HE KNEW HIS SHIP WAS GOING TO BOTTOM

Newcastle, England, July 9.—Foreknowledge of the fate of his ship, the Mount Oswald, which with her crew of twenty-four men was never heard of after departing from Baltimore for Hamburg, on February 17, 1912, was shown in a letter from Captain Stannard to his wife, read today during the board of trade inquiry into the loss of the vessel. In this letter, sent ashore at Baltimore by the pilot, Captain Stannard said:

HEAT-CRAZED, HE DROWNED SELF.

Mobile, Ala., July 9.—A heat-madened fireman of the British steamship Glenbridge, plunged overboard and drowned just outside the harbor of Havana. The vessel arrived here today. A two hours search by the vessel's crew had failed to locate the body. The fireman had tried pouring water on his head. This failing, he threw himself into the sea.

NAME OF BUSINESS MAN BROUGHT INTO SCANDAL

Hattie Smith Says She Registered With Men in Cumberland and Britain—Recorder Binds Over Three.

A story of vice that is unprecedented even in the sordid history of police court, was poured into the ears of Judge Broyles Wednesday afternoon, when Hattie Smith, the 17-year-old "Girl of the Streets," was called to the stand.

Three Hotels in Case.

The names of three hotels were drawn into the girl's tale. They are the Cumberland, in which she was registered and in which she declares she placed her trade, the Childs, a hostelry at Broad and Alabama streets, and the Britain, which is situated on west Mitchell street in the Terminal station district.

C. F. von HERBERMANN, Section Director. Continued on Page Two.

Miss Barnhart said she suggested that they go together to the Cumberland, at which she was stopping, where she could obtain the "girl of the streets" apartment.

GEORGIAN MIXED WITH BAD CROWD

Miss Barnhart went first, advising that it was safer and would not create suspicion. Hattie followed 10 minutes later. She went to the room of Miss Barnhart, and found that room 45 had been assigned her. The Barnhart woman said that she had given the girl a new name, "Lucile Evans," which she had placed on the hotel register.

So Farmers' Union President Smith Describes His Association With the Opponents of Free Sugar.

On the streets, a short time afterward, she was picked up by an auto-mobiling party who carried her to the Marietta street home of her parents at 9 o'clock. Thursday night she returned to the woman at the Cumberland, and made an engagement with Clyde Cox, who was arrested with her Sunday night.

By John Corrigan, Jr. Washington, July 9.—(Special.)—Evidence that the name and influence of the Farmers' union was unfairly used by R. D. Bowen, of Texas, to aid the sugar lobby before congress, was submitted to the lobby investigating committee today by L. A. Smith, of Georgia, and H. H. Mobley, of Arkansas.

Under the guise of a meeting called to devise means to extend the trade in cotton goods, representatives of seven state unions were induced by Mr. Bowen to go to New Orleans to take part in such a discussion. Their expenses were paid by Mr. Bowen.

"Yes, sir; so much so that I made a speech about it," said Smith. "I urged Bacon to shame Congress. Smith explained later that he telegraphed to Senator Bacon not to go into the democratic caucus until it was assured that a duty would be put on meats and other farm products. Smith said when he got back to Georgia he found he had been 'mixed up with a bad crowd.' He then learned, he said, that the meeting was really called to work against free sugar.

After the meeting they sent telegrams and letters to the representatives and senators from their states urging them not to go into the democratic caucus on the tariff bill until they heard further evidence which the Farmers' union would submit. C. S. Barrett, the national president, was not present at the meeting, not having been invited.

"There is a suspicion in my mind that things were not just what they ought to have been, but I don't know much about it," said Mobley.

Addresses were made before the New Orleans meeting by C. B. Bryant, of North Carolina, secretary of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, and N. D. Colcock, secretary of the New Orleans sugar exchange, who represents the sugar cane interests before committees of congress. Mr. Colcock talked of both cotton and sugar. He said the tariff bill would cause a loss of $100,000,000 a year to the cotton farmers.

"I feel, like Mr. Smith, that there was something wrong at New Orleans." Whitman Tells of Wool "Lobby." William Whitman, of Boston, former president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, was on the stand much of the day. Mr. Whitman told about his interest in tariff legislation beginning 1873. He got only so far as the Dingley bill in 1897, when the committee adjourned.

Proprietor Kistner declared to the recorder that both the Smith girl and the Barnhart woman had conducted themselves as "perfect ladies" in his hotel, and that he could have found no reason for objecting to them before their records were cleared in police court.

outnumbered by the outsiders. When I heard the addresses I knew I had gotten into the wrong pew." "I reckon I'm a farmer," Smith told the committee.

RAILWAY MAIL HEAD.

H. M. ROBINSON.

ROBINSON WILL HEAD FOURTH MAIL DIVISION

Washington, July 9.—(Special.)—After tomorrow the battle over the Gainesville, Ga., postoffice will be transferred to another arena. Mrs. H. W. J. Ham will be confirmed and the controversy removed from the attention of the United States senate. "That it is not all over, however, is proven by the attitude of Representative Thomas M. Bell. He has had nothing to say since the senate turned down his nominee, A. S. Hardy, and selected Mrs. Ham. That he will attempt to fix the responsibility for his defeat upon Senator Hoike Smith is generally understood.

E. P. King Remains Assistant Superintendent and Cobb Becomes Chief Clerk.

FOREST FIRES BLAZING ON MOUNT TAMALPAIS
 Playground of Cities About San Francisco Bay Is Being Devastated
 San Francisco, July 9.—Forest fires are blazing fiercely tonight on three sides of Mount Tamalpais, a landmark of all the cities clustered about San Francisco bay. Three villages are threatened. The mountains was cloaked today by a mantle of white smoke which streamed across the bay like a wind blown scarf but as darkness fell the mountain blazed above the bay and ocean like an enormous beacon illuminating the sky for miles. The fires are believed to have resulted from carelessness of campers. Three thousand soldiers, sailors, naval apprentices, forest rangers, militia men and volunteer fire fighters are fighting the flames and the women in the threatened territory are working as hard as the men. Shops are closed and business is at a standstill throughout the threatened section.

Colonel George Bell Sixteenth United States Infantry assisted by District Chief Dubois of the forestry service is directing the fight. Thus far there has been no loss of life and little damage to private property although the possible damage is enormous and imminent. Mount Tamalpais lies on the north side of San Francisco bay. Easy of access by ferry and electric lines and its of the beauty spots of California. Its foothills have become dotted with cities and villages while on its slopes are hundreds of country homes of wealthy Californians. Every week swarms of holiday seekers thread the trails of the mountains and tourists from all over the country are familiar with its ascent. In the deep ravines hide groves of giant sequoias the most beautiful of which has been conserved in a national park named Muir Woods for John Muir the naturalist.

PATTERSON DEFENDS FORMER GOVERNOR
 Man Who Charged Brown With Pardoning Escaped Convict Asked for Clemency for Negro
 It develops according to Judge T. E. Patterson that a great injustice was done to Governor Brown in a communication to a local paper published yesterday from S. M. Howard, of Barnesville. Mr. Howard charges the recent governor with having issued a pardon for an escaped convict. The true history of the case is contained in the following letter from Judge T. E. Patterson a member of the prison commission who was appointed by former Governor Hoke Smith.

