

AS BABIES WAILED MOTHERS RELATED STRIKE HORRORS

Women of the West Virginia Mining Camps Describe Conditions to the United States Senate Probers.

MOTHER NOT ALLOWED TO CLEAN BABY'S GRAVE

Former Governor Glasscock Preceded the Women and Defended His Course in Declaring Martial Law.

Charleston, W. Va., June 13.—The senate mine strike investigating committee tonight began examination of the women at the mining camp. Seven of these women were waiting and three carried little children, whose crying occasionally interrupted the examination.

Mrs. Sarah Blizzard, of Eskdale, said that she started for neighbor's last April, and while waiting along the railroad track had been "dered back by a mine guard."

"He said I looked like 'Mother Jones' to him and told me to hit the dirt down the road," said Mrs. Blizzard.

Mrs. George Parker turned her little baby over to her gray-bearded father, while she told the committee that a guard named Jackson had prevented her from visiting a graveyard on Cabin Creek to "clean up the grave of her baby."

Mrs. Maud Estep, whose husband was killed when the armored train clashed with the miners at Holly Grove, on February 7, carried in her arms a baby born after the death of her husband. She described how the little family was seated in the living room when the train drew up and the shooting commenced.

"My husband tried to get us all into the cellar," she said, "but when he got around on the outside of the house, and was calling to us, I heard a bullet hit him. When the shooting was over I found him dead."

Stopped on Way to Cemetery. Mrs. Mina West, who also carried a little baby, was stopped twice by guards at Eskdale while on her way to visit the cemetery.

Mrs. Maud Fish, who lived at Holly Grove camp, in the tents, told of being evicted from her house by twenty-two mine guards led by a mine superintendent.

"They hauled our things out and threw them down into the bottom," she said.

Mrs. Sevilla, Italian, recounted through an interpreter how guards had come to her home, and when she refused to give them the keys to her trunk, had knocked her down. One of them kicked her. As a result of the experience, she said, a baby was born to her dead, two months later.

Marse Roman, the interpreter for Mrs. Sevilla, evoked a sharp exchange between counsel, General Watts, representing the operators, and the union men indicted in the federal courts under the Sherman law Attorney Houston, for the union, objected.

"If that goes in," said Mr. Houston to Attorney Jackson, for the operators, in an undertone, "I would like to show you what was behind these indictments. The attorneys for the coal operators drew these indictments." "They did not," replied Mr. Jackson. "Oh, yes they did," retorted Mr. Houston.

"Those indictments were drawn in the office of Brown, Jackson and Knight," said the former governor.

Then followed witnesses, who told of conditions on Paint and Cabin Creeks under the mine guards. B. A. Scott said the creeks had been quiet for ten years until the guards were brought in.

Glasscock Defends Cause. Before the women were examined, former Governor Glasscock told the committee that the strike and county prosecutor of Kanawha county informed him they were unable through the civil courts to control the strike district and had urged the declaration of martial law.

"There was a reign of terror in the strike district," said the former governor, "twenty-five or thirty murders had been committed and no prosecutions had been made in the courts. I considered martial law an absolute necessity."

"Miners and other were coming to me," said the former governor, "and

"Knee-Deep In June"

The beauties of the rarest summer month are for all of us, no matter what our condition.

Few things are universal in their appeal, except those that belong exclusively to nature.

Of man-made institutions the daily newspaper is notable for its universal interest. Everybody who can read, reads it. There is something to interest every one in virtually every newspaper.

As in the news columns, so among the advertisements. It is safe to say that you cannot go through the advertisements today without finding something you should have.

Try it now if you have not done so. You may save yourself a lot of time, money or work, each one of which is a valuable consideration.

Dies on Plantation "BRIDGIE" WEBBER STABBED IN BACK

S. H. PHELAN, SR.

S. H. PHELAN, SR., DIES IN CRAWFORD COUNTY

The Capital City Club Was Organized in Office of the Former Atlantan.

S. H. Phelan, Sr., who up to eight years ago had been a resident of Atlanta, and was one of the best known citizens here, died suddenly on his plantation in Crawford county yesterday. He was 60 years old last February.

Born in Montgomery, Ala., he served in the confederate army as a member of the famous Phelan battery, being one of the youngest confederates ever entered the service. He had seven brothers, all of whom were in the war.

The deceased came to this city thirty years ago, and was engaged in business here for many years. Eight years ago he retired from business, and since then had lived on his plantation in Crawford county.

The Capital City club, of which he was one of the charter members, was organized in his office. He was a director of the Cotton States exposition, held here in 1895, and took a prominent part in all movements for the advancement of the city. For a long time he was one of the vestrymen of St. Luke's Episcopal church.

He is survived by seven children, four daughters and three sons. They are: Mrs. U. S. Atkinson, Mrs. E. E. Dallas and Mrs. A. W. Goldsmith, Jr., of Atlanta, and Mrs. Barry Wright, of Rome; M. G. Phelan and S. H. Phelan, Jr., of Atlanta, and Leman Phelan, who lived with his father in Crawford county.

The remains will be brought here for interment, funeral announcements to be made later.

"DRY" LEADER FELLED IN ILLINOIS HOUSE

Wilson Knocked Down by Gorman and a Riot Narrowly Averted.

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—A riot was narrowly averted in the house of representatives of Illinois legislature at 8 o'clock today when Representative Thomas N. Gorman, of Peoria, assaulted Representative George H. Wilson, of Quincy, the "dry leader" in the house, and knocked him down.

Speaker McKinley finally succeeded in restoring order and prevented a free-for-all fight on the floor between the friends of Gorman and Wilson.

While a member was making a speech Representative Wilson had gone to the rear of the hall and was talking to several democratic "drys," when Representative Gorman, in a tone loud enough to be heard throughout the hall, called to him saying:

"Get out of here, you piker—go back where you belong."

Wilson's reply, which later caused the assault was not loud enough to be heard, but when Wilson started back to his seat a few moments later he encountered Gorman. With one blow to Wilson's jaw Gorman knocked him down. The noise of Wilson's falling attracted the attention of the whole house and in an instant things were in an uproar. Half a dozen members sitting on the rear seats jumped over the railing and managed to pull Gorman away. Others raised Wilson to his feet. The whole house was soon in disorder. Members crowded into the aisles shouting, "Throw him out" and "Expel that member." When the speaker was finally able to make his voice heard he said:

"Let us decide tomorrow, or at some other time, when we are a little cooler than we are now."

After a short period of quiet Representative Gorman started for the rear of the hall, presumably to renew the attack on Wilson. A friend of Gorman's seized him, but Gorman, a large and powerful man, dragged the friend down the aisle until others went to his aid. It took the strength of half a dozen of the strongest members on the democratic side to force Gorman back to his seat.

Gorman's second demonstration threw the house into another turmoil of excitement and disorder, but quieted in the session by voluntarily leaving the hall.

The trouble between Gorman and Wilson is the first outbreak of extremely bad feeling that has been growing for several days between "wet" and "dry" members of the house. It was predicted tonight that more trouble of a like character might occur before the adjournment next week.

One of Chief Witnesses in the Rosenthal Case Attacked on East Side—Refuses to Tell Who Stabbed Him.

New York, June 14.—"Bridgie" Webber, one of the principal witnesses in the Rosenthal murder case, was stabbed in the back on an East Side street early this morning.

Shortly before 1 o'clock a man, whose identity was then unknown, walked up to a policeman at the corner of Ninth street and Broadway and complained that he was suffering from loss of blood as the result of a stab wound. He described himself as Louis Harris, a broker, 35 years old, but when he had been removed to St. Vincent's hospital detectives recognized the wounded man as Webber. They declared they were certain of it. The man refused to tell the police who had stabbed him, or of any on the circumstances.

It was said at the hospital at 2:30 o'clock this morning that the man would undoubtedly recover. Shortly after the conviction of Police Lieutenant Charles S. Becker and four gunmen as the murderers of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, there were many rumors of plots against the witnesses, but the attack on Webber this morning is the first instance of harm that has come to any of the men.

