Bluff City Will Make Determined Fight for 1914 Conclave of Nobles of Mystic Shrine

YAARAB TEMPLE HAS HALF OF THE VOTING STRENGTH

Atlanta Shriners Had to Stop at Vicksburg, Miss. - They "Wouldn't Let 'Em Over the River"

BY RAYMOND DANIEL,
Journal Staff Correspondent.
On board the "Yaarab" Special, Vicksburg, Miss., May 10.—Every indication now points to Atlanta securing the 1914 conclave of the imperial council of the nobles of the Mystic Shrine. It developed Saturday that the Yaarab temple of Atlanta has what seems to be positive assurances of one-half of the voting strength of the imperial council. Atlanta will be chosen at Dallas next Wednesday or Thursday, when the selection of a convention city is made.

Memphis will make a hard and determined fight and there, of course, is a probability that the Tennessee city may win.

The Atlanta Shriners, however, are much encouraged and will carry their fight to the convention floor if Memphis should win the decision in the committee.

"ALL FOR YOU!"
The fact that Atlanta is fighting for the big conclave has traveled far ahead of the "Yaarab" special. At Meridian, Jackson and Vicksburg the local shriners were placards in their hats "Atlanta, 1914." "We are all for you!" were the cries of every town where Shrine special stopped.

Round after round of entertainment has met the "Yaarab" Special. Vicksburg greeted the nobles with the same cordial enthusiasm that Meridian gave.

The nobles from Atlanta were guests at a luncheon at Vicksburg, which, with the Meridian breakfast, caused Atlanta Shriners to wonder if they would be able to withstand all the hospitality that is ahead.

The invitation from Jackson for a long stopover had to be declined on account of schedule connections, but a large crowd was at the station to cheer the nobles.

THEY HAD TO STOP.
The Shriners were compelled to stop at Vicksburg. A telegram was received at Vicksburg signed by the Vicksburg Shriners, which read: "Have arranged to entertain Atlanta Shriners this afternoon. See Potentate Adair and insist that he arrange to stop at least one."

YOUNG QUITS CONGRESS IN FAVOR OF A MOOSE

Republican From Michigan Says Votes Intended for Opponent Thrown Out of Count

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Representative H. Olin Young, Republican of Michigan, announced in a speech in the house today his intention of resigning his seat in congress. He said the contest instituted by William J. McDonald, a Progressive, saying 458 votes intended for McDonald had not been counted for his opponent, and he did not feel justified in holding his seat.

The state board of canvassers issued a certificate to Mr. Young declaring he had received an apparent majority of 251, after 458 ballots, cast by mistake for "Sheldon William J. McDonald," had been thrown out. Mr. Young declared the 458 electors intended to vote for McDonald and that he did not feel justified in holding the seat.

Mr. Young discussed at length the legal question involved in the canvass of the vote, saying the board of canvassers, in throwing out 458 votes cast, and the state courts, in upholding the decision, had acted in strict accordance with the Michigan election laws. He said he had delayed taking action to await a full investigation of the case.

"I am now convinced," he said, "that the 458 votes in dispute were counted for the contestant, the verdict would not be in my favor. I am convinced that those 458 electors intended to vote for William J. McDonald, and, while, under the law, he is not entitled to those votes, I do not care to hold a seat that may be questioned by honorable and disinterested men. I therefore have prepared my resignation and will forward it to the secretary of state of Michigan and will file a copy with the speaker of the house."

In a husky voice Mr. Young reviewed his association during his ten-year service in the house and expressed his regret at leaving.

MAYOR OF SOPERTON AND THREE OTHERS HELD FOR MURDER

Grand Jury Returns True Bills Against Mayor Holmes, Chief of Police Wade, J. Wyatt Martin, Lee D. Keen

$4,000 BOND IS MADE BY ALL FOUR PRISONERS

They Were Indicted Following Killing of Will Radney, Refugee From Justice - Claim Killing Was Accidental

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
SOPERTON, Ga., May 10.—The grand jury of Montgomery county yesterday returned true bills charging murder against Lamare Holmes, mayor of Soperton; T. D. Wade, chief of police; J. Wyatt Martin, a wealthy planter of this county; and Lee D. Keen, a traveling salesman of this city.

The indictments followed the recommendation of the coroner's jury that the four be held pending an investigation of the death of Will L. Radney, who was shot near here Tuesday night after escaping from the city jail.

The prisoners were taken to the county jail at Mount Vernon and all gave bond this afternoon in the amount of $4,000 each, assessed by Judge E. D. Graham. Although the superior court is in session there reports from Mount Vernon this afternoon stated that the cases will not be tried before the August term of court.

The shooting of Radney followed his escape from the Soperton jail Tuesday night. Radney had been bound over by a justice court for the burglary of the meat market of J. A. Chivers and in default of bond was being held in the Soperton jail, awaiting the arrival of the sheriff who was to take him to the county jail at Mount Vernon. Radney made his getaway while the chief of police was giving him supper.

Mayor Holmes, who had signed Radney's bond for $1,200 in another case, it is alleged, organized a posse consisting of himself, the chief of police, Martin and Keen.

The evidence given at the coroner's inquest was that the party of four secreted themselves on the side of the road leading to the home of Radney's brother about five miles from here, expecting that Radney would go immediately to his brother's place.

After an all-night wait, it is said, Radney appeared in a buggy with Charles F. Glover, Chief of Police Wade, it is said, stepped from the bushes and ordered Radney to halt. Radney jumped from the buggy and made for the woods, it is said, and the chief fired into the air to frighten him.

Martin, the fired, in another direction from that in which Radney was going, he claims. As Radney clambered over a rail fence he was killed instantly by a load of buckshot from the gun of L. D. Keen.

Keen made the claim that the shooting was accidental. He was lying on the ground until Radney was seen, he said, and sprang up to follow him. He stumbled against a log, he says, and his gun was accidentally discharged, killing him as he fled.

All of the parties involved are well known in this section. Radney had operated a farm for Mayor Holmes for the past several years, and had been regarded as a substantial citizen until his recent arrest. He leaves a wife, a brother and several small children.

City Marshal Fuller Saved from Drowning In the Chattahoochee

James M. Fuller, city marshal of Atlanta, and J. L. Ward, better known as "Hat" Ward, barely escaped drowning in the Chattahoochee river yesterday afternoon when a boat in which they were fishing capsized.

W. T. Daniels and Paul S. Pause, nearly in another boat, rowed quickly to the rescue and dragged them up from the water, which is several times deeper than a man's height where they fell in.

Mr. Ward, his friends say, was wearing a brand-new $60 suit of clothes, but being one of his own make, it will stand the ordeal without a pucker, he claims. He is a member of the firm of Ward-Fuller, haberdashers and tailors.

Other gentlemen in the party were Mr. Richards, of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical company, and Heard W. Dent, former councilman from the Seventh ward.

All arrived safely back to town, though Messrs. Fuller and Ward were chilled to the bone and somewhat uncomfortable in their wet clothing.

Incidentally, they caught no fish. Mr. Pause had caught about a quarter's worth from a negro boy, but he lost them in the scramble to save his drowned friends.

PRESBYTERIANS FROM ALL OVER AMERICA TO MEET HERE THIS WEEK

Nearly Three Million Church Members Will Be Represented in Gigantic Assemblage to Hold Sessions in Atlanta

MEETINGS OPEN THURSDAY; WILL CONTINUE TEN DAYS

Many Prominent Speakers on the Program—Commissioners From Every State—Assemblies of World-Wide Interest

The greatest Presbyterian gathering that the world has ever seen will be held in Atlanta from May 15, next Thursday, until May 25.

Fifteen hundred commissioners, representing an aggregate of nearly three million church members will meet here in an assemblage of world-wide interest, and, in addition, it is expected there will be fully 3,000 visitors.

Four of the world's greatest Presbyterian bodies—the northern, southern and United Presbyterian assemblies and that of the Associated Reformed churches—will meet at the same time, and on at least one occasion all will be united in one great assembly.

The advance guard will begin to arrive Wednesday, when several special trains from all sections of the country will reach Atlanta. The entertainment and reception committees are busy completing arrangements for the great meetings. The office of the Atlanta executive committee is located at 513 Empire building.

ORIGIN OF ATLANTA MEETING.
The idea of the four great bodies meeting in Atlanta at the same time was first suggested in the first issue of the Westminster magazine in January, 1912.

The Westminster Magazine suggested editorially that Atlanta was the logical place for such a great meeting, and that, despite the argument of skeptics, it was possible to arrange just such an assemblage. The suggestions made in the Westminster Magazine's editorial are being carried out to the letter.

Each of the four great bodies of the Presbyterian church was invited to come to Atlanta and each accepted. The result will be probably the greatest religious gathering that ever has been held in the United States.

ORGANIC UNION NOT PLANNED.
While the four great bodies will naturally be brought closer together by the meeting simultaneously, it is said there will be no attempt at organic union. Presbyterians say it means just one thing—"A Pan-Presbyterian Pentecost."

Commissioners—they insist that you do not call them "delegates"—will come from probably every state in the union.

GOT LUMBERMAN'S MONEY THEN POLICE GOT HIM

James Brannon Had Bought New Clothes and Was on the Train When Cops Arrived

Pink Brooks, a lumber dealer of Neal, Ga., came to Atlanta yesterday to make some collections, and after a hard day's work found himself with about $200 in his pocket.

He met Thomas A. Sykes, twenty-eight years old, of Charlotte, N. C., and James Brannon, forty-years-old, and employed them to work at his sawmill. By way of being hospitable, he took them to a beer saloon on South Forsyth street and bought several rounds of drinks. Meanwhile, he had been to the Terminal station and bought tickets for them to Neal.

Finally it came time to bid farewell to the bar and catch the train, but as they were leaving, Brooks missed his money. He called for the police. Detectives Hamby and Vickery arrived and found Sykes on hand and Brannon missing.

Though Sykes protested innocence, they took him to police station. They took Brooks and went out to look for Brannon. They found him, and he had been making some progress with Brooks' money.

He was seated in a West Point train, with a ticket to Waycross in his pocket. He wore a brand new suit of clothes, which he had just bought, and he was shaved and hair-trimmed and massaged. In his pocket reposed the remainder of the cash, $135.

Seeing it was all up, Brannon admitted his guilt, it is said, and Sykes was released.

ATLANTA, THE MODERN GENIE

HUGHES URGES STANLEY FOR DUBLIN OFFICE

Protests Filed Against His Appointment Due to Activity Against Wilson

BY RALPH SMITH.
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Dublin postoffice was the subject of a conference this afternoon between Congressman Dudley M. Hughes, of the Twelfth district, and Postmaster General Burleson. Mr. Hughes has recommended the nomination of Vivian Stanley, editor of the Dublin Courier-Dispatch.

Protests against Mr. Stanley's appointment have been filed with the postmaster general and Mr. Hughes has been interviewed this afternoon to clear up the matter, if possible. He left the postoffice department in doubt as to whether his recommendation will be followed.

The opposition to Mr. Stanley grows out of his activity in the presidential primary in Georgia. He was a vigorous supporter of Congressman Oscar W. Underwood, and some of the Wilson leaders in Laurens county are reported to have filed protests against the recognition by the administration of one of the pre-convention foes.

Congressman Hughes declared tonight that in recommending Mr. Stanley he had disregarded his past political affiliations and activities, and had been guided solely by the fact that Mr. Stanley was a native Georgian.

Mr. Bryan conferred with President Wilson an hour discussing in detail the formal protest filed by Ambassador Chinda. It was decided the secretary should frame a communication to Governor Johnson but the nature of it was not disclosed. Mr. Bryan said the message would not be sent tonight. He probably will confer with the president tomorrow before dispatching it.

Mr. Bryan communicated with the Japanese ambassador immediately after the meeting.

WILSON IS MASTER OF DEMOCRATIC POLITICS

President Holds Controlling Hand in Party Organization and Demonstrates It

WASHINGTON, May 10.—That President Wilson is the complete master of the situation in the Democratic party, in fact and action as well as name, has been demonstrated through his successful effort to defer the organization of the new Democratic congressional campaign committee.

The remnants of the Champ Clark pre-convention machine sought to organize the new committee last night, but the president succeeded in delaying action.

The president's only purpose in playing for delay is to allow more time for working out his plan of bringing the congressional and the national committees into closer working relations and also to make the congressional committee more representative of the senate side, inasmuch as there is now a popular election of senators.

It can be stated authoritatively that the president is not opposed to the election of Representative Johnson, of Kentucky, as chairman, although he is not committed to him. The Clark people tried to make it appear that the president wanted the organization delayed because he did not want Johnson and they tried to force his hand by setting out the petition for last night's meeting.

How well the Clark people succeeded in forcing the president's hand may be inferred from the fact that the instrument that the president used in obtaining the delay last night was Representative Johnson himself. Mr. Johnson made the motion to defer the election. He was prompted to make the motion by Representative Murray, of Massachusetts.

WILSON AND BRYAN AWAITING ACTION BY CALIFORNIA GOVERNOR

Secretary of State and President Discuss Details of Protest of Jap Ambassador. Bryan to Frame Reply

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Secretary Bryan tonight formulated a message to Governor Johnson, of California, setting forth representations of the Japanese government and views of the administration here as to what was considered discriminatory in the Webb anti-alien bill, passed by the California legislature and now awaiting action by the governor.

Mr. Bryan conferred with President Wilson an hour discussing in detail the formal protest filed by Ambassador Chinda. It was decided the secretary should frame a communication to Governor Johnson but the nature of it was not disclosed. Mr. Bryan said the message would not be sent tonight. He probably will confer with the president tomorrow before dispatching it.

DETECTIVE S. P. WEBB SHOT THROUGH CHEEK

Officers Raid Crap Game in Rear of 56 Alexander and Shots Are Exchanged

While assisting in a raid upon a negro crap game, which was in progress in a barn in the rear of 56 Alexander street, about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, City Detective S. P. Webb was shot through the left jaw and painfully injured.

He was hurried to the Grady hospital, where his wound was dressed, and although suffering a loss of considerable blood and much pain, he was able to be taken home after the physicians had given him attention.

Detective Webb, with Detectives George Harper, Charles M. Hamby and Lester Vickery and Patrolman G. N. Gorman, surrounded the barn in which the crap game was being played. When the officers demanded admittance one of the negroes on the inside fired through a window. Detective Webb was directly in line of the bullet which lodged in his jaw.

After being wounded Detective Webb exchanged several shots through the window with the negro on the inside of the house, and it is believed one of them took effect. Detective Harper assisted Detective Webb to the Peachtree Inn and called for a Grady ambulance.

SIX ARE ARRESTED.
The remaining officers rushed the barn, breaking down the door. They placed six negroes under arrest and sent them to police headquarters where they gave their names as follows: Charles Logan, Henry Kennedy, Ralph Green, Henry Taylor, Enlist Jones and Arthur Slack.

One negro, Andy Lester, made his escape, running across Alexander street into a vacant lot and thence into Peachtree street. He was last seen speeding through a yard and around a house. Lester lived in the barn and it was in his room that the game was being played. He is believed by the officers to be the negro who shot Detective Webb, as no pistol was found either in the house or on any of the negroes arrested.

The arrested negroes reported to the officers that one of Detective Webb's bullets wounded Lester. They thought he was shot in the neck but were not positive.

CITY DETECTIVES' THEORY OF PHAGAN MURDER OUTLINED

The Journal Presents First Complete Statement of Case Solicitor and His Investigators Seek to Build

HOW DETECTIVES THINK CRIME WAS COMMITTED

They Maintain That Mary Phagan Was Left Unconscious in Factory Near Midway and Killed Later in Afternoon

For the first time since the lifeless body of pretty fourteen-year-old Mary Phagan was found in the basement of the National Pencil factory, this morning two weeks ago, The Journal is enabled to make public the theory of the city detectives and others investigating the murder mystery as to how the crime was committed.

HERE IS THE THEORY.
The theory in detail is:

That Mary Phagan arrived at the pencil factory between 12 and 12:10 o'clock on Saturday, April 26; that within a short time after she arrived there she was lured to the metal room on the second floor, where she worked; that the big doors of this room were closed, making it almost impossible for the two men working on the fourth floor to hear any outcries; that she was overpowered and assaulted.

That the assailant, realizing that he had committed a crime which would cost him his life if it became known, argued with her and entreated her to keep silent; that when she reiterated her intention to tell he struck her a terrific blow in the left eye, causing her to fall against the handle of the latch; that the back of her head struck the lathe handle, rendering her unconscious and producing a wound from which the blood flowed freely; that the assailant then secured a cord and looped around her neck, after which he dragged her into one of the small dressing rooms nearby, placing papers or some old garment beneath her head, removed the body from the basement, and left the room of blood; that the door to the dressing room was closed, and the assailant went away believing that the girl was dead or dying.

RETURNED LATER IN AFTERNOON.
That later in the afternoon when there was no one else in the factory he returned and either carried or dragged the body to the elevator which he ran to the basement; that the motion of the elevator or the slackening of the loop-knot in the cord about the girl's neck resulted in her partially regaining consciousness; that when the assailant observed this he tightened the cord around her neck and dragged her by it over into the rear end of the semi-darkened basement; that he then tore the wide hem from the child's undershirt, and knotted it about her neck to make doubly sure that she would be effectively strangled; that he then pulled the staple from the fastening in the rear door, either with the intention of later removing the body from the premises to the alley in the rear of the factory, or for the purpose of making it appear that the murderer entered and left the building by this door.

The detectives have evidence to the effect that Mary Phagan went to the factory a few minutes after 12 o'clock; they hold to the opinion that she could have been attached and left unconscious within a period of twenty minutes.

CORD FOUND IN ROOM.
Cord of the kind found around the girl's neck, in the same lengths and tied with the same loop-knot, is found, it is said, in large quantities in the metal room where they insist the crime was committed. Blood was found on the floor of this room and human hair was found on the latter handle. Blood was also found on the elevator floor.

By actual test they have demonstrated, it is claimed, that it would have been almost impossible for the girl's screams to have been heard by the two men working on the fourth floor. This demonstration was made, it declared, when the factory was silent and a lusty-lunged man shouted at the top of his voice. He could barely be heard on the fourth floor, it is said, although persons there were listening intently for his cries.

It is the theory of the detectives that with papers or old clothing wrapped

CORRUPT PRACTICES BILL PASSES FLORIDA HOUSE

Would Limit Expenditures of Candidates and Shield Them
From Attacks

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 10.—Representative Tomlin's corrupt practices act passed the house today with only four votes in opposition. This act follows closely upon the passing of the Bryan primary bill and is correlated in that the Bryan bill hasn't a corrupt practice feature and the Tomlin bill supplements those features which are lacking.

There is no antagonism to the bill as Senator Bryan in his speeches before the legislature insisted that his bill be a straight primary bill and that a separate act be passed to cover the corrupt practice features.

The main features of the Tomlin bill are: campaign expenses of candidates limited as follows: Governor, $4,000; United States senator, $4,000; congressmen, $2,000; state house officers, $2,000. The bill makes it a penalty for a candidate to offer to hire a worker. This feature of the measure is a blow to the political graft in cities.

There has been some criticism of this bill by the newspapers, claiming that it struck at the liberty of the press. Tomlin is himself a newspaper man and disclaims this.

He says "there is nothing in the bill that seeks to interfere with the liberty of the press or to confiscate its columns as has been charged. It simply provides that in case a newspaper publishes an editorial attack on a candidate after each candidate has expended all that the law permits him to expend, such newspaper must publish, without cost to the candidate, a refutation."

Representative Bussey and O'Neil engaged in bitter controversy over a no-fence bill of Bussey's, which affected his county only. Bussey's bill was defeated by his own party, and O'Neil repudiated in kind, both being reprimanded by the speaker.

hour and a half at Vicksburg. They have got to stop, or we won't let them over the river."

So the Atlanta Shriners stopped at Vicksburg for two hours, remaining from 2 to 4 o'clock. The special was scheduled to arrive at Shreveport at 10:30 Saturday night. Dallas will be reached at 7 o'clock Sunday morning, and the Atlanta patrol and drum corps will go into camp.

NOTED SHRINERS ON "YAARAB".
Among the Shriners on the "Yaarab" special are Robert S. Colding, grand master of the grand lodge of Grand Masons, and Joseph C. Greenfield, thirty-third degree, Scottish Rite, of Savannah and Atlanta, respectively.

The Atlanta Shriners' drum corps will be unable to make any parade in Dallas on account of objections raised by the Union Musicians of Dallas. But there will be some individual parading by the drum corps and patrol. In fact, it is believed that the parade of the corps and patrol from "Yaarab" in its own pageant, will do more to help boost Atlanta than a place in the regular line of march.

JOYNER'S FEATURE.
A distinctive feature has been arranged by Captain W. R. Joyner, a member of Yaarab temple and the originator of drum corps in Atlanta.

"Captain" has three grandchildren in Dallas, a little girl, Cleo, and two boys, W. R. the third, and Richard.

These three children will be dressed in the uniform of the patrol with drum and will lead the parade with the drum corps and the Yaarab patrol, and there is no doubt but that Dallas will stop all else when this royal parade begins its line of march through the principal streets.

Big Ovation at Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La., May 10.—The "Yaarab" special arrived here at 11 o'clock tonight. The Atlanta nobles were met by a large delegation of Shreveport Shriners who are pulling for Atlanta 1914. The patrol paraded the depot and was given a big reception.

Shriners Raise Milk Fund
For Poor of New Orleans

(By Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, May 10.—Many dollars were added today to New Orleans' fund to provide milk for poor children in the coming summer by the assistance of Shriners, en route to Dallas, Tex., for the annual convention. While the Shriners paraded the principal streets of the Shrine and those interested in the "milk fund" collected money from those on the sidewalks.

The Shriners carried through the streets a huge milk can into which were thrown small and large coins. Imogene, a fine Jersey cow, and three calves figured in the parade. She rode through the streets on an automobile truck.

Much interest was shown in the day's program. When a woman pitched a coin from a balcony to the street it started a scramble among street boys. After the tussle was over the boy who captured the money threw the coin to Imogene's attendants. "Buy a little milk for the poor kids," he said. It was a $5 gold piece.

Practically all of the Shriners left New Orleans tonight.

Nobles by Carloads
Passing Through Texas

(By Associated Press.)
DALLAS, Tex., May 10.—Not since the second army division moved at Galveston has there been such a passage of special trains and cars through Texas as began today with the converging in the state of thousands of Shriners and their friends, gathering for the annual meeting of the Imperial Council Ancient Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, which begins here Monday.

The nobles are incidentally seeing the southwest and numerous sections of the old south and this accounts for the heavy early train movement. Ten temples were due in Houston today, including one from Maine and another from Washington state. One hundred and twenty-five special cars are booked through Texarkana to Galveston, where some thousands are going for a swim in the surf before coming to Dallas.

ped about the girl's head no blood would have been found on the floor of the dressing room. The girl's left eye was badly bruised, indicating, the detectives think, that she had been struck a fist blow and there were one or two bruises on her chest which could have been produced in the same manner.

CRIMES HEARD AT 4:30.

Only ten or fifteen minutes would have been required, say the detectives, for the murderer to have taken the girl down the elevator to the basement. They have, it is said, a witness, a woman, who swears she was passing the pencil factory about 4:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, April 26, and that she heard a woman's piteous cries.

According to this witness, these cries seemed to come from the basement and were cut short, as if they were muffled in some way. The witness says, it is claimed, she did not report the matter at the time because she thought it must have been a negro man in a tussle with his wife and she didn't care to become involved as a witness in such a case.

It is the testimony of this woman which leads the detectives to the theory that the girl was not taken to the basement until in the afternoon and that she regained consciousness while she was being taken from the elevator.

