Last Wednesday afternoon Miss Beulah Daniel, daughter of G. T. Daniel, of Mabelton, Ga., was in a store in Marietta, making some purchases. She is quoted as saying that near her stood two girls, who also were making some purchases and who were talking as they looked over the goods offered to them. One of them was the girl already described above. Miss Daniel furnishes that description. She does not describe the girl's companion. In Men's Suits! The small and accurate stitches, the careful workmanship in the lapels, the correct shaping of the sleeves, the right set of the shoulders, the snug fit around the neck, the proper "swing" to the trousers --- yes, these may SEEM trifles, but WE regard them as highly important --- they are some of the "SMARTISMS" that give distinctive SMARTNESS and ELE-GANCE to our Suits for Atlanta's BEST-DRESSED Men!

EXERCISE ALL YOUR RIGHTS TO EXTRA ANSWERS

CUT ALONG THIS LINE.

Among the visitors at Booklovers' Headquarters yesterday, there was a young man who was in last year's Campaign, and, we will allow him to tell you why he did lose.

"When I entered your last year's Campaign, I secured the Catalogue, and all the pictures, read the rules and thought I thoroughly understood them and with the exception of one in regard to the right to ten answers on each picture, I did understand them all. I understood, of course, that I had the right to ten answers on each picture if I cared to exercise that right, but figured it out that the other fellow would likely use less answers than me, and have an advantage over me in that way. Then I proceeded to cut out possible answers in order to get down to two on each picture. Oh, yes, I cut them down all right; but unfortunately for me I cut out with them twelve correct answers, just enough to eliminate me from the prize-winning list. I know now that the right way to play this game is to take plenty of answers, and let the chances of a tie, or the other fellow getting one notch higher up in the prize-winning list, take care of themselves. As I understand it there is hardly a chance of a tie for one of the big prizes, for the reason that in order to make a tie, two contestants would have to have, for instance, 71 correct, using 400 answers each, when the usual thing in campaigns of this kind is that one of them would have 390 answers with 71 correct, and the other would have 400 answers and 71 correct, placing the man with 390 in first place. In this campaign that would give the man with 390 answers the $1,000, and the other man the $750. Figuring on the chances of a tie will not throw me out of the winning this year, as I am going to use every answer I am entitled to and will only hold down to one or two answers on the easy pictures, the ones that I am absolutely sure of."

To Be Sent on Approval

Write for our Catalogue and Diamond Book Set No. 5 with which you can make your selection as clearly, and with lots less trouble than in shopping.

We specialize in sending diamonds for examination and approval anywhere, and our diamonds are graded and classed by our expert until each one receives its actual value, and so marked in plain figures. Our large purchases permit our buying diamonds direct from the larger cutters of the world in original lots, thereby saving our customers the wholesaler's and jobber's profits.

From our books you can make your selection and know our liberal and fair plans of selling. Then write us your selection and give us Mercantile or Bank references and we will forward the goods to you, express charges prepaid. If you are in every way satisfied you can remit us, if not return the goods at our expense.

If you are hurried and not known to us, send your order with remittance to cover. If the goods are not perfectly satisfactory return them and we will at once return your money to you. Of course you know that everything we sell is subject to exchange. Our positive guarantee of full cash return and exchange value protects you against loss or dissatisfaction, and our business is conducted absolutely with regard to satisfied and prominent customers everywhere.

Some 1,500 delegates, or commissioners, half of them pastors and half laymen, are expected to attend the four assemblies here, of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. (northern), the United Presbyterian, the Presbyterian church, U. S. (southern), and the Ass ciated Reform Presbyterian. One thousand commissioners will be cared for in the Presbyterian homes of the city, which have been called upon for their fullest capacity of entertainment. The remaining 500 are to be entertained, as has been stated already, in homes of others than Presbyterians. The hotels will be crowded with unofficial visitors attending the assemblies from all parts of the United States. sioners.

The assemblies will be in Atlanta from May 15 to May 23, holding their owr. meetings each day and joining in great mass meetings at the auditorium each night.

HE REDUCED 57 POUNDS New Method of Flesh Reduction Proves Astonishingly Successful

Johnstown, Pa., May 3 .--- Investigation has fully established that Hon. H. T. Stetler, of this city, has reduced his weight fifty-seven pounds in an incredibly short time by wearing a simple, invisible device, weighing less than an ounce. This, when worn as directed, acts as an infallible flesh reducer, dispensing entirely with dieting, medicines, and exercises. Many prominent men and women have adopted this easy means of reducing superfluous flesh, and it is stated the inventor, Prof. H. S. Burns, of No. 17 West Thirty-eighth street, New York, is sending these outfits on free trial to all who write him. (Advt.)

He Declares That Erroneous Reports Have Been Spread Concerning "Guilty" Pleas

Indge Charles H. Brand, of the weston circuit of the state of Georgia, has repared a communication setting forth is position for not allowing certain deandants attorneys to withdraw pleas mults that had been entered and for ich action he was reversed by the ourt of appeals.

The Profits of Truck Farming.

Students of agriculture are impressed more and more deeply with the steady profits to be found in truck gardening. The growth of cities has brought an increasing demand and the development of transportation increasing means for this particular field of enterprise. In an engaging book, entitled "Making Farming Pay," Mr. C. C. Bowsfield declares: "There is a continual and expanding market for numerous products that are easily raised, and which by their very diversity are a guaranty against failure."

That is one of the great advantages of truck gardeninng as compared with the growth of large, single crops. The farmer who invests all his time and money and labor in one crop may reap big returns but, on the other hand, some accident or unseasonab's turn of nature may completely undo his fortune and leave him with no hope of recovery. The market itself may show an unexpected decline. The supply of his particular product may so exceed the demand as to leave him witnout a profit. But if he has anticipated a diversity of demands and has invested his resources in a group of crops, it is certain that in one direction or another, he will succeed. In addition to this, it should be re-· membered that the truck grower, especially in such a climate as Georgia affords, finds all seasons open and all manner of foodstuffs producable. As Mr. Bowsfield remarks, the market is seldom, if ever, over-supplied with fruits, broilers, mushrooms, honey, squabs, berries and the like. "There is the keenest sort of demand today all over the country for extra nice butter, eggs and poultry. The need for parsnips, beets, carrots, lettuce, cucumbers, beans and other kinds of vegetables is incessant."

California's Anti-Jap Bill THE California bill designed to exclude Jap anese settlers from the ownership or the ex tensive lease of farm lands in that State gives rise to many interesting and delicate questions. In deed, the issues involved are so numerous and entangled, ranging as they do from the quibbles of factional politics to matters of national interest and international honor, that it is well-nigh impossible to present them as a logical whole. There is reason to suspect that one of the motives of the California agi tators is to embarrass, if possible, the Wilson administration; certainl; the tactics of Governor Johnson and some of his colleagues among the so-called "Progressives" point in that direction. They are doubtless very pleased over the chance to plant a new problem for the Democratic Precident, whose energies are now absorbed in making good his party's pledges.

Be that as it may, the larger questions in the Califorina bill bring the power of the individual State and the power and responsibility of the Nation as a whole into sharp conflict. The solons of Sacramento spem to think that the policies of the national government can be directed by the Legislature of Cal ifornia and that the will of a body of local lawmak ers can take precedence over national treaties and over the federal Constitution. They seem to ignore the fact that a national treaty imposes national obli gations which no single State may legally contravene.