FRIENDS MAKE FIGHT FOR MRS. LONGSTREET

Subcommittee Wanted to Investigate—Action on Mrs. Ham Deferred.

Washington, June 13.—The case of Mrs. Longstreet, widow of the confederate general, for whom a successor has been named by President Wilson, as postmistress at Gainesville, Ga., was before the senate again today. Friends of Mrs. Longstreet have determined to request the appointment of a subcommittee to investigate the circumstances connected with the change in the Georgia office. Action upon the confirmation of her successor, Mrs. H. W. J. Ham, was deferred by the senate.

TWO BIRDMEN KILLED BY FALL OF AIRSHIP

London, June 13.—Lieutenant James R. E. Kennedy, of the naval wing of the royal flying corps, was killed and C. Gordon Bell, another aviator, seriously injured in the fall of a monoplane near the Brookland's aerodrome today. Bell was driving the machine with Kennedy as a passenger.

The monoplane, at a height of about 30 feet, was flying at the rate of 80 miles an hour when Bell essayed a turn and banked the machine at too great an angle. The nose of the machine dipped suddenly and it struck the ground, causing the aeroplane to turn turtle. Both Kennedy and Bell were buried in the wreckage.

This is the second fatality in the royal flying corps in less than a month. Lieutenant Desmond L. Arthur, of the fifth battalion, royal munster fusiliers, having been killed near Montrose, Scotland, May 27.

HE REALIZED $75,000 FROM WHITE SLAVERY

Philadelphia, June 13.—Pleading guilty to violating the Mann white slave act, Harry Haspel, who is said to have admitted he realized $75,000 from the white slave traffic during the past four years, was sentenced to sixteen months in the penitentiary by Judge Thompson in the federal court here today.

According to Inspector Garbarin, of the department of justice, the only witness called, Haspel was married three times and placed two of his wives in disreputable houses and even brought his sister from Roumania to lead an immoral life here.

SUPPOSED ASSASSIN BATTLES THE POLICE

Constantinople, June 13.—A man named Zia, supposed to be one of Grand Vizier Mahmoud Schokef Pasha's assassins, gave battle today when the police surrounded him in a house where he was hiding. A police officer was probably fatally shot, a magistrate wounded and Zia himself mortally wounded. The police had to call troops, however, before they overcame Zia's companions, who barricaded themselves in an upper story.

Suffragettes Gather From Many Countries

Delegates from twenty-six countries, including South Africa, China, Burma, Persia and every European country except Turkey, will meet at the sixth convention of the International Woman Suffrage association, to be held in Budapest from June 15 to June 20. Among the delegates will be writers, lecturers, artists, actresses, women prominent in politics, as Mrs. Charles Lees, mayor of Oldham, England, and women of wealth, like Mrs. O. H. F. Belmont of New York. The Countess Szechenyi, formerly Gladys Vanderbilt, will be one of the Hungarian delegates. The congress will be presided over by a New York woman, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the international president. The fact that so many countries never before represented in a suffrage congress are sending delegates is due to a trip around the world from which Mrs. Catt returned last January. In the course of which she organized the suffragists in Iceland, India, Formosa, Gallia, South Africa and other countries where the movement is in its infancy. The American delegates (each country is allowed to send twelve) will be Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Mrs. O. H. F. Belmont, Mrs. Frederick Nathan, Mrs. Henry Villard and Mrs. William Todd Helmuth, of New York; Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Stanley McCormick and Mrs. Joseph Bowen, of Chicago; Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, of Milwaukee; Mrs. Emma E. Sweet, of Rochester; Miss Ruutz-Rees, of Connecticut, and Miss Anna Maxwell Jones, of Texas. On Sunday, June 15, the Rev. Anna Howard Shaw will open the convention with a sermon. There will be a luncheon on the Isle of Marguerite, to which the delegates will be conveyed in launches and rowboats. In the evening they will attend the Opera House, usually closed at this season, which has been kept open for their benefit. Monday will be taken up with business meetings and drives, and in the evening the city of Budapest will hold a formal reception presided over by the mayor. The first public meeting will take place on Thursday evening, when short speeches in English, French or German, the languages of the convention, will be made by Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Dr. Shaw, Mrs. Millicent Fawcett, president of the English non-militant organization; Frau Stitt, the Marchesa Lucifero, and the Countess Parlo, of the Spanish ministry of education.

CLOSE TO $88,000,000 LEFT BY COL. ASTOR

Largest Estate Ever Appraised in United States—Bulk to Vincent Astor.

New York, June 13.—The estate of Colonel John Jacob Astor, who perished in the Titanic disaster, was officially appraised this afternoon at close to $88,000,000, of which Vincent Astor receives $68,954,493; Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, $7,678,396; Muriel Astor, $4,856,758, and John Jacob Astor, son of his second marriage, $2,922,872.

The estate is declared to be the largest ever appraised in this country. Aside from the announcement of the amounts that revert to the heirs there are two features of special interest in the appraisal.

One is the affidavit of the examiners that the property embraces in the antenuptial agreement for Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, amounting to about $1,738,000, which was to have reverted to her at the time of her husband's death, but now terminates and goes to the young Astor for the reason that the youth's mother, although once Colonel Astor's wife, was not his widow. Mrs. Ava Willing Astor divorced her husband, whose legal widow is Mrs. Madeline Force Astor.

The second feature concerns the inheritance tax of Colonel Astor. The estate saved a large sum by paying $2,150,000 to the state last October, within six months of Colonel Astor's death, this payment earning a five per cent rebate. The sum mentioned greatly exceeds any amount ever paid to any state as an inheritance tax, it is declared.

The appraisers placed the real estate value at about $63,100,000 and the value of the personal property close on to $25,000,000.

Including both real and personal property, the estate is divided approximately as follows: Owned by J. J. Astor absolutely, $51,390,000.

Life interest under trust funds established by William Astor, $33,240,000.

Antenuptial trust, Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, $1,738,000, which reverts to Vincent Astor.

Two antenuptial trusts, Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, totalling $1,450,000. Property in trust created by William Astor, life interest by J. J. Astor and which passed to Vincent Astor, $22,000,000.

FRIDAY, JUNE 13TH, PROVED UNLUCKY FOR THIS ATLANTAN

"There goes my new Panama," a man said yesterday as the said wearing apparel flew under a passing auto as he started to enter a Pine street car. The unlucky man was W. T. Ford, of the Peachtree Inn, a salesmanager for Scribner's.

This was at 8 a. m. And it was Friday, June 13, in the year 1913. So of course his trouble didn't end there.

"Gee, I never was a superstitious man before. In fact, I've always made fun of superstitious, but from now on—take it from me, I have been converted."

"After I had bought me another straw, I went into a Peachtree barber shop. I wanted a shave—but what I got was a first-class whisker cutting. The barber's razor slipped three times.

33 YEARS IN PRISON, DEATH FREES CONVICT

Warden and Penitentiary Officials Will Pay Tribute to "Uncle John" Sunday.

John Ross, of Nova Scotia, Can., aged 62 years, later at the United States penitentiary at Atlanta, died yesterday. He had served thirty-three years in prison.

With the passing of "Uncle John" as he was familiarly known within prison walls, the city of sorrows lost one of its most unique characters.

Born in Canada, he left home at the age of 20, shipped as a sailor before the mast; a number of years later he engaged in a drunken broil in Yokohama, Japan, and killed a fellow sailor in a discussion over a babble.

The United States consular court in Japan sentenced him to life imprisonment. That was on May 30, 1880. In February, 1902, he was brought to the Atlanta prison, shortly after it was completed. Here he became converted, and at the time of his death was president of the prison Christian Endeavor society.

While there he endeared all who came in contact with him. His fellow prisoners loved him because he never "snitched." The warden and guards loved him because he never lied, did his duty well, and played the part of a man.

During his last years his health failed, and he was made one of the prison door keepers, and became a familiar sight to those who visited the penitentiary.

Seated at his grave, his white hairs and stooped frame made him an object of comment to those who could never know him except by a mere prison number.

While in prison he was an influential force for good. And Sunday afternoon, when the last simple rites over his body will be held in the funeral chapel of Barclay & Brandon's, the warden of the penitentiary, and many of the guards will be present to pay a last tribute to a man who was a prisoner—but "as man" at that.

