

VOL. XXXI, NO. 64.

ATLANTA, GA., MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 28, 1933.

LAST EDITION.

PRICE 2 CENTS PER COPY

J. M. GANTT IS ARRESTED ON HIS ARRIVAL IN MARIETTA; HE VISITED FACTORY SATURDAY

Gantt Protests His Innocence, Declaring He Knows Nothing of the Crime - Says He Went to Factory Saturday to Get Pair of Shoes Left There - His Statement Is Confirmed by Superintendent Frank

DECLARES HE KNEW MARY PHAGAN BUT HAD NOT HARMED HER

It Is Not Known What Was Purpose of His Visit to Marietta Monday - His Whereabouts Sunday Not Yet Explained - Story of His Arrest and What He Says

J. M. Gantt, who was discharged three weeks ago from the position of bookkeeper at the National Penell company, was arrested shortly before noon Monday at Marietta in connection with the murder of Mary Phagan.

He is the man for whom the police were searching during Monday morning, but whose name they refused to divulge. He was arrested by Bailiff Hicks, of Marietta, just as he stepped from a street car in which he had come from Atlanta.

Gantt protests his innocence, and says that he knows nothing whatever of the murder of Mary Phagan. He admits having gone to the factory of the National Penell company on Saturday afternoon for shoes for which he had left there, but denies that he returned to the factory or was with Mary Phagan at any time during the day.

In a brief statement which he made at Marietta he said that he knew the murdered girl, but that they were not intimate friends. He said he arrived at Marietta by Baltimore train, who had been notified the night before that during the night, and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

It is not known what he did on Sunday, and his visit to Marietta is unexplained. He took the street car from Atlanta, and was arrested as he arrived at Marietta by Baltimore train, who had been notified the night before that during the night, and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Superintendent Frank, of the National Penell factory, corroborates Gantt's story about the visit Saturday afternoon to the factory. He says that about 6 o'clock in the evening Gantt came to the factory and asked permission to get an old pair of shoes that he had left there before his discharge.

PERMISSION GRANTED. The negro night watchman, Newt Lee, asked the superintendent whether Gantt should be permitted to get the shoes, and the permission was granted. But when the superintendent had reached home about 7:30 o'clock, he grew uneasy. He telephoned to the office to know what Gantt left, and Newt Lee, the watchman, answered that the bookkeeper took his departure immediately after getting the shoes.

It is all that Gantt should do for employees in the factory, says Gantt, who says that he has no other business in Marietta. He says that he has no other business in Marietta. He says that he has no other business in Marietta.

When Gantt had left the factory, the superintendent of the factory, who had been notified the night before that during the night, and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

POLICE HAVE LITTLE EVIDENCE TO CONNECT HIM WITH THE CRIME

ELMER DARDEN BASES PLEAS FOR LIFE SOLELY ON "UNWRITTEN LAW," SAYING HE SHOT BECAUSE HOME WAS RUINED

He Is the Man for Whom the Police Were Searching During Monday Morning, but Whose Name They Refused to Divulge

On Monday the "unwritten law" alone to save his life, Elmer F. Darden went on trial in the criminal division of the Fulton superior court Monday morning for the murder of Jessie M. Goddard, of Stone Mountain, on March 11.

Darden has admitted following his wife's alleged paramour to the home of the woman, and shot her because he believed that the dead man would ruin his home and happiness.

This is the first time in a number of years that a defendant has pleaded the unwritten law as a sole defense for a homicide in this county, although the supreme court records are replete with "unwritten law cases" from other counties in Georgia.

SMACKING GETTING RARE. Darden went on trial at 12:30 o'clock, but it was nearly noon before a jury had been selected. Of the forty-six jurors who had been summoned to the court, sixteen were excused for cause. All but seven of the remaining sixteen were excused, and court business spent the remainder of the morning in securing two new panels from which the necessary five jurors were selected.

HEARD DESCRIBES KILLING. Addie Mae, a negro maid at the Elton depot, where the tragedy occurred, was the first witness, and she graphically described the killing. "It was about 1:15 o'clock at night," she said, "when Mr. Goddard, with both hands raised above his head, came rushing into the ladies' parlor, and both 'ave me, 'ave me, 'ave me."

"I had already heard two shots and Mr. Darden came in right behind Mr. Goddard. Mr. Darden had a smoking pistol in his hand. "Passed to meet you, Mr. Goddard," he said. "I shot him in the back for you for all the afternoon."