The treaty entered into between the United States and Japan less than two years ago provides ir. its first article that "The citizens or subjects of each of the High Contracting Parties shall have liberty to enter, trade and reside in the territories of the other, to carry on trade, wholesale and retail; to own or lease and occupy houses, manufactories and shops to employ agents of their choice; to lease land for residential and commercial purposes and generally to do anything incident to or necessary for trade, upon the same terms as native citiens or subjects, submitting themselves to the laws and regulations there established." Now, it may be that under the terms of this in ternational agreement certain California interests are jeopardized, though on this point there is a decidea difference of opinion. But if there are such grievances, they must be righted through changes in the treaty itself, that is to say through negotiations conducted by the federal government, and not through an irresponsible and unauthorized act by a State legislature. A treaty constitutes supreme law to which every State as well as every citizen must defer; and in running counter to this established principle California ignores a cardinal truth in our system of government. The South naturally sympathizes with Californians in whatever race problems they may have, but the efforts to draw a parallel between the doctrine of State rights as construed by the South in 1860 and as misconstrued by California today is entirely futile. Professor Joseph T. Derry, of Atlanta, a Confederate veteran and a close student as well as a writer of history, pertinently declares in this connection: "The most ultra advocate of State rights in the ante-bellum days never claimed that a State could remain in the Union and take any action tending to, embrarrass the government of the United States in its dealings with foreign Powers. While they held that paramount sovereignty resided in the State, which had the authority to judge for itself when its rights were invaded and to decide upon the means of redress, even to the extent of withdrawing from the Union, they also held that secession would make a State an independent republic and would release the Union from any obligation to defend it. To remain in the Union placed upon the State the most binding obligation to obey the laws of the Union." Now that California has raised the question whether a sovereign State has the right to enact legislation in conflict with a national treaty it can only await and abide the decision of the courts; and there seems little doubt as to what the decision will be. How much wiser and better it would have been to have entrusted this problem to the national government and, as little doubt as to what the decision will be. How much delicate litigation which will be likely to bring against the entire United States the resentment of a nia's right to contravene a national treaty, which is supreme law, but also the question of a Japanese's eligibility to citizenship. Indeed, the precipitate action of the California legislature has opened the way to all manner of embarrassing litigation which might have been avoided, had the national government been left to deal with this delicate issue.

As we have said before, the South naturally sympathizes with Californians in their race problems. The thrift and frugality of the Japanese settlers have enabled them to acquire considerable tracts of land in California: their standards of living being simpler than the American's, they have a certain advantage in amassing property and it is said that their presence renders adjacent property undesirable for whites.

Yet, statistics fail to show that the so-called "yellow peril" is anywhere near as grave as it has been pictured. The Japanese in California are now only thirty-five thousand out of total population of nearly two and a half million; and the census shows that they are steadily decreasing, their number having diminished by some five thousand within the past three years. The fact is Japanese immigration to America has virtually ceased under a tacit agreement entered into between Washington and Tokyo. Japan has no desire to colonize this country; it is vitally interested, however, in planting settlements in Korea and lands adjacent to its own. The Japanese in California now own less than thirteen thousand acres of land, or only about one-tenth of one per cent of the State's agricultural area. Surely, these figures do not indicate that California is in any danger of being mastered or overrun by an alien race.

Waiving all such considerations, however, the important fact is that an individual State cannot rightly or safely pass a law which violates a national treaty and involves the entire Union in far-reaching problems. It is exceedingly unfortunate that California should have taken so radical and uncalled-for a course. She has thus only complicated a question that might otherwise have been quietly and easily adjusted. President Wilson's position in this matter has from the outset been one of prudence and justice; it is to be regretted that his good counsel was not entirely followed.

The Genealogist EDWARDS.

There has appeared recently in the different periodicals that are interested in genealogy, inquiries of Robert Edwards, of Virginia and New York, asking if he had any descendants.

The lineage of the Edwards family is as follows: "The family descends from the ancient Welsh kings of Powysiand. The first who assumed the name of Edwards (originally written Edwardes) was Robert, son of ap Thomas ap Llewellyn, and was lineally descended from Einion Lfell, lord of Cynllaeth, in Montgomeryshire. He married Ann, daughter and heir of Robert Kyffin, of Cynllaeth, and was succeeded by his son, John, who purchased Ness Strange, Salop.

"The branch of the family that emigrated to Virginia early in the seventeenth century came from near Cardiff, Wales, where there are ruins of an old castle, known as 'Edwards Hall.' It is said that this castle was built in the time of William the Conqueror, by Sir Godefor de Pommeroi, and came into the possession of the Edwards family by subsequent intermarriage of the two families."

Four brothers came to Virginia in the first half of the seventeenth century, and Robert Edwards descends from one of these brotners who had three other sons and several daughters. Robert Edwards was born in 1713, Northumberland county, Va.; died or was lost at sea, 1785-1790. Unmarried.

In 1733 or 1735, Robert Edwards was fined 50 pounds of tobacco for absenting himself from the parish church for thirty days.

Robert Edwards was so indignant at this treatment that he guitted the state and settled on Mahattan island, N. Y. While New York City was still occupied by the British troops in 1783, he was so annoyed by these troops he became discouraged, being in bad health, and leased his real estate on which the lower end of Broadway and adjacent streets and valuable business lots are now loc ted, for ninety-nine years, or twenty years later to revert to his heirs with all improvements, for a small consideration. He then started on a sea voyage from which he never returned. He died unmarried.

After his death an heir appeared upon the scene who claimed to be his son; how this claim ended I have never found out. This I do know, that the descendants of his three brothers tried a few years ago to establish their claim, but failed.

His grandmother was Ann Harrison, daughter of Colonel Benjamin Harrison, the grandfather of Benjamin Harrison, of "Berkeley," a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Robert Edwards had a niece who married John

Presbyterians in Assemblage By Frederic J. Haskin

For the first time the three important branches of the great Presbyterian church are holding their annual general assemblies simultaneously in the same place. The Northern Presbyterian reason for the meeting of the three assemblies at the same time and place , excepting that it was the suggestion of the people of Atlanta who are generously offering free hospitality to all of the 1,500 commissioners who will be in attendance upon the assemblies, as well as contributing generally to the other expenses of the gathering. Unofficially the opinion is freely expressed that this joint meeting will have a strong influence toward bringing about a closer unity between the three bodies, especially since negotiations looking toward the union of the Southern General Assembly and that of the United Presbyterian church already have been under consideration. . . .

Presbyterianism in America has been one of the strongest and most progressive of the religious faiths from colonial times and has had a powerful influence in the development of the nation. The spirit of independence and liberty which is the keynote of the Presbyterian faith, had its beginning at the time of the Reformation and it was most natural that it should promptly find its way to the new world which gave asylum to those who sought relief from the religious persecution of the old country. The first strictly Presbyterian colony in America was established at Salem, Mass., in 1625, and the second was established by Rev. Richard Denton at Watertown in 1630. In New York the Presbyterian doctrine was represented by the Reformed Dutch church established at New Amsterdam in 1628. It was brought over to New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania and Maryland a little later and was established with more difficulty in Virginia because in that colony the Episcopal church was established by the English government. The Presbyterians claim that their denomination is the oldest form of church government in the world dating back to the time when Moses by divine authority appointed elders to rule with him in the government of Israel. For more than 300 years the government of Israel was altogether Presbyterian in its broadest sense until the elders relinquished their authority by divine permission which they secured by ardent prayers and they were given a king in whom was vested both civil and religious authority. But as Moses by God's command ordained elders in the Wilderness, so did Paul and the other leaders of the Apostolic church in the New Testament. In every place that a few believers were found elders were ordained and the eldership is the only office referred to in both testaments in connection with the establishment and government of the church. Of course, the office of elder or presbyter is common in all Christian churches. but is distinctively the basis of government only in the Presbyterian. . . .

The profits from such farming may not be as bulky as from one great crop, but they are continuous the seasons through and, if they dwindle at one point, they are sure of compensation at another.

It is gratifying to note that the possibilities of truck farming are being more and more widely realized in Georgia. In several counties truck growers' associations have recently been organized, with a view to co-operate efforts in the purchase of supplies and the marketing of products. Some farmers are devoting all their land to this purpose and those who continue to make cotton their chief interest are taking care to plant enough corn and table commodities to supply their own needs. The diversification of crops is steadily gaining in popular favor.

It was comparatively a few years ago that Georgians became seriously interested on the orchard industry, yet today 1: is one of the great fruit-producing States. The course of truck gardening enterprises will doubtless be equally interesting and profitable and few years hence Georgia may be one of the nation's great export centers for table supplies.

They have ceased to refer to him sarcastically as "Prof." Wilson.

