VILLA SAYS WILL HAVE THE CITY BY SUNDAY

Rebels Delivered Three Assaults Before Victory Was Achieved—Battle Led Into City's Principal Streets

(By Associated Press.) CONSTITUTIONALIST HEADQUARTERS, Mexico, March 26.—(By wire.)—General Villa and his rebel army, after four days of the most intense fighting, during which victory seemed first with one side and then with the other, occupied Gomez Palacio today.

Losses on both sides have been heavy. The rebels delivered three assaults before permanent success was achieved, and at times the battle extended into the leading streets of Gomez Palacio. Villa predicts that he will have the city under his control by Sunday. A pitiless attack of the battle was the last of which was as deadly as the first. The rebels, however, were the victors in a half dozen assaults which were made with the aid of machine guns and other modern weapons. ODD FELLOWS' CABINET MEETS AT PIEDMONT

Grand Master Thomas M. Hoynes Presides at Semi-Annual Session.

With Thomas M. Hoynes, grand master of Georgia, presiding, the semi-annual meeting of the cabinet of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows began in the colonial room of the Piedmont hotel Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Present were Grand Lodge officers and deputy officers of the entire state, representing every lodge in Georgia, 146 in number, with a grand total of 25,000 members.

The session was executive and no outsiders were admitted during the deliberations. At 1 o'clock the meeting adjourned for lunch and an hour later the delegates returned. The session will continue during the afternoon and close Friday night with an informal supper.

Grand Master Hoynes was delighted with the full attendance and the interest taken in the work. Reports show the organization has made rapid strides in Georgia the past few years, with the membership steadily increasing. Inducted new lodges are being installed from time to time, as the occasion demands.

A majority of the visitors will leave for their homes either Friday evening or Saturday morning. Delegates have pledged their intention of remaining in the city over Sunday.

RUMOR SOUTHERN SHOPS TO BE AT INMAN YARDS

Officials Make Denial - Plan Discussed to Move Coach Yards to North Avenue

It was reported Friday that the Southern railways would abandon what is known as its "south" shop, on Windward street, and erect great shops at Inman Yards.

The report was given greater color by the fact that the railroad recently has provided a great fund for extensive improvements in the south.

At the office of the road, however, a denial was made of the rumored project. It was explained that the report possibly grew out of a tentative plan, now under consideration, to move the "coach" yards from the south shops to the yards at North Avenue.

This would be done to give more room at the south shops for general work. This move, however, would be of no great consequence, and even that has not been officially decided on.

The road already has small shops at Inman Yards, but it was noted that bigger improvements were contemplated there or that, as reported, the road was buying additional property around the Inman Yards.

The rumor also had it that the road's decision was brought about by the terms of a lease about to expire, but officials said that the property where the shops stood was not leased but owned by the road in fee simple.

Brother of J. F. Johnson III. A telegram announcing that his brother, Richard Johnson, a prominent farmer of Leesburg, Ga., had been stricken with paralysis and was in a critical condition was received Thursday evening by Joseph P. Johnson, chief clerk of the railroad's general department. Mr. Johnson and his son, Thomas J. Johnson, left Atlanta Friday morning for Leesburg.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR TWO WEEKS' WORK

Unequaled Opportunity. Offered by The Journal to Energetic Men and Women.

Evaluating the great increase in interest which is daily growing by leaps and bounds one of the earliest young men in The Atlanta Journal like Walter Giff, distribution, told the following story this morning:

"I have noticed that the big business men of today, in relating the business of their rise, always say: 'Watch your opportunities.' Now, I know what the average wage is, and even in my present position, I am not getting anywhere near the salary I know I can earn by trying during these two weeks of the campaign. Why, even if I should only win the first district prize in my particular section, I will be earning a salary much larger than I have ever earned before for the same length of time. I am even greater than I ever hope to earn in the future so why shouldn't I try? I know this is one of the opportunities of my life, and I am going to make the most of it. ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD, the first district prize, is most certainly worth working for two weeks, and then I also have the chance, if I try real hard, to win the grand prize of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD, or one of the automobiles. And I am going to do my best you can rest assured."