Editor Constitution: In the Journal of today appears a communication signed by S. M. Howard of Barnesville, Ga., in reference to his pardon of former Governor Brown of Tony Hightower that does Governor Brown an injustice. The facts are these that Tony Hightower and two other negroes were paroled by Governor Stanton in January, 1912, largely on the basis of a report and representation by Mr. Howard the author of this card and other citizens of Barnesville one of whom was H. H. Gray making it extremely doubtful that the negroes were guilty of the crime charged. That robbery Tony Hightower was paroled to H. H. Gray. Under the parole law the employer has to make reports monthly to this commission during the term of his parole. These reports were made until October, 1912, which was the last report filed by them and in this report it was stated that the general conduct and association during the parole period of the prisoner Hightower was good. This was certified to by H. H. Gray and the further certificate was that the prisoner has been honest, industrious and temperate. This was the last report received in our office concerning this prisoner although Mr. Gray claims that after this he reported that Hightower had left him. This report was not received in this office and our clerk wrote to Mr. Gray repeatedly and asked for reports on this prisoner and received no reply from him.

How Pardon Was Issued. In February of this year we had Mr. Gardiner our parole clerk to make up a list of all the paroled prisoners who had been out on parole more than a year and whose conduct was good and who were worthy of being discharged on final pardon. Mr. Gardiner in making up the list included Tony Hightower as one of those to be recommended for pardon and the recommendation was duly made by the commission and when reached by Governor Brown was approved by him and the pardon issued in due course. This is all there is to it and no censure is to be attached to anybody. Even if the prisoner had left, Mr. Gray if he was innocent as Mr. Howard claimed at the time of the original parole he should not have been put back in the penitentiary for breaking his parole.

Yours very truly
 T. E. PATTERSON
 Commissioner

ROBS SAFE OF $300, HOLDS UP WATCHMAN
 Daring Safe-Blower Busy Wednesday Morning at Scottsdale Mills Store.
 Held helpless at the point of a revolver in the hands of a daring safe-blower J. W. Myers, night watchman at the Scottdale mills store in DeKalb county was forced to stand with his hands hoisted at 3 o'clock yesterday morning and witness the escape of the crookman who had plowed the vaults of the establishment and made away with $300. J. J. Crawford, a middle-aged man, who was arrested later in the day under suspicion of having committed the robbery was released in the afternoon upon giving satisfactory accounts of his movements during the night. He is an acquaintance of Walter Turpin the ex convict who is held for blowing the safe of the Kirkwood postoffice recently. The safe cracker gained entrance to the Scottdale store through the front window after having broken the glass with a rock. The first the night watchman knew of the burglary was when he heard the sound of the explosion. Myers, running from the rear of the building, was confronted by a man of medium height as he turned a corner. The stranger, whose face and while Myers stood with hands aloft, made his escape.

DODGE
 The Guarantee Is Stamped in the Bar
 Dodge Bearing Metal was put upon the market because it made a success in the great Dodge factory. For years Dodge had studied to produce a bearing metal for their own use—one that would run at varying speeds—producing the greatest efficiency in the shops. That Dodge Bearing Metal is successful is proven by the fact that we have used it in the Dodge factory for twenty years. It was put on the market as the result of an insistent demand for our formula. Dodge Bearing Metal will meet every mill requirement, ranging from light loads and low speeds to high speeds and heavy loads. Dodge Bearing Metal will not only last longer—but saves the cost of re-lining the bearing. We will prepay the freight on the trial order of 100 lbs., so that you, too, may put wings on your power line. Dodge Bearing Metal is packed 60 lbs to the box. We will ship you a box on approval prepaying the freight if your order calls for 100 lbs. After a fair trial you may send the balance back if it does not prove every claim we make for it and we will refund your money.

Smart Suits of Summer Fabrics
 The suit a man buys to be cool in may just as well possess all the smartness of the heavier one.
 Summer fabrics are hard to tailor because of the loose weave and light weight, and great skill in handling is required to produce ideal results.
 A fig for the fabric if the style is not there! In a MUSE summer suit the style is very much there. It is tailored in. It controls the situation; it subordinates fabric to fit, and though your summer suit bears the true negligee air, it carries in its lines the imperishable stamp of good workmanship and fine style.
 And these good fabrics of comfortable and conforming weave are crash, tropical worsteds, mohairs and silk suitings.

AS TO DRINKING POLICEMEN

The police commission has acted well in disciplining policemen charged with drinking and intoxication.

It has not gone far enough. It is easy enough to say "Let well enough alone." But it is not let well enough alone so long as the policemen who protect life and property in this city may momentarily be transformed from guardians into menaces.

That is the omnipresent possibility as long as an officer drinks intoxicating liquors while in the service of the city.

For the better discharge of his duties the policeman carries a pistol. The citizen does not carry a pistol or if he does so without obtaining a license he becomes a criminal. The citizen who takes a drink may at any time become unreasonable and violent. But as long as he is not armed with a deadly weapon his power for harm is minimized. The officer who takes a drink may in a moment of dehydrated judgment inflict life and maiming upon no provocation whatever. His calling is one of extraordinary nature. He must submit to extraordinary restrictions or hunt an other calling.

Most of the railroads of the United States now require that trainmen abstain from alcohol not only when on duty but as well when off duty. For the after effects of intoxicants are as marked as their immediate influence. The same rule should apply to officers of the law. Upon applying for employment they should be given the choice between whisky and their jobs.

And the first conviction for intoxication should bring no suspension but discharge. Men who work in powder factories are forbidden to smoke. That seems like curtailing their personal liberties. Yet safety is the paramount requirement.

A LETTER FROM MISSOURI

The fulfillment of the prophecy of former Secretary of Agriculture Wilson that the south would eventually supply the nation with beef is already foreshadowed. W. H. Leiby of the Atlanta Birmingham and Atlantic railroad is in receipt of a letter from a firm in Henley Mo asking for quotations on five or six cars of southern cattle. This letter came as the result of extensive advertising by the A. B. & A. through the western states.

Unfortunately for Georgia she is as yet unable to supply all the cattle the west which formerly furnished the whole country with cattle may need. She is herself sending outside the state to secure cattle and hogs for her packing houses though we are breeding more of the proper sort of beef cattle than before.

The logical future of this state points to its making almost as much profit on cattle as on cotton. The industries do not conflict. On the other hand the one helps the other. The advantage once given the west by its tremendous ranches is gone. Georgia is on an equality with the west in the matter of space and enjoys a handicap when it comes to climate. If we go into the cattle business on a sensible scale we keep at home the millions we now needlessly send abroad and we bring in other millions from those parts of the country unable to produce cattle and now feeling the pinch of the cost of living.

beginning It is not needful to tear down the whole structure with one charge of dynamite. But the work must at least be put under way. Advantage must be taken of the receptive condition of public sentiment, which is today more favorably disposed toward tax legislation than in years. It is best to compromise and get half a loaf than no bread at all.