"The Unwritten Law"

For his timely and straightforward words concerning "the unwritten law," Judge L. S. Roan, of the Fulton County Superior court, has earned the approval of all right-minded citizens. He recently commended as "brave and intelligent men" a jury that ignored this plea and found the defendant guilty of manslaughter.

As to the merits or demerits of this particular case we have no concern, and do not presume to comment. But there is manifest and urgent need for the courts and juries of this country to take a firm stand against that species of homicide which seeks and too often finds justification in the so-called "unwritten law." Crime is crime on whatever pretext it may be committed. The law, to be sure, leaves a liberal margin of discretion in respect to the penalty that is imposed and the courts naturally give due weight to extenuating circumstances. But no law worthy the name, whether written upon statute books or the conscience of men, ever contemplated that a jury should so disregard the interests of society as to acquit a prisoner who stands clearly convicted and even self-confessed.

The peril of the "unwritten law" lies not so much in the fact that one guilty person escapes as in its tendency to undermine respect for all law and to jeopardize the peace and security of all men. Even though there be extreme cases in which our impulses would incline us to condone certain offenses of this character, we must remember that if the irresponsible spirit of "the unwritten law" is once tolerated it will tend to oversweep justice entirely, and to trample down our civilization which has been so toilsomely reared. If permitted to men who believe they are justified, it win be seized upon by others who know they are wrong. The unwritten law is a moral as well as a legal fallacy. It is deceiving too many juries the country over. It carries the torch of anarchy and the club of savagery. It should not be permitted to sway any jury from the course of justice.

The Woman-Tamer

He said, "She shall be my slave! Lesser in all than I; Feeble of body and brain. And dwell until she die In the golden cake I gave." . . . . .

And he found a treacherous feature of hate and fear, With teeth and claws that were ready when he came near!

He said, "She shall be my star! I will set her high above This dusty world of mine. I will bow me down at her shrine, Pray for the light of her love, drawn, Leaving only a faint chill pity, a faint chill scorn. He said, "She shall be my friend! Side by side let us stand, For I need your help and you. Comrades true and true, With my hand in your dear hand We will see life out to the end." . . . . . And she turned and her eyes met his; and I think she cried (But she laughed through her tears) and she came to her place at his side. -THOMAS O'MEARA, in "The Englishwoman."

The first Presbyterian church was founded by John Calvin in Geneva about 1541. The constitution and doctrines were adopted with small modification by John Knox in Scotland, a few years later, although the Presbyterian form of worship was not legally recognized in that country until 1592. For nearly a century more there was conflict and struggle in Scotland between Presbyterianism and the Episcopacy until by the Treaty of Union in 1707 it was agreed that the Presbyterian form of church government should be regarded as the national ecclesiastical government in Scotland and the only one which should be supported by law.

In America the progress of Presbyterianism has been comparatively smooth. The Presbyterians who came here had fled from the percesutions of the old world and were the living witnesses of the torture there. The American Presbyterians have been restive under all yokes both ecclesiastical and political. The Revolutionary war itself was accredited in England largely to Presbyterian influence, as was demonstrated by Walpole's witty speech in the British parliament in which he said: "Cousin America has run off with a Presbyterian parson." Thirteen months before the signing of the Declaration of Independence the Presbyterians of Mecklenburg, N. C., had drawn up and signed a declaration of independence from England and established a system of local government. The Scotch Irish Presbyterians of Maryland declared for independence in May of 1776.

The historian Bancroft credits the American form of government to "Plagiarized Presbyterianism." It is a government of the people through representatives chosen by the people and the only clergyman signing the Declaration of Independence was the Rev. John Witherspoon, of the Philadelphia assembly. It was a Presbyterian clergyman in New Jersey who, when the American forces were running short of wadding for their guns, went into his church and collected the hymn books. He tore out the printed pages with his own hands and gave the paper to the gunners, His oft-repeated order, "Give the Redcoats Watts, boys; give them Watts," became the slogan which saved the day for the patriots.

And worship her from afar." . . . . . But he found that the light of her love had been with-though indirect, loss of property and life.

But it is not actual warfare so as much as preparation for possible or imaginary wars that constitutes the heaviest burden upon European nations. The war budgets of Germany, England, France, Austria, Russia and Italy for the current year aggregate one billion, six hundred and sixty-five million dollars, a sum almost sufficient, it is said, to rebuild all the railroads in the United States within eight years.

The governments of the Old World are beginning to realize that at some time or other there must come an end to this tremendous outlay of capital in fields that produce no wealth, but which, on the contrary, divert money from the natural channels of business and constructive enterprise. It is a significant fact that England has recently proposed to Germany a mutual suspension of naval increases for a period of years and that German sentiment is rather favorable toward the suggestion.

A still more important omen is the gathering tide of popular protest against the towering tax levies that must be imposed to maintain and extend great armaments. The millions of people who struggle for bread are realizing that it is their toil and their earnings which are taxed.

Means for checking these vast expenditures have not yet been found, but every indication points to the fact that some means must be found, simply for the reason that the war game is approaching the limit of economic resources.

Generally speaking, oysters are a bit out of date just now.

sensitive and hitherto friendly people!

It should be said that the bill finally passed by the California legislature is distinctly more moderate than the one originally proposed and it reflects appreciably the wise counsel of the President and of Secretary Bryan. The original measure was prohibitive in its terms and employed certain phrases that were odious to the Japanese nation; the bill that passed is permissive in its terms. Instead of declaring that "aliens" ineligible to citizenship" may not enjoy certain property rights, it asserts that "aliens eligible to citizenship may acquire and hold lands to the same extent as citizens." It also permits short term leases and omits certain clauses of the first bill which were regarded as confiscatory in their effect.

Yet, even as the measure now stands it is very doubtful that it conforms to the spirit, even though it may conform to the letter, of the American-Japanese treaty; for, citizenship in the United States is limited, under the Naturalization law of 1870, to "free white persons and persons of African nativity and descent." The Japanese are commonly supposed to be of the Mongolian race, although they contend that they are of Aryan lineage. Under the former interpretation, Japanese would be ineligible to citizenship and hence, according to the California law, would not be permitted to own farm lands, yet, the treaty guarantees them "the same rights and privileges as are or may be granted to native citizens or subjects."

It is thus apparent that the courts will be called upon to determine not only the question of Califor-

Regrade Whitehall.

It is to the interest of all Atlanta as well as that of the South Side that the movement for the regrading of Whitehall street near Trinity avenue be pressed promptly to completion.

This improvement will greatly enhance the value of adjacent property and will open for rapid business development one of the most naturally desirable sections in the entire city. For many months past that portion of Whitehall street and its environs have shown remarkable signs of commercial growth. It only remains to establish a proper grade by filling in the depression at the points mentioned; when this is done the activity already under way will be increased and a new source of Atlanta enterprise will be set free to enrich the whole community.

Claude de Clove was a poet, a romanticist-a dreamer. He dreamed all day. He was more awake when he was asleep than he was when he was awake. He wore his hair Buster Brown fashion.

I don't mean to cast any canned asparagus at Buster Brown, but merely to indicate that he had skinned barbers as zealously as he had skinned creditors for the past ten years.

He was such a good skinner that he always took a blue ribbon at the Shun show. In fact, he was the original Shunshine kid.

Now it happened that one pellucid morn he awoke betimes, and his poet's fancy was stirred by the sweet lilt of some rare bird that carolled in the cactus outside his window.

A scraphic smile crossed his features as he lay musing and listening to the delicate cadences, the gladsome burgle, the liquid quarter notes, the two-for-aquarter liquid notes, the throaty symphony that welled from the feathery breast of this little messenger of the morn.

If he could have got a pen without reaching for it he would have penned the following lines:

> Sweet bird, singest Thy gosh dingest. Don't spike it, I like it, Sing tra-la to the blithersome morn. I listen with an ear of corn. L'ENVOI. Every day I hope you do so. The sweetest rooster never Caruso.

Just at that moment when Claude de Clove wasn't penning these lines, the landlady, Mrs. McFigg, enered the room.

