

FEARING GUNPLAY, CAPTIVATED BY ALL SPECTATORS. Trouble in the Tennessee Legislature Over Passage of Measures to Kill the "Blind Tigers" Not Yet Settled.

MAJORITY IS BLOCKED BY SPEAKER OF HOUSE. Speaker Refuses to Allow Measures to Come to Vote. Policemen Sent to Preserve Order Put Out of Capitol.

Nashville, Tenn., September 25.—Probably for the first time in the history of the state, the stonewall was this afternoon cleared of spectators, including members of the senate, which was not in session. This action was taken as a precaution against trouble which has been brewing for the past three days or since the passage of enforcement bills were brought up in the house for consideration.

Speaker Stanton declared the session of Representative McFarland and was not of a conciliatory nature. McFarland volunteered to retire from the capitol and the speaker, with favor, assented by Representative Lex Stone, independent democrat, and Representative Patrick Smith, republican.

96% of the Women in the Homes Where The Constitution Goes Read It Regularly!

THE CONSTITUTION made a comprehensive and exhaustive test recently to determine for itself and its advertisers the extent to which the women in the homes where the paper is delivered read it, and what effect the store advertising it prints has in relation to their purchases.

A letter containing ten simple questions was sent to 1,000 women in Atlanta, the heads of households where The Constitution is delivered regularly, scattered at random and without special selection.

All the replies to these letters, in the handwriting and bearing the signature of the women themselves, together with the complete tabulation from which these percentages were made, are on file in the advertising department of The Constitution, and all who are interested in reviewing them are invited to do so.

The tabulation of the replies showed these

ASTONISHING RESULTS

96% of the women in the homes where The Constitution is delivered read it regularly.

86% read the advertising.

87% say they are influenced in their purchases by the advertising.

73% read The Constitution in the morning; 7% in the afternoon, and 20% at some ungiven time.

27% of those who read it in the morning do so about 7 o'clock; 38% read it about 8 o'clock; 27% as late as 9 o'clock, and 8% after 9 o'clock.

48% spend half an hour reading it and 52% read it an hour.

003% do not read the paper at all; .001% for lack of time; .002% because paper is carried away from home; only 1 out of entire number because she was not interested in newspaper reading.

83% read The Constitution as much or more than an evening paper.

The average period of the subscriptions of those who answered the questions was 10 years.

Not a single woman of all those who answered did not like The Constitution as a newspaper.

THE DEDUCTIONS

If the percentages derived from this test are applied to the entire Atlanta circulation of The Constitution, it means that---

14,400 Atlanta women read The Constitution regularly.

12,900 Atlanta women read the advertising in The Constitution.

12,000 Atlanta women are influenced in their purchases by this advertising.

(If the same formulas are applied still further to the entire circulation, both city and country, of 45,000 Daily and 48,000 Sunday, these figures would be more than doubled.)

This makes a guaranteed audience every morning in the year for all advertising containing a meritorious and opportune announcement to women.

MR. ADVERTISER--In the light of these facts, what is to be said of your business sagacity if you permit a single issue of The Atlanta Constitution to enter that many households and to be read by that many women, without your business message?

"THE STANDARD SOUTHERN NEWSPAPER"

DID HE DISCUSS BEARS? GUILT OF FRANK

Blakely Men in Depositions Deny That Jurymen Henslee Made Statements Attributed to Him.

That Atticus H. Henslee, the ventriloquist on the Frank trial, did not discuss with Leo M. Franck's connection with the murder of Mary Phagan, or make any remarks about what he would do in case he should be placed on the jury, was the sworn statement of L. E. Black and Walter Thomas, two citizens of Blakely, Ga., whose depositions were filed in superior court by Attorney R. H. Arnold and L. Z. Roser for the defense.

It was stated recently that these men would swear that Henslee, while in Blakely as a traveling salesman, had said that if he ever got on the jury that he would remain there until Christmas before he would turn Franck loose, but both men denied that he ever made the remark.

This was to be one of the strong points in the demand for a new trial for the man convicted of the murder. The hearing will be on the 27th of this month. From present indications, although the defense is insisting that the hearing is its complete motion, it is not believed that the hearing will be possible before November. The defense has filed a motion for a new trial, which will probably require time in which to meet the claims and it is not believed that a hearing will be had until later. The present motion means apparently that not Judge L. S. Roun, the trial judge, but the superior court, possibly Judge E. H. Hill, will hear the hearing.

Judge Roun is due to take his place on the court of appeals by October 11 and on that day he will go to his home to take his seat on the superior court bench and the hearing will be held. He will hear the appeal and it is believed that Judge Hill will hear the hearing.

