $1,200, and that this limit will be enforced absolutely without regard to excuses. The season may open earlier next year, too.

It is also rumored that the president of the league another year will reside at some point not interested in the league. Considerable kicking against the rulings of the president this season, much of it unnecessary, has caused members of the board of directors to feel that the selection of an outside man will be better. The directors will also endeavor to secure a good corps of umpires and, by backing up the umpires, to prevent much wrangling on the field. No serious disorder marred the season just closed, but in several cities the rows were mighty heavy, and might have caused serious trouble but for the right kind of action.

The league's pennant winner is as yet an unknown quantity. Valdosta and Thomasville started the fight for the rag on Friday at Valdosta. Seven games will be played, if necessary. Baseball in the cities comprising the Empire is not over yet, as a number of exhibition games between Empire league teams and South Atlantic league teams will probably be played. To the generosity of the newspapers of the state, especially the papers in the cities of the league, is due to a large measure, the success of the league. The papers have from start to finish done in their power to boost the league, and but for this assistance it is extremely doubtful if the league would have lasted through the season.

There Is a Buick Model For Every Man Who Intends to Buy Any Motor Car

No matter what style—roadster, touring car, coupe, etc.—we don't believe there is a line of motor cars that can show you more real value for your dollars than the Buick for 1914. It is the logical car for the man who counts upkeep cost, market value after years of use and daily satisfaction in certainty of service, appearance and pride of ownership. You may buy cars cheaper than the Buick, but you can not buy them better.

In the 1914 line every time-tried feature has been retained. Only such new ones have been added as have demonstrated their value beyond doubt. The wonderful Buick overhead valve motor will continue to prove the superiority of the Buick from the power side. It is admitted by the world that the Buick overhead valve motor develops from 15 to 20 per cent more power than motors of other types, all things being equal. Your Buick will take you where any other car can go and over roads and up hills that many other cars could not navigate.

The Delco Unit System for Starting, Lighting and Ignition Is Built In As An Integral Part of Every 1914 Buick Model

We stated some time ago that we would not use a self-starter until we could find one as good in its way as the Buick. Time showed the Delco System to be the right one. We wanted a starting device, not an attachment; one that could be built in as an integral part of the motor and that would work in harmony with it.

Various makes of starting devices were thoroughly tested by us. After close investigation and numerous experiments, we chose the Delco System because it is of the single-unit type, hence is more compact and lighter in weight. And because it is the oldest and most successful starting and lighting device on the market.

Buick Models For 1914

The same underlying principles of construction are followed in the building of every Buick. The overhead-valve motor is in every model. No matter what its price, a Buick car must and will give the maximum of that service for which it was intended.
