

THREE ARRESTS EXPECTED SOON IN PHAGAN CASE

Members of the Staff of the Solicitor General Are Now Keeping Trio Under Strict Surveillance.

LANFORD HAS EVIDENCE TO CONVICT, HE SAYS

Will Not Divulge Its Nature to Anyone, He Declares. Court Postponed to Allow More Time to Probe Case.

SATURDAY'S DEVELOPMENTS IN THE PHAGAN MYSTERY

Rumors from office of solicitor general say that three arrests will be made of attaches to pencil plant before case goes to grand jury.

Chief Lanford, of police headquarters, announces he possesses documentary evidence which will convict slayer of pencil factory girl.

Open breach apparent between detective chief and solicitor's staff. Lanford refuses to reveal additional disclosures to Dorsey because tri-cornered investigation into mystery still unadjusted.

Dorsey announces that solicitor's office will co-operate fully with Burns' forces.

Dorsey postpones first session of May term of criminal court so as to devote entire time to Phagan investigation.

Burns' agent, now in city, follows new trail to Marietta in search for girl who accompanied Mary Phagan to pencil plant.

Three new arrests, all of whom are said to be attaches of the National Pencil factory, will be made, it was reported yesterday.

The report has set court officials and police headquarters in a furor of excitement. Only a few are acquainted with the names of the men who have already been put under surveillance.

Whether or not these men will be arrested, as suspects, or held as material witnesses is not known outside the members of Mr. Dorsey's staff.

Has Document That Will Convict. Detective Chief N. A. Lanford declares he is holding a document that is sufficient to convict the murderer of the pencil factory girl.

CHICAGO DELEGATION, HEADED BY JOHN TIMOTHY STONE, PRACTICALLY CERTAIN TO WIN U. S. A. ASSEMBLY, 1914

This is the strong Chicago delegation to the U. S. A. Presbyterian assembly (northern), who came to Atlanta to win the 1914 assembly for their city, and whose success is practically assured. The original plans for Dr. John Timothy Stone to lay Chicago's invitation before the body, but the plans were upset by his unexpected election as moderator.

PROBE COMMITTEE REBUKED BY MAYOR

"Report Shows That It Was Intention of Body to Excuse and Palliate," He Tells Council in Message.

Because he believes the evidence brought out during the fire department probe has substantiated every charge he made in his message to council, Mayor Woodward will send to council a message asking for a rebuke of the committee.

The mayor reviews each of the charges he made in his message, also the charge made by R. E. Davidson, agent of the Webb Fire Apparatus company, that he gave Chief Cummings $400 as present.

The message is as follows: "To the General Council, City of Atlanta—Gentlemen: I have declined to put my seal of approval upon the report of the committee appointed to investigate charges or statements that I had made in a veto message to your honorable body, because of the fact, that I am more thoroughly convinced, since attending some of the meetings of that committee and hearing the evidence given, that I was entirely correct in every statement contained in that message, and I further desire to reiterate every statement made therein.

"All of the accusations made by me were absolutely correct and are borne out by the records of the city, and if the investigation had been conducted upon lines with a desire to ferret out and get good results, the city would have been the beneficiary. But, the report of the committee shows that it was the intention of that body to excuse and palliate.

"There can be no excuse for violating a city law. Because one man, or one department, has gone along and conducted its business contrary to the city charter does not justify another in doing the same thing. It would be no justification for a band of burglars to burglarize a bank because another band had burglarized the same bank the week before. While this may be a strong comparison, I have no desire to appear offensive or harsh.

Good Engine for Less Money. "As to the matter of bidding on a fire engine last October, I stated that the city could have gotten a good or better engine for less money. There was a letter presented at that meeting of the board of fire masters offering 10 per cent discount on one of the engines and the only excuse that was offered was that no member of the board read the letter making the 10 per cent discount. That being true, it is evident that the board of fire masters and the only excuse that was offered in their work as they should have been. Your committee, in an apologetic way, admits the truth of the accusation of this part of my message.

GROWING RETURNS ALONE KEEP STATE IN SOLVENT SHAPE

$136,976,917 INCREASE SHOWN IN FOUR YEARS

Comptroller Wright Recommends Longer Terms of Office for Tax Collectors and Receivers.

That the state has made an abnormal increase in taxable values, amounting to $136,976,917, in the last four years, thus increasing the revenue of the state $684,882, will be shown by Comptroller General William A. Wright in his annual report to the governor, the advance report of which was given out by the comptroller yesterday.

On this account only has the state treasury been able to meet the largely increased appropriations made by the last legislature. As it was, it was found necessary to resort to the usual expedient of a temporary loan of $200,000 to carry the state over a period of treasury deficit.

That this condition of just playing even is not likely to continue is shown by the action of Postmaster General Burleson in turning down A. S. Hardy, whom he recommended for postmaster.

Charge of Mismanagement. In defending herself from the charge of mismanagement, Mrs. Longstreet said: "I have no desire to serve the Gainesville postoffice under an administration that does not wish to retain me. But I submit it should not be the privilege of the administration which is dismaying me to try to block my record. In naming my successor, the postmaster general made an announcement which was carried by the Associated Press from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, that my office was poorly managed. MRS. LONGSTREET STILL FIGHTING

She Accuses Bell and Hardy of Leading "Drunken Mob" to Her House—Defends Her Conduct of Office.

By John Corrigan, Jr., Washington, May 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, of Gainesville, who has been in Washington for several weeks fighting the confirmation of Mrs. H. W. J. Ham, will appear on Monday before the senate committee on postoffices and post roads, to reply to the statement of Postmaster General Burleson that her office was not properly administered.

She accuses Bell and Hardy, postmaster general, which is on file with the senate committee on postoffices and post roads. Mrs. Longstreet says: "My application for reappointment as postmaster at this office was wired shortly after the notable night on which Congressman Bell and Mr. A. S. Hardy led a drunken mob to my house in celebration of President Wilson's election, singing so boisterously as to awaken people living along the line of march."

Representative Bell, when his attention was called to this letter, said: "It is entirely in keeping with Mr. Hardy's record that he engaged in celebrating the democratic victory. In my opinion, he had more to do, as chairman of the democratic executive committee of the Ninth district, in reclaiming the district and turning a republican majority of 800 to a republican majority of 3,000 last year, than any other man in the district."

Mr. Bell declines to comment on Mrs. Longstreet's fight to hold her office, or the action of Postmaster General Burleson in turning down A. S. Hardy, whom he recommended for postmaster.

Charge of Mismanagement. In defending herself from the charge of mismanagement, Mrs. Longstreet said: "I have no desire to serve the Gainesville postoffice under an administration that does not wish to retain me. SPECTACULAR RIOTS CAUSE MAYOR HUNT TO ASK FOR TROOPS

But the Governor of Ohio Refuses to Order Militia to Cincinnati—Police Must Keep Order.

MAYOR WANTS RECEIVER FOR STREET CAR LINE

Court Will Act on Petition Monday—Rioting Was Almost Continuous Saturday. Many Persons Injured.

Cincinnati, O., May 17.—The refusal of Governor Cox to send troops to this city to control the strike of the employees of the Cincinnati Traction company, after spectacular riots in the early part of the day had influenced Mayor Hunt to ask for the militia, was followed late today by the filing of a petition by the city of Cincinnati for a receiver for the company. Judge Georgehagan of the common pleas court before whom the action was brought, heading pleas of attorneys for the traction company for delay, adjourned court until Monday when he is expected to pass judgment.

Rioting was almost continuous today from the time the company attempted to operate cars until they withdrew all cars from the streets at noon. While a riot that occurred at the Brighton barns this morning probably proved the most serious, one a little later at Fourth and Vine streets was the most spectacular. Small steel beams, barrels of plaster and bags of cement were hurled upon a passing car from the upper floors of a 14-story building. The car was wrecked but no persons were seriously hurt.

Members of the crew and other company employees riding on the first car out of the Brighton barns were assaulted and beaten almost into insensibility. Three of them are at a hospital in precarious condition. Various other small riots occurred in which the crews of the cars were beaten or forced to flee.

Mayor Hunt asked Governor Cox for troops after the riot at Fourth and Vine streets. Receiving a negative answer he appealed to Adjutant General Wood. When he had received no reply from the adjutant general, he directed City Solicitor Battman to file suit for a receiver.

Governor Cox in refusing to send the militia said, he had information that the police had not exhausted their resources to prevent rioting.

Mayor Hunt told the governor rioting was prevalent in this city and that the police were powerless to cope with the situation in case anything like regular schedule was attempted by the traction company.

Tonight the system is completely tied up and the strikers appear content.

Strikers Call on Cox. Columbus, O., May 17.—Representatives of striking carmen in Cincinnati and the American Federation of Labor this afternoon came here to ask Governor Cox not to order troops to Cincinnati and to implore the chief executive to act as an arbitrator of the strike.

"I am willing to do all I can to bring the strike to a close," Governor Cox said, after the labor leaders had left his office, "but I would not act as an arbitrator unless both sides would be willing to make concessions."

PRISONERS IN REVOLT IN THE FULTON TOWER FOR HOURS SATURDAY

THOUSANDS GATHER TO HEAR SPEAKERS IN UNION MEETING

MINISTRY AND PEOPLE UPBRAIDED BY JACKSON

Men and Religion Leader Declares That Many Have the Wrong Conception of Social Evil.

PRESBYTERIANS PLANNING TO STIR ATLANTA SUNDAY

11 a. m.—Visiting Presbyterian ministers preach from pulpits of 34 Atlanta churches. Auditorium, 3 p. m.—Mass meeting for men, addressed by John Willis Baer, of Los Angeles. Tabernacle, 3 p. m.—Joint Mass meeting on home missions, by U. S. A., U. S. and U. P. churches. Central Presbyterian, 3 p. m.—Sunday school workers' mass meeting, addressed by Dr. A. L. Phillips, of Richmond. Central Congregational, 5 p. m.—Mass meeting for women, under auspices Woman's Board of Home Missions. 8 p. m.—Practically all Atlanta pulpits supplied by Presbyterians.

"If I didn't believe in Christianity, I would give up my hopes of democracy," said James MacDonald, publisher of The Toronto Globe, in addressing 6,000 people at the third union mass meeting of the Presbyterian assemblies, held in the Atlanta Auditorium last night. "Why shall we cease when the organized workers of the world will refuse to fight," said Rev. Charles Stelzle, superintendent of the bureau of social service of New York, and of the Presbyterian U. S. A. church. "In other words, we will cease when the workers, united, will declare a peace, strike. Hundreds of labor union men have the spirit of Christ. The McNamara's are no more typical of the union man than was that Boston Baptist minister, the murderer, typical of the ministers of America."

Upraised People and Ministry. Marion Jackson, of Atlanta, upbraided the ministry and the populace for the wrong conception of the "woman in red" and the social evil. "There are men, I understand, who wear the livery of Christ," he said, "and yet advocate a segregated district for the scarlet women in Washington and elsewhere. My God, why do you men get his religion? Will some one answer it? 'Do you ever think of the baby girl at home? God doesn't brand that child with the scarlet letter, but men will brand her when older and selfless, and put the foul gold into his foul pockets. And I have even to mention of the unrespectable people who own lands on which houses of prostitution stand."

Previous to the speaking of the evening, a large number of resolutions of Dr. Ralph Atkinson, of the First Presbyterian church, Seattle, Wash., was held in the auditorium. Three hundred colored girls from Spellman seminary sang a number of the old fashioned plantation hymns. "Walking in Jerusalem, Just Like John," "No Hiding place," "I Want to Be a Christian in my Heart," and others were sung.

Great Enthusiasm Shown. Charlotte Cross, a 17-year-old Philadelphia negro who is studying at Spellman seminary, sang the solo parts, her clear soprano voice having wonderful volume and tone. At the close of "I Want to Be a Christian," the 6,000 people in the auditorium literally went wild with enthusiasm and demanded more until Dr. Atkinson had to step forward and lead the singers again. Many in the audience were northerners who had never before heard of the old fashioned plantation hymns. To these especially did the negroes appeal.

Another musical treat of the evening was a selection rendered by the Union Quartet of the Union Theological seminary, of Richmond, Va., composed of Messrs. R. W. Lancaster, W. T. Mann, F. S. Crane and C. B. Craig. They made such a hit that they will be heard this afternoon at the big mass-meeting in the auditorium at 4 o'clock.

Such an impression did the negroes make on the audience that Dr. Atkinson has secured the promise of the Atlanta Baptist college for negroes to be in attendance and sing Monday evening. There will be all men, and it is thought that another audience of 6,000 people will be on hand.

Church Must Go to Laborer. Dr. Stelzle, who also presided over Rebellion Starts When Inner Jailor W. B. Wiley, Appointed to This Position on Saturday Morning, Lectured the Inmates of Fourth East for Making Noise and Shooting Dice.

MEN DRIVEN INTO CELLS AT POINT OF REVOLVERS BY THE EVENING WATCH

From 10 O'Clock in Morning Until 3 in Afternoon the Prisoners in Fourth East Had Things Their Own Way, and With Steady Bottle Throw Kept the Guards Out of Their Cage.

A rebellion of prisoners that was quelled only at the point of guns in the hands of determined guards, raged for five hours in the Fulton county Tower yesterday from 10 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

After repeated unsuccessful attempts to subdue the mob of thirty or more prisoners, Head Jailor John M. Suttles, reinforced by a squad of armed guards, ended the revolt with threats to shoot and shoot to kill. Last night all was quiet. The mutineers were subjected to solitary confinement in their cells, and were unable to congregate.

The trouble began, it is said, when the thirty inmates of fourth east, the long tier of cells in the eastern wing of the prison, were delivered a moral lecture by Inner Jailor W. B. Wiley, a man aged 50 years.

Wiley Rebukes Prisoners. Wiley was appointed to the position only Saturday morning. His first official act was to visit the fourth east portion and rebuke its residents for their conduct in the past, objecting to the noise they made during the day and night, dice throwing and whistling and singing.

Fourth east is a section probably 100 feet long and 25 feet wide. It is a huge cage composed of cells along each side and containing a spacious runway. The new jailor congregated this audience in the runway, while he occupied a position near the cage entrance.

His rebuke was well under way, when the words were drowned by jeers and cat calls. All prisoners occupying fourth east are white, and a large number of them are awaiting heavy penitentiary sentences. When Wiley began to reprimand with them sharply, abuse came so severely that he was driven from the cage.

He threatened to subject the rebels to solitary confinement. A soda bottle whizzed from the rear of the runway and crashed against the bars dangerously near the jailor's head. He ducked outside to the balcony and summoned aid.

Volley of Bottles. Greet Guards. Several guards and turnkeys rushed to his assistance. As they entered fourth east a volley of bottles and cell fixtures crashed an ominous greeting against the walls and bars. The intruders were cursed vehemently and threatened with death if they came within reach.

Eye-witnesses say the prisoners were frenzied. The guards who had come to quell trouble retreated and called for reinforcements. Other guards and turnkeys ran to their assistance.

but were balked from entering by missiles thrown from the cage.

The mob continued from 10 o'clock until noon. With no prey at which to fling their volleys of bottles and fixtures, the rebellious prisoners contented themselves with singing and cursing the jailers. At 3 o'clock the evening watch of guards and jail attendants, headed by Jailer Suttles, came on duty.

When Suttles was informed of the disturbance he armed his men and led them through the doorway to fourth east. He was greeted with firing missiles, but escaped injury. Rushing to the barred archway of the cage, he drew his revolver and leveled it at the raging crowd.

He was at his back did likewise. "The man that's not in his cell with in 60 seconds," ordered the jailer, his voice booming over the roar. "I'm going to get a bullet hole plumb through him. Get in, every one of you."

Noise Hushed Almost Instantly.

The noise hushed almost instantly. The mob wavered slightly as though seeking a leader. A few timid ones fled to their cells. Suttles drew back the hammer of his pistol and took out his watch.

Immediately there was a scampering for the cells. The thirty prisoners reached shelter in a flash. There was not a shot fired. Suttles unlocked the cage door and entered, followed by the squad of guards.

In less than five minutes every one of the remaining prisoners was locked in solitary confinement, in which all will remain throughout their sentence as punishment for the revolt, the first of which has ever been recorded in the prison's history.

Investigation probably will be started by the county commissioners, Mr. Wiley, for several years, has been attached to the Tower as steward. Under the recent salary act, that position was abolished, and he was transferred to the duty of inner jailer.

He could not be reached last night for a statement.

THOUSANDS GATHER TO HEAR SPEAKERS

The meeting, made a brilliant plea for the church to come to the laboring men, instead of trying to get the laboring man into the church.

"The church is largely responsible for the great suffering in this world," he said. "We hear much of back to the farm. I tell you, the city must solve its own problems—the country has enough of its own.

"The church today must face the issue of today, fairly and squarely. Dr. Stealze's address made a great impression on his audience, and he was frequently applauded.

James A. MacDonald, of Toronto, Can., publisher of the Toronto Globe, and an elder in the Presbyterian church, delivered one of the masterpieces of the entire Presbyterian assembly. Taking for his subject, "The Relation of the Christian Church to the Social and Industrial Situation," he held his audience for the course of three-quarters of an hour, except for the moments when he was enthusiastically applauded from the auditor.

He inspired his audience with a higher ideal of the Christian life and Christian service.

"This age-long problem of ours," he said, "of living together is yours and mine, every American's. It is the problem of living together in American cities where there ought to be neither the idle rich nor the starved poor; the problem of working together in American factories, where the Master ought never to be a tyrant, and the man ought never to be the slave.

"Tell me, you proud heritors of the revolution, has that primal pledge of equal opportunity in America to the world been yet made good? Is justice perverted to aid the strong, and anarchy with its bomb the last defense of the weak mob?

"The first Christian achievement was the dream of the ages, the haunting dream of saint and seer, made vocal in the angel-song of Bethlehem. It was a new republic, in which they are greatest who serve and they are kingliest who love. With that idea Christ matched the world's supreme alternative, the empire of brute power with its Caesar as master of the world.

"The most revolutionary thing in all history happened when that idea of the kingdom of heaven in the life of men was released in the mind of Jesus of Nazareth. It contradicted and it still contradicts the dominating ideas of the world's philosophers, economists, statesmen. They said force rules. He said ideas. They said self-interest is the supreme motive. He said love. They said being served is greatness. He, having.

Called Them One by One.

"With that idea, as with a magnet, he touched the rabbinic-heap of life, drawing the fisherman of Galilee, the tax gatherer from the place of toll, the Magdalen from the streets of shame. He called them one by one that out of their regenerated lives he might create his new republic of ideas and love and service.

"The man whose life is haunted by the memory of a lying Redeemer not only held back from much sin, but becomes himself a savior of those who are lost. And if the church itself, if it would uplift society in the twentieth century as it did in the first, must be impelled by that primal and potent dynamic redemption—the Son of God who loved me and gave Himself for me."

ings' administration, with the same quality of hose being bought, there has not been a rebate of any amount.

The statement of the committee that during the last six years there was less hose bought than there was during the Joyner administration, does not prove that the city should not have received the same discount. If the committee had desired, it could have satisfied itself by the records of Chief Joyner bought as much hose during the last two years of his administration of 1905 and 1906, as he did the four years previous, and all of that hose carried a five-year guarantee. Therefore, the department was in good shape and should have been relieved of buying considerable hose. On the other hand, if he had not been thus relieved he could have gone along and purchased the usual amount of hose and have forced the earlier years of the Cummings' administration to have bought more. It cannot be said that four years ago Chief Joyner bought hose that had been bought since, according to the reports of the fire department, as there is nearly 6,000 feet of the hose still in service that was bought during the Joyner administration.

Why Not Better Guarantee?

"The statement in the committee's report that there has been two new fire stations installed during Chief Joyner's administration is offset by the fact that there were two new stations installed during the six years of the Joyner administration. The committee states that during the past six years there has been a superior quality of hose bought. If that be true, why should it not carry a better guarantee, when, in fact, the guarantee has been decreased from five years to three years. This evidently does not support the statement that the hose was superior to that bought previous to that time.

"Another plain and evident fact was presented to the committee, and is of record, that the city should have saved $340 on one transaction that was made the first part of the year, but which has not been paid yet. Under the old order of things, the chief had purchased 2,000 feet of Eschscholtz hose at $1 per foot. When the matter came to my attention I requested Mr. West to get bids on that class of hose. He did so and the bid was 10 cents per foot less, with a 2 per cent discount it paid within ten days. This was a saving to the city of Atlanta upon the same class of hose of $240. This one transaction alone should be plain evidence that the city should have been receiving these kind of prices for the past six years. If the system of competitive bids had been carried out. Such transactions as this denote a woeful lack of business methods.

"Another very grave question that came before the investigating committee was the fact that Mr. R. E. Davidson gave evidence on the witness stand that he had made Chief Cummings a present of $400. There was no one to deny this but Chief Cummings himself. As a candid to state that I absolutely believe every word that Mr. Davidson uttered in this regard. The only question in my mind is as to whether it was present or a direct bribe, as the records of the city and bank deposits denote the latter. The committee, if it had desired, could have investigated the records in the comptroller's office. It would have found that on April 22, 1912, after Mr. Davidson had been bought the past October, that a voucher was drawn for $9,000, and that a warrant was drawn also on the same day to pay that voucher; that the $9,000 warrant was cashed by the bank on April 24, 1912, and that Mr. Davidson drew his personal check for $400 on April 26, 1912. This is borne out by the check that was presented in evidence and by the stub book from which the check was drawn, and both appearing on the 26th day of April, 1912. It will be seen by this that there was only three days in which the financial part of the transaction was consummated. This certainly bears the earmarks of a transaction that was to be settled up as soon as the engine was paid for.

Credit Evidence.

"In conclusion, it further appears, from reading the report of the committee, that they are inclined to discredit nearly all of the evidence that was given at their hearings that tended to cast reflection upon the manner in which the business of the city had been carried on in the fire department, both by the board of fire masters and the chief for that department, when, in fact, absolutely nothing can be proven in any witness, if not more, that appeared on that side of the case. All of the statements that are made in this communication can be verified by evidence and records, and if it should be the desire of the committee to handle this matter, the same should be furnished them.

"I desire to emphatically state that there is not one word of this whole transaction intended to offend any one, but I consider it my duty in the transaction of the business of my office to let the people know how their business is being carried on, and if further regard any man that enters into his public work, an unsafe man to serve the public. Respectfully,

"J. G. WOODWARD, Mayor."

GROWING RETURNS ALONE KEEP STATE

Expanded Corporate Property.

Attention is again called to the fact that of the corporate property in the state, an amount worth not less than $40,000,000 makes no return to the state and pays no taxes. There are the three railroads with charter extending to the Georgia Railroad and Banking company, the Southwestern and the Augusta and Savannah, the Western and Atlantic, which is the state's own property, is also exempt.

According to the tax returns of last year there is property on the digest compiled from the returns made to tax collectors aggregating $704,337,228. The railroad and other corporate property returned to the comptroller represents an increase of nearly 100 per cent in returns made to tax collectors since 1900, and of nearly 200 per cent in the returns for corporate property in the same period.

The comptroller again notes the fact that the tax act under which near beer licenses are collected makes no provision for the collection of such ordinances for the collection of such ordinances. He recommends the amendment of the act so that the license taxes may be paid to tax collectors and the same compensation allowed them as is collection of licenses from liquor dealers. The total revenue from the near beer tax last year was $242,540.

Another recommendation in the report is to the effect that the tax of one-fourth of 1 per cent on gross receipts of all manufacturers or wholesale dealers or distributors of soft drinks be returned to the tax collector of the counties in which such business is carried on and paid to them instead of to the comptroller general.

Revision of Tax System.

The comptroller again urges the importance of a revision of the tax system of the state. In this connection the report says:

"A thorough revision of our revenue system is needed and has been repeatedly urged by this department. This is a subject of vital importance to all classes of citizens and should receive the attention of the general assembly at its approaching session. The defective and disjointed machinery for assessing property for taxation permits much of the taxable property of the state to escape taxation altogether, and a very much larger proportion to evade its just and equitable part. It is not necessary for me to state that the evils of our system obtain equally in the case of assessment of property of individuals as well as corporations, and as well upon the several counties of the state. Indeed, it is a well-known fact that in many cases the assessment of property in counties adjoining each other, and where practically like conditions exist, vary very widely, placing on citizens in one county heavier burdens than are borne by their neighbors in the other. All taxes should be uniform, and a system of assessing property should be provided to accomplish as far as possible absolute uniformity.

"Attention to the lack of uniformity and equality in our tax assessments which I have said so uniformly obtain under our present system, there is yet a much greater evil resulting from it, to which I would respectfully invite your attention. I refer to the taxing for taxation of such property as might be termed invisible property, such as notes, mortgages, accounts, stocks, bonds and choses-in-action. It is generally known that this class of property in this state represents a considerable part of the wealth of Georgia, yet it is equally true that but a very small amount of it is ever assessed for taxation. Such a method should be adopted to reach this property and place it on the tax books, and thus compel it to bear its just burden of the government. The state of Alabama has a statute providing for county assessors to look up all omitted property from the tax rolls of their counties, their compensation for such service being solely on the commission basis. I might add that the city of Atlanta has tried this method very satisfactorily for several years, and I would recommend that something of this kind be provided for the state. The present system of assessment is but little better than voluntary contributions by tax payers to the state's revenue."

Longer Official Terms.

The comptroller recommends that the terms of office of tax collectors and tax assessors be increased from two to four years. He believes that the efficiency of both would be materially increased by the extension of their terms of office.

Attention is called to the defects in the regulation of the business of investment companies. Comptroller Wright suggests that authority be given to his department to inquire into their financial condition. As the law now stands the state exercises no supervision of the business of such concerns, while the comptroller-general is required to license them to do business upon the payment of a fee of $50. This certificate of authority to do business is given to the company to advertise their business and influence investments. The deposit feature of the act should also be amended so as to require deposits of these companies made only in stocks or bonds acceptable to the comptroller. Unless the law can be amended as the comptroller suggests, he insists that it should be repealed altogether.

In conclusion, Comptroller Wright calls attention to the extension made in the act of 1912 in favor of the commissioner of agriculture to the general rule requiring treasury warrants to be countersigned by the comptroller general for corporate property. The law can be amended as the comptroller suggests, he insists that it should be repealed altogether.

Crucial Court Postponed.

In order that he might devote his entire time to securing new evidence and to the preparation of the evidence and to the presentation of the case, the solicitor general Hugh M. Dorsey has postponed the first week's session of the criminal division of Fulton superior court.

This announcement was made Saturday. Court was scheduled to have been opened Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Dorsey, in a statement to a reporter for The Constitution, said that he would be unable to call the grand jury and the criminal division and do justice to the Phagan investigation.

Fatigued from a gruelling day's labor and from the strenuous work of fourteen previous days, the solicitor general had a double session of the division of witnesses Saturday at noon, and repaired to their homes for a half-day's rest. This morning at 11 o'clock the work will be resumed with the same men and energy as heretofore.

Mr. Leager, time.

The rumor is prevalent in the courthouse and in court and jury circles that Dorsey will not present the Phagan case before the grand jury Thursday or Friday of this week. It has been predicted, but will seek longer time for the preparation of evidence and other matters. Mr. Dorsey would not talk when confronted with this report last night.

Donations Making a Thorough Job of This Case.

"I am making a thorough job of this case," he said, "and am working it just as I see fit. It is no time for hurried action. It is a time for calm deliberation and preparation. Let us make the fund growing rapidly. Saturday's donations brought it to $2,500, or more, it is said. State-wide interest is being taken in the move to employ the famous sleuth. A large number of subscriptions came from throughout the state with subscribers endorsing the plan to obtain Burns."

Greeks Will Aid Probe.

Chief of these out-of-town donations was a check for $250 from Wilmington, N. C., by the Greek vice-consulate of America, D. Elnettajal. The letter accompanying his contribution is as follows:

"Mr. Thomas B. Felder, Atlanta, Ga. and Mr. D. Elnettajal, Atlanta, Ga. wish to see the mystery surrounding the tragic death of Mary Phagan solved and the reputation of their good city of Atlanta untarnished.

"Sincerely yours,"

(Signed) D. Elnettajal.

Other out-of-town subscriptions came from J. E. Exum, of Douglas, Ga.; T. O. Myers, of Aragon, Ga.; and J. L. Pambrough, J. J. Baldwin, E. Reed and E. F. Walker, of Smyrna, Ga. This is only a partial list. The remainder expressed the desire to have their names withheld.

Business men donated generously, in almost every instance, however, each subscriber of checks that were kept in a number of women also subscribed a liberal share of Saturday's donations. Mr. Felder was optimistic over the prospects.

Burns Coming Sure.

He told a reporter for The Constitution:

"Burns is coming. The murder will be solved in less time than a month. I am positive. Never in all my career have I taken such an interest in a case as in the murder of Mary Phagan.

"Atlanta has got to find the slayer. Her reputation demands it. Whoever it is it will be caught, and we won't be long in the catching. I saw it in the eyes of Mr. Burns, and it is such a man as he that is needed in this situation."

Burns' representative, the chief of the noted detective's criminal investigation department, said one of the assistants of the Burns agency, was diligently at work on the mystery all day Saturday. First, he conferred with a number of officials, gained an insight in the case at its present status, then he went to the investigation. He will make prior to his superior's arrival.

An attaché of the solicitor general's office, who has been in intimate touch with the examination of all witnesses summoned before Mr. Dorsey, told Saturday afternoon that what was his firm belief that a number of witnesses were withholding facts from the solicitor.

Are Withholding Facts.

"It is my plain as the nose on your face," he said, "that a large number of folks who have testified before the solicitor have withheld facts of importance, and only stated the trivial details of which they were questioned. It is my belief that these witnesses could be held for perjury if they maintained their statements in open court."

THREE ARRESTS EXPECTED SOON

It is said, but will be held until the trial. Not even Solicitor Dorsey, declares the detective will be informed of the names of the men who are being sought. Lanford said, "have been giving out altogether too much information. We can never hope to do anything if our movements are constantly being reported in the newspapers."

"For this reason, I have decided to keep my mouth closed. The evidence that I have, which, I am sure is enough to convict the slayer of Mary Phagan before any jury in the state, will be such a surprise in the court at now is until the proper time has arrived."

The chief intimates that he will not give it even to the grand jury when the mystery is solved, but he is for fear of this might be a leak."

Breach Reported Between Officials.

The headquarter, and court officials are concerned over the report of open breach between Chief Lanford and Solicitor Dorsey because of information which the latter has given to the newspapers.

Lanford practically confirmed the report of this breach Saturday, when he said:

"I do not mean that I shall withhold any evidence in my report, but I am alone from every one else who is working on the case. Not until it is proper to let it out will I disclose it."

The refusal of Lanford to speak of any one else, brings about an interesting situation, however, those working on the case, making it a three-cornered investigation, of the baffling mystery.

ters, who were first to investigate the slaying and now working alone, refusing to give information to any one. The Pinkertons, who were next retained, are working exclusively. Co-operation, however, is being maintained. Investigation has been promoted by Solicitor Dorsey and the Burns agent now in the city.

Will Work With Burns.

Solicitor Dorsey announced to The Constitution last night that he would work in co-operation with William J. Burns, the chief of the Pinkerton agency, and that they would travel, hand in hand, in the effort to apprehend the slayer. His announcement was brief. When asked if he would exclude the Burns agents, and even Burns, himself from the investigation, he said:

"I gladly welcome Mr. Burns. I welcome his investigator who is now on the job. I will give him and his staff complete co-operation of the office of the solicitor general."

In reply to a question put to him of the rumored arrests, he replied:

"I do not care to discuss the matter."

Following a newly-found trail, the chief of the William J. Burns' criminal investigation department, who is investigating the case, visited Marietta, Ga., and the vicinity Saturday in search of the mysterious girl who went with Mary Phagan to the pencil factory on the day of her tragic disappearance. He is unknown to any one in Atlanta, excepting those directly concerned in his employment, and the length of time that he has been in the city, he has found much new and valuable evidence.

DR. JOHN LOVEJOY ELLIOTT TO CLOSE ETHICAL SERIES

Dr. John Lovejoy Elliott, the sixth and last of the eminent lecturers brought to Atlanta for the 1912-13 series by the committee for ethical lectures, will appear at Cable hall on Thursday evening, delivering his lecture recently given at Carnegie hall, N. Y., on "The Driving Power of Social Discontent."

Arriving here Thursday afternoon, Dr. Elliott will be met at the train by Linton C. Hopkins, A. H. Bancker, and M. H. Wiensky. Following his lecture he will be tendered an informal supper at the Georgian Terrace by members of the executive committee. Friday morning he will be taken for an automobile ride over the city. The lecture at Cable hall will be free to the general public, will be based upon Dr. Elliott's fifteen years of public life as associate with Dr. Felix Adler of the New York Society for Ethical Culture, and as secretary of Hudson's Park, the "Full House" of New York in the tenement district of the west side of Manhattan island, where he has lived.

Writing of social instincts in each human being, Dr. Elliott says: "The reason the name of Lincoln is so beloved by the American people is because he is typical of the best Americans; we understand him because he, more than any of the other great men, perhaps, is following the made great and raised to a height; in him we see the best in us given power. Catarrh and Stomach Trouble Relieved by Peruna

Mrs. John U. N. derwood, R. F. D. 2, Box 90, Waverly, Ohio, writes:

"Having had catarrh and stomach trouble and having suffered very much, I after being doctored a long while, as a last resort, took Peruna. The result was wonderful. I would highly recommend it as a good remedy. I still Mrs. John Underwood, use Peruna and would not be without it. I always have it in the house."

Catarrh of Head and Throat.

Mrs. L. A. Gray, 137 Main St., Menasha, Wis., writes: "I was troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for so many years that I thought there was no cure for it. Mother suggested that I try Peruna. I bought a couple of bottles and decided to see what it would do for me. I am a healthy woman today. I thank you for Peruna. Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna tablets."

For Currency Reform Bill, Jos. McCord Tells Bankers

Macon, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—J. A. McCord, of Atlanta, chairman of the legislative committee, gave the Georgia Bankers' association some inside information tonight on why President Wilson is holding up the "federal pie." He declared that Senator Howland Smith and himself had been assured that the president is going to say to congress: "Give us a good currency bill before you adjourn," and he said it was for that reason that the president was holding back the "pie."

Those in the convention hall picked up their ears at this bit of information and when Mr. McCord saw the effect of his words he promptly requested that what he had said be omitted from the official record.

COFFEE

are most interesting (see letter in southeast corner).

If the subject appeals to you, try leaving off coffee and tea entirely, use Instant Postum and carefully note, day by day, the return to health and strength.

A level teaspoonful of Instant Postum in an ordinary cup of hot water dissolves instantly and makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more, and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular (must be boiled).

Instant Postum doesn't require boiling, but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in cup of hot water.

On Sending Young Father to Pen Judge Blames Modern Fashions

Waycross, Ga., May 16.—W. C. Lanier today was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary by Judge Parker, of the Ware superior court. Lanier was convicted of murdering his infant son, one day old. The prisoner's eyes filled with tears as he heard the words condemning him to prison for the remainder of his life, and the judge was not unmoved. Lanier is but 22 years old. Judge Parker referred to the need of more care on the part of parents of the present day and alluded to the present day fashions as one cause of crime. Ware superior court will re-convene in special session June 23 to try Mrs. Lanier, who was jointly indicted with her husband for the death of their child. Judge Parker will hear arguments on a motion for a new trial for Lanier July 23.

Bowels Get Weak As Age Advances

MR. O. P. MILLER.

Healthy old age is so absolutely dependent upon the condition of the bowels that great care should be taken to see that they act regularly. The fact is that as age advances the stomach muscles become weak and inactive and the liver does not store up the juices that are necessary to prompt digestion. Some help can be obtained by eating easily digested foods and by plenty of exercise, but this latter is impossible to most elderly people. One thing is certain, that a state of constipation should always be avoided, as it is dangerous to life and health. The best plan is to take a mild laxative as often as is deemed necessary. But with equal certainty it is suggested that cathartics, purgatives, physics, salts and pills be avoided, as they do but temporary good and are so harsh as to be a shock to a delicate system. A much better plan, and one that thousands of elderly people are following, is to take a gentle laxative- tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which acts as nearly like nature as is possible. In fact, the tendency of this remedy is to strengthen the stomach and bowels, and to train them to act naturally again, when medicines of all kinds can usually be dispensed with. This is the opinion of many people of different ages, among them Mr. O. P. Miller, Eureka, Mich., who writes: "I am 80 years old and have been constipated for many years. Since receiving your sample bottle I have procured two 50c bottles and find that it is the best remedy I ever used and does just what you claim for it to the very letter. I can not recommend it too highly."

A bottle can be bought of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar. People usually buy the fifty cent size first, and then, having convinced themselves of its merits they buy the dollar size, which is more economical. Results are always guaranteed, or money will be refunded. Any elderly person can follow these suggestions with safety and the assurance of good results. If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 117 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

CUBAN AVIATOR FLIES KEY WEST TO HAVANA

By Accomplishing the Feat Rosillo Wins a Prize of $10,000.

Key West, Fla., May 17.—The first successful flight from the United States to Cuba, over the Gulf of Mexico, today was made by Domingo Rosillo, a Cuban aviator. A prize of $10,000 was offered for the accomplishment of the feat, which was unsuccessfully attempted in 1911 by Aviator McCurdy.

Rosillo left the terminal of the Florida East Coast railroad in a gale of wind at 5:35 o'clock this morning. His Moisant machine was not equipped with pontoons. This fact, in addition to the unfavorable weather conditions, rendered the flight extremely hazardous.

The aviator stemmed across the intervening stretch of water without mishap, arriving at his destination at 8:10 o'clock.

An unhappy incident, which threatened to result in the death of Augustine Paris, followed Rosillo's departure on the successful flight. Paris had planned to race with Rosillo in a hydro-aeroplane. Unfavorable conditions caused Paris to send a delegation to Rosillo urging him to desist from the flight until conditions were more favorable. The request of the delegation was refused by Rosillo, who had been informed that flying conditions at his destination were ideal.

"I am going to try it or die," Rosillo is quoted as saying.

When informed of Rosillo's determination Paris threatened to kill himself. His friends finally prevailed upon him to desist. As Rosillo sailed away from the land Paris climbed into his hydro-aeroplane, which was being tossed about by the waves in the harbor. Frantic efforts of Paris to ascend from the turbulent waters were fruitless. Two of the base wires of his machine were snapped in two and he was forced to give up the attempt. Upon his return to shore Paris was placed under arrest by local police, charged with attempting to kill himself. Paris is said to have placed a revolver against his temple, when a doctor threatened to kill himself. His friends are said to have taken the revolver from him.

Havana Welcomes Aviator. Havana, May 17.—Rosillo, the Cuban aviator, arrived here in his aeroplane from Key West at 8:10 this morning. The Cuban government offered a prize of $10,000 to any aviator accomplishing the flight and sent a cruiser and two gunboats to patrol the route.

Announcement of Rosillo's start from Key West had been given by the discharge of three shots from Cubana fort and when he came into view he was hailed by practically the entire population.

Rosillo approached the city flying at an altitude of 2,000 feet. He then wheeled and landed at Camp Columbia. He experienced no difficulty during his flight.

The winds were light and there was only a slight haze.

Rosillo wins the prize of $10,000 offered by the Havana city council to the first Cuban aviator to cross the straits.

ADVENTISTS OBSERVE SATURDAY AS SABBATH

Washington, May 17.—Three thousand people here observed today as the Sabbath. They were Seventh Day Adventists delegates from all parts of the world attending the quadrennial general conference to discuss their missionary efforts and to place further extensions. Religious services occupied practically the entire day, the Sabbath ending at sunset.

The ringing of a bell called the delegates from their city of 620 tents to early morning worship in the big pavilion tent pitched in the center of the encampment.

ON SECOND TOUR OLD GUARD LEAVE

Battalion Will March in Full Dress Uniform From Piedmont to Terminal Station Monday Morning.

Headed by a brass band and with colors flying, the Old Guard of the Gate City Guard will march in full dress uniform from the Piedmont hotel to the Terminal station tomorrow morning, where between 50 and 60 of its members will embark in a special train for a trip that will extend to June 3, through Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and other eastern cities.

The officers of the Seventeenth regiment and local militia have been invited to act as honorary escort.

The members of the Old Guard, who are planning to make the trip, are as follows: Officers—Colonel J. F. Burke, Captain and Quartermaster Bolling H. Jones, Captain and Commander A. McMillan.

Staff—Captain W. M. Crumley and Dr. E. L. Connolly.

First Company—First Lieutenant Charles P. Byrd and Second Lieutenant John W. Myrrell.

Second Company—Captain F. J. Clarke and Second Lieutenant A. H. Davis.

Non-commissioned Staff—First Sergeant Harrison Jones, Second Sergeant, First company, W. O. Wilson, and second sergeant, Second company, F. M. Berry.

Privates—W. A. Austell, A. M. Bancker, H. Beckley, H. C. Beerman, H. M. Beutler, J. H. Bussess, W. M. Camp, E. B. Green, C. J. Gavan, Dr. W. A. Graham, Henry H. Hirsch, W. A. Hays, W. L. Trotter, Ed. L. Wright, Herbert L. Woods, W. S. Witham, A. J. West, W. Wiggins White, C. E. Winn and G. H. Yancey, Jr.

Ladies to Accompany Party. There will also be a dozen or more ladies in the party, wives and daughters of the members of the organization.

The present trip is to renew the friendship made 34 years ago, when the Old Guard went on its historic mission of peace to the north. This peace mission was enthusiastically endorsed by military and civilians in every part of the nation.

The Old Guard will be entertained this year by many of the same organizations which welcomed them in 1879. Members will assemble at the Piedmont hotel at 3:30 o'clock. The whole battalion will march to the station.

The first stop to be made by the Old Guard will be at Washington. They will be met at the train by distinguished and well known organizations, headed by the famous Marine band. The survivors of the Washington Light Infantry will form the guard of honor President and Mrs. Wilson will receive the company at the white house, and Mrs. Wilson will be presented with a magnificent bouquet of Georgia flowers, picked from the yard of her old home at Rome, Ga.

OBJECTS TO DEATH BY ELECTROCUTION

Washington, May 17.—On the ground that death by electrocution rather than hanging interfered with his constitutional rights, Joe Malloy, of Virginia, today presented his appeal to the supreme court from the death sentence by electrocution imposed upon him by Virginia courts.

Malloy was convicted of having murdered Prentiss Moore, of Bennington, Va. After the murder and before the trial in the commonwealth changed method of death punishment from hanging to electrocution. Malloy claims that to him this change is an "ex post facto" law prohibited by the constitution.

In 1892 the supreme court decided in a New York case that death by electrocution was not a cruel and unusual punishment as forbidden by the constitution but it has never passed upon exact point raised by Malloy.

HE HAD TO STEAL $60,000 TO PAY BLACKMAILERS

Los Angeles, May 17.—William St. John Ranney, former clerk to the auditor of the Santa Fe railroad, who confessed thefts amounting to between $60,000 and $100,000, was sentenced today to seven years in San Quentin prison. Ranney, a former inmate of the Elmira reformatory at New York, declared he was forced to steal by former convicts who knew his record and levied blackmail on pain of exposure. He did not name any of the men who, he said, had so financially bled him of everything he could steal from the railroad.

He Was Roasted Alive. Pulaski, Va., May 17.—Mack Whit-taker, aged 30, married, an employe of the Dora Furnace was literally roasted alive today when the contents of a boiler filled with molten metal tipped over on him. The ladle was being moved by a switch engine to a dump heap when a sudden stop of the engine caused it to tip. Whit-taker's head was burned from his body. He leaves a widow and two children.

Ten Persons Fear Rabies. Clinton, N. C., May 17.—Ten persons will leave here tomorrow for Raleigh to take the Pasteur treatment, having been bitten by a rabid dog several days ago. The dog was killed and its head sent to Raleigh for examination where the state chemist pronounced that the animal was suffering from rabies. Six of the persons bitten are the children of Fountain Carter, the owner of the dog.

HANSEN ARRESTED FOR MENACING BOURCHIER

American Theatrical Manager in Trouble in London—Dispute Over Play "Croesus."

London, May 17.—J. Salter Hansen, the American theatrical manager, who is engaged in a legal squabble with Arthur Bouchier, concerning the production of Henri de Rothschild's play, "Croesus," at the Garrick, was arrested tonight. He is charged with having threatened Mr. Bouchier with violence and the object of his arrest, it is said, is to force him to find sureties to keep the peace.

Hansen's arrest was the sequel of a scuffle between him and Mr. Bouchier, which led to extraordinary scenes in the Garrick theater. On Friday he was granted an interim injunction restraining the English manager from preventing him from exercising his rights as licensee. Mr. Bouchier's staff was then in charge of the theater, but was ejected by the American manager. The doors were then promptly locked against Bouchier's men. The English actor-manager obtained an annulment of the injunction today and proceeded to recapture the theater. According to Mr. Hansen's statement, a mob of men numbered a hundred and broke open the bolted doors and drove out the Hansen men. Mr. Hansen's secretary and another man were injured.

The arrested manager was taken to a hospital where Mr. Hansen, who claims the American and English rights of the play, objected to Mr. Bouchier's methods of production. Hansen was asked to leave the theater. In a statement this evening he said:

"I consider myself the sole manager of the Garrick and shall do everything in my power to prevent the production of the play. It had been at the theater when Bouchier's men broke in they would have seen what western methods could do to prevent even a hundred men from entering my property. I shall now apply for injunction to prevent production of the play."

The case probably will come up Monday.

GREAT STRIKE PLANNED TO GET QUINLAN FREE

Industrial Workers of the World to Put an Industrial Stop to Paterson.

New York, May 17.—Standing in a drizzling rain in Union Square today, after a rambling fifteen mile from Paterson, N. J., to Hudson river ferry to reach New York, several hundred silk mill strikers, augmented by New York members of the Industrial Workers of the World and other sympathizers, cheered the declaration of their leaders that Paterson would come to an industrial stop for forty-eight hours beginning next Wednesday morning in protest against the conviction of Patrick Quinlan.

"If necessary we will call a general strike throughout the United States and will tie up the country to take these men out of jail," declared Robert Pluzer, president of the scope of the threats made by the other speakers who were Quinlan, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, Fred Boyd and Adolph Lessig.

Boyd, who acted as chairman, told how the strikers proposed to demonstrate their strength. He said: "We will cut off the light. We will tie up the street cars. We will reduce the city of Paterson to a condition of absolute helplessness. We will paralyze every industry, as happened in London two years ago, and by and by the bosses will discover they cannot railroad men to jail. Remember, the slogan of the Industrial Workers of the World: 'An injury to one is an injury to all.'"

Quinlan in his speech said: "We are fighting a lot of ostensibly American companies, but really controlled by the Japanese. Instead of acting for California, attention should be given to the Japanese who are living on blood of the people of Paterson. We are going to win this strike or Paterson."

son will be wiped off the map; as an industrial center, Paterson will be wiped off the map, unless we do the things we will move out and leave the city. We don't need dynamite. We have dynamite of intelligence of brain, of organization to fight with. The beginning of an industrial revolution is about to take place in Paterson and when that is finished a political revolution will start in that city."

PRESBYTERIANS ASKED TO COME TO TUSKEGEE

Through his personal representative, the Rev. A. F. Owens, Booker T. Washington extended a cordial invitation to delegates to the Presbyterian assemblies now in session in Atlanta to visit the Tuskegee institute for negroes. There are now 1,850 students in the school, who are being taught the dignity of labor in forty-two different industries by 200 instructors. Mr. Owens says that the Tuskegee institute is easily the greatest industrial school for negroes in the world, and will well repay a visit by all friends of negro progress.

The distance from Atlanta to Chehaw, a station on the Western railway of Alabama, near the school, is 135 miles, and the round trip may be made in one day. Special rates will be explained by the Rev. A. F. Owens.

Electric Bolt Hits Children. Kingston, N. C., May 17.—When standing under a tree for shelter from a rainstorm this afternoon, two children of William Harrison, living five miles from here were struck by lightning, killing a lad 14 years old and shocking his sister. The girl will recover.

Success of Our Women's Shoe Department Due to Shoes Exclusively Good

One of America's famous pioneers in retail merchandising said that a store's best asset was in a line of reliable goods with the exclusive control of sale.

It was this remembered admonition that put success into our Women's Shoe Department.

The line of shoes bought for our trade, which is high-class, both in Atlanta and throughout the state, was selected because of its being genuinely worthy to offer to our best patrons.

This was true at the date of our opening, and we stick to the claim, for the shoes that we sell are shoes continuously good. They have maintained their pre-eminence for refined styles and the elegance of quality to support them.

An exceptional demonstration of the ability of our professional shoe salesman, is in the pleasure our women patrons express in the extraordinary good fit of the shoes purchased here.

A shoe that is perfectly made, of perfect leather, and is then perfectly fitted, has no room to escape a successful sale.

The Muse line of Women's Shoes is not sold elsewhere in Atlanta.

BANK BILL BACKED AFTER HOT FIGHT

Attorney Park Is Re-Elected During Stormy Scenes at Final Session of Bankers of Georgia.

Macon, Ga., May 17.—(Special)—With the stormiest session the bankers of Georgia have ever known, made so by the discussion of the proposed new state banking bill and a fight waged against Attorney General A. P. Park, of Macon, general counsel for the association, the twenty second annual convention of the Georgia Bankers' association came to a close this afternoon. The banking bill was endorsed and Mr. Park was re-elected as president of the association. Mr. Park being declared unanimous when sixteen who stood by A. P. Coles, of Atlanta, in his fight against the Macon attorney, refused to vote.

Mr. Coles, who is vice president of the Central Bank and Trust Corporation, of Atlanta, set the convention in an uproar when he declared that General Counsel Park had betrayed the trust imposed upon him by the association and was no longer of service to the organization, and when he made an effort to filibuster in order to prevent the taking of a vote on the re-election of Mr. Park there were threats of a bolt.

President of Bolt.

J. G. Craft, cashier of the Hartwell Bank, of Hartwell, and vice chairman of Group 2, announcing that unless Mr. Coles yielded he would call the convention to another part of the hall and let Mr. Coles talk to empty seats.

Attorney Park charged that Mr. Coles had gathered ten of his banker friends together in an Atlanta club and had there drawn up the bill, which he had not been able to approve. He declared that Mr. Coles and his friends had acted without any authority whatever from the association.

"I didn't know before that it was high treason for a lawyer employed by an organization to represent them to pass honestly upon a matter submitted to him for his legal opinion," said Attorney Park.

"If that bill had been drafted by the entire association I would have opposed it just the same, for as legal counsel for this body, I could not afford to approve it when I know that it is not adequate. Mr. Coles' wants a patent for general counsel instead of a man who is not free to express his honest opinion when called on to do so."

Order was finally brought out of chaos and the bill was adopted, the association taking the view that while it did not meet the demands entirely, it was an entering wedge for further legislation.

Line Deales Report.

Miss E. Lane, of Savannah, took the floor to denounce as untrue the report which had been circulated that the bill had been so framed that the two assistant superintendents, who with the state superintendent of banks, would form a banking board having control over all banks of the state, would be A. P. Coles, of Atlanta, and himself.

The annual election of officers resulted as follows: President, L. P. Hillyer, Macon; first vice president, L. G. Council, Americus; second vice president, R. O. Barkdale, Washington; third vice president, C. H. Sheldon, Brunswick; fourth vice president, L. O. Hall, Milledgeville; fifth vice president, J. S. Coles, Cartersville; secretary, Haynes McFadden, Atlanta; treasurer, E. G. Smith, Griffin.

The executive council of the association is made up of the president and secretary and the chairmen of the five state groups, whose composing the new council being: L. P. Hillyer, Macon; Charles B. Lewis, Macon; Dr. J. T. Culpepper, Thomasville; J. E. Adams, Columbus; Abial Winn, Valdosta; J. G. Craft,

WHITES SCORED BY THE JAPANESE

Speakers at Tokio Mass Meeting Refer to Lynchings in South—Equal Treatment With Others Demanded.

Tokio, May 17.—Irresponsible war talk was condemned by most of the speakers at a mass meeting today organized partly by business and partly educational interests.

Speeches made by the majority of the educational representatives, in contrast to other addresses were sober and conservative. They expressed confidence that the Americans would side with the Japanese, if the Japanese steadily pointed out the unfairness of discrimination.

It was, however, declared that the time had arrived when the Japanese must be given equal treatment with other peoples and the speakers condemned aggressions of the world against the colored races, the instance being given of the lynching of negroes in the southern states.

Professor Naegal, of Waseda university, said:

"God made the white and the colored peoples equal. Unless we claim equality, we shall fail to carry out God's wishes."

UNCLE SAM IN TOUCH WITH FARM COLLEGES

Washington, May 17.—Closer relations in the work of the department of agriculture and that of agricultural colleges and experiment stations was the subject of a conference here today between Secretary Houston, Assistant Secretary Galloway and representatives of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, including President Hill, North Carolina A. & M. college.

A permanent committee will be named and frequent meetings held between the national and state agricultural workers. The most important cooperative effort will be to devise means for getting the greatest possible good both to farmer and consumer from the newly organized division of markets and rural organization service. The department, it was said, will complete conference desires to operate along many lines, recognizing that the state colleges and the experiment stations should be the official agencies through which most of agricultural work of the country should be undertaken.

PEACE DAY PROGRAM AT JEWISH ALLIANCE

Peace Day will be celebrated in appropriate fashion at the Jewish Educational Alliance today at 4 o'clock. One of the leading speakers of the occasion will be Madame Bella Pevsner of Palestine, who has, during the last week, delivered three lectures in the city, and whose eloquence, enthusiasm and knowledge of the world's history and affairs make her a real leader.

Complete conference desires to operate along many lines, recognizing that the state colleges and the experiment stations should be the official agencies through which most of agricultural work of the country should be undertaken.

"Back Stamping" Barred.

Washington, May 17.—The "back stamping" of all mail except registered and special delivery letters was ordered discontinued today by the post office department. Postmaster General Burleson believes the time saved will expedite delivery, often as much as the time between two deliveries. A similar order some years ago has been rescinded because of many complaints by business interests.

Senators at Tokio Mass Meeting Refer to Lynchings in South—Equal Treatment With Others Demanded.

The opinion that the Japanese will never go to war to enforce their treaty rights in California is one of those dangerous generalities which lead nations blindfold to the brink of the pit.