They explain their theory that the hem of the girl's undershirt was tied about her neck after she was taken to the basement by calling attention to the fact that there was no cord or other strings down there and that the murderer, fearing that the cord about her neck would not be sufficient to strangle her, sought for a second noose and finding nothing handy tore the hem from her undershirt. This theory is also strengthened, the detectives think, by the testimony of Dr. J. W. Hurt, the county physician who performed the autopsy on the girl's body. He declares that she came to her death from strangulation; that the blow on the head was sufficient to render her unconscious, but not to kill her.

MESH BAG MISSING.
The detectives hold firm to the theory that Mary Phagan never left the pencil factory after she went there for her money—$1.20—but they are puzzled to know what became of this money and also the silver mesh bag which she carried with her and which contained sixty cents when she left home to go direct to the factory. As far as is known all the other effects of the girl, including her parasol, were found in the basement. The silver mesh bag is missing, and the detectives have never been able to find the envelope in which the girl is said to have received her money.

The parasol was found at the foot of the elevator shaft, which leads them to the theory that when the girl was carried down to the basement the parasol was left on the second floor where she was attacked, and that the murderer, finding the parasol there when he returned, threw it into the elevator shaft.

The above is a complete statement of the theory upon which the detectives, the solicitor general and other investigators for the state are working.

Grand Jury to Consider
Phagan Case This Week

Interests in the investigation of the mysterious murder two weeks ago of little Mary Phagan centered Saturday in the grand jury.

Two men, Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the pencil factory, where the tragedy occurred, and Newt Lee, negro night watchman, have been ordered held by a coroner's jury, but no intimation has been given as to the time when bills against the two men will be presented to that body.

The jury is not due to hold a session until next Friday, but the solicitor general or the foreman can call the body together on a few hours' notice.

While the solicitor will make no definite statement, it is apparent that he will not present the case to the grand jury until the latter part of this week, Thursday or Friday. However, the grand jury has been especially charged to probe the murder and it is in the power of its members to order the witnesses in the case before it at any time.

EARLIEST TRIAL MAY BE 19.
Owing to the unusual public interest in the cases it is possible that if the grand jury secures a true bill the trial might be set for the week of May 19, when the criminal division of the superior court, Judge L. S. Roan, presiding, next convenes.

Thomas B. Felder, the well known attorney, who has been retained by citizens in the Bellwood district, where the slain girl lived, returned Saturday morning from a week's trip to New York and Washington. Mr. Felder made the trip to attend to professional business.

COLONEL PEEL PROTESTS A TARIFF NOT EXISTING

No Tariff on Ammonia Sulphate, and Georgia Fertilizer Men Need Not Worry

BY RALPH SMITH.
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The farmers and fertilizer manufacturers of Georgia are unnecessarily wrought up over certain provisions of the chemical schedule of the tariff bill, as was indicated today by the telegram which Senator Hoke Smith received from Colonel W. L. Peel, of Atlanta.

It seems that the farmers and fertilizer men are under the impression that the bill places a duty on ammonia sulphate which is used in the manufacture of fertilizer. Such is not the case. Ammonia sulphate and ammonia nitrate are on the free list and will remain.

Colonel Peel's telegram to Senator Smith follows:

"Have just learned that tariff bill passed by the house contains a tax of 10 per cent on sulphate of ammonia. This article has been on the free list since 1890. It is simply a mistake of the Democratic party to revise the tariff downward? Sulphate of ammonia is a necessary not only to the fertilizer manufacturer, but to the farmer. The imposition of this tax is a direct discrimination against the farmer, who will ultimately have to pay the increased cost, which will amount to about $5 per ton. I urge in the name of the farmers and the manufacturers that you have this article put back on the free list."

said to be in connection with the Phagan case.

Mr. Felder denied that he had employed William J. Burns, the famous detective, to come to Atlanta in person in an effort to solve the mystery.

Mr. Burns, who has before worked on cases for Mr. Felder, is now in Europe, according to the latter.

It has been rumored that Mr. Felder is determined to utilize the fee which he would be paid by the Bellwood citizens for assisting in the prosecution of the case, to employ a private detective, and that Mr. Felder will lend his time and energy to the case without compensation.

Mr. Felder declined to discuss this rumor, and would not say whether or not he had employed any eastern detectives to help the Atlanta officers ferret out the mystery.

SOLICITOR SEES WITNESSES.
The activity in the Phagan investigation was transferred Saturday from police headquarters to the office of Solicitor General Dorsey, who was in conference with witnesses and detectives working on the case during the greater part of the day. Among his visitors was Dr. H. P. Harris, of the state board of health, who twice examined the body of Mary Phagan.

Later the solicitor is said to have conferred with Dr. J. W. Hurt, the county physician, whose evidence has never been made public.

All of the witnesses seen by The Journal Saturday declare that they are under instructions not to discuss the case, and the utmost secrecy shrouds the work of the solicitor's force and the city detectives.

The conference with the president but it is believed he merely advised him of the intended course of action. Formal reply to the Japanese protest probably will not be made by the state department until some answer is received from Governor Johnson as to his action on the bill.

The impression that spread in official circles tonight was that Secretary Bryan would urge the California governor to refer the bill back to the legislature for modifications that would meet the Japanese objections. There is a well founded belief that if Governor Johnson refused either to veto the bill or recommend modifications, California friends of the federal administration would attempt to involve the Japanese in the issue of nullifying the law until an election could be held, the interval being used to obtain a complete understanding diplomatically between Japan and the United States or perhaps to frame a new treaty covering disputed points.

There Must Be No War With Japs, Says Hiram S. Maxim

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

LONDON, May 10.—"No matter from what standpoint we examine the Japanese question, it assumes a rather serious aspect—not only for Japan, but also for the United States," said Hiram S. Maxim tonight.

"When Japan declared war with China, many of the Egyptian papers characterized it as 'suicide' on the part of Japan. Still, Japan very soon annihilated the Chinese fleet, and inside of a few weeks brought the greatest nation on earth to her knees, and despoiled her of much territory. Then little Japan pitched into the second greatest nation of the world, and the Russian fleet was destroyed. The Japanese out-fought the Russians at every point, and when the Russians quit they lost Manchuria."

"Japan has a population nearly half that of the United States, and has a rather powerful fleet of the best ships in the world, manned by the active little Japanese sailors, who are certainly equal to the best to be found elsewhere. Moreover, the Japanese are a proud and warlike people, and their unparalleled success gives them confidence; having handsomely whipped the two most populous nations of the earth, they would not hesitate to go to war with the third most populous, the United States."

"The Americans as a whole certainly do not wish to see brave little Japan humiliated; we do not wish to see their splendid fleet of battleships destroyed; still, if war occurs, it will be absolutely necessary, no matter what the cost may be, that Japan be conquered to save the face of the Americans, and this would mean the destruction of Japan's navy, which would be a great misfortune to the Far East."

"Once that the fighting power of the Japanese is destroyed, European nations would certainly come in, take possession of China, and divide it up, after which time there would be no open door for America. Therefore, there must be no war with Japan. It would be nothing less than terrible calamity."

80 Years Old---Gets Strength

WM. J. JOHNSON

Wm. J. Johnson, 80 years old, who served 4 years in the Civil War, gains strength from Duffy's, whose value he learned when a friend gave him a half bottle when sick. He is going to take Duffy's as long as he lives.

"Your medicine does me good, as it gives me strength. 'Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey' is good for all old soldiers and all other old people. I am going to take it as long as I live. I am over 80 years old, and served in the Civil War for four years and four months. A friend of mine gave me a half bottle when I was sick. It is a good medicine."—Wm. J. Johnson, Stuart, Ia.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is relied upon by thousands of aged men and women to give and sustain strength and energy in their advancing years. Mr. Johnson's agreeable and happy trial and proof, upon being introduced to and taking up the regular use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, is merely another repetition of the experiences of a legion of Civil War veterans and other aged people. It is the one true medicinal whiskey and should be in every household.

BE SURE YOU GET DUFFY'S

The genuine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY, by druggists, grocers and dealers. Should our friends for any reason be unable to secure it in their locality, we will have it shipped to them from their nearest dealer, express prepaid (cash to accompany order) at the following prices:

4 Large Bottles, $4.30
12 Large Bottles, $11.00
Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey should be in every home and we make the above announcement so that you may become familiar with a source of supply.

MEMBER OF COTTON FIRM EXPELLED FROM EXCHANGE

Following Disappearance of Lee Lesser, Junior Member of His Firm Is "Canned"

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 10.—J. A. Ely, junior member of the Lesser-Ely cotton firm, which recently failed after the disappearance of the president, Lee Lesser, today was expelled from the Memphis Cotton exchange. Lesser was expelled about a week ago.

The board of directors of the exchange has also ordered the suspension of Will Phillips, junior member of the Martin-Phillips cotton firm, which failed several weeks ago after the mysterious disappearance of its president, Joseph W. Martin, in London.

License to store cotton for members of the Memphis exchange also was withdrawn from D. W. McElmore, warehouse man, the board deciding that while there has been no participation between McElmore and the Lesser-Ely company in connection with the warehouse receipts, gross carelessness had been shown.

No word has been received by relatives or business associates here of the whereabouts of either Lesser or Martin.

DAILY CAMPAIGN STORY

"Not Too Late to Enter the Booklovers' Campaign."

Brunswick, Ga., May 7, 1913.

Campaign Editor Journal.

Dear Sir: I am very anxious to get in your Booklovers' Campaign, but a friend of mine told me that you had started in with the first picture, and that I could not enter now. Will you please advise me on this matter and oblige. Yours sincerely, MISS M. L. G.

You are right, and I am glad to hear that you are so interested in the campaign. The pictures are published each day, and you can enter at any time. The first picture today will be published 30 more, or 25 in all. One of these pictures is published each day, so that means you will have 30 more days to study up on the pictures and get the right titles of the 75 prize pictures from our new official catalogue. An average of one hour a day during that time would be more than enough time for you with the aid of the catalogue. We can supply you with the catalogue in shape, giving you a total of 30 days to select the right titles of the 75 prize pictures from our new official catalogue. "SIX YEARS' REVENGE!" SAYS BRIDWELL, STABBING

O. W. Gilbert Cut in Side in Pool Room on Peachtree, Injuries Serious

O. W. Gilbert, aged twenty, and manager of Scherzer's Dairy lunch at 42 Peachtree street, was stabbed in the left side by Arthur Bridwell Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock just inside of the Georgia Pool Parlors at 49 Peachtree street.

The wounded young man was taken to the Grady hospital, where his injuries are said to be dangerous, as the knife penetrated through the tissues. His assailant escaped, after walking calmly down to the Elkin Drug company's store at the corner of Marietta street.

HID IN THEATER.

He was later found hiding in the billiard room of the Atlanta theater and taken in custody by officers Green and McKibben. The officers followed a messenger whom Bridwell had sent to his room for his clothes, preparatory to leaving the city, it is supposed.

Gilbert was standing talking to J. P. Grogan, it is claimed, when Bridwell started to pass to go to the pool tables. Gilbert, it is said, halted him, saying, "I want to see you a minute."

Then, it is alleged, Bridwell whipped out his knife and slashed the young man in the side and the latter fell in a heap to the floor. Grogan then, it is claimed, jumped on his friend's assailant and the two went to the pool tables. Bridwell succeeded in getting loose and with his knife still open strode down the street and disappeared.

As Bridwell freed himself from Grogan, it is said, he uttered the words, "That's for six years' revenge!" referring to the man he had stabbed.

Bridwell, it is said, was formerly employed at a local "movie" theater.

W. L. K. NOT TALK.

Bridwell declined to make any statement after his arrest, further than to say that if he had not taken some foolish advice he would be 100 miles away from Atlanta instead of locked up at police headquarters. It is understood, however, that the stabbing grew out of bitter feeling which Bridwell had toward Gilbert on account of some alleged mistreatment of Bridwell's mother who is now a waitress at a cafe on West Mitchell street. Bridwell stated that he had gone by and informed his mother of the stabbing after it had occurred.

At a late hour last night Gilbert was in a precarious condition at the Grady hospital. The physicians were doubtful of his recovery. He was too ill to make any statement.

DAYTON OPTIMISTS BUSY, THEY CALL FLOOD BOON

Stores Reopen With Bargain
Sales—500 Teams Moving the Debris

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
DAYTON, O., May 10.—Again is Dayton able to take care of herself. Imbued with that characteristic spirit that turns bad fortune into good, the city is rising splendidly from the ruins into which it fell but recently. The work of reconstruction and the battle of the automatic riveter are heard everywhere. Let those who are in need of a lesson in optimism come to Dayton and see how a city all but swept away by a few waters can pull itself together, forget completely the past disaster and think only of the hopeful future.

Six weeks ago, the entire business section of Dayton was a sea. Water covered all the downtown streets and every residence street save those on the hills at the outskirts of the city to a depth of from ten to twenty feet. Not a business house escaped and second floors of many of the homes were inundated. Stocks of goods were either floated entirely away or were so damaged as to be utterly worthless. Hundreds of families were homeless, and the loss to many men of the savings of a lifetime. Men well-to-do in the morning of the tragedy, in the evening found themselves practically penniless. It was a situation well calculated to try the soul and test the courage of the strongest. But the men and women of Dayton proved themselves equal to the emergency. With grim determination born of the necessity of the time and with an optimism and faith in the stability and future of the city that have won the women of all who have witnessed their heroism, they set to work.

BUILDING ON NEW FOUNDATION.
Today, due to their hard labor, ably supplemented by the assistance rendered by the federal government, the state troops, and the rehabilitation service of the American Red Cross society, Dayton has had a new birth. The old city of the future is being built on a new foundation of faith, fraternity and a broader conception of the boundless charity that links all men as brothers. It is rising a city of substantial and sanitary homes.

Immediately after the waters receded, with state troops patrolling every street, the work of cleaning up the city began. From curb to curb the thousands of debris were piled up in cases of houses, drowned after they had been cut loose to do the best they could for themselves, and with the wrecks of business houses and their stocks and furnishings. For four weeks 6,000 men and 500 teams and wagons were at work, while a portion of the time steam shovels were used in loading the debris to be hauled away.

All railroads entering the city assisted in the task of restoring the streets by loans of flat cars and the use of freight engines that were backed down the business streets on the trolley car tracks. Long strings of flat cars loaded in the daytime were pulled at night along the rights-of-way miles out of the city and dumped, being returned for reloading the following morning.

It was the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant that a freight train had been seen on the business streets of Dayton, and it will in all probability be the last.

FIVE HOUSES GUTTED BY FIRE IN PITTSBURGH

Fire early this morning completely destroyed five negro houses on Elizabeth street in Pittsburgh. The blaze had spread so headway that the firemen could not stop it before it had destroyed all five houses.

"TAG DAY" TOMORROW; LOOSEN YOUR PURSE STRINGS EARLY

Committees of Young Ladies Will Be at Work Throughout the City All Day, Gathering Coins for the Annual Charity That Benefits Sheltering Arms—No One Will Be Left Unre-minded

Tomorrow is Tag day. Loosen your pocketbook strings before you start for town in the morning—for you'll have to buy a tag, the proceeds going toward purchasing clothes and food for the little inmates of the Sheltering Arms.

Throughout the day the volunteer workers, fair young ladies of Atlanta, under the chaperonage of some of the city's most highly esteemed and most philanthropic matrons, will be at their posts in all parts of town. No one, perhaps, would want to escape from a charity like this; but at least no one will be allowed to forget it's Tag day.

Following are the committees and their stations:
Georgetown Terrace—Mrs. John Evans, chairman.

WILSON MAY VETO SAME BILL VETOED BY TAFT

Reported That President
Frowns on Rider in Sundry Civil Appropriation

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—The rider to the sundry civil appropriation bill, exempting labor organizations and farmers' associations from the operations of the Sherman anti-trust law, may result in its veto by President Wilson.

The measure was vetoed by President Taft because of this provision, and that is why the bill had to be re-enacted at this special session of congress.

Congressman Roddenberry, of Georgia, is author of the rider.

Notwithstanding reports that he is prepared to sign the measure, which has brought an almighty howl from manufacturers and capital generally, the president has not made up his mind.

He has shown an indication, it is said, to sign the bill not because he favored the exemption clause, but because it is his desire to ward off a fight in congress at this time.

In the last few days, there has been tremendous pressure brought to bear upon the president to induce him to veto the bill on the ground that it countenances vicious discrimination. Some of the president's friends and advisers have told him that to allow the bill to become a law would be a blight upon his administration and their presentation of the case has undoubtedly made an impression on the president's mind. As a matter of party expediency and policy, efforts are now being made to have the rider scratched by the conference committee of the house and senate, which has jurisdiction of the measure. This would be done with a view to ending an embarrassing situation without creating a trouble making precedent.

PORTER APPEAL FINE FOR DELIVERING LIQUOR

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
ANNISTON, Ala., May 10.—Neil P. Stierne, attorney for Rufus Reed, a porter for the Southern Express company, who was fined $100 and costs in police court Friday morning for delivery of liquor, has appealed from the recorder's ruling, which was made under a construction of the Webb bill. Should the decision of Judge Green who is a well known lawyer, stand in the higher courts, it is considered that the Webb bill will be amended to so amend the state laws as to prohibit all shipments of liquor being delivered in the city, whether by an intent to violate a city ordinance or not.

The city officers some time ago raided the freight depot of the Southern and Louisville and Nashville railroads and it is considered that this decision will be regarded as affecting them also.

Fined for Nuisance
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
ANNISTON, Ala., May 10.—Charged with creating a nuisance by filling in a ditch on some property he had bought as a result of which water was allowed to remain stagnant on adjacent property, John A. Carter, Jr., was fined in police court Friday.

The defendant is a well known young real estate agent and he has appealed to a higher court, claiming that he has a right to do as he desires with his own property.

DIX Dix Diamonds

Afford Opportunity for Investment

Conservative people recognize the advantages of diamond investment and the readiness with which diamond collateral is accepted the world over.

Savings put into diamonds are really saved, and as investment they are proven among the choicest, as shown by the average increase in value of over ten per cent annually for years.

Continued advance in value is certain through the same causes that have made their world wide increase.

The average yield of the mines has in the past few years decreased from 1,290 carats per car load of blue ground to 0.290 carats. The great depths have made machinery of recent years obsolete and the natives have recognized their value as wage earners.

The great Trio controlling 96% of the world's output would scarcely find it in the nature of things to depreciate their product any more than would the gold miners of the world; and the fixedness of values is shown through complete failure of any financial panic to affect diamonds in their steady increase in value.

Exclusive diamond merchants, we are in constant touch with the markets of the world, and our contract to accept diamonds in exchange at full value or buy back from our customers at 90 cents on the dollar at any time within one year of purchase assures our customers against loss or dissatisfaction.

Where desired we sell upon deferred payments, one-fifth down and balance in monthly notes, and quality, weight and price marked in plain figures assure correct values.

Our Diamond Book No. 5 explains—please write for it.

CHICKENPOX SHOULD BE TREATED AS IF SERIOUS

State Health Board Urges Parents to Guard Complications, Scars, Contagion

Although chickenpox is regarded as one of the natural ailments incident to childhood, there are several important reasons, says the Georgia state board of health, why parents should exercise all the care that would be taken with a more dangerous epidemic disease.

In the first place, while chickenpox when properly treated leaves no permanent disfigurement of the skin, it is not infrequently permitted to become severe it may leave scars or pock marks similar to the pits that come from smallpox. All that is usually necessary to prevent the scars is proper medical attention and the exercise of care to prevent the patient from scratching the eruptions. If small children persist in scratching, it is a good idea to put mittens on their hands. Itching may be alleviated by carbolized and warm baths, and the application of oil may be used to hasten the separation of the crusts.

Another reason why chickenpox cases should be given careful attention is that while severe illness or death seldom if ever occurs in an uncomplicated case, there is always a possibility of complications that might lead to serious results. Complications are rare, but when they do occur they consist usually of pneumonia, erysipelas and inflammation of the kidneys (nephritis). Not infrequently chickenpox is complicated by some other infectious disease, but this, however, is more of a coincidence than a true complication.

Another reason for exercising special care in chickenpox cases (and it is the most important reason of all from the standpoint of community welfare) is the fact that the disease is highly contagious, and when the children of a family, or a school or a neighborhood have been exposed to it, scarcely any individual who has not had the disease escapes contagion. The disease is usually communicated in the ordinary intercourse of children in the family, the school or the playground. While grown people are not entirely immune, it is usually confined to children. The poison is eliminated not only from the surface of the body and the crusts broken from the eruption, but even from the air which the person breathes. It is believed by physicians that it can enter the body by way of the respiratory passages. Direct contact, therefore, is not necessary, the infection being communicated to some little distance by the air; it can also be carried more remotely by persons who do not contract the disease themselves but who transmit it to persons who are more susceptible.

The importance of isolation and sanitary precautions, in the light of the disease's highly contagious nature, becomes immediately manifest. Isolation should be practiced in the quarters where the patient is confined until the last crusts are thrown off. Disinfection of the person, clothing and apartment is desirable to minimize the danger of spreading the disease. These measures, and the treatment of the disease, should be carried out under the direction of a physician.

Chicken-pox is ordinarily an easy disease to diagnose. It develops from ten to sixteen days after exposure. The first indication is usually the appearance of small, bright red spots, which rapidly develop into raised, blister-like vesicles. They vary in size, the largest being about the diameter of a split pea. These vesicles are on the surface of the skin and do not go deep. Usually there is no suppuration or pus. The disease is often accompanied by slight fever. Surrounding each vesicle is a narrow bright red ring called an areola. They come out in crops on the body, sometimes on the face and scalp, and, occasionally, even in the mucous membrane of the mouth. The blisters seldom go on to pustulation, but rapidly dry up after the fluid in them becomes opaque. In the extreme stage of feveriness there may be loss of appetite, aching feeling and catarrhal inflammation. The duration of the attack is variable. Three or four weeks is usually the extreme limit. After the separation of the last crusts, Relapses do not occur. Immunity from future attacks is practically permanent.

But it must be understood that chicken-pox has no relation to smallpox, and the fact that a patient has had one of them before never protects from the other.

The medical name of chicken-pox is variella. It was once regarded as a generally modified and mild form of smallpox, but it is now known as an entirely distinct disease. One of these diseases never gives rise to the other. The attack of one confers no immunity against the other. Vaccination affords no protection against chicken-pox, and children who have recently suffered from chicken-pox react to vaccination in the ordinary manner.

ORGAN CONCERT PROGRAM FOR TODAY IS DELIGHTFUL

Begins at 3:30 o'clock, at the Auditorium, Under Festival Association Auspices

The regular free Sunday afternoon concert will take place at the auditorium this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Atlanta Music Festival association. Every body is invited to come. The program will be one of the most delightful that Atlantians have heard this spring. Several of the numbers are being repeated by request. All persons who attend are urged to be there promptly by 3:30 o'clock.

The program is as follows: Flotow: Overture to "Martha." Friedrich Freiherr von Flotow was the son of a landed nobleman of the archduchy of Mecklenburg, and was educated with a view to the diplomatic service. He wrote the opera of "Martha" (the only one of his works that survive) in 1847; the composition being remodelled from a ballet written in 1844. The great success of this work must be mainly attributed to the melody which pervades it. His early French experience taught him the virtue of lively and well accentuated rhythm, and gave him the dexterity in the construction of extended pieces, to which he wrote pleasing harmony and piquant orchestration. On the other hand, his music has rarely anything below the surface. His rhythm frequently degenerating into that of mere dance tunes, and he is prone to sentimentality.

In the scientific part of composition he too often betrays the amateur. On the whole, the conclusion is forced upon us that in spite of his popularity, Flotow will not live in the history of dramatic music. Chaminade: "Scarfe Dance." Starnes: Improvisation upon the German folk song "Die Lorelei." Puccini: Intermezzo. "The Journey to Havre." ("Manon Lescaut.") Wagner: Overture to "Die Meistersinger."

COLLINS BROS. & DAVIES FORM NEW REALTY COMPANY

T. B. DAVIES.

C. R. COLLINS.

J. S. COLLINS.

Atlanta's newest realty company is that of Collins Bros. & Davies, with offices at 715 Empire building. The organization is composed of T. B. Davies, president; J. S. Collins, vice president, and C. R. Collins, secretary and treasurer.

