BIG SCHOOL OF WHALES VISITS COAST NEAR N. Y.

Glistening Bodies of Whales Strung Along Behind Ship Looked Like Sea Serpent

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, May 8.—A school of whales on tour of the Atlantic sea coast is apparently intent upon paying a visit to New York. Recent reports that a large number of the monsters have been seen off this port are confirmed upon each new arrival of steamers.

Captain Richard Mayes of the steamship "Orotave," which docked today, said that a school of whales followed his ship most of yesterday afternoon, until the steamer was within forty miles of Scotland lights.

Strung along together the glistening bodies of the whales looked like a monster a thousand feet long, but just as a photograph was ready to take a picture of the "sea serpent" it broke up into a number of whales.

Greenville Show to Open
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) GREENVILLE, S. C., May 8.—All space for the made-in-Greenville exposition has been sold, and show has assumed proportions quite pretentious. It will be held in the new Finley building on North Main street, and will open Monday of horse show week. An important feature of that week, May 19-24, will be the municipal sanitation congress, which will be attended by representatives from practically every city in the south.

Mail Boat Sinks
(By Associated Press.) JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 8.—The United States mail boat Laporte, a gasoline launch which carried mail to the St. John's river town, sank while off Arlington last night. The boat was overloaded with mails and parcels post matter besides some cargo and went down in nineteen feet of water, 200 feet off shore. Five persons aboard were rescued in a dinghy.

Veteran Methodist Passes Away in Macon After Long Service

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) MACON, Ga., May 8.—Rev. George Gilman Smith, D.D., one of the most prominent older Methodist ministers of the city, died at his home, 709 Vineville avenue, last night at 11 o'clock. He has been a resident of Macon since 1882 and was known throughout this section.

As a minister, author, historian and scholar he was known throughout the state by a legion of friends, who will deplore the news of his death. His literary work was principally historical books on the lives of bishops, and stories he wrote for children. During his later years he wrote many religious publications for the daily papers here.

Death came in his seventy-seventh year.

Three sons, Howard A. Smith and Louis G. Smith, of Macon, and Rev. Robert O. Smith, of Gainesville, survive him. In addition to two daughters, Misses Susie and Mary Bond Smith, also of Macon, and one brother and two sisters. The funeral will be held Friday.

President Homer Folks Delivers Opening Address to Delegates in Washington

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 8.—After attending numerous committee and division meetings, delegates to the ninth annual meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis gathered today to listen to an opening address by President Homer Folks, and the report of the executive secretary, Dr. Livingston Farrar.

Preliminary business of the convention then was on the program for consideration.

Later in the day meetings of the clinical, sociological and pathological sections were scheduled and at night a conference of the advisory council.

Physicians and others enlisted in the crusade against the white plague are present from all sections of the United States.

NEVER SAY WHAT YOU FEEL, IS HUERTA MAXIM

EL PASO, Texas, May 8.—"Never say what you feel, nor feel what you say." Such is the original favorite maxim of Victoriano Huerta, provisional president of Mexico, according to Colonel Eduardo Hay, one of the prime promoters of the constitutionalist revolution and president of the Mexican congress during Madero's administration.

"During the campaign in Morelos General Huerta told me his maxim, advising all young men to follow it if they seek success," continued Colonel Hay here today. "And the methods of General Huerta's success may well be shown by his motto."

"As an opposing force to Huerta's system I have found that Governor Carranza, military leader of the present revolution, is quite the contrary. Although he does not express it in so many words, Carranza says what he feels, and feels what he says."

VILLAGE POLICEMAN LOCKS AND UNLOCKS SALOONS

GENOA, Ill., May 8.—Genoa took a step forward in saloon regulation last night when the village board ordered the purchase of four locks to be placed upon doors of the four dram shops here.

The resolution instructed the night watchman hereafter to lock the doors of the saloons at the close of business and unlock them in the morning. The only keys to the locks shall be the property of the village and must be returned to the town hall every morning, the order says.

CAPTURED AEROPLANE BELONGS TO FRENCHMAN

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—Glen H. Martin, an aviator, said that the aeroplane captured near Tucson, Ariz., last night, was sold by him last week to Ridier Masson, a French aviator. According to Martin, the machine was shipped Monday to Tucson. Masson, he said, had told him he was going to make exhibition flights in Arizona and he was to have been accompanied by Thomas Dean, a mechanic. Martin said that some man whose identity he did not know was backing Masson in the venture. He was believed to be a foreigner.

Producers Meet in Washington to Urge Amendments When Senate Considers Matter

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 8.—A conference of manufacturers and producers called by the Illinois Manufacturers' association met here today to talk over the tariff situation and formulate plans for pressing for some amendments when the senate considers the Underwood bill.

President Kirby of the National Manufacturers' association; President Wilder, of the National Association of Tanners; C. A. Byers, Baltimore; C. C. Houston, Louisville, Tenn.; and Paul F. Herschel, of Peoria, Ill., was among those leading the movement.

The object of the conference as set out in a statement is to deal with the general proposition of tariff revision as it is presented in the Underwood bill and to look particularly to the working of the paragraph of the proposed law which empowers the president to negotiate trade agreements of mutual concession with foreign countries.

The manufacturers contend that if the president is given power to negotiate concessions in tariff rates, he also is empowered to negotiate increases, if they are warranted.

MORE JAPS GAIN ENTRANCE TO U. S. BY TRICKERY THAN BY FAIR MEANS

Alarming Increase of Oriental Immigrants Shown by Report of Department of Commerce and Labor, Just Issued

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The wily ways of the sick Oriental who succeeded in passing the rigid barriers maintained by the immigration officers on the Pacific coast furnish romantic reading in the otherwise prosaic "annual report for 1912 of the department of commerce and labor," issued Tuesday. With the Jap occupying the center of the California public stage, the official story of his stealthy entrances, and the number thereof, aside from those who passed openly through the office at San Francisco, comes at an opportune time.

Those of the Japanese who sneak in are the seamen who desert their ships at American ports. Of those who come through the Prisco office, the commissioner of immigration at that port has this to say:

"The total number of Japanese arrivals for the year was 2,816, divided into 1,349 males and 1,467 females. Only 111 of the total number of arrivals were former residents, thus giving a total of 2,705 new arrivals—almost as many as the total number of arrivals for the preceding year. The striking increase was in the number of Japanese wives, which rose from 1,101 in the fiscal year of 1911 to 1,447 in the year just ended.

"A large percentage of this movement is what is commonly known as the gray-marragee, a class of applicants concerning which there has been considerable criticism from some points, but which we have found to be anything other than they claim to be only in the rarest of instances, although a searching investigation which we have been unable to make, might show otherwise. Only 44 Japanese were deported during the year."

It is the commissioner of immigration in Seattle who writes the tales of trickery on the part of Japanese and Chinese. Japanese who "might not otherwise enter" seize the chance offered by shipping on vessels plying between the Hawaiian Islands and Puget sound, and once on American soil, they forget to return.

"I do not believe," writes the commissioner, "that there are many aliens of the excluded classes other than Japanese laborers gaining admission to the district under the guise of seamen."

"There is another class which is giving us considerable trouble," continued the commissioner, "i. e., Japanese shipping at Hawaii, and on American vessels." He then told how by a decision from the Washington authorities citizens of Japan duly admitted to Hawaii might engage as seamen on American vessels plying between the islands and continental America.

"The privilege is being abused," continued the report, "and has given Japanese laborers, who might not otherwise enter, an opportunity to land on the mainland. Quite a number have secured entry during the past few months, and during the past week not less than three schooners have arrived from the islands with Japanese cabin boys without passports entitling them to enter. Two of them have already been reported as deserters."

"If these Japanese do not secure entry on their first trip, their chances of landing improve with subsequent voyages. On the first trip they are allowed for the voyage to the mainland. If they are kept on board and return to Hawaii they are signed on the articles at the mainland port for the round trip—Hawaii and return. Should the vessel return to a port where the officers are not acquainted with the fact, the alien might easily be landed, as the articles show that he shipped at a mainland port."

JAPANESE DESERT. The executive order designed to checkmate this move, so the commissioner states, is ineffective. The order requires masters to file bond of $500 for aliens on shore leave, but masters will not do this, according to the commissioner. They elect to keep the Japs on board—and the Japs promptly desert.

Another worry that forms subject matter for several paragraphs in this commissioner's report is the "student clause" of the Chinese immigration laws. Under this clause, immigration is increasing alarmingly, the report stated, and besides providing an easy entrance for the excluded Sons of Paradise, the clause is putting money into the pockets of unscrupulous "educators."

tors." Here's the wrinkle, according to the commissioner:

"The possible profit to be made in this line of endeavor has seemingly attracted the attention of Americans. Two women professors of a university here went to China and returned with fifty 'student' visas. These women were assisted in gathering together this body of young-men by an Americanized Chinese student then taking a course at the same institution. It is said that these boys paid approximately $1,000 each, Hongkong currency, to get into this country in this manner. How this money was divided was not known, but one of the teachers admitted that she was paid her expenses and her time."

"The other woman has since become a teacher in China, and is endeavoring to have landed at the port of San Francisco some seventy-five more students. The fifty first brought in were kept in a private school in Seattle for about four months, when the school was abandoned, the pupils scattering to various parts of the country. Inquiry made shows that but few of them are to be found at the addresses given."

"A similar party of 100 boys was gathered last summer in China," the report continued, "and were in like manner brought in. The backers of the party were a Seattle attorney and some wealthy Chinese of San Francisco."

The boys were given second rate transportation and, according to the report, "these men (the backers) divided many thousands of dollars between them as profits on the undertaking."

"Within a very short time the boys began to absent themselves from their classes, and at the end of three months approximately one-half of them had left the school. Two months later (when the June examinations were due) but twenty-one remained to take their examinations. These twenty-one probably represent the bona fide students out of the ninety-seven admitted."

"Recently a 'student' brought over by one of the women professors referred to was found working in a laundry in Norfolk, Va., in which he owned half interest. On his being arrested as unlawfully within the country, he was discharged by the United States commissioner before whom the hearing was held."

In time of need there is no article that can be disposed of to such advantage as the diamond, and for this reason also it pays to spend less for the things swiftly passing away and put more in something that is ever new and of world-wide value.

Specializing in diamonds, we are prepared to give very lowest prices obtainable anywhere in the world, and being weighed and graded by an expert you can make no mistake as to weight and quality of diamonds secured from us. ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS HEAD BELITTLES FRIEDMANN

Horner Folks Declares Announcement of Friedmann's Treatment Hurt Move

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 8.—"One of the adverse factors that are retarding the prevention of the white plague" was the characterization applied to Dr. F. F. Friedmann's tuberculosis vaccine by President Horner Folks in his opening address today at the meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

"Nothing like the series of events" said the speaker "which followed the announcement of the Friedmann's cure in Berlin has hitherto occurred in the tuberculosis campaign. Only those who have been engaged to induce state and local authorities to appropriate funds can appreciate how vastly more difficult this task has been made in the last few months by the extremely effective press agents of Dr. Friedmann. Thus far it has not been evident to me as a layman that any of those who have had to do with the subject in this country have won much credit."

CARRANZA REFUSES OFFER OF JAPANESE TROOPS

(By Associated Press.) EAGLE PASS, Texas, May 8.—It developed today that Selch Sagatani, who claimed to be editor of a Japanese newspaper and who offered Wednesday to raise a force of Japanese soldiers for Governor Carranza, assured the Constitutional leader he could put in the field from 2,000 to 3,500 at no expense to the insurgent cause. Carranza believes, however, that some reward would be asked later and the offer was refused positively. Sagatani was once a colonel in the Japanese army.

BREITTMAYER WINS OVER BERGER IN PARISIAN DUEL

Berger Wounded Seriously, Hopes to Recover to Fight Another Soon

(By Associated Press.) PARIS, May 8.—A sword duel arising out of a quarrel three years ago was fought today between H. C. Berger, son of a Paris deputy, and George Breittmayer, both noted fencers. Berger received a serious wound in the right breast.

As, under the French law, no duel may be fought in secret, the combat at the Chateau d'Orly, was witnessed by fifty well-known Parisians and a large body of reporters.

Breittmayer afterward visited his wounded opponent and a reconciliation was effected.

The duel had been delayed owing to the marriage of Berger. A short time ago he quarreled with another man and challenged him to fight, but, according to the French code of honor, the duel could not be fought until he had first crossed swords with Breittmayer. The second duel will take place as soon as Berger has recovered.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS HEAD BELITTLES FRIEDMANN

Horner Folks Declares Announcement of Friedmann's Treatment Hurt Move

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 8.—"One of the adverse factors that are retarding the prevention of the white plague" was the characterization applied to Dr. F. F. Friedmann's tuberculosis vaccine by President Horner Folks in his opening address today at the meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

"Nothing like the series of events" said the speaker "which followed the announcement of the Friedmann's cure in Berlin has hitherto occurred in the tuberculosis campaign. Only those who have been engaged to induce state and local authorities to appropriate funds can appreciate how vastly more difficult this task has been made in the last few months by the extremely effective press agents of Dr. Friedmann. Thus far it has not been evident to me as a layman that any of those who have had to do with the subject in this country have won much credit."

CARRANZA REFUSES OFFER OF JAPANESE TROOPS

(By Associated Press.) EAGLE PASS, Texas, May 8.—It developed today that Selch Sagatani, who claimed to be editor of a Japanese newspaper and who offered Wednesday to raise a force of Japanese soldiers for Governor Carranza, assured the Constitutional leader he could put in the field from 2,000 to 3,500 at no expense to the insurgent cause. Carranza believes, however, that some reward would be asked later and the offer was refused positively. Sagatani was once a colonel in the Japanese army.

BREITTMAYER WINS OVER BERGER IN PARISIAN DUEL

Berger Wounded Seriously, Hopes to Recover to Fight Another Soon

(By Associated Press.) PARIS, May 8.—A sword duel arising out of a quarrel three years ago was fought today between H. C. Berger, son of a Paris deputy, and George Breittmayer, both noted fencers. Berger received a serious wound in the right breast.

As, under the French law, no duel may be fought in secret, the combat at the Chateau d'Orly, was witnessed by fifty well-known Parisians and a large body of reporters.

Breittmayer afterward visited his wounded opponent and a reconciliation was effected.

The duel had been delayed owing to the marriage of Berger. A short time ago he quarreled with another man and challenged him to fight, but, according to the French code of honor, the duel could not be fought until he had first crossed swords with Breittmayer. The second duel will take place as soon as Berger has recovered.

What that we can carry about us from day to day is more beautiful than the diamond? Then why not spend a little less for things that are so soon out of date and worthless, and invest in a gem that will last you a lifetime and can then be handed down for generations to loved ones?

In time of need there is no article that can be disposed of to such advantage as the diamond, and for this reason also it pays to spend less for the things swiftly passing away and put more in something that is ever new and of world-wide value.

Specializing in diamonds, we are prepared to give very lowest prices obtainable anywhere in the world, and being weighed and graded by an expert you can make no mistake as to weight and quality of diamonds secured from us. In Washington the principal event will be the meeting of President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and other notables.

In Baltimore the Fifth Maryland regiment, which is well known in Atlanta, will have principal charge of the Old Guard's reception and entertainment. Banquets and excursion trips in the bay are planned.

At Philadelphia the State Fencibles, in their historic uniforms, will meet the Old Guard at the train, and will escort the Atlantians to the Continental hotel. A visit to Independence hall will follow. The Old Guard will be formally welcomed to Philadelphia by the mayor and city council. There will be an ocean sail with final landing on League island for a planned shad banquet. On the following morning the Old Guard will participate in a big military parade and a review by the governor and his staff. A very elaborate banquet will take place that evening at the Union League club.

In New York the Seventh New York regiment will receive the Old Guard at the depot and escort them to their hotel. On Sunday the whole battalion will attend religious services in a body. Sight-seeing, tours, a dinner and big reception are among the things planned for the stay in New York.

The trip will reach its culmination in Boston, where the Second Coast artillery will receive the Atlantians at their train. The first day in Boston will be spent in sight seeing. The next day the Old Guard, under escort of the Boston Light Infantry, will march to the headquarters of the Edward W. Kinsley post, G. A. R., where they will pass in salute, and will then act as escort to the G. A. R. on their march to the Hall of Flags in the state capitol. While escorted by the soldiers, the Boston veterans will march to the Commons, where the Soldiers' monument will be decorated with flowers. The Old Guard will place a wreath of Georgia flowers on the monument.

Next, the Old Guard will escort the G. A. R. veterans to Tremont temple, where memorial exercises will take place. On the same day the ladies of the Atlanta party will be entertained at luncheon at the Parker house. A trip in automobiles will be made to Concord, Lexington and other places of historic interest around Boston. The Old Guard will be the guests of the G. A. R. at an elaborate banquet just before they leave the city.