The Pall Mall Gazette expresses the opinion that there are several reasons why Japanese may be desirous of forcing to test at the present moment. The most obvious of these is the pending opening of the Panama canal, while a more remote one is connected with the condition of her internal politics. The article continues:

"The point at issue—the exclusion of Asiatics from permanent settlement—touches the British empire very nearly."

Japs in a Glass House.

Berlin, May 17.—The excitement in Japan over the question of California alien land ownership legislation is well founded and comprehensible, according to an analysis of the Japanese-American situation sent by the Tokio correspondent of the West Korrespondenz agency, printed today in the semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung. The Japanese, however, he says, scarcely in any position to claim difficulties in the way of California's land policy.

The correspondent declares that the Japanese are living in a glass house because foreigners even now are barred from owning land in Japan—a feature of the situation which hitherto has been left unnoticed in Germany.

The writer expresses doubt whether the Japanese government will favor adoption of measures which would open up questions on costs and production proposed by Senator La Follette.

SENATE DEMOCRATS TO STOP FILIBUSTER

Washington, May 17.—Alarmed by the republican strength in opposition to some of President Wilson's nominees in executive positions, the senate democrats expect to caucus Monday on Senator Williams' amendment to the rules which would allow the counting, when a quorum is called for, of members present but not voting.

The Williams' amendment if adopted would make the rules in this particular much like those of the house when former Speaker Reed made use of this same device in counting a quorum.

Waikiki Accused by Johnson.

Washington, May 17.—Arizona's new alien-land law is not regarded here as seriously complicating negotiations with Japan because the act does not contain the same direct bar against Japanese as the California act.

It is expected, however, that because of its adverse effect upon Mexican land owners in Arizona, a protest will be forthcoming from the Mexican government, in view of the rather irregular status of the diplomatic relations between America and Mexico.

The possibility of postponing the operation of the proposed California law by invoking the referendum is again being discussed in official circles. The overwhelming majority for the Webb bill in both branches of the California legislature makes California in Washington doubtful if the

MORE TIME GIVEN BY DEMOCRATS

Senate Subcommittees Considering Tariff Revision Will Hear Protesting Manufacturers.

Washington, May 17.—Announcement today by Chairman Simmons of the finance committee that subcommittees will consider the Underwood tariff bill had determined to grant more time to protesting manufacturers than at first was intended, aroused considerable interest at the capitol.

Although the effort of some republicans to force public hearings was defeated, minority leaders see in the changed tactics of the democrats a concession which they claim resulted in the denunciation of secret consideration of the bill.

Another interesting development was the determination of Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, a member of the subcommittee considering the cotton and chemical schedules, to have the private hearings conducted by him reported by a senate stenographer. This is an innovation which the republicans assert, was brought about through the intelligence of Senators Follette and Berkeley, who urged that the private hearings be published for the benefit of senators not of the finance committee. It also has been agreed that the finance committee will send to manufacturers the list of questions on costs and production proposed by Senator La Follette.

Members of Press Invited.

Still another liberalizing feature resulting from the debate from the Penrose-La Follette public hearing amendment was the reiteration by Senator Hoke Smith and some of his colleagues that members of the press could attend the private hearings. The previous statement was the first the newspaper men ever had heard of it, and it also was news to other members of the finance committee.

Senator Hoke Smith conferred with other members of the committee and found they were agreeable to admitting newspaper representatives.

None of the tariff bill subcommittees held hearings today except Senator Williams' committee, which gave a brief hearing to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Curtis and Assistant Attorney General Denison on the administrative features of the bill.

"We will try to have the bill ready for the senate by June," said Senator Simmons today, "but it probably will be a little later than that owing to the fact that the subcommittees have agreed to give a little more time to the manufacturers who are protesting against the rates in the Underwood bill. They have decided to do this owing to the insistence and persistence of some of the interests affected by the bill. We already have lost a whole week because of the prolonged debate on the reference motion, but the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible."

Democrats to Caucus.

Chairman Simmons will call a meet-

WANTS FIVE CITIZENS ON BOND COMMITTEE

Councilman Albert Thomson Believes Ex-Mayor Winn Would Be of Great Assistance.

When Alderman Albert Thomson, of the Fourth ward, introduces in council Monday afternoon his resolution, urging the appointment of a committee to investigate into the feasibility of a bond issue for school improvements, sewage extensions and other work necessary at the present time, he will probably ask that a committee of five citizens, to be selected from the city at large, be added to the committee.

Councilman Thomson believes that ex-Mayor Courtland Winn, if he can be urged to serve on the committee, would be of great value to the committee. He says that Mayor Winn is probably better posted on the needs of Atlanta than any other person, because of his service in the mayor's department.

"I think that five progressive citizens would not only be a help to the committee of council, but would instill confidence into the minds of the people of Atlanta. The time has come when the city must look to the future, and we should lose no time in financing the projects that must eventually be carried out."

Councilman Thomson says that he can furnish counsel with suggestions to the men capable of serving on the committee, if it desires.

A LIGHTWEIGHT

New Yorker Has Had Trouble Making Featherweight Limit in His Recent Bouts. Other Boxing News.

BY JAMES J. CORBETT.
(Former Heavyweight Champion of the World.)

New York, May 17.—(Special.)—A few weeks ago we read in the sporting columns that Johnny Kilbane had made up his mind to relinquish claim to the featherweight championship in a bout with Dundee, and that he would shy his castor into the lightweight ring.

It turns out the story was a bit of press agent spoofing to lead interest to the bout for the featherweight championship. Kilbane does not entertain the slightest intention of quitting the ranks of the featherweights—where he appears to have a copper riveted clasp on the championship—in search of trouble among the 133-pounders.

The press agents made up a good story, but it would have been a better and more truthful one had they intimated that Kilbane does not entertain the slightest intention of quitting the ranks of the featherweights—where he appears to have a copper riveted clasp on the championship—in search of trouble among the 133-pounders.

This may be a wise move on the part of the New Yorker. The task of making 122 pounds has long been an arduous job for him. Around New York he was not compelled in recent bouts to make the featherweight limit as most of his matches were at catchweights. It was only the opportunity to fight for the title that influenced Dundee and his manager to agree to 122 for Kilbane.

Dundee Goes Higher. Dundee may give a better account of himself at the heavier scale. There was something lacking in the young man's recent work as a featherweight, and it may possibly have been the strenuous job of reducing not only his weight but also his punches. Certainly Dundee has made no great headway in that respect. In fact, a few days ago he looked the best prospect in the division, but recent performances have not borne out the promise indicated by his earlier work in the ring.

Kilbane has been matched to box twenty rounds with Ad Wolfst, former lightweight champion, at McCarey's Los Angeles club on June 10. It is believed by many well-informed sporting men that this match was arranged some time ago and that Kilbane's existence had considerable influence on Referee Eylon in making the recent draw decision in the Kilbane-Dundee match. Newspaper accounts of the match are not correct. The champion was clearly entitled to the victory. The announcement of a Wolfst-Dundee bout strengthens the arguments of those who have contended all along that there was method in a referee's madness in giving Dundee the benefit of the draw.

Right here it might be pertinent to ask the New York critics who are continually trying to belittle Johnny Kilbane and who just as continually are a boxer just what they expect of a champion.

Kilbane's record since he won the title will bear the closest scrutiny. He has given every featherweight who wanted it a decisive thrashing. Newspaper writers have not found it necessary to prod Johnny to make him fight—like champions in other divisions. Kilbane has boxed in New York alone five times since winning the title, and he has never been defeated. He has boxed in other divisions, and he has never been defeated. He has boxed in other divisions, and he has never been defeated.

He is the busiest champion the ring has known since Abe Attell's palmy days. When Attell was good he averaged a match a week. Kilbane averages an ambitious boxer in the division. But Abe was a past master at "nursing" his opponents, and could generally manage to make a bout look close enough to create a public demand for a return engagement.

Three Years' Contract Expires This Fall—No Trouble Expected With Club Owners.

New York, May 17.—(Special.)—The probable effect of the recent controversy between Ty Cobb and the Detroit owners over salary differences upon the negotiations between Walter Johnson and the Washington club is a matter of interest.

It will be recalled that the last time Johnson signed with the Nationals it was only accomplished after the twirling marvel had been ordered from the Atlanta training camp to his home in Kansas, where in the calmer moments of his after-thought, he reconsidered his determination to retire from the diamond unless his demands were met. Johnson returned to Washington and finally, after long deliberation between the management and the player, he bound himself by his signature to play with the Nationals for three years. This document will be no longer binding after next fall.

Both the manager and the loyal ones at this time content themselves by saying that there will be an understanding reached without a hitch, and for the sake of Washington baseball it is to be hoped that their predictions come true.

Those who have watched Johnson closely this spring are unreserved in their declaration that the pitching marvel is at the threshold of the most successful season since his advent into the realm of major league baseball. If this should prove true, Johnson will unquestionably ask that his salary be increased at the expiration of the present contract, but how strong will be his demand is a matter that is known only to the boxman. The taciturn twirler never earned medals for being free-for-all talker, and the first intimation of Johnson's valuation of his own worth will come in the form of a letter when his contract is forwarded to him shortly after the beginning of the new year.

VETERAN HURLERS TRAVELING FAST

Mathewson, Plank, Rucker, et al., Showing Better Form Than the Youngsters This Spring.

By Walter Marchand.
New York, May 17.—(Special.)—Exercises in age—baseball game—have been prominent in the big league pitching this season, prominent by effective work.

We find a considerable number of veterans going along with no apparent diminution in skill and effectiveness, among them Mathewson, Plank, Ames, Hughes, Rucker, Walsh, White, Egan, and others. In fact, the old hands are showing a marked improvement in their work. It is a fact that the old hands are showing a marked improvement in their work. It is a fact that the old hands are showing a marked improvement in their work.

These superior artists, Johnson and Wood, great as anybody in the immediate present, lack only length of service to make them as great as Mathewson and Plank or Walsh. Both, however, have been at it long enough to be firmly fixed among the pitching stars of baseball.

But the king is dead; long live the king. The eighties were in another century. The year 1918 A. D. not only finds veterans going at their best, but has brought out flashes of tiptop work by notable men back and forth among these are Seaton, Keating, Demaree, Twine, Mayer, Russell and Johnson (the Indian), all of whom have pitched one or more games of conspicuous excellence. Also such pitchers as Greig, Alexander, Williams, Albin, Hendrix and Robinson, comparatively late comers, are going well.

up half a dozen or more of the third raters who will themselves "hope," he has earned the right to be pitted with every other pitcher in the division. He will be given a fair opportunity to square accounts with the "Soldier."

Kearns, who last week administered another sleeping powder to "One-eyed" Egan, will be given a fair opportunity to square accounts with the "Soldier."

Kearns Favorite. The dope favors Kearns on account of his tremendous hitting power. No other heavy can put them over with force that Kearns wallops carry—not even the "Gunboat." If he defeats Rodell, the "Soldier" will be sent against the winner of the Coffey-Clyne bout, and, if successful again, will have to be reckoned with the top-notchers in the "white hope" division.

Kearns was coming to the front with great speed until he bumped into Jess Rodell. The beating the Kansas gave him did not discourage the "Soldier" a whit, and he began all over again. Recently he has put every opponent to sleep within the ten-round limit, when the single exception of the veteran Jack "Twin" Sullivan, whose experience and knowledge of boxing enabled him to not only last the route, but to earn the popular verdict on points.

If Kearns could be taught to defend himself occasionally while fighting and not depend altogether on his slugging ability he might amount to something some of these days. His method has proved effective against sluggers of his own kind, for the simple reason that his punches outweigh those of his opponents, but it was of little avail against Willard and Sullivan, men who use their brains as well as their hands when opposed to hard hitting, rushing fighters, such as Kearns.

Frank Anderson Picks Stars Of G.I.A.A. for Constitution

ANDERSON'S ALL-PREP TEAM LINE-UP AND BATTING ORDER

PLAYER.	SCHOOL.	POSITION.
Press	Riverside	First Base
McWhorter	Gordon	Third Base
Norton	Stone Mountain	Second Base
Burr	Riverside	Right Field
Adams	Gordon	Left Field
McNeill	Riverside	Center Field
Kingsley	Gordon	Shortstop
Williamson	Riverside	Pitcher
Haines	Riverside	Pitcher
Camp	G. M. C.	Pitcher
Gheseling	G. M. C.	Utility

By FRANK ANDERSON
(Coach Riverside Champions.)

The first year of the G. I. A. A. has about come to a close. The association is composed of Gordon Institute, Georgia Military college, Stone Mountain and Riverside.

These teams have played some great baseball during the past season and when it is remembered that a good bunch of this prep material will be seen in the S. I. A. A. colleges next year, something interesting may be found in an all-prep team.

The Riverside team was fortunate enough to make a runaway race for the pennant with the other three teams about equal in strength. The winning team began the season with six old men back and this in a measure accounts for the phenomenal run of victories—17 to date, with two more left to play. Stone Mountain will finish in second place with Gordon and G. M. C. tied for third.

To begin the selection of an all-prep. Back of the plate are found two first-class receivers in McNeill, of Riverside, and Bankston, of Gordon. The former is playing his third year and is without a peer. He will compare very favorably with any receiver in the S. I. A. A.

To date he is batting .310. His peg to second is deadly and his headwork is his strongest asset. He goes to Auburn next year, and mark my prediction, he will make a strong bid for all-southern. Bankston is simply unfortunate in having to buck against so valuable a man. Bankston is a dandy catcher.

Fine Twirlers. The pitching corps is easy to select. Williamson and Haines have not lost a game this season and they have been against some of the best pitchers in the South. To say which is the best is beyond me. Williamson is a husky right-hander with a dandy fast ball and a good drop. He is a glutton for work and always gets better as the game grows older. He is only a kid yet (18 years old) and to say that he will become a star expresses it mildly.

Ross Haines, well known to Atlanta preppers as the old high school pitcher, is just about as nifty a left hander as one will find in a day's journey. He has a drop ball that acts like it had a string tied to it. He has good speed, a change of pace and withal his control is marvelous. He and Williamson will both return to Riverside next year, as they are only second-year men.

My third pitcher comes from Arthur Maddox's G. M. C. team and he is in a class with the other two. Camp has won practically every game that G. M. C. boasts of. He is a big right-hander with a good assortment of curves and control. Vandercau, of Stone Mountain, never pitched before this year. To have no more experience than he has, and to have been so successful, is a peculiar delivery that is very effective. This boy will develop into a star. Slappy shows a lot of promise.

Press on First. Coming around to first base, we find a man that would make a team in the S. I. A. A. wonderful athlete is Jim Press. In fact a second Jim Thorpe. He is a perfect specimen of physical manhood and is a star in football, basketball, track, water sports and baseball. He is batting to date .347. He has a wide reach; he shines on the paths and he plays the bag like a veteran should.

McWhorter, of Gordon, is another good man at first, but more of him soon. Gheseling, G. M. C.'s first-sacker, cannot be overlooked, nor can Norton, of Stone Mountain. The latter played second base last year and was only moved to first this year because Graham had no one else to call on.

And Other Inside Plays Discussed by Ty

By TY COBB.
(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of weekly articles, written exclusively for The Constitution, by the world's greatest ball player.)

Every day one reads about inside baseball. What is it? Nothing more or less than out-guessing the opponents or guessing right, as a rule. Yet, I will admit, that there are plenty of inside plays, so-called, which succeed because the team which tries them has planned ahead and figured out the exact time to spring them on the unsuspecting opponents.

There are so many different plays classed under the general term, inside baseball, that it would possibly take months to enumerate them all. However, the most common and one which we see frequently in the major league games, I will attempt to describe for the young men who are just starting on the diamond.

There are many angles to inside baseball. Different managers and players figure out different plays to be used both offensively and defensively, and they will practice on them for months in secret, sometimes, in order that they may perfect them, get them running smoothly and pull them off on some team which is not expecting them. Some of our managers are original in their inside play, inventing a lot of these intricate moves. Other managers content themselves by using the old plays and copying a few new ones which have been successfully used against them by other clubs.

Names Some Inside Plays. Some of the most important of these moves that can be termed inside plays are: Squeeze play. Hit-and-run. Catching man napping at first, second and third. Double steal. Bunting as double steal. Peeping dangerous batters. Bluffing base runners by various moves.

There are so many of these plays, as I have said, that I have only mentioned a few which are most common and which I will attempt to describe. But there are more of the inside plays for defensive work than for offensive, in my opinion.

A squeeze play should only be used in the eighth or ninth inning, when the score is tied or the attacking team is one run behind. There must be a runner on third, of course, and only one out. The batter flashes the signal to the runner and on the pitcher's windup the runner starts for first, or bunts the ball toward third or first, his object being to place it so that there is not a chance to get the runner going home who has such a good start. The baseman expects to be thrown out on first.

Three or four years ago the squeeze play was used to a great extent, for runs were hard to get then, and I have seen many a game won by a perfect squeeze. Nowadays it has practically fallen into disuse. I believe it is because the cork center baseball is a little livelier than the sphere of several years ago. Today one run doesn't count for so much in the eighth or ninth inning for a team to likely start a batting rally and get tallies in clusters any time. Clarke Washington Americans was the man who made the squeeze play so popular, and he deserves great credit for the invention.

Hit and Run Most Common. The hit and run is the most commonly used on all the offensive plays. The first move in this play for the base runner on first to make a bluff as if to steal, the coaches keeping their eyes glued to second base to see certain which infielder is going to cover. The batter, having gotten a signal from a coacher which player is covering, flashes the hit-and-run sign to the runner.

When the pitcher winds up, the runner starts to second. Then the baseman attempts to poke the ball on the ground through the spot where the second baseman or shortstop was standing. The basemen who can play the ball just as sure as he wants to can invariably pull this play off to perfection and the runner, with his big start, can nearly always reach third base on the hit. This play is one of the most effective in use.

There are many signs and many ways of pulling this play. Warner, of the Boston Red Sox, and McBridge, of Washington, are two of the best men in the game today at getting a runner away from second on this play. The New York Nationals played a lot of inside ball, but they rely on McGraw solely to map out their campaign and get signals from him on almost every ball pitched.

The catching of men napping at first, second and third is a play that is seldom made with any degree of success. There are many signs and many ways of pulling this play. The New York Nationals played a lot of inside ball, but they rely on McGraw solely to map out their campaign and get signals from him on almost every ball pitched.

The catching of men napping at first, second and third is a play that is seldom made with any degree of success. There are many signs and many ways of pulling this play. Warner, of the Boston Red Sox, and McBridge, of Washington, are two of the best men in the game today at getting a runner away from second on this play. The New York Nationals played a lot of inside ball, but they rely on McGraw solely to map out their campaign and get signals from him on almost every ball pitched.

Bluff Often Works Haxce.

In my introduction, I spoke of bluffing base runners by various moves as being part of the inside game and it certainly is. In fact, you have seen runners tear around the bases on a high fly, giving no heed to the shouts of coaches and fans, and finally ending up by being a city block away from the base when the ball was caught. They call this bluffing, and it is always a child the runner but give some credit to the wise infielders who have bluffed him.

You do not know when you are seated in the stands far away from the diamond that the second baseman and shortstop have probably made some remark or by their actions indicated that it was a hit and the runner keeps going. Of course, he should watch the ball or listen to his coaches, but we will give the bluff occasionally in a life time, you know.

For instance, when hit and run signs have been flashed, the runner is supposed to put his head down and tear around the bases with the pitch. Frequently the runner will hit a little fly. The shortstop and second baseman, to confuse the runner, fake as if they were going to handle a ground ball or a throw to the bag. The runner reaches the bag, turns to look round and finds that the ball has been caught. The throw has been made to first and he was easily doubled.

One of the hardest moves to make in the game of baseball is the intentional passing of first to a basemen whose hitting ability, particularly in pinch situations, is well known. That is usually up to the manager, although he will frequently accept the decision of the pitcher as to what he thinks he can do. The defensive team simply has to take a chance and guess what will happen.

Intentional Pass Is Guess. All of us have seen the batman like "Honus" Wagner, of Pittsburgh, panned intentionally, filling the bases, and then some youth who ordinarily could not touch a ball, carry him into the game and score one or more runs, winning the game. Then again, we have seen the pitcher try to fool the dangerous hitter and the ball has gone to some far corner of the lot, breaking up the game. In either case, the fans and the last guess, and they did not hesitate to voice their disapproval of whatever move the manager and pitcher decided upon.

Which brings to my mind the fact that baseball is a gamble when it comes to the inside play of the game. Always remember that you folks sitting in the stands have the final guess, and you surmise that yours is the right one. The manager has to guess before the play is made, and if he misses, he has no chance to change the dope.

Frequently I have seen managers try the hit and run when it appeared to me to be a good play. The batter has popped one up, a double play has resulted and the fans cry out, "why doesn't that bonchard sacrifice occasionally?" Probably the next time he tries the sacrifice the batter strikes out or forces the runner at second then the fans shout, "Can't that manager realize that the hit and run is the play which is used by all successful managers nowadays?" You see, the fans had the final guess.

I think the two greatest teams of recent years or, in fact, of all times, for inside baseball were the 1907 and 1908 Chicago Cubs, of the National League, and the 1910 and 1911 Philadelphia Athletics, of the American League. They played more inside ball collectively and had more thorough signals than any other clubs. The New York Nationals played a lot of inside ball, but they rely on McGraw solely to map out their campaign and get signals from him on almost every ball pitched.

Twelfth Annual Golf Tournery at Montgomery

Montgomery, Ala., May 17.—(Special.)—Announcement of the official program of the twelfth annual tournament of the Southern Golf association will be held at the new club at Montgomery Country Club, June 3 to 7, has been made by the board of directors of the organization. The qualifying round will be played Tuesday, June 3. In this round the sixty-four players will be divided into two groups of thirty-two each, and will qualify in the championship division.

Play for the various trophies will begin on Wednesday. In the morning the championship division, composed of sixty-four players, will play an eight-hole match on the afternoon of the championship flight, with thirty-two players, will play the second round, the third flight, with thirty-two players, and the fifth flight, with thirty-two players, will play the first round.

The defeated sixteen will constitute the second flight, Thursday; the defeated sixteen in the third flight will constitute the fourth flight, Thursday, and the defeated sixteen in second division fifth flight will constitute the sixth flight, Thursday.

The calendar of events for the remaining days is as follows:
Thursday, Forenoon:
Championship flight (16 players), third round.
Second flight (16 players), first round.
Third flight (16 players), second round.
Fourth flight (16 players), first round.
Fifth flight (16 players), second round.
Sixth flight (16 players), first round.

Afternoon:
Championship flight (8 players), fourth round.
Second flight (8 players), second round.
Third flight (8 players), third round.
Fourth flight (8 players), second round.
Fifth flight (8 players), third round.
Sixth flight (8 players), second round.

Friday, June 6, Fore and Afternoon:
Championship flight, semi-finals, 36 holes.
Second flight, semi-finals, 36 holes.
Third flight, semi-finals, 36 holes.
Fourth flight, semi-finals, 36 holes.
Survivors of consolation events, and to fourth flight, Thursday's play, semi-finals, 36 holes.

A Winner From the Start And Still Climbing

FROM 12 cars a day to 140 cars a day in only four years. That is the Overland's record. In the last eight months more than twenty-one thousand Overlands have been shipped by the factory to all parts of the world--and still the call comes for more. This is over eighty-five per cent MORE than were delivered up to this time last year.

¶ Talk of romance in business, the success of the Overland reads like a fairy tale. It seems incredible that this 30-horsepower, 5-passenger touring car, completely equipped, including self-starter, can be sold for $985. Yet, that's the price of the 1913 Overland Model 69-T, and it has the power, the speed, the seating capacity, the construction, the comforts and conveniences of cars that cost $1,200 and more.

¶ Whether you turn a critical eye to quality of material, to the accurate workmanship from which piece-work and similar product-cheapeners are banished; whether you examine details of Overland design and construction or marvel at the completeness and high standard of the equipment, there is through it all generous quality and painstaking and minute thoroughness. Not one point but every point is the very best that three million dollars worth of the finest automatic machinery operated by seven thousand skilled mechanics in a plant covering over one hundred acres of ground can make.

¶ No car is better made. The Overland is built in the largest, most completely equipped factory in the motor industry. You get in this car the same manufacturing methods used by the makers of the highest priced cars. And you get the best materials that money can buy. It stands to reason that a factory producing 40,000 cars a year can afford to use the best materials procurable.

¶ Our materials and cars are subject to the same rigid inspections and tests as the highest priced cars made. The Overland is the result of the latest engineering thought and the world has proved it good. Quality, quality, quality first, that is the cry of those who make the Overland. The quality must and does come first. Quantity production follows as a matter of course. A reputation so world-wide as to make the name Overland a household word is not earned by a single effort. It has been earned by the Overland's matchless performance everywhere that genuine merit and real mechanical stamina count.

¶ From 1909 the production of Overlands has advanced steadily. Each year has witnessed DOUBLE the production of the preceding year. People everywhere—here and abroad—are buying this wonderful automobile. Keen business men who figure in dollars and cents buy the Overland and recommend it and buy it again when they buy another car. Artists and artisans buy the Overland. Everyone in the market for a car selling for about $1,000 sooner or later comes to the Overland. See them on the streets. Big, speedy and graceful cars with ample room for five. Easy to drive. Pulsating with power. Economical to keep. Built to endure and last. Why should any reasoning person pay more than the Overland's price for a dependable automobile?

Motorists and Their Problems

(Copyright, 1913, by W. H. Stewart, Jr.)
 Motoring Department, The Constitution: While overhauling my four-cylinder 545-inch motor this week, I put in new pistons, which are seven pounds less than those which were replaced. Is horsepower gained with the new equipment at 27, 1,000 revolutions per minute? ... what is the limit of the piston speed of auto engines?—Harry Davis.
 Power cannot be increased by lighter weight pistons. The increase in R. P. M. is the more prominent factor. Of course if the engine speed is greater, the working parts must be designed accordingly. The inertia of reciprocating parts is the cause of considerable loss of power and poor design. As the engine speed is increased, the size of the valves and other material parts must also be increased. As to the limit of piston speed, it may be said that there are several factors which determine this. One of these is the proper design of the intake manifold, controlling the feeding of the gases. Another is the design of the exhaust system for the proper scavenging of the cylinders. As mentioned previously, the proper design and balancing of the reciprocating parts.

Motoring Department, The Constitution: Our touring car when starting on low speed jumps and sort of plunges and does not speed up to where it should, so that when throwing in high-speed gear it causes the engine to labor in order to get up speed. On reverse the same plunging occurs. What should be done to improve the operation of the car? Is there any way to make the car run even on low speed? When the gas is throttled down running is the uneven running liable to be due to the carburetor adjustment or spark timing?—D. C. Hall.

From what you have stated it would appear that the low speed knocking device is in need of adjustment. The trouble was in the carburetor adjusting, or the ignition timing, it would be more manifest when running in high gear, as the engine turns over more slowly and interruptions of the motor impulses working as they are. While running in low gear the engine is turning over fast and for this reason an occasional miss should not be so easily felt. It seems more likely that the locking device or clutch of the low speed needs proper adjustment.

Motoring Department, The Constitution: The inner tubes on my car blow out quite often through what appears to be weak spots. They have an appearance as if they had been chewed by the tool when putting on the tire. I would like to know if the rubbing of the irons against the tubes is sufficient cause for these blowouts?—A. S. C.

In putting on tires great care should be taken in the handling of the irons. Very often the inner tube is punctured by the iron, in which case the owner realizes this trouble when he tries to inflate the tire. When this happens, however, that the inner tube is bruised by the tire iron to such an extent that it will last probably a few hours and possibly several days. It is an easy matter to keep the irons away from the tube if one watches carefully the position of the iron. When putting a tire and tube on the rim, it is advisable to slightly inflate the tube so that it will not be so easily caught by the tire irons.

Motoring Department, The Constitution: I want to remove the bolts which hold the hub on my front wheel, but as they are round-headed, the entire bolt turns when I turn the nut. There is no way of holding them when they will not turn. How can I get them off?—H. M. Hurlburt.

If you do not care to cut the bolts, I would suggest that you slot the head of the bolt and hold it with a screw-driver, or would suggest that you file a flat surface on each side of the bolt so that it may be held by a wrench while the nut is being removed.

Motoring Department, The Constitution: The motor of my car has a knocking sound. The bearings are in good shape and that engine knocks on even the smallest grade. My garage man tells me that the bearing are in good shape and that no carbon is in the cylinders, but it still knocks. If the compression were reduced by putting plates in the cylinders, would this stop the knocking? Please give me some information in regard to this.—S. P. Depee.

It is possible to eliminate your trouble by reducing the compression. A high-compression motor will knock very easily, and it is possible that the fault lies in the original design. By reducing the compression slightly, you will not injure the motor, and the experiment is not an expensive one. It has been done in a number of cases with good results.

Motoring Department, The Constitution: Recently I read in your paper that it is good to put a tablespoonful of kerosene in each cylinder after a run. At times I use my car but once or twice a week, and would like to know if I adopt this "kerosene habit," is it necessary to start the motor the following morning, or could I leave the kerosene in the motor from one run to another?—Owner.

It will do the motor no harm to leave the kerosene in, as it has a tendency to saturate and soften the carbon in the combustion chambers in the cylinders to such an extent that when the motor is started at least a portion of this carbon will be dislodged and blown out through the exhaust. If carbon deposit is permitted to build up in the cylinders, it eventually becomes hardened to such an extent that when the motor is heating this carbon becomes incandescent, causing pre-ignition of the gases. A little kerosene inserted occasionally will to a certain extent prevent this. Some motors, according to their design, have more of a tendency to carbonize than others. For this reason it cannot be said that the use of kerosene will prevent the carbonization of the cylinders in all cars. It will, however, tend to reduce the amount of carbon in the cylinders when properly applied. After a run it is advisable to insert the kerosene through the petcocks into the cylinder and into the combustion chamber and then turn the motor over a few times by hand, so that the kerosene will saturate the carbon of the whole combustion chamber.

(a) Will you please advise me what the compression in pounds per square inch is on the average car? (b) Does the compression increase as the speed of the engine increases? (c) Has the use of fibre for timing gears proved satisfactory?—I. B. S.

(a) The average compression is about sixty-five pounds per square inch. (b) The compression increases slightly with the speed, due mostly to greater heat efficiency. (c) If properly constructed fibre and bronze gears will work well. The tendency of late designs, however, is to eliminate fibre altogether.

Motoring Department, The Constitution: How can one prevent too much oil getting into the new forward cylinders? The crank case has a circulating pump that pumps oil from the subcase to the front end of the crank case, where it flows back into the rest of the case.—Federick R. Couder.

If you have described your trouble correctly, the design seems rather poor. Usually in such a lubricating system the oil is not pumped directly into the oil of the crank case, but rather into each cylinder compartment separately—that is to say, there would be four points of delivery to the pump, instead of only one. If the construction will permit, perhaps you can arrange to have the oil delivered in this manner. Usually there are partitions separating the oil level compartments, and which will serve the purpose of keeping the oil more evenly distributed in climbing hills, etc. The simplest way of remedying your trouble would be to cut a groove in the top of the partition between the forward cylinders, thereby lowering the oil level of the two compartments. This lowering of the oil level in the crank case is common, especially where motors have a tendency to smoke.

HELPFUL HINTS TO MOTOR CAR OWNERS
 Where a pump is utilized to circulate the cooling water, it is wise to fill the radiator to the top and then turn the engine over several times, so as to insure the water reaching and filling all parts of the system. If the motor is not turned, the pump is not actuated to the passage of the water into the jackets, which remain partly empty, or fill so slowly as to leave the impression that there is more water in the system than there actually is.

Nothing is more exasperating than the persistent leaking of a flange joint on the manifold, where copper is used for the gasket. The trouble, however, nearly always can be remedied by cutting a groove around the post with a cold chisel and another around the hole in the flange. When the studs which hold the manifold in place are drawn up, the basket is compressed and partially fills the grooves, sealing the joint.

While the trick is of course a very old one, it often is not remembered that a small mirror is exceedingly useful to reflect a ray of light on a dark spot on a motor, for instance, the breaker box of a magneto. This is particularly useful where the motor is not very accessible and examinations have to be made at long range.

When adapting a gasoline motor to the use of kerosene by means of a kerosene carburetor or gas producer, it is well to remember that unless some provision is made for additional cooling the motor will run hotter on kerosene fuel than on gasoline. If the piston should be rather a tight fit, this increased heat might possibly cause binding, and in aggravated cases seizure. A larger pump should be supplied or the speed of the pump increased to prevent the rise in temperature. It is common practice where a motor is designed for use with either fuel to make the diameter of the piston .02 of an inch less than that of a motor of the same size designed for use solely with gasoline.

A broken front spring may have a block of wood substituted for it. Jack up the frame until it is at the height at which the spring should hold it, and then slip a block of wood of the proper size between the axle and the frame. Fasten this in place with wire or rope, and drive carefully.

BANK RESERVE CASH
 FREED BY GOVERNMENT
 Washington, May 17.—National banks no longer will have to hold reserves against any deposits of the federal government. Thomas P. Kane, acting comptroller of the currency, today notified the banks that the treasury department would not require reserves against any money deposited by officers of the government upon which interest is paid to the United States. This action is the result of Secretary McAdoo's order, charging 2 per cent interest on government deposits, and it will release more than $1,000,000 now tied up in reserves.

PAUL DICKEY AND CO.
 LEAVE FOR NEW YORK
 IN A MICHIGAN "40"
 Paul Dickey's big Michigan "40" stood at the stage door of the Forsyth theater at eight o'clock, impatiently for the getaway on its long, fast journey to New York city.

Mr. Dickey and his company, who were playing "The Come Back" at the Forsyth theater, will make the trip from Atlanta to New York over the Atlanta highway, leaving a hot dust trail through five states.
 Dickey's big Michigan is well equipped for any trouble that might come up. He carries three extra tires, a thirty-five gallon gas tank and a ten-gallon oil tank.
 When asked when he expected to reach New York, he replied: "You won't believe me when I tell you, but, barring accidents and playing it safe, we'll roll along side The Times building, New York, not later than noon, Thursday, and may be just twenty-

Motoring Department, The Constitution: I have a car with a carburetor which will not run slowly. It seems to work well enough with the throat open to pull the car, but that is all. The engine seems to be in good condition. What do you suggest is the trouble?—William C. Demorest.

Many things prevent a motor from running on low speeds. Usually the trouble is in the carburetor adjustment. At slow engine speed the air valve should be closed. If you feel the carburetor is right then test for air leaks in the manifold. A slight leak in the manifold or one of the manifold passages will cause trouble. The spark gap at the plugs should not exceed 1-32 of an inch. Each cylinder should have strong and equal compression.

Motoring Department, The Constitution: I have a car with a gas tank installed on the rear, and I have a lot of trouble keeping the air pressure up. There is room enough under the seat for the tank, but I would like to know if it would be better to use a gravity system instead of the pressure system. If not, how can I remedy the trouble with the present tank?—W. St. D.

If you have the room under the seat and the present large tank it will serve your purpose, providing the level of the gasoline is high enough above the carburetor to allow the proper feed in going up hills. There is no particular advantage in having the tank the other way when properly installed. The trouble with your present system is that there is an air lock somewhere which prevents the maintaining of the proper pressure. This lock may be any one of a number of joints which, if located and remedied, will eliminate the trouble. It is much easier to stop the present air leak than it is to install the gravity system.

 Paul Dickey's big Michigan "40" stood at the stage door of the Forsyth theater at eight o'clock, impatiently for the getaway on its long, fast journey to New York city.

Mr. Dickey and his company, who were playing "The Come Back" at the Forsyth theater, will make the trip from Atlanta to New York over the Atlanta highway, leaving a hot dust trail through five states.
 Dickey's big Michigan is well equipped for any trouble that might come up. He carries three extra tires, a thirty-five gallon gas tank and a ten-gallon oil tank.
 When asked when he expected to reach New York, he replied: "You won't believe me when I tell you, but, barring accidents and playing it safe, we'll roll along side The Times building, New York, not later than noon, Thursday, and may be just twenty-

Motoring Department, The Constitution: I have a car with a carburetor which will not run slowly. It seems to work well enough with the throat open to pull the car, but that is all. The engine seems to be in good condition. What do you suggest is the trouble?—William C. Demorest.

Many things prevent a motor from running on low speeds. Usually the trouble is in the carburetor adjustment. At slow engine speed the air valve should be closed. If you feel the carburetor is right then test for air leaks in the manifold. A slight leak in the manifold or one of the manifold passages will cause trouble. The spark gap at the plugs should not exceed 1-32 of an inch. Each cylinder should have strong and equal compression.

Motoring Department, The Constitution: I have a car with a gas tank installed on the rear, and I have a lot of trouble keeping the air pressure up. There is room enough under the seat for the tank, but I would like to know if it would be better to use a gravity system instead of the pressure system. If not, how can I remedy the trouble with the present tank?—W. St. D.

If you have the room under the seat and the present large tank it will serve your purpose, providing the level of the gasoline is high enough above the carburetor to allow the proper feed in going up hills. There is no particular advantage in having the tank the other way when properly installed. The trouble with your present system is that there is an air lock somewhere which prevents the maintaining of the proper pressure. This lock may be any one of a number of joints which, if located and remedied, will eliminate the trouble. It is much easier to stop the present air leak than it is to install the gravity system.

 "You see," he continued, "I've got a very capable driver to relieve me at the wheel on the long pull." And he introduced the press man to Miss Inez Plummer, the leading lady of the company, who sat beside him in the driving seat.
 "I hate to leave this place," said Dickey, as he laid the lever into gear and prepared to start. "Everybody here seems perfectly happy and contented with life. The climate is wonderful and the roads are the best ever."
 Dickey will go by way of Anderson to Charlotte, N. C., Martinsville, Va., Gettysburg and on to New York via Philadelphia.

What Isn't Saved See the Case Forty

The Case is the car of hidden values amounting to several hundreds of dollars a car, in addition to the usual face values that anyone can see. Ask about the roller push rods that are found elsewhere only in the highest priced cars. See the radiator used on cars in the $5,000 class—on this car at $2,200. Then take our word—the word of a $40,000,000 concern with a seventy-year reputation at stake—for the following hidden essentials to car life.

We could make large savings on the cost of our motors by using cheaper materials. We could save on our clutches, transmissions, drive shafts, wheels, axles and in other vital parts. We could cut our assembling cost in two, and this cost is one of the greatest. But the Case wouldn't then be good for a lifetime. We put in these extra values to make it a car to keep.

OUR ADVANTAGE
 We have been making the finest machinery in our line for the past seventy years. We created no new business when we began the manufacture of automobiles. We had all our agents before a car was turned out. We saved that expense, added no officers' sales manager's or advertising department salaries, no office rent or other overhead. We saved on systems, on costly experiments.

We put all these savings into the car. We are selling these cars to old customers, some of whom have dealt with us for fifty years. You know we will put the best we know into them. Don't miss the Case Forty. Note its style and equipment. Take our word for the hidden values until you have proved them out on the road. See, also, the Case Thirty at $1,500.

"THE CAR WITH A CONSCIENCE"

Greyhound Six-Sixty

THIS model represents two years of development—two years of strenuous tests. We are sure of this car—as sure of it as any model we have made for years. The first six-cylinder car traveled thousands and thousands of miles—east, west, north and south—over every sort of road. We told the driver to abuse the car—to punish it severely. We wanted to find out the real stamina it contained. And the car proved itself equal to all these strenuous tests. We are more than satisfied with the performance.

Artistically, the car is a beauty. The body is of a graceful design, roomy, and is sure to meet the approval of the careful buyer. Being equipped with an electric lighting and ignition system, and a self-starter, it contains every necessity for the fullest enjoyment of motoring. The ten-inch upholstery makes the car luxurious for extended touring. Permit us to demonstrate this model to you—any time—anywhere.

INGENUOUS METHODS USED TO TEST TIRES

Owners of Fleets of Motor Trucks Standardizing Their Accessory Equipment.

"One of the progressive steps during the current year is the action of owners of fleets of motor trucks to standardize their accessory equipment," said E. C. Tibbitts, advertising manager of the B. F. Goodrich company.

"Naturally, tires have received the greatest attention, and many ingenious tests have been devised to determine precisely the cost per mile of various types of tires."

The excellent theoretical arguments formerly sufficient to sell truck tires have given way to the sounder and more practical method whereby tire efficiency is determined.

Many of the largest operators of trucks have made such tests and the correctness of the principle of construction and quality of Goodrich wireless truck tires cannot be better proved than to give a few practical illustrations.

Armour & Co., after a thorough test, have adopted Goodrich wireless truck tires as standard, and all of their trucks in this country and wherever they operate are equipped with them.

The Cudahy Packing company, the Consumers' company, of Chicago, department stores, and, in fact, many others in practically every line of business have found it to their advantage, after making exhaustive tests, to have all their trucks equipped with Goodrich wireless truck tires.

The decision in each case was made on the basis of the cost per mile, although riding and shock-absorbing qualities were taken into consideration.

Goodrich wireless truck tires consist of a resilient, long-wearing tread, inseparably mounted upon a layer of hard rubber, and this rubber is permanently dovetailed to a solid base of steel. "Built on steel—wear like steel," is the slogan suggested to us by a large and satisfied user of these exceptionally efficient tires.

The economy of motor truck transportation over horse-drawn vehicles depends in a large degree on having them always in actual service; consequently it is of the utmost importance to the owners of trucks to get prompt attention from the manufacturer of the truck and the producer of any accessory in case such attention is required.

It is the policy of the B. F. Goodrich company to promote every movement which makes for the economy and efficiency of the pleasure car or the motor truck, because in a large measure the popularity of motor-driven vehicles depends on the cost of operation.

The Judge from present contracts, over half of the pleasure cars and motor trucks in the United States will be equipped with Goodrich tires.

ENGLISH MOTORISTS HAVE CLEAR VIEW OF RAILROAD CROSSINGS

English motorists have recently undertaken a task in which they might well be imitated by their American brethren, in the opinion of G. W. Bennett, vice president of the Willy Overland company, Toledo, Ohio. This is the plan of making roads throughout the British Isles which are frequented by motorists more safe for travel, not only in bettering the roadbed, but in removing obstacles which prevent a clear view at railroad crossings, curves and turns.

Mr. Bennett points out that road betterment means not only the providing for a smooth and hard traveling surface, but the elimination of everything that might in any way cause an accident.

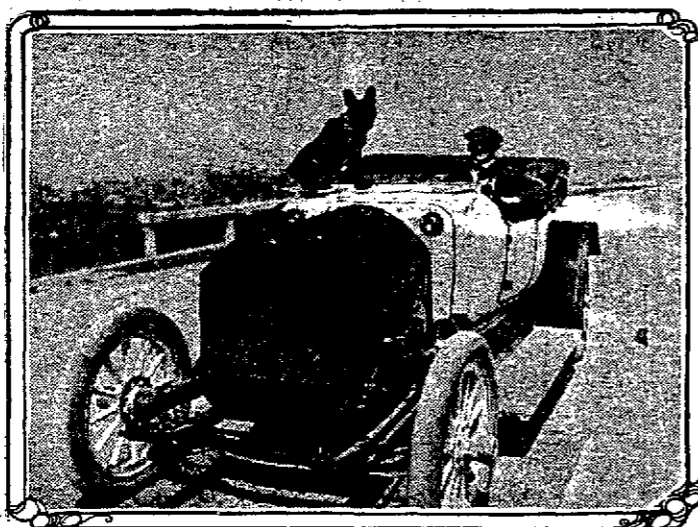

"The English have shown a commendable spirit of progressiveness in clearing the turns and curves of their roads of objects that prevent a clear view," he says. "British motoring publications recently have called attention to the good being done along this line. In two instances I have noted, very dangerous curves have been made perfectly safe by cutting down hedges and undergrowth which have prevented a view of the curve. Where heretofore tall hedges, growing inside the curve, have made it impossible to tell what may be approaching from the opposite direction, an unobstructed vision has been obtained merely by eliminating the obstruction. In one case the hedge was cut down and a white-painted picket fence, in direct contrast to the surrounding vegetation colors, was built. With these precautions motorists approaching the curves from both directions are enabled to tell at a glance whether the road is clear beyond."

In our own country there are numberless opportunities for this excellent work. Many of our country roads are crossed at various angles by railroads, and more often than not it is impossible to tell whether a train is approaching because of the growth of brush or other obstructions. In the cities, too, there are scores of dangerous places, where billboards and other unsightly objects are erected close to the crossing of a curve. I am confident that in the near future our great automobile clubs will see the need for these preventative measures. And when the work is taken up the number of automobile accidents will greatly decrease."

ATTENTION TO BODIES.
Oakland Beauty Result of Great Attention to Detail.

Most everyone interested in motor cars has commented at some time on the exquisite beauty of the bodies of all Oakland cars, not only in design but in finish.

The superb finish is due to the attention to detail given in manufacture. Every body when it "starts through" is shop tagged with a tag divided into twenty-seven sections, a section for each operation, and when the finished body reaches the chasses for final assembly the proper notations must appear on every section of this tag as evidence that not one of the details has been neglected.

It is interesting to follow these twenty-seven steps, which deal exclusively with the finish of the bodies and do not relate to upholstery, fittings, etc.

These steps are, successively, sanding, ironing, prime, putty, sand and lead, first coat of rough stuff, second coat of rough stuff, third coat of rough stuff, fourth coat of rough stuff, fifth coat of rough stuff, sixth coat of rough stuff, rub rough stuff, first coat of color, second coat of color, first coat of varnish, second coat of varnish, first varnish rub, third coat of varnish, second varnish rub, stripe trim back, water rub finish, body assembly, fitting top and final assembly.

NON-SKID TIRES ARE
FEDERAL CUTS PRICE

The tremendous strides made in the automobile industry during the past five years have naturally developed similar activity, improvement and progress in accessory lines. This is especially true of pneumatic tires, and of these the non-skid stands out prominently as having reached a remarkable state of high-grade construction, durability and safety. Notwithstanding, therefore, the new devices brought out from time to time and offered as efficient substitutes, the dependable non-skid tire is steadily growing in favor and the demand and output rapidly increasing from year to year. Conspicuous among these is the Federal Rugged Tread, which, since its advent, and on account of its extra heavy studs, exceptional thickness of tread, and distinctive sturdy appearance, has obtained a strong hold on the preferences of motorists everywhere.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the Federal Rubber Manufacturing company, of Milwaukee, makers of Federal tires, have just announced a substantial reduction in prices—made possible by the exceptionally heavy demand and consequent increased production facilities during the past year. This reduction will enable car owners to make a material saving on Federal tires, which are widely and popularly known as tires of "Extra Service."

Federal tires are handled in Atlanta by the Elyea-Austell company, at 25 North Pryor street.

JUDGE SPEER FIGHTS
NEW JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

He Is Sending Resolutions by Grand Juries to Members of Congress.

By John Corrigan, Jr., Washington, May 17.—(Special.)—Judge Emory Speer, of the southern district of Georgia, is opposing the division of that district. He and Cook Clayton, of Macon, clerk of the court, have certified to members of congress copies of resolutions adopted by grand juries in Judge Speer's court opposing the demand for a division. These were inspired by the vigorous crusade undertaken by the bar of Savannah to create a new judicial district and a third judge. The addresses are filled with praise of Judge Speer for his ty and patriotism. The grand jury of the eastern division upon the conclusion of their work in Savannah on February 21, 1913, made this statement: "Representing sixteen counties of this district, we deplore the movement to divide this district. It is our firm conviction that there is no use for it. The dockets here show no congestion nor do other causes exist for such a division." In the southwestern division the grand jury at Valdosta on December 12, said any division of the district which would remove Judge Speer from that part of the district would be a cause for regret. There is no reason for a change in existing conditions, according to the last grand jury of the Albany division. The grand jury of the western division, which met at Macon in January, had nothing to say in regard to the proposed division, nor did the address adopted in April last by the grand jury of the northeastern division at Augusta.

The Michigan "40" Wins

Get this fact fixed firmly in your mind. It is important to you. Buy your Michigan now and save several hundred dollars. Or wait, and pay more. For in winning the fight of 72 makers of forties for supremacy in the forty field the Michigan has proved to the world what an unusual value it offers at $1,585 fully equipped. You can't equal it for less than $2,000, and the Michigan's price is sure to advance.

Over sixteen million dollars worth of 1913 Michigans have been ordered by shrewd dealers here and abroad. More orders are going to the factory every day. These dealers know that the public, which by its purchase helped the Michigan win the fight of the forties, will continue buying the Michigan despite the advance in price that is soon to come. A little later on you may be unable to get a Michigan at any price.

Four Big Features to Remember
About the Mighty Michigan "40"

1. The four-forward speed transmission. The best foreign cars have it, but most American forties have only three.
2. The center control and the left side drive like you find in the latest six-cylinder Packard, Lozier, White and other expensive cars.
3. The 35x4 1/2 tires. Width counts in tire cost and tire capacity. Compare this width with others. These over-size tires give twice the mileage of usual size tires.
4. The wide, roomy body, with 22 coats of finish—14-inch Turkish Cushions—50-inch rear seat.

Only four of numerous features that are the result of four years concentration on the building of the Mighty Michigan, the premier forty of the world.

JOHNSON COMPANY IN HANDSOME HOME

A. H. Goodwin Accepts Position as Secretary and Treasurer of Prominent Auto Firm.

The Johnson Motor Car company, one of the oldest established automobile firms in the city, have moved from their temporary offices, formerly 525 Peachtree street, and from their service department, so long located at 175 Forsyth street, to their new and permanent home and show room at 465 Peachtree street.

The new building into which they are now moving is one of the best and most modern of the new business blocks recently built on Auto row. The Johnson Motor car company will occupy two floors of the building. The offices and show room will be on the main floor, and the service and repair department will occupy the lower or basement floor.

A. H. Goodwin, who has been associated for a number of years with Mr. Johnson in the mechanical business on Forsyth street, has assumed active management of the company, and with the assistance of Mr. Johnson, who is president of the firm, as its secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Goodwin has a great many friends in Atlanta and throughout Georgia where he has resided the greater part of his life, and it is believed always been active engaged in Atlanta's business life.

Mr. Goodwin stated yesterday that the firm would still continue the active agencies of the Little & Chevrolet "S.S." Stevens-Duryea and Chalmers trucks.

Among the big men of the auto game who have decided to make Atlanta their future home is J. H. Simms, southern district manager of the American Locomotive company. Mr. Simms was first induced to come to Atlanta by Mr. Nabors, who is the Georgia representative of the American Locomotive company. Mr. Simms became so much impressed with the way Atlanta did big things that he decided to make Atlanta his future home. This move on the part of Mr. Simms adds another plume to Atlanta's auto row, and means that the southern center for the Alco truck and the American Locomotive company's products will be in this city.

A. M. Dodd, of New York has been made special representative in the southern district of the United States Tire company with headquarters in Atlanta. Mr. Dodd will look after boosting the solid motor vehicle tires in the south for his company and from the job at hand in which he greets all strangers it won't be long until he will have United States solid tires as well known in the territory as the other products made by his company. Were glad to see him, Mr. Dodd.

A. H. GOODWIN.

SPLITDORF ELECTRICAL LOCATES BRANCH IN CITY

Another large factory branch house has opened on Auto row. This time it is the Splitdorf Electrical company, of New York city, who are installing a factory branch at No. 6 East Harris, across the street from the new Buick building, and in the rear of the new home of the Studebaker corporation. Mr. Gridlestine will be the manager of the new branch. In a statement made yesterday by Mr. Gridlestine, the business of his company has grown to such a large proportion in the southern states and especially so in Atlanta and Georgia that it necessitated the opening of a southern distributing center for their product. Atlanta was chosen because of its wonderful shipping facilities and its location, being right in the very center of the south. The Splitdorf Electrical company are manufacturers of all sorts of electrical machinery for the automobile.

Michigan 80, Syracuse 42.
Ann Arbor, Mich., May 17.—Michigan's track team today triumphed over Syracuse by the decisive score of 80 to 42 in the annual outdoor track and field meet. Captain Hart featured the afternoon's performance, by running the half mile in 1:58, lowering the old mark set by C. W. Hall, of Michigan, by one second. Soward's mark of 9:45 in the hundred yard dash was not allowed to stand because the wind was at the turners back.

Penn. 63, Cornell 54.
Philadelphia, May 17.—The University of Pennsylvania won the annual track meet with Cornell here this afternoon in a driving rainstorm by the score of 63 points to 54.

BUSINESS EXPECTED TO GAIN 40 PER CENT

Sales Have Opened Up Bigger Than Ever Before, Say Leading Auto Manufacturers.

Leading automobile manufacturers predict that this year's business will show an increase of more than 40 per cent over that of 1912. Makers of standard cars generally state that sales have opened up bigger than ever before, and that in several instances the entire output of 1913 models will be exhausted within a short time.

An accurate and detailed report compiled by the Chalmers Motor company shows business to be unusually good. The increase set forth in this report is not confined to certain sections, sales being uniformly large all over the country. Even in Ohio and Nebraska, where floods and tornadoes have handicapped business heavily, the report shows sales to be running far ahead of last year's.

Although the Chalmers dealers in New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis and other large cities report a substantial gain, the best indication of the growth of the business is shown by the sales in the average size ones. For instance, in the middle west, Davenport, Iowa, shows a gain of 70 per cent, Sioux City, 42 per cent, Waterloo, Iowa, 63 per cent, Akron, Ohio, 69 per cent, Columbus, Ohio, 68 per cent, Lima, Ohio, 33 per cent; Bloomington, Ill., 50 per cent, Milwaukee, Wis., 45 per cent, Eau Claire, Wis., 42 per cent, and Green Bay, 42 per cent.

In the south Memphis is 35 per cent ahead, Macon, Ga., 37 per cent; Charlottesville, N. C., 37 per cent; Asheville, N. C., 100 per cent. In the east, Uniontown, Pa., shows 29 per cent increase, Rochester, 25 per cent, New Haven, 35 per cent, Buffalo, 25 per cent. In the far west, Portland has a gain of 28 per cent, Spokane, 34 per cent, Butte, 32 per cent. In the southwest Tulsa, Okla., shows a 60 per cent advance, San Antonio, 59 per cent and Phoenix, 35 per cent.

Foreign business is heavy in proportion.

