GEORGIAN'S DEATH IN MEXICO PROBED; BELIEVED MURDERED

Col. J. O. Nolan, of Eatonton, Plans to Go to Tampico to Investigate Personally Mysterious Death of Son

ASK STATE DEPARTMENT TO HELP RECOVER BODY

Villa's March Toward Torreon Near Its End—Actual Siege of City Is Expected to Begin Soon

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

EATONTON, Ga., March 23.—Meager details contained in the recent letter announcing the mysterious death of Dr. Frank Nolan, formerly of this city, at Tampico, Mexico, on March 8, have so aroused the suspicions of his relatives here that Colonel J. O. Nolan, the young man's father, today began preparations for a trip to Tampico personally to investigate the manner in which his son died.

Fearing complications in Mexico Colonel Nolan today appealed to the state department at Washington in hopes of securing his son's body for burial in the United States.

Colonel Nolan believes that the seal on the letter, its wording, the fact that it was mailed under difficulties, having been sent out on an oil boat leaving the Tampico, give ground for his belief that the full facts were suppressed. He is firm in his belief that the young physician did not die a natural death.

Dr. Nolan had for many years been in the best of health. His relatives here believe that it is entirely out of the question for him to have stayed in a hospital several weeks, as the letter stated, later returning to his home and again to Tampico, critically ill, without notifying his father. The letter from Dr. Pressley, a Presbyterian minister, stated that Dr. Nolan had been rushed to the Mexican boat to Tampico, and died en route.

Actual Seige of Torreon Expected to Begin Soon

(By Associated Press.)

BERMEJILLO, Durango, Mexico, March 23.—(Constitutionalist field headquarters)—Marked by sharp brushes with the enemy, General Francisco Villa's spectacular march against Torreon, which began last Friday, is nearing an end today. Only a few haciendas and suburban towns remain between his army of 12,000 and the actual siege of Torreon. At no point does the rebel leader expect to meet strong resistance unless it be at Lerdo, a short distance north of Torreon. Reports are that a force of less formidable garrison than originally has been placed by General Refugio Velasco in Lerdo to check the constitutionalists.

Cerro La Pila, a huge mountain which overshadows Gomez Palacio, and which is supposed to be fortified by the federals, is the only other matter of concern to General Villa, but he does not believe any considerable body of soldiers would detach themselves from the main army at Torreon, more than three miles from the mountain. With the possible exception of the garrison at Torreon at Lerdo, a defending party on La Pila would have no support and Villa believes it would have to fall back on Torreon after a long range defense with big guns, which are said to be planted on the mountain side.

Villa is confident that only a few more hours and little fighting will pass before his army is investing Torreon proper. He maintains that his force is so great as completely overwhelm any outposts which it may meet before reaching the city of Torreon, and he believes that Velasco has kept the Torreon garrison intact to repel the rebel advance.

The skirmishes in which the rebels have already been engaged have been more like play than a real war, they have seemingly delighted in cavalry charges against the federal outposts. In this little play the rout was disastrous for Velasco's troopers. They lost 106 dead in one of the cavalry charges over fifteen miles of desert into the heart of Bermejillo, where the rebels finally halted.

Officers from the extreme front returned today after viewing some of the federal breastworks in Gomez. They reported that the defenses were elaborate and laid out according to the latest approved system, so that troops might move from trench to trench without exposing themselves.

Fresh earth was said to mark the lurking places of the enemy's big guns. Some of the barbed wire entanglements were visible.

Troops continued to pour into Bermejillo from the north today. Nearly all of the supplies from Yermo are now out.

Rebels Flee to Protection in Texas

DEL RIO, Tex., March 23.—Twenty-seven constitutionalist soldiers from the garrison of Las Vacas, Mexico, opposite Del Rio, Tex., escaped when attacked by federals yesterday and surrendered to the border patrol here. This was the garrison reported annihilated in Eagle Pass dispatches.

Think William S. Benton Was Stabbed to Death

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—British Consul Percevall's official report on the killing of William S. Benton received at the embassy here today says:

"No pistol shots" were fired in the fight which ended in the ranchman's death, leaving the inference that he was stabbed.

Consul Percevall's report was the result of his investigation conducted at the order of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador. It does not make any definite charge as to the manner of Benton's death further than to establish that it was not by shooting, as was first said by Villa, who explained that the Englishman had been executed by a firing squad after court martial. GEORGIA FRUIT CROP SAFE; BUMPER YEAR IS PROMISED STATE

Reports Show Little Damage Has Been Done, and Worst of Winter Weather Believed to Have Passed

FINE, FAIR WEATHER IS FORECAST FOR TUESDAY

Observer in Local Bureau Thinks Spring Will Hurry Along Now—No Cold Wave Is in Prospect

Not only did the Georgia fruit crop pass unscathed through the recent cold, but 1914 will be a bumper year, according to the statement issued by the Georgia Fruit Exchange Monday.

"Little, if any, damage was done as far as we can learn," said Secretary Marks, "and the outlook is for a fine crop that will compare favorably with the 1912 output. During that year over 7,000 carloads were shipped out; and if there is no further severe cold the output this year will be almost as large."

According to W. W. Chase, of the state entomological department, who spent all of last week in north Georgia, there will be a 100 per cent crop in that section if nothing further occurs to damage the trees.

"The buds up there are just beginning to swell," said Mr. Chase, "and sustained no injury whatever."

In the south, where the trees are further advanced, some little damage may have resulted to those in the bottom lands, but, according to the Fruit Exchange, this is not material.

Frost was reported all over the state Monday night, but the temperature did not fall below freezing, says the weatherman. As it takes about 25 degrees to kill the peaches, the reports on the fruit crop were most encouraging.

The forecast for Tuesday is fine, fair weather, with slowly rising temperature considerably warmer.

"We are all out of the woods yet," said the weather man, "because snow and a temperature of 32 degrees have been recorded in April, but I think a warm weather will hurry itself along now."

THIRD ARREST SOON IN CHAPMAN CASE; NEW CLUES FOUND

Warrant Issued for Charles Chapman, Husband of Gordon County Woman Charged With Uncle's Murder

OFFICERS CLAIM STRONG EVIDENCE AGAINST WOMAN

End of Burned Shell With Which Farmer Is Supposed to Have Been Slain, Found in Women's Home

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CALHOUN, Ga., March 23.—Officers today began a search for Charles Chapman, husband of the young niece of Sid Chapman, for whose alleged murder at their home near here Saturday morning, Mrs. Lizzie Starnes, sister of the slain man, and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Chapman, are under arrest here. Following the morning's developments in the case the warrant was issued for Charles Chapman, who is said to be at Wildwood, in Dade county.

Officers attach much significance to the fact that two dogs belonging to the missing man, which were at the home Friday, disappeared the night of the murder. Police are searching for evidence to substantiate their theory that Charles Chapman visited his home the night of the murder and was followed away by the dogs.

What officers claim is new light on the murder developed in the finding in the ashes of the fireplace in the Chapman home of a piece of metal shell identical with those used in the gun with which the young farmer is said to have been killed.

Officers are endeavoring to fix the crime on Mrs. Chapman, who, according to witness at the inquest, had previously threatened the life of her uncle. They believe both women under arrest know details of the affair.

Officers have announced their intentions of postponing the preliminary trial until the arrest of Charles Chapman.

The funeral of the slain man was conducted from the Salem Baptist church yesterday by Rev. J. Gilreath. Requests of the accused women, who are members of the church, that they be allowed to attend the services were denied, the only relative of the slain man present being a brother, Lewis Chapman.

Directors of Atlanta Athletic Club Lay Plans for a Handsome New House

$65,000 Country Club House Burned to Ground Sunday Night—Adair, Paine and Scott Named Committee to Get Up Plans for New Structure

Action looking to a larger and better country club in Atlanta, the one that burned Sunday night was taken by the board of directors of the Atlanta Athletic club at a special meeting at 12 o'clock Monday.

A building committee was appointed, consisting of George Adair, Tom B. Paine and L. D. Scott, to select an architect, to prepare plans for the new house, and these plans will be reported back to the directors by the committee.

A meeting of the members of the club was called for next Saturday night for the purpose of authorizing the board of directors how much money to spend. The board estimated the total loss by the fire at $65,000. The total insurance carried is $40,000.

That all expenditures of the board in to spend more than $40,000 for a new club house the money to their credit the meeting of the club Saturday night.

Sunday night's fire totally destroyed the East Lake house. Coming on the eve of the opening of the summer athletic season, when members were looking forward to long months of golf, tennis, swimming and canoeing, the fire was a tragic blow to all lovers of outdoor life.

Hardly a man who frequents the East Lake course but suffered from the fire, though the loss of his tennis racket, golf clubs or other athletic articles out of the thousand members of the athletic club, probably over three hundred play golf and nearly as many more were enthusiastic swimmers or tennis players.

Many of them, too, had been accustomed to stend the club dances. These were to have been held twice a week at the East Lake club this summer. So to the hearts of the turkey-trotters as well as the golfers, the club fire is a sad blow.

The origin of the fire is believed to have been a defect in the kitchen flue. It was discovered about 10:45 o'clock Sunday night by R. H. Matthews, manager of the country club house. He was about to close up the house for the night when he thought he smelled smoke. Investigation revealed thick curls of it filtering out from the walls of the kitchen.

Several club attendants hurried to the scene and the alarm was sent in. Axes were used to break into the wall. The fire leaped out and spread over the entire building. By 11:30 o'clock the house was totally destroyed. The chemical fire extinguishers failed to work and engines that came from house No. 12 arrived too late to help.

Practically nothing was saved from the flames. A few chairs and tables were carried out and the golf sticks of George Adair and Perry W. Maiden, which were in Maiden's workshop, were rescued before the flames reached them.

The big blaze attracted automobile parties from town, many of whom drove out and stood around watching the long tongues of flame leap out into the darkness across the lake.

The wind was straight from the west, so several fine residences might have caught at the entrance to the club. As it was, the green on the golf course caught fire in several places and the club barns on the other side of the lake had to be protected liberally.

The club house was opened by the athletic club July 4, 1908. It cost $63,000 at the time. The furnishings are valued at $18,000 and the personal property of members that was destroyed is valued at $7,000. Insurance was carried to the amount of $46,000, leaving a dead loss of over $26,000.

No delay in rebuilding will follow the fire. The new club house will be built just as soon as the directors can lay plans. At their meeting Monday afternoon there will be present J. H. Porter, president; Henry W. Davis, vice president; R. D. Thrasher, Jr., secretary and treasurer, and the directors, F. H. Richardson, Colyer Davis, A. V. Gude, Jr., H. C. Heinz, Howard Matthews, George W. Adair, A. Doonan, T. A. Hammond, Robert P. Jones, L. D. Scott and S. C. Williams.

ZACK ROWAN DIES AT HOME ON FAIR STREET

Former County Police Chief Is Found Dead in Bed Monday Morning

Zack E. Rowan, former chief of the county police force, died at his residence, 139 West Fair street, during the morning Monday, after an illness which has lasted for several years.

Although suffering with heart trouble and other diseases Chief Rowan was not confined entirely to a sick bed, and Sunday he was up and well enough to talk with his wife and friends. He also ate at 6 o'clock, when his daughter, Ethelean, who had spent the night with him, was taken from the bed. Then he appeared to fall into a sleep, and no effort was made to arouse him until about 11:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Rowan went to the room and found him dead.

The members of the immediate surviving family are the widow and two daughters, Margaret, aged twelve years, and Ethelean, aged five years. The body has been removed to Harry G. Poole's chapel and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Chief Rowan was forty-five years old when death claimed him. He served eight years on the city police force, and resigned on March 13, 1909, to accept the position of chief of the county police, succeeding A. Q. Turner. He served efficiently until December 31, 1912, when the board of county commissioners, because of his continued ill health, relieved him of the command and George Mathieson succeded him. In order that his name might not be stricken from the county payroll, the commissioners named him a lieutenant, and granted him an indefinite leave of absence.

For many months there was no hope that he would regain his health despite his vigorous battle for life.

BAPTIST PREACHERS TAKE STAND AGAINST CLUBS

Adopt Resolution Indorsing Position Taken Recently by First Baptist Congregation

The stand of Dr. Charles W. Daniel and a majority of the members of the First Baptist church that it is incompatible for a man to belong to the church and to a locker club operated in violation of the law, was approved by every Baptist minister in the city Monday when resolutions commending and indorsing the action of the First Baptist church were unanimously adopted by the Baptist Ministers' conference.

The resolution adopted by the Baptist Ministers' conference is in effect: "The Baptist Ministers' conference makes this declaration to members of the Baptist church and to the public:

"First as citizens and ministers we deem it as an incontestabl apropositon that no citizen should articles to aid or abet or encourage violation of a law of the state, and such an action we deem incompatible with patriotism and civic honor.

REPUGNANT TO MORALITY.

"Second, as ministers, we are persuaded and we hope to persuade the members of our congregations that it is incompatible with the Christian religion to engage in or to encourage a traffic that degrades the lives of men, whom Christ came into the world to save; and that it is doubly repugnant to Christian morality to do so in spite of the laws of the state.

"We submit to the reason of every man that according to the la wof our state, recently construed by the court of last resort, a social club with a United States revenue license to engage in the sale of whisky is violating the statute, and every member shares the responsibility, whether he actually makes purchases of intoxicants or not.

"The position of Christian citizens holding membership in one of these clubs is indefensible, and it is therefore resolved:

"That as citizens and ministers seeking to serve the state we heartily approve and commend the stand of the First Baptist church, taken March 13."

WILSON DOES NOT FEAR HOUSE TOLLS FILIBUSTER

President Says Minorities Always Do That—Seeks Early Vote on Question

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—While President Wilson has no doubt about the passage of the administration bill to repeal the Panama tolls exemption, he is anxious that it be brought to a vote promptly. He has been advised that a vote probably will be taken as soon as the rivers and harbors bill has been disposed of.

The president said today it looked to him as if there had been a filibuster on the rivers and harbors bill to delay the vote on the tolls question, but smilingly remarked that minorities always filibuster. He denied a charge made on the floor of the senate that he had attempted to limit the tolls debate in the house. He said that while he had no part in suggesting a rule to limit debate, he hoped there would be one.

WILSON GETS ACTION.

President Wilson's position in a filibuster seemed to have a quick effect at the capitol. The rivers and harbors bill, which the tenns bill will follow, was given right of way despite the fact that District of Columbia legislation was entitled to the time. A diminution among supporters predicted the house would take up the repeal bill by Thursday and claimed the support of approximately 200 Democrats and 25 Republicans, which would constitute a majority.

MR. W. W. BATEY DIES AT HOME IN CATOOSA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

DALTON, Ga., March 23.—The funeral of Mr. W. W. Batey, who died at his home near Ringgold, Catoosa county, was held today, being largely attended.

Mr. Batey deceased was a prominent farmer and Confederate veteran, taking an unusual interest in keeping alive the memory of the Confederacy. He was a member and officer in both the Whitfield and Catoosa county camps, being a vice commander of the Whitfield county camp, and was recently elected a delegate to represent this camp at the Jacksonville reunion.

FRANK DEFENSE MAY PRESENT NEW TRIAL MOTION THIS WEEK

Attorneys Have Practically Completed Work, It Is Said, Much New Evidence to Be Submitted to Court

BURNS FOLLOWS MURDER CASE TRAIL TO NEW YORK

Detective, Before Leaving Atlanta, Declares Positively He Will Prove Beyond Doubt Who Slew Mary Phagan

The extraordinary motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank, convicted and condemned to death for the Mary Phagan murder, will in all probability be filed during the present week, it became known Monday.

Attorney Luther Z. Rosser, senior counsel for the defense, has been at work on the motion ten days and it is now said to be practically complete. Reuben R. Arnold, of the Frank defense, has just returned to the city and after he goes over the motion with Mr. Rosser and the other attorneys, it is said the document will be filed in superior court. Judge Leonard M. Hall will then set an early date, it is said, for the hearing.

It was generally expected that the defense would wait until a few days before the date set for Frank's execution, April 17, to file the motion in order that Detective Burns might have time to complete his investigation of the case. The change of tactics, however, is taken as evidence of the strength of the motion and the confidence of the attorneys of the Frank defense.

That the motion will contain sensational evidence which has never been made public is certain. C. W. Burns, a detective in the employ of Mr. Rosser, and several other private detectives have been at work on the case since the day of the conviction of Frank, and much of the evidence developed by them has been zealously guarded from reporters.

Many of the points which the defense will use, however, have become public. The new theory in regard to the paper on which the notes found in the room was written will be used. The admission of Dr. H. F. Harris that the hair found on the lathe is the metal from a nail that of Mary Phagan will be another point. Frank's alibi also will be strengthened by the testimony of Mrs. Mabel Harris Miller, of Chattanooga. The affidavits of Albert Brownlee and George Epps, Jr., the one repudiating his whole testimony and the other several important points in his statements at the trial, and other similar affidavits will form an important part of the motion.

CONFIDENT OF RESULT.

"I'm leaving Atlanta for a day or two I want to reiterate stronger than ever that there is no question as to our ability to file an absolutely perfect and complete detailed account of how this murder occurred and who is responsible for it."

That was the statement made by Detective William J. Burns at the Georgian Terrace Monday morning just before he left for Washington and New York.

"Are you sure of that," he was asked.

"Absolutely," he replied. "I am not bluffing."

Burns was eating breakfast at the time, his table bristling with affidavits and papers on all sides. Between mouthfuls he dictated telegrams and letters to his secretary.

"We will establish these facts," he continued, "to the satisfaction of the most critical. We will establish that this community were justly incensed over this atrocious murder in their midst. The police were charged with the duty of bringing to justice the person or persons responsible for the crime and to be condemned for the viciousness of it, which they took up the investigation and wrought it out. I am satisfied they were not influenced by any malice, but were moved by the desire to do their duty. I am thereby certain their minds are open to conviction and that indeed they will be glad to get at the facts.

"We will also show that some persons connected with the gathering of the evidence were actuated by other than getting at the facts. They were probably inspired by a desire to gain a lot of notoriety and reward that was offered. This is unfortunate, as it has tended

TO HEAR ARGUMENTS ON TENN. SULPHUR NUISANCE

Supreme Court to Hear Complaints of Georgia Farmers April 13

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The supreme court today set April 13 for hearing arguments on the application of Georgia for an immediate injunction to compel the Tennessee Iron, Coal and Copper company to prevent sulphur fumes from its smelter in Tennessee from spreading over farms in Georgia.

SEEK DOUGLAS MAN ON MURDER CHARGE

DOUGLAS, Ga., March 23.—Charged with shooting and killing Lawrence Newsom, town marshal of Broxton, Ga., the authorities today sought the arrest of Charles Graham. I. T. Graham, a brother of the fugitive, also was slightly wounded by the latter.

The shooting occurred in Broxton when Graham was arrested by the marshal, charged with making a disturbance. While being taken to the town jail, he is alleged to have drawn a revolver, shot Newsom and attempted to shoot a constable aiding the marshal, the bullet going astray and slightly wounding I. T. Graham.

He had not been apprehended late today.

SENATOR WEST ASKS FOR ADAMS' APPOINTMENT

ASKS $1,000,000 FOR POSTOFFICE IN ATLANTA

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—An $1,000,000 appropriation for a site and building for a postoffice at Atlanta, Ga., was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Howard. The bill carries the usual safeguard that the building must be "unexposed to danger from fire by open space of at least forty feet on all sides."

DR. WALKER IS ALLOWED TO ACCEPT CHURCH'S CALL

Presbytery Authorizes Pastor of First Presbyterian Church to Go to California

Dr. Hugh K. Walker, who for the past two years has been the pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Atlanta, received permission Monday morning from the Atlanta presbytery to accept a recent call to the First Presbyterian church of Long Beach, Cal.

