CHARGES CONVICT GUARD UNDER FIRE RETAINS POSITION

Philip Weltner Asserts Clyde Thomason Works for County as Overseer, Although Discharged for Cruelty

MAKES COMPLAINT TO COMMISSIONER WINN

Investigation of Charges Is Promised by Vice Chairman of County Board — Former Grand Jurors Confer

Complaining of an apparent disregard of the presentments of the recent grand jury, the action of the board of county commissioners and a violation of the proprieties, Philip C. Weltner, secretary of the Prison Reform Association of Georgia, Thursday afternoon called the attention of W. T. Winn, vice chairman of the county board, to the fact that Clyde Thomason, the ex-convict guard recently discharged for cruelty to the convicts and who is to be tried in the superior court Friday for his alleged cruelty, is still engaged as some kind of as overseer of the convicts now at work widening Peachtree street.

Mr. Weltner sought to make his complaint to Chairman Tull C. Waters, but was unable to locate him, so took the matter up with Vice Chairman Winn. The latter declared "this was the first news he had received that Thomason was still in the employ of the county," and promised an investigation.

FACE TRIAL FRIDAY.

As a result of the recent grand jury investigations Thomason, with other convict guards, was discharged by the county commission. He and Ed Tyree, another ex-guard, will be put on trial Friday morning for acts of alleged excessive cruelty to convicts. Thomason is charged with having shot a convict named John Harris and cruelly beating another by the name of James Brannon.

Definite information as to what position Thomason now holds with the county is lacking. A Journal reporter observed him Thursday afternoon for thirty minutes and noticed that he appeared to be directing the activities of a gang of convicts engaged in digging a curbing trench on Peachtree street. He appeared to be the foreman in charge of the work.

When asked if he was a guard Thomason replied that he was not, but he would not say what position he held. A man who appeared to be the head guard on the Peachtree street job, but who declined to give his name, said Thomason had been with the gang since Monday. He would not state in what capacity.

Efforts to locate H. H. Donaldson, superintendent of public works, and ascertain Thomason's status from him, were unsuccessful. Mr. Donaldson was said to be somewhere in the country on his way to one of the convict camps.

GIRARDEAU NOT INFORMED.

Warden Charles H. Girardeau, who was elected to his position after the recent grand jury probe, was surprised to learn that Thomason was at work with the convicts. He said he had not known of it, and that if Thomason was acting as either a guard, foreman or overseer he should know it.

Mose Holland, bookkeeper and purchasing agent for the county board, was also ignorant of Thomason's employment. He said he did not receive his month's payroll from Mr. Donaldson until about the 25th, and could not say whether Thomason was on the payroll or what position he was filling, if any.

A conference was held Thursday afternoon in A. L. Waldo's office in the Grant building, which was attended by Philip Weltner, Alf C. Newell, foreman of the grand jury which made the convict investigation; A. L. Waldo, foreman of the present grand jury, and C. H. Peck, vice chairman of the Newell grand jury. These gentlemen denied they were discussing Thomason's continued connection with the county gang.

SUES FOR ALIMONY, BUT DOES NOT ASK DIVORCE

Says Husband Is Subject to Frequent Fits of Sulks and Jealousy

Asking permanent and temporary alimony, Mrs. Ida S. Ellison Thursday morning swore out a writ of ne exeat before Judge Bell against her husband, Frank Ellison, who works at the Keystone Tyre Foundry, 24 South Forsyth street.

Judge Bell granted the writ, which is to prevent Ellison from leaving the state of Georgia before the alimony hearing comes up on March 26, and fixed Ellison's bond at $200. A deputy sheriff served the writ on Ellison Thursday morning.

Mrs. Ellison, who states that her husband deserted her on December 26, 1913, says he was subject to frequent fits of sulks and jealousy. They have two children, Frances, a girl, ten years old, and Edward, eight years old. No divorce is asked. Holbrook & Corbett, attorneys, filed the suit.

RAIN, COLD AND STORM FROM TEXAS PREDICTED

Weather Man Says Cold Spell May Last Two Days or More

Cold weather, rain and high wind is the weather man's disagreeable forecast for Friday. He says a storm is coming up from Texas that will cause much rain and high wind and that by Friday night the mercury will be down to freezing.

The cold will probably last two days and maybe more, but the forecaster thinks the rain will pass on after Friday.

STUDENTS OF TECH RESCUE A SICK MAN FROM BURNING HOUSE

W. M. Camp, Pullman Superintendent, Atlanta Division, Taken From His Home Just Before Roof Caved In

TWO PLACES ON WEST NORTH AVENUE RUINED

Flames on Camp Residence at Number 90 and Moore Home at Number 92 Give Firemen Stubborn Fight

W. M. Camp, superintendent of the Atlanta division of the Pullman company, narrowly escaped death in his burning home at 1:20 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Mr. Camp had been returned to his home from a hospital Thursday morning. Students of the Georgia School of Technology rescued him, carrying him to a house across the street.

The Camp residence, 90 West North avenue, was totally destroyed, and the home of William W. Moore, at 92 West North avenue, was ruined also. Tech students discovered the fire and gave the alarm.

While some carried Mr. Camp out of the burning house, others saved a few articles of furniture. Then the roof fell in, and the matter was hopeless.

The Moore home, catching immediately afterward, was burning seriously when the firemen got it under control. Thereafter the fire fighters battled against further spread of the flames to adjoining houses.

Mr. Camp was injured by an automobile several months ago. Recently he went again to the hospital and had just recuperated enough to be taken home.

J. H. Lucas, quarterback on the football team of Tech, and J. L. Parker, a student, were the rescuers of Mr. Camp. They were the first on the scene of the fire who were strong enough to carry the sick man out of the house.

POLICE BELIEVE NEGRO IS "JACK THE RIPPER"

Arthur McElroy Held for Stealing Rugs and Leaving Note at High School

Arrested in Palmetto, Ga., Wednesday afternoon, Arthur McElroy, a huge negro man, believed by the police to be the "Jack the Ripper," who robbed the Girls' High school Monday night of $100 worth of rugs, is now safely behind the bars at police headquarters.

Chief of Police Beavers received a long distance call from Palmetto Wednesday, stating a negro was there peddling a large assortment of rugs. The chief immediately sent Detective Gillespie to Palmetto in an automobile accompanied by the negro janitor of the Girls' High school.

The janitor identified the rugs as those stolen from the school, and the negro was arrested. He gave his address as 239 Ira street, Atlanta.

Monday morning after the Girls' High school was discovered robbed of rugs, the police found a note threatening death to five girls, and stating that all of the girls "had better look out." It was signed "Jack the Ripper," and sealed with a black hand and a picture of a dagger. McElroy is thought to be the author of this note.

DEATH CLAIMS WELL KNOWN WAR VETERAN

John W. Woodruff, One of Atlanta's Oldest Citizens, Succumbs at His Home

Mr. John W. Woodruff, one of Atlanta's oldest and most respected citizens, died Thursday at noon at his home, 58 Cooper street. He had been in failing health for many months, but it was not until last December that the illness which caused his death developed to a serious stage. Everything possible was done to prolong his life, but, as he was in his seventy-second year, his vitality was not sufficient to admit of his recovery.

Mr. Woodruff had been a resident of Atlanta since early manhood, coming here from Griffin, Ga. He was a devout and beloved member of the Central Presbyterian church, being for many years a deacon and known and liked by all because of his loyalty and his bright and cheery disposition.

Next to his church he loved the cause for which he fought in the 60's, and the remaining comrades of that struggle. He was a member of Company A, Ninth Georgia battalion artillery, commanded by Major A. Lyndon.

SENATOR BACON'S WIDOW TO GET YEAR'S SALARY

Senate Voted to Pay $7,500, a Senatorial Salary for One Year

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The senate voted today to pay to the widow of Senator A. O. Bacon, of Georgia, $7,500, a senatorial salary. That is the senate custom at the death of members.

J. WYLIE SMITH DYING; CASES TAKEN OFF DOCKET

The several cases against J. Wylie Smith were removed from the calendar of the criminal division of the superior court Thursday, when Deputy Sheriff Plennie Minor verified the report of Smith's attorney, Hugh Howell, that the man is dying.

Smith, who contracted tuberculosis while a fugitive from justice in Mexico, in the opinion of Deputy Minor will never be strong enough to come to the court room.

HOKE SMITH OPENS DETERMINED WAR ON EXCHANGE EVILS

Senators of Other Cotton States Join in Fight on Pernicious Practices in Connection With Option Contracts

LEGISLATION ALSO MAY AFFECT GRAIN EXCHANGES

Georgia Senator Calls for Immediate Revision of Rules and Contracts—Speedy Action by Congress Assured

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—The opening gun of a fight to a finish against the pernicious practices of the New York cotton exchange was fired in the United States senate today by Senator Hoke Smith, who gave notice that he would insist upon the passage of the bill for the reformation of cotton option contracts. The Georgian was supported in his declaration by Senator Overman, of North Carolina; Senator Smith, of South Carolina; Senator Williams, of Mississippi, and other senators from the cotton states. It is quite likely that the senators from the western wheat belt will join forces with the southern contingents, and that the legislation will aim to correct abuses in the grain exchanges also.

"We are in the fight against the pernicious practices of the New York cotton exchange to the finish," said Senator Smith to The Journal representative after starting the ball to rolling in the senate. "The recent action of the board of governors of the exchange in adopting the government standards effective one year hence, will not silence the agitation. The senate will be urged to compel an immediate revision of the rules and contracts of the exchange, and I believe that the facts are sufficient to warrant the speedy passage of legislation by congress."

ON PASSAGE FRIDAY.

After the Georgia senator had opened up the subject in the senate today, Senator Smith, of South Carolina, author of the bill to regulate the cotton exchange, gave notice that on tomorrow he would seek to have his measure placed on its passage. He invited the senators from the wheat belt to join in the fight, and received assurances from Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, that the westerners would gladly enlist in the movement provided that the legislation also regulates the grain exchanges.

In calling the subject to the attention of the senate, Senator Smith presented letters from the John B. King Manufacturing company, of Augusta, and the Bibb Manufacturing company, of Macon, urging legislation to correct the evils of the New York exchange. He presented also the resolutions along this line adopted recently by the Yarn Spinners' association in convention at Gastonia, N. C.

METHODS BEING USED.

In calling the senate's attention to the subject, Senator Smith said:

Mr. President, there are a number of bills pending in each house seeking to reach the course of business in the exchanges, and especially in the New York cotton exchange. I desire to present to the senate two letters which bear upon this pending legislation, together with resolutions passed by bodies of men interested in the subject.

I wish to say just a word in connection with what I find to be the condition as reported in yesterday's morning paper. It appears that the New York cotton exchange is selling, or was selling day before yesterday, March cotton at 12.50 cents per pound. This is the dealing cotton. It was selling July cotton of the same character at 11.77 cents per pound. This is the fact no new cotton comes in by July, and the burden is upon the man holding the cotton of carrying it until July. It is worth really from 5 to 10 points more in July than it is in August, and yet, by some legerdemain of management, the New York exchange is selling July at 75 points less than March, though it is worth from 10 to 15 points more than March, being worth at least the cost of the interest between March and July of carrying it, the expense of warehousing and the expense of insurance.

Again spot cotton day before yesterday was selling in New York middling at 13.20 and the exchange was selling proportionately the same cotton at 12.50, or 70 points less than the actual cotton was selling on the street. It is to that system of manipulation, their systems of unfair tender of the grade of the cotton and arbitrary estimates of the differences in value between the cotton tendered and the cotton sold that enables them thus to manipulate the market and to nominally sell middling cotton at a price far below its value and thus injure two class of people, the producer and the cotton manufacturer, who, when he is selling his cloth is confronted with what appears to be the cost of cotton fixed by the New York exchange when in point of fact the manufacturer must pay more for his cotton.

Senator Overman characterized the practices of the New York exchange as inexcusable and called attention to the fact that whereas they sell good middling they deliver "low mid" when delivery is demanded. The dog tail is unmarketable.

"The exchange on yesterday agreed to adopt the government standard," he said, "but it is proposed that this reformation shall not become effective for a year. This should not be. The exchange admits that its present contracts are unfair by agreeing to change them in the future. It should be made to adopt the government classification at once."

BURNS DECLARES LIES HAVE BEEN TOLD TO SOLICITOR

SCOFFS AT THEORY THAT PROSECUTOR WAS PREJUDICED

Detective Expresses Confidence in Solicitor and Declares Vigorous Prosecution Prompted by Sense of Duty

WILL SUBMIT HIS REPORT TO COUNSEL FOR STATE

"Whether Frank or Another Is Guilty, Proof Will Be Sufficient to Convince All Fair Minds," He Says

William J. Burns, the detective expressed the opinion Thursday that Leo Frank's prosecutor, Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, is still open to conviction about the Mary Phagan murder case, and declared he is confident that when he submits his report on the case that he will be able to convince the solicitor, whether he finds Frank guilty or innocent.

Burns Thursday made no comment on the construction placed on his remarks by a Journal story—namely that now he considers Frank innocent of the crime for which he has been condemned.

In discussing the case he seemed to make the inference, or anger by the assertion that he can convince the solicitor that he has been lied to.

When he has finished his investigation he will submit a copy of his report to the solicitor general for the latter's consideration, Burns said.

The detective in talking to newspapermen declared the solicitor, who has been repeatedly attacked for his method of conducting the Frank case. The tall about the solicitor being prejudiced Burns characterizes as "bosh."

"The solicitor has done no more than to prosecute an important case in a very vigorous and capable manner," he declared.

THE MOST HORRIBLE CRIME.

"The country would be in a bad way without solicitors who are aggressive in their prosecutions to defend the law," the famous detective said. "The crime was one to demand a vigorous prosecution in fact, I consider the Mary Phagan murder one of the most horrible crimes of the century—a crime which would naturally arouse the indignation of the people. That there was so much sentiment, of course, is unfortunate for Frank, the man, if he is innocent.

"When we bring the facts to light, and the solicitor has the report, I haven't the slightest doubt that he will be convinced."

"Of course," Mr. Burns added smiling, "he will not have to be convinced if Frank is guilty."

During his talk Mr. Burns made the flat-footed assertion that he will show the solicitor where He have been told him.

The attention of the detective was called to meager testimony at the trial about the staple on the rear door of the pencil factory basement which was pried aloose from the inside.

Mr. Burns quickly said: "Don't worry about that, we will show you the facts in regard to the staple when the proper time comes."

Apparently the detective has already secured new information about the staple, which he considers authentic. On the stand at the trial, James Conley, who admitted carrying the body of the girl to the basement, disclaimed any knowledge of the staple, which had been on the door back door in order that a person might leave the building by that door without having the key.

Mr. Burns, while refusing to state how many men he has at work on the case, verified the report that he has summoned Dan Lebon, manager of the New Orleans office, to Atlanta. Burns has said he considers Lebon one of the best detectives in the country.

Interesting in connection with Burns work on the case, was the receipt by the sheriff at the jail Thursday of

CLEAN-UP CRUSADE ON FOR SHRINE GATHERING

The Journal Megaphones Forrest Adair's Call for a Spick and Span Atlanta

"Let's all get busy and clean up Atlanta, and paint up and wash up, for the coming of the Shrinars in May," said Forrest Adair, potentate of Yaarab temple, Thursday.

The suggestion catches the ear of Atlanta. The Journal's megaphone has been taken down to repeat it through.

"Everybody ought to hear it," continued Mr. Adair. "Less than two months remain before the thousands of people from all parts of the country will begin looking us over. We can't afford to make anything but the very best impression on them. Somebody ought to start a campaign along this line. The newspapers should get in behind it."

The Journal accepts the obligation.

The "clean up and paint up" crusade is on.

Down with dirt, by heck!

"Let's make Atlanta's face shine," said Mr. Adair, catching the enthusiasm of his own words. "That's make about 40,000 visitors think we've got the prettiest, cleanest city in the country. There are thousands of possible Atlantians among the very folks who will be here. The others who can't hope to come back will send us other thousands after they get home if we give them the right impression of what a city we've got."

Mr. Adair's suggestion means lots of soap and paint and flower seed and grass seed, and all that sort of thing. Atlanta has two months to use them in.

Seventeenth Infantry Troops Cheered by Hundreds Who See Them Off, on Trains, Tearful Women and Children Left Behind

Thursday morning at Fort McPherson. The warm sun shining down on green grass and dusty roadway, and a little breeze whipping through the budding trees.

An engine coughs and wheezes on the siding, long lines of sun-tanned, brawn-clad men file up the planks into the train; little groups of women scattered here and there about the iron gate-ways, gaily dressed and smiling bravely, alternately wave and dab with rather damp handkerchiefs.

And in the intylgible distance is a vision of the muddy Rio Grande and prickly, sand plains and little brown men dodging among mesquite trees, under blue smoke that curls up to the tawny sky.

For the Seventeenth infantry, at home at Atlanta for eight long years, is bound for the border, for turbulent Texas and perhaps for far-flung lands "somewhere east of Suez," probably never to return again to Georgia.

The band played gaily enough and done barked excitedly and laughter flowed freely, though perhaps a little strained. Because, you see, the women and children weren't going to Texas and must wait through many dreary days for news at best uncertain.

It was just 9 o'clock that the Southern railway train on the siding began to whistle long and lonesomely and from behind the red brick officers row the crash of drum and cornet broke forth.

"It looks to me like a big night tonight, played the band. "A big night tonight, yes a big night tonight."

A little ripple of excitement ran through the crowd about the gateway.

JONES IS CALLED DOWN FOR SPEECH ON TOLLS

Wilson Tells Washington Senator He Is "Skating on Thin Ice"

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—President Wilson told Senator Jones, Republican, of Washington, today that he was "skating on thin ice" in his speech yesterday, which broadly intimated that the president had not decided to read a message to congress on the Panama tolls question until after Sir Lionel Carden, British minister to Mexico, visited the White House.

The senator went to discuss with the president certain regulations of a pending fisheries bill affecting the salmon industry in the northwest, but Mr. Wilson turned the conversation to the senator's speech of yesterday.

The president told callers afterward that he could not get a suggestion on the Mexican question out of Sir Lionel "with a conference," and that the conference was purely for information on the general situation in Mexico. The president had written his tolls message and decided to read it before he saw Sir Lionel. Officials said neither the tolls questions nor any suggestions for future policy in the Mexican situation came up in the talk with Sir Lionel.

Senator Jones contended it was imperative that the senate, before it undertook to act upon President Wilson's request, should be informed as to the interests of the foreign nations in the matter. He pointed out that the resolution only requested information which the president deemed advisable to give.

Frank's death warrant—the order of Judge Hill, of the criminal division of the superior court for Sheriff Mangum to execute the prisoner on April 17. The receipt of the death warrant calls to mind the fact that the men who are fighting for Frank have less than a month left in which to act.

Attorney Reuben R. Arnold, of the Frank defense, who appeared before the United States supreme court in Washington Wednesday, has gone to New York City. This fact has given credence to the report that an important point in the case had been developed in New York by the defense. Only a week ago Luther Z. Rosser, senior counsel for Frank, and Herbert Haas, one of the associate counsel, were both in New York.

Burns himself is said to have investigated several points in connection with the Atlanta case when he was in New York the latter part of last week.

PLANS NOT DISCLOSED.

Mr. Burns would not disclose his plans for Thursday's operations further than that he expects to talk again with Frank, the prisoner in the Tower, under sentence of death as the murderer. He was asked if Frank is brought into conference so often because the prisoner is better informed on the case than others not so vitally concerned in its outcome.

"No," answered the detective, "not exactly that. Frank is a man of marvelous memory for details. Sometimes he is very methodical."

Mr. Burns' statement published in The Journal Wednesday that he believes the proper way to solve any mystery is to make the theory fit the known facts taken in connection with his other statement that he often changes his theory several times during the solution of involved mysteries, is interesting when considered in relation to what The Journal has construed from his remarks—that he now believes Frank is not the guilty man.

Mr. Burns declared again Thursday that he expects to see Jim Conley, the negro accuser of Frank, before he finishes his work. He would not predict when he expects to finish.

His attention was called to William M. Smith's request, as attorney for Conley, that the jailers admit no one to see the negro unless Smith is notified and is present. Mr. Burns smiled.

PLANS TO SEE CONLEY.

He was asked if he thought Attorney Smith could prevent him from seeing Conley.

"No, indeed; I certainly do not," he replied. "I don't see where he has anything to do with that part of it."

But he added that he had no objection to Attorney Smith's being present when he talks with the negro.

The fact that Mr. Burns has conducted his investigation so far without a word of information from the negro Conley is taken by many to indicate quite clearly that Conley himself is the object of the hunt.

Mr. Burns admitted that Dan Lehon, head of his New Orleans agency, has been called to Atlanta to aid in the investigation. He expressed again his confidence that he is on the trail of the murderer. He said he expects to make the mystery so clear that everybody will concede the solution is right.

"If the detectives who worked from the beginning on this case had gone about their investigation in a different manner, you think the case would have been cleared before now to the satisfaction of everybody?" he was asked.

He replied that he did not want to criticise anybody. "Of course it is easier to take a case from the jump and ferret it out than to clear a mystery long after a crime is committed," he added.

While every effort is being made to prevent a possible secret interview, William M. Smith, attorney for Jim Conley, declares he is perfectly willing for Detective William J. Burns to interview the negro, provided he (Smith) is present.

There has been much interesting speculation relative to probable efforts of the famous detective to interview the negro, who accuses Leo M. Frank of the murder of Mary Phagan, and Thursday, for the first time, the negro's attorney stated his position to The Journal.

"I will be glad for Mr. Burns to see the negro and ask him any questions, and I shall instruct my client to answer freely and fully," he said.

"I do insist, however, that I be present whenever Conley talks to Detective Burns or to any one else. I think my client's interest demands such a policy."

Attorney Smith, in reply to questions, said he would not be willing for Burns to talk to the negro in the presence of anyone except himself.

The detective, Mr. Smith says, has made no effort so far as he knows to see the negro, Burns has not communicated with him "one way, he says.

REPORT IS DENIED.