Britton Draws With Graves.
Philadelphia, Pa., May 17.—"Jack" Britton, of Chicago, who was barred from again appearing in Philadelphia for an alleged "fake" bout with Pal Moore, of this city, but who was recently reinstated by Director of Safety Porter, fought a hard six-round draw with "Kid" Graves, of Milwaukee, here tonight. The fight was fast from start to finish.

Hupmobile That Broke a Record

This Hupmobile, 32-horsepower, stock chassis, went from Los Angeles to San Francisco in 14 hours flat. The former record was 17 hours 5 minutes.

ENDURANCE COUNTS AS WELL AS SPEED, SAYS F. W. ROBERTS

"Time was when automobile buyers considered only one thing in making their purchase, and that was 'how fast can the car go,'" says F. W. Roberts, local branch manager for the Locomobile Company of America, "but now the question is becoming more and more, 'How safe is the car under the conditions of driving to which I will put it?'"

There are a great many reasons for the increase in the number of automobile owners who are demanding safety first—dished wheels, broken axles, broken steering connections, broken transmissions, and other accidents have taught the automobile buying public that in a vehicle possessed of the enormous power of the average automobile with its high speed capacity only the very best in materials and workmanship can be safely used.

Automobiles are growing better each year, but naturally the actual value of the car as asked by the manufacturer, is the truest indication of its factor of safety.

In the so-called high grade cars, that is the cars selling at prices ranging from $4,000 upward, the best materials are used.

The treatments to which all steel which enters into the construction of the Locomobile is subjected, are so severe and require such a high standard of excellence in the raw product before it is finally treated, that few steel concerns care to bid on Locomobile specifications. It is only those that are equipped with facilities for turning out the very highest standards of steel, that send in their quotations.

The Locomobile Company was the first to bring the present methods of heat treatment to their high standards, and all the Locomobile steels are treated in the Locomobile heat treating plants; oftentimes by secret methods that bring the strength of the steels to the highest possible point.

Not only does this working out of strength apply to Locomobile steels, but in the wood used in the wheels, only the very finest second growth hickory is used, and the supply of this wood is so limited that it is practically impossible for many manufacturers to get it; but Locomobile options on second growth hickory wood lots have been dated ahead from several years past, assuring a steady supply.

- Was it a reputation for high mileage?
United States Tires to-day yield an average mileage from 25 to 50 per cent, above the highest point ever reached by any tire maker previous to the organization of the United States Tire Company.
- Was it protection against rim cutting?
United States Dunlop tires bear the first and only guarantee against rim cutting ever issued by any tire maker.
- Was it extra size?
Compare cross section for yourself. Make a few caliper measurements, or ask any dealer or tire manufacturer who has investigated the matter, and you will find that no tire made has a larger average air capacity or larger diameter measurements than the United States Dunlop. USE YOUR OWN EYES!
- Was it ease of manipulation?
The round toe, an exclusive feature of our Dunlop tire, makes this the most easily manipulated tire on the market.
- Most Important of All—

Stevens-Duryea

"Nearly a Quarter-Century of Leadership"

To the man who wants the finest motor-car in his neighborhood

You want the finest car in your set, and that is what the Stevens-Duryea is from now on—the finest of cars. It is here now—for you to see and try.

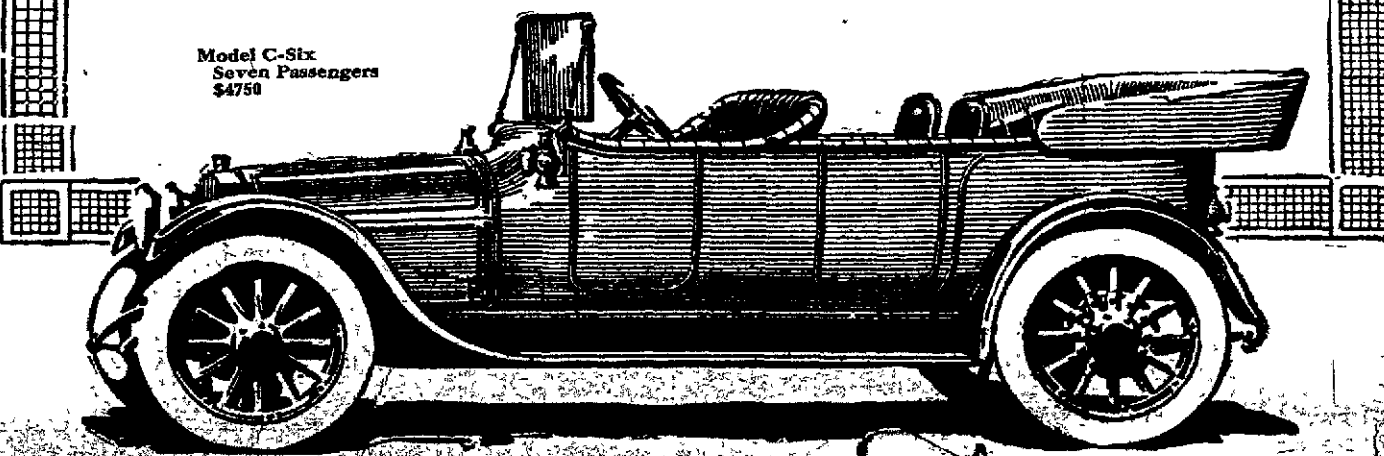

For nearly a quarter of a century the Stevens-Duryea has exercised a distinguished leadership in originating and developing the vital and fundamental points in a motor-car. This is recognized through imitation by makers of other cars, and is proved by the present high money-value of Stevens-Duryea used cars and by the fact that whereas many cars of twice the price have passed out of use, the Stevens-Duryeas of many years ago are among the most useful and valuable cars today.

And now, with its new C-Six, the Stevens-Duryea carries its leadership into new fields. Just as in the past, it has set new standards of mechanical perfection, so, in the new C-Six, the Stevens-Duryea has gone so far ahead of the rest of the motor-car world in beauty of outline, its provisions for ease and convenience; in quietness; in complete equipment for the operation of the car and enjoyment by its passengers; and, on top of all this, has made such strides in the development of active power, that it may properly be called an entirely new kind of car.

If you really desire to own the finest motor-car in your community, you must see this new C-Six.

News Wise and Otherwise Of Boys Who Put 'Em Over

In the same Dame Fashion, who rules milady in the choice of wearing apparel, to work a revolution in the design of motor car bodies? Is the Bulgarian blouse, that loosely-fitting, comfortable upper half of milady's costume to cause a lengthening of up-and-down lines in automobile bodies? According to a letter recently received at the plant of the Willys-Overland company, Toledo, Ohio, makers of Overland cars, Madame Style and her latest Parisian creation are about to introduce some important automobile innovations.

The writer of the letter is a well-known woman motor enthusiast who professes to do her own driving rather than employ a chauffeur—and who chooses open cars rather than the coupe. Part of her letter is as follows:

The Bulgarian blouse bids fair to call for some changes in motor car body design. Since the advent of this concept in woman's attire there have been complaints coming from women who drive open cars, because of the lack of protection from the wind. The blouses, you know, are loose about the bottom and the wearer finds the wind set up by the motion of the machine uncomfortable. Then, too, the full bottom of the blouse is prone to fly up about the arms and hands, interfering with the steering.

The best remedy for this situation that I can see now is to make the dash and foredoors of open cars higher and thus further protect women drivers from the wind. This or some other expedient will have to be employed for the Bulgarian blouse remains in favor, for it is generally well known that the women will demand changes in the cars they drive or even put up with many discomforts rather than be out of style. So it seems to me that the manufacturers will have to prove their gallantry by providing deeper bodies in order that women customers may drive, fashionably clad and still in comfort.

Of the hundreds of motor trucks in use there is hardly an owner that isn't interested in keeping an accurate daily record of the upkeep cost of his trucks.

For the want of something better, many owners have devised records of their own more or less complete in form. Probably the most accurate and complete forms for keeping daily records of motor truck upkeep costs is printed and distributed free to motor truck owners and persons interested in motor truck upkeep costs by the E. F. Goodrich company, Akron, Ohio. The Goodrich record system consists of two complete, but very simple forms. One is a card for the driver to record, showing trips made, mileage, the record of tires, load pounds carried, the oil, gasoline or electricity consumed per mile each day. The larger form for the office files is a monthly record made up each day from the driver's daily report card.

The Goodrich record forms are so complete that an owner can tell at a glance just what his trucks are costing him each day—including wages of drivers and helpers.

The Goodrich daily report forms were first made and used by the E. F. Goodrich company to keep an accurate record of the upkeep costs of the trucks used by that company in its tire and rubber business at its factory in Akron, Ohio. The forms are so complete that they enabled the Goodrich company to find and correct many "leaks" in the daily upkeep costs of their motor trucks. Many truck owners throughout the country are finding the Goodrich forms a great aid in keeping an accurate record of truck upkeep costs.

Motor truck owners or any one interested in upkeep costs, either gasoline or electric, will be forwarded a supply of the Goodrich forms free if they write to the E. F. Goodrich company, Akron, Ohio.

Vice President R. P. Henderson, of the Henderson Motor Car company, has been elected by the directors of the Indiana Automobile Manufacturers' association to handle the tour finances of the Indiana to the Pacific tour of this association, which leaves Indianapolis July 1 for a tour of approximately 4,500 miles to San Francisco and Los Angeles as the objective points. R. P. Henderson is a director and one of the boosters for the L. A. M. A. and had the honor to nominate two Henderson cars for the tour last January. The Henderson company was the second to make an entry and the cars will bear the numbers 3 and 4. The tour treasurer will drive one of the entries the entire distance.

In arranging an appropriate welcome for the delegation of British engineers, who will be the guests of the Society of Automobile Engineers at its summer meeting on the Great Lakes June 5, 6 and 7, the entertainment committee of the Metropolitan section of the society has laid out a program that is calculated to leave in the minds of the visitors impressions that not even the warmth of the reception accorded them in the middle west will be likely to efface. Conspicuous features of the program, in which the entire membership of the section will be given opportunity to participate, will be a breakfast dinner to be given at Healy's restaurant Monday evening, May 26, and the regular monthly meeting of the section, which will be held in the ball room of the Hotel McAlpin the following evening.

The driver of the pilot car for the Indiana-to-the-Pacific tour of the Indiana Automobile Manufacturers' association will be Ray McNamara, the Premier veteran, who has crossed the continent in automobiles almost as many times as he has fingers and toes. His fame as a touring pilot is national, principally due to the record he established in Gibraltar for four days, one of which, that of 1908, he finished on even terms with the winner and was declared by referee winner of 1910. As pilot of the amateur tour of twelve Premier in the ocean-to-ocean trip of 1911 McNamara holds the remarkable record of missing the trail but 6 miles out of 4,763 miles, the distance from Atlantic City, the starting point, and Venice, Colo., via San Francisco to Los Angeles, the finish.

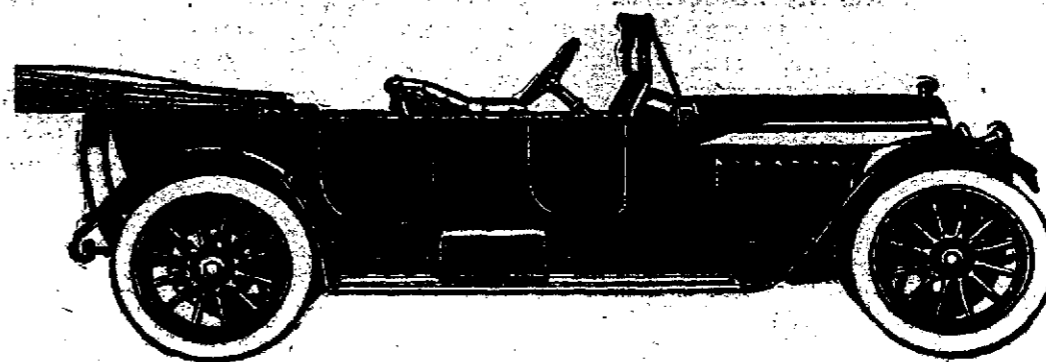

With Mac to lead the way, Hoosters say they will lose no sleep as to the correctness of the road.

No-Rim-Cut Tires 10% Oversize

Ask Mr. Brown

Ask any of your many neighbors who now use these new-type Goodyear tires.

Users are everywhere—hundreds of thousands. You are surrounded by evidence of No-Rim-Cut economies.

Please ask for it. Find out why these tires now outsell all the rest.

An Example

Two cars were standing at a curb. One had old-style clincher tires, one No-Rim-Cut tires.

The clincher user was asked why he clung to those tires. "Why," he replied, "because of the mileage. I get so many miles per tire."

"Let's see what the next man gets." And they asked the No-Rim-Cut user. His average mileage was nearly twice as great.

Why It Is So

Rim-cutting ruins 25 per cent of all clincher tires, by actual statistics. It never occurs with No-Rim-Cut tires. Clincher tires are made just rated size. No-

Rim-Cut tires are 10 per cent oversize—have 10 per cent more air. And each 10 per cent one adds to the size adds, on the average, 25 per cent to the mileage.

No-Rim-Cut tires now cost no more than standard clincher tires. They do save money—save so much that they lead the world in sales.

Men are coming to these tires so fast that Goodyear sales last year exceeded our previous 12 years put together.

Come see them. The features we claim are apparent. And they are bound to win you to Goodyear tires when you find them out. Write for the Goodyear Tire Book—14th year edition. It tells all known ways to economize on tires.

"DIRT ORDINANCE" FOUGHT BY MADDOX

Alderman Tells the Health Board That the Proposed Measure Would Retard the Progress of Atlanta.

Alderman James W. Maddox, of the fifth ward, who is one of the most active contractors in Atlanta, went before the city health board yesterday afternoon, and launched his fight on the Ashley "dirt spilling" ordinance, which was introduced at the last session of council.

Alderman Maddox told the board that the ordinance would retard progress in Atlanta and should not be recommended favorably to council. He contended that it was impossible for grading contractors to prevent dirt spilling from their wagons, and said that it would be a hardship on them to be arrested and fined for violating the law every time they spilled a little dirt on the streets.

He offered the suggestion that instead of hampering contractors with the ordinance, the board could assist materially by putting a force of city laborers on the streets to clean up after the contractors.

That Alderman Maddox is sincere in his contentions is apparent from the fact that he is preparing to make a stiff fight in council. An ordinance was passed some time ago making it a misdemeanor for contractors to spill dirt, and Alderman Maddox was hailed before Recorder Broyles at various times for violating it.

Friends of the alderman contractors in council caused the ordinance to be repealed, and since then the city sanitary department has been burdened with the responsibility of cleaning up the streets. Residents and property owners on Capitol avenue complained about the mud and dust caused by the dirt dripping from Alderman Maddox's carts. They also complained to the construction department over the cuts in the asphalt caused by the carts.

Why Ordinance Was Drafted. Numerous complaints made to Councilman Claude L. Ashley, of the fourth ward, caused him to draft a new ordinance. He has offered it in council, and it will be called on Monday afternoon. Councilman Ashley disclaims any desire to burden contractors. He says the city's cleaning force is not large enough to clean up the streets after contractors. He says he has practically ignored Alderman Maddox's appeal by taking no action one way or the other.

PROBATION BILL WILL PASS THIS SESSION

Bill Is Indorsed by Practically Every Superior Court Judge in State.

The bill giving all criminal court judges in Georgia legal authority to suspend sentence, and giving counties the right where they deem it wise to appoint probation officers which lacked only thirteen votes of becoming a law last year, will be re-introduced this June in the legislature, and it is believed it will pass by a substantial majority.

The measure has the sanction of the Prison Association of Georgia, and the changes which it provides for have been indorsed by practically all the superior court judges in the state. The object of the bill is, of course, to eliminate initial injustice in Georgia's penal system by investigating the case of the individual offender at the time he comes up for trial.

It is contended that no matter how upright the judges and officials may be, a certain proportion of injustice is bound to creep in, due to the present system under which people accused of a crime are miserably hurried through the courts to the chaingang. The section of the bill which relates to the appointment of probation officers has reference to the probation of adults, and will in no way affect the laws already of force, with relation to the handling of delinquent and wayward children.

Necessary safeguards are contained in the measure. For instance, no person convicted of a crime, the maximum penalty of which is more than ten years' imprisonment, shall have the right to benefit by the act. Under this law, it shall be the duty of the probation officer to investigate the case of any person about to be brought before the court to ascertain the history and previous conduct of the person arrested, and such other facts as may show whether he or she may be properly and safely released on probation under the provisions of this act. The measure has been given the careful consideration of judges, solicitors and criminal court lawyers throughout the state. They are practically unanimous in commending it.

Pitiful Injustices. Some of the most pitiful cases of individual injustice in the state, as recorded in the records of the courts and prisons in Georgia have been the result, not of carelessness or inefficiency on the part of any court or prison official, but have been due rather to the fact that with only the prison machine to make use of, it has been impossible to ascertain enough about the case to handle it properly. A striking local instance of this is the story of the country negro who came to Atlanta, fell into the streets in an epileptic fit, and was shunted through the police court to the chaingang as a plain drunk. His malady made him subsequently violent and he was punished for the violence. The policeman who originally made the arrest was sincere in thinking that he had a real drunk. The police court judge was not informed. Nobody intentionally did the prisoner wrong, but cruel injustice was done him. The prevention of such cases of blind and unintentional injustice is the principal thing which it is believed this new measure will accomplish.

Hours of Service Law.

Washington, May 17.—The constitutionality of the federal anti-hour-of-service law for railway telegraph operators was attacked today in a petition filed in the supreme court by the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company of Texas, for a review of its conviction for violating the law. The railway had its day operators work from 7 a. m. to noon and, after an hour's rest, from 1 p. m. until 6 p. m., with like hours for night operators. It claimed the law mostly forbade a "continuous" service of more than nine hours.

ANNUITY OFFERED $20,000 FOR FREEDOM OF THAW

Jury Convicts Lawyer on Charge of Using Bribery to Free White's Slayer.

New York, May 17.—John N. Anhut was convicted of attempted bribery tonight by the jury before which he has been on trial in connection with an attempt to free Harry K. Thaw from Matteawan by alleged illegal means. The young lawyer will be sentenced Tuesday by Supreme Court Justice Seabury.

The jurors deliberated less than two hours and a half. They found that Anhut was guilty of offering Dr. John W. Russell, former head of the Matteawan hospital, $20,000 for the release of Stamford White's slayer, as Dr. Russell had testified. Thaw had given Anhut $25,000 in stocks and cash to be used to get him free. Anhut's defense was that the money was a contingent fee only. Anhut seemed calm when the verdict was brought in. He faces a minimum penalty of ten years in prison and a fine of $500.

In examining Dr. Russell, Assistant Attorney DeFord rehearsed Thaw's unsuccessful attempt to get his freedom, and declared, in the Anhut case, Thaw, in desperation, sought illegal means to gain an end he could not accomplish legally. Arthur C. Palmer, in summing up for Anhut, asked the jury to disregard Thaw's testimony in view of his mental condition. He said Anhut was a victim of circumstances brought about by Thaw and Dr. Russell, and had acted honestly as Thaw's counsel.

CLIFTON CARUTHERS SAILS ON STEAMSHIP

News has reached Atlanta from New York that Clifton Thomas Caruthers, son of F. D. Caruthers, assistant business manager of the New York World and a former Tennessean well known here, has sailed as quartermaster on a steamship for the Argentine republic. While in the high school in New York, young Caruthers gained considerable reputation as a football player. While on his run between New York and Buenos Ayres, Mr. Caruthers will have a chance to see seven foreign cities. His father is vice president of the Tennessee society in New York, and has many friends throughout the south.

MARINE BAND ESCORT REFUSED OLD GUARD

But Band Will Play for Atlanta Company—Howard Arranging for the Old Guard.

Washington, May 17.—(Special.)—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today advised Representative Howard, of Georgia, that it would be impossible to have the marine band escort the Old Guard from the Union station to the white house next Tuesday.

Mr. Daniels explained that as the army and navy are conducted as two separate departments, it would establish a bad precedent to have the marine band act as an escort to any army organization. He said, however, that he would be pleased to have the marine band play for the Old Guard at any point and time they might designate.

Mr. Howard has arranged through Secretary of War Garrison to have the cavalry at Fort Myer give an exhibition Cossack drill at the fort for the benefit of the Old Guard Tuesday afternoon. He has also arranged with the adjutant general of the District of Columbia National guard to have the crack company of the guard, the Washington light infantry, at as an honorary escort to the Old Guard. The Washington light infantry company engaged in an exhibition drill against the Atlanta Old Guard in 1883, and there is a great deal of good-natured rivalry between the two organizations.

CO-OPERATIVE FIGHT FOR THE DEMOCRATS

National and Congressional Committees to Work Together in Future Campaigns.

Washington, May 17.—Officers of the democratic national and congressional committees today mapped out a program for active co-operation in the coming congressional and presidential campaigns and placed it in the hands of the national and congressional committees of national committee men, Palmer of Pennsylvania, Howell of Georgia, Sells of Texas, Lynch of Minnesota and Cummings of Connecticut and two senators and three representatives acting for the congressional committee. President Wilson has expressed himself as being in thorough sympathy with the program. The plans are designed to concentrate campaign strategy and to coordinate the congressional committees expressed their willingness to co-operate and will make their report to the full congressional committee at a meeting to be held June 3 or 4. Its five members of the joint committee will be selected then. The permanent organization of the congressional committee probably will be effected at the June meeting and a chairman chosen, the chief office Representative Johnson of Kentucky, is the congressional candidate. Chairman Palmer, of the joint committee, and Thomas J. Pence, the manager of publicity, were directed to confer with the congressional com-

Turkish Bath Cures Rheumatism At Home

Costs But 2c a Bath, and the Body Is Rld of Uric Acid Poison, With Astonishing Rapidity.

Quickly Cures Kidney Trouble, Nervous Prostration and All Skin Diseases. The Robinson Thermal or Turkish bath taken at home is the most effective remedy for rheumatism, kidney trouble, nervous prostration, and all skin diseases. Those who have used the bath have been completely cured away with asthma of the astonishing results obtained. Well-known physicians say that the Robinson Thermal Bath at home, is about to become an almost universal conqueror of disease. This is not an exaggeration. Any man or woman can prove its results inside of 24 hours, in some cases 10 minutes. In cases of rheumatism, especially, the uric acid poison is extracted from the system through the pores, almost as liquids are sucked up through a straw. Drugs merely smother the poison or cause it to be absorbed, but do not extract the poison from the body. Just read this letter: "I loaned my cabinet to an old friend all equipped up with rheumatism, last May. Feet, legs and hands badly swollen. He had spent some time at different health resorts, but nothing would do. He had to use the cabinet, taking the steam heat in the morning and the dry heat at night, before going to bed. He kept this up a week, and yesterday and today he was as well as ever." "GEO. A. FREEMAN, Mgr. Temptation Mining & Milling Co., Silverton, Colo." Anyone can now make Robinson Thermal baths at home and at a cost of only about 2c a bath. They are the best spring medicine for rheumatism, kidney trouble, nervous prostration, and all skin diseases. The thick, sluggish blood normal, take out the impurities and cure "spring fever" right at home. The only way to take these baths is by the use of the Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinet, which is a unique and scientific invention. That great book, "The Philosophy of Health and Beauty," retail price $2.00, Free at our Home Store, upon request, for limited time only. Send for a copy. Also see the interesting demonstration of the Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinets; no obligation to purchase. Cabinets range in price from $6.50 to $15.00. Jacobs' Pharmacy, Main Street and Laboratory, 8-10 Marietta street.

WHEN WIFE NO. 1 MET NO. 2 THEN TROUBLE BEGAN TO BREW

Cordale, Ga., May 17.—(Special).—Because he was not satisfied with having one wife, as well as two children, and came to Cordale and claimed Miss Bessie Peterson as his second wife, L. F. Mashburn, recently of Dothan, Ala., is now in the toils of the law at Perry, Fla., charged with bigamy. Mashburn did not inform wife No. 1 of the existence of wife No. 2, and of course, when they happened to meet, trouble was brewed. After his marriage to Miss Peterson, Mashburn took her to the Florida town. There he became seriously ill, and sent for his two children, who were living with parties near Valdosta. The children came, but to the consternation of the much married man, wife No. 1 came with them. For a time the whole family, husband, wives and children all lived peacefully together, so far as the public knew, and the trouble began when Mashburn undertook to make good his escape with wife No. 2. Wife No. 1 got onto the racket and had wife No. 2 arrested. In the meantime Mashburn took a hurried departure alone. His lengthy absence, however, was of short duration, as he was apprehended shortly afterward by Sheriff Parker, of Taylor county, Florida, at Lake Bird, and lodged in the county jail. A preliminary hearing was to have been given Monday or Tuesday, but he attempted suicide by eating a quantity of matches and drinking some hydrogen peroxide. He also claimed to have eaten some crushed glass. Commitment trial has now been postponed until next Thursday. This, however, will be a mere formality. It seems, since the judge of the justice court, who will preside, states that he already has ample evidence to hold him and that he will place him under a $1,000 bond.

The national committee-men adjourned until the congressional committee acts on the joint campaign plan. Chairman Lloyd and Secretary Page, of the congressional committee, will confer with President Wilson Monday and with a committee of senators during the week regarding the proposed increase in representation of senators on the congressional committee. So far Senators Stone, Missouri; Martin, Virginia; Culberson, Texas; Newlands, Nevada; Bankhead, Alabama; Owen, Oklahoma; and Chamberlain, Oregon, are the only senators on that committee, and it has been suggested that the committee should include a senator from every state which is to elect a senator in 1914 and which now has a democrat in the senate. The publicity work of the campaign will be divided between the two organizations, the congressional committee continuing to direct its activities toward propaganda, regarding speeches and other matters, Chamberlain, Oregon, will take a broader scope and not duplicate this exclusively congressional literature. The national committee-men feel that they have a direct interest in the congressional campaign, now that senators will be elected by direct popular vote. There was a discussion of the general situation, members of both committees taking a bright and public opinion regarding the administration's policies.

MERCHANTS TO CLOSE EARLY ON SATURDAYS

Six Enter Into Agreement for the Summer for Benefit of Employees.

In order that their employees may have the benefit of a half holiday during the heated season, six of the leading dry goods stores have agreed to close their stores at 1 o'clock on Saturdays. The first closing day will be June 7, and the last closing day, Saturday, September 12. This is an earlier date for summer Saturday closing than has previously been adopted by the local merchants. The merchants who have entered into the agreement are Keely company, J. M. High company, Chamberlain-Johnson-DuBoe company, J. P. Allen, Davison-Paxon-Stoken company and M. Rich Brothers. "Something They Hadn't Seen." (From The Chicago Post.) Following a baseball game, in which the Yankees came to ignominious defeat, the crowd, the reporter, approached Frank Chance and said: "Would you mind if I gave your team a little surprise—a little treat?" "Not at all," responded Chance. "I might even check them out." "Call them over here and I'll show them third base." Phone your want ads and replies to Main 5000 or Atlanta 109.

TENTH WARD ENGINE MAY BE REJECTED

New Apparatus Is Not Meeting Tests of Underwriters' Association, Says Mayor.

Mayor Woodward does not believe the new $9,000 auto engine, bought from the American La France company for the tenth ward, will meet the approval of the underwriters. The mayor declared that the test pump station was not successful, and that the test Friday was barely within the guarantee of the contract. He says the specifications require the engine to pump a minimum of 700 gallons per minute. "I have a report that the engine pumped a little more than 700 gallons per minute on the second test," Mayor Woodward said. "The guarantee is being held up by the fact that the first test was a failure, and the second was barely successful even with the engine operated by an expert who was rushed from the factory in Elmira." Both tests were made by experts representing the National Underwriters' and the Southeastern Underwriters' association. J. T. Hudson, representing the National Underwriters, left Atlanta Thursday afternoon at the river charge that the first test was not satisfactory. He would not state whether or not the engine would be approved by the board. "I will make a report of the various tests to the board," he explained. "The report will be sent to Atlanta. Until that report is made public I am not at liberty to discuss my findings." T. C. Tupper, assistant engineer, and W. C. Tupper, chief inspector, conducted the tests on Thursday and Friday in the interests of the Southeastern Underwriters. They refused to discuss the report they were going to make on the two tests. They would not admit or deny that the first test was not satisfactory. Chief William B. Cummings, of the fire department, and members of the fire board, who were present when the tests were made, declare that the engine will meet with the approval of the National and Southeastern Underwriters. They base their contention on the second test which, they state, showed that the engine was capable of pumping 700 gallons per minute.

NOMINATION OF HARRIS ATTACKED BY EDITOR

President Wilson Is Urged to Withdraw Name of the Georgian.

By John Corrigan, Jr. Washington, May 17.—(Special).—In an editorial attack on William J. Harris this afternoon, The Washington Times calls on President Wilson to recall this nomination. It deprecates the attack made upon E. Dana F. Neill, the incumbent. "It has been alleged that one of the reasons why Mr. Harris should be confirmed by the senate, that Mr. Durand has not proved himself an efficient executive," says The Times. "It is hard to see wherein that allegation, even if true, could justify the Harris appointment. Does that constitute a reason why a man utterly without experience or training for such work, should be put into such a position? "Even if Durand must go, that is no reason why there need be haste to fill the place with a political favorite. Of all positions in the government, this is about the last that ought to be made a prize of politics. "It is not a matter for Mr. Durand, if it isn't material whether he is retained, provided some other man as well or better equipped is put in his place. But it is unthinkable that he should be dropped out of the running in the midst of compiling and publishing the work of the last census and a stranger to that work put in his place. President Wilson did a fine thing when he insisted that Charles F. Neill as labor commissioner. He did another when he nominated Edward E. Clark to succeed himself on the interstate commerce commission. "The standards that he set for himself in those cases, he ought to withdraw the Harris nomination. His whole patronage position is vastly weakened by reason of his commitment to this inexcusable political one." The nomination of Mr. Harris is still pending in the senate. Beginning on Monday, the democrats propose to make a daily fight to force confirmation. They realize that there is a good deal of poison in the contest to retain Mr. Durand until July 1.

Wimbush Submits Argument. William A. Wimbush appeared before the interstate commerce commission today and submitted an exhaustive argument to show that rates on certain commodities from New England to Atlanta are excessive as compared to existing rates to Chattanooga. Accompanying him was Harry T. Moore, of the Atlanta freight bureau. LaGrange Rate Case. The LaGrange rate case was argued before the commission by Hutton Lovejoy, an attorney of that city. The case involved rates from the west to LaGrange. From the west LaGrange has the same freight rates as Atlanta enjoys. He argued that in view of the size, business and railroad facilities of LaGrange it should have the same rates as other towns in its locality. The complaint in this case was brought by the LaGrange chamber of commerce. It charges unreasonable, discrimination and violation of the long and short haul clause. Georgia Visitors. Among the Georgia visitors here today were Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, James E. Gray, editor of The Journal; William Hurd Hillier, of the Hillier Trust company, and Howell C. Erwin. Seneca Postmaster. Representative Adamson has nominated Ralph C. McKnight as postmaster at Seneca. Successor, E. B. Sasser, whose term has expired.

COAL STRIKE PROBE BY DEBS AND BERGER

Charleston, W. Va., May 17.—Eugene V. Debs, former socialist candidate for president, and Adolph Berger, of Illinois, who were appointed by the national committee of the socialist party to investigate conditions of miners in West Virginia, arrived here tonight. Victor L. Berger, former socialist member of congress, who also was chosen to make the investigation, is expected early next week. Mr. Debs announced that the three will make their report to the national committee of the socialist party.

An Incentive to Save.

(From The Cleveland Plain Dealer.) A California man of 30 has been left $5,000 by his uncle on condition that he first earn and save $1,000 of his own. Until the thousand is secured in the manner designated the bequest will lie dormant. One is inclined to commend the judgment of the uncle. If a young man has not sufficient will power to accumulate $1,000 he is not likely to possess the wisdom necessary to handle five times that amount handed to him as a gift. The world is full of men whose mental vision extends no further than the next day, who have no more notion of saving money than they have of growing tall feathers. Their acquaintance among pool room habitués is far more extensive than among receiving tellers. A week's idleness means a doubtful account at their grocers. This young Californian will either get his uncle's bequest, or he will not get it. In either case the money will not be wasted.

NOTED MUSICIAN TO TEACH AT BRENAU

Gustav Louis Becker, the well-known New York musician and teacher, has accepted the position of director of the music department at Brenau for music teachers, which Brenau conservatory at Gainesville, Ga., has recently established. Mr. Becker is one of the leading musical instructors of New York city, and has a reputation as a pianist and composer that is based upon twenty years' experience. He is a German by descent, but received his early education in America, making his first appearance as a concert pianist, when 11 years of age. He has studied with Moszkowski, Scherwenka and Bargiel, and his own work as a composer has obtained favorable recognition. When the growth of Brenau conservatory demanded the enlargement of its scope by the creation of a normal department, Mr. Becker was selected to direct the department. He will lecture on musical pedagogy, harmony, theory, counterpoint and composition at Brenau, his success as a composer of concert plans and instruction forming the basis of his instruction. The musical faculty of the college, with this exception, remains unchanged for the next year.

MY GRATEFUL PATIENTS SPEAK FOR ME

READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIALS

Atlanta, Ga., April 16, 1912. To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:— This is to state that about four years ago after having been treated by numerous doctors and after taking various treatments, without success, I went to Dr. Hughes, after having suffered more than eight months with kidney troubles, which I had to give up as incurable. I had a frequent desire to urinate without being able to do so with any degree of ease. Every time I had to do so I urinated the pain and misery were almost unbearable. After Dr. Hughes examined me, he readily told me that he could cure me. He gave me a course of his medicine, and I was able to sleep the first night; something I had not been able to do in eight months. Dr. Hughes, in my opinion, will treat every one fairly and honestly. I found him a gentleman who can be relied upon. After a little over four years since taking his treatment I write this letter to show him my appreciation, because he is the only specialist who cured me. I feel and know I am completely cured, and I have never been bothered with this trouble since consulting Dr. Hughes. (Signed) T. L. DAVIDSON, 301 Crew St., Atlanta, Ga. Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 16th day of April, 1912. C. R. GHOVER, Notary Public, Fulton County, Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., April 16, 1912. To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:— This is to certify that for about two years I had been afflicted with Hemorrhoids and Bleeding Piles and had taken various treatments and consulted various physicians without receiving any permanent relief. After making a thorough investigation of Dr. J. D. Hughes, of 101 1/2 North Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga., I decided to place my case in his hands, which did not take long to do so, after taking two local treatments in the office of Dr. Hughes, that I have been completely cured of my trouble. Before taking treatment from Dr. Hughes my case was such that I was unable to do any work, and I was in great pain and suffering, the piles itching and bleeding to such an extent that I was unable to do any work. You can consult me with positive assurance that your trouble will be cured unless my patient requests me to do so. I have permission to publish hundreds of sworn testimonials, such as the above. You may see them by calling at my office.

SPECIFIC BLOOD POISON

The medical profession on both sides of the Atlantic have become a unit regarding its use and its power to absolutely exterminate the scourge. It is my custom to keep abreast of the times in everything that is for the good of my patients, accordingly I am thoroughly prepared to administer this scientific treatment according to the most approved methods of its discoverer. In the majority of cases it is only necessary for the patient to remain under my direct personal care for a few hours, after which he can go to his hotel, business or home with a feeling of relief such as suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc. I assure you in advance of satisfactory results. My fee will not be one cent more than you are willing to pay for a complete cure. Do not allow yourself to be experimented on by those inexperienced in the administration of this remedy, and by all means see that substitution is avoided. I have given this remedy by the Intravenous Method the only way it should be given in several hundred cases, and have been eminently successful in every case. I can assure you that it will positively cure you.

FILES—DISEASES OF THE RECTUM.

A relationship of a very close relationship of the Rectum to the entire Pelvic region and this close relationship has particular reference to the nerve distribution and vascular structure. This being the case, a sympathetic affection of these parts is a frequent accompanying symptom. I have for years protested against the barbarous practice of cutting (operating) for the cure of piles, since an operation seldom produces a permanent cure. Neither do we strongly recommend the use of the rectum, which often proves deleterious to the rectum, and in many cases deranges the entire system. An increasingly successful in diseases of the Rectum. I cure Piles by a safe, sure and painless method, and the cure is permanent. Come to see me and do not let any one refer you to some of your neighbors whom I have cured.

MY METHODS ARE MY OWN.

The result has been that I have perfected a system of treatment for chronic diseases which is superior to that of any other. I know this by results, and by this I mean CURES effected. I keep pace with scientific research and I am always using the latest discoveries. I employ no old-time, painful, slow and unsatisfactory methods. All dealings strictly confidential. Call today and let us talk the matter over. BROTHERS, if you place your case with me, I will cost ABSOLUTELY NOTHING if I fail to effect a cure. Don't you think it would be well worth your while to INVESTIGATE what I am doing for others suffering possibly just as you are?

PAY ME FOR CURES ONLY.

I successfully treat my GERMAN-AMERICAN methods the following diseases: Rheumatism, Biliousness, Dropsy, Catarrh, Constipation, Diabetes, Nervous System, Diseases of the Rectum, Prostate Gland, Diseases of Women, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, Headaches, Tuberculosis, Kidney Diseases, Liver Diseases, Neurasthenia, Obesity, Rheumatism, Eruptive Skin Diseases, Stomach Diseases, Stricture, Tumors, Varicocele, Hemorrhoids, etc. For Free Consultation and Advice. If your condition is incurable, I will honestly and frankly tell you so and advise you to use other means. I have cured many cases which were honestly incurable by other doctors, and I may be able to accomplish the same happy results for you. At any rate, it will cost you nothing, and you will absolutely be under no obligations to me for Consultation, Examination or Advice.

WRITE—If you can not call, write for my symptoms chart, a full information regarding my Treatments, No Detention from Business. Treatment and advice free of cost. Hours: 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, except Sundays and Holidays.

Dix Diamond Grading Absolute Safety to Buyers

The first consideration of every prudent buyer is the feeling of absolute safety and confidence that he is getting best goods at prices really the lowest. Our positive guarantee to buy back our diamonds at 90% of purchase price at any time within one year, and to allow full purchase price in exchange on a more expensive diamond at any time, whether in one or ten years, should inspire this feeling of absolute safety. Discriminating buyers know that it is not all the price, but that grade, weight, color and perfectness are all to be considered. It requires years of experience and much technical skill to grade diamonds to a proper classification. The grade, weight and price of our diamonds are marked in plain figures. Absolutely nothing is hidden. If a stone is not perfect, the shape or cutting not correct, or if it is "off color" (which is hard to distinguish without a careful comparison with a better grade), it is so marked. We send selection packages of diamonds anywhere to responsible people and pay express charges both ways. You assume no obligation to buy, as we appreciate the opportunity to show our diamonds, and prefer that our customers have opportunity for leisurely inspection and comparison. Our deferred payment plan enables those who may not want to pay all cash for a diamond to pay 20% down and divide the balance into as many as ten monthly notes with a small interest account. We would like to have a copy of our Diamond Book No. 7 in the hands of any one, no matter how slightly interested. A postal card will bring it.

Six New Bungalows

Splendid, well-built, five and six-room homes. Double-floored and storm-sheathed throughout. All rooms are bright and airy and of good size. The homes are well painted and the walls and ceilings of each room and hall are neatly tinted. The bathroom is of generous size, and, like all other rooms, offers ample cupboard space. Porches front and rear.

These bungalows are wired for electricity and have handsome lighting fixtures. They also have city water and city gas. Each house is situated on a large lot (see plat above). A cement walk runs from front porch to sidewalk. The houses are set back far enough from the street to allow of beautiful lawns and flower beds. Magnificent oak trees on every lot. Rear yards are unusually large. One can have a garden that will grow all the family can consume.

These houses are built of the very best materials—built to last. The work was done under the direct supervision of a man who has gained an enviable reputation as a builder of substantial homes.

A Two-Story House

Not a new one, but it has been completely renovated, painted and papered and is now in splendid condition. This house is lighted by electricity and has gas and city water. There are four rooms on the first floor and three on the second. All are of generous size and cupboard space is ample. The house stands on a good-sized lot (see plat above) with splendid shade trees.

Sixteen Building Lots

They vary in size (see plat above). All have fine large oak trees and are ideal sites for homes. The presence of the bungalows and the other house only emphasizes the desirability of these lots, and, like the other properties in this section, they will double in value within a year.

Located in Oakland City

The finest part of the Tenth Ward. In this portion of the South Side, some of Atlanta's best citizens are rapidly developing a splendid residential section. Here one has all the conveniences of the city without its dirt and noise. An ideal spot for the children—fresh air and plenty of room.

A fine car service on either side of this location takes you to the heart of town in a few minutes. The location could hardly be better.

- Tile Sidewalks and Curbing Laid.
- Two blocks from College Park Cars with a three-minute schedule.
- Two Blocks from Stewart Avenue Cars.
- Near Grocery and Other Stores.

- Two Blocks from the New Adair $40,000 Public School.
- Two Blocks from the New Adair Park; $1,500 appropriated for improving and beautifying the ground.
- Convenient to Churches of All Denominations.

Never in the history of Atlanta has an offer like this been made. Mr. I. N. Ragsdale bought the property and has spared neither time nor money in creating one of the most beautiful subdivisions ever seen on the South Side. He sets a precedent by not only offering these beautiful homes and building lots at public auction in a fair and square manner to the highest bidders, but by allowing you to pay for the houses in easy monthly installments WITHOUT INTEREST.

TERMS OF SALE

THE HOUSES

—will be sold on terms of $100 to $250 cash; balance in monthly notes of $17.50 to $30 each WITHOUT INTEREST. The last note is the same amount as the first. On these terms you assume a small loan on the house.

COME OUT TODAY

—and see these bungalows and lots. Bring along this plat and study the location. Then keep this page before you and the date, Saturday, May 24, open so you can make your bids whether you want a home or lot for building purposes, or just as a sound investment.

THE LOTS

—will be sold as follows: Those fronting on Woodrow Avenue for $15 cash, balance $10 monthly; those fronting on Allene Avenue for $25 cash, balance $10 monthly, and those fronting on Warner Street for $50 cash, balance $10 monthly. Six per cent interest on the notes on the lots.

HOW TO GET THERE

Take an East Point, College Park, or Hapeville car and get off at Gammage Crossing. Then walk two blocks east.

DECLARES CHURCH HAS LOST POWER TO HEAL

E. H. Carman Replies to Attack Made by Presbyterians on Christian Science.

Declaring that the church has lost its spiritual power to heal, E. H. Carman, head of the state publication committee of the Christian Scientists of Georgia, has addressed a communication to the constitution of the church at the attack made upon Christian Science at one of the sessions of the Northern Presbyterian General assembly.

He charges further that the church does not believe in its prayers, and that the report of the assembly was very largely a series of admissions that the trouble is within the church and not without.

Mr. Carman's communication in full is as follows:

"The report of the Northern Presbyterian assembly in its recent meeting, as stated in your issue of today, says 'Christian Science is a menace to the church that it ignores the fundamental principles of Christianity, even ignores Christ himself.'

"A menace is a threatened evil or calamity. Christian Science is not, as is admitted in this report, the menace, but the menace is within. As the report further admits, 'if the church has been awake to its mission in the world, Christian Science would never have obtained the foothold which it now enjoys. If this last statement is true the menace was apathy; the church went to sleep when it said the time for healing has past.'

Christ Jesus said to his disciples: 'Go ye into all the world, preach the gospel heal the sick. The church is still preaching but it has lost its spiritual power to heal. Real preaching should heal as healing the sick in Christ's name is preaching the gospel (good news) which breaks the bad spell of sin and destroys its effects—disease.

Quoting further from the report: 'More attention should have been paid to the efficacy of prayer and the healing of the spirit and body by spiritual means. This last admission shows again the menace to be within and not without. The church does not believe in its prayers; it hasn't the faith that finds God's ever present power. If the church is really repentant because of its negligence and unbelief and it will repent itself of its sins of omission and humbly make its confession to a loving Father. He will reveal to the church the divine way as He has to Christian Science.

Christian Science does not ignore the fundamental principles of Christianity and Christ himself as the following tenets found in Science and Health the text book of Christian Science on page 497, teaches:

1. As adherents of truth we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our guide to eternal life.
2. We acknowledge and adore one supreme and infinite God. We acknowledge his son one Christ the Holy Ghost or divine Comforter and Man in God's image and likeness.

These statements show that Christian Science does teach and believe in the Bible and in God as revealed through His inspired Word and in Christ as the living Way the Truth and the Life.

COUNCIL TO APPROVE WHITEHALL REGRADING

Claimed That Work Will Result in Large Increase in Taxable Values.

It is generally conceded that council, when it meets Monday afternoon, will approve the recommendations of the street committee and that the regrading, as outlined by the city engineer, will be carried forward without unnecessary delay.

The interested property owners, not only on Whitehall street, but on most of the side streets affected, are largely in favor of the grade which has been outlined by the city engineer as the correct one. The money subscribed by the property owners is available for immediate use by the city, as soon as it is possible to start work.

The county commissioners have indicated that the work will not be delayed on their account, and in point of fact, the work meets with their hearty approval, as Whitehall combined with Peachtree makes a perfect highway from East Point to Roswell.

Will Increase Taxable Values.

A great many of the streets in other sections have been graded, widened, and otherwise improved, which has resulted in very greatly increasing the value of the property and the taxable values to the city, and it is believed by practically all of the progressive property owners on the south side that the improvement of Whitehall will not only improve the values on that street directly, but bring right into the center of the city property that is now seemingly neglected, on account of the bad approaches to it.

It is claimed that no work or single city expenditure will bring the same good results to both city and property owner as the improvement of this street. It is done now at a very low cost, where any sort of delay would cost the city a prohibitive sum after permanent buildings have been erected.

S. S. TO BE COMBINED WITH CHURCH SERVICE

Quite an unusual order of service will take place at the Gordon Street Baptist church next Sunday. The preaching service and the Sunday school will be combined, and will begin at 9:30 a. m., with the pastor, Rev. W. W. Senterlin, in charge. Just whether the pastors morning sermon or the usual Sunday school exercises will be first on the program the congregation will not know until the opening hour arrives Sunday morning. This is simply an experiment of the pastor in an attempt to solve the problems of getting the older folks in the teaching service and keeping the younger for the preaching.

Funeral of Bishop Doane.

New York, May 17.—The funeral of Bishop William C. Crowell Doane of the Episcopal diocese of Albany, who died here of heart trouble early today will be held in All Saints cathedral Albany on Tuesday afternoon. Interment will be in a vault in the cathedral which was erected largely through his efforts.

Local Shriners in Full Force Welcome Forrest Adair Home From Victorious Dallas Trip

It was just Atlanta, that's all. No other word will describe the rousing hearty welcome to victorious Potentate Forrest Adair, of Yaarab temple, when his train rolled into the Terminal station shed exactly on the hour yesterday, bringing him home from Dallas, where he had succeeded in capturing the 1914 imperial council of Shriners for this city. He had done what Atlanta sent him to do, and Atlanta was at the train and on the streets to rejoice with him over it.

There was nothing omitted in the arrangements to make the home coming reception given to Mr. Adair complete and perfect in the Atlanta way. Marshalled by Colonel Fred J. Faxon, chairman of the executive committee of Yaarab temple, the local Shriners with fezes on and Japanese umbrellas over their heads, marched from the Masonic temple on Peachtree street and took possession of the Terminal station about ten minutes before the train's arrival. They were escorted by a squad of mounted police. The band played lively airs and the crowds along Peachtree and Whitehall streets knowing what was afoot, fell in with the Shriners and followed them to the station.

Knoxville Is Represented.

There was on hand also a body of twenty-five Shriners from the patrol of the Alhambra temple of Knoxville, Tenn., as enthusiastic, all of them over the home coming of the potentate as the Atlantans themselves. These had arrived in town unexpectedly at an earlier hour in the day, on their way home from Dallas, and had remained over to join in the festivities.

In the line of march which had formed to go to the station were a number of automobiles with their quota of ladies who would not be left behind in extending their greetings to the hero of the day.

And the camels were there too. The big one from Grant park and the two little ones although one of them had to be brought along in an automobile truck and deposited at the station plaza just before the arrival of the train.

On the station esplanade the local Shriners and their Knoxville brothers arranged themselves in a double line through which the potentate might pass when he arrived. During the few minutes' wait, they amused themselves in true Shriner fashion by singing songs about the long drought which would shortly be broken and giving yells.

Cheers Break Loose.

When at last the train rolled under the shed and presently Mr. Adair was seen walking up the stairs, the cheers broke forth in real earnest. Nearly every one knew the potentate and shook his hand as he passed through the double line. Out on the plaza, there was a pause of several minutes while Mr. Adair posed for his picture which a half dozen photographers were waiting to take.

Then the triumphant parade began. First the police escort then the band then the camels sober and dusty and dry, and then the potentate in an automobile with his son Forrest Adair Jr., at the wheel. Immediately behind

Looks Like Rain, Said Alex; Sure Does, Laughed Johnny; Two Coaches in Fanning Bee

Alex Cunningham and John Heisman, coaches of the two big rivals, Georgia and Tech, were seen on Peachtree street Friday night, arm in arm, patting each other on the back, telling each other what great ball clubs they had.

"Looks like rain," said Alex, glancing at the leaden covered heavens.

"Sure does," laughed Johnny.

And well he could laugh. Tech had won two games and Georgia but one. What cared Heisman if it rained.

Now Alex wished it had.

THE WIGWAM HOTEL Opens Tuesday for Season.

Well known Georgia Resort opens under same management as of last season.

Indian Springs, Ga., May 17.—The Wigwam Hotel opens the season formally next Tuesday, May 20, and indications are said to be for the best season in years.

The Wigwam Hotel, located at Indian Springs, centrally situated between Atlanta and Macon, easily accessible by rail or by auto, has during the past few seasons become very popular indeed.

The Wigwam is owned and operated by Messrs. Scoville Bros, who operate The Morris Hotel at Birmingham, with Mr. Sherwood Thaxton as manager.

Mr. Thaxton is one of the south's well known young hotel men, having been connected with Scoville Bros several seasons prior to that of last season, as manager, and during the winter seasons has been at such well known hotels as the Tampa Bay at Tampa Fla. The Hotel Galvez, at Galveston, Texas, and last winter was at Hotel Dinkler, Macon, Ga.

How Victory Was Won.

Mr. Adair was kept so busy responding to welcoming friends all day that he had little time to tell how he won the victory.

We went there with true Atlanta determination he said, and that means that we were not coming home without next year's council. That is the way we felt about it, and the other fellows knew we meant business. Memphis was soon out of the running. Even when they submitted Buffalo, we beat them on the floor of the convention more than two to one. Now next year we will show them just how Atlanta does things.

How about Mr. Hauck of Memphis who wanted to wager you a walking trip home? Mr. Adair was asked.

Well I saw Mr. Hauck in Memphis last night and he did not walk home, was the reply.

Mr. Adair came unattended yesterday ahead of his party. The other delegates, the patrol and the drum corps are scheduled to arrive on a special train over the Southern this morning.

They should reach the Terminal station at 9 o'clock or shortly thereafter. There will be a number of local Shriners at the train to greet them, but owing to their getting in on Sunday, there will be no music or parade.

THE NEW CITY BY THE SEA

This most remarkable Real Estate development, on Florida's east coast, appeals to every portion of the Great South-east.

It offers in the wonderfully beautiful lands surrounding the Atlantic Beach Hotel, formerly The Continental, which is known everywhere, the choicest home sites, either on the finest ocean beach in the world, or back a few hundred feet in the no less attractive palm and oak forests.

It offers homes already built and ready for occupancy, or lots where you may build your own home and surround yourself with your own belongings. You may live here one month or twelve, and rent your home when you do not occupy it yourself.

Atlantic Beach was equipped with an electric lighting plant and an abundant supply of artesian water before the foundations of a single residence was laid.

Where, on the first of March, was an almost impenetrable jungle, there are now a score of beautiful bungalows and houses under roof, and most of them will be ready for occupancy early in June. The materials for forty more are on the ground, waiting for the masons and carpenters. Some of them have been sold in advance of their completion and the new owners are impatient for possession. Streets have been laid out, ready for top dressing of hard surface; sidewalks and sewer lines have been run, and the ornamental light posts are ready for the electric wiring.

Atlantic Beach appeals also as an investment proposition.

Since March 1 the sales here have amounted to EIGHTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS. Less than one-fifth of the property has been prepared for this season's sales. At the present rate, most of this, perhaps all, will be under contract to bona-fide purchasers by July 15.

It is exclusively high-class property. It will be kept so. The demand for it is strong, and growing stronger. It will increase, probably double, its value within two years. You cannot lose. You must make money if you buy here merely as an investment, and without intending to build a home. With a lot improved your profit would be even greater, and surer.

Here is the finest suburb of Florida's most rapidly growing city. There is no more desirable location, nor one with more natural beauties and advantages anywhere in the country. You need only to see to be convinced that this is no overstatement. It will become one of the great resorts, and one of the most beautiful cities on the entire Atlantic coast.

The prices of lots here range upward from six hundred and twenty-five dollars. While it is not a ten-dollar-down-and-ten-a-month proposition, it is within the reach of any desirable citizen who can afford to pay twenty dollars or more a month for house rental.

The way to be convinced is to see it, and when you know what you can find out by writing for the information, you will at least want to come. It costs very little, after all, to write.

A WHITEHALL STREET CORNER BARGAIN
170 FEET FRONT on Whitehall Street, running back to the railroad, only $125 front foot, on reasonable terms. Can you beat this? Come in and let us tell you about it.

ON BEAUTIFUL ST. CHARLES AVENUE
A 70-FOOT STREET, fine shade and elevation, near Adkins Park and Druid Hills, we have two lots 50x200 each (100 feet front), $2,250 each. Reasonable terms.

SOUTH SIDE PICK-UP
CLOSE IN, on Central Avenue, we can sell you a good 2 story, 7-room house, renting for $27.50 per month, for $3,250, on terms.

EAST TENTH STREET LOT
OVERLOOKING beautiful PIEDMONT PARK, the only lot for sale in this choice neighborhood. The lot is 50x100 feet, an ideal site for a home. Come at once or you'll be too late. The only lot offered for sale.