They will go back by train to New York, and thence by boat to Savannah, arriving in Savannah on the 2nd of June, spending one day to greet their old friends in that city and returning to Atlanta early on the morning of June 4.

Get the Number and Ask Secretary Cook; He Can Tell You All

Secretary of State Philip Cook has a few other things to do besides grant bank charters and sell folks automobile numbers at $2 per.

There are numerous phone calls all through the day from the city and county police inquiring who is the holder of a certain number attached to a car that has broken the speed law or turned a corner wrong or perhaps been in an accident and sprained away. Both of these departments are, as a rule, over a thousand numbers behind in their register and it is necessary, in many instances, to call on the secretary of state's office for the name of a man holding a new license.

But these phone calls do not, by any means, come exclusively from officers. Two amusing incidents are told by Mr. Cooke. His chief clerk was at home ill, and the day had been an unusually busy one. The secretary was tired out, and yet that "phone kept on buzzing and he had to answer it every time.

A man's voice inquired, "Would Mr. Cook kindly tell him the owner of a certain number? No, he was not a police officer, nor an officer of the law. He was just a private citizen seeking information in which he was vitally interested. No, he didn't want anybody arrested, he just wanted to know because he wanted to know. "If you tell me why you want this information," said Secretary Cook, "I may tell you."

"Well," replied the voice on the other end of the wire, "a big touring car just passed my home and seated in the tonneau was the most beautiful woman I have ever seen and I can not rest until I know who she was. The number was Ga. 12345."

"Sure I'll tell you," said the secretary of state, "just wait a minute until I can look it up in the register." And he did, but he wouldn't tell the reporter, so the secret is only between the two. "I was sort of curious myself," he said smiling.

On another occasion very much the same conversation took place over the wire with the usual questions about officers of the law. This time it was also a private citizen. He had just seen a car pass that appealed to him. The lines of it were attractive and the general appearance of the machine tempted him to buy one if he could only find out about it. He got his information about a week later purchased a car like the one he had seen.

"I didn't get any commission from the dealer," said Secretary Cook, "but the state got its $2 for the license."

ROBERT MATTHEWS HELD FOR DEATH OF BARTLETT

Sixteen-Year-Old Youth Said to Have Hurling Missile Which Was Fatal to Comrade

Robert Matthews, sixteen years old, of Forrest Park, has been arrested in Jonesboro, Ga., on the charge of throwing the missile that resulted in the death of fourteen-year-old Carl Bartlett.

Advices from the Jonesboro authorities announce that the boy will be held for investigation by the coroner's jury. Young Bartlett died Wednesday morning at a local hospital while undergoing an operation for a fractured skull supposed to have been sustained about ten days ago. He had not complained of pains, however, until Tuesday when an examination revealed the nature of his injuries. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Bartlett, of Forrest Park, have expressed the belief that their son was struck in the head by a bottle thrown by a playmate on April 25.

The injured youth, at no time gave any indication of how the mortal wound was received, and died with the secret unbroken. Mystery shrouds his death and all eyes are turned to the coroner's jury. Dr. Frank Boland, who performed the operation, is not inclined to believe the bottle theory. He declared that it did not appear that way to him. "I do not understand," said Dr. Boland, "how the base of the skull could have been fractured in the way it was with a bottle."

An examination revealed two wounds. The skull was slightly fractured at the top of the head besides the fracture at the base. In the opinion of the physician, it was the latter which caused death.

The funeral occurred at 10 o'clock Thursday morning from the family residence in Forrest Park with interment in the Forrest Park cemetery.

Woman Offers Body For Sale to Purchase Self Fine Clothing

(By Associated Press.)
CINCINNATI, O., May 8.—A woman, plainly but rather well dressed, sat patiently for an hour last night in the receiving ward of the Cincinnati hospital, and when her turn finally came she startled the receiving clerk, Mr. Walsh, by stating that she wished to sell her body to buy fine clothes.

The woman said: "My name is Eleanor Muchmore, and I've simply come here to sell my body."

"You don't want us to kill you?" the astonished clerk gasped.

"Oh, no," replied Miss Muchmore, "but I want new clothes badly, and I thought I might be able to sell my body to some doctor in this institution to be delivered after my natural death."

Miss Muchmore seemed greatly disappointed when it was explained to her that her proposition could not be accepted.

GRANT PARK'S BIG BEAR ABOUT TO CROSS RIVER

Poor "Big Pete," the handsome Russian bear at the Grant park zoo, has indigestion, and is reported to be dying from a real "tummy ache."

Pete partook of some real Hungarian goulash, according to the keeper, which kind but unthoughtful friends donated in the shape of a piece of garden hose, an old straw hat and innumerable cigar butts. These the bear mixed internally, and then called in real bear language for a doctor.

The bear has been ailing for two weeks, so Zookeeper Ed Boyd declares. He can see little hope now for "Big Pete's" recovery, he says.

The bear has been one of the finest animals at the park, and Manager Dan Carey has done everything to save its life; but on Wednesday night the bear took a turn for the worse and now it is feared he will hardly live through Thursday.

ENJOINS POLICE FROM EJECTMENT THREATENED

Mrs. N. P. Powell on Thursday secured from Judge George Bell, of the superior court, an order temporarily restraining the city of Atlanta and the police department from carrying out alleged threats to eject her from her home at 95 Spring street. Mrs. Powell declared she had been given orders to vacate and that such orders resulted from her refusal to accede to advances made by a man named Kirke, whom she thought to be a detective-police-man.

$7,500 DAMAGES FOR A SLIP ON ORANGE PEEL

A jury in the superior court Wednesday afternoon awarded $7,500 damages for personal injuries to Mrs. Mattie R. Cash, of Pensacola, Fla., who sued the Seaboard Air Line railroad.

Mrs. Cash declared that while on the Seaboard's Birmingham-Atlanta train on December 1, 1911, she slipped on an orange peel and was injured internally by the fall.

The suit probably will be carried to higher courts by the railroad attorneys.

LEE YIELDS PATRONAGE OF ROME TO MRS. WILSON

J. P. Bowie Will Be Named
Postmaster for Rome, Mrs.
Wilson's Girlhood Home

BY RALPH SMITH.
WASHINGTON, May 8.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will name the postmaster at Rome, and her choice will be J. P. Bowie, the friend of her childhood. Congressman Gordon Lee today yielded gracefully his prerogative in the premises and agreed that the wife of the president should control the Rome post-office.

President Wilson sent for Mr. Lee this morning, and when he saw the congressman, told him that Mrs. Wilson wished to name the postmaster at Rome, if he had no objection.

"Mr. President, it is my distinguished pleasure to acquiesce in the desire of Mrs. Wilson and I gladly yield in her favor," said Mr. Lee. "I will endorse whoever she may select and join with the Georgia senators in urging a speedy confirmation of the nomination."

President Wilson then told Mr. Lee that it was the wish of Mrs. Wilson to have J. P. Bowie named for the office. The congressman said the selection was entirely agreeable to him.

While in conference with the president, Mr. Lee produced a letter from Mr. John M. Vandiver, who was one of the applicants for the postoffice, in which Mr. Vandiver declared that he would willingly yield to the wishes of Mrs. Wilson if she desired to name the Rome postmaster, and would withdraw his application in favor of Mr. Bowie.

The Rome postoffice is the fastest federal plant in the seventh congressional district and in yielding the patronage to Mrs. Wilson, Congressman Lee gave up the control of the most desirable appointment at his disposal.

Mr. Bowie, who will be named by the president on the recommendation of Mrs. Wilson, is a life-long resident of the city. He has been engaged in the manufacture of stoves. He was the friend of Mrs. Wilson's father and mother, and when in Washington recently he was entertained by Mrs. Wilson at the White House.

SUFFRAGETTE PREDICTS DISCARDING OF SKIRTS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 8.—Skirts will be discarded by the time the year 2013 rolls around and both sexes will parade in Oriental trousers, kissing at that time will have gone the way of the skirts and sentimental couples bent on matrimony will be compelled to approach the altar armed with personal health certificates.

These predictions are made in a drama written by Mrs. Christian Hemmick, a local society woman and suffragist which, it was announced today, is to be produced here this month for the benefit of the suffragists' cause in connection with a morality play, also written by Mrs. Hemmick.

Reviews of both plays are to be given at a meeting in the chamber of commerce this week. The author is to explain his inspiration and object and Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, wife of the former government pure food expert, also is to speak. Mrs. Wiley is to take part in one of the productions.

A renewal of activity was evident at the headquarters of the National Woman Suffrage association as the result of a meeting inspired by the arrival of Judge John Crosby, of Colorado, representing the Men's National Association for Woman Suffrage, who is expected to direct a vigorous campaign as the result of which the suffragists hope to increase the number of their converts in congress.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, nor run up a heavy doctor's bill, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." He has had no return whatever of the pain, backache and burning. His name is J. A. Farmer, and he says: "I of course I recommend Foley Kidneys. This is a very effective cure for kidney and bladder trouble." For sale by all dealers.—(Adv't.)

SHACKLETON'S AIDE TO GO WITH STEFFANSSON

(By Associated Press.)
MONTREAL, May 8.—Dr. A. Forbes MacKay, who was one of the medical men attached to the expedition to the south polar regions, which won Sir Ernest Shackleton his knighthood, has arrived here en route to Esquimault to join the Swedish explorer, Vilhjalmy Stefansson, in his expedition to the far north.

Dr. MacKay will see to the victualing and other details connected with the voyage of Stefansson's ship, the Karluk. Dr. MacKay is accompanied by W. L. McKinley, who is also to be a member of the Stefansson expedition.

Representative Turnbull Asks
Authority for Cities to Amend
Charters Without Legislature

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 8.—A home rule bill was presented by Turnbull in the house this morning, being measure to allow municipalities to change their own charters without reference to the legislature. The bill is exciting much favorable comment and will likely be passed.

A bill appropriating $10,000 for a monument for General Kirby Smith in the hall of fame passed the house and was certified to the senate.

The consideration of the license tax bill was continued in the committee of the whole of the morning. Being the third day given to it, Senator Bryan's primary bill will likely come up this afternoon.

Jeanette Rankin, suffragette, challenged Senator Watson this morning to meet her in joint debate on suffrage amendment. He declined.

CHARLES KAPLOW AGAIN OFFERS SKIN TO SAVE LIFE

Swimming Instructor of Y. M.
C. A. Gives Up Cuticle to Save Another Life

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 8.—Charles Kaplow, a swimming instructor of the Young Men's Christian association, is making a specialty of furnishing his skin to the needy. He saved the life of a little girl last January by giving her a large area of his cuticle, and although he himself was laid up for several weeks at the hospital as a result of the operation, he won by his modest sacrifice the heart of a nurse who became his bride.

Now he has volunteered to give up twenty-eight square inches more skin to save the life of the ten-year-old son of Benjamin Colwell, of Nutley, N. J., whose back and shoulders recently were burned badly. Kaplow and Colwell had been friends in St. Paul and when Kaplow heard of the boy's need he insisted he provide the skin. "It will be easy for me," he said, "because I've been through it before." The operation will be performed tomorrow.

Held for Kidnaping

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
ROME, Ga., May 8.—Alonso Rayburn, a seventeen-year-old boy of Gadsden, who was arrested by county officers here Monday on charges from his home city, charging him with kidnaping George Williams, aged thirteen years, has been taken back to Gadsden to stand trial.

The alleged attempt of one youth to kidnap another took place in Alabama City and the father of the Williams boy claims that his son took $20 from him.

Buy Diamonds Before The New Tariff Advances Prices.

Under the old tariff no duty was levied on uncut or "rough" diamonds. Only ten per cent duty was paid on cut or polished diamonds.

The Democratic caucus has just recommended a 20 per cent duty on polished diamonds and 10 per cent on the rough. This new rate will no doubt become effective within the next two or three months.

In addition to this, the big diamond syndicate has raised prices to the cutters since January $15.00 to $30.00 per carat.

This means an advance in the retail market within the next four to six months ranging from $15.00 to $60.00 a carat—according to grades and sizes.

Buy a diamond now on attractive monthly payments and save the advance. Our booklet, "Facts About Diamonds," quotes lowest net prices and gives full particulars regarding our liberal plans.

MAYOR MAY NOT SIGN FIRE ENGINE CONTRACT

Not Satisfied With Fire Board's Action, Because Five Out of Nine Did Not Vote

Mayor Woodward may decline to sign a contract with the American LaFrance Engine company for an automobile fire engine for the Tenth ward station, his reason being that only four out of nine members of the board of firemasters voted Wednesday night to accept this company's bid.

A motion was made to accept the bid of the Ahrens-Fox company and then came a substitute to accept the American LaFrance bid. Those voting for the substitute were Alderman Warren, Councilman Boynton, Councilman Sisson and Fire Chief Cummings.

Though the other five members of the board were present, none of them voted, either for the substitute or against it, they being as follows: Mayor Woodward, Alderman Ragsdale, Alderman Van Dyke, Councilman Humphrey and Councilman Lynch.

Mayor Woodward says the city attorney has informed him that the vote of the four is binding, inasmuch as the other five did not vote to the contrary, but the mayor seems inclined to exercise his own individual judgment rather than follow the legal advice of the city attorney.

"I hate to seem a scoundrel," said he Thursday morning, "but this is not the right way to transact business. Every member of the board of firemasters should have voted. It's true I was there and didn't vote, but my reason was that I thought I might get at the matter in a little bit different way, later on."

The LaFrance bid is $9,000, with a maintenance guarantee for five years, including tires. The bid is on the same engine which the board of firemasters purchased last fall on a moral obligation contract, which contract this year the mayor blocked. The engine is here, ready to be delivered, and the company's representative, P. O. Hebert, used this as an argument why his bid should be accepted.

The Ahrens-Fox bid is $9,500. The company claims its engine is larger and more powerful, more than sufficient to make up for the $500 difference in price.

Charlotte Defeats Bonds

CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 8.—At an election held here today the question of voting $50,000 in bonds for school purposes and to cancel a hundred tax to provide for free text books and increase the school term of the city, was overwhelmingly defeated. A $100,000 bond issue for street improvements met a like fate. C. A. Bland was re-elected mayor without opposition.

IN LOCAL THEATERS

Criticisms of initial performances at the local theaters are written by members of the journal staff. All other matter appearing in this column is furnished by the theater management.

ATLANTA—The Girl from Out Yonder. FORSYTH—Vaudeville. BIJOU—Vaudeville and Pictures.

Tonight the Miss Billy Long Stock company will be seen again at the Atlanta. This week the organization is presenting "The Girl from Out Yonder" and has scored the biggest hit of the season. Miss Long has a part that is particularly effective, while Mr. Vail and other members of the company are doing tremendously well. Miss Tinsley Harrison, the Atlanta society girl, is one of the hits of the play, and has been greeted with enthusiastic applause each night of the engagement. Saturday afternoon a twenty-five-cent matinee will be given, and the indications are every seat in the house will be sold, as the lower floor was sold out last week, and this is a much more popular bill.

Beginning next week, the company will play three matinees each week, opening with an extra matinee Monday and giving regular matinees Wednesday and Saturday. The bill next week is a fine farce comedy, "Are You a Mason?" and it provides hundreds of clean laughs. The play has been exceedingly popular wherever given and is sure to be so here. Miss Long has a large part, as has Mr. Vail, while Miss Harrison has a part that is sure to please her friends. Three other new members of the company will be introduced with this bill.

And still the Forsyth is crowded, crowded as never before in all the history of the busy theater. Theatergoers welcome the return of vaudeville to the popular playhouse with a marked degree of enthusiasm. They are packing the theater twice daily. And it is very good in evidence that vaudeville looks good in the Forsyth. The cozy theater is just the right size. It can take care of a multitude of people, and though the S. R. O. sign has been doing duty, a good many folk have come late, have had to take seats for some other performance than the one they expected to witness. It is the wise theatergoer who gets seats for the Forsyth in advance.

The bill this week is delightful. It is just the sort of show that has made the theater so popular and that has again started molding records that will stand.

Belie Story has become a popular favorite. And Miss Story does not sing ragtime or coon songs, either. It is a bit remarkable, but it is a fact. She has a wonderful voice. It has been suggested that she is too good for vaudeville, but she says herself there is nothing too good for vaudeville. The Kid Kabaret, Gus Edwards' latest popular production, is a good drawing card, and a pleasing act, and the Hart Six Steppers do some dancing that makes an audience get excited. There is good comedy and novelty in the bill, and the attendance is right up to the limit.

Commencing with matinee on Monday afternoon and continuing all the week, another Keith bill of seven acts will be introduced. This show will be headlined by Paul Dickey, the famous Michigan football star, who will offer a college life sketch called "The Come Back," and it is said to be a great idea. Billy K. Wells, in comedy stories; Newhoff and Phelps, in a comedy sketch, and other features will be on the bill.

BURTON WILL FIGHT DAVIES' NOMINATION

(By Associated Press.)