This same explanation is given by the majority of the candidates and shows there are many who realize the extent of the opportunity before them at the present time. One Hundred Dollars is certainly good pay for two weeks' work, and any earnest candidate can win it by trying. Of course, it will take some work, but just stop a moment and consider whether or not it takes effort to gain anything worth while in this world. The things we prize the most in life are the things we earn by the hardest work. But does not take a great deal of work to win one of these prizes. AND THERE IS ONLY ONE THOUSAND DOLLAR AWARDS IN EACH DISTRICT.

And if a candidate gets right in and tries there is no limit to the amount of money. After you have won, you soon realize it is not such a hard matter to win even the top prize of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD. This then is the REAL OPPORTUNITY FOR EVERY CANDIDATE. Now is the time to make your efforts count and get your place in effect for the final day, which will soon be upon us.

CASH TREASURES

There are no doubt many people who have imagined you subscriptions at the close of the campaign. BUT RIGHT NOW IN WHAT YOU WANT THOSE SUBSCRIPTIONS AND WANT THEM WORTH MORE THAN YOU EVER WANTED. ANYTHING BEFORE IN YOUR LIFE, FOR RIGHT NOW IN WHEN THEY CAN'T FORGIVE YOU MORE. Then, if you count upon winning up all these prospective subscribers during the last week, you are certain to forget some of them. WHY NOT DO THE RIGHT THING BY GOING TO THESE PEOPLE TOMORROW TELLING THEM YOU NEED THEIR SUBSCRIPTIONS NOW AND WILL APPRECIATE THIS HELPING HAND NOW. YOU WILL LATER ON. Every possible subscription is going to be needed, and it might be just that one to get a special ad not to forget to get until you would surely regret such AN OPPORTUNITY. IF THIS FINAL COUNT SHOWED THAT ONE SINGLE SUBSCRIPTION WOULD WIN YOU FROM WINNING ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD OR A RARE AND RARE AUTOMOBILE. WOULDN'T YOU?

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES TO MEET IN DEBATE

There will be a debate Friday night, March 27, at St. John Methodist Episcopal church, between the Young People's Missionary societies of St. Paul and St. John churches. The subject is "Resolved, That it is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all."

Oldest Member of Estes Family Dies at Clarkston

MRS. MARY ESTES.

Mrs. Mary Estes, Better Known as "Grandma Estes," Passes Away in Home at Clarkston Within One Mile of Where She Was Born Eighty-Seven Years Ago.

In the death of Mrs. Mary Estes last Tuesday at the home of her son in Clarkston, Ga., the family of that name mourns the passing of its oldest and most beloved member.

"Grandma Estes," as she was universally known, is survived by eleven children, fifty-four grandchildren, forty great grandchildren and one great, great grandchild, all of whom save one live either in Fulton or DeKalb county.

She was eighty-seven years of age and died within a mile of the place where she was born. She was a devout Christian and a prominent member of the Methodist Episcopal church, which her husband helped to found in 1854.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Bethesda church, conducted by Rev. J. B. Stiles. From miles around came relatives and friends to pay one last tribute to the old lady who was so well known and so beloved.

She was the oldest member of her family. Mrs. Estes was a prominent figure at the Estes reunion last year in Grant park, which was attended by over 500 people. She will be sadly missed at the next reunion to be held here in August.

What should be his or her own field, and secured subscriptions that will bring them success.

Systematic canvassing of Atlanta or any town represented in the campaign will show many subscriptions unsecured that would have meant, or will mean, victory for those who get them. YOU HAVE ONLY A LITTLE OVER TWO WEEKS TO WORK. IF YOU WANT TO WIN YOU MUST WORK NOW.

St. Paul will have the affirmative and St. John the negative. A free will offering will be taken at the door.

Miss Price, an eighteen-year-old negro, serving a sentence for the murder in Greene county, of Will Jennings, another negro, was Wednesday afternoon pardoned by Governor Slaton.

Atlanta Clean

"A city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God"

--Hebrews 11:10

"Is Christ divided?"

"As the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ.

"If the foot shall say, 'because I am not the hand, I am not of the body,' is it therefore not of the body?"

"Now you are the body of Christ."

Would you divide your Lord?

Can you make one part of Him approve law breaking and perjury, another sustain the greed which would feed upon the lives of women and children, another countenance the damnation of men and the torturing of their wives and mothers by the sale of liquor?

Business, the building of a city?