INMAN PARK
WE HAVE a beautiful 2 story house in Inman Park, on a corner lot 50x170 feet. This house was built for a home out of the very best material, and workmanship by day labor the owner superintending the work himself. He has moved from the city and given us the house for sale at a price $1,500 below for what it could be built for today. The house is two years old and in good condition (he will not rent it), but it must be sold. At a sacrifice price can give terms. See us about this beautiful home.

ST. CHARLES AVE.
BETWEEN Boulevard and the ball park, we have just had listed for sale the prettiest vacant lot on the street. Slightly elevated, shade trees, 50 feet front and 200 feet deep to an alley. Faces north, and is the only vacant lot around. The owner leaves the city at once, and for quick sale has allowed us to place a price of $3,000. Will show you this any time.

PEACHTREE (Investment)
WE HAVE just had listed two bargains south of Alexander street for $1,200 per foot. The total investment on each lot will be about $24,000, and one-fifth or one-sixth will turn the trick.

INVESTMENT
ON THE NORTH SIDE, a brick store, three street fronts, rented for three years at $140. Big lot. Price, $15,000 with $5,000 cash. If you have that much cash you can't place it to better advantage.

AUBURN AVENUE
WITHIN 200 FEET of a $1,300 value we have a lot 72½x196 for $410 per front foot. A small subdivision can be made and the purchaser can double his cash payment. The owners will give four bonds for title. See us about this at once.

BUILDING PROPOSITIONS
WE HAVE several building propositions suitable for wholesale or retail business apartment or hotels. They are located on several places on Peachtree Whitehall Street, Trinity Avenue Garnett Street, Central Avenue, Luckie Street, Auburn Avenue and Baker Street. They are nearly all corners. Will be glad to go into detail.

TURMAN, BLACK & CALHOUN
SECOND FLOOR EMPIRE BUILDING.

MARIETTA STREET
75 FEET FRONT back to railroad, making a fine location for warehouse or stores, has fair income now, is close in, and good prospect for investment or speculation. Easy terms.

WEST PEACHTREE HOME
10 ROOMS, 2 baths, hardwood floors, steam heat, screened—in fact, all conveniences. This is a new house, quite attractive, on splendid lot and ready to move right into. Can arrange terms, and will take pleasure in showing it.

NORTH SIDE BARGAIN
IN HOMES of 9 rooms, 2 baths, furnace, all conveniences; side drive and garage. Good-sized lot, right at trolley, accessible to Piedmont park and Tenth Street school. $6,750. Easy terms.

ANSLEY PARK
ANOTHER BARGAIN in new bungalow, with all conveniences. 55 foot lot, cherted street well built up, within one block of trolley stop. This is a good home proposition, but builder has left city, and hence the bargain—$5,000, on terms.

WITH TILE walks, water and sewer, for $1,250 and up on the north side, only a few of them; on easy terms.

W. W. Warren, Gustave Kuhn, C. W. Hunter.

W. E. WORLEY

E. RIVERS REALTY COMPANY
8 WEST ALABAMA. BOTH PHONES 1207.

MAGNIFICENT HOME GREAT BIG LOT
WITHIN a few hundred feet of Peachtree, and twenty minutes' ride from center of town, we offer for sale a handsome home of eight rooms, on a lot 81x400 feet. The house is situated on a beautiful elevation, and the view from the front porch cannot be surpassed. The price is only $7,850 on very reasonable terms. This is a beauty. For particulars see Mr. MacLagan.

WHITEHALL STREET CORNER
WE HAVE the cheapest corner on the street, and we believe it to be the best corner. Now that the grading is assured, now is the time to buy. It has 72½ feet front, and business is already there, and it is paying something now. The best of terms can be had. This property will double in value in the near future. See Mr. Hamilton.

WEST PEACHTREE STREET
NEAR JUNCTION of Peachtree Street, a promising semi-central tract at an inviting price. Don't forget that West Peachtree is to be regraded at once, and prices will advance quickly and materially. See Colonel Cohen.

HOME AT SACRIFICE
TEN ROOMS, hardwood finish, all spacious bedrooms, furnace heat, servant's rooms, garage, large lot, 120x280, luxuriant shade, fine garden. Worth $15,000. Owner will take $10,500, on very easy terms. Great sacrifice.

NORTH SIDE HOME—$2,750
ON ONE of our new streets, where all the houses are new, we have the very attractive home. It has six large rooms, with most attractive fixtures and mantels, large shade trees and everything in fine shape. The owner is leaving the city and has made this low price in order to move it quick. Houses not near so attractive on this street have sold for $4,250 and $4,500. If you want a home at a bargain price see Mr. Hamilton.

ANSLEY PARK BUNGALOW LOT 75x200
JUST OFF PIEDMONT AVENUE car line we have for sale a splendid 6-room, furnace-heated bungalow. Large rooms, electric lights, gas, tile bath, large front porch. Price, $5,500 on terms. See Mr. MacLagan.

INVESTMENT AND HOME
IN ONE of the coming north side streets we have a lot 110 feet front and 220 feet deep, with frontage on three streets. It has a nice little cottage on it, which, with a little money spent on it, would make a dandy home. There are large shade trees on the lot, some fruit and grapes. The street is paved and car line is to pass the door soon, and when it does this property will double in value. In other words, this is four lots with two corners, and a low price of $3,500, on easy terms. See Mr. Hamilton.

SUBURBAN ACREAGE
SUBURBAN TRACT of 185 acres close to Marietta car line—an ideal home, a gentleman's farm, a place to be proud of. At a force sale will accept $85 per acre. There is $7,000 due on place that can be carried for a term of years. Owner will accept some city property in exchange. See Mr. Stafford.

AN EXQUISITE HOME
COLONIAL in design artistically planned and located in the most fashionable section of Atlanta, we offer for sale a most unusual home. House contains five bedrooms, one bedroom and private bath on first floor. Owners are indifferent about selling, but if you want to bring your "home search" to an end, inquire about this. Phone Mr. Chapman for further particulars.

THIS IS "SOME" BARGAIN
THREE BLOCKS FROM CENTER OF CITY
ADJOINING LOT on one side of this property recently sold for $160 per front foot adjoining lot on other side cannot be bought for less than $300 per foot. Price on this for a short time $130 per front foot. Terms can be arranged. This is on the north side. See Mr. MacLagan about this.

SALESMEN:
JAMES L. LOGAN, J. M. CHAPMAN, F. J. COHEN,
R. W. MACLAGAN, R. M. HAMILTON, F. A. STAFFORD

JOHNSON & YOUNG
215 Peters Building—REAL ESTATE—Bell Phone Main 2245.

HOMES
IN INMAN PARK, we have a new 6-room bungalow, built one year ago; can be bought for $750 less than it's worth. Has hot and cold water, gas and electricity; on a lot 45x155 feet to an alley. Terms $500 cash, balance $30 per month, assume a loan of $2,000 running 4 years. All city improvements down. If you want a nice home, SEE THIS.

ON WEST SIDE, and on a 40-foot street, with all improvements down, we have a good 4-room house for $1,050; $100 cash, balance $15 per month; rents for $10 per month.

BARGAIN IN ACREAGE NEAR ATLANTA
WE HAVE some of the most attractive propositions that we have ever offered, ranging from 5 to 1,200 acres. This property is located so you can live out and have all accommodations you need, and especially on the new car line to Stone Mountain. Price right, and good terms.

MARIETTA STREET, near Latimer, 57 feet front, with 12-foot alley at the side. This is an excellent location, and is getting better every day. At the present low price, of $275 per foot, there is a quick sure profit in this. About $3,500 cash will handle it.

Mrs. Louisa Berrien Seabrook, who made the first Confederate flag and presented it to the Oglethorpe Light Infantry, died at her home in Savannah, Ga., Saturday, May 17, at the age of 88. She was the daughter of the late John Seabrook, a soldier in the Revolutionary war, where her family is widely connected and prominent. Her first husband was General Francis Bartow, who was killed at the first battle of Manassas. Later she was married to Colonel E. M. Seabrook. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but it is the intention to carry the body to Savannah for interment, and it will probably be taken there Sunday night.

SERBS AND BULGARS ARE LIKELY TO FIGHT

Cologne, Germany, May 17.—That a Serbo-Bulgarian conflict is inevitable should Serbia persist in her demand for a revision of the ante-bellum treaty existing between those countries with regard to a division of spoils of war, and if Serbia doesn't submit for Russian arbitration the question of disposal of districts left open by the same treaty, is the belief expressed in a dispatch received by The Cologne Gazette today from its Sofia correspondent, who says he reached this conclusion after interviewing several Bulgarian and Serbian party leaders at the Bulgarian capital. Continuing, the correspondent says: "Bulgaria will not hesitate to conclude an alliance with Austria-Hungary if such a step is necessary to achieve the long-cherished Bulgarian feeling in Bulgaria is running high, and is increasing hourly, and war, if it comes, will be bitter."

SAVANNAH SOCIAL NEWS

Savannah, Ga., May 17.—(Special Correspondence.)—The "Kirmess" this week and the "Country Fair" held Tuesday by the Froebel circle for the benefit of the Fresh Air home, at Tybee, were two big events that kept all society busy. Miss Rosalind Wood was the queen of Kirmess, which was given at the Savannah theater last night and tonight, and Lieutenant Stephen McGregor, U. S. A., was king. Maids of honor were Misses Marie McAlpin, Hazel Beards, Ellen Carter, Ermine Munford, Ruth Ryan and Nanette West. The "Kirmess" was the most brilliant thing of the kind given here in some years, and brought in a considerable sum to the Daughters of the Confederacy for their confederate memorial hall.

The "Country Fair," besides its other attractions, was distinguished by a dramatic performance, under the management of Mrs. J. C. Titzell, in which some of the best amateurs of the city took part. Mrs. W. P. Baker was chairman of the circle of this end of the affair. The program consisted of a skit, "A Ribbon for His Typewriter," presented by Miss Eliza Lamar Hill, Miss Belle Baxter and Edward Manning; a song, "Playmates," in which twelve boys and girls represented children of the Fresh Air home on the beach, those taking part being Misses Hendree Davis, Eloise Grady, Helen Strode, Mary Joetta Cutts, Gladys Cassette, Elizabeth Perkins and Messrs. Fred Howden, Beverley Kelley, Charles Seaward, Lamar Baker, Wilton Puder and Frank Mackall; an impersonation of Vaska Surratt and Harry Lauder, by Mrs. Titzell and other specialties, and a cabaret scene in which those taking part were Mrs. Marion Lucas, Mr. Moses Ferst, Miss Sara Roddy, Miss Rossingol, Dr. Kingman White, William Sanderson, Carol and Isaac Minis, Edward Hunter, Mrs. Gordon Harrison, Mrs. Titzell, Miss Emma Walther, Miss Eliza Schley, Miss Katharine, Miss Patience Barrow, Miss Helen Ellis and Miss Kate Bell. A specialty was a "rose ballet" by some well-known men—Steen Bryan, Robert Riley, Gilbert Lang, Isaac Minis and Deitz Clark, all representing girls. Mrs. Godin Guerard, very cleverly disguised as a fortune teller, and other attractions in the grounds were in charge of Miss Pritchard, Miss Barrow, Stoddard, Mrs. Edward Stoddard and Mrs. Hampton Wade.

Mrs. George J. Baldwin and Miss Dorcas Baldwin left Thursday for a short visit to their country home at Flat Rock.

Mrs. J. C. Guild, of Chattanooga, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Edgar Nichols.

Mrs. C. N. West, of St. Joseph, Mo., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Wilkins.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Cabell will return next week from their wedding trip.

Miss Laura Boyd will return the end of next week from New York.

As an aftermath to the "Kirmess" the Daughters of the Confederacy will entertain all the young ladies who took part very pleasantly next week. The children will be given a party at the regimental armory Monday afternoon. Both the gymnasium and the yard have been engaged for the occasion. There will be piano music for dancing and refreshments will be served. It was originally intended to entertain the children at the Casino, but it was found more advisable to have the party in town. The older boys and girls in the "Kirmess" are invited to meet the Daughters at the Casino on Monday evening. They may invite their own special friends, if they wish, the girls in the dances which no boys took part being allowed to invite their escorts. At the Casino they will be met by chaperons, and it is believed that a delightful evening will be spent. There will be dancing in the Casino hall, and refreshments will be served by the Daughters.

was also given to the honoree. Punch was served on the porch by Misses Armatine and Helen Sanders.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown George will entertain Tuesday evening, May 20, from 9 until 12 o'clock, at their home on East Washington street in celebration of their twenty-fifth anniversary.

A wedding of exceeding interest to the people of Gainesville is that of Mrs. Mary Pillow Soales and Mr. Edwin Candes French, of New Orleans, La., which will take place Thursday, May 22, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Soales Pillow, on Green street, at high noon.

The sewing party at which Miss Lettie Smith was hostess Friday afternoon was a pretty compliment to Mrs. Mary Pillow Soales. Fifteen of Miss Smith's friends were invited to meet Mrs. Soales and were entertained on the large veranda of the Smith home on Green street circle.

Wednesday afternoon Miss Alice entertained at a bridge party for Mrs. Soales.

The guest prize was a hand-painted picture; the first prize was a fan, hand-painted in pink rosebuds, and the consolation was a book. Mrs. J. H. Downey and Miss Birdie Ward served punch, and an ice course was served, carrying out the color scheme pink.

Saturday afternoon Miss Elizabeth Green will entertain six tables at bridge, and Wednesday evening Mrs. J. H. Downey will give a large reception in honor of Mrs. Soales.

ROME, GA.

The Music Lovers held the most important meeting of the year with Mrs. W. F. Harbin Tuesday afternoon. Following a pleasant program was the annual election of officers, which resulted in the following corps: Mrs. W. F. Harbin, president; Miss Jessie Fine, secretary; and Miss Janie Fahy, treasurer. The program committee announced the study of the season to be the continuation of grand opera.

Miss Helen Eastman entertained a dozen guests at auction bridge Thursday morning to honor Mrs. Guy Eastman, of Atlanta, who is visiting her for several weeks. Several other affairs are planned for Mrs. Eastman.

Monday afternoon Mrs. E. P. Treadaway and Mrs. Edward Proctor were associate hostesses of the Xazler chapter, D. A. R., at the home of the former. Mrs. Edward Hume entertained the chancel guild of St. Peter's church Monday on the regular date of their meeting, adding a social half hour to the business session.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Irwin entertained Monday pleasantly for Mrs. D. T. Kelley, of Knoxville; Mrs. A. D. Gilbert, of Arkansas; and Miss E. M. Kelley, of East Orange, N. J., a trio of guests in the home of Mrs. Harry E. Kelley.

Mrs. Caldwell Porter was hostess to the Auction Bridge club, of which she is a member Wednesday afternoon at the Coosa Country club.

The dancing contingent of the Country club gave a script dance, at the clubhouse Friday evening.

At the Saturday tea-pairing of the Country club Mesdames Charles Porter and Reuben Towers presided.

Miss Joy Harper is the guest of her brother, Mr. Houston R. Harper, in Chattanooga.

Mrs. Cornelius Terhune spent the week with friends in Atlanta, while in attendance upon the Presbyterian assembly.

Misses Clara and Florence Yancey, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Donald Giles, in Chhattanooga, Mexico, will return home this week.

Mrs. J. W. May and Miss Florence Kelley May, of Bessemer, will be guests of relatives early next week.

Mrs. J. Lindsay Johnson is spending this week in Atlanta.

IN ATLANTA'S SOCIAL REALM NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Conducted By ISMA DOOLY

Woman's Baptist Missionary
The Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of Atlanta, Ga., will hold its twenty-fifth anniversary celebration on Sunday, May 18, at 3 p. m. at the Odeon, 1840 N. Grand avenue.
A pageant of states will be a feature of the jubilee, in which the banner of each state will be borne by some young woman representative of that state.
The song to be used during the professional was furnished by a Georgia woman, Miss Reynolds.
The planning of the Georgia banner was placed in the hands of Mrs. P. G. Aultry, of Manchester, and Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, of Atlanta, and it is most artistic. The work has been executed by an Atlanta firm and is a credit to their skill. It is in the shape of a shield, which stands for "Faith," it is 36x33 inches in size.
Its color is light blue, the Georgia W. B. M. U. color, and stands for purity of purpose. It is ornamented with bunches of papers, which stand for faithfulness, and has a border of silver lace. The lettering is: W. B. M. U., of Georgia, 1822 jubilee; 1828-1913.
This is done in blue, outlined in silver. The grapes are also outlined in silver. The banner is suspended from a standard, having a silver arrow head at the top and from each side, from which hang silver cord and tassels.
Among the delegates in attendance from Georgia are Mrs. W. J. Neal, Cartersville, president of Georgia mission; Mrs. J. C. Lanier, of West Point; Miss E. L. Amos, Atlanta; Mrs. E. P. Greenboro; Miss Ruth Jinks, Atlanta; Mrs. H. H. Tift, Tifton; Mrs. E. L. Connally, Atlanta; Mrs. T. P. Bell, Atlanta; Mrs. B. D. Gray, College Park; Mrs. D. O. Dougherty, Atlanta; Miss Volle Askew, West Point; Miss Sara Hackney, Lafayette; Mrs. J. F. Dyches, Savannah; Mrs. W. C. Askew, Savannah, and others.

Mrs. Grant Official Hostess.

Mrs. John A. Grant was the official hostess at the beautiful luncheon given yesterday by the hospitality committee of the Presbyterian assembly convention, in honor of the visiting ladies to the convention representing the various church organizations meeting here. There were a hundred and seventy-five in the party assembled at 1:30 o'clock in the ballroom of the Piedmont Driving club, where, in parties of six and eight, the guests were seated at small tables.
While each table was radiant with flowers, with the colors of the rose prevailing, the decorative scheme was further carried out in the ballroom, where there were elaborate floral decorations on all sides. The red rambling rose, with thick-set foliage, concealed the columns on each side of the long room, and the mantle at the end was banked with woodland smilax and the soft tinted mountain laurel. The orchestra gallery had a similar decoration, and at the windows and doorways were stately plants, completing the general scheme.
An orchestra presented a brilliant musical program, and the occasion was a most happy one, giving the first opportunity for the many charming visiting ladies to meet with a group of Atlanta's representative women. The ladies of the committee assisting Mrs. Grant in entertaining her guests were: Mrs. C. E. Walker, Mrs. S. M. Inman, Mrs. R. J. Lowry, Mrs. W. S. Elkin, Mrs. Bulow Campbell, Mrs. I. K. Orr, Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Archibald Davis, Mrs. A. A. Little, Mrs. William Hill, Mrs. N. P. Pratt, Mrs. George S. Moffett, Mrs. Hugh Walker, Mrs. D. H. Ogden, Mrs. Orma Fittin, Mrs. J. T. ### To Miss Hutcheson.

Miss Rosalie Hutcheson, of Houston, Texas, arrives Wednesday to be the guest of Miss Sarah Rawson, and Miss Rawson and others will entertain in her honor.

For Mrs. Wheeler.

Miss Hennie Franklin entertained at a pretty bridge party yesterday afternoon at her home on Cooper street, in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Wheeler, of Birmingham.

Meeting for Young People.

An interesting service will be held this evening at 7 o'clock at the Wesley Memorial church for the young people especially. Mr. A. O. Tippins will give a talk, illustrated with stereoscopic views. All young people are invited.

Alpha Delta Phi Sorority.

A meeting of the Atlanta members of the Alpha Delta Phi sorority will be held Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Carnegie library. All members are urged to be present, as a delegate will be elected at this time to represent the Atlanta chapter at the national conference to be held in Chicago on June 18, 19, 20.

Mrs. Moreland Entertains.

Mrs. W. A. Moreland entertained twenty-five guests on last Thursday afternoon with charming hospitality, the occasion marking the opening of her new home on Westwood avenue. The living room, extending across the front of the house, was beautifully decorated with palms and flowering ferns.

Pink roses in crystal bowls and vases were attractively placed in the dining room.
In a "March through Georgia" Mrs. E. H. Dawson won first prize, a brass instrument, the consolation going to Mrs. John Hogan.

Mrs. Moreland was a delightful hostess, wearing a bordered foulard in black and white, with a corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas. She was assisted by Mrs. Watson, Miss Louise Moreland and Elizabeth Watson served lunch. The guests of the afternoon were the members of Moreland's auxiliary, with a few outside guests.

Silver Tea.

The Young Ladies Missionary Society No. 1 of the First Methodist church, will give a silver tea at the home of Miss Hazel Kirk, 113 E. Pine street, corner of Piedmont avenue, Tuesday, May 26th, from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 8 to 10 o'clock in the evening. All members of the church, and all who are interested in the extension of missions are urged to attend.

At Miss Woodberry's School.
The beautiful lawn fête on yesterday afternoon marked the alumnae feature of the commencement of Miss Woodberry's school, and was attended by a large number of the girls of former years. Miss Woodberry was assisted in receiving by the faculty and seniors. Refreshments were served by the under graduates. The seniors held their class tree exercises, which formed a most interesting feature of the afternoon's program. "The Modern School Girl" was described by Miss Edith McCool, class president and editor in chief of The Annual, which was formally presented to the school on this occasion. It was named "Leaves from Peachtree and Pine, and is dedicated to Miss Rosa Woodberry.

The history of the senior class was read by the talented first honor graduate, Miss Edith McCool, and Miss Woodberry, who is also business manager of The Annual. The prophecy of the class was read by one of the most brilliant members of the school, Miss Elliott Johnson, whose literary ability is recognized in a remarkable degree. Her contribution to The Annual, "The Witty class" will be read by Miss Ethelyn Lamar Coleman, an honor graduate, and the response by a popular young Freshman, Miss Louise Dobbs. Miss Charles Ryan, who is the second honor graduate, presented in a most delightful way a portrait in water colors of Miss Rosa Woodberry, framed in gold, to the school on behalf of the seniors. The Annual was presented by Miss Edith McCool, and the response made by Miss Woodberry. The song, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," the party assembled in the school auditorium where the following contributed to a beautiful musical program: Misses Venus Wood and Mary Frances Whetstone, Miss Mary Frances Whetstone, Miss Lucile Dean, Miss Fay Taylor, Miss Harriette Broyles. A violin recital was given by Miss Margaret de Purucker.
This evening at 6 o'clock the school will have its annual service in the school chapel. When the bacalaureate sermon will be preached by the Rev. C. T. A. Pise, D. D. The chants and hymns will be appropriate to the day. Trinity Sunday, and the evening prayer will be led by Dr. Pise. The seniors will be present in a body, and all friends are invited to attend.
Tomorrow will close the commencement with the graduating exercises in the assembly hall at 8 o'clock in the evening. The bacalaureate address will be made by the Rev. W. W. McMillen, and the largest graduating class in the history of the school will receive their diplomas. The stage will be decorated in green and white, and the seniors will carry pink roses, their class flower.

Monday, Our Great Half-Price Sale Day

Every Suit and Many Fine Dresses—Silk and Wool Shall Be Sold at Exactly Half Its Original Selling Price

We have appointed Monday, May nineteen, the greatest selling in the history of our business, and we have had some big days. We expect to make it so because we shall sell real Ready-to-Wear at half price. Suits and Dresses will take the leading parts, and that means just this—that every suit, silk or wool, and many handsome dresses, including our finest silk dresses and magnificent evening gowns, will be placed in this sweeping half-price sale.

The season is not late and very many of these dresses have arrived here within the past sixty days—none of them have been carried over. They are every one new spring stock, and a very important point that we insist upon impressing is that every garment in the sale bears our stamp of style and quality, and every one is absolutely correct with regard to workmanship and materials used.

A Splendid Showing of White Footwear

We have forty-one different styles of white pumps, ties, colonials and high shoes. You have never seen a larger and more complete stock of white footwear than we are showing this season. Since the introduction of such splendid white cleaning preparations the argument of being hard to clean has been dispelled. It is really today as practical and economical type of footwear as black or tan, if not more so, and certainly nothing is more appropriate to be worn with white or light frocks than a beautiful white Sea Island canvas or white buckskin or white kid low shoe. We commence at $3.00 in canvas, $3.50 in white buckskin, and $4.00 in white kid skin, and can furnish them up to $6.00 a pair. We have almost every style imaginable. The prevailing low heel and rubber sole type are very strong in white buckskin and white canvas.

White Canvas Turn Sole Pump or Colonial, $4.00
Same in Buckskin, $5.00 and $6.00

The good lasts that you have been wearing in our boots, pumps, ties or colonials can be found in white, as we buy our white shoes from the same factories that we get all of our other good styles from.

We will give a box of white Nova, white Blanco or white Albo dressing with every pair of white canvas or buckskin pumps, ties or colonials that we sell next week. This offer will only be in force for the week May 19th to the 24th.

New Low Heel White Buckskin, $4.50
Same in Canvas, except plain toe, $3.50 and $4.00

Third Ward Civic Club.

On Thursday evening, May 22, at the Woman's Club building, on Baker street, the Woman's Civic Club of the third ward will give a beautiful entertainment.

Miss Berenice Horton, a recent graduate of the Detroit Training School of Education and English Literature, will present a delightful program. She will be assisted by Miss Ruth Oppenheim, whose flute-like voice holds promise of a great future.

Miss Julia Dunning, a popular pianist, will play several piano selections and accompany the others in their numbers.

An admission of 25 cents will be charged, and an evening of pleasure is promised, all who attend.

The program follows:

Overture—Miss Dunning.

(a) Mountain of Peace; (b) Newspaper Impudence—Miss Horton.

Acta (from Traviata), Verdi—Miss Oppenheim.

"The Boss" (a) Mammy's Angel Child; (b) Fingers and Thumbs; (c) Tales My Mother Told to Me; "The Song of the Cardinal," Jim Fenton's Wedding—Miss Horton.

(a) The Russian Nigunigale; (b) The Men; (c) The Maiden's Wish—Miss Oppenheim.

Madame Pevsner to Lecture.

Madame Bella Pevsner, of Jaffa, Palestine, a noted lecturer of world-wide fame will deliver a lecture under the auspices of the Council of Jewish Women, Sunday afternoon, May 18, at 3 p. m., at the Educational Alliance. The council will hold their Peace Day meeting at this time also. All council members and their friends are urged to attend this interesting meeting.

Mrs. Brown's Recital.

Pupils of the Atlanta Conservatory of Music and Oratory from the piano class of Mrs. Lottie Gray Browne, assisted by pupils from the classes of Miss Sarah Adelle Eastick, oratory, and Mr. George F. Lindner, violin, will give a recital in Cable hall on Friday evening, May 24, at 8:15 p. m. The public is cordially invited.

Chautauqua Day at Albany.

The club women of the Second District Federation are cordially invited to attend "Club Day" at Albany on Tuesday, May 20. The program will begin at 11:30, with music by the Chautauqua band. Mr. J. S. Davis will introduce Dr. Carolina Geifel, who will address the meeting. Lunch will be served to all visiting club members at the New Albany hotel.

Garden Party.

Mrs. John Spalding, president of the Alumnae, the other officers of the association, Mrs. and Miss Scott, and the twenty-one members of the senior class, standing under the trees on the beautiful lawn of the Washington seminary, welcomed warmly the "Old Girls" to the new home on Friday afternoon.

The special feature of the afternoon was the chorus sung by members of the junior and senior class, and the May pole dance by the seniors. The pole crowned with roses, ribbons of various colors, held by pretty girls robed in white, made a picture pleasing to remember. The first social affair of the Alumnae was a great success.

Mrs. Askew Entertains.

Mrs. John David Askew entertained at a bridge party for her guest, Miss Pattie Will Askew, of Columbus, Miss., at her home on Jackson street on Wednesday. The game was followed by a linen shower for her sister, Miss Eula Varnell, whose marriage to Mr. James Fitch, formerly of New Hampshire, but now of Atlanta, will be an interesting event of June 4th. The favors were pink roses filled with rice, which showered the bride-elect after which a parasol of dainty linen was showered upon her. The prizes were hand-embroidered lingerie garments, the work of the hostess and were won

Miss Davis to Entertain.

Miss Dorothy Davis, who is a member of the Junior class of Miss Hannah's school, will entertain the members of her class together with the seniors, at a heart dice party at her home on Boulevard terrace on Saturday, May 24. Thirty guests will be entertained. Miss Pattie Will Askew, of Columbus, Miss., will be the guest of honor.

McRae-Allen.

Mrs. J. D. MacRae announces the marriage of her daughter, Isabelle, to Mr. Scott W. Allen, the marriage having taken place on May 14, 1913, at the Central Presbyterian church, Dr. Dunbar Ogden officiating. Mr. Allen and his bride left immediately for a tour through the west. They will be at home to their friends at 60 Hurt street, Inman Park, after June 1st.

"Inter Se" Club Entertained.

The "Inter Se" club was delightfully entertained Tuesday evening at an informal dance at the home of Miss Christine Wilson in Inman Park. Punch and other refreshments were served during the evening.

Club members are:

Misses Claire Booth, Elizabeth Ramey, Christine Wilson, Margaret Bramlet and Mary Anderson; Messrs. La Verne Withers, Ernest Allen, Mercer Lee, Clyde Withers, Herbert Kelly, Lawrence Stroble, Clifford Brown, Pope Franklin and Matt Wheeler. Other invited guests were Miss Ruby McLaughlin, Miss Maude Lewis and Miss Wilson, Mr. Alvin Lovingsood and Mr. Stephen Elkin. The next meeting will be with Miss Elizabeth Ramey.

Homely, Yet Admired and Envied; Her Secret

The convention crowd in the lobby made a path for her, cast admiring side glances, then with longing eyes followed her to the elevator. It was at the Ponchartraine in Detroit. The incident was recalled when I chanced to sit across table from the woman. What was it about her that caused all that commotion? She wasn't handsome; she was lacking in form and feature. Yet she did seem marvellously fascinating. Her complexion must be the secret. Really, I've never beheld its equal. Venturing to pick up acquaintance, I learned the reason.

"I know I'm not built for beauty,"

she confided, "but I've tried to make the most of my one charm. I've learned that men adore make-ups and artificiality. I bar cosmetics; there are just two things I ever use and they promote natural lovetiveness and youthful appearance. When my complexion begins to age, I get an ounce of mercurized wax at the drug store, apply at night like cold cream and wash it off in the morning. This gradually flakes off the outer skin; then I have a brand new complexion, magnetically beautiful, as you see. Wrinkles never bother me. At their inception I bathe my face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. It works like magic."—Mona Morrow in Town Tattler.—(adv.)

Nurses Graduate.

Friday evening, May 23, is the date for the graduation exercises at Wesley Memorial church, when four young women will be given diplomas from Wesley Memorial hospital. Excellent music and good singing are also features of the occasion. All interested in the hospital should show their interest by attending, and especially should the Methodist be present, thereby showing their hearty co-operation.

For Miss Streadwell.

Mrs. Flora Newcomer entertained at a lovely dinner party the past week in honor of Miss Mary Roberta Streadwell, with an informal dance afterwards.

Piano Recital.

The piano recital which Miss Martha Bearden gave with eighteen of her pupils on Friday afternoon, was a delightful affair. Delicious ices were served during the evening. Those taking part in the program were: Miss Marckena Hilderbrand, Miss Little Grobbil, Miss Eleanor Byers, Miss Louise Cook, Master John Grobbil, Miss Marckena Hilderbrand, Miss Leontine Hilderbrand, Mr. Walter Grobbil, Miss Leonora Salter, Miss Roberta Gulfrida, Miss Maude Estes, Miss Virginia Casden, Miss Maydelle Elrod, Miss Annie Eberhart, Miss Rosina Hunerkopf, Miss Edith R. Beane, Miss Irene Bearden.

Sob Sisters, Tired Sinners and Sensitive Plants Will Complain When Gabriel Blows His Horn

WE HAVE NO PLACE FOR THEM IN THIS BUSY WORLD

By ISMA DOOLY.

"I have no doubt," remarked Brother Williams, in The Billville Banner the other day, "that when Gabriel blows his trumpet some of the tired sinners will yawn and tell him that he woke 'em up too soon."

Brother Williams is right, and though all angels are men, among the sinners are men and women, and beside those who will yawn and complain that they have been "woke" too soon there will be the sisters to stop on the very threshold of heaven to complain of the mode of transportation, and those whose feelings will get hurt about the way Peter looks at them when he opens the gates.

Yes, the very approach to the Almighty will be blocked by the women who complain and the over-sensitive ones who will have to be cuddled into a good humor, their eyes wiped, and a smile applied to their faces, before the very program of paradise proceeds.

On the women who complain and those who have their feelings hurt, the world wastes more valuable time than on any others. They are even worse than the sinners Brother Williams talks about. His sinners that complain about being "woke" too soon are at least the passive kind of obstructionists, while the complainers and over-sensitive ones are active.

There Are Women And Women.

"I had hoped that this movement could proceed with all harmony," said Mrs. Hunnypat the other day, "but Mrs. Jones has no idea of how to work, and Mrs. Smith has no regard for anybody's feelings (she hurt mine), and the world does not know all the suffering there is in it. I know of a case where a nice, innocent girl of nineteen summers was deceived by a wealthy society man who— I knew then and there I was going to hear about the punch bowl at the home of the society woman, whom Mrs. Hunnypat did not know, and I stopped her to tell her I was busy with another engagement."

I met the society woman a moment later, who had just secured several thousand dollars for a charitable institution, and who was entertaining three delegates in her home, though her cook was in a bad humor. She was on her way to get money for a fund to aid a mountain school, and help a poor girl get an education. She had a bouquet of flowers in her arms—this society woman—and she was on her way to see a sick old lady in the hospital.

And during the time Mrs. Hunnypat was taking my time to tell me about the iniquities of some people, and the society woman in general, the society woman was going about helping humanity, and Mrs. Hunnypat was pluming herself with her own virtues.

She has virtues, but they are useless, if it is right to talk about useless virtues.

Where is this woman who complains? someone thoughtlessly may ask. Well, for one place, she is at home—in one of the most luxurious homes in Atlanta, but the porch is not as wide as she wanted it. The sun comes in the dining room window at the wrong angle, and the biscuits just escaped being good at breakfast, and her husband bought the opera tickets on the wrong side of the Auditorium.

No, he doesn't lose patience with her. I have often noticed these exacting women have the best and most patient husbands in the world, and though they do say Mr. So and So recently has been seen sitting next to pretty Mrs. Blank, when he goes out where she is, I don't blame him, and nobody else will!

"Why doesn't he take his wife to board?" Why, he did. He took her to the place they said there was the best food and the best service that could be had. When the dinner was good, and he asked her about it, she would say, "Yes, it's all right tonight; but I bet anything it will be a mess tomorrow night." She found a hair in the butter once, in a hotel fifty years ago, and she has been looking for it in every hotel since—that is the reason they stopped boarding.

We Have No Room For Her Here.

Now, the over-sensitive sister, she who is always having her feelings hurt, has no chance in the twentieth century. There is no place for her. Things may be all wrong, and people, maybe, ought to have time to apologize for the wounds they innocently inflict, but they have not time. If they stop to explain, Ollie Taylor will forever be the subject of sob-songs; the mountain boy and girl will never get out of the caves; there will never be a reformatory for negro boys, and our children will continue to have throat and head troubles from Atlanta dirt and smoke.

The society woman who gives so much displeasure to the sensitive sister could not do all she is doing for humanity, if she stopped to apologize for something she was not aware of doing, and right now let this article convey, now and for all time, an apology to the over-sensitive sister for anything that is being done to her, and for all time to come. Let her be grateful for this, for it is all she can expect to get in this day and hour, when every man and woman and most well-brought-up children are trying to do their part toward serving humanity.

There are troubles and trials, and heartaches and secret sorrows for everybody. There are times when wounds are inflicted on human hearts which can never be healed, but the heroes are those who carry them and tell no one of them—those who can rise above it all and thank God for the glories of creation—who thank Him that they are living and that they did not have to die as others have.

A Man Who Lives His Religion.

The other day there came to the convention here a good delegate from the far west. As he was driven from the station to the home waiting to receive him, his cab was run into by an automobile, and he was thrown out and his head cut from the hair line to the bridge of his nose. The doctor who took the six stitches necessary was sympathizing with him in the wound, which he said might leave a scar.

"It's all right, doctor; I'm thankful I was not killed—it might have been so much worse." No man at this convention will have more of what is real religion in it than this good man's statement.

I wish there were more of this type in the pulpit, and that they could reach out for the complainers and sensitive plants and Brother Williams' tired sinners.

I wish there could be more of the glory hick in the sermons we get and the work we do.

We are all being "used up" in what we are trying to do, but I believe the strain would be lesser if we did not have to stop to look after all-sisters and sensitive plants and complainers who belong to the class who will tell Gabriel he "woke 'em up too soon."

May Day Festival to Be Held At the Sign of the Wren's Nest

In the Book News Monthly of May is a story of the Harris Memorial by Mrs. Myrta Lockett Avery. The story is illustrated by photographs of those who were present at the ceremonies of establishing the memorial, of the "Wren's Nest," of the group of people turning over of the keys of the house by Mrs. Harris to Mrs. Wilson, president of the Memorial association, and of the presentation of the loving cup by the Harris family to Mrs. Wilson.

Preparations are being made now for the annual Uncle Remus festival at the "Wren's Nest" Saturday, May 24.

Mrs. Brevard Montgomery (who originated this custom of a May festival at the "Wren's Nest") and her corps of ladies are busy as bees drilling the children who are to take leading parts. These children are requested to come to the "Wren's Nest" Tuesday, 4 p. m. for full rehearsal.

Most important innovation of all—little boys will take part. Hitherto the queen's attendants have been limited to little girls. Queen Catherine (with queen of Max at the "Wren's Nest," for there have been five May festivals there) will have knights as well as maids of honor. A trumpet will sound when the moment for the coronation arrives. From that recesses will emerge knights and maids, pages and flower girls, crown-bearer and scepter-bearer. To music and in slow procession the maids, one by one, will march across the meadow and up the pathway to the spot where the beautiful and the flower-decked throne is set. The queen of last year, her maid attending, ascends the throne and occupies it until the queen of this May comes, when she resigns it herself, crowning her successor. Each queen makes an address to her very loyal subjects and the last queen concludes hers by bidding them delight themselves in the flower drill and the Maypole dance.

A striking innovation will be the flower drill. Just before the Maypole dance begins this drill occurs and every child on the grounds is invited to take part in this drill and to scatter flowers before the queen.

Another new and welcome feature will be an Uncle Remus story told or recited by a member of her majesty's court.

The May festival, which has grown in beauty and popularity with the years, is in itself a memorial to the former master of the "Wren's Nest."

BITS OF PIONEER AND MODERN HISTORY OF TENNESSEE RIVER

WHITE SETTLERS AND THE INDIANS

Village of Chickamauga Near Site of Chattanooga.

Vickajack Cave, Historic Cavern of Cumberland.

Melancholy Fate of Family of Col. William Brown, North Carolina Pioneer.

(By J. G. RICE.)

The Tennessee river for a distance of fifty miles above and below Chattanooga figured conspicuously in the early annals of Tennessee, or rather in the early history of this section of the United States.

A number of Indian tribes fought each other, as only the American Indians could fight, for possession of this stream. From these conflicts that lasted through a long term of years there has come down to the present generation a wealth of legendary history and well established facts that do not grow old by repetition.

When the white man penetrated into the wilderness west of the Virginia and North Carolina mountains, the Tennessee river was his main route of travel. A number of expeditions by white men were made into this territory as early as 1760, but they either lost their lives in the tortuous channels and tumultuous waters of the Tennessee or were massacred by Indians.

The stories of all of these adventures fill volumes and forms one of the most thrilling chapters of American history.

Book after book has been written on the topic and the public has read them with great interest. These books and stories are a part of Chattanooga's history.

The Chickamauga Indians.

From all reliable accounts, the Chickamauga Indians caused the white pioneers more trouble and annoyance than all others combined in this territory. They were a worthless, murderous tribe, and enlisted under their standard every outcast white man that came among them and would promise to unite with the Indians in their campaigns of pillage and murder.

The Chickamaugas built a village at the mouth of Chickamauga river, some five miles above the present city of Chattanooga. They had for a general hiding place, when too closely pursued by an enemy, a large cave on the side of Sand Mountain, thirty miles below Chattanooga. This cavern is known as Nickajack cave, and is in plain view from the depot at Shellmound, Ala., on the line of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway. A story founded largely on legend has it that this cave was given its present name from the fact that a runaway negro slave from North Carolina made it his hiding place. His name was Jack. The Indians called him "Nigger Jack," and finally named the cave Nickajack cave.

Nickajack is one of the largest caverns in the Cumberland range. The Indians used it as a storing place for the articles stolen from the white man, and for a place of refuge in time of trouble. Many they built a village near the cave and fortified it against any hostile foe.

From the village near the mouth of Chickamauga river, above Chattanooga, these Indians would glide down the Tennessee in their canoes, conceal themselves in the numerous mountain coves and gorges below the present site of the city, and pounce upon any expedition of white men organized to explore the river. Whole families of white people were butchered by these Indians. Some of the stories of their murderous deeds have no parallel in Indian warfare. Women and children were slain in the presence of husband and fathers, children were carried away to the Indian villages and either burned at the stake or held in the most brutal captivity.

Fate of the Brown Family.

The story of the melancholy fate of the family of Col. William Brown, of North Carolina, a man who fought under Light Horse Harry Lee in the Revolutionary war, is more or less familiar.

Col. Brown came down the Tennessee in a houseboat, having with him his entire family, consisting of his wife and seven children. Two of his sons were grown. The other children were small. On the boat were his servants and his cattle, with which he intended to establish a home in the new world. The expedition was attacked in the most treacherous manner by the Chickamauga Indians at Running Water, near the present site of a great hydro-electric plant being constructed by Anthony N. Brady of New York. Col. Brown and four young men who had asked to be allowed to accompany them on the expedition, were either burned at the stake or held in the most brutal captivity.

The Historian's Pen.

"The passage of this river through the several ranges of the Cumberland mountains forms one of the most remarkable features in American topography. It is unique, romantic and picturesque—presenting views at once variegated, grand, sublime and awful. At the great Lookout, or Chattanooga, mountain, commences a series of rapids, where, for ten miles, the river flows through a series of mountain ranges. The Tennessee river, contracted into a narrow channel, hemmed in by projecting cliffs and towering precipices of stone, dashes with turbulent violence from shore to shore, creating in its rapid descent over immense boulders and destined for an unexpected and interesting in the extreme to the beholder. These rapids constitute a formidable obstacle to navigation, which is not entirely overcome by the agency of steam. Cherokee tradition is profuse of accident and disaster to the navigation of the river. It is fabled that a fleet of Indian canoes, rowed by Uchee warriors and destined for an invasion of the Shawnees at the mouth of the Ohio, was encircled in the whirlpool, now known as the "suck." Civilization, skill and experience have diminished these obstacles to commerce and navigation, but three-quarters of a century since it was an achievement of no ordinary kind to pass through them, though at high tide. Even now the voyager must be fearless and vigilant."

The Tennessee in Peace.

All along the Tennessee river today where these conflicts between the whites and Indians occurred in the latter half of 1760, one sees many evidences of industrial activity. The mountains are rich in mineral wealth, such as coal, iron, phosphate and building stone. This wealth is being developed by Chattanooga's captains of industry, the raw materials finding its way into local shops and factories, where it is manufactured into merchantable products and sent all over the south and into foreign countries. The water power, so dangerous to navigation a hundred years ago, has been harnessed and made to produce electric current for manufacturing plants and trolley lines. Obstruction to navigation has been removed by the national government, and the Tennessee is now included in the list of rivers that are to be permanently improved at public expense.

In scenic beauty, the Tennessee river as it flows through the gorges of the Cumberland at Chattanooga has few serious rivals and is the delight of tourists. During the Confederate reunion in May trips will be taken over the most interesting and historic section of the river from Chattanooga to Hale's bar, where the large power plant and lock and dam are being completed at a cost of $15,000,000. This trip covers the celebrated narrows, whirlpools and shoals that have figured so conspicuously in history.

The Charming Leading Lady of the Stock Company Playing at the Atlanta Theater

ANYONE that has had the pleasure of conversing with Miss Long is quickly impressed with the fact that she is a person of discernment and discrimination. This impression was verified beyond doubt by the photographer that was permitted to accompany her on one of her shopping trips. "I love to shop in Atlanta," said Miss Long. "The stores are so attractive, the stocks so complete and artistically displayed and the attendants so efficient and courteous. I purposely delayed buying many things I will need this season until I reached Atlanta. As I stroll through the aisles of some of the stores here I almost feel as if I were in the most exclusive shops of New York city. And the prices are so reasonable. Really, shopping in Atlanta gives me genuine pleasure. I have yet to be disappointed."

MISS LONG is one of the numerous patrons of the Randolph Company, of 58 1/2 Whitehall street. Their service in Scalp Treatment, Hairdressing, Shampooing and Manicuring pleased her immensely, and she declared the service to be the equal of that offered by the most expensive shops of the metropolitan cities. Their reasonable prices surprised her.

A RECENT portrait of Miss Long, made by Francis E. Price, photographer, Constitution building. Mr. Price made all the photographs on this page, and has made nearly all photographs of Miss Long since she has been in Atlanta. She is so well pleased with his excellent work, promptness and courteous service that she has commissioned him to make a special series of portraits for her personal use.

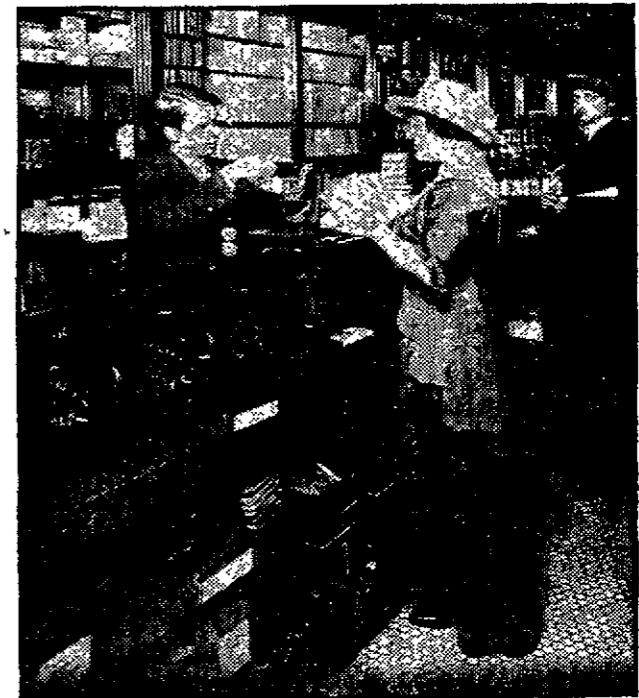

MISS LONG was delighted with "Atlanta's Store Beautiful," 80 North Pryor street, and was unstinted in her praise of the various members of the Cleveland-Manning company responsible for the artistic arrangement and decoration of the rooms. The Columbia Grafonola Grand won her admiration. But the wondrous tone of the Melodigrand Player and the ease with which the novice could reproduce the most difficult compositions enhanced the pleasure of her visit.

ENTERING CONES, "A Good Drug Store," Miss Long paused for refreshments at the superb fountain so attractive in its simplicity and cleanliness. "I prefer Cones because the beverages are so superior—so cool, delicious and refreshing, and because of the prompt and courteous service."

FROM the fountain Miss Long visited the Stationery Department, and examined the splendid showing of new tinted papers. She selected a box of correspondence paper with cards to match bearing her initial hand-stamped in gold with a steel die, and commented on the reasonable price—75 cents.

MISS LONG then examined the assortment of cameras and photographic supplies and chose one of the New Ansco Cameras at $17.50, with its improved finder, focus scale, lens and accessible back. The "Camera Man" demonstrated its simplicity of operation and the ease with which it is loaded in daylight, and explained why it is a $25 value as compared with machines of other days.

MISS LONG called on the well-known jeweler, Henry Muench, 63 Peachtree street, and purchased a handsome piece in sterling silver. She was loathe to leave the store, with its splendid stock of high-grade jewelry, cut glass and silverware, and she paid compliment to the management for its courteous service and beautiful goods at the unusually moderate prices.

"I FOUND real comfort, a good lunch well served and splendid music at the Cafe Denechaud, 9 Walton street," said Miss Long. "The surroundings were most beautiful and appealed to me more than those in any other restaurant in Atlanta. Their cabaret at night is like those in New York, and I enjoyed it—immensely."

MISS LONG'S extensive wardrobe necessitates the service of a high-class laundry and dry cleaning establishment, such as that offered by the Capital City Laundry. The camera man snapped her while she was examining a dainty gown which had just been dry cleaned for her. The care with which all garments are handled, and the wonderful results obtained have won an extensive patronage for this progressive laundry.

"MOVIE" ACTORS HERE FOR SIX WEEKS' STAY

Atlanta to Rival Los Angeles as Setting for Motion Plays.

One of Thomas A. Edison's biggest moving picture road companies has arrived in Atlanta for a six weeks' stay for the production of half a dozen or more moving picture dramas, the scenes of which will be laid in and around Atlanta and in the mountains of north Georgia.

This company has just been called in from Los Angeles, Cal., especially for the production of the Atlanta films.

The company in Atlanta has with it some of the biggest stars now playing the "movies."

Among them is the pretty Miss Mabel Trundle, who has played leading roles for practically every important picture producer in the United States.

Herbert Prior is along to play leads. Harry Beaumont will play juvenile leads. Arthur Housman will play the comedy, while William West will take character parts.

Behind the gun will be Charlie Gilson. This is the first invasion of Atlanta territory by the big moving picture people.

The Edison people are laying great store by this venture, and expect it to produce a profit which will justify the operation of a permanent company here at certain seasons.

For this purpose the company has sent Mr. Seay along. Mr. Seay is not only of southern birth, but is an Atlantan, having been born within a few hundred feet of the site of the Georgian Terrace hotel.

One of the principal productions of the company on this trip will be a drama beginning with a civil war setting about Atlanta and extending to the present day.

Because of the fact that this film will not be sent out as advertising but will be released as the moving picture theater company's production, just as other Edison plays, it is expected to give Atlanta more advertising than anything which has been done here in a long time.

Mr. Seay believes that Atlanta is destined to become an even greater moving picture production center than Los Angeles, which now leads, because of the fact that in the vicinity of Atlanta there is a greater variety of material.

These are houses and scenes here which will furnish settings of plays from the days of the revolution to the present day. Upon atmospheric conditions, however, depends the success. Mr. Seay's operator will start at once upon a series of tests to ascertain the quality of the pictures which the atmospheric conditions of Atlanta will produce.

THREE VISITING BOARDS NAMED BY GOVERNOR

For the greater part of the morning yesterday Governor Brown was occupied in making up the various boards which are to visit the state institutions of learning this year. Just before he left the names of the appointees were given out as follows:

Board of Visitors University of Georgia—Prof. A. W. Van Hook, Rome; Prof. Ollis Ashmore, Savannah; Hon. E. W. Hunt, Eatonton; Justice S. B. Brewster, Hinesville; Mr. A. Homer Carmichael, Jackson.

Richardson, Cedartown; James B. Nevin, Atlanta; W. A. Wood, Dublin; R. O. Ross, Winder; John L. Herrink, Tifton.

Inventory of Stock

Responding to a petition filed by Harry Dodd, receiver for Elias Garber, a retail grocer on Decatur street, who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy with Deputy Clerk Beers of the Federal court the first of the week, Judge Newman yesterday issued an order directing receiver Dodd to have an inventory of the Garber stock made at once so that it might be disposed of to the best advantage the receiver might determine.

OFFERS $100 REWARD FOR NEGRO LYNCHERS

Only Two Mob Victims in Georgia This Year—Governor Determined to Uphold Law.

On his own initiative and as an expression of disapproval on the part of the state, Governor Brown yesterday offered a reward of $100 for each person who had participated in the unlawful killings and assault upon the dignity of the state in connection with recent lynchings of negroes in Heard and Columbia counties.

On May 5, John Henry Moore was taken from the jail at Appling, the county site of Columbia county, and lynched by a mob. He had been arrested near Martinez in that county for murdering, and it was charged that he tried to kill the sheriff when he was taken in charge.

The other lynching occurred on May 12, at Franklin, the county site of Heard county, and Sam Owensby was the victim. He had been jailed for the murder of Brook Lane, a prominent white man.

These lynchings are said to be the only ones that have occurred in the state this year.

After the news of each was published Governor Brown communicated with the sheriff of each county and asked if they desired that rewards be issued for the lynchings, and to at least furnish him official statements regarding the occurrences. Each of the sheriffs replied, giving details, but declining to make a public report or to request the offer of rewards. Acting on the authority given him by the statutes, Governor Brown directed that offers of rewards be promulgated, and that in each proclamation the following expressions be made:

"The state's process for enforcing her laws is definite and complete. She has not abdicated the power to apply her process nor does she permit her power to be usurped by a mob or a combination of persons. She does not concede that anarchy in any form nor to any degree shall supplant her plants."

PROMOTION IS SOUGHT FOR COL. W. W. FORSYTH

Atlanta friends of William W. Forsyth, lieutenant colonel of the United States cavalry, and a native of Atlanta, are circulating among his boyhood friends in the south petitions for his promotion in the regular army.

Immediately after his graduation from West Point Colonel Forsyth was assigned to service as a second lieutenant with the Sixth cavalry, then stationed in Arizona, where he saw plenty of actual field duty with General Wood's campaign in that section against the Indians. Later he was in the field against Geronimo in Arizona and New Mexico, and in 1888 was made first lieutenant and ten years later was given a captaincy. In 1905 he was made a major in the regular army and in October last year was promoted to the rank he now holds.

The paper in circulation shows Colonel Forsyth as an active participant in the Indian wars in the far west, as a leading figure in the Boxer wars in China; on as an instructor at the West Point Military academy, as well as general Adna R. Chaffee's recommendation that he be brevetted a major for gallant conduct in battle near Tien-tsin on August 19, 1900.

Colonel Forsyth's father was an Atlanta pioneer, and it was for the elder Forsyth's order of Atlanta's main business arteries of today, he is named. He was given the appointment to West Point. Colonel Forsyth was clerking in a lumber yard in Atlanta, conducted by the late Anthony Murphy and with him then was associated Martin P. Amorim, now one of Georgia's successful business men.