The interment will take place at West View cemetery.

Fearing Friday, the 13th, Mrs. J. M. Gilbert Is Struck By Locomotive and Killed

Danville, Ga., June 13.—Mrs. J. M. Gilbert, relict of the late Dr. J. M. Gilbert, and prominent socially, was struck and instantly killed this morning on the tracks of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah railroad.

Before leaving her home this morning, Mrs. Gilbert stated to relatives that she feared to leave the house today as it was Friday, the 13th of the month.

Mrs. Gilbert was struck by a passing passenger train from Macon, at 7:15 a. m.

ASCENDED 6,200 FEET IN HYDRO-AEROPLANE

Annapolis, Md., June 13.—Lieutenant J. H. Bellenger, of the navy aviation corps here, attained an altitude of 6,200 feet in a hydro-aeroplane today, breaking the best previous navy record of 4,450 feet for the same type of machine. Lieutenant Bellenger was in the air 49 1/2 minutes. His actual ascending time was 44 minutes, 5 1/2 minutes being consumed in the descent.

At least the cabby said so, and I did to borrow a quarter to pay for my transportation.

"No, sir; no more jinx days for me. That was absolutely the limit."

LOBBY SKELETONS WILL BE DANGLED IN THE LIMELIGHT

Probers Strike Trails Indicating Campaigns to Influence Opinion Are Waged by Paid Agents.

Washington, June 13.—Lobbying as a fine art, how it is done and who is responsible, what ends are sought, and what results are accomplished, probably will be investigated by the special senate lobby committee before it concludes its work and submits a report to the senate.

PRESIDENT WILSON FIGURES IN EVIDENCE

Senator Gallinger Alleges the President Has Come "Perilously Close to Lobbying" Lodge to Be Called.

For nearly two weeks the five senators on the committee have listened to testimony that has dealt almost exclusively with the influence exerted on the tariff bill, but it has uncovered enough trails to lead members to believe that campaigns of every sort, political, industrial and economic, have been conducted much along the same lines, through paid agents and efforts to create public sentiment favorable to the causes concerned.

In executive session tonight the committee decided to submit to the senate the question of a further broadening of the scope of its inquiry. The investigation has taken so much time that some members of the committee thought that it might be well to limit its activities to a complete inquiry into lobbying for and against sugar and wool, but after a half hour's session, Chairman Overman was instructed to take the whole matter before the senate.

It was believed tonight that the time limit of twenty days placed upon the committee would be extended, and that the investigation would go into every possible phase of what the committee suspects is lobbying. Any skeletons that have dangled in the closets of congress and any soiled linen that may have hung there will be exhibited to the public eye, and legislation to impose drastic restrictions upon lobbying and the "acceleration" of public opinion may result. Chairman Overman said at the conclusion of the executive session that none could see much time for the committee to grant an extension of time is granted and the committee takes up the broad subject of general lobbying.

Wilson Figures in Testimony. The committee's decision came at the end of a day filled with sensations. On two occasions President Wilson testified in the testimony. Senator Gallinger told the committee that in his opinion the president had once at least come "dangerously near lobbying," and Truman B. Palmer, Washington representative of the United States Sugar industry, declared that a "plate matter" campaign much similar to the one conducted in newspapers by him had accompanied the campaigns of the president and Representative Egan, who stood before the Baltimore convention.

Senator Gallinger's statements came as a profound sensation. He was about to leave the stand when Senator Reed asked a final question.

"When a man says that he would hang some one as high as Haman if that person did not do certain things," said Senator Gallinger, "and that an

A GOVERNOR WITH POISE

The Constitution offers Governor Jesse M. Brown to the country as an efficient Governor. Coleman Livingston Blease is of South Carolina. The two men are executives of adjoining states, but proximity is about the only thing they have in common.

As the terms of all governors approach completion they are swamped with pardon applications. That happened recently with Governor Brown. From his demeanour convictions on up to life terms they clamored for leniency.

Many so-called errors would hardly have shivered the hair of his responsibility. He has done a service to law and order in Georgia. He has established a healthy precedent.

THE "FRANKING" GRAFT

We hope the people of this country will take seriously at least one feature of the lobby probe now proceeding in Washington and that is the relations of the extent to which the congressional franking privilege is abused.

Witnesses before the senate committee testify that propaganda for and against free sugar was circulated under congressional franks to the extent of about 1,000,000 documents.

the people of the United States, no one knows or can even guess. These instances are, of course, a trifle exceptional, but may be repeated at any time.

All parties are guilty of these practices and none of them appear courageous enough to take initiative looking to a remedy.

The Constitution has reiterated the facts in this city so often that we hesitate to again repeat them to our readers.

These facts have been known now for about five weeks. Yet the original cannot keep marching on in ever widening circles.

These facts have been known now for about five weeks. Yet the original cannot keep marching on in ever widening circles.

Offenses of this nature inadvertent though they be rebound on papers and periodicals even more injuriously than the actions thus impudently indicted.

While the conviction of police chiefs in the city of Washington was stamping the dictagraph with its indorsement.

That fair is justice. As the Constitution set it the other day the stenographer is the heart brain and conscience of the dictagraph.

There is hope. Mr. Bryan's Commiserator has lost three editors but there are hundreds of office-seekers who believe that they can run a newspaper and the country at the same time.

Occasionally some despairing vice-hunter lets the public know he still lives by the statement that he is out of politics till next time.

They don't call him The Terrible Turk now with his legs dangling from the edge of the map feeling for a foothold.

Now if the senate should complain. How can I settle the tariff when I have to investigate myself?

A Story of the Moment VEXATION OF SPIRIT.

I have a secret sorrow today, remarked the retired merchant. "Our hired girl has handed in her resignation and requests that it take effect at once."

That's always the way with the dog-gone girls said the hotelkeeper. You take them in and wear out the best years of your life showing them how to do things and just when you need them most they are going to be married or divorced or some thing and they don't care a picayune how much their going disorganizes everything.

A man doesn't realize what cheap sports girls are until he goes into the hotel business. I always have twenty or thirty damsels in my employ and although I treat them as though I was their adopted parent and try in every way to make their lives one round of pleasure they are always looking for a chance to take a fall out of me.

Trade is slack now and nobody comes to the hotel but a few traveling men and an occasional reformer. The girls have nothing to do but loaf around and tell stories and look in their little hand mirrors to see that their cerise ringlets are properly adjusted and so they're satisfied with their jobs and treat me cordially.

Girls are ingrates, contumacious. They have no memory for kind treatment. The first time they were to hump around as though they were alive they consider themselves downtrodden and oppressed and begin talking about the tyrant lion heel.

When you do get a good industrious level headed girl you can keep her. Every time she steps into the street somebody comes up and proposes marriage to her and she soon forgets her duty to her employer and spies up with some ten cent cloak who will expect her to make the living while he plays checkers in the palace ivory barn.

This girl question is going to cause a revolution sooner or later unless congress fixes things so that the landlord of a family hotel may marry as many women as he pleases. If all these girls here were my wives I could make them stand around and behave themselves but as things are now I have no authority over them.

THE NEW. We are all more or less slaves to the Old. We shy at the New. And yet the Old at one time was the New. The most marvelous and interesting period of anything be it a thought a plan or a human being is at birth.

The World's Mysteries

MYSTERIES OF ANTIQUITY

DID HANNIBAL SPLIT ROCKS WITH VINEGAR?

Readers generally are familiar with the story of Hannibal who during his famous passage of the Alps overcame many of his difficulties by hewing the rocks with heat and vinegar. This story seems to have originated with Livy, the historian, and it has called out no end of discussion as to its possibility.

Various explanations have been made as to Livy's statement. The word used by the historian is aceto which is translated into vinegar. A French engineer who had been for some time employed on road works in the Alps was the authority for the statement that the common implement used by workmen in those parts of the Alps to hew their way through rocks was called by them an aceto or pickaxe.