"Mr. de Clove," she said, "this bill which has been overdue now for-

"Dear Mrs. McFigg," spoke the poet, "before we speak of such earthly, trivial things-would you look out of the window and tell me what bird it is that sings so sweetly-"

Mrs. McFigg looked for a minute from the window.

"That," she said tartly, "is my old man carrying dirt to mend the path that was washed out last night. The old sardine is too lazy to grease his wheelbarrow."

The Presbyterians believe that there is no order in the church, as established by Christ and his apostles, superior to that of the presbyter or elder, and, therefore, vast church government in presbyteries or associations of ministers and elders possessed of equal powers without any superiority among them. They believe that the authority of their ministers is derived from the Holy Ghost by the imposition of the hands of the presbytery, and they oppose the independent scheme of the common rights of Christians by the same arguments as are used by the Episcopa-Hans. They affirm that all ministers, being ambesadors of Christ, are equal and oppose the office of bishop. The moderator or presiding officer is either the senior minister or is elected by vote.

JUST SMILES He came down the garden path, a sad, sorrowful figure. She watched him with anxious eyes. "How did father take it?" she asked, "He took it all right," replied the young man-"Oh, I am so glad, George!" she cried. "Are you?" he replied, flopping forlornly by her side. "Well, I can't say that I am, dear. At first your father wouldn't listen to me." "Why didn't you tell him that you had $2,500 in the bank, as I told you to?" she exclaimed. "I did, "fter all else had failed," 'answered George, dejectedly.

"And what did he do then?" "Do!" echoed the young man, passing his hands wearly through his hair. "He borrowed it!"

. . . A Buffalo preacher tells a story of a woman who after hearing him preach, informed a friend that she did not like the services at all. The seat was hard, she said, the singing was not good and the preaching was poor. Her little glrl, who overheard her remarks and who was present with her at church, said: "But, mamma, what can you expect for a penuy?" -Harper's Magazine.

20,000 CHILDREN ENJOY GLIMPSES OF THE JOURNAL'S EASTER-EGG HUNT AT GRANT PARK YESTERDAY EGG HUNT AT GRANT PARK

In the Twinkle of an Eye Acres of Eggs Vanished Before the Rush of Little Ones.

At 2:40 Saturday afternoon, just twenty minutes before the brass band was to give the signal for the start of The Journal's annual Easter egg hunt at Grant Park, Chairman W. C. Puckett, of the hunt committee, looked down the line of children surging some ten or twelve deep along Constitution drive. rubbed his thumb across the crystal of his watch, and remarked in a tone of profound anxiety that he hoped to goodness they wouldn't break over the boundary.

He had seen them break on that very ground one year ago, and he knew how hard it was to stop them.

Five minutes later, in another corner of the sixty-acre tract set apart for the hunt. Chairman Puckett, together with other members of the committee, with colleemen and with members of the hand themselves, were running back and forth in front of a galloping herd of voungsters, waving their arms, yelling at the top of their voices, ordering the youngsters back.

They might as well have addressed themselves to the inhabitants of Mars. COULDN'T BE STOPPED.

Chairman Puckett's hunch had come true-and then some. The children had broken over the boundary. Only this time they broke in half a dozen places, And this time they were not stopped. A line of breastworks might have stopped them, with rapid-fire guns. belching death into the oncoming army. But it is doubtful.

Mounted policemen rode up and down the boundary, making all the noise in their lungs, and they couldn't stop them. They couldn't even make the children hesitate. The children parted ranks to get past the horses, and swept on. It wasn't, as happened at a hunt two or three years ago, a note accidentally sounded by a member of the band, tunng up his instrument, that gave the children an excuse to start.

The members of the band hadn't all rrived. The instruments were hardly

NEGRO KILLS ANOTHER ON A DOWNTOWN CORNER

Unknown Cuts Unknown's Throat-Third Negro May Die From Loss of Blood

An unknown negro was stabbed to death last night at the corner of Decatur and Pryor streets. Forest Hand, another negro, was cut upon the left wrist and probably will die because no one thought to bind his arm. The knife cut opened an artery.

The unknown negro was killed in a crowd, but his slayer has not been identified, although Elijah Kippe, another negro, is under arrest. The dead man's throat was cut by the sweep of a sharp knife. He and the man who killed him are thought to have guarreled over a woman.

out of their cases. The director hadn't even set up his music rack. THEY WOULDN'T WAIT.

The children simply took a sudden, simultaneous notion that they wouldn't wan for the signal.

They saw the eggs sown thick on the ground. They knew everything was in readiness. They realized it couldn't he long until 3 o'clock. Accordingly they "went to it.

And it was all right, of course. A few minutes didn't make any difference. Practically all the children had arrived -hundreds of them an hour before. Not one of them got hurt. Nearly every one of them got a handful of eggs. THE GOLDEN EGG.

The man with the golden egg, which s always hidden at the last minute. liked to have got "his business in a jam," as Old Reliable would say, but when it was all over he realized that the rush was fortunate, after all, so far as the golden egg was concerned.

For it resulted in a real child, not a the past that the golden egg was taken home by a youngtser well along in his teens.

The man with the golden egg was what was coming and ran to join in try ing to fight back the rush. But only for a few seconds. Then he turned and ran as hard as he could ahead of the children, and about middleway of the tract he dropped the golden egg and stepped off a few paces to intercept the kid who found it.

There is no irritating effect on the bowels, just seems like nature is waking up and working overtime. There is no restriction of diet, no bad after effects and you get well while you sleep.

The Manchester Spirit

Cities, like persons, have distinctive personalities. In each case they are composite, reflecting the dominant characteristics of their leading citizens. Manchester is a city in which enterprise, optimism and public spirit are the predominant characteristics. There is an abiding faith, a healthy self-confidence, which does things ____ which insures an even more brilliant future.

Some of the best people of Georgia have been attracted here by the exceptional opportunities. It is an important step for any man of family to pull up from ties of long standing, and move to a new place. This very courage and enterprise of its citizens accounts in large measure for Manchester's growth.

Some church has been in process of building each year of the city's existence. Its $10,-000 Public school building is one of the handsomest in the state.

The spirit of unity, co-operation and brotherly love is brought into action in every instance where the city's welfare is involved. Instance, the unanimous vote for a municipal electrical plant, the predominance of the best element in the control of the city government.

Mr. Stanford delivered an impassioned speech during which he paced the aisle from his seat against the wall to the speaker's stand. He said he wanted the women of the south to remain in that realm of reverence which had been made for her by the men of the he desired that the woman of years ago be the standard by which the women of the day should be measured and strive to achieve.

Mr. Henry objected to the line of argument which Mr. Stanford was following, contending that he was not speaking the question. Henry said that of woman's suffrage should gone into, for the reason that on the referendum of the matthe people that was before the house and not-the merits of the question, because they were involved and not yield the privilege of doing man on the floor. hat the movement to secure for women came from the and that the women of the south didn't want it. The injection of this idea, he said, was poisonous, and the members should see to it that the matter was summarily disposed

CONTRARY TO TRADITIONS. L. C. O'Neal, of Hernando, next secured the floor, asserting that the matter was contrary to tradition, history, manners, modesty and best thought of the country. He referred to the chivalric regard in which woman had ever been held in the south, and he would not change that condition, and he believed that if women were granted the ballot that they would be lowered from the exalted position which they now hold.

