New York, September 19.—The body of William J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, who died at age 86, today was taken to his home here in a drizzling rain. It was lowered at 4 o'clock this morning from the high dock at the line Louisiana to the city's dock.

Through a mist that lay heavy over the harbor the Corbett steamed to pier at the city. There a grand squad of one hundred police, who had stood all night in the rain, formed its escort to Brooklyn.

A dozen stalwart sailors carried the body in its heavy lead casket from the mortuary chapel to the dock. The casket was placed on a truck which it was removed and only the great American flag placed over the casket as Liverpool covered it as a windlass lowered the casket to the water.

WASHINGTON GARDNER NAMED HEAD OF G. A. R.

Detroit Selected by Blue Veterans as Meeting Place for Encampment Next Year.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 19.—Former United States Congressman Washington Gardner, of Alabama, today was elected commander-in-chief of the grand army of the republic at the annual session of the forty-seventh annual encampment.

Other officers elected by the national organization were: Thomas H. Seaward, Oklahoma, senior vice commander; W. M. L. Rose, Pittsburg, Mo., junior vice commander; J. K. Weaver, Morris, Pa., sergeant general; and Horace M. Carr, Carleton, Kas., chaplain general.

Immediately after the election of officers was completed the new commander-in-chief announced the appointment of Rear A. James, Detroit, Mich., as adjutant general and "honorary" adjutant.

At the close of the session Gardner was born in Morrow county, Ohio, in February, 1843. At the age of 16 he joined the ranks of Company D, 65th Ohio Volunteer Infantry.

He was in the army of the Cumberland and under Thomas and Sherman in the famous Vicksburg campaign, disabled by a gunshot wound during the battle of Revere, May 1863.

For six years after the war he was a teacher in the common schools and later was a professor in Albion college, Mich. He has since held various positions in the Michigan judiciary.

He was elected to the Michigan legislature in 1892 and served in the Third Michigan district in the United States congress. Since his retirement from congress he has been chiefly engaged in editorial work for a Springfield publishing firm.

For several years after the war he was a member of the national G. A. R. encampment. The nominating speeches were begun shortly after 7 o'clock.

MULLHALL'S ASSASSIN SHE IS PREPARING WAY FOR MRS. PANKHURST

Joan Wickham, Forerunner of Militant Leader, Lands Unmolested in New York.

New York, September 19.—The immigration authorities did not molest Miss Joan Wickham when she arrived here today from Liverpool, to prepare the way for Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the British militant suffragette leader.

Miss Wickham went to the Women's Suffrage headquarters to meet Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. She said reporters' methods used by militant suffragettes in England were necessary to get attention from officials.

"The woman was a witness against Chapman for a year and a number of articles in the press, alleged to have been written by her, were read."

Chapman, who is a married man, denies this guilt, although he admits sending the money to the woman. The hearing will be continued tomorrow.

RESINOL CURED AWFUL ITCHING IN ONE NIGHT

Had Suffered Six or Seven Months. New York, Sept. 19, 1913.—"The skin on my hand got red and rough. It itched and began to scratch. It itched so that sometimes I could not sleep all night. I was suffering very much. I used Resinol and in one night it was cured. I used it for six or seven months. Then I tried Resinol ointment and Resinol Soap. I used them for one night. In the morning, to my surprise, my hand was all well and the trouble has never returned. This is the absolute truth." (Signed) Miss Kella Kleinman, 61 Columbia St.

Edited By DICK JEMISON VARDON AND RAY MAY PLAY HERE

High School Golfer Ties English Stars

Francis Outmet, the Boston High school star golfer, tied Vardon and Ray, the English stars, for the United States open championship. They play off today.

WHIFFS

FRANCIS OUTMET, the Massachusetts champion golfer, made a hole-in-one in the golfing firmament in a field of 152 of the greatest golfers, among them several of the great professionals, in his win of the open golf championship of the United States, a wonderful achievement for even a more experienced golfer.

Outmet will have many supporters in the play off which will take place today. Everyone in the gallery at Brookline will cast their sympathies with the same who has been so successful against two of the admitted golf masters of the world.

Several weeks before the season closed, Monthly sports were written on our claims that Joe Agler was the best first baseman in the American league. The Mobile team has changed its line. Bill Smith, the Atlanta pennant winner, will have to look for Agler at first base. Agler is the best first baseman in the American league during that heart-breaking Atlanta season.

Strong for Bliss. BIRMINGHAM series game with Atlanta, called on one subject—Bliss. They believe that he is the best shortstop in the league.

Will Not Sidel. THE DRAFT for Milton Sidel, the fast little shortstop of the Boston Red Sox, will not be called on by the National Commission to play in the home series.

Watch Him. WHILE Duke Jackson and Speaker have got their eyes focused on one another in the American league, they had better watch out for Speaker's brother, who is playing in the American league.

WILLIE RITCHIE, the greatest champion in being marked as a "hot" asset, is being marked as a "hot" asset in the American league.

GEORGE STOWELL, dressed much in the manner of a "hot" asset, is being marked as a "hot" asset in the American league.

Now in Charge. WHO WILL be manager of the St. Louis Browns next season? The club is looking for a manager.

A Good Joke. GAVY CRAVATH thought he was a good one on the team. He was a good one on the team.

How's This One? WE ARE indebted to the Baseball Magazine for the following: "Gavy Cravath was a good one on the team."

Quimet, Vardon and Ray Tie for Open Golf Title; Play Off the Tie Today

Brookline, Mass., September 19.—An American quality struggle occurred out of his teens—earned a niche for himself in international sports for his here today, when Francis Outmet, tied with England's famous professional golfer, Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the final round of the national open championship.

As the result of his exhibition of nerve and golfing skill as an American solo representative in the 1913-14 hole-in-one play-off of the United States open golf championship, Outmet, who finished in a card the last day, today tied Vardon and Ray for the title.

When the spectators realized that in the play-off on the edge of the Country Club, they had witnessed a contest of winning the championship, they lost their interest in the play-off. They were not interested in the play-off. They were not interested in the play-off.

Instantly went on to the gallery, swept past rows of spectators, and was lifted to the top of the clubhouse. He carried toward the clubhouse, surrounded by several thousand cheering spectators. He carried toward the clubhouse, surrounded by several thousand cheering spectators.

Right there the gallery began to slip up and take notice. To get up four strokes on Vardon and Ray to play off today. Right there the gallery began to slip up and take notice.

COTTON STARTED SELLING EARLY But Market Became Steady and Closed at Six to Nine Points Advance—Spot Cotton Closed Steady.

New York, September 19.—The cotton market was not particularly active today and fluctuations showed considerable irregularity. The undertone, however, was very steady, if not altogether firm, and closing prices were steady at a net gain of from 6 to 9 points.

Earlier Liverpool cables and reports of clearing weather in the southwest encouraged a sharp selling movement at the start, and that price were from 10 to 15 points lower, while under the closing figures of last night as a result of a more active undertone and pressure from local and southern sources.

A broker, supposed to be operating for the account of speculators, was credited with taking for 15.00 to 16.00 low bid of the market, in the absence of January contracts on the early decline and a forecast for local rains in the eastern belt, together with more pronounced weather complications from that section, heid the fall.

Speculative activity in the early part of the day was confined to the lower grades, but after noon more interest centered in the high records of yesterday morning, but offerings were well below the market and supply of the former on reports that the trade was buying a good deal of the early cotton.

The confident market, however, held the price steady at a net gain of from 6 to 9 points in the afternoon.