Refused to Answer Questions. According to the defense the two Blakely men refused to answer certain questions in regard to what Mr. Henslee had said. It was stated that Mr. Henslee was taken during the trial to go to the home of a Mr. W. W. Dorsey, owner of Early county, in which Blakely is situated, and make the deposition.

Both the men declared that Henslee had never said anything which would show him prejudiced against either of their answers to the questions. Henslee and Thomas, the two men whose depositions were discussed in the case, were not before the trial and the defense was making the conversation.

Both admitted that Henslee and Thomas had discussed the evidence as brought out in the trial. However, both the Blakely men denied that Henslee had said anything which would indicate his opinion in regard to Franck.

The defense made a request Thursday certain documents in the possession of the state, and the defense was taken to them by J. A. Stephens, assistant to Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey. They were various documents used during the trial, and the defense had no copy.

Both sides are hard at work, the state confident that no new trial will be granted, and the defense confident the opposite view. In case the superior court judge grants a new trial, it is known that the defense will carry the case to the superior court for a decision.

Should a new trial be granted in any of the courts, an interesting proceeding will ensue. The state will ask that Solicitor Dorsey has certain evidence not secured during the trial in the first trial, and it is known that the defense also secured evidence that tends to corroborate the state's case. It is known that the defense will bring out evidence that tends to show that Franck is innocent, and what around the new trial would be the first trial, and whether features that went into the first trial would be introduced in the second, are already causing speculation among those who have followed the case.

It is also believed that the defense would not make the attack on Conley that was previously made, and that the defense would probably be told out, and Judge Roun, in allowing it before, said that had the defense objected to the attack, and that he would have had to rule it down, that he would have had to rule it out. The question has also been raised as to whether or not a new trial would be an issue.

Beavers Needs a Vacation But He Sticks on the Job

A strenuous public life has made it impossible for Chief James Litchfield Beavers to take a much-needed vacation. It has now gone on year after year and one day to be exact—since he was a moment of official rest and ease.

Two weeks ago he was planning a day's rest in the Blue Ridge when the rabbits were hopping. Everything was in readiness to quiet the mountain and two weeks of unadmitted comfort.

Then, all of a sudden, an extra session, and, by the way, the stormiest or history, was called for the board of directors restricted. Just as soon, he slammed down his hat, and there he was in vacation in a moment.

The chief has been on the job ever since his historical abolition of the directors restricted. Just as soon, he slams down his hat, and there he was in vacation in a moment.

CHARITABLE REVIEWS THE PIFLES MAIL SACK

Friends of Revision Will Not Give Up Fight—Kelley Believes People Are Ready For It.

The motion picture started over a year ago for reform in the charter of Atlanta, though again defeated at the polls on Wednesday, will eventually recede in needed reforms in the city government. Was the motion picture expressed by many Atlanta citizens yesterday.

Among them was Alderman C. H. Kelley, of the second ward, one of Atlanta's most prominent business men, who declared his belief that revision was the only way to solve the city's problems. He said that the people are ready for its reforms and that the city government should be reformed.

While possibly I believe that our present principles of government are better and safer than the radical revision, Kelley is insistent in other words. I still recognize the need for revision in many of the details of our present city organization, said Kelley yesterday. "It will certainly come—and probably within the year future."

The citizens should get some conservative men to work out the details of this revision, rather than the radical revision, Kelley is insistent in other words. I still recognize the need for revision in many of the details of our present city organization, said Kelley yesterday.

$2,000 in Stolen Parcels Post Goods Discovered at Negro's Home.

Reveling Worthless, a negro mail wagon driver on duty trips between the depot and the post office and for three years a governmental employee, exchanged his driver's seat yesterday for a cell in the Fulton county jail to await the coming session of the federal grand jury before which an indictment charging him with robbing the mails is to be laid.

For several months parcel post packages have gone astray and Chief Inspector Barry has been working members of his force to solve the losses. Inspectors McGraw and Adams were in the act of knocking off a full day of hard work when they saw a mail wagon approaching. The wagon passed on a small track which crossed the tracks at that minute slipped the noose on a mail sack and the driver fled that night. Instantly the inspectors forged the driver's work and apprehended the driver by jumping into his moving wagon and two heavy caps.

As the inspectors landed in the wagon the driver was tossing a bundle under his seat. An inspector snatched at the bundle as the other grabbed the driver in the act of starting from the station. The driver was Worthless, long with the service, but he was not the driver of the mail sack. The package contained a valuable fur cloak and two heavy caps of the same material.

After Worthless's confession inspectors visited his home on First street where a great number of all kinds of merchandise admissible to parcel post mail was found. He is estimated to have estimated from $1,200 to $2,000. Before Commissioner Carter heard of the theft his guilt and in default of bond is now a prisoner in the Fulton county jail.