Mr. Bussey, who introduced the resolution, explained his attitude. He said that the Federation of Women's Clubs had met at West Palm Beach last winter and he had promised to introduce the resolution, at the request of the federation. He would vote for it to be submitted to the people, but he would vote against it at the polls. He was aware that the granting of suffrage to women was in line with the progressive move-Several years ago, Mr. Bussey said, when the Populist party was organized, there were may who regarded that movement as radical in the extreme; his father was a Populist, and he, too, was a Populist in those days because of the teachings he had received-vet, he continued, today there were many of the principles that the Populist stood for that had been enacted into law in many states; these same principles, that had been regarded as anarchistic and drastic in the last degree a few years ago, had come to be regarded as progressive and good for the advancement of popular government. He would not say that woman's suffrage was not a good thing, but at this time he was not in favor of it, and while lending his aid to pass the resolution he would be compelled to cast his ballot against it if it came to a vote at the polls. Rising like a mighty mountain of human strength in his seat, Worley, of Dade, declared in favor of the resolution while expressing his unalterable opposition to the principle of equal suffrage. He assumed it to be the purest of Jeffersonian Democracy to submit a question of such magnitude to the people. He would not take upon himself the responsibility of voting against the submission of this question to the other voters of his county, although he was against it individually. The audience was looking for something entertaining from Floyd, and they got it. Floyd denied that he was in the legislature to express the sentiment of his constituents on any question that he had not been previously committed on. "This is my job," he said, "and I represent my own views, and 1 don't know what they are until I get here. I don't even know what side of this bill that I'm speaking on now. 1 am going "to proceed with the argument, and after I hear my own argument I will make up my mind which way I'm going to vote." The member from Franklin spoke at length; he spoke on all sides of the question; he argued the pro and the

A paid lobbyist had been sent from the north to buttonhole members of the house and secure their support of the measure under discussion. No woman from the south was in the delegation, he declared. He asked the members to consider that the women who were asking for the franchise were not women who had children to rear; they were either single women or married women without children who wouldn't have children, he declared.

That's my stand. If this resolution passes, I shall go to the polls and vote against it."

Martin spoke in opposition. He declared that the vote in the house would not be an untrammeled expression of the sentiment of the members, because of the presence for several days of a lobbyist, who had been active in securing pledges from the members. Mac-Williams objected to the remarks of Martin upon the grounds that he was impugning the motives of the house members. The speaker reprimanded Martin, but he continued without visbly changing the tenor of his speech. WASHINGTON, May 3 .- Democratic Leader Underwood today agreed to call immediately after the house passes the tariff bill a meeting of the Democratic caucus committee to outline a budget appropriation system. The president is said to approve such a system and cabinet officers will be consulted regarding the submission of appropriation estimates.

The subject will be one of the first to be taken up while the house is resting and the ways and means committee is reorganizing the committees, a task that probably will take three weeks. Nothing of importance will remain for the house to do unless the administration should determine upon taking up currency legislation.

Representative Glass, who will be chairman of the banking and currency committee, plans to see the president next week and to get some definite idea of his desires relating to the currency a this session.

You, who read this, no matter who you are, or what you are doing; no matter how low your salary, or how poor your prospects; no matter how discontented, discouraged, you are; no matter how incapable of achievement your friends or your family may think you areyou can at once become the partner of The Mail Order Wizard of America-you can begin, for the first time in your life, perhaps, to see the money roll in to you at every visit of the postman, without grinding out your heart and soul and body for every dollar of it.

1. Walt C. Cunningham, right now offer you the money-making chance of your life, without asking you to mortgage your life to me, without driving a grim, cold-blooded, Shylock's argain with you. I started perhaps with a whole lot more than you will start withstarted with $100, and received $650,000 in dichteen months in the mail order business, I WILL QUICKLY TEACH YOU THE REAL SECRET OF MAKING MONEY FAST -AND MAKING IT CLEANLY, LEGITIMATELY, HONESTLY, SO THAT YOU CAN LOOK THE WHOLE WORLD IN THE FACE AND DEFY IT TO SAY THAT YOU NEVER ASKED YOUR DOLLALS WHERE THEY CAME FROM. I've a book you must get by return mail and read at once. It is called "How to Achieve Mail Order Success," and I'll make you a present of it. Read it over, and get it soaked into your system from head to heel, and get full of new hope, fire, ambition and burning determination to begin the fight is a brand new way, and under the guidance of one who has fought the same fight and won it hands down. I'll take right hold of you and show you the way from beginning to end, and work with you, for you, help you, advise you-supply you with Money. Multiplying Ideas, Suggestions you can Quickly Coin into Cash, Methods you can Mould into Greenbacks, Swiftly-Successful, Sure Selling Plans, Persuasive Literature, Cash-Getting and Inexpensive Circulars, which will sell the goods I tell you to offer.

This broad-gauged, generous education I am offering you, covering the Entire Field Newest Proven Ideas and Well-Tried Principles of Mail Order Money-Making, is oper to every man and woman who has the blessed ambition to step up out of the wage weary crowd. They are so complete, my wonderful plans in long-distance merchandising, that they guide you into Profit-Creating Avenues, and cash-producing By-Ways. I GUAR ANTEE, PLEDGE AND ABSOLUTELY ASSURE EVERY MAN OR WOMAN THAT HE OR SHE CAN TAKE HOLD OF THIS BUSINESS AT ONCE, FOLLOW ITS SIMPLE, SURF AND SAFE DIRECTIONS, AND BEGIN IMMEDIATELY TO MAKE MONEY FAST. You can start right out from the day you get this wonderful series of success plans.

IF YOU ARE MAKING $600 OR $900, OR $1,206 OR $2,400 A YEAR, AND REALLY WAN? TO MAKE $4,000 TO $40,000 A YEAR, I CAN SHOW YOU HOW

If you will write me, as suggested above, in answer to this advertisement this very day, I positively can and will equip you, with twenty complete, combined, ready-to-start Incrative mail order business, which you can begin operating right in the privac

All She Needs is a Very Little Help

Constipation is caused by accumulated waste in the Colon (Large Intestine), which, under our present mode of living, Nature cannot entirely remove without a little help.

Even a Microscope Won't Find Blemish After S. S. S. Gets Through.

All skin troubles should be attacked rom within by giving the blood circulation a good daily bath. This is ecomplished with S. S. S., the best snewn and most highly recommended blood purifier ever discovered. Its action is very rapid. Its vegetable nature is such that it naturally goes right into the blood, saturates the entire circulation, bathes the tissues with an influence that enables the skin to heal quickly. The action of S. S. is that of sa antidote, and his fact has been demonstrated time and time again in the most severe erms of weeping eczema.

Its influence in the tissues where the tiny arteries transfer the red alood for the worn out blood to the veins is quite remarkable and goes on constantly with every tick of the clock-the beat of the heart.

And new skin is thus caused to form while the germs of irritating influences that cause eczema are scattered and their harmful nature entirely suspended.

S. S. S. has a wonderful tonic infuence in the blood because it contains no "dope," is not a "physic," is entirely free of any mineral drugs or any other drugs except the remarkable medicinal effect of the pure vegetable products of which it is made.

Few people realize how harmful are many of the strong, crude ointments that used to be in favor before they earned that S. S. S. is safe, speedy and sure. Ask at any drug store for a bottle of S. S. S. Give it a good trial and you will soon see a decided provement in any form of skin ouble. Write to The Swift Specific 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for mecial free advice on eczema and any other form of skin or blood trouble.

The rank poisons in this waste get into the blood circulation too, and make us feel depressed, blue, bilious and incompetent-really sick if allowed to go a little too far.

All the help that Nature asks, however, is Internal Bathing with Warm Water applied by the "J. B. L. Cascade"--- This, in a perfectly natural and rational way, cleans out all the waste and poisons from the Colon and keeps it as sweet, clean and pure, by occasional use, as Nature demands for a perfectly healthy condition.

So invariably successful has this new and improved method of Internal Bathing proved to be, that over 200,000 Americans are now enthusiastically using it to cure Constipation, ward off disease, and keep them bright, vigorous and efficient.

The "J. B. L. Cascade" is now being shown by all our stores. Call and let us explain just how simply it accomplishes these great results.

Also ask us for booklet "Why Man of Today Is Only 50% Efficient." Copies Free at our Main Store.

I CAN SET YOU FREE! I can deliver you from the grim grind! I can liberate you from the treadmill of the time-clock! I can tear the well-worn shackles of wage-slavery from your hands and feet! I can lift the thorns of boss-brow-beating from your fore head! I can do these things, brothers and sisters, because I was fixed just exactly as you are when I went into this business and made all of this money. I had the same miserable doubts and mongrel fears-I, too, was once hand-cuffed to a job and gagged and speechless with boss-fright; ever-cowed, ever-cringing, ever-afraid of getting fired! Those were the things I decided I would be forever free from, and so I am? And so you, too, can be, if you will make up your minds to believe in me and write to me before this day's sun falls behind the horizon.