Even before the cross of Christ was reared to teach us love, Habakkuk warned—

"Woe to him that getteth an evil gain for his house—woe to him that buildeth a town with blood and establisheth a city by iniquity; woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, TO THEE that addeth thy venom and makest him drunk.

"Thou art filled with shame and not glory."

And Isaiah, with lips cleansed by the flaming coal from the altar of God, cried—

"Wash you; make you clean; put away the evil from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; learn to do well; seek justice, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

"COME NOW AND LET US REASON TOGETHER, SAITH THE LORD; THOUGH YOUR SINS BE AS SCARLET, THEY SHALL BE WHITE AS SNOW; THOUGH THEY BE RED LIKE CRIMSON, THEY SHALL BE AS WOOL—

"How is the faithful city become a harlot! She that was full of justice! Righteousness lodged in her, but now murderers—

"Every one loveth bribes and followeth after rewards; they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them—

"Zion shall be redeemed with justice."

Then came Micah, answering and asking—

"What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

"You are the body of Christ."

"Walk humbly with thy God."

"Wash you; make you clean; put away the evil from before mine eyes."

And His Church, your Church, calls—Make the whole city clean! BRICK AND MORTAR, STONE AND CONCRETE, PAVEMENT AND WALL SHOULD BE MADE SPOTLESS IN THE LIGHT OF HIS DAY. BUT OUR HEARTS AND LIVES, THE REAL CITY IN WHICH WE LIVE, SHOULD BE FREED FROM EVERY STAIN IN THE LIGHT OF HIS LOVE.

Protected vice has gone from our midst.

Cruelty to convicts has been condemned, and men already see its end.

The thousands who visit our beloved home, Atlanta, should bear away the word—Neither cranks, nor libertines, but Justice, God's Law of Love, rules within our gate.

Yes, they should say to the world—

"We have found 'a city which hath foundations; whose builder and maker is God.'"

Brothels, gin mills and bars—

Blind tigers, whether in the form of locker clubs, or near-beer sa- loons—these have no abiding place in such a city. They cannot stay. These spots must go. Atlanta will be clean.

Think of these things.

And Sunday, will you not lay aside prejudice, passion and greed, and go to your church, God's house of prayer, and there hear His word, not in order that men may dictate to you, but that you may hear and heed that Law of Love which your Father would write within your heart.

Christ is not divided.

Our city is one "which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God."

PLANNING TO OVERHAUL PURCHASING DEPARTMENT

Council Members Not Satisfied With Present System of Making City's Purchases

Unidentified with the manner in which purchases for the city are now made by the purchasing department, members of the general council started movement Friday to overhaul the department by amending the ordinance under which it is created.

This ordinance provides that all supplies for the city shall be purchased by a purchasing agent, which officer is created by the ordinance, and provides that the purchasing agent may call in the mayor, the chairman of the finance committee of council and the comptroller as an advisory committee.

Mayor Woodward has insisted upon strict conformity to these provisions, and the purchasing agent, who is W. E. Chambers, an appointee of the mayor, has governed himself to a large extent according to the mayor's wishes.

The result is that the board of financial affairs of the city have had no hand in the purchase of any supplies, materials or equipment for their respective departments, and this is where the rub comes and where the dissatisfied council members propose to make a change.

They propose to draft an entirely new ordinance providing that the purchasing agent shall call in as an advisory committee the board controlling the department for which the purchases are made. Thus in making purchases for the fire department the purchasing agent would call in the chief of the fire department and the board of fire masters. In making purchases for the police department he would call in the chief of the police department and the board of police commissioners. And so on through all departments of the city.

The council members point out that if the purchasing department continues to operate on the present plan, the purchase of a pump for the waterworks department, for instance, would be made without calling in the general manager of waterworks or the board of water commissioners; that the plans and specifications for a new school building would be made and a contract awarded without calling in the superintendent of schools or the board of education, etc.

They propose to so define the purchasing agent's authority and so prescribe the manner in which he shall make purchases, that all bids for supplies, material, apparatus, equipment, buildings, etc., shall go to the purchasing agent and be opened by him, but also that the various departments shall be given a say-so in the final selection and award.

Mayor Woodward is fairly opposed to this proposition, and so stated Friday. In fact, he made it plain that if he amends the ordinance, the purchasing department he will exercise his veto prerogative.

