HUFF RENEWS HIS ATTACK ON SPEER; WANTS NO MERCY

Challenges Jurist Under Fire to Ask Former President Taft for Clean Bill of Health

NO SENSE OR SAFETY IN TEMPORIZING, HE SAYS

Move for Retirement of Judge Severely Criticised by One of Chief Witnesses Against Him

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

MACON, Ga., March 31.—Prompted by the recent suggestions that the charges against Federal Judge Emory Speer be withdrawn, and that the judge retire from the bench, Colonel W. A. Huff, one of the chief witnesses against the jurist at the recent congressional investigation here, today issued a statement in which he hotly renewed his attack on the judge and took occasion severely to criticise any move toward what he termed a "compromise" of the case.

"There is no sense or safety, no justice or dignity, in temporizing with a man like Speer," he declared. "He has none of the attributes of the clean-headed, clean-handed, open-hearted man of fixed principle and fixed character, and hence he can't be dealt with as other men are. None of the essential elements that go to make up a gentleman is to be found in or about him, and there is no safety in dealing with him as such. He is the most adroit prevaricator that ever came down the judicial pike and must therefore be handled with great care."

Colonel Huff expressed faith in the house subcommittee and insisted that the investigation be carried to a finish.

Colonel Huff reiterated his declaration that he can prove all charges made against Judge Speer and challenges the jurist with the offer to withdraw all charges, except one which are not named, if Judge Speer or any of his friends will get from former President Taft a written statement that he knows or believes the jurist to be "a perfectly clean, honest, upright, conscientious and well-balanced judge."

"If, however," he continues, "Speer fails to get such a statement from Mr. Taft, then he must agree to resign at once."

Referring to the move to retire Judge Speer, Colonel Huff mentions the names of Congressmen Adamson, Bartlett and Hardwick as those he says he believes were "the prime movers in this retirement and 'let-down-easy' scheme."

"There is much to justify," he says, "the belief that we are at the mercy of a gang of little trading politicians at Washington, all claiming to be Democrats."

"COWARDLY POLITICAL TRICKERY"

Colonel Huff's statement in full follows:

"As you know, I have been sick and confined to my room almost all the time for the past three months. During these long days and nights of silent suffering I have for most of the time been too feeble to read the newspapers, and have therefore not kept up with the political manoeuverings that seem to have been going on in Washington by and between Judge Emory Speer on the one hand and our compromising Georgia delegation on the other. Some strange things have happened in the capital since the Speer investigation was on.

"Very recent developments would seem to indicate that certain members of our Georgia delegation who have long been known as the personal friends of political enemies of Speer, are now, or have been devoting much of their valuable time to the framing of some sort of questionable plan by which Speer could be retired without a trial. If we are to believe anything that Speer says or writes, this contemptible political monkey business has been carried on in Washington without Speer's request, knowledge, consent or approval. Speer says he has been no party to the so-called compromise measure. The initiative in this dirty, cowardly piece of political trickery was evidently not taken by Speer, but by certain members of our Georgia delegation, in order to be a clear case of congressional crawfishing.

"And now, without mincing words or wasting time in contemplating the shameful spectacle here presented, I want to say this:

"I have shown my utter contempt for Speer at different times and in different ways too plainly to be misunderstood. I have done this at great personal peril. In doing this I have jeopardized my all, including my person, by liberty, for doing this I have been made a prisoner and placed under bond. I have done this because I knew that I was about him to be blacker than he was painted by the harshest and most malicious words that appeared against him at Macon or Savannah during the investigation. And yet, if the report made by Speer's counsel, which is here copied, is a truthful statement of the facts in regard to the retirement scheme or the 'let-down-easy-proposition,' as referred to in the newspapers, during the last few days, then it shows that Judge Speer has been acting in an independent and manly manner about this particular matter, the conduct of these little congressional compromisers has been sly, sneaking, treacherous, treasonable, cowardly and wholly dishonorable in every respect. In trying to compromise Speer, they have compromised themselves. Political disloyalty and personal flunkeyism always work out their own damnation. The hypocrite and the political trickster always be found lying down together. The liar and doughface sleep in the same bed.

"If I knew the real facts in regard to this most discreditable affair I would not hesitate to publish them in full, together with the names of the parties who have been playing under cover.

MENTIONS CONGRESSMEN.

"I have heard it said that Congressmen Adamson, Bartlett and Hardwick were the prime movers in this retirement and 'let down easy' scheme. I am sat-

Young Danseuse Draws Applause Also a $50 Fine

Recorder Broyles Fines Mildred Kelly for Dance at Columbia Burlesque

Clamorous applause greeted the dance of Mildred Kelly, aged sixteen years, at the Columbia Burlesque theater Monday night. But when Ed Arthur, censor-in-chief for the police department, gave a lurid description of the dance to the recorder Tuesday morning the magistrate spake as follows:

Young woman, you are fined $50 and costs. If you repeat the performance tonight money will no longer be able to talk for you in this court, and you will be given a straight twenty-nine-day sentence in the city stockade.

"This burg doesn't appreciate real art," sadly remarked Miss Kelly to reporters as the manager of the theater handed the desk sergeant the $50 required to secure the release from custody of the leader of the chorus in the present show.

Censor Arthur blushingly gave Judge Noah B. Broyles a vivid description of Miss Kelly's dance, and also a description of her antics, when the crowd cheered.

Arthur characterized Miss Kelly's performance as disgusting and a few other things like that.