6TH DISTRICT SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Barnesville, Ga., May 17.—(Special.) Professor W. H. Maxwell, principal, held about 400 parents for the commencement exercises of the sixth district A. & M. school, May 26 to 27. The commencement sermon will be preached in the First Baptist church here on Sunday, May 26, by Rev. W. L. Hubbard, of Lead City, Ala. His will be heard by a large congregation as he has a fine reputation as a preacher. Other exercises will take place Monday and Tuesday, the graduating exercises occurring Tuesday at 11 a. m., when a class of ten will be addressed by Hon. John N. Holder, formerly speaker of the Georgia house of representatives. The school is closing its best year's work and its future prospects are quite encouraging.

MORE SHOWERS TODAY, SAYS WEATHER MAN

Forecasts of more thunder showers for Sunday make up the whole of the weatherman's activities on Saturday. No change is found in the weather, which was slightly cooled off as a result of the refreshing showers of Saturday morning.

Crops and gardens, not to speak of lawns and flowers, received more refreshment in the showers during the past 24 hours than they have had in the last 29 days. For this reason many city lawns and flower beds were watered from the hydrant, that method of moistening the ground never seems to bring the results of a good old-fashioned rain.

Mrs. John Kellett, Summerville.

Lverly, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—While sitting on the porch of her home in Summerville a few days ago, and seeming to be in her usual good health, Mrs. John Kellett died suddenly. Mrs. Kellett seemed to be in the best of health, and only a few moments before her death she was talking and laughing with members of the family. Mrs. Kellett was about 75 years of age, and leaves her husband and twelve children. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. M. A. C. Bennett, and the interment was in the Johnson cemetery.

White County Farmers.

Barnesville, Ga., May 17.—(Special.) The long drought in this section was broken by a fine rain today. The situation had become quite serious with the farmers. Little cotton had come and in many places the seed had rotted and repanting had to be done. The rain fell slowly for several hours and the land is thoroughly wet. It has put the farmers and others in fine humor.

Evers to Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 17.—The Terre Haute Central league club has signed Joe Evers, brother of the manager of the Chicago nationals, as

PUBLICATION BOARD METHODS CENSURED

Printing Undesirable Advertisements Charged to U. P. Church Body.

The publication board in the United Presbyterian church was roundly scolded for unbusiness-like methods in the conduct of the affairs of the church publications yesterday. The manager of the board was called to the platform and admitted that many of the charges were true, but said that the majority of the congregations had remained hardened to the needs of the board.

Among the charges brought are those of printing undesirable advertisements. A representative of the ways and means committee of the Men and R. H. Iglion Forward Movement charged at in the case of Ollie Taylor, the 18-year-old boy recently sent to the Fulton county reformatory, "justice had been stabbed by a sensational headline in a local paper." It was stated by the charge that Judge McKenke Clelland, who made a statement in regard to the boy, must have been misinformed with the facts.

Urge International Peace. The assembly urged steps toward international peace, and adopted the recommendation of the committee on the basis of union that action on proposed union with the Southern Presbyterians be postponed until next year.

Dr. Edward S. Brunner, of the Reform church, presented greetings and urged for more fellowship between the bodies.

GAINESVILLE CHAMBER RAISES SUM OF $2,961

Gainesville, Ga., May 17.—(Special.) The sum of $2,961 has been raised by subscription by committees from the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce this week as a beginning of the work for a greater Gainesville. It is the plan of the organization to do the work of a chamber of commerce in systematic manner and to this end five committees of citizen business men have been selected, having in charge each a special department of effort.

The different departments of the work will each have careful attention and earnest endeavor. This movement is in special observation of the second anniversary of the Gainesville chamber, and the organization is taking on much new life. The plan above mentioned took definite shape at a banquet last Friday night.

SOCIAL LIFE IN MACON

Macon, Ga., May 17.—(Special Correspondent.)—The announcement of the past week of the engagement of Miss Viola Johnston and Mr. William H. Felton, Jr., caused much pleasurable comment among the hosts of friends of the young couple. Miss Johnston is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McEwen Johnston. She has the grace, beauty and vivacity, inherited from a family noted for its charming women, accentuated by fine educational opportunities and travel in foreign lands. Mr. Felton is the only child of Judge and Mrs. William H. Felton, a representative of two of the most prominent families in the state, and the advantages of wealth and position combined with a pleasing personality, insure a future of bright promise. Miss Viola Johnston's attractive guest, Miss Nancy Bruce, of Baltimore, has been the occasion of a number of delightful affairs during the past week. The first of these parties Tuesday evening, given by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McEwen Johnston. It was followed by a late supper at the Johnston home. Those present were Misses Nancy Bruce, Martina Burke, Helen Barnes, Nora Gray and Viola Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Pate Stetson and Messrs. Dudley Woodward, William Wood, Robert Falligan and John Ross. Wednesday evening the elegant home of Judge and Mrs. William H. Felton was the scene of an informal dinner complimentary to Miss Bruce. Thursday evening Miss Martina Burke gave a dinner party for Miss Bruce. Covers were laid for eight. The table exquisitely decorated with lilacs of the valley and sweet peas. Friday Miss Nona Shaw entertained a dozen young girls at an afternoon bridge party in honor of the fall Baltimorean. Mrs. W. W. Thomas and Mrs. Richard W. Johnston, of Atlanta, who are visiting Mrs. J. M. Johnston, were guests of honor Wednesday at a beautiful luncheon given by Mrs. T. C. Burke. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. C. Harold entertained a dozen young matrons at bridge for Mrs. Richard Johnston. An individual prize for top score was given at each table, the successful contestants being Mrs. Tracy Baxter, Mrs. W. H. Felton and Mrs. Rowleson. Friday Mrs. P. W. Martin entertained at her country home near Dry Branch for Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Johnston. Mrs. J. E. Frailing, of Chicago, continues to be the inspiration of some pleasant entertaining during her visit to her old home. Wednesday morning Mrs. Llewellyn P. Hillier was hostess at a bridge luncheon in her honor. The cards in which the ladies are placed were bright with quantities of ragged edging, yellow daisies, gorgeous poppies and sweet peas in all tints. Mrs. Hillier was lovely in light blue crepe. Her guests were in grown was of blue embroidered marquisette. Wednesday Mrs. Wm. Lee Ellis gave an afternoon bridge party at the Dempsey for Mrs. Becking. There were four tables of players and a delicious menu was served at the end of the game. One of the pleasantest affairs of the week was the bridge party given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Mallory H. Taylor, who was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Maybeth Taylor Hemphill. Among the guests on this occasion was Mrs. R. H. Hubbard, a recent acquisition to Macon society, and her mother, Mrs. Frederick Whitaker, of New York, who is spending some time with Mrs. Hubbard, at the Dempsey. Mrs. John Jacob Stebbins, of Columbia, S. C., was guest of honor on Tuesday afternoon at a delightful reception given by Mrs. Willie Erminson and Mrs. John B. Harris. The two young ladies and Mrs. Stebbins were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Howell B. Erminson, Jr. The handsome home was beautifully decorated in roses and sweet peas, and between seventy-five and one hundred ladies in lovely afternoon toilets added to the beauty of the scene. The home of Mrs. John A. Dunwoody in Vineville, was the scene of a pretty afternoon reception Tuesday, given by the Ladies Aid society of the Vineville Presbyterian church in honor of Mrs. C. P. Coble, who with her husband, Rev. C. P. Coble, have recently made their home in North Carolina. The ladies who received were Mrs. John A. Dunwoody, Mrs. C. P. Coble, Mrs. T. N. Jelks, Mrs. Charles P. Stone, Mrs. Louis E. Fallow and Mrs. John A. Dunwoody. The two young ladies who assisted in serving were Misses Katherine Bowen, Margaret Ferrill, Margaret Ackerman, Martha Andrews, Annie Payne Jelks, Meta McKay, Misses Gladys Stone and Eleanor Ferrill presided at the refreshment table. Mrs. L. P. Hillier was hostess at a musical Friday. The guests of honor, Misses Porter and Bartholomew, and Mrs. Drayton Miller, of Atlanta, rendered some delightful musical numbers for those present. Misses Porter and Bartholomew were also present Saturday morning at the regular weekly meeting of the Music club with Mrs. E. Tris Napier, and contributed some charming selections. Miss Ruth Scoble, of New Orleans, was guest of honor Tuesday evening at a delightfully informal affair, given by her hostess, Miss Letta Birch. Mrs. J. Hank Sprattling is being pleasantly entertained as the guest of Mrs. Roy Collier, in Atlanta. Mrs. Clem P. Steed has as guests Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Napier, of Yangchow, China. Mrs. W. Minter Wimberly is at home after a visit to relatives in Augusta and Savannah. Mrs. C. A. Turner and Miss Lucinda Turner leave today to visit Mrs. Robert H. Searson, in Abbeville, S. C. The executive board of the City Federation of clubs met Thursday afternoon with the president, Mrs. James T. Wright, on Colfax street. Mrs. Frances Lowe has as guest her sister, Mrs. Edgar Chambers, of Atlanta. Miss Mary E. Stone, of Columbus, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stone, in Vineville. Mrs. Robert Flournoy and R. J. Flournoy, Jr., are guests of Mrs. W. W. Collins, in Savannah. Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Spaulder and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stevens have returned from a delightful house party at Lake Clecyne, Fla. Other guests on one occasion were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spain, of Quitman, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stanley, of Yonkers. Miss Edith McDonald returned to her home in Oxford Monday, after a delightful visit to Miss Margaret Ackerman. Mrs. M. A. Lindsey and Mrs. J. L. Baird, of Atlanta, were recent guests of Mrs. Robert L. Smith in Vineville. Mrs. G. A. Rankin left Monday to visit Mrs. T. A. Dickerson in Lexington, Ky. 30th Semi-Annual Sale of Linens & White Goods

Throughout the Stock Prices Drop From a Fifth to a Half

For 15 years, twice yearly—summer and winter—Rich's Linen Sale has been growing with every repetition.

29 previous sales have taught prudent housewives to look for this sale. They have learned to appreciate its superior qualities; its vast assortments; its unapproachable economies.

What we have learned in the previous 29 sales we have put into this 30th—to make it bigger, broader, better. Therefore, it takes a 32-page catalog to tell of the many bargains in this sale—space here to quote only a few.

First Fruits of Our Buyer's New York Trip $15 and $20 Ratine Suits $9.95

Fresh from their wrappings come 48 charming ratine suits and 3 linen suits. They represent a maker's surplus stock secured by our buyer now in New York. Identical copies of some of these suits have sold in stock for $19.75; not one is worth less than $15. Each suit is as new as the morning—revealing the clever style touches of artists—tailors. Somewhat plainly tailored for the most part—real art needs no adornment. Slightly cutaway styles; some button trimmed. Fine quality of ratine, in white, pink, blue, gray, tan. Linen suits are natural cream. All sizes. Choice $9.95.

New $25 to $35 Wool Suits $14.95

Attractive new suits direct from our buyer in New York. Snappy serges, handsome diagonals, beautiful Bedford cords. White and light grounds, with contrasting color stripes, staple navy blue and black serges, etc. Bulgarian and Russian blouses, straight and cutaway styles. None worth less than $25.00; a few worth $35.00; average about $29.75. Choice $14.95.

$23.50 to $35 Eponge Dresses $11.95

Just in; shown tomorrow for the first time. Only 35 in all. Beautiful styles in the charming ratine or eponge. Chiefly white with a sprinkling of tan, black, rose and navy. Not to be missed. (Ready-to-Wear—Second Floor.)

You obtain expert manicuring, hair dressing, all kinds of facial and scalp massages. 50c a treatment; any 15 treatments for $5.00. Second Floor.

$2.50 to $3.50 Silk Voiles & Chiffons $1.29

Only because the importer was anxious to get back to Europe on Fall business are we able to offer these fashionable silks at such absurdly low prices. Imagine a sheer chiffon bestrewn with dainty flowers, and set off with a deep border of charmeuse or Calot satin. Or a colored silk voile with a black border, or glorious pansies blossoming from a bed of softest chiffon, or—but one can't describe fabric-poems—please see them. Quite a complete line of colors. 44 inches. Choice $1.29.

$1 Dress Taffetas 49¢

$1.25 Fancy Silks 59¢

59c All Silk Foulards, 29c

Soft chiffon taffetas, full plump weight, l'ere, plant weaves, that drape with classic grace. Solid colors and changeables in about every wanted shade save black or white. 26 in. wide. Fine for poticoats, dresses, waists, etc.

About half-price and less for soft, free flowing taffetas and muslins in pretty floral prints, Dresden patterns, Pekin stripes, and various fancies. Leading colors. 24 and 27 inches wide. Worth $1 and $1.25.

We emphasize the "all silk" least you think from the little price that the foulards are cotton. Will not spot with rain. Not bad patterns nor freak shades, but staple navy blues, blacks and Copenhagen. Oh, the possibilities for inexpensive summer dresses.

This is great. The very silks you want are here. Smart suiting silks of softest messalines and silk serges. Neat two tone effects or solid colors with hair line stripes. Stunning. Choose also from Tussah crepe de chimes—every one knows how scarce crepes are even at full price. These combine the smart roughness of the Tussah weave with the soft, crinkly draping qualities of the crepe. Yard wide; leading colors; no black. Silk Annex—Main Floor.

The higher price silks are yard wide taffetas chiefly in light colors. Then there is a $1 yard wide-black taffeta, and loads of new $1 foulards in wanted designs and colors. Choice, 69c.

$15 Lavaliers $7.98

10-karat solid gold lavaliers with pendant attached; pendant set with real diamonds. Precious stones or barouche pearls. Were $12.50, $13.50 and $15.00, now $7.98.

$5, $6, $7.50 and $8 Lavaliers, $2.98

Sterling silver chains with pendants attached. Pendants set with finest quality brilliants or barouche pearls.

$2 to $5 Solid Gold Brooches, $1.00

$2, $3, $4 and $5 solid gold 10-karat brooches in plain and flagree designs. Some enamelled; some set with pearls; some with real or semi-precious stones.

NATIONAL CONGRESS OF MOTHERS

SPENDID RECORD OF TWO CLUBS

THE TENTH STREET

PARENT-TEACHER CLUB OF LEE STREET SCHOOL

The Parent Teacher club of the Tenth street school was organized January 7, 1912 and it is safe to say that few clubs in Atlanta have done more for their school than this enthusiastic body.

Mrs. George P. Moore secretary of the club has prepared the following account of its activities for this department.

The club's object is to study the welfare of the child in the home, school and community and create a better mutual understanding between parents and teachers and their cooperation in all work for the betterment of the children. The principal and teachers of school are honorary members. The dues are 50 cents a year and we have a paid up membership of sixty.

We have a tree committee whose business it is to find suitable trees for the school yard. The committee consists of Mrs. George Hinman, chairman, Mrs. Spain and Mrs. Wheeler and they have selected and planted maple oak sweet gum black gum dog wood crabapple and Lombardy poplars.

It is fitting to say here that of all desert spots in Atlanta, the yard of the Tenth street school was perhaps the most beautiful. The ground for the children's play was nothing but red mud and the Parents association have a difficult task before them to bring blossoms into a thing of beauty and a joy to the teachers and pupils as they hope to do and will do.

The yard and street paving committee consists of Mrs. Eugene Mitchell, chairman, Mrs. W. T. Peikerson, Mrs. F. J. Conledge, Sr., Mrs. T. A. Glenn, Mrs. M. W. Hill, Mrs. Colquhoun, and Mrs. Lee Scheraff. This committee is going to cover the red mud all over with a sheet of gravel. Part of it has been accomplished and the rest is sure to follow.

The yard is to be laid off and shrubs and plants made to cover the barrenness that has existed until now.

Improvements Promised
Tenth street from Peachtree to Piedmont is in a dreadful condition. It has been a question to many how much longer the property owners in this district will bump themselves into the awful holes along this street. We have this improvement promised and hope to see it completed soon.

One of the most enjoyable features of the January meeting was the address by Mrs. James R. Little, president of the Mothers Congress of Atlanta.

At the February meeting several of the teachers gave interesting talks on how the parents can assist in the home work of the pupil. A special committee was appointed to look into planting the shrubs and flowers in the front school yard. Mrs. Flooding, chairman, Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Cruce and Mrs. Mitchell.

At the March meeting Mr. George Hinman made a most interesting talk on Children's Play and Playground Apparatus for Out of Doors.

We are going to have a committee to investigate the question of suitable play things for our school yard. At the last meeting in April we had with us Mr. Lawton B. Evans of Augusta who came by special invitation to address the association. He was introduced by Mrs. Spain and gave a most interesting address on What to Do With the Children in Vacation. Miss Collins, the organizer of the Parent Teachers association for the state was with us at this meeting. She wishes to impress upon the parents the need of more public play grounds.

Talk by Mrs. Hodgson
Our association was organized without the official organizer. Nevertheless we were glad to welcome her and enjoyed the talk she gave. Mrs. Fred Holps spoke in the interest of the Anti Tuberculosis association. The Parents association became a member of that splendid body and a collection was taken to assist in carrying on the war against the dreadful disease.

All our splendid success has been due to our leader, Mrs. T. K. Glenn. She has worked faithfully and unselfishly and has inspired each of her fellow workers with a part of her enthusiasm. She has been chosen president of the council which consists of officers of the Parents association and the public school teachers. Great things have been planned by her for the coming year. The school yard is in nice shape and the flowers and shrubs are thriving and Tenth street has been beautifully paved then our work will begin in real earnest.

We will turn our attention to the school building and have had an opportunity to remind the tax paying people of our district that Tenth street school has been the most neglected of the public schools. Practically nothing has been done by the city to enhance the beauty or even to render the school even a comfort to the teachers or pupils. First we really must have an auditorium. If we had a suitable place for lectures etc. we could do quite a number of things for ourselves. Then we need more school rooms and larger ones. The school is overcrowded and consequently several grades must occupy rooms really unfit for your child and mine to live in even during the school hours.

We wish to add also an indoor play room and have had a rather a place for our children to play. At our April meeting we discussed the subject of using the schoolhouse as a social center after school hours and also during vacation. This is going to be one of the things coming to the school child in the city as well as country schools. The children will have a clean pure place to gather. They will be directed how to spend the time to the best advantage. We will see that every thing is done in a decent and good order. They will become good peace loving children.

Athens Club Meets
A very interesting meeting of the Nantahala School Mothers and Teachers club was held on Thursday May 8. Several delightful piano numbers were given by Mrs. John Burch and Miss Lucille White. Mrs. Clarke Butler gave a profitable and instructive talk on parental responsibility in child training. The mothers were then given construction cardboard brushes and baskets with which they made May baskets.

The Parent Teacher Club of Lee Street school held its first meeting in the auditorium of the school March 21, 1912 at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Hamilton Douglas a representative club woman, introduced Dr. Charles Boynton whose lecture was the motif of the meeting.

Dr. Boynton from the depths of his wide experience spoke simply and concisely of the organs of reproduction.

After the lecture was moved and carried to the circle of mothers, teachers and neighborhood friends or garage formally and the committee on constitution and by laws made the following appointments:

Mrs. F. S. Stewart, president; Mrs. B. M. Cross, vice president; Mrs. D. M. Therrell, secretary; and Mrs. J. P. Keeton, treasurer.

Aim of the Association.
The aim of this association will be to bring the home and the school into closer relation that the parent and the teacher may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child. Also to make these meetings a privilege to both mother and teacher, thereby strengthening the tie which already binds them. It is the purpose of the club to have a lecture upon some subject of common interest to mother and teacher at each meeting.

On the afternoon of our first meeting an informal and delightful reception was tendered the mothers by the teachers and the dainty refreshments were thoroughly enjoyed.

The second meeting of the club was held on Friday April 4 with a full attendance.

Dr. L. B. Clarke who stands in the foremost ranks of prominent child specialists delivered a splendidly practical lecture on "The Care of the Child."

The business part of the program was pleasantly varied by the interesting talk of Mrs. James R. Little relative to the subject of recreation grounds for children.

The mothers and teachers had hoped to hold a third meeting before the summer vacation in order to hear a free expression of opinion on the following subject: "Dargan Park accessible by only one car line along the outskirts of West End is inadequate for our needs. Undoubtedly the mothers would lend their earnest efforts to gain the aid of council to the end that they might obtain a more accessible playground, appropriately fitted out with swings and suitable gymnasium apparatus and under the supervision of a teacher.

On Field day the banner of Lee Street school bearing its insignia "Lee the Leader" was very conspicuous. This is a most appropriate appellation for there is no other grammar school in which a higher standard of behavior and discipline is maintained. Under the superior management of the popular principal, Miss Annie Zuber, the school has exceptionally fine advantages and opportunities. She and the members of her faculty merit the appreciation and gratitude of every mother in the school district. The influence of these teachers upon the lives of the children and their care in their vital and noble influence has permeated fully many a home both high and lowly.

ENGLISH AVE SCHOOL

It has been conceded that the school house be used for teaching that amuses while instructing as well as for that which disciplines while instructing. In some school districts far away from the center of town there is an available place large enough to allow any assembly of children or parents for purposes of amusements or instruction except the school house.

The school should be made an essential part of the life of the people here as man has strong social instincts. This instinct should be met in such a manner as to be constructive of character or intellect.

The school board being convinced of the need of amusement in the life of the people have given their consent to the installation of a moving picture machine at the English avenue school.

The success of this movement must be attributed to efforts of Miss Margaret Long, chairman of the recreation department of the Georgia Congress of Mothers, assisted by Mrs. T. K. Glenn, president of the Council of Parent Teachers association. This is an initial movement and we hope that it will be adopted by each of the parent teachers in the state. The moving picture is a factor to be recognized in educational purposes and it rests with us whether its influence be constructive or destructive.

My Lover Says
He says I should not give a glance to other men.
But it's no gift for by some chance I'm sure to get one back again—
Or why of ten
Beside I only look to see
If any of them look at me.

He says I ought to see as through my lover's eyes.
But I reply that so I do
For where he looks there I look too
For I am wise,
And know that he must look to see
If any of them look at me.
—Edmund Vance Cooke

These were filled with flowers brought by the children in the morning and many were taken to the sick of the neighborhood.
Cream and cake were then served by the teachers after which a Maypole gaily bedecked in pink and white was drawn into the middle of the room around which the mothers old and young danced with their youthful joy.
The mothers then inspected the work of the children in the various rooms specimens of each child's work being exhibited.

This meeting was the last of the school year, this being the fifth. The officers of the club are as follows:
H. Edom, vice president; Miss Ina Cooper, secretary; Mrs. Lillie Tolbert, treasurer.

The club hopes to raise funds in the fall for further improvements on playgrounds by piecing an album quilt. This club, which is composed of mothers of a mill community, has accomplished much in the past year.

Thirty Minutes at the Terminal Station

Where Real Drama Is Enacted Every Hour of Every Day—A Story of the Passing Throgs

The pictures on the left and right at the top show parts of the crowds which daily throng the big Terminal station. Between the two top pictures is seen Terminal Policeman W. H. Andrews, whose business at the station is everything from taking care of little children to arresting fugitives from justice. On the left at the bottom are Train Callers A. Pope, on the left, and Charley Griffin, on the right. In the circles are Night Matron Miss Emma Amazon, on the left, and Day Matron Mrs. J. W. Payne, on the right. Just under them is a crap game in progress while the cop wasn't looking. In the center at the bottom is a youngster playing havoc with a big yellow banana.

By Ned McIntosh.

"Thirty minutes late"

When you have watched the clock with one eye while you jammed your haberdashery into your grip pell-mell, when you have arrived at the corner just in time to see the rear platform of your vanishing street car, when you have called a taxi and been "pulled" three times for speeding as you rushed across town, when you have stood finally in front of the Terminal station bulletin board, breath gone and collar lying wilted and helpless upon the bosom of your shirt—when all this has happened and at length you gaze upon the chalked words

"Thirty minutes late—"

Doesn't it make you mow your manly brow and stomp around and say things?

It does unless you are wise.

But if you are wise you can put in the most profitable and entertaining half hour you ever spent in your life!

You don't get the "goodly" out of that nut, though by poring over time tables and firing questions between the brass bars at the man whose name—by the sign overhead—is Mr. Information Bureau. Now, I. Bureau is a very instructive and obliging sort of a chap and if he had time, would doubtless prove to be an extremely entertaining gentleman.

without seeing some man woman or child devouring a banana with all the ardor that one would lavish upon a plucked chick.

An Ellis Island And More.

It is not the little trial things such as the profligates of a man's palate for bananas, that holds your interest and fascinates you so much though. But it is the big pulsing something life about you. The Atlanta Terminal station is a mammoth kaleidoscope of all human life.

The Terminal station gives more of an insight into the various types of humanity than any other spot in the south for the Terminal station is the gateway to all the southern states. It is the Ellis Island of Dixie and the docking place of southbound millionaires, nobility and celebrities.

It is the stage of more tragedies, comedies and mysteries than any other place in the city. It is the scene of the sorrow of parting with best friends and of meeting again with the same. It is the house of hope for the pilgrims from the four quarters of the globe and the home of hopelessness for the vagabonds of a thousand cities.

This house of a thousand wonders is a veritable paradise for an epicure in observation.

Just to sit in the waiting room and watch the faces of the strangers who pass you makes the annoyance of a halted train worth the while. The howl, gusts his trip may have been a knight of the road of a different type. The chances are that he arrived in Atlanta on a brake beam exactly under the Pullman seat that our first friend occupied.

Between these two extremes comes a third type of traveler, you will see. He is a traveler neither by profession or force of circumstances, but entirely by the lure of the road. There is a personality about this sort of a man that one feels instantly. He walks with the same assurance in his bearing as the commercial traveler, but there is not the eagerness in his stride. He is merely strolling through the world and the Terminal station is a part of the world. But there is a reserve and a silent understanding about him that makes his presence known to you at once. His eye seems almost to have retained a visible impression of strange and sinister climes through which he has traveled. There are no provincial mannerisms about him. He may have been born somewhere east of Suez and educated at Yale, or he may have been born in south Georgia and fought duels at old Heidelberg for all you may guess. His is a cosmopolitan accent of speech that is neither cockney, Yankee nor a hybrid of good things. He is the pleasant son of a farmer come to town, the big banker just "running up to New York," the poor little woman who has saved and scraped to get only enough money to come to Atlanta and see the governor, maybe, to get a wayward son out of trouble, there are the kiddies going to Aunt Sarah's or grandma's, and a hundred other instantly translatable scenes.

The scope for your imagination is absolutely unlimited. There is not one who passes by about whom your fancy will not instantly build a romance or a tragedy.

Real Drama Is Enacted Here.

It is by no means necessary always for your fancy to create the events in which the passersby are characters, though.

If you will watch the newspapers you will see every once and a while the account of the arrest of a fugitive from justice, the tale of a suicide, the announcement of the arrival of a special train bearing the dead and living from a wreck, a young girl in trouble and a thousand and one other things that happen at the Terminal station. To you, as you read it in the paper, nine times out of ten it is just so much printed space that you had as best read as any other similar space in the same paper. But suppose you happened to be standing within ten feet of the scene when one of these events took place. Don't you think you would feel your blood leap?

These things are happening there every day—things which lay the heart wide open to the quick, and if you will but keep your eyes at work you will see them.

It has not been so very long since that a young woman stood on the runaway to the trainshed and drank carbolic acid, shortly before that a prominent man in Atlanta set out with the pleasant anticipation of an outing in the woods and lakes of the north, but before he got back he had been half way around the world, a vagabond from aphasia. While he was gone a bank cashier was seen to walk through the waiting room to the train shed and apparently disappear from the face of the earth. Truth at the Terminal station is each minute stranger than fiction.

Perhaps the saddest and most serious drama which is enacted at the Terminal station has for its theme the same essentials as that type of stage production which is rapidly becoming the most worthless and sordid. I refer to the so-called "problem play." Upon the stage of the Terminal station it is a real play with a real problem and without mockery or cheapness. The matron down there can tell you in two minutes' conversation things that you never dreamed of. Stories of young girls who came penniless to the great city—just to see a little of the bright lights—and except for the keen insight of the matron and her timely assistance must inevitably have gone down to moral destruction.

Hundreds of penniless girls are discovered in time when they leave the train and live to bless the matron. It is not necessary to look for these more or less unusual things, though, to find yourself being lightly entertained. If you are watching the folks and forgetting yourself you will get a world of fun out of the queer tumble of a red-faced youngster when he finds himself sitting upon the sick dog with a surprising suddenness. Maybe you will have to swallow pretty hard occasionally, too, when you see some sweet-faced little woman with just a tinge of gray in her hair kiss a big strapping youth as he starts down the steps to the train shed. Nobody has to tell you the meaning of that story. Time was when you left home yourself for the first time and your own mother kissed you goodbye at the station.

Keep An Eye On The Crowd.

Such little incidents as these which seemingly small are nevertheless the stuff that life's made of, are teeming on all sides.

You don't have to watch for specific incidents. Just watch the crowd. It seems that all these people never would get out of the station and catch the right train but it is typical of a railroad station crowd to do the right thing. In the Atlanta Terminal station you don't wait for the train-caller to have you warned and escort you in person to your car in the big train shed below. Half the time you don't even know what he is saying when he comes into the waiting room to announce the arrival or expected departure of a train. When he calls a train the impression you usually get is:

"Train No. 000000 for New York—Washington—Charlottesville—Richmond—Greensboro—Danville—Spartanburg—Track No. 11—"

That's about all you get out of it, but strangely enough everybody begins to move around and finally walk bundle-laden out the door to the train shed, where they are taken in charge by some sort of a providence which looks after their welfare.

Nor is all the fascination of the Terminal station human.

A moving train, for instance, is about as interesting a sight as one would care to look at. Just the wonder of watching the thing move! It is a marvel that never grows old. And to watch a dozen coupling and going at once through a maze of tracks taxes even the most vivid imagination. Did you ever watch "The Vestibule" pull into the Terminal station late in the afternoon?

The Vestibule Comes In.

It is a thrill you will not soon forget.

The big limited is perhaps the finest train that pulls into the terminal shed, and for some moments before her arrival there is always an air of expectancy and subdued excitement in the big, dim twilight of the shed. Baggage and mail trucks somehow seem to get into place just a little sooner, and the negroes stand around and wait with an ominous—almost sacred—silence. A few flagmen and switchmen gather about the entrance of the train shed with their lanterns swinging on their arms while they either smoke or chew. Only an occasional remark is passed. There is no particular reason why they should not talk more than that the general atmosphere about them is that of the eve of a momentous event when one instinctively says "but little."

Finally to one in the train shed comes the distant cry of the train caller in the waiting room, and he knows that "The Limited" is in the yard limits.

There is a throbbing and a rumbling up the track beyond the curve, and there comes the faint sound of a ringing bell. There is a hurry and a bustle in the train shed by this time. Pretty soon appears a spot of light flickering on the rail at the curve, and the great steel engine comes crashing and reeling around the bend. As it bears down upon you entering the shed it overawa's you. It comes sweeping into the great shed, not with such terrific speed, but with a sort of fierceness and irresistibility that engulfs the throbbing steel with a very soul.

Lean and lank and built for speed, the big gray engine rolls panting under the shed, and in its wake is a string of Pullmans that stretch back around the curve and out of sight. On and on rolls the train—creeping now—until the coaches look like the section of a slowly moving motion picture film.

Suddenly some one nearby waves a lantern, there is the boom and grinding of quickly applied brakes, the hissing whistle of escaping air, a sort of groan passes throughout the length of the great train, and "The Vestibule" has arrived.

There is a great scene in the train shed then, for "The Vestibule" stops but three minutes.

Hundreds of people are thronging to and fro, trainmen are shouting to and fro, the bang of trunks and baggage. Meanwhile the panting engine up in front moves slowly down the tracks and the train stands like a decapitated worm.

Then from down the mysterious stretches of track, where the tired giant disappeared, comes another engine, fresh and eager for the road. It backs slowly, up to the train of cars. There is the dull thunder of meeting bumpers that runs back through the train, and a man with a lantern crawls under the train where the new engine and cars have just met. Shortly he comes out, and if everything is alright

ALL RECORDS CRASHED, SMASHED AND BROKEN

"A stitch in time saves nine." "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Do you intend to call at Coursey & Munn's drug store? People telling about the power and merits of the wonderful Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm. It should be known by all that the Quaker Remedies are not curables.

"If you suffer with lung or throat troubles, fever, private or contagious diseases, the attention of your family physician or specialist is necessary. Such cases will not be cured by Quaker Remedies, but if you are troubled with rheumatism, catarrh, in any form, kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble, indigestion, constipation, try Quaker Extract at once today. You will be most agreeably surprised at the astonishingly quick results.

A great number of local people have already been cured and every day more and more cures are reported. Among others who have called was Mrs. L. Scott, who has suffered with catarrh of stomach and kidneys for years. She said: "I have taken a great many different kinds of treatment for my troubles, I would have such a full feeling after eating moderately, bloating, belching, shortness of breath, dizziness, my heart would jump and flutter at times, pains across my back, and my kidneys were a great annoyance to me, especially at night. A friend of mine advised me to try Quaker Extract. I called at the drug store and procured a treatment and in seven days I will tell you I feel better than I have in many years. My pains are all gone, I eat well, sleep like a babe, and I feel at last I have found a permanent cure."

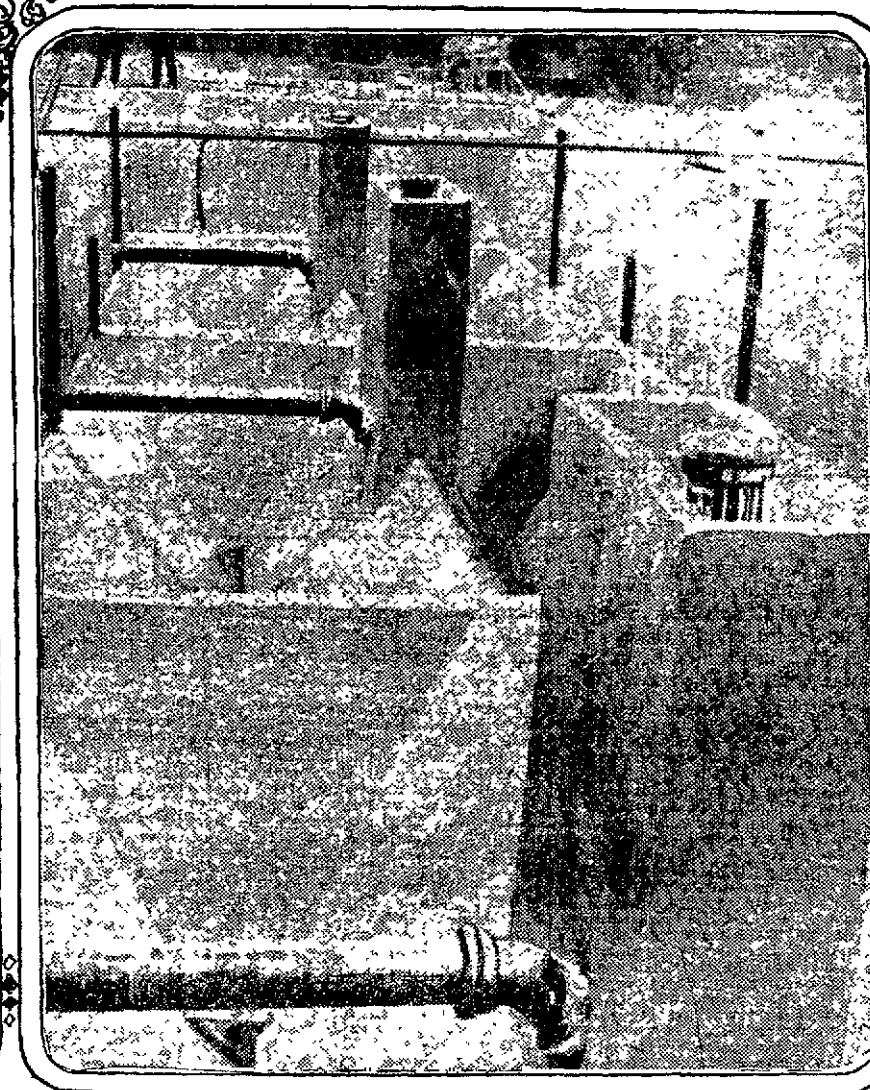

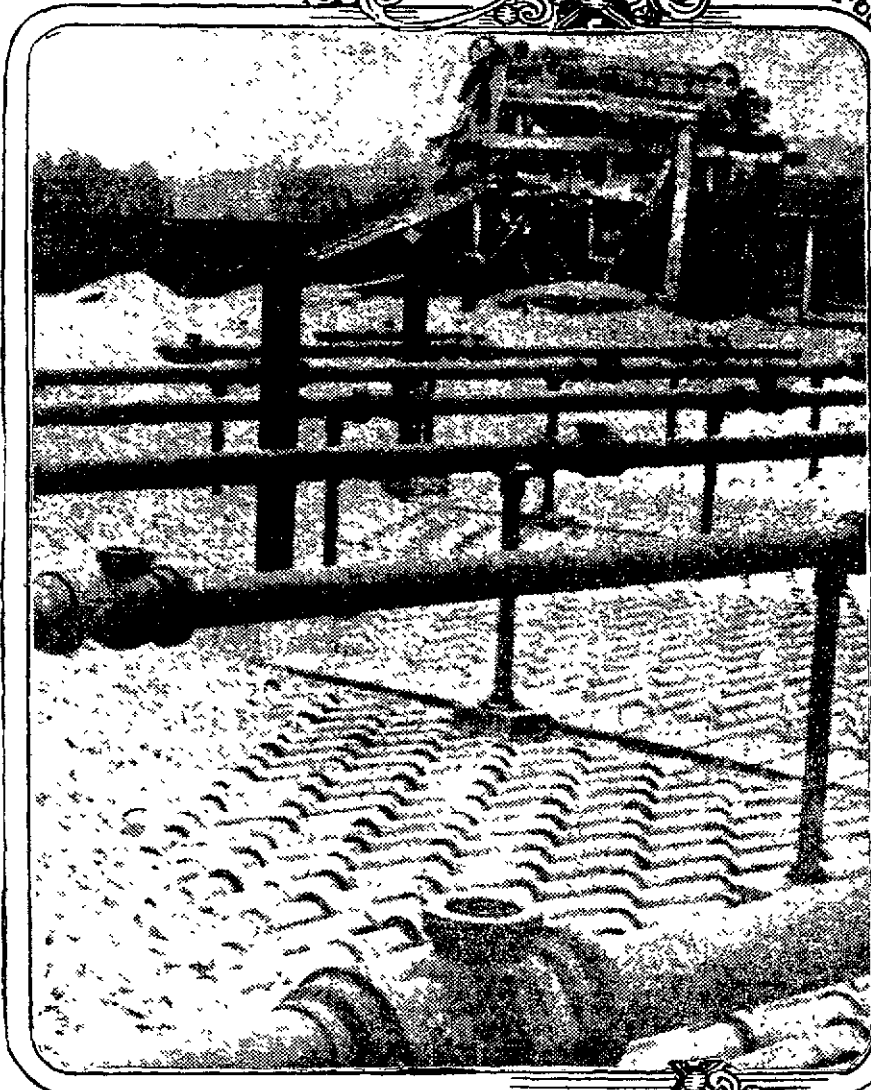

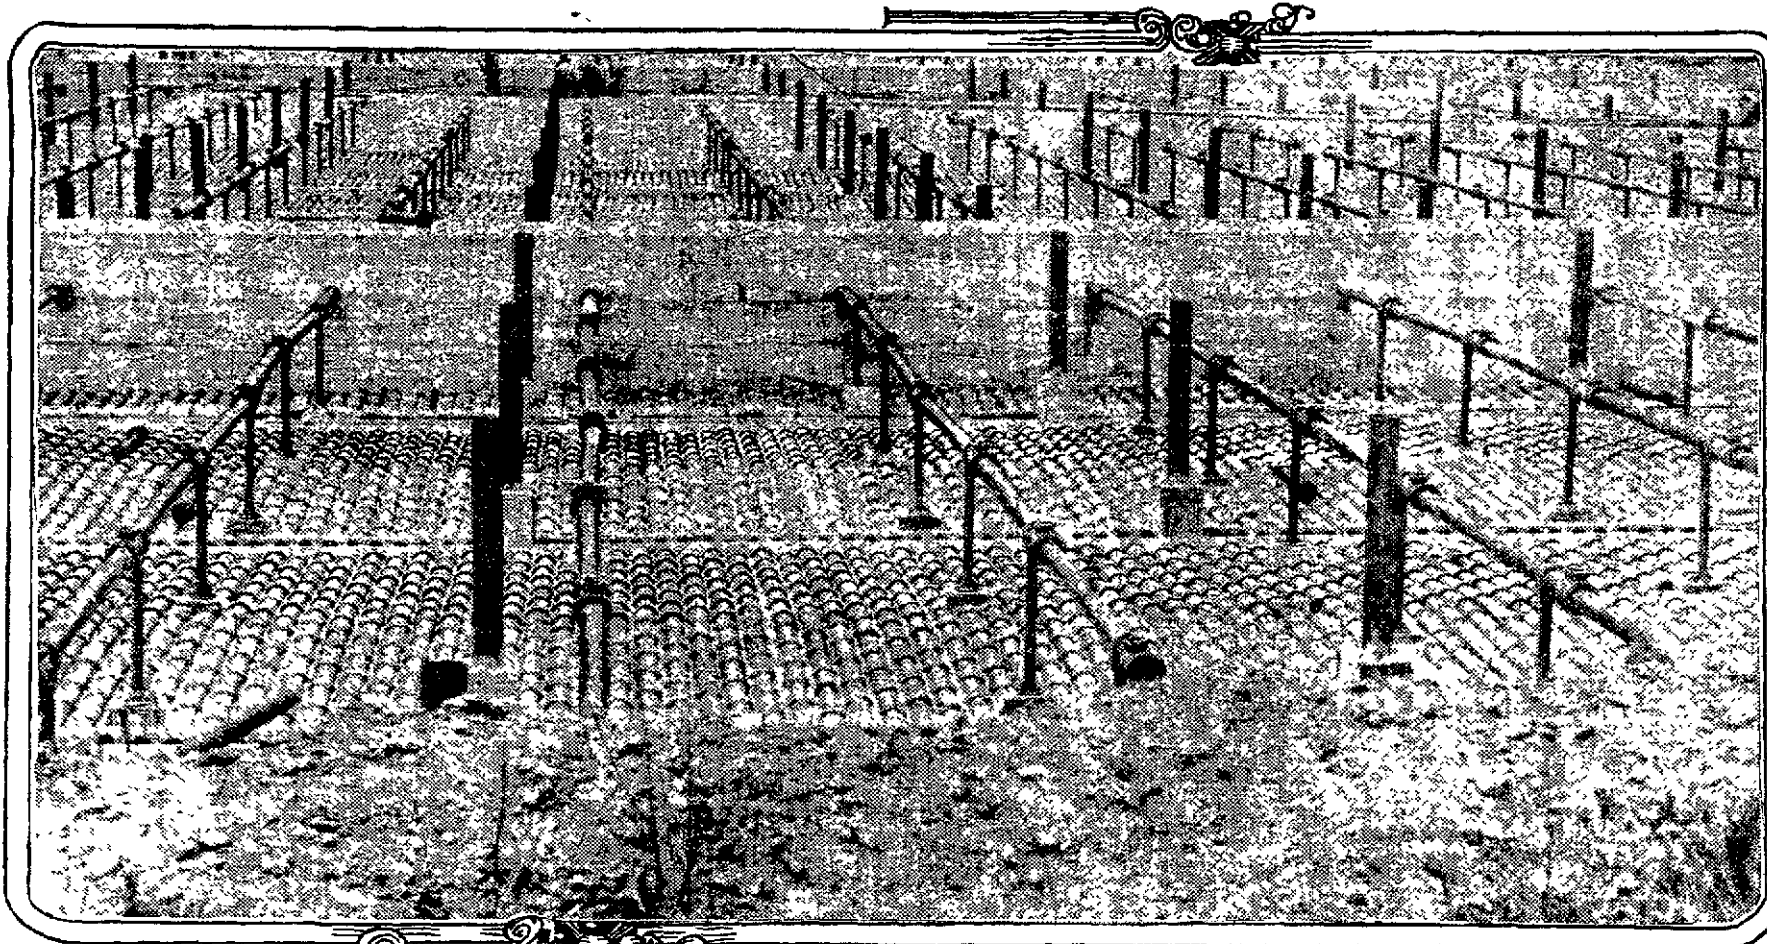

Another case is that of a well-known man, Mr. Pat Tucker, who is an engineer, and who suffered for years with annoyances of his stomach; bloating gases would arise and cause him to have a sleepy, tired and languid feeling, he got a bottle of Quaker Extract, took it according to directions, and to his surprise the second day it expelled a large number of pin or sweatworms, some dead, some live. They caused him such an itching at the rectum that he would scratch until he would be very sore.

Now these are a few more good reports of the good the Quaker remedies are doing. Why will you wait and suffer when you see your neighbors being cured all around you? Quaker Extract $1.00 or 3 for $2.50. Oil of Balm 25c, or five for $1.00. At Coursey & Munn's Drug Store, 29 Marietta street. We prepare all express charges on orders of $1.00 or over.—(Adv.)

Experts Declare Atlanta Sewage System Finest in World

Sprinkling filters—Effluent from Imhoff tanks is sprayed through pipes. As it seeps through 6 feet of rock it is charged with oxygen. The picture was taken at Peachtree Creek to show every detail of the bed. The bottom is covered with split pipe through which air is forced through the upright pipes called "Oxygenators." The water, or effluent, after passing through the beds is carried to the creek and discharged 99 per cent non-putrescible.

Bottom to the left—Showing filter bed bottom and amount of ston used. To the right—Settling tanks. The Imhoff tanks are located underneath. The raw sewage is run into the tanks. There the solids settle into the Imhoff tanks where it is attacked by gases and causes rapid decomposition. The effluent from the tank is carried to the filter, and thence to the filter beds where it is charged with oxygen and then discharged almost pure.

By James W. Meade.

"How are we to treat sewage?" This is the great municipal "nut" scientific engineers are trying to crack.

The statistics of over 400 American cities show considerable activity in the construction of sewage systems. Treatment by purification is reported by ninety cities. A large majority of the cities are going after the problem on the most economical basis.

Atlanta is one of the three American cities using the Imhoff tank and sprinkling filter. It is costing the city more than $500,000 for three plants—one at Proctor Creek (completed), one at Peachtree Creek (more than half complete), and another at Inman Creek (just started).

Atlanta can claim the credit for being the pioneer in the use of the Imhoff tank and sprinkling filter. It was the first city in the United States to solve the sewage problem.

Experiments at Proctor Creek plant have demonstrated that the system recommended by Dr. Rudolph Herring, the noted engineer of New York, and which was erected with money from the $3,000,000 bond issue voted by the people for schools, sewers and other improvements, is a success. The city of Berlin, Germany, spent nearly $1,000,000 on a system practically the same as Atlanta is installing for a little more than half million dollars.

Imhoff Tank Tests

Show Plants' Value.

Tests of the effluent which the filters are turning into Proctor creek show a non-putrescibility of 99 per cent. The tests are made every day. Sometimes the effluent does not run wastes which are dumped into the sewers and which will soon be eliminated.

The result obtained from the tanks and filters is just what was expected. After the raw sewage is treated the water (effluent), which flows into the creek is almost pure, except for a yellowish tint. It was never the object of Captain R. M. Clayton, Atlanta's city engineer, to extend the process beyond the point of rendering the product of the plant 99 per cent pure. The system can be extended whenever desired. By additions, the effluent can be turned from the place absolutely pure.

"We have accomplished what we started out to do," Captain Clayton stated recently. "We are treating sewage successfully. The offense to the eyes and the nostrils has been eliminated. The effluent discharged from the plant is purer than the water in the creek. It carries little organic matter and is free of bacteria. I figure that when we have accomplished that much the problem is solved."

Experts From Other Cities Visit Plants.

Experts who have come to Atlanta to inspect the plants declare that they are the finest in the world, but modestly forbid Atlanta's city officials from claiming that much credit. Suffice that the plants will be the finest in the United States when complete and will set an example for the other cities to follow.

When Atlanta first showed signs of becoming a city there was no thought of a sewer system. Individuals passed the bat among themselves and put in into some nearby stream.

The general lay of the land is hilly, with an average slope of about 5 feet to 1,000. Being quite broken, there are several small drainage areas, some of which come together within or near the city limits and whose sewage can be combined naturally, but leaving others whose natural outfalls are so far from each other as to make it impractical to combine them.

W. A. Hansell, assistant chief of construction, in a recent report, happily illustrates the peculiar topography of Atlanta thus:

"The crest of the ridge dividing the drainage areas flowing into the Gulf of Mexico from that flowing into the Atlantic ocean passes through Atlanta, and a person may stand on the east side of Peachtree street in a shower and the drippings from his umbrella will flow to the Atlantic ocean. If he crossed to the west side of the street the drippings would go to the Gulf of Mexico."

Because the city found it impossible to trunk the sewage system to reach a stream of sufficient volume to give a reasonable dilution of sewage, Captain Clayton, in about the year 1888, recommended that Dr. Rudolph Herring be consulted in the matter of devising plans for the sewerage plants. Estimates were furnished and in 1910 the city voted a bond issue to extend the sewer system and erect the three plants in different parts of the city.

Three Plants Treat Sixteen Million Gallons.

The three plants will treat 16,000,000 gallons daily, as follows: Proctor

5,000,000 and Peachtree Creek, 8,000,000.

None of the streams into which the plants discharge is used as a source of water supply. That is one of the reasons the city did not go to the expense of carrying out the system to the point of rendering the discharge absolutely pure.

The process of sewage treatment is divided roughly into three stages. First, the sand and small stones is taken out. Next the settleable solids and then the particles in solution are removed. The sand removal is accomplished by a grit chamber, which is simply a pit in which the velocity is so far retarded as to cause sand and any mineral matter brought down to the plant to settle out, but without the velocity being sufficiently retarded to cause the settlement of any organic matter.

The grit chamber consists of three settling channels and a by-pass, so arranged with stop planks that anyone or all can be used at the same time. The sewage passes through a bar of screen at the entrance to the grit chamber. This stops the passage of cans, wood, etc.

Scientific Process Great Factor in Treatment.

The first step in the treatment is the removal of the settleable solids, which is accomplished by the use of the Imhoff tanks. At the Proctor creek plant there are four sets of three tanks arranged so that the sewage enters over a weir at one end of each of the four sets and is discharged at the other end. These tanks are circular, 25 feet inside diameter and 24 feet deep, with a flow across the top of each set extending from about 12 feet from the part of the tanks by inclined slabs which do not meet, but one overlaps the other and leaves a long slot connecting the two parts. The bottom chamber is called a decomposing chamber. Each bottom has a central ventilator on each side for the escape of gases of decomposition.

Plants Can Be Extended To Make Effluent Pure.

After the solids have been removed from the sewage, the effluent from the Imhoff tanks goes to a revolving screen, the object of which is to remove hair or colloidal matter which did not settle in the tanks, but which might clog the filter. The screens have been found entirely unnecessary so far, yet they were installed when the plant was started in August last.

The sewage, freed of hair, goes to a tank containing a 24-inch automatic syphon called a dosing tank. The syphon discharges about every ten minutes and the spray lasts three minutes. The syphon discharges into a supply pipe which feeds the 6-inch distributors on which are nozzles. The sprinkling filters have concrete bottoms, which are in wide furrows, the slopes of which are covered with half pipe 6 inches in diameter with open joints are embedded in mortar. The stone in the filters is about 6 feet deep, all stone being of the same size, viz., 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 inches. Great care was exercised in getting it of the same size. Failure to get stone of the same size was the cause of the delay in completing Peachtree plant.

The plant now in operation is taking

Laboratory at Plant; Chemist Makes Test.

Each plant is provided with a laboratory, and a chemist is in charge. C. A. Harmon, of Chicago, who was in charge of the experimental work at the above plant, is in charge of the Proctor creek plant. He is familiar with the plant. He makes tests every day at different intervals of the raw sewage and of the Imhoff tank effluent. The tests show excellent results. Settleable solids are deposited in the Imhoff tanks. The tops of the tanks are clean, no scum or floating matter. The grease nearly all settles with the sludge. The escaping gases are practically odorless, except for the pine tar products carried in trade wastes. The chemist does the most important work. He has three laborers to assist him. The only fuel is gasolene, which is generated in a tank and used for lighting and heating purposes in the laboratory. Since Proctor creek was completed hundreds have inspected it. Chemist Harmon has his home within 100 yards of the plant, and people who own property in the neighborhood, since inspecting the plant are now ready to build.

The property adjoining the plant is being developed into a high-class residential neighborhood.

One of the men interested in Atlanta's plants, Orange, N. J., sent its city council to look at the system. It will be adopted in that city. Other cities are coming to profit by Atlanta's successful experience.

Man Who Brought Smith Back Was Heavy Loser in His Company

Tylo M. Hamilton, the Hapeville postal clerk, who brought J. Wiley Smith back to Atlanta Tuesday night to answer charges of forgery against him, admitted yesterday that his reason for bringing him back was not because of old friendship, but because he had been a heavy loser in the Commercial Loan and Discount company. For two years, ever since June 14, 1911, when Smith disappeared, Hamilton declared he had been trying to get him back.

According to Hamilton, Smith was arrested by officers of Orozco two months after he fled from Atlanta. Extraneous papers could not be obtained, and he was forced to join his captor's army. Unable to stand the hardships, he fell in with outlaws, who took care of him when he was injured. During his illness, however, he contracted debts which he was unable to pay, and was held by the insurgents.

Finally, becoming desperate as the combined result of his physical condition and his captivity, he communicated with Marlon Letcher, the United States consul at Juarez, and finally began to correspond with Hamilton.

In the end, he agreed to surrender, and Hamilton himself obtained the proper authority and met him in El Paso.

Hamilton denies that he is vindictive. He says that he only wants Smith tried and that, if he is not guilty, he wants to see him released.

Hamilton declared that Mrs. Smith had moved from Atlanta to San Antonio. She has not seen him for nearly two years, but was unable to see him when he came through San Antonio because of her falling health.

On Way Home From College Pretty Young Student Weds

Mrs. P. A. Price, of Coleman, Ga., sat in her home and waited anxiously Thursday night for the appearance of her daughter, Marie, aged 19, who had left Brenau college at Gainesville that morning on the way home after the close of college.