STRONG BELIEVER IN GOLDEN RULE

This Lady Says: "Do Unto Others, As You Would Have Them Do Unto You."

Church Point, La.—Miss Celina Richards, of this town, authorizes the following statement: "I felt so miserable, and suffered dreadfully with pains in my back. But I suffer no more pain now and it is nothing but Cardui that has cured me.

I bought another bottle of Cardui yesterday, and the first tablespoonful did me so much good.

My cousin suffers regularly as I did, so I told her to try a bottle of Cardui, and see how much good it would do her. So she is taking it now.

You may publish this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of helping others, as other ladies' letters have helped me, by bringing me to use Cardui, the woman's tonic.

As long as I live, I will always praise Cardui!"

You must admit, lady reader, that this is pretty strong endorsement as to the merits of Cardui, and still this is only one of many similar letters which come, unolicited, in almost every mail. Cardui is a perfectly harmless vegetable extract, of mild acting, medicinal, tonic herb. It helps to restore vitality, regulate irregularities and tones up the womanly organs.

Cardui is the ideal strengthening medicine for women. Get a bottle today.

N. B.—Write to Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 44-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper on request.

When the board met in the office of Superintendent Brittain at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, Judge Slaton, D. Evans, of the supreme court, was present to administer the oath required by law when they are acting as a judicial commission.

Both the morning and afternoon sessions of the board were productive. Adjournment was at 5:10 o'clock in the afternoon.

It was entirely a difference as to the educational policy which was used to be pursued. There was no personal friction and the meeting was harmonious. Mr. Brittain and myself are the present contractors should be renewed as a matter of economy.

HOOPER ALEXANDER NOMINATED BY WILSON To Succeed Carter Tate as U. S. Attorney for Northern District of Georgia.

By John Curran, Jr. Washington, September 25.—(Special)—Hooper Alexander, northern district attorney for the northern district of Georgia, was sent to the senate today by President Wilson.

Although Senator Hoke Smith had made up his mind months ago to recommend Mr. Alexander, he was not presented the name of his candidate until yesterday and had not even filed any additional nominations.

To Remove Republican. Attorney General McPherson has resolved to depart from the course he has followed heretofore. He will now remove republican district attorneys as fast as possible without waiting for their terms to expire.

Mr. Alexander, the new district attorney, was a boyhood friend of Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president. They attended the same school at Johns Creek, where Dr. Axson, father of Mrs. Wilson, was filling the Presbyterian church there.

Mr. Alexander may claim to have been one of the original "Wilson men," said Senator Hoke Smith, who was the president intimately when the latter was practicing law in Atlanta, and was one of the first men to be nominated by both Georgia senators.

The nominations of P. D. Wooten as postmaster at Abbeville, and Annie Adams as postmaster at Abbeville, were also sent to the senate today.

Washington, September 25.—Logan W. Paer, director of the office of public lands, has stated from October 1 to March 1, 1914, the time in which children living on farms may submit essays on the repair and maintenance of earth roads in competition for a gold medal and other prizes.

The essays are not to be more than 100 words long and must express ideas in the children's own language. Understanding of the subject, penmanship, English and spelling will count in the rating of the essays.

MACON POLITICAL POT BOILS ON ELECTION EVE

W. D. McNeil Given the Lie by Editor Hobbs; Dr. Gibson Knocked Down in Fight.

Macon, Ga., September 25.—(Special) The closing day of the historic municipal campaign in the history of Macon was marked by many incidents, beginning with the appearance of State Senator W. D. McNeil, campaign speaker for Wallace Miller, at the Central of Georgia railway shops this afternoon.

McNeil and F. M. Hobbs, the labor editor who had charged with accepting a bribe of $100 to present the street car men from forming a union eighteen months ago, met face to face, surrounded by a howling mob of workmen. McNeil had gone back to the not permitted to speak but was not permitted to speak.

When McNeil spilled some alleged substantiate his charge, he was stepped on by a mob of workmen from his hands and tore them to shreds, at the same time, the state senator a piece of the mind and sporting several vile epithets to him.

This was followed by an ovation for Hobbs who came within a few feet of McNeil and denounced him in the following words: "If you or any other man made the charge that I ever took one dollar from any man, I will have my course in any way that my hand has ever touched such money since I was discharged from any check for such purpose. I will have my hand slapped by superior motives—that man in a dirty shirt and a few pounds less to the crown of his comely head."