I will say no more-the opportunity is here, with its arms outstretched; today, right now, Dame Fortune raps on your door, and this message of mine to tell you about it has east me thousands of domars to send-it is flashed today across the country to all the ambitious men and women of America in all the walks of life-there is oceans of room for all of you in this business!

ATLANTIC BEACH THE NEW CITY BY THE SEA

A new city is being built at Atlantic Beach, Jacksonville's splendid seaside resort, which through the past dozen years has been made famous by the Continental Hotel---Beautiful homes are rising along the bluffs that overhang the beach itself, and in the palm and oak-covered hammock behind it---there is no more attractive place in Florida nor in the South for year-around residence.

More than four thousand acres of forest land and ocean front are to be opened to home builders---a modern city with paved streets, electric lights, healthful drainage, and all the conveniences and necessities of comfortable living. The location is by the finest ocean beach in the South, seventeen miles from Jacksonville and connected with it by a splendid, hard-surfaced roadway and a convenient train schedule. An electric service is promised within the next few months, with an hourly schedule from Jacksonville.

Beautiful home sites by the beach or among the great palms, magnolias and oaks of Florida's splendid forests. There is no more attractive spot in the South.

Already a beginning has been made---nearly a thousand acres north of the road to the beach have been platted, streets have been laid out and cut through, building sites cleared and a score of beautiful bungalows and houses are actually going up as rapidly as men and material can be gathered for their construction.

The electric lighting plant is ready for extension along the streets and boulevards and into the houses. An artesian well is flowing thousands of gallons an hour, sufficient for a population of ten thousand people. Atlantic Beach is owned and being developed by men of energy and experience who are backed by abundant capital.

They will control the building of Atlantic Beach from the beginning and no feature will be allowed that can mar its desirability as a home place for men and women of refinement. Building restrictions and limitations will control the class of buyers and home builders.

Many beautiful bungalows and residences will be ready for occupancy within a few weeks---desirable lots on which the purchasers may build houses of their own designing will be offered for sale within a short time. There is no more attractive place in the South for homes, summer, winter, the year around.

The Atlantic Beach Corporation has its office on the property at the Beach. It is always open to receive visitors, who will be welcomed. An inspection of the property will be a revelation. The Company also has an office in the St. James Building, Jacksonville. If you can not come, write for full information about this home development proposition. It is the largest that has ever been undertaken in the South.

and the resources for increasing it!

The "science" of business involves the ability to conduct it; but the ability to INCREASE it does not lie in how much you KNOW about it, but of the resources necessary to its promotion, and their profitable application. Advertising is a distinct feature of every business. A necessary PART of it, yet APART from it. GOOD PRINTING, attractively planned, is the basis to work on; and the news of your business. "advertisingly" written, combines the real solution of increasing it. Let us

SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 4, 1913.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

DRESBYTERIANS, the general assembly and many strangers and their entertainment have been the subjects of Atlantians' conversation for the past week. As long ago as last summer the meeting which will be held in Atlanta has been discussed by prominent men and women all over the country, and in a few days the city will have the privilege of personally greeting the delegates and visitors who will arrive for the general assembly.

The assembly includes not one organization of the Presbyterian church, but representatives of the four national bodies of one of the most powerful and influential denominations fighting under the banner of The Great Soldier.

The most striking features in the preparatory work of entertainment of the assembly are ready response of all denominations to share the duties as host with the Presbyterian's, the spirit of religious comradeship and a prevailing civic hospitality.

Taking a leading part in the advance work are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Inman and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Orr, two luncheons of the past week playing a delightful part in expressing their interest in the coming affair, the first being given at the Driving club, the second an event of yesterday at the Capital City club, when the women pledging their assistance at the first luncheon told of their success during the few days following.

Atlanta has never before had a greater or finer opportunity for demonstrating her claim to hospitality than this, and that she will amply do so is expected by all Atlantians. . . . . . .

ITH spring as an assured fact, interest grows apace in the out-ofdoors, golf links and tennis courts of the country clubs being crowded daily by enthusiasts of the various sports. Cross-country rides, long motor trips and afternoon and morning tramps into the sweetsmelling woods are delightful ways of passing the sunny days.

Yesterday a paper chase was enjoyed by a number of riders under the leadership of Mr. F. A. Savage, the horses following the trail up hill and down hill, over streams and along narrow paths "until the" finish brought them to a little wooded valley aglow with honeysuckle,

The weekly rides of the Hunt club, which includes numbers of Atlanta riders, are delightful events, concluding with tea at some of the country clubs, and gymkana games are being anticipated by local horsemen and horsewomen.

MOBLEY-REDWINE

GREGORY-HUTCHESON

Miss Frances Hightower Weds Mr. Gustave Sisson Of much social interest was the wedding of Miss Sarah Frances Hightower and Mr. Gustave Beauregarde Sisson, which took place at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bedney Hightower, in Druid Hills.

Dr. C. T. A. Pise, dean of St. Phillip's Cathedrah, performed the ceremony, only relatives and close friends being present because of illness in the bride's family, . The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, palms and ferns forming a levely setting for many Killarney roses. The bride's table was especially beautiful with its decorations of pink and white. The centerpiece was a large silver wase in which were massed clusters of Killarney roses. Around the central vase were arranged a circle of smaller vases filled with the pink blos. soms, and all the details were carried out in pink.

The bride's gown was of apricot-colored crepe meteer fashioned into a tailored costume. A hat of the same tone trimmed with plumes of the same color completed the becoming tollette. She were a handsome corsage bouquet of srchids and valley lilies.

Miss Elizabeth Hightower was maid of honor. She and Miss Allie Candler. the bridesmaid, wore gowns of white and carried Killarney roses.

Mr. Charles A. Sisson was best man. Mrs. Hightower's gown was of white charmeuse veiled with black Chantilly lace.

Mrs. Sisson, mother of the groom, wore black satin and lace.

Mrs. Charles A. Sisson's gown was of wistaria-colored Canton crepe, the corsage being beautified with handsome lace.

An informal reception followed the ceremony, and during the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Sisson left for a trip to Detroit, New York, Niagara Falls and other eastern points.

On their return they will begin housekeeping on Piedmont avenue.

Altar Society's Entertainment Ladies' Altar society, Church Immaculate Conception, will give an entertainment on Tuesday, May 6, afternoon and evening, at the home of Mrs. M. A. O'Donnell, 340 South Pryor street.

Music and special attractions for evening. Some of the best talent will contribute. Admission 25 cents. Refreshments free.

NEWS OF WGMEN AND SOCIETY

Miss Hinman Entertains Miss Ruth Hinman entertained informally Saturday afternoon in compliment to Miss Marjorle Thomas, of Eatonton.

A guessing contest proved diverting for the guests, and attractive prizes were offered.

Miss Mary Louise Heimking won the first prize, a jabot of Irish crochet: and Miss Thomas received a pretty necklace of Venetian beads as a souvenir of the occasion. The consolation was awarded to Miss Emma Cliff Kiser.

The house was attractively decorated, ferns, honeysuckle and ivy making an array of loveliness.

Miss Hinman was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. George Hinman. Miss Willie Williams and Miss Dorris Lester.

Her guests included Miss Helen Jones, Miss Frances Dowman, Miss Willie Williams, Miss Lena Hansell, Miss Mary Louise Heimking, Miss Hattie Thomas, Miss Maude Cobb, Miss Dorris Lester, Miss Sara Eubanks, Miss Mary DeSaussure, Miss Katherine Darby, Miss Gladys Sands, Miss Marguerite Henderson, Miss Louise Henderson, Miss Harriet Haynes, Miss Marcella Hallman, Miss Martha Whitner, Miss Caroline Nicholson, Miss Emma Cliffe Kiser, Miss Evelyn Stephens, Miss Nellie Joe Johnson, Miss Elliot Johnson, Miss Elizabeth Pise, Miss Cornelia Pickett, Miss Caroline Black, Miss Lillian Carter, Miss Josephine Smith and Miss Carolyn Blount. # Allen's May Sale of Women's Ready-to-Wear

Will Continue Through the Entire Month

The month of May will be the selling time full of advantage for the provident patron of this store. A 30-day sale covers a long stretch of time, and will carry away many "well-behaved bargains," but we have the goods to sell—very large stocks of them in every department—in fact, we have too much, and such is the reason for this great reduction sale. And these are regular stocks, bought at regular prices. No "jobs" or "seconds," consequently, it must be a first-class garment, in both fabric and style, that you are offered—though at small cost—this month of May.