FURTHER EFFORTS MADE TO SAVE BECKER'S LIFE

Attorney Asks Court of Appeals to Extend Time for Argument for New Trial

(By Associated Press.)
ALBANY, N. Y., May 8.—The court of appeals on Monday will be asked to extend the time in which may be argued the appeal in the case of former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, of New York, under sentence of death for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.

Becker's attorney, Joseph A. Shay, sent an affidavit to this effect to the court yesterday. In the affidavit Attorney Shay sets forth that he wishes the extension in order that he might have more time to investigate possible new evidence in the case that may tend to the granting of a new trial.

Unless the court grants the request Becker's appeal must be argued by May 20.

YOUNG MOTHER SLAYS HER TWO BABES WITH KNIFE
PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—Mrs. Mary Kulasa, twenty-four years old, was shot from her bed today, got a butcher knife and cut her two infant daughters' throats without arousing her sleeping husband. At the police station the woman hysterically cried that she had slain the babies for religious reasons.

A Sale of Linen Laces

Smyrna, Torchon and Cluny--At Nine o'clock Tomorrow

And the dresses and the waists and the underwear that are to be trimmed! Certainly a good part of the cost of the trimmings now vanishes!

Also certainly no woman will sacrifice her love for dainty trimmings by choosing them all in this sale! These are the kinds she would select were she fastidious--every thread pure flax, long-wearing, dependably washable, in exquisite patterns--laces from our own scrupulously selected stock.

Children's Dresses
Regularly 75c are

49c

In sizes one to four years.

The material is a soft white crepe.

They are the little straight affairs that mothers buy when prices are normal by the half dozens. With these and at the same price are new and fresh white and colored percale dresses, in sizes one to six years. These are long waisted and have the little plaited skirts.

Now For the Daintiest of Summer Dresses

A Sale of Sheer and Fine Fabrics

Tomorrow at Nine o'Clock

These are the fabrics that women want for their charmingest summer dresses--for street, for afternoon, for evening wear.

There are voiles so light and airy that it hardly seems possible that they were woven, and yet across their surfaces are dots and spots and great colorful floral patterns.

You will exclaim over them!

And here they are in a sale!

Priced at the very time their appeal is strongest, priced very vigorously.

If there is any way of judging what will attract eager buyers, we record the prediction that there will be a crowd for these!

At 49c French Crepes that were 75c and $1.00 a yard. A fabric in high favor, 32 inches wide, white ground with dots over it in colors--many colors.

At 49c French Piques that were 60c and 85c a yard, 32 inches wide, plain white and with embroidered dots, splendid for dresses and skirts.

At 59c French Voiles that were 85c a yard, 48 inches wide, white with a border made up of silk stripes in blue, lavender and pink.

At 89c Voiles that were $1.50 a yard. Among these are white voiles, 45 inches wide, showing a border of embroidered designs in colors and 40-inch voiles as dainty as can be, in lavender, pink and light blue embroidered over in self colored dots.

At 89c French Voiles and Crepes that were $1.50 a yard, 38 and 40 inches wide, white, blue, lavender and black grounds embroidered with colored dots.

At 98c Voiles that were $1.50, $2, $2.25 and $2.50 a yard. There will be many dresses chosen from among these. The pricing is remarkable, the variety is great, checked voiles, striped voiles in black and white, great floral patterns in rich colors or white grounds--and with these are odd few French crepes that, too, were priced from $1.50 to $2.50 a yard. All 38 inches wide.

Waists--They Are Priced

$1.00 and $1.50 Shirts Reduced to 59c

About seventy-five madras shirts in colors, plain, striped and checked, some tucked, some very mannish, for high or soft collars. You will find the name "Royal" in the greater part of them.

You must be here soon after the doors open for these.

$2.95 Silk Shirts Are $2.25

A good part of them is from our own stocks, the other good part is newly arrived. Together they make up a splendid lot.

They are ideal for summer wear: soft, cool, comfortable, neatly fashioned, low turn-back collars, high collars, French cuffs, plain cream color or white striped, with stripes of various widths, in black, lavender and blue. And the silk is that fine quality that women know never gets into the ordinary shirt at $2.25.

Remnant Day in the Silk Section

The Selling Begins at Nine o'Clock

Remnant Day in the Silk Section! It means dresses, waists, coats and trimmings at part prices instead of whole and worth prices.

It is a sign of robust health and activity for remnants to accumulate, for none but the wanted kinds of silks dwindle down to remnants. And where there is such activity there is no room for remnants.

We will not keep them--

Out they must go and out they will go!

The greater part is

Reduced One-Half

The other part is

Reduced One-Third

Lengths, One-Half Yard to Nine Yards

Included are practically all the silks you have been clamoring for this spring. Crepe de Chines, Crepe Meteors, Brocaded Crepes, Plain and Striped Messalines, Bengalines, Plain and Two-Toned Taffetas, Plain and Figured Chiffons, Marquisesettes and others and others--and need we mention that all colors are among them?

Here Is Unusually Fine News of Dresses

And here, too, are the bright days of spring when a woman gets so much satisfaction and pleasure out of little one-piece dresses.

The savings told of below are a matter of the alertness of our dress buyer, who is just returned from New York--it would be hard for you to understand why such dresses are so priced.

$6.98 and $7.50 Linen Dresses

The unexpected has happened--and right now in the morning of May linen dresses, cool, summery linen dresses, are $5.00 instead of $6.98 and $7.50. $5.00

You will note that the linen is a really fine, smoothly woven grade and weighty and that the styles are beautifully and simply charming--with plaited and tucked waists, low round collars, turn-back collars and turn-back cuffs sometimes in white and embroidered in colors and sometimes in the color of the dress. Many are belted, others have the raised waist line marked with piping.

Indeed, they make up a likely little lot of linen dresses and at $5.

$10.00 Dresden Crepe Dresses

How fine they will be for morning wear. They are of the quaint and charming crepe in Dresden patterns and colorings--little florals, pink, blue, green and lavender. Fashioned with low round collars, edged with a net frilling, plaited, the same is on the cuffs. A neat effect is obtained by the use of net, skirts are draped gracefully in the side back--and then there is a wide crushed satin girdle to set off the whole. Truly $10.00 values. $6.98

A Sterling Sale of Sterling Silver

Flat and Hollow Ware at Prices New to Atlanta

Mind you, please, that this is sterling silver. After you have studied the prices below you might, did you compare this sale with any you have ever known, think it impossible that we should mean that every piece included in this sale is sterling silver.

We repeat it, every piece is sterling silver. But the rules of merchandising at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s are no respecters of intrinsic worth. When Sterling silver has been wrought into the form of articles of merchandise it becomes amenable to the rules that govern merchandise. So prices drop in many cases to less than half, in others to a point verging very closely on half. Some pieces have overstaid their time.

Others are odd pieces or odd sets--for instance, a set of a half dozen or dozen forks will have no spoons to match and vice versa. They must all go now.

It is a happy time to select wedding presents, silver for your own home. It is silver you will be proud to give, proud to own.

PHAGAN INQUEST IN SESSION; SIX WITNESSES ARE EXAMINED BEFORE ADJOURNMENT TO 2:30 of the factory, the report contained that they, too, showed human blood.

BODY IS EXHUMED.
The body of Mary Phagan was removed Wednesday from the grave at the cemetery for a second time. Wednesday morning, Dr. H. F. Harris, of the state board of health, made another examination, the nature of which is being kept secret.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman, parents of the murdered child, have objected strenuously to the second exhumation. It is said that it is not expected that the body will be again removed from its resting place.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, who has taken active charge of the investigation in the murder case, spent more than an hour in New Lee's cell at the Towson Wednesday, questioning the negro. It is said that Lee stuck closely to his story, despite a vigorous cross examination.

Bill Bailey, who was bunkmate of Lee, when both were in the chain gang some years ago, spent twenty-four hours in his cell, having been sent there by the detectives. It is probable that Bailey may be used as a witness at the inquest.

DETECTIVES VISIT 'FACTORY.'
Shortly after 1 o'clock City Detective John Black and Harry Scott, of the Pinkerton agency, who are working on the Phagan murder mystery, were driven to the building of the National Press company's plant in the automobile of ex-County Policeman "Boots" Rogers.

The officers entered the place and remained about half an hour. When they returned to the street, both detectives were non-committal. They acknowledged, however, that they had visited the factory in an effort to make

C. A. Wood and Wife Go From Atlanta to Toxaway in Machine

Can an automobile make the trip from Atlanta to Lake Toxaway, N. C., successfully, without suffering irreparable damage to the car and great inconvenience to the occupants, at this season of the year?

This is a question which has been puzzling many local motorists who have such a trip in prospect. C. A. Wood, lessee of the Georgian Terrace, is here to say that it can be done.

Mr. Wood and his wife arrived in Atlanta last night following the completion of such a tour. The roads, for a good part of the distance, they say, were fine, and the beauties of the North Carolina scenery were enjoyed by them in a way which seldom falls to the lot of the average tourist.

Mr. Wood and his wife left here Saturday morning in their car. Following the National highway, the same night they reached Greenville, S. C., having completed the 180-mile journey in about twelve hours.

From Greenville to Toxaway they followed the Greenville-Ashville highway. The last seventy miles, they say, were the hardest, as well as the most beautiful of the journey, the road from here to Greenville being in fine condition.

They reached Hendersonville, N. C., early Sunday morning, arriving at Toxaway that noon. The return trip was made the early part of this week, Mr. Wood and his wife reaching Atlanta last night.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 8.—At its session Wednesday in Grace church the Episcopal diocesan council of South Carolina went on record against any change in the name of the church by the triennial general convention to be held in New York City. Four clerical and four lay deputies to the general convention were elected.

The council was not specifically instructed by the council's action will probably influence their votes. The council will adjourn this afternoon.

SCANDAL THREATENS THE ILLINOIS VICE CRUSADE

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 8.—The missing register of the Hotel Sherman in this city, which figures in a secret affidavit presented in the state senate attacking the morality of Lieutenant Governor O'Hara, chairman of the vice commission, was found today.

The affidavit was presented by Deputy Sheriff Richard M. Sullivan; but it was made by another person, whose identity is obscure, so far as the public is concerned. It was produced upon the insistence of the lieutenant governor, who declares that it is part of a conspiracy formed in the underworld by persons whose incomes were threatened by his crusade against vice.

The affidavit is said to state that last January O'Hara and a prominent young woman of Springfield registered at the Hotel Sherman as "T. D. Duncan and wife." A Springfield millionaire and another woman said to have registered as "J. J. Miller and wife," are alleged to have shared the "Duncan" suite. A handwriting expert will compare the signature of "Duncan" with that of O'Hara.

financed his very large holdings upon a temporary basis only by the issuance of secured notes upon short term maturities. It is the purpose of the advisory committee to make a full investigation of Mr. Smith's affairs with a view, if possible, of arriving at some general plan of financing whereby all of Mr. Smith's obligations will be properly protected.

Coincident with the transfer of Smith's affairs, all directors of the various corporations, including both the concerns in which Smith is personally interested and the United Properties corporation and its subsidiary companies, tendered their resignations.

This was done by agreement and to facilitate the work of reorganization.

"COSMOPOLITAN STOCK TO BRING A PREMIUM"

Declares Insurance Commissioner William A. Wright.
Great Future Ahead

That the shares in the reorganized Cosmopolitan Life Insurance company will be at a premium within twelve months, under the able management of the president, J. O. Wynn, is the forecast made Thursday afternoon by Insurance Commissioner William A. Wright.

"The stockholders of the company," said General Wright, "are most fortunate in having such a man as Mr. Wynn and those associated with him at the head of the corporation. There connection with the company has restored confidence and in my opinion it is merely a matter of time before the organization will rank with the foremost in the country."

"It would have been a calamity had the Cosmopolitan been allowed to go entirely to pieces, and those who stepped into the breach with real money and placed it on its feet are the character of men who have made Atlanta what it is today."

"I expect great things from the company with Mr. Wynn at its head and am certain that I will not be disappointed."

HOUSE DEBATES POINT OF ORDER ON TARIFF BILL

Republican Leader Mann
Evokes Applause by Withdrawing His Demand

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 8.—When the house debated the tariff bill, Republican Leader Mann evoked a sound of applause by withdrawing his demand for the reading of the underwood tariff bill. Mr. Payne then presented the Republican motion to recommit the tariff bill with the tariff commission provision the substitute for the wool schedule and instructions to revise the rates according to the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad.

Progressive Leader Underwood endeavored to get in with a Progressive motion to recommit the bill, but Speaker Clark gave prior recognition to Representative Payne and the Progressive motion was ruled out.

Majority Leader Underwood immediately made the point of order that the Republican tariff commission bill was not a germane amendment to a tariff bill.

While the debate on the point of order was in progress Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, with two women guests, took her place in the executive gallery.

Evidence was produced during the proceedings as to the wealth of the Women's Social and Political Union. From a statement by the prosecution it was shown that the rental paid for the union's offices was $5,500 yearly, rising to $11,250.

The case was adjourned until May 31, all the women being allowed bail of $5,000 each, owing to their health.

"General" Mrs. Drummond had a second collapse just before the adjournment.

Campaign for Suffrage Begins in Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, May 8.—A campaign designed to secure equal suffrage in Louisiana was launched here last night at the initial meeting of the Woman Suffrage party of Louisiana, which has been organized along the lines of the big political parties.

"The movement for woman's suffrage is gaining rapidly in the south," declared Mrs. Sake D. Meehan, one of the organizers of the party, "and there is every reason to believe that within a few years Louisiana and perhaps other southern states will have joined the progressive western states which now enjoy equal suffrage."

The speakers announced that militancy would have no part in the new organization, which proposed to win their fight for the ballot solely by means of an educational campaign.

Suffragette Paints Arrows On Bust of Redmond

(By Associated Press.)

DUBLIN, May 8.—Miss Geraldine Manning, who painted green broad arrows on the bust of John Redmond in the Royal Hibernian academy today and attached a card to the bust bearing the words: "A traitor's face is no ornament to our picture gallery," out of vengeance for the vote of the Irish Nationalist members in the house of commons against the woman's suffrage bill on Tuesday, was allowed a week in which to pay a small fine imposed on her by the police magistrate. She said she would not pay and was warned that the consequence would be detention in jail.

LAW STUDENTS COMPETE IN NATIONAL CONTEST

Students of the Atlanta Law school at a recent meeting accepted the invitation of the Prohibition league to compete in the national oratorical contest. Leonard J. Grossman, of the senior class, who won the state championship in oratory at the University of Illinois in 1908, was called upon to outline the details of the oratory contest, and the first Georgia state championship which will be held next year. After a report from Walter Young, traveling field secretary of the national intercollegiate oratorical association. It was decided to follow the example of Georgia, Georgia Tech, Emory, Mercer State Normal and other colleges throughout the state, and a local organization was effected.

Leonard Grossman was chosen chairman pro tem, and permanent officers were chosen from the junior class to make arrangements for the contest next year. The election of president resulted in a spirited contest between R. E. Lee Cone, of Atlanta, and M. J. Woods.

Go and Look In Your Mirror

Gray hair adds fully 10 years to your looks. Go and look in your mirror, and look without seeing those white hairs. Why, your eyes are brighter, and your cheeks actually dimple with pleasure. What a difference those few white hairs make. You'd look five years younger than Mrs. Blank, next door, if it wasn't for those few white hairs, and another year or so and your whole head will be gray!

Not necessarily. We give you our positive guarantee (and our guarantee has never yet failed) that our Robinnair Hair Dye will restore your hair to its own original color and beauty without injuring hair or scalp and it will make your hair soft and keep it in fine condition. It is not a vulgar bleach or artificial coloring. It is a restorative to bring back to the hair its natural color and life.

If you have dandruff you use a hair tonic to cure it; and if your hair is fading and turning gray and lifeless you should use a restorative to renew its life and color. Both troubles result from diseases of the scalp, and there is no more reason why you should reject a pure color restorative than that you should reject a good dandruff tonic. Think this over. Remember, Ten years younger! We prepare Robinnair's Hair Dye for light, medium and dark brown and black hair. Try it immediately with a 25c trial size and see the remarkable result. HOW MRS. BROWN SUFFERED

During Change of Life—How
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made
Her a Well Woman.

Iola, Kansas.—"During the Change of Life I was sick for two years. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I doctored with three doctors but they did me no good. They said nature must have its way. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken twelve bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. D. H. BROWN, 809 N. Walnut St., Iola, Kan.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

This was at the desire of the Press club which at its last meeting requested the president to make the gift.

Madame President and Delegates to the Tennessee Federation of Women's Clubs: On behalf of the Tennessee Women's Press and Authors' club, I present you this gavel. It is a token of a sister's affection, a sister's admiration for the splendid achievements of your organization, for your successful work in philanthropy, in education and sociological endeavor. You have originated plans and brought them to successful fruition—we have applauded them and published them to the world. We are with you in spirit and in reality. You have ninety members—clubs. We have ninety members—individuals and not one of our ninety but is affiliated with the federation. We are sisters, daughters of one mother—Tennessee. You are the elder, larger sister and to you we yield respect and deference.