Attorney Smith states the report that he recently filed a written demand with the sheriff, asking that no one be allowed to see the negro, is erroneous.

Immediately after the Frank trial Judge L. S. Roan issued an order to prohibit all visitors from the negro's cell except on written order from Mr. Smith. And there has been no further order or request in the matter.

Confident that in a short time he can name the murderer of Mary Phagan and demonstrate the guilt of that person to all fair-minded people, Detective Burns is continuing his probe.

During the afternoon Wednesday he paid a visit to the tower and talked with Leo Frank for a few minutes. Burns has frequently visited the condemned man. Frank, during the many hours he has spent in a cell has made a careful study of the case and is thoroughly familiar with every point. Without referring to records of the trial or any printed matter about the case, he is ready to answer in an instant questions about minute and supposedly unimportant details of the case and its investigation.

Besides the condemned man Burns Wednesday interviewed several witnesses in the case, and had a conference with attorneys for Frank.

NEGRO AUTO DRIVER HELD FOR BURGLARY

CORRECT CORSETING IS DEMONSTRATED AT RICH'S

Hundreds of Women Attend Lecture by Mrs. U. N. Taylor, of New York.

Hundreds of women attended the lectures on correct corseting given by Mrs. U. N. Taylor, of New York, Thursday morning at M. Rich & Bros. company's store.

Mrs. Taylor told them how to buy a corset and how to wear it after they have bought it, illustrating each point in living models, and the novelty of the demonstration and its really instructive value appealed strongly to the women present. Many times the lecturer was interrupted by questions from those in the audience who wished some particular point illustrated.

Mrs. Taylor and the three models who illustrate the slender figure, the average figure and the stout figure, came down from New York Wednesday accompanied by A. W. Sigourney, sales manager for the Royal Worcester and Bon Ton corsets.

The lectures which will be given morning and afternoon Thursday, Friday and Saturday, not only show just what corsets are best for the varying types of figure, but tell also how to correct wrong tendencies of figure and carriage and emphasize the necessity of securing a suitable and comfortable corset to insure good health.

Mrs. Taylor pointed out the new style features in corsets, drawing attention to the fact that straight and natural lines prevail now in all corsets, and said women are wearing corsets three sizes larger than they ever have in the past.

"TANGO AND NATURE FRONT."

The tango and natural front corsets attracted special attention, and everybody was interested in Mrs. Taylor's corset hints about small details usually overlooked even by the best dressed woman.

The models, who are unusually pretty women, wore all the latest things in lingerie and boudoir garments, and the demonstration was interesting from that standpoint as well.

The lectures and demonstration are given on the fourth floor at Rich's between the hours of 10:30 and 12:30 in the morning and 3:30 and 5:30 in the afternoon. A regulation stage has been constructed and it is equipped with footlights which throw each figure into prominence. Pretty decorations added to the attractiveness of the room.

Demonstration of proper corseting by living models is a new thing for Atlanta. In fact, heretofore it has been done in New York only for buyers and salesmen, but for the past six weeks Mrs. Taylor and her models have been making a lecture tour which included all the larger cities. She is an expert on corseting and has been connected with the leading corset establishments of the country. Her lectures on correct corseting have received high commendation from medical men.

CLEAN-UP CRUSADE ON FOR SHRINE GATHERING; ADAIR URGES ACTION

Two months leave a mighty short time.

"But we can transform the city in six weeks," he declared. "May is one of our prettiest months. Grass is green then. Flowers are blooming. The sunlight is beautiful. Nature will be with us in our work. All we have to do is add the touches.

"Atlantians who painted their homes back yonder in the year of the exposition and haven't touched them since, ought to get busy right now. Others who painted two years ago ought to get busy with them. Every house in every business building, that doesn't look its very best today, should be made to look that best by tomorrow night. Such unwillingness is rare to find. Paint is the thing. Use it thoroughly and not only helps looks, but it lengthens life.

"Restaurants and kitchens and cafes and boarding houses—these ought to be cleaned and scrubbed and made to shine like a bald man's head. Bakeries, too, should be made spick and span. The city can help. The women's clubs can help. The property owners can help, and the people who occupy the property can help. To clean up places where flies breed and harbor and see only helps looks but helps health conditions. Let's annihilate the fly. Let's murder the cockroach. If we have been clean all our lives, let's be cleaner than ever before for the visit of the Shriners. Let's impress we make on them and the thousands of non-Shriners who will be with them will play a big part in Atlanta's future—not counting in at all the good results we reap from it ourselves. It behooves us to hustle while the hustling is good. Let's get busy, and scrub and paint and sweep till Atlanta is a real Spotless Town."

Mr. Adair said the crusade should reach to every part of the city—to remote back yards, to gloomy basements, to every corner where there is a speck of dirt or a discarded tin can.

The city government has started on the clean-up campaign which Mr. Adair urges. Orders have been issued for the cleaning of city hall, inside and out, from top to bottom; and other city buildings will be washed and painted and polished in turn. The city parks are to be dressed especially for the Shrine visit, with flower beds planted in Shrine patterns and designs. Park Manager Dan Carey has started his workmen on this task already. A number of the local Shriners are planning similar decorations of their own lawns. Some prepared them weeks ago. Geraniums, early asters, coleus, and other plants of early and variegated color leafage, are being used for these, with candytuft for the borders of the beds.

BRIGADIER HUNTER TO ADDRESS PRISONERS

NO PAY FOR WITNESSES IN SCHOOL BOOK PROBE

Legislature Will Be Asked to Provide Fund to Meet Expenses

An embarassing situation for the state manifested itself Thursday morning when it became known through the department of education that the witnesses who appeared before the ad interim legislative school book investigating commission had presented bills for their expenses incident to the trip here and were told no appropriation had been made for such a contingency.

At the last meeting the witnesses, who were summoned by the grand term under penalty for failure to appear, presented bills for their railroad and hotel expenses. These were presented at the state treasurer's office, where it was said no warrants for such payments had been issued. The matter was then taken up with Attorney General Felder. After a thorough investigation he announced there was no provision for such payment and that were one made it would be unconstitutional. Those who presented bills were R. P. Brooks, L. B. Evans, P. P. Brown, S. V. Sanford, E. C. Branson, F. A. Merrill and G. F. Hunnicutt.

Since the decision of the attorney general, Prof. Brooks, of the University of Georgia, has again written Superintendent of Education M. L. Brittain that he believes each and every witness should be reimbursed at once and not be made to wait the pleasure of legislation at the next session, carrying such an appropriation.

FLAME FROM A DISTANCE.

The writer pointed out the fact that many of those summoned had come from remote parts of the state and that it was a great inconvenience for professional men to be forced to leave their classes for a day or longer.

As a remedy to the situation, Representative C. R. McCrory, of Schley, who introduced the resolution calling for a probe into the prices of school books in Georgia as compared to those in Canada, has made known his intention to have the general assembly appropriate the amount necessary to appease the witnesses.

In addition to those who have already appeared before the commission, Mr. McCrory has requested the department of education to summon I. N. McNair, J. E. Sheppard, Thomas E. Watson, H. A. Bowden, E. T. Moon and I. H. P. Beck to appear as witnesses at the next meeting of the commission that is called for April 3.

As the matter now stands, as many witnesses as are desired may be called, though no immediate relief from the delicate situation is in sight.

It is certain, however, that Mr. McCrory, who is responsible for the investigation, will do all in his power to have the legislature reimburse each and every one of them. It is also probable the general assembly will concur in his views and recommend payment of all expenses incident to the investigation.

NEGRO GETS TEN YEARS' SENTENCE FOR KILLING

For sabbing to death a negro, who caused as a decisive cut from a razor rest him, George Young, alias Mack Elvey, also a negro, was found guilty of manslaughter in the criminal division of the superior court Thursday, and sentenced to ten years in the chaingang.

The negro, who was slain, went by the name of Mattiford Willis. The killing occurred on February 1, of this year. Young made a plea of self-defense.

CHEERS AND TEARS MINGLE AS SOLDIERS LEAVE FOR FRONTIER

while down the drive toward the parade ground the sunbeams glinted on the big drum major's baton.

"It Looks to Me Like a Big Night Tonight," played the band, and the dull tramp of feet along the graveled driveway, mingled with the rumbling of unmed ranks swung through the iron gateway and down the road toward College Park.

"Good-by, papa! Good-by!" piped a tiny voice. A little girl in a pink sunbonnet leaned over the pavillion balustrace, clinging to the dress of the sad-eyed woman beside her with one hand and with the other waving frantically to the tall man in officer's chevrons who marched at the head of a column.

Below the mother and the little girl another woman clutched a brown sleeve with both hands and talked rapidly and in anxious tones.

"And don't forget to change your socks when they get wet, George," she pleaded. "Keep covered up at night, and please, please, don't pile the blankets all over your head. Remember, the darning cotton is inside your collar box and there are three needles stuck through it."

"All right, all right, Anne," the man told her impatiently. "I'll remember about the darning cotton. In my shaving box, you say. I won't forget. And you and the children keep well and don't let Georgie play with that Higgins boy."

The band had changed to "Happy Heinie," and the first squad of soldiers tramped into the coach just behind the tender. Many eyes were on them, and those of the French maid who watched the Irish corporal were as wistful as the captain's wife's.

"The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady" had indeed become sisters under the skin at the parting hour. If the one held her children's hands a little closer for it, the other pressed a hand she could not pinned against her shirt waist.

It isn't as if they were really going to war," said one hysterical woman to anybody that wanted to listen, "but we don't know where they're going." And with woman's infallible logic, "That's the worst part of it, you see."

The drum-major poised his baton and as it came down with a sweep the drums and fifes crashed again into "A Big Night Tonight." And Mike, full-blooded bull dogs and mascots of company M, whimpered and whined in excited dog language. Jim cautiously raised one white fore-jaw to Private Murphey's knee, but Private Murphey cared not. his eyes sweeping the crowd for a purple dress.

"And you'll be writin' to me often" he told the French maid.

"Every day," she said, and Mike drooped his ears as if he understood better than Private Murphey what the band was playing.

"When the cats are away, O! the mice want to play," crashed the band. "And it looks like a big night tonight!"

Private Murphey held her hand while his eyes begged for "just one," but the origin on the sidling coughed impatiently and the last line of soldiers were filing aboard as the drums beat a regulation "boom!—boom!—boom! boom! boom!"

"All aboard for Mexico City!" yelled the soldiers and Private Murphey was aboard with Mike and Jim barking and leaping toward the window.

The train groaned and jerked and jerked again, while shouts of "goodby" and "good luck" went back and forth. Wheels began to grind remorsely and straining ears heard the last farewells grow more centers, and assisted the powers of Nature to resist the effects of the cold. The tonic element in Peruna is intended to do just that. It gives the necessary temporary strength to throw off the depression that the cold brings.

MR. P. NAUSCHUETZ
Peruna the Best Remedy I Ever Found for Coughs and Colds.

Mr. P. Nauschuetz, No. ... Sharer St., Antonio, Texas, says: "About a year ago I was troubled with catarrh and could hardly find help until I took Peruna. I found Peruna the best remedy for colds I ever found. I recommend it to any one suffering with catarrh."
The first thing to accomplish in the treatment of a cold is to eliminate the poisonous matter from the system. The excretory ducts and glands should be stimulated. This is the active element of Peruna will accomplish.
The next thing is to raise the tone of the nerve centers, and assist the powers of Nature to resist the effects of the cold. The tonic element in Peruna is intended to do just that. It gives the necessary temporary strength to throw off the depression that the cold brings.

Hooray! Baby To Rule the House

No Longer Do Women Fear the Greatest of All Human Blessings.

It is a comfort to know that those much-talked-of pains that are said to precede child-birth are being easily be avoided. No woman need fear the slightest discomfort if she will fortify herself with the well-known and time-honored remedy, "Mother's Friend."

This is a penetrating, external application that at once softens and makes pliant the abdominal muscles and ligaments. They naturally expand without the slightest strain, and thus not only banish all tendency to nervous, twitching spells, but there is an entire freedom from nausea, discomfort, sleeplessness and dread that so often leave their impress upon the babe.

The occasion is, therefore, one of unbounded, joyful anticipation, and too much stress cannot be laid upon the remarkable influence which a mother's happy, prenatal disposition has upon the health and fortunes of the generation to come.

You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Write today to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 238 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for an instructive book.

GIRL BLAMES WOMAN FOR CAUSING DOWNFALL

Admits Stealing From Companion, but Says She Taught Her to Drink

Telling a pitiable story of marriage at the early age of fifteen, separation from her husband, allurement by an older woman into becoming her companion, and initiation by her into the art of "lighting booze," a seventeen-year-old girl, in the matron's ward at police headquarters, explained her plight Thursday morning, after admitting she stole money from the woman in Washington, as the police charge her with doing.

Mrs. Gertrude Mancha is the girl's name. She said she married G. M. Mancha in Washington, D. C., two years ago. Right afterward she left him, she said. Last October she was employed by a woman in Washington who she names as Mrs. Helen Thomas as a companion. She said Mrs. Thomas plied her first with beer, then with stronger drinks, until she was well launched on a protracted spree. Mrs. Thomas would not pay her any wage, she said, intimating instead that she had been introduced into generous company and should care for herself.

RIPPED MONEY FROM SKIRT.

Finally, said the girl Thursday, in a drunken hour she ripped $700 from the lining of Mrs. Thomas' skirt and left with it. The next she knew she was in New York, she said, still drunk. From there she fled to Los Angeles, then to San Francisco, then back to Nashville. About a week ago she came to Atlanta. She was arrested Wednesday night at 48 Pulliam street. The local police have been watching the house since they were notified by the Washington authorities that she might appear there. They say it is the home of close relatives of the girl.

"I took the money just like I said," admitted Mrs. Mancha Thursday. "Now I'm ready to go on back to Washington and be tried for it. They won't have to get out any papers or whatever it is they usually have to sign. I'll go with out any of that."

The girl says her uncle lives in Washington and that she looks to him for help. She says he is a member of a benevolent secret order.

PLAYERS' CLUB BEGINS WORK ON "THE GENIUS"

Rehearsals Start for Play to Be Presented at Grand Theater

Members of the Players' club have begun rehearsals for their second presentation of "The Genius" at the Grand theater March 31. The production will be for the benefit of the charity fund of Atlanta lodge, No. 78, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

The success of "The Genius," when it was played recently by a capable cast of Players' club members, will be at least repeated and very probably surpassed in this second production. The same cast of society folk who appeared in it before will enact all the characters of the piece. The only difference will be that the stage settings will be more elaborate.

All the members of Atlanta lodge, No. 78, are interested in the event and are working for its success. Exalted Ruler A. L. Dunn and other leaders of the lodge are directing details which seem to insure one of the largest audiences that ever has greeted the Players' club. Ladies of local Elkdom are assisting in a number of the arrangements.

The Dangerous Business of Being a Baby

The tiny bodies menaced by dirty dairies, by sick cows, by disease; one baby out of six—last year—died. But the danger grows less as Doctors and mothers have learned how to keep our babies.

Mothers now know that their baby's food is of most importance—of the dangers for little babies in cows' milk—that the Government inspectors found only eight clean dairies in every hundred and that in one State alone—under strict laws—there are 200,000 sick cows. Mothers now know that even when cows' milk is pure it is too heavy in curd for little babies.

Nestlé's Food

is nearer to mother's milk than any other food. In NESTLÉ'S the curd of the milk is soft and fleecy as in mother's milk. The best cows' milk is the basis of NESTLÉ'S—the milk from clean, healthy cows, in sanitary inspected dairies. Then to it are added other food elements your baby needs, and that cows' milk does not contain.

OUR service extends beyond the mere assembling of apparel for juniors—any shop can do that. But to select the one coat, suit or dress that is strikingly individual calls for the art of a specialist. As specialists in junior and girls' smart apparel we focus attention on these new arrivals.

What Kind of Coat Will You Choose for Your Girl?

WE'RE free to ask the question, for we have the right answer—in fact, dozens of answers. There are conventional shepherd plaids and swagger checks from Scotland. Tweeds are here, and crepes; sturdy serges and cords. Balmacan materials for the new English coats are a novelty, as also are the new gabardines. Coats are loose fitting, with novelty collar effects and flanges and flounces. Plain styles, also. Black, colors and novelties. All sizes 2 to 17, $5 to $20.

New Spring Suits with Graceful Girlish Lines

Juniors 13, 15 and 17 and small women can choose from a highly specialized showing of clever styles. Short coats deliciously frilly, lead, though somewhat severe styles also sell freely. Short coats, of course, call for bouffant draperies, tier skirts and bustle effects. Suits are in black and colors. $14.95 to $30.

$4 Silk Petticoats $2.95

A New Silk Shirting at 50c

—Designs of original freshness and charm that will stand untold tubbing. The fabric is silk and cotton, the beauty of one wedded to the serviceability of the other. Black or colored stripes on white grounds, the whole beautified by brocade patterns. Wonderfully attractive for shirts and waists. 32 in. 50c.

Striped Crepe Ratine 50c

—One of the cleverest wash fabrics we've seen this season. A firm crepe weave in the rough, tousled ratine effect. White grounds with black or colored pin stripes. 40 in. 50c.

Clearaway of Ladies' 50c & 75c Neckwear 19c

—Three hundred and fifty pieces of neckwear have their prices humbled from 50c and 75c to 19c. Though most of them are fresh, they represent the last of broken lines. Other pieces are mussed and counter tossed. In all there are fichus, jabots, Dutch collars, yokes and fancy stocks. Choice 19c.

Charming Val Laces Values Up to 25c at 6c

—Val laces of exquisite charm. Pretty round thread Calais Vals so much in vogue for rufflings on dresses. Splendid also for trimming children's frocks and lingerie. Upwards of 1,000 yards in all, in edges and insertions from 1½ to 4 inches wide. Not a yard worth less than 10c; some worth 25c; most of it worth from 12½c, 15c and 20c. Choice 6c.

(Laces, Main Floor, Right.)

$1.25 & $1.50 Kimonos at $1.19

The soft, graceful kimonos that one likes for Spring and Summer wear. Made of a soft, crinkled crepe that requires no ironing. Solid colors with floral borders, pretty flower and spray designs, Japanese and Oriental patterns. Some straight styles, but chiefly Empire models, with sleeves set in with pipings.

Our Popular Bungalow Apron 50c

The materials have something to do with their popularity—light colored percales in neat designs and apron check ginghams. The making adds to their merit—each stitch and button is just right. Trimmed neatly, too, on neck, cuffs and pocket with rick-rack braid. But best of all is their fullness, they cover one's dress and fit as they should. At 50c, they're the best aprons we know.

(Aprons, Second Floor.)

We Can't Afford to Sell This Union Suit at 50c, So We Turn 'Em Out at 42c

—We contracted for this union suit late last Fall to retail at 50c. Now the maker raises the price—says the garment's too good for the money. Be that as it may; we know we can't re-order, so we'll close out the stock on hand at 42c.

—Suits are made of sheer gauze lisle. Low neck and sleeveless, with tight, lace or shell knee. All sizes in 4, 5 and 6.

35c to 45c Silk Ribbons 23c

—Three yards of ribbons for the usual price of two; two yards for the price of one—that's the good ribbon news for tomorrow. All kinds of ribbons are represented.

—taffetas in white, pink and light blue.
—moires in white, lilac, maize, Copenhagen.
—light and dark floral effects and warp prints.
—Roman stripes and plaids, gay as a rainbow.
—widths are 5 and 6 inches. Choice 23c.

FEEL HEADACHY, DIZZY, BILIOUS, SICK?

CLEAN YOUR TORPID LIVER---DIME A BOX

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous matter—not gases and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, sick-

FORCED TO LIVE ON DRIED PEACHES

But after Being Rescued, Maryland Citizen Says He Feels No Ill Fffects From Experience.

Cecilton, Md.—In telling of his experience, Mr. Geo. R. Richards, of this town, says "I suffered with stomach trouble for 12 or 14 years, and have spent lots of money for medicine. For three years, I had to live on dried peaches and buttermilk.

Last year, I was a physical wreck. I could not eat or sleep, and was as near crazy as a man could be.

At last, I took Thedford's Black-draught, the old, reliable, vegetable liver medicine, and I want to say right here that two packages of Thedford's Black-Draught did me more good than hundreds of dollars that I spent for other medicines.

I am now working on the farm, 12 hours a day, my muscle is as hard as iron and I think that is going some for a man who was in my condition.

I now weigh 176 pounds and am feeling pretty good for an old man."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels. It is composed of pure vegetable herbs, and acts gently, yet surely. Successfully used for over 70 years. Should be in every family medicine chest. Get a package today. One cent a dose.—(Advt.)

JOURNAL IS COMMENDED

LETTERS OF INDORSEMENT INCREASE IN NUMBER

From All Sections of Country Come Letters Commending Journal Editorial

There seems to be no let-up in the steady flow of letters indorsing The Journal's editorial declaration that "Frank Should Have a New Trial." Instead of diminishing in number these letters are on the increase. Every mail brings The Journal dozens of commendatory letters. They come from all sections of the country, the majority of the authors being citizens of Atlanta and Georgia.

A few more of these letters follow:

FROM J. C. LOGAN.

Joseph C. Logan, secretary of the Atlanta Associated Charities, writes as follows:

Editor Journal, City.

Your editorial urging a new trial for Frank is to be commended from every standpoint.

We do not readily confess when we lose control of our normal processes of thought; though often, when mystery is deep and feeling is high, our thinking drifts as uncontrolled and inevitably as would our bodies in the swift current of Niagara.

Says a great physician and a great student of men, Richard C. Cabot, "Crowd-contagion is headless and blind. It leads to anarchy or to murder; it exalts or destroys a nation or an institution, with as little intention as an earthquake or a drought."

When in the course of events a judgment is concluded under such circumstances let us frankly confess that we ought not in justice to act upon it where a human life is involved.

J. C. LOGAN.

FROM E. W. COLEMAN.

E. W. Coleman, attorney of Canton, says in part:

March 17, 1914.