All of the parties are well known and popular Atlanta citizens and business men. For a number of years Mr. Davies has been identified with the sales department of large steel companies, and has been a citizen of Atlanta for seven years. Prior to the time he entered the real estate field two years ago, J. S. Collins was a traveling salesman for Adler & Co. He severed his connection with the Foster & Robson company recently to organize the firm of which he is now vice president. C. R. Collins also served many years as a traveling representative until two years ago when he entered the real estate business. He has recently replaced his place with the Dillin-Morris company.

HILL CLIMB SATURDAY TO BE ONE BIG EVENT

Atlanta's Motordom Preparing for Annual Classic Test of Finest Cars

Next Saturday is the day of the big annual hill climb on Stewart avenue. The Atlanta Automobile and Accessory association has it in charge this year, as it had last year, and the series which The Journal began several years ago gives fair indication of blooming this year once more into a really big event.

Numerous details were settled yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the committee representing the association. R. R. Reed is chairman of it.

It was announced after that meeting that no practice will be allowed on the hill except on the days and between the hours which the county board has sanctioned. County policemen will be stationed then on the hill to prevent accidents. The days and hours of practice are, May 11, 15 and 16, from 1 o'clock to 2 o'clock each afternoon.

The following applications for entry in the contest have been listed: L. S. Crane, Pope-Hartford, Betsy. Studebaker, silver cup. Travis & Jones, Columbus. Mr. Johnson, Stoddard-Dayton. National by Atlanta Auto Sales company.

Lion car, by W. J. Stoddard. Night Special, by Harold McKenzie. Entry from Ellis Car company, Greenville, S. C., name of car not given. Ford Machine, by L. O. Teasley, Alpharetta.

Locomobile, T. B. Goodloe. Stearns car. Prizes and cups in automobile events have been donated as follows:

Atlanta Constitution, silver cup. Durham Jewelry company, silver cup. Elvies-Austell company, silver cup. Firestone Tire and Rubber company, silver cup.

Fisk Rubber company, silver cup. Republic Rubber company, silver cup. Studebaker corporation, silver cup. Stewart-Warner corporation, auto speedometer.

SCHOOL HYGIENE MEET IN BUFFALO IN AUGUST

City of Buffalo, N. Y., Has Appropriated $40,000 for Entertainment

All the leading nations, every state in the union, every college and university of note in this country, and various other leading educational, scientific, medical and hygienic institutions and organizations, as well as various women's organizations, will be represented at the Fourth International Congress on School Hygiene in Buffalo, August 25-26, according to a preliminary statement just issued by Dr. Thomas A. Storey, of the College of the City of New York, secretary-general of the congress.

President Wilson has accepted the honorary office of patron of the congress. The president of the congress is Mr. Charles W. Eliot, one time president of Harvard university. The vice presidents are Dr. William H. Welch, the great pathologist of Johns Hopkins university, formerly president of the American Medical association, and Dr. Henry F. Walcott, president of the recent International Congress on Hygiene and Demography, and chairman of the Massachusetts state board of health.

It is the aim of the organizing committee in charge to bring together at Buffalo a record number of men and women interested in improving the health and efficiency of school children, and to make this congress—the first of its kind ever held in America—one of direct benefit to each individual community. A program of papers and discussions is being arranged now covering the entire field of school hygiene. There will be scientific exhibits representing the best that is being done in school hygiene, and also commercial exhibits of educational value.

Nor will the entertainment of delegates in any way be neglected. Buffalo has just subscribed $10,000 toward covering the expense of the congress. The Buffalo citizens committee has planned for a series of social events, including receptions and a grand ball, a pageant in the park, and excursion trips to the great industrial plants, and to the scenic wonders of Niagara Falls.

The congress is open to all persons interested in school hygiene, who may join as regular active members upon the payment of a $5 fee. Application for membership should be sent to Dr. Thomas A. Storey, College of the City of New York, New York City.

The congregation are requested to wear white flowers as a tribute to their mothers and in memory of the mothers who have gone before.

SEVENTH WARD CLUB PROTESTS MAUSOLEUM

West End Citizens Adopt Resolutions and Will Go Before County Board

The Seventh Ward Improvement club at a meeting Friday night adopted resolutions protesting against the mausoleum which a stock company proposes to build on or near the Cascade road, about a mile beyond the terminus of the Gordon street car line.

A copy of the resolution will be filed with the board of county commissioners for their consideration when the application for the mausoleum permit is taken up on May 15.

Under a recent state law, burial grounds, cemeteries, mausoleums and other public resting places for the dead, must be permitted by boards of county commissioners, or by the ordinaries in counties having no commissioners. Formal application for the Cascade road mausoleum was filed with the Fulton county commissioners some time ago, and was taken up by them at the last meeting.

The granting of the permit was opposed by 110 interested property owners whose written petition was before the board, and after considerable discussion the whole matter was postponed until May 15, on which date the board will hold a special meeting for this and other purposes.

The Seventh Ward Improvement club resolution will be supplemental to the objections already before the board.

AMERICANS APPEAL TO BRYAN FOR PROTECTION

Big Ranch Owners in Mexico
Ask State Department to Guard Property

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Protests against lack of protection to American property were made to Secretary Bryan today by Representative Hamilton, of Michigan, in behalf of large ranch interests.

A protest by the ranch owners, dated May 4, said:

"We have been without protection the last two years; our men have been held for ransom; our horses have been stolen; our cattle stolen and driven off in large numbers; there is no law and no respect for American life and property."

"The Polomas Land and Cattle company, our neighbor on the north, paid $15,000 to get its foreman released last fall and had to pay a heavy ransom again last Saturday to get its bookkeeper released. If the United States government is not going to protect American citizens in a foreign country, their lives and their property, they should at least publish this fact broadcast to protect a great many small investors from going into a foreign country."

"We have been held up continually by the Mexicans for every piece of work we have wanted to do on our ranches and had to pay them thousands of dollars in gold to be allowed the privilege even of branding our calves. Apparently this government has forsaken its citizens in Mexico. We are not asking for intervention, but for protection."

Salazar, a rebel chief, is said by the ranch owners to have $800,000 in American bonds, extorted by ransom and pillage.

At the federal rear were trains ready to assist in the retreat.

Official state advisers relate that during the fighting insurgents under Mariano Carlos Pelly executed a flank rear movement striking the federal lines at Maytorena, between Ortiz and Guaymas. A train bearing sixty soldiers and three officers was captured and in the fighting sixty federalists were killed and seven privates and four officers captured.

The rebels under Colonel Benjamín Hill also struck the federal rear, moving in from points south of Guaymas. Fifty federal prisoners were sent to Hermosillo. Chief Bule and Major Gutiérrez are reported killed.

Celebration of constitutionalists sympathizers at Nogales during last night led to riots when government sympathizers interfered. The police dispersed the mob after making many arrests.

Fierce Battle Reported Raging Near Matamoros

(By Associated Press.)
BROWNSVILLE, Tex., May 10.—A fierce battle is reported in progress at Reynosa, sixty miles west of Matamoros, Mexico. Six hundred constitutionalists are said to have attacked a large force of federalists.

Mining Section of State Of Chihuahua to Rebels

(By Associated Press.)
EL PASO, Tex., May 10.—Farral, rich mining center of southern Chihuahua state, is in the hands of constitutionalists, the federal garrison of 1,500 surrendering unconditionally, according to the report of an American mining man reaching here on motorcycle today.

State Troops Take Guaymas; Federal Forces in Retreat

(By Associated Press.)
NOGALEZ, ARIZ., May 10.—Mexican federal troops after desperate fighting, withdrew to Guaymas, leaving state forces in control of all points north of the Gulf port, according to telegraphic advices today, which say the government troops were utterly routed.

An unconfirmed report said state troops had occupied Guaymas with the federalists in retreat southward. Eight hundred insurgents under Juan Cabral took the aggressive in the center of the state's advance last night. Deployed along the right flank were the Yaqui Indians, who pressed against the federal position with a wicked rifle fire. Five hundred cavalry moved down from the right wing under Major Trujillo and Gutierrez, with General Obregon, commander of the state forces, directing the advance from the center rear.

So persistent was the insurgent advance, forming a semicircle of fire that soon the federalists began to retreat despite their artillery defense.

The federal formation, seen through field glasses, had ten cannon in the center and cavalry to the right, a total of 1,200 men, the main body of which was 12 miles apart. Both divisions fell back toward Guaymas.

Will Arrest Mexicans Who Smuggled War Aeroplanes

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—In advices received today, the United States district attorney was informed by District Attorney Joseph Morrison of Phoenix, that the Mexicans involved in the alleged conspiracy to smuggle war aeroplanes to the Sonora rebels would be arrested as soon as Washington had ruled on the status of the flying machine seized Wednesday at Tucson.

Mason and Dean, the airmen detained when the aeroplane was taken by government agents at Tucson, are safe across the border, but Morrison said his men knew the whereabouts of General Cambranes and the Alcalde brothers—Mamuel and Joaquin.

The federal grand jury, which started an investigation into the alleged aeroplane smuggling, will meet again Tuesday.

3,602 MINERS KILLED IN U. S. DURING 1911

Death Rate in Quarries and Coal Mines Was 1.69 Per 1,000

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Accidents in quarries, coal mines and metal mines of the United States during 1911 resulted in loss of life to 3,602 men out of the 1,065,281 men employed. The bureau of mines, which since its establishment has endeavored to promote safety and efficiency in the mines and quarries of the country, has just issued its first summary of quarry accidents.

It shows 188 men were killed during 1911, out of 110,954 men employed, making the death rate 1.69 per 1,000. In coal mines 728,348 men were employed, of whom 2,719 were killed, making the death rate 3.73; in metal mines of 165,979 men employed 695 were killed, a death rate of 4.19.

Approximately one-half of the deaths in and about quarries were due to three causes in the order named, explosives, falls or slides of quarry material and falls or slides of overburden.

Accidents resulted in the serious injury of 862 men or 7.77 per 1,000; slight injuries 4,522 or 40.81 per 1,000. Approximately 33 per cent. of both the serious and slight injuries occurred in the handling and transport of material.

Fatalities in granite quarries were twenty-nine; limestone and bluestone quarries twenty-nine; of these thirty-three men were killed in Pennsylvania quarries, twenty-two in California and twelve in Illinois. The statistics were collected from 3,320 quarries whose 110,954 employees worked an aggregate of 45,325,094 days, developing $145,541,722 in products. The men killed left ninety-eight widows and 129 orphans.

The Up-to-Date Girl

(Gulf State Presbyterian.)
Just to show you which way the wind is blowing, it was after Christmas and the little maid of eight was sitting disconsolately by the nursery window.

"Aren't you going to play with your new doll?" asked her mother, with a side glance at the discarded present.

"No," said the little girl.

"I thought you liked her so. Don't you?"

"No."

"Oh, but you wanted a nice dolly. One that talked, didn't you?"

No response.

"And this one says, 'Ma-ma' 'Pa-pa'."

The little maid's eyes flashed and sparkled as she replied: "I want a doll that says 'Votes for women.'"

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM OF BESSIE TIFT COLLEGE

Closing Exercises Will Last
From Thursday, May 22, to Following Monday

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
FORSYTH, Ga., May 10.—In less than two weeks the commencement season at Bessie Tift will be on. Beginning with the assembling of the board of trustees on Thursday, May 22, and lasting until the delivery of the diplomas on Monday morning, May 26, the exercises will be in full swing.

The baccalaureate sermon is to be preached in the college auditorium by Rev. J. L. White, D. D., of Macon, while the baccalaureate address will be delivered on Monday morning, May 26, by Rev. Alex. W. Bealer, of Eastman.

ALUMNAE WILL MEET.

The alumnae banquet which has heretofore held such a prominent place in the commencement exercises has been discontinued, but the alumnae association is planning a "home-coming" with a special meeting for Saturday, May 24. On that day all the alumnae are to dine at the college, at which time the loving cup will be presented to the class having the largest percentage of its membership present.

As usual the event about which the greatest interest centers is society night, Friday night of commencement. At that time the musical essay and reading contests between the representatives of the Kappa Delta and Clonlian societies are held.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM.

The complete program is as follows: Thursday, 22—8 p. m., meeting of the board of trustees.

Friday, 23—8 p. m., Clonlian vs. Kappa Delta program.

Saturday, 24—9:30 a. m., art exhibit, 9:30 a. m., domestic science exhibit, 10 a. m., alumnae business meeting and reception, 2 p. m., class day exercises, 8 p. m., grand concert by the Choral Union.

Sunday, 25—11 a. m., baccalaureate

The Atlanta Ad Men's club were guests yesterday at a barbecue given at noon at the Burns club by the Jacobs' Pharmacy company.

Dr. Joe Jacobs, president of the company, and Charles A. Smith, manager, received the guests.

All Ad Men, as every one knows, are born with silver spoons in their mouths, but never has any member of the Atlanta club been guest upon a more pleasing occasion than the barbecue given yesterday by the Jacobs' Pharmacy company.

The meats were delicious, the cordiality of the hosts was a fine sauce for the barbecued dainties, and all in all, the occasion was a jolly good time both for guests and for hosts.

Barbecues are usually pleasant, but the one given to the Ad Men by the Jacobs' Pharmacy company was unusually so. It was not only one of the first, but also one of the jolliest "cues" of the season.

Here were the guests of the occasion, all members of the Ad Men's club: E. H. Goodhart, Jr., president; J. H. Lewis, vice president; W. Joseph Hubbard, second vice president; W. S. Lounsbury, treasurer; Howard Geldert, secretary, and Louis D. Hicks, Edwin F. Johnson, W. Mac Jones, Ben Lee Crew, John Gilmore, E. H. Cone, T. H. Brannen, Wythe West, Ivan E. Allen, Dr. F. M. FLORIDA COMMISSIONER WARS ON STATE CHEMIST

Chemist in State of Insubordination, Is Charge Made by Agricultural Commissioner

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 10.—War is on between the state chemist and the commissioner of agriculture, arising over the pure food bill now pending.

Commissioner McRae has issued a statement in which he says, "Recently articles inspired by R. E. Rose, state chemist, have appeared in numerous papers in which is contained a so-called summary of what I denominate as a substitute for senate bill No. 39."

The gist of the statement given out by the commissioner is to emphasize the allegation that the state chemist is in a status of insubordination to the commissioner under whom he is by law directed to work.

He says, further, referring to the pure food law, "If the law of 1911 was destructive and oppressive in its operation it was due to the state chemist's precipitate action in having the bill introduced without the knowledge or consent of the late Commissioner B. E. McRae and not for whose determined stand against its rigid enforcement would have produced stagnation and ruin of the business of all classes and dealers and merchants. I, as succeeding commissioner, had to assume the same position at a later period. Therefore, the several extensions granted to several classes of dealers and merchants were necessary to prevent loss to all."

Broward county, created from the north of Dade, passed the house today.

Dalton Horses Smash Auto and Are Not Hurt

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
DALTON, Ga., May 10.—Without loss of skin from the horses, paint from the buggy and without breaking the harness in a single place, two horses hitched to a buggy dashed into the automobile owned by F. F. Farrar Friday afternoon and wrecked the car. The pole of the buggy was rammed through the rear of the car, splintering it, and the top was wrecked.

As the car was being taken to a nearby garage, a close examination failed to show where the ram, bug or harness had been injured in the least.

Becoming a Nation of Fans

Frank B. Elser in the Outlook.
Where will it end? "Fans" are being born faster than P. T. Barnum's proverbial suckers, and each succeeding season finds them more familiar with the game and demanding more and better news of it. Any old account of an ordinary news event, such as the Balkan war or the assassination of a Mexican president, will do, but baseball, goodness me! we want that written by an expert. We would also like a page of cartoons, depicting the home team in some gentle posture, say, walking on the face of the nearest rival for the pennant, or perchance seated triumphantly in a soaring aeroplane, waving a fond farewell to a small, grunting bear or tiger wearily trundling on the dusty road below a rickety wheelbarrow filled with lemons.

Trusses Like These Are A Crime

Such Makeshifts Have Forced Thousands Into Risking Dangerous Operations

Wearing elastic and spring trusses year after year is almost sure to shorten your life. You can't make them hold, even when drawn so tight you can scarcely stand to keep them on.

They usually let you get worse all the time—that's why every year they are forcing thousands of people into undergoing operations.

They are simply a crime—squeeze the rupture, often causing strangulation—dig into the pelvic bones in front—press against the spinal column at the back—make life miserable for nearly everybody who wears them.

The Plain Truth Is This

You can't possibly get well—can't even keep from getting worse—unless your rupture is constantly held in place. Just as a broken bone can't knit unless held securely together.

And just as a bandage or splint is the only way a broken bone can be held, so the right kind of truss is the only thing in the world that can keep a rupture from coming out and growing worse.

You'll feel like a new person from the day you put on that kind of truss.

But you know as well as we that you'll never find such a sure-to-hold truss as any drug-store.

Yet it's easy enough to get. And you can test it first—by sixty days' trial—without having to risk a single cent.

It's the famous Clute Truss or Clute Automatic Massage—absolutely guaranteed to hold, and won't cost you a cent if it doesn't.

It's so utterly different from everything else for rupture that it has received eighteen separate patents.

Made on an entirely new principle, it instantly and automatically protects you against every strain so your rupture can't possibly be forced out. Self-regulating, self-adjusting. Far more than just a truss.

In addition to constant holding it provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

Just how it does that—entirely automatically—and how it has thus completely cured hundreds and hundreds of people whose cases seemed almost hopeless—is all explained in the free book which the coupon below will bring you.

No Belt—No Leg-Straps—No Springs

The Clute Truss does away with the curse of belts, leg-straps and springs. Thousands say it is as comfortable as their clothing. It is water-proof—will hold in the bath. Also perspiration-proof and easily kept clean.

Make This 60-Day Test—

You Won't Have To Risk A Penny

We don't ask you to trust to a mere try-on the way you have to do at a drugstore.

We'll make a Clute Automatic Massage Truss especially for your case—make it to your measure—and let you try it sixty days.

We'll practically lend it to you that long just for a test.

If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or letting you in any way, no matter how hard you work or strain—if it doesn't prove every claim we make—then you can send it back and it won't cost you a penny.

Free Book Full of Facts

Never Before Put in Print.

Don't spend a cent on account of your rupture until you get our free book of advice.

This remarkable book—clothbound, 96 pages—sums up all we have learned about rupture during forty years of experience. You'll find it full of facts never before put in print.

It shows why elastic and spring trusses cause so much misery and such a shameful waste of money that the law should stop their sale.

It explains why operation is nearly always a needless gamble with death—and why, if you do manage to live through it, you may have to keep on wearing a truss.

It exposes the humbug "appliances," "methods," "plasters," etc.

It shows why sixty days' trial is the only safe way to buy anything for rupture—and how the Clute Truss is the only thing of any kind that you can get on such a long trial because the only thing good enough to stand such a "thorough day-after-day test."

And it tells all about this famous Automatic Massage Truss—how simple it is—how it ends constant operation—how it has saved thousands from operation—how you can get it on trial, and how little it costs if you keep it.

Also gives voluntary endorsements from over 5,000 benefited and cured people.

Write for this book today—don't put it off—the minute it takes to send for it may free you from trouble for the rest of your life. Simply use the coupon or just say in a letter or postal "Send me your book."

The season has so far progressed that a derby looks a bit out of it.

The peace delegates are on a tour of the United States, but will probably stop short of Mexico.

Continuing our optimistic feeling, we don't believe the tariff will reduce the cost of incomes a bit.

The Tariff and the Senate.

The battle over the Underwood tariff bill, which has truly been called Democracy's answer to its platform pledge, now shifts to the Senate. For the past month, since President Wilson summoned an extra session of Congress to settle and to settle right this issue that so vitally concerns public interests, the bill has been before the House. There it encountered all the stubborn and cunning opposition which Standpat Republicans and wishy-washy Republicans, known otherwise as "Bull Moosers," could devise. It faced a compact and resourceful alliance of the disciples of special privilege. But the overwhelming majority by which it was adopted at the close of the debate last Thursday shows the stanchness and unity with which the Democrats of the House are standing by their party faith. The final vote was two hundred and eighty-one to one hundred and thirty-nine in favor of the bill. Only five Democrats voted in the negative and they did so for obviously local reasons.

It is not to be expected that the progress of tariff revision will be as smooth and as expeditious in the Senate as it has been in the House. The upper chamber is naturally more deliberate. It is more susceptible to appeals from special interests, it is further from the mass of the people and nearer the seats of protection.

It must also be remembered that the Democratic majority in the Senate is very small. Its balance of power is six votes at the most and of these two will doubtless be lost by the defection of the senators from Louisiana, who oppose the reduction and the ultimate removal of duties on sugar.

But if the remaining Democrats stand true to the House, and there is every reason to believe that they will, the tariff measure, though delayed and hotly contested, will pass and will become a law within the next few months.

The Republican line of opposition is already indicated in their demand that oral, public hearings on the various schedules to be revised be reopened. Democratic leaders on the Senate finance committee oppose this plan on the ground that ample opportunity was given every one interested to present his claims to the House committee on ways and means. The point is well taken and thoroughly logical; for, the House committee was engaged for many weeks before the extra session of Congress was called in hearing all manufacturers who wished to appear before it. That was the proper time and the proper place for presenting individual views. If particular interests were permitted to talk as long and as often as they desired, no progress whatsoever could be made in any constructive legislation. There is, to be sure, no valid objection against the submission of new tariff evidence to the Senate committee, but the idea of re-tracing the ground that has been thoroughly covered by the House committee is insupportable; and, in truth, it is simply a scheme for unnecessary and unfair delay.

The bill's passage through the Senate will be fought at every step by the Republicans and their clients. The most urgent and insidious appeals will be made to hesitant Democrats. But the opposition now virtually assumes ultimate defeat. It knows that under the leadership of President Wilson the party is pressing forward almost as a unit to carry into effect its pre-election promise. Indications are that the pending bill will be enacted substantially in its present form and that before the summer is over, the rank and file of the people will be guaranteed relief from the exorbitant duties which a tariff devised and maintained for the patronage of special interests has imposed.

The Senate is nearer the people today than ever before, partly because of its Democratic majority, partly because of the constitutional amendment which makes future election to its membership dependent upon the people themselves and chiefly because the voters of the nation have but recently rendered a sweeping verdict against reactionary politics and in favor of liberal policies. The Senate has heard and still hears the voice of the American public, demanding freedom from the burdens and the injustice of an excessive tariff. The Democrats of the Senate cannot escape the obligations of their party's pledge. As a matter of duty to themselves and to the country, they must stand squarely behind the tariff bill which the House has passed and which awaits only their due support to become effective.

It's a waste of time to tell your troubles.

A More Beautiful and A More Useful Atlanta.

One of the most timely and fertile enterprises ever projected for Atlanta's good is the movement to establish a city building plan whereby the community's future development may be orderly and well proportioned and in keeping with the needs and comfort of its people. So rapid is Atlanta's commercial advancement that our public facilities are being outgrown.

Our streets are, in many instances, inadequate to the traffic burdens that are forced upon them.

Our sewerage system is taxed to the utmost.

The problem of a future water supply that will be at once wholesome and abundant demands attention.

The rearrangement of terminal facilities with a view to business convenience and economy must be considered.

To assure the contentment and welfare of a continually swelling population, more parks and playgrounds must be provided; and, in order that we may realize the ideals of a true metropolis, more heed must be given to civic beauty.

Through the initiative of the Chamber of Commerce and the co-operation of the city authorities Atlanta has begun an organized effort to this end. Some months ago, at the instance of the Chamber, Council endorsed a movement to secure a city building plan. The Mayor was authorized to appoint a committee of one hundred and twenty-five to be known as the City Improvement Commission. This commission, composed of representative men from all parts of the community, is now earnestly at work on its important task and, if it receives the continued and adequate support of the municipal government, it will accomplish definite and far-reaching results.