Despite the fact that the First church here has repeatedly exerted every effort to retain and strongly urged that he be held here by the presbytery, Dr. Walker insisted that the presbytery release him.

He said that when he accepted the call from the Atlanta church 3 1-2 years ago, giving up the pastorate of a prominent church and the privileges of membership in a community where he occupied a high position, it was understood that he would not remain in Atlanta at once by the First church here; and that he came here on that understanding. He said that he felt he is not qualified for the leadership of a down-town church; that he is not aggressive enough in that work, and that the church in its present location, and that he can be of more service into the wilderness. He did not assist in the church's exercise of his wishes, offering that as a reason also.

He expressed great regret that such was the conviction.

S. M. Inman, in behalf of the membership of First church, urged the presbytery to deny the request of Dr. Walker, saying the church is in a critical stage, and that it felt that Dr. Walker's withdrawal would be productive of serious harm to the church. Others spoke urging the pastor to stay on, while still other said that if Dr. Walker felt an earnest call to go he should be released.

Dr. Walker will leave Atlanta for California after the first Sunday in April.

TWO CHILDREN BITTEN; HYDROPHOBIA IS FEARED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

EATONTON, Ga., March 23.—Willis Shaw, a bright little fellow of seven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shaw, has been badly bitten through the lip by the family dog, which was later killed in a very excited manner. Hydrophobia Pasteur treatment was immediately begun, though with grave fears, owing to the location of the wound so near the brain. A little child of Mr. Lyons, manager of the Eatonton Co-Operative Creamery, was also bitten and is supposed to be made and now is taking the Pasteur treatment.

Favors to Madame Callaiux May Cause Mutiny of Prisoners

PARIS, March 23.—A mutiny was threatened today among the 900 women incarcerated in the St. Lazare prison, all of whom object to the granting of so many privileges to Madame Caillaux. The punishment cells of the jail are filled with refractory women who continue to shriek protests against "discrimination."

Attorneys representing a number of the prisoners arrived early in the penitentiary made representations today to the ministers of justice, demanding that the cells should be heated and that better food should be supplied to their clients.

BOY BOUND "OUT WEST" MAKES STOP AT FARM

Attired in Indian Costume, Gossett Love Asks for Night's Lodging

C. H. Goddard, a farmer who lives on the Snapfinger Creek road, has been adopted by a little eleven-year-old boy, who says he started west, but who seems to have taken a liking to Mr. Goddard and his farm.

The little boy arrived at the Goddard place Saturday afternoon. He was clad in child's wild west suit which was thickly bowdered with dust. He told Mr. Goddard that his name is Gossett Love, that he lives in East Point, and that he would like to stop over for the night at Mr. Goddard's home. He explained that he was journeying westward.

Mr. Goddard kindly complied with the request, and the little boy spent Saturday night and Sunday at his home. Monday Mr. Goddard called up police headquarters to ask if the chief had a report on a runaway boy. No call had been made on the police, but they took a description of the boy, and are on the lookout for his relatives.

In the meantime, the youngster seems to like the farm on Snapfinger Creek road pretty well, and is remaining there.

REV. LUTHER R. BRIDGES IS CONDUCTING REVIVAL

"Experimental Religion" Topic of Sunday Sermon at First Methodist Church

Rev. Luther R. Bridges, sometimes called the "Boy Preacher," who is conducting a two-weeks' revival meeting at the First Methodist church, spoke Sunday night to a large audience on "Experimental Religion."

Mr. Bridges, who is also a singer of note, rendered a solo, "Peace," after his sermon.

The meetings conducted by Mr. Bridges will be held every morning at 10:30 o'clock and every evening at 7:45 o'clock. At Monday night's service, the Win-One quartet of the Central Baptist church, will sing.

Two Men Have Close Shave in Barber Shop When Auto Crashes in

Two men in the Brannen Barbers' Supply company, 27 South Pryor street, had an awful close shave about 10 o'clock Monday morning when an automobile in the street outside tried to jump through the window and run around the shop.

The car was driven by Dr. H. G. Starnes. It is believed that Dr. Starnes attempted to drive off without reversing his gears. At any rate, he started backwards instead of forwards and the machine crashed into the plate-glass window in the font of the supply company.

One man looking at a new razor in the window jumped just in time to escape being knocked into the first chair. Dr. Starnes leaped out in time to get away from the second and the proprietor of the shop would have been jolted into the third if the car hadn't stopped of its own accord, with the back wheel in a cuspidor, the mud-guards sweeping some china mugs to the floor and the tires digging deep into a copy of the Police Gazette. Nobody was hurt and the car suffered no damage, but the window was wrecked.

WILSON PLEASED WITH NEW HAVEN RESOLUTION

Expect Massachusetts to Carry Out Its Part in Agreement

WASHINGTON, March 23.—President Wilson was much pleased today over the peaceful settlement of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad dissolution. The president said he had assurances of co-operation from Governor Walsh, of Massachusetts, and expected that the state's part would be carried out along lines of the agreement between the railroad officials and Attorney General McReynolds.

TO DETERMINE FUTURE OF PROGRESSIVE PARTY

Meeting of State Committee to Be Held at Ansley on Friday

The future of the Progresive party in Georgia will be determined at an executive session of the party's state committee to be held at Ansley hotel at noon Friday, March 27. Secretary Dean E. Ryman has sent out the call for this meeting. In this call it is stated that the committee will be called upon to decide whether the Georgia Progressives will put out county and state tickets.

After discussing the desirability of electing men to the state legislature who will favor legislation advocated by the Progressives the call asks this question:

"Shall we strive to send from the Empire State of the South a few recruits to aid that little group of Progressive senators and representatives who are striving against such odds to forward in congress the cause of our party?"

The call concludes with the following significant paragraph:

"The Progressive party is at the parting of the ways in Georgia. Never before was it in such dire need of cool and level heads at its important places, never before was it in such straits for unprejudiced and clear-sighted counselors in its committee meetings. On what we do now depends whether our candidates and our policies shall win public approval or whether our party shall go out ignominiously—a discredited and forgotten institution, the by-product of a tremendous awakening of the public conscience over the entire nation. Political waters in Georgia in 1914 are very troubled. The situation here is not easily interpreted. We need your counsel."

Family Poisoned

GREENVILLE, S. C., March 23.—Word reaches Greenville of the poisoning of the family of Mrs. J. S. Bell, of Greer. It is supposed to be ptomaine poisoning, caused by eating canned salmon. In addition to Mrs. Bell and her two children, three boarders are poisoned. Last night the patients were thought to be critically ill, though this morning their condition is somewhat improved.

SELECTING JURY FOR TRIAL OF MAYOR

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 23.—The task of impanelling a jury in the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts, on charges of conspiracy to corrupt election, was resumed at the opening of court today. It is probable that the greater part of the week will be consumed in securing a jury.

REV. LUTHER R. BRIDGES IS CONDUCTING REVIVAL

"Experimental Religion" Topic of Sunday Sermon at First Methodist Church

Rev. Luther R. Bridges, sometimes called the "Boy Preacher," who is conducting a two-weeks' revival meeting at the First Methodist church, spoke Sunday night to a large audience on "Experimental Religion."

Mr. Bridges, who is also a singer of note, rendered a solo, "Peace," after his sermon.

The meetings conducted by Mr. Bridges will be held every morning at 10:30 o'clock and every evening at 7:45 o'clock. At Monday night's service, the Win-One quartet of the Central Baptist church, will sing.

Winter's Chills Breed Kidney Ills

Chilly, damp, changing weather is hard on the kidneys. Even more irritating are colds, grip, pneumonia, tonsilitis, quinsy and other infections. The kidneys get congested and inflamed, and this causes backache and disordered kidney action. Though serious in its latter stages, kidney disease is not hard to conquer if a good kidney remedy is used when the first signs of kidney trouble are noticed.

The best recommended kidney remedy in the world is Doan's Kidney Pills. You hear it everywhere. Get a box.

Spring is Breaking; Backs are Aching

Backache is often the first sign of some form of kidney disease that has been coming on for months. Look for the other signs;---lame back, sharp pains when stooping or lifting, dizzy spells, nervousness or despondency, with irregular, painful or distressing action of the kidneys; if these signs exist, decide that the kidneys need attention, ere the trouble turns to gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease.

Read this home testimony and then give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial.

ATLANTA PEOPLE TESTIFY

Simpson Street

John C. Morrison, 416 Simpson street, Atlanta, says: "Some years ago I suffered from pain across my back and it got so bad that I couldn't wait on the customers where I was working at that time. The kidney secretions were scant and burned in passage and I had severe headaches. I often got so dizzy that I could hardly pass by an electric light without having to stand and take hold of something for support. Finally, I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Sharp's Drug Store and they helped me right away. The kidney secretions soon got normal and the backache left me. I don't know of any medicine more worthy of praise than Doan's Kidney Pills."

Ware Street

Mrs. William C. Carroll, Ware and Church streets, East Point, Atlanta, says: "About a year ago, I began to notice symptoms of kidney complaint. I had heard such good reports about Doan's Kidney Pills that I got a supply at Jacobs' Pharmacy. I had pains across the small of my back and hips and trouble with the kidney secretions. I took four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured every symptom of kidney complaint, making me feel ever so much better in every way. I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills when I first used them and I still stand by what I said then."

W. Cain Street

O. K. F. Bentley, barber, 53 W. Cain St., Atlanta, says: "I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and pains through my loins. Being on my feet all day, my back pained me so much that I could hardly stand still. When night came, I couldn't rest well, my back ached so severely and mornings when I got up, I was lame and stiff. I used several remedies, but got no relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. One box of this remedy drove away the aches and pains and strengthened my back. I was able to rest much better at night and felt all right when I got up in the morning. I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills after I first used them and that statement still holds good."

ATLANTA CASES SELF-TOLD

Gaskill Street

Mrs. Julius Newman, 111 Gaskill St., Atlanta, Ga., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for many years and they have always helped me. I used to be troubled a lot with my limbs swelling and my face was all bloated in mornings. I had a deep seated pain in my right hip that shifted across my back and made it impossible for me to bend over. Often I got so dizzy that everything in front of me seemed to be black. As soon as I gave up the other remedies I had been taking and started using Doan's Kidney Pills, I got relief. When a cold or exertion has brought on the trouble since, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to relieve me."

Richardson Street

W. R. Johnson, carpenter, 148 Richardson St., Atlanta, says: "I had been troubled for several years with disordered kidneys. My back often ached and when I stooped, I had pains in my loins. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, breaking my rest at night. I noticed an improvement as soon as I had taken a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and before long I felt better than I had for years. I have continued to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills ever since they cured me. I willingly confirm what I said in praise of this remedy when I publicly endorsed it after my first experience."

Oliver Street

Mrs. Eliza Craig, 152 Oliver St., Atlanta, says: "I began using Doan's Kidney Pills after other remedies had failed to relieve me. For several years I had different symptoms of kidney complaint and I suffered a whole lot. As soon as I had taken a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, my back got stronger and didn't ache. The Kidney secretions became normal and the passages were regulated. I kept on using Doan's Kidney Pills and they made me well. I have since been free from kidney complaint. I have previously recommended Doan's Kidney Pills through the newspapers and gladly give you permission to keep on using my statement."

ESCAPED ATLANTA CONVICT CAPTURED IN MINNESOTA

Bertillon System Leads to Identification of A. C. Knox

By means of the Bertillon system of identification, A. C. Knox, a white convict, three times escaped, was located by the Atlanta police Monday in St. Paul, Minn.

The chief of police of St. Paul sent a description, a photograph and the Bertillon measurements of the suspect to Chief Beavers, who turned them over to Bertillon Expert Price. The latter immediately identified the man as A. C. Knox, sent up three years ago for ten years for shooting a druggist, Dr. Surrey, in his store on the outskirts of Atlanta.

Since then Knox has escaped from the chaingang three times. His last escape was in May, 1912. His pal, H. G. Sutton, sent up for the same crime with the same sentence, was pardoned two years ago.

Chief Beavers will send a man to St. Paul for the suspect.

"It was just a lucky accident that we got this man," said the chief. "Atlanta seems to be too poor to pay $50 a year for the police department to become a member of the National Bureau of Identification, at Washington, D. C. This bureau, of which many towns 5,000 and 6,000 inhabitants are members, is a clearing house for pictures and measurements of suspects from all over the United States."

INTERESTING TOPIC AT SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH

The topic at the prayer meeting at the Second Baptist church on the coming Wednesday night, the 26th, will be "The Church at Philadelphia.—A Faithful Church." The meeting will be in charge of the Hon. George Hillyer, railroad commissioner, and Colonel Frederic J. Paxon. Judge Hillyer will make an address on the work of the church at Philadelphia.

An attractive musical program has been arranged. Friends of the members of the church are cordially invited to be present.

MACON HOTEL CLERK COMES TO WINECOFF

Announcement is made by Frank Harrell, lessee and manager of the new Hotel Winecoff, of the addition to his efficient force of clerks, of W. G. Poole, who arrived Saturday to assume his new duties.

Mr. Poole is a hotel man of long experience and has a wide circle of friends in the traveling public. For the past six years he has been associated with the Brown House, in Macon, Ga., and comes to Atlanta with the highest of recommendations.

GREEN B. ADAIR TAKEN SERIOUSLY ILL AT HOME

Green B. Adair, one of Atlanta's prominent older citizens, was taken seriously ill Wednesday morning at his residence on Highland avenue. The seizure was quite sudden, and due to a general breakdown, according to the physicians who were called in.

Mr. Adair seemed quite well until Wednesday, when he collapsed without warning, and he has since been critically ill. Monday his condition was little improved, though he seemed to be no worse.

Ulster Troop Movement Is Explained by Asquith

Premier's Reassuring Statement Creates Much Easier Feeling in the British Isles. Attitude Was Misinterpreted

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, March 23.—A much easier feeling has been created in the British Isles by the reassuring statement given out by Premier Asquith that the troop movements in Ulster had been ordered only as a precautionary measure for the protection of government property. The inference generally is drawn from the premier's remarks that the government's intentions toward army officers who did not desire to serve against the Orangemen has been misinterpreted.

In some quarters it was believed that General Sir Arthur Paget, commander-in-chief in Ireland, had placed a much graver interpretation on the government's inquiries as to the feelings of army officers in the Irish garrisons than was intended.

PRESENTED ULTIMATUM.

He presented an ultimatum to the officers that they must serve or resign. Sir Arthur always has taken a serious view of the threatened refusal of officers to serve in Ulster. It is nderstood that he followed his public warning to them by a private intimation that their resignations would not be quietly accepted by the war office.

General Paget, Brigadier General Hubert Gough, commander of the cavalry brigade at the Curragh, and other officers attached to the Irish garrisons, reached London this morning and immediately went to the war office to confer with Colonel John Seely, secretary for war, and Field Marshal Sir John Seely, secretary for war, and Field Marshal Sir John French. This conference was followed by a full meeting of the cabinet.

Interest in the disaffection in the army was displayed in the house of commons today when the house was crowded to listen to a statement from Colonel Seely, secretary of state for war.

EXPLANATION IS VAGUE.

The communication of Colonel Seely was brief and vague. Some officers, he said, had informed General Sir Arthur Paget, commander-in-chief in Ireland, that they could not serve in certain eventualities. There was, he said, a misunderstanding and these officers had been ordered to rejoin their regiments. The movement of troops, he concluded, was solely to protect the stores of government arms and ammunition.

Both Premier Asquith and Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, recognized the widespread anxiety for an exhaustive debate on the subject by agreeing to a motion for the adjournment of the house, immediately after the secretary for war had spoken, to discuss the Irish situation.

The action of the government in moving troops, Mr. Law declared, was foolish, as there was no new situation in Ulster nor any threatened outbreak. He added:

"It will be difficult for the prime minister to convince this house that with or without his knowledge some of his colleagues did not make these movements of troops as part of a concerted plan to provoke or intimidate Ulster."

Nothing, declared Mr. Law, could save the army now but a clear declaration that officers of the navy and army would be compelled to engage in civil war against their wish.

ASQUITH IS CHEERED.

Premier Asquith rose to speak amid an outburst of cheering. He said that after Mr. Law's speech the country should know at once the kind of issue to be presented.

He continued: "The duties of the army in relation to the civil power have never been considered by any officer or private who refuses to obey an order is liable to dismissal.

"As far back as December, last year, general officers of the army were informed that it might be their duty to come to the assistance of the civil power and any officers domiciled in their area might be excused if there had been any intention for an aggressive move toward Ulster this would have been the last step taken. The movements of troops are now concluded."

Colonel Seely was derisively jeered during his explanation.

The whole affair is generally accepted as demonstrating that the army cannot be counted on to fight Sir Edward Carson's volunteers if such a contingency should arise. Opposition politicians declare this means the collapse of the home rule project, and express their belief that the government may soon relinquish office by its own choice.

Unionists Not Weakened By Asquith's Statement

(By Associated Press.)

BELFAST, Ireland, March 23.—The capital of Ulster, in which are the headquarters of the provisional government of the province, today is perhaps the least excited city outwardly in the United Kingdom. No more troops have arrived here and none are expected. The residents look to London and to the Curragh camp for their news.

The statement issued by Premier Asquith last night declaring the movements of troops were of a purely precautionary character, has not weakened the determination of the Unionists to be prepared for all eventualities. When Sir Edward Carson, the leader of the Ulster men, read it today he remarked:

"The statement simply represents the position the prime minister has been driven to take. The government has put itself in a ludicrous position, but its action makes no difference to us. We are proceeding steadily with our preparations and organization. We are not in the least affected by anything the government may do or threaten to do. We shall keep steadily in view our main object, which is to prevent ourselves being put by force under a government we detest."

HENDRIX SUCCEEDS HALL AS LIEUTENANT-COLONEL

Will Be Named Tonight at Election of Fifth Georgia Regiment

At the election of officers of the Fifth Georgia regiment to be held at the armory Monday evening at 8 o'clock Major Walter C. Hendrix will be named lieutenant colonel, vice Colonel Orville H. Hall, who was recently elevated to commander, following the resignation of Colonel Edgar E. Pomeroy.

This fact became known Monday morning when it was learned all opposition to Major Hendrix had vanished and that it was practically certain that he would be unanimously elected.

With the elevation of Major Hendrix there will be a vacant majorship, which will be filled by the election of one of the twelve captains of the Fifth regiment.

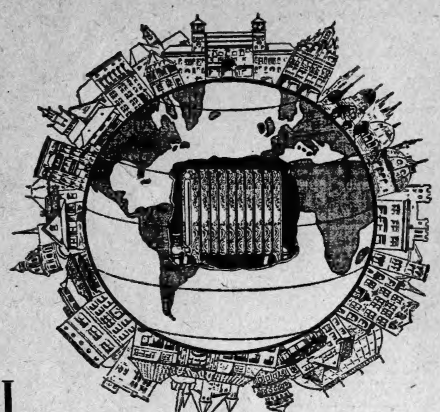

BLACK MINORCA HEN LAYS ENORMOUS EGG

Ben Lala, of 94 Dodd avenue, took another look at his Black Minorca hens Monday morning when he found a prize egg in the nest in his back yard. He wanted to ascertain which one was responsible for the big egg he found. The egg measured 6 1-2 inches around the shortest way and eight inches around lengthwise.

Mr. Lala has been busy Monday morning exhibiting his treasure and telling what he uses as chicken feed.

Ideal heat the world around!