"Then he shot again and I saw the blood spurt from Mr. Goddard's head. John Bonaley, a negro porter, saw the blood spurt from Mr. Goddard's head, and that Goddard had wrecked his home."

"Fire was all I had to give him," the witness said. "I shot him and he tried to give him all of it. I registered this morning at the Elton depot with my wife, the negro maid, the day after the shooting. I saw the blood spurt from Mr. Goddard's head, and that Goddard had wrecked his home."

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

GIRL WHO WAS FOUND MURDERED

MARY PHAGAN

ELMER DARDEN BASES PLEAS FOR LIFE SOLELY ON "UNWRITTEN LAW," SAYING HE SHOT BECAUSE HOME WAS RUINED

He Is the Man for Whom the Police Were Searching During Monday Morning, but Whose Name They Refused to Divulge

On Monday the "unwritten law" alone to save his life, Elmer F. Darden went on trial in the criminal division of the Fulton superior court Monday morning for the murder of Jessie M. Goddard, of Stone Mountain, on March 11.

Darden has admitted following his wife's alleged paramour to the home of the woman, and shot her because he believed that the dead man would ruin his home and happiness.

This is the first time in a number of years that a defendant has pleaded the unwritten law as a sole defense for a homicide in this county, although the supreme court records are replete with "unwritten law cases" from other counties in Georgia.

SMACKING GETTING RARE. Darden went on trial at 12:30 o'clock, but it was nearly noon before a jury had been selected. Of the forty-six jurors who had been summoned to the court, sixteen were excused for cause. All but seven of the remaining sixteen were excused, and court business spent the remainder of the morning in securing two new panels from which the necessary five jurors were selected.

HEARD DESCRIBES KILLING. Addie Mae, a negro maid at the Elton depot, where the tragedy occurred, was the first witness, and she graphically described the killing. "It was about 1:15 o'clock at night," she said, "when Mr. Goddard, with both hands raised above his head, came rushing into the ladies' parlor, and both 'ave me, 'ave me, 'ave me."

"I had already heard two shots and Mr. Darden came in right behind Mr. Goddard. Mr. Darden had a smoking pistol in his hand. "Passed to meet you, Mr. Goddard," he said. "I shot him in the back for you for all the afternoon."

"Then he shot again and I saw the blood spurt from Mr. Goddard's head. John Bonaley, a negro porter, saw the blood spurt from Mr. Goddard's head, and that Goddard had wrecked his home."

"Fire was all I had to give him," the witness said. "I shot him and he tried to give him all of it. I registered this morning at the Elton depot with my wife, the negro maid, the day after the shooting. I saw the blood spurt from Mr. Goddard's head, and that Goddard had wrecked his home."

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

Witness J. C. Hardy declared on the witness stand that Goddard was still standing and that he had seen the body of the murdered girl in the morning.

POLICE THINK NEGRO WATCHMAN CAN CLEAR MURDER MYSTERY; FOUR ARE UNDER ARREST

Developments in Case Have Come Thick and Fast Monday, but No Evidence Has Yet Been Developed Which Fixes the Atrocious Crime - Mullinax Seems to Have Proved Alibi

SUPERINTENDENT FRANK AIDS POLICE IN TRYING TO SOLVE THE MYSTERY

He Was Closely Questioned for Several Hours Monday but Left Headquarters in Company With His Attorneys and Friends - Crime Was Committed in Metal Room on Second Floor - Sleeping Compartment Found in Factory Basement

Detectives expect to wring the secret of Mary Phagan's murder from Newt Lee, negro night watchman at the National Penell factory, 27-29 South Forsyth street.

Their theory is that he is innocent of the crime itself, but that he knows the murderer of the fourteen-year-old girl, and is hiding the man who strangled Mary Phagan with a piece of hempen cord on Saturday and dragged her body into the pitch black cellar of the factory.

The negro will tell nothing, but from him and from J. M. Gantt, the discharged bookkeeper, detectives expect to draw the story of how Mary Phagan was beaten into unconsciousness, assaulted, and then strangled to death.

FOUR ARE UNDER ARREST. Four men are under arrest: Lee, the negro night watchman; Arthur Mullinax, 24 Taylor street, and Gordon Bailey, a negro elevator boy at the pencil factory.