The first step to be taken in the development and execution of a city building plan is to make a topographical survey of Atlanta and its contiguous territory. Until this is done it will be impossible to determine what changes should be made or what the lines of future development should be. In order that we may understand the needs of today and those of decades to come, we must first have this broad outline within which to make detailed plans and estimates.

Such a survey would be invaluable to the city even though it should never be used for an ulterior purpose. It would furnish exact data on the location and the grade of all streets and would thereby enable the municipal authorities to work more precisely and more economically in the regrading of any and all thoroughfares. As conditions now are our streets are, for the most part, regraded independently one of the other; and the result is that much work which should be permanent must be undone to meet new and unforeseen conditions. A complete topographical survey would obviate all these problems and would save the city a vast deal of money as well as time and labor.

Besides this immediate service, such a survey, as we have said, would furnish the starting point for a far-sighted city building plan, a plan which could be gradually filled in by architects and engineers and in accordance with which the city could shape and direct its growth for fifty years to come. The fund required for this survey is but a trifle compared with the great public and civic progress benefits it would make possible. It is earnestly to be hoped that Council, at its earliest opportunity, will grant the necessary appropriation.

Atlanta's efforts to secure a permanent building plan have aroused the interest and won the praise of the entire country. Newspapers and magazines comment upon this movement as new evidence of the city's alert and forward-looking spirit. The Manufacturers' Record devotes much space in a recent issue to an interview with Mr. Wilmer L. Moore, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who discusses the purpose and the far-flung possibilities of Atlanta's latest enterprise. In answering the question, "What is a city plan, what does it mean?" Mr. Moore interestingly says:

"To begin with, it is not merely a 'city beautiful,' nor is it the idea of those who, in working out a plan for a city's future growth, confine their efforts to the artistic and aesthetic. While this is a part of the work the city practical, the city efficient are the major purposes in a city 'built to a blueprint.'"

It will be well for every one to bear this explanation in mind. The city-plan enterprise is not a pursuit of mere prettiness; it is concerned primarily with the people's practical interests. At the same time it takes due account of the importance of making the city comely as well as comfortable; it recognizes the truth that civic beauty itself is a very practical asset. In this connection, Mr. Moore cites the example of Dusseldorf, Germany, a city which has been changed from a drab manufacturing town into one of the most beautiful and inviting spots of all Europe. Dusseldorf has been well described as "a city built for the comfort and convenience of its people, designed as a master architect might design a world's fair to which all mankind was invited for education, recreation and art. Business is made to harmonize with beauty." And we are reminded that "what as done with Dusseldorf can be done with any city, with our city, if the people will but have the dreams and dare to carry them into execution."

The fact is Atlanta is singularly blessed in natural resources and immediate advantages which can be turned to highly artistic effect. Few cities have such rich material for the development of a great park system, and no city has a finer or more responsive public spirit. Let the same energy and enthusiasm that have pressed other great enterprises to success be marshaled behind the city-building plan and Atlanta will show the world that she is not only a center of industry and commerce, but also of those graces which win the eye and nourish the souls of men.

Penny Lunches For Atlanta Schools.

The tentative effort to supply Atlanta school children with penny lunches has won such hearty approval from teachers and parents and has had so wholesome an effect upon the pupils themselves that Council should have no hesitancy in appropriating the modest fund required to continue and extend this gracious enterprise.

Last autumn the Woman's Board of Visitors, which is auxiliary to the Board of Education, began an experiment with the penny-lunch plan at Inman Park school. Tasteful and nutritious lunches, suited to the season, were prepared and dispensed to the children at the mid-day recess for a penny each. During the winter the lunches were hot, consisting of beans and bread or other well chosen and well cooked articles of diet; with the coming of spring, they have been changed to a lighter and fresher menu. In every instance they are prepared with a view to the Shakespearean counsel:

"Now good digestion wait on appetite,
And health on both."

Whoever is interested in reducing the cost of living would find it profitable to study these penny lunches. There is to be sure nothing elaborate about them, and there should not be. But they are wholesome and satisfying. The teachers testify that their effect upon the mental alertness and the behavior of the children is marked. Little boys and girls who are in school from eight in the morning until one or two in the afternoon need something good to eat. The penny lunch solves this really serious problem.

Especially interesting is the fact that the lunches can be sold at a penny each without entailing a deficit, provided of course that the system is carefully managed and that cooking appliances and utensils are furnished. The Woman's Board of Visitors, generously assisted by the Inman Park Girls' club, has thus far conducted this work on its own responsibility and out of its individual resources. An effort is now being made to secure the city's help in order that the plan may be gradually extended to all the public schools. A comparatively small appropriation will suffice and the good that will thereby be accomplished, not only for the individual pupil but also for the efficiency of the public school system is beyond reckoning. It is to be hoped that Council will see fit to hearten and uphold this truly progressive and constructive undertaking.

Just to think: awhile back we had more rain than we knew what to do with.

Although battered somewhat, the Atlanta team is still close to the ringside.

The Congressional Record is having a comparatively easy time under the new administration.

Uniting Town and Rural Interests.

A few years ago the business men of Trenton, Mo., a town of some seven thousand inhabitants, organized a chamber of commerce for the purpose of upbuilding their community. They were liberal in their subscriptions and faithful in attendance, but for one reason or another the results they had expected were not forthcoming. Finally, when interest in the movement was nearing its lowest ebb, some citizens suggested that the scope of the club be extended to the adjacent country and that farmers and rural residents be invited to its membership. A vigorous campaign to this end was begun with the result that in a short time the enrollment of the organization leaped from one hundred and fifty to five hundred and that both the town and its county are now progressing marvelously.

"The Trenton idea," as this piece of enterprise has come to be called, is now astir in many parts of the Union. "It is simply an effort," comments the Louisville Courier-Journal, "to do away with the imaginary line known as the corporate limits of a town and to remove the artificial barriers between the city and the country." So long as rural and urban interests are considered in any wise antagonistic or even independent, neither of them can develop as they should. The truth is the town and the rural district about it are vitally interdependent and each of them will progress to the extent that they realize and work together for their common welfare.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has shown the proper spirit by devoting a large measure of energy to the encouragement of rural interests. It has done a vast deal for the promotion of the boys' corn club movement, for the campaign against the boll weevil and other crop pests and for the general enrichment of rural life not only in Fulton and adjoining counties, but also throughout the State.

It will be well for the boards of trade or chambers of commerce to remember that one of the surest means toward developing their own community is to aid in the development of the surrounding country and to enlist the co-operation of farmers as well as business men.

Weather indications point to a scarcity of rain checks.

Secretary Bryan's idea of diplomacy is an eternity between drinks.

Likewise the baseball pitcher has hardly had time to develop a glass arm.

The umpire by this time is pretty well acclimated to the heat of the bleachers.

Continuing the optimistic trend still further, we believe we'll have a big and a high-priced cotton crop.

The price of living has descended to that extent where a man with a $5,000 a year income can have fried chicken once a week.

The Genealogist

EDWARDS.

SIR BARON CHENEY.

The great family of Cheney or Cheney, of Slaeland, in the Isle of Slapay, founded by Ralph de Carne-tope, of the companions-at-arms of the Conqueror, Robert Cheney, Esq., of Meynes, Langy Co. Derby, descends from Sir Baron Cheney, King's Guard—created Baron Cheney by Henry VII for his services at Bosworth; his brother was Edward Cheney; his son was Robert Cheney, whose oldest son, Robert, entered Grenadier Guards in 1759, served several campaigns with great distinction; was wounded at Delinger, died at the age of fifty-four years; was buried at York-shire. The present Cheney lived in Maryland county, Derby. (Berk's Landed Gentry.)

The first Cheney we find in the United States is one Richard Cheney, one of the founders of Anne Arundel, Md., he received a patent for a land grant, South River Hundred, Md., 1660. "Cheney's Neck." We find his son, Richard Cheney, (possibly his grand-son), at Georgetown, Md., March 15, 1780. (Founders of Anne Arundel, Md.)

It is very evident that Levi Cheney is of the same family; he was born in Maryland, and married Melitah Morse. His war record in the American Revolution shows that he enlisted and re-enlisted three or four times and was honorably discharged in 1781. At one time was paid 7 pounds, 10 shillings, for three months' service. He served in Colonel Harrison's, Colonel Hawe's and Colonel Joseph Webb's regiment. He is described as "Levi Cheney, of Walpole, fifty years old, five feet, eleven inches tall, of light complexion, grey eyes." He had a young son "a stripling at the age of sixteen;" and when he re-enlisted at age of eighteen, "and did good service," he is described as being "five feet, five inches high, of light complexion; and passed muster under Brigadier General Patterson's inspection."

From the above brave men descends Mr. I. C. McCrory and his daughter, Miss Frankie McCrory, of College Park; Mr. Malcolm McCrory, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. E. T. Booth, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. L. J. Battle, of Athens, Ga., and Mr. John Cheney, of Montgomery, Ala., and many other good citizens in the southern states.

Very respectfully.

College Park, Ga. MRS. MINNIE E. HOGAN.

A DAWN SONG

Dreaming of song, of sunny skies and June,
Within her lady bower of April night,
The Truth was awakened by a spear of light
That stole within the stillness all too soon.
But at its touch the memory of a tune,
Sung yester-even, awakened fresh delight
And urged her soul to new and higher flight;
For in the East was that Elysian sight
Of Dawn's pale tints against a fading moon.

Then in a note, that echoed far and wide,
Through all the April glory of the wood,
The bird sent forth the joy she could not hide.
Of every tree there was one brotherhood,
Knit closer by the song's uplifting tide;
So when the tree-tops kissed the rising sun
Song-praise and Love were mingled in one.

Captain Barnacle's Log.

BY JOHN H. WISHAR

"Sponges," said Captain Barnacle, "are useful things, maybe, but I have never had any use for them since they've wrecked the wreck of the big full-rigged clipper No. 10, Light just off the coast of Japan. On this voyage we were bound from Singapore to Victoria, British Columbia, and the entire cargo was sponges. They were packed in heavy casks and were squeezed in tight. It was a very light cargo, too light in fact for the safety of the ship, as I had to carry a lot of ballast to steady her."

"It was just after we passed Mitsuto Head, to the northward of Yokohama, that the ship sprang a leak. It was a trifling leak and I didn't think much of it when the carpenter reported the matter. Of course the men were put at the pumps, and they soon had the ship dry. I went down to look at the hull and was surprised to find the water pouring in at a great rate, but to my surprise it seemed to vanish as fast as it came in."

"I did the best I could to check the leak and went back on deck. Next morning the first mate came in and woke me up."

"Captain," says he, "there's something wrong. The ship seems to have changed her shape over night. Better take a look."

"I hurried on deck, and, to my surprise, the trim lines of my vessel had vanished. The night before she was a slender clipper ship; now she was a stumpy nosed, broad sided old tub. I was horror-struck."

"What is it?" I cried.

"Sponges," said the mate, and, sure enough, that is what the trouble really was. Those sponges had absorbed the water that had leaked in, and they had swelled. They had burst the barrels in which they were packed, and then they had forced the sides of the ship out until she was like a wicker basket. They continued swelling until there was no semblance of a clipper left to my poor old vessel, and there was grave danger that we would go to pieces way out there at sea. But I managed to work the vessel to the city of Yamahito, and ran her ashore in the harbor. This town was in the north of Japan, and the inhabitants had never seen sponges."

"The first thing I did was to hire a lot of natives to haul out the sponges. These were taken to the beach and squeezed out. When the natives saw those big sponges squeezed into almost nothing they thought there was some kind of witchery in it and had a Buddhist priest to swing incense around before they would do more work."

"After three days I had the ship unloaded, and we beached her on a sandbar, and at low tide she was high and dry. Then I had her caulked with those dry sponges, and when the water touched them they swelled, and the ship was as tight and trim as ever."

"After that I sold the sponges to the Japanese for all kinds of silk goods and rice, and I believe I made about three times as much out of that voyage as I would have if the sponges hadn't wrecked my vessel. But from that day to this I have always refused to carry a complete load of those things."

A Batch of Smiles

"Well, my little man, what can I do for you?" asked the grocer as he rubbed his hands genially together.

"Please, sir, mother says these matches she bought this morning ain't no good."

"No good?" exclaimed the grocer, now looking almost as much worried as the boy. "What's the matter with them? This is the first complaint I've had."

"Can't help that," said the small boy. "Mother says they ain't no good."

"Nonsense!" replied the grocer. Then, taking a match from one of the boxes, he gave it a smart rub, which ignited it immediately, and turned to the boy again. "Well," he inquired, "what have you got to say now?"

The small complainant returned the disdainful look, undaunted.

"That's all right, guv'nor," he remarked, "but d'you fink my mudder's coming 'ere to strike matches on your boot every time she wants a light?"

THE INCOME TAX

IV.—GRADUATING THE TAX.
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Until recent legislation in some of the more progressive states there has been little effort in the United States to graduate income taxes, increasing the rate with expanding incomes. On the other hand, in Europe and Australasia the general tendency has been in that direction for years. There it has been assumed that the right principle of uniformity in taxation is uniformity of burden rather than uniformity of rate. As the widow's mite was more than the richest gifts that were placed in the contribution box, because it was 100 per cent of what she had, while the other gifts represented perhaps only the fraction of 1 per cent of what their donors had, so a tax of $20 may hit the small taxpayer infinitely harder than a tax of $500 hit the large taxpayer. The European idea is that each person shall bear a tax burden proportionately adjusted to his ability to bear it, and that the larger the income the higher the tax rate it can bear without putting an undue burden upon the taxpayer.

There are really two forms of graduation, and in the parlance of the tax official they are known as "graduation" and "differentiation." Graduation, under this division, has to do directly with a sliding scale of tax rates, applied to various sized fortunes. Differentiation has to do with a levying of different rates upon incomes secured from different sources. They both aim to produce results that will produce equal burdens upon all classes of taxpayers. With reference to graduation, Gladstone once used a remarkable expression to differentiate between the sources of incomes. One class of incomes he called "industrious" incomes, because they spring "from the sweat of the brow." The other class he designated as "lazier" incomes, because the only labor involved in getting them is the clipping of coupons or the cashing of dividend checks. Differentiation, then, aims to assess a lower tax against the money a man has to work for than against that which comes to him from investments. Still another form of graduation is that of exempting incomes which fall below a certain fixed amount, the theory being that a man or woman who has no larger income has need for every dollar of it in maintaining the proper standard of living.

England adopted the plan of differentiation, as will be explained later, in 1907, after the most extensive investigation of the workings of the principle in other countries. There were those who asserted that it would result in great loss of revenue. Others believed that it would upset the whole tax system. But after it was tried out there was no loss of revenue, and the chancellor declared that it had worked a moral as well as a fiscal reform. After three years trial it had proved itself such a satisfactory innovation that the government decided to go a step further and fix a system of graduated taxes. Differentiation made incomes that were the result of "the sweat of the brow" bear a tax of 9 pence on the pound and investment incomes a tax of 12 pence, when the income did not go over 2,000 pounds. When the government decided to graduate the tax the differentiation was increased, so that while earned incomes were still taxed 9 cents instead of 24 cents. When graduation was taken up, the same gloomy prophecies that were made that differentiation would not succeed, came to be made that graduation would fail. But they were mistaken, and England now regards its income tax system the best that civilization has produced.

Different countries approach the question of graduation in different ways. Some of them first make an exemption of a living income, and assess the tax against nothing but the excess of income above that point, levying a different rate of taxation upon each $1,000 of income. If, for instance, the exemption were $1,000 and the total income were $6,000, and the rate 1 per cent on the first $1,000 above that, 2 per cent on the second $1,000, etc., the tax would be calculated as follows: $1,000 at 1 per cent, $10; $1,000 at 2 per cent, $20; $1,000 at 3 per cent, $30; $1,000 at 4 per cent, $40, and $1,000 at 5 per cent, $50; total tax, $150.

On the other hand, some laws provide that an income in excess of the exemption, shall be taxed according to its size, the ascending rate applying to all of the income, instead of to each $1,000 of it on a separate basis. For instance, suppose the exemption is $1,000, and that the rate is made 1 per cent if it does not exceed $1,000 above the exemption, 2 per cent if it does not exceed $2,000, etc. Under this plan the man with a $5,000 income over and above the exemption would pay 5 per cent on the entire $5,000 or $250 on the income.

It has been found upon a careful investigation of the income tax laws of the various countries that 84 per cent of the aggregate population of all the countries having such laws are residents of countries where graduation is a recognized principle. Of the fifty-odd countries which tax incomes, forty-six use some form of graduation. In a large group of countries the average tax rates on incomes of varying sizes were calculated, and it is shown that taxable incomes of $500 paid 1.50 per cent, incomes of $1,000 paid 1.81 per cent, incomes of $2,000 paid 2.17 per cent, incomes of $5,000 paid 2.82 per cent. The average of all these countries on incomes of $100,000 was 2.83 per cent. These figures are on incomes arising from personal exertion; those derived from invested capital are somewhat higher.

A tabulation of the tax rates in twenty different countries where the principle of differentiation is recognized has also been made by the same authority, K. K. Kennan, of Milwaukee, and the composite distinction between earned and unearned incomes ascertained therefrom. The tabulation shows that where earned income pays a tax of $2, unearned income would pay $5 on the same amount.

Even with a graduated income tax, and with exemptions amounting to $1,100 as the average for English-speaking countries, not a great many people are vitally concerned in the tax when compared to the whole population. Taking as a group England and fourteen of its colonies, and Hawaii, it is found that the average exemption is $1,100, and that less than one person in twenty has to pay an income tax. In England itself, where only those who have an income of more than $800 have to pay a tax, only one person in thirty has an income that puts him in the income tax paying class. It, therefore, follows that a system of graduation such as England has, perhaps less than one person in several hundred has to pay any more than a nominal sum.

No other country in the world so thoroughly recognizes the principle of graduation as England and its colonies. While in the United States, where graduation might be taken as an effort fostered by demagogues to shift an undue burden to men of large incomes, it can be said that in England the leading tax authorities, men in no wise influenced by such political considerations, claim that the graduated income tax is the only just one, and that the whole tendency of the times is in that direction.

OFFICIAL NEWS SOON OF BETTER CAR SERVICE

Announcement Will Be Made
When President Arkwright's
Report Is Received

Official announcement of improved street car service in Atlanta may be expected within the next week or ten days.

As published exclusively in The Journal yesterday afternoon, the state railroad commission has suggested certain improvements and the street car company will make them voluntarily, without the commission having to order them made.

Though C. Murphy Candler, chairman of the commission, was unwilling last night to discuss The Journal's story in detail, he virtually confirmed the essential facts of the story by saying it is true that the commission and officials of the company recently held a conference, that the commission suggested additional service on numerous routes, and that the officials now have the matter under advisement and will report back to the commission in a few days.

In justice to Mr. Candler it should be said that he did not furnish the information published in The Journal yesterday. It came from a reliable source outside of the commission. Mr. Candler and the other members of the commission make it a rule not to discuss matters pending before them officially, as they are in the position of judges.

Mr. Arkwright, when called last night, said he did not care to make any statement either one way or the other.

Nevertheless, it is known that the company realized the necessity for additional service on numerous lines and is willing to provide the same on its own motion.

Also, the company agrees with the conclusions of the railroad commission as to the routes where these improvements should be made, which is natural, in view of the fact that the commission arrived at their conclusions from analyzing conductors' report sheets on all lines in the city for a period of one week.

These sheets, along with a great deal of other detailed information as to the volume of traffic, were recently filed with the commission in pursuance to an order, and the conference mentioned by Mr. Candler was the result of a long and thorough examination of the sheets by Mr. Candler and the commission's staff.

28 PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS IN STATE; EXAMS SOON

Joe Hunter, chairman of the Georgia state board of examiners of public accountants, has called the regular half-yearly examination to be held in Atlanta on May 21 and 22. This examination is held in accordance with the certified public accountants law, providing for a board of examiners of public accountants, which was passed in 1908. It is acknowledged that the most proficient auditors carry the degree of C. P. A., and these letters can be written after this examination has been passed successfully.

There are now about twenty-eight certified public accountants registered in Georgia, but it is expected this number will be increased after the examination mentioned. The subjects in which the candidates are to be examined are theoretical and practical accounting, auditing and commercial law as effecting accountancy.

The candidates to stand this examination will be drawn from every section of the state.

MRS. GEORGIA POWERS TO REST AT WEST VIEW

Mrs. Georgia Powers died Saturday morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. O. H. Martin, 103 Windsor street. She leaves four children, Mrs. J. R. Gormley, Mrs. Martin and Clem Powers, of Atlanta, and Mrs. J. M. Fulton, of Pelham, Ga.

Mrs. Powers was the wife of the late Horace Powers, and the sister-in-law of the late Mr. Virgil Powers, of Macon. She was seventy years of age and had lived in Atlanta for twenty-five years.

A host of friends throughout the state mourn her death.

Funeral services will be held from her daughter's residence at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and interment will be at West View cemetery.

MISS WILLIMAN'S PARLORS ARE POPULAR IN ATLANTA

The advent of Miss Williman in Atlanta fills a long felt want and offers the people of this community opportunities for treatment by the various bath processes, a thing hitherto unknown locally.

In fitting up her establishment, every appliance represents the newest and most up-to-date, and from a hygienic standpoint, measures up to the highest standard, and carries the endorsement of prominent physicians and specialists.

Miss Williman's ultimate intention is to own and equip a building for this purpose and is already progressing in this direction.

In order to stimulate this feature of her enterprise, she has decided on the co-operative plan, whereby every purchaser of one share of stock, par value Fifteen Dollars, will be given a fifteen-dollar treatment ticket, and upon completion of the building, each shareholder will participate in all net earnings.

Plain baths, Electric baths, Vapor baths, Electric sun baths, Needle baths, Shower baths, Sulphur baths, Hot Air apparatus for body and limbs, Electric Vibrating chairs, Sitz baths, including attendant, alcohol rub and massages.

(Adv.)

NEGRO ODD FELLOWS HOLD BIG ASSEMBLY

The negro branch of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows will celebrate their joint Thanksgiving assembly Sunday morning at the auditorium.

According to announcement made by W. W. Russell, chairman of the arrangement committee.

All lodges will form at the corner of Bell street and Auburn avenue, and will then march to the auditorium. The drum corps and the Third Georgia Regimental band will take part, and the inmates of the House of Ruth will also participate in the celebration.

CALHOUN STREET SCHOOL, A MODEL FOR CO-OPERATION OF MOTHER AND TEACHER

Mrs. John W. Rowlett Tells of Parent-Teacher Neighborhood Club and the Good Being Accomplished by its Organization

BY MRS. JOHN W. ROWLETT.

The forming of a life plan is of inestimable value to the child. This is the goal toward which every mother is aiming and to make this life plan beautiful and noble, to make intelligent and clear thinking men and women, is the aim of our public schools. The home creates the ideal—the school influences it. The mother according to her enlightenment, produces moral sentiment, but it is the school which cultivates and enriches this sentiment. The very suggestion of the great possibilities of life tend to awaken a desire to realize them and every effort made to benefit the child either by home or school tends to raise the standard in the school. Hence we are forced to see the greater things that may be accomplished by the co-operation of both.

Calhoun street school was built in 1882, being at present the second oldest school building in Atlanta. The first principal was Miss Anna Fuller and during the two years of her incumbency it was a primary school, only four grades being taught. Mrs. Echols succeeded Miss Fuller and under her wise management and inexhaustible energy this school soon became an eight grade school and was known as one of the best if not the very best in the school system.

The present principal Miss Lily Wurm, took charge in September, 1897, and her aim to keep this school in the foremost ranks has been successful. Until the year 1901 the enrollment of this school averaged 420, at which time the school was enlarged to accommodate two more classes, the enrollment reaching an average of 475. In 1911, when the new Forrest avenue school was opened, this school resumed its normal enrollment, the annex being closed.