The best thing anywhere soon becomes the best thing everywhere, spread abroad by the quickening conditions of present day commerce. It is probably not surprising to you to learn therefore that our heating outfits are fast finding users in Alaska, Greenland, Iceland, and Siberia. But it may be at least informing to say that in Japan, China, Australia, Argentine, Chili, Egypt, Arabia, India, Siam, Corea, Venezuela, Mexico, South Africa, and other countries where the climate is cold or damp or where the people have to live in the near-by mountain heights to escape tropic dangers at the ports, you will find many users of the justly famous

AMERICAN RADIATORS & IDEAL BOILERS

This recognition of the perfection and supremacy of IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators is best attested in the adoption of these heating outfits by eminent officials, upon the high endorsements of boards of distinguished scientists, engineers and architects, for use in heating and fire-protecting such cherished buildings as

The White House	The Vatican	Westminster Abbey	Louvre	Kaiser's New Palace	Canadian Parliament Bldgs.
Independence Hall	Doge's Palace	Marlborough House	Ecole Polytechnique	Berlin Dom	Royal Palace Madrid
Old North Church	Uffizi Gallery	British Museum	Pasteur Institute	Deutsche Bank	Royal Palace Tokio
Old Boston State House	Palace Devanzati	Warwick Castle	Musee De Cluny	Czar's Summer Palace	Pekin Legation Bldgs.
U. S. Capitol	Roman Senate	Bank of England	Palais de Institut	Sultan's Palace	Royal Palace, Sofia, etc.

IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators have within the past few years been put in hundreds of other notable buildings, palaces, institutions, universities, schools, churches, stores, flats, etc., of America and other countries. And best of all, these outfits have already been put into many hundred thousands of humble homes, old and new, farm and city. In countries where every penny counts in the practice of domestic science, these heating outfits are thoroughly appreciated by the old world's people. If Americans were not so wasteful, no inhabited building of any kind in this country would be without an outfit of IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators.

A No. 2-22-W IDEAL Boiler and 461 ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $225, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent Fitter. This did not include costs of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which are extra and very according to climatic and other conditions.

IDEAL Boilers are safer and easier to run than stoves, and their cleanliness reduces housework one-half. They will last as long as the building and need no repairs. Accept no substitute.

They save so much in fuel, need so little care, protect the family health, do away with repair bills, give vastly longer life to furnishings because of absence of ash-dust, soot and coal-gases, will wear as long as the building stands and finally enable one to sell or rent his property at quicker, higher price.

Don't wait until you build—comfort your present home. Our foundries are so located at home and abroad that they save heavily in freight and handling between maker and user. Sold at prices no greater than asked for inferior apparatus. Fully guaranteed. Accept no substitute. Call, phone or write today for free catalog, "Ideal Heating." Prices are now most attractive. Act now, when you can be sure to get the services of the most skillful fitters!

M. RICH & BROS. CO. SILK DRESS SALE

Fresh From Their Tissue Paper Wrappings Come Upwards of Four Hundred Sparkling New Silk Dresses to Sell at

$16.75

Instead of the $25, $30 and $35 for which they were made to sell

A Sale of Silk Dresses wherein opportunity is writ large.

Never before at the start of the season---nay, even before Easter---have we had the newest silk dresses to sell at half price and less.

The sale is amazing; the values tax your belief.

Yet the dresses are here; your own judgment will tell you the values are just as stated.

As a matter of fact, because of the influx of these new dresses, we have had to mark down some of our regular $35 dresses to $16.75---we couldn't expect to get full price for them when identical or similiar styles were marked at $16.75.

But come see the dresses! Note the rich materials---the charming chiffon taffetas; the rich crepe de chine; the fashionable crepe poplins. Try them on---observe the smart lines---each dress perfect to the last buttonhole stitch.

The Dresses Are the "Clean-Up" Lot of One of New York's Best Dress Makers

Summer contracts for cotton goods forced him to clear his racks of all silk Dresses. Our buyer was on the spot and took the lot---something over four hundred in all. To these we have added certain similar or identical styles from stock.

Twenty-five Styles in All in Street and Afternoon Dresses---Black and Colors

Every smart style is incorporated in these dresses --- tunic and tiered skirts; flounces and flanges; bustle and bouffant draperies. COUPLE HIT BY TRAIN ON TRESTLE WILL RECOVER

Edward Huie and Mabel Bigby Have Narrow Escape From Death

Advices received from the Atlanta hospital early Monday morning conveyed the information that Edward L. Huie, the young senior at Tech, and Miss Mabel Bigby, of 389 Spring street, who were tossed from a trestle near the plant of the Empire Cotton Oil company, north of the city, by the Seaboard Express, No. 8, New York to New Orleans, late Sunday afternoon, rested easily during the night and appear to be somewhat improved after their narrow escape from death.

As a result of the accident, it is thought by attending physicians that Huie's skull is fractured. Miss Bigby however, is not so seriously hurt. She is suffering merely from a severe shaking up and extreme nervousness. It is not believed that she received internal injuries.

Miss Bigby is a sister of Mrs. Allen Marsh and of Mrs. Harry Clark, whose husband is cotton buyer for the Exposition Cotton Mills.

From what can be learned of the affair, Miss Bigby had accompanied Huie to the plant of the cotton oil company that he might make an inspection of it to better equip him in the preparation of a thesis for graduation. Returning to the city, they were walking over a railway trestle, when train No. 8, thirty minutes late, came into sight from around a curve. Both ran, but despite the efforts of the engineer to stop by applying the emergency brakes, they had gone but ten feet when the pilot of the locomotive knocked them off into a dry gulley.

Members of the train crew rushed to the aid of the couple and they were taken to the Atlanta hospital without delay.

LANE TO VISIT ALASKA AND PLAN FOR RAILROAD

Secretary Is Expected to Select Route While on Trip This Summer

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—To get first hand information in connection with the construction of the government's railroad in Alaska, recently authorized by Congress at a cost of $35,000,000, Secretary Lane, of the department of the interior, as the personal representative of President Wilson, will make an extended trip to Alaska the coming year.

Arrangements for the trip are already under way and it is expected the secretary will be accompanied by the commission of engineers to select the route for the proposed railroad, the members of which have not been announced by the president. It is probable Secretary Lane will decide on the route of the line while in Alaska. It is also expected that most of his time while there will be taken up with organization work, negotiations with existing railroads and the study of problems relating to the developing of Alaska's resources.

SPRING HAS COME, FOR AUTOISTS ARE SPEEDING

County Policemen Make Cases Against Nine Speeders on Sabbath Day

County Policemen Haynie and McCrary, despite the fact that the mercury registered only a few points above freezing, say they found an unmistakable sign of spring on Peachtree road Sunday.

The sign of spring, they say, was an epidemic of speeding.

During the more or less quiet Sabbath they lodged charges of speeding and reckless driving against four autoists and five motorcycle riders.

In fact the two officers, who ride motorcycles themselves, were busy practically the entire day riding down speed fiends and serving them with court summonses.

Roosevelt's Sister Sees "Judge Briles" in Action And Thinks It "Bully"

RECORDER BROYLES AND MRS. DOUGLAS ROBINSON.

Mrs. Douglas Robinson, on Visit to Old Home at Roswell, Sits on Rostrum With Recorder and Is "Dee-lighted" With His Methods

"Judge, Ah give dat nigger de leas' li'l tap, honest to Gawd!"

"That don't help you, Roscoe," said Judge Broyles. "$10.75."

A woman sitting on the rostrum in Judge Broyles' court Monday morning leaned forward with a dazzling smile.

"That's bully!" she said.

Can you remember where you heard that "bully" stuff last? It's been a long time since it's been talked about, we grant you, and probably it's more familiar to South America than it is to North America now.

Well, the old family expression cropped out again Monday morning and it cropped out in the recorder's court where Mrs. Douglas Robinson, sister of Colonel Roosevelt, who with her husband is visiting her ancestral home at Roswell, Ga., near Atlanta, was an interested spectator.

Mrs. Robinson has the Roosevelt smile and the Roosevelt good humor and the Roosevelt enterprise and the Roosevelt expressions. She says "bully" and "dee-lighted" just like the Colonel.

"I have heard so much about Judge Broyles," was the way she explained her Monday visit to police court. "That I couldn't bear to leave Atlanta without seeing him in action."

SITS WITH THE JEDGE.

So Monday morning she sat on the rostrum while the judge dispensed justice to the southern negro with one hand and words of advice with the other.

"Isn't it wonderful!" said Mrs. Robinson. "Now it perfectly wonderful! I think he's just great! He's just what a judge ought to be. He's stern, but he's human. O—I'll just say he's bully and that will express it all right."

"Ed Lewis!" called the clerk.

Ed was a "yaller" negro who was charged with fighting it out with George Harvey, black and fat, when a "highbrown" was chased out of a box car the other night.

Mrs. Robinson took it all in with greedy eyes.

Ed protested his innocence vehemently. "Dat man was Gawge Harvy what hit de gal jedge. Me? Why, jedge, Ah wusn't anywhars roun' dar. Ah wus fifty miles 'way f'um dar, Ah reckon."

"I feel sorry for George," whispered Mrs. Robinson to her husband. "They all lay it on George. It looks like!"

A colored girl was explaining just how she happened to get a livid welt over her eye.

"Gawge done it," she declared. "He tried to git mah 'roxide, jedge. Ain't gonna let no nigger git mah 'roxide."

Mrs. Robinson was mystified. What was "roxide," she wanted to know. Somebody explained that peroxide was meant.

"How perfectly killing!" said Mrs. Robinson, in a gale of laughter.

"How about this, John Henry?" asked the judge of the next case. "Were you drunk?"

"Sho', now, jedge, you knows Ah was drunk," grinned John Henry, and was fined $5.75.

ONLY TRUTHFUL WITNESS.

"That's the only perfectly truthful witness yet," said Mrs. Robinson. "He's wise. He knows that honesty is the best policy."

She exclaimed "how pitiful!" when a white-faced, shaking drug fiend pleaded with the judge to be sent to the asylum, and again went off into gay laughter when a "drunk" explained that his new shoes made him stumble along the street.

"It all sounds so strange to me," she said. "This southern negro dialect. It's most awfully interesting to me, too, and part of it is simply killing. Don't you get fearfully cynical listening to all this, judge?"

Judge Broyles smiled slowly. "Yes, I do sometimes. It makes me feel blue pretty often."

"Will you pose for a picture?" Mrs. Robinson was asked.

"Well, that's something I've never done," she replied. "The newspapers tried to get me in New York, but I never would pose. But this time—well, I will. Dee-lighted!"

Mrs. Robinson and her husband are at the Georgian Terrace. They leave Monday night for Savannah, and later will return to their home in New York City.

BURGLARS SURPRISED, BUT GET OFF WITH JEWELS

Two Women See Negroes Robbing Their Home on Courtland Street

City detectives are searching for two negroes, who on Saturday afternoon secured $800 worth of jewelry by burglarizing the residence at 575 Courtland street, occupied by E. H. Fell, assistant general passenger agent of the A. B. & A. railroad, and by D. G. Wise.

Mrs. Fell and Mrs. Wise, sisters, returned to the residence late in the afternoon and surprised the burglars at their work, but too late to save the jewelry.

When the two ladies walked in the front door, they heard running footsteps and by rushing to the rear of the house were able to see two negroes running through the back yard.

Several rooms had been visited by the daylight burglars, and they were in confusion, showing that the negroes had started in to thoroughly ransack the house.

The movements of the two men were traced in the snow. It appears that first they rang the door bell, finding that no one was at home. Then going to a window about fifteen feet away from the street they smashed the glass. After entering they secured a diamond brooch valued at $300; a diamond locket worth $100; a watch valued at $50; $15 in cash, and several stickpins and other trinkets besides a large amount of wearing apparel.

ATTORNEY TO DIRECT SUFFRAGE CAMPAIGN

At a conference Saturday of the executive committee of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, Leonard J. Grossman, attorney, was selected director of publicity in the campaign for the cause.

Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, president of the association, nominated Mr. Grossman, and resolutions were adopted requesting him to join the Ad-Men's club, for the purpose of getting in touch with live wires in the realm of publicity.

Mr. Grossman will have charge of a state-wide organization of press-committees, she in each assembly district, where there exists a local suffrage league auxilliary to the state association.

Talked and Sang for Ten Years Without a Tongue; Man Is Dead

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 23.—Thomas J. McGuire, aged fifty-seven years, veteran theatrical manager, who talked and sang ten years without a tongue, died yesterday of cancer. It was his love for cigars that caused the loss of his tongue. He smoked from twenty-five to thirty cigars almost every day for more than twenty years. Cancer of the tongue developed. One operation failed in March, 1904. Mr. McGuire greeted his friends for what he believed was the last time and submitted to an operation in which virtually the whole tongue was removed.

To the surprise of the surgeons the patient almost immediately showed signs of recovery and within four months he was being interviewed upon the sensations he was experiencing in his life without a tongue.

But then only voices of the questioners sounded in the interviews. He wrote his answers. Several months later Mr. McGuire discovered that his power of speech had not been destroyed. He said he found singing easier than talking.

A Million Dollar Discovery

For half a century Doctors and Druggists have said: "The man that can take the gripe and nausea out of PoDophyllin or May-Apple Root will make a million dollars."

PoDoLax is a May-Apple Root formula. May-Apple grows wild and our ancestors discovered that the root would release the Bile that had become clogged or dammed up in the Liver.

Encyclopaedia Britannica says: "Podophyllin—a popular remedy much used by those averse to calomel and mercurial preparations. Is sometimes called 'Vegetable Mercury.' Is from May-Apple Root."

It is agreed that the Liver is a strainer, taking the Bile from the blood and converting into a disinfectant for the bowels. When the Bile clogs or dams up in the Liver, it is said to quit acting. The truth is that it is so full of dammed-up Bile it can't strain out the poisons thrown into the blood.

You can take PoDoLax daily, and grow stronger every day. It is not cathartic or purging, but gently releases the Bile necessary to Nature's own method of purification and assimilation. You may not be your brother's keeper, but you are responsible for your family. A 50c bottle of PoDoLax will keep every member of your family in fine condition. Try it.

MANY ENTERTAINED BY NOTED SINGER

Before a most enthusiastic audience, Mrs. J. W. Hurt, the noted soprano singer, rendered "Ava Maria" at the Kraft organ recital at the auditorium Sunday afternoon, and received such applause that she responded with three other songs.

The recital was one of the most successful held in some weeks. George F. Lindner played the violin obligao to "Ava Maria," with Miss Edn Bartholomew at the piano and City Organist Edwin Arthur Kraft at the organ.

The "Rhapsody" of Cole, dedicated to Organist Kraft, also received much applause.

BIGGEST WEEK OF EASTER GIFT CAMPAIGN AT HAND

Work Done During This Week in All Probability Will Win the Prizes

With a new enthusiasm, born of the unequalled opportunity offered every candidate in The Atlanta Journal's Big Easter Gift Campaign during this time, every one who expects to figure in the big prize-winning is going to show real speed and earnest work from now on. This week is the biggest week of the entire campaign, and every candidate is going to seize the opportunity to build up his or her vote total. Every subscription counts now far more than it ever did before, and with the shortness of time remaining, the ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD, the three splendid Studebaker and Paige-Brunswick touring cars, the cash awards, diamonds and other prizes are not going to be won without a determined effort.

Success lies within the grasp of the appreciative candidate this week, and no candidate can let this chance pass by without forfeiting his or her chance to win. This is the big time. Work now counts more than it ever has before or ever will again, and the renewal subscriptions secured during this week will, in a measure, determine to whom the handsome prizes will be awarded on April 11.

THREE STRENUOUS WEEKS.

Just three short weeks from last Saturday night the Big Easter Gift Campaign will come to a close, and into each of every candidate's hands are three strenuous weeks of earnest and determined work. You cannot win without an effort, but determined work during these three weeks, and especially during this week, you can become the possessor of a handsome prize, far beyond your wildest dreams—a prize that will make your life one continued round of pleasure, and one that will amply repay you for every bit of effort put forth during the campaign. Time is flying and will fly faster as the end draws nearer. Seize the opportunity while it is before you, candidate of the future, and by real effort during these days, make certain of winning even the very top prize, and it is certain that no one is going to allow this chance to slip away when a little effort now will bring such a handsome award on April 11.

Compare the value of your time with the value of the rewards in store for workers. Did you ever have such an opportunity offered you, or was any time ever so valuable as it is now? Certainly not. And probably your time never again will be so valuable as it is during these three short weeks. Make up your mind to win, stick to the determination and success will crown your efforts when the last votes are counted. Votes—these are things to remember. These are the only things that will bring you success. Every one counts, and every subscription you turn in is valuable that you cannot afford to overlook a single one. Work while you may, for after the campaign is closed and if you have not done your best, you will only regret that you didn't try while there was time. Many and many a candidate will be saying after the campaign closes, "Oh, if I had only worked a little harder, I could have won that $1,000 in gold or one of those handsome automobiles." Of course, you could have done so, and right now, before it is too late, let us impress upon you the necessity of your chances, and the necessity of real effort if you want to be named as one of the big prize winners. You can do it. Try and see. If you are not afraid of a little work, you can win a prize that you will never forget. But—this week is the important one. Don't let it pass by without at least an effort. If you do you will be sorry. Just three weeks and all will be over. Make hay while the sun shines. And don't forget—that this week is the biggest and most important week of the entire campaign for every candidate, and that the work done during this week is exactly what will place your name at the top of the list three weeks from last Saturday night.

THREE AUTOS STOLEN FROM CENTER OF CITY

Dr. J. H. Crawford Among Those Who Lost Their Machines Sunday

The theft of three automobiles in downtown Atlanta Sunday afternoon had detectives busily at work Monday morning. None of them had been recovered by noon.

Dr. J. H. Crawford reported to the police that he came to his office in the Grant building at 1 o'clock Sunday morning, leaving a $4,000 Stearns car on the Walton street side. When he came down from his office to go to dinner at 1 o'clock the automobile was gone.

Late during the afternoon Dr. Crawford's machine was wrecked on Stewart avenue, and residents in the neighborhood state that they saw five men, one of whom was evidently a cripple, abandon the machine after they had driven it into an embankment.

The Overland garage reported that a two-seated Overland car was taken from the Atlanta Top and Trimming company on Lee street Sunday afternoon by two young men and two girls who came there and said it was theirs. The chauffeur is said to have been late Sunday evening driving toward the Chattahoochee river in the car. It has not been seen since.

Dr. Allen H. Bunce reports his car was stolen from in front of the Grant building Sunday afternoon.

REGAINS HEALTH AND RETURNS TO DUTIES

Charles Furlow, for several years assistant state treasurer and who resigned about six years ago on account of impaired health, has resumed service with the state for the time in the capacity of a bank examiner. During the past six years Mr. Furlow has engaged in farming in Habersham county and the out-door life has completely restored his health.

RATE EXPERT RETURNS FROM TOUR OF STATES

Prince Webster, rate expert for the state railroad commission, has just returned from a trip which took him to Tallahassee, Fla., Montgomery, Ala., Nashville, Tenn., and Frankfort, Ky. He made this trip to confer with the railroad commissions of the four states named and secure certain information bearing on the rates of public utility corporations.

THEATERS

(Criticisms of initial performances at the local theaters are written by members of The Journal staff. All other matter appearing in this column is furnished by the theater management.)

No attraction secured for the Atlanta theater management the current season has stirred up a greater local interest than the engagement of Neil O'Brien, the popular and famous minstrel, who, with his organization of fifty people, will appear at the Atlanta tonight and Tuesday at the Tuesday matinee, in an entertainment of minstrelsy described as quite the most elaborate and biggest production of its kind the American stage has witnessed since the inception of burnt cork comedy.

One hundred of the handsomest women of the world are employed in the chorus of "Ziegfeld Follies," the massive musical comedy attachment which is to return to the Atlanta Wednesday and Thursday with a Thursday matinee. This engagement will mark the only presentation here of "Ziegfeld Follies." The organization is making a special four weeks' tour of the principal cities of the south.