Midnight came, but no daughter. Mrs. Price had decided to wire the college authorities in Gainesville regarding the daughter's journey, when a messenger delivered this telegram: "Married (Wylie) in Atlanta. Will remain here for awhile. Wish me luck," or words to that effect.

"Wylie" is F. Wylie Day, a well-known young man who lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Day, at 674 Spring street. The courtship which terminated so romantically extended for a period of three years. Thursday afternoon when the school-girl arrived at the Terminal station from Gainesville she and the youth determined to wait no longer.

They went to his Spring street home. Rev. A. A. Little quietly performed the ceremony and the first lap of the planned honeymoon was a trip to the telegraph office, where notification of the wedding was wired to anxious Mrs. Price in Coleman.

Mrs. Day formerly was a student of Besse Tift college in Forsyth. She is well known in Atlanta. This was her first session in Brenau—and, now, her last.

GIRL ASSERTS HEITER WAS UNDULY FAMILIAR

Pittsburg, May 17.—Investigation of alleged immorality against S. L. Heiter, superintendent of the public schools of Pittsburg, now in progress by a committee of citizens composed of bishops, ministers and business men, took a new turn today when a former stenographer in Heiter's employ made affidavit of "undue familiarity," which caused her to quit her position, she stated. Heiter had branded her story as "another malicious lie."

Heiter, charged by a servant in his home of two serious offenses, was tried in criminal court and acquitted. Other charges brought on the present investigation.

The mother of the superintendent recently died and the probe was halted. Meanwhile children remained away from school and thousands of them paraded the streets carrying banners inscribed "Kick Heiter out."

The committee of citizens appointed by the board of education has had one meeting. When the next will take place is indefinite because of the reluctance of witnesses to appear before the body, although assured that their names and testimony are to be kept secret.

ONE JIPIJAPI HAT STIR LOT OF TROUBLE

Washington, May 17.—One Jipi-japi hat purchased six years ago by Willbur J. Carr, director of consular service in the state department, has stirred up a fine assortment of trouble in which Mr. Carr and Herrmann Dietrich, former consul general at Guayaquil, Ecuador, are the principals.

The hat was given by Mr. Carr to a friend several years ago.

According to Mr. Carr, in 1907 he asked Consul General Dietrich to buy and ship to him a Jipi-japi hat. He wanted it for an acquaintance, but the headgear was so long in coming, according to Mr. Carr, that the acquaintance purchased a hat of the ordinary straw variety. When the hat finally did arrive, so bill accompanied it, and although Mr. Carr says he asked for the bill on numerous occasions, he could get no satisfaction. Finally he gave the headgear away. Mr. Dietrich now wants payment and he also would have Mr. Carr discharged from the service of the state department. He made a formal demand for Mr. Carr's official scalp to Senator Stone. Incidentally Mr. Dietrich says the hat cost him $16 and, with interest, his bill now totals $20.50.

HER BITTER LETTERS TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION

New York, May 17.—What are known as Mrs. Lincoln's "bitter letters" are to be sold at auction here next week. The collection consists of twelve letters written by the widow of the martyred president in the years just following his assassination. In some of them Mrs. Lincoln is shown as a hysterical in upbraiding congress for not providing for her and in her denunciation of General Grant. One letter written in August, 1865, asks a friend to try to sell the black lace gown which Mrs. Lincoln wore at the second inauguration "for two hours only in order to raise money for the support of herself and her two boys. The gown was one presented to her by a friend of her husband and it cost $3,600."

In another letter, dated December 30, 1865, Mrs. Lincoln writes bitterly of the fortunes of the Grant family as compared with her own and declares that "General Grant's services to his country were certainly not superior to my husband's."

$5,000 TO PROBE WOMAN; $300 TO RELIEVE HER

Chicago, May 17.—Records intended to show that one woman dependent upon charity relieved less than $300 during 18 months, while approximately $5,000 was spent in investigating her condition, were produced today before the legislative committee investigating charitable institutions.

The beneficiary was Mrs. Maggie Ustich. Two of her children were asphyxiated late last year.

A portion of the record of the case submitted to the committee by Mr. Lloya, member of the legislative committee, follows:

"Charitable organizations rendering service, 16 courts rendering service, 2 individuals investigating, $2, physicians in attendance, 11; nurses in attendance, 3, pulmonators rendering service, 2 visits and interviews in regard to Mrs. Ustich, 105, cash paid to Mrs. Ustich by United Charities, $299, cash spent by all organizations, corporations and individuals investigating the case, $5,000.

"This is one of the apparent abuses we are trying to correct," said Mr. Lloya.

37 COMMITTEE PLACES FOR THE PROGRESSIVES

Washington, May 17.—Progressives will have representation on fourteen of the sixteen most important congressional committees in all will have 37 committee places. Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, and Progressive Leader Murdock have agreed upon such a plan.

As there are fifteen accredited progressives in the house, it is believed that more than one committee, Rivers and Harbors and Agriculture are the only important committees on which the progressives will not have representation.

Sacramento, May 17.—Segregation of aliens on passenger trains in California is sought by the state branch of the United Commercial Travelers, in convention here. The grand council was asked today to take the matter up with the state railroad commission. It was urged segregation said they often were put to inconvenience, and their health was imperiled by the "presence of objectionable al-

HOW TO WIN A GIRL

"I CAN'T MYSELF, BUT I KNOW HOW IT SHOULD BE DONE," SAYS ED VAIL

1 They Meet.

3 Ready for the Theater.

5 The Proposal.

2 His First Visit.

4 At the Park.

6 Accepted.

Edwin Vail, leading man for the Billy Long Stock company, has been making love, on and off the stage, for more than fifteen years. He has proposed to thirty-nine stars during his career before the footlights. Of course, twenty-two married him in the third act; ten in the second act; three got wise and wouldn't have him; two he wouldn't have. Two of them died. Shakespeare killed them both.

All in all, Mr. Vail's average entitles him to give expert advice to those who care to embark on the storm-tossed sea of light house-keeping. He has written this article on "How to Win a Girl" for The Constitution, and Miss Billy Long has posed with him for the illustrations.

By Edwin Vail.

The next time some creepy creature in the second row wheezes to you, these leading men have a soft line; all the girls fall in love with them, please do me a small favor. Take his face in your left hand between the thumb and forefinger and in the other hand seize firmly a ripe tomato. Then scramble 'em. I'll pay whatever the policeman charges. Yes, they fall for us, sure, they with a red rose in the lapel of my coat, waiting for the "beauceous maidens" to appear. And I would be standing on all forty-seven of those corners yet if I hadn't heard the call of "bacon and eggs."

A leading man, of all the people in the world, has the poorest chance to win a girl, considering the fact that he has the best chance to learn how she should be won. One girl, one time, really may have loved me. That was in Portland, Ore., summer before last. I'll never forget that girl on that night. We were sitting in the parlor. The going had been good, I felt that here at last was the Child for Me. All the preliminaries in the way of a proposal had worked with a charm. She was billing and I was cooing. She happened to speak the cue in an old romantic play I had been in the week before. Absent-mindedly, I spoke my lines which were as follows:

"Verily, thou art a beauteous queen." Imagine that! Immediately it began to get cold and it has been getting colder ever since.

I say this purely by way of introduction so that the first person who reads my advice on "How to Win a Girl," won't fire at me some little sarcasm in reference to the girls that dozens of plumbers and cigar clerks—not to mention soda jerkers—who could take what I know about winning a girl and go out and cop a real belle who wouldn't yell "help" at me, if she were drowning.

Starting at the start, there are ways and ways of meeting a girl. No matter how carefully she holds her hands behind her back, throw yours out in front; make her shake hands whether she will or no. And shake! Don't mollycoddle. It's a girl's job to hang back. It's a fellow's job to lean forward. If they both hang back, that ends the story.

Wait about a week before asking if you may call. When you do call don't try to show her everything you know. Let her do all the talking. You be the listener. And when you leave she will say you are a smart fellow—"so cute and entertaining."

Take her to the theater several times during the next two weeks and then stay away for awhile. Give her something to think about. Let her worry over some fancied slight. Maybe she will call up or write you a note and apologize for something she said. Usually she can think of something that might have made you mad.

Be sure to take her to the park. There is nothing like nature to set a over into hers, don't notice it. Let her find it out.

If she is the girl for you, for heaven's sake don't wait six months before proposing. Propose at the first good opportunity. And throw some real, heart, ginger and soul into it.

FARMING SITUATION SERIOUS IN CHATTOOGA

Lyerly, Ga., May 17.—(Special)—The farming situation in this county is becoming serious, and if there is not relief soon, all growing vegetation will be completely dried up for the want of moisture. There has been but slight sprinkles of rain in this section since April 4, and seeds that were planted in the early part of last month have not yet come up and it is feared that the crops will have to be replanted, which would cause the crops to be very late.

The drought has completely ruined the strawberry crop, the young berries falling off the plants before grown.

LAGRANGE COUNCIL ORGANIZES FOR YEAR

LaGrange, Ga., May 18.—(Special)—The mayor and city council of LaGrange met Monday afternoon in their first session of their new fiscal year, after the elections in April. Mayor J. D. Edmondson, who was reelected for the twelfth consecutive term as mayor, was in the chair and Messrs. C. V. Truitt, W. S. Davis and Dr. Frank Ridley, Jr., the reelected councilmen, were also on hand.

No changes whatever were made in last year's officers of the city. Mr. W. S. Davis was elected mayor pro-tem, and Mr. J. T. Harwell clerk and treasurer; Mr. E. R. Bradgill, city attorney; R. W. Underwood, superintendent electric light plant; F. T. Reed, chief of police.

Messrs. H. R. Slack, F. M. Longley and J. E. Edmondson were reelected to succeed themselves on the board of education, for three year terms. Dr.

electd sanitary inspector.

Finance—C. V. Truitt, W. S. Davis, F. M. Ridley, Jr.

Swears—F. J. Pike, F. M. Ridley, Jr., Roy Pullis.

Police—W. S. Davis, C. V. Truitt, J. D. Hudson.

STANDING IN OUR OWN LIGHT.

Are the farmers of Georgia committing the whole state to an era of indebtedness and stunted development, or has their progress during the past few years been such as to challenge the admiration of the nation?

A week ago last Monday, The Constitution published an interview with a leading business man and financier of Atlanta, taking rather a bleak view of the farming problem.

Richard H. Edmonds, as will be seen by his letter, takes issue with this pessimistic. He portrays the really splendid growth and agricultural prosperity of Georgia, advancing astonishing statistics.

Recognizing the intimate interest of this subject to Georgia, The Constitution has secured interviews with Mr. McCord and our original informant, Mr. "A."

The Constitution is frank to state that it believes the accurate view of the situation lies half way between the two extremes as expressed by Messrs. Edmonds and Hastings.

refuse to extend credit for hay and grain to farmers. That would compel them, he says, to produce their own hay and grain.

Whether our apparent growth and prosperity are deceptive and whether we are, as Mr. "A" puts it, simply "living off our capital in the mortgaging of land values."

Georgia could produce every pound of meat, every bushel of wheat and grain consumed in this state.

LESSONS OF A "SOB STORY."

Another echo, and only one of the many, from the famous Ollie Taylor story, is published elsewhere on this page in the form of correspondence between Mr. L. D. Sharp, of Atlanta, and the editor of "The Literary Digest," of New York.

The Constitution congratulates its contemporary on this straightforward conception of naked justice and ethics.

And we insist that the correction is the first duty of publications where they have been led into falsely accusing communities and commonwealths.

No city is or should be afraid of the truth. What it does fear are lies. Its reputation should be as scrupulously safeguarded as that of a woman.

There are two sides to the recent Glover-Sims incident in Washington city, and it would be well for congress to catch the significance of the one that seems not to have been presented to it.

But that is not all of it. We do not deal with the merits of the case, as between Messrs. Sims and Glover. What we do contend to that congressmen are or should be no more exempt from temperance in language and accuracy of statement than the men in private life.

This is not to say that we must encourage the practice of holding statesmen to personal accountability for their utterances. We must not even permit that, since it would dam up the effectiveness of free speech and popular government.

The people are jealous of the dignity of congress, and would, of course, see it respected. But the people have themselves a dignity that must be respected. That is why no member of the house or senate should challenge character or actions unless he is very sure of the basis of his accusations.

THREE BILLIONS IN LIVES.

Chicago's drainage canal cost $76,000,000. It has been in operation for thirteen years. Recently a physician estimated that it had saved 71,681 lives.

Chicago offers on a spectacular scale an illustration of the value of life-saving, from the standpoint of twentieth century sanitation.

In typhoid fever, for instance, we could save hundreds of millions, perhaps more than a billion, annually.

Why Georgia was shut out from appropriations toward the construction of good roads made recently by congress is told plainly in another column by our Washington correspondent.

Should Georgia supply her co-operative quota in convict labor she would, really, give twice as much as the states who merely comply with cash appropriations.

CONVICTS AND GOOD ROADS.

It appears that a simple executive order from President Wilson will modify the original Roosevelt order, and make it lawful to use convicts as part of the quota of the states when they work at building highways in co-operation with the federal government.

Should Georgia supply her co-operative quota in convict labor she would, really, give twice as much as the states who merely comply with cash appropriations.

The president should at once remove Georgia's disabilities. It is too late for the state to share in the present appropriations.

LITERARY DIGEST CORRECTS FAKE OF "OLLIE TAYLOR"

At least one prominent American publication, "Literary Digest," misled by the Ollie Taylor "sob story," agrees cheerfully to publish a correction, and advises that correspondents sending out such stories be "eliminated."

Several days ago Mr. L. D. Sharp, prominently identified with the Southern Bell Telegraph and Telephone company, wrote "The Digest" the following letter:

"April 13, 1913—Dear Mr. L. D. Sharp, Gentleman: 44 East Twenty-third Street, New York City—Dear Sir: In a recent issue of The Literary Digest, there appeared an article in regard to the alleged miscarriage of justice in the case of Ollie Taylor, whom, it was stated, was sentenced to jail for eleven years for the theft of a bottle of soda water.

Washington, May 17.—(Special).—Unless President Wilson modifies the executive order issued by Mr. Roosevelt when president, no convict labor can ever be used on highway improvements for which congress makes an appropriation.

What Mr. Roosevelt did unintentionally, Mr. Wilson can and will undo, it is believed. So far as the $500,000 already appropriated is concerned, there is no chance now of changing the conditions on which that was distributed.

Only three states accepted this offer and a new scheme for expending the money was devised. This provided for dividing the country into eight groups of states having similar characteristics of topography and climate, and spending such an amount in each as would be a real value as a demonstration of road work.

Joseph I. Blakeeles, the fourth assistant postmaster general, who is the chief adviser of the postmaster general in the expenditure of this fund, which was carried in the post-office appropriation bill last year, is favorable to this policy.

"To spend $10,000 in each of forty-eight states would dissipate the fund to such an extent that it would be of little use as a demonstration of the value of government aid in constructing model highways.

Logan Waller Page, director of the office of public roads, is heartily in favor of the use of convicts on the roads. He believes their labor is just as valuable a part as the state's donation to the good roads fund, as cash to employ an equal number of free laborers.

Although he would not express an opinion as to whether President Wilson ought to amend the order which makes convicts ineligible for government road work, he said he did not believe it had originally been intended to have this effect.

Representative Lee Working on Plan. Representative Gordon Lee, of Georgia, who is a member of the commission created last year to work out a solution of the problem of having the federal government co-operate in highway construction, expresses the belief that states which desire to use their felons on the roads, will be permitted to do so under the new law.

"I understand that all that is necessary to permit this to be done is for the president to modify an executive order," he said. "Of course the question of valuing the labor of the convicts as part of the state's contribution to secure federal funds is a matter of detail. It can easily be worked out."

Senator Hancock, of Alabama, who is chairman of the senate committee on post-office and post roads which must consider federal legislation affecting good roads, had this to say:

"I do not believe under the appropriation made last year, the authorities could permit anything but cash to be accepted. When a general good roads plan is worked out, I will be in favor of permitting any state which wants to do so to use its convicts. Some agreement must be reached as to the price at which this labor is to be included."

Senator Bacon Says Humanity Demands It. Senator Bacon, of Georgia, pointed out that road work was the ideal work for the state's felons.

Representative Adamson, of Georgia, said he would vigorously insist that anything done by congress in the way of road building should not interfere with the splendid the matter, I am taking the liberty of sending you herewith a clipping from The American of April 13, 1913, which, I feel sure, will be of interest to you.

He received the following reply: "Editorial Room, The Literary Digest, 44 East Twenty-third Street, New York, April 13, 1913—Mr. L. D. Sharp, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: Many thanks for your interesting favor of April 13. We shall certainly insert a correction in an early issue. It seems evident that some newspaper correspondent in Atlanta was temporarily overcome by his propensity for sensationalism and sent out a report which was the cause of all this misrepresentation. I think your chamber of commerce or some body of that kind should investigate this matter, and that it be eliminated before it does any more damage. Very truly, Wm. S. Woods, Editor."

PREVENTION AND TREATMENT OF DIPHTHERIA

The spread of diphtheria can be prevented. Every case springs from some other case, and when the disease spreads from house to house there is usually some neglect somewhere.

The results are the same. In no contagious disease is isolation and quarantine more beneficial than in cases of diphtheria, and it is in diphtheria that the serum method of treatment has given its best results.

If the physician is found to be diphtheria, antitoxin can be obtained directly from the state board of health, laboratory or from the county ordinaries, who are kept supplied free of charge by the state board of health.

Antitoxin cannot repair damage after it is done, but it can, and does, prevent damage from being done. If given early and in proper doses, the dangers from antitoxin are so small as not to be worth considering when compared with the dangers from diphtheria.

When to Give Antitoxin. Antitoxin should be given a small dose of antitoxin to protect the throat, and in proper doses, to delay in giving antitoxin in diphtheria is dangerous, and he who hesitates may lose his patient.

A Fly Catchism.

Where is the fly born? In manure and other filth.

Where does the fly live? In all kinds of filth. He carries filth on his feet and wings.

What does the fly do there? He walks on the bread and vegetable, bathes in the milk and wipes his feet in the butter.

What diseases does the fly carry? Typhoid fever, diarrheal diseases, diphtheria, scarlet fever and any communicable disease.

How can the fly be prevented? By destroying all the filth about your premises. Screen the privy vault, cover the manure bin, burn all waste matter, destroy your garbage, screen your house.

Either man must kill the fly or the fly will kill man.

Is Georgia's Farm System Beckoning Debt Or Making Prosperity for State?

The Constitution presents today an interesting symposium on a vital subject, the question being as to Georgia's prosperity—whether it is threatened by the all cotton system of farming upon credit or whether dismal prophecies based on that system are unfounded. Since the issue touches every farmer and every resident of Georgia, it should challenge universal interest.

Contributors to the symposium are Richard H. Edmonds, editor of The Manufacturers Record of Baltimore and noted as a southern statistician and development specialist. It should be noted that the editor of the Atlanta Constitution is also a prominent man of Atlanta and farm expert of Georgia. Joseph A. McCord, president of the Third National Bank of Atlanta, and Mr. A. A. leading business man and financier of Atlanta, whose name appears in the Constitution Monday, May 5 created the current discussion.

In his interview Mr. A. for business reasons desires to withhold his name for publication, but that the all cotton fetter and practice of farming in Georgia would add to the state's debt. He held that the state should produce all of her foodstuffs cutting down cotton for that purpose. Instead of so now sending many millions out of the state and constantly increasing our aggregate debt. He cited figures originally given by the Constitution by Mr. Hastings, showing that last year Georgia received for her cotton crop and cotton seed the sum of $150,000,000. For miscellaneous crops, such as wheat, oats, etc., there had been sent out of the state $172,496,000. All these he contended, should have been raised in Georgia. The fact that these products were not raised in the state is paid for instead through indebtedness on cotton he viewed as a practice to be eliminated.

Edmonds Replies
To these statements of Mr. A. Mr. Edmonds replies as follows: "The Constitution I find an article headed 'Are Cotton Poor Labor and Mismanagement Begging the Farmers?' and in the same issue of the Constitution I find an article headed 'Georgia's Farm System' which is a very interesting and well written article. It is a very good article and I am glad to see that the agricultural activities of Georgia to which Georgia farmers like the farmers of other southern states have during the last ten years made very great progress, not only in increasing their production of cotton to meet the world's needs but in greatly diversifying their farming operations and in increasing their production of other crops. In this respect during the last four or five years has been very marked. My personal investigations during the last few years in the southern states which come to me from all over the south as to the very great advance in agricultural production in Georgia, and in the article 'Are Cotton Poor Labor and Mismanagement Begging the Farmers?' which was published in the Manufacturers Record of Baltimore, and a lamentable situation was presented on the alleged growing poverty of the farmers by reason of the fact that Georgia farmers are very greatly increasing their production of cotton, though there has been some decrease in the production of other crops. The article also stated that the cotton crop has always fluctuated somewhat widely in Georgia, and is not of such great value as it once was. Last year it was $4,510,000,000, but in 1912 it was $4,510,000,000, showing a gain in that period of 20-30 per cent. It is also stated that the population of the state in 1900 was 2,000,000, and in 1912 it was 2,500,000, showing an increase of 25 per cent. Thus the growth in Georgia increased during the period of 1900 to 1912 nearly two and one half times as rapidly as the increase in population.

The corn production per capita in the United States averages about 80 bushels per year, and it must be remembered that the corn production of the country is to be used for the consumption of corn per capita in other sections is necessarily by reason of the larger amount of live stock to be fed the enormous amount used for distillery and other purposes very much larger than in the south. The production per capita in Georgia last year was a little over 20 bushels, which measures fairly well with the total of the entire country and of course is far in excess of the amount of corn produced in nearly all sections except the purely grain growing regions of the central west and a few southern states which like Georgia have been heavily increasing their corn crop.

It is true that Georgia and the other southern states could to advantage give all more attention to corn growing and they should be stimulated by every means possible to do this, but it seems to me that the most important thing to do is to make the most of the progress already made. Take an automobile and spend a month visiting the agricultural regions of Georgia you will see every county and see all the important features and you will not show you that Georgia farmers are making more progress than any other farmers in many cases owners of bank stock and are to a large extent depositors in all the country banks from the seaboard in the mountains. You will also believe that the farmers at least the more intelligent thirty or forty per cent of the farmers are making better buildings, better houses and plantings their homes more freely than for many years. You will see that the more intelligent farmer or business man in the cities prospers as you will not find all farmers prosperous in at least 43 in every other city in Georgia there are hundreds of intelligent men and women capable of doing things which were considered profitable employment there. You will see thousands who by one misfortune or another have lost their property and are now showing for the proverbial rainy day. If these conditions are found in every county you need not expect to find prosperity or thrift or intelligence on every farm. But I think it is a fair reflection upon the intelligent and energetic farmers of Georgia to say that they are making substantial progress. The farmer can prove that they are making a greater progress than the manufacturer of the state.

In 1900 the value of the manufactured products of Georgia was $100,000,000, and in 1912 it was $200,000,000, showing an increase of 100 per cent. In 1912 the value of the farm products in Georgia exceeded the value of the manufactured products of the state.

turn, owe banks, wholesalers and jobbers. It is our hope of the cotton crop that is the trouble. With a proper agricultural system and diversification of crops to the extent of the farmer's land, Georgia's average cotton crop should leave in the hands of Georgia farmers and laborers from $100,000,000 annually. Instead of all expense of making the crop are paid instead of little or nothing under the present system.

Striking Illustration
Combine the two developments of the state agriculture and manufactures and the total value of the factory and farm products of Georgia in 1912 was $451,000,000. During that period the factory and farm products of the state increased 100 per cent while population increased about 25 per cent.

GEORGIAN TELLS OF CLAIM TO BE MADE FOR OLD FORTUNE

Editor Constitution: An article under the caption, "Fortune in England for Telfair Family," appeared in your last Sunday's paper, and as I am one of the heirs to the "fortune" named, I would like to be permitted to correct a few errors of fact appearing in that article.

The story as it has been handed down by tradition in our family for the last hundred years or longer, is about as follows: Some time about the year 1800 or a few years earlier two enterprising Englishmen of Scotch extraction, Hugh and Alexander Bain, decided to shake the dust of the old country from their feet and seek their fortune in the new world of America. Their mother, Elizabeth Bain a widow and wealthy, was much opposed to being left by her two only sons who were also her only heirs-at-law and protested stoutly against their going away but to no avail. They were determined to come, and come they did, leaving the dotting mother disconsolate.

Shortly after their departure she struck upon a device to get them back and accordingly placed their credit in the Bank of England quite a sum of good old English gold and then wrote her sons that this would bring them back to her some day. The money was sent to North Carolina and settled at what is now Lumberton. Hugh remained there and prospered but Alexander soon left and engaged in the sugar raising industry first in the West Indies and then in Cuba, where he amassed considerable wealth working his one hundred negro men slaves until having made all the money he wanted and having also some scruples of conscience against keeping his men any longer he manumitted them giving them certificates of freedom and furnishing each of them with transportation from Havana to Savannah and he himself took immediate passage on a vessel bound for his old home in England.

Along with all the others on board in a storm on the way over he found a grave in the coral cemetery of the beach when the good ship went down. He never married, and died without lineal heirs but his brother Hugh still living in North Carolina, where he had engaged in the lumber business, had three children and as many boys. The boys John James and William and the girls Janette Margaret and Isabella John married when he was old an old Miss McLeod in Telfair county and died without leaving any child she having preceded him some years to the grave. James William Margaret and Isabella all died unmarried and childless, but Janette married Hugh Maloy and by him became the mother of Nancy Isabella Margaret and Daniel H. Maloy. Nancy became the wife of William A. Lowery and the mother of nine children for him Isabella married Zachariah Studstill and died without leaving any child. William Studstill and afterwards Jeremiah Bowen and was the mother of nine children and Daniel H. Maloy was the father of nine children among them Drs John K. and Henry S. Maloy.

HE PROPOSES TO TAKE RUEF'S PLACE IN PEN

So the Convicted Grafter May Spend Three Months With His Father.

San Francisco, May 17—Charles Montgomery, president of the California prison commission, made an offer to Governor Johnson that he should take the place of Abraham Ruef convicted political boss of San Francisco in a cell at San Quentin prison for three months to enable Ruef to visit his dying father, according to a letter made public today by Montgomery. The letter says: "I will go for three months to the penitentiary as his (Ruef's) substitute, granting him the three months liberty to be with his sick dying father and his broken hearted mother and will wear stripes obey every prison rule work my utmost and remain in prison without a complaint until Ruef comes back to relieve me."

There is no law to permit of this exchange now but the legislature in session and it can very easily be arranged. I will sign a petition urging every human right and will gladly surrender myself to San Quentin to take Ruef's place at once.

Victory for Unionists.
New Market Eng. May 17—A brilliant victory for the Unionist party was announced today in the result of the parliamentary election yesterday for the New Market division of Cambridgeshire. Denison Pender the Unionist candidate received 520 votes to 400 for George Nichols the Liberal nominee. The election was held in the seat formerly occupied by the late Sir Charles Day Rose of Montreal Canada a Liberal who died suddenly April 20 after making his first flight as a passenger in an aeroplane at Vendon.

Why 200,000 People Now Bathe Internally

When you are ill, the first step your Physician takes is to clean out the Large Intestine.

He does this because the chances are ten to one that if you had no accumulated waste in the Large Intestine you would not have been ill at all.

The new process of Internal Bathing by means of the "J. B. L. Cascade" thoroughly cleanses the Lower Intestine, removes all waste and poisonous matter, and keeps it as pure as Nature demands it to be for perfect health.

It is Nature's own way of curing Constipation—simply Warm Water properly applied.

Enlightened Physicians everywhere are using and prescribing it—

And instead of waiting to be ill, over 200,000 delighted Americans are warding off disease and increasing their Efficiency and Energy by its use.

Until recently the "J. B. L." Cascade has been obtainable only by sending to its inventor, Charles A. Tyrrell, M. D., of New York City. The demand for it, however, has become universal and we now have the "J. B. L." Cascade, and we will be glad to show and explain it to you in detail.

We are also distributing a very interesting Booklet on Internal Bathing, called, "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient," which can be obtained on request, without cost. Ask us for it today and inform yourself about this safe and sane method of curing Constipation without drugs. At our Main Store.

COUNCIL MEETING WAS A SURPRISE

Small Number of Delegates Expected Grew to Over Expected at Washington Conference Grew to Over Two Thousand.

By Mrs. Harvie Jordan, State Editor.
We expected a nice little, chummy, confidential meeting and not this great big convention of thousands of women.

Mrs. Pennybacker is a president of remarkable ability and strong personality. She is on time and a splendid parliamentarian.

Mrs. Rannons Crocker, chairman of the legislative committee, delivered a dramatic address, "Conservation—The Situation Today."

"I can't believe it of my sex," said the speaker, "that women would sanction this cruelty to birds."

Mrs. William Spencer outlined the work of the needle work guild. She spoke of the national scope of this guild, and declared it was ready to respond to calls for clothing in cases of national disaster.

The intelligent understanding of the needs of today and of the best way to meet them, was the gist of Mrs. Imogene Oakley's address on "Civil Service Reform."

"Resolved, That effort be concentrated on such a system of vocational training and guidance for boys and girls leaving school (especially for those leaving between 14 and 16) and to this end that federal aid be sought."

This was the endorsement of the general federation in promoting vocational training and guidance.

Mr. C. A. Frosser, an expert of national reputation, and secretary of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, gave the convention practical suggestions for club work.

Mrs. William F. McKnight, of Grand Rapids, Mich., was an interesting delegate at the council meetings.

Mrs. McKnight has been instrumental in having President Wilson and former Presidents Taft and Roosevelt deliver addresses on the centenary problems before the members of the club of which she is president.

The council meetings give opportunities for noting progress along all lines of work since the last biennial, and are incentive toward further achievement for the coming biennial. Special conferences and meetings were devoted to the discussion of plans for the Chicago biennial in May, 1914.

The program was so outlined that one day will be given to each subject which is to come before the convention. In the morning a report will be heard from the chairman of a department or committee. After its presentation, suggestions will be made on the particular subject before the convention, and the afternoon will be devoted entirely to discussion.

In the evening there will be speeches on the subject discussed during the day.

Progress of Kindergartens. During the recent International Kindergarten union, in session in Washington, reports showed gratifying progress in kindergarten work throughout the world.

The great importance of co-operation between kindergarten teachers and mothers was dwelt on in a paper by Miss Elizabeth Burton, chairman of the committee on application with the National Congress of Mothers.

Blaming society in general, rather than the public schools, for the low state of morals existing in this coun-

Circulation Workers Needed For Great Woman's Edition

"Fathers, likewise mothers, sons and daughters, too"—read out motto resplendent today, "Advance Circulation" to woman's edition of The Constitution to be published June 4.
Each one interested can secure subscriptions. "Buy a paper" must be the slogan for the next two weeks. It is urged that lists of subscribers with amounts be sent in promptly.

That schools enter the circulation contest at once by notifying Woman's Edition, Circulation Department, 308 Ashby Street, Atlanta, Ga.
That towns where there are unaffiliated clubs catch the enthusiasm. The result of the revival of awakening occasioned by the steady agitation of this undertaking of the women of Georgia is showing that what is necessary for the Federation is necessary for the individual club woman, and the number of club women will be greatly increased.

The work of creating a Woman's Edition was adequately planned by women whose faiths were large, who believed and made others believe in the great possibilities of the undertaking. Let there be real enthusiasm for circulation for the next two weeks.

Important Notice.

The federated clubs of the ninth district are asked to please forward the names of those who will attend the district meeting in Waycross, May 22, to Mrs. J. E. McElroy, Waycross, Ga., at 10 o'clock Friday morning, May 13.

Dr. Thomas M. Balliet, of the University of New York, delivered a striking address on the "Psychology of Moral Education."

Here are some of the epigrammatic statements made by Dr. Balliet:
"You cannot teach morals like you can geography, nor by simply teaching religion, although teaching religion in a broad way will help."

"The problem of moral training is not one merely for the school. Because we are a young nation, public opinion here is not as strong as it is in older nations, where people live and die in the same community. Schools from which children go out when 12 years old cannot be held responsible for their morals."

"It is the duty of society to remove vice from the streets. We are realizing that vice often strikes the innocent in terrible form. The duty of society to provide places where the young and grown people together can get recreation. In this way the playground movement is significant."

Crime Disgracing America. "It is a disgrace to this nation that so much crime exists. The number of criminals who go undetected and unpunished is alarming. If the criminal laws were really enforced, conditions would be much better, and if judges did their duty, and criminal lawyers were less criminal, there could be some time. It is useless to teach morals in the schools when the laws are not enforced."

"Society owes it to itself to see to the proper housing of the poor and payment of decent wages. You can sing Home, Sweet Home, but not 'Twas Sweet Flat."

Must Reach Their Hearts. "In order to teach children properly we must reach their hearts and feelings, and not talk about abstract things. It is a mistake to try to teach children morals from classical figures. Tell them of men and women of their own time, whose morals are up-to-date. The time will come when the morals of our day will be looked upon as very crude with the ages. Honesty reaches some things and not others, and this shows that our morals are but imperfectly developed. If we had universal morality we would have no wars. Race prejudices and protective tariffs are remains of the old times and are immoral. They show that we do not feel toward the man far away as we do toward our neighbor. Our morals have only developed to the point where we consider it murder if we kill our neighbor, but heroin if we kill the man of another country."

Artist Is Appreciated.

The May meeting of the Woman's club of Greensboro, at the home of Mrs. E. Harvey Armor, was well attended, and most enthusiastic.

Plans were perfected for opening the spring floral exhibit of the club on May 20, the exhibit to consist principally of sweetpeas, roses and pot-pourri of sweetpeas and early vegetables. In the evening music will be enjoyed and ices served.

The club definitely decided upon ordering the Gilbert Stuarts "George Washington," painted by Professor P. P. Carter, the artist, whose home is in Greensboro, as a gift from the club to the Greensboro High school. This is to be a companion picture to the "Robert E. Lee," also by Professor Carter, recently donated to the school.

The next definite work of the club will be special work at the cemetery for which a fund is in hand made by the club.

The president, Mrs. J. E. Park, made an earnest appeal for active work toward the Ella F. White endowment edition of The Constitution, both as to subscriptions and advertising.

Federation's Valuable Asset. Each club in the Georgia federation, as far as practical, should have a literature committee, and share the rare privilege afforded by Mrs. William Everybody's marching! The side-walk looks so neat!

Everybody's walking in the middle of the street.
Everybody's looking for encouraging applause
And giving faithful service to some great, unselfish cause.

See the banners flying! Hear the music play!
The frolics are resplendent, though you can't read what they say.
Fathers likewise mothers sons and daughters, too—
Everybody's marching in magnificent review!

If you want to get an office or convey a lesson grand Don't hesitate a minute. Hire a military band
And show the world a pageant that will dazzle all our eyes.

Spiker's free-will offering of her literary and service.
Mrs. Spiker is state chairman of literature and chairwoman of the Atlanta Woman's club. She has also been recently made president of the Drama League of Atlanta.

At the last meeting of the Atlanta Woman's club Mrs. Spiker presented "The House of Falmouth," Dr. Van Dyke's lovely drama, and charmed her audience by her keen appreciation of her subject, and wonderful execution. Appreciating so fully the importance of the cultural feature of club work, Mrs. Spiker offers her services to the clubs of the state, in helping in any phase of literary endeavor. She will organize study classes, outline study courses, advise book and periodicals, and give readings.

FINE WORK FOR WOMAN'S EDITION BY BAINBRIDGE CLUB

The Bainbridge Woman's club has pledged $30 for the Ella F. White memorial, and secured from the city council a page advertisement in the woman's edition of The Constitution. The study of the Bainbridge Woman's club for the last three months has been along the lines of science and social problems, and a number of interesting papers have been given. The program for the next year will again be progressive, the subject chosen being "Woman's Part in the Health and Welfare of the Nations."

Besides the program committee there are seven other standing committees—education, music, legislation, health, junior civic, hospitality, and ways and means, among club activities have been the observance of Clean-Up day, the organization of a junior civic in the school, and work on definite plan for giving a play and a musicale to raise funds.

No special legislative work has been undertaken this spring, but a letter of appreciation has been sent by the club to Hon. H. M. Stanley, commissioner of commerce and labor, for his service in resurrecting and enforcing the forgotten law that makes it compulsory for mercantile and manufacturing establishments to furnish seats for women employees.

M. Gordon Chase, president; Mrs. J. L. Subers, delegate, and Mrs. C. C. Harrell, chairman health committee, of the Woman's club, attended the district meeting in Peiham, and brought home fresh enthusiasm and plans for work.

In the election, held May 8, the following officers were chosen: Mrs. J. I. Subers, vice president; Mrs. W. V. Custer, recording secretary; Miss Lottie Mayes, corresponding secretary, and Miss Myrtle Bower, press reporter. Miss Myrtle Hicks was reappointed parliamentarian.

FACTORY GIRLS AIDED BY WOMAN'S CLUB OF CEDARTOWN

The third year of life of the Cedartown Woman's club is now drawing to a close, and the ladies who compose it can look back upon a commendable record of achievement, and have a bright prospect for genuine usefulness before them. Under the wise and energetic management of the president, Mrs. S. S. Evans, the organization has made excellent progress during the present club year.

The first work undertaken by Mrs. Evans on assuming the duties of her office was the establishment of a circulating library for the country schools, and in this she had the co-operation of County School Superintendent G. E. Benedict, who agreed to furnish another book for each one given by the ladies. Mrs. Evans and others gave a number of books and in this way the nucleus has been formed for a good library.

One of the most important features undertaken by the club is its department of Investigated Cases of Poverty and Distress, and which has given substantial aid to many worthy cases. An example of this work is the case of a couple of girls—mill workers—who had become nearly blind. They had no clothes, and offered $25 toward sending them to Atlanta for an operation on their eyes.

Financial aid has been given to the domestic science department of the

The Soul and Mind of the Southern People as Expressed in Their Literature.
(a) Poetry, (b) Fiction, (c) Oratory, (d) Essays, (e) History.

The contest is open to young women and to young men of Georgia from 18 to 25 years, inclusive. The time limit for preparation of essays is September 15, 1913. The prize is to be awarded at the state convention in Cuthbert, October 28. The prize, a complete set of the Library of Southern Literature, is offered by The Martin & Hoyt company, publishers, Atlanta, Ga., in behalf of Dr. E. A. Alderman, editor-in-chief of the Library of Southern Literature, and president of the University of Virginia.

Contestants are requested to submit essays to the prize-essay committee of the congressional district in which they reside. These committees will be in charge of the congressional district club presidents. Each district president, assisted by her committee, shall select one of the essays submitted and shall send it to the central committee, so that 15 essays should, through the method come to the central committee. District presidents and clubs are begged to present this contest to somenarratives and colleges and to give the subject much publicity through their local papers.

Conditions of Contest. The conditions governing the contest were announced as follows:
1. Contestants in the preparation of their essays are expected to deal with each phase of literature suggested by subheads.

CLUBS ELECT OFFICERS FOR 1913-14.
Atlanta Woman's Club. President—Mrs. A. P. Coles. First Vice President—Miss Alice Baxter. Second Vice President—Mrs. Linton Hopkins. Recording Secretary—Mrs. Lott Warren. Assistant Secretary—Mrs. Albert Akers. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Victor Kriegshaber. Treasurer—Mrs. M. M. Davies. Auditor—Mrs. Arthur Powell.

Georgia Branch College Women. President—Miss Rhoda Kauffman. Vice President—Miss Estelle Martin. Secretary—Miss Mildred Thompson. Treasurer—Miss Cornelia Cooper. Librarian—Miss Nancy Catchings.

Covington Woman's Club. President—Mrs. E. O. Lee. Vice President—Miss Sallie May Cook. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Birdie Shepherd. Recording Secretary—Miss Sallie M. Sackwell. Treasurer—Mrs. W. Cohen.

There will be no further business meetings until September, but active work will be kept up through the summer by club committees. The civic committee will co-operate with the city authorities in trying to make and keep Covington a city clean and beautiful.

Cuthbert Woman's Club. President—Mrs. Ernest Neal. First Vice President—Mrs. T. A. Hopper. Secretary—Miss Estelle Wright. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Henry Brodson.

Samuel Benedict Memorial school. A committee of club ladies met and did sewing for a number of poor children in order that they might be kept in school, fifteen little folks being helped in this way.

The club has taken a great interest in the sanitation of the town, and March 10 had a cleaning-up day. The city officials and citizens generally participated in this work, and much was accomplished.

At the club meetings the ladies have invited professional men to speak to them, and have listened to instructive lectures by Dr. W. T. Edwards on the care of the teeth; Dr. W. A. Chapman on general health, and Dr. C. Van Wood on sanitary conditions.

A Junior Civic league has been organized, through which the club is seeking to get the children of the city interested in civic improvement. Some of the children are very much interested and are doing fine work.

DALTON ENTERTAINS SEVENTH DISTRICT

The reports from the seventh district meeting in Dalton May 10 showed a highly successful one and prospects for new members in the federation this year are bright.

Among the prominent speakers who addressed the convention were Dr. A. W. Van House, president of Shorter college; Mrs. A. O. Granger, of Cartersville; Mrs. Logan Pitts, of Calhoun; Mrs. L. D. Hoke, of Cedartown; Miss Belle McCarty, of Dalton.

Mrs. Virginia Irby was re-elected president and Mrs. F. A. Irwin secretary of the seventh district. The annual meeting will be held in Kingston next year.

The program committee there are seven other standing committees—education, music, legislation, health, junior civic, hospitality, and ways and means, among club activities have been the observance of Clean-Up day, the organization of a junior civic in the school, and work on definite plan for giving a play and a musicale to raise funds.

CLUB WOMEN OF DAWSON WORK FOR INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Mrs. E. T. Jordan, who represented the Dawson Woman's club at the recent second annual session of the Woman's clubs of the third district, reports a most interesting and profitable meeting.

Reports from many clubs in the district were given, and showed that splendid work was being done by the women. The object of the meeting, however, was not so much to tell what had been done, but to discuss existing conditions and plan what was best to be done for the future.

From statistical reports it was found that there are about 18,000 children of school age in the fifteen counties that comprise the district, and in that number there are 7000 illiterates or children over 10 years of age who have never attended any school. This was alarming news to the women of prosperous southwest Georgia, and still more alarming was the information that among those who do go to school a large per cent drop out before accomplishing the good that the school could give them and go out into life poorly equipped to follow their chosen line of work.

Brought face to face with this state of affairs the only conclusion to reach was that a pressing need is vocational training, and to accomplish this there must be an industrial school in the district, if possible; failing in this, then one for southwest Georgia similar to the one at Tallulah Falls now supported by the women of the state.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, state president, offered a resolution in behalf of the ladies of the third district regarding establishing a school of this character. This was embodied in the resolution offered by the district committee.

The slogan of the meeting was a third district industrial school for boys and girls, and each club woman pledged to contribute toward the special committee to work up sentiment in that direction—Dawson News.

Program for Ninth District. Meeting at Norcross, May 22d. Meeting called to order at 10 o'clock. Invocation—Rev. Z. R. Landford. Welcome by Mayor—Dr. O. O. Simpson.

Welcome in Behalf of School—Professor C. C. Gilbert. Welcome From Woman's Club—Mrs. Ben Clements. Response—Mrs. J. I. Allman. Report of President—Mrs. Frank E. Shippen. Recitation—Miss Amy Childs. Reports of Federated Clubs. Open discussion, business. Reports of district chairmen. Address—Mr. Philip Weitzer. Message From State Federation—Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick.

deal made to her love of color. The dress for practical wear must be quiet in tone, but it will be all the smarter if brightened by a bit of Bulgarian silk or embroidery. Shopkeepers look dubious when asked if the new fabrics retain their color in the wash. They advise dry-cleaning. But dry-cleaning is expensive; the fabrics that need frequent cleaning are alums, and it is just here that advice is timely. Solid-colored ratine, velour, sponge and batiste do not soil quickly. To be sure, the soft pile of the fabric crushes easily, especially at the back of the skirt, and for this reason many women prefer wools and crepe, and fabrics of harder finish. While good care a frock of any of these materials, of a shade not too delicate, may be worn an entire summer and still appear trim and fresh.

Most of the plain skirts which cross to one side have a slash of buttons. Buttons of Bulgarian coloring are very fashionable and, where the trimming of the waist is of this shade of silk, are most effective. Sometimes a row of ornaments in the style of military rosettes is used. These are made of washable braid, and are placed horizontally across the front-closing of waist and extend down the skirt to the knees. Linen, agarie, sponge and ratine, either in oyster white, tan, russet, brown or blue, and in a loose weave, are attractively trimmed with the frogs or with gaily-colored silks.

Very pleasing is the frock of Caprian-blue sponge illustrated here. Girle and band are of Bulgarian silk, with blue and purple shades predominating. Drapery appears in both waist and skirt, and the skirt shows the smartly outaway slash at the lower edge.

Tassels are an important feature of the season's styles. Not only are they often used on evening gowns, but they are frequently seen on wraps and afternoon frocks. By serving as sights they draw attention to the length of line whether placed on sash ends, shoulder or sleeve tabs, or as a finish to drapery of tunic or of wrap. When used with elaborately-brocaded silks they tend to give an opalescent look to a costume, but all things must contribute their share to the clothing of woman, and what matters it so long as the effect is original and attractive?

This frock shows the possibilities of such material. It was developed in cotton crepe of a deep Caprian blue tint, combined with all-over embroidery for front inset and cuffs. The collar is of Ephemeral lace and the lapels of black satin. Both bodice and skirt have considerable fullness at the back and about the hips, but slender lines are maintained at the bottom.

The "long, lean" skirt may be worn by women of all ages; curvesless lines give length and erectness to the body, and have a tendency to remove all indication of age by taking away the appearance of flesh. The slashed skirt has, after months of protest, met with favor. Pretty women with pretty ankles do not mind showing them, and, too, the slash permits of greater freedom of movement, so why not? To be sure, the slash in a skirt intended for morning is not so much in evidence as in those for afternoon and evening. Since tightness about the ankles has become more accentuated, a means of obviating this had to be considered. To this purpose the slash was originally introduced. It still serves its purpose, but has also been made to serve another—that of adding grace and beauty, and sometimes, too, if unduly extended, absurdity. The width of the skirt at the hem, although remaining as narrow as possible, must vary with the size of the waist and the development of the hips. Many skirts have deep inset pleats. In order that these be kept in place, they should be taped across on the inside halfway down the skirt.

The return of the flounced skirt is a notable feature of summer styles. These flounces are both double and triple, but little superfluous material is used in making them. The lower flounce is usually less full than the upper one, thus affording the necessary narrow proportions at the lower edge. For these flounced skirts material such as bordered batiste, voile, crepe and mousseline are used; all-over openwork embroideries, too, are much in favor both for flounced and tunic skirts. The tunics are edged about with a band of flat lace and worn over a plain foundation.

An attractive skirt for a young girl has a double flounce of embroidered batiste with scalloped edges. The upper flounce is finished with a frill of net about an inch and a half deep. The skirts are conspicuous for their absence of gored. The top of the straight breadths is folded into the waistband, in a manner entirely dependent on the maker's sense of artistic qualities rather than in conformity to any definite rules. At the upper front the skirt edges lap at the lower section, and the edges are prettily curved, exposing a

Gray Hair Is Not Compulsory

It is almost pathetic when a woman's hair begins to fade and she realizes that it is turning gray. And yet there is no one to blame but herself for neglecting it, for the hair responds very quickly to the proper care and treatment. The hair turns gray because it has lost vitality, and when you put out the first few white hairs as they appear you simply enlarge the calls and coarsen your hair, and it will turn gray more quickly than if left alone.

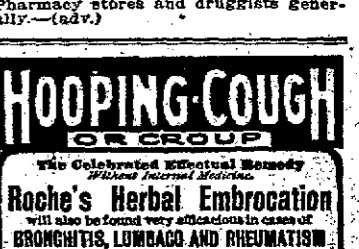

For many years we have handled all of the good hair preparations and we believe there is nothing better to be had anywhere than our Robins Hair Dye. It is not the ordinary vulgar bleach or artificial coloring. We do not have a name if a Restorative, because it simply restores your hair to its own original color and beautiful, healthy condition, and there is no reason why you should hesitate to use it if your hair is fading and losing its color.

It is our own laboratory product and we guarantee it to be pure and harmless. It has been in use for over a quarter of a century, and we have yet to receive the first complaint, but we can show you hundreds of letters of solicited, telling of the wonderful results obtained from it.

No woman need have gray hair undecorated if she uses a little time and care to its treatment. The hair always responds quickly. Robins Hair Dye is easily applied, and it is not sticky, and when you put it on your skin or scalp, if you want to see what it will do, get a 25c trial size (postpaid) and use it on a small piece of your hair, say back of your ears. You will be surprised and pleased with it. Regular large size, 75c; postpaid 90c. Put sale by all leading Pharmacy stores and druggists generally.—(adv.)

At the Theaters

"The Deep Purple"

(At the Atlanta.)
"The Deep Purple," which has never been played in Atlanta, has been chosen as the bill for the Miss Billy Long company at the Atlanta theater this week. This play, which is by Paul Armstrong, ran for an entire season in New York and is one of the strongest and most exciting dramas produced in recent years. Although in the original cast there were such well-known people as Richard Bennett, Emmett Corrigan, Jamison Lee Finney, W. J. Ferguson and Ada Dwyer, yet the company at the Atlanta will be able to give a production well worth seeing. Miss Long, Mr. Vail, Mr. Robinson and several others in the company have already played in "The Deep Purple," and every effort will be made by the management to present the play here in a manner which will compare well with the original.

"The Deep Purple" opens with the abduction of Doris Moore, a minister's daughter, by Harry Leland, a gentlemanly crook, who wants her to assist him in working a badger game on William Larko, a notorious mining engineer, who has just returned in New York. The young girl is flattered by Leland's attentions and believes him when he declares his love for her and his wish to marry her. Leland takes Doris to Kate Fallon's house, where a number of crooks hang out. "Frisco Kate," as she is called, is a reformed thief, and when she sees the girl she decides to protect her. To Kate's house also comes Gordon Laylock, who has a price on his head because of his killing a man in self-defense. Leland and Pop Clark learn the identity of Laylock and tip off the police, who arrest the latter.

This gets Kate on the rampage and she declares she will land Leland, Pop Clark and all the rest of the gang behind prison bars. She informs Larko of the badger game and he not only saves Doris, but gets greatly interested in her. Larko also assists Kate show her ability. Miss Tinsley Harrison will be cast as Doris and although this is a most ambitious role for one with so little experience, yet it is believed the Atlanta girl will play it remarkably well, as it is just suited to her.

Edwin Vail will play Laylock, Ralph Marthy will be Larko, Allan Robinson will be Leland, William Triplett will play Pop Clark, while Miss Shelton, Miss Inlet, Miss Triplett, Mr. Warren, Mr. Kirkham and Mr. Gardner will be assigned the other roles.

There will be matinees on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.

Keith Vaudeville

(At the Forsyth.)
It is wonderful that the Forsyth has such a tremendous pull with the people. This is particularly true when Keith Vaudeville is the attraction. During the period that this form of entertainment was presented elsewhere, there was a longing for a return home, and when vaudeville did come back home three weeks ago, there was one hop, skip and a jump to the box office, and it is rightly said that there has not been five minutes in any one day, from opening hour in the morning until closing up time at night, that somebody has not been at the box office buying seats for present or future performances. That is what has made the Forsyth popular. Everybody wants to see what is going on in the busy theater.

The program for the week that gets going on Monday afternoon, is brim full of novelty, comedy and music, with some oddities and some things that are entirely new.

One of the features will be the introduction of Ed Gillette's troupe of monkeys. Now there are some folks who may figure that monkeys are something to amuse children. These monkeys have been used to amuse big children all over the world and two years ago one of the Keith agents introduced Gillette to leave Europe for a short American tour, and the trainer of pretty girls and clever men, who present an original novelty in cycle work, will demonstrate that there is unusual entertainment in an act of this sort, when the work is being done by artists who are perfection in their ability. Josephine Duffo, a singer of distinguished ability, long identified with musical comedy, successes and one of the selected cast that produced "Pinafore," when Hopper and other stars toured in the famous opera, will be another of the features.

Tabloid Musical Comedy

(At the Bijou.)
Tabloid Musical Comedy at the Bijou sounds good. The family theater has been entertaining thousands of people every afternoon and night for four years with an excellent variety of popular price vaudeville, and is going to be another of the features. The introduction of tabloid musical comedy, which after all is a combination of good vaudeville and musical comedy with a chorus of pretty girls, a group of good comedians and secondary comedians that fit. There is to be no change in the schedule of performances at the mighty convenient show house, there will be matinees daily at 3 p. m., two matinees on Monday and Tuesday, and there will be two performances at night, the first at 7:30 o'clock and the second at 9 o'clock. The price of admission remains the same, ten cents for good seats on either the three floors, with a special rate for seats on the stage reserved at ten cents extra.

The tabloid chosen to start the season is "A Trip to Joyville," a combination of twenty clever, entertaining and well-trained comedians and secondary comedians, with a chorus of unusually attractive chorus girls. "A Trip to Joyville" will be offered in two complete scenes, with fitting and exceptionally attractive scenery and elaborate critical equipment. The music is made up of a selection of the most pronounced new song hits, with lots of tuneful dressing that is all original. The vaudeville features are of the highest quality, and there will be an eccentric dancing of Warner and Whyte and the ragtime violin specialties of Fidelity, who is said to be a distinguished vaudeville star who is having a little recreation in the style that appeals the least to the artist.

With Sam Colbert, Jim Barrett, Bobby Murreck, and Baby Still in the cast, Will Harris' book is played to perfection. It is one round after another of the jolliest sort of comedy, other of the jolliest sort of comedy, there are unexpected and scream winning comedy situations, and there is nothing at all that is not thoroughly acquainted with the highest quality of mirth.

"A Trip to Joyville" has passed muster with some of the very best reviewers in this part of the country, who thoroughly endorse what western critics have said, and it is a fact that the total attendance records in a number of southern cities.

The test will come Monday when the usual big Bijou audiences assemble and the prediction is made that the comedy theater is just about to start on a new era of success that will eclipse all other of its many accomplishments.