Silk Dresses, $25, $30 and $35 Values, $12.50

These dresses present a combination of style, quality and desirability that will appeal to every taste and will satisfy every want.

There are dresses for afternoon, for evening, for bridge parties, for dinners and for street wear. The materials include charmeuse, crepe meteor, Canton crepe, radium, bengaline, faille, messaline, taffeta, foulard and crepe voile. There are also beautiful lingerie dresses, of voile, marquisette and embroidered robes. The variety of colors comprises almost every shade, hue and tint that is fashionable and popular. For instance: The range from the most delicate pink to a deep American beauty, includes all the intermediate shades. The reds embrace every possible shade from the popular cerise to the deepest cardinal and wine. In green there are vivid shades known in this season's color list as Kelly green, reseda, apple green and olives in the soft, becoming tones. All the blues that have originated this season are here in complete range. Taupe, grey, pearl, mauve, maize, purple, helio and plenty of white and black. No matter for what purpose you need a dress, you'll surely find one to suit you among this collection, and at an unmatchable price. Mrs. Widener will prescribe the preparations suited to each customer that will come, each and every one to say, "I'm so glad I gave the Marinello preparations a trial." For once a Marinello advocate, always one.

Free samples of the different creams and powders will be gladly given to all who call and are interested.

Buy No Electric Unless It Has Both Front and Rear Seat Drive

The single drive on electric pleasure cars has kept many women of refinement from using them.

For no gentlewoman, alone in her car, likes to drive from the front seat, which under such conditions is the place of a chauffeur.

And if the drive be from the rear seat alone, it means constant difficulty and danger because of inability to see clearly ahead when the owner has guests.

The Ohio alone gives you both front and rear seat drive, with disc control. Drive from the front seat when you have guests; drive in privacy from the rear seat when alone.

This double drive, on which we hold basic patents, places the

THE WEEK IN RETROSPECT

NTERESTING among the events of the week was the marriage of Miss Helen Hill Payne and Mr. Charles Thomas Hopkins, Jr., which took place Tuesday evening. The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents. Bermuda lilies being the prevailing flowers used in the decoration of the handsome home.

Since her debut the pretty bride has been one of the most universally popular. young women of Atlanta and a belle wherever she has visited. With her lovely brown hair curling about her face and her big blue eyes shadowed by the yell of beautiful old lace which was worn both by her mother and sister at their weddings, she was a charming part of the wedding picture, the beautiful Hy-starred altar as a background for the group which included, beside the lovely young matron of honor, Mrs. Alex Smith, Jr., the groom and his best man, Mr. Frank Adair, with Bishop Gunn, the crimson and white of his robes adding to its brilliancy.

One of the most interesting of the guests was the baby niece and namesake of the bride, little Miss Helen Payne Smith. Wearing the daintiest of hand-embroidered frocks and cooing and smiling over the tiny bouquet she carried, she was the center of an admiring circle throughout the short hour of her appearance

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins will spend their honeymoon at the summer place of Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Sharp, in the Virginia mountains, the young bride, who is an enthusiastic horsewoman, taking her riding togs and walking sufts for the two weeks' stay. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. Payne until the erection of their own home, which, with those to be built by Mr. and Mrs. Fayne and by Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith, Jr., will be one of the acquisitions to Druid Hills.

S OCIALLY the week has been rather guests pausing to get their breath after the rush of opera week, most of the affairs having been small and informal. Miss Ruth Wilson, of New York, is the attractive guest of Miss Helen Dargan, the two girls in their differing blond and brunette types making a charming contrast. The pretty New York girl has worn numbers of smart toilettes at the parties at which she has been an honor guest, and was particularly attractive Thursday afternoon at the Driving club, Miss Wilson's day beginning with the luncheon at which Miss Katherine Ellis entertained for her and Miss Dargan, and which was followed by a bridge tea at which Miss Sarah Rawson was hostess, Miss Wilson sharing honors with Mrs. Ervin Dickey's guest, Miss Grace Jones, and Miss, Bobyn Young, of Washington. Miss Jones is a lovely visitor from Virginia. She has all the Virginia woman's reputed share of good looks and an unusual personal charm. Miss Young is delightfully known in Atlanta, having been on several occasions the guest of Mrs. W. C. Humphries, and is always cordially welcomed. Miss Elizabeth Wynne is another attractive Virginia girl, and as the guest of Mrs. Hugh Lokey has been the central figure in a number of affairs during the past week. Miss Josephine McClelland, who will be with Miss Hildreth Burton Smith until Thursday, has been a charming acquisition to the list of visitors, winning many friends who regret her coming departure. Miss Marion Phinizy, of Augusta, will arrive today to be with Mrs. A. W. Calhoun and will take her accustomed place among the attractive visitors. Mrs. Bates Block has as her guest Miss Lorna Carr, of St. Louis. Miss Carr is a debutante of the past winter and will be joined Wednesday by Miss Caroline Scott, another member of the younger set of St. Louis. A series of parties will be given during the visit day celebration on Monday inaugurated of the young women. Miss Marion Roberts and Miss Anne Selden are both pleasantly known by previous visits, and as "the guests of Mrs. George K. # HAPPENINGS IN LONDONTOWN

J ONDON, May 3 .- Some re-arrange-1 ment is in progress in the office of his majesty's private secretariat, in consequence of the retirement of Lord Knollys from the position of chief responsibility. Up to the present no change has been made in the personnel of the department. The principal alteration to be noticed by those who come nito personal contact with this department is that Lieutenant Colonel Ponsonby now makes decisions on his own responsibility, as the colleague, instead of the subordinate, of his chief, and Major Wigram is undertaking the whole work of the assistant office which he has hitherto shared with Sir Frederick. One change observable is that Fritz and "the Maj."as the court newsman always dubs the assistant-accompany the king when riding, and Lord Stamfordham is thereby relieved of some attendance duty on occasions when it would be proper for a principal secretary to be present. Another effect of the new regime will be experienced later on, after the close of the London season.

It will be necessary, for the proper discharge of the work of the office, to appoint another assistant secretary. In the court environment the idea is that this post will be given to Sir Charles Cust, who has been on equerry duty with the king for more than twentyyears, and is now the senior equerry.

The Order of the Crown of Wurtemberg has been conferred upon the prince of Wales by the king of that realm, in honor of his royal highness' visit to Stuttgart. It is less than a century old in its present form, but has a far older history. The badge is a very handsome affair, consisting as it does of a white enamelled cross, with golden crowns in the center as well as above the cross. There are four golden lions in the angles, and a deep red band bears the legend, "Fearless and true." The blue riband is not so deep a tint as the Garter, but matches well with the royal blue which is used so much for these decorations. The date on which the prince is to receive the Black Eagle at the hands of the German emperor has not yet been fixed.

Some of the quidnuncs are suggesting that the prince of Wales might do worse than choose for his bride the Princess Helena, the elder of the two daughters of King Christantine and Queen Sophie The lady is two years the junior of the prince. For my own part, I am not disposed to dwell upon the rumor beyond placing it on record, as there is good ground for believing that Queen Mary has decided views in other directions. But the mere suggestion is a further illustration of the fact already mentioned that the kaleidescope of events has changed the attitude of the Hellenic royal family to the rest of Europe very materially. Another change resulting from all this will be the final severance of the Greek from the Danish court. It is not King Constantine's intention to retain the residence on the shores of the Danish sound, which was his lamented father's favorite retreat during his autumnal holidays. It is a curious circumstance that the late King George spoke Danish less than any other tongue while within his own dominions. Lord and Lady Decies are at Luttrellstown, their place near Dublin, for the Irish season, which has been greatly interfered with by the death of the king of Greece. Lady Decies, one of the prettiest and youngest of our American Peeresses, will do a good deal of entertaining during the next few weeks, and then Lord Decles goes into camp with the South Irish Horse, the fine special reserve unit of which he became commandant on Lord Waterford's death. Luttrellstown is Lord Annaly's property, and until recently the estate was known as Woodlands, this name having, it is said, been given it by the present owner's great-grandfather, Mr. Luke White, when he purchased the estate from the Luttrells. Lord Carhampton, in deference to the vendor's wishes. It is a charming

There is a world of misery in this small quotation, which expresses the too frequent opinion of the uncertainty of the future and the needs of the present.