HEDGING "RIVER" APPROPRIATIONS.

As we interpret the resolution passed by the appropriations committee of the house, there is to be a ban henceforth upon the pernicious practice of tugging all sorts of extravagant and dubious riders upon the general appropriations bill enacted by the Georgia legislature. The resolution provides that the general appropriations bill shall carry only the maintenance for the institutions regularly contemplated in the constitution. Any increases for these institutions aside from maintenance or increases for any new or special project must be made the subject for a special bill.

The plan is really in the interests of true economy and of orderly procedure. Heretofore it has been a common custom in the Georgia legislature as in the legislatures of other states and of congress itself to engraft innumerable pet projects upon the general appropriation bill. The house has done this by direct action and the senate by amendment. As a result items that really did not belong in the bill have been insinuated in it with a minimum of debate. In the last and heated hours of sessions when both bodies were anxious to adjourn these items have been the cause of many a deadlock and what is worse, of the triumph of unworthy causes in the haste of members to get away. As a consequence the bill has gone to the governor after the general assembly adjourned. He had the alternative either of vetoing the whole bill and tying up the civil establishment or of signing and tacitly approving enterprises of which he might personally disapprove.

Governor Slaton directed attention to this undesirable condition in his inaugural address. The prompt response of the appropriations committee is gratifying. No Georgian and no member of the house or senate need fear oppression or injustice under the new order. No project that cannot stand the broad light of publicity and the searching test of debate deserves an appropriation. And those that are deserving will be duly taken care of so far as the artificially cramped resources of the state will permit.

GEORGIA'S CROP PROMISE

Probably no organization in the state contains more accurate or hand prophets regarding crop conditions than the Georgia legislature. A recent symposium of legislative views taken by the Constitution therefore is of unusual value. Representatives and senators from every part of the state were interviewed. To a man almost they declared that the outlook was for good crops in Georgia approximating in some instances the large yields of 1911.

A significant feature of these expressions is that they disclose the steady progress of corn culture all over Georgia. Legislators after legislators said the farmers of his county were raising more corn and other grains than ever before. The uniform report was that corn was also in excellent condition. The same statement held true proportionately with hay and here and there was encouraging news regarding the gradual enlargement of the live stock industry.

All these indications are of the most encouraging nature. Georgia has made great strides in manufacturing but agriculture is yet the financial backbone of the larger part of the state. If the acres make good returns and prices hold firm the state is independent of outside sources. The fine growing made this year is an argument for further diversification. The state is violating all economic law as long as it sends outside its boundaries for a pound of meat or a bushel of grain.

A MELTING POT BILL.

The ways and means committee of the house may well throw into a melting pot all the measures looking toward tax reform and from the flux mold an effective and conservative law. A tendency in that direction is already noticeable. A subcommittee of the whole committee, with Representative I. R. Ahn of Glynn as its chairman has been appointed to investigate tax equalization and report. It is probable it will make known its findings in a day or two.

The Constitution has not been and is not now dogmatic over details as to the kind of tax reform needed. But we urge the need of tax reform per se both as it touches the prompt payment of country school teachers and the dishonest and makeshift fiscal system of the state.

Details are matters to be adjudicated by the wisdom of the subcommittee of the whole committee and of the house and senate themselves. We incline to the belief that it is best to make a modest beginning by installing a central board and giving it power of correction and equalization within prescribed bounds over county returns. This will accustom the people gradually to the change. Next year the state can go a step farther. Within a few years Georgia will be operating under a model tax law and the change will have come so imperceptibly and equitably that not the most carping or selfish interest will be given ground for just criticism.

THE POSSIBILITIES OF CRIMSON CLOVER

Editor Constitution. As you are having some discussion of farm conditions I want to submit for your consideration a concrete idea which I believe has wonderful possibilities for good in Georgia agriculture.

I have been planting crimson clover several years with results like this: Land that the year's crop produced half bush of cotton per acre will easily make a bale and more now. I cut something like a ton of clover hay per acre in April and it is planted now to cotton. The land has been in cotton every year. In heavy years it has produced cotton during September or October at an expense of about $1.50. By April 15 it is ready to mow or turn under and the land planted to cotton again. It is a fine grazing crop or a splendid hay. Its fertilizer value is high being rich in nitrogen. Now a crop grown in the winter when the land is usually idle and actually losing in fertility will do these things. Would be a boon to many an unprofitable acre in Georgia. Any agriculturist like Mr. Hirst, Jorg or Mr. South will tell you that crimson clover will build up land very rapidly. The only difficulty is getting it to grow successfully and there is needed a publicity campaign to inform people in regard to its cultivation. It is as many people know little of the plant and how to grow it.

I have found this plan of growing clover and cotton on the same land intensely practical and profitable. The Elberton Star has aided me in a publicity campaign and there will be a clover festival in Elberton. In fact, we have a clover club with already over 100 names for a prize contest acre of cotton and corn next year planted on land to be sown to clover next fall.

The real trouble with Georgia is a system of farming which depletes the soil and we are cultivating too many acres from which there is no possible profit and the loss of our true soil fertility. The lines of increased production and better care of our lands. Mr. Editor I know the power of your journal and being so thoroughly confident of the benefits that would accrue from the general growth of crimson clover I would like for you to favorably consider its position and if you find it good boost it.

I have been trying to get people here interested in clover have talked with many farmers and judging by the sentiment here the time is ripe for the adoption of better farming methods.

I take the liberty to refer you to some recent articles in The Country Gentleman telling what crimson clover has done for sections of Delaware in growing clover hay and following with corn.

The Pension Train.

Editor Constitution. Notice in your paper today a good woman makes appeal to the legislature that the pensions of Confederate veterans and their widows be increased from $69 to $100 per year.

Have the people of Georgia ever thought seriously about the source from whence this pension money comes? What per cent of those receiving pensions are really in need or stated differently how many men in Georgia receive pensions who are not entitled to the same? And again is it legal and right to tax the children and grandchildren of Confederate soldiers who fought for us and after the four years war?

Suppose some Confederate veteran who does not accept a pension should at a tax if to be issued against him and plead that he owns nothing how can he collecting it? Has there ever been or is there a legal way by which the tax payers of Georgia can be made to pay over a million dollars a year in Confederate veterans? No true genuine veteran in Georgia should ever be allowed to want for the necessities of life and sentiment has paid and maintains a home open to every such veteran in the state.

Would it be a better plan in the future for the legislature to arrange for each county to pay its own veterans? If counties should pay their veterans direct they would see to it most certainly that those receiving actually need the same and are entitled to and worthy thereof. As the limit in Georgia has already been reached to raise money for any and all purposes by taxation limit it about time the people stop and consider.

We suggest that the legislature be invited to give to each county in Georgia to let a list of 1912 and if they will make a correct statement those who have and are now receiving pensions will be appreciated and fully satisfied and nothing further will ever be said about more money for pensions until next year.