We ask you to accept this gift, to treasure it and to use it this year and many years. No rough road may it travel. This friendly little gavel! And when we are together May it tap for pleasant weather. May it always be a token Of the Love of which we've spoken As we serenely pen you see Immortal lines for Tennessee.

What is a Real Business Man?

Why, he's the fellow who's right on the job day and night, looking after the leaks, getting ready for a rainy day; keeping the resources well within a safe limit; guarding the credit of the house; reaching out after new business. He's a regular conservator. He's a good man to pattern after—no difference what you undertake. He's the man who's sensible enough to apply business methods to his personal health. When his eyes begin to annoy him—give out easily, strain and will not permit him to do continuous, close work without unnecessary fatigue, he gets busy—has an examination made and gets glasses. That's simply good business. Suffice to say we've been fitting glasses for the southern people for fifty years, and—well, that's sufficient for a real business man to know. Oh, yes, we almost forgot. He's also the fellow who's going to boost for the 1914 Shriners' Convention—and get it.

AWFUL THOUGHTS QUICKLY BANISHED

Thought, at Times, That She Would Die. Saves Herself, Also Young Girls Whose Troubles Were Similar to Hers

Clarksville, Tenn.—Mrs. H. L. Mason, of this place, writes: "I want to write you a few lines in regard to your medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic."

Before my marriage I lived in Evansville, Ind. I suffered very much with womanly trouble. I thought, at times, that I would nearly die with pains in my stomach, and backache.

I saw your medicine advertised, and sent and got a bottle. The first bottle helped me, and I haven't been bothered with any of my old troubles since.

After my marriage, I lived in Mt. Vernon, Ind., and one of my neighbor's girls suffered like I did. I told them to give her Cardui, the woman's tonic, as it would help her, and it certainly did, right away.

I will surely recommend Cardui to all women, for I think it is a good medicine for all kinds of womanly trouble."

If you are suffering from any of the ailments peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, etc., we urge you to give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

It should surely do for you what it has done for thousands of others, in the last half century, who suffered with similar troubles.

Begin taking Cardui today. Your druggist sells it.

MUMPS'LL GET YOU IF YOU DON'T WATCH OUT

Protect Patient and Prevent
Contagion, Says Georgia
State Board of Health

The Georgia state board of health Thursday issued the following bulletin on mumps:

"The danger in mumps, or what is known to medical science as epidemic parotitis, is not so much in the disease itself as in the complications which are liable to attend it. For this reason it is important that the patient be carefully protected against possible complications, and also that precautions be taken against spreading the contagion.

"The cause of mumps has never been definitely determined. Like the majority of the diseases of childhood, it is among the mysteries of medicine. But it is a well established fact that the disease is contagious and can be transmitted from one person to another.

"While infants and adults are rarely attacked by mumps, they may have it, and care should be taken to avoid the contagion. The greatest period of liability to the disease is from four to fifteen years of age.

"Mumps is one of the oldest of known diseases. It was accurately described by Hippocrates, the ancient Greek physician who noted the supuration of the parotid gland, and the secondary inflammation of the sexual organs was even known to him. It does not appear to be limited by climate, though the colder season in the temperate zone is more favorable to it, and it is noted that it is more frequent in prolonged cold and wet weather.

"It has been demonstrated that the contagion may be carried in various ways. A person may contract mumps by being directly exposed to one having the disease, indirectly by coming into contact with a third person who has been exposed to it, or by receiving the infection from some article that has been used or handled by the patient having the disease. The danger of contagion is not so great as in the eruptive fevers, such as small pox, scarlet fever, measles and the like, nor is it ordinarily accompanied by such serious or dangerous complications.

"Nevertheless there occurs occasionally serious and sometimes very painful complications such as sloughing of the parotid glands, painful swelling of the sexual glands followed often by an atrophy or shriveling of these organs. Besides these complications mumps has been known to induce convulsions, meningitis, inflammation of the joints and pancreas, deafness, facial paralysis, Bright's disease and in very occasional cases, loss of memory.

"Because of these possible complications it is well to avoid exposure to the disease as far as possible. Children with mumps should not only be taken from school, but should be isolated, and the same precautions should be taken as in the case of other contagious diseases. While the thorough disinfection of soiled bed and body clothing, including handkerchiefs and cloths used for the collection of discharge from the nose and mouth, is regarded as important in preventing the spread of the contagion, fumigation of the room following recovery of the patient is not regarded as essential.

"In an attack of mumps loss of activity is noted, accompanied by pallor and lassitude, the child may become irritable and complain of earache which will be followed by the swelling of one

ATLANTA'S HOTELS SHOWN IN ATTRACTIVE PAMPHLET

Fred Houser, Convention Bureau Secretary, Gets It Ready for "Dallas"

"That 'we have the hotels and the auditorium' is set out most convincingly and very clearly in a booklet compiled by Fred Houser, secretary of the Atlanta convention bureau, especially for distribution among the Shriners in Dallas while Atlanta's campaign for the 1914 meet is being waged there. The booklet is published in very attractive dress, by the convention bureau.

It is stated, for instance, that the total value of Atlanta's hotels is $7,702,000, counting the Georgian Terrace at $1,225,000, the Piedmont at $1,050,000, the New Kimball at $1,000,000, and the Wincock and the Aragon at $550,000 each. The Ansley is figured at $550,000. They aggregate 141 stories, 2,868 rooms, 1,446 baths.

A further compilation estimates the population now at over 177,000. The bank clearings have grown from over $96,000,000 in 1900 to $291,000,000 in 1912. Other very striking statistics are shown, and the work reflects credit upon the man who did it—Mr. Houser. Ivan E. Allen is president of the Atlanta convention bureau. Other officers are F. J. Paxson, vice president, and J. K. Ottley, with a board of directors composed of more of the best known men in Atlanta.

side of the face. (In a bilateral attack both sides become swollen.) Fever may develop, mildly at first, and going sometimes as high as 104. Even higher temperatures have been noted. The swelling becomes conspicuous from the ear down; the skin, pale, glistening and tense; the tongue coated. Chewing becomes a painful process; difficulty in caring for the mouth may cause bad smelling breath.

"The time which elapses between exposure and development of the disease probably averages a little more than two weeks. Contagion is possible during the entire course of the attack and also several days after the swelling of the parotid glands has disappeared. The patient should be isolated, therefore, for three weeks after the beginning of the symptoms or for ten days after the swelling has subsided.

"There are two parotid glands, one on either side of the face, just in front of and extending slightly below the ear. Both of these glands are usually involved, the patient having what is sometimes called 'double mumps,' or mumps on both sides. The swelling is usually at its height by the end of the third day. It may extend down into the tissues of the neck. After remaining stationary for two or three days, the swelling gradually diminishes and disappears.

"In an attack of mumps the patient should be isolated and a physician called. Applications of warm oil are used with good effect. The mouth should be kept clean with some antiseptic fluid prescribed by the physician. The patient should be kept on a liquid diet and the bowels should be kept open. While it is not necessary that the milder cases should be confined to bed, it is important that they remain indoors during the course of the disease and avoid taking cold, which might lead to complications. If there is fever, it is better that the patient should rest in bed."

CITY WILL HAVE $250,000 TO SPEND IN JUNE BUDGET

This Is the Estimate of Councilman Smith, Chairman of Council Tax Committee

That city tax assessments in Atlanta for 1913 will show an increase of $15,000,000 over the assessment for 1912 is the estimate of Councilman Charles W. Smith, chairman of the tax committee of general council.

He bases his estimate on figures obtained from the tax assessors, who have practically finished their rounds over the city.

The increase in taxes from this source, coupled with increased water receipts and with increases from other departments, will run the city's total increased revenue to $250,000, in Councilman Smith's opinion.

As only a small part of this increase was spent in the January budget, the finance committee, in making up the June budget, will have a substantial margin for deferred projects and projects coming up since January.

It was the policy of Councilman W. G. Humphrey, chairman of the finance committee, not to spend in January any more of the increase than the city was obliged to spend, and this policy was supported by Mayor Woodward.

The committee in June will find plenty of ways to spend all the money available. A number of pressing matters were deferred at the beginning of the year, and others have been put forward since that time.

ATLANTA MAN SUGGESTS
MEMORIAL FOR THE CANAL

The Journal has received a letter from the Rev. O. R. Bourne, of 199 Courtland street, incorporating in it a suggestion for a Panama canal memorial. For the best fifteen suggestions the Southern Commercial Congress has offered free trips to the canal.

Mr. Bourne's letter reads in part as follows: "I feel convinced that you will permit me to state that I have had some knowledge of such structures, having passed through Lessap's canal at Suez on steamship Viceroy from Calcutta to London. Now the Suez canal is mere child's play in comparison to the one now in process of construction at the isthmus of Panama. The latter, therefore, ought to have a suitable memorial. I would in the premises venture to suggest that the most appropriate memorial would be one erected to the memory of the great man who was the first human being to foresee that a canal would some day be constructed across the aforesaid isthmus, connecting the Atlantic with the Pacific ocean, viz. Alexander von Humboldt.

I would further suggest that this memorial take the form of a statue of heroic proportions to be erected on the Atlantic side of the isthmus, in the most prominent position, facing the Atlantic ocean, with an arch overhead bearing the inscription, viz. The End Crowns All, or Conquest Over Difficulties; and underneath the statue itself Humboldt's own name. Respectfully yours, O. R. BOURNE.

Why 1914 Shriners' Meet Should Be Held in Atlanta

BY FORREST ADAIR,
Potentate of Yaarab Temple.

PERSONALLY, I have no doubt about the Imperial Council accepting the invitation of Yaarab Temple and the citizens of Atlanta to meet here in 1914. I have received assurances from more than half the representatives that they will favor Atlanta.

Few cities are as well equipped as we are to take care of a large convention, and with the completion of the Ansley and Winecoff hotels this year, no one need stay away on account of inadequate hotel facilities.

I already have signal contracts with all the members of the Atlanta Hotel association, and with quite a number of the smaller hotels who are not in the association, giving the location and price of the rooms and agreeing to reserve for that week about 65 per cent of their total rooming capacity.

A great number of the representatives have evinced a decided interest in our historic battlefields and many other attractive points of interest around this city.

The Shrine has never met in any of the South Atlantic states; while, on the other hand, they have made pilgrimages in every other section of this country, and a great majority of the representatives are anxious to visit this section and become acquainted with its people.

The spontaneity of the response to our call for an entertainment fund has attracted the attention and admiration of every Shrine, and it is but natural that they should want to see the town which seemed so anxious to entertain them.

Mayor and General Council Extend Cordial Invitation

BY Aldermen VanDyke, McClelland, and Councilmen Knight, Smith, Wood, Hall, Colcord and Abernathy:

Whereas, the Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine will hold a meeting in the year 1914, and these annual meetings are attended by a large number of the most prominent citizens from all over the United States, from all sections of the country, and afford a splendid opportunity for exhibiting to these splendid gentlemen the resources and advantages of the section favored with their gathering; and,

Whereas, many of our own citizens belong to this order and feel a personal interest in having their friends who belong to the order and who attend these annual gatherings, hold their sessions in Atlanta in 1914,

Therefore, Be it resolved by the mayor and general council of the city of Atlanta as follows:

1. That the mayor and general council of the city of Atlanta do hereby extend to the Nobles of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine a very hearty invitation to hold their annual session in 1914 in the city of Atlanta, and we pledge these gentlemen that if they will favor us with their gathering, we will give them a sample of true southern hospitality and will spread before their gaze the industries, beauty and progress of the south in one of the most splendid cities of the world.

2. That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the meeting of the Mystic Shrine to be held in 1913, under the seal of the city of Atlanta, and the representatives from this city be requested to extend this invitation in person to the session of 1913, and urge upon the members to hold the session in 1914 within our city.

Adopted April 7, 1913.

Approved April 11, 1913.

JAMES G. WOODWARD, Mayor.

A true copy.

WALTER C. TAYLOR, Clerk of Council.

And sits before the crackling sparks of December,
And you will be welcome."

"Or, come when Juncus Day stands tip-toe on the eastern Mountain top
And sends her long fingers to fight the night,
And you will be welcome."

Very truly yours,

If the Imperial Council could look into the hearts of every man, woman and child in Atlanta, glimpse the earnestness of desire to have them as our guests in 1914 and realize the royal welcome so ready to be extended, there would be no question as to where the 40th annual session would be held.

More Mischief Likely From the California Bill.

The report that China is preparing to follow Japan in protesting against the California anti-alien land bill is another hint of the many problems that may spring from this mischievous and uncalled for piece of legislation. Chinese ownership of California lands has steadily dwindled within the past few years, just as the Japanese population in that State is steadily decreasing, but a number of Chinese property owners are still there and it is to protect them against possible loss that the Chinese government is said to be contemplating a protest.

The United States would thus be involved in needless differences with two nations whose good will it has hitherto enjoyed and whose trade it hopes to attract more and more in years to come. Why should such issues be provoked merely in order that the political partisanship of one State may carry its point?

The anti-alien bill, if permitted to stand, is likely to bring on all manner of international entanglements and, as President Wilson has said, "what might be long and delicate litigation." Neither the Japanese nor Chinese have heretofore been disposed to question our naturalization law or to seek the right of citizenship under its terms. That act limits citizenship to "free white persons, natives of Africa and persons of African descent." The Supreme Court has not yet been called upon to interpret the phrase "free white persons." The Japanese contend that in an ethnological sense they are "white" and that it is their race lineage, rather their color, which really counts.

If they are forbidden to own land, according to the California bill, on the ground that they are ineligible to citizenship, they will not be slow to assert their claims to the right of naturalization; and the Supreme Court would thus be required to settle an issue which hitherto has been fortunately quiescent. The New York World pertinently asks: "What will it profit the Hiram Johnston demagogues, if in their blithe attempt to put the Democrats into a hole they set in motion forces that may extend our naturalization law to Mongolians. No matter what the result of such a suit might be, the controversy would hardly end with the courts' judgment. After that we should have agitation and legislation and exceedingly troublesome diplomacy. Instead of a little Japanese question, we should have a big one."

The California legislature has approached this issue from an entirely illogical and a very dangerous angle. It has sought to deal with a matter of national diplomacy from a purely provincial standpoint. In an effort to carry a petty point, it has opened the way to far-reaching and embarrassing problems. It is to be hoped that the thoughtful people of California will invoke the referendum and will put an end to this ill-considered and unnecessary measure.

The world do keep moving. Here we hear talk about "flaring" headlines.

At this season, some editors work overtime advising the farmer on how to conduct his business.

We feel much better now that we are assured the winter wheat crop is good. There'll be something to eat, at any rate.

The Law Must Be Enforced.

The firmness and fairness with which he has invariably enforced the law have earned State Game Warden Mercer the public's hearty approval. All thoughtful citizens realize that the new game and fish statute was enacted in behalf of the people's common interests, and that upon its due observance depends the preservation of a very important part of Georgia's resources. It is gratifying to note that all true sportsmen have stood consistently and loyally behind the State warden and his deputies and that as a result the wise purpose of the law is being materialized.

It seems, however, that in the vicinity of what is known as the Banks estate in Berrien county there has been a persistent disregard of fishing rights and that this has now waxed into an open defiance of the State law. There are persons who refuse to recognize the boundaries of private property and who, despite repeated warnings, continue to fish in a pond where they have no rights. Conditions have reached such a stage that the State warden has decided to go in person to the scene of the trouble and endeavor to adjust the present difficulties by moral suasion, if he can, but by a resort to the law's full power, if he must.

We are sure that in this timely and rightful mission he will have the support of the rank and file of all good citizens in Berrien county. There are individuals in every community who fail to see where their personal liberty ends and their neighbor's or the public's rights begin. Their point of view is due sometimes to ignorance and sometimes to a wilful disregard of the law. In any event, they cannot be permitted to set up their own wishes against the common interests.

The law which Mr. Mercer is charged with enforcing was enacted to protect the State's game and fish and also to protect the owners of property. Under the duties of his office, he cannot make exceptions or extend special favors to any one. He goes to Berrien county as the representative of the State, as the executor of an important law, as the protector of important interests. He goes as the agent of all the people. He should receive and, we believe, will receive the co-operation of every good citizen in seeing that the law is respected.

Real love never discovers that the burden it brings is too heavy.

We once knew a weather forecaster who sometimes forgot his umbrella.