The audience, he admitted to the recorder, didn't seem to share his opinion of Miss Kelly and her dance. In fact, he said, she was the hit of the show and after her dance the audience resembled the delegates to a national convention at the time of the first mention of the name of the man who was to later get the nomination.

Miss Kelly, before her case was called, told reporters that she was going to put her dance on "stronger than ever" Tuesday night.

She changed her mind after the recorder talked to her, however.

Teachers Will Spend Summer in Munich Studying New Method

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 31.—Among the passengers who sailed this morning at 1 o'clock for Bremen on the liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse were thirty-two teachers from various parts of the United States, who will spend the summer in Munich studying the Kischensteiner method of instruction.

The teachers are paying $22.50 each for their transportation and besides being carried across the Atlantic at express speed, they will use the state rooms formerly occupied by wealthy passengers.

Dr. F. F. Claxton, commissioner of education at Washington, is in charge of the party.

Rosalsky Wages War Against "Gun Toters" Of Greater New York

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 31.—As a warning to persons who violate the Sullivan law against concealed weapons, Philip Rosalsky, of general sessions, imposed sentence upon thirty-five persons who had been guilty of carrying revolvers, blackjacks, slingshots, stilletos or razors.

The sentences ranged from fines of $5 to terms of from three years and one month to six years and six months in Sing Sing.

Many of those sentenced were charged with having a revolver in their possession in their place of business. This is a violation of the law.

Fearing Mrs. Stoe May Commit Suicide, She Is Closely Guarded in Cell

Repeated threats of suicide on the part of Mrs. Annie Stoe, convicted in the superior court here of complicity in the Mann act and sentenced to serve eight months for one count against her, have made necessary for her to be carefully guarded in the Fulton county tower, where she must remain her sentence. Mrs. Stoe is said to have taken the sentence calmly and showed none of the hysteria displayed at the sentencing of her brother, Sam A. Stoe, to five years in the United States penitentiary for white slavery. She has since retracted her intention of self-destruction and from officers it is learned that she is firmly adhering to her desperate determination.

Accordingly, Mrs. Stoe is being kept under the strictest surveillance and a close watch kept of what goes to her in her cell, practiced.

GRAND JURY ABSOLVES O'NEAL FROM CHARGES

Finds That Governor Had No Connection With Lacy Defalcation

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 31.—The Montgomery county grand jury this afternoon rendered a report exonerating Governor Emmet O'Neal from any connection with the Theo. Lacy defalcation. The brief report, made to Judge Brewster in the circuit court, is here:

"The grand jury beg to report that after investigation they are unable to find any evidence connecting Governor O'Neal with the Lacy defalcation."

Five witnesses were examined by the grand jury today before the report was submitted.

MARCH BANK CLEARINGS INCREASE $7,332,178

Last Year's Record Topped by Month—March 31 Shows Increase of $320,257.

Marking an increase of $7,332,178 over March of 1913, the bank clearings of Atlanta during the month just closed went to $66,225,637.79.

The clearings for March, 1913, were $58,902,458.88.

Similarly the last da yof the month showed a substantial increase. The clearings for March 31, Tuesday, were $2,097,593.85. Those for March 31, 1913, were $1,777,136.15. The increase for the one day was $320,357.69.

FELDER ISSUES HIS ANNOUNCEMENT FOR SENATORIAL PLACE

Makes Formal Statement of His Candidacy to Succeed Late Senator Bacon to Represent State of Georgia

WARREN GRICE TO RUN TO SUCCEED HIMSELF

New Appointee to Position of Attorney General Announces He Will Seek Election to Office

Basing his candidacy, in the main, on his record as a public servant, Attorney General Thomas S. Felder, who aspires to succeed to the unexpired term of the late Senator Bacon, Tuesday issued his first formal announcement to the people of Georgia.

Mr. Felder's campaign headquarters will be in Macon, his home city. That he is strong with the voters of the state war attested in both of his campaigns for attorney general when he ran far in advance of all the candidates for the various state house offices. His record in the state legislature—both house and senate—is one of leadership and accomplishments.

Mr. Felder's formal announcement follows in full:

TO THE PEOPLE OF GEORGIA.

I have forwarded to the governor my resignation as attorney general, to become effective on the 15th of April, so that I may be free to give my whole time to my candidacy for the United States senate. I feel that I cannot perform my full duty to the state and at the same time conduct an active and absorbing political campaign.

In offering myself to the voters of Georgia as a candidate to fill the unexpired term of that great Georgian, the lamented A. O. Bacon, I am actuated by the confident belief that I can be of larger and more effective service to all of our people as a senator from Georgia than in any other public capacity at this time, I must be frank enough to state that from the date of my admission to the bar, in 1911, I have cherished the ambition of representing Georgia in the senate of the United States.

Practically all of us are Democrats and on national issues there is likely to be little diversity of opinion. On such issues, however, as may arise during the progress of the campaign I shall endeavor to fully present my views both on the stump and through the columns of the press.

I am a lawyer without other source of income, and I will not be financially able to carry on an organized publicity campaign. In reaching the individual voter, I must of necessity rely upon the generous support of friends developed during my service as attorney general and upon stump speaking in all sections of the state.

My candidacy is submitted to the electorate of our state on my record as a public servant. For three consecutive terms I was a member of the house of representatives, for one term, a member of the state senate, and am now serving my second term as attorney general.