Sam Chip and Mary Marble, old favorites in Atlanta, and among the most distinguished headliners in the profession, will be the star offering at the Forsayth. They will present Herbert Hall Winslow's delightful picture book playlet, "The Land of Nod." John P. Dunne has given the act a magnificent stage mounting and the two stars have secured specialty numbers that will fit wonderfully to their present popularity.

A feature that will count considerably in the drawing of the week will be a series of lifelike motion pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle, the world famous dancers. It is impossible to secure the dancers for a tour of the circuits, so the Orpheum people have done the next best thing in securing these pictures, and they have been received with wonderful interest in the vaudeville theaters of the circuit. Charlie Howard, James Ratliff and Dorothy Hayden, "A Happy Combination," will offer one of the best acts in modern vaudeville, and the Great Asahi and his troupe of wonderful Japanese musicians and gymnasts will be a feature that will add to the quality of the offering. The Prescotts, in a mind reading novelty; Herbert and Claribel Farson, in a new sketch; Hilda Morton the singing comedienne, and The Two Tomboys, in an European acrobatic novelty, are the other features to a bill that will be one of the strongest of the season.

DR. M'CALLIE INVITED TO JOIN GOOD ROADS SCOUTS

State Geologist Asked to Accompany Government Party From Augusta to Atlanta

Dr. S. W. McCallie, state geologist, has received a telegram requesting him to come to Augusta March 25 and join the scouting party authorized by the government to blaze the trail for a modern highway from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta. The party will come from Augusta to Atlanta via Athens.

State and county officials along the highway from Washington to Atlanta are arranging to provide an adequate supply of labor for continuous maintenance and patrol of the highways under direction of government engineers who are to be assigned to the work that there may be harmonious and uniform methods along the entire route.

The scouting party consists of Captain P. St. J. Wilson, assistant director of the United States office of public roads; Leonard Tufts, chairman of the maintenance committee of the American Highway association; George F. Coleman, state highway commissioner of Virginia; Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, state geologist of North Carolina; Preston Belvin, president State Automobile association of Virginia; Col. Benjamin Cameron, of Starville, North Carolina; George C. Scales, W. L. Spoon and D. H. Winslow, highway engineers of the United States office of public roads.

RECEIVES FATAL WOUNDS IN FIGHT IN BARBER SHOP

J. B. Henson Taken in Custody After Death of William Lawson

William Lawson, a foreman at the Exposition Cotton mills, died at the Grady hospital Monday morning as the result of bullet wounds received Sunday night in a fight in a barber shop at Chestnut and Marietta streets.

A short time after his death, J. B. Henson, of 16 Circle street, accused by spectators of having fired the fatal shot, was taken in custody and lodged at police headquarters.

Henson, while admitting he was in a row with another man at the time, and that in the melee he was kicked by Lawson, denies that he shooting and says he did not have a revolver.

DEMONSTRATION IN DIABETES

In proof of the fact that Hepatic degeneration can be successfully opposed and sugar eliminated in many cases of Diabetes in people aged fifty and upwards, on May 6th, 1912, we published in San Francisco dailies an offer to the effect that if any four physicians in good standing in this city would send us a Diabetic between fifty and seventy years of age, strong enough to call at our office, showing high specific gravity, thirst and a large quantity of sugar, we would attempt to return the patient in 60 days with little or no sugar eliminated and thirst and symptoms largely reduced and on the road to recovery.

Later we published the name and address of a Diabetic patient with an invitation to physicians to take samples and make their own tests, and thus see the sugar declining week by week.

The ability of Fulton's Diabetic Compound to reduce sugar in many cases of Diabetes in people of fifty and upwards is not a matter of opinion but a FACT IN PHYSICS and we will send formula for sugar test that will show the percentage of sugar from week to week. As the sugar disappears improvement commonly follows, recoveries having been reported in many cases. Formula and literature mailed on request. John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco. Edmondson Drug Co., 11 N. Broad St. and 104 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, are local agents. Ask for pamphlet. (Advt.)

MAYOR WANTS PLAZA BONDS UNENCUMBERED

Plaza Committee and Grady Hospital Committee to Discuss Bonds Tuesday

A meeting of the plaza committee, which comprises representatives of the city government, the chamber of commerce and the city at large, has been called for Tuesday afternoon in the mayor's office for the purpose of hearing from the recently appointed ways and means committee of Grady hospital.

The latter committee is charged with the duty of devising ways and means of raising $75,000 or thereabouts which is needed to increase the facilities of Grady hospital.

The committee is considering a bond issue as the most feasible, if not the only, means of raising the money, and Mayor Woodward's statement, carried exclusively in The Journal last Friday, to the effect that he placed the plaza project ahead of all other municipal improvements and will oppose any bond issue unless the plaza bonds be first provided for, makes it seem necessary for the hospital committee and the plaza committee to confer with the mayor before the hospital committee proceeds further. So it was at the request of the hospital committee that the plaza committee was called.

Mayor Woodward, discussing the two projects Monday morning, made it his statement that the plaza comes first with him, and he went further and said he is hardly willing even for the hospital bonds to be tied in with a plaza bond issue.

"I want the plaza bond issue to be submitted to the people without any encumbrance," said he. "I don't want the Grady hospital or anything else to be hitched on as a tail to the plaza kite. I am of the opinion that the people haven't a good taste in their mouths regarding bonds, and I am inclined to doubt if they would vote bonds for anything except the plaza. These bonds can be so arranged that they will not bother the city a dollar, the property owners agreeing to take care of the interest and the sinking fund. This being the case, I think the people would approve a bond issue for the plaza. I might be willing for Grady hospital bonds to be submitted as a separate proposition in the same election when plaza bonds are voted on, but I would insist that this be the arrangement, so that the people could vote the plaza bond but turn down everything else if they wanted to."

The plaza committee consists of W. A. Fimbish, John W. Grant and R. M. Clayton, from the city at large; Mayor Woodward and Wilmer L. Moore, representatives of the chamber of commerce; Councilmen Claude Ashley, Aldermen John S. Candler and Alderman C. H. Kelley, from the city government.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. W. S. SCHERRER.

Mrs. W. S. Scherrer, aged seventy-four years, died early Monday morning at the residence of her son, D. Scherrer, on Princeton avenue in College Park. She is survived by her husband and one son. The body will be taken Monday afternoon to Notasulga, Ala., for funeral and interment.

MR. WILLIAM LAWSON.

Mr. William Lawson, who was shot Saturday night in a barber shop at 750 Chestnut street, died Sunday night at the Grady hospital. The body is at Harry G. Poole's, where an inquest will be held.

MR. ALLEN JACOWAY.

Mr. Allen Shook Jacoway, aged forty years, died Sunday at 12 o'clock at his home in Trenton, Ga. He is survived by two brothers in Atlanta, J. B. and F. D. Jacoway; two brothers, W. Jacoway, of Trenton; W. D. Jacoway, of Buffalo, N. Y., and G. H. Jacoway, of Chattanooga. Funeral and interment will be Monday in Trenton.

MR. R. N. BERRIEN.

Mr. R. N. Berrien, of Atlanta, died suddenly Sunday morning in Millen, Ga., where he was visiting relatives. He had been ill several weeks. His home in Atlanta is at 60 St. Charles avenue. He was an insurance man and was well known in insurance circles. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anns Davant Berrien; by one son, M. D. Berrien, of Tallulah Falls; a sister, Miss Frances B. Berrien, of Rome; a nephew, R. N. Berrien, of Atlanta, and two nieces, Misses L. M. and Margaret Berrien, of Washington and New York City. Funeral arrangements will be completed later.

ATLANTA NOW READY FOR BIG CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

Commerce Committee Advises All Residents to Begin at Once

A movement for a general cleaning-up campaign in Atlanta took definite shape Monday when the street committee of the Atlanta chamber of commerce decided to take an active hand in the campaign.

It was the announced determination of the committee that Atlanta should not wait until the big Shrine meeting in May to get into a spic and span condition, but that the clean-up should be complete by the beginning of the grand opera season on April 27th.

With this idea in view the committee adopted resolutions calling upon the citizens of the city to get busy at once and clean up their yards, paint their homes and outhouses and whitewash fences. It was decided to mail out a letter to every member of the chamber of commerce asking his hearty co-operation in the campaign and to request the merchants of the city to place posters and signs in their display windows calling attention to the campaign.

Property owners are urged to tear away all unsightly signs, to gather and burn all trash on vacant lots and in yards, and to be liberal in the use of paint and whitewash.

Later the committee will take up with the city authorities the matter of improving the streets, such as filling all holes and repairing all pavements, and Chief John Jentzen, of the city sanitary department, will be asked to have his forces co-operate in the general clean-up.

The chamber of commerce street committee met at noon Monday and the members were enthusiastic over the outlook for getting Atlanta into proper garb before the grand opera season. Those who compose the committee are: B. M. Grant, chairman; F. O. Foster, J. B. Campbell, D. W. Yarbrough, Fred Hoyt, R. S. Wessels, S. L. Rhorer and John B. Kearney.

FOURTEENTH BANK IN THOMAS COUNTY FORMED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 23.—A bank was organized in the town of Metcalfe in this county last week with E. M. Smith, president; J. W. Horne, vice president, and W. O. Carter, cashier.

The organization of this bank gives Thomas county fourteen banks in all, ten outside of Thomasville. All of these banks are reported in good condition, which speaks well for the amount of business done in the county.

PIMPLES ECZEMA

Itching Humors, Risings, Boils. Smith's Blood Syrup Fine for These Troubles

Hard work, worry and the coming of spring weakens the blood and we have all sorts of itching humors, eczema, risings, boils, offensive pimples, swellings, blood-tumors—we feel tired and all played out, we have bad breath, spots flying before the eyes, hands and legs trouble and can't stand exposure to the weather. The moment you feel as above or have aching bones or any blood humors, get a bottle of Smith's Blood and Liver Syrup from any reliable druggist. Take a spoonful in a glass of water after meals and on retiring. Also eat plenty of nourishing food. When the blood becomes pure and rich, and your skin takes on the rich, red glow of perfect health and your body is charged with healthy condition. Aches and pains and itching stop. All sores are healed. Smith's Blood and Liver Syrup has been used for generations to purify the blood. It is made from an old Indian formula and is dispensed by most druggists in big half quart bottles at only $1, or sent, postage prepaid by John B. Daniel, 4 Wall st., Atlanta, Ga.—(Advt.)

HELD IN SPARTANBURG FOR A ROBBERY HERE

Man Believed to Have Robbed Home of Mrs. Haden, on Peachtree

Suspected as a thief when he tried to pawn a pair of pearl and gold opera glasses, J. C. Reeves, a white man, was arrested by the Spartanburg police Monday morning. Upon being searched, a diamond brooch, and a pearl necklace were also found.

The man had come from Atlanta, and Chief Beavers was notified by a telegram. The chief thinks the man is the robber of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Haden, 1219 Peachtree street, and has sent a detective to Spartanburg to get him.

Jewel and furs, valued at $400, were stolen from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Haden, 1219 Peachtree street, Thursday.

The theft was reported to the police. Apparently there was nd clue in Atlanta, except that Mr. Haden stated that he believed that thieves, he entered through a front window Thursday when everyone was away from the house, broke open the drawers, and stole the jewels had been taken to a safe deposit box Thursday morning, said Mrs. Haden, for fear of thieves.

A diamond brooch, a pair of gold and pearl opera glasses, a Swiss watch, a pearl necklace and a set of furs were stolen.

To Dedicate Church

DUBLIN, Ga., March 23.—Sunday, April 26, has been named as the time for holding dedicatory services, as the debt on the First Baptist church of this city which was erected four years ago, has been removed and the new building will be formally dedicated at that time.

Rev. Millard A. Jenkins will probably deliver the dedicatory sermon as the church building was begun under his pastorate.

The Trouble in Ireland.

THE question of Irish Home Rule, which has reached a stage so crucial as to threaten Great Britain with cival war, involves two issues—one of politics, and one of religious creed. The vast majority of the people of Ireland demand the right to control their country's internal affairs through a government of their own, as does Canada, or somewhat as do the individual commonwealths of the United States; and the great majority of them, it so happens, are of Catholic faith. They have hoped and striven for this right through long generations, considering it essential to their freedom and progress.

In Ulster, however, the northermost province of the land, there is a group, mostly Protestants, who contend that their religious liberty and commercial interests would not be secure under an Irish parliament, composed so largely, as it would be, of Catholics. It should be noted that by no means all the Protestants of Ulster hold this opinion or are opposed to Home Rule. In fact forty-five per cent of Ulster's population are advocates of Home Rule, so that the minority which stands out against the plan for an Irish parliament is exceedingly small. But it is none the less a very persistent and impassioned minority, so much so, indeed, that it threatens armed rebellion, if the bill now before the British parliament providing for the establishment of Home Rule is put into effect.

This measure has passed the House of Commons at two successive sessions, and is now on the legislative program for final enactment. Each time it has been rejected by the Lords, but if it passes the Commons a third time, within the life of the present Parliament, it will automatically become a law, despite objection from the upper chamber. The Liberal ministry is determined that the bill shall be urged to enactment at the present parliamentary session. The Unionist, or as we in America would say, the "reactionary" party, supports Ulster sentiment and insists upon an appeal to the electorate before the twenty-fifth on the bill is taken. To this, the Liberals reply that in recent years they have twice appealed to the country on issues among which Home Rule was conspicuous, and that the majority of votes cast in bye-elections during the last twelvemonth have been in favor of Home Rule, so that their mandate from the people is clear. There is no need nor occasion, the Liberals argue, to order a general election merely to please or serve their political opponents. And, so, with the final passage of the Home Rule bill imminent and with the protesting element of the Ulsterites seemingly more than ever determined to resist Home Rule by armed force, the situation is graver than any England has known for long decades.

A glance toward the personages who figure in this contest will make the issue clearer. The leader of the Ulsterites is Sir Edward Carson. He has openly preached rebellion to his Irish followers, has promoted the organization of a volunteer army in northeastern Ulster and urges resort to arms, if Home Rule is put into operation. Sir Edward is supported in Parliament by Bonar Law, leader of the Unionist, or anti-Liberal party.

The difference between the motives of these two men are noteworthy. Sir Edward Carson has been credited by a neutral observer of the situation with "thinking quite honestly of Ulster and of what he conceives to be for the interest of the province," but Mr. Bonar Law and his party associates "are more concerned to gain a political advantage which may place them in power than they are to attain an equitable settlement of the question." The Ulsterites may be credited with sincerity of conviction, however mistaken or misguided they can be. But the Unionists, as a party, seem to have played politics, to have taken advantage of a dangerous occasion to serve partisan ends, and to have tolerated, if not encouraged, a spirit of sedition and lawlessness. One can understand how intense feeling on matters of church and creed might impel a mass of people to violence, but it is rather difficult to see on what ground of honor and right responsible leaders in national life can foment such prejudice to the point of war.

The Home Rulers are represented in Parliament by the so-called Irish Nationalist party, of which John Redmond is leader. To the Irish Nationalists, the Liberal ministry is uncommonly indebted, for, without their support the ministry could not have carried forward its great program of reform legislation. The Nationalists are concerned first of all with securing Home Rule for Ireland; they have stood faithfully by the Liberal program because it included Irish Home Rule. Premier Asquith and his associates in the Government feel bound, therefore, fully to redeem their pledge to their Irish allies. They believe, too, that Home Rule in Ireland's natural right, that it will make for the material development and the social progress of that country and that in the long run it will strengthen the British empire. Hence, they stand firmly by their policy in spite of rebellious Ulster.

It should be said, however, that the Liberals have not been arbitrary or dogmatic in their position. They have offered generous terms of compromise, which the Unionists and Sir Edward Carson have refused. Indeed, Mr. Asquith's recent proposals in this connection conceded far more than generally had been expected. Briefly stated, his proposition was that all the counties of Ulster, the only province protesting against Home Rule, should be permitted to choose by popular vote whether they should become a part of the new Irish government, or remain outside its jurisdiction, as their present status for a period of six years. The six-year interval, he argued, would afford an ample test of the working of the Irish parliament and would also give time for sober reflection on the part of all concerned. He expressed the belief that the Ulsterites themselves would conclude that their apprehensions had been groundless, and would realise the practical advantage of joining with the rank and file of their countrymen in a free administration of home affairs.

To disinterested observers, this plan seems fair enough. Only four counties of Ulster oppose Home Rule. These would be permitted to remain independent of the Irish government and under the complete protection of the Imperial Parliament for six years. Meanwhile, there would come two general elections in the United Kingdom, enabling the voters to declare their will. The heat and tumult of the present hour would subside. All factions could discuss the issue far more temperately than now. The four counties of Ulster would lose none of their rights, would waive none of their privileges; the great majority of the Irish people would gain what they desire; and the menace of civil strife would be averted.

But Sir Edward Carson and the Unionists have rejected these reasonable offers. Sir Edward insists that nothing short of unqualified, permanent exclusion of Ulster from the Home Rule plan will suffice, and the Unionists insist that nothing short of an appeal to the country, a general election, will meet their approval. That the Liberals have gone as far as they can consistently go in the matter of compromise, is evident. They are committed to genuine Irish Home Rule as strongly as the Democratic party was pledged to tariff reform. They feel that they have a firm mandate from the people to carry this policy into effect. Their alliance with the Irish Nationalists precludes any other course. The Nationalists, it should be noted, regarded the proposed referendum in Ulster as rather a heavy sacrifice of important parts of the Home Rule, but they were willing, in the interest of peace, to yield. Yet, the Unionists and Sir Edward Carson, while proposing no logical compromise on their own part, flatly reject all pacific plans.

We have said that the Home Rule issue is partly a political and partly a religious question. It is mainly the former. The vehement people of Ulster are doubtless sincere in their suspicion of an Irish parliament dominated by men of a religious faith contrary to their own. However misguided they are, they must be credited with honest conviction. But the fact seems to be that these good people are being used merely as instruments by the forces of reactionary politics in England. It is very doubtful that the House of Lords and the Unionist leaders are concerned with Ulster's religious qualms, but they are tremendously concerned with the economic and social reforms which the Liberal party is bringing to pass. They cannot fail to see that the protest against Home Rule arises from a meager minority, while the great body of Ireland's people are swept with patriotic passion to govern themselves; but they are determined to check by any means, if they can, the progress of English reform. Hence, it appears, they are deaf to compromise on the Home Rule issue; seemingly, they want the question to go its most dangerous length, in the hope that it may overthrow the Liberal Government. Chancellor Lloyd George presented this aspect of the situation forcefully when he said:

> "The country is confronted with the gravest issue in the history of democratic government since the days of the Stuarts. Representative government in this land is at stake. I am here on behalf of the Government to say we mean to confront this defiance of popular liberties with resolute and unwavering determination, whatever the hazard may be. We are not fighting about Ulster or about Home Rule. We are fighting for all that is essential to the civil liberty of this land."

The Liberal ministry has dealt patiently and moderately with the Ulster situation thus far, but evidently the hour for vigorous measures has arrived. No responsible government will tolerate armed rebellion. If the Ulster leaders will not listen to pacific counsel, they must bear the consequence of what may befall. It is inconceivable that the English people, so gifted in the genius of self-government, should suffer to civil war in this enlightened century. Surely, there will come a quiet solution to this grave problem.

England probably wishes Ulster wouldn't be so Mexican in her attitude.

WHEN MR. GOULD PLAYED COVEY.
(From the Sun.)

No man could have tried harder than Covey. Mr. Gould is absolutely the best court tennis player in the world to-day.

Play started with Covey serving, and after he had won the first point, Mr. Gould set him a chase better than a yard, a hazard chase better than a yard. Both these chases Covey lost and, following this, Mr. Gould gave him another better than a yard, which he lost also, and the first game went to the American Champion. Mr. Gould won the second game, Covey losing three chases and hitting a ball into the net. In the third game deuce was called, but a fine shot into the dedans gave Covey the advantage, which he followed up with another winning stroke, thus making the games 2 to 1 against him. Covey lost the fourth game by twice hitting the net and by losing a chase of four and five. Thirty all was called in the fifth game, but a couple of nets by Mr. Gould gave Covey his second game of the set. Covey earned the first point in the sixth game, but two nets and two lost chases lost it to him.