THE INCOME TAX

I.—THE SIXTEENTH AMENDMENT.
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The ratification of the sixteenth amendment to the constitution and the determination of the Wilson administration to follow it up with an income tax law marks one of the most important pages in the history of American taxation. It probably represents the beginning of a new era in the application of the revenue raising policies of the Federal government. On the one hand it settles many questions about which there has been much dispute, while on the other hand it opens up new fields of argument and contention which will probably figure in the forum of American politics for many years to come. It, therefore, becomes of paramount interest among the questions in the public mind. And, moreover, it gives to the people an issue they can feel, a tax that they do not pay unconsciously. A person who buys something upon which a customs duty has been levied knows nothing of what the government levies upon him in the transaction—unless he happens to be coming through one of the ports and gets held up for duties on what he has bought abroad. But the salaried man who finds $50 deducted from his salary to pay his income tax knows it with a good deal of certainty.

The sixteenth amendment came about in a rather unusual way. When the congress met to make the Payne-Aldrich tariff law there had developed a widespread sentiment in favor of an income tax. The revenues of the government were not meeting the expenditures, and nearly everybody agreed that the tariff was already too high. In looking about to find some other source of revenue most eyes fell upon the income tax. It is true that there was a supreme court decision which had declared the income tax an unconstitutional tax, if levied without apportionment among the states, but that decision was made by only one majority, five to four, and after a divided court had failed to declare it unconstitutional. And so it was that many people felt that the supreme court was wrong on its second thought. This feeling was the more pronounced because every previous decision during a hundred years seemed to have been reversed by the second decision of the court.

There was a determination in some quarters to put the matter up to the court again, and at one time it looked as if the proponents of the Bailey-Cummins amendment to the Payne-Aldrich law, providing for the enactment of an income tax law, would be able to muster enough votes in the senate and house to pass it. At this juncture President Taft came upon the scene with a message to congress expressing the view that the supreme court had taken away from the Federal government a power it was generally supposed to have had, and one that it undoubtedly ought to have. He added that it might be necessary for the salvation of the country in time of a great crisis.

He said, however, that he thought it would be much better to make sure of that right through the medium of a constitutional amendment than by putting on the statute books a law already there and never repealed. He thought it would not add to the popular confidence in the courts for congress to enact a law upon lines that had been declared unconstitutional. It may be said in passing that Mr. Taft, as well as many another statesman, fell into an amusing error concerning the income tax of 1894, when he said it was still upon the statute books. As a matter of fact, the very second line of the act provided for its own expiration by limitation in 1900.

He, therefore, recommended that congress pass a constitutional amendment to constitutionalize an income tax law, and that, pending the passage of such an amendment, a corporation tax be levied. Many members of the senate and house professed to see in this an effort to prevent the immediate passage of an income tax law, and for the time being opposed it. Finally, however, they accepted the inevitable and joined in voting to send the amendment to the legislatures of the states for ratification. Many of them thought that those who backed the amendment were doing so as a means to choke off impending income tax legislation and to strengthen the supreme court's last decision by offering the amendment and have it fail of ratification by the states. Then, they contended, the court further could say that the people had rejected the income tax idea and that it was not for the court to set up what the people had thrown down.

But in spite of all these conflicting ideas, the proposed income tax law failed of passage, while both houses of congress promptly gave the states the right to say whether they wanted an income tax law or not. If any of these who voted for the amendment did so under the assumption that it would first defeat the proposed income tax law and then be defeated itself by the non-concurrence of twelve states, they reckoned without their host, for the sixteenth amendment is now a part of the supreme law of the land.

But it did not become the sixteenth amendment until it had first revealed that question may arise concerning its interpretation almost as serious as those concerning the "direct tax" clause of the constitution, which it was aimed to settle. Mr. Justice Hughes, now of the supreme court, was governor of the State of New York when the legislatures were asked to ratify it. He recommended that it be rejected, one of his grounds of objection being that it would tax state, county, and municipal bonds, and therefore give the federal government practically complete domination over the states. The amendment says: "The congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several states and without regard to any census enumeration." It was contended that the words "from whatever source derived" gives to congress the unquestioned power to tax state and local securities to whatever point it chooses, even to the point of destroying the credit of the divisions issuing them.

It would seem to the lay mind that "from whatever source derived" would include everything, and so a great many people hold. They contend that inasmuch as it is the last word it naturally repeals anything inconsistent with it. On the other hand, such a lawyer as Senator Root opposes this doctrine. He contends that the amendment does not enlarge in the slightest the scope of the taxing power of the federal government, and that its only effect will be to relieve the exercise of that taxing power from the requirement that the tax shall be apportioned among the states. So we see that if the present congress shall enact a law incomes derived from state and local securities there will probably be another great legal fight and another income tax decision. It is generally believed, however, that while congress will not waive its power to tax such securities, it will not embrace them in the forthcoming law.

Fortune Found in Tin Can

The curiosity of his eight-year-old son, Wayne, made Walter Ulrich, a Decatur barber, the possessor of $3,000 in gold which the barber's father had hidden away in a small can before he died, nearly six years ago.

Ulrich at one time proposed to his wife that they abandon an old trunk containing old clothing when they moved, but sentiment prevented, and it was placed in a coal shed. Mrs. Ulrich was examining the contents, and came upon the can, thought to contain putty.

The boy was curious over its weight, and prevailed on his father to open it. Ulrich knew of the existence of the money, but had never been able to locate it.—Exchange.

Democracy and Organization

BY DR. FRANK CRANE
(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

There can be no democracy without organization. A democracy whose units do not work together, where there is no co-ordination, will fall to pieces.

A monarchy, a tyranny, can get along without organizing the people. In fact, where the people have no team-play, there is where the despot is needed. Having no intelligent unity they must have an artificial unity, the unity of a superimposed brute force.

We fear standing armies. But such armies, in the days of Rome, were perfect machines composed of only a small number of people, and they ruled only because the rest of the populace was not drilled to keep step. In a true democracy the whole population—men, women and children—should be a standing army, not necessarily to march and shoot, but, under equal discipline, to sow, reap and sell.

All despotisms have been due to a lack of organization among the common people. So nowadays, in the loose individualism of the city, any compact band of drilled men can control them. Hence we have the political party and the boss system. A dozen ignorant, selfish, unscrupulous men, if well organized, can govern a thousand intelligent and honest people who will not get together.

The reason why democracy is impossible without organized unity is this: Democracy means a government in the interest of all the people, even the weakest, and the only power great enough to secure the weakest man his rights is the organized power of the whole state.

Where everything is left in a condition of free competition, human society is like the jungle of wild beasts, and the strong devour the feeble. In the United States a few powerful men, powerful by natural shrewdness or by having certain privileges, have exploited the populace for their own personal gain. They did this by co-operation, by forming trusts.

The only way to remedy this is for the people to form a better and stronger trust, to make of the state a trust able to swallow up the beef, milk or railway trusts. You cannot go backward and make the trusts become competitive; a social consolidation once formed cannot be turned back to individualism; the only thing to do is to go on—is to organize the whole people into a trust.

There is no freedom worth the name except in perfect organization.

A state of pure individualism or anarchy always invites the Man on Horseback and the Robber Baron.

Freedom in a state keeps pace with organization; and in degree as each man does as he pleases tyrants prosper, whether feudal duke or Chicago ward boss.

The political party, the business trust, the ecclesiastical hierarchy, and all partial gettings-together of men are but drills and preliminary "setting up" exercises, wherein mankind is practicing for the coming organized world militia, and world business house, in which every living person has a responsible part.

We now have government "of the people"; it can become government "for the people and by the people" only by complete organization.

I do not advocate Socialism; it connotes too much. But, unless we secure an Organized Democracy, we shall have by and by no Democracy at all.

More Punch in Sermons

With the hope of putting more of a punch into their sermons, about three-score pastors of various local congregations met to take strenuous physical exercise in the old English Street Reformed Presbyterian church, under the direction of W. Earl Flynn, who has come to conduct a public health campaign in Pittsburg.

The subject dwelt mainly upon deep breathing as a means of warding off the blues and inspiring vigor into daily life. Under the supervision of Mr. Flynn the shepherds of the different flocks inflated and emptied their lungs for half an hour, becoming more enthusiastic with each breath, until the effects resembled a miniature windstorm or the resonance of windy blasts in the chimney.

Mr. Flynn impressed upon his followers the necessity of breathing deeply to secure the proper punch in their sermons. He declared that as the lungs formed one of the greatest factors in obtaining and maintaining good health, deep breathing kept a man in perfect working order and contributed to his daily working efficiency. One of the exercises consisted of doubling the fingers so as to form a hole, and then exhaling the breath through the aperture until a minimum of air remained in the lungs. Mr. Flynn declared that this exercise was one of the greatest preventives of cures for consumption, as the case might be.—New York Sun.

Enforcement of Law in Georgia

(New York Evening Post.)

It is so much easier to agitate for a new law than to press for the enforcement of an old one that the Georgia communities which are waking up to the dangers connected with the carrying of concealed weapons, and are proceeding to apply the legal penalty to the practice, are to be commended. More indictments for this offense have been presented at the current session of the superior court of Colquitt county than ever before. This is attributed to "the vigilance of the officers, rigid investigation by the grand jury, and to a growth of public sentiment in favor of the law's strict enforcement." This last is the element of real hope in the situation. Officers and juries will not long continue to enforce a law which misrepresents public opinion. In these Georgia communities, indictments have been followed by convictions and the imposition of heavy penalties.

May 2.—With A. Gutterman the poet to the tennis court and the day very hot, but as I like it and we played 2 sets, each gaining one, and then both did defeat Mr. Wilson and Mr. Hunter. Thence home to dinner, where are come H. Clark the barrister and Mistress Marion and later came Mistress Alma who brought with her a bottle of brew called Swedish Punsch, very pleasant and I did have 3 glasses, but was no merrier and gayer than my won.

3.—Up very betimes and to my office and read all my letters by half-past eight and then to the court, where I played against C. Beebe and trounced him and then we did play with D. Taylor and Mistress Jane, but of those games I did take no accounting. Thence all to the ballpark in C. Beebe's petroleum-wagon and we did see Mr. Chance's team to lose again, poor wretches. But the jeers that the people in the stands did make I was wroth at, and I am sorry that the fan is so poor a sportsman. Thence home and in the evening my wife and I did go to meet Mistress Alma and J. Wise the cotton-goods salesman and did go to an outdoor publick where we had dainties and drink, which cost me less than 12s. Read how the women did parade this day through the town for votes, and how Mistress Milholand led them, and I would I had seen it, but did not, with my selfishness for tennis.

4.—Up and at my scrivining all the morning and then to call on Mistress Jennie Crisp, the fairest of the Hollis family. With R. Beach to the tennis-court and there met L. Graves and Mr. Martin the scriveners and W. Hayward and did play, sometime with this partner, sometime with that, and with my best skill, too, but L. Graves did play better than any one ever played against me, and a pleasant opponent he was, too, albeit my side did seldom win. In the evening to Nelly Tyler's to see her and H. O'Higgins and Mistress Anna who are all to go to Europe on the morrow-day and Harvey begged that he be allowed to send letters to my journal of his doings, which I may let him do. Saw Mistress Inez there, and she told me she is going to Scituate on Monday, so I did bid her farewell till a long time.

THE EDIBILITY OF EDISONITY.

Sir: In the April, 1911, Journal of the Amer. Soc. of Mech. Eng. I note a discussion of the Edison roll crusher. Viewed from an engineering standpoint, one of the most vital questions agitating the minds of the American people at the present day, and a problem which is palpably militating against the reduction in the h. c. or l. is that of subdividing the irrefragable case-hardened rolls served in the restaurants into units of a convenient size. This problem has presented itself to every diner out, and it is gratifying to find that such men as Mr. Edison are applying themselves to the same problem. Perhaps a modification of the machine could be made so as to render edible the property sandwiches served in the cafes Sunday evenings, although this is perhaps too much to expect.

200 ATLANTA SHRINERS GOING TO CONVENTION

Leave Friday Night, Confident of Getting 1914 Convention
for Atlanta

Two hundred Atlanta Shriners will leave Friday night for Dallas, Tex., to attend the annual Shrine convention. As everybody knows, including Memphis, they are going after the 1914 convention for Atlanta.

And as everybody in Atlanta knows, and as Memphis knows but won't admit they are going to get it. The Shriners have made pilgrimages to every part of the country except the southeast, and next year they are coming into this section.

To come into the southeast means to come to Atlanta, the Gate City of the South and the railroad center of this whole territory.

Known far and wide as the convention city of the south, Atlanta, in bidding for this convention, has eclipsed all her past convention achievements and offers to the Shriners the most remarkable invitation ever laid before them.

WHAT ATLANTA OFFERS. She offers upwards of $75,000, raised in one day by the people of Atlanta to entertain them.

This not only is the largest entertainment fund on record for a Shrine convention, but also it is about the most astonishing evidence of civic spirit that the Shriners ever heard of. Naturally they are anxious to visit a city that offers them such convincing proof of its desire to entertain them. But $75,000 is not all that is necessary to take care of the Shriners' convention.

ABUNDANT HOTELS. There must be hotel facilities, and Atlanta has them in abundance. With twenty-two hotels already, Atlanta is now completing two more, big and fine and up-to-date, the Ansley and the Wincoff.

Forrest Adair, potentate of Yaarab Temple, has contracted with the hotels of Atlanta for 65 per cent. of their total rooming capacity for the dates embracing the 1914 convention.

He will take these contracts with him to Dallas, and will be prepared then and there to place thousands of Shriners to their places one year in advance. This one piece of enterprise alone is a record breaker for Shrine conventions and is bound to impress the delegates in Dallas with the fact that Atlanta is prepared to take care of them.

PLANNING FOR YEARS. Forrest Adair has attended every Shrine convention in the last fourteen years. He has been leading up to a Shrine convention in Atlanta a good part of that time. His plans are built from the ground up. No detail has been overlooked. He knows what it takes to handle a Shrine convention, and his preparations are complete.

Over half the representatives to the Dallas convention have assured him they will favor Atlanta as the place to meet in 1914.

He is still hearing from representatives, by letter and by telegraph, who tell him they will be there with the votes when the time comes.

That the convention is coming to Atlanta there is practically no doubt.

HOW PARTY TRAVELS. The Atlanta party will leave at 10 o'clock Friday night from the Terminal station over the Southern railroad and will arrive in Dallas at 5 o'clock Sunday morning.

They will make short stops en route at Birmingham, Ala., Meridian, Miss., and Shreveport, La.

They will occupy a special section of the train consisting of a Pullman dining car, several Pullman sleepers, and a Pullman tourist car for Yaarab temple's drum corps.

PERSONNEL OF PARTY. Yaarab's four official representatives are Forrest Adair, W. A. Foster, John A. Hynds and Claude H. Hutcheson, the latter of Jonesboro.

The Arab Patrol of Yaarab temple, forty strong, will go with their dress and fatigue uniforms. They are as follows:

Captain J. O. Seamon, First Lieutenant H. C. Ashford, Second Lieutenant F. V. Van der Veer, First Sergeant C. W. Ferguson, Quartermaster H. H. Milner and Patrolmen Albert Akers, C. E. Barber, J. J. Barnes, Jr., W. D. Benson, F. M. Brotherton, George F. Arnold, E. A. Burnett, G. I. Butler, A. B. Chapman, R. E. Church, Frank Cundell, E. E. Cunningham, J. C. Deavors, George Freeman, L. H. Geiger, H. H. Green, J. L. Grier, J. C. Jones, M. E. McGee, M. N. Nixon, T. A. Nixon, R. S. Osborn.

FATHER SEEKS FOR LITTLE SON WHOM HIS MOTHER KIDNAPED

Here is little four-year-old Earl Parker and J. M. Parker, his father. The boy was mysteriously spirited away Wednesday afternoon by an automobile party of two men and two women. One of the latter is said to be the boy's mother, against whom Mr. Parker filed suit for divorce in the superior court Wednesday morning.

City detectives and the police are searching for four-year-old Earl Parker, who was mysteriously spirited away from the home next door to his father's, J. M. Parker, at 102 Jett street, Wednesday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock, by a party of two men and two women who drove up in an automobile.

At the time Parker was at work at the Continental Gin company and learned first of his loss from the lad's cousin, Mrs. O. M. Parker, with whom he lives.

According to Mrs. Parker, the automobile party stopped on Kennedy street, a street that runs parallel to Jett, and walked through to the house. She recognized one of the women in the party as Mrs. Lula R. Parker, mother of the child, against whom Parker filed suit for divorce in the superior court Wednesday morning.

They had not lived together for nearly a year, she said, the woman having gone back to her home in Birmingham, Ala., East Lake station, Route No. 2.

"When the child's mother came in with the two men and another woman," said Mrs. Parker, "little Earl was asleep on a pallet. She asked where her baby was, and I showed him to her. I an instant she had him in her arms."

Charles E. Quarles, A. B. Rogers, Louis Stahl, E. R. Sumner, L. G. Teasley, John Terrell, E. T. Timm, E. D. Tompkins, W. A. Upchurch, W. D. Walt, G. W. Woods, J. C. Wright and Cliff Lochridge.