Was Livy misinformed or was he misled in the meaning of the word or have his translators caused the error? Plutarch in his life of Hannibal mentions the fact that vinegar was used to split the rocks and makes no mention of the pickaxe. Was he also led into the error?

LAWN TENNIS. Lawn tennis which is once more beginning to infest this country after a disappearance of many years is a dainty game in which two or four men who are strong enough to spend their time in organizing a new trust kill a bright afternoon by battling a harmless ball across a net.

Lawn tennis is a very foolish game because at the end of a hard afternoon the ball is just where it was in the beginning and nothing has changed but the white duck and nothing has changed but the white duck and nothing has changed but the white duck.

Lawn tennis looks so easy that hundreds of total strangers take it up with the intention of driving the ball through some personal friend on the other side of the net. It looks as easy as politics does to the patriot who has the people behind him but it is just as deceptive.

confirmation to the ordinary accepted meaning of the Latin word used by Livy. The description of Livy is too minute to allow of the supposition that he meant anything but vinegar for he says that the acutum was poured upon the rocks which had been previously intensely heated and which were subsequently disintegrated.

Another writer discussing the subject says: "Certainly it may be supposed that rocks heated with fire and moistened with vinegar would be split though not on so large a scale as is here said to have been the case. And how amidst frost and snow, during the fifteen days of the passage could Hannibal have collected wood and vinegar enough for the purpose?"

In this connection an ancient historian relates that the town of Helietherae was taken owing to its walls having been softened by vinegar. A caustic sulphuric acid was used by the Romans for the purpose of refreshing after fatigue that the use of fire and vinegar really brought the army into Lombardy. It is to be imagined then that the soldiers when asked by the astonished natives how they could possibly have managed to pass the mountains replied that it was fire and vinegar that supplied the means, and that was the origin of the story a mere military jest retained as something wonderful and miraculous and adding to the prestige of the Carthaginian army.

In Pliny's Natural History there is a statement that might confirm the truth of the story by Livy. In one of the chapters he shows fire and vinegar to have been commonly used in the mines of Spain for the breaking of flints. Vinegar adds the naturalist is a complete subduer not only of meats by promoting digestion but of very many substances sides which poured upon a rock it breaks it in which an antecedent fire could not break.

There is a misunderstanding somewhere in this historical story of Hannibal's great passage of the Alps but when it comes to controversy has been unable to establish.

Atlanta contestants carried off the bulk of the honors at the second day's shooting of the annual rifle contest of the State National Guard of Georgia yesterday. The following medals were awarded:

Daniel medal for the best score at 200 yards slow fire, Major C. C. Smith, of Atlanta, with a score of 86 out of a possible 100.

Dunwoody medal for the best score at 300 yards surprise fire, Private E. C. Hale, of Windsor, with a score of 87 out of a possible 100.

Klicklighter medal for the best score at 600 yards slow fire, First Sergeant O. J. Metcalf, of Savannah, with 92 out of a possible 100.

Scott medal for the highest score at skirmish fire, Corporal K. Cottrhan, of Atlanta, with a score of 183 out of a possible 200.

The only medal to be contested for today is the Stockwell medal for the highest score at 1,000 yards.

SHIPPING TRUST FOUND BY CONGRESS PROBERS

Competition Between Coastwise Steamer Lines Eliminated.

Washington, June 13.—Competition between coastwise steamship lines has been largely eliminated and agreements exist between practically all the established steamship lines operating to and from American ports. These are the findings of a house committee investigating committee, announced today.

Chairman Alexander, of the house ship trust investigating committee, making public the first three volumes of the committee's proceedings today, declared they contained evidence that competition between coastwise lines had practically been eliminated and that all established lines from American ports were in "agreements."

"In the domestic trade," said Mr. Alexander, "agreements between steamship lines to regulate competition do not play nearly so prominent a part as in the foreign trade. But numerous methods may be used to accomplish the same purpose and the committee is aware of at least thirty which have been, or are being, used to control competition between water carriers in the domestic trade. The result is that in various parts of the committee found at least seventy-six agreements, or understandings, whose purpose was to fix and maintain rates, regulate the traffic and, in many instances, pool the business. These agreements govern nearly all the regular lines operating in various branches of the American foreign trade to Europe, Africa, South America and the Caribbean district.

"Practically all the lines serving both the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard of the United States are members of conferences or work in concert, or oral understandings."

JUDGE GARY QUIZZED ABOUT TENNESSEE IRON

New York, June 13.—If the United States Steel corporation paid $35,000,000 for the Tennessee Coal and Iron company and $14,000,000 more to put it on its feet, not because it wanted the property, but to save the firm of Moore, York and Robinson, which concerns holding Tennessee Coal and Iron stock, from ruin in the panic of 1907, wouldn't it have been better for the corporation to loan Moore & Schley $10,000,000 or $15,000,000 or give it to them outright?

This substance was the question Jacob M. Dickinson, attorney for the government in the dissolution suit against the corporation, asked its chairman, Judge Elbert H. Gary, today.

Judge Gary had testified that the money spent in the company's acquisition and rehabilitation had been brought far greater profits if put into other plants.

"I will say 'no,'" was Judge Gary's answer. "I believe we did the best and most prudent thing under the circumstances."

Judge Gary expressed surprise when the government put into evidence articles published in steel trade journals as late as September, 1905, reporting meetings of various steel associations at which it was stated that prices were agreed upon. At one it was stated that "it was voted to investigate members charged with price cutting."

Judge Gary said he never had read the articles referred to. "I am surprised to learn," he said, "that such meetings were held as late as that. I am surprised that the government didn't take notice of them."

"Well, it takes the government a long time to get started, but like the mills of the gods, when they do grind, they grind exceedingly fine," remarked Judge Dickinson.

"And, sometimes, both the just and the unjust," replied the witness.

RESTRICTIONS PLACED ON CANADIAN PAPER

Senate Democrats Incorporate 1911 Reciprocity Act in the Underwood Bill.

Washington, June 13.—Amending the section of the Underwood tariff bill which would place on the free list all print paper valued at not more than 2 1/2 cents a pound, the majority members of the senate finance committee today voted to incorporate in the bill the provisions of the Canadian reciprocity act passed in 1911.

This action would extend the free list to include all print paper valued at not more than four cents a pound on the condition "that no export duty, export license fee or other export charge of any kind whatsoever, or any prohibition or restriction in any way of the exportation shall have been imposed upon such paper, or board, or wood pulp or the wood pulp used in the manufacture of such paper or board."

Although the word "Canada" is omitted from the amendment, accepted by the committee, it would operate against Canada because of the country's restrictions on exports of wood and chemically pulp. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, said that other proposed restrictive provisions or countervailing duties aimed against Canada had not yet been reported upon by the majority and that the matter would be taken up again tomorrow. He added that there might be reconsideration of the action thus far taken.

Under the reciprocity amendment, pulp wood or paper could come in free from Canada, when it is the product of free lands in Canada, lands restricted by export duty or license fee.

Senator Simmons stated he believed the committee could conclude its work by next Monday. It was his opinion that the caucus would not be delayed because of the absence of democratic senators in West Virginia, as they could be called here by the committee. He said he believed the bill could be reported to the senate by June 25.

"I do not anticipate that the caucus will materially change the report of the finance committee, inasmuch as our work has been almost unanimous."

Administrative features of the bill, which have delayed the work of the committee thus far, the senator said, would be solved by the committee within a few days, as the subcommittee in charge of the feature would complete its work and report.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, he stated, had submitted many valuable suggestions, many of which would be accepted.

NO FIERCE BATTLE IN PHILIPPINE RECORD

General Pershing Tells of Moro Defeat—One American Officer Killed.

Washington, June 12.—"Probably no fiercer battle since American occupation," is the description by Brigadier General Pershing, of the battle with the Moros yesterday. In his report by cable today to the war department, the Moros made desperate attempts to rush the American lines, but were finally beaten back and overwhelmed. Their leader, Amil, and several other noted outlaws, were reported killed, but the total loss of the Moros was not reported.

One American officer, Taylor A. Nichols, of the Philippine court, was killed; First Lieutenant Edwin H. Packley, Philippine scouts, was wounded, and three Philippine scouts of the Fifty-first company, all natives, were killed.