I stand on this record and invoke your active aid and support in the approaching primary with all confidence in the result.

THOMAS S. FELDER.

Macon, Ga., March 31.

Grice Announces He Will Run to Succeed Himself

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

HAWKINSVILLE, Ga., March 31.—In a statement made this morning to The Journal correspondent, Warren Grice, formerly assistant attorney general, said: "I shall offer myself as a candidate for the attorney generalship from the Third Congressional district. Though this is the first public announcement I have made of the fact I have received numbers of telegrams and long distance messages from my friends from all parts of the State pledging me their support. These assurances of assistance have come not only from this section of Georgia, but from the extreme northern portion as well.

"I propose to wage as active a campaign for the office as will be consistent with a faithful performance of the duties which I have been called. I am very grateful to the already large number who have so early urged me to run and in view of the very gratifying evidence of support which has been brought forward in my behalf, I may be considered as a candidate for the office of attorney general."

Mr. Grice was born in Houston county thirty-nine years ago and has been engaged in the practice of law since 1894. During that period of time he has been in partnership at Hawkinsville, Ga., with his father, John Grice. Mr. Grice for two years was a lieutenant in the Georgia state troops, when he was appointed a captain, resigning his commission as such for six years.

He was a member of the lower house of the general assembly from Pulaski county from 1900 to 1904, and served upon many of its most important committees.

Mr. Grice's practice as a lawyer has been extensive and extended not only over the Oconee circuit, in the counties of which he had a large and profitable practice, but he frequently appeared in the courts of other circuits of this and other states. He is well known as a lawyer of ability and is widely organized.

In June, 1901, Mr. Grice married Miss Clara E. Rumph, the daughter of Mr. S. H. Rumph, of Marshallville, and of their union five children have been born.

Mr. Grice comes of a family of lawyers, his father, Judge W. L. Grice, was a commander of the Forty-fifth Georgia regiment of infantry during the Civil war. Judge Grice has been a state senator and judge of the superior court of the Macon circuit.

Mr. Grice had one brother, who pre-

BOTH FEDERAL AND REBEL SOLDIERS AT TORREON IN A TRAP

Villa Pushes Revolutionist Army Into City and Couldn't Get Out Now If He Should Wish

(By Associated Press.)

JUAREZ, Mexico, March 31.—Confidence in General Villa's ultimate victory was restored among constitutionalist sympathizers here today by receipt of various semi-official reports that the rebel army had forced General Refugio Velasco's federal army to its last stand in the general barracks at Torreon. Opinions were freely expressed, even by army officers here, that the long drawn out battle of Torreon cannot last much longer and that it has continued thus far, and strenuously, because it really is a battle to the death.

General Villa, it is suggested, thoroughly understands the hazards he would run in withdrawing his forces toward Chihuahua subject to the attack in the rear from the federals. General Velasco's army is in a bad plight, if not worse. It would have to cross an uninhabited desert, devoid of natural defense. In order to reach succor. Driven from the barracks in Torreon the federals would be subjected to whatever measure of slaughter General Villa chose to mete out to them.

It is believed here that the week's fighting has left the rebel army better provisioned, both in arms and supplies, than it has the federals, and the fact that repeated reports have been received to the effect that the federals are making their last stand, leads to the hope among constitutionalists here that news of a rebel victory soon will be forthcoming.

Reporter and Photographer Tell Great Story of Battle

(By Associated Press.)

EL PASO, Tex., March 31.—A tale of rebel reverses and rebel luck was brought here from the front by John Read, correspondent of the New York World, and Robert Dorman, a photographer. They left the front Saturday morning, at which time they estimated that the rebel loss was 2,000 in killed and wounded, Read says.

We were whipped twice at Gomes Palacio, but the federals didn't have the good sense to follow up their advantage. Villa returned to the attack after reorganizing and ultimately occupied the city. We were whipped right there, but Velasco, the federal commander, didn't know it. Federal prisoners whom we captured said that Velasco later sent troops in the trenches. He is a cripple of previous revolutions, and has a bad arm and a bad leg.

VELASCO GOES MAD.

The prisoners told us he went mad at Gomez Palacio and went raging up and down the lines cursing and issuing absurd orders. Ultimately his own officers put him under restraint.

Our attack on Gomez Palacio was contrated on the hill known as Cerro de la Pilar. It is precipitous, and we made seven assaults before taking it. The result of each six assaults could be discerned after the battle by the rings of dead rebels. Their bodies distinctly marked the line where they were replaced.

John Burroughs Chats Of Edison and Ford and Fish and Lots of Things

Friendly Naturalist on Way Home From Florida Talks of Any Old Thing in the Day's News

Plus five pounds of weight he has picked up in Georgia this winter, John Burroughs passed through Atlanta Tuesday on his way to his home at West Park, N. Y., where he will celebrate his seventy-seventh birthday next Friday.

The famous naturalist had an hour's stop-over in Atlanta, and hour which he spent sitting quietly in the waiting room of the Terminal station, recounting the great time he had in Florida fishing with Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford.

He told how Edison is sleeping twelve hours out of the twenty-four, how the three of them went fishing in the Tomoka hatchee for tarpon and perch, how Ford shot a wilder moccasin through the head at fifty yards range, how they drove twenty miles to Lake Okeechobee; of the curious sect near Fort Myers, who believe misery-body is living inside the earth, of their guests at Edison's home there, Dr. Cook, Detective Burns and others.