L. M. Frank, superintendent of the pencil factory, was questioned by the police, and spent the better part of Monday morning at police station. But he was not blamed and returned home.

An alibi has practically been established for Mullinax by Jim Katcher, against whom he has been charged, and the police have no direct evidence against Gordon Bailey, the elevator boy.

They are depending upon Newt Lee, the watchman, to reveal the identity of the murderer of the fourteen-year-old girl.

AN IMPROVED COPY. Fashioned from wooden boxes pushed close together and covered with chrome bags, was discovered in a separate compartment in the basement at the rear end of the factory. The police place no belief in his prosecution, which is about night, and the police place no belief in his prosecution, which is about night, and the police place no belief in his prosecution, which is about night.

They are also entering the theory that the murderer of the girl was the negro, Newt Lee, know of the place. They are also entering the theory that the murderer of the girl was the negro, Newt Lee, know of the place. They are also entering the theory that the murderer of the girl was the negro, Newt Lee, know of the place.

THE NEGRO KEEPS HIS MOUTH SHUT. The negro, Newt Lee, who was the night watchman at the pencil factory, is being questioned by the police. He is being questioned by the police. He is being questioned by the police.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

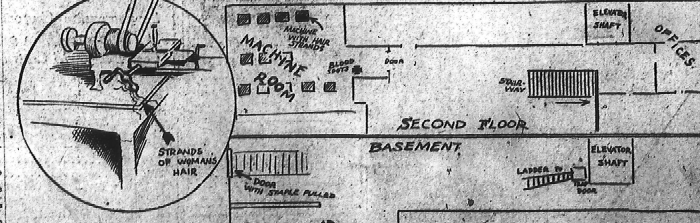

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

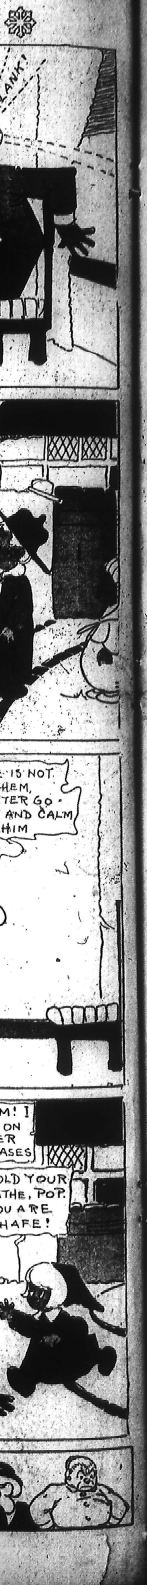

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

THE WATCHMAN DISCOVERED THE BLOOD. The watchman, Newt Lee, discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory. He discovered the blood on the floor of the factory.

DIAGRAM SHOWS HOW GIRL WAS MURDERED AND DRAGGED TO BASEMENT

The above shows the latter, where strands of woman's hair were found. Also, the scaleless room on the second floor, giving location of elevator shaft, hallway, etc. Diagram of basement (where the body was found) shows the big cross indicates the spot where the body was found.

STRAND OF HAIR IN MACHINE ON SECOND FLOOR MAY BE CLEW LEFT BY MARY PHAGAN

Its Discovery Leads to Theory That She May Have Been Attacked There and Then Dragged to Factory Basement

The finding of a strand of hair in the case of a steel roller in the meat room on the second floor of the National Food company's factory, and the discovery of blood spatters on the floor, early Monday morning, aroused the belief that this was the scene of the murder of fourteen-year-old Mary Phagan, Monday morning.

A sunning effort had been made to conceal the blood stains on the floor by the smearing of some kind of a powder over the smudges. A strand of curled hair was found, however, and a Journal reporter, and a further investigation revealed more.

In the absence of contradictory evidence in the case of the steel roller, it was believed that the hair was left in the meat room on the second floor, where it was believed to have been found, as it was found in the same place as that of the murdered girl.

A sunning effort had been made to conceal the blood stains on the floor by the smearing of some kind of a powder over the smudges. A strand of curled hair was found, however, and a Journal reporter, and a further investigation revealed more.

In the absence of contradictory evidence in the case of the steel roller, it was believed that the hair was left in the meat room on the second floor, where it was believed to have been found, as it was found in the same place as that of the murdered girl.

A sunning effort had been made to conceal the blood stains on the floor by the smearing of some kind of a powder over the smudges. A strand of curled hair was found, however, and a Journal reporter, and a further investigation revealed more.