Among the Shriners who will go as independent delegates to the convention are the following:

Fred Houser, J. C. Greenfield, S. L. Dickey, W. R. Joyner, H. G. Martin, J. B. Jacaway, Fred Patterson, Graham Phelan, J. Lee Barnes, Ben Coley, J. F. Carson, Fred Van der Pool, J. F. Walt, George Beck, Jesse E. Couch and James Kempton.

Others were making reservations throughout Thursday and still more will make reservations Friday. Many will be seized by the convention fever at the last moment and hasten to make their arrangements to go.

YAARAB DRUM CORPS. The Yaarab drum corps is an independent organization formed by the temple for Shrine conventions and other occasions when the temple holds ceremonials and makes public appearances. It is composed of fine-looking fellows who are expert in handling the characteristic drum corps instruments, and they make a fine showing in their red coats and white trousers.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL FIELD DAY HERE NEXT SATURDAY

All Schools Will Compete for Prizes at Ponce de Leon
Park

The annual field day exercises of the grammar schools of the city will take place at Ponce de Leon park next Saturday, May 10. The morning exercises will begin at 9 o'clock and last until noon. The afternoon exercises will start at 2:30 and last until 5 o'clock p. m., when the prizes will be awarded. There will be a first, second and third prize in each event.

The boys' exercises in the morning will consist of the 100-yard dash, running high jump, standing broad jump and chinning the horizontal bar. For the girls, the morning exercises will consist of throwing the basketball for distance, the 75-yard run, standing broad jump and running high jump.

In the afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock there will be running exercises for the primary grade children. There will be two contestants from each grade, the children ranging in age from seven to ten years.

At 2:30 p. m. there will be the big butterfly "roundel." In this there will be 600 children, representing all the fourth grades in the city. This is known as an aesthetic event.

The flag exercises, familiarly known as the mass drill, in which 1,400 children will participate during the national colors, will follow the "roundel." The children will each carry two American flags, and one of the events of the drill will be to form the American flag with the children representing the stripes and bars, according to their costumes.

The procession to the grounds will be headed by the veterans of Camp Walker, who will be escorted by a bevy of the prettiest young girls in the city. The motion picture men will be on the job, and the public who are not so fortunate as to get out on that day, when the exercises will be free to all, will have the opportunity of seeing the same thing in the motion picture houses in the city later on.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted which Foley's Honey and Tar Compound helped to alleviate. L. P. O'Neil, 221 California St., Omaha, writes: "My daughter had a severe cough and cold but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound knocked it out in no time. My wife would not keep house without it. We have used it for years, always with good results." For sale by all dealers. (Adv.)

Owing to the fact that the hall is being used for another purpose, there will be no rehearsal of the Atlanta Music Festival chorus Thursday night. On Monday evening, however, the regular rehearsal will take place at 8 p. m. and a full attendance is requested.

The chorus will sing shortly at an auditorium concert before thousands of Presbyterian delegates gathered from all parts of the country.

HAWTHORNE'S PAROLE TO BE WEIGHED THIS WEEK

United States Parole Board Is Now Considering Applications, Including His

The case of Julian Hawthorne, applicant for clemency from the United States government, now a prisoner in the Atlanta penitentiary, will have been acted upon before the end of the current week, it was learned Wednesday.

The parole board, composed of Robert V. LaDow, president, of Washington, and Warden W. H. Moyer and Prison Physician J. C. Weaver, of Atlanta, began its session for the present four-month period on Tuesday, and by Wednesday afternoon had disposed of some thirty cases of the 110 applications before it.

Among those applications yet pending, it was known, was that of Hawthorne, son of the American novelist, convicted upon a mail fraud charge, recently received at the prison to begin his sentence. The Hawthorne application, it was stated, will be ready for approval or rejection before the board meets again on September 5; wherefore the board will act upon it this week. The session is expected to last during the remainder of the week.

CELEBRATES EIGHTY-NINTH BIRTHDAY WITH REUNION

A family reunion of thirty-nine children and twenty-one great-grandchildren marked a memorable gathering at Grant park Tuesday when the descendants of H. A. McLarin, of Fairburn, Ga., met with him in celebration of his eighty-ninth anniversary.

Mr. McLarin was born in Campbell county where he has resided all of his life. He is a veteran of the Civil war and saw four years of service under the stars and bars.

All of his sons and daughters were present, aside from the grand children. They were W. H. McLarin and R. P. McLarin of Fairburn; and C. S. McLarin, of Felton, Ga., Mrs. W. H. Browne and Mrs. J. M. Camp, of Atlanta, Mrs. J. R. Miller, of Green Cave Springs, Fla., Mrs. N. F. Smith, Mrs. F. E. Norton and Mrs. R. W. Holloman, of Fairburn. Among the immediate friends of the family present were two Civil war comrades, Captain George F. Lorgino, of Fairburn, and T. O. Smith, of Decatur.

The event was a happy one and will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to be present.

Praise This Remedy For Lung Trouble

If the voluntarily written words of grateful people, living in all parts of the country, praising Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for the treatment of coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles, are to be believed, this medicine is certainly doing a vast amount of good for such sufferers. This is a sample taken from many:

"Gentlemen: About seven years ago I was attacked with Tuberculosis. I coughed incessantly, could not sleep at night, even could not speak out loud and could do no work. I had three hemorrhages, raised blood most of the time and suffered with night sweats, fever and chills. A specialist of Columbus, Ohio, pronounced my case hopeless.

"Nearly five years ago I heard of your Alternative and procured some at once, with the result that I soon found myself restored to health. I consider your medicine, if faithfully taken, a most excellent remedy. Mother Superior permits this testimonial."

(Signed) Sisters of St. Francis. (Above abbreviated; more on request.)

Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stomach Colds and in up-building the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all Jacobs' Drug Stores and other leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of remedies and additional evidence. (Adv.)

The "Decatur Section"

SOME OF THE RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN THIS GROWING SECTION OF DEKALB COUNTY

The Mayor and Council of Decatur have let contracts for PAVING parts of COLLEGE AVENUE, CANDLER STREET, M'DONOUGH STREET, JEFFERSON PLACE and PONCE DE LEON AVENUE IN DECATUR. Part of this work is now under way.

The GOOD ROADS COMMITTEE of the Decatur Board of Trade has let a contract for macadamizing CANDLER STREET from the corporate limits of DECATUR to Morgan street, and the work is now being done.

MORGAN STREET in EAST LAKE is now being laid with macadam and tarvia binding, to meet Candler street.

PONCE DE LEON AVENUE is now passable for vehicles from the GEORGIAN TERRACE to the beautiful Court House Square at Decatur, and this beautiful Avenue will soon be an exact counterpart of EAST LAKE DRIVE.

WHEN ALL THIS WORK IS COMPLETED DURING THE NEXT THREE OR FOUR MONTHS, DECATUR WILL BE AT THE CENTER OF THE BEST SYSTEM OF DRIVEWAYS OUT OF ATLANTA.

TILE WALKS are now being laid on KINGS HIGHWAY and CHURCH STREET; thus completing modern sidewalks for these streets to the corporate limit of DECATUR.

The NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDING, the second in three years, is now being constructed in DECATUR.

Many NEW homes are being erected at East Lake, Oakhurst, Kirkwood, and in other parts of the "DECATUR SECTION" as well as in DECATUR, itself.

The people of KIRKWOOD, one of the most attractive parts of the "DECATUR SECTION," are TURNING THINGS UPSIDE DOWN, grading and macadamizing streets, laying concrete curbs and walks, and building new homes in every part of the town.

The STONE MOUNTAIN ELECTRIC LINE extending from Decatur through INGLESIDE, SCOTTDAL, and CLARKSTON, to STON MOUNTAIN is opening up a beautiful NEW country, a most important addition to the "DECATUR SECTION."

DEKALB AVENUE from Mayson's Crossing to Kirkwood, is now being laid with vitrified brick, making another MODERN driveway through KIRKWOOD and OAKHURST to DECATUR.

What is BOUND TO HAPPEN WITH ALL THESE MODERN IMPROVEMENTS GOING ON IN THE "DECATUR SECTION?"

Ride through this section and see for yourself. Send for Booklet.

Good Advertising Is News.

Manufacturers, merchants and others who use the advertising columns of THE JOURNAL no longer regard their expenditures in the light of expense, but of investment.

Now that advertising is purged of exaggeration and untruth, the reading public, especially those thousands of Journal readers who receive the paper at their homes, take as much interest in the advertisements as they do in the other news.

After all, Journal advertising is news of the most interesting, instructive and profitable kind.

And if it is a good investment for the advertiser to place his news before you constantly; it is equally profitable for Journal readers to read attentively the valuable information thus imparted.

WHITEHALL STREET GRADE UP FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Street Committee to Take Final Action on Big South Side Project

The street committee of council will meet at 2:30 Friday afternoon to take final action on the proposed new grade for Whitehall street, which has been hanging fire with the committee for several weeks.

The project involves not only the regrading of Whitehall street from Mitchell street to Brotherton street, but also the regrading of South Forsyth street and the regrading of several cross streets between Mitchell and Brotherton streets.

The property owners who favor the project want the city to appropriate $25,000 in the June sheet, to which they will add $20,000 raised among themselves. This $45,000, combined with convict labor which they expect the city to furnish, will complete the Whitehall street part of the project.

HEN LAYS BIG EGG SIX DAYS IN WEEK

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
FORSYTH, Ga., May 8.—J. R. M. Britt of this county, has a hen, has several in fact, but he has one in particular and that she isn't the hen that laid the golden egg, she's about as valuable. This Mrs. Hen isn't content to lay ordinary eggs; any one hen can do that, she is more ambitious. She lays six times a week she lays an egg that is double the size of an ordinary hen egg and several of these eggs when put upon the scales weighed over three and a half ounces. And her value consists not alone in the size of the eggs, but in the fact that she constantly lays them this size.

MISSISSIPPI REMAINS ALMOST STATIONARY

Crest of Flood Water Has Passed Most of the Dangerous Places

(By Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, May 8.—The Mississippi river gauges from Natchez south to the gulf remained almost stationary during the past twenty-four hours and the water at New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Donaldsonville probably not too much higher during the present flood. The return water from the Gibson's Landing crevasse is pouring back into the Mississippi so slowly at Red river landing that the crest of the flood in the main river appears to be passing ahead of it.

Today's gauge readings for the lower river at 7 a. m. were: Natchez 50.4, a fall of 0.1 in twenty-four hours; Red river landing 50.6, a rise of 0.1; Baton Rouge 41.2, stationary; Donaldsonville 32.7, a rise of 0.1; New Orleans 20.1, a fall of 0.1.

BANDIT SHOT BY A MILLIONAIRE IDENTIFIED

Train Robber Who Fought J. M. Short in Pullman Believed to Be Wm. LaTrasse

(By Associated Press.)
KANSAS CITY, May 8.—That the robber who last week held up a Kansas City Southern train here, then shot J. M. Short, of Joplin and escaped with $1,100, is William LaTrasse, who escaped from the Wyandotte county (Kansas) jail two years ago, after being convicted of train robbery, was the theory put forward by detectives today. LaTrasse, at the time of his arrest, was said to be wanted in Chicago for the murder of a saloon keeper, and in St. Joe, Mo., where he escaped jail.

LaTrasse was convicted of holding up a Missouri Pacific passenger train in the suburbs of Kansas City, Kan., Christmas night, 1910. He served five years in the Missouri penitentiary for robbery. A bloody shirt picked up in the weeds along the railway tracks between Courtney, Mo., and Eaton's Tower, four miles east of Kansas City, early today, encourages the posse that since yesterday afternoon it has been upon the trail of a wounded man, believed to be the robber.

The court granted the stay, pending the decision of the Supreme Court. The court granted them leave to renew the motion if the appeal cannot be prepared in the fifteen days allotted by law.

SAVES ELDERLY PEOPLE FROM KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Sleep Disturbing Bladder Weaknesses, Backache, Stiff Joints, Rheumatic Pains Disappear After Few Doses are Taken.

While people along in years are naturally more subject to weak kidneys, they can avoid the tortures of backache, and rheumatism, and be saved the annoyance of getting up at night with disagreeable bladder disorders, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly relieves the most severe and obstinate cases. Croxone relieves these conditions by removing the cause. It is the most wonderful remedy ever devised for ridding the system of uric acid. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. Croxone makes the kidneys filter the blood and sift out all the poisonous acids and waste matter that cause these troubles.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up, inactive kidneys like water.

Aged Financier Who Broke Down Under Pujo Probe Seems Much Improved

(By Associated Press.)
BRIAR CLIFF MANOR, N. Y., May 8.—William Rockefeller, whose health was so shattered last February that he nearly collapsed when the congressional committee investigating the "money trust" attempted to take his testimony, is believed to be enjoying comparatively good health. The capitalist, who reaches his seventy-third birthday the latter part of this month, walked from his home here down to the Briar Cliff lodge, where the executive committee of the American Bankers' association was holding its session, yesterday and inquired where the crowd came from. When he learned of the nature of the gathering he made no effort to meet any of the bankers, his throat weakness still troubles him. He seemed, however, much improved in general health.

MONTGOMERY TO PROBE KILLING IN JAIL

Governor O'Neal Demands Immediate Investigation of Killing

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 8.—Members of the Montgomery county grand jury will assemble in special session Monday at noon to investigate the shooting of Bernard Tarver, a prisoner in the county jail, by Will J. Fuller, Montgomery attorney, last Montgomery, the killing of a negro by Terbert Jovey, negro, near Mount Meigs, Wednesday, and the death of David A. Thurman, who was killed by Morris Hannon, a negro, last Thursday.

Judge Armstrong Brown Thursday called a special term of the grand jury and instructed the sheriff's department to summon each member to appear for the investigation. No mention was made of the alleged crimes to be considered, but it is known that the shooting of Tarver by Fuller caused Governor O'Neal to request an immediate investigation by the grand jury. Fuller rushed into the jail Monday and toward the cell where he thought Morris and Jim Hannon were confined and fired a shot, which struck Tarver, Thurman, who was killed by Morris Hannon, was Fuller's brother-in-law. Jim Hannon was held as an accomplice.

Herbert Ivey killed Allen Morgan and seriously injured Gus Reynolds when he found them with his fiancée at a negro school building near Mount Meigs Wednesday afternoon. He surrendered at the county jail Thursday.

RECOVERING HEALTH

Aged Financier Who Broke Down Under Pujo Probe Seems Much Improved

(By Associated Press.)
BRIAR CLIFF MANOR, N. Y., May 8.—William Rockefeller, whose health was so shattered last February that he nearly collapsed when the congressional committee investigating the "money trust" attempted to take his testimony, is believed to be enjoying comparatively good health. The capitalist, who reaches his seventy-third birthday the latter part of this month, walked from his home here down to the Briar Cliff lodge, where the executive committee of the American Bankers' association was holding its session, yesterday and inquired where the crowd came from. When he learned of the nature of the gathering he made no effort to meet any of the bankers, his throat weakness still troubles him. He seemed, however, much improved in general health.

MONTGOMERY TO PROBE KILLING IN JAIL

Governor O'Neal Demands Immediate Investigation of Killing

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 8.—Members of the Montgomery county grand jury will assemble in special session Monday at noon to investigate the shooting of Bernard Tarver, a prisoner in the county jail, by Will J. Fuller, Montgomery attorney, last Montgomery, the killing of a negro by Terbert Jovey, negro, near Mount Meigs, Wednesday, and the death of David A. Thurman, who was killed by Morris Hannon, a negro, last Thursday.

Judge Armstrong Brown Thursday called a special term of the grand jury and instructed the sheriff's department to summon each member to appear for the investigation. No mention was made of the alleged crimes to be considered, but it is known that the shooting of Tarver by Fuller caused Governor O'Neal to request an immediate investigation by the grand jury. Fuller rushed into the jail Monday and toward the cell where he thought Morris and Jim Hannon were confined and fired a shot, which struck Tarver, Thurman, who was killed by Morris Hannon, was Fuller's brother-in-law. Jim Hannon was held as an accomplice.

Herbert Ivey killed Allen Morgan and seriously injured Gus Reynolds when he found them with his fiancée at a negro school building near Mount Meigs Wednesday afternoon. He surrendered at the county jail Thursday.

NO CONGRESSMEN PRESENT AT FUNERAL OF MARTIN

Wilson Tells New Jersey Delegation That Martin, if Alive, Would Have Them at Post

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 8.—For the first time in the history of congress so far as capital historians can say, a dead member of congress is being buried today without the attendance of an honorary delegation of his colleagues.

Many members of the New Jersey delegation wanted to attend the funeral of Representative Lewis J. Martin at Newtown, N. J., but the probable passage of the tariff bill kept them in Washington.