Editor Journal: I want to thank you and approve your course set out in your editorial on granting Frank a new trial. Many persons are now approving your course, and nearly every one you may meet will say he thought Frank guilty, but thinks he should have a new trial. Nearly every one now thinks it a bad precedent to convict a man and execute him on the testimony of a negro like Conley.

Very truly,
E. W. COLEMAN.

FROM W. F. THOMAS.

Walter F. Thomas, superintendant of public schools of West Point, writes:

West Point, March 17, 1914.

Hon. James R. Gray,
Editor Atlanta Journal,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear sir.—Let me commend your strong editorial of recent date, in advocacy of simple justice and fair play for Leo M. Frank. Respect for the majesty of the law, and the decree of the courts will not suffer in the least by having his case now of national interest reopened and this unfortunate man given a trial stripped of all malice, hate and prejudice. Until this is done, the great state of Georgia cannot afford to let this man hang—like Judge Roan, it cannot say whether he is guilty or innocent, but this I do know, that he could not possibly have had a fair trial, at the time he was tried, when the public was demanding a victim not only to atone for the murder of Mary Phagan, but for the great number of undiscovered crimes committed in Atlanta.

Very truly yours,
WALTER F. THOMAS.

FROM M. L. COVINGTON.

Malville L. Covington, parole officer at the Atlanta federal prison, expresses himself as follows:

Atlanta, Ga., March 18, 1914.

Editor Journal: I desire to most heartily commend your editorial of recent date relative to the case of the state of Georgia against Leo M. Frank. It required no little courage upon the part of the management to take such a position.

I have been engaged in the prosecution of crime and in the handling of criminals for more than ten years and I have never before known or heard of a case being tried under such conditions and the verdict allowed to stand. I do not wish to be understood as criticizing the courts for it has ever been my pleasure to honor the courts and all those engaged in the administration of the law, but I must say that at the time this man was tried the public mind was so inflamed that it was an impossibility to correctly weigh testimony in order to arrive at the truth. It would, I think, be folly upon the part of anyone to insist that this feeling did not enter the court room, and even pass through the keyhole into the jury room.

Whatever our mental attitude as to the guilt or innocence of the accused, we should not deny to him the right of a fair and an impartial trial. The distinguished gentlemen representing the commonwealth cannot, I think in good conscience, insist that he had had such a trial. Those who believe honestly in the guilt of the accused should also believe in a trial free from an atmosphere of violence.

Let the defendant be given a new trial and the state of Georgia saved the disgrace of possibly shedding innocent blood.

Your friend,
M. L. COVINGTON.

FROM A. E. BAILEY.

A. H. Bailey, of the Elyea-Austell company, Atlanta, writes the following letter:

Atlanta, Ga., March 17, 1914.
Mr. James R. Gray,
Editor Atlanta Journal
City.

My Dear Sir:

While I have no interest in the Frank case, outside the interest that every man has in fair play, I wish to thank you for your editorial of last Wednesday on the subject.

Such things as an atmosphere charged with public wrath may be too intangible for the supreme court to consider, but there is no doubt of their effectiveness on a jury, nevertheless. Under the conditions which existed during the trial, with public sentiment worked up to a fever heat, Frank could not have had a fair trial in Atlanta, and I am sure that he could not have been convicted in a locality where prejudice had not been excited as it was here.

Permit me to say that I have always believed in the sincerity of The Journal's editorial expressions, and I have thought for some time, that if you would personally investigate this case, you would feel so strongly on the subject that you would take a firm position, as you now have done.

I believe every fair minded citizen who considers the facts and not the chatter about this case will be gratified by your stand.

Yours very truly,
A. E. BAILEY.

FROM L. C. DICKSON.

Leslie C. Dickson, attorney of Fayetteville, Ga., says:

Fayetteville, Ga., March 16, 1914.
Editor Atlanta Journal:
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir: I wish to commend you for your fair and brave editorial on the Frank case in your issue of March 10th. Your position is well taken. You deal with this case in a fair and impartial manner, and show that you are taking this position from no selfish motive, and only that justice might be done. It is vitally important that every man tried for a criminal offense should be given a fair and impartial trial by a jury of his peers, and that no man should be tried at a time when the public mind is inflamed against him as it was when this case was tried. At such a time no defendant against whom such prejudices exist can have an impartial trial. If this man is guilty let him suffer the full penalty of the law, but let him have a fair chance to show a jury that he is not guilty of the offense charged against him. I think your editorial was logical, fair and manly.

Respectfully,
LESTER C. DICKSON.

FROM A. O. MURPHEY.

A. O. Murphey, attorney of Barnesville, expresses himself as follows:

Barnesville, Ga.

Editor Journal, Atlanta, Ga.

I, like 95 per cent of the citizens of Georgia, know nothing of the Frank trial except what we have read in the Atlanta papers and heard through other people. But, if half of what we have heard and one-third of what we have read are facts, the entire atmosphere in Atlanta during the trial of Leo M. Frank was not conducive to impartiality or fairness. The state of Georgia is pledged to give every man a fair and impartial trial, and if this man has not been accorded a fair trial, or if the circumstances surrounding his trial were such as has been described in the press of the city of Atlanta, you would fall far short of your duty to your people if you failed to say so.

Many of us think that it was improper for this case to have been handled as it was by the press before the trial, but one wrong does not authorize another, for you would have certainly done a greater wrong in not using your influence in securing a new trial for this man, if you believed he had not had one. It is not a question as to the innocence or guilt of the man, but one of justice and right. As a public journal it is certainly your duty to uphold the right and denounce the wrong whether in the court room or out. Hence, I cannot see but that you have only done your duty, and should be commended and not criticised for exercising your right and performing your duty. You should be no less a man because you are an editor of a public journal, and when the freedom of the press fails to be used for justice and right, it will be a sad day for Georgia.

A. O. MURPHEY.

Make This and Try It for Coughs

This Home-Made Remedy has no Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually conquers an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work this plan.

Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful mixture has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THE NEW 1914 MODEL GAS RANGE

The Keynote of Kitchen Sanitation

A clean kitchen is an unmistakable sign of efficient housekeeping.

The easiest and best method of keeping a kitchen clean is to use appliances that do not manufacture dirt.

The kitchen stove is the real center about which the problem of kitchen sanitation revolves. It can be made a source of dirt, disease and drudgery—or it can be the means of promoting cleanliness, health and pleasure—for the entire household.

Out of the problem of kitchen sanitation, skilled experts, after a lifetime study, have evolved the Gas Range.

We present it today to the housekeeper as the Keynote of Kitchen Sanitation.

You are invited to call and see the new 1914 Models.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. W. LANSENG, Route No. 1, Florence, South Dakota.

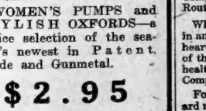

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Atlanta's Postal Growth.

The federal efficiency commission, created to study postal service and needs throughout the country, reports that no other city in the United States has shown so rapid and steady a rate of increase in its postoffice business as has Atlanta. The present postoffice quarters, the commission declares, are entirely inadequate to meet continually growing demands; more room and more facilities are imperative.

This testimony of a competent and impartial board of investigators should carry much weight with Congress in the appeal for a new postoffice building in Atlanta. The building is asked, not as a favor to Atlanta but as a necessity to the efficient transaction of Government business. With the establishment of the parcel post, there came a remarkable expansion of postal activities in all parts of the country, but in Atlanta this growth has been phenomenal. The local postoffice is congested to the limit, and though it continues to render excellent service, the time has come when it must have more space or else fall short of the ideals of those who administer its affairs. The present building could well be given over to the federal courts and to other government agencies and institutions which are already established, or will be in the near future.

Aside from its bearing on the question of a new postoffice building, the efficiency commission's report furnishes striking evidence of Atlanta's growth. This city has long been recognized as the postal center of the Southeast. Its postal receipts have exceeded those of any other point in the territory between Virginia and the Gulf; they are in keeping with the city's bank clearings, its building record and other measurements of material progress. That a federal commission, with no local interest or point of view, should have given it so high a rating in postal business is indeed significant.

Tennessee still wonders whether it will be an eternity between drinks.

No political prophet is without honor save in the ranks of the Republican party.

Turning to Georgia.

The purchase of pecan groves in Glynn county by a company of New Jersey orchardists leads the Brunswick News to remark: "When investors from another great State, who have been successful in growing pecans, come to Georgia to get results, it ought to put our own people to thinking."

The same comment may well be made on scores of other industries. Georgia's fertile resources are enlisting the interest of watchful men the country over. Its opportunities for truck farming, for cattle raising, for poultry culture, for canning factories and, indeed, for every kind of agricultural, commercial and industrial activity are bringing the State more and more clearly into national observation.

Georgians themselves, as the Brunswick News says, should think upon these conditions. They should realize the richness and breadth of their State's natural treasure and strive to develop it by every enterprise at their command. Elsewhere today we comment on the plan of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce to bring over towns and cities into direct communication with investors in other States who are seeking industrial opportunities. The Georgia Chamber of Commerce is an agency of incalculable value to the community that joins in supporting it. It has, indeed "set the people to thinking," and with due co-operation on the part of towns and counties it will accomplish marvels for the State's upbuilding.

Our idea of an optimist is one who will never admit that the Georgia peach crop is killed.

Editorials in Brief

A weighty commission of experts, in a study of pellagra, has reached the conclusion that mouldy corn has nothing to do with the progagation of the disease, but places the blame instead upon the stable fly. This finding should give redoubled force to the nation-wide warfare against the fly, for it is only one more indictment to the long roll already recorded against it. The screening of houses, and especially the rooms in which food is kept, prepared and eaten, the cleansing of the streets and yards from the refuse in which the flies breed; the duty of "awatting" every fly that appears, are the means for combatting the pest. These are duties which cannot be shunted upon the State by the indifferent, but should be made the responsibility of every householder.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Nothing is free. Free tolls for American coastwise ships at Panama would cost the United States the good opinion of the civilized world and the good will of powers with which we have had cordial relations, to say nothing of millions of good hard dollars.—Courier-Journal.

Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell, says that socialism would reduce the world to an equality not of prosperity, but of poverty.

"Socialism is inadequate," said Dr. Schurman, in Ithaca the other day. "It is as inadequate as the theological student's chance.

"In a theological seminary the professor of pulpit oratory, who was something of a buster, was about to begin an examination. Accordingly, nodding to a young man on a front bench, he said:

"'Mr. Smith, there is the platform; your time is two minutes; your subject, the proof of the immortality of the soul."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Georgia's Industrial Awakening.

Scores of towns and cities, co-operating through the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, have begun an organized effort to secure new manufactures that will utilize their natural resources and add to the commonwealth's development. The State Chamber inaugurated the movement by sending to virtually every county, letters of inquiry as to just what kind of enterprises were needed and would pay best and what measure of support and financial aid the particular community would offer. Having thus obtained definite information, the State Chamber of Commerce has inserted in one hundred and twenty-five trade publications the country over notices of openings for new factories in Georgia, and at the same time it has volunteered free assistance to anyone who wishes to look further into these opportunities.

That is an admirable plan for the State's industrial upbuilding. It brings Georgia's resources vividly to the nation's attention, and it also bestirs each community to keener thought of its peculiar needs and advantages. Georgia's possibilities in this regard are indicated by the fact that it now supports some five thousand manufacturing plants and that the aggregate value of their products last year was two hundred and two million, eight hundred and sixty-three thousand dollars. These factories, however, are merely the pioneers of thousands of others that will come when the opportunities awaiting them are duly known.

The response to the letters sent out by the State Chamber show the broad variety of industries which our towns and cities desire and which they are prepared to foster. Nineteen communities, for instance, express a need for canning factories, nineteen for knitting mills, eleven for brick and tile manufactories, ten for cotton seed oil mills; while there is a pronounced demand for meat-packing plants, fertilizer factories, water-power development, wagon and vehicle factories, syrup refineries, laundries and divers other industries.

The fact is, the range of Georgia's resources is so broad that it offers rich opportunities in almost every field of manufacturing interest. By reducing these opportunities to definite terms and organizing the towns and cities of the State in definite work for their common good, the Georgia Chamber of Commerce has added another chapter to its record of brilliant and substantial service.

The Highway Engineer.

Commenting on the fact that some counties of Kentucky are disposed to regard a road engineer as an unnecessary official, the Louisville Courier-Journal truly says that the greatest waste of highway funds comes through inefficiency: "Contracts are let to men who do not know the first principles of road building and these contracts are supervised by men who are equally deficient in knowledge along that line. What can the taxpayers expect in such circumstances?"

Kentucky is not alone in its need of scientific methods in highway construction and maintenance. Every State has suffered from unsystematic and unbusinesslike regimes in road building. In hundreds of communities the idea still prevails that earth and shovels and common labor are the only things necessary to make a good road, whereas this task requires a very high degree of knowledge and skill. Road building, indeed, is an art based upon a science, and the community that ignores this truth wastes its money and greatly embarrasses its future in highway development.

Happily, there are omens of a public awakening to the need of competent engineering service in such work. Most of the States have established highway commissions which supervise and co-ordinate the road building of the various counties. These commissions are under the control of experienced engineers who suggest routes, advise local authorities in the selection of materials and in many other ways help the individual counties to thoroughgoing, economical methods.

Such a plan not only saves money and guarantees the taxpayers a fair return, it also results in durable roads, so played and so maintained as to give the State the largest measure of service.

TAVERNS AND MEN

By Savoyard

In this town, not far from the aristocratic center where that hookworm, luxury, child of enormous wealth, is gnawing at the vitals of the republic, it was proposed to erect a tavern at a cost amounting to $6,000,000, exclusive of the site. J. Pierpont Morgan engaged to finance the thing, but over in Rome, where forum had "echoed to the tread of either Brutus," a pale-faced man of the name of Death tapped him on the shoulder and summoned Mr. Morgan to a convocation of "certain politic worms," such as had supped with, and upon, old Polonius. It was the imperative invitation of royalty that even Caesar could not decline.

And so Mr. Morgan became a man that was, and his corporation that had engaged to erect the palace on Vermont avenue was thrown into bankruptcy and the thing was sold to a more moderate set of folks who will erect a less costly inn.

When I was a younger and more guileless chap than I am now, I remember reading in the papers of the "Arlington" at Washington, the site of this hotel property. That fakir—a station without a dispatch, an orator without speech, a lawyer without a brief, an explorer without an adventure, a soldier without a battle, a millionaire without a cent, a politician without an issue—John C. Fremont, was quartered at "the Arlington" at a room rental of $1,200 a week, so the papers said, and there was public proclamation of the alleged fact that he was here to "Tom Scott's man, to get a subsidy from congress to promote the construction of what was then known as the Southern Pacific railroad.

This magnificent fakir entertained lavishly, but as memory serves me, he failed, as he always did—an inveterate habit he had; but the thing was done subsequently by the agency of a more efficient lobby and Jay Gould reaped a rich harvest.

Speaking of that wonderful man, Scott, recalls that after a long and particularly corrupt session of the Pennsylvania legislature, a rather candid member rose from his seat and made this oration: "Mr. Speaker, if Tom Scott has no other job for this body to perform, I move you that we now adjourn sine die."

The business of transportation, fetching and carrying from pillar to post, the problem of civilization —nay, it is both the mother and the child of civilization. I have some ideas about it, not yet exploited, and that the magazines refuse to print. If the thing is practical it would settle the whole problem, build our country turnpikes, carry our mails free of charge and result in public ownership of the roads without debt for posterity to bear, and without direct government ownership; but that is impertinent discursion.

* * *

Speaking of taverns. When I was a child the Louisville hotel beat them all, so far as the table was concerned. It is true that Marryat and Dickens "stopped at" the Galt house, but when Phil Judge and his partner, Keene, ran the Louisville hotel it was in superlative degree the traveler's rest. Shantone could have been provoked to finer eulogy had he been its guest.

In those days the Whigs stopped at the "Galt" where Throckmorton was the host, as lordly a man as Cedric the Saxon, or any Norman lord who succeeded the Conqueror in palace, or castle, or manor. Here Henry Clay lived when in Louisville, and it was the grand old landlord of the tavern who in an inspiration exclaimed: "Take him in the presence of the crowned heads of Europe, take him as counselor in the problems of diplomacy with their foremost chancellors, take him in the cabinet of an American president, take him as a senator in the American congress, take him as speaker of our national grand inquest, take him at the bar, whether before judge or jury, take him on the stump before the populace of Kentucky that is the finest citizenship this world has produced, and, by G—d, sir, Henry Clay is the capain of every crowd he gets in!"

Now, my father was a Jackson man, had met Jackson, and he knew Clay, yet I heard him say that, while he never voted for him, he believed Clay was the greatest man our country had produced. Talk of magnetism in men—Clay had more of it than any other American.

* * *

And it was another follower of Clay who exclaimed at a banquet at Lexington where the royal "Harry of the West" was a guest:

"Eclipse among horses, as Henry Clay among men —first and the rest nowhere!"

It is related that it was the one time Clay was embarrassed. Knowing his old friend's fondness for horses, he was insistent on his speaking, but he never dreamed of the climax that the Whigs echoed over the grand old state even after her greatest son had been gathered to his fathers.

There, I sat down to write you a story about the Louisville hotel of the 50's. Perhaps it will keep.

Weather Electrically Controlled.

Modern science has repudiated the gentle rainmaker who would bring the sky to yield plenteous moisture by shooting it full of explosives. Meteorologists have pointed out that this vivacious means of persuading rain is in reality merely a waste of enthusiasm and of dynamite.

However, a new line of weather attack is based upon the common observation that, in fine weather, the earth is charged with negative electricity, while the higher layers of the atmosphere are positively charged. These conditions vary in intensity with the varying kinds of weather. In cloudy and rainy weather they may even be reversed. Sir Oliver Lodge pointed out recently that phenomena of this kind encourage the hope that a control of the electrical conditions of the atmosphere might result in a certain control of the weather. He further suggested that large scale experiments ought to be carried out in the upper atmospheres on the effect of discharging electricity from kites.

Success in the field of controlling the weather by discharge of electric currents would mean the loss of the pleturesque rainmaker, true exponent of his strenuous age, to another, the peaceful dynamiter of the unfeeling sky. Man has cussed the weather, done fetish service against it and made medicine with the best—now for ages. Science has taken a crack at it with dynamite. Persuasion by means of electrical currents is likely most scientific of all.

America's Percentage in Research Workers.

While the American colleges and universities are crowded with students, the percentage of research workers among them is proportionally extremely small. College work, according to the secondary school work of French and German schools, is being taken by an increasing part of this country's young men and young women. Accordingly statistics recently compiled, however, few of these students go on to graduate work, or that work for which the continental university primarily stands.

Statistics from thirty of the larger universities show that .046 of the total student body pursue graduate work. This means that about one out of every two thousand students elects to continue his studies into the research work, whereas, in the French and German universities independent research work is supposedly the reason for each student's enrollment as it is the sole reason for his graduation.

Johns Hopkins university ranks first in the largest percentage of graduate students to its undergraduate body. It has 132 graduate students and a total student body of 897. This is by far and away the best showing on the list of the thirty universities. Pennsylvania ranks next with 107 graduate students to a total enrollment of 1,604; Columbia, 102 and 2,960; New York, 52 and 1,076; Illinois, 33 and 1,097; Yale, 24 and 1,735; Harvard, 17 and 3,403; Princeton, 14 and 1,448.

The London papers reported the White Sox-Giants ball game in English, and are receiving great credit therefor. It was the first game those reporters had seen, however. They hadn't grown weary of base-hits, pitcher, first base and such verbiage. An American reporter, using such words many times a day, is forced to use synonyms, else he would die of monotony. And so would his readers.

There is some ingenious and colorful work done on American sporting pages, and some day folks will become aware of it.

The Misuse of English

LONDON.—Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch, otherwise known as "Q," the celebrated author, who, in addition to his own admirable literary style, as displayed in his books, has achieved one of the greatest tours de force in all literature by his imitation of Robert Louis Stevenson's style in the concluding chapters of "St. Ives," has been lecturing on "Writing, Good and Bad."

In the course of it Sir Arthur referred to the following verdict by a coroner's jury as a specimen of bad English:

We are of opinion that deceased met his death by an act of God, namely, a sudden flooding of the river and helped on by the scandalous negligence of the overseer.

After explaining how difficult was the art of expression, Sir Arthur quoted from a paper, published in Denver, in which the editor said that all the niceties of language were "mere frills," and the only rule in writing was to "get there."

The lecturer also poked fun at the scientists, as "too high and mighty to trouble about good writing." Sir Arthur quoted a recent saying of Sir James M. Barrie's: "The man of science appears to be the only man in the world who has something to say, and he is the only man who does not know how to say it."

Illustrating the misuse of words, "Q" quoted several extracts from newspapers. One ran: "Eighteen passengers complain of their injuries, but none of them appear to be serious." One of the worst literary crimes, he added, was what he described as "jargon"—the senseless use of wornout phrases, with no serious attempt to express one's real meaning. "Cabinet ministers frequently commit this crime," he said. "You will read that they say, 'The answer to the honorable member's question is in the affirmative.' But all they mean is 'Yes.'"

There were, Sir Arthur said, certain words of which the writer should be aware. He should deny himself the use of "case," "instance," "character," "matter," "degree," "condition," "persuasion" and "description."

"Why," he asked, "should you say of a man that he was conveyed to his home in an intoxicated condition? Why not say that he was carried home drunk?"

"The only way to learn to write is by reading the great literature, and in the forefront of English literature is the Bible," said Sir Arthur.—New York Times.

MINERAL LAND LAWS

By Frederic J. Haskin

Discussion of the best method of using the mineral wealth of the United States, and at the same time to prevent wasting it, has occupied much of the attention of the country in the past six or seven years. Unfortunately, a great deal of this discussion has been controversial and extremely bitter.

* * *

In view of the fierce disputes that have been carried on concerning the governmental conservation policy, it is interesting to note that the secretary of the interior, Franklin K. Lane, in conjunction with Representative Scott Ferris, of Oklahoma, has sought to solve the mineral land question by what amounts to a compromise.