The seventh game was the hardest fought in the four sets. It was remarkable for some long rallies and much volleying. When Mr. Gould obtained the advantage after deuce had been called four times Covey had to beat a yard chase and failing to do so the game went to his opponent. Covey stood no chance in the eighth game, for after winning the first point he was unable to return two magnificent shots from Mr. Gould along the side of the dedans. Following this Covey twice hit the ball into the net and his opponent won the game and set.

Some thrilling shots marked the first game of the second set. Mr. Gould started by shooting the ball past Covey into the dedans and Covey retaliated with a shot that his opponent touched but could not return. Covey placed the second shot in the net, but made thirty all with a beautiful shot to be grille. Mr. Gould's next shot was one of the best of the day. Covey gave him a very difficult shot to handle, but he was quite equal to the occasion and bounced it off the wall into the dedans. The next point was won by Mr. Gould when Covey lost a second gallery chase. This gave the game to Mr. Gould. The same player won the second game very easily, Covey placing three balls in succession into the net and only just touching the fourth.

And so on. There is more than a column of it. But some day Gould may play Mr. Covey.

We would not live alway, live alway below; but we should like to practice respiration until we see a film-show that doesn't bore us.

The Journal's Letter Box

Atlanta, Ga., March 21, 1914.

Editor Journal:

I have been reading with much interest many published articles regarding the great amount of influence that President Wilson has exercised over congress with reference to the Panama canal tolls question. I do not agree or disagree with these articles condemning the president's views on the matter, for the reason that it is a question about which I know very little, however, there is one thing I believe I do know, and that is that the interstate commerce commission is taking an awfully long time to settle the railroad rate increase of 5 per cent, which has been asked for by the railroads and approved by a great many shippers. The business of this country is at a standstill awaiting this decision.

Now, if our president is able to exercise such great influence over congress as it appears that he has done in putting the tariff, currency and tools bills through, I think it would be wise for him to exercise some of that same influence over the interstate commerce commission, and get the rate question settled, so that business may be resumed and the great army of unemployed people may secure employment. The success of the Democratic party depends largely upon immediate action on this very important question. The currency and tariff bills may do all for the good of this country that has been predicted by the party, but neither, so far, has had the effect of stimulating business, and I fear it will be quite some time before the predicted good that is to be derived from these bills will be felt by the unemployed.

The interstate commerce commission has the right to increase freight rates, and it also has the right to decrease the rates therefore, it appears to me that it will be good business on the part of the president to insist upon the granting of this increase now and later, after the physical valuations of the railroads have been completed by the government, and it is found that the railroads can earn fair returns on the actual value of their properties, then the rate may be decreased. In view of the uncertain values that may be placed upon the railroad properties by the government, and the long period of time that may be required for the United States government to get the proper data with which to fix these values, it is impossible for the railroad companies to sell securities to make the much needed improvements and the kind of improvements that afford employment to thousands of people while they are being made, and since the situation has been made so acute by reason of the physical valuation laws that were passed by the Republican party, it would be quite proper for our president to insist upon increased freight rates in order to afford immediate relief.

Press Comment on the Frank Trial

The condemned may be guilty and richly deserving of the fate to which the courts of the state have condemned him. It is not for outsiders to determine this question, but since sentence was imposed the friends of justice all over the country are making a strenuous fight to secure for him a fair trial. The important point in that under the existing conditions a fair trial was impossible, and it would be an indelible stain upon our criminal jurisprudence to deny to a prisoner so placed an opportunity to defend himself before a tribunal qualified to judge the evidence and removed from the pressure of a clamoring multitude bent upon blood. Leo M. Frank's friends have much new evidence which entirely overthrow the story of the chief witness for the prosecution, and they are asking the courts of Georgia for an opportunity for a fair trial. Demoralizing as are the tendencies of our present laxity, it would be far more deplorable to permit the sacrifice of a possibly innocent man because the machinery of our courts is too weak to resist the clamors of a mob thirsting for vengeance.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THE SEARCHLIGHT

A Unique School in England.

Agricultural schools are not new, school gardens do not now provoke surprise, an ordinary school convey like a Georgia mule—to Georgia—is no longer a rare experiment, but the Birley House school in England is altogether unique for the reason that it is an open-air school that teaches metallurgy, agriculture, carpentry, cookery and gives a smattering of the sciences. Every bit of its curriculum is taught out of doors.

To teach farming six little farms are cleared, and around each a different method of fencing is applied to show the boys that there is more than one way to do a thing. Then follows crop rotation with numerous grains and roots. A farmhouse, barn, pig pen, wagon shed, chicken house, dog kennel, etc., are built to complete the miniature farm.

Small deposits of coal, iron ore, copper ore, lead and gold quartz are buried and the children become prospectors. Those who make the lucky strikes develop their own industries. They get laborers from a labor exchange run by one of the boys. Boring is begun, shafts are sunk, the minerals dug out, etc. Then a railroad is built to get the ore to a market. Factories and other industrial factors follow naturally.

In developing the various industries the making of pipes, cements, woodwork and other elements of construction are learned. Practical arithmetic is learned as a matter of course in the measurements and the calculations of distances necessary to all this. The boys also learn, in their gardening course, to make atmospheric calculations.

Decorating Cloth With Wax.

The growth of world consciousness and the gradual drawing of the political lodestone back to Asia, where the life of man began, is familiarizing Occidentals as never before with the arts and crafts of the Orientals. Globe trotters in northern India always admire and usually buy pieces of the wonderful Afridi wax cloth which has been made for centuries in Peshawar, Lahore and Simla. It is now well known to cosmopolitan connoisseurs of rare fabrics in this country, but until recently even they knew very little about the remarkable way in which it is made.

The artisan takes a piece of cloth and prepares to smear it with the wax-like substance which is called "roghan" in India. It consists of the oil pressed from the "kush" seed, sometimes called the wild saffron. It is boiled twelve hours and then thrown into cold water, whereupon it is transformed into a thick gum. After this various colors are mixed with it—yellow from orpiment, red from red lead, white from white lead, etc.

When all is ready the skilled worker takes the roghan cake in his left hand. With his right he takes a big stylus, dips it into the mixture, and, drawing it forth, so handles it that it dangles in a stringy line of several inches from the point of the stylus. As the mixture dangles thus he wiggles it gayly but quickly all over the cloth in beautiful and intricate design. Then he slightly wets the tip of one finger and lightly presses it into the cloth. Flowers and other difficult effects are produced with great ease. Powdered mica or gold leaf sprinkled over the cloth before it dries produces a very rich effect.

Mississippi River Floods

II.—THEIR NATIONAL EFFECT.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

In making their plea to the federal government for assistance in their struggle for mastery of the Mississippi, the brimming shoals of a rigid confinement of this mighty stream within its banks and the protection of their homes and farms from the destruction of its floods, the people of the delta have argued that the problem is sinfold one of national concern. Because of the great part of the country drained through their valley, they maintained it is national. Because of the tremendous destruction of property and wealth effected by each succeeding flood, it is national. That the country's most fertile agricultural lands must be waste under the continual threat of an unruly river is of detriment of the nation. The paralyzing disturbance to commerce and communication are of national importance. By reason of the magnitude of the undertaking for the restraint of the imperious Mississippi, a problem is presented with which a nation alone can cope. While the fact that hundreds of thousands suffer bitter hardships at the caprice of the waters, makes the task of eliminating the flood terror peculiarly a matter for the nation's care.

These contentions have long been generally admitted and, since the creation of the Mississippi river commission in 1879, the federal government has made regular appropriations for carrying on the work of bringing the lower river under control. That the Father of Waters, one of the world's most majestic rivers, is a waterway of far too wide-reaching importance to be administered by any state or group of states but that it must be reserved "as a great common highway to the commerce of the whole country" and devolve upon the care of the federal government, was announced by President Tyler, in his message to congress of June 11, 1844. This acknowledgement of the nation's obligation for the development and regulation of the Mississippi was repeated by Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, James A. Garfield, Chester A. Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft and Woodrow Wilson.

The three great parties in 1912 declared in their platforms for the assumption of the task by the federal government of bringing the Mississippi floods under control. The plank in the Republican platform reads: "We hold that the control of the Mississippi river is a national problem. The preservation of the depth of its water for the purpose of navigation, the building of levees to maintain the integrity of its channel, and the prevention of the overflow of land, and its subsequent devastation, resulting in the interruption of interstate commerce, the disorganization of the mail service and the destruction of life and property, impose an obligation which alone can be discharged by the general government." The Republican and Progressive parties were equally explicit in their recognition of the duty of maintaining the protection of the 20,0t0 square miles of the delta lands.

Despite the long-standing admission of its obligation, the country has watched destructive Mississippi floods come and go throughout 100 years. For thirty-five years the federal government has been prosecuting works in defense of the lower valley and yet, in 1912, the last fearful inundation of the delta swept away millions of dollars in values and made tens of thousands of people homeless and penniless.

That the control of the lower Mississippi, making possible the development of the rich delta lands, would add much more to the wealth of the nation than will come to it through the construction of the Panama canal, is a statistical fact long ago learned by those familiar with the promise of the valley. The estimated cost to the government is about one-seventh of the amount expended in building the great canal.

Further, those who are interested in the highest development of the fruitful south use the Panama canal as illustrative of what the federal government is really able to accomplish when appropriations are made with a will. Through thirty-five years the government has made appropriations for this river work, done a little here and there, while in the same desultory fashion, the states and levee districts have spent equal amounts, and builded here and there as the opportunity seemed best to present itself. Friends of the delta are asking for some definite plans for this great work and some definite prescription for their completion. They are asking that congress map out the whole stupendous task, as was the case at Panama, and then make an appropriation for a certain amount of its achievement from year to year, the supervision of the whole work to be centered under the authority of the army engineers. Heretofore the work has been patchwork and the floods have continued to deprive the people of the valley of all that they have wrought in better seasons. "Give us a Goethals," runs the spirit of their request, "give him, in law, the authority to carry out the work, and aid us to finance the undertaking."

People of the delta have contributed valiantly in their own defense, both out of their incomes and with their labor. Their best efforts, however, have been unsufficing to tame a stream drawing its strength from a vast empire. The drainage basin of the Mississippi river embraces thirty-one states, constituting 41 per cent of the entire area of the United States. In springtime, when the floods are released, the waters of all this area are hurled through the 500 miles of delta land, sweeping in their path, as in a mighty channel, swelling over its banks and deluging the fertile valley. Ruined fields, orchards and pastures, drowned live stock, injured homes, damaged cities and homeless people are the result. The waters which destroy the prosperity and check the growth of the delta come from without.

The magnitude of the wealth destroyed by each succeeding flood is such that no nation, however great, can well support and maintain its people's welfare. Not considering the loss of agricultural produce, the floods of 1912 and 1913 annihilated $100,000,000 worth of property. Taking into consideration the value of agricultural produce destroyed and the extent of the damage done to the next several years production, this loss would mount another tens of millions. Cotton, hardwood lumber, stock, cotton, alfalfa lands, sugar cane plantations, rice crops, oranges and other fruits, expensive factory machinery, railway, telegraph and telephone property, and hundreds of miles of existing levees are all destroyed by the floods.

As a further argument against the short-sightedness which holds it from governmental investment in sufficiently well executed engineering works for the protection of the 20,000,000 acres of rich agricultural land in the delta, attention is called to the fact that about 16,000,000 acres of its land lie undeveloped and waste which, under guarantee of security, might be utilised for the feeding of the nation and the increase of its wealth.

It is pointed out that the world's cotton lands are so limited in extent that proper development and conservation of the cotton resources of each of them make possible the permanent continuance of the supremacy of the United States in the production of this staple, despite the painful efforts of the Germans, French and English to destroy this supremacy by fostering the growth of cotton in their colonies. The lands of the Mississippi delta are peculiarly adapted to cotton cultivation. The finest grades can be grown there, and it is maintained a greater production per acre can be obtained from the delta lands than from other parts of this country's cotton belt. Therefore, it is deduced property protection of the valley from flood devastation might mean the increasing of our greatest cotton crop, 16,000,000 bales, by more than half.

A commission man says the high cost of living is due partly to the unwillingness of farmers to sell directly to consumers. Of course, and everything the farmer buys might be cheaper if manufacturers would drive around the country and sell directly to the consumer, eliminating the middle man.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Old Days of Minstrelsy Revived as Lucien York and Neil O'Brien Meet

Famous Minstrel Who Plays Atlanta Monday and Tuesday Serenades Old Friends Monday Morning.

The bright sun of Monday morning shone down on a crowd gathered thick around M. Rich & Bros. store, on the right line' coats and flaming silk facings of Neil O'Brien's minstrels, oh their gleaming instruments crashing out the strains of "Down in Chattanooga" and on Neil himself cementing a fifteen-year friendship with a firm clasp of Lucien York's hand.

"How goes it, Lucien," said Neil.

NEIL O'BRIEN AND LUCIEN YORK GET TOGETHER AS THEY DID IN ATLANTA FIFTEEN YEARS AGO.

"Fine, Neil," said Lucien York. "Same to you."

And the band broke into "Auld Lang Syne," an eminently fitting tune for Neil O'Brien's minstrels to play in their annual custom of serenading Lucien York, an eminently fitting tune for a meeting between such two old friends.

For Neil O'Brien and Lucien York date back their friendship to "the good old days" of minstrelsy, to the time, nineteen years at Dedlow's old opera house, on Marietta street, to the days of Uncle Dan Emmett, who gave "Dixie" to the world, and to later times when O'Brien played Atlanta with Jack Haverley's last show in '98.

NEVER FORGETS LUCIEN.

Never does Neil O'Brien come to Atlanta but he serenades Lucien York, and between them starts a string of "remember the times." This is his second season with his own show, and all Atlanta that loves a good minstrel performance—and that means all Atlanta that goes to the theater at all—will be packed in the Atlanta theater Monday night or Tuesday afternoon or Tuesday night to forget the troubles of this old world laughing at Neil O'Brien's jokes and hearing Neil O'Brien's songs.

The local chapter of the Knights of Columbus will attend in a body, the Atlanta baseball team will be there en masse and after the show is over there will be a great blow-out for Neil and his boys at the Imperial hotel.

When the minstrels paraded Whitehall street Monday morning, trailing in their wake a stream of darkies, they presented a fine appearance. The spirit moved Neil O'Brien to tell a joke.

"I was in Philadelphia a parading," he said. "And if I do say it, we have the best-looking minstrel parade going. Two men were talking on the street corner. 'Swell parade, ain't it?' said one enthusiastically. 'Humph!' said the other. 'I've noticed that the minstrel parades that make the swell parades generally have the funniest shows, and the other way, about.'"

A BIG DIFFERENCE.

"The only difference about that, Neil," said Lucien York, when he had finished laughing, "is that you make a swell parade and a swell show, too."

It looks like he's about right, for O'Brien's minstrels have simply mopped up on the road this year and are bringing the best lot of talent, songs and jokes that Atlanta has seen or heard in many a long day.

When the crowd gets down in front of the Atlanta theater Monday night there is strong probability that everybody will be doing exactly what Neil O'Brien says a darky did in Beaumont, Texas.

"Two negroes were talking outside the gallery entrance," he said. "One of 'em asked the other, 'Gois' in, bo?' 'Naw,' said the other, 'just listen to dat band. Dat ain't no two-bit music, nigger. Dats two-bit music.' They stood there awhile and pretty soon the band jumped into a hot ragtime piece and the trombone starts tearing up the sheets. The nigger that wasn't going in pats his foot and shakes his head. 'Why don't dey play dat stuff all de time?' he says, swaying and patting. 'Dat's de music.' Lord! Lord!' 'Whang! zipp!' says the trombone and the nigger grabs his head and his pocketbook with both hands. 'There goes mah 'roof bills!' he says and beats it for the gallery."

SURVEY OF OGLETHORPE CAMPUS BEGINS MONDAY

Actual Work on Founding of University Will Be Started at Silver Lake

Actual work on the founding of Oglethorpe university will start Tuesday morning when Charles I. Boyer, civil engineer, will begin a survey of the fifty acres of land near Silver Lake.

Mr. Boyer was awarded the preliminary surveying contract Monday by the trustees of the university. He is a civil engineer in charge of the Charles P. Glover Realty company.

Mr. Boyer states that his survey will take about two weeks. At the conclusion of that time he will draw his plans and present them to the university trustees. Breaking ground will start soon thereafter.

RECIPES OF OUR PIONEER MOTHERS

for the home treatment of disease were wonderfully dependable. True, they knew nothing of drugs, but owed their success to the roots, herbs and barks of the field. It is interesting to note that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful remedy for female ills we have, was originally prepared for home use from one of these recipes. Its fame has now spread from shore to shore, and thousands of American women now well and strong claim they owe their health and happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—(Adv.)

FIRE CAUSES A FAMINE AMONG LOCAL GOLFERS

Every Store in City Sold Out of Sticks and Other Goods

A golf famine—speaking in terms of clubs and balls—swept down on Atlanta Monday in the wake of the fire that destroyed the East Lake club house of the Atlanta Athletic club Sunday night and with it some $7,500 worth of clubs, balls and other athletic paraphernalia that was stored in the lockers of the members.

By noon Monday every store in Atlanta had sold out of golf sticks or had but a dozen or so left, while the record sale for balls, swelling far into the hundreds, was made for all time.

It is estimated that there are about 500 golfers in Atlanta. Of these, about 300 lost every stick they had in the East Lake fire. Every golfer knows that his game is as essential to him as food and drink. Consequently, local sporting goods firms announced Monday afternoon that the sales of golf clubs had been so great that they were absolutely cleaned out, and that Atlanta golf bugs would have to control the fever until Wednesday or Thursday, when new consignments of balls and sticks will arrive.

A. G. Spalding's agency here announced that they sold over 1,000 golf sticks Monday morning and several hundred balls. About $00 of the clubs were bought up by the club professionals, who will resell them to the members.

King Hardware company had sold several hundred clubs by noon and had but a small supply left. Parks-Chambers-Hardwick, the local clothing store, also handles golfing material, and sold several hundred dollars worth during the morning.

ROOSEVELT PARTY LOSES ALL EQUIPMENT IN RIVER

Colonel's Friends Anxiously Await Details of Accident in Brazil

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 23.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's family and friends were anxiously awaiting further advices today regarding the accident by which his party lost its entire equipment in the rapids of a Brazilian river. While no concern, it was stated, was felt for the safety of the former president, it was desirable to learn just how and when the accident occurred and whether the expedition would be abandoned, especially as the party was so far from a base where new equipment could be acquired.

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

The Silks That Will Make the Easter Parade

We do not recall a season in which silks usurped such a large part of the fashions as this one we have just entered.

Silks, silks, silks.

Dainty, demure silks, gracious, glorious silks, rich, regal silks, all to fit in and make the Easter parade of 1914 a most notable one.

We have gathered bountifully, lavishly and yet most carefully. Nothing here just for show, nothing freakish or bizarre—elegance and womanly good taste seem the keynote of the whole display with the result that a woman finds at the unfolding of almost every piece a pattern, a color, a quality she would like for her own.

And now it is turning the time when these silks must be in the making!

Tomorrow will be your best opportunity to see them and to have started with the new dresses.

Varieties are at their best. We warrant a woman much pleasure from a visit to this resplendent silk section right now where are displayed—

Crepes de Chine, $1.75 a yard; 40 inches wide, all colors, the successful new shades, the staple shades and black; the quality is superb!