Fourth Game Is Dropped; Clean Sweep

Mobile Defeated the Cracker Bunch in Concluding Game. Cavet Hit Out Home-Run. Brady Did the Hurling.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MOBILE, Ala., May 8.—By trouncing the Cracker 5 to 3 yesterday afternoon, the Mobile Gulls made it four straight from the Smiths and a clean sweep of the series.

The result of the games has proven one thing; that Atlanta's pitchers are the easiest of easy pickings for the local club, since all of them without exception have been badly beaten in this series.

Brady was the one to get his bumps yesterday. He was all to the wild and was dropped rather terrifically. The King gave up six bags on balls and was touched for nine safeties.

Both the Mobile hurlers had the Cracker at their mercy. Robertson, who started on the firing line, retired the visitors in one, two, three order in the first inning; but was taken ill and had to quit the box. Pug Cavet finished the game and allowed but four hits.

The Cracker got their three runs in the fifth. Welchance beat out a hit to third, Smith singled to center, Blisland doubled, scoring Welchance and sending Smith to the corner cushion. Rode and Graham batted out a couple of sacrifice flies, which scored the runners.

Mobile scored in the first three innings and the sixth. Three bases on balls and Blisland's error forced one across in the opening session. Schmidt's wild throw to first made another in the second.

In the third Clarke walked, stole second, and went to third on Graham's bad peg. Robertson was walked and stole second. Campbell singled and both men scored. In the sixth Cavet hit a homer over the fence.

TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, May 8.—Nashville will make its first appearance of the season here today engaging New Orleans in the first of a four-game series. The visitors did not arrive until noon. Manager Schwartz, however, notified the local club his battery would be Fleeharty or Case with Noyes catching. Manager Frank was undecided whether McIntyre or Breton would be sent to the mound. Yantz will be behind the bat. The weather is clear.

MOBILE, Ala., May 8.—Chattanooga opens with Mobile today for a four-game series, and notwithstanding the fact that the visitors are near the tail end of the percentage column, they are expected to make better showing than Atlanta, on account of what is considered a better pitching staff. Covaleski will probably be on the mound for Chattanooga, according to Manager Elberfeld, with More in reserve and Street behind the bat. H. Berger will pitch for Mobile with Schmidt receiving. Weather ideal.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 8.—With only three points in the percentage separating them from the fourth place in the league standing, Birmingham and Memphis will this afternoon play the first game of their initial series upon the local grounds for the present series.

MOBILE TOO HIGH IN SOUTHERN RACE

Admitted That Mobile Has a Good Ball Club, but Not as Good as Percentage Table Shows

BY JULIAN MURPHY.

With the first month of the Southern league race a matter of history just three clubs—Mobile, Atlanta and Nashville—have been able to keep their heads above the middle way mark in the percentage column. Of this trio the Mobile team is undoubtedly playing above its form, Atlanta just about at the right clip and the work of the Nashville Volunteers remains quite a mystery.

MOBILE GOES TOO GOOD.

While there is no denying that Mike Finn has a good ball club it is not near the class it is now showing. Mike has a good infield, star receiver in Schmidt, a trio of hard-hitting outfielders and pitchers who have had enough work in this league to know the calibre of the hitters. The team's percentage on Wednesday stood at .769, which is way and above the percentage any pennant winner should have in a race.

The present spurt of the Mobile club cannot last. It is unreasonable to even suppose that such conditions could exist throughout a Southern league race. It takes good ball playing with all the luck in the world to keep up such a winning streak and this luck won't stick with the same club forever and a day.

Last season in the American league race the Chicago club began at a clip something like that now maintained by Mike Finn's team. Callahan and his tribe just set the woods on fire for some five or six weeks and then struck the natural gait of the team, finally winning up in fourth place with a percentage of .506. During the first month of the race the White Sox played about .750 ball just as Mobile is now doing. However, the present Mobile team looks to be better than a fourth place team. In fact it may go out and cop the pennant, but never by any such percentage as it now holds.

ATLANTA IN AND OUT.

The Atlanta club has to date played in and out ball. The club can always hit hard and often, but at times does not make the best of all its opportunities, this more than the work of the pitchers, being the cause of the loss of several games. In several games recently the Cracker bunch has out-hit the opposition and yet lost the game. Such a happening once in a while is easily explained, but when it comes up so often there is some fault in some one scoring department.

The biggest disappointment to date is the showing of the Chattanooga club. Kid Elberfeld has a good ball team and it has no business camping down around last place. His pitching staff is as good as any in the Southern league and with the team fielding and hitting in fair shape it does look as if more games should be won.

Another big disappointment has been the Birmingham pennant winners. While it was admitted that the loss of Almeida, Jimmy Johnston and Clarence Smith hurt the club no one ventured an opinion that it would result in Molesworth grabbing a round in the pennant ladder as low as sixth place.

The Nashville and Montgomery teams are puzzlers. Nashville with the present team is traveling above form while it does look from the personnel of the club that Montgomery should be a bit higher. Dobbs has some mighty good ball players working for him and is bound to hold a good berth. New Orleans is expected to finish low in the race if more good men are not added while Memphis is entirely unknown.

Ex-Atlanta Manager Now With Empire League Club—Succeeds Whitey Morse—Wants Few Good Players

Otto Jordan, once manager of the Atlanta club, recently with Chattanooga and Memphis, and incidentally one of the most popular ball players that ever wore a Southern league uniform, is now manager of the Valdosta team, in the Empire league. Otto is playing manager.

The deal which took Otto to Valdosta was finally wound up Wednesday evening and he at once left for the Georgia city, taking with him Farriss, an Atlanta boy, who covers first base. In taking up his duties as manager and second baseman, Jordan supplants Whitey Morse, an ex-Atlanta shortstop. Right now the Valdosta club is going rather badly, and the fans hope for a complete change under Jordan's management. Reports state that, with the exception of first base, catcher and two places in the outfield, the Valdosta team is a jam-up organization, and it is not expected that Jordan will have any big trouble in filling these places. Already he has his eye on several good men, and may be able to land them within the next few days.

With Jordan goes the good wishes of every Southern league fan who has seen him work during his seven years in the league. This popular veteran has gone back very little in the past few years, and right now can turn out a jam-up article of ball.

RAG CINCHED BY B. H. S.

Making a total of fourteen hits for thirteen runs, Boys' Hi easily defeated Marist in what started out to be one of the best games in the Prep league.

The first thirteen men who faced Callahan went out in regular order, and nine of them fanned the air. But in the fifth B. H. S. started, and, getting with the scrubs and the game with the Red and Black for the semi final games of the season. That the Yellow Jackets will go with every odd against them is an admitted fact, but that they will go with the determination to fight every play is also an admitted fact.

Coach Heisman had the boys go through every known baseball play Thursday afternoon, besides a game with the scrubs and the game with the Red and Black for the semi final games of the season. That the Yellow Jackets will go with every odd against them is an admitted fact, but that they will go with the determination to fight every play is also an admitted fact.

Newton and Snell will be the battery for the locals while Hardgrove and Newton will be the battery for the Marist. Weather clear and pleasant.

BASE RUNNING IS MAIN HOPE OF TECH IN GEORGIA BATTLES

Speed Is Biggest Asset of Atlanta Collegians—Hard Work Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon the Jackets put in a hard workout, the last real hard workout of the present season, for on Friday they go to Athens to tackle the Red and Black for the semi final games of the season. That the Yellow Jackets will go with every odd against them is an admitted fact, but that they will go with the determination to fight every play is also an admitted fact.

Coach Heisman had the boys go through every known baseball play Thursday afternoon, besides a game with the scrubs and the game with the Red and Black for the semi final games of the season. That the Yellow Jackets will go with every odd against them is an admitted fact, but that they will go with the determination to fight every play is also an admitted fact.

Newton and Snell will be the battery for the locals while Hardgrove and Newton will be the battery for the Marist. Weather clear and pleasant.

It was really an inspiring sight to look at the team practice Thursday afternoon. They knew to a man that the whole spring work was looking upon them as a bunch of losers and yet they fought the whole way through. There was more spirit shown than ever before and all lovers of the game are promised a real treat when the umpire tells the impatient crowds that play is ready to start.

Last fall in football, all fans will remember the remarkable fight that the men put up against the Georgia giants and how they fought with them for every inch gained. That fight is to be mild compared to the fight to be put up Friday if what the different players say have anything to do with it.

Here is what the Yellow Jackets are really counting on. The diamond at Georgia is extra fast and all college teams that have played there this year have found it too fast for their style of ball and therefore a great many errors were the result. Tech has a diamond that is every bit as fast as the Georgia diamond and then some.

The Georgia men are confident, that the Yellow Jackets are going to put up a good fight and will therefore be a hit on edge, therefore the odds are not so bad as they seem at first. Tech has everything to win and nothing to lose. Georgia has everything to lose and everything to win. If they win the series they are undisputed champions of the south. If they lose they are not undisputed champions of the south. If Tech wins they will have nothing but the glory of beating Georgia. If they lose, they have lost nothing but the games. Odds are odds but the games will be worth going miles to see.

Pitts will pitch the opener with Attridge doing the receiving. Amason will be the pitcher for the second sack while Donaldson holding down the short stop place. Moore will play third. In the outfield Malone will play left, Woodson center and Pound right.

TWENTY-FIVE MOTOR RACERS IN OPENING MOTOR EVENTS

All of the best known motorcycle racers of California are now en route to Atlanta to enter the opening meet on May 20 at the handsome new motor-dome being erected on North Jackson street by Jack Prince. The boys who come here to show the Atlanta people just how interesting the motor racing game really is have been starting the westerners for many months, and it is expected that their work here will be equally appreciated.

Grading on the track has been progressing rapidly, and by Saturday it is expected that enough of the track will be in place to allow training. The members of the Atlanta Motorcycle club have planned to visit the track in a body on Sunday, and watch the racers work out a bit. All the riders who are to compete in the big meet on May 20 will be on hand several weeks in advance to get accustomed to the track, so as to prevent any great danger of collisions or accidents of any kind.

It is expected that twenty-five riders will compete in the opening races on the new track. This will necessitate from five to seven being on the track at the same time, all of which should prove decidedly interesting and exciting.

Here are a few of the riders who are now en route here and will appear in the races the opening night: Monty Graves, Los Angeles; A. McNeal, Edinburgh, Scotland; Henry Lewis and Fred Luther, Fort Worth, Texas; J. Lockner and S. A. Shields, Providence, R. I.; Wilmer Richards and Henry Schwartz, Dallas, Texas; Ed Harmon, Milwaukee, Wis.; Dave Kenny, Pasadena, Cal.; Al Ward, Los Angeles, Cal.; George Renal, Paris, France.

GULLSLED CRACKERS

Figures on the recent disaster which overtook the Cracker club at Mobile bay go to bear out the belief that it was not only bad Atlanta pitching, but bad Mobile hitting and poor Atlanta fielding which helped the Gulls to a four-game sweep.

K. O. Brown Lost
NEW YORK, May 8.—Sam Robideau, a Philadelphia lightweight, defeated Johnny Lore, of this city, in a fast ten-round bout here last night. Leo Houck, of Lancaster, Pa., outboxed George (Knockout) Brown, of Chicago, in a ten-round contest.

Ole Miss Cops
ARKADELPHIA, Ark., May 8.—Errors on the part of the Henderson college players made a victory, 15 to 6, easy for the University of Mississippi team yesterday. Wade, pitching for Henderson, also was hit freely.

GOLF STARS IN TOURNEY

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 8.—Local golfers are working steadily for the southern tournament at Montgomery in June. From present indications Chattanooga will have at least a dozen representatives, the majority of whom will be the younger players of the country club. Among the coming cracker are: Garner, Watkins, Ted Coy, the Yale athlete; Scott, Probasco, Ernest Martin and Warren Dewees. Watkins especially has been showing remarkable form during the spring.

The local course is now in excellent condition and consistent play is now being noticed in strong comparison to that of a month ago when the greens were in bad shape for accurate putting.

MUENCH HAS OFFERED PRIZE TO RUN GETTER

The Atlanta player making the largest number of runs during the Southern league season is to receive a handsome diamond scarf pin. This trophy has been hung up by Henry Muench, the well known jeweler, and promises to make 'em all work.

Joe Agler, Bill Bailey, Tommy Long and Wallace Smith, now look to have the best chance for the pin, but there is no telling what will happen during the next four months.

TWO PITCHERS SIGNED; MORE CHANGES LIKELY

Not Known What Manager Smith Will Do Regarding Changes in His Club—Good Hurlers to Be Turned Adrift

Pitcher Al Furchner and Bill Chappelle, the former once a member of the Sioux City Western league club and the latter with the Chattanooga team, have been signed by Manager Billy Smith if reports from Mobile are to be believed. With the signing of these two pitchers George Bausewein has been returned to the Charlotte Carolina league team from which he was secured.

Manager Smith has become disgusted with his hurling staff and is out to make a big bunch of changes right away. Some of the hurlers have been given a good trial and others have not. Unfortunately some of the hurlers have been bothered with sore arms, caused from the bad weather at the start of the season, and have not had a chance to show their true worth. However, the majority of them have the goods and should be claimed by some other club in this league where they will likely star.

Bill Chappelle is a good pitcher but at that he has not done any especially good work with the Chattanooga club. Just why Kid Elberfeld, manager of a club in last place, is letting him go is not known.

Pitcher Furchner was with the Mobile team during the practice season. He has not been worked this year and last season did not play baseball at all.

From what has been hinted at those who communicated with Manager Smith it is probable that many other changes will be made in the personnel of the Atlanta club. No hint as to what the changes will be has been made, but at any rate it is serving to keep some of the players in the air regarding what is to be done with them.

Musser Works Opening Game With Dobbers

Manager Smith Out to Break Losing Streak Which Was Started in Mobile—Four Games With Montgomery

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 8.—Two teams want to break losing streaks here today—the Billikens, who have been dropping games steadily for some time past, and the Crackers, who have just dropped all four games to Mobile. One or the other will get the jinx, one or the other will get the win.

Dobbs will send Snyder, his new recruit, to the mound, with Gribbens relieving. Cotton Knaup, who has been signed by the Billies, will report today and will probably be in the line-up. Manager Smith will send Musser to the pan, and Joe Dunn will catch. The weather was clear and cool early this morning.

THE REWARD.

St. Helena Napoleon knew
When fate slipped in the fatal toss;
And in the rain the crimson dew
J. Caesar knew the double-cross.

Kid Alexander knew the spear
And Socrates the hemlock cup;
You'll find across each great career
That most of them went down--not up.

But oh, how soft Napoleon's fate
Or Caesar's on the barren banks,
Since, standing at the bitter date,
The peerless Leader's met the Yanks.

Once more arise and slip it to old Doc Time--the greatest kiddier of them all. The clash incarnate today finds the Tigers with Jennings and Ty Cobb pitted against Frank Chance. And the soul-stirring duel--the battle to the death--is for last place.

Do you appreciate to the full, G. Reader, just what this means? Six years ago Jennings and Chance were fighting out the world's championship. That was in 1907. Each won a flag again in 1908, and they were again the Main Blokes in the Big Show of the year. Jennings was on top again in 1909, while Chance resumed his sway in 1910. Here in three of the four years, Jennings and Chance were battling for the big prize of the game at the head of pennant winning legions. They were the two pennant monopolies of the game. There was no one close enough to be called second.

It has now been five years since these two great leaders have met. They are now in the throes of another duel--but not for the championship of the world. The battle is simply to decide which of the two shall be eighth and which seventh in an eight-club league. From a fight for a world's championship to a battle for eighth place is only another tip as to what Time can do if given long enough to operate. The shift is exactly the same as if five years from now John McGraw and Connie Mack were battling against one another to keep out of last place in the same league.

It would be of some interest to the psychologists to know just how Jennings and Chance feel when they meet again on the battle field, and each one turns with a thought to past years. Chance, in that old clash, was a victor. He had a greater club and in the two championship combats won something like eight out of the nine games played.

The game has produced startling shifts before, but we recall none equal to this Jennings-Chance affair. "And the last shall be first." The prophet who expounded that dope knew something.

THE CLASH OF SECTIONS.

There are several interesting features connected with the two intersectional clashes now on. The first is the rival showing of the Athletics and Senators along the western highway. These two clubs have conquered in the east and are booked as rivals for the American flag. They have traveled at a fairly even clip and their showing in the west will furnish a big bunch as to the ultimate outcome.

Another segment of the dope worth inhaling involves the showing of the hard-hitting Cubs against the pitching talent the east has ever shown. Evers must send his clan against Rucker, Allen, Ragon, Matheson, Teserau, Demaree, Marquard, Seaton, Alexander, Chalmers, Tyler, Perdue and James.

There will be hardly a game in which the Cubs will not be called upon to face first-class pitching. It isn't likely the still great machine can continue winning battles by the margin of 8 to 6 or 9 to 7. The Cubs to win must produce better pitching than they have shown--or the finest batting ability the game has known for some time.