McNeil made no reply, and in a few minutes was taken away in an automobile. At 4 o'clock a meeting of the members of Second and Cherry streets, who had gathered to discuss the campaign, was held in the hall of Dr. O. C. Gibson and a stiller supporter named Roberts. Dr. Gibson intervened and the fight was stopped.

Public Rallies Held. Tonight public rallies were held by the Smith and Miller forces, the former at the Grand opera house and the latter at the city auditorium. Both auditoriums were packed. Indications are that a heavy vote will be polled tomorrow and the supporters of all three candidates and their tickets will be out in force to aid in getting the registration. The registration for the primary has been the heaviest ever in the history of the 5,000 mark.

The three candidates for mayor are Bridges Smith, former mayor and present city clerk; Arthur H. Smith, present city clerk; and Wallace Miller, member of the legislature and a lawyer, and A. L. Dasher, an artisan and also a lawyer.

At the Theaters. "Ready Money." (At the Atlanta.) Coming almost direct from its extraordinary success in New York and Boston, "Ready Money," the comedy of love, romance and wit, will be produced for the first time in Atlanta on Tuesday with a Tuesday matinee and evening performance. The idea of the comedy is original and charming and full of romance. It is apart from the world more interesting than any other comedy of the kind. It is a young man to get wealth and a girl to get a husband. It is a comedy with surprising turns and situations. It is a comedy with a happy ending. It is a comedy with a happy ending.

MARKET RALLIED LATE IN SESSION

Market Opened at Advance of 3 to 10 Points, but Soon Weakened Under Favorable Crop Report from Georgia.

New York, September 23.—A renewal of scattered liquidation, attributed largely to continued nervousness over fears of adverse legislation, closed today's cotton market an opening advance, but reactions were followed by renewed strength, with prices reaching the highest level of the day in the late trading and closing firm at a net gain of 4 to 11 points.

Private cables attributed a sharp advance in Liverpool to covering by some of yesterday's sellers and bad crop accounts from Texas. The local market opened steady at an advance of 10 to 15 points on the English showing, but immediately weakened under unfavorable crop reports from Georgia.

CONGRESSMAN WOULD SOLVE PROBLEM BY REORGANIZING POSTAL BANK SYSTEM.

Washington, September 23.—(Special Representative William B. Howard today completed his financial measure and introduced it in the house. The bill has received favorable notice from many who examine its provisions. That the measure will have the government's money in interest-bearing bills will keep postal savings banks solvent in the locality where they are established, as well as enable the banks to loan to the public at 4 percent less than current rates of interest. It also provides for the payment of interest on the bills.

Representative Howard, in outlining the purpose of his bill, said that it proposed to reorganize the postal savings bank system, to permit the issue of government bonds, which would be purchased by the public in the United States and the interest coupons on these would be payable in day postal bills at maturity. He proposed to permit the secretary of the treasury to deposit in any state or national bank upon approved security 25 percent of the total accumulation of the postal savings banks, said Mr. Howard. One bank can receive such deposits in excess of $100 and bearing 3 percent of its surplus. The government is to receive 10 percent on these deposits at the rate of 5 percent.

There are four billions of dollars in postal savings banks, and the government is to receive 3 percent interest in addition to the interest the banks pay large sums in advertising which, with other expenses, causes the government to charge the public 7 or 8 percent interest. "I believe this is more than they would have to charge if this money were national banks," the banks would have to charge 10 percent interest on the public's money. "I believe this is more than they would have to charge if this money were national banks," the banks would have to charge 10 percent interest on the public's money.

"England has one billion in deposits in postal savings banks, and the government is to receive 10 percent interest on these deposits. It is believed that the government would receive $100 million in interest from these banks."...

That's the View at Washington of Gamboa's Nomination—Fair Elections to Be Urged by United States.

Washington, September 24.—President Wilson took the position today that the policy of moral suasion adopted by the United States toward Mexico had accomplished its two cardinal purposes—obtain assurances that Mexico would accept a constitutional election and that Provisional President Huerta would not be a candidate to succeed himself.

Advice received here describing in detail the preparations being made for the election of October 24 and stating also that General Huerta would not be a candidate, but would support Professor Gamboa, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, the nominee of the Catholic party, encouraged President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and believed that the Huerta government was carrying out what the United States had emphasized in the kind negotiations as the essential feature of the settlement of the revolutionary troubles.

No Immediate Decision. The president recognized that it will not be immediately possible to judge whether or not the election is actually constitutional and will without delay. However, he will withhold decision until he has seen further the choice of that election will be recognized by the United States. Likelihood that foreign governments will await the judgment of the United States before extending recognition is being increased. However, the president is said, with a view to insuring free choice, he will not withhold decision until he has seen further the choice of that election will be recognized by the United States.