Crinkle Crepes, $1.75 a yard; 40 inches wide, a crinkly surface, the texture of crepe de chine; a favorite right now. In navy, brown, green, French blue, pink, light, yellow, wistaria, and black and white.

Canton Crepes, $2.50 and $3.50 a yard; a beautiful silk for spring, soft, supple, substantial; street and evening shades; 42 and 44-inch widths.

Ripple Crepes, $2.50 and $3.50 a yard; figured and flowered in beautiful colorings and patterns for spring; novelties of rare charm. 40 inches wide.

Figured Crepes, $2.50 to $5.00 a yard; the rich imported fabrics, patterns and colorings that Paris has sent us, some of them seem to be hand-painted so exquisitely are they colored. 40 and 44-inch widths.

Moire Crepes Meteor, $3.50 a yard; the supple, draping qualities of the crepe meteor and the beauty of the moire in our silk; in navy, bronze, taupe and black. 44 inches wide.

Pussy Willow Taffetas, $2.50 and $3.00 a yard; a world of them, as does fullest credit to their vogue; dainty Dresden patterns, patterns that are bold in color combinations, and then plain shades. 40 inches wide.

Needle Point Crepes, $3.50 a yard; a very soft crepe that has a fine thread running through it; new and much wanted; all the better street shades. 42 inches wide.

Chiffon Taffetas, $1.75 to $2.50 a yard; dependable qualities that lend themselves to the prevailing modes; all colors; 36 inches wide.

Figured Chiffon Taffetas, $2 and $2.25 a yard; 36 inches wide; with these are the many colored changeable taffetas $1.75 to $2.00 a yard; the moire colored taffetas $2.25 a yard; all 36 inches wide.

Foulards, 85c to $1.00 a yard; the choice patterns of Cheney's shower-proof. The 44-inch widths at $2.00 a yard.

Wash Silks, $1.00 and $1.50 a yard; fine in texture; thoroughly dependable qualities; 33 to 36 inches wide. With these are the Jap silks for waists, dresses and underwear; white, light blue, pink, lilac, navy and black. 36 inches wide, at $1.00 a yard.

Women Are Enjoying Their New Spring Suits

Such a day as this and a new Spring Suit!

The one is the complement of the other providing, of course, the suit is as it should be.

And there is one way of making sure that Your suit shall be all that you would have it, all that fashion authorities say it should be.

Choose it here!

The suits that we have gathered this Spring stand out pre-eminently—attractive, smart, modish, with a bit of Paris in most of them.

There is no rule, there is no set form, their beauty is as varied as that of many women; one has this charm, another has that charm and the fun of it all comes in selecting the one from so many that is best adapted to you.

Today's arrivals alone would be sufficient to interest scores and scores of women who are seeking

The Best That $25.00, $29.75, $35.00, and $45.00

would buy.

Many of the most attractive of these are developed in serges, our sturdy and faithful friend of many seasons—but very new as treated now with ruffles and frills. Others are of the crepey weaves, others of failles!

It's a display to be seen and the woman who is thinking suits will hardly fail to see it!

To Miss Levin

The first of a series of parties to be given in compliment to Miss Gladys Levin, whose marriage to Mr. Robert Horace Butters will be an interesting event of the early spring, will be the dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Watson will entertain Tuesday evening in the rose room of the Georgian Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson's guests will include Miss Gladys Levin, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Emerson Brown, Mr. Robert Horace Butters, Mr. E. C. Divine, of Chicago, and Dr. Andor von Coboly.

Mrs. Buchanan's Guests

Mrs. Edward R. Buchanan was hostess at a 500 party Monday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. Louis Reed, of Baltimore, Md.

The living room, in which the game was played, was effectively decorated with jonquils and ferns.

The guest of honor was presented with a cloisonne pin, the prize for top score was a boudoir cap and a piece of hand-made lingerie was given for the consolation prize.

Mrs. Buchanan was gowned in taupe shaded charmeuse and Mrs. Reed wore a becoming toilet of gray silk poplin.

The guests present were Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Robert Turner, Mrs. Charles Ahles, Mrs. Fred Hart, Mrs. Finch, Miss Laura Hart, Miss Rosa Scott, Miss Ina Scott and Miss Louise Wicker.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith to Entertain

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith will entertain at an informal dancing party this evening in Washington, D. C., in compliment to their attractive young daughter, Miss Callie Hoke Smith, who is a debutante of the season in the national capital.

OUR ASTROLOGER

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

HOROSCOPE FOR TUESDAY, MARCH 24, 1914.

Your kindly planets lead
Toward a joyful thought and deed.

This is a lucky day, for although Saturn is in daverse aspect, Mercury and Mars are exercises a strong influence for good, while Venus and Jupiter are also friendly.

The influences are fortunate for actors, sculptors, writers and orators. Mathematicians and schoolmasters should also benefit.

The mind should be alert, receptive and imaginative during this configuration. It is a favorable time to attend to educational matters, draw up contracts and make plans for future enterprises.

Advertising is subject to astral rule, which tends to bring large returns, the seers declare. It is an auspicious day for exploiting persons in public life. Women should take advantage of the aspect, for it promises much for authors and actresses.

Marriage and love affairs are fairly fortunate under this configuration. It is a lucky date for weddings and for meeting new acquaintances, who may become close friends.

According to ancient lore, mediates, milliners, dyers, weavers, glovers and all who deal in ornaments or clothing which women wear are peculiarly fortunate when Venus wields kindly sway over the inhabitants of the earth.

Owing to the position of Mars in mid-heaven at Pekin, astrologers hold that China will continue to suffer from unsettled conditions for some time to come. Loss of shipping and foreign trade is probable.

A London astrologer finds the portents promising for prosperity in the United States as the spring advances, but he foretells great fluctuations in railway stocks with large expenditures for rolling stock on certain lines. He predicts losses on the corn crop in Nebraska, Kansas and other western states.

There is a fortunate omen for the Panama-Pacific exposition. Growth of international interest is indicated, and surprising gains are probable.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the prognostication of a busy year that brings many worries. Both men and women should watch their health. Those who are employed will prosper.

Children born on this day will be industrious and trustworthy. Boys may meet with many obstacles and girls may have many problems to solve. As subjects of Aries with Mars as their ruling planet they should be ambitious and able to overcome difficulties. Many reformers are born under this sign.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

Wake up, wake up, you drowsy heads!
Wake up, wake up, and leave your beds!
The gladdest time of all the year
Has come, for Mistress Spring is here!

Cheerful Robin was singing it up in the Old Orchard. Little Friend the Song Sparrow was singing it down along the edge of the Laughing Brook. Winsome Bluebird was whistling it from the top of the Big Hickory over by the Smiling Pool. Blacky the Crow was cawing it from a fence post on the edge of Farmer Brown's cornfield. Danny Meadow Mouse was shouting it in a funny little squeaky voice down on the Green Meadows. Even Sammy Jay was screaming it through the Green Forest. And over in the dear Old Briar Patch, Peter Rabbin was saying it over and over to himself as he thumped and thumped for pure joy.

It was true. Sweet, beautiful Mistress Spring had arrived. Cheerful Robin and Little Friend had come with her, and so had Honker the Wild Goose. It was his voice coming down from high, high up in the blue, blue sky that had told the glad news. He hasn't a sweet voice. Oh, my, no! The voice of Honker is anything but sweet. And yet it is good, wonderfully good to hear after the long, cold days of winter, for every one knows when they hear it that Mistress Spring has arrived. You see long, long ago Mistress Spring went to Old Mother Nature, and asked her for a trumpeter, some one whose voice was strong, to travel up from the far away south with her and tell all the world of her coming, and Honker the Goose was chosen because his wings are strong and he flies high and because his voice is strong, and the sound of it carries far. And from that day to this when the voice of Honker the Goose is heard, every one knows that Mistress Spring has arrived.

Now Mistress Spring wastes no time, for she has a great deal to do, and the very first thing is to wakeup all the sleepers whom gentle Sister South Wind has not already wakened. Peter Rabbit never could understand how she does it because there are so many sleepers—little people who wear fur, little people who wear neither fur nor feathers, but whom we call bugs, and all the little and big plants. There are so many, many of them who sleep all winter long, that it has always seemed to Peter as if Mistress Spring must miss some of them. But she never does.

So now that Mistress Spring really had arrived Peter was too happy to sit still. He just had to hurry around and greet his friends as fast as they waked. Bobby Coon and Unc' Billy Possum had crawled out of their hollow trees just after Winsome Bluebird arrived. Now Peter felt sure his old friend Johnny Chuck would be crawling out, and he hurried up to the corner of the Old Orchard where Johnny's house is. Sure enough, there sat Johnny on his doorstep taking a sun-bath. He looked very thin, not at all as he had looked when Peter last saw him. He grinned at Peter and stretched to get the kinks out of his legs, and the first thing he asked was if Peter knew where there was any tender young clover. But Peter didn't, because, you know, the clover, had only just begun to wake up, and hadn't had time to grow. But he knew where there was some last years' clover that had kept green under the snow, and Johnny said that that would do, because he was so hungry that he could eat almost anything.

While they were talking, a merry little voice shouted from the stone wall. There sat Striped Chipmunk, and he looked as pert and smart and saucy as ever. He wasn't thin like Johnny Chuck. You see he had filled his storehouse, which opens right out of his bed room, with plenty of good things in the fall, and he had waked up in the winter often enough to eat what he needed and now had plenty left over.

"Are you glad Mistress Spring has come?" asked Peter.

Striped Chipmunk whisked round and round after the tail until they all laughed to see him. "So glad that I can't keep still!" he cried.

Mrs. Wylie Honored at Woman's Club

The meeting of the Atlanta Woman's club was a very interesting event of Monday afternoon at the club rooms on Baker street.

Mrs. William Clair Spiker, chairman of the literature committee, read "An Arrangement of Elgran Galeote," a drama by the great Spanish writer, Jose Echegaray. The arrangement is by Charles Wirdlinger and is known as the "World and His Wife."

A beautiful feature of the afternoon was the presentation to Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie of an exquisite bouquet of flowers in token of the appreciation of the club, of which she is an honored member, in her recent success as a playwright.

Mrs. Wylie responded in a very witty and bright speech of thanks.

An informal and delightful hour followed, by which the musical program rendered gave much pleasure to the large assembled audience.

The Passing Craze for Unusual Entertaining

We live indeed in a day of unusual entertainments—at least in a day when the unusual method of entertaining is at a premium.

Dancing at restaurants, at tea time and dinner time and supper time is established. At some of the cabaret shows the audience is invited to practice the steps danced by the professionals on the stage.

Some society people not long ago—just before Lent began—went down from Chicago to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras with a freight car fitted up for dancing attached to their private car.

An aviator's dinner, given in honor of some successful flyer, was called an upside-down dinner, and began with dessert and ended with soup.

Every day we read of odd ways of entertaining.

What will be tomorrow's specialty?

Just what I want!

That's what the children say, every time they see it. It is toothsome, wholesome, healthful. The very sweet that's best to eat—

ALAGA SYRUP

Nothing adds more to the enjoyment of waffles and battercakes than ALAGA. It makes wonderful gingercakes, puddings and candies. It is Nature's best sweet.

Sir Gilbert Parker's Great New Novel "You Never Know Your Luck" Published Complete in the April Munsey

WHEN this novel goes into book form after it has appeared in The Munsey, it will cost you $1.50; in Munsey's Magazine it will cost you 15 cents, and in The Munsey you get it first.

Sir Gilbert Parker is unquestionably one of the first novelists of the day, and one of the most popular. His books, at $1.50 a copy, sell up into the hundreds of thousands—some of them as much as 400,000. With so tremendous a sale at $1.50, what ought the sale to be at only 15 cents? Four million copies, I should say, but as the edition of Munsey's Magazine for April is limited to 500,000 copies, there will be, on this theory, 3,500,000 disappointed persons.

If, therefore, you want to make sure of this new Parker novel at a cost of 15 cents, you would do well to get busy with your newsdealer before his supply of the April Munsey is exhausted.

MUNSEY

SIR GILBERT PARKER
Author of "The Right of Way," "The Money Master," "Seats of the Mighty," "The Judgment House."

with a full book-length novel published complete each issue, has hit a new high place in magazine making. I have been studying for a dozen or fifteen years to find a way to give the public brand-new, high-grade books at a price not to exceed 25 cents a copy. I have just now solved the problem through publishing them in my magazine—not serial publication, but as complete as if actually in book form. And in The Munsey they are printed on fine book paper, from large, clear type, and are profusely illustrated.

The Munsey is jam full of good stuff. Its complete novel covers only one side of it. The other side is rich in illustrations, worth-while articles, short fiction and other material—a magazine practically double the size of the average magazine.

On all news-stands, 15 cents a copy; $1.50 a year.

The Crackers Will Play Atlanta Medical College Nine Today

DIANA DILLPICKLES IN "THE STORY OF THREE EGGS" A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM

Crackers Play Atlanta Medics. This Afternoon

Medicos Have Strong Team and Expect to Give Smithmen Good Battle – Three League Teams Follow Later in Week–Newark, Highlanders and Boston Come in Order

After a rather dismstrous experience in exhibition games with visiting leaguers, during the past week, owing to unfavorable weather conditions, Crackers have a lay-off today, so far as professional foemen are concerned. In their stead, Manager Smith's valiant crew will tackle the representatives on the diamond of the Atlanta Medical college. The Medicos have a strong team, since the roster includes several boys who have had professional or semi-professional experience. They expect to give the Crackers a good stiff battle.

Harry Holland arrived in the city Sunday from Washington and reported to Manager Smith this morning. The arrival of Holland will enliven competition on the infield. Manager Griffith has been working at Harry at shortstop, and reports from Charlottesville indicate that the ex-Tech star has been showing lots of ability. In fact, Griffith wrote Manager Smith that Harry looks much better than he did when the Washington pilot saw him at workout last year.

Following the game today with the Medicos, the Crackers will take up a five days' run with leaguers from three circuits. Tuesday and Wednesday, the locals tackle the Newark club, last year's champions of the International league. Newark has just finished a series with Dodgers at Augusta, where they gave Manager Wilbur Robinson's hopes in Tener's league a great run for their money. Harry Smith, the old Pittsburg catcher, is handling Newark this season, and he has an aggregation that will require close attention from the other clubs in the circuit, to keep them from repeating their victorious march of last year.

Following Newark comes Chance's Highlanders for one game Thursday. This will be the first appearance in this city of the Yankees since Chance assumed charge of the ill-fated outfit. Last season the Peerless Leader took hold of as hopeless looking bunch of material as ever faced the flag in Ban Johnson's ballwick. He managed to pull them out of last place before the season ended, after trailing the field nearly all the way to the finish line. This year he brings almost an entirely new team from what he took over last spring. He has lopped off the old stuff and added youngsters at nearly every turn.

Among the most promising of his new material is Fritz Maisel, at third, who was formerly the sensation of the International league and is still coming along. Another youngster who is calculated to assist Chance in his assignment of putting the American league back on the baseball map in Gotham is Frank Gilhooley, an outfielder. Gilhooley played a part of last season with the Yankees, and his showing was especially gratifying to Chance. Then there is Ed Sweeney, formerly a Cracker, and, by virtue of the advent of the Federal league, said to be the highest priced catcher in baseball. Caldwell, the elongated twirler, who is said to have as much stuff as Walter Johnson, if he would just take care of himself, is also a member of the team.

Following Chance comes George Stallings and his Braves. The Sage of Haddocks brings to Atlanta what may prove the dark horse of the National league handicap this season. Last year Colonel Stallings pulled his team up into the first division at the close of a race for a position which it had not attained in a decade. This year he has added more strength, notably in Catcher John Evers at second, and the Boston aggregation is counting strongly as a one-two-three team. The Braves will play here on Friday and Saturday.

Kansas City Feds Beat Indianapolis

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., March 23.—The Kansas City Federal league team defeated the Indianapolis team of the same league here Sunday, 16 to 6. Falkenburg and Mullin, pitching for Indianapolis, allowed a total of twenty hits. The weather was cold and misplays were plentiful on both sides.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Kansas City	16	20	5
Indianapolis	6	10	6

Harris, Packard, Henninger and Easterly; Falkenburg, Mullin and Rariden, Warren.

Andrew Slight, catcher with the White Sox team on the world tour, sang in Paris at one of the entertainments given for the players and made such a hit that he has been urged to quit baseball and take vocal training with the purpose of going into grand opera.

Dodgers Honor William Dahlen

Members of Brooklyn Club Present Former Manager With Handsome Present at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 23.—When Bill Dahlen, former manager of the Brooklyn club, came here last night, he thought he was merely joining the club to ride home with them. Last night at 9 o'clock he was invited into the hotel dining room "to get a little lunch." The lunch, it was found when he got on chicago National league "Regulars" Sunquet, the feature of which was the presentation to Dahlen of the most magnificent nine-piece solid silver service ever seen in Augusta. It was a token of esteem, as indicated by the engraving on the twenty-four-inch tray "from the 1913 Brooklyn baseball players."

Dahlen was taken entirely unaware. The presentation was made by Jake Daubert. The entire Brooklyn and Newark teams, the Two presidents, Ebbetts, Manager Robinson and visiting and local newspaper men were guests at the banquet.

Boxers Finish Training Work

Both Stewart Donnelly and Jimmy Perry, who will box ten rounds before the Georgia Athletic club Tuesday night expect to finish their training stunts this afternoon. Perry is working at Gorge's gymnasium, and has been boxing daily. Donnelly is doing his roadwork stunts at Staten's. The boxes nine rounds this afternoon, going three laps with three different sparring partners. The two boys have been doing road work, in addition to their boxing stunts, and both announce that they are ready for a tough session Tuesday night.

The Georgia Athletic club has announced its full card, and the bouts arranged promise a good entertainment. Thirty rounds are scheduled, consisting of the main event of ten rounds, a semi-wind up of eight rounds, and two six-round preliminaries. In the semi-wind up, Battling Kelly, who has been beating a number of local boys, will meet Young Goldman. Kid Sheppard battles Kid Wonder for six rounds in the second bout. Cooper, a burly, chocolate scrapper, meets Sheppard Thomas in the opening battle. The show will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Boston Braves Have Busy Week

MACON, Ga., March 23.—The Boston National league and the Macon South Atlantic league teams have games scheduled for every day this week. Boston plays Georgia Military college at Milledgeville on Monday; Cleveland, American association team, here Tuesday and Wednesday, and then Stallings takes his crew to Atlanta for two games on Friday and Saturday.

Macon's big game for the week besides Boston's with Stallings will be a contest with the St. Louis Americans Thursday. This is Boston's fourth week in the south. The weather was fair and warmer today and the indications are that it will be a fine day for the ball players tomorrow.

Colonels Beat Schwartz's Vols

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 23.—The Louisville American association team defeated the Nashville Southern league club, in an exhibition game here Sunday afternoon by a score of 6 to 2, before several thousand people. The local team played loosely in the field and was unable to hit the opposing pitchers with any degree of success.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	6	10	0
Nashville	2	5	6

Ellis, Loudermilk, Leverett and Severold, O'Donnell; Marshall, Fogare, Marbet, Snyder and Smith.

Jack Sentell Meets At Columbia Theater

Jack Sentell meets Terry Nelson in the main bout of the card offered by the Columbia theater Wednesday night. Neither of these boys needs an introduction to Atlanta fight fans. Nelson returned to the city a few weeks since, and has fought several recent battles. Sentell has been located in Jacksonville for some time. He fought Nelson a twenty-round draw there some time since, and claims that he should have had the decision. He expects to beat the Greek Wednesday night. In addition to the main bout, the card offers three other battles, and a battle royal between a bunch of dingos.