Western teams in the American league have only two clubs going well to face. These two are Washington and Philadelphia. Western clubs in the National have the hardest eastern schedule on hand they have ever tackled. The Giants are fully as strong; the Phillies look better, and so do the Dodgers, and even the lowly Braves.

ELBERFELD'S WIFE HURT WHEN HORSE RAN AWAY

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 8.--Mrs. Norman Elberfeld, wife of "Kid" Elberfeld, manager of the local ball club, together with her mother, had a narrow escape from death Monday afternoon, when her horse ran away on the Tennessee river bridge. Both were thrown out and are now confined at a local hospital, but are suffering only from severe contusions and nervous shock.

Birmingham Youngest Manager

The Naps, of Cleveland, boast the youngest major league manager in captivity in the person of one Dode Birmingham, now in his twenty-eighth year. Likewise, the Athletics have their Connie Mack, who celebrated his fiftieth birthday last September, the oldest pilot in the big leagues.

But Pittsburgh shouldn't worry. Although Fred Clarke, boss Buccaneer, cannot vie with either Mack or Birmingham, he can claim the long-distance manager-of-one-team record. Also he is the only big league manager born in the great and glorious state of Iowa. Clarke was born on October 3, 1872, and is in his forty-first year. He has been manager of the Pittsburgh baseball club since his start in 1900. This year's campaign will be the fourteenth he has conducted from the conning tower of the Pirate craft. Mack comes next in this respect. He assumed charge at Philadelphia in 1901.

Mack, Clark Griffith and George Stallings were born in the sixties. Managers born in the seventies are Clarke, Jennings, Dahlen, McGraw, Callahan, and Chance. Four leaders, Tinker, Dooten, Stahl and Huggins, appeared in the year 1880. Stovall was born a year later. Evers in 1883 and Birmingham in 1885.

The Empire state furnishes big league teams with four leaders, these being Birmingham, Bill Dahlen and the two Johns--McGraw and Evers. Massachusetts boasts of Callahan and Mack, Missouri of Stovall and Griffith, and Ohio of Huggins and Dooten.

The average age of the American league pilots is thirty-eight years, of the National league leaders thirty-seven.

The figures below will show in what years and in what state the sixteen managers were born:

Name	Club and Where Born	Year
Mack	Athletics, Massachusetts	1862
Stallings	Boston N. Y. L., Georgia	1862
Griffith	Washington, Missouri	1869
Jennings	Detroit, Pennsylvania	1870
Dahlen	Brooklyn, New York	1871
Clarke	Pittsburgh, Iowa	1872
McGraw	N. Y. N. L., New York	1873
Callahan	Chicago A. L., Mass.	1874
Chance	N. Y. A. L., California	1877
Tinker	Cincinnati, Kansas	1880
Dooten	Philadelphia N. L., Ohio	1880
Stahl	Boston A. L., Illinois	1880
Huggins	St. Louis, N. L., Ohio	1880
Stovall	St. Louis, A. L., Missouri	1881

GORDON TEAM IS AT HOME

BARNESVILLE, Ga., May 8.--The Gordon baseball team returned Saturday from Gainesville, where two games were dropped to the Riverside team. These games brought an end to the road schedule, and from now on the scene of battle changes to Summers' park.

On Friday the fast team of the Georgia Military college comes for two games. These two teams recently played in Milledgeville, each winning a game. Gordon will bend every effort to win both games and thereby take the series. Coach Bailey is putting his men through a careful practice this week, and with an even break in the luck hopes to get away with the series.

On May 16 the University School for Boys of Stone Mountain will come down for one game. Gordon lost to this bunch at Stone Mountain but hopes to even up matters here. The last games of the schedule will be played with the University of Florida on May 19 and 20.

Evers, Chicago N. L., New York ... 1883
Birmingham, Cleveland, New York ... 1885

A Good Foundation of Much Importance

It is by far better to grow the things that will earn the most money and that can be converted into cash the quickest than it is to continue, even though you need certain things, to grow them at a loss when something else that would occupy your time would make a far greater profit. For instance, if a person has land that will only make one hundred bushels of corn per acre and his needs call for a larger amount of corn, it is folly for him to continue to grow corn when on the same land he could grow potatoes that would produce probably three hundred bushels per acre that would bring just as much per bush as the corn, with practically the same labor. As you can readily see, he could buy three bushels of corn for the same money and use the same efforts he was producing one bushel. This same thing applies to a man who is raising horses, cattle, hogs or poultry. How much more profitable and how much more satisfactory is it for him to produce animals or fowls when he knows he can do so and has a market for them that will readily sell for three times as much money as something that he is wasting his time on that will only bring one-third the price. This is being done by probably 75 per cent of the people in the United States. Not only with their farming operations, but in many other walks of life.

How often do we see a man cultivating one hundred acres of land to produce the same amount of bushels of products that probably his neighbor is getting off of one-third the number of acres. When we see and know these things, it is folly for us to continue further. It is by far better for us to wipe out and start over anew, get right, start with the right kind of foundation, and while it looks foolish to throw away or make a sacrifice of work that has already been done, it is far more profitable in the end to make a change and get started right and reach goal so much quicker by doing so.

If every man will set his ideal and start out to do a certain thing, if he will be patient and work to that end, it will come to him almost before he knows it, and in the last years of life usually succeed with his efforts, and at a time when it is most needed he will have something that will make him independent and be lasting to the end. But there are few people who think of this in the beginning. It is one of the causes of hard struggles that continue year by year by many and at the end of time find many people no better off than they were in the beginning. A wrong start or a wrong beginning will surely keep one working everlastingly, but a right foundation and a right start in life cannot help but mean success and profit and happiness in the end. Look around you and see for yourself people who have stuck to their certain purpose, and in nine cases out of ten you will find these people independent and well fixed to bridge the storm during their late days of life.

In no line of life does this more forcibly apply than in the selection of a farm, a permanent home, a herd of cattle, hogs, a flock of chickens and even in the selection of seed that produce your crops. You cannot be too careful in this respect and too much thought and study cannot be given to these details. It is noticeable every day and on every hand, and a close observer cannot help but see and notice these facts. Happiness and prosperity will surely come to those who give these little matters more thought and study in their start.

Yours very truly,
Longy Brown

QUESTIONS ASKED AND ANSWERED.

QUESTION.

Trenton, Fla.
I want you to please tell me what to do for my turkeys. I have lost three grown hens. They all die drop up, eat very little, if any, seem to thirst for water, and their actions are yellow, almost like the yolk of an egg. Also, I have some Indian Runner ducks starting. Tell me how to care for them, and if they can get wet in a pool of water without injury.
S. A. S.

ANSWER.

Your turkeys evidently have what is known among turkeys as a liver trouble, which is caused either from drinking impure water or eating unsound food. This is very common among turkeys, and in most cases it is brought about from drinking stagnant water. By feeding good, sound food with some cod liver oil, you will find that they will get much relief. When either turkeys or chickens get out of their systems should be thoroughly cleaned, and any good liver medicine will usually do this work if not delayed too long. A large lump of cod liver oil twice a day gets quickly, and there is no danger in straining a bird when given this, which is often the case when cod liver oil is given. When elevating a bird's head so as to pour oil or any other substance down its throat it will get in the wind pipe and strangle the fowl. Therefore, a large lump of cod liver oil in the mouth is the safest and best way to give a bird a dose of medicine. This acts similar to cod liver oil. Turkeys are hard to doctor when they once get sick, and if allowed to run several days, it is almost impossible to cure them. Little ducks should have only what water they will drink while eating for the first week or ten days. They will not drown in a pool of water, but will get wet and become chilled. Therefore, until they are started good, they should have only sufficient water to drink, or a shallow vessel that they cannot get into and will not drown in. Call in a little booklet telling how to care for ducks. If the instructions in this book are followed carefully, you will have no trouble in raising them.

S. A. S.

QUESTION.

Blairsville, Ga.
Will you kindly tell me through The Semi-Weekly Journal what the trouble is with my chickens? I have a hen and a rooster that are very badly crippled. The hen has been so for two or three months, the rooster for two weeks. I have examined them closely, but cannot find anything wrong with them. Their legs are perfectly limber, but seem to be very sore. They do not use them at all. They have dry sleeping quarters, free range and a grain feed once a day. They are White Leghorns. I only have three and a rooster, so if you can give me a remedy for them I will appreciate it very much.
MRS. M. H.

ANSWER.

From description given your chickens either have rheumatism or they have been hurt in some way, and as a rule chickens that have been affected as long as you say yours have will not recover. If so they will be unfit to breed from. The best thing to do would be to kill them. Sick chickens are not worth attempting to cure unless they are very valuable and only have a slight ailment.

REPUBLICANS OPPOSE CIVIL SERVICE ORDER

Were Willing for Fourth-Class Postmasters to Go Under Service-Object to Exams

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 8.—Republican senators today began to look into Postmaster General Burleson's plan to require 50,000 fourth-class postmasters to go under the civil service by former Presidents Roosevelt and Taft to pass competitive examinations or lose their jobs. Some of the senators who have looked into Mr. Burleson's plan and have read President Wilson's executive order requiring such examinations, are not certain that persons already in the service can be made to stand a competitive test to retain the positions they now hold.

Wholesale opposition to the confirmation of persons who may be chosen in such examinations to succeed those now in office probably will not be resorted to by the Republicans who endeavor to convince the country that the order is entirely political.

WILLS WINS PRIZE IN ORATORICAL MEET

(By Associated Press.) COLUMBIA, S. C., May 8.—Alvin Lamar Wills, representing Transylvania university, won first honor in the third annual contest of the southern intercollegiate oratorical contest, held here Wednesday night. Second place was won by Lloyd H. Smith, of the University of South Carolina. Mr. Wills' subject was "American Waste," and Mr. Smith's subject was "The United States and Peace." The next annual contest will be held with Vanderbilt university, in Nashville, Tenn. C. C. Gregory, of that institution, was today elected president of the association, and L. H. Smith vice president, and G. W. Follin secretary.

CENTRAL IS ASKED TO REDUCE RATES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 8.—Officials of the Central of Georgia railroad will fore the railroad commission within the next two weeks in answer to a citation to show why its passenger rate should not be reduced from 3 to 2 1/2 cents. The victory of the commission by the decree of Judge W. I. Grubb of the federal court which held that the commissioners could not be held in contempt has given it renewed hope and it will continue to hear the railroad cases.

TRAVELERS FLAG TRAIN ON EDGE OF FIERY TRESTLE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) COLUMBUS, Ga., May 8.—One Atlanta man and two Columbus men prevented a serious wreck on the A. B. & A. by the discovery of a burning trestle and flagging the train just before it reached the scene yesterday, according to reports reaching the city from Tallapoosa, Ga.

According to information received, E. E. Lord and Charles Barr, of Columbus, and a Mr. Parsons, of Atlanta, all traveling men, were in an auto out beyond Tallapoosa and reached what is known as "Big Liza" trestle over a creek, when they discovered it on fire, burning in six different places, which clearly indicated firebugs.

The through passenger train was due at this point in a half hour of the time, which would have given the trestle just about time to burn to the water's edge. The men succeeded in putting out the flames and waived the train, that an examination might be made before it passed over. The matter has been reported and detectives are on the scene investigating with a view of locating the guilty party or parties.

TRY TO HOLD UP SEATING OF WHALEY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) CHARLESTON, S. C., May 8.—An effort is being made, it is commonly reported here, to prevent the seating of L. S. Whaley, who was elected a week ago as the representative of the First district in the sixty-third congress as the successor of the late George S. Legare.

Mayor Grace, who actively opposed Mr. Whaley in supporting E. W. Hughes in the Democratic primary, is said to be behind the movement. Excessive use of money in securing the nomination is said to be the basis of representation of the charges against Whaley.

Considerable interest is being taken in the story. Whaley is now in Washington, awaiting the receipt of the certificate of election to be forwarded to the clerk of the house by Secretary of State McComb. Mayor Grace is also in Washington.

NEGRO DELEGATE TO MEET OF A. A. IRON WORKERS

FARMER SHOT TO DEATH; FLED FROM CALABOOSE

Member of Posse Claims That Killing Was an Accident

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) SOPERTON, Ga., May 8.—W. L. Radney, a farmer, who was convicted of braggarting a meat market here Wednesday night, was shot to death Thursday morning by a member of a posse, who claims that the killing was an accident. Radney is alleged to have been killed by a shot from a gun in the hands of Lee Keen, of the posse.

The posse, which was formed to rearrest Radney, consisted of Mayor Lamar Holmes, Lee Keen, J. W. Mart and Town Marshal Wade. Radney was found about four miles from town.

ENGLISH OPPOSE ROAD BY GOVERNMENT IN ALASKA

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 8.—Opposition to government aid for Alaskan railways was expressed today to the senate territories committee by O. L. Dickinson, manager for Close brothers and other English debenture holders of an existing route from Skagway to the interior. He declared that the companies in which his principals were interested would open a water and rail route to Fairbanks on June 1. A government line, he said, would send them into bankruptcy.

Under cross-examination Mr. Dickinson declared he was not prompted to his attitude by the fact that Close brothers were partners with the Guggenheim-Morgan syndicate in the Copper River railroad.

TWO OF STEAMER'S CREW HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

(By Associated Press.) QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, May 8.—Two of the crew of the steamship Merion, which arrived here this morning from Philadelphia, are being kept under close supervision until the vessel reaches Liverpool.

They are suspected of being connected with the murder of Lindsay, third engineer of the steamship, whose body was found in the Delaware river after the Merion had sailed from Philadelphia on April 27. It was learned that blood stains were found on the steamer, leading to the suspicion that the murder was committed on board and the body of the victim was thrown into the river.

"Uncle Joe's" Card Table Auctioned on His 77th Birthday

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 8.—The card table of former Speaker Cannon, around which many notable statesmen have met in games of chance and skill, yesterday went under the auctioneer's hammer for $16, and the gas lamp which shed its rays upon those who sat around the board brought $125.

The sale was attended by about 200 persons, many of them women, the wives of men prominent in official life, who sought articles as souvenirs. The house which the veteran legislator occupied during his long residence here is being renovated and will be used as a boarding house.

Ex-Speaker Forgot That Wednesday Was Birthday

(By Associated Press.) DANVILLE, Ill., May 8.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon, former speaker of the house of representatives, forgot he had a birthday yesterday until late in the afternoon, when he returned home and found numerous telegrams congratulating him upon his 77th anniversary.

The ex-speaker during the day took a long drive and attended the dedication of two churches. At dinner a monster birthday cake made by his two daughters, shared honors with a huge vase containing seventy-seven American beauties. In the evening twenty prominent citizens gave him a surprise party.

ALABAMA PLANS FIGHT ON FOES OF COTTON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 8.—Warnings against the boll weevil, caterpillar and boll worm have gone out from the state department of agriculture. The mild winter will cause them to appear earlier than usual and farmers have been advised that now is the time to prepare for a campaign against them.

"Our winter was the mildest in many years," said Reuben F. Kolb, state commissioner of agriculture, yesterday, "and it was not cold enough to kill insects. Boll weevils, caterpillars and boll worms will show up in a very short time."

G. O. P. TO FIGHT EFFORT TO OUST NEGRO OFFICER

Senators Will Oppose Confirmation of Colcock to Take Negro Bob Small's Place

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 8.—Republican senators of the commerce committee today added one more name to the list of President Wilson's nominations they expect to fight. It was that of Franklin P. Colcock, named to succeed Robert Small as collector of customs at Beaufort, S. C.

Small, a negro, aided the Union army in the Civil war and according to the Republicans, long has been an object of attack by Senator Tillman and other southern senators. Under the plan for reorganization of the customs Smalls would have about six weeks more, to serve, and Republicans intend to oppose any attempt to put in office a new man for that short period.

Colcock's name was ordered favorably reported to the senate today, and the Republicans served notice of their intention to fight.

INSURANCE COMPANIES FIGHT QUO WARRANTO

JEFFERSON CITY, May 8.—Attorneys for the fire insurance companies that have ceased writing business in this state owing to the anti-trust insurance law, today filed in the supreme court demurrers to the quo warranto proceedings instituted by Attorney General Baker, claiming that the information does not set forth a cause of action.

The great "talking pictures," hailed as the greatest invention of the age, are being shown local theater-goers for the first time at the Savoy theater. The pictures were put on Wednesday morning for the first time, and will continue several days. As the first feature the Savoy management showed a scene from one of the operas, the two characters singing the beautiful duet, "Come With Me to Arcadia." The feature was quite a treat to the Savoy patrons.

That the talking pictures will become popular throughout the United States is evident from the favorable comments heard everywhere they have been shown. Truly, the pictures are a remarkable improvement in the motion picture industry. Seated in front of the audience cannot but believe that the figures on the screen are real and that the voices are their own. It is difficult to describe the wonderful impression one has after seeing one of the pictures.