Restricted Bills of Lading

Editor Constitution. In your issue of July 7 Congressman Adams circulates the Georgia Bankers association for the circulation of a circular on the subject of restricted bills of lading. This is a matter of importance to farmers, shippers of mills, cotton exporters, congress companies, banks and buyers of foreign exchange based on cotton bills of lading. Further protest against these restrictions will be voiced at a mass meeting of the various interests on Wednesday night, July 10th, held at the Hyattsville Hotel, Atlanta, July 10.

The particular part of our circular which drew the attention of Congressman Adams was this: "These restrictions will destroy the negotiability of these cotton bills of lading insofar as the banks are concerned and it will force the importer or cotton buyer to draw through New York or other financial centers for the value of the cotton when the bill of lading accompanying same bears any of the above enumerated notations or exceptions."

Our author is for a while statesman considers that of the big game of the world's foreign exchange dealers included in our membership whose ideas are supported by the leading foreign exchange experts of the United States and of the world.

A. F. Colles vice president Central Bank and Trust Corporation Atlanta. My argument is before the membership of the bank has been made. I believe the bill of lading restriction is a solid violation of interior bills of lading insofar as they enter no foreign exchange.

GET CLOSE

By George Matthew Adams.

Many a General since Time rot to going has bitterly learned the futility of fighting a battle at long range. Also many a Business man has learned to his sorrow the disaster back of a distant relationship between himself and his customers.

Individual supremacy and power result from combat whether or not it is a Battle of Arms, a Battle in Business or a Battle with your own Self. And the Closer you get to your opponent the surer you are of Victory.

Step a Step Closer
Another thing to remember—Imagination is a powerful factor in Success and the Closer you are to your work or your Opponent the bigger will be your Vision, the more will you see and the clearer will loom the real Purpose back of each effort that you make in life.

Step a Step Closer
Close quarters you are able to detect defects and correct them. Close centered there is no lost motion but power in every stroke. If you will but apply the suggested thoughts back of this little talk, to your work, to larger growths in sure. You will be a bigger man or woman.

The World's Mysteries

MYSTERIES OF LITERATURE

IS "HAMLET" THE STORY OF MARY, QUEEN OF SCOTS?

About none of Shakespeare's plays is there more interest and more mysteries as to the origin of the story than is attached to "Hamlet." Where did Shakespeare get his ideas for the writing of this play? Was it founded on historical facts, with the names of the persons given as the actual participants in the tragedy, or was the locale placed in Denmark to veil its true significance?

Hamlet was written not many years from the date when that strange story of Mary Queen of Scots life and death was the common talk all over the two kingdoms. Mary's husband was Darnley the husband of Gertrude came to a sudden and mysterious death. Within a few months afterwards Mary like Gertrude married the murderer of her husband. The Queen of Scots was almost all England certain by Queen Elizabeth held to be an accomplice of Bothwell in executing that great crime. So the player Queen in Hamlet says significantly while protesting her own constancy:

None wed the second but who killed the first.

Then the character popularly ascribed to the Queen of Scots at the time as exhibited in the famous casket letters is the character plainly hinted of Gertrude in Hamlet's monologue. Next compare the ghost's revelations to Hamlet with these statements from Robertson's History of Scotland: "The imperfect hints and obscure allusions with respect to the murder. Let this be granted. As a leading step however to the murder of the confederates accused the queen of criminal intercourse with Bothwell. That being once established the imperfect, obscure hints in the letters as to the murder become perfect, clear and luminous. The adultery is a proof of the murder it is the key to unfold, to explain the imperfect hints, and what from the letters taken per se were only presumptions now become clear proof against her as to the murder.

Aerial Robertson tells his readers in a note Buchanan and Knox were positive that the king—Darnley—had been poisoned. They mention all the black and putrid pustules which broke out all over his body. So the ghost says to Hamlet:

And a most instant tatter barked about
Most lazur like with vile and loathsome crust
All my smooth body"

Buchanan further states that prodigals accompanied Darnley's murder. A gentle man lying sick of a fever had a preternatural intimation of the event at the time of its occurrence and an apparition appeared to three friends of the Earl of Athol waked them out of their sleep and informed them of the murder. All this falls in with the story of the Ghost's noble and kingly appearance as clad in complete steel he stalks across the platform is almost a phrase the description given by contemporaries of Darnley's aspect and bearing:

Darnley was of immense stature being nearly 7 feet in height of a fair and warlike form and wore a remarkable suit of armor September 3 1565 Randolph wrote to Cecil: "The queen weareth a pistol charged when in the field and of all her troops she had only eight pieces of armor. This is the very fair and warlike form in which the majesty of buried Denmark did sometimes march depicted in the play."

To the like parallel effect is the fine description of the dead king's personal appearance in life given by Hamlet in the closet scene. Lastly the scenery of the play curiously enough suits Holyrood house and Edinburgh much more closely than the sandy ridges of Ellisnore. Thus that lovely picture

This is exactly the sunrise at Arthur's Seat as seen from Holly road but there is no high hill on any side of the old castle of Ellisnore. So, again, the dreadful summit of the cliff which beetles over his base and looks so many fathoms down his Salisbury Court road is not Ellisnore. Other equally, or still more minute indications may be culled from the play to almost convince one that in writing it Shakespeare had the tragical history of the Queen of Scots full in mind, and not Hamlet the Dane.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON.
The Famous Prose Poet

THE HAPPY HERMIT.

It's hard to get to sleep in town but in the town I did a man may lay his burdens down and slumber like a child, remarked the wild man of the woods as he emerged from his cave. Here I've been sound asleep for twelve hours and wasn't disturbed once. The moonbeams and nightingales sing their lullabies to the dweller in the sylvan solitudes but in the busy haunts a man has to fight for every ounce of sleep he gets.

As he wakes elderly nature declines and comes imposture and he indulges in the made in Germany variety. He has to go to the drugstore and purchase his rest in the form of capsules. He gets into the habit of taking cold fat products and they see thing his afflicted relatives know they see him frothing at the mouth and trying to climb trees head downward which convinces them that he is insane, and they reluctantly box him up and ship him to the asylum.

How beautiful is sleep as the poet remarked. Unless you sleep like a policeman nothing else counts. You may have vassals and serfs by your side and gems and precious stones and money in the bank but you can't sleep and it's junk. When I lived in a town my residence faced a street that was paved with brick and I occupied the front room. The town was full of lively young men who insisted on being night frothing at the mouth when they should have been doing something useful. These young men never went home until 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning and they considered it a religious duty to stop under my window and sing "There's a good fellow, sent sailing or some other nautical ballad.

I yielded to no man in my appreciation of good music but I have always insisted that moving ballads should not be sung after midnight. Time and again I expostulated with these merry young men and at last I took to throwing brick bats at them and they threw bricks into my bedroom window and it was almost impossible to sleep under such conditions. One night I heard them singing in the distance and thought in the crowd I must have been in the "Deep" a favorite of mine but I didn't feel in the mood to listen to it that night so when I saw a policeman standing under a lamp post across the street I hastily donned my hat and rushed across and asked him for his protection. He eyed me critically and said I was drunk and would have to go to the station with him. He wouldn't listen to any explanations or statistics. He called my attention to the fact that our house was on a very high hill and that if I did not go I would go scampering abroad in such a condition.