A THIRTY-ONE-YEAR AVERAGE.

Think for a minute, an average of 450 for 31 years, five hours each day for five days in the week and ten months in the year. Can we estimate the wonderful influence of the teacher who works so conscientiously for the good of our children? The mothers should eagerly grasp the opportunity to co-operate and keep up the high standard that Calhoun has placed. This is a very old building, out of date, no modern improvements, no conveniences whatever and under these adverse conditions it holds its own. The very best library among all the schools is here, many fine reference books having been added in the past few years by Miss Wurm. A fine piano and a graphophone, also a few choice pictures, copies from the best artists, are among their prized possessions. The receipts from an entertainment given during the past few weeks are to be expended in other pictures.

The good work which has been accomplished here can not be estimated for among those who have taught and been pupils in this school are the present principals of the Girls' High School, Hill Street, Forrest Avenue, Davis Street, East Atlanta, Luckie Street, Formwalt and the head of the normal department of the Girls' High school. Besides these, the names of many of our high officials and scores of our best citizens were once enrolled on the register of Calhoun school.

A "SOCIAL CENTER."

Making this school a "social center," where mother and teacher may meet on a common ground is no longer an experiment, for with the organization of the Parent-Teacher-Neighborhood club here it has been successfully demonstrated that great good can be accomplished by the mother being brought face to face with the conditions and problems that the teacher has to contend with every day.

This club was organized by Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, following an instructive lecture by Dr. Claude Smith on sanitation, in April of last year. The membership consisted of fifteen with the writer president. They have availed themselves of some of the lectures provided by the congress of mothers, have had the children entertained by the very best story-tellers in the city, had heart-to-heart talks when the various problems of school life was discussed and in every way tried to prove that cooperation meant just that, and nothing more nor less. There were fifty-one names on the roll at the closing meeting.

But the main effort has been to better the material conditions surrounding this school. The grounds were unsafe and unsanitary. So they banded together for the common purpose of bettering conditions. The club circulated petitions, went before the city council asking for an appropriation commensurate with the needs and hope by the opening of the school in the fall to have things in a better condition.

TO SERVE A GREAT END.

These Parent-Teacher-Neighborhood clubs are organized to serve a great end, the betterment of the child, and in our zeal we must not forget to spice this with love and thoughtful care of the teacher who so willingly enters into our plans without a thought, of perhaps, the added burden to herself. Hence it behooves us to make our plans co-operative ones, making the school real "social centers," benefiting all who avail themselves of these privileges.

MODERN WOODMEN ARE TO SPEND DAY AT TALLULAH

The Modern Woodmen of America and their friends will spend May 21 (Wednesday) at Tallulah Falls, according to an announcement circulated Saturday. They will make the trip on a special train, which will leave the Terminal station at 8 o'clock on that morning, and passengers will be taken on at several points between Atlanta and Gainesville. The round trip fare of $1.50 has been secured.

FEDERAL COMPANY GETS U. S. RADIO CONTRACT

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Federal Telegraph company of San Francisco submitted the lowest estimate for the construction of the high power radio station at the United States naval reservation at San Pablo site Calmte, canal zone, when the bids were opened today at the navy department. The company's estimate on the construction of the three 600-foot steel towers was $73,775, and on the wireless equipment, $52,591.

CONGRATULATES ATLANTA ON CORDIAL HOSPITALITY

J. K. Orr Says Citizens Responded Remarkably to Call for Presbyterians

"Atlanta is to be congratulated upon the readiness with which she has responded to our call for hospitality in her homes," said J. K. Orr, general chairman of the committee on arrangements for the Presbyterian assemblies, yesterday afternoon. The assemblies meet here Wednesday, and homes have been secured for the 1,500 commissioners who are coming from all parts of the country.

"When it is a matter of entertaining in the home, there's none of us can make promises offhand," said Mr. Orr. "There are more than ourselves to be considered, so I think it is remarkable that in four days the citizens should have met fully our request for enough homes to house the remainder of the commissioners, for whom the Presbyterians themselves had no room."

Mr. Orr added that, though the committee feels safe with the homes it has listed now, an emergency might arise under which others would be needed. Therefore the lists will be kept open, said he, until the last of the commissioners have arrived and been made at home.

Every stratum of worldly possessions is represented by those who have placed their homes so generously at the disposal of this committee in order that the good name of Atlanta for hospitality may be upheld. By no means all of them, nor even the majority of them, are wealthy people. Residents who have much less to give have been just as cordial and just as generous in tendering their full share of the entertainment.

Does Your Town Want to Grow?

IF it's a town with the push and the pride to want to get ahead, the first thing to do is make it a good place to live in.

Q Is it the kind of place the young fellows will stick to and be proud of and want to rear their families in?

Q Is it the kind of place visitors will really enjoy visiting? Is it the sort of town you men and women think really worth while.

Q If it is lacking in CORRECT SANITARY CONDITIONS, it will never get over into the growing column.

Q Just as well get that down right off.

Q Sanitary living is the right of the people. It is the just inheritance of the little child. It is the safeguard of the population.

Q If there's a lurking-place for disease in your home, your family is in danger.

Q If your town has a breeding place for sickness, you and your neighbors will have to pay the price.

Q If your town lacks the proper Sewerage facilities, it's in danger.

Q If the water supply is contaminated, or exposed to contamination, the health of your people is menaced.

Q If your lighting is inadequate, out-of-date and cheerless, your boys and girls will be the losers. Darkness isn't good for the morals any more than for the eyesight.

Q Let us talk with you about what your town needs. It's our business to better and boost the town that is ailing. We've cured and cheered more than 300. We'd like to tell you who they are and what we did for them.

MILLTOWN FISHERS NOT LAWLESS, SAYS KNIGHT

Berrien Citizens Can Enforce Game Laws Without Interference, He Writes

Editor Atlanta Journal, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir—The writer asks space in your column to answer the article which appeared under the headline, "State Warden Going to Lawless Section," in the first column of the third page in your issue of May 8, and that you give this article equal prominence as given that article, which is apparently quotations from an interview with Mr. Mercer, state game warden.

Now, then, to begin with, I beg to say that I have no part in this scramble, no interest in it whatever except that I do not purpose to see this county and section unduly criticized and held up to public ridicule and scorn without just cause. My immediate family have lived in what is now Berrien county for more than a century, and in the section around Milltown, Ga. The people in and around the town of Milltown are among the best in blood and character of which the state is justly entitled to boast. It is known throughout this section that Berrien county's officers are fearless in the discharge of their duties, and that the juries in Berrien county, when there is evidence to authorize, will promptly convict, and that the judges who have heretofore presided and now have the honor to preside unhesitatingly pass sentence inflicting prompt, speedy and adequate punishment to those who are convicted. No law broken goes without vindication, and no criminal unpunished. There is no difference in the swiftness and certainty of punishment from murder to vagrancy, both inclusive; each and every phase of crime is committed by the offender in this county with the certain knowledge that he will be brought to the bar of justice and his reward meted out to him. A violation of the state game and fishing law is no exception to the rule. Persons have been arrested who have fished in the waters of Berrien county, which waters cover the land of land holders where no consent was had by the violator to fish or hunt upon the owner's land. Each violation of this law hereafter committed, when known and reported, will be treated likewise, the offender arrested, prosecuted and by a jury of good, honest yeomen promptly convicted when the evidence authorizes, without the aid, assistance or interference of the deputy game warden or chief state warden, anybody else. In short, there is no lawlessness at Milltown, Ga., with reference to violation of the fish laws of the state, unless it be that in some instances some shiftless, indolent person slips around without the knowledge of the various land owners whose lands lie in what is known as the Banks millpond, and thereby violates section 7 of the fish and game law of the state.

This man Bolestar, however, he is, seems to have come to Milltown with the idea that seems to prevail with the state game warden, and the Atlanta newspapers that he was down in a section where the people had no regard for law or order, and where the people were barely civilized, and his actions and conduct prove that together with respect he seems to have circulated about the people in this section. This is proven by reason of the fact that he had men arrested who owned hundreds of acres of land lying underneath the waters of this pond in question, i. e., E. M. Clendon, J. H. Bostick and William Pafford, and others, without any effort to find out the truth of what he was doing. Does the game warden, or anybody else, entertain the idea that people who are born and reared around this pond and which for more than three-fourths of a century have held, they and their parents, the lands underneath this pond, and which they and only exercising their personal rights and liberties given and guaranteed to them by every law, God's law, federal law and state law, would be arrested for such exercising of their right, and such ruthless and wanton arrest go uncriticized?

The principal part of lands covered by the Banks millpond are not now, nor have they ever belonged to the Banks estate, but by other parties. It is true that the owners of the mill have the right to the water privilege, or rather the right to back and keep water on the lands of the individuals above referred to, but these land owners have always returned their lands for taxes and paid the same, and the Banks estate nor the holders of the mill property have ever done so. The owners of these lands have the privilege and perfect right to fish as much as they please provided they do it as prescribed by law, and also to permit their friends or any one else that they would wish to fish on their lands, and the Banks estate nor any one else, have any right to forbid it, and certainly no crime is committed by them in so doing.

I notice from the article referred to, that Mr. Mercer states "It is a serious matter to contemplate such a state of lawlessness in any community in Georgia." Now, then, I desire to say to Mr. Mercer that no such condition exists there. There is no state of "lawlessness" there. There is this, however, a set of pure-blooded, free-born, Anglo-Saxon, American citizens with rights there that they have always enjoyed, having them handed down to them by good sturdy old stock, and whenever their rights are encroached upon by any one, and even a deputy game warden, they will find those same citizens able and ready to take care of their rights and that without flinching. They will proceed quietly and in an orderly way to do that very thing.

No, Mr. Mercer, the citizens of Berrien county do not need your assistance, nor the assistance of the governor, nor the state militia to enforce the law in this county for violations of the fish and game laws, nor for a violation of any other law. Our officers, our citizenship and our juries are equal to any emergency and any task, that might confront them now, or hereafter, as has been demonstrated by the record in the past. Your deputy warden came to Milltown, and like good many other would-be officers, proceeded to violate the law himself, and was caught with the goods, and now he squeals, and it seems you have, unwittingly no doubt, give criticism and publicity which would cause unfavorable comment on this, one of the cleanest sections in the state of Georgia. Before this deputy warden came here there had been arrests, convictions and punishments, arrests and prosecutions pending in the city court against violators of the fishing laws with reference to this same pond, which violations will be punished.

HAVE YOUR GAS METER TESTED IF YOU THINK IT'S TOO FAST

City's Smoke and Gas Inspector, C. P. Poole, Has Meter-Testing Apparatus in City Hall, and to Get a Test Made
You Only Have to Ask Him

People who think their gas meters are registering more gas than they are using may have the question settled by the city smoke and gas inspector, C. P. Poole, by simply applying to him for a test.

There is now installed in his office a meter testing apparatus for the benefit of the general public.

To get your meter tested, you simply call Inspector Poole and give him your name and street address. He notifies the gas company and they send out and set your meter and take it to the inspector's office. If the test shows the meter to be correct, no costs are involved. If the test shows the meter to be incorrect, it costs you nothing, and the gas company gives you a new meter.

Inspector Poole is an expert and his meter tester is the finest built. The gas company questions neither his ability nor the accuracy of his apparatus.

The inspector and the apparatus are provided by the city government for the public. So if you think your gas meter is running too fast, don't quarrel about it. Have a test made.

CANDLE POWER TEST.
Nor is this all. Inspector Poole is doing in the matter of gas.

He has in his office an apparatus to provided the evidence warrants it, without any assistance or interference from the state warden, assistants or lawyers that he might bring with him down here, it might not be amiss to say right here that it has not been a great while since the local deputy warden at Milltown was arrested, tried, promptly convicted and punished for fishing in the pond without license. Our courts and juries make no exception whenever the offender is brought to the bar and the evidence produced, which is usually forthcoming where crime is committed, he gets conviction and punishment regardless of whether he is charged with violating the fish law or some other law.

The above referred to article also quotes Mr. Mercer as saying, "I am going to Nashville and Milltown next week and shall attend the trials and arrange for the enforcement of the law as it applies to the Banks pond." Now to this, the writer begs to say that we are enforcing the laws, including the fish and game laws, in Georgia without assistance from the game warden or deputy game warden and imported lawyers, and we will continue to do so without them, and will be doing the same thing possibly when the present game law and those who make so much noise about enforcing it have long passed into forgetfulness.

No, brother Mercer, step aside here and sit with me on this log, take one of those long cigars you carry in your pocket, light it, and while the smoke curls away reflect a little bit and see if you do not get back to a normal condition and remember what kind of stock the people of Berrien county come from, and then go back to your office and tell the Atlanta newspapers that you are mistaken about a condition which they refer to almost in the same terms as they would to the Reelfoot Lake tragedy of some years ago. When you wish an investigation made with reference to this pond and the enforcement of the game law we would be pleased to have you come; nowhere in the state of Georgia would you be treated with more respect or feel more at ease, but you will not have to bring with you attorneys and deputies who tote concealed pistols.

test the candle power of gas, and is using it three times a day. He keeps a record of the candle power as shown by these tests, and furnishes the gas company with the figures at regular intervals.

Gas loses some of its candle power by the pipes absorbing the illuminants in the gas, and by decrease in temperature after the gas leaves the tanks. Gas men know this and try to make up for it by increasing the candle power at the tanks so that when the gas reaches the customer its candle power will come up to the required standard. Since Inspector Poole commenced furnishing reports to the gas company the candle power has increased considerably. He believes the company saw from his tests that the surplus at the tanks was the only one in Atlanta, and it is at the gas tanks. So that while the company can test for candle power at the tanks with its photometer, as the apparatus is called, it could not, until the inspector's tests began, determine the candle power it was actually delivering to the public.

and inflame and incite to discord in our midst. Get ready and come along next week, and get in an automobile with you, and we will go down with you to Milltown and the Banks pond and introduce to you the people that have been classed as "lawless," and let you see for yourself after you have made a careful investigation as to the manner of men they are. Then you can go back to Atlanta and report to the papers that it was all a mistake, and that the deputy warden you sent down here came violating the law instead of seeing it enforced and vindicated.

Mr. Mercer, the state warden, is a personal and warm friend of the writer, and has been for a number of years. He is misinformed and misled, but if he will come down here and go to this "lawless" section he will soon find it out and make reparation for the wrong done, and I know the Atlanta papers will soon be able to know that they, too, will stand ready to make correction.

ZIMMER GIVES BARBECUE IN MISS FISHER'S HONOR

Many Friends of "Farmer Bill" Enjoy Feast and Dancing at Kimballville

Genial Will V. Zimmer was host on Saturday afternoon to one of his great barbecues at his country home, Kimballville. The affair was given in honor of Miss Marie Fisher, of Charleston, S. C., who has been visiting relatives in the city for several weeks.

The barbecue was served in a pavilion which Mr. Zimmer has for that special purpose, and his 100 guests were treated with one of the best barbecues that the genial "farmer" has ever produced, and that is saying much when it is remembered that he has been the host to many barbecues ere this.

After the spread the party enjoyed dancing for the rest of the afternoon.

in Regard to Purchases

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Charged that the present methods of making purchases of supplies for the federal government opens the way to graft, "for parasites of large and small degree," were made in a letter which Representative Bathrick of Ohio, filed today with a plea for his measure, recently introduced, to provide authority for a special committee on buying and selling.

Mr. Bathrick named forty bureaus and bureau chiefs that he says should be investigated at once by a committee on buying and selling, with a view to reforms. Mr. Bathrick stated there should be one central point and authority for the purchasing of the million dollars or more of government supplies. "I believe we are wasting millions of dollars," said he.

REV. G. W. MORRIS DEAD AT AGE OF 92 YEARS

Beloved Preacher Ends Long and Useful Life at His Home at Conley

Rev. G. W. Morris, a superannuated Protestant Methodist preacher, died last night at his home at Conley, Ga., near Atlanta, in his ninety-second year. He is survived by the following sons and daughters: Victor Morris, of Atlanta; Charles A. Morris, former sheriff of DeKalb county; W. B. Morris, of Slaughter, La.; Mrs. H. D. Moore, of Conley; Mrs. M. S. Ransom, of Killebrew; and Mrs. Mattie Stubbs, of Fulton county.

Mr. Morris' life was spent in Fulton, DeKalb and Clayton counties. He had preached to thousands and had a host of friends. He stood high in his church, being for several years president of the Protestant Methodist conference in this section.

The funeral will be held at the residence Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

HOUSE ASKS PRESIDENT TO NAME INDORSERS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Carrying an endorsement of the policy of having the president make public endorsements of candidates appointed to federal judgeships, the house today passed a bill creating a new district judgeship in the eastern district of Pennsylvania. The purpose of the bill is to take care of one of the present judges, incapacitated by ill health.

Republican Leader Mann sought to embarrass the Democrats by offering an amendment that the "president shall make public the indorsements of the persons appointed" to the new judgeship. During the Taft administration the Democrats voted for bills carrying similar clauses. On today's vote the Democrats divided, and the amendment was adopted on a roll call vote 180 to 84.

MUSIC FESTIVAL CHORUS THANKS ASSN. AND OTHERS

Resolution Expresses Appreciation of Big Assn., Generosity, Director and Organist

The members of the Music Festival chorus have drawn up resolutions of thanks and appreciation, directed to the officers of the Atlanta Music Festival association and to Dr. Percy J. Starnes, director and Charles B. Sheldon, organist. These resolutions set forth the many benefits and privileges which have been accorded to members of the chorus, and express gratitude for the same. The resolutions are as follows:

"Whereas, the Atlanta Music Festival association has, through its directing officers, made possible the organization and maintenance of a festival chorus; and

"Whereas, the said Atlanta Music Festival association has from time to time manifested an interest in, and care for, the said chorus by providing, free of charge to its members, a place of meeting, an ample and well selected musical library and a director second to none in the country; and

"Whereas, the said directors of the said Atlanta Music Festival association have further manifested their interest in said chorus by the entirely unprecedented and altogether unparalleled offer of a free ticket to the season of grand opera just closed in this city, to each member of said chorus whose record as an active member showed a stated percentage of attendance at the regular rehearsals, which offer was faithfully carried out by said Atlanta Music Festival association;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the festival chorus, through its appointed committee, hereby extend to the Atlanta Music Festival association, its profound appreciation of the season of grand opera it has just enjoyed; and that said festival chorus pledges itself individually and collectively to continue loyalty to the Atlanta Music Festival association.

"Be it further resolved, that the chorus extend its appreciation to Dr. Percy J. Starnes, our director, for his efforts in giving to Atlanta such a chorus as we now have.

"Resolved further, that we extend to our pianist and organist, Mr. Charles B. Sheldon, our appreciation for earnest and splendid work he has rendered the Music Festival chorus.

"Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be presented to the directing officers of said Atlanta Music Festival association, and that a copy also be published in the daily papers of the city of Atlanta, and a copy be retained by the librarian.

THEY WED ON THE DAY THEIR ENGAGEMENT WAS ANNOUNCED

Howell B. Schumpert Got a Marriage License and He and Miss Lillian Slater Said "What's the Use of Waiting?"

In the society columns of April 27 the engagement of Miss Lillian Dna Slater to Mr. Howell B. Schumpert was announced, the wedding to take place on the first Sunday in June.

For weeks at the Slater home, 128 Rawson street, the pretty young daughter of the house has been discussing such matters as "trousseau," wedding marches, and honeymoons, but during the past week the subject was not one of such unfailing interest to her as it had been before the announcement.

"Her father teased Lillian with her indifference.

"Well, you see, father," she replied, "How can I be interested in a wedding in June when I was married the Sunday night on which my engagement was announced?"

When the news finally leaked out the friends of the young people were just about as flabbergasted as was Mr. Slater. To think that they had been counting on attending that wedding for days and days, and here the two principals had been wed hardly ten hours after all their friends knew it! They were surprised, but surprise soon gave way to laughter, and laughter to the heartiest of congratulations.

It was the night of the twenty-seventh itself that the knot was tied. The engaged couple, together with Miss Inez Routh and Mr. Marion Bodding, had gone to the English Lutheran church that evening.

It might have been during the sermon or just after the second hymn that Howell Schumpert pulled something from his pocket and showed it to his fiancée. It was a marriage license.

Nothing was easier than to slip quietly back to Dr. W. C. Schaeffer's parsonage right after the service, and there he pronounced man and wife. They kept the secret and so it was that not until three weeks later the news became public that the June bride was an April one instead.

U. S. AMBASSADOR'S FENCE WRECKED BY EXPLOSION

PARIS, May 10.—A boiler explosion occurred next door to the residence of Myron T. Herrick, United States ambassador, this morning, killing one and injuring three others, workmen. The fence surrounding the ambassador's house caught, but little damage was done.

The ambassador and his family are in Rome attending the international agricultural conference. The boiler was attached to an engine employed in driving piles for a new house.

ATLANTA IS STINGY IN THIS T. B. FUND GIVING

Of $5,000 Asked for Year's Fight on White Plague, $675 Given

Canvass for funds for the support and maintenance of the Atlanta Anti-Tuberculosis association during the current year has resulted so far in the raising of only a comparatively small portion of the amount needed.

The people of Atlanta have been asked to give $5,000 for the support of this institution in 1913. The total amount required is nearly $10,000. It is expected to raise the difference through subscriptions from the county, the city, stated contributions and other sources.

Fulton county, through the commissioners, has already given $600, but this applies on that portion of the fund which it is expected to raise from other sources than the public.

The people of Atlanta themselves, and a very few of them at that, have given so far a total of $675 of the $5,000 which they have been asked to contribute. The entire amount is absolutely needed, or it would not have been asked for.

The canvass for further funds will be renewed during the coming week and will be continued until the entire amount is raised.

Those who have so far subscribed to the fund and the amounts given are as follows:

David Woodward, $100; Hugh M. Willet, $50; Kelley Bros., $50; C. J. Haden, $50; W. S. Witham, $50; Shapard Bryan, $25; C. E. Harmon, $25; George W. McCarty, $25; G. R. Solomon, $25; H. S. CONGRESS IS LIKELY TO PASS MILITIA PAY BILL

General Wm. G. Obear Is Advised That Bill Has Fine Prospects

In the opinion of Quartermaster General William G. Obear the prospects for the passage of a militia pay bill at the coming regular session of congress are very bright.

General Obear is very much interested in this bill and while adjutant general of Georgia gave his influence and support to the movement. He is a member of the executive committee of the National Guard Association of the United States, which is actively behind the pay bill.

It is reported that for the first time since the agitation for pay for members of the militia was begun there is a secretary of war in the cabinet who is earnestly committed to a study of the question.

A bill is in course of preparation for consideration by the executive committee of the National Guard association, the judge advocate general of the army, the secretary of war and the chairmen of the senate and house committees on military affairs.

If finally agreed upon by these officials it will be submitted to the adjutant general of the various states and then introduced in both houses of congress.

ONE NEGRO KILLED, TWO WOUNDED, IN CRAP GAME

Smith Killed by Adams, and Pitts Negroes Wounded by Knife and Bullet

One negro was killed, another had his throat cut and a third was shot in the wrist in an old-time crap game in the rear of 202 Washington street a midnight last night.

John Smith was shot and killed by John Henry Adams. One bullet hit Brantley Pitts in the wrist, and Charley Pitts, who got mixed up in the row, had his throat cut.

The two Pitts negroes are in Grady hospital and Adams is under arrest.

The negroes had been drinking, and the fight started after the crap game had progressed a considerable stage. The shooting and yelling and swearing created considerable excitement in the neighborhood.

as one of the navy's most expert oarsmen. He is now stationed at St. Louis. He will use a ten-foot boat, built with a wooden bottom and iron sides and having a forward end thirty inches high to provide for sleeping quarters.