"Next winter," he announced. "I may realize the dream I have been dreaming for years, and that is, a trip to Egypt, Italy and the Holy Land. I expect Prof. DeLoach will go with me."

Prof. DeLoach is the head of the Georgia experiment station, near Griffin, with whom Mr. Burroughs has been staying since early in January, save for the two weeks' trip he took to Edison's home at Fort Myers.

ASKS ABOUT FRANK.

The first thing Mr. Burroughs wanted to know after he had seated himself in the Terminal and picked up a wandering baby that stumbled right in front of him, was about the Frank case.

The reporter told him there was no news today.

"I have become very much interested in it," said Burroughs, "Way down in Florida there is much excitement about it as there is here. I discussed it frequently with Edison and Ford and we all seemed to be of the opinion that the man should have a new trial. Justice should be done; the whole thing cleared up; the guilty man hanged."

"Tell me what you did in Florida, Mr. Burroughs," said the reporter.

"Well," he said, "we had a great time. Edison is a wonderful man. He is restless, sleeping but half the time, doing very little work. We went fishing lots of times and got terribly sun-burned. Edison is the best fisherman of the three of us. He is so patient. I would sit for an hour and a fish wouldn't bite, so I'd get disgusted and leave. And just about that time they'd begin biting for him."

HENRY FORD A CRACK SHOT.

"But Ford is the crack shot. One day we went out in a boat and a snake stuck his head up on a lily pad about fifty yards away. We could just see the tip of his head. But Ford took a revolver out of his pocket and shot him right through the eye. I've been with a lot of shooting gallery men, but hit twelve clay pigeons one after the other.

"Then Ford had two or three automobiles at Fort Myers and we rode all around the country. Once we went out to some sort of religious camp there—I forget the name of the people—but anyway, they believe we are living inside of the earth and the sky is just the inside of the earth's crust. Their

LEGISLATURE TO TAKE UP VOTES FOR WOMEN BILL

Barry Wright Promises to Help Georgia Woman Suffrage Association

A bill to enfranchise the women of Georgia will be introduced in the next session of the Georgia legislature at the instance of the Woman Suffrage association of the state, according to the promise of Barry Wright, one of the representatives from Floyd county, in a telegram addressed to Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, of Atlanta.

Mrs. McLendon, as president of the association, addressed Mr. Wright with the request that he introduce this bill and strive for its passage.

Tuesday morning she received from him a telegraphic reply, promising that he will be glad to do all in his power along this line.

In her same communication with Mr. Wright, Mrs. McLendon asked him further to introduce a bill to raise the age of consent in the state of Georgia, to at least fourteen years. This, too, Mr. Wright promised he would do.

A. B. & A. BONDHOLDERS TO BUY ENTIRE PROPERTY

To Organize Under Name of Georgia, Alabama and Western R. R. Co.

The bondholders of the Atlanta Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, will buy the entire property, when it is sold by the order of the federal court on April 22, and will organize a new company to be known as the Georgia, Alabama and Western Railroad company, to operate the property, if plans formulated by the bondholders can be put into effect.

The bondholders of the A. B. & A. who are represented principally by the Old Colony Trust company, of Boston, have completed plans for a re-organization in event they gain control of the property at the public sale. There is a rumor that the Louisville and Nashville may attempt to bid in the property, but this is not likely.

Definite information as to the minor plans for the financial deal are lacking. It is known simply that the bondholders are determined to buy in the property, and to reorganize the company, under a new name, and thereby eliminate the court receiver.

If the bondholders buy in the A. B. & A. they will organize a new company with a capitalization of $37,000,000 common stock; $8,200,000 non-cumulative preferred, $2,500,000 first and general mortgage thirty-year gold bonds, and $1,400,000 in equipment trust notes.

This means that if the bondholders are successful in the effort to buy in the property at the court's sale April 22, nearly a million and a half dollars will be expended within a short time on improvements.

The bondholders are definitely committed to the plan for a complete reorganization under a new name, and the plan is not likely to be blocked.

CLARK LEADS FINAL ASSAULT ON TOLLS MEASURE IN HOUSE

Speaker Disclaims Personal Issue With President Wilson and Pays High Tribute to His Patriotism

"PARTY IS NOT SPLIT; I AM NOT CANDIDATE"

Scores "Jackal Press" for Asserting He Is Venting Spite on Wilson and Seeking to Disrupt Party

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—As the hour approached today for closing debate and taking the final vote on the Sims bill, providing for the repeal of the provision of the Panama canal act exempting American coastwise vessels from payment of tolls, administration leaders in the house were more confident than ever of victory by a substantial margin. They declared the bill would pass by a majority of at least seventy-five votes.

CHAMP CLARK'S ADDRESS.

Speaker Clark, closing debate against the repeal, disposed of those who expected him to attack President Wilson. He disclaimed any personal issue with the president, declared he believed Mr. Wilson was actuated by the highest patriotic motives, and that there was no breach in the Democratic party. He argued at length against the president's contention and declared "the amazing request of the president for a repeal, like the peace of God, passeth all understanding."

He disclaimed any personal issue between the president and himself, and added that if the president had spoken "which are not utterly untenable and which compel him to make this request," he had not given notice to the house. He differed with the president's statement that toll exemption was "a flagrant violation of treaty." In admitting dispute on that point, proposed that the exemption be suspended two years. He contended that Great Britain was mistaken in his view that the exemption was repugnant to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

"We want war with no nation," said the speaker, "but we will not surrender our right to complete sovereignty over every square foot of our globe-encircling domain. We will cherish and courageously face a world in arms."