This was before our town possessed a patrol wagon and policemen took their vicarious and headquarters on foot. This peeler twisted his hand into my raiment and hustled me along in front of him and when ever I tried to convince him that I was an honest taxpayer he met over the head with his club which had not been upholed with his club and when the outfit came rattling along the brick pavement everybody within two miles reared up in bed and swore in as many languages as possible.

When morning finally came and I arose from my couch I felt as though I had been celebrating the Fourth of July and the Chinese New Year together and my sufferings were shared by every human being in the busy haunts of the town. I was almost mad with pain for the first time in my life only at dwelling place for a sane man who likes to get a little comfort out of his pilgrimage.

Fewer Laws, Better Officers.

(From The Dawson News.)

Several bills aimed at the concealed pistol have appeared in the legislature. There are already enough laws on the subject. What is needed is fewer laws and more enforcement.

FALL RIVER, MASS.

By GEORGE FITCH.
Author of "At Good Old Sitwack"

(Copyright 1913 for The Constitution)
Fall River Mass is one of the largest foreign cities in the United States. It is situated in the southern corner of Massachusetts at the end of the Fall River boat line, and has 120,000 people of whom 100,000 know some other language beside English.

Fall River began business over 100 years ago as a yankee town and was organized because it was a shame to let Fall River go to waste. The river is 2 miles long and falls 137 feet in that distance. By sticking mill wheels into it the Fall River yankees get enough power to run large numbers of cotton factories. Fall River is now lined on each side with cotton factories but Fall River doesn't run the factories any more. The lot has outgrown it.

Fall River city straggles off over the hill, back of the factories and looks like a nice New England town in spots. It has 20,000 French Canadian citizens, 12,000 English 7,500 Irish and enough Turks Servians Bulgarians and Greeks to start a Balkan war on every street corner on Saturday night. I also have a number of fine old yankees in good state of preservation. The river divides the city into two equal parts and the city hall is built over the river in the interest of peace and harmony.

Fall River is prouder of its cotton mill than are some Massachusetts cities and boasts of the fact that it has 10,000 corporations stockholders. The one room tenement block of Fall River is Fall River. It is being eradicated along with the fly and other breeders and it is a Fall River ambition to have every citizen own a house and be able to recite the Declaration of Independence in the attic of that house. There was a Massachusetts for the sake of swelling Fall River census returns. If Kansas City know how "It also has a number of fine old yankees. This trick was done she would now have 250,000 inhabitants. Fall River, Kansas City, Kansas would have saloons.

Fall River has produced few great men but is turning out ordinary citizens with great industry. Its birth rate is the highest in the state and its naturalization court work nights before elections.

Levees Would Aid Farms

Editor Constitution. I see in Thursday's Constitution that Mr. Tribble is going to introduce a bill for an appropriation to reclaim swamp lands. This is a bill that every Georgian ought to be interested in as there are thousands and thousands of acres of this land in Georgia, on which a very small sum expended on levees and drains would raise the Valley of the Nile in productivity. There are thousands of acres on the Ocmulgee river alone that would grow two crops a year averaging 100 bushels of oats and 150 bushels of corn per acre without fertilizers or the soil in its natural sandy state is a very good depth. These lands are now practically waste lands not even available for pasture. The rich lands could be made available by a levee from 3 to 10 feet in height.

This levee proposition cannot very well be carried out by private individuals, as the land belongs to so many people. But if the government would take a hand in it then it would be easy to get the co-operation of the farmer.

TO HELP NATURE SHED A BAD COMPLEXION

(From The Family Physician)

Beauty develops with youth, but the beautiful qualities of a clear complexion which are discovered in the first few years of childhood, are often lost in the first few years of adult life. It is not a matter of chance, but of habit. The principal cause of a bad complexion is the use of a bad complexion. The principal cause of a bad complexion is the use of a bad complexion. The principal cause of a bad complexion is the use of a bad complexion.

HARRIS LEAVES HOUSE TO ARGUE LAW CASE

Joseph J. Harris member of the legislature from Washington county and one of the ablest representatives of the lower house left his chair yesterday to argue a case before the court of appeals.

Mr. Harris in addition to being a legislator is city attorney for Savannah. He appeared in the case of Dr. J. H. Evans v. City of Savannah. This is a case of considerable interest in Washington county on account of the fact that Dr. Evans was city physician of Savannah in 1912 treated sixty cases of smallpox for the city and sued the municipality in its refusal to pay him $1400 for professional services. The city offered him $400.

Mr. Harris won the case for the city in the lower court and Dr. Evans appealed.

Mr. Harris' earned considerable reputation as manager for several years in the latter part of his life for re-election three years ago.

WOMAN IS SCALPED WHEN ROTTEN TREE FALLS ACROSS HEAD

Athens Ga. July 9—(Special)—Mrs. Gus Schlock of the adjacent county of Elbert was half scalped by a falling tree yesterday near her home Mrs. Schlock and her young son were picking blackberries when a dead tree fell striking the woman's head. The skin of the scalp with the hair was literally peeled off half her head leaving the skull all but bare. The scalping began at the woman's nose just above the eye extended horizontally to the ear and straight up the middle of the head over the crown to the back of the head. The hair scalp was left swinging over the ear a mass of skin and hair.

Mrs. Schlock was apparently dead for some time. The tiny child with her screams and alarmed a passerby. The woman will recover. She is the mother of eight children though only 38 years old.

Savannah Ga. July 9—(Special)—John Lyons Savannah's oldest merchant on Broughton street died today at his home. Mr. Lyons suffered a stroke of apoplexy while going up the stair way of his home. His condition was not thought serious until today. He fractured his hip and injured his spine.

Mr. Lyons is survived by his wife and seventeen children. He had been a familiar figure in Savannah for more than half a century.

Mr. Lyons was born in County Mayo Ireland March 16 1824. He came to this country when quite a young man. He had been engaged in the grocery business at Whitaker and Broughton streets since he was 25 years of age.

Eight in a Row - Gulls Here Today

If the Crackers can win two out of three from the Gulls they will tie them in the standing. Three straight will put us in front. Herew hoping.

WHIFFS

Root Laid. THE CRACKERS have been playing great baseball of late. They are going right for the top. Now it's up to you fans. When you go out there today open up. Let us see if you can't attempt to rattle the opposition and in shouting encouragement to the local boys. They'll show their appreciation. They'll show their appreciation. They'll show their appreciation. They'll show their appreciation.

Real Battles On.

THE CRUCIAL point of the Southern league pennant race has been reached. Today the remaining three days of the present week and the first three days of next week, there will be up for decision matters of great importance that will direct the ultimate outcome of the Southern league pennant ranking.

Leaders Battle.

THE GULLS battle the Crackers at Pomona today. Friday and Saturday and on the same day the Billikens are battling the Lookouts in Chattanooga. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Billikens and the Gulls are at Looksville. On these series of games hinges the pennant race at the present writing at least.