YOUNG SONG BIRDS FROM THE CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS WHO MADE THE AUDITORIUM RING ON FRIDAY NIGHT WITH MANY OF THE OLD "FOLK SONGS OF MANY COUNTRIES"

METHODIST WOMEN HOLD ANNUAL MISSION MEET

Atlanta District's Affairs Are Shown to Be Progressing Well at St. Mark's Session

The annual district meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church for Atlanta district convened at St. Mark's church May 7 and 8. The conference and newly elected district officers spoke of their work.

Mrs. Lott Warren, president of St. Mark's auxiliary, greeted the members. Mrs. D. G. Henderson reported 123 new organizations in north Georgia in eight months.

Mrs. E. S. Chipley, agent, reported 3,000 families should have "The Voice" in their homes, whereas only about 500 subscribe to the publication. The greatest growth this year has been among the young people. Plans are afoot to have the social service department organized into a club with the right to join the federation.

Two young girls who have offered themselves for missionaries were in attendance, Misses Winnie Smith and Willie May Bridwell.

A call comes to Atlanta district from their Woman's council to raise this year $12,767 an increase of $3,968 over last year.

The needs in all fields are reported urgent; buildings and equipments are said to be inadequate.

A request was made that the annual report of the district secretary be published in the Wesleyan Advocate.

At roll call 192 representatives of the various churches responded.

Drs. T. R. Kendall, J. S. Jenkins, W. P. Lovejoy, L. E. Rivers and A. M. Hushell were introduced.

Two solos were rendered by Mrs. Paul Key and Mrs. Annie Mays Dow.

Mrs. T. R. Kendall gave instructive Bible lessons on both days. The members were served with luncheon by the St. Mark's ladies.

Echoes from the Woman's council recently held in Birmingham, were brought by Mrs. Albright, Mrs. McEachern, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Kendall, Mrs. Nichols and others.

North Georgia stands first in increase of auxiliaries and women but third in funds.

An increase of 605 auxiliaries throughout the church, south, is report for the past year. The council now maintains thirty-seven city mission boards, twenty-one Wesley Houses, and eighty-three home workers in the home field.

A proposition made by Sam Tate, of Tate, Ga., to the council through Rev. Nath Thompson, to give 5,000 acres of land and $50,000 to establish a vocational school, provided the council raise $150,000, had to be declined because there are already calls from established fields for $60,000 more than the council has to appropriate.

Much regret was expressed that Miss Mabel Head must lay down the work for a season because of illness. Miss Daisy Davies is managing Miss Head's department as well as her own.

A committee composed of Mrs. R. T. Moore, Mrs. W. M. Nichols and Mrs. Ingle submitted resolutions thanking the St. Mark's ladies and others for courtesies extended. Mrs. C. A. Mauck read a clipping from a daily paper stating that the young men of the State university had decided to allow no wine at their banquet this year, and suggested that, as mothers and sisters, the members of the conference should express appreciation of the stand taken.

Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mrs. Jennie Armstrong Spain and Mrs. H. O. Reese were appointed a committee to write to the "Georgia boys."

The Woman's Missionary society has raised $2,790,372.40 since its organization.

Miss Mary Daniel, deaconess and head resident of the Wesley house, and Miss Cloud, deaconess nurse, told of their work.

Mrs. Spain gave an admirable talk on

GA. TECH BOYS PUT ONE OVER ON J. CAESAR AND HIS VICTORIOUS HOSTS

When It Comes to Real Triumphant Celebrations They Can Back the Old Roman Off the Boards-In Approved Fashion Saturday Night They Let It Be Known They Had Bested Georgia at Baseball

When one Julius Caesar returned triumphant from the three parts of Gaul with thousands of scalps dangling from the belts of his battered army every able bodied individual tossed a hat into the air and celebrated the great victory, and this was thought to be "some" celebration.

But— Compared to the entrance into Atlanta Saturday night of the student body from Georgia Tech following the defeat of the University of Georgia at baseball this old line of applause was only a trifle. It was a case of Johnny Heisman yelling back to Julius Caesar, "Come on old boy and see how a real celebration is pulled off."

At the time Caesar returned from Gaul it was a tired bunch of braves that followed him through the streets of his native town but in the case of Tech and Atlanta it was different. The hundreds of Tech students had exerted their vocal organs but in body they possessed all the strength of youth and if there was a nook or cranny around the busy portion of Atlanta they did not traverse none of the police were able to find it. They went here and then there, and everywhere you could hear the "Yellow Jacket yell and rightfully so for Georgia had been defeated. Not one defeat but two.

There was a brass band at the head of the procession and in this the celebration excelled those of centuries back. Some people can sing without music and some with music but when a band is at work every can carry a tune or at least make an effort. The music from the trombone, cornet, flute and drum inspires music into the soul of every one. Pent feelings of patrians years are turned loose and it is easy to join in the refrain.

ORATORY A FEATURE While the music and singing was a big part of Saturday night's celebration speech-making broke in for its share of attention. Every student at the school just knew he was a good orator and every member of the team that won over Georgia had a friend who wished "Social Service." She defined social service as "such ministrations to humanity as tend to correct its wrong and unhappy conditions."

Mrs. H. L. Crumley spoke in the interest of the column in the Wesleyan Advocate, edited by herself. She said she is like the woman who said "the Bible says: 'The man that bloweth not his own horn, his horn it shall not be blown.'" to make a speech. In this way everybody spoke and spoke about everybody. Coach Johnny Heisman first came in for applause and later the "bunch" was yelling for "Black Jim," the negro janitor at the school who happened to carry water to pitchers Eubanks and Pitts as they were fanning the Georgia batters.

The next annual meeting will be held, by invitation, at the Druid Hills church.

But to tell just how the celebration began and ended: Saturday morning the Tech student body, 300 strong, went to Athens, Ga., to witness the annual Tech-Georgia baseball game. The trip was made in a special train of seven coaches. The lunch was in Athens just four hours, but in that time saw Tech defeat Georgia and then the return trip was begun.

At 5:30 o'clock Saturday night the special train arrived and with it came 300 glad hearts. Everybody was keyed to the guns with love for their school and at once a parade through the streets was begun. With a band at the head of the procession the students took Peachtree street and after a bit of speech-making in front of the Piedmont hotel, the outfit marched to The Journal office and there let out a few more songs, yells and speeches.

Tin pans, horns, bells and every other article that would serve to torture a sleeping individual was used in the downtown celebration. First, there would be enough noise to make the mid-way hallyoon artists turn their heads in shame, and then there would be a funeral march, the six "cheer leaders" marching slowly through the streets with a figure in a coffin. This was supposedly Georgia's coat, and all the funeral rites attended the final burial at Tech Plaza late Saturday night.

Next week Tech and Georgia play a couple of games in Atlanta, and there is another celebration booked. It may be by Tech students or it may be by the supporters of the Red and Black, but, at any rate, there is to be another mammoth procession, the like of which has never been shown Atlantians.

Her Idea

A gentleman who had been in Chicago only three days, but who had been paying attention to a prominent Chicago belle, wanted to propose, but was afraid he would be thought too hasty. He delicately broached the subject as follows:

"If I were to speak to you of marriage after having only made your acquaintance three days ago, what would you say to it?"

"Well, I should say never put off till tomorrow that which you should have done the day before yesterday."

DR. BROUGHTON'S FIRST ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Former Atlanta Pastor Receives High Praise for His Work in England

The first anniversary of Dr. Len G. Broughton's assumption of the pastorate of Christ church, London, is commemorated upon at some length in the South London Press of April 25, in an article which gives high praise to Dr. Broughton and prophesies a successful future for him and for his work.

"In the brief space of twelve months much has been accomplished," the article reads in part. "The church has been thoroughly cleansed, a process of which it stood in great need, and the adjacent hall has been remodelled and practically rebuilt. Christ church can now lay claim to one of the finest buildings in the kingdom for school and institutional labors. The church membership has been increased and to sum matters up, Christ church has become the home of what might be called aggressive Christianity."

In connection with the anniversary of Dr. Broughton's arrival, impressive celebrations were held at the church and plans made to do within the next year many things for the church, its members and humanity at large.

PHEASANT FOR WARDEN One of the best examples of the taxidermist's art ever seen at the state capitol is a pheasant received Saturday morning by State Game Commissioner Jesse E. Mercer from Gilbert R. Rossignol, of Savannah, a former deputy game warden for Chatham county. The bird is of a beautiful color, with tail feathers three feet long, and is perfectly stuffed and mounted that it appears life-like.

GEORGIAN OF YE OLDEN DAYS WAS ORIGINAL HUSKY CITIZEN; WALKED 1,235 MILES IN ONE DAY

At Least Records in Secretary of State's Office Say He Did—Just in His Daily "Run," Too

Records just unearthed by Secretary of State Philip Cook from some of the old dusty books in his office at the capitol prove beyond all peradventure that Georgia can boast the greatest marathon walker of the past century, not excepting Weston, the champion long-distance pedestrian of the present age. An what is strange about Secretary Cook's discovery is that the fame of Georgia's celebrity has never figured in song or story although the records show that between breakfast and supper, on August 6, 1794, he walked a distance of 1,235 miles, and took an hour and a half off for dinner.

This wonderful individual was named Thomas Cooper, and he is described in the records as a deputy surveyor. Secretary Cook ran across his remarkable achievement while delving into the old Shorter land fraud grants. The secretary of state has been summoned to appear in the federal court at St. Charles, La., on May 24 to give testimony regarding the old land frauds, which have resulted in hundreds of persons being swindled out of large amounts.

The federal authorities will place on trial at St. Charles a man who is charged with using the mails to defraud, it being alleged that he carried on a correspondence with a number of persons who he had interested in worthless titles to Georgia property, these titles being based on the old fraudulent land grants, which a hundred years ago were declared void an illegal by the Georgia legislature. Secretary Cook finds that on August

NEW CORPORATION FOR ATLANTA

Local Encouragement Must Be Given

The American Railway Supply Co., incorporated and capitalized at $300,000, desires to make general office headquarters in this city, provided some financial assistance is given by local people. The concern will handle railway appliances of merit and besides engaging in the manufacture of appliances of their own they will be distributors for other factories. It is hoped to secure subscriptions locally to its 8 per cent preferred and common stock, which is reasonably expected to pay 25 per cent dividends. Representation on the board of directors will be given and a fair salary to some good local man who can handle the office under the president. Interested parties should address F. S. Partridge at 337 Juniper street, for particulars. Plenty of references given. (Adv.)

Banish All Skin Troubles

A Remarkable Remedy That Works Wonder Against Even Weeping Eczema.

Get a Bottle of S. S. S. To-day. It is Certainly a Wonder. If you have been fighting some blood trouble, some skin disease, call it eczema, lupus, psoriasis, malaria, or what you will, there is but one sure, safe way to cure it. Ask at any drug store for a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. and you are then on the road to health. The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the east. It is one of those rare medical forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transference of rich, red, pure arterial blood for the diseased venous blood is marvelous.

Out through every skin pore acids, germs and other blood impurities are forced in the form of invisible vapor. The lungs breathe it out, the liver is stimulated to consume a great proportion of impurities, the stomach and intestines cease to convey into the blood stream the catarrhal, malarial germs; the bowels, kidneys, bladder and all emunctories of the body are established into a fighting force to expel every vestige of eruptive disease.

There is scarcely a community anywhere but what has its living example of the wonderful curative effects of S. S. S. Get a bottle of this famous remedy to-day, and if your case is stubborn or peculiar, write to The Swift Specific Co., 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Their medical laboratory is famous and is conducted by renowned experts in blood and skin diseases. Their advice is entirely free and always strictly personal.

Its High Standard of Citizenship

One progressive, public spirited citizen can be worth more to a town than a hundred of the other sort.

Manchester's superior natural and special advantages have attracted a large number of the best type of citizens from other sections. It is an exemplification of the pioneer spirit.

There are but few wealthy people in Manchester, but a plenty of "live wires" of moderate means now, who are steadily forging ahead in their respective pursuits. Everybody is busy. Nobody seems to have time for playing checkers or ring marbles, or conducting debating societies during business hours.

There is a snappy, bustling, quick-step pace to things that pleases and attracts the thrifty, the energetic.

Manchester's superb citizenship has within five years transformed its hills and valleys into a beautiful, thriving city, where law and order are pre-eminent, where nearly everybody owns his home, where graft is unknown; and there abounds a civic spirit of the kind that has built great cities like Des Moines, Rochester, Atlanta, and others.

If you want to cast your lot with a bunch of "live ones," Manchester is the place for you. Write for information today. Address:

ONE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT MUST GO

Meeting at Governor O'Neal's Office Will Result in One Removal

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—One president of a state normal school may not be re-elected by the state normal school board, which meets Monday in the office of Governor O'Neal, according to information obtained at the capitol Friday. That which one of the presidents of the normal schools is slated to go could not be learned, but there is much interest shown in educational circles as to which official is to be removed.

from the Philippines and there will probably be fraternal delegates from Scotland and England.

PRE-ASSEMBLY MEETING.

On next Wednesday, the day before the assemblies meet, there will be eight pre-assembly meetings. All the organizations will be represented at evangelistic conferences that will be held at the North Avenue Presbyterian church during the morning, afternoon and evening of Wednesday.

The college presidents attending the assemblies will hold three conferences Wednesday at the Harris street church. The United States of America commissioners will hold a conference on foreign missions at the Harris street church during the morning and afternoon, while at the same time the assembly will hold conferences on theological seminaries at the Central Congregational church, and conferences on education at the Baptist Tabernacle.

The United States commissioners will hold a conference on education at the Ponce de Leon Baptist church, and conference on the work of the Laymen's Missionary movement will be held at the First Presbyterian church during the morning and afternoon.

The morning conferences will open at 10 o'clock; the afternoon sessions at 2 and the evening meetings at 8.

Probably the greatest of the pre-assembly conferences will be that Tuesday and Wednesday of the conference on education in the Presbyterian church of the United States. This conference will open at the First Baptist church at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, when Rev. Edward Tufts, of Banner Elk, N. C., will speak on "How Best to Assist Poor Boys and Girls to Secure a Higher Education."

The principal address Tuesday evening will be delivered by Dr. W. J. Martin, of Davidson, N. C., on "How to Maintain a Thoroughly Christian Atmosphere in the Christian College." Rev. Dr. C. G. Vardell, of Banner Springs, N. C., and Rev. Dr. R. E. Vinson, of Austin, Tex., will be the chief speakers Wednesday morning, while Rev. Dr. Walter L. Light, of Banner Springs, N. C., will be the speaker of the afternoon session. The conference on education will close at a big union meeting to be held Wednesday night.

MEETING PLACES OF ASSEMBLIES. The meeting places of the various assemblies will be as follows: At the Baptist Tabernacle—Lueckie street near Spring—assembly of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., commonly known as the Northern Presbyterian church, first session being Thursday morning, 11 a. m., May 15. At the North Avenue Presbyterian church—corner Peachtree and North Avenue—assembly of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., commonly known as the Southern Presbyterian church, session opening the morning of May 15 at 11 o'clock.

At the Central Presbyterian church—Washington street, opposite the state capitol—assembly of the United Presbyterian church, first session being held Wednesday night, May 14. At the Associated Reformers' Presbyterian church, on Whitehall street, meetings will be held by the special commission of twenty-five, appointed at the assembly last November of the A. R. P. church.

MANY SOCIAL FEATURES. The social side of the assemblies will include a big reception at Agnes Scott college on Saturday afternoon, May 17. There will also be a big dinner at the Kimball house on Tuesday night, and various luncheons and dinners for the ladies who will be present.

One of the big features of the assemblies will be meetings at which the women will discuss missions. These will be held daily in the Central Congregational church.

MASS MEETINGS BEGIN THURSDAY. The first big mass meeting will be held at the auditorium Thursday night, May 15. Rev. Richard Orme Flinn, pastor of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, will preside. J. K. Orr, chairman of the local entertainment committee, will make the opening address. The meeting will be followed by Dr. T. S. Clyde, moderator of the U. S. assembly; Dr. J. H. Presley, moderator of the A. R. P. synod; Dr. Hugh L. Bell, moderator of the U. P. assembly; and Dr. Mark A. Matthews, moderator of the U. S. A. assembly.

The second mass meeting will come Friday evening when Rev. Hugh W. Rankin, Rev. John R. Davies and Rev. W. E. McCulloch will be the speakers. At the third mass meeting, which will be held Saturday evening, the speakers will be Rev. Charles R. Steile, of New York, and Marion Jackson, of Atlanta.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN WILL SPEAK. On Sunday afternoon there will be a great mass meeting for men. It is expected that William Jennings Bryan will speak at this meeting.

Work among the colored people will be the topic for discussion at Monday night's mass meeting, with the following program:

"Fifty Years of Educational Missions Among the Negroes"—Rev. E. P. Cowan.

"The Southern Presbyterian Viewpoint and Attempted Solution of the Negro Religious Problem"—Rev. J. S. Lyons.

"Practical Plans of Co-operation in Religious Work Among Negroes"—Rev. R. W. McGraham.

SENATOR SMITH TO PRESIDE. Senator Hoke Smith is on the program as presiding officer Tuesday evening, May 20. Addresses will be made on the following subjects:

"International Co-operation in Home Mission Work"—Dr. Mac F. F. Alexander.

"Home Missions and the Exceptional Population"—Rev. C. L. Thompson.

"Home Missions in Our Nation's Life"—Rev. J. Knox McClurkin, of Chicago, Ill., and Rev. Charles R. Steile, of New York.

WILL ATTEND BIG PRESBYTERIAN GATHERING

REV. THORNTON WHALING - PRES. COLUMBIA

WML ADAMS BROWN N. Y. CITY.

FULL PROGRAM READY FOR PRESBYTERIAN MEET

An elaborate program which no one person can attend but in which everyone who is friendly to the work of the Presbyterian church will find much of particular interest, has been prepared and is announced today for the first time for the great gathering here this week and next of Presbyterian commissioners from all parts of the United States.

CONFERENCE ON EVANGELISM. A conference on evangelism will be held in the North Avenue Presbyterian church on Wednesday, May 14, with sessions at 10 a. m., 12 and 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m.

The program of this conference is given below: Charles L. Huston, chairman U. S. A. assembly's evangelistic committee, presiding.

O'HARA DEFENDS SELF AGAINST IMMORAL CHARGE

Lieutenant Governor of Ohio Tells of Incidents on Night in Question

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 10.—Maud Robinson, accuser, and Lieutenant Governor Barrett O'Hara, respondent, in accusations of immorality presented in the Illinois senate against the latter today, offered before the senate investigation committee testimony which differed in one detail but agreed in essential matters.

Both denied improper intimacy, and differed in the single statement made by Miss Robinson that on the night of January 17, O'Hara visited the suites at the hotel Sherman occupied by Miss Robinson and another woman. According to Miss Robinson, O'Hara called at the apartment after the Thomas Vredenburg, Harry Gibbons, a Chicago court bailiff, Miss Robinson and another woman had visited the cafe of the hotel Sherman, and the Lamb's cafe, across the street.

O'Hara stated, and in this testimony he was supported by Frank J. Jacobson, an advertising man, that after leaving the Lamb's cafe, the second one visited that evening, he met Jacobson at the Press club, took a midnight lunch with the latter, at a short order restaurant and then went home, accompanied by Jacobson. In this connection he offered to produce as witnesses his mother and his father.

He accounted in similar detail for his public appearance on the next day, January 18, at a luncheon, a banquet, and at the theater. He named numerous witnesses who could confirm his testimony on these points. On the remainder of the eighteenth, he played poker with members of the Press club, naming a number of them, until 6 o'clock Sunday morning. In support of this story, he offered to produce checks against him at the Press club. This was the morning of the 19th. The most of the day he spent at his office and the home of his parents. He attended the Olympic theater late in the performance and sat in a box alone. His appearance at the theater was explained by him as follows:

The manager of the theater, a friend, had given him a box to attend the first performance of a play on the night in question. Not desiring to sit through a performance he offered the box to Vredenburg, who accepted it. It was Vredenburg who showed great courtesy in securing a home for him at Springfield, and who introduced him to Miss Robinson on a train coming from Springfield to Chicago on January 17. O'Hara dropped in at the play late because the manager of the theater desired to obtain his opinion of the production. In saving the theater, O'Hara met Vredenburg and the two women and being urged "took a sandwich" with them at a cafe. He then returned to his home.

In his testimony O'Hara said he could not remember the name of the woman who was with Miss Robinson. He stated, however, that Vredenburg had told him that he had registered the women as living husbands, at the request of the women, who had a parlor in common. Vredenburg explained that this was because the women desired to receive their friends, including several men, without having their guests annoyed by possible questioning on the part of the hotel management. The lieutenant governor also stated that at no time during the period under investigation did he take a drink of anything intoxicating.

In interviews at Madison, Wis., with Mr. Mabel Davidson Inbusch, daughter of former Governor James O. Davidson, of Wisconsin, whose name had been brought into the story as the companion of Miss Robinson, Mrs. Inbusch denied that she had ever met Miss Robinson in Chicago.

SIMMONS FAVORS PLAN ON TARIFF VALUATIONS

Guide of Tariff in Senate Sees Merit in Making McAdoo Appraiser of Importations

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Chairman Simmons of the finance committee, sees merit in the amendment to the tariff bill suggested today by Assistant Attorney General Denison and Assistant Secretary of Treasury Curtis to authorize the secretary of the treasury to proclaim valuations on imports. It is claimed that would prevent undervaluations and avoid confusion resulting from fluctuating foreign market values and ad valorem rates.

After the department officials had explained their proposed amendment to the senator today he declared it a worthy proposal and that it would receive the most thorough consideration by the committee. The plan seemed to him to be of chief value as an absolute preventive of fraud on the part of importers in wilful undervaluations to reduce duties they would be required to pay.

"The bill as it is," said Chairman Simmons, "has many safeguards against undervaluations, but the proposal to empower the secretary of the treasury to fix import valuations in the American market would be an additional check. It would answer the principal objection advanced toward an ad valorem tariff system. The suggestion will be given the most serious consideration." The plan will be taken up by the committee next week. Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, also was consulted by Mr. Denison and Mr. Curtis.

Chief interest in the tariff now lies in the contest over the question of public hearings precipitated by Senator Penrose. There is a possibility the Republicans may rally enough Democratic support to their plan to defeat the majority party in its tariff program at this juncture. Such a development undoubtedly would result in slowing up consideration of the measure in the senate. That is the Democratic chief objection to public hearings.

They feel that hearings would not result in material alterations of the bill and that the country is entitled to the new law as soon as it possibly can be made ready for the statute books.

Senators Ransdell and Thornton, of Louisiana, are openly in favor of the hearings. Senator Martine and others have expressed themselves favorably to them, but the Democratic leaders assert they will have enough votes to defeat the Penrose amendment when it comes up Tuesday. The bill then will be formally referred to the finance committee.

Secretary Redfield suggested today to Chairman Simmons that the committee consider the advisability of changing the date that some of the schedules become effective. The textile industry is particularly desirous of gaining a little time to adjust itself to the new conditions and to get rid of valuable material upon which high duties have been paid.

Another suggestion made by Secretary Redfield referred to the advisability of having the income tax computed from July 1, 1913, instead of January 1, 1913.

"My Feet Were Just Aching For TIZ"

Let Your Poor, Tired, Chafed, Tender Feet "Spread Out" Gloriously in a Bath of TIZ!

Send at Once for Free Trial Package.

"O. O. glory what a feeling! Wonderful what TIZ will do for your feet! Just take your shoes off, and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, achy, corn-pestered, blunion-tortured feet of yours in a TIZ bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy. They'll look up at you and almost talk, and then they'll take another dive in that TIZ bath! Yes, TIZ is life to feet!"

The man or woman who says there's anything like, or as good as, TIZ never had a foot in a TIZ bath. You'll be able to wear smaller shoes, too, when you use TIZ, your feet will keep cozy.