NO FIGHT ON WILSON.

He denied the attitude of house Democrats who have led the president's fight for the toll exemption repeal. Referring to published declarations that his opposition to the president was the "opening gun of the fight for the nomination in 1916," the speaker declared he had told all to whom he had spoken about the 1916 situation that the president's administration was a success. Mr. Wilson would be re-elected, and if it was a failure, "the country will not be worth having." As to his own future the speaker insisted he could be happy without the presidency or the speakership.

"There is no personal issue between the president and myself," began Speaker Clark. "I trust there never will be. I have at no time uttered a word of criticism of the president. At no time, so far as I am informed, does he have any criticism to make against any single word or criticism of me.

"I have never for one moment entertained the thought that President Wilson is actuated by other than the highest patriotic motives.

NO BREACH IN PARTY."

"I do not believe President Wilson has ever entertained any other opinion as to the conduct of those of us who find it necessary to differ with him on this measure. President Wilson does not desire a breach in the Democratic party. I do not desire a breach in the Democratic party and there is no breach.

"I would scorn to believe President Wilson countenances for one moment the effort of some of the Jackal press to represent that we are seeking to disrupt the Democratic party. With most of those who have started that I am seeking to disrupt the party the wish is father to the thought."

Replying to what he called a "scurrilous and slanderous article in the New York World," the speaker said the charge that he had been swayed in his attitude toward the bill by the "shipowning interests" was a "base and false insinuation."

"If any man here believes that slander," shouted the speaker, "let him stand up here and now so that he may

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy

Easily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This plan makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually conquers an ordinary cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchial asthma.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pinex is one of the oldest and best known pulmonial expectorants of the throat membranes. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

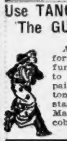

The prompt results from this mixture have endeared it to thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back and sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—(Advt.)

Praises This Remedy for Lung Trouble

Many people are led to believe that Lung Trouble is a disease which cannot be conquered. This is wrong, as many have fully recovered their health. A change of climate has helped some, but many more have been restored to health by breathing the freshest air, eating well cooked wholesome food, being temperate in their habits and adding the tonic qualities of Eckman's Alterative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles. Investigate this case—

Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.

"Gentlemen: The spring of 1908 I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my doctors recommended me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But, at last, James Dearing, of Glasgow Junction, insisted that I try your medicine. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles of it, as well as ever in my life. I firmly believe that Eckman's Alterative will relieve any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage."

(Affidavit) A. C. BETTERSWORTH.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Sold by all Jacobs' Drug Stores and leading druggists. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.—(Advt.)

FORMALLY ENTERS SENATORIAL RACE

THOMAS S. FELDER.

Mr. Felder on Monday resigned as attorney general to become an active candidate for Senator Bacon's unexpired term. Tuesday Mr. Felder issued his first formal announcement.

FELDER ISSUES HIS ANNOUNCEMENT FOR SENATORIAL PLACE

ticed law until his death, about two years ago. His great uncles, Judge Lott Warren, of Albany, and Peter C. Love, of Thomasville, were both judges of the superior courts and were members of congress. His mother's father was General Eli Warren, of Perry, who was one of the most famous lawyers of his day.

Judge P. H. Ed. Warren, of Albany, and Judge J. J. Scarborough, of Americus, both of whom served on the superior court bench a good many years ago, are also cousins of Mr. Grice's.

Mr. Grice is also related to Judge Andrew J. Cobb and Judge J. R. Lamar, of the United States supreme court.

Other relatives of Mr. Grice who were and are prominent in the state are Colonel Charles J. Gordon, of Americus, and Judge James Bishop, of Eastman, and Walker J. Grice, of Macon, and Judge J. G. Parks, of Dawson, and J. W. Harris, of Cuthbert.

Clifford L. Walker, of Monroe, is already an active candidate for attorney general for the full term and the race will doubtless be between him and Mr. Grice.

Governor Slaton lost no time in appointing Mr. Grice. He received Mr. Felder's resignation Monday morning and early the afternoon he announced Mr. Grice's appointment.

That delays in making appointments to fill vacancies in important offices are fraught with political complications and embarrassments was learned the governor a few weeks ago when he waited for several days to name the successor to the late Senator Bacon. The delay at that time resulted in a number of candidates, and of course those who failed to land the place, along with their friends, were both disappointed and dissatisfied.

When Judge Ben Hill resigned from the court of appeals Mr. Grice was strongly indorsed for the vacancy. Governor Slaton, however, appointed Peyton Wade, of Dublin, who also had a powerful backing. Ever since that appointment it has been expected that should a vacancy occur in either the appellate or supreme courts, or in the attorney general's office, it would be tendered Mr. Grice. Therefore, his appointment occasioned no surprise.

Edwards and Griffith May Oppose Congressman Lee

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ROME, Ga., March 31.—Political interest in Floyd county is centered on the rumor that Congressman Gordon Lee is to have opposition at the approaching primary. For a time it appeared that the congressman would not be opposed should he seek re-election for a sixth term, but there is an authentic report that both Judge Price Edwards, of the Tallapoosa circuit, and Senator E. S. Griffith, of Haralson county, have the race under consideration. Judge Edwards is not a candidate for re-election to the bench, and there has been much speculation as to his future course in politics.