General Pershing's report was as follows:

"On June 12th the Moros' resistance at Baguak was formidable and their fort and trenches on the precipitous side of the crater not only supported each other strongly, but were defended with modern arms. The Moros fanatically and continuously tried to rush the American lines, but the careful disposition of our forces held the American loss to a minimum. Probably there has been no fiercer battle since American occupation.

"Major George C. Shaw, of the Philippine scouts, commanded the right wing with Company M, Eighth regiment, United States infantry, and Fortieth company Philippine scouts. Captain Taylor A. Nichols, of the Philippine scouts, commanded the left wing with the Fifty-first, Fifty-second and Twenty-ninth companies Philippine scouts. A mountain gun was with each wing and proved of great assistance.

"At the close of yesterday Captain Patrick Moylan, of the Philippine scouts, with two companies, was supporting the gun on Mount Bunga and the American force occupied a controlling position on the rim of the crater.

"First Lieutenant Edwin H. Packley, Philippine scouts, was slightly wounded, and three Moro scouts of the Fifty-first company were killed. Captain Taylor A. Nichols was killed in the early morning fight and it is a serious loss to the American army. Amil and several leading outlaws reported killed. Other Moro losses still unknown."

A cablegram from Major General Bell not only explains the reason for the attack upon the Moros' stronghold but assumes responsibility with General Pershing. General Bell said: "The fight at Baguak was incident to the disarmament policy of the governor general (Cameron Forbes) and the governor of the Moro province, adopted after many months of patient but fruitless negotiations and marked by promises carefully guarded by the Moros. A situation arose that I believe left no alternative. Amil and a relatively small following occupying one ward of the island of Jolo were the only Moros who refused to disarm and were peacefully disarmed."

"The Moros' last stand was on the island of Jolo, not much larger than the District of Columbia. Datto Amil was a brigand and pirate preying upon the peaceful and innocent of his own people.

General Pershing's report was made before the end of the battle and General Bell has called for details of the conclusion.

INNOCENT MAN SERVES TWO YEARS IN PEN

Topeka, Kan., June 11.—George Horton, sent to the state penitentiary in 1910, charged with the robbery of a jewelry store in Medicine Lodge, Kan., has served nearly two years for a crime he did not commit, according to facts brought out today when Governor Hodges announced a permanent parole to Horton.

Horton's conviction was based mainly upon the fact that a blood hound directed suspicion to him. Horton's friends were able to present evidence to the governor that the stolen jewelry, valued at $250, was found hidden under a Medicine Lodge hotel and that it was placed there after Horton was sent to prison.

GONZALES NOMINATED MINISTER TO CUBA

Editor of the Columbia, S. C., State Draws Good Post.

Washington, June 13.—President Wilson today made the following nominations:

Minister to Cuba, William E. Gonzales, of South Carolina; minister to Nicaragua, Benjamin L. Jefferson, of Colorado; minister to Costa Rica, Edward J. Hale, of North Carolina; assistant treasurer of the United States at St. Louis, Willard D. Vandiver.

Mar Hale was formerly democratic state chairman in North Carolina, and was once consul at Manchester, Eng. He has been active in North Carolina politics and is a close friend of Mr. Bryan.

William Gonzales is the editor of the Columbia, S. C. State and the son of Ambrose Jose Gonzales, a distinguished Cuban patriot.

Mr. Jefferson lives at Steamboat Springs, Colo., is a physician, is now registrar of the Colorado state land board and was for several terms state senator. He and the president are friends.

FRAIL LITTLE WOMAN CHOKED AND ROBBED

New York, June 13.—Miss Dorothy Daniels, a frail little woman of 23, was beaten, choked and robbed in the streets this afternoon by a bandit who had followed her from a bank to her place of employment on Varick street.

The highwayman escaped with $1,125 in currency and certified checks. Hundreds pursued him for several blocks, but he eluded them. The hold-up occurred in a busy downtown section, in full view of the noonday crowds.

STRIKE WAS URGED TO CRUSH COMPETITOR

Boston, June 13.—Charles H. Wilson, general manager of the United Shoe Machinery company, suggested a strike among employees of a competitor company, offering to back them, declared Frank Morrison, witness today in the federal dissolution proceedings.

Morrison, an East Weymouth shoe worker, said Wilson suggested that he bring a union of the Thomas G. Plant company's employees, promising to pay expenses of organization and offering the witness $5,000.

It was announced this afternoon that practically all of the government's verbal testimony was in, and court adjourned until June 25.

FREE THOUGHT EDITOR ATTACKED GOV. BLEASE

Raleigh, N. C., June 12.—W. O. Saunders, free thought editor of The Down Hinner, of Elizabeth City, today had a public hearing before Governor Blease at his home, the case being brought against him this week growing out of an editorial on Governor Cole Blease, of South Carolina.

The grand jury indicted Saunders under section 211 of the federal constitution, relating to the publication of a libelous article in an editorial criticizing Governor Blease. The publication was made shortly after Governor Blease's Richmond speech.

GERMANY CELEBRATES 25 YEARS OF WILLIAM

Berlin, June 13.—The festivities in connection with the completion next Sunday of the twenty-fifth year of the reign of Emperor William opened this afternoon with a review of the Imperial Automobile club, the military volunteer automobile corps and other automobile organizations on the "army chaussees" in the western suburbs of Berlin.

Headed by Prince Henry of Prussia, commander of the corps, the motorcade of 10,000 cars, hundreds of decorated motor cars were reviewed by his majesty. The Duke of Ratibor then presented the first of the innumerable addresses which the emperor is to receive on his jubilee.

Joseph C. Grewe and William Spencer, secretaries of the American embassy, drove their own cars past the reviewing stand.

The emperor and empress afterward proceeded to the stadium erected for the next Olympic games to witness a jubilee equestrian tourney.

Seven thousand school children gathered in the castle courtyard, where they will make their majesties on Monday morning.

The city of Berlin has appropriated $25,000 for the decoration of the streets. Of this sum $15,000 is to be spent on Unter den Linden, which already has taken on a very gay appearance.

On Sunday, the day of the real silver jubilee anniversary, very few celebrations will be held, as it marks the date of the anniversary of the death of the emperor's father, Frederick III.

SUNDY CIVIL MEASURE READY FOR PRESIDENT

Washington, June 13.—Only the approval of a president is now needed to make a law of the sundy civil appropriation bill with the exemption of labor organizations and farmers associations from anti-trust prosecutions with funds provided by the measure. By a vote of 46 to 12, the measure was passed by the house of members of the board of managers of the National Soldiers' home from eleven to five.

The bill has been in conference since the men who were almost an exact duplicate of the measure vetoed by President Taft, because it contained the provision that none of the money appropriated for the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law should be used to prosecute labor organizations or farmers associations.

Delay in acting on the measure has embarrassed various branches of the government, some of the departmental bureaus being left entirely without funds. Only yesterday the department of commerce announced that its boats were on the verge of famine because the bureau of fisheries was without money with which to dispatch a supply vessel due to be sent long ago.

TWO ICE MEN FIGHT $50 PEDDLERS' TAX

Seeking to prevent the collection by the county of a $50 peddler's tax on the ground that they are not in this class of costermongers, two ice men were today in court yesterday morning against Andy P. Stewart, tax collector of Fulton county, to prevent his carrying out of a $5 issued against them and selling their teams to pay the costs.

Mr. H. Carter and J. H. Crane were the men who took out the temporary injunctions, which will be given a hearing on June 21, before Judge John T. Pendleton, of the motions division of the superior court.

In each of the bills the claim is asserted that they do not peddle tea from door to door, but have regular agreements by which they deliver certain quantities of ice each day to certain customers, some of whom they claim pay for it by the use of tickets, while others pay cash each day as they receive it.

The two injunctions which were granted temporarily by Judge Pendleton are identical in form and both were filed by Attorneys Maddox and Sims.