Poor circumstances are frequently the result of poor spending. In order to save, you must spend your money wisely, making every penny tell; buying good goods, not cheap goods; buying at the right time and in the right place. This is the sensible way to effective saving.

course dinner was served. The Chi Phi dance on Friday evening was one of the most brilliant social events of the month. Many outof-town visitors added to the pleasure of the occasion.

Judge and Mrs. George C. Thomas entertained Saturday evening at an elegant dinner party in honor of Mrs. P. H. Mell, of Atlanta, and Mrs. John White, of New York. The decorations for the occasion were particularly pretty. In the library roses and ferns were effectively used. The dining room carried out a dainty scheme of white and green, carnations being the flowers used. The table was covered with lace, and had a vase of carnations for its centerpiece. Covers were laid for twelve. Mrs. Thomas was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. Edwards, and her sister, Miss McWhorter. The guests included Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Smith, Sr. Mrs. R. D. Moore, Mrs. John White Mrs. P. H. Mell, Miss Mamie Lucas. The German club gave an enjoyable dance on last Friday evening at Dupree hall. Owing to grand opera, the crowd was not as large as usual, but quite as happy. Among the dancers were Misses Marion Hodgson, Willie Ritter, Marion Nicholson, Sarah Mell, Josephine Wilkins, Florence Hooper, Neal Cochran, Irene Nickerson. An event worthy of unusual notice and characterized by a beautiful hospitality of "ye olden times" was the party given last week by two of Athens' "old time" party, and the guests were asked to appear in old-time costumes or bring something of historical fmportance. While most of the guests wore handsome afternoon toilets, there were two costumes of war-time fame, worn by Mrs. R. D. Mure and Miss Mildred Rutherford. The former wore a grav silk gown with Spanish lace mantilla, and a wonderful bonnet, trimmed elaborately with ribbon and pink Miss Rutherford's voluminous gown would have made a dozen of the present-day close-fitting creations. It was blackk satin, worn over a hoopskirt of generous proportions. The bocut low in the neck, with elbow sleeves, and with hand-embroidered cuffs and collar and a priceless scarf of the same costly needlework. The lovely home of Mrs. Frances Long Taylor was in every way in keeping with the old-time splendor, with its mahogany, rare old silver, and family portraits. The spacious rooms were adorned with old-time garden flowers. The guests were seated in the dining room at two tables, covered with embroidered damask. The centerpiece was a cut glass vase of different kinds of resting on a mirror outlined Old silver and brass candlelternated with the beautiful china of ante-bellum days, which held the delicious repast. There were oldtime preserves, pickles, salad, boiled ham, hot rolls, wafers, peppermint cake and ambrosia, and countless other tempting dishes served by a little darkey, who waved the peacock feather brush when he was not engaged in serving the happy assemblage. The place cards were pen sketches, and each guest was given a silhouette of distinguished personage. Many interest were exhibited by the among which were old jewelry. er, old lace and needlework. Of especial interest were some relics of the Stephens family, including several things of Alexander H. Stephens. These were brought by Mrs. Horace Holden, a great-niece of the famous Confederate statesman. The delightful party was a historical recreation as well as a beautiful social event Athens is very much interested over the approaching marriage of Miss Ruth Fribble to Mr. Sam Dick, which takes place at the First Presbyterian church here on June 19. Miss Tribble is one of the most attractive and nonular members of the younger set, and soclety regrets that her marriage will take here away. Mr. Dick has been here for several years at the university of Georgia, and has made scores of friends, who are congratulating him. Mrs. Ora Hart Avery was the charming hostess Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Elizabeth Alexander, at a beautiful afternoon tea.

Madam Yeager, of New York City

The ladies of Atlanta have every cause to heartily welcome Madam Yeager to Atlanta, for she brings with her a complete knowledge of the latest and most scientific facial and scalp work, also artistic French-American hairdressing, she being a Post-Graduate of one of the largest and most recognized schools of beauty culture of the world. Madam Yeager is permanently located with Mrs. Widener and although practically a stranger she has already won many friends during Grand Opera week. This remark was made by different women who were guests in the hotel and overheard by Mrs. Widener; "We wish you were in Chattanooga, Nashville, Birmingham, Jacksonville, Macon, Rome, Ft. # VACATION

Recreation under guiding supervision is the vacation planned for the boys who attend Riverside Naval Academy.

Riverside is located on the bank of the Chattahoochee River, as it winds its way "out of the hills of Habersham, down thru the valleys of Hall," and is in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains. Just outside of Gainesville, but connected by trolley, it has a combination of advantages to offer which has won for the title of the "Culver of the South."

Water and mountains afford opportunity for aquatic and woodland sports, the cleanest, healthiest exercise possible, and that which instills in each boy that courage, agility, strength and determination which mould the character of after years.

Out-of-door sanitary camp life furnishes one of the chief claims of Riverside Naval Academy. Out in the open, they are drilled, and slept; but there are also ample accommodations in the magnificently equipped military dormitories for those preferring barrack life.

Summer and swimming are synonymous to every boy, whether it be the "old swimmin' hole," or the bosom of the broad Atlantic. At Riverside, every boy is taught to swim. A graduate naval instructor is in charge of all aquatic sports, which include all swimming strokes, plain and fancy diving, life saving drills, rowing, sailing and motor boat driving. Lake Warner forms a splendid body of water, free from treacherous currents and eddies. Constant water patrol robs the aquatic sports of all danger. In addition to the aquatic diversions, there are lawn tennis courts, a baseball diamond with class and company teams, horseback riding, trap shooting and mountain climbing. Life in dry floored and water proofed tents is one of the healthful and picturesque features of this school. Riverside's perfectly equipped dining hall is daily supplied with North Georgia's famous fruits, vegetables and fowla

All play and no work is a vacation wasted. At Riverside mental progress keeps pace with physical development. The faculty works out a course of study which makes up those deficiencies the boys are anxious to overcome before re-entering school in the fall. It also makes advanced standing possible, thus assuring earlier gradu-

Desires and Plans

There was a man named Jones.

Jones was not unlike thousands of other men.

He, like them, possessed these things-a Wife, a Salary-some Unfilled Desires.

Chief among these Unfilled Desires was the Desire for a Home of his own.

Jones and his Wife often talked of this.

They planned it all and wondered how.

One day the Wife said:

"Haverty's Sales Manager may help us. He is a Home-Maker by profession-ask him.

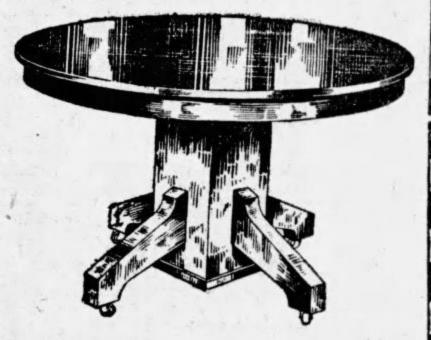

S. M. said: "Do you realize how much a dollar a week will do? About 17c a day. You throw it away and never realize it is gone. But, turned in the proper direction, it will work wonders in Home Comforts. Haverty's Divided Payment Plan solves the Home-Furnishing proposition. It is perfectly simple. Thoroughly dignified. You can furnish your entire home from our stock. Divide the amount of your purchases into small weekly or monthly payments. The price is just the same as if you paid Spot Cash. We will be glad to have your account." .

Moral: There's a whole lot to that saving "Haverty's Divided Payment Plan solves the Home-Furnishing Problem," when you think about it.