Reverse Order.

THE CRACKERS and Lookouts can reverse the present order of the first division by capturing the majority of the games in these two series on their home turf. And that's the key. Albert Dent got out in front. It is going to take an awful lot of beating to drag them back again. Southern league baseball seems to be about the most exciting race that has ever been presented to them with four clubs right in the hunt and the Birmingham team trying to break in at a moment's notice.

Not in Danger.

UNLESS Robertson, of Mobile, and Vares, of Montgomery, crowd on a little more steam, they will pass by the Jimmy Johnston base-rolling record for last season. When he swiped 83 sacks, Robertson and Vares have thirty-eight sacks each to their credit to date. At their present clip, they will fall nine bases shy at the finish.

The Big Fire.

THE RACE for the pitching honors in the Southern league is presently between two twirlers—Price and Conzelman of Atlanta; Coveleskie and Sommers of Chattanooga, and Frouth's gamer, they stood; Conzelman won 6, lost 1; Coveleskie won 17, lost 4; Sommers won 14, lost 5; Frouth lost three to the end.

Change of Scene.

HAI CHASE was benefited by the change of scene. The White Sox pitcher, including the other hand, the bag has been his custom in years gone by, and with the willow he has been showing an improvement in his joining the Sox he has hit a .388 clip.

Give Him Credit.

HARRY DAVIS is being given the lion's share of the credit for the Philadelphia team's success this season. Philadelphia fans argue that when he was away last summer, the team was going down. He is considered one of the best men in the business on the coaching lines.

Bisland Cleans the Bases With Triple; Crackers Win All Three From Bernhards

By Dick Jemison. Rube Kisinger's estimation of Rivington Bisland, the Crackers' peppery shortstop, rose 100 per cent after the final game between the Crackers and the Turtles Wednesday afternoon. With two on bases and two gone, Kisinger passed Wallop Smith purely to get at Bisland. The local shortstop promptly punted the nose-rod to right for three cushions, continuing on his quest himself on Abstein's bad relay to third.

Needless to say, the Crackers won. The count was 5 to 3. It was the third straight victory over the Turtles, making a clean sweep of the series, and giving the Crackers the margin in games on the season, winning eight and dropping five to the men of Bernhardt.

It was also the eighth straight victory of the locals in their reorganized march to the pennant. Two from the penultimate today, three from the Turtles and the last game recently in Montgomery totals eight.

The game was the fastest on the local grounds this season, only one hour and thirty-seven minutes in all. It was a game of strategy, of tactics, of a battle that was a grand game. In no inning but the ninth did he allow any two hits to arrive together.

Long pasted one back of first base that hit something right near the line and caromed to right field for two sacks. He then charged and threw such a vital sacrifice that he beat it to third for a hit.

Then came a peculiar play. Alperman smashed one down the third base line. Ward trapped the ball and made a play for Long at third, but missed. He then charged and threw such a vital sacrifice that he beat it to third for a hit.

Ward tried to argue that he caught the ball. Whitey then stole second and, after fanning Bailey, Kisinger and Bear, caught a double play. He then charged and threw such a vital sacrifice that he beat it to third for a hit.

The dope went astray here, for Bisland landed one over Abstein's head for three cushions, cleaning the bases. Bisland at third, made the play like a home and, of course, threw wild. Bisland counting with the fourth run of the inning.

LOCALS WILL FIGHT COMISKY'S STAND BEFORE COMMISSION

The local club is going to make Charley Comisky, the owner of the Chicago White Sox, deliver Clarence "Pop" Boy Smith on appeal if the latter is ejected from the game.

Comisky's stand before the national commission, the highest court in baseball, for decision.

Comisky offered Smith to the Crackers for a certain price, but the local club accepted his terms unconditionally.

The national commission can not do anything else but side with the local club. It does not seem likely that it will establish a precedent, but will violate one of its own rules.

Finn's Gulls Here For Three; Gil Price Faces Them Today; Crackers Can Boost Standing

The Mobile Gulls, led by Sir Mike Finn, will be the opponents of the Crackers this afternoon, Friday and Saturday. These three battles have an important bearing on the ultimate ranking of all the teams for the season.

By winning two out of three in this series the Crackers will boost their percentage column, each with a percentage of 56.1. A dose like that handed the Turtles would be delightful.

The Gulls come here in a crippled condition. Baby Doll Jacobson out for the season, and Captain Charley Starr out indefinitely with a broken talon occasioned by tackling a fierce maver about two weeks ago.

McCill, who was with the Gulls the first part of the season, is playing right field. Dave Robertson, the league's leading hitter, shifting to center in Jacobson's place. Sentell is doing acceptably at Starr's place at the key-stone.

Pug Cave and Gil Price, two worthy newcomers, will probably tie up in a brilliant pitching duel in today's encounter. Chapman and Schmidt will handle their giants.

The "Gulls' day of the series will be Friday. The Saturday game will be called at the regular scheduled time. No early game this trip, for which we had thanked the fans are sure to be out in force.

COTTON FUTURES BILL DELAYED BY COMMITTEE

Washington, July 9.—The sub-committee of the senate agricultural committee today postponed final action until tomorrow on the bill of Senator Smith, of South Carolina, dealing with cotton futures. The bill then probably will receive the unanimous approval of the sub-committee. The postponement today was due to the inability of some members of the sub-committee to attend the meeting on account of other committee meetings.

SKIN TROUBLE BEGAN WITH ITCHING

Could Not Rest Day or Night. Sores Itched So Would Scratch Herself to Pieces. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Two Weeks.

Glenns P. O., Va.—"My baby's trouble began with an itching and then a little bump would come and the could not rest day or night. The trouble affected her whole body. The bumps festored and came to a head and the corruption looked like thick matter, kind of a yellow color. The sores itched so badly until it seemed to me she would scratch herself to pieces and then a sore would form and her clothes would stick to her body and pull off the little scab. In some places she would scratch and irritate the sores until they seemed to be large. She was affected about a year.

First I employed a medicine which did very little good. Next I used ——— and that did harm. So I wrote for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bathed her body in warm water and Cuticura Soap and then I applied the Cuticura Ointment and they afforded relief after twice using. I bought some more Cuticura Soap and Ointment and inside of two weeks she was cured." (Signed) Mrs. J. K. Gregg, Nov. 21, 1912.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp that torture, itch, burn, scale, and destroy sleep. Sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T. Boston."

MELLEN IS FAYED FOR LAX METHODS

Scathing Report by Interstate Commerce Commission on the New England Railroad Situation.

Washington, July 9.—Financial operations of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, its ownership of trolley lines and control of allied New England railways are condemned in unmeasured terms by the interstate commerce commission in the report of its investigation made public here today. The commission's conclusions are: That the "outside" financial management has been "wasteful in the extreme" and that had the New Haven confined itself to actual railroad activities under the same conditions that prevailed in other respects "it could have paid a dividend of 3 per cent for the fiscal year 1912 and carried to surplus account $1,294,000 instead of showing a deficit of $30,000."