* * *

The act drawn up by Secretary Lane will, its advocates declare, accomplish three great aims: (1)—Draw forth from the nation's boundless mineral resources great stores of revenue for the benefit of this and future generations; (2)—Open this empire of hidden wealth to the clear visioned prospector and the courageous pioneer with an impartial liberality unknown in "the good old days" of reckless speculation and unrestrained monopoly; (3)—Release for the betterment of the world the richest deposits of oil, natural gas, potassium, phosphate and coal known to the human race.

* * *

The bill now before the house aims to substitute an elaborate lease system for the present unsatisfactory way. Certain stipulations and conditions apply to each mineral, as radical difference in composition necessitate, but in effect it permits any individual or group of individuals to lease from the federal government a tract of land for the purposes of exploration, such lease to be for two or three years, a small rental being paid to the government during the life thereon. If the explorer fails to do the amount of work agreed upon his lease and rights are forfeited, subject to review before a federal court.

* * *

If the mineral looked for is discovered in reasonable quantity and quality, the government gives the lessee or lessee a full year in which to locate the leased area as a reward for initiative and enterprise. The remaining three-fourths is then leased in adequate sections to private parties, who pay to the government a small annual rental and a royalty of not less than 2 per cantum per annum during the life of the lease, which vary from ten to twenty-five years, according to the mineral in question, and which can be renewed at the discretion of the federal government. Great powers are vested in the secretary of the interior, who will draw up all the regulations, and have absolute control, through his agents, of any lease. Any lease obtained upon any attempt to misuse this power the act allows for appeal in all cases to the federal courts.

* * *

To prevent monopoly the act expressly provides that no person, association or corporation will be permitted to take or hold any interest, as a stockholder or otherwise in more than one lease of each of the mineral deposits mentioned in the act, during the life of the lease. The attorney general of the United States will take steps to confiscate any interest held illegally. Violations of this provision will be decreed a felony, punishable by imprisonment of not more than three years and a fine not to exceed $1,000. Any additional interest acquired unexpectedly by descent, will, judgment or decree must be disposed of within one year. Any director, trustee, officer or agent of any corporation to acquire another lease, will lay himself open to the same punishment and fine. All statements, representations or reports must be under oath, if the secretary of the interior so orders and prosecution for perjury will be the lot of those who make false statements.

* * *

A lease of oil or natural gas land will be for two years, upon not to exceed 640 acres when located within fifty miles of any producing oil or gas well, but 2,560 acres can be leased if it is more than that distance away from an established industry of a similar nature. Mining operations must begin within four months, and by one year the permittee must dig a well at least 500 feet deep, and within another year his diggings must total 2,000 feet or more. If the land in question is unsurveyed the lessee will do the private expense. No well can be driven within 200 feet of the outer boundaries of leased or patented areas unless the adjoining land has gone into private control. After the discoverer has leased his one-fourth, the other three-fourths and all adjoining land may be leased by the government in sections of any limit up to 5,560 acres. The royalty will be stipulated by the secretary of the interior and a rental of $1 per acre per annum must be paid. The lease will be for ten years, with the privilege of renewing for another ten years.

* * *

In regard to all grades of potassium the area is 2,560 acres and the time allowed is three years, but a patent will not be granted for more than 160 acres. The rest of the land will be leased in the usual way, and the government's royalty must be at least 2 per cent of the gross returns. The lessee must pay $1 per acre in advance at the rate of 50 cents per acre for the first year, and $1 thereafter. The leases in this case may be for an indeterminate period. Additional land for the use of camp sites, refining works, etc., may be rented for 25 cents per acre a year. The regulations governing phosphate mining are the same.

* * *

Deposits of coal and lignites belonging to the United States may be leased anywhere but in Alaska. In forty-acre lots, or multiples of that number up to 2,560 acres, the areas shown to be as compact as possible, the length not to exceed two and one-half times the width. Royalties will be fixed by the government but in no case can they be less than 2 cents a ton, due at the end of each month on the amount of the shipment of the coal from the mine. In addition there will be an annual rental of 25 cents an acre the first year, 50 cents for the second and third year, and $1 for every year thereafter, the rentals to be accredited against the royalties. The leases will be for a period of years fixed in each case by the secretary of the interior, but at the end of every twenty-five years such readjustments of conditions and terms as seem advisable must be made. In order to meet a local condition any person, whether holding a coal lease or not, may, when not given permission, lease 10 acres of coal land for not exceeding ten years without payment of rental or royalty.

* * *

All applications for leases of any and all mineral lands mentioned in the proposed act must be in accordance with the existing homestead laws. All sums of money received from the application of the proposed law will be turned over to the reclamation fund. Should there remain a balance of these special funds at the end of the year one-half will be distributed in proper proportion to the states within whose boundaries the mineral lands were located. The states must spend this money for education or public improvements, as the several legislatures so direct. As the case of Alaska is reserved, the mineral lands within her boundaries will not go to the federal reclamation fund, but will be set aside to be spent wholly on Alaskan development, with special reference to the contemplated government railroad of 1,000 miles it that territory.

* * *

The federal government now has outstanding 66,000,000 acres of land available for coal, oil potash, etc., and of this 58,316,410 acres represent coal land, not including that in Alaska. A larger area than this is now open to the public, of which 25,000,000 acres are suitable for coal mining. It is imperative that our great coal resources be neither hoarded or wasted, and it is expected that this measure of Secretary Lane's will solve the problem. This country has immense deposits of potash, but no equitable and safe way of releasing it for the general good was suggested until this bill was drawn. We have the greatest supply of phosphate rock in the world. Deposits worth untold millions run for hundreds of miles through Wyoming, Utah, Montana and Idaho, and in many other states there are valuable deposits. The time is almost at hand when our navy will need millions of gallons of oil daily for fuel, and to put it on the market is but one of the objects of this bill.

Raymund Daniel Selected Editor Valdosta Times

RAYMUND DANIEL.

Former Member of Journal Staff Takes Helm of One of South Georgia's Most Influential Dailies

In the news that Raymund Daniel, of The Journal staff for several years past, has been selected as editor of the Valdosta Times and will assume his new charge next week the numerous friends of that active young newspaper man will take much interest, for, in addition to marking an enlargement in his personal fortunes, it means his assignment to an important part in the politics of the state and the progress of south Georgia. The Valdosta Times has been for years one of the most influential papers of its size in the south.

By his experience with The Journal Mr. Daniel is qualified well for his new duties at the helm of the Times. He was a trained news distributer even before he joined The Journal staff, having served for several years in the country-at-large with the Associated Press service.

In the editorship of the Times Mr. Daniel will succeed C. C. Brantley, for nineteen years head of that paper, who recently accepted new association with the Macon Telegraph. He will have under his direction an eight-page daily and semi-weekly publication of wide circulation, served by numerous correspondents and the Associated Press.

Mr. Daniel's removal to Valdosta will mean a further acquisition to the social life of that city, for Mrs. Daniel will accompany him and they will make their permanent home there. Mrs. Daniel is the daughter of Judge George L. Bell, of the superior court of Fulton county. She was Miss Jennie Sue Bell before her marriage to Mr. Daniel only a few months ago.

An interesting fact in connection with this is that in his new location Mr. Daniel will be separated by less than twenty miles from his brother, Royal Daniel, owner and editor of the Quitman Free Press. The Free Press editor also was formerly a member of The Journal staff.

FOREMAN SAYS SCHOOL REPORT NOT COMPLETE

Chairman of Survey Committee Replies to Commerce Chamber's Criticism

In response of criticisms of the chamber of commerce for its failure to make public the report on the schools following a survey made by the Russell Sage Foundation, Robert L. Foreman, chairman of the survey committee, stated Wednesday that the report is not yet complete.

"When the report is finished" said Mr. Foreman, "it will be given to the public as the object of having the survey made was to secure impartial information, and then to make widely known the result of the survey."

Mell R. Wilkinson, president of the chamber of commerce, also gave out an interview in which he said that the members of the board of education had an incorrect impression of the chamber's attitude in regard to the report.

FORMER CAR REPAIRER SUES L. & N. FOR $50,000

Alleging he has been injured so as to be unable to work, E. Gipson, a former car repairer of Jefferson county, Alabama, filed suit in the city court of Atlanta Thursday for $50,000 damages against the Louisville and Nashville Railway company.

Gipson states in his petition that he was terribly injured when the drop doors of a coal car were lowered while he was above the doors, throwing him into the repair pit beneath the car.

Attorneys Gibson & Davis and Atkinson & Born filed the suit.

APPENDICITIS POLICIES TOO POPULAR; RAISE PRICE

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, March 19.—A group of Lloyds underwriters several months ago fixed a premium of $2.50 for policies on insurance against appendicitis covering all claims for expenses up to $500. Claims have been so many claims that it is being found impossible to continue these terms. A new syndicate has been formed, however, and the premium has been raised to $5.

RUSH WORK ON HOME FOR WAYWARD GIRLS

Institution Will Be Ready for Occupancy in Three or Four Weeks

With the taking over from Fulton county by the state of Georgia of the home for wayward girls, to be located on the Face's Ferry road, near Atlanta, work is being rushed on the home and, according to those in charge, it will be ready for occupancy by such girls as are sent there by the courts within three or four weeks.

At a recent meeting of the Fulton county committee in charge of the home it was decided to turn over all property to the state, owing to the enactment of a law at the last session of the legislature providing for the Georgia Training School for Girls. The state will now have entire charge of the home.

Miss Koberstenger, recommended to the home authorities by Miss Branham, head of the Darlington Farm school, the Pennsylvania state institution, will be superintendent of the home.

MAN KNOCKED SENSELESS IN POOL ROOM FIGHT

Excitement was caused in the Aragon hotel poolroom Wednesday night when C. E. Maddox, manager of the place, struck W. S. Guest, a traveling salesman, of Rome, Ga., over the head with a billiard cue. Guest was knocked unconscious and was attended by the house physician. Maddox stated the fight started when he refused to indorse a check of Guest's. Cases were made against the combatants, and they will appear before Recorder Broyles Thursday afternoon.

RISINGS, ITCHING HUMORS

Smith's Blood Syrup Best for Weak or Thin Blood, or If Blood Is All Upset—Best for All Blood Humors

High living or hard work weakens the blood and we have pimples, itching humors, eczema, risings, eating sores, boils, ulcers, bone pains, swellings and we feel all played out and worried. We have bad breath and spots before the eyes, hands and legs tremble and we feel weak; can't stand hard work. The moment you feel as above or have aching bones or any blood humors, get a bottle of Smith's Blood and Liver Syrup from any reliable druggist. Take a spoonful in a glass of water after meals and on retiring. Also eat plenty of nourishing food. Soon your blood will become pure and rich, and your skin takes on the rich, red glow of perfect health and your body is changed into a clean, healthy condition. Aches and pains and itching stop. All sores are healed. Smith's Blood and Liver Syrup has been used for generations to purify the blood. It is made from an old Indian formula and is dispensed by most druggists in big half quart bottles for only $1, or will be sent express postpaid by John E. Daniel, 4 Wall St., Atlanta, Ga. (Advt.)

RESULTS OF COLDS

To Neglect a Cold in the Beginning is to Run a Pretty Big Risk.

When the Liver Gets Lazy the Blood Thickens and the System Becomes Easily Susceptible to Cold and Disease.

A cold is directly traceable to an inactive liver. The liver finds its efforts overcome and food remains in the stomach or bowels. The head gets hot, the feet cold and the bowels constipated. Right then and there is the danger point. The bowels must be kept open. The system must be relieved of congestion.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT is the greatest known relief. It is better than calomel. It will cleanse the liver, send the blood racing through the veins, dispel the congestion and make you feel as if life is worth living.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT acts quickly and mildly, and never gripes or nauseates. Don't take an inferior substitute. Some stores may offer other preparations upon which they make larger profits, often similar in name, but very different in action. JACOBS' LIVER SALT is 25c for a large jar at druggists, or sent by mail (postpaid). Jacobs' Pharmacy.—(Advt.)

NORTH CAROLINA STUDENTS TO FORM NEW CLUB HERE

To Be Composed of Members of "Tech," Dental and Medical Schools

About 100 students of Atlanta who hail from the Tar Heel state plan to form a permanent organization to be known as the North Carolina Students' club, at a meeting Friday night at 8 o'clock in the rooms of the Atlanta Law school at Peachtree and Marietta streets.

Temporary organization was effected at a meeting last week, B. B. Patterson being chosen temporary chairman, and M. L. Lawson secretary. The new club is to be composed of students of Tech, the dental and medical colleges of the city, the Atlanta law school and other institutions.

CITY OF COLUMBUS SOON TO BE REDISTRICTED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 19.—The city of Columbus will be redistricted at an early date, all ward lines being changed so as to give better representation in the city council to parties on Rose Hill and other sections where the districts are thickly settled, if the movement set on foot by the Civic Improvement league last night pans out.

A general change in the city ward districts is proposed, and it is stated that a number of the city councilmen favor the proposed plan. The matter will come up at the next regular meeting of the city council.

FULTON PROGRESSIVES WANT STATE TICKET

Resolutions Adopted Urging Full Ticket in State Election

The members of the Progressive party of Fulton county at a meeting held in the Kimball house Wednesday night adopted resolutions in favor of putting a complete Progressive ticket "from senators to bailiffs," before the voters of Georgia in the election next summer.

The names of Seaborn Wright, the celebrated prohibition leader of Rome, and Harry Stillwell Edwards, former Republican postmaster at Macon, were mentioned in connection with the senatorships.

Sam Jones, president of the Fulton county Progressives, presided over the meeting. Addresses were made by C. W. McClure, Bernard Suttles, Alexander Hamilton and others.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

It's getting put-away time for furs, wraps, blankets and all winter clothes. For in the fight against moths the ounce of prevention is, indeed, worth a pound of cure. One of the most effective means of preventing moths that we know is to store things in one of these Sanitex Containers. They are cedared and air-tight and dust, moth, vermin and moisture proof. In two sizes, 40c and 75c.

A La Vida Corset Fitted by Mrs. Marvin

"A consummation devoutly to be wished"

The makers of La Vida corsets have succeeded admirably this season. They have made splendid corsets, corsets that reflect, that typify the new figure of graceful flowing lines. They have made such corsets of beautiful fabrics---usually imported---they have trimmed them with dainty laces and embroideries and passementeries, but still the corset in itself is not what we would urge upon you.

But it is one of these supple La Vida models fitted to you by such a corset woman as Mrs. Marvin! Therein lies the comfort, the satisfaction and the style by which we would have you remember this corset section.

We say we have a La Vida for every figure, nor are we speaking figuratively but very personally---if we may---a La Vida for you that may be a very different corset from the La Vida for another woman.

And Saturday brings to an end Mrs. Marvin's visit.

Will You Try On Your New Suit Today?

Announcing Spring Suits is one of our new season duties. There are times when duties and pleasures agree. This is one.

Particularly is it a pleasurable duty to dwell on the strong points of the New Spring Suits---the exquisitely moulded English lines, the large and broad lapels opening over the 2-button fastening and the high cut waistcoat, very English.

Models are single or double-breasted, colors are gray and blue for favorite.

And then it is a double pleasure to show the new suits, to demonstrate the very great becomingness of the suit that is exactly suited to you.

Will you try it on today?

HIGHER CABLES AND SHORT COVERING CAUSE ADVANCE

Market in New York Closed 2 Points Off to 5 Points Up From Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 19.—The attention of the cotton trade again seemed to center on the crop movement at the opening of the market today and after starting steady at an advance of 2 to 4 points closed unsettled, with net gains of 5 points on the closing figures. The large spot sales at Liverpool appeared to be the chief influence and old crop shorts and May cotton made new high ground for the movement. General business was comparatively light, although there was some scattered buying and selling on the forecasts of unsettled weather in the western belt.

Trading was quiet later in the morning with prices reacting slightly under realizing. Active months were 2 to 6 points off from Wednesday's final quotations.

No fresh feature developed during the early afternoon but the market held steady and some 2 to 6 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, March 19.—Cotton today opened 8 to 9 points up and in the first hour after the advance was widened to 6 to 7 points. Active supporting influences were good cables and the unfavorable weather in the western belt, with lower temperatures than were reported in Texas. Buying was moderate in volume but offerings were scarce.

The ginning figures on linters, while larger than expected, had no influence in the market. Spinning was dull and prices ruged somewhat, standing at noon 2 to 3 points up net.

HAZWARD & CLARK COTTON LETTER

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 19.—Liverpool opened steadier with futures 6 to 8 points higher; spots 7 points higher; sales 14,000. In the face of this condition cotton spot dealers and the announcement in the press of poor and declining crop reports, there is a story abroad at the close of each day's session, of poor weather in the Texas and central states, fair in the Atlantics. Indications are for rain tonight or cold and freezing temperatures in the central states; unsettled, with colder temperatures prevailing in Atlantics. A severe cold wave is passing southeastward, this morning further down in Texas and particularly in conjunction with prospects of rain, should cause a rise in prices.

The census report published the following to-day: Ginned 1,450,000 bales of cotton prior to March 1, 1914, against 1,450,000 bales in 1913, and 1,672,000 bales in 1912. Total linters for crop, 629,919 bales against 602,528 in 1913 and 602,528 in 1912. Counting round lots of 500 pounds net.

These figures show how much closer the ginning of seed is practiced and hence more complete the amount of linters is no guide to the size of the crop as in the 16,500,000-bale crop of 1911-12 linters were 26,000 less than the next year's crop of 14,000,000.

The amount of linters contained this season is 4.3 per cent more, against which the given but per acre is 5 per cent less than last year. South carolina alone, with a gain of 18,821 bales and Texas 13½ a minus correction of 5,000. Thousand counties reported. Three attracted attention. It states that some cotton that was damaged by bad weather in the fall was responded and regained, which increased the ginning figures. This also applies to Oklahoma. Our market opened about 5 points higher and rallied nearly 20 points on the bullishness. Traders are waiting for tomorrow's report. The market is in good shape technically for the report, which is expected to show between 14,000,000 and 14,500,000 bales of cotton. The final ginning returns last year without linters were 14,450,328.

MRS. EVA BRUNELLE FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WORCESTER, Mass., March 19.—Mrs. Eva Brunelle, of Northbridge, has instituted divorce proceedings in the superior court against her husband, Daniel Brunelle, of Atlanta, Ga., whom she charges with cruel and abusive treatment. Intoxication and non-support. They were married September 12, 1910, and have two children.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET WAS FIRM AND HIGHER

Canadian Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Union Pacific, Reading, Steel and Copper Led

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 19.—Lehigh Valley showed yesterday's decline, reacted at the opening today, gaining nearly a point. Reading, Pennsylvania lost one. Elsewhere changes were unimportant. Canadian Pacific was the leading feature and the underlying good.

The government's suit against the Lehigh Valley appeared to have been discounted in yesterday's decline. Reading, Pennsylvania and Atlantic Coast Line rallied on weakness.

Canadian Pacific, steel trade told of decreasing new orders and the possibility of contraction of operations. Copper was irregular, prices partially offset by the favorable character of the Anaconda statement. Sugar and tobacco, demand for stocks was not heavy but at noon the general level showed a fractional improvement.

Bonds were irregular.

Total sales of stocks and bonds, United States and railroad bonds, established them at new low figures. Prices were sold on days to realize. Interest would be defaulted. Burlington joint 4s, Colorado & Southern refunding 4s and Rock Island 4s. Prices of important stocks ruled a trifle higher at the end of the hour.

Chronic weakness of Rock Island issues and of certain Pacific specialties, together with more confident buying of specialties. The tobacco list displayed fractional strength on the leaders betrayed renewed firmness.

LONDON STOCKS

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, March 19.—Labor troubles, the Balkan situation and further liquidation in Brazilian and Argentine securities depressed the stock market today. The weakness in the Argentine and Brazilian securities was due to unfavorable continental advices and local covering checked the decline in the former issues, which, including a further advance in Mexican issues were firm features.

American securities opened quiet and a fraction lower but closed steady.

STOCK MARKET OPINIONS.

Financial Bureau: Investment is expected to be irregular and interrupted by professional trading. Cotton and corn crop reports are strong influences. Wheat is absorbed on recessions.

New York Herald: Copper issues are strong on improved demand for the metal.

New York Sun: Professional backers view the Paris situation with some apprehension for the further contango it may impose on financiers in the quarter.

New York Tribune: On the declines there is little support and the outside buying, such as it is, has little effect.

Weather Conditions

Forecast till 7 p. m. Friday.

Atlanta and vicinity: rain tonight and probably Friday; colder Friday.

Georgia: Rain tonight and probably Friday; colder Friday.

Alabama: Rain tonight; Friday clearing and colder, with a cold wave.

A distinct storm has appeared in Texas, with the lowest atmospheric pressure reported in Brownsville to Palestine. This is accompanied by generally cloudy weather over the eastern part of the United States, with rain in Texas and snow in the central states. The storm will move northeastward over the cotton belt toward New England, causing general precipitation in Georgia tonight and Friday.

On the north side of the western disturbance a cold wave prevails. Temperatures range from 24 degrees at St. Louis to 12 degrees at Kansas City, 4 degrees at Huron and Rapid City, and zero at Bismarck. This indicates much colder weather than rain, with freezing temperatures Saturday morning at Atlanta.

Snow was falling at 7 a. m. over an extended region in the north, namely, at Buffalo, Pittsburg, Toledo, Erie, Kansas City, and even as far south as Abilene, Tex.

Forecaster Atlanta: Rain tonight, and Friday, becoming much colder, with freezing temperature Friday night and Saturday morning. High southerly winds shifting to northwest on Friday afternoon.

COTTON GOSSIP.

Clinch-Dodson: Saturday's report:

S—While the talent is devoting its entered attention to the crop movement, there is a persistent demand for the actual stuff and the price level of cotton, both spot and future, is but surely. Stocks at interior towns diminish by thousands of bales weekly, and the part of grades which were thought to be unsalable a few weeks ago are now in demand. The world, and especially in New York, wonder what will happen when the month with record receipts is reached and when the necessary reserves are to be attracted by stiff discounts. Dear Sir: Look at the Southern sources of supply. With the promulgation of the census report, the crop movement will be the main bone of contention concerning the old crop will have little influence away, and will mainly only to guess at consumption, politics, finances and similar matters. But the new crop will occupy a larger space in the mind's eye of the trade, and it seems as though strange, lights of the distant month did not become more and more active, and that strong conditions in cotton in consequence.