TABULATING BIDS MADE ON NEW COURTHOUSE

The public buildings committee of the board of county commissioners, together with the architects having the Fulton county court house construction in direct charge, are now carefully inspecting and examining in order to tabulate bids received yesterday for certain material and work in the building for which advertising has been made as the law requires.

There was an unusually large number of bids submitted and at a glance the figures indicate a sharp rivalry. The bids submitted are on sheet metal and roofing, mill work, glazing, painting, hardware, directory, plastering, marble cork tiling, ornamental iron, mail chute and elevators.

Figures in none of the bids presented were given out by the board or its secretary. The committee and the architects have been requested by the board to tabulate the bids and make recommendations to the board at a special meeting to be held Wednesday, May 21, at 12 o'clock a. m.

8,000 People Homeless

Budapest, Hungary, May 17.—Eight thousand people were rendered homeless, one child was burned to death, many people were injured and heavy financial loss was caused by a fire in the central of this city today. The flames started in the upper floor of a large building and spread by a strong wind quickly involved several blocks of houses.

Woman's Place

(From Baltimore Sun.)
Woman's place may be the home, but judging from recent statistics the term has doubtfully ignored that fact, for there are 227,071 stenographers, 227,071 teachers and professors, 491,150 in various trades, 770,000 engaged in agricultural pursuits, 7,300 physicians and surgeons, 1,077 architects, designers and draftsmen, 1,017 nurses, and 420,437 women in various professions.

Fighting Lions and Elephants To Lay 6,000 Miles of Railroad

London, May 17.—World-wide interest in the approaching completion of the Panama canal has served to divert attention almost completely from another mighty project, namely, the Cape-to-Cairo railway, to build which, over territory entirely British, was one of the dearest dreams of that great empire builder, Cecil Rhodes. When the Germans annexed the whole of the African continent, the British government refused to cede a mile of it to British territory. It looked as if Rhodes' vision of an all-red route through the dark continent never would be realized, but the Belgians, evidently wide awake to the value of the railway, have agreed officially to transfer a strip of the Congo to the British flag, so the Cape-to-Cairo line will be "all red" after all. Meanwhile, the British are busy with the work and through trains from the Nile to the Cape, 6,000 miles away, will be running within three or four years, from now.

According to Percy V. Cooper, one of the constructing engineers who is now in England, and who received me yesterday, the line northward has crossed into the Congo from northwest and comes to a place called Elizabethville, which formerly consisted of a collection of ant hills, 2,320 miles from Capetown, to which point trains are now running regularly. From Capetown the rails have been pushed southward for a distance of 1,400 miles south of Khartoum, or right into the heart of the Sudan. Accordingly, if advantage is taken of the upper reaches of the Nile and the great African lakes, the Albert Nyanza and Victoria Nyanza, by placing steamers upon them and running these in connection with the railway, less than 900 miles will need to be laid.

"It has been a stupendous work," said Cooper, "and the difficulties have been immense, though they may seem small in comparison with those which your men have overcome in Panama. The natives contend with and overcome, encounters with elephants, lions and other wild beasts in northwestern Rhodesia, and then, as the Congo was the ravages of the natives, the natives and other termites had to be reckoned with. It was here also that the line entered the area where sleeping sickness was rampant.

"It was in May, 1905, that the railway passed the Victoria Falls and plunged northward to Broken Hill, a district rich in all kinds of minerals, and mining has since been going on. The natives turned out in thousands to gaze on 'this wonderful animal belonging to the white man that ran on rails and fed on fire and took medicine.' The natives were so afraid of the fever, lions and other beasts that they were of trouble there, too. There was a stand up fight once between a lion and a fencer and four native workmen armed with crowbars and pickaxes. The lion and fencer were both killed, but the fencer managed to keep the brutes at bay until a party armed with rifles arrived on the scene and shot both lions.

"At another time, a construction train was running along with a heavy load of material, near Gwelo, when a full grown lion was sighted stretched right across the line, and basking peacefully in the sun. In reply to the whistle of the engine the lion looked up and did not attempt to move. The efforts of the driver and stoker to drive him off the line by pelting him with bills of wood were not better rewarded.

"The train was on the point of coming to a standstill when the lion leapt his temper. He took a sudden spring at the engine, seeking in vain for something on its smooth surface into which he could drive his claws, and thus secure a foothold. Again, and again the beast sprang, falling clear of the engine every time. The driver then realized that the best thing to do was to go full steam ahead and trust to the weight of the trucks bobbing him to keep the train on its line and clear the lion from his path.

"This was done, with the result that the lion—a magnificent specimen—was cut to pieces by the engine wheels."

Quite a number of natives, according to Cooper, have lost their lives by being carried off by lions while asleep in their camps, and for this reason strong palisades are built around them and cattle kept in specially constructed corrals.

"A Scotchman working on the line," continued the engineer, "was surprised one day to receive a letter from his wife. It left in Scotland saying she had made up her mind to come out and join him, as he must be very lonely living among the blacks, and having no one to cook for him. In due course she arrived."

"Unfortunately, the house, which the engineer had instructed to be built, was incomplete when the good lady came. Blankets were accordingly placed over the doorless entrance and she went to the window opening, and the engineer and his wife retired to rest. In the dead of night they were awakened by the growls of lions, and it was clear that the brutes were prowling round the house in search of prey. The Scotchman, sitting by the light of a candle, the man holding his loaded rifle ready, and the woman sobbing with fear. The man would have gone out and driven the brutes off, but he had only two bullets and had no time to load.

"Too Much For Her Nerves." "But it was too much for the good lady's nerves, and next morning she took a train for Scotland. She had sought a cottage with strong doors and windows."

"What about elephants?" the interviewer asked.

"They have given us a lot of trouble," said Cooper. "By tearing up the road-bed, pulling down the telegraph wires and upsetting the posts. Some little distance north of the Victoria falls a herd of elephants regularly passes the line every night and morning, to and from their watering grounds."

"This went on for months until one day the herd were in the act of making the passage when an express train came along. Seeing the elephants in front of him the driver endeavored to frighten them off by opening all his valves, making as much noise as possible. It failed to have the desired effect, and after trying the locomotive whistle for a few minutes, the driver decided to charge it. He came at full speed down the road, head lowered, trumpeting viciously, looking the very picture of brute force.

"The driver at once reversed speed, but the collision came, and the shock was such that the engine was derailed, though not overturned, and the elephant securely pinned by one of its legs under the weight of the engine. It was a queer killing.

"The white ant," Cooper added, "has been one of our greatest tanses. Elizabethville station was a mass of their 'hills,' rising from 20 to 60 feet in height. These have been all cleared away and the Central African town has sprung up there. As these insects destroy everything except iron and steel, the cross ties for the roadbeds are of special pattern and made of hard steel."

GOSSIP OF FOREIGN COURTS BY LADY MARY MANWARING

London, May 17.—Hundreds of thousands of people have marvelled at the wonderfully youthful appearance of Queen Alexandra. Although a grandmother well along in years—her son, King George, is in his forty-sixth year, with his tawney head and beard already sprinkled with grey—the queen dowager still contrives to look like a very young matron, with a waspish waist and a complexion which is juvenility itself. What is the queen's secret of perpetual youth? One frequently hears asked also, how much does it cost her to keep her youth?

Through the mercies of accident I am able to answer both questions. And "The last shall be first."

It costs Queen Alexandra just $45,000 a year to keep looking like one of our very young princesses, and the secret is known only to two people besides her imperial majesty. A famous specialist in beauty preservation is at the exclusive service of the queen mother. It is retained for the term of her majesty's life, and he has been permitted to take out an insurance policy guarding against the event of her death. So long as she lives he draws $35,000 a year. The queen's personal maid, also, also makes $10,000 per year. As her majesty enjoys a parliamentary grant of $50,000 per year, she can well afford these woman-like luxuries. Her youth and beauty are her own, and she has no lions. She is expected to be always young. So she is always young looking.

One of the court gossips says Queen Mary would like to know her mother-in-law's secret. But she is not to know it. Queen Mary nor any of our notabilities can penetrate the guards placed upon them. They are more closely protected than the crown jewels—some of which have been stolen.

Adeline, Duchess of Redford, is continuing her flight against paying taxes to a parliament, which refuses to recognize women as "persons." They have seized her property and sold it under the hammer. Now she is suing for damages against the treasury agents, contending that under the married women's property act she is not liable and in the meantime she is campaigning against the wickedness of England's allies, Russia and Portugal. The Portuguese government is savage and brutal, she says, and Russia is more barbarous than ever.

The Princess a Fiddler. The Prince of Wales has developed a great liking for the violin, and has become quite a clever player. Those who have been privileged to hear him sing—also that he has a nice voice.

King Alfonso is said to be very much annoyed at the intention of his cousin, the Infante Don Louis, of Spain, to go on a tour of wayside shrines. He has made his debut at a charity matinee.

When wealthy society dames and damsels decide to take the rest cure, they do not, as formerly, go away to their own country homes, but hire themselves to the residences of a lady, the holder of an honored title, who specializes in looking after invalids.

What constitutes high tea? The legislators of the nation have gravely drawn a hard and fast line between eggs and haddock as articles of consumption in the tea room of the house of commons, but the housekeeper is not greatly assisted by the distinction. If eggs are poached or the haddock may be included in the tea menu, why not an omelet which may run into many variations luxuries herbs or an jambon. Sardines are quite legitimate additions to the tea table after walking or hard exercise in the country, and must the addition of fish to the fare be a matter of size? Shrimps, it is true, have been from time immemorial a favorite accompaniment to the humble tea, whereas lobsters are rarely placed in the same position. At the very aristocratic end of the scale, the tartelette of fruit delicately tossed in the syrup is served, though it would be a dining table which would introduce an apple pie. The problem is a difficult one, but actual bulk seems rather to enter into the solution.

Superior persons, of course, at once question whether "high tea" survives at all. To enter a supper table is to be entirely provincial as to be beneath consideration. But it is an institution that the theater manager has good cause to approve, for the playgoers from the suburbs find it an exceedingly profitable business. They come up for the evening's amusement. The ladies of the family do not want a dinner at, say, a quarter to six, and something more substantial than the "supper" of the suburbs. But a desirable. Hence cook will send up something dainty in smoked salmon, chicken moussses and sandwiches, which will meet all requirements in a satisfactory manner. Meantime the bread win be served, and the coffee and liqueurs. A glance at the attractions offered by the tea shops said at what is ordered by their patrons is quite convincing on this point. Fricas, meats, German, sausages, patties, cold fish, pickles, poached eggs and various trifles.

and his pets have unfilled contracts that will keep them away from home so long that they will be a great deal when they do cross the waters again. The stars of the act are "Adam and Eve," conceded by showmen and amateurs to be the smartest monkeys ever exhibited. The pair will do their funny stunts at every performance during the week.

In these days with war talk floating around all over the world, a burlesque on what General Sherman said was, whatever it did, will be somewhat refreshing. Gallagher and Fields are going to do a war stunt that will be laughable. They will present "The Battle of Bay Rum," and if there is anything more absurd the Forsyth management will be quite delighted to give the tip. The two comedians with their assisting company promise to score one of the real laughing hits of the season. The act is coming direct from a successful tour in the Keith theaters and will unquestionably serve to kill or nearly every living grouch around this city. The Dunedin troupe, a combination

UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY State Editor, MISS HERBERT S. FRANKLIN, Tenuille, Ga.

MATERIAL BEING COLLECTED FOR REVOLUTIONARY READER

The work of collecting material for a revolution reader has been entered into with much interest and earnestness by many of the chapters. It has served the purpose of the state regent, Mrs. S. W. Foster, in that these have been gathered together much local revolutionary history, Indian legends and folklore to be preserved in type for future generations.

CHAPTER I. "Chieftains."

A mile and a half north of the city of Rome, Ga., on the east bank of the river, stands the old Chieftains, the historic home of Kah-nung-dah-gah, better known as Major Ridge, a famous Cherokee Indian chief.

CHATTANOOGA IS PLANNING TO GIVE VETS ROYAL WELCOME

Mrs. Thomas H. Smith, of Dublin, patron of honor for the Eastern Brigade of the Georgia Division, U. D. C., will attend the coming reunion in Chattanooga, Tenn., announced the list of her maids of honor. These are representative young ladies from cities in the territory of this brigade.

The principal events of the United Confederate Veterans and Sons of Veterans reunion have been outlined. This form, while it is not final or complete, will not be changed materially so far as the addition to the features mentioned, however, there will be some interesting events not under the auspices of the Chattanooga Reunion association directly, such as the Alabama and Florida monuments.

- Monday, May 26. 4 p. m.—Memorial association meeting at Chamberlain field. 8 p. m.—Sons of Veterans' opening meeting at auditorium.

"STONEWALL" JACKSON DIED FIFTY YEARS AGO

Lexington, Va., May 10.—The fifty-fifth anniversary of the death of "Stonewall" Jackson was observed today at the Virginia Military Institute, where he once was a professor.

BOOK REVIEWS IN TABLOID

John O' Jarrett, by Vaughan Kester, author of "The Prodigal Judge," etc. Illustrations by Leone Brucker. In this novel Mr. Kester has given the reader a splendid illustration of the life of John Smith—the hero of the founding of Virginia, who is also the hero of this interesting historical romance.

VAUGHAN KESTER. Author of "The Prodigal Judge," and a brother of Paul Kester, the playwright.

Sylvia. A story of grave social problems. By Upton Sinclair, author of "The Jungle." This book has just been received, and a new novel by Mr. Sinclair means nothing more to the readers of "The Prodigal Judge," etc. The author of these two powerful stories on timely subjects, was born in Baltimore, his parents being natives of Ohio.

The Son of His Father. By Clara Fiebig. Authorized translation by H. Raashaug. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schlichter were a very devoted and prosperous couple, having no children of their own, adopted a boy from a Swiss peasant family and named him Wolfgang (Wolchen), his adopted mother believing that her happiness was now complete.

The Happy Family. A realistic comedy by Frank Swinnerton. Mr. Swinnerton is a realist belonging to the new school, and the book is proving very interesting to the twentieth century reader for it is written in an out-of-date, frank and vigorous style.

The Making of Thomas Barton. By Anna Nichols. Tragedy and romance are very cleverly woven in these fourteen stories by Mrs. Nichols, who has pictured the village life which can only be interesting and refreshing from the pen of a native.

The Texas Scouts. By Joseph A. Altshuler, who has written several interesting western stories. And while this story is complete in itself it really traces the further adventures of Ned Fulton, hero of "The Texas Star."

The Captain. By Virginia Lucas. A beautifully illustrated little book written by the very popular author. The story is of a beautiful dog, "Captain," whose pedigree went down with the ship "Belle Image," but after swimming around two days and two nights, he was washed ashore, and upon recovery from his experience told his own experience. (Published by Helen Norwood Halsey, Herald Square hotel, New York.)

The Fetters of Freedom. By Cyrus Townsend Brady, author of "The Chalice of Courage." Dr. Brady, the author, is rector of St. George's, at Kansas City, Mo. This is a very interesting and historical romance, dealing with the life of St. Paul, the apostle, who presents many attractive and realistic word pictures of the Eternal City: Nero and his court, and of St. Paul, the Apostle, himself. It has been likened to General Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur," and also considered the best story ever read from Dr. Brady's pen. (Dodd, Mead & Co., New York.)

A Hundred Years of Missions. The story of progress since Carey's beginning in 1800. By Delavan Leavens, D. D. Introduction to the first edition by Arthur T. Pierson, D. D.

The Man and Woman. Studies in human life. By Arthur L. Salmon. A little volume full of interesting discussions on the beauties and the joys of love and friendship. (Funk & Wagnale company, New York and London. Price $1.25 net.)

Peems. By John T. Lecklider. The author has dedicated this attractive volume of poems to "The Good Friends of My Native State." (Richard G. Badger, The Gorham Press, Boston.)

Women as World Builders. Studies in modern feminism. By Floyd Dell. Mr. Dell has devoted about 100 pages to a discussion of feminism—dealing both in generalities and personalities. The author says in the first chapter, "The feminist movement can be dealt with in two ways: it can be treated as a sociological abstraction, or it can be treated as a living, breathing, and moving force."

LITERARY NOTES

"Virginia Girl" to the Front Again. On the occasion of General Leonard Wood's recent visit to the city, when he was feasted by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and heard by the Technological Institute (which he had once attended), he received, as one of the courtesies of the city to greet a little book, in confederate gray and gold, wrapped in a confederate flag with the United States flag floating from the ribbons that tied it. On a fly-leaf was General Wood's name as "Chief of Staff, U. S. A.," and this inscription in the hand of the author, a resident of Atlanta:

"Never a brave soldier of the sixties, under whatever flag he fought, ever pressed his glory, Sir Walter Raleigh-wise, before the feet of my 'Virginia Girl' wherever he met her. And so it is her impulse to pay her respects to our country's soldiers whenever they come in range of such privilege and duty from her. Thus she goes to General Wood, wrapped in the banner of her dead confederacy, and bearing the flag of the union."—Myrtle Lockett Avery.

Elizabeth had thanked Mrs. Avery for the book on a private note of acknowledgment, in which she spoke of her "Virginia Girl," in the civil war, as "charming—an adjective which has come to mean a girl of the sixties, a heroine of the sixties ever since the first review of the book appeared in a New York paper.

It will be recalled that "Virginia Girl" carried to Sir Thomas Lipton as the name of his first confederate flag he saw on the occasion of his recent visit to Atlanta; that Sir Thomas was pleased when the little square of red and white silk fluttered from the book to his lap, and that he had meant to give the flag and the "Girl" a place of honor in his yacht beside the autographed pictures of his king and queen.

Elsie Jenia, the musical star favorite, who has been starting this season with Montgomery and Stone in "The Lady of the Slipper," is soon to appear in a new role. She has written a book entitled "Over the Top," an address to the Apptletons, announced for publication on May 9.

D. Appleton & Co. will soon publish the third large edition of "The New Humorous Votes-for-women novel, 'The Gay Rebellion.'"

Ralph Henry Barbour has a new novel, "Peggy-in-the-Rain," which will be published this month. The story is reported to be a dainty romance—perhaps of the hammock season kind.

"'Twas this way," said Mr. Bing, "I was sitting on my porch—sitting there in the middle of the night—alone with my pipe. All at once I took a puff and said to myself: 'I'm going to quit tobacco, for if I'm not careful this thing will fasten itself on me as a habit.'"

"It is a very long time since I have seen a man in the late sixties. But it is never too late to divorce Lady Nicotine."

My Past—Reminiscences of the courts of Austria and of Bavaria, and the true story of the tragic death of Rudolf, ex-crown prince of Austria. By Countess Marie Louise, daughter of Duke Ludwig of Bavaria. She was also the favorite niece of the Empress Elizabeth of Austria, who confided to her many circumstances which were very interesting. This volume has nearly 80 pages of interesting data which has never been published before and tells the reason for the crown prince's death. (G. P. Putnam's & Co., New York and London.)

The Eighteenth Brumaire of Louis Bonaparte. By Karl Marx. Translated by Daniel DeLeon. This is the third edition of what is considered one of Karl Marx's most profound and interesting monographs.

OUT TODAY Upton Sinclair's New Novel SYLVIA "The Most Impressive Novel in a Generation"

Nervous Dyspepsia is wholly unlike the more ordinary forms, since it has to do with the vital element in the digestive process. Most dyspeptics complain of pressure of gas, sharp pains after meals, etc. With Nervous Dyspepsia no such feelings are present, but usually a sense of heaviness in the stomach. Ordinary remedies are without effect.

HEAVINESS IN THE STOMACH STOMALIX however, the popular European Stomach remedy, brings a glad relief to the sufferer from nervous indigestion. Unlike the drastic preparations sometimes beneficial to ordinary dyspeptics, Stomalix is tonic, invigorating, reconstructive and enables the vital, the nerve-power to assume its full part in the digestive process. It is pleasant to the taste—a spoonful in a wine-glass of water after meals, it is free from anything harmful and has the highest endorsements both of physiological chemists and medical practitioners. ## BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY CLUB PLANNED AT PICTURESQUE FISHING GROUNDS

"Old Bennett Mill" Property, Fayette County, Will Be Improved and Renamed Crystalake Country Club.

Fayetteville, Ga., May 17.—(Special.) For generations past the "old Bennett mill" property, located about 3 miles west of this place, and 37 miles south of Atlanta, has been the favorite summering place of thousands of friends throughout Fayette and adjoining counties.

It has been the mecca of many happy picnic gatherings. It has been the summer home—the only watering place, so to speak—of countless numbers of those in close touch with this picturesque and beautiful old place. And with it all—and best of all—has been the enjoyable fishing privileges afforded by the "Bennett pond." More than a mile in length, at some places a half mile wide, the water clean and clear, with an easy approach at every point around the water's edge, and beautifully supplied with several varieties of the finny tribe, it has been the mecca for those who delight in what is called by many as "the greatest sport on earth."

After having been in the possession of the late C. B. Bennett and his heirs for more than seventy-five years, this tract of about 300 acres, which was part of an original grant of 13,900 acres from the state, has passed into a new ownership.

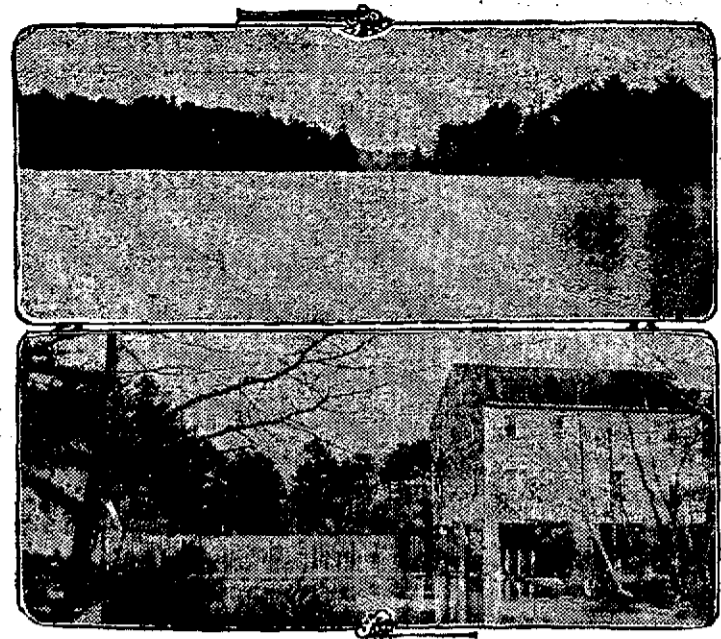

Now Crystalake Country Club.

The good old name of "Bennett's pond" has been supplanted by the more esthetic name of Crystalake Country club, and if the plans of the new estate owners are successfully carried out, the development of this property will mean much to this little village and to the surrounding country. Already it has awakened much interest, and it is said that while under the new order of things many of the citizens of this community may be ultimately deprived of the privileges and pleasures heretofore enjoyed at this old mill, still they know that the plan of development proposed will add greatly to the section from a commercial and social standpoint, and they are welcoming the new order.

This property is just 27 miles south from Atlanta, near this place. The water covers 100 acres, and as a protection to it the former owners have never allowed any timber to be cut near the water. Thus there stands completely around the lake, and extending back for 500 or more feet, a stretch of original forest as pretty as can be found in the state. Magnificent and stately pines, oaks and poplars, some perhaps a hundred years old, make the border of the lake beautiful and ideal for game life. The whole surroundings are free from briars and marsh.

To Buy 200,000 Fish.
The lake abounds with fish—trout and bream predominating—and it is stated that nearly 200,000 little ones are soon to be put in the water. In turning this picturesque property into a country club, the new owners have met with much encouragement from the residents and officials of Fayette and Clayton counties. It is believed that when the club, with its 250 members, is completed, "the high-ways leading into Atlanta will be permanently improved by suitable pavement."

An automobile driveway is to be built around the lake, winding around for a distance of 3 to 4 miles. Electric lights will be installed, so the owners say, and many other improvements will be added to make of this property an ideal spot for a summer family camping place, where bathing, boating and fine fishing can be enjoyed. On account of its accessibility to Atlanta, a large number of her citizens will doubtless welcome the opportunity to enroll as members of the club.

Views showing historic Bennett's mill and pond, which it is proposed to turn into country club.

It is understood that the club will continue to grind, and will at an early day be improved, and that even when the property has been converted into a somewhat exclusive club, it will continue to do service for this locality.

COMER ANNOUNCEMENT CAUSES MUCH COMMENT

Former Governor Will Again Make Race for Chief Executive of Alabama.

Montgomery, May 17.—(Special.)—Former Governor Braxton Bragg Comer's announcement in The Birmingham Age-Herald Thursday morning that he would run for governor in the next state election caused little surprise in official circles at the capitol.

For several months heads of departments at the capitol have been expecting Mr. Comer to announce his candidacy for the highest executive office in the state, hence while the announcement contained little news, it nevertheless caused a considerable degree of interest among capitol attendees.

Only one of the candidates in official circles mentioned for governor was at the capitol Thursday. This was J. Lee Long, chairman of the state tax commission. Mr. Long refused to discuss former Governor Comer's candidacy. He declared that he was too busy discharging the duties of his office to give any thought to the question of politics or to his probable candidacy for any office.

Both Captain Reuben P. Kolb, commissioner of agriculture, and John H. Wallace, Jr., game and fish commissioner, two candidates for governor, were out of the city. Mr. Wallace was at Thomasville, where he delivered an address Thursday at the closing exercises of the high school at that place, and Captain Kolb was at Albertville in attendance upon the closing exercises of the Seventh District Agricultural school.

Mr. Comer's announcement furnished the principal topic of conversation at the capitol, and it is now expected that other candidates will shortly announce. Charles Henderson, president of the state railroad commission; J. Lee Long and Walter Seed are the only other proposed candidates who have not signified their intention of entering the race, though it is probable that all three will do so at the proper time, with the possible exception of Mr. Seed.

RECOMMENDATIONS BY THE WARE GRAND JURY

Waycross, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—Ware county's grand jury takes rank as one of the most progressive that has served at a term of the superior court in years, and if half of their recommendations are adopted, some notable improvements will be made in Ware county within the next year.

While a lot of interest is taken in their recommendations regarding the county board, more attention is being paid to their suggestions along the health-protection line than usual. The grand jury specifically recommends the establishment of a joint city and county board of health, with sufficient salary for an all-time health officer. This health officer, according to the grand jury's idea, should be in charge of all public health matters in the city and county. The grand jury goes a step further and urges that the county commissioners appropriate at least $500 for a laboratory for the use of the health board.

Another important recommendation of the grand jury urges the abolishment of the office of county treasurer. The purchase of about 1,000 acres of land for a county stockade and farm is also recommended, the grand jury pointing out the saving to the county where convicts and teams not used in road work are employed in farm work.

O. H. CANTRELL FINED FOR BEATING HIS WIFE

Waycross, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—G. H. Cantrell, traveling dentist, has been fined $100 or given the option of serving twelve months on the farm for wife-beating. He was tried in the superior court.

Her Romance Is Shattered By Fiance's Tragic Death

MISS IRENE STANLEY, Who was engaged to Flagman Allen.

From the mass of twisted iron and battered woodwork that lay beside the Seaboard tracks at Rica station Wednesday night, where a moment previously an engine had sped to the relief of a disabled train, came more of the beautiful things of life, as well as the heart-breaking, than usually occurs when a broken rail or misread order hurled a passenger-laden train to eternity.

Out of the wreck in which the young trainmen were killed across the splendid heroism of a wandering tramp, a man who, toiled under the engine trying to save the engineer from being scalded to death, and who fell exhausted and badly burned as he told the rescuers, "I'm only a hobo; let me alone and get that poor devil out of there." As a result of it, a farmer showed the promptness and action of a hero in rushing down the track to stop an oncoming passenger train, but most touching of all was the shattered romance of an Atlanta girl and J. T. Allen, the flagman, who was dead when the engine crushed him against the side of the cut, and who escaped the more painful death of Engineer R. B. Brooks.

Miss Irene Stanley, a pretty young girl, was engaged to the flagman two weeks ago when he came here from Gheland, La., and got a position that he might be near her. He begged her to marry him then, but she delayed. The marriage was to take place in a short time, and in the exuberance of youth he wrote his father that he had married the girl he came here for.

On the day after the wreck, the father wired from Gheland, telling Miss Stanley to come and make her home in his family. He had never seen her, but she, he believed, was his son's wife, and as such held a place in his heart.

The girl is heart-broken today. Her only regret, above the grief over the death of her lover, is that she had put off the wedding until sudden death had stopped it forever.

AIGRETTE SHIPMENT TO CAUSE PROSECUTION

Kansas City, May 17.—Prosecution of Marshall Field & Co., of Chicago, under a federal law forbidding the interstate shipment of aigrettes or "any part of a wild bird," unless the contents of the package is marked on the wrapper, will be undertaken by Edwin Turner, deputy state fish and game commissioner of Missouri, according to a statement by him here today. The commissioner's action is actuated by recent efforts of club women of Missouri and Kansas to break up the sale of bird plumage.

A few days ago Turner ordered a small shipment of aigrettes from the Chicago house. They were received today by express and according to Mr. Turner the wrapper bore no indication as to its contents.

GUILTY OF MURDER. HE KILLED HIMSELF

Alma, Kas., May 17.—Paul Roberts, on trial for the murder of Anthony King, a restaurant keeper, was found dead in his cell today. The case went to the jury last night and the judge instructed that if a verdict was reached it should be delivered this morning. The jury room was directly over Roberts' cell and it is thought Roberts heard the jury proclaim him guilty of first degree murder and drank poison. The verdict was read in court today.

They Eat Human Flesh.

Sydney, N. S. W., May 17.—Cannibalism in its worst form exists among natives of the New Hebrides Islands, in the South Pacific, according to a statement today by Rev. Thomas Gillan, at the Presbyterian assembly of New South Wales. Human flesh is looked upon as a luxury and tribal wars invariably end with a "banquet," unchecked by the authorities, he declared.

MISS LA HATTE WINS GORDON ESSAY PRIZE

United Daughters of Confederacy Medal Awarded to Georgia Avenue School Girl.

Great interest has been felt by the pupils in the Atlanta public schools in the prize offered by the local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for the best essay on "The Gallant John B. Gordon."

Among a host of contestants, the medal has been awarded to Bessie LaHatte, of the Georgia Avenue school. She resides at 425 Washington street. Her essay which won the prize is as follows:

The Gallant John B. Gordon.
In the dear old southland,
The land where skies are brightest,
Where hearts are bravest, tenderest,

On February 6, 1832, John Brown Gordon was born. He was of Scotch-American parentage, and his childhood was happily spent at his home in Upson county, Ga. He was more courageous than most boys, and early gave evidence of his martial spirit by leading the victory brigade of bare-foot boys in the games and contests in which they engaged. He performed many feats of daring. One of the chief delights of his childhood was horse-back riding.

He was a most devoted son and the gallantry and chivalry which marked his whole life showed themselves in his tender love for his mother, his obedience to his father and his loyalty to his companions.

In 1852 he was graduated from the Georgia State university at the head of his class. He was admitted to the law which he practiced for a time in Atlanta.

By this time Gordon's "fancy had lightly turned to thoughts of love." He wooed and won Miss Fanny Harrison, of LaGrange, whom he married in September, 1854.

General Gordon's energy and business ability were soon recognized and he was given an important mining position. When the war broke out in 1861 he was in the mountains, engaged in the development of coal mines. He was the first to respond to the call of war, and to use his own words "his spirit was caught up by the enthusiasm that swept like prairie fire through the land. But he had to undergo a fierce struggle between love for his country and what would become of his young wife and the two little boys who had come to bless his home as a trying one. The wife brave and loyal, settled the question by saying that she would go to the front with him, leaving the children to the care of their mother, "Bessie Mary." This decision was a momentous one, for Mrs. Gordon, by her careful nursing when he was so seriously wounded at Sharpsburg, saved his life and thus gave him back to the nation.

The military organization of cavalry elected Gordon captain and started to Millidgeville. When they reached Atlanta they were told that their services were not needed, since the government could not equip them, especially to Gordon, who all his life had been an ardent horseman. But their enthusiasm was not lessened and they decided to go to the front as infantry. They had no military training. Even Gordon, the captain, the nearest approach to uniform were the rascally skin caps that they wore, and which gave rise to the name Rascally Roughs.

Their services were accepted by Governor Moore of the state of Alabama, and they were attached to the South Alabama Infantry. Gordon was elected major by acclamation, this being his first promotion.

He afterwards rose rapidly in rank. First from major to lieutenant-colonel, then to colonel, brigadier general, and finally to general in command of the second army corps, and at the close of the war lieutenant general in command of the left wing of Lee's army at Appomattox.

After joining the Sixth Alabama Infantry, Gordon's company was headed to the seat of the Confederacy, a place which he took part were Seven Pines, Malvern Hill, Sharpsburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Wilderness, Spotsylvania, Monocacy, Fishers Hill, Cedar Creek, Fort Steadman and Appomattox. General Gordon's career during the war was brilliant, and the way in many a "dashing charge" and proved himself one of the boldest and most daring fighting men of the south. At Sharpsburg he rendered valiant service, and it was here that he won his stars of the brigadier general and major general. At Gettysburg he was wounded, and he was dragged from the field to die, but it was here that his wife proved her faithfulness by braving the perils of war to nurse him back to health.

ATHENS BOY SCOUTS MOST ENTHUSIASTIC

Classic City Pupils Look to Movement to Foster International Peace.

Very recently the boys of Athens, Ga., have become interested in the "Boy Scout movement of America, and they organized a patrol under the leadership of their college town. A very small number of the boys, and the elder people has done much to help the young boys with their movement. The scout organization has become so stationed in that city that every scout has from two to three military suits and wear them to school morning, afternoon and all other current events. For at least two months before "Memorial Day" every troop of that city drilled and worked on their military tactics twice a week in order to make a show in the parade which would make the Georgia cadets feel that they were indeed they accomplished their intention. On April 26, three hundred well-trained scouts marched the streets of that little town and with the aid of the cadet band kept time and distances which would without a doubt have done credit to the city of Atlanta. The Pathe Weekly took pictures of the memorial parade of Athens, Ga., and have sent these pictures to many cities which have caused much sensation. Today millions of people of many nations are discussing the great peace movement. From every temple in every city of every country this question is being put before the inhabitants of this great world. Mr. Andrew Carnegie has donated a great sum of money to erect a temple in Holland called the "Peace Palace." The temple will stand as the "pillars of Hercules" over the little country and will invite all the nations of the earth to join together in everlasting peace. The greatest thing that the people of today can do is to educate their young boys in the line of kindness, woodcraft, bodily health and bodily exercise. If the young boys of today be taught to drill when young they will be ready for an international disturbance all their life without being paid to spend their money in doing so. We are watching guard houses or breaking rocks. The thing for the people of today to do is to educate the young in the right way and the future will take care of itself.

WILLIAM D. ELLIS.

Atlanta, where he worked energetically in the cause of peace. All Georgia knew Gordon's war record, and there was no honor he held too high for him. In 1866 he was sent as delegate to the convention of the National Union, held in Philadelphia. In 1867 he was elected governor of Georgia, but was counted out. In 1872 he was sent as delegate to the national democratic convention, held in New York. He was elected to the United States senate in that same year and was re-elected in 1878. In 1880 he resigned and raised the money to build the Georgia Pacific railroad. In 1886 he was elected governor of Georgia, and he was re-elected without opposition. In 1890 he was elected for the third time to the United States senate. This election was one of the most exciting contests in the history of this state. He was unopposed until he antagonized the subversive plan of the Farmers' alliance, which had four-fifths of the legislature in its favor.

General Gordon was an able statesman and an eloquent orator. He delivered speeches on finance, civil reform and in the defense of the south. In 1893, at the time of the Chicago trial, he was elected to the position of maintaining law and order, ranging from one end of the country to the other. He won the gratitude of the farmers of the south by his great work for agriculture. He did not exert his labors in his own state alone, but he worked untiringly for the uplift of the whole south.

At the expiration of his third term Gordon retired and devoted his time to lecturing and to preparing his reminiscences. His lectures on "The First and Last Days of the Confederacy" have done much towards uniting the north and south.

General Gordon's home life was ideal. He was ever a tender and faithful husband and father, and his domestic personality won for him a host of friends.

After a brief illness General Gordon died at his winter home, Biscayne, Fla., on January 5, 1904. The whole country mourned his loss. He was honored and respected by old and young alike, and all were greatly saddened by his death.

Many testimonials have been made to his memory. Gordon Institute of Barnesville, Ga., the finest preparatory school in the south, was named in his honor, and in the capitol square in Atlanta a beautiful bronze statue in his honor was erected. Descriptions for this coming from both north and south.

General Gordon, so fittingly called "The Matchless Gordon," will ever live in the hearts of his countrymen. His life was remarkable for his keen interest in all the things of life, and his unselfish thoughtfulness for others. These traits became stronger in him as the years advanced, and he grew tender and gentler as the close of his life drew near.

LETTERS FROM THE SCHOOLS

Formwalt Street School.
Mrs. Sams was exceedingly proud of the boys and girls of the seventh and eighth grades when they sang at the Auditorium Friday, May 3. All had on the Formwalt colors, purple and pink, and they certainly did their part in singing. With the exception of one boy, and he would have been there had it been possible, every one of the two grades participated in the concert. Formwalt to the front again. Out of the twenty prizes awarded Field day, we captured four of them. Both of our representatives in class B carried home prizes. Lillian Mitchell, of the sixth grade, and Morton Dameron, of the seventh, both won second place, and then the seventh grade boys and girls were awarded the plaques which were offered to the seventh grade in the city making the highest class average in their athletic requirements.

The one won by the boys was presented by the Atlanta Athletic club, and the girls by the Georgia Railway and Power company. We wish to thank them for their gifts, and say they are such an ornament to our walls, they are going to work harder than ever to keep them always.

We were also proud of our fourth and sixth grades, who took part in the drills on field day. We had a hope that every name in the fifth grade will be placed on the honor roll this month.

There were nine children in the sixth grade that received perfect in geography last month. Their names are Carrie Allen, Lois Bell, Edna Hamilton, Marceline Hunker, Virginia Jett, Marion Williams, Annie Zuckerman, Annie Newborn and Frank Hilsman. We are proud of these children and hope that every child in the class will receive perfect this month.

The First Grade A received excellent in music last week when Miss Milledge, the music director for the primary grades, visited them. The attendance banner for last week was awarded to the second grade A for the highest average attendance. This grade also received the spelling banner twice last week.

Last week Miss Heptinstall, teacher of the Second Grade B, took her class on a picnic to Grant Park, as a reward for the good work which these little people have done during this year. They enjoyed their outing very much.

On May 21 the children of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the city schools are required to write a composition on "The Prevention of the Fly." There are prizes to be given for the best compositions and we want our children to work hard and have the best compositions, if possible.

Our school is very fortunate in the field day exercises and although we did not receive any prize our contestants did well and we are proud of them.

State Street School.
The report cards were given out Monday. Each class leader for the year was presented with a picture. Those who received pictures were Olive May Dickerson, I-A, Rosa Lee Chambers 1-B, Wilmer Morris 2-A, Eunice Wheeler 2-B, Eugene Penn 3-A, Johnnie M. Manor 3-B, Amanda Manor 4-A, Nellie Cawhern 4-B, Fannie Mae York 5-A, Mary Norman 5-B, Catherine Holmbeck 6, Bernice Wallace 7, Wessie Childress 8. In making the presentations Miss Pitts said that numbers of other children had done their best, but that there had already received a great reward in straightened intellectually. She told us the beautiful parable of the talents and drew special attention to the fact that the man who had only five talents got the same reward as the man who had ten. We know very well that we win what the world calls prizes, our names may never be written high on the roll of fame, but if we have used the talents God has given us to the very best advantage, we have done all that should be expected of us.

Shamos, Thelma Hewlett and Lucile Denham.
Mrs. Osgood, the drawing director, will visit us next Monday.

The fifth and fourth grade girls were rewarded for getting the most stars for good lines on the yard. The fifth grade children are busy studying up for their composition about the fly. We hope that one of our children will win the prize.

Little Emmett McClelland, of the deaf class, went to the country Friday and came back full of stories about the chickens, pigs and goats. Little Mack Shepard, the baby boy of the deaf class, though he has been in school only a little while, speaks a great many words, and almost never makes a mistake in making the commands from his teacher's lips.

III Street School.
The honor roll of the fifth grade for the month of April was as follows: Ruth Briggs, Annie May Hileman, Estelle Ansley, Elizabeth Wooding, Evelyn Clements, Herman Jerrikan, Lucerne Abbott, Ruth Evans, Lillian Mitchell, Josephine Smith, Jessie Cagle, James Newman, Alva Marshall, Madeline Massey and Ruth Bradbury. There were more names on the honor roll last month than ever before and we hope that every name in the fifth grade will be placed on the honor roll this month.

There were nine children in the sixth grade that received perfect in geography last month. Their names are Carrie Allen, Lois Bell, Edna Hamilton, Marceline Hunker, Virginia Jett, Marion Williams, Annie Zuckerman, Annie Newborn and Frank Hilsman. We are proud of these children and hope that every child in the class will receive perfect this month.

Our school is very fortunate in the field day exercises and although we did not receive any prize our contestants did well and we are proud of them.

Walker Street School.
Two important events occurred last week in school life. First, the concert, held last Friday evening at the Auditorium, and which a large crowd attended and fully enjoyed. The pupils of the eighth and some of those of the seventh grades took part in it. Mr. Slaton presided over the meeting, and Miss Harrison conducted the music. In the intermission between the songs, Mr. Slaton gave an interesting and instructive talk and announced that those who took part in the concert were to be dismissed one hour earlier one day the next week. Of course, there was great applause at this, for we were perfectly delighted to be dismissed earlier.

Last, but not least, the field day exercises held last Saturday at Ponce de Leon park. A great number of our enthusiastic fourth and sixth grade pupils took part in it. The "Butterfly Roundup" presented by the fourth grade was well as the "Flag Drill" by the sixth grades were very beautiful.

In the fourth B those who have not been absent since September are Louise in the fourth B and James Banklin; those who have received perfect in deportment are Jack Collier, Zelma Giles, Annie Mal Clotfelter and Emma Mal Connor.

The pupils of the seventh grade who received above 95 in the month's average were Bessie Evans, B. F. Wood, Mollie Bressler, Margaret Ennis and Bertha Jones.

The little second graders have been very much saddened by the recent death of Inez McFulin. This dear little girl was not only loved by her classmates, her teacher and principal, but by many other members of the school. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to her grief-stricken beloved ones.

Ira Street School.
Of the thousands of people who heard the music concert at the Auditorium by the eighth grades and some of the seventh grades, not one can say that it was not a complete success. The field day exercises proved also a great success, and we are all very proud of Clyde Webb, who won the third prize for the girls over 13.

Last week the seventh and eighth grades debated against each other on the subject, "Resolved, That England Should Not Go Through the Panama Canal Free." The seventh grades had the affirmative side, with Duard Jackson, Ruth Wilson and Sarah Alston as debaters. The eighth grades had the negative side, and the debaters were Herman Miller, Harry Bunch and Mabel Price. The negative side won. Sarah Alston's delivery was the best.

Mr. Green visited our school last week and gave the seventh and eighth grades an interesting talk on history. He was looking forward to another visit from him this week.

Everyone is working hard to win the prizes offered by the chamber of commerce for the best composition on the "Prevention of the Fly." The children who are on the honor roll in the eighth grade for last month are Harman Miller, Mabel Price, Annie Garrett, Mattie Lou Vason, Harry Jones, seventh grade, Doza Barber,

Isadore Heiman, Ruth Wilson, Renne Jones, Sarah Alston and Dorothy Abercrombie.
The second grade led in deportment last month, having thirty-three one-hundredths.

Lee Street School.
We are very proud of all the children from our school who took part in the field day exercises. The flag drill by the fifth and sixth grades was especially good, as was also the butterfly round of the fourth grades.

Two children from our school won prizes for running. John McIntzart won the second prize in the 8-year-old children's race, and Pentress Toon won the first prize in the 10-year-old children's race.

We are also very proud of all the children in our seventh and eighth grades who took part in the big concert which was held at the Auditorium Friday, May 3. We all sang and behaved so well that Miss Harrison asked Mr. Slaton to reward us. We thank him for doing so.

Those who have not been absent or tardy in first A are Josephine Almond, Margerite Smith.

Those who have not been absent or tardy in first B are Robert Ewart, Edward Cady; in second A, Harold Smith, Margaret Sheddin; in second B, Ernest Evans and Marion Hope; in third A, Letitia Nichols, Mary Woodall, Leonard Barker, Maxwell Jones; in third B, Garner Cash; in fourth A, Robert Ewart, Annie Lou Furfaine; in fourth B, Albert Callaway, W. M. Poole and Kathleen Derrick; in fifth, Francis Almon, Raymond Woodall and Frank Hood; in sixth, Julia Hood and Roy Keeton; in seventh, Nora Elison, Mary Beavers and Laura Jones; in eighth, Allie Woodall, Virginia Collier and Jim Hood.

North Avenue School.
On Friday, May 8, the seventh grade invited the eighth grade to debate in the auditorium. The program was: Music. Debate: "Resolved, That the Georgia Railway and Power Company Should Not Use Tallulah Falls for Water Power."

Affirmative—Walter Dobbins, Van Burgen, John Cameron; negative, Cobb Torrence, Tom Potts, Frank Smith. "May Song"—Seventh grade. Piano Solo—Hobart Carson. Debate: "Resolved, That Love Is Greater Than Money." Affirmative, Virginia Miller, Martha Jones, Cora Frances Johnson; negative, Clara Louise Scott, Roberta Quick, Katherine Vaughan.

Piano Solo—Catherine Gilbert. The judges gave their decision in favor of the negative in the first debate, and in the affirmative in the second. Both were exceedingly good, and very interesting. The contestants in the field day exercises in the morning were: A class boys, Arnold Barden; B class, Lewis Lloyd; A class, girls, Elizabeth Vaughan, B class, Edna Money. Those from the primary grades who took part in the races in the afternoon were M. J. Yarbrough, Ralph Williams, fourth grade; Margaret Cochran, Craig Shepard, third grade; Robert Campbell, Anne Moore, second grade. The prize winners were Elizabeth Vaughan, fifth grade; M. J. Yarbrough, blue ribbon; Margaret Cochran, blue ribbon; Ralph Williams, red ribbon. The fifth grade boys also received one of the plaques awarded for the best grade work in athletics.

rest was so great that it was very hard to keep our minds on other lessons. We had a delightful visit from Miss Harrison Tuesday. She said she enjoyed our concerts very much. Besides giving us such a splendid compliment, she gave each grade "excellent." The fifth and sixth grade's team has recently played ball. The scores were 15 to 3, and 5 to 4, both in favor of the fifth.

The following children were rewarded for excellent writing in English: Louise Sheets, Louise Silas, Clark Landers, Mattie Wilford, Raymond Mitchell and Helen Anderson. Over one-half of the fifth and sixth grades received above 90 in averages this month.

Of the eighth grade, the following children who averaged 95 in averages: Jewell Smith and Ruth Gattis, of the seventh grade; Mary Ellen Hornaby, Lela Jayne, Louise Smith and Nelmer Moreland. We received splendid compliments from the doctors upon our good health. We have the advantage over the majority of the schools, where we have pure, fresh country air, they have the impure air of a large, crowded city. We are indeed a sound, hearty crowd. We wish to thank Mr. Slaton for his appreciation of the good work done Field day by letting us out Tuesday at 1 o'clock.

JEWELL SMITH.
The days are exceedingly hot now, but we hardly notice this, for there are other things to occupy our minds this late month of the school year. The grades are going to have ice water, and some are looking forward to some fine class picnics; but this does not in any way hinder us in our studies, as it is apt to hinder other children.

We had another excellent debate on Thursday, May 3. The subject was "Resolved, That Foreign Ships Passing Through the Panama Canal Should Pay Toll." Each debater made an excellent argument, but the judges decided that as a whole the affirmative side made the most points.

One of our first grade's best studies is spelling. One of their pupils, Bessie Powell, hasn't missed but one word in five months. Not only Bessie, but all the children are good spellers.

Our Walter Rich Improvement club is trying to make another purchase of flowers. We have already bought a few, but we can't have too many. We also have some beautiful trees that spread their long arms over the children that play beneath them, as if to protect them from all danger.

We have some new benches, and we expect to try and take good care of them. The eighth grade boys have a fine time at recess playing baseball with a tennis ball in the field.

Miss Milledge, the primary grade's music teacher, visited our school several days ago. She said that the fourth and fifth grades got excellent in music, and that they had gotten more stars than any other fourth grade in the county. They took this as quite a compliment.

The concert at the Auditorium was grand. In fact, everything in which our school takes part is grand, and my readers were in the audience they surely must have noticed that a good part of the singing came from where the Primary banner floated.

The eighth grade has almost finished its arithmetic. They feel that Miss Roddy's teaching has not been for naught, for they understand all the principles in the book, and that is the thing that counts.

The third grade gave their teacher, Miss Greene, a delightful shower last week to show their appreciation for her faithful work.

Georgia Avenue School.
In the school of A. Evelyn Means, Bertie Howell, Annie Laura, Sarah Smith and Halsey Stockton have the gold stars for the best reports. For the scholastic month of May there were thirty-three children of the third grade who were perfect in spelling.

Last week Mr. Walter Rich paid us a visit and gave us a nice talk about education. Judging from the number of children who received an average of 90 or above, the children of the seventh grade have been doing some hard studying. Out of a class of thirty-eight children, eighteen received an average above 90. Rosalind Vitter and Harry Caribate, of the third grade, won prizes for running at the field day meet. The pupils of the seventh grade are anticipating a fine time at the picnic which they are to have next week at Grant park.

Davis Street School.
We have been so busy lately doing things that we have not had time to write about them. Among other things we have cleaned up a good part of Atlanta by our work in the Clean-Up day contest.

The school contest assembled in the hall on Wednesday afternoon from Mr. Walter Cooper the prize of $25 on Clean-Up day. Mr. Olin Stamps was present, and a number of other visitors. Some of the children were on benches in the lower hall; others on the floor, and the general attention of the way in which we had to squeeze up in the hall. They saw that we greatly needed an auditorium, and promised to help us get it. Our new school we are working for. If the city will give us the remainder of the money needed, we will have a school, we are quite willing to give them our $25 prize money. The children all voted to spend it that way.

On Tuesday, at recess, we had a celebration in honor of our three victors in the contest on field day. The entire school formed a double file and paraded through the park. At the head of the procession, the three winners, Estelle McQueen, who won a gold button, and Vera McQueen and J. W. Fry, who won blue ribbons, were at the front. The children were decorated with the school colors. Everyone who could get hold of a flag carried one and waved it as he marched along. Finally, we all assembled in the tennis court, sang "America," cheered our three victors, and then dispersed while the principal decorated the trees with the school colors. Give a final prolonged cheer for old Davis, and marched into the school to our books. Our teachers all said it was the best impromptu celebration they ever saw, and the pictures were good enough for the moving picture men.

Battle Hill School.
We all thoroughly enjoyed Field day. Everyone was sorry when it ended, for the work was so enjoyable. Our in-

CONVENTION FOR ATLANTA IN JULY

President of Georgia Retail Merchants' Association Announces Annual Convention July 21, 22 and 23.

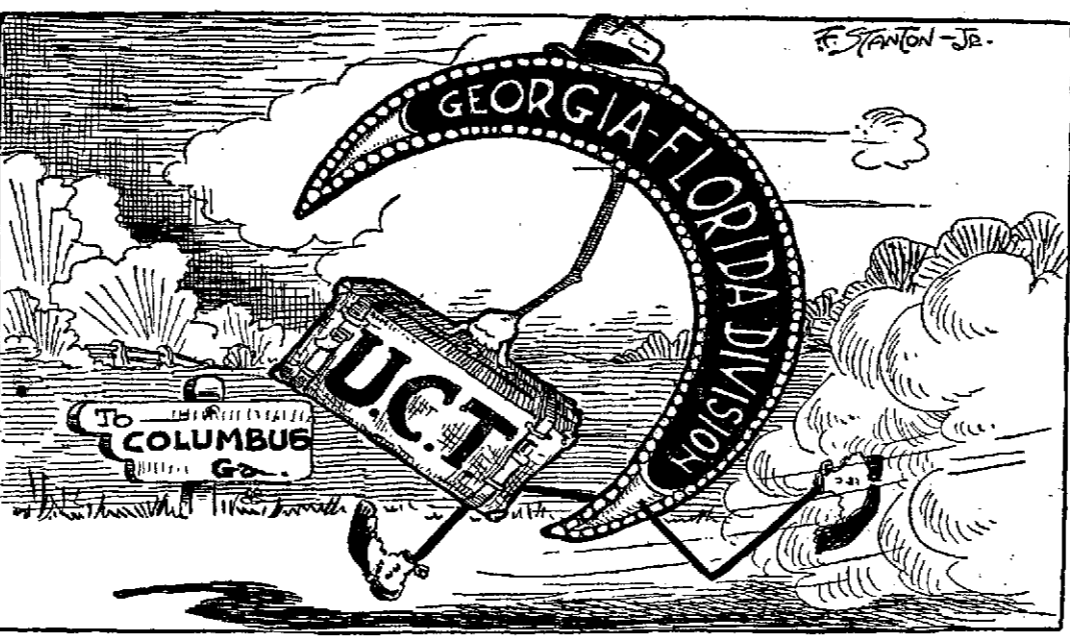

To the Members of the Retail Merchants' Association of Georgia—Greeting: By authority duly vested in me as your president, I hereby announce that your next annual convention will be held in Atlanta, July 21, 22 and 23. I sincerely hope that each and every city, town and hamlet in the state will be represented by a large delegation of her merchants. Several of the larger and a near of the smaller towns have already pledged themselves to send a solid carload of delegates. If all of the towns send even a fair part of the numbers they have designated we will have the largest convention ever held by this organization. There is reason to believe that our expectations will be surpassed.

You have every reason to feel proud of your association. It is composed of the leading progressive and aggressive merchants of the state. During the past year your executive officers have been fortunate in securing the services of your ex-president, Louis W. Roberts, to tour the state in the interest of the association and the bills which we will urge before the next session of the legislature.