That the New Haven's agreement with the Boston and Albany is "violative of the spirit of the statute" and that the restraint of competition should be canceled. "In our opinion," says the commission, "this line should be kept entirely free from New Haven control."

That the New Haven should divest itself of its trolley lines, not because the present ownership is in violation of law, but because such ownership might be used to prevent the building of competing lines in the future.

That the Boston and Maine's merger with the New Haven, if permitted to stand, will result in "an almost exclusive monopoly of transportation facilities by railroads in the greater part of New England."

That passenger train service, without considering safety of operation, on the New Haven is distinctly better than any other line entering New York and that of the Boston and Maine equally as good. Both roads, however, are criticized adversely for lack of steel cars.

That the freight service of the Boston and Maine is much less reliable than that of either the Pennsylvania or the Baltimore and Ohio, while that of the New Haven is slightly inferior to the Pennsylvania, but about on a par with the Baltimore and Ohio.

No order was made by the commission, but in its opinion the following propositions which have national application to all railroads lie at the foundation of adequate railroad regulation: "Every interstate railroad should be prohibited from expending money or incurring liabilities or acquiring property not in the operation of its railroad or in the legitimate improvement, extension or development of that railroad."

"No stocks or bonds should be issued by an interstate railroad except for the purposes sanctioned in the two preceding paragraphs, and none should be issued without the approval of the federal government."

The inquiry resulting in today's report was begun about a year ago by the commission upon the basis of a letter, in consequence of numerous and persistent complaints of the railroad rates, regulations and service in New England. The carriers particularly investigated were the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Boston and Maine and the Maine Central. Months were devoted to examination of books and accounts and thirty-seven days were devoted to public hearings, in the course of which more than 8,000 pages of testimony were taken.

Enormous Sums Spent. In an exhaustive discussion of the financial affairs of the New Haven and the Boston and Maine, Commissioner Protty indicates clearly that the investigation was "not into the solvency or insolvency of the New Haven company," but rather into the character of its financial operations. It is shown by the report that in 1902 the net capital of the New Haven was $92,000,000, and its operated mileage, 2,040 miles. In 1912 its capitalization was $417,000,000, an increase of $325,000,000; while its operated mileage was increased only 50 miles. In this period of nine years the New Haven company acquired actual ownership of about 600 miles of road which it previously had operated, expending approximately $40,000,000 in obtaining the additional mileage. It expended during the nine years $96,000,000 for betterments and equipment, making a total of $136,000,000 devoted to its railroad property. "This would leave," the report points out, "the sum of $204,000,000 which in nine years had been expended in operations outside its railroad sphere."

Mellen Quits Another Place. Portland, Me., July 9.—Charles S. Mellen, resigned the presidency of the Maine Central railroad today. Vice President and General Manager McDonald was elected to succeed him. The Maine Central is a subsidiary of the Boston and Maine, the presidency of which Mr. Mellen resigned yesterday.

SCHOOL AND PENSIONS MUST BE WATCHED

You are asked to spend money which you have not got and to show that representative government is a success, not only in its intention, but also in its efficiency and patriotism," he said. "The dinner a big success."

The Wheatley dinner proved a success in every respect and displayed more clearly than has been shown before this year the entire absence of factionalism from this legislature and the patriotic intention of the leaders of this general assembly to get together with the governor in working for the welfare of Georgia.

President Randolph Anderson, of the senate, was not able to be present on account of illness in his family, but Speaker Burwell was there and Chairman Akin, of the ways and means committee. Both made speeches in which they urged the importance of a solution of the financial difficulties of the state by this legislature. Speaker Burwell declared that he had used extraordinary care in selecting the appropriations and ways and means committees because he recognized the fact that great responsibility would largely devolve upon them.

In his introductory remarks as toastmaster Mr. Wheatley said that his committee would be called upon this year to make expenditures of money which they did not have.

NEW NATIONAL HOME TO BE BUILT BY ELKS

Rochester, N. Y., July 9.—The grand lodge of Elks, in forty-ninth reinvented, today set on foot the building of a new national home. Salt Lake City contractor and will build a new national home. Whether the home shall be on the site of the present home in Bedford, Va., or elsewhere, rests with the national home commission, of which Garry Herrmann, of Cincinnati, is chairman. For three consecutive years the commission had favored erecting the home on the old site, the only objection to which is that the Bedford home has been in existence ten years. Bedford, Ind., today offered a $250,000 site.

A per capita tax of 15 cents will be levied on the members of subordinate lodges, giving approximately $105,000 to apply on the new home. At the night session a report was made on the proposed tuberculosis home for Elks. Grand Secretary Robbins declined to make public the report and the action taken. A new codification of laws relating to the filling of charges against members of subordinate lodges was adopted. Charles A. White, of Chicago, was re-elected grand treasurer this morning.

Anderson Improves.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 8.—The condition Bud Anderson, the Medford, Ore., lightweight pugilist who was operated on last night for appendicitis, showed satisfactory improvement today. His speedy recovery was predicted.

ULTIMATUM IS SERVED ON GOVERNOR BLEASE

Washington, July 9.—What virtually is an ultimatum in the militia controversy was served on Governor Blease, of South Carolina, and the militia authorities of that state tonight by officials of the war department. The action was taken because of the governor's refusal to instruct the militia to conform with the requirements of the federal law. As a result, the $70,000 of federal funds available for the South Carolina troops virtually has been withdrawn and the co-operation between the regular military establishment and the citizen soldiery has been severed.

Secretary Garrison, it was declared tonight, had informed Governor Blease that unless the federal requirements are observed, co-operation would cease. Brigadier General Albert L. Mills, chief of the militia division of the war department, almost simultaneously warned Adjutant General Moore, of South Carolina, that the expenditure of any funds on account of the federal government at the coming state emergency would be made at the latter's risk.

The action of the war department followed an interchange of sharp letters in which Governor Blease declared he would be glad to be regarded as a traitor. There are thirty companies in the state militia, twelve of which are said to have ignored the regulations.

FOUR GEORGIA BANKS SUE KENTUCKY CONCERN

Louisville, Ky., July 9.—A petition on behalf of four Georgia banks, asking for a receivership for the Kentucky Refining company, a $600,000 corporation located here, was filed in the United States district court here. The complainants are: The Central Bank and Trust company, of Atlanta; the Third National bank, of Atlanta; the Bank of Rockdale and the First National bank, of Madison.

The petition asserts that the Kentucky Refining company is insolvent and alleges mismanagement, the withholding of dividends and speculation with the company's earnings. The complainants sue as stockholders and set forth that they hold, in the aggregate, 239 shares of first preferred stock.

They Sold Protection. San Francisco, July 9.—Charles H. Taylor and Arthur F. Maclean, police officers found guilty of having sold protection to a ring of bunco men, were given today the maximum penalty of one year in the county jail. Eight policemen have been sentenced, of whom six pleaded guilty.

STATE INSTITUTIONS CARED FOR IN BILL

Maintenance Funds Will Be Provided in General Appropriations Measure.