Tomorrow's census report, while expected to show about 14,300,000 bales, exclusive of linters, and 14,500,000 bales, including linters from round lots, is not expected to be a bearish factor, as the spinning supply is smaller than last year.—Dodson.

Storm warning: Northwest storm warning. S a. m., Louisiana and Texas coast: Disturbance over southern Texas moves eastward and rapidly; rain in high northerly winds and much colder on coast this afternoon and night tonight, increasing southerly shifting to brisk northwesterly winds on the Louisiana coast. Decolder tonight.—

Forecaster Fair Atlantic, continued cold and cloudy rest of the belt: some rain in east Texas and Louisiana today, and will probably end tonight. Temperatures, indications are for rain or snow in Texas. Severe cold wave from Texas northward to the Great Lakes and much colder in central states and possibly Atlantics tomorrow through Atlantics.—Keller.

Louisiana—Tonight unsettled and rain in the east portion, much colder with a cold wave, temperature will be 28 to 30 degrees in northern portion and 34 to 36 in south portion; Friday fair and slightly warmer, except in southeast portion.

Oklahoma—Tonight fair and colder in the east portion, temperature will be 14 to 20 degrees; Friday fair and slightly warmer, except in southeast portion.

Arkansas—Tonight unsettled and probably snow in the northwest portion with hard freeze; temperature will be 16 to 22 degrees in north portion and 24 to 28 in south portion; Friday fair and slightly warmer, except in southeast portion.

Texas—Tonight fair and colder in the east portion, temperature will be 24 to 30 degrees; Friday fair and slightly warmer.

Tennessee—Snow or rain tonight and colder in west and snow or rain in east portion.

Mississippi—Tonight fair and colder; Friday fair and colder with cold wave in south and snow in north.

11 a. m. bids in New York were as follows: Cotton, March 12.78; May 12.94; July 11.88; August 11.71; October 11.39.

10 a. m. bids in New Orleans were: March 12.73; May 12.84; July 12.44; October 11.50.

Northern Spy Corporation in stock of 18,883 bales and Texas City 4,176 on contract for March.

Best buyers after call were Starr, Geer, Townsend, with selling very scattered; very little interest in the sale at the market; they seem to be waiting for the report.

Private estimate of the census bureau report will be published at 10 a. m. tomorrow.—Dodson.

New Jones' summary: United States fleet corrected crop report 11.01 per cent varied on common stock in 1913 compared with 8.13 per cent last year. Government files suit to compel Louisville to comply with decree of supreme court under commodities clause of Hepburn act. Attorney general Wickersham says Panama is about to resume negotiations with President Wilson through John Lind. Bank of England rate unchanged. Five cent telephone rate bill before Senate. Wall Street papers assembly. Federal court orders Frisco receivers to pay interest on bonds amounting to $615,000. Average prices of twelve industrials 82.22, unchanged; twenty active equities 96.57, off .37.

The suit started against Louisville was largely expected and the decree has had its effect. Regard this action as bullish on Reading, Louisville and other coal stocks. Expect higher prices for Reading. I am conservatively bullish on the market. Bullish sentiment on some of the better class of industrial issues and would buy them on any recession today.

It is said that United States Steel corporation will soon announce an issue of bonds. It is expected that earth bills will be issued.

The dividend rate of the Bank of England was raised to 5 per cent at the directors' meeting today.—

GRAIN GOSSIP.

Chicago Inter Ocean says: Specialists in wheat said that the market would have had a great advance had it not been for the strength in corn, but others are looking for a revival in the latter because of the fact that there will be disappointing over the breaking of the big crop. Cash wheat was in good demand, but corn was so unanimously bullish last night that it was impossible for speculative buying to look for a small setback, believing that the Argentine crop would be cut down by the dry weekend by yesterday's advance but the best buying was reported on the setbacks. Corn was in the situation and strongly advised buying in the setbacks.

Bartlett, Frazier & Co. say: Wheat—We look for a further decline.

Corn—Speculative longs are more confident than ever and the selling pressure does not threaten.

Oats—We believe prices to be largely dependent on the action in corn.

Provisions—The market has a steady undertone.

Wheat was off a shade under reports of snow west of the Mississippi river, private crop estimates of 110 to 130 million bushels for Kansas and liberal northwest receipts expressed disappointment, however, as rallies were steady and Argentine shipments are expected to be smaller this week.

Corn advanced on favorable rallies, light estimate for Argentine shipments and improved firm cash situation. Small receipts and good buying by commission houses.

Tango, Hugs, Kisses, O.K. on Movie Screen, Says Mississippi Senate

JACKSON, Miss., March 19.—A bill designed to prohibit the exhibition in Mississippi of moving pictures showing "hugging and kissing unless to show love or tenderness between relatives or to illustrate a true love affair," occupied the attention of the senate and developed spirited debate at last night's session. The measure was killed by a vote of 24 to 14. The bill was also designed to exclude pictures of the wild west type and those depicting gambling, drinking, smoking cigarettes and "vulgar dances, such as the tango."

WARSHIPS WILL ESCORT CUBAN PRESIDENT TO FAIR

Little Republic Plans to Make Big Showing at Frisco in 1915

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—A fleet of Cuban warships will bring the republic's president, Marie Menocal, to the Panama-Pacific exposition next year, according to an announcement made today by General Laynas de Castell, Cuban commissioner to the fair who arrived here from Havana yesterday.

"The president told me," said General Castell, "that he had decided on bringing three war vessels to San Francisco but that he might augment his escort by another vessel now being built."

Cuba has appropriated $250,000 for its exhibit.

President Charles C. Moore and all the officers of the exposition were reelected by the board of directors yesterday after the re-election of the entire board by the stockholders.

A reception followed the ceremony at which the members of the family connection and close friends were entertained.

Players Club to Repeat "Genius" For Benefit of Elks Fund

The members of the Players' club announce that they will repeat "The Genius," the comedy by William De Mille, which was so successfully presented on Shrove Tuesday before a large and representative audience.

The play will be given at the Grand on the evening of March 31, and plans are being made to make the occasion as bright and successful as the former one.

Mrs. Thomas B. Felder, the president of the club, stated Thursday morning that she had received many letters from different theatrical clubs complimenting the local organization on the success which attended the initial play of the season, and expressed her pleasure in the fact that the efforts of the club would be again directed to the furtherance of a worthy cause. The proceeds from the comedy will be devoted to the benefit of the poor fund of the Elks.

The Children's Section to the Fore With the Most Beautiful Headwear We Have Ever Had

Friday and Saturday the Opening Days

Your little daughter's Hat is waiting to be chosen from among scores of bewitching little Hats rightly called "delicious."

The makers of Misses' and Children's Headwear have won new laurels this season in the creation of these inimitable and truly fascinating Bonnets---quaint-shaped and varied.

For little tots and older girls up to twenty. There is everything to show you that's new and correct: From the dainty lingerie cap for babies at 50c, to the sauciest, prettiest Hats for the Demoiselle, at $25.00.

You will enjoy seeing them in this Special Opening Display Friday and Saturday.

Children's Headwear Section, Third Floor

New and Correct Hats for Boys

Little men also come in for new and varied styles in Headwear, as you will find in the immense stock of stylish shapes here, ranging in price from 50c for little fabric hats—ratine, etc., to $5 for smart Milans.

Children's Spring Apparel in a Delightful Display

Girls' Coats Were Never So Charming

Variety and beauty combine to make the showing a particularly tempting one. Everything from the practical Top Coat for utility purposes, to the dressy garments, and all in styles to emphasize the spirit of youth; vivid colors are a feature, both in materials and trimmings.

Prices range from $4 to $15.

Girls' Dresses

Frocks for which the young girl longs, and finds suitable for any one of a half dozen occasions. In the display are dainty party dresses, smart taffetas and crepes de chine, pretty white lawns with the color-touch imparted by the artistic girdles and knots of ribbon here and there.

Also unlimited variety in Dresses of the service-giving qualities so essential to impetuous youth—of sturdy yet attractive wash fabrics.

His Majesty--The Baby

Everything that babies need is here—from the simplest little first slip or vest to the finest hand-embroidered dress or coat or cap.

White Pique Coats for Babies

Mothers know how useful a Pique Coat is, both on warm days, when just a bit of a wrap is needed, and on colder days, when it may be worn over an interlining. We have beautiful new white pique coats in sizes 6 months to 3 years; dainty as can be, but made practically, to wash easily. They are priced $2.50 to $10.

Smart Reefers for Manly Boys

Smart, mannish little Reefer Coats; navy serges, tan covert cloths, gray mixtures, black-and-white checks; embroidered emblem on sleeve; 1 to 6-year sizes; priced at $5.

Particularly good for Spring, and later for the mountains or seashore, are these Palm Beach Reefers; light in weight, light in color; $7.50, $8.50 and $10.

Little First Shoes for Toddlers

Dainty soft-sole Kid Shoes—or ankle ties—white, pink, blue, tan, chocolate and black; 50c pair.

White Canvas Ankle Ties, at 50c pair.

Even Rompers May Be Very Dainty

These are particularly so. They are made of white ripplette, some piped with pink; also creepers for wee babies, of the same crinkly material; priced at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.

David Copperfield Suits for Boys, Quite the Rage

Something new in Wash Suits for boys. They are extremely popular with little men everywhere else, and it but remains for them to be seen to make them so here. They are made of splendid wash materials, this particular lot in blue-and-white effects; the waist of stripes and the little trousers of solid blue, a turn-over collar of the same blue; 4 to 8-year sizes. Price $2.50.

She Darkened Her Gray Hair

A Kansas City Lady Darkened Her Gray Hair and Stimulated its Growth by a Simple Home Process

She Tells How She Did It.

A well-known resident of Kansas City, Mo., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home process, made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, stimulate its growth and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, 1 small box of Barbo Compound and 1-4 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently, then every two weeks. This mixture relieves scalp troubles and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair. It does not stain the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 10 to 20 years younger." (Advt.)

One Application Will Remove Hairy Growths

(Boudoir Secrets.)

No woman need longer tolerate ugly hairy growths, for with a single application of a plain delatone paste it is an easy matter to quickly banish hair or fuzz from any part of the face or neck. Just mix some water with a little powdered delatone and spread this on the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub it off and the skin will be free from hair or blemish. After this treatment the skin should be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. (Advt.)

Dr. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S Oriental Cream OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash and Skin Diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 60 years; is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut-ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all the skin preparations." For sale by Druggists and Department stores. FERD. T. HOPKINS & Son, Props., 37 Great Jones St., N.Y.C.

OUR ASTROLOGER

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

HOROSCOPE FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 20, 1914.

Neptune and Mars Give hint of wars.

An unfortunate day. Astrologers find that Mars and Neptune both are in evil aspect.

Rulers of every rank, who are believed to be ruled by Mars, should be on their guard while this configuration prevails. There is an especially evil sign for naval officers and marines. The seers prophesy warlike activities, which will involve diplomacy, because of loss of life outside the usual lines of battle.

Steel workers, foundrymen, amalgamators and all who are engaged in handling metals are believed to be subject to extraordinary dangers when Mars is adverse.

There is a warning against those who use sharp instruments. It is not an auspicious time for submitting to a surgical operation or for going to the dentist.

It is a time to guard against fraud and deception. The influences are believed to enable schemers of all sorts to be more convincing than in ordinary circumstances.

Investments are subject ot a malign rule of stars today. Wise men and women will not buy what promises gain until the astral figure changes. New friendships or business partnerships should not be made while Neptune is advarse, for the evil vibrations are said to produce confusion and poor judgment.

Women are warned against indulging a desire for luxuries, for the sway of the stars is likely to intensify the emotions and produce extravagant impulses.

There is a strong probability of turmoil and unrest in London during April. It is predicted that Great Britain and Ireland will face a severe crisis. Debates embarrassing to the premier and the chancellor of the exchequer are probable in parliament.

Startling discussions of the marriage problem are foretold for this country. A movement to change the law is a probability, which will produce scandal and criticism.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the prognostication of a quiet year. They may have many small worries, and they should beware of new ventures.

Children born on this day have the omen of a smooth and uneventful career, but the hour of birth may change this prediction.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Often and often had Peter Rabbit wondered how Ol' Mistah Buzzard and all his other feathered friends who had flown away to the far away south at the first hint that Jack Frost was on his way to the Green Meadows spent the long winter. It seemed to Peter that the south must be a very wonderful and very strange place. He was not at all sure that he would like it. It must be very nice not to have to worry about finding enough to eat, and yet—well, Peter did have lots of fun in the snow. It seemed to him that all those little people who went away certainly missed a great deal. Now, Winsome Bluebird had returned from that far away south with the good news that Mistress Spring was not far behind, and Winsome had promised to tell him all the news of Ol' Mistah Buzzard and the other friends.

"You see," began Winsome, "Ol' Mistah Buzzard was born and brought up in the south, where it is always warm, and he just can't stand cold weather. No, sir, he can't stand cold weather. Why, winter time is and I would call comfortable will make him shiver and shake. That is why he wasn't ready to come up with me. Now, I come ahead of Mistress Spring, but Ol' Mistah Buzzard won't start until he is sure that Mistress Spring has made up her mind for sure time, and he will be sure not to have cold feet.

"Cold feet!" cried Peter. "Who ever heard of such a thing! Why, I run around on the snow and ice all winter long and I never have cold feet."

"Well, Ol' Mistah Buzzard does," replied Winsome Bluebird. "You, sir, he is always complaining about cold feet. You see, he hasn't any shoes or stockings like you, Peter, so between his bare feet and his bald head he has, or thinks he has, a great deal to worry about every time there is a cool day, and they sometimes have cool days even way down south. Then you will always find Ol' Mistah Buzzard warming his toes."

Peter scratched his head in a funny way. "If you please, Winsome, how does he warm his toes?" asked Peter. "I never see him warming his toes when he is up here. He's always sailing round and round way up in the blue, blue sky or else sitting on a dead tree in the Green Forest. I've never heard him complain of cold feet or seen him try to warm his toes."

"Of course you haven't!" replied Winsome. "He doesn't have cold feet then, because it's summer time. It's just as you say; if you don't see him up in the blue, blue sky you are sure to find him on that dead tree. But down south it is different. If you want to see him there and he isn't way up in the blue, blue sky trying to get nearer to Mr. Sun so as to warm his bald head, why, you just look for him on a toe-warmer."

Peter's eyes seemed to fairly pop out with curiosity. "What's a toe-warmer?" he demanded. "I never heard of such a thing. What does it look like?"

Winsome Bluebird chuckled softly. "Have you ever been up by Farmer Brown's house?" he asked.

Peter nodded.

"Then you've seen that thing on the roof out of which smoke sometimes comes," continued Winsome. Again Peter nodded. "Well," continued Winsome, "if Farmer Brown's house was down south, that thing out of which smoke comes would be one of Ol' Mistah Buzzard's toe-warmers."

Peter looked puzzled and Winsome to see if he really meant what he said. "Doesn't anybody live in those houses down south?" he asked suspiciously.

"Of course," replied Winsome. "If they didn't how could Mistah Buzzard warm his toes?"

"And he isn't afraid?" persisted Peter, as if it was very hard to believe.

"Afraid!" cried Winsome. "Why, he hasn't anything to be afraid of. Mr. Buzzard is thought a great deal of, a very great deal of, in the south, and no one would hurt him for the world. So every house has a toe-warmer for him, which is very nice for him. And you won't see him back here until it is so warm that he forgets all about cold feet," concluded Winsome Bluebird.

ROOT OUT YOUR CORNS WITH PAINLESS TANGO

Don't Fuss and Worry, and Pick and Gouge and Torture Your Toes With Caustics.

TANGO for Corns is the most marvelous remedy of the age. No wonder everybody is enthusiastic about it. One touch of TANGO on a corn ends your suffering. Applied in a second, and it's done. No plaster or salve to fuss with; nothing to stick to the stocking and be jerked from the sore toe with excruciating agony; no swelling and tenderness, no blood. Whatever you do for a corn, NEVER use a paint or a blade, because the risk is too great. A slip of the instrument and a drop of blood caused many cases of blood poison.

TANGO is the one safe remedy that roots out the core of the corn painlessly. It softens this kernel and brings it out, the root, and the corn is gone forever. No pain, no fuss, no sore, bandaged toes.

TANGO is the safest and surest remedy for corns and bunions; the one GUARANTEED remedy. Any druggist will return your money if TANGO fails to root out the CORE of the corn painlessly. 35c at All Druggists. Made and guaranteed by Jacobs' Pharmacy, Atlanta.—(Advt.)

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

PARIS, March 18—The separate skirt, which we were inclined to look down on a season or so ago, once more claims its own.

Nothing has done so much to bring it back to favor as the separate coat that has already made a place for itself in fashion's heart and that bids fair to be a part of every woman's summer wardrobe.

And if we have separate coats and separate blouses, why of course we must have separate skirts. Here they are.

Perhaps the most distinctive of these skirts are those made of white, for they can be worn with great effectiveness with the bright-hued little jackets of taffets or golfine.

The skirts are made of taffeta, serge, gabardine and, newest of all, broadcloth. One that has caused a good deal of comment is a five-tiered white broadcloth skirt. It is very effective.

Gay Little Jacket.

A smart little jacket made to wear over a white blouse and skirt or a white one-piece frock, is fashioned of bright canary yellow golfine. It is made to look as if it were slipping off at the shoulders, but it is really safely secure. The top of the jacket is gathered in a double frill from shoulder to shoulder, but there is a saving ourve to the shoulder outline that holds it in place.

To get back to the new separate skirts: The new checks are decidedly smart made up in separate skirts to wear with white or colored linen blouses for morning. Either in wool or in silk they are serviceable and good looking.

Most useful of all the separate skirts will be those of black taffets, which are so light in weight as to commend themselves to all summer wear. That is something that cannot be said about many of the clothes that are shown by the French houses. They are wonderful—that we grant. They have a distinction and style that commands our admiration, our respect. But the fabrics in which they are made are not suitable to our warm American summers.

The dressmakers are always willing to make up their models in other fabrics. Sometimes the model gains by this change, but more often it looses.

Taffetts, in black stripes, plaid or any color, is suited to the warmest weather, and it has the advantage over some sheerer fabrics of always looking as cool and crisp as it feels.

The new skirts are quite innocent of the much maligned slash. Whatever we thought about it, it was a comfortable device when it was properly managed. Ir skirts for sports wear there is still an opening in the back, but it is closed with easily adjusted fasteners when its wearer is not exercising.

The peg-top skirt of the spring is not quite so bouffant as it was in the winter. But it is a peg-top just the same.

Dependable Seeds

All seeds are not good seeds by a long shot. Further, the difference between good seeds and poor seeds can seldom be determined by looks, for all qualities look very much alike. Yet, the success of your garden largely depends on seed quality.

Hastings' Seeds Right

They are dependable. So far as a life time of experience can suggest every precaution is taken in growing, harvesting, handling and selling to insure the best in quality. Back of the Hastings business is a world wide seed growing organization that you can get the benefit of.

Gardening Time Now

While we may have an occassional cold wind and a few disagreeable rainy days to interfere, it's garden time. Nature shows it plainly. The fruit trees are blooming, the leaf buds on the shade trees are swelling. Nature knows and you are wise to watch Mother Nature and follow her example.

You have the ground and we have right quality seeds of right varieties for the Atlanta section. It's time for us to get together.

Double Delivery Service

Twice each day our double daily delivery service reaches all parts of Atlanta. Orders placed before 2 p. m. delivered the same day. Original Land Grants of Governor of Georgia in 1822 Appear on Transfers

Among the numerous transfers of Fulton county property reported in the daily grist from the county clerk's office, Wednesday, were two which dated directly back to 1822. They were original land grants from John Clarke, governor of Georgia, dated January 12, 1822, and February 8, 1823, one covering land lot 122 of the 17th district of Henry county and the other covering land lot 122 in the same district and county.

The property described by them is included in those land lots now in the upper part of Fulton county, just at the west and southwest of Sandy Springs camp ground.

Inquiry developed that this was not, as would appear, the first record of the grants; that on the other hand they have been on record for years in the secretary of state's office.

"Some people like to see the original grant recorded in the county, so they can show the whole chain of ownership right up to the present day," said Gordon Mitchell, the lawyer who specializes in land titles. "That is probably the reason behind this record. The original grants can always be located in the secretary of state's office, but they are said to be found in county records.

"Right after the United States government got this land from the Indians, it transferred title to the state of Georgia, and the legislature authorized the governor to grant land lots to widows and orphans and veterans of the revolutionary war. These two are seemingly grants made under that authority."

On the present day map of Fulton county, the two land lots are shown in parcels owned by several individuals. They cover an area in the highest part of the county above sea level.

That area, originally in Henry county, later was included in Fayette county, later in DeKalb, and still later in Fulton when this county was created.

Supper Dance for Wedding Party

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bishop Davis, of Chattanooga, Tenn., entertained at a supper dance, Wednesday evening, at the Ansley Hotel, in compliment to Miss Evangeline MacKinnon and Mr. Robert Davis, whose marriage will be an interesting event of Thursday evening.

Two long tables were placed in the ballroom and at the one at which were seated the unmarried couples, the center decoration was a mound of pink roses and ferns, and at the other table, where the married guests were seated the centerpiece was of bride's roses and smilax.

Pink roses and festoons of southern smilax formed an artistic decoration of the ballroom.

The place cards were handpainted orange blossoms, and each guest was presented with a bisque slipper holding a tiny cupid.

Dancing was enjoyed between the courses of the dinner.

Miss Davis was gowned in white satin with embroidery of princess lace. Mrs. Barnes, the bride's mother, wore a becoming toilet of white crepe meteor trimmed in real lace, and her corsage was of pink roses and valley lilies. Miss MacKinnon was attractive in pale green marquise veiled in embroidered chiffon with corsage of Richmond roses and gardenias.