Councilman Jesse B. Lee, who was very much offended Thursday by being excluded from an executive session of the mayor, the finance committee chairman, the comptroller and the purchasing agent, on the purchase of an automobile fire engine, said Friday that as chairman of the fire committee of council he would refuse to sign a voucher in payment for the engine unless the engine and the contract meet with his approval. The councilman called on the mayor and stated after his came out that they had quite a stormy interview.

ATTEMPTED ASSAULT

STORY MAY BE FAKE

Police Holding L. C. Haynes, Who Told of Negroes' Actions Toward White Girl

Working on the theory that the story of two negroes' attempted assault on a white girl near Brookwood the other day for a fake, the local police are holding L. C. Haynes, who first called up the police and told them the story, at the station house for investigation.

Haynes, who is about thirty-six years old and lives at 150 Echo street, was taken into custody late Thursday night at the home of his brother-in-law, William Putnam, at 111 Chestnut street.

Officers declare that his story of the attempted assault will be thoroughly sifted. They say that Haynes and a man named Wilson took the girl to Brookwood themselves. Wilson is now being sought.

Haynes is indignant at the attitude of the police. He says that he and Wilson were seeking work near Brookwood when they heard the girl cry out. She was some distance down the tracks of the Southern railroad at the time, says Haynes. He describes graphically how he and Wilson put to flight two negroes who had attacked her.

When Haynes called up the city and county police and told them of the alleged attack, the neighborhood around Brookwood was up in arms. The woods were combed for the alleged assailants, and one suspect, a negro named Will Johnson, arrested. Johnson is still held at police station.

Haynes says that the white girl who was assaulted came to town on the street car immediately after the attack. She has never been located by the police. Haynes also says that Johnson is one of the negroes who he claims attacked her.

Fresh, Dainty Muslin Underwear at Little Prices

Extra Values Made Possible by the March Sale

The March Sale of Muslin Underwear has so effected values that the benefits still accrue to our patrons.

It has put us on our mettle to maintain its standard of values.

A difficult task but it has been done, so the woman making ready for Easter and the spring will find that her money will buy prettier laces and embroideries and finer nainsooks here.

We cite as instances--

Corset Covers at 25c

Sheer and soft fabrics, arms and yokes trimmed neatly with laces and embroideries and ribbons. All seams felled; fly fronts.

Drawers at 25c

Of sturdy and free-from-starch muslin; hemstitched tucks and embroidery edges.

Corset Covers at 30c

Compare them with those you usually find at 50c. These will not suffer. The nainsooks are as fine, the trimmings as pretty and as lasting—laces and embroideries and ribbons. And besides these are the corset covers at 50c. Marvels! Sheer nainsooks, edged with German Val laces and set with rich embroidery medallions. 50c has not done such service before.

Gowns at 50c

Choose from many styles. High and V necks,

Young Master Atlanta May Be Quite English In His New Suit This Spring If It Is Chosen In

The Junior Department Third Floor

Boys' Suits show the English influence this spring. We speak of the lately arrived Pickwick Suits and David Copperfield Suits.

The Pickwick is a two-in-one affair. A blouse of white with long trousers of another color buttoned on. Very smart.

The David Copperfield has a loose blouse, much like a middy, of one color and short trousers of another.

These may be had in linen and galatea.

With them are many little Russian belted suits, all white, white with colored belts and collars—these in linen and galatea; then a great variety of gingham and percale suits. Prices go from $1.00 up to $7.50.

All of which is but one way of noting the completeness of things in the Junior Department. The wants of the young folk have been carefully looked after.

Mothers will find it a pleasure to shop here.

To the Children, too, the Easter Hat Is Very Important

Just as important as ever it was to a grown-up. And the Junior Department has planned and worked and arranged with that thought foremost.

The Easter Hats for the young folk are ready. And young folk covers that span of years that extends from a lacy and Frenchy white cap, with puffs of ribbons and hand embroidery on it, to the Milan shape, crowned with a garland of fruit or a cluster of rich, red roses—or to a "lingerie" hat for party wear, of soft crown of lace wrapped with wide ribbons of blue and pink, with streamers extending from the underbrim.

The children's millinery is at its best.

More of Those School Dresses at 98c

Sizes 2 to 14 years.