WOMAN REPUDIATES MURDER CONFESSION

Harrisonville, Mo., June 13.—Mrs. Ida May Keilar, who yesterday confessed in the presence of sheriff, county prosecutor and coroner, that she killed her husband, Arthur Keilar, and their 7-year-old daughter Margaret, Tuesday with an axe, today repudiated the confession, saying that a detective who investigated the murders "scared it out of her."

SENATE RECEIVES MULLER

Washington, June 13.—The United States senate today received the Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, today by recessing to receive him when he visited the capitol. Escorted by Senator O'Gorman, Dr. Muller was presented first to Vice President Marshall and then stood by the speaker's rostrum and was introduced by the latter to the senators as they passed by. A trip to Annapolis, the visit to the capitol, a tea by Henry White, former ambassador to France, and a dinner by Secretary Garrison constituted the round of entertainment for the Brazilian party today.

Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE

Ashville, N. C., June 12.—The address of Rev. Benjamin Wilson, D. D., of Harrisonburg, Va., featured the meeting of the Young Women's Christian association conference at Black Mountain today. The address was made tonight at a platform meeting. Earlier in the day the executive council held a meeting and all the various councils met throughout the day. The leaders of the conference will hold a meeting tomorrow.

DR. LANE RESIGNS

Lynchburg, Va., June 12.—Dr. Wilbur B. Lane, for eleven years of the chair of philosophy and pedagogy at the University of Virginia, today announced his resignation of the department of ethics of the Victoria college branch of the University of Toronto, Toronto, Canada. Before coming here he taught at Mount Union college, Alliance, Ohio, and was a member of the Cornell university. He leaves here next week.

DRASTIC AMENDMENT FOR ANTI-TRUST LAW

Washington, June 13.—Senator La Follette today introduced a bill to amend the Sherman anti-trust law so that it provides that when any person, firm or corporation is held guilty of restraining trade, the burden of the proof to establish the reasonableness of such restraint shall be upon the defendant.

Any concern controlling more than 30 per cent of the business in the United States in any commodity would be barred from claiming reasonable restraint.

The bill also would define as conclusively unlawful any business which restrains the purchase of any article from any other person or restricts the use of any given article; any discrimination based upon quantity or a commodity purchased or upon an agreement price, curtailing or limiting distribution of an article in any given territory; or agreement to withhold any commodity from sale in any given locality; underselling to prevent competition and maintaining unreasonable prices on raw materials to prevent competition.

The measure would prohibit the sale of any patents to illegally restrain trade.

FURTHER PROBE ASKED OF THE "MONEY TRUST"

Washington, June 13.—Chairman Henry of the house rules committee, today introduced a bill amending the national banking laws to vest congress or either house with historical powers over banking associations.

In the statement he contended that further investigation of the "money trust" should be immediately pressed and declared that the "Wall street money trust is pushing its propaganda throughout the country for currency legislation so that they may get the right to control the currency and take that function away from the government."

BONDS ARE ARRANGED FOR UNION OFFICIALS

Charleston, W. Va., June 13.—Arrangements were made here today for the release under $1,000 bond of the indicted officials of the United Mine Workers of America. The arrangements were made under agreement by the court, and United States Attorney Ritz and the attorneys for the nineteen members and officials of the organization.

This fight will center about the charge in the indictment that the accused, as members of the United Mine Workers, "corruptly and feloniously engaged in a conspiracy and combination in restraint of trade and commerce, with the purpose of ruining the coal industry of West Virginia."

SLATER WILL PROPOSE NEW ELECTION LAW

There will be a new election law proposed in the Georgia house of representatives this year. W. C. Slater, of Bryan county, has announced that he is working on such a law, which he believes will better safeguard elections, including primaries, against fraud and the corrupt use of money, than they have ever been before.

While Georgia has a measure of the Australian ballot system now, in that private booths are provided in which voters may mark their ballots, Mr. Slater expects to go much further than the present system, and make it impossible for anyone outside to ascertain how a man votes. He will follow the principles of the Australian ballot, but give them a much stricter application than they have yet had in Georgia.

FURTHER PROBE ASKED OF THE "MONEY TRUST"

Washington, June 13.—Chairman Henry of the house rules committee, today introduced a bill amending the national banking laws to vest congress or either house with historical powers over banking associations.

In the statement he contended that further investigation of the "money trust" should be immediately pressed and declared that the "Wall street money trust is pushing its propaganda throughout the country for currency legislation so that they may get the right to control the currency and take that function away from the government."

BONDS ARE ARRANGED FOR UNION OFFICIALS

Charleston, W. Va., June 13.—Arrangements were made here today for the release under $1,000 bond of the indicted officials of the United Mine Workers of America. The arrangements were made under agreement by the court, and United States Attorney Ritz and the attorneys for the nineteen members and officials of the organization.

This fight will center about the charge in the indictment that the accused, as members of the United Mine Workers, "corruptly and feloniously engaged in a conspiracy and combination in restraint of trade and commerce, with the purpose of ruining the coal industry of West Virginia."

SLATER WILL PROPOSE NEW ELECTION LAW

There will be a new election law proposed in the Georgia house of representatives this year. W. C. Slater, of Bryan county, has announced that he is working on such a law, which he believes will better safeguard elections, including primaries, against fraud and the corrupt use of money, than they have ever been before.

While Georgia has a measure of the Australian ballot system now, in that private booths are provided in which voters may mark their ballots, Mr. Slater expects to go much further than the present system, and make it impossible for anyone outside to ascertain how a man votes. He will follow the principles of the Australian ballot, but give them a much stricter application than they have yet had in Georgia.

Before coming here he taught at Mount Union college, Alliance, Ohio, and was a member of the Cornell university. He leaves here next week.

DRASTIC AMENDMENT FOR ANTI-TRUST LAW

Washington, June 13.—Senator La Follette today introduced a bill to amend the Sherman anti-trust law so that it provides that when any person, firm or corporation is held guilty of restraining trade, the burden of the proof to establish the reasonableness of such restraint shall be upon the defendant.

Any concern controlling more than 30 per cent of the business in the United States in any commodity would be barred from claiming reasonable restraint.

The bill also would define as conclusively unlawful any business which restrains the purchase of any article from any other person or restricts the use of any given article; any discrimination based upon quantity or a commodity purchased or upon an agreement price, curtailing or limiting distribution of an article in any given territory; or agreement to withhold any commodity from sale in any given locality; underselling to prevent competition and maintaining unreasonable prices on raw materials to prevent competition.

The measure would prohibit the sale of any patents to illegally restrain trade.

Three or four families may live in this apartment style. The contents of a moving picture theater at 14 Central avenue were sold at auction yesterday by the T. E. Lumpkin Realty company for $2,525.

Mr. George has purchased a lot adjoining the city hall on McDonough street in Decatur and will erect a two-story building thereon. The first floor will be devoted to the retail trade and the upper floor to wholesale. Mr. George has also purchased the lot on the corner of Atlanta avenue and Marshall street. A small grocery store occupies this location, and it will be continued by the new owner.

Twenty-five people of Atlanta will have the opportunity to purchase a lot each, many of them facing on North Boulevard. A large number of people have signified their intention of being on hand when the sale opens, and in all probability the twenty-five lots will be sold within a few minutes.

This property is regarded by many real estate men as the logical property to buy either as an investment or for a home. Property in that section is rapidly rising and it is predicted that it will be almost quadrupled within a few years.

Atlanta's Strides from Day to Day. Continued from Page Ten. 150 feet. The house contains twelve rooms, and is so arranged that two,

25 Lots in Ansley Park Annex

Are Going

AT AUCTION

And this time history—real estate history—will repeat itself. Everybody knows what happened after every other auction of Ansley Park lots. Those who know say the same thing will happen again.

Thousands upon thousands of dollars were made for purchasers. Values have steadily climbed and are still climbing. This is the one section of residential Atlanta where doubt as to the future does not exist.

Ansley Park Annex has been developed in the same high-class manner which made Ansley Park famous. Every one of these 25 lots is high and overlooks Ansley Park. Many of them front on North Boulevard.

These lots are in a section within a mile or a mile and a half from three tracts which have been bought for development within the next few years by some of Atlanta's wealthiest men. It is the logical property. It has profits concealed in it.