The guests of the occasion were Miss MacKinnon, Miss Elizabeth Dunson, Miss Gladys Dunson, Miss Emmie Willingham, Miss Majorie Barnes, Miss Mary Blalock, Miss Chipman, of New York City; Miss Ferol Humphries, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Gordie Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. Lowry Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chipman, of New York City; Mrs. Donald Hurlbert of Chattanooga, Mr. Robert Davis, Mr Henry Grady, and Dr. John Allen Peters of Chattanooga, Mr. George Lamar, of Augusta, Mr. Charles Chipman of New York City, Mr. Earnest Olmstead, and Mrs. Donald MacKinnon.

Benefit for Home for the Friendless Postponed

The benefit planned for the Home for the Friendless, which was to have been given Thursday evening, has been postponed until a later date.

Many plans are being formed to make the Fastertide a bright and happy one for the little inmates, the dates for which will be announced later.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. W. T. EDMONDSON.

The body of Mrs. William Thomas Edmondson, who died Wednesday afternoon at a private sanitarium, was sent Thursday morning to her home in Anniston, Ala., for funeral and interment. Mrs. Edmondson has many friends in Atlanta who are grieved because of her death. She is survived by her husband, two sons, J. H. and W. T. Edmondson, Jr., of Anniston, and three daughters, Mrs. C. V. A La Spirite ~ Corsets

The Paradox of the "Corsetless" Figure

ISN'T it strange, when you stop to think, that the "corsetless" figure means after all only wearing the right corset?

The right corset for you is a certain corset which is designed especially to mould your figure into simple, natural, graceful, youthful lines.

That corset is one of the 240 different C/B models—"one for every type of woman."

Have your new spring gowns fitted over this corset. Their effect will please you more than any gowns you have ever had.

The leading stores are showing the new season's C/B's—handsome in their simple design and beautiful soft materials. You will be interested in the C/B novelties, such as the "Dancing" models.

The better dealers all sell C/B Corsets. Prices $1 to $10. Ask to see your C/B at your favorite store today.

TELEPHONE ACHIEVEMENTS

TELEPHONE SERVICE OF TODAY THE CREATION OF THE BELL CO.

In no line of human endeavor has the inventive brain of the scientist contributed more to the world's progress than by the creation of the art of telephony, of which the Bell System is the embodiment.

When the telephone was born, nothing analogous to telephone service as we now know it existed. There was no tradition to guide, no experience to follow.

The system, the apparatus, the methods—an entire new art had to be created. The art of electrical engineering did not exist. The Bell pioneers, recognizing that success depended upon the highest engineering and technical skill, at once organized an experimental and research department, which is now directed by a staff of over 550 engineers and scientists, including former professors, post-graduate students, scientific investigators—the graduates of over 70 universities.

From its foundation the company has continuously developed the art. New improvements in telephones, switchboards, lines, cables, have followed one another with remarkable rapidity.

While each successive type of apparatus to the superficial observer suggested similarity, each step in the evolution marked a decided improvement. These changes, this evolution, have not only been continuous, but are continuing. Substantially all of the plant now in use, including telephones, switchboards, cables and wires, has been constructed, renewed or reconstructed in the past 10 years.

Particularly in switchboards have the changes been so radical that installations costing in the aggregate millions have frequently been discarded after only a few years of use.

Since 1877 there have been introduced 53 types and styles of receivers and 73 types and styles of transmitters. Of the 12,000,000 telephone receivers and transmitters owned by the Bell Company January 1, 1914, none were in use prior to 1902, while the average age is less than five years.

Within 10 years we have expended for construction and reconstruction an amount more than equal to the present book value of our entire plant.

Long-distance and underground transmission was the most formidable scientific problem confronting the telephone experts.

The retarding effect of the earth on the telephone current often impaired conversation through one mile underground as much as through 100 miles overhead. Overhead conversation had its distinct limitations.

No possible improvement in the telephone transmitter could of itself solve these difficulties.

The solution was only found in the cumulative effect of improvements, great and small, in telephone, transmitter, line, cable, switchboard, and every other piece of apparatus or plant required in the transmission of speech.

While the limit of commercial overhead talking had increased from strictly local to over 1,000 miles as early as 1893, it was not until 1905 that conversation could be had over long-distance circuits of which as much as 20 miles was in underground cables. By 1906 underground talking distance had increased to 90 miles. By 1912 it was possible to talk underground from New York to Washington.

It was then that the construction of underground conduits from Boston to Washington was determined upon—not that it was expected to get a through underground talk between those places, but in case of storm or blizzard, to utilize intermediate sections in connection with the overhead.

Our persistent study and incessant experimentation have produced records more remarkable still.

We have perfected cables, apparatus and methods that have overcome obstacles heretofore regarded as insuperable both to long-distance overhead and underground conversation.

Underground conversation is now possible between Boston and Washington, four times the length of the longest European underground line. This enabled the Bell System in the recent great storm, so destructive on land and sea, to maintain communication for the public between all the principal points on the Atlantic seaboard.

Telephone communication is established between New York and Denver, is potentially possible between all points in the United States, and by 1915 will be an accomplished fact between New York and San Francisco.

In our use of methods of apparatus, we are committed to no one system. We own, control or have the right to use inventions necessary to operate any system recognized or accepted as the most efficient. The Bell System must always recognize, and in its selection must always be governed by the necessities of a national service, with its complex requirements, which is infinitely more exacting than local or limited service.

These achievements represent vast expenditures of money and immense concentration of effort which has been justified by results of immeasurable benefit to the public. No local company unaided could bear the financial or scientific burden of this work. Such results are possible only through a centralized general staff, avoiding wasteful duplication of effort, working out problems common to all, for the benefit of all.

The pioneers of the Bell System recognize that telephone service as they saw it, was in the broadest sense a public utility; that upon them rested a public obligation to give the best possible service at the most reasonable rates consistent with risk, investment and the continued improvement and maintenance of the property.

Without this expenditure of millions and concentration of effort, the telephone art as it exists could not have been developed.

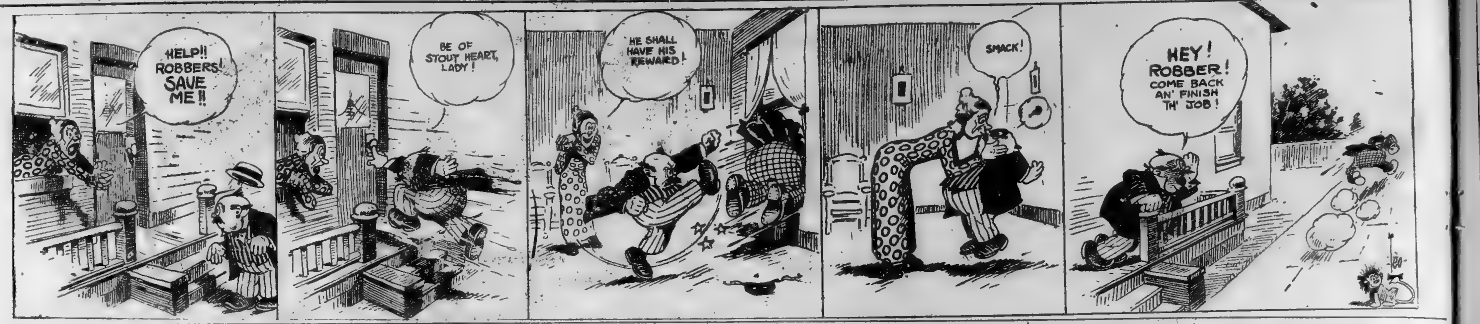

What we have done in working out these great problems in the past should be accepted as a guarantee of what we will do in the future.

THEO. N. VAIL, President.

Stallings Enjoins Federals From Tampering With Braves

Stallings Gets Injunction to Check Federals

Manager of Braves Obtains Decree in Bibb County Superior Court, Restraining Federal Emissaries From Tampering With His Players. Says Labor Law Is Explicit

MACON, Ga., March 19.—George Stallings, of the Boston National baseball team, last night admitted that he has secured an injunction from Judge Mathews, of the superior court of Bibb county, restraining any Federal league agent from approaching players signed with his club with a view to getting them to "jump" to the Federal league.

"If any Federal league representative comes to Macon or any point in the state of Georgia and attempts to get my players away from me, I'll put him in jail as sure as he gets off a train," said Stallings. "The Georgia labor contract law is explicit on that point. When an employer has signed an employe to a contract calling for his services for a stated time, any other employer is violating the law when he attempts to get the employe under contract to violate that contract with a view to taking employment with another party.

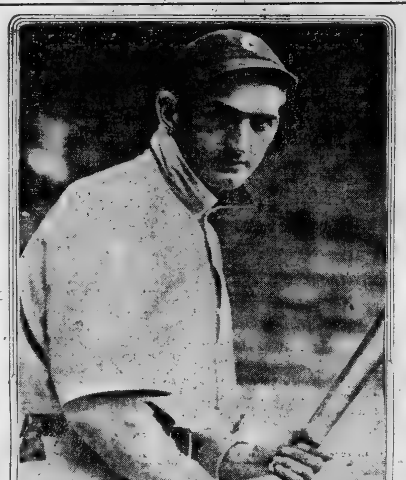

"Every Georgia planter and employer of labor knows that. Furthermore this law will hold in the United States courts," he concluded.

"We have been waiting for some Federal league agent to come to Macon. I am sorry that the news leaked out that we were prepared for such a visit as we were looking forward with pleasure to the arrival of an emissary of the hopeful Federals."

It was also admitted last night that Boston officials expected that George Stovall, reported in New Orleans a few days ago, would be in Macon within the next day or two.

That the same course will be pursued by Georgia clubs in the South Atlantic league was also made known last night.

Organize New League Tonight

Responses to the announcement that there is to be a new amateur baseball league in Atlanta this season known as the Park Department league have been numerous and enthusiastic.

A meeting of the board of directors of the league and of players and team managers desiring to become members will be held Thursday afternoon at 6 o'clock in the office of Park Manager Dan Carey, fourth flor of city hall.

The board of directors consists of Manager Carey, City Clerk Walter Taylor and the city hall reporters of the three Atlanta daily newspapers.

Any team that desires to come into the league will be welcome. A schedule of games will be arranged, rules and regulations will be formulated, and a prize for the pennant winner will probably be given.

The board plans to have a "World's Series" after the close of the season between the pennant winning team of the Park Department league and the championship team of some other league, or leagues.

New Jersey Rifle Team Is Winner

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Nine straight victories recorded by the Bordentown, N. J., Military Institute, in the rifle matches between the military schools of the country, won the National trophy for that institution for the second consecutive year, according to official announcement last night by the National Rifle association of America. Second honors went to the New York Military Academy. The Northwestern Military and Naval Academy took first place in the class B series.

The summary for the last match: Class A—Bordentown, N. J., 942, vs. New Mexico, Roswell, N. M., 937; New York, Cornwall-on-Hudson 851, vs. St. Johns, Manlius, N. Y., 911; Kemper, Boonville, Mo., 825 vs. Culver, Ind 913; Harvard, Los Angeles, 876, vs. Miami, Germantown, O. 864; St. Johns Academy, Wis., 922, vs. Hitchcock, San Rafael, Cal., 916.

"It has been my rule that when I once make up my mind to hit the dirt, I never change it." says Ty Cobb.

According to spring training, St. Louis Browns are real world champs. They beat the Cubs and the Cubs beat the Giants. Maybe.

But the farther south the rookies stay, the better they look.

Donnelly Takes Hanlon's Place

Local Boy Unable to Box Jimmy Perry on Advice From His Physician

Owing to the fact that Eddie Hanlon's physician has forbidden him to enter the match with Jimmy Perry Tuesday night of next week at the Georgia Athletic club, Lou Castro, matchmaker for the club has found it necessary to make a substitution in the match. He has signed up Stewart Donnelly of Indianapolis to take Hanlon's place. As soon as Castro learned that Hanlon had been forbidden to go on with his match, he got busy with the wires, and considers himself fortunate in getting Donnelly.

Donnelly has fought a number of the best boys in the country, at his weight, including Jack Dillon, Dick Gilbert and others. He is already here in the city, training for the match. Since this is his first appearance here, Donnelly is anxious to make as good an impression as possible with local fans. It will be recalled that Frank Whitney, got his first match here under similar circumstances, and maybe Donnelly will prove another local favorite after he has had an opportunity to show what he can do.

In the meantime, Jimmy Perry is going along with his training daily. He reached the city in good shape, and will need only light work to keep in good condition. Perry is ready to meet all comers at his weight, and following this match, he will no doubt be given a chance at some tough welter before a local assemblage.

Dalton School Boys Prepare for Track

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

DALTON, Ga., March 19.—Busy at work on track and field sports, candidates for place on the athletic team that will represent Dalton in the Seventh District high school meet are putting them to bright spring days to good use. Much promising material out of which to build a winning team is being uncovered.

The annual meet of the seventh district high schools will be held April 16-18, inclusive, in Cedartown, and the Dalton High school will send complete teams in both athletic and literary contests. While the athletes are working out of doors, pupils trying for the literary events are being trained, and the two teams will be selected the last of this month.

Dodgers Win Easily

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 19.—Brooklyn defeated the Augusta South Atlantic league team Wednesday 18 to 6. Batteries: Allen, Aitchison and Miller; Rucker, Whitt, Brenner and Fruen.

Athletics Play Tie With Cubs

Mackmen Get Early Lead, but Cubs Forge Ahead in Eighth, Score Tied Again in Ninth

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 19.—The Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago Cubs battled desperately to a tie here Wednesday. The final score was 8 to 8, the game being called at the end of the ninth inning on account of darkness.

It looked like an easy victory for the world's champions until Wyckoff weakened in the eighth inning and allowed the Cubs to score six runs. The Mackmen rallied in the ninth, however, and put three runs across the pan. This would not have been possible but for Zimmerman's muff of Collins' fly in the last round.

The Athletics used four twirlers. Bush and Pennock being the most effective of the quartet. Humphries pitched good ball for Chicago until the fifth, when he weakened and Pierce was sent in the box. The latter pitched a fair article of ball and with better support in the field would have had a victory to his credit.

The features of the game were a beautiful stop by Barry of a hard drive off Leach's bat and a running catch by Murphy.

The Athletics scored in the second on a single, a pass and an error by Sweeney. They added three more in the fifth on three singles, a double and a passed ball and stored runs in the sixth on a pass, two errors and a sacrifice hit.

The Cubs made two in the seventh on two passes, a balk and a double. The Chicagos sent six runs over the pan in the eighth, on a triple, four singles, two passes and a sacrifice hit.

The Mackmen tied the score in the ninth with two passes, three errors and a single.

Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago ....000 006 200—	8	11	7
Philadelphia ..010 021 004—	8	7	0

Batteries: Humphries, Pierce and Bresnahan; Bender, Bush, Pennock, Wyckoff and Schang.

Braves Beat Macon

MACON, Ga., March 18.—Macon's South Atlantic league team held the Boston Nationals scoreless for three innings Wednesday, collecting three runs in that time, but in the fourth the braves hammered the Macon pitchers at will.

With seven across, in the fourth, innings, Mann, Boston leftfielder, drove out a triple that cleared the bases.

Johnny Evers shocked Stallings when he made the two errors that are credited to Boston. Hunn, Macon first baseman, made three hits, including a double and triple in four times at bat.

Score.

Jay Gould Won First Honors in Court Tennis

American Amateur Champion Siezes Open Title of the World by Defeating George Covey, British Champion, Took Four Straight Sets Monday.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—Jay Gould, American amateur champion, won the open championship of the world here Wednesday by defeating George F. Covey, of England, the professional titleholder, by three sets to one. As Gould won four straight sets in the opening section of the match Monday, he won the match, seven sets to one, incidentally, another championship was added to the long list already held by the United States, many of which were wrested from British athletes.

Gould, who is twenty-six years old, proved himself the best court tennis player who ever lived, according to experts who viewed the match. His service Wednesday was as strong as on the first day, and he displayed even better headwork. His fore play was errorless. He played ground strokes with few misses and seldom drove into the net.

The English champion, experts say, proved he is a great player mechanically, with few weaknesses in physical play. Instead of being master of his own play, however, he was forced to play the game that Gould wanted.

The American's victory marks the first time an amateur ever has beaten a professional court tennis player for a title. It also meant the second world's championship brought to this country from Great Britain by racquet. Jacques Wrenn with a year, Jock Soutar having won the racquet title from Charles Williams, of London, last spring.

Covey had no excuse to make. "I was beaten by a better man," he said. "I think Mr. Gould is the greatest tennis player the world has seen."

Hon. Neville Lytton, who employs Covey as a professional, added to this praise, saying, "I do not think there has ever been, or ever will be, a greater court tennis player than Mr. Gould."

The new champion declined to comment on his victory.

"The most wonderful court tennis match I have ever seen and I do not think any player that ever lived could have beaten Jay Gould in the form he displayed against Covey," was the tribute paid by the Duke of Manchester last night after Gould had wrested the world's open championship from the English professional.

"America is to be congratulated upon having won another world's championship," he added.

The duke, who is a high class court tennis player, witnessed the entire eight sets between Gould and Covey.

Poggenburg Bests Gardner

NEW YORK, March 19.—Edward W. Gardner, of New York suffered his first loss in the national amateur billiard championship tournament last night and as a result is tied with his conqueror, J. Ferdinand Poggenburg, of New York, for first place, with four wins and one loss each. Poggenburg made 1400 points in 23 innings, while his opponent scored 305. The contest was close until the thirty-first inning when Gardner, after running sixteen, forgot to get the balls out of balk on the second shot and consequently left a position which enabled Poggenburg to run off 73. The international champion finished the game with runs of 10 and 8.

Scores:

Poggenburg 400; average 13 4-33; high runs, 73, 39, 39.

Gardner 395; average 9 8-23; high runs 42, 39, 36.

Thomas Takes Charge

CHICAGO, March 19.—Charles H. Thomas, former secretary of the Chicago National league baseball club, today took up the duties of president of the club. Thomas was appointed president of the Cubs yesterday after Charles P. Taft announced he would retain his controlling interest for at least a year.

Charles W. Murphy, who sold his holdings to Mr. Taft, and who thereby relinquished the presidency, announced that he would go on a fishing trip, but otherwise would not make known his plans.

Mr. Taft decided to retain his interest in the Cubs after negotiations with several Chicago syndicates failed to result in a sale. He returned to Cincinnati last night after looking over the Cubs' ball park.

It is reported that Roanoke has bought John Weymack, the Richmond southpaw, from one of the clubs of the Carolina league. Weymack was out of the game sometime last season by reason of an accident.

Tiger Line-Up Is Just About Complete Now

Four Candidates Are Doing the Hurling for Purple Squad—Jones at First, Bridges on Second, Fuqua at Short, and Boddy on Third Compose Infield.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

SEWANEE, Tenn., March 19.—The Tiger baseball team was seen in action for the first time Monday when the squad was reduced to two teams and those selected for the first nine lined up against the second team.

The pitchers, Walker, Lannom, Hammond and Ransom were only allowed to pitch a few innings each and not permitted to use anything except straight balls for fear of injury to their arms. Walker already shows remarkable speed and although lacking a little in control, should easily improve with more work. Lannom and Hammond, who have yet to pitch their first college games improve daily, and altogether the prospects for a good pitching staff are far more promising than at the first workouts.

Of the two men who came out for first base, Jones and Bridges, the former is being used at the initial station. Bridges, who can also play second base, was tried out at that position, and so far shows every indication of a good second sacker. At third Boddy will probably alternate with Hammond, as Hammond, when not working on the mound, will be used on the infield since his stick work will be needed. Fuqua so far has had no rival for the short-stop position, and is covering it in very good style.

In the outfield Bruce and Bowden are permanently located in left and center field, while Captain McGoodwin will take care of the remaining right garden. All three of these men are handy with the stick and are clouting the ball already at a rapid pace.

As the first game is only a little more than a week away, when Morgan comes for a game on the 27th, speedy efforts are being made to round the team into shape. Morgan always puts a good ball team on the field, and this year is said to be especially strong. Bruce who 4s playing his first year at Sewanee was on the Morgan team last season, and one of the star players, predicts that they will bring a peppery bunch of ball tossers who count on taking the Tigers' measure.

Kimm Champion Skater

DETROIT, Mich., March 19.—Leon Kimm, of Chicago, became amateur indoor roller skater of the world by winning the mile race last night in the world's championship tournament here. His time was 3:05 1-2. There were five starters.

HEART SONGS is not a mere collection of music and words! It is a book compiled directly by more than 20,000 people, who, in sending their favorite songs, told why they sent them.

From the Jone cabin on the trackless prairie—from the snowy wastes of Alaska—from the mining camp amidst the pines of the lofty Sierras—from the coral strand of an island in the far Pacific, so remote that the ships come only once a year (if they do not forget)—from the garrets of London and Paris, with only the stars above—from the sandy deserts of the Orient—came these outpourings of the human heart—from the men and women who loved them—and the singing of which ofttimes saved their sanity.

Every song in this wonderful book has had some sacred memory—some touching experience—some sweet and hallowed association—connected with it in the hearts of thousands. It is their song of joy—of sorrow—of thanksgiving—of love—of bereavement—of home-coming—of re-union—of all the tender sentiments that lift the human heart in worship to its Maker. It is for this—by inspiration—that this unique volume is entitled "HEART SONGS."

Cleveland Here for Three Games With Crackers

Manager Birmingham Brings Full Crew From Athens Camp for Series—Squad Includes Many Famous Stars of Baseball—Jackson and Lajoie Among List

By Innis Brown

The first opportunity of the season for local fans to look over a big league outfit in action will be afforded this afternoon when Joe Birmingham brings his Naps to Ponce de Leon for a three-game series with the Crackers, terminating Saturday. Birmingham and a party reached Atlanta this morning, including all the players from the Athens camp, Secretary W. R. Blackwood, four newspaper men, representing Cleveland dailies, and the wives of two of the players.