Judge the Junior Department by these dresses! They are matchless values.

The quality of the gingham and the percales is that usually found in dresses at $1.50. And the styles—out of the ordinary, novel; little peplums are frequent and low placed belts and quaint little turn-back collars and bands of contrasting colors and of embroidery.

And in passing note the stitching, the buttons, the details that tell of many trips to the laundry.

Many smart wash dresses of gingham, percale, ratine, lawn and linen are priced at $1.50 to $10.00, and show style marks that the girls of Paris first enjoyed.

The Easter Dresses for the Children

Sizes 6 to 14 years, and intermediate sizes.

What a charming and attractive affair the Easter dress may be this year.

In the first place, it may be one of many fabrics.

For the demure young woman a voile or a lingerie, all white, or white with, say, a cluster of pink French flowers in the bodice, or a sash of pink or blue; the waist may be a mass of chiffon, net and laces. It will be fashioned with just as many ruffles and frills as you please.

For the young woman who turns to characteristically smart things, here are the ratines and the tafetas in soft blues, in navy, in the new tango shade—in about any color she may want. The skirt will give unmistakable marks of newness in ruffles and tiers that are at once youthful and graceful.

The Easter Dress—but see with your own eyes what it may be.

Priced from $3.00 to $20.00.

AMERICAN AUTOMOBILES
GAINING FAVOR ABROAD

Foreign Cars Are Losing Popularity in This Country,
According to Reports

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 27.—American made automobiles are gaining in favor abroad while foreign made cars are losing their popularity in this country, according to a department of commerce statement today on the exports and imports of automobiles in January, 1914. The number of cars exported in January, 1914, was considerably greater than in January, 1913. There were 3,558 American made automobiles exported in January, 1914, as compared to 2,187 for January, 1913. The number of cars imported fell in the same period from 71 to 12.

Disease Due to Germs

All diseases, not only infectious diseases, but all other diseases—colds, throat troubles, intestinal troubles—will all be due to implanted germs. These germs, once in the body, multiply by millions. Nature provides for their extermination, but sometimes it is unequal to the task.

The Nature begins to lose you soon feel the toxins or poisons—your head aches—your tongue is coated—your eyes are watery, stuffy, half shut—then you are sure sick.

This is the danger point and must be released before you get relief. Bile is the disinfectant that stops the multiplication of germs. Release the Bile and the trouble is relieved.

Use Cottolene on the testimony of the past

The first pure food display of Cottolene which attracted more than National attention was at the World's Fair, in Chicago in 1893.

That meant that Cottolene had then been known well enough and long enough to have its place in the homes of America.

Since then it is fair to say that Cottolene has revolutionized and bettered cooking in hundreds of thousands of homes.

Cottolene

is imitated—of course—but is unequalled. Any woman who knows it and uses it will tell you that it more than takes the place of butter or lard for shortening and frying.

Remember that you use one-third less Cottolene than you do of butter or lard.

Write us today for our FREE Cook Book, filled with splendid recipes by the most famous experts. Tell your dealer to send you a pail of Cottolene, follow the simple instructions and the results will be so gratifying that you will never go back to old fashioned, wasteful cooking fats.

and Mrs. Edward McCallan, who are enroute to their home in Boston.

The house was artistically decorated with a variety of spring blossoms, and in the dining room the daintily appointed tea table had a centerpiece of spring flowers arranged in a crystal vase.

Mrs. Neal was assisted in entertaining by her daughters, Mrs. T. M. Lathan, Mrs. Frank Gunn, of Macon, and Miss A. S. Ivy.

Reception to Visitor

An event of Friday afternoon was the reception given by Miss Willie Smith at her home in Druid Hills, in compliment to Miss Grace Ham, of Jackson, a bride-elect, who is the guest of Mrs.
Paul Baker.

A group of stately palms formed an effective background for the receiving line and the mantels of the parlor and dining room were banked with Eucharis carnations and pink sweet peas.
The punch bowl was placed in the sun parlor and was imbedded in sweet peas and ferns.

The centerpiece of the dining room table was a crystal chandelier filled with fragrant flowers.

Four silver candelabra, which rested on the corners of the table, held pink-shaded candles.

An orchestra played tuneful selections
during the hours the guests called.
Miss Gladys Bird and Miss Gladys
Grant served punch.