It is apparent that there will be a lively campaign for county office in Floyd, with two or more candidates for almost every place. The latest announcement is that of W. O. Connor for the board of county commissioners against Commissioner Davis, the incumbent, who is seeking re-election. Prof. Connor is superintendent of the Georgia School for the Deaf at Cave Springs, and served a four-year term as commissioner which ended two years ago. He was not at that time a candidate for re-election.

West to Announce Decision On Senate Race This Week

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

VALDOSTA, Ga., March 31.—Senator W. S. West stated today that he will announce some time this week his decision as to whether he will be a candidate to succeed himself in the United States senate.

He is to leave Valdosta Thursday and his decision is expected before that time.

Three-Cornered Race for Senate in Twenty-Fourth

(By Associated Press.)

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 31.—A three-cornered race for the state senate from the Twenty-fourth district has developed from Chattahoochee county, from which section the senator is to be named, under the rotation system now in vogue here.

C. C. Minter, W. D. Perry and A. D. Harp are the candidates and interest in the contest is already quite tense. Mr. Minter announced on Saturday and the other two gentlemen formally announced for the office this week.

MURDERS TWO WOMEN, THEN WOUNDS HIMSELF

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, March 31.—Should he recover from bullet wounds, believed to have been self-inflicted, the police announced today they would arrest Peter Welter on a charge of murdering Mrs. Catherine Morris and Mrs. Sarah Sallans, neighbors, who were shot to death yesterday afternoon while working in their homes.

Welter is in a critical condition at the county hospital.

Welter, a neighborhood character, was a boarder at the Sallans' home and was a friend of the Morris family. The police believe Welter attacked the two women while under the influence of liquor.

Flourishing a revolver and threatening to shoot, Welter was found hiding in the closet in his room, weak from the loss of blood from wounds in his abdomen and right temple. A trail of blood led from his room to the kitchen, where Mrs. Sallans' body was found. Neighbors told the police they had seen Welter at the Morris home a short time before.

"A man shot us," was all Welter could tell the police.

You owe it to yourself to be well, that you may enjoy the pleasures of life and a fair amount of success.

JOHN BURROUGHS CHATS OF EDISON AND FORD AND FISH AND LOTS OF THINGS

leader died about six years ago. He claimed to be a reincarnation of Jesus Christ, and they all thought he would rise from the dead. They kept his body three days and then called in a doctor. But the doctor told them they needed an undertaker. So they buried him, still believing in his resurrection. After about a week, when there was no resurrection, some of the cult became so wild they committed suicide.

"But they were very intelligent people, living in peace and the principles of Christianity—about a hundred of them. They were sincere, but I gave them some posers that they couldn't answer without lying or fooling themselves.

"For instance, I played Columbus and asked them how, if they were living inside the world, a ship's sails would disappear before the topmasts below the horizon. They thought a while and then said that it didn't disappear, that you could see it with a telescope. But that, of course, was ridiculous."

While at Fort Myers, Ford, Edison and Burroughs went to hear a lecture by Detective Burns, who was there on the Chautauqua platform, together with Dr. Cook and other notables.

BURNS AN "EXPORTER."

"Burns is a very interesting man," said Burroughs. "He came out to the house and talked to us most entertainingly. But I didn't like his lecture much. He was too much like a Methodist exhorter at times.

"As for Dr. Cook, he is the biggest fakir that ever lived. The people went to see him just because he was the man who tried to steal the north pole. I didn't go to his lecture; but one day he came out to Edison's. We didn't want to see him, especially Edison, but Cook traced Edison way down in a pier and talked to him a long time. Cook gave us all a copy of his book. I never opened mine. I left it down there."

"We went out camping several times," continued Burroughs. "One night the tents blew down and we all had to stumble around wet to the skin. But it was lots of fun."

"Feel that arm?" he continued, drawing up his muscle. "I've gained five pounds this winter. I'm in great shape. Your Georgia climate is good for me, I guess. I've stumbled around in the gorge at Tallulah Falls and I've climbed Stone Mountain. And I've done lots of work, too. True, I've just written in the mornings, but I've managed to get out four or five essays this winter, none of them in print yet."

LIKES THE COLONEL.

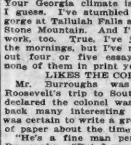

Mr. Burroughs was asked about Roosevelt's trip to South America. He declared the colonel was sure to bring back many interesting specimens and was certain to write a great many reams of paper about the time he had.

"He's a fine man personally," said Burroughs. "But I wouldn't like to be with him every day. Too strenuous. Guess I won't choose him as a traveling companion on my Egypt trip. Why am I going over there? O, just to see. I've always wanted to be in Egypt, Italy, Greece and maybe the Holy Land. If I live I guess I'll make the journey."

Of course the reporter had to ask Burroughs about golf. Burroughs is a golf enthusiast. What interview is complete sans such? No, golf never tangled him; he had golfed and was very fond of the game, although he didn't have a chance at it in Fort Myers.

With Mrs. Burroughs he left Atlanta at noon. He will stop in Poughkeepsie.

Race to Be Held in June and July Will Be International in Character

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 31.—The proposed New York-Bermuda aviation race will be held the latter part of June and early in July and will be international in character, it was announced by the Aero Club of America. If a tentative route is followed the aviators will start from New York, fly to Bermuda, around the island after a day's rest, northward to Atlantic City after three days' rest, and proceed thence either to Washington, or Charleston, S. C. Prizes amounting to more than $25,000, possibly twice that amount, are to be offered.