The Nap cast will include several stars of the first magnitude in baseball firmament, among others being Joe Jackson, Nap Lajoie, Doc Johnston, Jack Graney, Ivan Olson, Vean Gregg, Willie Mitchell and many more. Birmingham also had in two Kahler and Standing, the two twirlers who were reported to have jumped to the Federals some time ago, when long Cy Falkenberg did a Brodie to the outlaws. The trio have threatened suit over these affairs, saying they may eventually become the center of lengthy court proceedings along with Bill Killifer, the fifty catcher, and one or two others, who are claimed by the new league.

The visitors have the distinction of being one of the tallest aggregations in the big leagues. Especially is this a of the outfielders, no less than six of whom are six feet or over, while another misses that mark by a measly half inch. They also bring with them one of the smallest players under the big top, in Harry (Nemo) Leibold, a native heath of Jack Graney, to whom Mike Mitchell owes up his bid in the winter season. Harry is not a Georgian among the Cleveland bunch, however, the fact that the team has never won a pennant.

There is a liberal sprinkling of Dixieers, including Joe Jackson, from the Carolina two Tennesseans, Doc Johnston, and Pitcher Walker; Outfielder Wood, of Texas, and Pitcher Gould, of Mississippi.

Following is the line-up that will be used against the Crackers, exclusive of the hurlers:

Leibold, center field
Olson, third base
Jackson, right field
Lajoie, second base
Johnston, first base
Dunlap, shortstop
O'Neill or Carlisch, catchers.

The mound men will be chosen from among Mitchell, Cullop, Steen, Bowman, Collamore, Kahler and Hagerman. The newspaper men accompanying the team are Harry Edwards, of the Plain Dealer, Tom Terrell, of the Leader; H. E. McDaniels, of the News, and Fred Turbeville, of the Press. The team will be quartered at the Ansley during the stay in Atlanta.

Catcher Snell Reports to Vols

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 19—Catcher Charley Snell reported here tonight to Manager Schwartz, of the Nashville baseball club bringing the total of players on hand to fifteen. None of the outfielders has shown up and third baseman Jack Spratt, a holdout, has been suspended. Harry Pehler, a first third baseman, has jumped the team.

Columbia Ties Collegians

COLUMBIA, March 19.—The University of South Carolina and the Columbia South Atlantic league team played 9 innings to a tie, 7 to 7, in the first exhibition game of the season here Wednesday. Both teams hit well, though somewhat ragged in their fielding.

	R.	H.	E.
Carolina	7	12	3
Columbia	7	11	5

Batteries—Mills and Stoney; Meardin, Lowry and Thacham and Braun.

Orioles Win Second

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 19.—The Baltimore Orioles won their second victory of the training season over the Philadelphia Nationals at Fayetteville, N. C. Wednesday afternoon by a score of 4 to 2. The winning run was scored in the two man out in the ninth inning. Pitchers Ruth and Jarman pitched for Baltimore and Jacobs and O'Neil for Philadelphia.

THE SPORTLIGHT
BY GRANTLAND RICE

ROUNDING OUT THE YEAR.
(A sonata of somewhat scrambled dope.)

Eight little ball clubs booked for pennant heaven;
One of them was Cincinnati—then there were seven.

Seven little ball clubs still within the mix;
Another was the Cardinals—then there were six.

Six little ball clubs very much alive;
Eddie Collins hit his stride—and there were five.

Five little ball clubs reHing up a score;
Johnson made it sixteen straight—and then there were four.

Four little ball clubs in the jamboree;
Plank and Bender stuck around—and then there were three.

Three little ball clubs still amid the stew;
Matty worked out of his turn—and then there were two.

Two clubs clashing for the old World Series mon;
Baker got a couple right—and then there were the Athletics.

Baseball feuds are common—in the public prints. But they are quite a bit rarer on the ball field. "Evers and I," Joe Tinker told us recently, "were supposed to be bitter enemies. As a matter of fact we were always good friends. But as it seemed to make good reading without bothering us to any extent we let it go as it was written."

As a matter of passing remark, harmony on the ball field is an overrated institution. It isn't lack of harmony that throttles most ball clubs down in the run—but lack of ability or ambition.

No one can wrench away any credit from Cheney and Vaughn, the two Cub pitchers who held the Athletics to one hit. Despite the fact that Baker and Barry were out of it and young spring was still around, the achievement is a notable one. Few if some stable of pitchers could only devise the system of holding them to twelve hits in a world series game the discovery might be rated as epoch making.

Browns upset Cubs and Cubs trim Athletics. But the baseshits that bloom in the spring, as a bard has suggested before, have practically nothing to do with the box scores of summer and fall.

Last spring the worst looking ball club in the big show was the Phillies. On April 1 they looked to be about as active as a veal cutlet breaded. Two weeks later, and for the next two months thereafter, they furnished the best ball in their circuit. Late in March, Red Sox and Pirates were in better shape than any other two clubs, and yet when the season opened both got away with about as much speed as a fat washerwoman in a snow drift. All of which proves nothing. Which is all that spring form ever proves.

THE COMMERCIAL ROUND-UP.

Quite a collection of space has been used up lately showing the abnormal salaries developed in baseball.

Yet the esteemed national pastime is a piker's game compared to the ring. Ad Wolgast has picked up $70,000 since Ritchie trimmed him shortly over a year ago—which is more than Ty Cobb or Tris Speaker or Chris Mathewson has collected in the last five seasons.

Wolgast, a beaten champion, has gathered more kale in one year than Mathewson, Cobb, Jackson, Johnson and Eddie Collins will collect in the same period of time.

IN APOLOGY.

We take back a number of things we have been forced to say about Col. W. J. Bryan. He heard over ten days ago that T. R. received $3,000 for a single lecture in South America, and W. J. hasn't started yet in the same direction. In fact, he may wait a month, or no before he sails into that vicinity. We had no idea that he had that much self-control nor a will so adamant.

We'll say for Colonel Bryan, however, that this isn't the first time T. R. has pilfered some of his stuff.

THE FED START.

The Feds are practically sure of a running start this spring provided their ball parks are ready. The enormous advertising they have received all the winter has at least awakened public curiosity and the opening contests should draw capacity audiences. And in this game a running start is a big part of it, for the picking as a rule becomes lean after June, when the hope that springs eternal in the baseball breast has withered away in about two-thirds of each circuit.

For the start at least it would not be surprising to see the Feds compare favorably in paid admissions with the two older leagues. How long this prosperity will last depends not so much upon the quality of ball displayed, as so many have suggested, as upon the amount of interesting ball put up. A large number of the most interesting games we have ever seen have been in the minor leagues, where the comparative strength was about equal and where Giants and Cubs couldn't have looked any better.

At the thought that the season is still four weeks away, if we ever become dictator of this country our first act will be to abolish winter league comment by the public press.

Cavalry Team Wins at Polo

CAMDEN, S. C., March 19.—Playing first class form the seventh cavalry polo team Wednesday defeated the Camden polo team with ease in the first match to be played in the first match together for the southern circuit cup. The soldiers scored 16 points, while Camden was unable to score. The army team having a handicap of three more than the losers, the score was 13 to 6. The cavalry scored in each of the four periods. Camden confining itself to defensive tactics.

On Friday the Aiken team and the Camden A. team will play the second of the southern circuit cup series.

Texans Trim Yanks

HOUSTON, March 19.—The Houston (Texas) league club defeated the New York American regulars Wednesday 5 to 3 in a light hitting game. Chance used all his outfielders as pinch hitters in the ninth.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
New York	3	9	2
Houston	5	7	3

Batteries—Ray, Ware and S. Allen; Kitchens, Caldwell, McHale and Reynolds.

Newark Club Tackles Braves

MACON, March 19.—The Newark team of the International league arrived here last night and this brought 18 team with cases in the first match together 50 ball players, managers and newspaper men under one roof for the night.

Newark, formerly managed by George Stallings, is to play Stallings' Braves here today and tomorrow. These will be the first exhibition games for Newark.

Barons Defeat Cols

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 19.—Two three-baggers in the fifth inning by Tragresser and Ellam allowed the Birmingham Southern league team to defeat the Louisville club of the American association Wednesday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. The visitors outhit the locals but were unable to turn them into runs.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Birmingham	2	2	1
Louisville	1	8	2

Batteries—Tragresser and Dilcer; Toney, Blackwood, Ellis and Clemente

Mgr. Griffith Figures Chance To Cop Pennant

Washington Manager Will Have Experienced Team, Except in Box, Where Johnson Is Only Seasoned Veteran—Must Rely on Young Hurlers—With Breaks, May Win

BY CLARK C. GRIFFITH,
Manager Washington American League Team.

In one respect at least my system of training the Nationals differs from that of most major league managers. I do not take my players to the far south to do their preliminary work because I believe that it proves a detriment to them when they are forced to come north to open the season. The change of climate plays havoc.

For the past two seasons we have trained at Charlottesville, Va., and we go there again this spring. The climate there is just about the same as it is in Washington, but we have a perfect ball field on the college grounds and a modern gymnasium to work in when the weather does not permit of outdoor stunts. Each spring my team has toed the scratch in as good condition as any of our rivals who have spent a month or more in the warmth of Texas or California, and it seems to me that my players have got started as early in the campaign as do those who do their training in the warm climate of the southern states.

Unlike most teams, I do not expect to make a lot of changes in the line-up of my team. So far as I know now nearly every position will be occupied this year by the individual who filled it in the last season. I do not expect a change in the out or infield nor in the catching staff, but, of course, I hope to have an almost entire new string of pitchers.

Shanks, Milan and Moeller will, no doubt, fill the gardens, while Gandil, Morgan, McBride and Foster will take care of the infield. Ainsmith, Henry and Williams will again do the catching, but Walter Johnson will really be the only seasoned pitcher I shall carry. The rest of the staff will have to be selected from Boehling, Engel, Gallia and Cashion, youngsters who have been with me for two or more years, and when there are a large squad of recruits who will be tried out, consisting of Harper, Bentley, Williams, Ayres, Musser, Schwartz, Mumford, and one or two other unknowns.

I will also have quite a large number of in and outfielders to look over, but most of them are untried youths who naturally stand but little chance to make good. Hoiland and Smith, both of Atlanta, have had some experience in the infield. In the outfield I will have Acosta, the youngster I got with us last year and Meusel, Paul Smith and Otto Nye, all youngsters who come highly recommended and will be worth while watching. But, as I said before, I do not expect any of these players to replace any of the regulars, though I may see enough in some bf them to carry them for utility purposes.

Having finished second in the last two races, I expect to do as well in the coming campaign, but if the young pitchers come up to expectations I may do even better and finish at the top of the heap.

Luck, of course, cuts a big figure in baseball and in the strong team which is not handicapped by injury to its stars which always stands the best chance in a long drawn-out campaign. If we have the luck on our side the baseball world may find a new champion at the head of the American league next season.

Local Leagues Hold Meetings

The Manufacturers' league and the City league will hold a meeting on Friday night at 119 Peachtree street, for the purpose of effecting organization for the approaching baseball season. The following teams have announced that they will have representatives present: Atlanta National bank, Southern shops, Candler company, Standard Oil company, American National bank, Murray company and the National Union. On Monday night of next week at 8 o'clock the Paraca league will hold a meeting at the Carnegie library.

Umpire Klem Has Operation

NEW YORK, March 19.—William Klem, the National league umpire who went around the world with the Giants and White Sox, was successfully operated on Wednesday for an injury he received when struck in the chest by a foul ball as he was beginning the world tour. The injury did not trouble him much until the teams reached Europe. After his arrival home an examination showed he was suffering from a shattered shoulder blade, fractured breast plate and several fractured ribs.

Getting Ready
By Innis Brown

The fans and scribes of Woltown are flashing frantic appeals to Manager Branch Rickey, of the Browns, to lay off of his dilatory tactics, and hurry them along a few ball players. It appears that Rickey promised Schwartz on the latter's recent visit to St. Petersburg to turn over several youngsters, to bolster up the Vells' battle front. There was a rush made the manager of the Browns found difficulty in assembling one ball team, much less two, irrespective of the company.

One of the problems that will vex Chubby Charlton Meiswerth when he gets ready to cut his squad to regulation size will be that of choosing from his catching material the best to hold. He has four candidates in Fred Dilger, Clinton, Tragresser and a promising big youngster by the name of Wallace. Up to the present, all of this quartet are working in approved style, and Moley is raising up a tree to pick the best pair.

Manager Moose McCormick, of the Lookouts, has been gum-shoeing around George Stallings' training camp at Macon for the past few days, the object of his sally being to secure another hurler for his staff. When Rube Benes jumped to the Feds, the Moose was deprived of one of his mainstays. Chattanooga fans figure that McCormick has made a satisfactory deal with Stallings, since he declined to sanction the purchase of a hurler on a proposition wired him by President Andrews while in Macon.

From all appearances there is a wide difference of opinion among Crackers fans as to the strength of Mike Finn's layout. Some hold that Finn has collected a winning aggregation, while others assert that he will have to check up and get additional force. One fan picks the Crackers to finish in sixth place. As usual Mike has little to say concerning Mike's comments. When the time comes, Mike will no doubt be able to go out and get them, if he figures that he needs them.

CHARLES THOMAS CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF THE CUBS

CHICAGO, March 18.—Charles H. Thomas was elected president of the Chicago National league baseball club, Wednesday. C. P. Taft, majority stockholder of the club, was present at the election and declared that he would retain his stock at least a year, during which time Thomas would remain president of the club. Thomas was secretary of the club which Charles W. Murphy was president.

Thomas has been in baseball fourteen years, and has been closely associated with Charles W. Murphy, during that time. He came to Chicago at Murphy's request in 1905. The formal election of the club's new president to Thomas being made a stockholder, a director, and finally being elected president. Tentatively it was understood, Charles Schmaltzig, of Cincinnati, a stockholder and business associate of Mr. Taft, was made secretary.

Thomas declared he had no plans for the governing of the club and no changes besides bringing some more pennants to Chicago. He said he would retain Henry Vila as manager.

The organization followed a conference between Mr. Taft and a representative of the Tener baseball commission. The syndicate raised its offer of $750,000 for the controlling interest in the club, but Mr. Taft declined it as not being high enough. Seiler that they would have to make extensive improvements in the Cubs plant, it was said, kept the bidders from again raising their offer.

Because of this trouble, some of the American league leaders, it was reported tonight, might oppose the appointment of Thomas, though whether their opposition will have any influence is a matter of conjecture.

Chicago Feds Want Seaton

CHICAGO, March 19.—The Chicago Federal league will make an effort to secure Catcher Bill Seaton, who recently was awarded to the Brooklyn Federals, according to an announcement today by Charles Weeghman, president of the Chicago club.

Seaton has expressed a desire to play on the same team with Al Bridwell, pitcher who was awarded to Manager Tinker's club. Weeghman said he would confer regarding the matter with George S. Ward, president of the Brooklyn club, who is in Chicago on a business trip.

James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal league, announced today that the Chicago club will open its home season on April 23 with Kansas City.

Cubs Leaving Jacksonville Camp

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 19.—Manager Hank O'Day and the Chicago club of the National league left here today for Savannah, where they will play this afternoon. The team will go from there to Memphis, then to Birmingham and then to Louisville, where they will play a long series of games.

Nine Games for Cadet Eleven

(By Associated Press.)

WEST POINT, N. Y., March 19.—The army's football schedule for 1914, announced Wednesday, contains nine games, all of which will be played at West Point, except the one with the navy. No conclusion has yet been reached as to the game. The schedule follows:

October 3, Stevens Institute; October 10, Rutgers college; October 17, College; October 24, Holy Cross; October 31, Open; November 7, University of Notre Dame; November 14, University of Maine; November 21, Springfield Training school; November 28, Navy.

An enterprising film company has made some 20,000 feet of pictures of the St. Louis Browns training in St. Petersburg with the intension of exhibiting them about the country, showing the methods of a big league club in training. Sounds like a good idea, and ought to go well, but we don't exactly get the angle on selecting the Browns.

Charlie Deein is experimenting carefully with two young infielders, who are well known in this section, at his camp in Wilmington. One of these is Milton Reed, the local boy, and the other is Fat Murphy, who, as a member of the Thomasville club, led the batters of the Empire league last season. It is practically certain that Reed will be carried for utility roles, because of his hitting, while Murphy's all-round work has created a favorable impression.

Connie Mack is working on an young battery, which will have the same component parts as the star performers for Johnny McGraw, Matthewson and Myers, in that one is an Indian and the other a Bucknell graduate. However, Mack's duo work on opposite ends from the Giant pair. Joe Graves, young Chippewa, wants to become a regular Athletic southpaw, while Dean Billings, who played on both the football and baseball team at Bucknell aspires to a catcher's berth. Here's an additional bit of evidence of Connie's ability to pick them up in the highways and byways.

Mike Doolan, the former Philly shortstop, who recently pumped to the Baltimore Federals, holds a rather unique record in the big leagues. Mike played the shortfield regularly for the Phillies for nine years, during which time, he failed to take part in as many as 120 games only once, when he played in 119. In all that time Doolan never even approached the .300 mark as a batter. Only three times did he pass as much as .270. He stuck for his fielding alone. In 1909, Connie Mack pronounced him the best fielding shortstop in the game.

Golfers Form District Assn.

CHICAGO, March 19.—Presidents of twenty-five golf clubs in and around Chicago last night formed the Chicago District Golf association, the object of which is to look after the welfare of the club caddies. F. S. Peabody, president of the Hinsdale Golf club, was elected president of the new association, and D. F. Kelly, president of the Exmoor Golf club, was elected vice president.

"We have received inquiries from golf clubs all over the United States as to how we are able to achieve the success that we have with our caddies," said Mr. Kelly. "The time is coming when all golf clubs in the country will have welfare committees and it is the object of this association to further the interests of the caddies in every way."

Cleveland Wins Hockey Championship

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 19.—The Cleveland Athletic club team won the championship of the American amateur Hockey association here last night by defeating the American Soo team of Sault Ste Marie, Mich. With the victory goes possession of the $2,000 James McNaughton trophy.

Examination Of the Teeth

¶ Tooth decay is slow but insidious. It creeps upon you and a tooth becomes a shell almost before you know it.

¶ Indigestion and bad health always follow.

¶ The moral is, have your teeth examined by a competent dentist at least once each six months.

¶ We make these examinations without charge.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

COST OF FEEDING LAYING HENS

THE hens in the last contest laid about twelve dozen eggs each on the average which, if sold for 25c per dozen, equals $3. These hens ate about 33 pounds of grain each and about 88 pounds of dry mash. The feed cost on the average about 2c per pound. This made the cost of feeding each hen approximately $1.42. This left a profit of $1.58 per hen to pay the expense of labor and other incidentals incurred. Twenty-five cents per dozen is a very conservative price to put on selected and guaranteed strictly fresh eggs. The best pen of hens laid 2,073 or an average per hen of 171-2 dozen, at 25c, equals $4.31, or at 50c per dozen, would have equaled $8.62 per hen. Each of these hens ate $1.46 worth of feed which left a profit of $2.85 as a low estimate, or a profit of $7.16 per hen if the eggs had sold at 50c per dozen. The poorest pen in the contest just laid enough eggs to pay for their feed and left nothing to apply on labor. There are many such hens in existence. One-half of the hens in existence are kept at a loss. How to make them profitable is the problem.

The best record made thus far by representatives from the different countries is as follows:

	Eggs.
White Leghorns made best English record	310
Buff Orpingtons made best United States record	301
S. C. Reds made West Missouri record	466
White Leghorns made best New Zealand record	341
White Leghorns made best Australian record	322
White Leghorns made best British Columbia record	302
White Wyandottes made best Ontario record	301
White Leghorns made best Australian record	278
White Leghorns made best South African record	216

The poor showing made by some of the foreign pens is due entirely to the poor condition of the pens at the time they were received, caused by the hardship and length of time in shipping and the severe changes in climatic conditions. One of the New Zealand pens had to be removed from the contest, and all suffered greatly. The same was true with the Australian and South African pens. It is only justice to them that we make this explanation.

NATIONAL EGG LAYING CONTEST.

The 600 hens in this section of the contest have made the higest average per pen thus far of any of the contests for the past three years. They laid 5,187 eggs and their average per hen for the three months was 33 eggs each.

The ten highest pens in this test are as follows:

	Eggs.
Pen 6 S. C. White Leghorns, England	611
Pen 36 Buff Orpingtons, Texas	501
Pen 47 S. C. Reds, Missouri	466
Pen 5 Alconas, Missouri	443
Pen 24 White Orpingtons, Ohio	434
Pen 1 Buff Leghorns, Missouri	423
Pen 28 White Orpingtons, Pennsylvania	429
Pen 21 White Wyandottes, England	419
Pen 55 Buff Plymouth Rocks, Pennsylvania	419
Pen 51 White Plymouth Rocks, Arkansas	409

White Wyandotte hen No. 181 from Pennsylvania was one egg ahead of Buff Rock No. 55 from Missouri last month. This month they tied with 74 eggs each to their credit or an average of nearly 25 eggs each for the first three months.

Yours very truly,

Grimpen Bunny

QUESTIONS ASKED AND ANSWERED.

QUESTION.

Elberton, Ga.:

I would like for you to tell me, through The Journal, the trouble with my chickens. I have twenty-four nice pullets and three young males in a large pen. Every day or two a hen or pullet begins to droop, but doesn't entirely quit eating, but they do not eat very hearty after they begin to droop. Their combs turn just a little pale. I feed them on Corno Hen feed and a corn meal mash with red pepper occasionally. I also give them turnip greens and buttermilk. They roost in a house. They don't seem to be sick much. They just almost quit eating and stand down up, and as I've said, their combs turn a little pale. After a week or ten days they seem to get all right and don't seem to be too loose at times. Does the buttermilk cause it? I give it to them every day.

Would appreciate your telling me the trouble and remedy for it.

G. H. B.

ANSWER.

There are two chances why your chickens have their systems upset occasionally. A chicken is very hungry and drinks too much buttermilk it is likely to upset their digestive organs. On the other hand, if they eat too much whole corn and do not drink sufficient water to digest it, it will do likewise. Another thing: when chickens are fed too much grain their digestive organs stimulated with highly concentrated ingredients it is enough to make them sick. Still, I do not believe in giving such things, as they are more sooner or later to injure the digestive organs of a chicken a person or anything else. Just imagine yourself living into your system red pepper as a stimulant several times a week. You can figure what the result will be in time to come.