Maintenance funds for the various state institutions will be included in the general appropriations bill this year as usual, although the probability is that some of them will be greatly cut on account of the depleted condition of the state treasury and in order that the revenue may not be exceeded. The appropriations committee will not put so drastic a construction upon the resolution passed Tuesday as was at first understood, and as was indicated in The Constitution yesterday. At the time the resolution was passed—just before adjournment of the committee—the question was asked by Chairman Wheatley by member of the house committee whether the deaf and dumb institute would be provided for in the appropriations bill. There was no question of increase, but of maintenance simply.

The reply was that the deaf and dumb institute, being an institution not provided for in the constitution, would have to secure its funds through a special appropriation bill. Knowing that the cutting off of the state institutions from the general appropriations bill for their maintenance funds was unprecedented, the representative of The Constitution, who wrote the story, called up Chairman Wheatley over the phone.

The question was several times asked him whether the institutions would be compelled to get their maintenance funds this year by special appropriation. To make the matter even plainer still, it was asked whether all of their demands this year would have to be made in that way. The answer in each case made by the chairman was that such was his understanding of the resolution. All special appropriations and increases asked for this year, whether by state institutions or by departments of the government, must be made, under the resolution adopted by the committee, by special appropriations. This is identically the same course which was pursued some years ago by the appropriations committee when Murphy Candler, the present head of the railroad commission, was chairman.

This is another Goodrich Year

Goodrich Unit Molded Tires have never had a "bad" season.

Year in and year out, since the automobile came into use and we made the first American clincher tire, they have more than satisfied every user with their long, uniform wear and their remarkably resilient qualities which increase the comfort and luxury of motoring.

Goodrich Tires are an added value and advantage to your car.

With Goodrich branches, service stations and dealers located everywhere the user of Goodrich Tires knows he will always be taken care of.

It is the unit molding of Goodrich Tires that adds wear to the purest rubber, compounded as our 43 years of experience proves is the best way to give it durability and toughness and to hold its resiliency and life. Each Goodrich Tire is made and molded as a unit. The thick, tough tread being actually of the tire and not simply on it, naturally does not peel or slip. The whole tire, being an integral structure, naturally wears long and uniformly because the life of the rubber has not been cooked out by extra vulcanization. Your tire dealer will supply you with whatever style of Goodrich Tire is best for your needs, and we will send you, for the asking, our free folders which tell you how to get the best service from your tires.

POT OF GOLD FOUND BY NORCROSS TENANT

Thomas Smith Leaves for Parts Unknown After Plowing Up Treasure in Field.

Norcross, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Excitement was occasioned when Thomas Smith, a tenant on the farm of Jeff Staples, 2 miles from Norcross, plowed up a pot of gold and silver coins.

The exact amount is not known, as Mr. Smith took his riches and left for parts unknown.

Mr. Staples, the owner of the farm, on going to the spot where the treasure was unearthed, found forty or fifty dollars in gold and silver coin bearing the dates 1847, 1849, 1853.

Many rumors are rife as to who buried this money. One is that prior to the civil war the property was owned by a wealthy maiden lady, who did not trust banks, and planted her money for safety, and died without revealing its hiding place.

There are others who believe that Bob Goggs buried this money during the civil war, and was never able afterwards to locate the spot.

ferred $100 additional for it, and refused.

Vernov is so pleased with the result that he is planning other deals for the future, and before the summer is over Atlanta may see more auctions of such a profitable nature.

Outlook for Summer. Realty dealers are expected to report Wednesday's transactions as a forerunner of better things. Before the summer is over a large number of small transactions are looked forward to.

Now seems to be the right time for the home-seeker to purchase, and the small investor to deal. While good prices are prevailing, yet the market is by no means prohibitive, and it is safe to say that Atlanta will continue this period of consistent, sane investment along real estate lines.

More Subdivisions to Open. Within the next few weeks more announcements of the opening of new subdivisions are expected. There are several choice tracts of land about the city which are being prepared for opening, and one firm in particular has an especially attractive subdivision which will soon be thrown open.

Meeting of Rental Agents. The meeting of rental agents which was to have been held in the offices of Charles P. Cliver Wednesday has been postponed until Friday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock.

One of the many important matters which will be discussed is the question of the abolition of the exclusive listing rule of the exchange, which requires that one agent have charge of a piece of property for thirty days before other agents are allowed to list that place.

This rule has been violated a number of times lately, and in all probability some drastic action will be taken on the matter Friday afternoon.

Large Courtcase. G. M. McKinnon has sold for W. L. Webb to Dr. George P. Payne a parcel on Courtland street, between Cain and Harris streets, for an aggregate consideration of $22,000.

The property is on the east side of Courtland street, in what is known as semi-central territory, and consists of two double frame houses, containing 15 rooms. The lot is 75x275.

Dr. Payne intends to remodel the houses and use them for his pharmacy college.

Sales on Ponce de Leon. The George B. Sims company announces the sale of two handsome residences on Ponce de Leon.

This company sold to J. H. Levenson, of Montgomery, for Dr. John B. Daniel, No. 465 Ponce de Leon avenue for a consideration of $12,000.

This property is just east of Barnett, on the north side of the street. The lot is 20x150, and contains an eleven-room, two-story house.

The same agency has sold for R. E. Taylor to Dr. William Asher No. 512 Ponce de Leon for a consideration of $19,000.

The lot is 25x125, and contains an eight-room dwelling.

Sale in Druid Hills. The Martin-Graham realty company has sold for G. H. Gorman, Jr., to Mrs. H. L. Morris, No. 314 Briarcliff road, Druid Hills, for a consideration of $12,500.

The lot is 20x150 feet, and contains a three-room brick veneer residence.

Small Transactions. Cheatham Bros., through R. W. Evans, have sold for a client to H. M. Carlton, No. 519 East North avenue.

for $4,000. The lot is 45x150, and contains a six-room bungalow. Mr. Carlton gave as part payment a lot on Ashby street, 50x300, valued at $1,000.

John O. Babbage has sold to Chauncey Smith a lot on the south side of Auburn avenue, between Yonge and Jackson streets, for $1,500. The lot is 25x145 1-2.

COTTON SEED OIL ADVANCES AGAIN

Strength of the Cash Position and Room Covering Were the Main Factors in the Advance.

New York, July 9.—Cotton seed oil was firmer on the inherent strength of the cash position, together with room covering in New Orleans, induced by the advance and scarcity of offerings.

Tenders of about 2,000 barrels on July 9th had no effect on the market, which advanced 3 to 8 points net higher with sales of 6,500 barrels.

Prime crude nominal; prime summer yellow 100 lbs. net, 11.00; white 100 lbs. net, 11.00.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN COTTON MARKET

Continued Hot Weather in the South and Talk of Insect Damage Sent Cotton Prices Up.

New York, July 9.—There was a further advance in the cotton market today on renewed covering and scattering demand from local bulls or trade sources. Continued hot, dry weather in the south increasing talk of insect damage to the new crop and further shipments from the local stock were the factors.