Robert H. Sexton returned from Bermuda and informed the governors of the Aero club that the Royal Bermuda Yacht club and the trade development board of Bermuda have appointed committees to take charges of the island end of the race.

GIVES $14,000 TO HELP JEWISH ORPHANS' HOME

Mrs. Joel Hillman, of Washington, Announces Gift to Fund at Session Here

A gift of $14,000, to form the nucleus of an adequate endowment fund for the Atlanta Jewish Orphans' home, on Washington street, was made Monday evening by Mrs. Joel Hillman, of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Hillman announced her gift at the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the home. Inspired by her generosity the delegates in attendance upon the B'nai B'rith convention pledged themselves to raise a sum sufficient to provide an endowment fund that will place the institution on an independent basis and make of it national home for Jewish orphans.

In recognition of her work and interest, Mrs. Hillman was presented with a silver medal by the B'nai B'rith. The presentation was made by Simon Wolf, honorary president of the orphanage.

Mrs. Hillman made an address in which she reviewed the history and accomplishments of the orphans' home. Her address concluded as follows:

"I say now with sorrow, that the maintenance of the home has not been always equal to the need. Often and often has the usefulness of the home been curtailed by reason of dearth of adequate funds, and often, indeed, has the very subsistence of the home been endangered by lack of funds for its daily actual necessities.

"In fact, this very last year there was a deficit of over $6,000; which the income of the home could not provide for, and for the first time in its history the local board of managers were compelled to make an appeal to the general public.

"The home must be placed upon a safe foundation so that the deep stigma of failure on our part shall not be added to the tragedy of death and poverty and helplessness.

"That this Silver Jubilee Endowment fund may be established, and the safety of the home made secure, I have made a feeble attempt at a beginning thereof. I announce the completion of my task, and, Mr. President, present the Atlanta Orphans' home the sum of $14,000 as the beginning, and it is now in your hands to bring it to a more beautiful and honorable accomplishment."

Mrs. Hillman's address was followed by that of Simon Wolf, founder of the orphans' home and for twenty-five years its president. He made an earnest plea for renewed efforts on the part of such agencies as the B'nai B'rith toward the solution of many of the social and economical questions presented by the Jews as a race.

A beautiful feature of the celebration exercises Monday evening was the pantomime entertainment, arranged by Mrs. R. A. Sonn, wife of the superintendent of the orphans' home, and acted by the children of the institution. Miss Sylvia Sprintz and Mrs. J. Greenfield assisted Mrs. Sonn in staging the pantomime in which the children appeared as flowers. One child, representing winter, put the flowers to sleep, and another child, portraying spring, awakened them.

METROPOLITAN AUDITOR COUNTS UP OPERA MONEY

Aime Gerber Says Atlanta's Support Is Considered Really Wonderful

Aime Gerber, auditor of the Metropolitan Opera company, is in Atlanta to confer with Treasurer C. B. Hidwell and Assistant Treasurer Cecil Meyer, of the Atlanta Music Festival association, and check over the sale of season seats for this year's opera.

"The business management of the Metropolitan," said Mr. Gerber, "has considered nothing short of wonderful the manner in which Atlanta and the south have come to the material support of Metropolitan grand opera. Until the experiment was actually made we did not believe such a thing was possible outside of New York.

"The singers and artists are looking forward eagerly to their trip to Atlanta this spring. They regard the Atlanta season not only as a splendid culmination of their musical triumph for the year, but as a sort of happy outing, and they have come to look forward to it from year to year."

CANDIDATES' ENTHUSIASM SHOWS GREAT INTEREST

Easter Gift Campaign of Journal Is Daily Growing in Popular Esteem

With a tenfold increase of enthusiasm, due to the near approach of the close and the prospect of soon claiming their rewards, practically every candidate in The Journal's Big Easter Gift Campaign is now eagerly searching for the subscriptions that will bring him or her victory. Every portion of Atlanta, Georgia, South Carolina, Florida and Alabama is being gone over, and it is safe to say these energetic and untiring men and women are going to secure every possible subscription in these sections.

Energy and perseverance are the two essentials to success in this, as it any other campaign, and judging by the results so far this week, every candidate possesses these requisites, and is leaving no stone unturned to bring him or her success at the close. It is a fair race, and to the best workers will naturally go the largest share of success. Work? Yes, it takes work but what is there worth while in this life that does not require work?

PRIZES FOR ALL WORKERS.

Even should your efforts not bring you the Capital Gift of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD, there are the other handsome gifts of fifteen, a splendid touring car—two Studebakers and one Paige-Brunswick—to strive for. What hours, yes, months and years of real pleasure and delight will be yours if one of these beautiful cars comes to you as a result of your work from now until the finish! What a prize to work for, and what admiration from your friends and acquaintances!

Another important fact that should be borne in mind by every candidate is that YOU ARE NOT WORKING ALONE FOR THESE BIG PRIZES, but for every prize in your division. Every division has its own rewards, separate and distinct from the GRAND PRIZES and the prizes in other divisions. Should you aim fall a little short of the top, you have the prospect of a splendid reward in a handsome division prize. One hundred dollars in gold will be won by the candidate finishing third in each division, after the Grand Prizes are awarded. A beautiful diamond ring, perfect and handsome, will be awarded the second place candidate in each division. Then there are the gold watches and other minor gifts to be won.

SHARE IN THE PURSE.