In the absence of contradictory evidence in the case of the steel roller, it was believed that the hair was left in the meat room on the second floor, where it was believed to have been found, as it was found in the same place as that of the murdered girl.

Writing In-Insolent Notes Is Not Like That of Dead Girl

Handwritten notes found in the case of the murdered girl were found to be different from those of the girl.

The handwriting on the notes found in the case of the murdered girl was found to be different from that of the girl. The notes were found in the case of the girl.

The handwriting on the notes found in the case of the murdered girl was found to be different from that of the girl. The notes were found in the case of the girl.

The handwriting on the notes found in the case of the murdered girl was found to be different from that of the girl. The notes were found in the case of the girl.

The handwriting on the notes found in the case of the murdered girl was found to be different from that of the girl. The notes were found in the case of the girl.

The handwriting on the notes found in the case of the murdered girl was found to be different from that of the girl. The notes were found in the case of the girl.

The handwriting on the notes found in the case of the murdered girl was found to be different from that of the girl. The notes were found in the case of the girl.

The handwriting on the notes found in the case of the murdered girl was found to be different from that of the girl. The notes were found in the case of the girl.

MAN HELD FOR GIRL'S MURDER AVOWS HE WAS WITH ANOTHER WHEN WITNESS SAW HIM LAST

Arthur Mullinax, Trolley Conductor, Dallas, Tex. E. L. Sembell Saw Him Saturday Night With Mary Phagan

Arthur Mullinax, identified by E. L. Sembell, of Dallas, Tex., as the man who was with Mary Phagan at the time of her murder, avowed that he was with another woman when he was last seen by Sembell.

Arthur Mullinax, identified by E. L. Sembell, of Dallas, Tex., as the man who was with Mary Phagan at the time of her murder, avowed that he was with another woman when he was last seen by Sembell.

Arthur Mullinax, identified by E. L. Sembell, of Dallas, Tex., as the man who was with Mary Phagan at the time of her murder, avowed that he was with another woman when he was last seen by Sembell.

Arthur Mullinax, identified by E. L. Sembell, of Dallas, Tex., as the man who was with Mary Phagan at the time of her murder, avowed that he was with another woman when he was last seen by Sembell.

Arthur Mullinax, identified by E. L. Sembell, of Dallas, Tex., as the man who was with Mary Phagan at the time of her murder, avowed that he was with another woman when he was last seen by Sembell.

Arthur Mullinax, identified by E. L. Sembell, of Dallas, Tex., as the man who was with Mary Phagan at the time of her murder, avowed that he was with another woman when he was last seen by Sembell.

Arthur Mullinax, identified by E. L. Sembell, of Dallas, Tex., as the man who was with Mary Phagan at the time of her murder, avowed that he was with another woman when he was last seen by Sembell.

TWO MAURANDERS SHOWN AND INTERVIEWED

City detectives detailed to run down the murderer of Mary Phagan, are endeavoring to clear up the mystery surrounding the authorship of two crudely written notes found in the case.

City detectives detailed to run down the murderer of Mary Phagan, are endeavoring to clear up the mystery surrounding the authorship of two crudely written notes found in the case.

City detectives detailed to run down the murderer of Mary Phagan, are endeavoring to clear up the mystery surrounding the authorship of two crudely written notes found in the case.

City detectives detailed to run down the murderer of Mary Phagan, are endeavoring to clear up the mystery surrounding the authorship of two crudely written notes found in the case.

City detectives detailed to run down the murderer of Mary Phagan, are endeavoring to clear up the mystery surrounding the authorship of two crudely written notes found in the case.

City detectives detailed to run down the murderer of Mary Phagan, are endeavoring to clear up the mystery surrounding the authorship of two crudely written notes found in the case.

City detectives detailed to run down the murderer of Mary Phagan, are endeavoring to clear up the mystery surrounding the authorship of two crudely written notes found in the case.

City detectives detailed to run down the murderer of Mary Phagan, are endeavoring to clear up the mystery surrounding the authorship of two crudely written notes found in the case.

THOUSANDS VISIT MORGUE

To View Girl's Body

Thousands of people, according to reliable authorities, visited P. J. Bloomfield's mortuary, 1110 Peachtree street, to view the body of Mary Phagan.

Thousands of people, according to reliable authorities, visited P. J. Bloomfield's mortuary, 1110 Peachtree street, to view the body of Mary Phagan.