Put the date down—Thursday, next Thursday, June 19. Remember the date as one which will increase your bank account if you attend the auction. Sidetrack every other engagement and go out. Twenty-five lots are going to make money for as many people. Be one of the twenty-five.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON PRICES OFF UNDER REALIZING

Market Opened Firm, But Old Longs Took Profits Freely. Spot Cotton Higher.

New York, June 13.—The cotton market was less active today, with prices easing off under realizing or selling for a reaction after the sharp advance. The close was steady at a net advance of 1 point on August, but generally 1 to 5 points lower.

The market opened firm at an advance of 6 to 10 points on the contract, but under realizing or selling for a reaction after the sharp advance. The close was steady at a net advance of 1 point on August, but generally 1 to 5 points lower.

There were some further complaints of low night temperatures from the eastern belt and reports of threatened insect damage in central and western belt sections. Otherwise crop beliefs were generally favorable, however, and indications for good weather over the week-end seemed to inspire some selling for a reaction.

Trading became relatively quiet after the first hour and the market fluctuated within a point or two of last night's closing figures during the middle of the day, but there was a little flurry of selling in the afternoon. A prominent Memphis statistician made the average condition of the crop over 2 per cent better than when the government's June condition figures were compiled.

Closing prices were at the lowest point of the day with June and July showing the maximum losses.

New Orleans and Liverpool houses were credited with selling rather freely during the morning, while comparatively light offerings were sufficient to unsettle the market in the late trading, owing to the absence of any important support. It was rumored that about 1,000 bales of cotton were on their way from the south for contract delivery, but it is also reported that 4,000 bales are to be shipped from here to Genoa next week.

Spot cotton quiet, 5 points up; middling uplands 12.35; do. gulf 12.60; sales, none.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, June 13.—After a small initial advance today the price of cotton worked lower. The market had the price of the snap shown in several preceding days. The market was reduced and longs were apparently disposed to try for profits. The lower trend of the market was the more favorable turn taken by the weather over the week-end.

Dry Goods.

New York, June 13.—Fruit of the loom 4 1/2. The market was quiet today, with prices generally steady. Cotton goods are slightly firmer. Carpet wools have been selling more freely, but stock sales are still in good call for spot shipment.

GOOD RAINS OUT WEST MADE WHEAT DECLINE

Market Closed Five-Eighths to Three-Quarters Cent Off. Corn Lower.

Chicago, June 13.—Much wanted rains that fell today lowered the price of wheat. The decline was 5 to 8 to 3-4c net. Corn lost 1-4c to 5-8c and oats 1-8c to 1-4c@3-8c. Provisions at the finish varied from 21-2c off to a rise of 71-2c.

It was pointed out that the downward price of wheat and Nebraska were treated would be of immense value toward the final filling of the wheat crop in those states, but speculators attached even greater importance to fairly good showers extending through the western part of the Dakotas and the Canadian prairie. Need of a soaking for the eastern part of the spring wheat belt led to a spasmodic rally. The show of strength, however, was not lasting and the bottom figures of the day were reached just before the close. Chances of more rain in the northwest formed the chief reason for the late weakness. It was also noticed that primary receipts were 171,000 bushels, against 217,000 bushels, Nebraska, especially, was offering wheat here freely. Sea-board clearances of wheat and flour equalled 353,000 bushels.

Trading became cash concerns that were unable to sell to the east or to local industries pulled down corn after the market had touched a new high level for the season. Good local speculative buying caused the early advance. Damage reports proved insufficient to sustain offers when holders attempted to convert paper profits into money. Provisions, as a rule, scored gains. Stocks on hand were light and hogs relatively scarce.

FIGHT IS BREWING ON MONEY REFORM

Henry Alleges Wall Street Is Backing Currency Legislation—The Administration Money Measure Is Ready.

Washington, June 13.—An undercurrent of opposition among a considerable number of house democrats to the plan for currency legislation at this session of congress took definite shape today, when Representative Henry, of Texas, chairman of the powerful rules committee, openly charged that Wall street was back of the propaganda for currency legislation.

While favoring revision of the banking and currency laws at the next session of congress, Mr. Henry insisted that further investigation of the so-called "money trust" should be immediately pressed. The "money trust," he declared, barely scratched the surface of the facts underlying the concentration of control of money and credit, because the controller of the currency refused access to his records, making it impossible for the investigators to completely expose the existing relations between the Wall street bankers and their allies with the trusts and monopolies; stock gamblers, and financial conspirators.

"Wall street bankers," he added, "now are demanding legislation on the currency question in order that they may make a market for their rotten securities, and have currency issued on their assets."

Mr. Henry introduced a bill to amend the banking laws, so as to make banking associations subject to the vital powers, "exercised or directed," by congress, or by either house of congress.

Administration Bill Ready.

While this was going on, it became known that the administration measure, representing the combined views of President Wilson, Secretary of the Navy McAdoo, Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, chairman of the senate banking and currency committee, and Representative Glass, chairman of the house banking and currency committee, probably introduced in the house next Tuesday, and that the full committee of the house probably would meet to take up the bill a day or two later. President Wilson is expected to send a message on the subject probably Tuesday. Mr. Glass had a long conference today with Secretary McAdoo, going over the details of the bill.

"It is an imperative duty to pass currency legislation at this session of congress," said Mr. Glass tonight. "It seems singular to me that any well informed member of congress should imagine that the need is not urgent. If any such member will come to the banking and currency committee tomorrow and note the attitude of the secretary on the subject with which the secretary has been deluged, and the tenor of the letters written, he will become easily convinced, not only that the bankers of the country favor legislation that will give them a more adequate description of their power and their influence, but that the latter even more urgent than the former."

Members of the house committee, while disposed to follow the party leadership, are not agreed upon the necessity of currency legislation now. They are in a waiting mood, and seeking light.

Henry Attacks Wall Street.

Mr. Henry, in his statement accompanying his bill, declared "the Wall street bankers, thinking the people confused and upset by tariff revision, have begun their old scheme of endeavoring to hurry through a plan giving them the right to issue, or have issued by the government, asset currency. The bankers and their allies want to make a market for their paper and securities and control the country's currency and cause the government to abdicate the function of issuing and controlling the currency."

"There is positively at present no need of an emergency currency bill, the Aldrich-Vreeland bill is on the statutes, and has a year to live. It certainly suffices for that length of time."

Charging that the only aim of the Wall street bankers was to pass the Aldrich bill, "venerated over so as to fool the people," Mr. Henry said the voters would be "wise to wake up and prepare for the greatest struggle they ever fought with the New York banking fraternity, and the money trust."

"The Baltimore platform said nothing about currency legislation, except to repudiate and denounce the Aldrich currency bill," he said. "It did, however, demand a systematic revision of our banking laws so that we might have protection from control or domination by what is known as the 'money trust.'"

"I am ready now for the right kind of currency legislation, but never for the plan that turns over the currency business to the banks and corporations and strips the government of its sovereign power."

telling me of pitched battles that had been fought."

He said his own life had been threatened at various times during the disturbances and speeches were made at several miners' meetings according to him of "fiddling while Rome burned."

"The miners requested the first declaration of martial law after I told them that a declaration of martial law was the only method by which I could eject the mine guards from the strike zone."

The executive said that when the state troops dispersed the men in the district, six machine guns were taken from the mine guards.

Mr. Glasscock said the mine owners objected to the dismissal of the mine guards, and he believed they opposed the declaration of martial law.

"I would like to say that I believe that I never acted more conscientiously in my life than when I took charge of that district," said the former governor.

Attempts to question the governor's justification for the first declaration of martial law were stopped by the committee.

"This committee will never pass upon the good faith of the governor in declaring martial law," said Senator Borah, and the line of questioning was halted.

Mine Guards Caused Trouble.

Senator Borah ascertained that the "mine guards" in the strike district were not employees of a detective agency, were the main cause of trouble, and that one of the principal reasons for the declaration of martial law in the first instance was his desire to rid the district of the mine guards. After the guards had been driven out he said the question of unionizing the field became acute, and the trouble again broke out.