Miss Smith wore blue silk crepe draped in cream lace, with corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Ham was attractive in old blue charmeuse veiled in princess lace and her bouquet was of lady's tillington roses.

Mrs. Mildred Thomas wore pale green charmeuse combined with chiffon and carried valley hills.

Smith, Miss Ham, and Miss Thomas, and assisting in the entertainment of the guests were Miss Juliet Murray, Miss Doris Lawrence, Mrs. Oliver Darwin, Mrs.
O. D. Gorman, Mrs. Paul J. Baker and Mrs. J. R. Smith.

INTERESTING GOSSIP OF INTERESTING PEOPLE

From London comes the following interesting description of the world continue seen at the Chateaux Art club the Albert hall. The setting was an old English fair, there were many gotesque and weird frocks and costumes, and several of the ladies looked very strange with purple and green hair.

Many of the tropical groups were greatly amusing, including a company of "natives" made up to look like the deported natives from South Africa, in a dummy ship representing the Ugeni.

One lady wore a gorgeous gold gown,
the skirt of cloth of gold being draped in three lamp shades, a crimson sash around the skirt from waist to ankle,

and a high night cap turban and crimson hair. A striking futuristic gown had a tight orange skirt and butterfly orange sleeves, large white panthers, decorated with red and blue roses over it, a blue turban, and blue shoes and stockings.

"The flame of life" was represented in purple and gray, with a slight touch of gold on end to indicate the living flame, mounting upwards. A "scorpion dress" was in dead black, with a gold scorpion in relief. An "eagle gown" study in mythology had the hooded claws of the bird denoting the skirt and part of the plumage.

Trouser gowns, because they are loose and comfortable were plentiful. One trouser frock of bright red having purple straps crossing the arms instead of sleeves. Purple shoes, stockings, and trousers worn to match, and a large purple headpiece with green ornaments.

The menu consisted of old English food. The eaters followed recipes of the time of Richard II and Elizabeth, and there was an interesting procession of yeomen and cooks bearing the bowls of food, barons of beef, tasters and dishes.

In Budget consternation has been caused in feminine circles by a new order issued by the general command of the army corps of which this city is the headquarters. A short notice this officer interdicted his officers from giving their arms to their wives in the streets, and now he has forbidden them to wear the fair sex to balls or other functions if the latter are wearing the skirt which is so much the fashion in the London capital.

The wives of officers are now faced with the alternative of being out of the fashion or of compromising the promotion of their husbands.

In Paris tailors covet for fashionable dress take on a new lease of popularity with the advent of spring, many of the new models for the first time developing this tropical hue. The commonest is in dusty, "habshades," what is called spongetine, and their tango color scheme is carried out un-relieved by any other tone. One dress has the skirt and coat built of tango colored spongetine, with deep intersections of satin in the same hue, the color to the waist being of the smooth satin. When the coat was opened up, however, it had a lining of vertice satin. "Gashade" whiplash is the material which is so much popular in the coming months with facings of white corded silk or brocade in different colorings. There is also to be a run on tulle, notably black, for coats, skirts, dresses, and even millinery. As a rule the skirt is in the tulle, while the coat is short to the waist almost as of velvet in bright black, with trimmings and facings of black tulle. White tulle patterns

ed with Futurist roses in China blue or vivid pink is to be popular with the dancing girl who is to have shoes of the color of the roses, and white tulle is being used extensively for negligees and tea gowns, the latter having cloud-like draperies of tulle over the shoulders and sleeves and falling down the back to the hem almost.