I appeal to our entire membership and to every merchant in the state to use his best efforts to have legislators are pledged to wipe class legislation from our statute books and to replace it with laws making all citizens amenable to one and the same law. This is just; this is fair; this is honest; and for these three cardinal principles this association has ever stood.

The merchants of Georgia can and should yield a mighty influence. They are of the people and for the people, and pay an exceeding large part of the expenses of our city, county and state government. There is the vote that elects the legislator. Why not, therefore, should their rights and very mercantile life not be afforded just protection?

With pride and delight I call your special attention to the fact that within the past few months some of the harshest papers of our state have dared to consider carefully the aims and objects of your organization. They have been impressed with the justice of your cause and have decided to publish our principles and platform; we have nothing to conceal; we court the fullest investigation and publicity. Honesty and justice demands that I should say that the Atlanta Constitution and Journal were the first papers in the state to open to us their columns and to tell the citizens of the state and the south that the retail merchant has rights that should and must be protected. This fair dealing puts us in our true light publicly before the press of the entire state, and, learning the truth, many of them were not slow in according us and our efforts justice. We feel that we have accomplished much by this publicity, and trust that you ever yet may be put down in black and white the state over.

TRAVELING SOME!

News of the U. C. T. Atlanta Council 18

The boys were glad to see Brother W. T. Du Bose back in the city the past week. Brother Du Bose looks a great deal better than he did when he left last year.

Atlanta 18 finally received their pins for members and mailed a number out this week to those who had the requisite dues paid up.

Brother R. K. Rambo has recently been elected chairman of the third division of the Southern Wholesale Dry Goods association. Brother Rambo is a good man for the office.

Brothers W. J. Elliott and U. L. Cox attended the ball games in Athens last week, rooting for Tech. Brother Cox says that the reason Tech lost Friday was because he wasn't there.

Secretary E. M. Lunceford is an other enthusiast on these games, but he roots the other way, being an old Georgia man.

Atlanta 18 will send a strong delegation to Columbus to the meeting of the grand council next Thursday and Friday. The official representatives are A. L. Brooks, J. R. Davidson and W. A. Webb. R. K. Rambo is the first alternate, W. T. McCulloch the second and B. B. Braswell the third.

SELLING HATS AGAIN.

Jim Bates Returns to Old Love. Booking Headgear Orders.

Jim Bates, who for long was with the Brown, Perryman & Green company, and was known as one of their leading salesmen, has returned to the city and is once more a "headgear" salesman. Mr. Bates left the company last year, but says that it don't feel natural to sell anything else but hats, and so he is back with them once more.

Mr. Bates will occupy the position of house salesman. The company feels that they should have one of their very best salesmen in this position, and know that he will take care of the visiting trade in the best possible manner. He will be in the house to meet all his old friends and will be glad to see them all as soon as possible.

Mack Brown, of Brown Bros. & Co., leading merchants of Hartwell, Ga., was in the city last Friday calling on John Silvey & Co. Mr. Brown stated that it was his firm's desire to buy from Atlanta in the future as much as possible, as it was to their advantage to buy closer home. He was then on a trip looking for a house carrying the life he wanted.

The Warren Manufacturing company are working at present on the samples for fall trade. They show many new and attractive patterns and neckwear is going to be unusually attractive this season.

The office force at Montag Brothers are busy shaming things up for the fall trade, which indicates a good season.

L. Liebmann, president of the Atlanta Paper company, has been visiting one of his branches for the past week.

NOTES OF THE CITY SALESMEN

The attendance at the Saturday morning meetings is holding up fairly well since the warm weather set in. It is not what it ought to be, however. Members should make every effort to attend regularly and they will be well repaid for the time spent. Remember that the hour has been changed and we now meet at 10 a. m.

The rain Friday night was refreshing to all nature. All the boys had bright smiles on their faces and seemed to be feeling much better after the shower. Business for May is fairly satisfactory with all and collections are fair.

Chairman W. G. McNair, of the finance committee, reported that an agreement had been reached with the railroads whereby we will be furnished special trains for our excursion to the Isle of Palms. All that is to be done now is to get to work and let our friends know where we are going, and the people will certainly go with us. We want a big crowd and the quaint and historical points around Charleston ought to be inviting to large numbers of our friends.

The salesmen report that they have met with no opposition whatever in their work in assisting the Retail Grocers' association to form an agreement among the merchants to make each Wednesday afternoon a half holiday during June, July and August. O. T. Camp, president of the Retail Grocers' association, is working on this proposition continuously and has been going so the entire year.

Meeting hour, 10 o'clock Saturday mornings.

FOX SAYS VA. WANTS ATLANTA-MADE GOODS

Bert Fox, with Montag Brothers, is just back from a successful trip through Virginia. In speaking of the conditions in that state, Mr. Fox made the following remarks of interests to the Atlanta business man:

"Do you know that there is a big demand for Atlanta-made goods in Virginia? The people in that state are very anxious to use goods made in the south, and numbers of them remarked to me that they thought it strange that the Atlanta manufacturers did not send more travelers to their state. I found many of them who had been buying in New York previously in my line, and in every instance they gave me the preference (always provided my goods and prices were right of course) over eastern houses. It seems to me that the Atlanta business men could cultivate that business much more successfully than they do."

Versified Operations.

By Walter Clayton. Marry in haste is a saying old; Start out early, we have been told. Yes, indeed, early pick your honey, And start to save for alimony!

The only fun In a salesman's lot, Is sending in orders For carload lots.

News of the U. C. T. Fulton Council 505

Brother Bob Woodall is now with the Watson Spice company, of Toledo, Ohio.

Brother E. S. Stroud is recovered from his accident to his hand and the boys are glad to see him in good condition once more.

Brother C. E. Byrd, the coffee man, reported in town Saturday that business was good.

Brother R. L. Wallace, grand secretary, when last heard from, was up to his eyes in work for the meeting of the grand council in Columbus next Thursday and Friday.

Brother J. R. Sullivan, the furniture man, made a short trip out of the city last week.

Brother J. J. Baker, the youngest old salesman, reports that he is still on the firing line. Brother Baker is with Holbrook & Smith.

Secretary Brownlee reports large numbers of 505 members going to Columbus for the grand council meeting next Thursday and Friday are George P. Byrd, R. L. Wallace, H. J. McDonald and T. B. Lewis.

Senior Counselor R. H. Manley states that he will be on hand in Columbus and that he expects to meet many of the boys of 505 there.

ATL. WOODENWARE CO. ACTS ON EXPERIENCE

It is an old saying that "experience is the best teacher." This would certainly seem to be so in that branch of human endeavor which is classified as "business." Acting on this assumption, the Atlanta Woodenware company have laid their plans with respect to one of their many lines, according to what the experience of past years has taught them.

As soon as the fruit season opens up there is always a huge demand for picking baskets. These goods sold last year for about half the price before the season that they brought while the season was on. Every merchant swore last year to get in his supply before prices began to go up, and so the Atlanta Woodenware company are running an ad in these columns this week to remind the merchants of this fact and bring to their notice also that it is now time to be buying this particular line of goods if the lower prices are to be taken advantage of.

It is the noting and remembrance of these little facts that distinguishes the live wholesaler from the out-of-date one and the progressive merchant from the back number.

RETAIL GROCERS TO HAVE HALF HOLIDAY

Retail Grocers Working to Get Wednesday Afternoon Off for June, July and August.

The Retail Grocers' association has been working for some time past to get all the grocers and butchers of the city to agree to close their stores every Wednesday afternoon for the months of June, July and August.

This will prove one of the best things for the working classes of the city that has ever been pulled off. There are no harder working classes of men in the country than the clerks in the grocery and meat market stores. It is impossible for them to get the Saturday half holiday that most other classes of workers have, and this movement to give them the half day in the middle of the week should meet with the warmest cooperation of the merchants of the city. A resolution has been circulated throughout the city, and there are now several names on it. Any merchants who wish to sign this resolution should communicate with O. T. Camp, president of the Retail Grocers' association or E. E. Camp, chairman of the committee which has the matter in charge.

HOPED FOR RAINS BRING TRADE BOOM

When It Came Business Picked Up and the Traveling Men Anticipate Big Trade.

The rains which have fallen in Georgia during the past week have had a splendid effect upon business. The merchants throughout the state were beginning to feel a little anxious about the crops and conditions owing to the continued dryness. But there has been rain in the greater part of the state in the last few days, and the result is that the wholesalers and manufacturers are finding the merchants much more optimistic and encouraged over the outlook. The farmers are in good shape with their crops if the weather stays right, and the coming week is expected to be a big business week owing to the better crop conditions.

PICKLES BY CARLOAD NOW ORDER OF DAY

Dixie Pickle and Preserving Co. Ships Solid Carload of Products to Macon.

The Dixie Pickle and Preserving company is hard at work filling the solid carload orders which Sales Manager Holt has been sending in of late.

Yesterday saw one of these cars start on its trip to Macon, consigned to the A. B. Small company of that city. There are other cars which will leave within the next few days, and the habit of carload orders looks as though it had come to stay with this company.

Since their recent reorganization the company have made a number of changes in their plant, and are at present at work on still further improvements.

When their plans are all completed this will certainly be one of Atlanta's show places in the way of a manufacturing plant.

That the products of the company are being appreciated at their true worth is shown by the way the large wholesale grocery firms of the state are ordering in solid car lots, and also in the demand which is being shown by the consumers for these goods under the trade name of "Dixie."

The ins this week with the Dougherty-Little-Rodwin company are J. O. Castleberry, J. M. McKibbin and A. M. Wilkins. The report good business, particularly on future orders, and no cause for any complaint.

CREDIT MEN HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

E. L. Adams Elected President and Much Important Business Discussed—Encouraging Reports.

The Credit Men's association of Atlanta held their annual meeting and dinner last Tuesday night at the Piedmont hotel. There were over 100 members present and much enthusiasm was displayed over the splendid reports read by the chairman of the various committees.

Officers were elected for the coming year as follows:

E. L. Adams was chosen president; C. L. Elyea, first vice president; S. F. Boykin, second vice president; H. T. Moore, secretary; E. L. Rhodes, treasurer; Ralph Rosenbaum, Boling H. Jones, C. V. Logan, S. Friesag, L. E. Floyd and J. W. Harlan, executive committee.

As delegates to the national convention which meets in Cincinnati, June 17-20, the following were selected: President Adams, Vice President Elyea, L. B. Ralston, C. V. Logan, S. Friesag, E. S. Pappas, L. E. Floyd and Secretary Moore.

Herbert E. Chase, retiring president, acted as toastmaster. Ex-Congressman W. G. Brantley had been selected to make an address, but upon his being detained by legal business in Waycross, his son, W. G. Brantley, Jr., accepted an invitation to take his father's place, and made a strong speech in which he urged that the business men of today take greater interest in the politics of the nation.

A report of the membership committee showed that there are at present 158 members, and that 53 of these have been added within the past fiscal year.

The keynote of President Adams' speech, on being elected, was the need for better collections and he stressed the need for ways and means that would prevent the small merchant from running headlong into the hands of a creditor who would also protect him from the consumer who refuses to pay his just debt.

Other features of the work of the organization were shown in various reports. Among them was the report of Chairman Rosenbaum, of the adjustment committee, who told of the amicable adjustment of a number of credit matters.

This association is one of the most important of the business world in Atlanta and the good which it is doing for the interests of the city cannot be overestimated. When a body of men like this get together for their mutual benefit and the promotion of legitimate conservative business, the good which is done is beyond computation.

The meeting adjourned after a most enjoyable session, and the members left the hotel with the feeling that they had even better things accomplished than the one just closing.

MURRAY BROWN WILL BE HERE ON FRIDAY

President Southern Wholesale Dry Goods Association Will Give Luncheon at Piedmont.

R. K. Rambo, chairman of the third division of the Southern Wholesale Dry Goods association, is in receipt of a letter from Murray Brown, president of the association, which states that he will be in Atlanta next Friday.

President Brown will give a luncheon to the members of the third division on that date at the Piedmont, and is also desirous of extending an invitation to every dry goods jobber, whether a member of the association or not, to attend. Mr. Brown is anxious to meet all the Atlanta jobbers, and states in his letter that he wants to encourage the "get-together" feeling expressed at the Chattanooga meeting, and which is essential to successful business today.

There is a called meeting of the third division of the association for this occasion.

Tom Lyon from Tallahassee and representing the Ridley Williamson Wyatt company was in the city for a few days this past week.

The Atlanta Paper company have recently sent out a new specialty man in the person of R. B. Brown. Mr. Brown is an experienced man in the line and should make a good record for the firm.

W. R. Smith with Jones Bros & Co. came in Saturday from south Georgia with exceptionally good busi- ness.

The A. M. Robinson company report a big week in shirt sales. C. A. Smith states that he has done the best trade in this line for the past month or two himself.

Amongst the firms with the Ridley Williamson Wyatt company this week are J. S. Clark, R. F. McWhorter and D. L. Lassiter.

The above illustration shows the advance that modern science has made in the handling of an old-fashioned piece of work. We can all of us remember seeing the blacksmith working on a wheel for a wagon. Remember, now he used to heat the tire for the wheel and put it on the rim most red-hot. The reason for that, you recollect was because as it cooled it shrank, and so fixed the rim and spokes solid as could be. Well, this shows them perform- ing the same operation in the Blount Carriage company shops. But, instead of the blacksmith and his helper handling it themselves, they here use a complicated looking hydraulic press. The tire is still put on the rim hot, but the hydraulic press holds it in shape and helps to compress it into position. It is taken up a little at a time as it shrinks, and this pressure makes it into one of those elegant and yet solid wheels which look so good and wear so well on the Blount buggies.

YE KNIGHTS OF THE GRIP

Don't fail to read The Southern Hotel Journal in exchange for the subscription price of $1.00 a year, you are placed in intimate touch with all matters of in- terest pertaining to hotel life in the South. Don't let a good opportunity get by you every month in the year. Fred Houser, Publisher.

Can you remember a short trough in ash hopper and a tub to catch the "leak"? Long time ago when soap was needed the housewife took no cents worth of ashes and no cents worth of old meat scraps and bones and with a bucket of lye made 50 cents worth of soap. In those days it did not cost so much to live for then my lady got something for noth- ing now she gets nothing for some- thing usually.

Now when a cake of soap is need- ed six cakes are bought to get the wraps and the soap people are wise they make the wrappers good for premiums so that my lady buys soap as fast as she can to get the wrap- pers to get the premiums. Now about 10 cents worth of common sens- ible soap with the 25 cents worth of soap and soap wrappers should tell anyone who is a sensible person that they are getting full pay for the premiums and then some besides. And the housewife is pay- ing for it and don't know it till the bills begin to grow each month and each year until the burden is heavy.

Time was long ago when every housewife had a pretty vine growing near her garden gate. In due time it grew a very useful article called hops and from hops the finest yeast was made. Also there grew in long rows in every garden red pepper sage and a dozen other useful things. They grew for nothing all you had to do was to plant them and tend them a few days and they yielded in plenty. Now my lady gets them all at the drug stores done up in little packages. Somebody raised them. Some say well it's cheaper to buy them than to raise them. Some one else don't think so for they have to be raised before they can be sold and if it pays some one to raise them to sell to you some one would pay you far better to raise them and not have to buy them.

Did you ever hold a skein of yarn drawn from a ball of thread was a cotton while a ball of thread was of bright flashing knitting needles use up that ball of cotton making some real good lacy stockings and needles being needed by the deft fin- gers of Mrs. Housewife? Now my lady buys the stockings and the socks and uses instead of the knitting needles an embroidery hoop making a doll or kerchief about the size of and as useful as a canceled postage stamp.

Time was long ago when Mrs. Housewife and her daughter looked after the garden the flowers and the house getting out early in the morn- ing gathering vegetables and tucking the ground with a small hoe. They made a fine complexion made roses in the cheeks and made the color fine and dandy. Alas now she gets up late and phones to the drug store to send up an assorted lot of complexion- ers at 2 p. m. in time to wear to a bridge party.

Time was long ago when every woman knew what fruit of the loom was. It was used to make under- clothing besides its wear in that it was not transparent. When Mrs. or Miss Housewife went out she would have felt disgraced if she did not have on a good heavy white petticoat. One that some come across through entirely and now why she don't even always so they say wear any at all. This last paragraph is not official it is mere- ly hearsay at least rather than do any one injustice the quote from Miss Grundy she says they do wear them but not so thick that you could notice them at all at all.

Time was long time ago when Mrs. Housewife or her daughter was car- ried about exposing herself to cold and such like from longitude north 34 de- grees and from latitude south 33 de- grees but now one third either way don't make any difference. This is also merely hearsay. Some people will talk and tell what they saw get- ting into the car and on the car of course there is rarely any truth in such sayings unless they happen to be the facts in which case any one would believe them. Some people say they can see through a hog wire fence poultry wire a tennis racket and even an open work shirtwaist but you never can tell how much truth there is when they talk wild like all that.

Time was long time ago—Oh well what's the use? That's gone and past account history—you never can tell though—time may be not far off when Worth in Paris may accidentally read the seventh verse of the second chapter of Genesis and then look out just as she does it is his leaves again and nothing else.

Time was long time ago little longer than above referred to usually when the leaves were all the rage.

Not long ago the oldest one of Uncle Moses Johnson's girls went to town to get her first Sunday in Mays' clothes and after looking about the town awhile and getting wise to the styles she made her pur- chase and went home in due time on the first Sunday in May she got into her new raiment and when she came out to go to meetin Uncle Moses said Look er here Dellecia what am you gwine no how an what is you done fergot? Nothin' pap- wery? You say you never can tell nothin' why gal you haint got no no clothes. I ken see dem red stockings and dem yaller garters from whar I is set- tin' look here gal you jes gologin' to dat dar house and put on some n. o. clothes for I ain't gwine let you grouch here dress like dat even if you did see em dat way in town. Naw see not me I silus was a respectable nigger and Ise raised seven chillun an you de oldest gal aint gwine set dem together with no such sample as dat I aint gwine to be distorted in no such a manner. Aint you shame yourself?

John Silver & Co. report their men all out and state that regardless of the dry weather they are getting some mighty nice orders.

W. E. Carlton, of the Capital City Tobacco company, left the city Thursday last for a few days in south Georgia.

The Dixie Pickle and Preserving company report business as improving and state that there has been a nice pick-up in their mail order business.

J. D. O'Rear, with the J. D. Frazer company, will spend the coming week in North and South Carolina. Mr. O'Rear reports good sales on McGrain and Algoria and states that it is getting easier to sell these feeds every day.

Amongst the visitors with the Lamm & Rankin Drug company this week were Dr. R. B. Evans, of the Evans Pharmacy company, Griffin, Ga.; Dr. J. L. Levern, Bowden, Ga., and W. T. Street, of Conyers, Ga.

Sales Manager A. L. Woodruff, of the Woodruff Machinery manufacturing company, gave his opinion on certain important topics last week, and amongst other items mentioned the fact that business was extra good with them.

The Warren Manufacturing company report this week that there is a hot race on between two of their salesmen to see which will win the $10 for the biggest May sales. The two are M. L. Minor, city man, and C. F. Webb, in Alabama. It is running neck and neck, with a slight shade in favor of Mr. Webb at present writing.

R. K. McKnight, who lives in Johnsonburg, Pa., and represents the Hopper Paper company, was a visitor with the Hirschburg company this week. Mr. McKnight is a commissioner to the Presbyterian assembly.

B. S. Mattingly, the north Georgia man with the Gramling-Spalding company, has moved his home from Atlanta to Blue Ridge. Mr. Mattingly will thus be nearer the center of his territory and be better able to supply all demands for "Premium Brand" shoes in that part of the country.

Gus Trammell came in Saturday after an extra long trip in southeast Alabama, in which he got much good business for his firm, the Ragan-Malone company.

J. D. Malseby, of the Malseby Machinery company, came in Thursday after a three week trip in south Georgia in the interest of his house.

J. M. Giddens, the popular salesman with the Atlanta Paper company, was in Thursday and Friday last. He reported good business and stated that "all the corrugations pointed to a good fall trade."

J. H. Samuels, a well-known merchant of Valdosta, paid the Atlanta market a visit last week and called on John Silver & Co. Thursday.

The Capital City Tobacco company have recently added a new line of cigars to their stock. This is the Stachelberg & Co.'s line and include the famous La Fama Universal cigars as well as many other popular brands.

John F. Pinger, the north Georgia "mountain wonder" with the Lamm & Rankin Drug company, came in Saturday.

R. J. McCowan, Georgia salesman with the Warren Manufacturing company, came in Saturday and will spend the week-end here.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Hirschberg returned Saturday from Atlanta City, where they have been spending a few weeks vacation. The Hirschberg company's office will once more look natural, now that the "big boss" is back.

D. E. Meadows, the Columbus, Ga., salesman for the Gramling-Spalding company, came in for one of his infrequent visits last Saturday. Mr. Meadows reported a steady growth in the popularity of "Premium Brand" shoes in that territory.

Ed Harrison, with the S. P. Richards company, has again been on the sick list for a few days. This seems to be a bad time of the year for Mr. Harrison.

Morris Croft, the West Point road man with the Ragan-Malone company, came in after a longer trip than usual Saturday. Frank Corry is another of their men who is away on an extended trip.

Sam Hanes, with the Ragan-Malone company, is expected in from his territory early this week to look after some special trade.

L. H. Moss, of the Atlanta Paper company, go to Columbus this week with J. M. Giddens, one of their leading salesmen, and will call on the trade there.

S. Singleton, who is the man who makes those splendid "Big 4" peanut butter sandwiches found on the lunch stands, states that his business is growing so fast that he thinks he will have to start contracting for his peanuts from solid counties.

Ragan-Malone company report business picking up the last few days and state that they are much encouraged over prospects.

J. W. Currie has recently made a new connection. He will represent the Charles E. Hives company in the southern states, making his headquarters in Atlanta.

The traveling force of the Atlanta Casket company will spend Sunday at the following points: J. W. Murphy at Americus, Ga.; B. V. Brumfield at Little Rock, Ark.; F. M. Catlett at Tampa, Fla.; J. A. Cook at Spartanburg, S. C., and W. L. Phillips at Greenwood, S. C.

The ins this week with the Brown, Perryman & Greene Co. are Jesse F. Tate, J. O. Chambers and C. D. Dickinson.

The A. M. Robinson company are busy remodeling their dry goods and notions department. When the changes are complete this will be one of the most modern and complete departments of its character in the south.

O. W. Stamps, of Pain & Stamps, was wearing that "Yaarab Patro!" smile Saturday. Mr. Stamps is tickled over the result of the "Atlanta 1914" campaign and was enthusiastically waiting to greet his brother Shriners on their return.

L. C. Miller, the new man with Jones Bros. & Co., who should have gone out the first of the month, but was detained by sickness, got out last week and made good with a rush. In the South Carolina territory he sent in a nice order for a car load of goods on Thursday, which was shipped out Friday.

H. P. Lovelace, with the Consolidated Paper company, spent another day Saturday with the rod and line. He went fishing and caught some whoppers—to hear him tell it.

Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt company report that the rains of the past week have brought business out with a rush. It grows like the grass, they say.

J. K. Orr, of the J. K. Orr Shoe company, has been busy all week helping to welcome and entertain the visiting Presbyterians.

J. E. Almand, with the E. L. Adams company, was tied up in the Seaboard Air Line wreck one night last week. Mr. Almand states that he lost a night's sleep, but according to him, there were compensations.

Amongst the ins with the Consolidated Paper company last week were J. C. Mason, R. P. Smith and E. E. Shyer. They had an enjoyable time Saturday morning meeting John W. Scales, of York, Pa., who represents the General Roofing company, and gave some interesting points about his firm's goods.

Colonel Johnson, with the J. K. Orr Shoe company, was out of the city for a brief trip last Friday.

D. P. McDaniel, with the Ward-Truitt company, came in Saturday with some nice orders. Luther Parker was unable to come in, but sent some extra good orders to represent him.

The life without prayer is like a storm-tossed ship at sea without a rudder—lost.

If 1913 is to do more for us than 1912, we will find that we must do more for ourselves.

While we bravely stand for right against wrong, we can not afford to be very free in expressing unpopular opinions.

The T. P. A. believes good humor is contagious.

We will sometimes make mistakes; it's human to err, but the man of common sense who amounts to something will not make the same mistake twice.

The revolution of China, the uprising in the Balkans, the ferment of Latin America, is due to the power over man of our own ideal—liberty.

Priest and Levite saw the man that was down and out but they passed by on the other side. The T. P. A.'s are modern Samaritans.

So long as there are wrongs to be redressed, the strong oppress the weak, injustice ruling like a monarch in high places, so long will the Travelers' Protective association be needed to plead for the rights of man.

You have heard of the T. P. A. and understand. That his power is for god through the heart.

It bestowed on others, to whom love is a part of life's existence. He works on for right, with the star of hope burning ever so bright.

The T. P. A. work is bound to grow and expand, to evolve and be of great benefit to a vast number of people long after our eyes are closed and our hands folded forever.

Every decent man ought to get angry about something once and awhile to maintain his own self-respect.

The T. P. A. cultivates friendly friendship for mankind. Faith, not doubt, the good not bad, and seeks motives with beautiful acts. Is he not a hero? Let some of the Southern railroad ticket collectors read this.

The fable of the stricken king and the shirtless beggar contains germs of truth. Rivalry is rife. Earth with its plenty can not furnish absolute peace, nor the tired soul with rest.

The T. P. A. pays benefit for accidents resulting in death. If caused while riding in a passenger coach on a steam railway, $10,000. It pays $5,000 on death by accident or for loss of both legs, both arms, or of one arm and one leg; $2,500 for loss of one hand or one foot; $1,500 for loss of three fingers; $1,500 for loss of one eye. It pays $25 per week indemnity for accident or other causes disabling for a period not exceeding 104 weeks.

The reason some traveling men register off after lodging at some $3 per day hotels, is because the restaurants will furnish a good breakfast for less than 75 cents. None of us are traveling to give away our money.

The T. P. A. is a man's fraternity, but a woman's benefit.

We recommend the Valdosta hotel at Valdosta, Ga., the Tosco hotel at Thomasville, Ga., the New Albany hotel at Albany, Ga., as a trio of good hotels to stop at. We know.

Let's pat the sensitive, timid fellow on the back and take him by the hand, and stop being mean and selfish. It will do both good.

Unless we are touched with the weight of responsibility which rests upon us all as individual citizens, we will neglect the common good in looking after our own welfare.

The writer, who is on the sick list, met Dave Strouds in Jacksonville, Fla., if it was left with Dave.

Attention, T. P. A. The Melrose hotel at Wadesboro, Ga., is a good place to stop at. Everything is nice there. W. M. JENKINS, Press Chairman, T. P. A.

Ever notice how often, after getting the worst of some friendly argument, you afterward think of the brightest kind of retort when it's too late to do any good?

It's happened to all of us hundreds of times.

Now, some shoe merchants let the same thing happen to their business. They don't get the new, snappy styles till the keenness of the demand has worn off.

Or maybe they put them in stock and then fail to keep them properly sized up during the season.

The RED SEAL Shoe Factory right here in Georgia is proving a big help to thousands of the best merchants in the South in keeping their stock attractive and efficient throughout the selling season.

It stands for QUICK SHIPMENTS AND LOW FREIGHTS.

Its use will mean for you a bigger, better shoe business on a smaller stock, without any accumulation of dead styles. Isn't it worth your consideration?

FOUR MASS MEETINGS ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Many Eminent Presbyterians Occupy Atlanta's Pulpits During Day Sunday.

With four great mass meetings on Sunday afternoon and practically every pulpit in the city filled both morning and evening by visiting Presbyterians, the army of commissioners to the general assemblies will make an impression in evangelism upon the city today that will be felt for a long while.

The greatest of the mass meetings will be at the Auditorium at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon when John Willis Baer, president of the Southern Presbyterian conference, will introduce the Los Angeles Cal. and one of the greatest Presbyterian laymen in the country. Dr. H. K. Walker, of the First Presbyterian church, Atlanta, will preside over this meeting, introducing President Baer in his evangelistic address.

Sunday school workers will hold a mass meeting at 3 o'clock at the Central Presbyterian church, on Washington street at which there will be a program of discussion of missionary methods in Bible schools under the auspices of the home mission boards of the U. S. A. P. and S. churches. Dr. A. L. Phillips, of Richmond, Va., a well-known Sunday school leader will preside.

Women Hold Mass Meeting.
The third of these meetings will be at the Central Presbyterian church where the women will hold a mass meeting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Women's Board of Home Missions of the U. S. A. church which is now holding its 34th annual session in Atlanta. The meeting will be in the nature of a vesper service with scriptures by Mrs. R. T. Phillips of Arkansas and Mrs. F. K. Mitchell of Michigan and special music by Mrs. W. H. Wilson of Brooklyn. It will preside and among those to make addresses on the general theme of "The Church and Country Life" will be Clarence Poe of Raleigh, N. C., Prof. D. C. Branson of Atlantic, Ga., and T. Cairns Anderson of Michigan.

Special Evening Meeting.
Featuring the splendid array of sermons that will be delivered in the various Atlanta churches Sunday morning and evening the following special meetings have been announced for Sunday night:
Brotherhood R. H. North, Avenue church 8 p. m., presiding officer Rev. Walter Givitt, Chicago.
Temperance Rally—Wesley Memorial church 8 p. m., presiding officer Prof. Charles Stanton of Pittsburg, chairman temperance committee of U. S. A. assembly.
Sabbath Observance Meeting—First Presbyterian church 8 p. m., presiding officer James Yearnare, ex-vice moderator U. S. A. assembly of New York City.

Ministerial Relief and Sustentation Conference—Haris St. Presbyterian church 8 p. m., under auspices of the boards of the U. S. A. P. and U. S. churches presiding officer Rev. W. H. Poulkes of Philadelphia.
College Boards Meeting—Baptist Tabernacle 8 p. m., under auspices of the boards of the U. S. A. P. and U. S. churches presiding officer Rev. Robert McKenzie of New York City.

For the College Graduate.
"My son has just been graduated from college. What would you advise him to read?"
"The Bible Wanted column."

Seven Minute Sermon On the Golden Text

Whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap Gal. vi. 7

Sowing and Reaping.

I. The Sequence of Cause and Effect is Reckless. We may just as well attempt to change the laws of attraction and gravitation as to change the law of cause and effect. How foolish some of us are to think that we can do things and escape the consequences, when we know from the experience of mankind what the never failing results are. There is absolutely no variation of effects which come from the same causes. Every seed, every animal and every other living thing reproduces itself, and nothing else, in like manner, every act produces its legitimate results without any variation. There is nothing like chance in the universe, while luck is only another name for law. Everything is under law nothing "just happens." The weight of our bodies, the color of our hair, our natural disposition, is sure in after life to reap the law of heredity. Our present financial positions, our skill in our various occupations, our characters and our reputations have been produced almost exclusively by our own actions. They are the legitimate fruits of seed which we have sown. From our actions, therefore, and the only effects possible. The results would have been different, either better or worse, if our actions had been different.

II. We Reap What We Sow in Business. The boy who improves his opportunities and obtains an education will reap a great reward in after life. The boy who is industrious and painstaking who aims to do everything just right in his business, whose profession is sure in after life to reap the fruits of being high up in his calling. The boy who does the contrary, who neglects his studies and pays little attention when getting his profession or learning his trade will some day reap the bitter fruit of being at the foot of the ladder instead of at the top, waiting upon others when he could have had others waiting upon him doing the menial and unprofitable things when he could have been a master in his trade or profession and obtained the highest remuneration. The business man who gives himself heart and soul to his calling who produces things of value and puts into them the best of his skill can deliver to the world the things of which who never misrepresents, will certainly reap the reward of success and be one of the princes in his business. The man who produces or sells, that which people need and takes pains to make known the merits of his wares, will attract to himself a large share of business success and will reap the legitimate fruits of the seed which he sows. The lawyer who is true to his clients and gives as much attention to the causes committed to him as if his life depended upon them, will become noted, the doctor who loves his profession and cares for his patients, giving his heart and mind to his calling, will certainly in time reap the rewards of a successful practice. With rare exceptions in every department of business life men get what they deserve, or sow what they sow.

III. We Reap What We Sow Physically. The cities which give the most intelligent attention to sanitation are the healthiest. Those people who take proper exercise eat moderately, and use their physical powers in the normal way, invariably enjoy health. The great majority of our diseases are avoidable; they are the result of breaking the laws of nature. A great many are dividing the nails into their own coffins and call it having a good time. The law of nature will not be governed by the law of civilized society. As proved by the experience of mankind to work out the highest good always suffer the consequences by impaired health and dying before their time. He is a wise man who, learning from the experience of others, denies himself the gratification of any appetite or passion which has been proved by mankind to be injurious. There is no escape from the results of the so-called indiscretions of youth, or for that matter, from the sins of any other period of life. We reap what we sow, there is absolutely no exception to the rule.

IV. We Reap What We Sow Spiritually. The earth naturally brings forth noxious weeds, but in order to produce that which sustains life good seed must be sown. This illustration human nature. Sin springs naturally from the human heart and if we would enjoy the fruits of a good life, have fellowship with God, enjoy the company of good people and have the respect of ourselves, we must sow in our hearts, or have God sow for us, spiritual seed. To drop the figure, it is necessary for us to repent of our sin, to believe in, and receive Christ into our hearts, we shall then have planted in us the seeds of all the Christian virtues, such as love, peace, joy, gentleness and goodness and shall reap the fruits of these virtues, which are peace, and by and by find ourselves in the celestial city.

This is a remarkable picture, deep in the emotions it displays and the prophetic vision it reveals in the face of Mary, the mother of Jesus, as she sees the cross foreshadowed Jesus is here represented in a pensive attitude, standing in the middle of his journey to dream into the future, unconscious though of the shadow on the ground behind him. Mary sees, and has a vision of the will of God in the destiny of her son. The picture was taken in Galilee, near the very place where Jesus worked and grew to manhood. It was taken on the occasion of the preparation of the moving picture film of the life of Jesus. It is, indeed, a picture worth studying over.

Dr. Barton May Be Called From Mississippi Church To Jackson Hill Baptist

At the close of the morning service Sunday a conference of the Jackson Hill Baptist church will be held to hear report of a committee of six appointed by the church some months ago to recommend a pastor, the pulpit having been vacant since the death of former pastor, Dr. Junius W. Millard.

The nature of the committee's report is not given out, but it is known that Dr. L. E. Barton has been strongly favored by the committee and congregation alike, and it is thought quite probable that his name will be presented.

Dr. Barton is at present pastor of the First Baptist church of West Point, Miss., and was for a number of years pastor of the leading Baptist church at Quitman, Ga. He is said to be one of the most eloquent of the younger preachers of the Southern Baptist convention.

Speaks at Summerville.

Lverly, Ga., May 17.—(Special)—Mrs. T. E. Patterson, president of the Georgia Women's Temperance union, here today at 10 a. m. will deliver an address at the Methodist church at Summerville in behalf of the county union on next Wednesday night. A nice little program has been arranged for the occasion.

THIS WILL BE BIG WEEK FOR CITY OF WAYCROSS

Waycross, Ga., May 17.—(Special)—Next week will probably be one of the biggest weeks Waycross has known in some years. As a starter there will be baseball every day in the week, the first time since the Empire league began May 1.

The second annual chautauqua, bigger than this section has ever known, opens up for a week on May 21, with three entertainments daily, including Sunday.

Wednesday and Thursday the annual convention of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias will be in session, and from 50 to 80 visitors will be here in attendance. The advance guard of the convention will reach Waycross Tuesday, and in order to bring the many delegations from all over the state a number of special trains will be operated into the city.

Savannah's delegation to the convention will be between 150 and 250, and will come here on a special over the Atlantic Coast Line. From Atlanta a special train will be operated on the night of May 20, via the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, bringing from 200 to 300 visitors.

Wednesday night a ceremonial session of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan will be held, preceded by a big street parade. Several brass bands and hundreds of costumed knights will participate in this parade, which, with the prize drills between uniformed rank companies on Thursday afternoon, will be features of the convention.

The entire city is being decorated for the big events of the week, and it

CITY CLERK JUMPS FROM CITY HALL ROOF

Oakland, Cal., May 17.—Harold E. Magill, city clerk, committed suicide today by leaping 200 feet from the fourteenth story of the new city hall to the roof of a lower part of the same building.

Magill obtained a permit to go to the roof, and while it was being prepared asked the clerk if he thought a man could drop 200 feet and be conscious on striking. He told one of his associates yesterday that he had not slept for three weeks, and had walked miles in an attempt to tire himself out that he might gain some rest.

Trying Out Fertilizer.

Lverly, Ga., May 17.—(Special)—There are to be several fertilizer experimenting plants located in this county, according to Professor Crab, of the State College of Agriculture, at Athens, who has been conferring with the farmers of the county this week in regard to the project. The experimental plants follow up the soil survey, which was made last fall. Professor Crab says he is anxious to place plants on all various soil types of the county and carry out a five-year test of fertilizers.

DIOCESAN COUNCIL TO MEET IN ATHENS

Bishop Nelson, of Atlanta, to Preside Over Two Days' Session.

Athens, Ga., May 17.—(Special)—The council of the diocese of Atlanta, Episcopal church will convene in Athens on the 23rd of this month for a two days' session, the Right Reverend C. K. Nelson, of Atlanta, presiding.

Since the state was divided into the diocese of Georgia and the diocese of Atlanta there has been considerable misapprehension among the readers in the general public regarding the two diocesan divisions. The diocese of Georgia meeting this week in Athens is presided over by Bishop Reese, the diocese of Atlanta which embraces as large a territory and has a larger membership than the diocese of Georgia will have delegates from all the northern half of the state.

Among those who will be in Athens at the meeting of the council here will be the following:
From Macon—Miss Amarylis Hull, Miss Alice Wright.
Atlanta—Mrs. W. T. Downing, Mrs. F. R. Graham, Miss Alice Miller, Miss Corrie Huntzutt, Miss Marie Lipscomb, Mrs. Williams, Bishop Nelson, Rev. W. W. Menninger, Rev. C. T. A. Pigg, Rev. Russell K. Smith, Rev. C. E. Wilmer, Rev. John D. Wills, Rev. Robert W. Patton, Rev. H. J. Saumening, Rev. H. L. Durant, Capt. Wm. N. Hawkes, Mr. W. L. Leroy, Mrs. A. I. Wisbe, Miss Mary King, Miss Stockbridge, Miss Elizabeth Pize, Mrs. Pettigrew, Mrs. Eise, Mrs. Hill.

Marietta—Miss Julia Thillink, Miss Jeannette Black.
LaGrange—Miss Bertha Duck, Misses Fields and Borders, Miss Alene Mayfield, Miss Rosa Conant, Mrs. James Harrison and Miss Lula Ward.
Elberton—Mr. and Mrs. Allen Miles, Jr. Heron.
Toccoa—Rev. Thomas Durr, Mrs. Sprinkle, Misses Inez and Dora Durr, Mr. T. W. Sprinkle, Miss Bertie Whately.

Tallulah Falls—Miss Sara E. White, Marietta—Mrs. E. W. Little, Mrs. Crosby and Miss Cleveland.
Griffin—Rev. Clayton E. Wheat, College Park—Major W. W. Dick, Mr. Cranberry, Mrs. and Miss Platt, Cartersville—Rev. G. L. L. Gordon, Columbus—Rev. S. Alston, Rev. Robert T. Phillips, Mr. Turner E. Berry, Mr. T. P. Lockwood, and Mr. J. F. P.

West Point—Mrs. Will Freeman and Miss Winona Wright.
LaGrange—Rev. Henry B. Phillips, Mr. Charles Pearson, Mr. James Williams, Mr. James Mallory and Mr. Claude Borders.
Macon—Rev. John L. Buntong and Rev. Charles H. Lee.
Milledgeville—Rev. E. L. Jewett-Williams.

Barnesville—Rev. Daniel F. Hoke, Rome—Rev. C. E. Hudkins, Mrs. A. Wilson, and Miss Annie Flott, Cedartown—Rev. Geo. E. Benedict and Miss Almira Parker.
Gainesville—Rev. I. M. Merrill Jones, West Point—Mr. R. L. Williams, Mr. Harry McNamara.

There will be also others from a dozen other towns and cities north of a line drawn laterally through the state by Macon.

NOVENA TO ST. ANTHONY TO BE WEEK OF JUNE 4

The Novena to St. Anthony, which is always held at the church under his invocation in West End, under the pastorate of Father Jackson, will this year be celebrated with special services. Rev. Father Flavian Larbes, a Franciscan from Cincinnati, will this year preach the Novena. The exercises will begin on June 4 and close on the feast of St. Anthony, June 12. Father Flavian belongs to the same community that St. Anthony did during his lifetime. All the Catholics and non-Catholics of the city are invited to come and hear the sermons of Father Flavian. The services will be duly announced. Confirmation will be administered at St. Anthony's church on Sunday, June 8. First communion of the children on June 13.

Prayer Reveals Son's Love

Dr. Thorwald Jacobs, editor of The Westminster Magazine, and his father, Dr. W. P. Jacobs, president of the Westminster Orphanage, at Clinton, S. C.

When Dr. W. P. Jacobs raised his voice in prayer at the Auditorium Thursday night, with an appeal to heaven for the advancement of the spirit of unity among that historic gathering, it brought to a climax an incident that revealed a son's love for his father as the inspiration of all his success in life.

The Westminster Magazine, and his father, Dr. W. P. Jacobs, president of the Westminster Orphanage, at Clinton, S. C.

Both father and son are well-known workers in Presbyterianism. The orphanage of which the father is head is the largest Presbyterian orphanage in the world, and on the occasion of the jubilee two years ago the entire Atlanta orphans were brought to Atlanta on a special train. Dr. Thorwald Jacobs, who is secretary of the board of trustees of Oglethorpe college and editor of The Westminster magazine, will be host at a luncheon Friday at the Capital City club, at

STATE-WIDE PRIMARIES ATTACKED BY PROF. TAFT

National Primary for President Almost Beyond Thought, Says Taft in Yale Lecture.

New Haven, Conn., May 16.—State-wide primaries are "extreme measures for political reform, and a national primary for the election of a president and other national officers is almost beyond thought" to former President William H. Taft, who today delivered another lecture at Yale on "Some Problems of Modern Government." Professor Taft said the primary is a means of electing good local officials, but the state and national conventions "gave an opportunity for more mature deliberation than is possible at the polls."

A vital objection to the state-wide primary, said Mr. Taft, is the great advantage that men of great wealth and great ambition have over merely good men. Such men are willing to spend money to obtain advertising and votes, while the well-qualified men are unwilling or have not the means to spend.

Taking up the subject of bosses Mr. Taft said "They have some redeeming qualities" and laughingly referred to himself as having had the reputation of being one. "The only reason why the government of Tammany in New York has been tolerable is because leaders in New York have had thought for public opinion. It is characteristic of all bosses that they entertain a healthy fear of defeat at the polls."

Professor Taft would dismiss chiefs of all federal offices, except postoffices, and would eliminate the chief deputies in those offices with a raise of from 15 to 20 per cent in salary, if he had his way.

He said: "The chief deputies know their business—that is why they are there—and the heads of the offices who are appointed and confirmed by the senate, might learn eventually—but it would take a long time. As long as all federal appointments except those of fourth-class postmasters, have to be confirmed by the senate, heads of those offices are going to be too busy playing politics to learn their business. # THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Sunday, May 18, 1913

THE frock pictured here is a lovely model for an afternoon or walking dress. It would be particularly charming if developed in heliotrope ratine or linen, with the inset piece at the bottom of the skirt of Mandarin yellow or amber colored crash or some crepe material, which is so popular this year. The girdle is made of the same material, and has one very long end extending from the fastening at the side. The dress itself is made in the new Russian blouse style, with the waist line at its normal place. A very becoming hat of heliotrope hemp, trimmed with a yellow ostrich feather, is worn with this costume.

This Attractive And Useful Design for Needleworkers Can Be Transferred Without Recourse To The Old And Obsolete Tracing Paper Method Which Is Unreliable At Best.

EMBROIDERY DESIGN

FOR WAIST

To develop this design into a real summery effect you should transfer it to a very fragile handkerchief linen. Outline every portion, flowers, leaves and tendrils. It ought to be a fragile outline when finished. Next fill in the flower centers with "seed" stitches. This is miniature French knots. Do not make them too compact. Make the small designs of punch work—designated with dotted portions, before beginning any part of the work. Use fine floss for this purpose and only one strand to each needle. You can use a very large embroidery needle for this purpose, because the finished designs must have the openwork effect. If a more finished appearance is desired, every petal and leaf can be worked in shadow embroidery. This would, indeed, be rich looking when done, with the other portions of punch work and the seedings. Do not use compact embroidery on such thin waists in large design. It detracts from the airy, chic appearance. This could be transferred to any shade of linen and worked wholly in white or a color. But even on a wash fabric the outline stitch is preferred. A solid design would be too heavy in this pattern for any fabric.

TO TRANSFER THIS DESIGN

Put a cake of soap (laundry will do) in a pint of hot water, stir vigorously and remove the soap. Saturate this Design with the soap and water mixture, then remove the excess moisture by partially drying the saturated Design or by applying a sheet of blotting paper. Place the material or fabric to which the design is to be transferred on a hard, flat surface and lay the Design, face down, upon the material. Cover with a dry sheet of thick paper or two folds of newspaper, and with the bowl of a tablespoon rub, pressing hard, until the Design is entirely transferred, being careful to rub from, rather than toward you. When rubbing, you can see if enough pressure is being applied by lifting a corner of the Design to note how well it's taking. Do not wet the material nor rub the face of the Design with damp fingers. To remove the Design lines after the article is completed, wash in warm water, with soap. The entire process is very simple and with a little care you can easily make perfect transfers to any kind of goods.

PARTIES FOR CHILDREN

BY EDNA EGAN.

ANY hostesses are harassed by the thought of having to provide "something quite new"—something which, without being excessively elaborate, shall be strikingly effective and provide a pleasant surprise for both young and old.

For children and grown-ups a toy party is a very enjoyable affair. Each guest is asked to bring with them a toy. It may be home-made or bought, but anyway the cost must not exceed a sum fixed by the hostess.

The toys are all arranged on a table and each guest votes for the most original and the most unoriginal—barring always their own contribution. The donors of the two respective toys receiving most votes each get a prize, and the whole of the toys are sent to a hospital or some poor children in the name of the whole party.

A brown paper party is also good fun. The guests all wear costumes contrived from brown paper. With a little skill some wonderfully good dresses can be arranged. Brer Rabbit, Eskimos, Red Indians, Prairie Girl, Cowboy—these are a few of the most obvious suggestions.

For children a fairy party is very attractive. The room should be cleared of ordinary furniture and transformed into a fairy palace. Some painted cardboard, tree branches, tinsel, flowers and twinkling lights skilfully arranged will effect a most realistic transformation.

The invitations should be sent out in the names of the fairies, and the little guests should come as fairies of every clime and—if liked—characters of well-known fairy tales.

In similar way it is possible to give a witch party in a magic cave or a Dutch party in a Dutch interior, while forethought will suggest other ideas equally attractive and easy to carry through successfully.

When presents are given at a children's party the following novel idea will be found an attractive method of distribution: Cut a cake into slices, and on the outside of each slice fasten a present, with the name of the intended recipient on a little flag stuck in the top of each piece. Place the slices in position again and tie the cake round with a broad ribbon to keep it in shape.

SEWING

WHEN the drawn work in linen dollies or any other fancy work is worn out and the centers still remain good, attach a row of insertion over the drawn work.

A small steel crochet needle kept in your machine drawer will be found invaluable when pulling bastings, ripping, catching the under thread, and other details incidental to sewing.

For the latest knotwork designs a braid, imported especially from Germany, is employed. This comes in skeins. It has the advantage of making a more compact little bud than is obtainable with the ordinary cottons.

Another way of working knot stitch and other raised designs has been invented by an ingenious manufacturer for the woman that is pressed for time. Embroidery cotton has been twisted and mounted upon a curved wire covered to match the cotton and this is to be laid upon the design and secured invisibly to the material.

The following may be of help during this pocketless age, by making you feel safe when traveling, with regard to money and valuation: Take one and one-half yards of heavy black satin ribbon about three inches wide. On each end turn up three inches for a pocket, then sew another piece above the opening for the flap (envelope fashion) with a snap catch for a fastener. Place one-half the ribbon on the upper side and one-half on the under side of the undershirt, and fasten to the hand by a safety pin. Money or valuables can always be carried without fear of losing. This can be made fancy by feather stitching it around the pocket with contrasting colors in silk floss.

BUSINESS GIRLS

Should Learn To Save.

BY LUCILLE DAUDET.

WOULDN'T it be profitable for the business girl to give a little thought to the matter of saving?

Some business women do try to save a certain percentage of their salary, but others give no thought of it. And especially is this true of the beginner in business. It is such a novelty to her to have her own money to spend, it is so delightful to buy whatever she wants without having to consult anyone, that her money slips through her fingers like water. The thought of systematic saving has not yet entered her head.

But there is a pleasure in systematic saving that has to be experienced to be realized. And there are future benefits that are still more delightful. And it is a practice that in itself has a great effect on a girl's character. So that there is no girl who will not be profited by saving, and profited in ways that will bring her keen satisfaction.

So it will pay even the most thoughtless little business girl to give some attention to the matter.

The best way for the business girl to save is not to put by the quarter or half dollar or dollar that may be left in her purse at the end of the week. Of course, it is better to do this than not to save at all. But the most satisfactory way to save is to save systematically, to decide to put by so much each week, and then to do it, willy nilly.

of the programme of successful savings is to put by the money at the beginning of the week, on the day the pay envelope is received. If the amount to be saved is in the saving fund. It cannot be spent and one will get along somehow without it. But if it is in the pocketbook, it is liable to slip away, and when the day for paying it into the fund comes, it is not at hand.

Saving systematically in this way introduces a system into one's method of living. A girl is compelled to know what her expenses are in order to know how much she can save. Therefore, the beginning of systematic saving is apt to mean the inauguration of an expense account.

And few things are so helpful to the business girl as this. When she sees, in black and white, where her money is going, she is apt to spend more carefully. And though a girl may think the keeping of an expense account at this period of her life is all foolishness, and that the jotting down of five cents for candy, and 10 cents for soda and 25 cents for neckwear is a waste of time, its results reach much farther than she now dreams.

If she gets the habit of keeping tab on her expenses, and learns in this way the proportion that should exist between the various items, if in time she has a home of her own to manage, and the probability is she will, then she will be able to run her household expenses more successfully.

She will not be the sort of wife who every week finds her household allowance running short before the week is over. The sense of proportion she has gained in keeping her personal account will stand her in good stead now in more important matters. For making outgo and income match in household management is a most important matter, and upon it often rests the happiness of the home.

The girl who has a bank account has a sense of independence and freedom that is worth a lot to her. If she has something to fall back upon, she doesn't have to endure unendurable conditions of work. This doesn't mean that she should let a bank account lead her into being whimsically

FASHIONDOM

BY MRS. KINGSLEY.

FOR lovers of outdoor sport the knitted jacket is much worn.

Bindings of varied widths are sold in most furs at prices within range of almost every purse. Pale pink chiffon combined with black chiffon and Venise lace forms an admirable contrast in a French gown.

Combinations triumph in every gown. One side of the bodice will be cream tulle and the other of raspberry velvet.

The plain frocks of black, dark blue or gray charmose are charmingly relieved by cuffs and collars of Venetian and Bohemian lace.

Luxurious and beautiful fabrics are employed for evening wraps, and the cuffs and collar are almost invariably of some expensive fur.

Long shoulder effects are seen on many of the latest French gowns. One pretty design of taupe colored charmeuse has the attached lower portion of the sleeve fashioned from the sky blue chiffon.

A charming original headdress is in a "casque" effect, fashioned of rhinestones encircling the head and another crossing the head from forehead to nape of the neck. Upright feathers are placed from the front intersection.

Again, a girl may have seen a good opening. But with no money in bank, perhaps, with some one depending upon her, she has been afraid to take any risk. And so she has had to let the opportunity slip.

ODDS AND ENDS

Our Best Department For Busy Housewives

WATER in which meat and vegetables have been cooked makes good soups.

ORANGE and lemon peel make a fine flavoring for sirups, jellies and preserves.

WATER in which rice has been cooked makes an excellent starch for lingerie waists.

IT pays to buy in large quantities, if you have a place to take care of what you buy.

IF your glass jars won't open, set them top downward in an inch or two of hot water.

TO take machine oil out of white materials dip the spot into cold water while it is fresh.

DRY pieces of bread or cake make excellent puddings and are also greatly relished by the poultry.

IT is said that a single polishing of the bootblack's stand when shoes are new will keep them in first class condition much longer than if they are worn first and polished afterward.

IT may seem a simple thing to bake potatoes, but it is not always an easy matter to have them just right. A new baker, provided with teeth to hold the potatoes, insures thorough cooking without the inconvenience of turning them in the oven.

MARKS can be removed from a light carpet with a good carpet soap, and applied without taking up the carpet, say in exchange. Dark or self-colored carpets show dusty footmarks far more than a light carpet, or one well covered as to pattern. This should be remembered in choosing dining-room carpets.

THE finger marks on a door can be removed by a clean flannel cloth dipped in kerosene oil; afterward wipe with a cloth wrung out of hot water in order to take the smell away.

YELLOW frosting is made by beating the yolks very lightly and thickening them with fine sugar as you would the whites, if will take a little longer to harden than if the whites were used.

DINGY towels may frequently be restored to normal whiteness by putting in a kettle of cold water, adding white soap shavings and lemon juice, and letting come slowly to a boil. Rinse in tepid water, then blue water and hang in the sun.

STOVE polish, when mixed with turpentine and applied in the usual manner, is blacker, more glossy and more durable than when mixed with any other liquid. The turpentine prevents rust, and when put on an old rusty stove will make it look as well as new.

THE best way to open a fruit jar is to invert the top of the jar into hot water, taking care that the water is not deep enough to touch the glass. The principle is to expand the metal top and then open as usual. A minute or two is sufficient. Should it remain in too long the glass would also expand.

Draped Gowns which show the Latest Modes

MORE and more elaborate is the drapery shown on the newest gowns from Parisian and the smartest American modistes; and the delightfully soft, clinging fabrics which are displayed in the shops, lend themselves most charmingly to the fashion.

Messaline and figured voile are combined in the pretty frock at the top of the page, while