Yankees Show Weak Spot at Second Base

Manager Chance Appears Well Pleased With Williams at First, Peckinpaugh and Maisel at Short and Third. Seasoned Man at Second Will Make Yankees First Division Team

HOUSTON, Tex., March 23.—Frank Chance should know pretty well by the end of the week what he may expect from the club he will command in the 1914 campaign. He is not satisfied with the club as it stands, neither is he discouraged with what has been accomplished in the two weeks spent here.

The Peerless Leader realised on reaching Texas that his chief difficulty lay at second base. An experienced guardian of the keystone position, says a man like Del Pratt, of the Browns, should make the New Yorks a sure first division club. Such a man has not been found among the green talent. It is not too late yet perhaps for one to uncover himself, for doubtless all will come with a rush in the last few days, but right now it looks as if Frank Farrell will have to go to the bargain counter if he is to land such a sterling asset.

Chance has not lost faith in Spohn. The manager thinks this youngster will develop into a star. He is now a pretty well finished fielder, and a few weeks of steady employment should knock all the rough edges off his defensive game. But Lutz hasn't hit in a manner to justify regular employment in light of his experience. He is an apt and willing scholar who has somewhat improved his batting form. He had a very fine style and hits properly at the ball. Practice no doubt will do much for him. And this practice Chance has decided the young man shall have under his own fatherly eye.

Unless Luther Boone in the final practice pitching the very best he can hops for in the matter of big league employment, the position of understudy to Roy Hartzell. This veteran, who is an ideal utility player, is attending strictly to open order drill. Outside Roger Peckinpaugh if the Peerless Leader cannot secure Dougherty in a trade a man of real merit, Chance will retain Boone so that he may relieve Hartzell occasionally. With a couple of days rest every week Hartzell should retain his early spring vigor throughout the season. There are few better spring players.

The third base side of the infield, with Maisel and Peckinpaugh, is the very New York has seen in a decade. Harry Williams, like most players in the springtime, has looked both good and bad in spots. He is fast and accurate enough in the field and a fair base runner, because he is one of the best sliders in the game. But he is not overly fast on the pegging. He is the sort of man who would be the talk of the country if he could hit .300 in the big show. But he has slumped in his batting. Texas league pitchers who should be pretty well acquainted with all his weaknesses, fed him entirely on inside balls, and these apparently puzzle him greatly.

The Peerless Leader has had a mighty tough time in getting a line on his outfield. The gardeners have suffered most of the casualties of the spring campaign. Wares is certainly not a failure. He has brought with him the dash, daring and confidence of his association with the world's champion Athletics. Channell, handicapped at first by lumbago, has sprung a charleyhorse. Holden has not fully recovered from the blow in the eye received more than a week ago at Beaumont. Gilhooley turned his ankle some time ago and is just beginning to feel himself. Today for the first time he really displayed his speed. Cook has been sick and his wife has been sick and between the double misfortune this young man, who looked so promising in New York last fall, has shown little but a uniform. Every time Sweeney rounds into condition the team should be well provided in battery strength. Good pitching has been one of the striking virtues of the aggregation so far. The main fault so far has been light hitting. This might be painfully discouraging if one did not consider the work of other major league clubs in the training season. Even the world's champion Mackmen got but one hit off Cub twirling. Even the Giant regulars were rounded up early in the Texas league club that has not the presumable class of Houston. New Orleans took a fall out of Hugh Jennings' Tigers 8-1, all the big league clubs seem to be getting it this spring and none is hitting up to the usual springtime form.

The final selection by Chance must be made before Saturday, when the teams will split for the northward journey on the way home, and then with the seven Texas league exhibition games in Brooklyn and Philadelphia the Peerless Leader should have ample time for the final timing.

3 Teams Now Lead Bowlers

Mich. Aggies Win Big Shoot

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Michigan Agricultural college has won the national indoor rifle shooting championship, having won every match of the series just closed. The school established a new intercollegiate record of 994 out of a possible 1,000 points. Second place was won by the Massachusetts "Aggies."

In class B the Washington State college carried off honors with eleven straight victories. Honors in class C went to the University of Illinois who shot through the series without defeat.

A summary of the four match, announced today, includes: Class A, Michigan Agricultural college, 994; Princeton, 978; Massachusetts Aggies, 980, against West Virginia, 955; North Georgia Aggies, 946, against Peppus, 906.

Class B: Washington State, 985, against Oklahoma Aggies 945; Vermont, 949, against Clemson, dropped.

Baraca League Meets Tonight

The Baraca amateur baseball league, one of the fastest amateur organizations in the city, held their final organization meeting tonight at the Carnegie Library. The meeting will take place at 8 o'clock.

At the same time and place, the Sunday School league will also organize for the 1914 season, and all churches and Sunday school classes that expect to enter this league this season are urged to have representatives present.

Charles I. Branhan, the chairman of the play grounds committee and in charge of the baseball grounds of the city parks is expected to be present at this meeting and will discuss the possibility of getting grounds for these two leagues.

Crackers Will See Minstrels

The local lodge of Knights of Columbus have arranged an entertainment for the Cracker squad in the nature of a theater party tonight at the performance of Neil O'Brien's minstrels. Many members of the Knights are rabid baseball fans, and they are anxious to boost a winning spirit among the boys who will represent Atlanta on the diamond this season. Following the show a banquet will be spread at the Imperial hotel. An effort will be made to have as many as possible from the minstrel troupe present at this feast. As a rule, theatrical performers are great baseball fans, and no doubt many of the black-faced troupe will be present at the banquet.

Scribes Extended Club Courtesy

Play in the newspaper tournament, which will be staged by the Capital City Country club over the Brookhaven course, will begin next week. The club has offered a handsome trophy for the winner of this tournament, and the handicapping committee composed of John S. Cohen of The Journal, W. S. Farnsworth of the Georgian and Dick Jemison of the Constitution, is expected to announce allowances for the various players, who will enter, within the next day or two.

In the meantime, the club has kindly extended courtesy of the course to all players who will enter during the present week for practice. A committee from the club, which will have the tournament in charge, asks that all members be advised that such a courtesy has been extended, and urges that all players, who desire, take advantage of the opportunity to become familiar with the course.

Manager Griffith May Bring Washington Hurlers Here

LITTLE PAL—HE GIVES THE CHAUFFEUR A LESSON -BY LEO

Griffith May Bring Pitchers On to Atlanta

Washington Club Is Having Difficulties in Getting Into Shape at Charlottesville, Owing to Unfavorable Weather — Manager Smith Wires Griffith Offer

Atlanta fans may yet have the privilege of watching the workout of a big league club this season, or at any rate of the hurling corps of a major league entry. In fact there is a strong probability that such an opportunity will be afforded. Manager Bill Smith has wired Manager Clark Griffith at the latters training camp at Charlottesville, Virginia, offering him the privilege of using Ponce de Leon, for getting his hurling talent in shape for the approaching American league race.

The Washington team for two or three seasons, in fact every year since they trained here, has worked out in Charlottesville. This season Griffith is having a hard time, in getting his men into any semblance of shape, owing to the unusually cold, raw weather that has visited the Virginia camp. The team has had only a very few days suitable for outdoor work, and not ones during the time the team has been there has it found the weather nice and warm, as it would like.

Griffith will enter this season's hunt with a hurling staff composed of youngsters with only a bit of real experience, in fact Walter Johnson is the only veteran on the staff, and a late start with his hurlers will place a stiff handicap before the Old Fox in the pennant chase. Owing to the fact that Griff has shown a willingness to help the Crackers whenever possible, the local club is more than willing to offer any assistance that itmay toward helping him out in his dilemma. No response has yet been received from the wire, but it is probable that any early rely will reach local headquarters.

Yankees Won From Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Tex., March 23.—The New York American regular team made fifteen hits for twenty-two bases and seven-eight bases against the Beaumont Texas league club yesterday. New York won 10 to 8. Hartzell drove out a home run in the seventh with two men on bases. Twelve Yankees were given bases on balls.

It is the height of something for a ball player to spend two months at Hot Springs getting into condition and then drink for two days and nights before starting to join his club.

A fine question: Can college players be professionalized if they play with the Feds this season?

Chicago is opening a big aviation college. The degree will be D. F. No, it doesn't mean d— f—. It means doctor of flying.

THE SPORTLIGHT
BY GRANTLAND RICE

Here comes the Wanderer over the plain—
The vagabond Spring—
With a song in the sunlight, a missile through the rain,
Where the far echoes ring;
With the red of the rose on the green of his coat,
A necklace of violets crowning his throat,
And the fells leap to life at the first thrilling note
Which his couriers bring.

Here comes the gleam of a new world to be
On the red road to May,
From lowland to upland, from hillside to sea,
With the wild storms at bay;
And over the crest of the dark night of fears
Here comes a vision to shine through Life's tears,
And here comes a dream from the wraith of the years
That shall lead us astray.

Norman Taber, an American, will be one of the members of the Oxford relay team coming to this country for the April competition. But Taber is now an Oxford student, and if Oxford should happen to win it is just as well to can in advance any alibi that England needed American aid to finish first. If Oxford wins, the victory goes cleanly and fairly to England for one score in the season's international roundup.

THE INTERNATIONAL STANDING.

The international program this summer between England and America will take in at least six events. The court tennis championship engagement between Gould and Covey was the sunrise gun, with America here compiling the lump.

The Oxford relay team at Philadelphia registers the second charge. And then in order come hand-to-hand conflicts at golf, polo, tennis and yachting. To obtain better than an even break, one country must clean up four out of six—which will be a good, healthy summer's work for either commonwealth.

As England carries a big edge in golf, America needs four of the remaining five events to finish in front. And while the general impression is that Uncle Samuel has a slant-orbed cinch, the general impression is a bit distorted. The greatest jolts in history are those that follow in the wake of overconfidence.

ALL IN? SURE.

In the first exhibition battle which the Pirates staged, Hans Wagner managed to stroll in front of ten tough curves and absorb all ten without a bump. Outside of this he never looked a bit better than he has looked for the last eighteen years. Isn't it about time, with all this training and experience, that he is beginning to show something?

FATE EVENS UP.

Mr. R. Waldo Emerson, one of the earlier of Boston's baseball writers, displayed excellent knowledge of the fair-cacies of the grand-old-game in a little fan volume known as "Compensation."

The idea here, or one of the ideas, was that good luck and bad luck often even up in the long jaunt that lies ahead.

In 1912 no club in baseball drew any sweater fortune than the Red Sox, who finished in front. The team held wonderful shape all the year and not even the Mackmen could set them back. But 1913 was a different story. Probably no other club had as much poor luck—the skidding arrived early. And so far 1914 has been little better than 1913. J. Wood is tied up with an absent tonsil and Heinie Wagner is suffering major league pains in the vicinity of his hoof.

Speaker, Wood and Wagner form the nucleus of the Red Sox, ranking with the best ball players of all time. And to have two of these out of gear at the start would be a rugged wallop.

Fate may even up for most ball clubs, but not for the Phillies and the Nape. Each year it waits around the corner for the two clubs with a studded mace, and when the blow falls there is nothing left but a mass of gore and disheveled skin.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

The Delphic Oracle had been an institution for centuries. Back through the gray ages of time it had digested every query thrown its way and returned the proper answer without a quiver. Nothing had ever been able to even bring a wrinkle to its forehead.

But one day a large swarthy person stepped up and inserted a query. The Oracle rocked for a moment, swallowed hard and then blew up with a nauseating roar—vanishing from the face of the earth.

The query handed in was this: "What club, O Mightiest of all Prophets, will win the pennant race in the Federal League?"

"All our eight clubs are ambitious pennant contenders," announces Mr. Gilmore. No wonder. The winner doesn't have to meet the Athletics.

The late Hughey Keogh had the correct viewpoint as applied to the Yanks. A pretty fair ball club in some ways, "but the hell of it is they ain't hittin'."

PULLING FOR THE BRAVES.

If we had to pull for one ball club this season above all others we'd find any assistance we had to offer pointed in the direction of the Boston Braves.

For a ball club to be an established tail end institution for an interminable length of time and then within one year throw off its winding sheet and start scrambling out of the coffin is enough to excite both wonder and admiration. But for such a club within a season to show enough life to be considered a pennant possibility or a pennant runner-up is enough to enlist the sympathy of any fair-minded noncombatant who is willing to realize that at times a ball game can be a perfectly good ball game when the home club doesn't win. Here's power to 'em. May they win the world series in four straight games and thus show the other "down-and-outs" that the trick can be turned.

Miner Brown Defeats Tinker

MONROE, La., March 23.—The St. Louis Federals defeated the Chicago Federals, second team, here Sunday by a score of 15 to 10. An interesly cold wind caused many spectators to leave before the game ended. Willett and Groom for St. Louis were opposed by Hendrix and Lange.

Gilmore on Way

CHICAGO, March 23.—President James A. Gilmore and Secretary Lloyd Rickart left Sunday for Baltimore to attend the schedule meeting of the Federal league. Rickart took with him copies of the first draft of the schedule.

Braves Meet Military Academy

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 23.—Milledgeville will have its second big baseball game of the season Monday when the Georgia Military college will cross bats with the Boston Nationals under management of George Stallings, and a good game is expected. Of course, the college players do not expect to play rings around the Boston aggregation, but they outplayed the Macon professional team of the South Atlantic league here last Tuesday and they may give the Braves a run for their money.

The G. M. C. is easily one of the best prep teams in the entire south and when the real baseball season opens up the will put up some new kind of playing for college outfits to go up against.

Copeland Goes to Coach Entries From Austria

Fourth American Star to Assume Charge of Foreign Band of Athletes—Kraenzlein, Hjertberg and Knox Now Handling German, Swede and English Teams

NEW YORK, March 23.—The ranks of former famous American athletes, now serving as Olympic trainers in Europe, will be augmented Thursday with the sailing of Alfred Forbest Copeland to become head coach of the Austrian Olympic team for the Berlin games of 1916. Copeland is the fourth trainer with a brilliant American athletic record to be signed to coach foreign track and field teams for the Olympic games two years hence. He follows in the footsteps of Ernie Hjertberg, Sweden's coach; Alvin C. Kraenzlein, Germany's coach, and W. R. Knox, England's head trainer. In addition to these men other famous American athletes of past decades, including James Lightbody and Joseph Honer, either have signed or are considering secondary or specialty coaching positions abroad.

"Berlin certainly will look like 'old home week' in the summer of 1916," Copeland said Sunday before sailing. "I expect to see a great gathering of active and veteran athletes the world has witnessed. So far as my work in Austria is concerned, I only have mapped it out in a general way. While we all shall work for the 1916 games in mind, the chief object is to develop a better, broader and more competitive spirit in Austrian athletics. With this in mind, I am going to put into operation the American axiom. Get the boy interested early.

"I understand there is little athletic competitive spirit at present in either the Austrian universities, schools or army, but that these fields offer splendid athletic material. Given the physical requisites, I am sure Austria can produce some high-class performers in events wherein continental Europe has not shown in the past."

Federals Meet To Adopt Sched.

Magnates of New League in Session in Baltimore to Work Out Playing Dates

BALTIMORE, Md., March 23.—Federal league baseball magnates went into session here today to decide upon a playing schedule for the coming season. With four other circuits (National, American, International and American association) to dodge, they were confronted with a difficult problem.

It was reconsidered, of course, that conflicts in dates cannot be avoided in Chicago and St. Louis, where there are two opposing major league clubs. The fact that Baltimore is in the eastern section of the International and Buffalo in the western division, while both are in the eastern section of the Federal league, also presented another difficult question for the schedule makers.

President James A. Gilmore and Secretary Lloyd Rickart reached Baltimore early today with a preliminary draft of the playing dates. President Robert B. Ward, of the Brooklyn club, came yesterday, and throughout the day was in conference with several of the Baltimore delegates relative to a schedule he had prepared.

Relative to the transfer of Tom Seaton, of Brooklyn, to Chicago for Pitcher Hendrix, both Gilmore and Ward said the matter would be arranged to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Ollie Chapman will manage Mayswille in the class D Ohio State league this season, a year has been added to the Federal league. A reporter quotes him as saying that his experience with the Federals last year has fitted him out nicely for his new position. "Third major" stuff, eh, what?

SEX HYGIENE IS TOPIC BEFORE NOTED TEACHERS

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young Declares It Should Be Called "Personal Purity"

CHICAGO, March 23.—Considerable variance of views of educators on the advisability of teaching sex facts in public schools was shown today in a debate on that subject which closed the annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

"It all depends on the personality of the teacher," said C. H. Chadsey, superintendent of schools in Detoit. "It's all in our deliy. If we do not educate pupils to know the difference between right and wrong. The course has failed because of injudicious publicity. Had it been developed gradually the result might have been different. In Detroit we are now giving lectures to parents, which seems sane. There are so many questions to be considered that a teacher capable of properly presenting this subject to a child would be a rarity."

"The schools should not take on a responsibility they cannot meet," declared W. J. S. Bryan, superintendent of the St. Louis schools. "There are other places for children to learn these things than in school.

Teaching of sex facts was urged by President A. W. Harris, of Northwestern university, while President Blanchard, of Wheaton college, advised the use of the Scriptures in explaining the subject.

"In more than 200 lectures before the girls here," said Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of Chicago schools, "there was not a word said that could lead to base thoughts, but on the others hand everything was said that could lead the pupils to higher ideals. The subject should be named 'personal purity' instead of the misleading title, 'sex hygiene.'"

AMERICAN COTTON OIL COMPANY REORGANIZES

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 23.—Lines of business conducted by the American Cotton Oil company will hereafter be divided and placed under the control of three allied companies, according to an announcement today by R. F. Munro, president of the company. The manufacturing and selling cotton seed oil will be conducted by the America Cotton Oil company itself; the cotton seed and cotton seed oil milling and fertilizer business will be conducted by the U. S. Steel and Spinner company, a subsidiary, and the manufacture of lard soaps and the like by the N. K. Fairbanks company, another subsidiary.

The company denies that the reorganization has any connection with reports that the government had stated it to contract its affairs and says that the new arrangement is for the purpose of effecting a more simple organization and more effective carrying on of the company's business.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Fish hatching stations on sites to be selected by the secretary of commerce, in Alabama, Arizona, the mountains of northwestern North Carolina, Oklahoma, northeastern Texas, Florida, Louisiana, and the gulf coast of Texas, for the study of fish diseases, were proposed in a committee bill introduced by Representative Faison of North Carolina.

POULTRY PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Management of the Grown Fowls

YOUNG fowls should have a free range and be raised according to nature, with plenty exercise after they are feathered and past the chick stage. It is far better to have a nice poultry yard and keep only a limited number of chickens in it, just those that can be found profitably and you can attend to properly without too much expense and trouble. Most people keep too many chickens, far more than they are fixed up to care for. The result is they are usually feeding about seventy-five per cent of birds that are making them no money or taking the profits of the profitable ones.

When you have just the number of birds you can keep profitably in a medium size yard, say 10 feet by 50 feet for ten birds, and a cheap but comfortable, neat and convenient house it is very little trouble to attend to a large lot of these birds with the present system of feeding.

By having a self-feeding hopper or box in the house with some kind of dry mash, oyster shell, grit and charcoal, this can be kept constantly before the fowls and this hopper is filled once a week it is usually sufficient. And, by having a deep box o straw or litter where it is kept dry a mixed variety of grains, such as any of the cheap feeds can be fed in this litter at night or even twice a day, and by giving fresh water once a day it is but little trouble to attend to a large lot of chickens. A small amount of feed of the right kind will give you eggs nearly every day in the year, if you have the right kind of fowls and they are free from disease and vermin.

With this system of feeding many hens that are timid and will not eat enough to eat while feeding the grain feed to your birds will have an opportunity to satisfy their appetites with the mash feed. Usually a heavy laying hen after she produces an egg will come off of the nest, drink some water and take a few mouthfuls of this mash feed, and take into her system the proper elements to complete an egg for the next day. But when hens are compelled to hunt their feed they do not take time to complete these eggs. Therefore will not lay, and the time and value of your hen is gone when this is done day by day. You have lost her usefulness simply by not supplying her with the necessary food to complete the eggs.