Little Stories for Bedtime
By Thornton W. Burgess

If is a very little word to look at, but the biggest word you have ever seen doesn't begin to have so much meaning as little "if." If Jimmy Skunk hadn't snubbed down the Crooked Little Path just when he did, if he hadn't been looking for fat beetles, he hadn't seen that big piece of bark on one side and decided to pull it over. If it hadn't been for all these "ifs," Old Mr. Toad wouldn't have made his mistake, he did and you wouldn't have had this story. But Jimmy Skunk did snub down the Crooked Little Path, he did look for beetles, and he did pull over that big piece of bark. He had pulled it over he found Old Mr. Toad there, and Old Mr. Toad had just started from his long winter sleep. He had crept under that piece of bark, he had waited for it to drop out of sight, until he felt a little more awake before he started out to find something to eat. But when Jimmy Skunk told him that he had seen Mr. Blacksnake that very morning and that Mr. Blacksnake had asked after Old Mr. Toad, the very last bit of sleepiness left Old Mr. Toad. Yes, sir, he was wide awake right away. You see, he knew why Mr. Blacksnake had asked after him. He knew that Mr. Blacksnake had been asleep all winter and that he must be very hungry, and he knew that Mr. Blacksnake had a fondness for toads. He turned quite pale when he heard that Mr. Blacksnake had asked after him, and right then he made his first mistake. He was so much a hurry to get away from him, he hurried to the Crooked Little Path, where he had seen Mr. Blacksnake. He hurriedly waited long enough to say good-by to Jimmy Skunk, but started off just as fast as he could go.

Now, it just happened that Old Mr. Toad started up the Crooked Little Path, and it just happened that Mr. Blacksnake was coming down the Crooked Little Path. Now, when people are very much afraid they almost always seem to think that danger is behind instead of in front of them. It was so with Old Mr. Toad. Instead of watching out in front as he hopped along he kept watching over his shoulder, and that was his second mistake. He was sure that Mr. Blacksnake was somewhere behind him that he didn't look to see where he was going, and you know that people who don't look to see where they are going are almost sure to go headfirst right into trouble.

Old Mr. Toad went hopping up the Crooked Little Path as fast as he could, which wasn't very fast, because he never can hop very fast, and just now he was weak, because of his long winter's sleep and because he hadn't yet got the kinks out of his legs. And all the time he kept looking behind for Mr. Blacksnake. Presently he came to a turn in the Crooked Little Path and he hurried around it he almost ran into Mr. Blacksnake himself. It was a question which was the most surprised. For just a wee second they stared at each other. Then Mr. Blacksnake's eyes beamed to sparks.

"Good morning, Mr. Toad, isn't this beautiful spring morning?" I was just thinking about you," said he. But poor Old Mr. Toad didn't say good morning. He didn't say anything. He couldn't, because he was too frightened. He just gave a frightened little squeal, turned around and started down the Crooked Little Path twice as fast as he had come up. Mr. Blacksnake grinned and started after him, not very fast, because, you know, he had just waked up and he didn't feel very lively yet. Besides, he knew that he wouldn't have to run very fast to catch Old Mr. Toad, and he thought the exercise would do him good.

And this is how it happened that beautiful spring morning that jolly bright Mr. Toad looking down from the blue, blue sky and smiling to see how happy everybody seemed, suddenly discovered that there was one of the little covered people, terribly, terribly unhappy. It was Old Mr. Toad hopping down the Crooked Little Path for his life, while after him, getting nearer and nearer, glided Mr. Blacksnake.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says
Baptist the Long Tunic Indicates the Return of the Fall Season
FASHION—The long tunic introduced by Charut this spring is a continuation of the idea she brought out last summer in a less marked form. Today it has more influence on the style. It is considered by many to argue for the return of the one piece, full skirt. An it is it has a short, new petticoat under the tunic, but it is only a step to leave off this surplus garment. Every one seems ready to accept a modified one piece full skirt, but there is a strong action on the word modified. No one wants one of those old-fashioned gowns that were inconvenient and expensive.

The tunic shown by Charut, and made a feature of her spring line is not especially graceful, for it is always hard to wear a line that cuts the figure in two at the shoulder. But it has so many other points of merit that this one line may be forgiven.

Trades of Trade.
Many of these long tunics are of plaid. Or they are built of the solid material and edged with a three-inch border of plaid. The petticoat in either case is of the solid color, sometimes satin, sometimes cloth. The bodies are made into a watercoat, which is a favorite idea over here, or it is fashioned with a deep belt of colored chiffon over a blouse of white lace. This is a design brought out by this house in December and it is still popular. One of the long tunics ends at the side seam of the skirt, showing an entirely plain back. This is not so pretty as the others, but it has introduced over here the idea of ending skirt trimming at the sides. Sometimes the flounce is put at the back, again across the front.