The governor was unequivocal in his defense of the actions of the military commission which tried prisoners in the strike zone.

"I consider that a state of war existed on Paint and Cabin creeks," he said, "and I considered that under the martial law regime the will of the commanding chief, myself, was superior to the state of war. I regarded the proceedings by the military commission as strictly in accord with the law under the conditions which were apparent at the time."

The former governor explained that sentences imposed by the military commission which exceeded the penalties provided by the statutes were never intended to be carried out. He said he had an understanding with the committee that very heavy sentences were to be imposed, but that he was not to allow the prisoners to serve the full terms. The long sentences were planned "for the moral effect."

Determined to Have Peace.

"I was determined to have the governor to have peace and order restored. This was one of the means employed."

The attorneys for the miners ascertained from the former governor that he recommended some of the strikers, who, after the first declaration of martial law was raised, took positions as mine guards in the pay of the operators.

"Did you think these men in the pay of the operators were a competent police force to guard the interests of operators and miners alike?" asked Attorney Belcher. The governor could not say.

Representative S. B. Jones, who was a prosecutor when the trouble broke out, testified that juries secured in the civil courts could not be depended upon to try cases arising out of strike because of the widespread prejudice and bias throughout the country.

The jury, the former governor said, more subject to this general prejudice than the military officers who made up the military commission?" demanded Senator Borah.

"I obviously do not," replied Avis.

Avis said that throughout the strike troubles the criminal courts of the county with grand juries sitting were doing business without interference.

On these points County Prosecutor Townsend and Assistant Prosecutor C. Burdette corroborated the testimony of Mr. Avis as did Sheriff Smith.

Probe Near End.

Tonight Senator Kenyon's branch of the inquiry as a general condition of the inquiry as to the strike was all that remained to be disposed of in Charleston. The committee decided to leave the matter of alleged violations of immigration laws to be taken up in Washington.

The big question as to agreements and combinations "contrary to the laws of the United States," for the purpose of controlling the production of West Virginia coal, will not be taken up until the committee at this time it was decided, owing to the fact that officials of the United Mine Workers have been indicted on this charge under the Sherman anti-trust law in the federal courts.

ENGINEER SOBS STORY OF THE FATAL WRECK

Stamford, Conn., June 13.—With an emphatic declaration that he had done all he could to avert the wreck, Engineer Charles J. Doherty, of New Haven, at the coroner's inquest today ended his dramatic story of how his train on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad crashed into the Pullman car Skyland last evening, dealing death to six persons and injury to many others. Then he broke down completely and sobbed aloud for several minutes.

He had recalled how, when his train had responded to the air brake, he applied more air and then "let her have the whole thing." Then he threw on the emergency brake, applied sand to the rails and reversed his lever as far as he was able. He insisted that he had taken every possible precaution.

That he had not been running a passenger train regularly until three days before the accident, that he had been nervous because of the newness of the train, and that the nervousness had worn off, were statements of Doherty.

Doherty's fireman, Barry Smith, corroborated his testimony, as did the conductor and baggage master, so far as their knowledge went.

Coroner Egan turned from the examination of witnesses to demand of Attorney Benjamin L. Spock of the New Haven whether the railroad's order to burn the wrecked car, the "Skyland," immediately after the wreck was not a "cover-up," Spock insisted, however, that this was a customary procedure when the wrecked coach is to be repaired and not responsible for the accident.

Engineer Doherty was arrested tonight, charged with manslaughter, upon a warrant issued by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney F. W. Huxford. Bail was fixed at $5,000, which was furnished by John Dillon, his brother-in-law.

At the Stamford hospital tonight it was reported that all the injured were feeling comfortable.

"FAKE" ADS OPPOSED BY ADVERTISING CLUBS

Woodhead Is Chosen President. Toronto Gets the Next Convention.

Baltimore, June 13.—The ninth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America finished its business today and adjourned to Toronto for next year. William Woodhead, of San Francisco, was elected president; Walter B. Cherry, of Syracuse, N. Y., vice president; P. S. Flores, of Indianapolis, secretary (treasurer), and T. L. Quatte, of Des Moines, Iowa, treasurer.

The executive committee will announce the date for next year's meeting. The convention adopted unanimously "a declaration" submitted by the joint committee of departmental representatives placing the association on record in opposition to all forms of untruthful advertising and recommending measures designed to correct evils wherever they occur.

A permanent committee, composed of the joint committee to deal in detail with the problems existing in the fields of advertising, is proposed.

Every advertising interest is urged to submit problems regarding questionable advertising to this committee and to the national vigilance committee.

The present methods of arriving at verification of circulation statements are described as not only confusing but inadequate, and the executive committee is requested to co-operate with other agencies for the purpose of bringing about a radical revision of these methods and for standardization of statements.

"We believe in truth," the declaration continues, "not only in printed words, but in every phase of business connected with the creation, publication and dissemination of advertising."

"Government agencies insist on 'full weight packages and full weight' circulation figures. They should also insist on 'full weight' delivery in every commercial transaction involved in advertising."

The report was signed by three representatives from each of the thirteen branches of the business represented at the convention.

The formation of a retailers' advertising association with M. M. Gilliam, of New York, as president was announced. The new organization is to be an associate body of the national association.

Porcelain.

(From The Fall Mall Gazette.)
Some people may not be aware of the origin of the word "porcelain." When, in the sixteenth century, traders introduced this Chinese product into Europe, they found that its translucent surface was thought to resemble cowrie shells, which, from their supposed likeness to the shape of a little pig, were called "porcellana."

GOVERNOR COMMUTED SENTENCE OF GARRETT

It was stated in yesterday's Constitution that the governor had declined the recommendation of a commission on board in commuting the sentence of James Garrett, who was serving a sentence of twelve months in the chain-gang for selling liquor. This was an error. The governor acted favorably upon the application and commuted the sentence.

The impression also may have been made that the board had left it doubtful whether they were asking for a commutation of sentence in this case or a parole, a thing which they have held they cannot do in misdemeanor cases. It is true that the governor was at first in doubt as to what they were asking for, and did appeal to Secretary Uim to settle the apparent conflict between the inside of the commission's recommendation and the indorsement on the back of it.

This confusion was found to be due, however, to a filing stamp which to error an dot to any negligence on the part of the commissioners themselves.

MORE SLIDES OCCUR IN THE CULEBRA CUT

Panama, June 13.—There has been increased activity in the slides in Culebra cut during the past 24 hours. A new movement took place yesterday on the east bank of the cut, precipitating a large mass of earth and rock into the canal and covering all the tracks on the east side, thus blocking the drainage ditch and overturning a steam shovel.

This break now extends back to the upper terrace, and the level is cracked still further back.

The breach slide started a fresh movement this afternoon, filling the cut to the 67-foot level and bringing in more material than the steam shovels excavated from it for more than a month past.

Another slide which is likely to give some trouble developed today on the west bank of the canal bed, where a mass of mud slid into the canal last year.

RACE WAR AVERTED BY POSSE'S ARRIVAL

Loughman, Fla., June 13.—A clash between whites and negroes of this place was averted tonight by the timely arrival of Sheriff Logan and an armed posse from Lakeland. A negro was whipped here Tuesday for having made an insulting remark about a white woman. Negro sawmill employees, resenting this, quit work, and made threatening demonstrations. Today armed negroes appeared in town and defied the local authorities. Sheriff Logan was promptly appealed to for aid. Since his arrival all is quiet and seven arrests have been made. No further trouble is anticipated tonight.

A Bird of a Fish Story.

(Wintner, Conn., Co. Philadelphia Record.)
Two clever fishermen have established a home in a travel boat with a few rods in Atlantic Lake, where fishing boats assemble every morning. The birds which operate from the holes in the bank and the bottom of the boat, the pull in fish, generally perch and rook close, the fishermen swoop down upon the fisherman, eating the fish as they are lifted above the water.

Sometimes the fish are so severely hooked that the fishermen are obliged to use their boots, but occasionally they are borne away by the long-billed birds. Now fishermen returning empty handed are told that "the big one" that the birds swiped on them.