Miss M. Pearl Lloyd, Glendora, Wis., got one box of TIZ for her mother. "She has had sore, tender feet for a long time," writes Miss Lloyd, "but after using TIZ her feet are not troubling her."

TIZ operates under a new principle, drawing out all the poisonous exudations that make feet sore, corny and red. There's nothing else like TIZ, so refuse any imitation. If anyone offers you a substitute, just remember your poor, suffering feet, and tell him to give you what you asked for.

TIZ, 25 cents a box, sold everywhere, or sent direct on receipt of price. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. For a free trial package write today to Walter Lather Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill. Recommended by all Drug Stores, department and general stores.—(Adv.)

BIG TALLULAH CASE IS LOOMING CLOSE AT HAND

Depositions of Three Witnesses Taken for Trial in Clayton Soon

Depositions of three witnesses in the suit of the state to oust the Georgia Railway and Power company from property adjacent to Tallulah Falls were taken Friday morning in the office of Attorney General Thomas S. Felder by attorneys representing the power company.

Those who were examined were Prof. C. M. Strahan and Prof. J. C. Koch, of the state university at Athens, who made surveys of the property last year, and John D. Moss, who originally owned a considerable portion of the land in dispute.

These witnesses live outside of Rabun county, where the trial of the suit is to occur, and for this reason it was necessary that their depositions be taken. Representing the power company in the interrogation were Attorneys Alex King, Charles T. Hopkins and Luther Z. Rosser, all of Atlanta.

The state was represented by Attorney General Felder and Attorneys Edgar Watkins, of Atlanta, and R. C. Ellis, of Tifton.

The big case comes to trial at Clayton, Rabun county, on May 26, a special session of the superior court having been called for it.

FARMERS FLEEDED BY INSANE MAN'S TRICK

Ernest Nelson, an Atlanta man, who escaped the early part of the week from the state insane asylum at Milledgeville, Ga., was arrested Saturday morning near the Terminal station on the charge of having fleeced George Manus and H. W. Pair, two farmers, who live near Macon, of $10 apiece.

Nelson's mother, who lives at 23 1-2 Whitehall street, received word the other day that her son had fled from the asylum, where he was sent several months ago. She notified the local police, with the result that he was taken into custody but a few hours later.

According to Manus, Nelson boarded the train for Atlanta at Macon and there went through the coaches, asking the passengers to allow him to look through whatever greenbacks they possessed. He told by Pair that he was searching for a certain bill on which was a large premium.

Manus was one who let Nelson examine his money. When the roll was handed back to him, says Manus, it was $10 shy. Nelson vigorously denied taking the money, and Manus decided that he must have been mistaken.

When the train reached Atlanta, however, Manus thought better of it, and decided to wait at the Terminal for the next train from Macon. Nelson, it seemed, having alighted before the train reached Atlanta.

When the second train rolled in Manus was met by Pair, who was also looking for Nelson, having dropped $10 to him by the same route. They finally located their man near the station and called an officer. He was arrested and is now at police headquarters.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS FROM WEST OF COTTON HULLS

State Entomologist E. L. Worsham is on the lookout for shipments into Georgia of cotton seed hulls from Texas and other western states, known to be infected with the boll weevil, and is enforcing rigidly the quarantine law which prohibits such shipments from these states unless accompanied by a clean bill of health from their own entomologists.

The high price of cotton seed hulls in the seaboard states has given renewed activity to the hull market and those western states blessed with a big cotton crop last year are shipping east thousands of tons.

According to the members of the Cotton Seed Crushers' association of Georgia, composed of the oil mill men of the state, the increased consumption of cotton seed meal and hulls for feeding purposes and the short crop of cotton in Georgia last year have caused the supply of cotton seed hulls to be almost exhausted in this state and hence the shipments from the west.

It is expected by the state department of entomology that the boll weevil will make its advent in the western counties of Georgia this fall or in 1914 and in order to cope with its advent the department is already at work upon a resistant variety of seed which it is believed will fruit sufficiently early to escape the attacks of the weevil.

FRIDAY'S ISSUE OF AUTO LICENSES WAS A RECORD

All one-day records for the issuing of new automobile licenses were broken by Secretary of State Philip Cook Friday, when fifty-one cars were licensed. There are now 29,348 licenses outstanding in Georgia.

THIS AUTO FIRE ENGINE WILL PROTECT TENTH WARD

The LaFrance automobile fire engine, shown in the above picture, will be given the official test for the city next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in front of fire headquarters on West Alabama street. Mayor Woodward will demand that the engine also be tested by a representative of the National Fire Underwriters' association. The engine will cost the city $9,000 and will be installed in the new fire station in the Tenth ward. It is a combination pumping engine, chemical apparatus and hose wagon. It has a six-cylinder motor developing upwards of 100-horse power and runs at express train speed. It is sold under a guarantee of pumping 700 gallons of water per minute.

DR. CRAWFORD BEGINS STUDENT LIFE AGAIN

Dr. J. M. Crawford, a specialist who for years has made Atlanta his home, is now in Europe studying under two of the greatest specialists on the continent.

Dr. Crawford left this city three months ago with the avowed intention of making the trip for pleasure solely, but when he struck Vienna he was so impressed with the specialists in the chosen line of his profession that he decided to become a student once more.

He is taking a special course in nose and throat trouble and one in brain diseases. He will be there for eight months.

"Oh Girls! Do Try GETS-IT for Corns"

The New-Plan Corn Cure. No Fuss, No Pain, Sure and Quick.

You never used anything like "GETS-IT" for corns before! You're sure at last that every stubborn corn that you've tried so long to get rid of is a "goner." You apply "GETS-IT"

"How I Did Suffer From Corns for Years! 'GETS-IT' Got Them All in a Few Days!"

In 2 seconds, that's all. "GETS-IT" does the rest. There's no more fussing, no more bandages to fix, no more salves to turn the flesh red and raw. No more plasters to get misplaced and press on the corn. No more "pulling," no more pain, no more picking and gouging, no more moans.

"GETS-IT" stops pain, shrivels up the corn, and the corn vanishes. "GETS-IT" never fails, is harmless to healthy flesh. Warts, calluses and bunions disappear.

"GETS-IT" is sold at drug stores at 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Sold in Atlanta by Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., Elkin Drug Co., Conroy & Mann, Ginter-Walkers Drug Co., E. H. Cone (Inc.), Tipton & Co. (Adv.)

ATLANTA WOMAN DIRECTS MAGAZINE IN NASHVILLE

Mrs. Sarah D. Halley Made Managing Editor of Southern Woman's Magazine

Atlantians will be interested in the announcement that Mrs. Sarah Daishe-Halley, of 30 West North avenue, has been made managing editor of the Southern Woman's Magazine, which though published in Nashville, Tenn., will be directed by Mrs. Halley from her office in this city.

Mrs. Halley is the widow of the late Thomas G. Halley, one of the most popular and talented newspaper men in Nashville, and known throughout the south. She has been a resident of this city for some time, and much of her newspaper experience was gained here, as she was for several years connected with the Uncle Remus Magazine. Aside from her literary ability, she is thoroughly trained in the work of magazine-making, and will bring to her work the skill she has mastered by years of experience.

ELKS TO DANCE TUESDAY FOR ORGAN FUND BENEFIT

A subscription dance will be enjoyed by the Elks and their ladies Tuesday night, in the home of Atlanta lodge, No. 78, B. P. O. E., on Ellis street. The dance will commence at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets will cost $1 each, and none will be required for the ladies. The proceeds will augment the fund already started for the purchase of a pipe organ for the lodge room.

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN BY SEVENTH WARD CLUB

George Evans was elected president, and M. M. Anderson, vice president, of the Seventh Ward Improvement club, at its meeting last week.

Mr. Landers was appointed chairman of the sanitary committee of the club. C. C. Mason made a fight on the "mausoleum" and every one agreed with him, and as many as can will be in the county commissioners' office on May 15 to make sure that it is run from this section.

A motion by Dr. T. D. Longino was adopted to ask that the street car company put "Fort McPherson" on the cars instead of "U. S. Barracks," as the latter could mean a prison. The club indorsed, and will make every effort to secure the Mosley property for a west side, or West End, park.

The secretary was instructed to send notices to the members to have as many as possible at the meeting of the county board on the first Wednesday of June, to see why it has taken so long to do the work on the west end of Georgia avenue.

SLIDING SCALE PROVIDED FOR WHITE FRENCH CHINA

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 10.—To meet the objections of Jules Jusserand, the French ambassador, Secretary McAdoo today modified the American plan of appraising china from Limoges, France, to provide a sliding scale of values for white china based upon the character and value of the decorations. The new plan has the approval of the China Importers' association of New York, and is understood to be satisfactory to the Limoges chamber of commerce and French exporters.

SCHEMER USES MAILS TO GET ATLANTIANS' WAGERS

"Get-rich-quick" operators of the race track world are flooding Atlanta with circulars seeking to interest them in betting "sure things." These letters are coming from Jacksonville, Fla., where an "owner" says he is racing.

This, despite the fact that there has been no racing in Florida this season. The letter writing "owner" says he has a bunch of horses which will win any time he sends them to the post, and that no mistakes will be made when the money is bet. He says that he has to do a lot of "scheming" with his horses, and his betting, and declares that his horses should always be at 20 to 1, or thereabouts. All kinds of intimations are made with reference to racing, with the idea of having the uninformed think he is getting the "best of it" when he deals with this "owner."

All the latter asks is that those who receive his letters put down a bet for him.

Racing experts and followers of racing declare the letters now being received here are an insult to the intelligence of any one who knows racing conditions, and that they misrepresent racing materially. Some of these letters have been sent to the postoffice department in Washington by Atlantians, with the idea of having the statements of "the owner" investigated and the mails barred for his use in case the schemes are not worthy.

The Market Place for All the People Is in The Journal Want Ads

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

SQUAB RAISING

DURING the past two years, since the game laws of this state have been more carefully looked after and enforced, one can see what a difference in the demand not only for poultry but for pigeons. During the past winter and at the present time hundreds of squabs are being served in the best hotels, restaurants and cafes and more attention is being paid to these birds now than ever was known before. Quality on toast always has been a favorite dish in this country but they have been scarce for the past few years and squabs have largely taken the place of these birds, as well as hundreds of broilers. The day will come when both squabs and broilers will be more largely used even than at present. When people once get in the habit of serving these dishes the people who consume them will naturally call for same and one reason heretofore that both squabs and broilers will be more largely used even than at present. When people once get in the habit of serving these dishes the people who consume them will naturally call for same and one reason heretofore that both squabs and broilers will be more largely used even than at present.

It is well that the state of Georgia saw fit to enforce the game laws which will eventually restock this country with birds, something that is much needed and if these laws are properly enforced year by year in ten years thousands of pounds of game will be produced naturally and food that is now going to waste will be converted into a fine article of flesh through the birds that are multiplying so fast now in this state. As there is most always a substitute for nearly every kind of food produced this law has been a good one and has brought about a great demand for both squabs and broilers which are helping now to supply and bring revenue to hundreds of people from the sale of their birds.

There is one thing about pigeons little different from poultry. They raise and care for their own young and thousands of them can be kept in a small space. The greatest drawback that any one has in breeding squabs is that it is almost impossible for a person to control themselves and only keep what birds that will do well for them and the thing often make a failure, but those who have been satisfied and contented to keep just what they can handle well and feed profitably have succeeded. The keeping of pigeons is very similar to the keeping of poultry. The people as a rule who make the largest per cent of profit out of this line of work are the ones who can keep only a limited number as a side issue and convert time and space that would be otherwise thrown away into a few extra dollars on the side. The people as a rule who have made money from these industries are those who have been able to supply the class of people. The large breeders of squabs but it is the small breeders who with their small amount of space and small amount of time usually keep in keeping a nice flock of pigeons and what a pigeon gets out of it is simply picked up. While there are a number of large breeding establishments in different parts of the United States that have made money from pigeon raising there are many small breeders who have made a much larger per cent of profit in a small business, and a bright future and promises to eventually interest many people as our markets in this country are first class for these products at profitable prices it is out on a small scale at least.

Yours very truly,

George R. Brown

QUESTIONS ASKED AND ANSWERED.

QUESTION.
My chickens have roup. Will you please give me a remedy for it and something to prevent it? Also give me a cure for sorehead. I have had it last fall and am afraid it will have it again this year. Is there anything to prevent them from having sorehead? If so, please give me a preventive and also a remedy if they should take it.

R. L. C.
East Point, Ga.

ANSWER.

At least a dozen times I have given remedies for sorehead and roup through The Journal. You should cut out and save these articles. Roup is a dreadful disease, and should be taken in time. The free use of antiseptics in the drinking water will usually keep it from spreading through the flock, if taken in time. An abundance of good rich food such as wheat, oats and corn will give them strength enough to throw off an ordinary case of cold and when their sleeping quarters are comfortable and free from draughts and they are not crowded you are not likely to have roup. When you once get it, it is best to separate the well chickens from the sick ones, remove them to a clean fresh place and begin building up their system at once by using either of the remedies that are advertised by the seed dealers through the columns of The Journal. They will help largely to cure the sick birds.

Sorehead is easily prevented if you will start in June and feed to each dozen a small amount of size chickens once a week one tablespoonful of Epsom salts mixed with soft feed, and once a week one tablespoonful of sulphur mixed with soft feed. Continue this until after frost or cold weather has come, and you are not likely to be bothered with sorehead. It will not do to neglect feeding this regularly except during damp weather, when the sulphur should be omitted. Of course, a person should use judgment in feeding these preparations. Sometimes they will act too freely on a chicken. You can weaken their system and get them in such a shape that they will be subject to disease. Therefore, you must use judgment in this respect.

Roup always follows sorehead, and by treating your chickens properly you can prevent both.

W. E. WORLEY

REAL ESTATE

415-16 Empire Building

Best On The Market

818 FEET frontage on Cheshire Bridge road, fifty feet east of Piedmont avenue. $15 per foot. 927 feet deep. The car line is going right up to this property, then look out. Will bring $50 per foot. This is some profit—about $25,000. It ought to appeal to some fellow with business in his head.

652 Feet Peachtree Road

AT $32.50 per foot. It don't take a man with very much knowledge of real estate to see $10,000 profit here in one year. It's Peachtree road. $3,250 cash will be all you will ever have to pay.

Two Beautiful Homes

THEY are right up to the minute. Sun parlor, two baths, furnace heat; on Virginia avenue. Would take a nice vacant lot as first cash payment. They would do credit to Peachtree. You just ought to see them.

Virginia Avenue Lot

120x252 FEET at the corner of Highland avenue and Todd road. This is the corner for that fine home you have planned. Next to the Adair home.

A Few Offerings Far Below Value

BETWEEN PONCE DE LEON AND ST. CHARLES AVENUES, two of Atlanta's most popular residential streets, we have an elegant 6-room bungalow with all improvements—i. e., furnace heat, tile sidewalks, etc. Beautiful front porch with stone front; brand new. For a few days only, $4,500. Terms if desired.

412 FRASER STREET, near school, in good white neighborhood, a splendid little 5-room cottage in first-class condition; gas, water and bath. A dandy for $2,000, on easy terms.

IF IT'S A WEST END BUNGALOW you want we can surely get together on this—NO. 97 SOUTH GORDON STREET, a 6-room bungalow on lovely, level, east-front lot, 50x186. New and first-class in every particular. Beautiful fixtures, broad porch all way across front. Houses all around this selling for $5,000 and $5,500. Owner must move and will sacrifice for $4,750. Terms. See this "quick."

ANOTHER BUNGALOW AT SACRIFICE PRICE—Just off North Boulevard, in splendid neighborhood, a dandy, newly built bungalow, strictly modern, furnace heat. Price now, $4,800; $500 cash, balance arranged.

THIS WILL SUIT THE MOST FASTIDIOUS: $8,500 buys a handsome 8-room residence on the very best part of EUCLID AVE., the center of coming big developments. Large rooms, well arranged. Lot 50x200. Broad veranda. Will give terms, too.

THE "BEST YET"

IF YOU ARE LOOKING FOR "A REAL HOME" to live in and an INVESTMENT as well, this is hard to beat: On one of the fashionable north side streets, just 10 minutes' walk from center of city, we have a PREPARELY BEAUTIFUL HOME. Built for a home, and has every convenience conceivable. In fact, absolutely choice in every respect. Has five lovely bedrooms (one downstairs), plenty closets and dressing rooms, large living room downstairs and upper sitting room as well; stained glass windows, nice sleeping porch, butler's pantry and china closet. Garage and two servants' rooms in rear, concrete driveway, porte cochere, tile walks and sidewalks. This we offer for $7,500. You positively could not duplicate same today for less than $10,000; $1,000 cash will handle. Will exchange for north side bungalow or vacant lot.

T. B. LUMPKIN REALTY CO.

NORTH SIDE HOMES

ON A CORNER, prominent street of the North side, we have one of the prettiest new and never occupied homes on the market. It is two-story and has one bed room and bath down stairs; three bed rooms and bath up stairs, and is finished in expensive style, equipped with furnace and every modern convenience. The price is only $7,000 with $1,000 cash payment. It's a beauty.

FIFTH STREET, near Peachtree, a splendid 9-room, 2-story house for only $5,500. Terms to suit. It's worth more money, but we want to sell.

WEST PEACHTREE street, an elegant 9-room, 2-story new and modern home. It's a $10,000 value, but we can sell for $9,000.

WE HAVE some beautiful North side lots close to Peachtree and Ponce de Leon for $3,000. Better get one before they are sold.

OPPORTUNITY

It's a mistake to say it comes but once. Opportunity knocks constantly at every man's door. To see Opportunity is the thing. To those who can see, and have the nerve to grasp fortune Comes. Land is America's great Opportunity. Most of our fortunes have come from the land. And generally around big cities. Big population bidding for location sends values up, whether Central or suburban. You can fit the opportunity to your pocket by buying to suit your ability.

If your funds are modest, buy good lots on easy terms. But DON'T TRY TO GET TOO LOW IN PRICE. Buy something good, something that's coming in before you die. We have in mind some splendid lots a client of ours has asked us to sell. Lots that we can strongly recommend to any one.

These lots are on Bedford Place between Eighth and Seventh. Elevated, overlooking Ponce de Leon avenue one way. Near Peachtree another, with Piedmont Park right at hand. Other lands, that can be bought will cost you much more money, and there is absolutely no difference in quality. All are splendid lots, and are certain to be in demand before long for building.

We believe it a real chance to make a modest speculation safely. The lots will cost you $2,750 on terms of 10 per cent cash and 10 per cent per year for 4 years, with balance due in 5 years. That means that only $275 cash will run the deal. These lots held two years should bring $1,500 profit. Any one will tell you this is SAFE stuff to buy.

Think this over. $2,750 for a lot 51x160 in the heart of Atlanta's best residence section.

Only $275 cash.

GEORGIA GIRL WINS PRAISE FROM EUROPE'S GREAT MUSICAL CRITICS

Miss Ruth McBride, of Thomasville, who has spent the past season abroad touring Italy and Switzerland, is praised by Geneva Paper

GEORGIA has produced a musician who has drawn praise from the leading critics in Europe and has attracted larger audiences through Italy with her concert during the past winter. Miss Ruth McBride, of Thomasville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. McBride, who have recently moved to Florida, has become a pianist of great renown.

Three years ago Miss McBride left Thomasville to take up advanced studies in music and spent the two following years in New York City under the guidance of the leading masters of that place. Last year she sailed for Europe, where she studied under masters during the spring, summer and fall and last winter toured Italy and Switzerland in concert.

Of Miss McBride's accomplishments, one of the Geneva papers has the following:

"The past has taught us not to be exacting when we see an American performer announced on a classical musical program, but now and then we are treated to an agreeable surprise. Last night it was given to us by an American pianist, Miss Ruth McBride, who played a highly interesting program at the monthly concert given by the Musical club."

"This young artist was recommended to us by the Musical Critics' club of Vienna, at whose concert she was the center of attraction several times last winter. We admired her excellent technique, her originality, her broad, exquisite, artistic sense of interpretation and an uncommon versatility, all the more worthy of praise when one considers that she is still so young."

"Miss McBride studied with the best masters in America and then went to Vienna to complete her musical studies. During the eight months she spent there she studied with the famous Sig. Antonio Guarneri, who was at that time one of the leading musical directors at the Royal opera house and who is now directing at the Colon theater, Buenos Ayres, South America."

"She also studied with Madame Bailey Appelbeck, a piano virtuoso of great European reputation."

"We learn with pleasure that while in Vienna she divided several programs with the famous dramatic baritone, Antonio Freytag, who we are proud to say, commenced his musical studies at our conservatory some years ago. Miss McBride says she owes much of her interpretative powers to this highly intelligent artist."

"Through the recommendation of Sig. Antonio Guarneri, Miss McBride has been engaged to play by many of Italy's best philharmonic societies next winter, among the cities she will play are Venice, Padova, Bologna, Parma, Milano and Turin."

"Miss McBride will shortly leave for Paris, where she hopes to study some new works with the renowned Prof. Paul Pugno."

"The writer asked Miss McBride for her opinion about musical study on this side as compared with musical study in America, and she said that as far as the technical or mechanical side was concerned America offered as good advantages as Europe, but that the real artistic atmosphere, which helps so much to encourage an artist and the psychological, the philosophical side of musical study without a thorough knowledge of which no musician could hope to interpret correctly the soul of a masterpiece, can only be gotten over here. America is, however, advancing in the musical art, she said, and it will only be a matter of time when she will take a leading place among the musical nations of the world."

MILLIONAIRE DIES FROM LEUCAEMIA

Rare Disease, Which Is Incurable, Attacks Alonzo Brown, of St. Louis

(By Associated Press.)
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 10.—Alonzo B. Brown, sixty-five years old, a millionaire manufacturer, of St. Louis, died at 11:30 this morning at the St. Anthony hotel after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Brown suffered from leucemia, a rare disease, which is incurable. His son, A. C. Brown, of St. Louis, his brother and his wife were at his bedside when death came. The body will be taken to St. Louis for interment.

MOOSE ROW OVER PLACES ON HOUSE COMMITTEES

Not Enough Progressive Republicans for a Place on Each Committee

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—First steps toward organization of committees of the house was taken today by Democratic Leadership. Under the Republican Leader Mann and Progressive Leader Murdock.

The number of committee places for Progressives is in dispute and as there are not enough Progressives in the house to hold places on all the committees, an attempt was made to select the committees on which the Progressives will be represented, but no agreement was reached.

MISSISSIPPI BEGINS FALLING AT VICKSBURG

(By Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, May 10.—The lower Mississippi felt or remained stationary at all points during the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. today. The Vicksburg gauge showed a fall of half a foot and the Natchez gauge a fall of three-tenths. Red river landing and New Orleans remained stationary, and at Baton Rouge and Donaldsonville a fall of one-tenth of a foot was recorded.

Reports concerning the condition of the remaining levees continue optimistic.

ROBBERS CRACKED SAFE BUT SECURED NO LOOT

FORT WORTH, Ark., May 10.—Reports to the contrary yegmen who attempted to rob the First State bank of Bonanza, sixteen miles south of here today, secured no loot. The safe was badly battered by successive charges of explosives, but resisted all efforts to open it.

Because of the damaged condition of the safe it could not be opened today. Local banks supplied the funds necessary for the bank to continue business. The robbers have not been apprehended.

SENSATIONAL DIVORCE SUIT IN LOUISIANA

Captain Merriam Charges Intimacy Between Wife and Major Murphy

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Mrs. Bessie Merriam will not consent to the compromise offered by her husband and urged by Judge Graham, who is trying the divorce suit brought against her by Captain Henry C. Merriam, unless it provides for a retraction that shall clear her character of the charges made. Otherwise she will refuse to file a cross complaint, charging her husband with desertion, which it was agreed he would not oppose. This is her decision as announced today by her attorneys.

Merriam accused his wife of misconduct with Clarence Murphy, a major on the staff of the governor of Louisiana. A tentative compromise was arranged for the sake of their daughter, Charlotte, ten years old. Mrs. Merriam is ill.