Thousands of people, according to reliable authorities, visited P. J. Bloomfield's mortuary, 1110 Peachtree street, to view the body of Mary Phagan.

Thousands of people, according to reliable authorities, visited P. J. Bloomfield's mortuary, 1110 Peachtree street, to view the body of Mary Phagan.

Thousands of people, according to reliable authorities, visited P. J. Bloomfield's mortuary, 1110 Peachtree street, to view the body of Mary Phagan.

Thousands of people, according to reliable authorities, visited P. J. Bloomfield's mortuary, 1110 Peachtree street, to view the body of Mary Phagan.

Thousands of people, according to reliable authorities, visited P. J. Bloomfield's mortuary, 1110 Peachtree street, to view the body of Mary Phagan.

The Atlanta Journal Great $7,000 Booklovers' Campaign

What the Campaign Is

A series of 15 prize pictures each representing the title of one book, to be published each week, commencing April 23. The pictures are to be given to the person who sends in the most correct answer.

A series of 15 prize pictures each representing the title of one book, to be published each week, commencing April 23. The pictures are to be given to the person who sends in the most correct answer.

A series of 15 prize pictures each representing the title of one book, to be published each week, commencing April 23. The pictures are to be given to the person who sends in the most correct answer.

A series of 15 prize pictures each representing the title of one book, to be published each week, commencing April 23. The pictures are to be given to the person who sends in the most correct answer.

A series of 15 prize pictures each representing the title of one book, to be published each week, commencing April 23. The pictures are to be given to the person who sends in the most correct answer.

A series of 15 prize pictures each representing the title of one book, to be published each week, commencing April 23. The pictures are to be given to the person who sends in the most correct answer.

A series of 15 prize pictures each representing the title of one book, to be published each week, commencing April 23. The pictures are to be given to the person who sends in the most correct answer.

CORONER'S JURY VISITS SCENE OF MURDER AND ADJOURNS WITHOUT RENDERING VERDICT

Will Meet Again Wednesday Morning When Witnesses Will Be Examined—Five Hundred People Present When Inquest Was Begun

For an hour Monday morning a jury empaneled by Coroner Paul Donahue viewed through dark basement passageways and first four rooms in the factory of the National Food company.

For an hour Monday morning a jury empaneled by Coroner Paul Donahue viewed through dark basement passageways and first four rooms in the factory of the National Food company.

For an hour Monday morning a jury empaneled by Coroner Paul Donahue viewed through dark basement passageways and first four rooms in the factory of the National Food company.

For an hour Monday morning a jury empaneled by Coroner Paul Donahue viewed through dark basement passageways and first four rooms in the factory of the National Food company.

For an hour Monday morning a jury empaneled by Coroner Paul Donahue viewed through dark basement passageways and first four rooms in the factory of the National Food company.

"GOD'S VENGEANCE WILL STRIKE BRUTE WHO KILLED HER," SAYS GRANDFATHER OF MARY PHAGAN

Calling on God Almighty to visit vengeance upon the murderer of his fourteen-year-old granddaughter, Mary Phagan, an elderly man in the basement of the National Food company's factory, Monday morning, declared that he had never seen his granddaughter since she was brought to justice.

Calling on God Almighty to visit vengeance upon the murderer of his fourteen-year-old granddaughter, Mary Phagan, an elderly man in the basement of the National Food company's factory, Monday morning, declared that he had never seen his granddaughter since she was brought to justice.

Calling on God Almighty to visit vengeance upon the murderer of his fourteen-year-old granddaughter, Mary Phagan, an elderly man in the basement of the National Food company's factory, Monday morning, declared that he had never seen his granddaughter since she was brought to justice.

Calling on God Almighty to visit vengeance upon the murderer of his fourteen-year-old granddaughter, Mary Phagan, an elderly man in the basement of the National Food company's factory, Monday morning, declared that he had never seen his granddaughter since she was brought to justice.

Calling on God Almighty to visit vengeance upon the murderer of his fourteen-year-old granddaughter, Mary Phagan, an elderly man in the basement of the National Food company's factory, Monday morning, declared that he had never seen his granddaughter since she was brought to justice.

Calling on God Almighty to visit vengeance upon the murderer of his fourteen-year-old granddaughter, Mary Phagan, an elderly man in the basement of the National Food company's factory, Monday morning, declared that he had never seen his granddaughter since she was brought to justice.