In feeding buttermilk to chickens a small amount of soda should be given with it, and this mixed with wheat bran or corn meal or any of the mash feeds that are sold on the market.

The best and safest plan of feeding all kinds of chickens is to have a regular system and keep before your chickens at all times some of the concentrated mash feeds, and then feed the scratch feed in litter night and morning. By doing this you will get better results and keep your chickens in good health. We know that this system of feeding gets results, and why should we use other methods and take a chance on not only upsetting your chicken's system, but not getting the desired results that we can by having and using a standard system of feeding, the same as others are getting results from.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

DESIRABLE BUILDING LOTS

ON SOUTH GORDON STREET we offer two lots, one 50x150 feet, the other 50x165 feet, both having an alley in the rear. These lots are just half a block from the car line, and are practically the only two vacant lots left in this desirable block. Price $1,750. Easy terms.

ON THIRTEENTH STREET, between Peachtree street and Piedmont avenue, we offer a lot 40 by 160 feet to a 12-foot alley. The beauty of close-in building lots on the north side, anywhere near Peachtree street, should easily sell at our price, $2,000. Terms.

BETWEEN STEWART avenue and West End, on Brooklyn, Elbert and Catherine streets, we have a few splendid lots, 50 by 200 feet in size. These lots have plenty of shade trees and all possible conveniences, with just enough building restrictions to protect the home. In this residential park is a new city school, city park, and it is convenient to two car lines, being only fifteen minutes' ride from town. The terms on this property can be made to suit the purchaser. Price, $600 to $1,000.

Wylie Street

$250—THREE are doubtless title only building lots in Atlanta supplied with water, sewer, graded sidewalks, etc., that are for sale at $250. They are 40 by 120 feet, with alley in rear. Easy monthly payments.

Waddell Street

$900—NEAR Lake avenue, on the east side of Waddell street, lot 55 by 180 feet for sale on reasonable terms.

$750—ON the west side of Waddell street, near Dixie avenue, lot 58 by 143 feet. For sale on reasonable terms.

Flanders Apartments on West Peachtree Street Figure in Exchange With Marietta Street Frontage – Apartment Planned for Ponce de Leon– Lycett Property Changes Hands – Real Estate Luncheon Friday at the Hotel Ansley

A north side apartment house and extensive frontage on Marietta street figured in an exchange announcement Thursday.

The M. C. Kiser agency sold for R. J. Griffin to L. C. Durham what is known as the Flanders apartments on West Peachtree street just south of Grant place. The consideration was $9,000.

Mr. Griffin gave as part payment the northwest corner of Marietta and Hampton streets, with frontage of 200 feet on Marietta street and a depth of 100 feet on Hampton. Part of this property is improved with small buildings. No consideration was named.

The apartment house is on the east side of West Peachtree street. It is a three-story building on a lot 87x190. This is the second recent transfer of this property. It is across the street from the Corinthian apartments.

APARTMENTS PLANNED.

The purchase by Ford Motor company of frontage on Ponce de Leon avenue at the Southern railway belt line, and the announcement that it would build as assembly plant there, has stimulated considerable activity in that section.

The latest announcement in the vicinity is the sale by Jake Moore to the Walker Brothers company, grocers, grocers of the corner of Ponce de Leon and Lakeview avenues, which is at the western end of the belt line.

The purchasers will erect a three-story apartment house on the lot, the plans calling for an expenditure of $30,000. There will be two store rooms on the ground floor fronting on Ponce de Leon avenue. The present plan is to have the building ready by the time the Ford plant is completed. The latter will have a force of 500 or 600 people, most of whom have families.

PEACHTREE PROPERTY.

Peachtree street property continues to be active. R. C. Cheatham, of the Cheatham Brothers agency, has sold No. 295, known as the Lycett building, to Dr. A. W. Van Hoose, of Rome, for an aggregate of $47,000.

Dr. Van Hoose gave two parcels as part payment—288 South Pryor street, valued at $8,000, and 1354 Forrest avenue, valued at $1,000.

The Peachtree property is just north of Baker street on the east side of the street. It has a frontage of 32 1-2 feet and a depth of 135 feet, with a two-story and basement building on it.

REALTY LUNCHEON.

The Atlanta real estate board will have its monthly luncheon at the Hotel Ansley Friday at noon, and a large attendance is expected.

Several important matters will come up for informal discussion, and among them is the question of the annual convention at Pittsburg this summer, and the plan to land the next convention of the national association for Atlanta.

The board has the active co-operation of the executive committee of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, and both organizations are going to send strong delegations to the convention, meeting in an effort to land the convention for Atlanta.

Harris G. White, president of the board, recently met with the national executive committee at Jacksonville, and the committee left it its members strongly favored Atlanta.

HELP A GREAT BENEFIT IN EVERY UNDERTAKING

One Person Can Accomplish Much, but Aid Will Bring Better Results

"Two heads are better than one," and while one man might build a house without any additional help, it would take him a great deal longer and be much less satisfactory than if a number of competent men were assisting him. One person can accomplish a great deal, if this person is of the proper sort of "stuff," but if he or she had a helper, twice the work could be accomplished. Concerted action is the surest road to accomplishment.

This is the very reason why every candidate in The Atlanta Journal's Big Booster Old Homecoming Campaign should make it an especial point to see each and every one of his or his friends and secure their promises of help in winning.

For example, one person pledged today may add another person through his acquaintance, and this added person secure another promise of help. This endless chain system means that the candidate who follows this plan will soon have a whole army of supporters, and will have increased his or her chances a hundred-fold.

While each candidate has a circle of acquaintances who would be glad to pledge their individual support, and could no doubt be relied upon to give this help unsolicited, still, there are many friends whom perhaps a candidate would never see and by getting all of this support—the friends of candidates and their friends—pledged to you, Miss or Mr. Candidate, you are certain to make your campaign felt and increase your sphere of influence.

Four short weeks remain in which to win these splendid prizes and the more accomplished each day the better the chances for claiming the reward you have determined to claim. Every moment should have a meaning for the earnest candidate, and not a day should pass without a balance, however small, on the right side of your campaign ledger.

WORK WILL START SOON ON SPRING ST. GRADING

Work Is on County's List, and Committee Is Negotiating Right-of-Way

Work on the grading of Spring street from Eighteenth to Nineteenth streets in the dredline of the city school lot on Spring street will commence at an early date.

This action of general council last Monday in adopting the recommendation of the street committee that this work be placed on hand to be done by the county convicts removed the last obstacle in the way, and the county is about ready to assign a squad of convicts to the work very shortly.

The committee in charge of the Spring street project are now negotiating for certain rights-of-way, and make the statement that they are meeting with very few objections or obstacles. At the intersection of Spring and Eighteenth streets it will be necessary to cut off an eighteen-foot strip from the lot on the northeast corner, and at other points some changes and readjustments will need to be made.

POOL ROOM OPERATORS MUST KEEP MINORS OUT

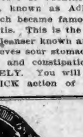

Recorder Serves Notice When He Fines S. J. Beatty $25.75

Recorder Broyles gave all pool room proprietors notice Thursday morning that the law prohibiting the presence of minors in billiard establishments will be rigidly enforced when he fined S. J. Beatty $25.75 for allowing minors to enter his pool room at 9 East Alabama street.

In addition the recorder bound Beatty over on the charge of allowing minors to play pool.

He told him it was not enough merely to put up a sign "No Minors Allowed," but that he must enforce that law and take precautions against an infringement of it.

The three minors involved in the case were fined $5.75 each.

ASK $75,000 TO MAKE GRADY HOSPITAL CHANGES

Influential Men Here Adopt Plans to Have Up-to-Date Institution

Plans for the enlargement of Grady hospital to a size commensurate with the city's needs were discussed Wednesday afternoon in a conference among representatives of city council, the hospital trustees, the chamber of commerce, and the faculty and trustees of the Atlanta Medical college. The conference resulted in the creation of a ways and means committee which will make further survey of the needs of the hospital and report at a later meeting on a bond issue proposed for financing them.

Dr. W. B. Summerall, superintendent of the hospital, was heard in a statement of the hospital's needs. He estimated that improvements which he recommended will cost about $750,000. It was the opinion of the conference that only by a bond issue can the city make Grady hospital what it is planned to be.

John E. Murphy and Dr. Floyd McFarlane were appointed as a committee to confer with the Fulton county commission and ask its financial support of the hospital.

Dr. W. S. Elkin, Robert L. Foreman, Mayor James G. Woodward, A. E. Colcord and Dr. E. G. Jones were appointed as the ways and means committee. One of the services rendered by which this committee will report is as to whether a bond issue for the hospital alone shall be advocated or further issue for the proposed plaza plan shall be included with the several members of the conference believed that the inclusion of the plaza plan would help to bring out a large number of voters.

Dr. Summerall set down among the improvements needed by the hospital the following:

An adjunct hospital for contagious diseases.

The purchase of a small additional strip not owned by the city on the block where the hospital stands.

An outdoor clinic building, to contain hospital laboratory and dispensary, research laboratory, city chemist's laboratory, county coroner's office, and division clinics for white and negro patients.

Nurses' dormitory: an additional building for white charity patients, a building for white children and maternity cases; boiler rooms, steam laundry, kitchen, quarters for orderlies, and pay patients' building.

The conference was held in the directors' room of the Lowry National bank. Bishop C. K. Nelson, one of the trustees of the Atlanta Medical college, was elected chairman, and T. Grant Hammond was elected secretary.

CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL IS DOING GOOD WORK

Temporary Establishment of Rotary Club and City Government a Decided Success

That the temporary contagious disease hospital established by the Rotary club and the city health department is now operating satisfactorily was the report to the Rotary club Wednesday by Victor L. Kriegshaber, chairman of the special committee of the club appointed to take this matter in hand.

The hospital at present is mostly engaged with measles patients. They are comfortably quartered and have efficient medical and nursing attention.

The hospital is in a house near the Grady hospital. The Rotary club raised $500 to furnish and equip it, while the city is defraying the cost of operation.

REV. DR. PHILLIPS TO SPEAK AT ST. LUKES

All the congregations of the various Episcopal churches of the city have been invited to attend St. Luke's church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to hear an address by Rev. Henry D. Phillips, of LaGrange.

Mr. Phillips, who was formerly a star football player at Sewanee, now has charge of extensive settlement work in the cotton mill district of LaGrange, and is at the head of a training school for settlement workers which he himself founded.

The local assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will meet at 8 o'clock and at 7 o'clock will have supper. Afterwards they will attend the meeting in a body.

THEATERS

(Criticisms of initial performances at the local theaters are written by members of The Journal staff. All other matter appearing in this column is furnished by the theater managements.)

Neil O'Brien and his famous minstrel band will be at the Atlanta Monday and Tuesday with a Tuesday matinee and joyous times will reign. The O'Brien minstrels are in their second year and are making the greatest success ever known in the history of minstrelsy. O'Brien himself has long been one of the most noted of the black-face comedians and for years was the mainstay with Lew Dockstader. This season he has a new show in every particular and is surrounded by the funniest band of comedians, singers and dancers he has ever managed to get together. O'Brien has a large following here and this crowd will doubtless fill the theater. Seats are now on sale for the engagement.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock when the box office at the Atlanta opens what will probably break all records for the matter of a line of purchasers will doubtless face Treasurer Arrowood for the sale of seats for the return of the Ziegfeld Follies well begin at that time. The Follies created such a tremendous interest when here last week and broke all records to such an extent that the management resorted to strenuous efforts to secure the return. The show is undoubtedly the biggest entertainment of the kind ever in Atlanta and has the prettiest and largest number of girls ever shown on a stage here. As a result it is expected that the seats will be sold Saturday than ever in one day at the Atlanta. All the stars of the cast, Frank Tinney, Leon Errol, Jose Collins, Elizabeth Brice, Nat M. Wills and the big chorus of beauties will be on exhibit. The show returns for Wednesday and Thursday with a matinee Thursday.

Theater-goers have exhibited evidence of interest in the bill this week at the Forsyth. It is a combination of variety that gets going at a fine speed. The principal number is William A. Brady's vaudeville success, "Beauty Is Only Skin Deep." This playlet is presented by six talented actresses and a stage setting that is a perfect reproduction of a modern "beauty parlor." Thomas P. Jackson and Bernard Cavanagh present a sketch called "The Letter from Home" that is entirely unlike anything of its sort now in vaudeville.

"A Ragged Hero" is one of the best balanced "thrillers" that Eddie Black and his associate players have produced at the Bijou theater this season. The play is in five acts, every one full of action. The plot is clever and the dialogue spirited. The week's offering was written to entertain and that it does is proved by the fact that every performance is greeted by crowded houses. Mr. Black plays the part of an Irishman and he has won unstinted praise for the admirable manner in which he portrays the character. He is responsible for a vast amount of fun, the audience being kept in a roar of laughter all the time he is on the stage. Miss Maude Claire, the leading woman, also has a splendid part. So has Miss Anna Brandt, Walter Van Dyke, Miss Kate Pitzkibbon, Frederick Paldon, R. H. Turner, John Allen, George Ross and Tim Carter.

PARENT-TEACHERS WILL HOLD MEETING TUESDAY

A meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association will be held at the Inman Park school for Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Rev. Robin Adair will speak and music will be furnished by a class of characters from the seventh grade. All members of the association are urged to be present.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR! NO MORE DANDRUFF—25-CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin, faded, bring back its color and lustre

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is instantly delightful—your hair is light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. (Advt.)

SHRINE CROWDS TO FILL BEST ROOMS IN ATLANTA

"Not Near Enough of the Best," Says Greenfield, of Response to Call for Rooms

Room for the Shriners and those who come with them!

"We need it—all we can get," said J. C. Greenfield, secretary of local arrangements, Thursday morning.

Mr. Greenfield said responses are coming by the score to the local committee's call for rooms in private homes and semi-central boarding houses.

"But they are not coming as fast as we want them, and there are not as many of the very best in Atlanta as we need," he added.

"We actually prefer those rooms that have never been rented, before, in private homes—rooms that never would be rented to anyone, much less to strangers, under ordinary circumstances. We want the best rooms in Atlanta and we want them right now.

"Anything less than the best will not do as the full measure of credit Atlanta deserves. We want rooms on the best streets, in the best and finest homes of the town; and we don't want them offered to us for nothing, as we can't use them on that basis. The committees will include many Shriners who have been high in the order and who are coming not as representatives or members of official parties but as individuals. Our files are bulging now with letters from that class of men. They can pay, and they want to pay—for the best.

"We must hear from everybody who can help us in this matter. We are not reserving any rooms yet. We are only listing all that are offered to us. We will begin making reservations in the next two or three weeks, however. We can't wait longer than that. We don't want folks to make the mistake of delaying in this until the last of April. Now is the time. Our need, the city's need, is big.

"A bureau for the listing of rooms has been established in Masonic temple under supervision of J. C. Greenfield, general secretary. All who have rooms of the right sort to offer can communicate with him there or by telephone Ivy 6297.

MARSHAL OF KIRKWOOD CATCHES NEGRO BURGLARS

Eugene and Charlie Broglin Caught in the Act, According to the Police

Burglars had best beware of Kirkwood. Mayor Gilliam asserted a few weeks ago that robberies and holdups didn't happen there often, but when they do, the officers are on the job.

Wednesday a fine example of the Kirkwood burglar-catching methods was shown. Two negroes, Eugene and Charlie Broglin, according to the police, attempted to burglarize the home of Colonel W. C. Cousins. The town marshal caught them before they gained entrance to the house, nabbing the men as they were using a skeleton key on the front door.

They were tried in the Kirkwood recorder's court and bound over under $250 bond to the DeKalb superior court for burglary.

R. Wheelis Dead

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 19.—R. Wheelis, aged 57 years, a prominent representative from Lee county, in the Atlanta legislature, died this morning at his home near Smith station, Alabama, from paralysis.

"Girl Pumps Lead at Negro Entering Home And Puts Him to Rout

Virginia Jordan, aged 16, "the girl who is not afraid of anything," used her Lakewood target practice so successfully on a negro burglar at her home, 98 West Peachtree place, Wednesday night that she routed the thief and is believed to have left quite a bit of lead in his right arm.

Her mother, Mrs. Laura Jordan, discovered a gigantic negro crawling through the dining room window about 10 o'clock and called to her daughter that burglars were entering the house.

The girl rushed into the room and opened fire on the would-be robber. At the first shot the negro clapped his left arm to his right and yelled. Before the girl could fire again he dropped from sight. The sound of his footsteps beat a "vanishing tattoo up the street.

"Virginia isn't afraid of anything," said her mother Thursday. "She is very much at home with a pistol and can hit the bull's eye four out of five at the Lakewood target range. It was easy enough for her to hit that negro."

MOTHER ASKS $25,000 FOR DEATH OF HER SON

Mrs. Julia Bleckley Brings Suit for Damages Against Street Car Company

For the death of John Logan Bleckley, fourteen years old, a Journal newsboy who was killed by a street car, Mrs. Julia Bleckley, his mother, asked $25,000 damages from the Georgia Railway and Power company in the city court Thursday morning.

Mrs. Bleckley states in her petition that the boy was earning $25 a month or more, and that he supported her. She says he was riding on his bicycle to deliver a load of Journals, about two months ago, having just left the sub-station No. 1, at 495 Edgewood avenue.

She states he tried to turn at Randolph street, when two Edgewood avenue downtown cars both going over 20 miles an hour, passed. The second one, which he did not see, struck him, mangling him so that he died within a few hours. Negligence on the part of the motorman is alleged. Atkinson & Born, attorneys, filed the suit.

ACCUSES HUSBAND OF HITTING HER WITH FISTS

Alleging that her husband on two occasions struck her with his fist, and that once he threatened to choke her, Mrs. Bonnie Lee Loyd filed suit for divorce and alimony against Byron H. Loyd in superior court Thursday.

Loyd, she states, is a carpenter, who earns from $2.85 to $4 a day. He lives at 5 English avenue.

Mrs. Loyd also asks the custody of their child, Lucile, three years old. Attorney Paul L. Bartlett and Moore & Branch filed the suit.

THIS STOMACH REMEDY HELPS YOUR FRIENDS

Almost every day some grateful person comes into our store and tells us of benefits received from the use of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Knowing how much good they have done others and knowing what they are made of, we feel sure they will help you. So great is our faith in them that we urge you to try them entirely at our risk, with our personal promise that if they don't do all you expect them to do and make your stomach comfortable and healthy and your digestion easy, we'll hand back your money.

We couldn't endorse anything any more strongly than we do Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Containing Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science, they soothe the stomach, check heartburn and distress, promote a natural flow of the gastric juice, and help regulate the bowels. Remember, if they don't make your digestion so easy and comfortable that you can eat whatever you like whenever you like, we want you to come back and tell us and get your money. Sold only at the store that has 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only at our store. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1. Elkin Drug Co., Atlanta, Ga.—(Advt.)

FAVORS PURCHASING ALL SUPPLIES FOR POST HERE

Colonel Griffith, of Seventeenth, Submits Recommendation to Washington

To members of the wholesale trade committee of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, who called on him at Fort McPherson Thursday morning, Colonel Thomas Griffith, commanding the Seventeenth infantry, stated that he prepared a written report to the quartermaster general at Washington in which he strongly recommended that the custom of purchasing all post supplies in Atlanta be restored.

Colonel Thomas told the committeemen he had ascertained that all transactions between the post and Atlanta merchants had been highly satisfactory and that it was to the convenience of the post to buy supplies in this city.

For the past several months the war department has purchased its staple supplies for Fort McPherson through the second division quartermaster's headquarters to Governor's Island, which made it impossible for the local merchants to submit bids. Only perishable supplies are bought in Atlanta. This new policy, it is said, was formulated in Washington.

Captain H. M. Bankhead, of the Seventeenth, who, with Colonel Griffith, conferred with the committee, expressed himself as favoring the purchase of supplies in Atlanta.

Members of the wholesale trade committee of the chamber of commerce who called on Colonel Griffith were Lynn Fort, chairman; H. L. Singer and L. A. Walker. They were accompanied by Captain W. H. Leahy, secretary of the industrial bureau of the chamber of commerce.

HOTEL ELEVATOR CRUSHES WOMAN TO DEATH

NEW YORK, March 19.—Mrs. Mary H. Smith, widow of the Rev. Cornelius B. Smith, D. D., late rector emeritus of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, in this city, was killed last night in an elevator accident in an uptown apartment house, where she had gone to dine with friends.

Mrs. Smith was about to leave the elevator on the seventh floor of the building, when the car, because of a defect in its operating mechanism, it is stated, started to descend. The operator jumped to the landing. Mrs. Smith, attempting to follow him, fell prostrate across the elevator entrance and was crushed to death. Mrs. Smith was seventy-three years of age.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder is troubling you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and lazy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—(Advt.)

Why DECATUR Keeps On GROWING

DECATUR'S business concerns, Decatur's banks.

DECATUR'S schools, Decatur's population.

DECATUR'S taxable values, Decatur's churches.

DECATUR'S real estate values—all continue to grow, even during 1913 as never before.

Why? On account of many things, such as its splendid waterworks and sewerage system, its educational facilities, its system of modern streets and sidewalks and the general air of up-to-dateness which has fairly earned for the town the reputation of being the very best residence town in Georgia.

This has been brought about by the spirit of progress and of civic betterment which permeates the entire body of citizens of the town and has attracted to us always the same type of citizens from other sections of the country.

Do you want to live in a live town? Then, come to Decatur. Are you looking for a town of schools and churches and homes? Then, Be sure to come to Decatur.

Do you want a good location for business? By all means, you should come to Decatur. Come to see us and let us show you our town, or write to us, or phone us. We'll be so glad to see you or hear from you. That is, if you are a live one. In the meanwhile Watch Decatur Grow.

If you haven't time to write, or phone, or come, just watch this space from to day because Decatur's business men want you to know WHY Decatur is the very best residence town in Georgia.