JUSTICE JOSEPH LAMAR TO ADDRESS GEORGIA BAR

Will Speak at Annual Meeting of Attorneys at Warm Springs This Month

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MACON, Ga., May 10.—Associate Justice Joseph R. Lamar, of the supreme court will deliver the annual address to the Georgia bar association at its meeting at Warm Springs, Ga., on May 29, 30 and 31. This announcement was made today by Orville A. Park, of Macon, secretary of the association. Mr. Park has just returned from Washington where he went to confer with Justice Lamar about the address. While the subject of the address has not been announced, Mr. Park says that Justice Lamar told him he would speak on a matter of great interest to Georgia people.

APPLY FOR REHEARING OF WESTERN UNION CASE

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—Application for rehearing in the Louisville and Nashville vs. Western Union Telegraph company case was filed Friday by the railroad in the supreme court. This case was decided in favor of the Western Union, the court holding that the telegraph company had the right to condemn a right-of-way for its poles and wires along the right-of-way of the railroad.

PHIPPS INSTITUTE IS DEDICATED IN PHILA.

(By Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—The Phipps institute, a million-dollar gift by Henry Phipps, of New York, to the University of Pennsylvania, for the study and prevention of tuberculosis among the poor, was dedicated here today. The institution, one of the best equipped in the world for its special work, is in one of the slum sections. Medical men and sociologists from all parts of the United States, scientists and philanthropists, attended the dedicatory exercises.

The degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Mr. Phipps.

THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD LAD RESCUES DROWNING CHILD

Was About to Get Spanking for Being Wet When Mother Learned of Heroism

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 10.—William Ehrlich, thirteen years old, is a hero in his east side home today, but not from his own doing. Yesterday he led two other little lads who were on a raft in the East river in diving to the rescue of a four-year-old boy, who had tumbled off a wharf. With his clothes dripping wet William went home, conscious that he would "get a licking," as his mother had warned him not to go near the water. He knew excuses would be of no avail, so he meekly submitted to his mother's preparations for a good old-fashioned spanking.

He was lying across his mother's lap ready for business, when a policeman, who had heard from the other boys of William's heroism, called to tell Mrs. Ehrlich how brave a lad he had proved himself. William escaped spanking and had a mother's hug instead.

ALASKA'S FATE LAID AT PINCHOT'S GATE

WASHINGTON, May 10.—"Gifford Pinchot more than any other man was responsible for tying up Alaska," James Callbreath, secretary of the American Mining congress, told the senate territorial committee today. He added that former President Roosevelt's executive order of 1906, which took Alaska land from entry, "warranted a revolution," and favored the bill before the committee for government aid in the construction of Alaska railroads but opposed a system of government lease of coal land.

McREYNOLDS SUPPORTS BAR ASSN.'S PETITION

Supreme Court Holds Retrial by Jury Necessary to Overturn Verdict

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—In an issue of what is regarded as of great importance to prevent some of the law's delays, Attorney General McReynolds today joined in a petition of a committee of the American Bar association asking the supreme court to grant a rehearing of its decision that a federal appellate court may not correct verdicts of jurors when they believed insufficient evidence has been introduced to support them.

The court, five to four, held that a reversal by an appellate court violated the seventh amendment of the constitution, and a retrial by a jury was necessary to overturn the original verdict.

While the government is not directly interested in the case, the attorney general sustains the views of the American Bar association that the decision will result in prolonged delays and continued litigation.

Sucks Germs From Body; Cures Disease

Astounding Effect of Robinson Thermal Bath on Many Diseases

Prominent Physicians Endorse Remarkable "Life-Saver."

During the last few years there has been a tremendous "change of heart" among physicians in the treatment of diseases by means of drugs. In all parts of the country prominent physicians have been advising the use of hot-air baths, commonly called Robinson Thermal or Turkish Baths, with results little short of astounding.

Such men as Dr. Benjamin W. Richardson, Dr. Erasmus Wilson and Sir Edwin Chadwick, one of the world's foremost sanitarians, fully endorse the Thermal Bath.

One of England's greatest authorities on hygiene says the surface of the whole body is covered with 7,000,000 tubes or pores, each about a quarter of an inch long, and if stretched out, end to end, would extend nearly 28 miles. This immense drainage system is designed by Nature to relieve the body of its vicious secretions. When these pores are obstructed, a deposit is formed at the mouth of each pore which tends to paralyze the healthy action of the skin and sow the seeds of disease.

Drugs do not eliminate the clogged-up poisons from the system; they have to fight myriads of germs, the battle is too unequal and the germs rout the drug. Instead of the drug routing the germs.

The Robinson Thermal Bath extracts poisons from the pores almost as a liquid is sucked up through a straw; the poison is extracted and the cause of disease disappears.

The effect of the Robinson Thermal Bath on rheumatism, lumbago, kidney and blood troubles, dyspepsia, throat and lung trouble, nervous prostration, insomnia, eczema and all skin troubles, bad colds, neuralgia and constipation are simply surprising.

Robinson's Thermal baths can now be taken at home at a cost of but a few cents each, and with almost no trouble at all.

The results are a Godsend. If you are sick from any cause, it will have an almost miraculous effect upon your system. If you are well, it will keep you so.

That great book, "The Philosophy of Health and Beauty," retail price $2.00. Free at our Main Store, upon request, for a limited time only. Be sure you get a copy. Also see the interesting demonstration of the Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinets; no obligation to purchase.

Cabinets range in price from $5.50 to $15.00.

DR. FORREST PRETTYMAN WILL SPEAK AT EMORY

Will Deliver Literary Address at Commencement—Other
News From Oxford

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
EMORY COLLEGE, OXFORD, Ga., May 10.—Rev. Forrest J. Prettyman, D. D., of Washington, D. C., will deliver the annual literary address at Emory college commencement on Tuesday, June 10, is the announcement made by Dr. J. E. Dickey, president of the college.

Dr. Prettyman is a prominent Methodist minister, having been a member of the Methodist general assemblies and a delegate to the ecumenical conferences in London and Toronto. He is chaplain of the United States senate and pastor of the Epworth church in Washington.

Rev. Frank M. Thomas, D. D., of Louisville, Ky., will deliver the annual commencement sermon on Sunday, June 8. This sermon was delivered last year by Bishop McCoy, of North Carolina.

EMORY WINS DEBATE.
Emory college won the decision in the debate with Emory and Henry college, of Virginia, held at Wofford college, Spartanburg, S. C. This debate decided the winners of the series, and by Emory winning, she still continues to hold the proud record of having never been defeated in a series by a college. The Emory representatives were J. E. Matthews, of Vidalia, Ga., and Joel Mallett, of Jackson, Ga.

SENIORS DISMISSED.
Emory's two literary societies, Few and Phi Gamma, dismissed their senior members with appropriate exercises Monday. This is an annual event of the societies, as the retiring members are dismissed one month before their graduation, and not required to attend further meetings. Dr. C. E. Dowman presided at Phi Gamma's exercises. Rond Almond, of Lithonia, Ga., delivered the valedictory, which was responded to by a junior member, Paul Quillian, of Oxford. The members dismissed from Phi Gamma were W. R. Crowder, of Zetella; E. C. Culver, of Culverton; W. W. Irvine, of Cartersville; Tel C. Kimball, of Garfield; Joel Mallett, of Jackson; Clifford McBride, of Alley; H. J. Pearce, Jr., of Gainesville; G. R. Quillian, of Oxford; H. M. Quillian, Jr., of College Park; G. S. Robeson, of Murreysville; E. S. Settle, of Jackson; H. M. Shaver, of Atlanta; D. V. Spencer, of Jackson; S. E. Walton, of Danburg.

The senior members of Few who were dismissed are J. H. Barton, of Pine Log; J. E. Barnhill, of Glenwood; T. E. Lawrenceville, S. D. Cherry, of Danville; W. A. Carlton, of Arcadia, Fla.; W. R. Fraser, of Arabi; L. A. Harrel, of Fitzgerald; L. B. Hodges, of Brinson; D. B. Lasseter, of Cordele; T. B. Mathews, of Oxford; J. E. Matthews, of Vidalia; A. W. Muse, of Albany; E. K. Perryman, of Rockmart; R. R. Van Langingham, of Cairo; J. A. Tilley, of Decatur; E. F. Scott, of Arcadia, Fla.; I. Rumble, of Forsyth; J. W. Richardson, of Fortson.

SPRING TERM DEBATE.
The annual spring term debate between Few and Phi Gamma will be held Saturday evening, May 17, at Few hall. The subject is relative to woman's suffrage, and Few will attempt to justify their suffrage. The debaters are, Few, Fred Elarbee, of McRae; G. Acree, of Camilla; Tom Burnside, of Thomson; Phi Gamma, Frank Wilson, of Leslie; Joe Fagan, of Savannah, and F. A. Pattillo, of West Point, Ga. Dr. W. F. Melton will preside.

DR. DUNCAN HONORED.
Dr. F. N. Duncan, professor of biology, has been appointed by President G. Stanley Hall, of Clark university, Worcester, Mass., to represent that university at the anniversary exercises of the Georgia school of technology, Atlanta, to celebrate its foundation on June 6. Dr. Duncan is an alumnus of the institution, receiving his doctor of philosophy degree.

EMORY CAMPUS OUT.
The 1913 Emory Campus is being distributed to the student body. This is the annual publication of the college student body, and much interest is being manifested in it, as the popular opinion says it is the best annual that has been published at Emory in years. W. W. Irvine, of Cartersville, is the business manager of the publication and is greatly responsible for its success. The other members of the staff are E. K. Perryman, literary editor; R. R. Van Langingham, athletic editor; J. E. Barnhill, editor-in-chief; Walter Foote, art editor, and John Outler, assistant business manager.

W. & A. FIRE INSURANCE CO. HAS QUIT BUSINESS

(By Associated Press.)
NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 10.—The Western and Atlantic Fire Insurance company, which began business here about three years ago, and which became involved in litigation, recently went out of business, today through negotiation between the company and the state insurance department, according to the department's announcement.

The company's business is taken over by the Globe and Rutgers Fire company, the latter concerns assuming all the risks and unearned premiums for a consideration of $20,000. The Western and Atlantic had on its books unearned premiums of about $50,000.

KANSAS CITY GETS THE CONSTANTINE CONVENTION

DALLAS, Tex., May 10.—Kansas City was selected as the 1914 convention city by the grand imperial council of the Imperial Ecclesiastical and Military Order of Constantine, one of the most exclusive of all Masonic organizations, which closed its forty-first annual convention here today. The following officers were elected: Grand sovereign, H. Fremont Boor, Kansas City; grand vicerey, Samuel H. Smith, Chicago; grand senior general, Robert A. Woods, Indianapolis; grand junior general, William E. Richardson, Duluth, Minn.; grand treasurer, Robert M. Johnson, Chicago; grand recorder, George W. Warville, Chicago.

COUNT CASSINI NOT DEAD, AS REPORTED

PARIS, May 10.—Count Arthur Pavlovitch Cassini, formerly Russian ambassador to the United States, a report of whose death was published this week in the United States, is enjoying excellent health at his residence here.

Pay $10,000 Reward

SACRAMENTO, May 10.—The $10,000 reward offered by the state two years ago for apprehension of persons responsible for the dynamiting of the Times building in Los Angeles, is about to be paid. A bill appropriating that amount to satisfy the claim of William J. Burns was passed today in the assembly. It has passed the senate.

PORTLAND WILL HAVE JUVENILE POLICE FORCE

Kid Cops Will Not Have Power to Arrest, but They Can Report Offenders

(By Associated Press.)
PORTLAND, Ore., May 10.—After a conference between police and juvenile court officials it was announced today that a box police force would be instituted here next Wednesday. It is proposed to have boy "cops" with captains, sergeants and other sub-officials for each ward in the city. The boy officers, who will range from twelve to eighteen years, will be provided with stars bearing the inscription "Portland Junior Police," and a number. A complete code of procedure to govern the force will be adopted. With certain exceptions, this code will not permit the boy police actually to make arrests, but they will report any youthful offenders to their superiors, who will notify the police department and a regular officer will be sent to make the arrests.

SUBMARINES GO FOR BIG PRACTICE DRILL

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The little fleet of submarines has started from Newport, R. I., for Norfolk, to execute in Chesapeake bay and off the Virginia capes some of the drills and exercises they omitted when last in those waters. "The hurry up" orders given to the officers last night at Newport were intended merely to test the readiness of the officers and men to respond to an emergency call, and probably would not have been issued had it been known at headquarters that the submarine had been set for that particular night.

CIGARETTES TO MINORS BARRED IN QUAKER STATE

(By Associated Press.)
HARRISBURG, Pa., May 10.—Governor Tener today signed a bill prohibiting the sale or gift of cigarettes or cigarette papers to persons under twenty-one years of age. Such sale or gift is made punishable by a fine of from $100 to $500. A minor in possession of cigarettes is required to tell where they were obtained. Refusal to do so is made a misdemeanor.

STOLE WATCH WHILE HIS VICTIM RECITED "CASEY"

(By Associated Press.)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 10.—The "hold-up" man Minneapolis ever heard of lured fourteen-year-old Ernest Locke into a vacant house last night and while the lad, at the point of a revolver, was compelled to stammer out "Casey at the Bat," his watch was taken and the robber escaped. Ernest, relating his experience at police headquarters today, said he repeated "Casey" four times.

HAGUE CONFERENCE ON EDUCATION

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—President Wilson was authorized to send delegates to the International Conference on Education at The Hague this year by a joint resolution passed today by the house. No appropriation was made for expenses.

WISCONSIN LEGISLATOR RETURNS TO SEAT

(By Associated Press.)
MADISON, Wis., May 10.—Because his fellow members would not excuse him and he did not care to resign, Carl Hansen, the Manitowish member who quit yesterday in disgust, resumed his seat today. Mr. Hansen was also influenced by numerous telegrams from home asking him to remain.

Government Must Pay New Hampshire Sum Of Thirty-Five Cents

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The commonwealth of New Hampshire today lodged a claim for 35 cents against the federal government of the United States, and worst of it is the United States has to pay, notwithstanding that economy must be the watchword of the administration in the face of tariff revision.

Zealous state authorities in an unrelenting campaign against pests, invaded the back yard of the postoffice building at Dover, N. H., and discovered three brown tail moth nests in a lonely tree that sheds its shade upon the hard-working postal employees of Dover during their rest periods.

The state "biologists," without much ado, destroyed the nests of the pernicious bugs and nonchalantly presented a bill for 35 cents, evidently at the established rate of 15 cents for the first nest and 10 cents for each of the others.

The postmaster protested vigorously, with the declaration that he himself could have annihilated the moths without expense if the state had pointed them out. An issue was threatened, and the quarrel was referred to the treasury department.

Sherman Allen, assistant secretary of the treasury, who learned diplomacy as an assistant secretary to President Taft, conceded the principal. After a formal bill and voucher are rendered, a treasury warrant will be sent to the state.

W. J. MARTIN TO SELL SCHOOL INDEMNITY LANDS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—W. J. Martin, state land agent, has gone to Walker county, where he will sell several thousand acres of school indemnity lands. The lands have been advertised for sale at public auction, the sale taking place at Jasper.

On the following Saturday Mr. Martin will go to Tuscaloosa county, where he will conduct a similar sale. Both tracts of land are rich in minerals and it is hoped that the state will receive a good price for them.

TWO NEW CABLES FOR AZORES-U. S. SERVICE

(By Associated Press.)
LISBON, Portugal, May 10.—The chamber of deputies today authorized a contract between the Portuguese government and the European and Azores Telegraph company for two cables between the Azores and the United States and one between the Azores and England. The Portuguese government is negotiating with the republic of Panama for a cable between Portugal and Panama touching at the islands of Porto Santo, twenty-six miles northeast of Madeira.

ALABAMA BANKERS HAVE ELECTED THEIR OFFICERS

PANAMA CITY, Fla., May 10.—Delegates to the convention of the Alabama Bankers' association, here on their annual outing, today elected Michael Cody, of Montgomery, president; G. L. Comer, of Euclid, vice president, and re-elected McLane Tilton, of Pell City, secretary and treasurer. The next meeting will be held at Decatur.

The visitors return this afternoon to Dothan, where the convention has been in session.

Has Nineteen Children But Wants to Adopt Still Another Kiddie

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—Nineteen children, seventeen of her own blood, and two adopted, have been reared by Mrs. May C. Koch, of this city, yet she has undertaken the task of "bringing up" another. A petition signed by Mrs. Koch for the adoption of an eighteen-months-old girl, Helen Shirley, was made before Judge McCormick today. "While I believe I already have done my duty," said the petitioner, "I might just as well rear an even score of them."

B. B. EVANS DEPRIVED OF RIGHT TO PRACTICE LAW

Supreme Court of South Carolina Indefinitely Suspends
Prominent Attorney

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
COLUMBIA, S. C., May 10.—Barnard B. Evans is indefinitely suspended from the practice of law and deprived of the rights and duties of an attorney with the privilege of moving at the end of two years or reinstatement upon satisfactory proof that he has not used intoxicating liquors for two years, in a unanimous opinion of the supreme court.

That B. B. Evans, indorsed and misappropriated to his own use a check for $198.90 belonging to George L. Salter, which he had secured for Salter as his attorney and that he misapplied to his own use money which he had collected for the Murray Drug company from J. E. Wovlin, were conclusions reached by the court.

The charges which Evans made against B. W. Crouch and E. W. Able, attorneys, of Saluda, that they were "thieves, incendiaries and blind tigers," and against Sheriff Sample, of Saluda, that he was a "thief," the court held were false and recklessly made. Says the court in this connection: "It is not for this court to annul or to annul the prevalent exaggeration and excess in public speech so discreditable and misleading. Allowance must be made for weak men who drift with the current into untrue statements and who assume one character in private life, and another in public speech. A charge of falsehood against an attorney in the heat of political campaign would rarely be considered by the courts in disbarment proceedings. But untrue assertions without probable cause made by a member of the bar that certain citizens have stolen or burned specific property is a serious offense, going to the foundation of character, and must be weighed by the courts especially when coupled with other offense showing a reckless disregard of professional duty."

DECLARE HARVESTER COX STIFLED NO COMPETITION

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 10.—Fifteen implement dealers from the Dakotas and Minnesota, testifying for the decade in the government's inquiry into the International Harvester company, asserted today that the alleged trust had made no effort to stifle competition or control rail prices. Cited for the government in an attempt to discount testimony that "competition was keen between the independent and International dealers," gained admissions from witnesses that from 90 to 100 per cent of all binders and harvesters sold in "the territory affected were International products."

JURY COULDN'T AGREE IN DUCKTOWN SULPHUR CASE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 10.—The jury being unable to agree, the case in the federal court here of J. P. and J. H. Vestal, of Ellijay, Ga., vs. the Ducktown Sulphur company, limited, resulted in a mistrial. Damages were asked in the sum of $37,000. The case, which consumed several days, went to the jury Friday morning.

Months-old girl, Helen Shirley, was made before Judge McCormick today. "While I believe I already have done my duty," said the petitioner, "I might just as well rear an even score of them."

Jury Decides Ladies Violated Law With Card Game of "42"

WAXAHACHIE, Tex., May 10.—There was consternation among members of the Women's Social clubs here today when the Ellis county grand jury, just before its adjournment, declared were members of the ladies' organizations played "42," or other card games, for prizes, they were violating the law. Nor did they stop with the expression of their opinion, but recommended to the succeeding inquisitorial body that such alleged violations be taken up for investigation and "treated as the law demands."

The women had presented a petition to the grand jury in which they condemned the operation of pool halls in this city. The grand jury commended the clubs for their interest in the pool hall matter and then made its recommendations about card playing in the same connection.

SIR CECIL SPRING-RICE JOINS CRICKET CLUB

British Ambassador May Be Seen Playing in Washington
During Summer

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The sight of a periphrastic foreign diplomat of high rank, clad in tannys and running breathlessly between wickets, may become a common sight to visitors in Rock Creek park, for it was announced today that Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, ambassador to the United States from Great Britain, had joined the Washington Cricket club. The intention to join the local cricketers was conveyed by the ambassador in a letter to Captain J. T. Rose, of the club. Ambassador Spring-Rice is said to be an ardent player and to have won distinction at the game both in England and India. The first game of the season will be played this afternoon and tomorrow, but it is not known whether the ambassador will join in the sport.

WILL RAISE $250,000 TO PURCHASE CHURCH SITES

DALLAS, Tex., May 10.—In view of the difficulty experienced in securing church sites out of the income of the general board of missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, that organization on recommendation of the foreign committee today decided to inaugurate a movement among laymen to raise $250,000 to be applied towards purchasing sites. The board also decided to use a larger sum annually from missionary funds in doing strictly evangelistic work.

HE STOLE TWO HORSES IN ORDER TO MARRY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 10.—To obtain funds to enable him to wed Miss Nellie Walker, daughter of a wealthy rancher, John Lewis, a prominent church member of Whittier, stole two horses, it developed today, when he was arrested on a grand larceny charge. Lewis, according to attaches of the sheriff's office, confessed and pleaded with the officer not to disclose his motive for stealing the horses, fearing his fiancée, who is ill, could not survive the shock.

EX-KING OF PORTUGAL WEDS A HOHENZOLLERN

SIGMARINGEN, Germany, May 10.—The marriage of former King Manuel of Portugal and Princess Augustine Victoria, daughter of Prince Wilhelm of Hohenzollern, is to take place next September.

PRATT'S SCALES ARE REDEEMED BY REPORT

No False Weights Given by Coal Company, Says Commission

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—Charges made during the convict investigation that the scales of the Pratt Consolidated Coal company at Banner mines were registering false weights are without foundation, according to a report filed with Governor O'Neal by the special commission appointed to examine the scales. Those composing the commission were Dr. E. B. Kay, Tuscaloosa; Prof. G. N. Mitcham, Auburn, and P. J. Rogers, Birmingham.

After a thorough inspection of the two scales at the mine and after making exhaustive tests the commission reached the conclusion that the scales were in good condition and have been making correct weights.

It was discovered by the commission that the scales are constructed on correct mechanical principles and are reasonably accurate and that no fraudulent device is attached to either of them. The commission declares that it is mechanically impossible to arrange the scales so as to weigh with a constant percentage of error without a radical alteration of the parts.

Concerning the allowance for slate made at the mines the commission says that this allowance is not made for the purpose of defrauding, but is an attempt to make an equitable allowance for rock loaded with coal.

In conclusion the commission says: "Inasmuch as the scale weights at Banner are not used as a basis for settlement between the Pratt Consolidated Coal company and the state of Alabama, it is evident that the state is suffering no loss of revenue by reason of the method of weighing in vogue at the mines."

These findings of the commission bear out the statements of George B. McCormack, president of the Pratt company, who declared several weeks ago that the scales were not giving false weights and that it would be impossible to make them weigh a certain percentage of error without being completely rebuilt.

Reports filed with H. Y. Brooke, examiner of public accounts, by W. D. Nesbit, state mine inspector, declared that the scales at Banner mines were weighing 20 per cent underweight on February 25. This evidence was brought out during the investigation of the affairs of the state convict department.

DEPARTMENT COMMERCE HAS OBTAINED NEW SEAL

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The department of commerce found itself on March 4 without a seal, owing to the fact that the department of commerce and labor into two. Secretary Redfield has devised a new symbol of authority. It consists of a shield on the upper half of which is a vessel with full sail set to the wind while the lower half displays a light house shedding its light to the distant horizon. Above the crest, the American eagle keeps guard.

INSURANCE COMPANIES ADVISED TO RETURN

(By Associated Press.)
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 10.—Thomas Bates, of Chicago, adviser for the insurance companies who ceased doing business in Missouri because of the passage of the Orr law by the state legislature will advise the companies to resume business in the state, according to a statement made today by former Governor Joseph W. Folk, representing a group of policy holders.