DEATH-DUST KILLS BUGS

Household insecticide kills bugs

Household insecticide kills bugs

Household insecticide kills bugs

Household insecticide kills bugs

Household insecticide kills bugs

Household insecticide kills bugs

POLICE WATCH CLEAR

Police watch clear

Police watch clear

Police watch clear

Police watch clear

Police watch clear

Police watch clear

Police watch clear

Police watch clear

Picture No. 23

Form for booklovers' campaign with fields for Title, Author, Your Name, Street and Number, City or Town, State, No. 23 - April 23, 1913 - No. 23.

THE BOOKLOVERS' CAMPAIGN AT YANOR'S HARDWARE STORE

Subscription Coupon form with fields for Name, Address, City or Town, State, and a section for ordering a catalogue.

COOK BOOK COUPON

Monday Coupon form for April 23, 1913, with fields for Name, Address, and a section for ordering a coupon.

BRITISH OIL

British oil

British oil

British oil

British oil

British oil

British oil

British oil

British oil

POLICE WANTED TO CLEAR FACTORY

(Continued from page 1.)

...of New Lee, Negro night watchman... to one factory upon the evening preceding the crime...

...FACTORY IS CLEARED... owing to the feeling of hatred and animosity...

...HAIR IS IDENTIFIED... The above photograph shows the rear of the building occupied by the plant of the National Pencil...

BUILDING WHERE GIRL WAS MURDERED

...The statement of E. F. Darden, the man who slew Goddard...

...The man who slew Goddard says he killed deliberately and defiant wrecker of his home...

...The man who slew Goddard says he killed deliberately and defiant wrecker of his home...

ELMER DARDEN BASES PLEA FOR LIFE ON UNWRITTEN LAW

(Continued from page 1.)

...ELMER DARDEN BASES PLEA FOR LIFE ON UNWRITTEN LAW...

...ELMER DARDEN BASES PLEA FOR LIFE ON UNWRITTEN LAW...

Husband Says She Caused Wreck of Home

(Continued from page 1.)

...Husband Says She Caused Wreck of Home...

...Husband Says She Caused Wreck of Home...

CHAMBERS WROTE MADDOX AND HE PROMISES REPLY, AT PROBE TUESDAY AFTERNOON TO BOTH OF THEM

(Continued from page 1.)

...CHAMBERS WROTE MADDOX AND HE PROMISES REPLY, AT PROBE TUESDAY AFTERNOON TO BOTH OF THEM...

...CHAMBERS WROTE MADDOX AND HE PROMISES REPLY, AT PROBE TUESDAY AFTERNOON TO BOTH OF THEM...

J. M. GANTT IS ARRESTED ON HIS ARRIVAL IN MARIETTA; HE VISITED FACTORY SATURDAY

(Continued from page 1.)

...J. M. GANTT IS ARRESTED ON HIS ARRIVAL IN MARIETTA; HE VISITED FACTORY SATURDAY...

...J. M. GANTT IS ARRESTED ON HIS ARRIVAL IN MARIETTA; HE VISITED FACTORY SATURDAY...

DUNBAR KIDNAPING MYSTERY IS GROWING

(Continued from page 1.)

...DUNBAR KIDNAPING MYSTERY IS GROWING...

...DUNBAR KIDNAPING MYSTERY IS GROWING...

MISSOURI INSURANCE COMPANIES RESTRAINED

(Continued from page 1.)

...MISSOURI INSURANCE COMPANIES RESTRAINED...

...MISSOURI INSURANCE COMPANIES RESTRAINED...

HAYWOOD UNDER ARREST AGAIN

(Continued from page 1.)

...HAYWOOD UNDER ARREST AGAIN...

...HAYWOOD UNDER ARREST AGAIN...

LOVELICK PRINCE'S SLIPPER

(Continued from page 1.)

...LOVELICK PRINCE'S SLIPPER...

...LOVELICK PRINCE'S SLIPPER...

BRITISH OFFICER

(Continued from page 1.)

...BRITISH OFFICER...

...BRITISH OFFICER...

UPON

(Continued from page 1.)

...UPON...

UPON

(Continued from page 1.)

...UPON...

UPON

(Continued from page 1.)

...UPON...

UPON

(Continued from page 1.)

...UPON...

UPON

(Continued from page 1.)

...UPON...

UPON

(Continued from page 1.)

...UPON...