Boutique Puts Hat Brail.
It has come about that the edge of a tunic may be scalloped and bound with braid. That is a very old fashion that has been revived. The dressmakers here seem to like it, and now it remains to be seen if the public will care for it. It is not only used on skirt draperies, but on short coats, which are again in fashion. These creations are bound with braid or with satin ribbon. Copyright by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Mrs. Meredith's Gowns
From Parisian Houses
Attract Much Attention

The new style features in street and evening gowns are beautifully illustrated by the group of Parisian modas which Mrs. J. R. Meredith, maker of the Meredith gowns, is exhibiting at her establishment in the Alford building, 97 1/2 Peachtree street. The gowns are by Georgette, Paquin, Charles Worth and other famous Parisian costumiers. They are developed in the new fabric taffeta weaves predominating, while the lace and trimmings are distinctly French. The Georgette model is particularly attractive. It is made of brown taffeta and brown tulle, the center of tulle is richly embroidered in gold thread, and the sleeves and tunic of tulle show quaint little triple frills.

An opera wrap of black net hand-somely headed in bridgework brown and rebeck-colored beads has attracted much attention and Mrs. Meredith's own gowns have been much admired. The handsome materials and trimmings on display give a very springlike appearance to the room, the Roman stripes, plaids and more delicate hues lending brilliance and color. The Parisian novelties in trimmings are most attractive also.

MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERS INDORSE AMATEUR SCHEME

By EUGENE S. FULFORD.

MOT SPRINGFIELD, Ark., March 7.—Major league managers are unanimous in their support of the amateur baseball players' fight for recognition and contest for the sectional and national championships.

Mordchai Brown, leader of the St. Louis Feds, said:

"Practical all our great ball players come from small towns and obscure teams. There must be hundreds of them who are not recognized as being good enough to play in the majors. They would be Cobbe or Johnnies with no money."

Cleveland is sending more good men into the minor and major leagues than any other city. It is the only city that is just one of the results of the amateur movement.

"There is another good accomplished by the amateur organization which makes it worth the effort," said the National Amateur league. That is the fairer treatment of players and umpires by spectators. Spectators who have played and seen the amateur game are fairer to players and umpires. Cleveland has become one of the Grant carries a terrific kick in either hand, but his pet wallop rests in his right hand. Jeems rather hooks his hardest punches, but he carries a great deal of force behind them.

Whether Jimmy can put his punch over on a boy of Eggers' ability remains to be seen. Eggers is a pretty smart veteran, but he will have the time of his life trying to avoid Jimmy next Tuesday night. Anyhow, Jimmy is the favorite of the majority of the boys in the ring, and while this may be in the ring his opponent is usually the

In Rogers, Grant will be meeting a boy who is known all over the country for his hitting power. Edgers half-swings his punches, but he brings them home with tremendous force. He has fought such boys as Kid Herman, Jack Johnson, and the famous African American, Wagner. Al Shubert, Frankie Burns and other stars of the sport have been through this class of material and surely be made of the right material. Grant also has a few other boys in the two other corking ten-round bouts which would place him on the leading tier of the rounds of boxing in all.

AFTER all is said and done you are the directors of our business. For unless you are pleased with what you see here---so pleased that you buy, and, having bought once, continue to buy---this business cannot exist. Therefore, we are constantly on the lookout for pleasing things to offer you; things that are not only pleasing in appearance, but pleasing in value also. For this reason we are making time, when everyone is more or less interested in the newest dances, are the Castle pictures, a part of the bill at the Forsyth theater this week. And Mrs. Vernon Castle are shown on the big screen doing all their favorite at the Sans Souci restaurant, and them being the castle walk.

Mary Marble and Little Chip, representing "In the Land of Dykes," held the first hill, while the second was a variety of merit and class. Howard Ratliff, assisted by Dorothy Hayden, are the comedy hit, while The Fletts offer some amusing and clever metempsychy work, and The Asquith mystify with feasts of merriment and Risley. Other clever numbers complete the bill.

Net week's bill promises a rare entertainment, which, for headliner, has the sensational sketch, "The Astor," presented by Granville Tait and company.

Few plays in stock in recent years have made such an unqualified hit as "The Girl of Eagle Ranch," which is being presented this week so successfully by the Eddie Black Stock pany a the Bijou. From the mid the curtain goes up on the first act of the finale of the last there is so thing to interest, amuse and thrill a spectator.

Interest attaches to next week's a four-act melodrama, "North Lights."