It is not a good idea for a person to be changing their feed too much or trying different things. It is best to get some of the best standard feeds, stick to them, feed just what they will eat up clean, and if you have the right kind of chickens you can get a profit and will produce you eggs the year around. If they do not you may know there is something wrong, usually with the feeding. The best thing to do is to look for the trouble and correct it.

In addition to this system of feeding they should have an abundance of green food. When you can not get something green every day fresh there is nothing better than bright, well-cured alfalfa hay. If the scratch feed is regulated two-thirds of the time a few days each week alfalfa hay it takes the place of green food, answers every purpose, and in addition every pound of bran or any other good chicken feed, so it is really the cheapest food that you can give as it takes the place of green food and other feeds at the same time, and makes the scratch pen complete in the shape of litter. When chickens have alfalfa they can be kept in better health and lay a much larger percentage of eggs. So, it is really a very important part to successful and profitable keeping of a variety of fowls, and will cheapen the cost of feed to every poultryman in the south from now on. It can be grown here at such great quantities and so easily, and it looks like will take the place of many other kinds of feed that we now have to buy at high prices.

With the convenient feed hoppers that are now offered to the publi and the many different kinds of feeds already made up in the shape of balanced rations it has made poultry keeping a pleasure, has lowered the cost of labor and has worked wonders, and has enabled hundreds of people to keep poultry now with a little time and labor and get results from them where it was impossible a few years ago.

This position is one reason, together with the great demand for these products, why Georgia's production of poultry has been doubled during the past three years. We could in this state produce ten times as many as we are now doing and still have a good and profitable market for all of our products.

Profitable keeping of poultry depends largely on the way they are fed and attended to and the kind of feeds they are getting. When this is looked after you will find that it plays an important part in your profits and losses.

Yours very truly,

Grigsby Russell

RIGHT NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY GARDEN SEED. It has been a little too cold the past few days to plant, but it is a mighty good time to buy your supply of seeds and have them on hand. By so doing as it warms up a little, you want to get busy and plant. We have put on an extra force of clerks and are better prepared to serve you than ever before, but we cannot begin to fill all of our customers that can to make their purchases before the rush begins.

DOUBLE DAILY DELIVERY SERVICE. This is already going in every one. Nothing is more exasperating than to have to wait and wait for your seeds to be delivered. We go to all parts of the city twice daily. All orders placed before 2 o'clock will be delivered same day they are given. We also have the store at 6 o'clock on the mornings and 2 o'clock in afternoons.

EXTRA FINE PANSY PLANTS. We have the finest lot of pansy plants ever sold in the city. All good, strong, vigorous plants, full of blooms and will bloom now they will bloom until the middle of the summer. Price 50 cents per dozen.

SPRING FLOWERING BULBS. We have some extra fine Dutch Cannas, Tube Roses, Gladiolus and Caladiums. They should be planted now.

BABY CHICK FEED. We carry all of the best brands of feed for the baby chicks. Remember it is not the amount of chicks you hatch that counts, but the number you raise. Start right and feed right. Your feed from Hastings and take no chances.

WEST PEACHTREE

NEAR Seventeenth street, on lot 50x200 feet, we offer a 9-room house of the "Real Home" type.

Four bedrooms, two baths, sleeping porch; hard-wood floors throughout.

This place was built for a home. The owner's ideas are the latest, and they have been carried out thoroughly. It's certain to please you. Price, $15,000, assume $6,000 loan, balance can be arranged.

Two Bargains on North Boulevard

ONE most prominent corner on North Boulevard.

Northeast corner of North Boulevard and Angier Ave.

Size 140x180 feet.

Cost of house at time of construction, $17,500; present value of land, $13,500. Total $30,000.

Owner wants a smaller home and has ordered me to offer this property for $15,000. Terms.

WHEN a bargain in real estate is offered there are always certain conditions that are supposed to bear upon the present owner, making it essential that a disposal be made of the property at once. If these conditions were not of a pressing nature, the property would never be offered at anything like the present price.

The persons who always come out ahead in these deals are the ones who size up the conditions for what they are worth and take advantage of them.

We are offering for $7,250 an unusually nice house on lot 50x170 feet. This house is between Ponce de Leon avenue and North avenue on North Boulevard.

New Homes Should Be in a New Street

HOW MUCH better a modern bungalow looks on a street where all the homes are modern, fresh looking. There is a chance to get some enhancement on a street like that.

LINWOOD AVE. runs off Ponce de Leon. A fresh, clean looking street, in a fine section of town. We have some big values to offer you. A modern seven-room home, hardwood floors, sleeping porch, tile bath, furnace, beautiful interior, every thing to please the eye, and add to the comfort. In an older section this place would sell for twelve thousand dollars. $7,500 will buy it on easy terms.

ANOTHER Linwood home; nine rooms, just as good as the first one; brick house; a big value at $8,000.

ST. CHARLES is another new street that is very popular, and deserves it. We have a special price of $6,500 on a seven-room bungalow with every modern feature. Nothing like it on the street for less than $7,500. A saving of one thousand dollars, and your own terms.

THERE is no excuse for camping when you can buy a home like these at your own terms.

A. N. Canton is the architect and R. ...M. Walker the builder. Work on the construction has already been started.

SPRING STREET PROGRESS.

Work of securing options of land for the extension of Spring street from Eighteenth to Nineteenth streets is progressing satisfactorily. The co-operation of owners reports good progress and the co-operation of property owners along the route of the proposed extension.

The city council has adopted the suggestion of the committee that this work be put on the list of work to be done by the county. In a few days the project will be in shape.

MANY TRANSFERS FILED.

A big number of property transfers were included in Monday's list.

A feature of the transfers was the large number of loan deeds, one representing a loan from one of the big insurance companies on a residence property. This deed was for $900.

There was quite a list of bonds for title, all of which represented small sales.

WEATHER OUTLOOK

Monday's weather, although still cool, was almost a real spring day, as expected, and it is believed now that winter is over.

From now on for several months the homeseeker and suburban buyer will be in evidence. Agents have already received a good many inquiries of this nature, but have been unable until now to show the property on account of the weather.

A good many builders are also glad to see a prospect of better weather conditions and announcements of this nature may be expected in the next few weeks.

EARLY ADVANCE MET BY RENEWED HEAVY SELLING

Market in New York Closed 6 to 9 Points Down From the Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 23.—The cotton market opened steady unchanged to 9 points higher over best months on realizing after Saturday-Sunday hedging orders or renewed covering. Offerings were encouraged by the early upward movement but there was a good deal of steady buying and the market at once became heavy.

Prices eased off. Some of the early buying may have been encouraged by reports of fine rains at Bombay, India.

After the decline was widened to nine to eleven points scalping shorts took profits and the market rallied long trying came in. Toward noon the market stood five to seven points down. Trading was quieter later but after selling four to six points the market rallied about a point below Saturday's close. Cas and Bessing also were distinctly heavy.

Trading was almost to a stand still today and prices barely changed from last week's close. Offerings were very few and supported readily. Settlement of the New Haven negotiations, the decrease in the visible supply shown in the fortnightly report and an increase in foreign movement on western lines supplied ammunition to the bulls. Liquidation at the opening but the inquiry was not sufficiently large to depress prices.

Speculative sentiment became decidedly discouraged when the Saturday's bank statement showed loans lifted Northern Pacific two points. Buying all along was more active and broader and the high figures of the forenoon were equalled in the afternoon.

The advance continued with vigor in the late afternoon, it was largely on short covering, impending favorable developments in the Mexican crisis.

Profit-taking and weakness of the Rumsley failure resulted in a fractional reaction. Northern Pacific lost a point, off other specialties gain.

Closed, firm.

"MOTHER" JONES IS AGAIN UNDER MILITARY GUARD

Labor Leader Arrested in Coal Miners' Strike Zone in Colorado

WALSENBURG, Col., March 23.—After a week's freedom, "Mother" Mary Jones is again a military prisoner in the coal miners' strike zone. The aged strike leader was taken from a southbound Colorado and Southern train today by Captain H. C. Nickerson and lodged in the county hospital under military guard.

WAS NOT SURPRISED.

"Mother" Jones is held incommunicado.

Captain Nickerson left Trinidad last night under orders from Adjutant General John Case to arrest "Mother" Jones at Walsenburg when the announcement was made that she was leaving Denver for Trinidad. The militia officer boarded the train a Pueblo and at Walsenburg ordered "Mother" to alight with him.

"I protest against such treatment" declared the strike leader, "but I am not surprised."

"I am acting under orders," replied the officer.

"Well I'll get off," she retorted.

John Brown, an organizer of the United Mine Workers of America and known as "Mother" Jones' body guard, who accompanied the aged strike leader, also left the train but was not arrested.

(By Associated Press.)

DENVER, Col., March 23.—A week ago today "Mother" Jones came to Denver after a three months' imprisonment in the Rafael hospital. At the time she declared she was deported and vowed that she would return to Trinidad at once to urge her "boys to fight and to encourage the wives of the striking miners." Originally "Mother" Jones was arrested in Trinidad because Governor Ammons and Adjutant General Chase deemed it unwise for her to be at liberty in the strike zone, where they believed her presence would incite the strikers to riot.

Attorneys for the United Mine Workers of America sought "Mother" Jones' freedom on a writ of habeas corpus, for which they petitioned the state supreme court to take original jurisdiction. This petition was denied, and immediately a similar petition was filed in the district court at Trinidad, and denied.

The day the appeal from the supreme court judge's opinion was to have been heard in the supreme court in Denver "Mother" Jones came to Denver in company with Colonel Davis, of the national guard. She claimed she was forcibly taken from her prison and released, so the appeal could not be heard, since she was no longer a prisoner.

If she is rearrested at Trinidad, attorneys for the mine workers said the habeas corpus proceeding would be taken up at once and the supreme court asked to reverse the decision which gives the military the right to arrest and hold persons it deems objectionable to the peace of the state.

EDWARD DOUGLAS WHITE GETS LAETARE MEDAL

NOTRE DAME, Ind., March 23.—The Laetare medal, given annually by the University of Notre Dame to the layman who has benefited the Catholic Society to the greatest extent during the year has been awarded to Edward Douglas White, chief justice of the United States supreme court. Presentation of the medal will be made in Washington at a time convenient to Justice White, university authorities announced last night. The usual program is to present the medal on Laetare Sunday.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE TO BE ESTABLISHED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—A direct line of freighters between Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific coast will be established soon by the Union Steamship company. The agents here were advised yesterday by Sir James Mills, managing director of the Union company, that an order had been placed in England for two large refrigerator steamships for this new service.

to reflect on private detectives who seek to do their duty honestly.

SHOULD BE MORE CAREFUL.

"I hope the police officials will be more careful in future and not permit themselves to be imposed upon."

Burns would not go into any discussion of how he had been working on the case or what exact results he had achieved. He was positive, however, in declaring that the public would be satisfied with his findings.

He stated that he would be away three or four days, but would not discuss his trip other than today it would take him to Washington and New York.

In the meantime Dan LeHoon, manager of the New Orleans Burns agency, will arrive in the city Tuesday. He has already left for Atlanta, but stayed over a day in Jackson, Miss.

Guy B. Beddingfield, of the New York office, will also arrive in the city Tuesday morning.

While Burns has consistently refused to state how many agents he has at work on the case, it is said they number eight men, all from other cities. In the absence of Burns, Lehon will direct the activities of these men although Burns will keep in touch with them by telegraph.

It is not now considered likely that Burns will have his final report on the case ready before the middle or last of next week, if by that time.

The detective declares he is investigating every angle of the case, regardless of how insignificant it may seem.

Leonard Haas, one of the attorneys connected with the defense of Leo M. Frank, left Atlanta Sunday for New York, and it is said he is making the trip on business connected with the case.

Just what the recently developed New York "angle" to the case is, attorneys connected with the defense refuse to state.

Rev. Fred Line Pleads For New Frank Trial

A new trial for Leo M. Frank was urged by Dr. Fred A. Line, pastor of the Universalist church, in his Sunday morning sermon. Dr. Line declared that owing to the excitement and passion existing at the time of Frank's trial the prisoner did not and could not have been accorded a fair and impartial trial.

"The plea for a new trial for Leo M. Frank is not based on sentiment," said Dr. Line. "It is based on justice."

"I plead for a new trial for Leo M. Frank in the name of that justice which demands for every man the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; which recognizes the sacredness of human life and zealously guards its forces; which transcends prejudice, vengeance, malice, hatred; which demands that truth shall prevail and that all life shall be conserved to ends of human usefulness and divine service. I plead for a new trial as a man who loves men and who desires to see justice done, as a man who believes in men and in the power of divine love to win its victories in human hearts and lives."

CONGRESS TO CONTINUE ANTI-TRUST LEGISLATION

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—No suggestion has come to President Wilson from congress to have anti-trust legislation postponed. The president told callers today that he saw no reason for such a postponement, but that on the contrary the trust program was rapidly being worked into shape.

UNCLE SAM'S GREATEST BATTLESHIP IS LAUNCHED

Giant Sea Fighter, Oklahoma, Glides Into Delaware River at Camden, N. J.

PHILADELPHIA, March 23.—The super-dreadnaught Oklahoma, one of the largest and most powerful American battleships afloat, was launched today from the yard of the New York Shipbuilding company at Camden, N. J., in the presence of a large number of invited guests.

The giant sea fighter was given her name by Miss Lorena Jane Cruce, daughter of the governor of Oklahoma, who broke a bottle of champagne against the great prow of the ship as the hull began to glide into the Delaware river. Miss Cruce, carrying a large bunch of American Beauty roses, was surrounded by a dozen girl friends from Oklahoma.

Surrounding the christening party were Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, members of the congressional naval committees, United States Senators Owen and Gore, of Oklahoma, members from that state in the national house of representatives, state officials and other Oklahomans and naval officers and invited guests from a number of eastern cities.

Eighteen Persons Seeking Nomination in Primaries Tomorrow

PATERSON, N. J., March 23.—The five Democrats, eleven Republicans, one Socialist and one Progressive seeking the nomination of those four parties at the primaries in Passaic county, N. J., tomorrow for the successor in the National Representative Bremner, were preparing today for the final canvass for votes in what has been one of the most interesting campaigns in New Jersey politics.

This is the first election of national significance since the enactment of the new tariff and currency laws, and the Democrats are making every effort to win in the hope of showing that these policies have the approval of the people.

The primaries will be held tomorrow and the election April 7.

U. S. SHOWS BIG DROP IN IMPORTS OF STEEL

WASHINGTON, March 23.—A decrease of almost $1,000,000 on from $11,077,000 to $10,219,000, in the imports of steel into the United States during the first four months since the present tariff law went into effect as compared with the same period of the previous year, was revealed in statistics made public today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. Most of this decrease occurred in the last month of the period in question the January decrease alone being $526,000 as compared with January, 1913.

Decreased imports, says the statement, are shown to have occurred during January, in nearly all classes of iron and steel except cutlery, tin plates and bar iron. Both Germany and the United Kingdom exceed this country in imports as well as in exports of iron and steel, figures showing the imports for the calendar year, 1913, to have been as follows:

United Kingdom, $145,000,000; Germany, $48,000,000 and United States, $24,000,000.

GEORGIAN'S DEATH IN MEXICO PROBED; BELIEVED MURDERED

ed that Villa himself had shot the ranchman with a pistol.

The broad inference that Benton was stabbed is regarded as especially significant in connection with other information here that the constitutionalist commission, which investigated the affair, has found that Benton was stabbed by one of Villa's officers, who is expected to be tried for the crime.

Consul Perceval's report also states that Benton went to Villa unarmed and to protest against the theft of his cattle. That finding also agrees with the contentions of Benton's friends.

Brigadier General Bliss, commanding the border forces, reported today that in expectation of a battle below Guerrero, Mexico, opposite Zapata, Texas, a detachment of troop L, of the 14th cavalry had been dispatched from Fort McIntosh to Zapata.

Rear Admiral Fletcher reported conditions in Vera Cruz and Tampico unchanged. Secretary Bryan said he had no information of the nature of conferences in which Mr. O'Shaughnessy had participated in Vera Cruz.

Asks for Release of Mexicans at Fort Bliss

(By Associated Press.)

March 23.—Judge Edwin W. Meek, of the United States district court, today opened the habeas corpus hearing for the release of 5,000 Mexican federal prisoners held at Fort Bliss, Tex., by the government. The judge granted the writ last week at Dallas.

The contention of the prisoners is that the United States has no right to hold them under any international agreement or law.

Under the Hague treaty, they assert, a country has a right to hold military men fleeing from another country if they are engaged in an international struggle, but not troops fleeing from internecine strife.

Mr. Wilson Denies Report O'Shaughnessy Will Resign

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Information thus far received by President Wilson indicates that the parleys at Vera Cruz between Lind and Senor Portillo Rojas, Huerta's minister for foreign affairs, have not reached the stage of formal negotiations or definite proposals.

The president told callers to say that nothing important had developed. Incidentally the president denied that charge O'Shaughnessy would resign un-

English Opera to Have Run of Twenty Weeks In City of New York

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 23.—Popular support accorded the long season of opera in English in this city by the Century Opera company, with performances still continuing, has enabled its management to announce a season of twenty consecutive weeks of nightly performances with Thursday and Saturday matinees for the coming theatrical year, beginning September 14. The repertoire will consist of twenty operas. Two operas will be given each fortnight, the operas alternating from night to night during that period.

Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston will be visited by the troupe after its season in New York. The Century Opera house will then be taken for a season of fourteen weeks by the Dippel Opera Comique company, under direction of Andreas Dippel, presenting for ten weeks, the new Puccini operetta of announced title, and French opera bouffe for four weeks.

less it were on account of ill-health and he hoped that would not be necessary.

Interest in official circles was focused almost entirely on the trouble battle at Torreon. Administration officials do not expect that peace parleys or negotiations will crystalize until after the battle.

YOUTH IN OLD AGE Possible With Proper Care

A few generations back a man at 50 was considered old, Gray-bearded, and waiting for death. Note the change today: at a meeting of the Medico-Legal society it was stated that a man of 60 ought to have forty good years ahead of him and, thus at ninety he is in the fullness of maturity.

What if you have seen sixty, or even seventy birthdays—temperate habits, fresh air and exercise, with a simple diet and a sufficient amount of sleep will guard your health.

If perchance, your circulation is poor, if you become run down—weak and no appetite—nothing in the world will tone up those tired backaliding organs—enrich the blood and create strength so quickly as our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol.

We ask every feeble, discouraged old person in this vicinity to try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. Elkin Drug Co., Atlanta, Ga.

"I AM NOW A HAPPY WOMAN"

Says Franklin Lady, Who Says She Has But One Regret After Many Years of Trouble

Franklin, Va.—"I am now a happy woman," says Mrs. Elizabeth Boone, of this town, "although for eight (8) long years, I suffered dreadfully with womanly troubles, and I had to lie in bed for three or four days, every month.

I was in such condition, I could not do my housework, nor could I eat heavy or greasy food of any kind. I was a perfect wreck.

Some of my lady friends advised me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, which I did. I have now taken seven bottles, and am sound and well, can do all of my housework, as well as my laundry work. I am sure the 7 bottles of Cardui did me $100.00 worth of good.

I have but one regret, and that is that I did not commence taking Cardui 5 years ago. I would have avoided all that suffering, besides saving all the money I paid out for other medicines that did me no good.

Several of my lady friends are now taking Cardui on my recommendation and it is helping them."

If you suffer from any of the numerous ills so common to women, begin taking Cardui, today. It relieved Mrs. Boone after her condition became chronic. It will surely help you.

Try Cardui.