And for every candidate who tries but does not succeed in claiming one of the regular gifts, we will give a share in the purse of FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS IN GOLD which has been set aside for this purpose. Shares in this amount of gold will be awarded according to the work accomplished, so one IMPORTANT FACT STANDS OUT BEFORE EVERY CANDIDATE—THE MORE YOU ACCOMPLISH THE GREATER IS GOING TO BE YOUR REWARD. IN THESE WORDS, WHETHER YOU WIN A BIG PRIZE OR A SMALLER ONE, IS IN YOUR OWN HANDS.

AND YOU HAVE JUST THIRTEEN DAYS LEFT IN WHICH TO ACCOMPLISH.

WANTS COURT TO STOP HUSBAND FROM PHONING

Woman, in Suit for Divorce, Says Spouse Calls Her Up at All Hours

Asking an injunction to prevent her husband from constantly telephoning her, Mrs. Amelia Wise Harris, who states her husband beat her and choked her a few months after their marriage, has filed a suit for divorce and alimony in superior court against Robert Owen Harris.

Mrs. Harris charges her husband squandered $20,000 of her money, all she had, since their marriage in January, 1907, at Eureka Springs, Ark.

She alleges cruelty treatment left her a physical wreck, and that she was forced to leave him January 29, 1913. Since then, and especially during the last few months, she says he has annoyed her constantly by telephoning her at all hours of the night. She fears he will attempt to injure her, and asks the court to restrain him.

McClelland & Mitchell, attorneys, filed the suit for Mrs. Harris.

PREDICT WARM WEATHER TO CONTINUE IN ATLANTA

Duluth, Minn., Only City Registering Two Degrees Below Freezing Point

Duluth, Minn., was the only place in the United States Tuesday morning where the temperature was below freezing, and there the thermometer registered only 2 degrees below freezing point. Everywhere else the weather is getting warmer, though it is still rather cold in the west. The chances are, says the weather man, that Atlanta and vicinity will continue to have warmer temperature right along.

There will be a slight coolness Wednesday morning he says, but that will not be appreciable and the mercury is due to go up to about 70 during the day.

Cloudy weather and occasional showers during the day is the prediction for Wednesday.

FIFTH GEORGIA GETS AID OF COMMERCE CHAMBER

Asks That Employers and All Citizens of Atlanta Encourage Enlistment

By formal resolution the Atlanta chamber of commerce has put its strength behind the campaign in behalf of the Fifth infantry. This regiment of the national guard is essential to the interest of Atlanta, the chamber of commerce maintains, and it must not be hurt by indifference or antagonism on the part of employers toward the part their young men employes wish to take in its work.

The resolution by the chamber was adopted Monday afternoon following a conference among the directors and the military committee and a special committee representing the regiment. Investigation started some days ago has revealed that enlistments were decreasing because employers were discouraging employes from giving any of their time to the regiment.

Further study of the situation will be made Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the military committee and the committee from the Fifth.

Following was the resolution adopted Monday:

That all members of the chamber of commerce and all other citizens are hereby requested to co-operate with the officers of the national guard in their efforts to induce young men to enlist and to dignify the service.

That all members of the chamber of commerce and other citizens are requested to take such action, either directly by the individual employing young men or through their various boards of directors, by appropriate resolutions, that such members and employers are in hearty sympathy with the officers of the national guard and will encourage their employes to enlist and will permit them to be absent from their work upon strictly military duty not exceeding twelve days in each year, without loss of pay or detriment to their positions or advancement in said employment.

That the newspapers of this city be requested to publish these resolutions and to conduct a campaign among the employers of the city to promote the co-operation of the employers with the officers of the national guard.

DORSEY WILL COMBAT NEW FRANK EVIDENCE

State Investigates Character of Witnesses Presented in Defense's Final Motion

The state is preparing vigorously to attack the testimony of Mary Rich, colored, and also of Mrs. J. S. Simmons, when the hearing of the extraordinary motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank is commenced on April 16 before Judge Ben H. Hill.

Agents of the state, it has been learned, are making a vigorous probe of the life of Mrs. Simmons as well as her acts on April 26, the day of the murder, when she claims to have heard screams coming from the National Pencil factory basement about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Simmons is now in Birmingham, but she lived in Atlanta for thirty years, and her whole career here is being investigated by the state's agents.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey still refuses to discuss the Frank case in any of its phases, but detectives presumably working under the direction of the state's attorney, are investigating the charge by the defense that Mary Rich, about 2:15 o'clock on the day of the murder, saw Conley come out of the alley behind the pencil factory and then return to the building by the same route, thereby explaining the mystery of the broken lock on the basement door.

While the city detectives and others assisting the solicitor apparently have instructions not to discuss the case with reporters, it is said that they have found several witnesses, quoted in the defense's extraordinary motion, who do not stand by their stories.

While this is said to be true in a number of cases, neither the detectives nor the solicitor will divulge the names of the witnesses in question.

The solicitor as yet has not made no statement as to whether or not he will ask for a hearing of the extraordinary motion before April 16, when it is assigned constantly in the trial of routine criminal cases and has little time to study the Frank case. It is considered likely by court attaches that he will be content to wait until that date for the hearing.

Despite the fact that a copy of the extraordinary motion has been served on Solicitor Dorsey, the detectives in the employ of the defense are continuing their search for new evidence, and it is generally expected that, regardless of the report of William J. Burns, the extraordinary motion will be amended several times before the hearing commences.

The investigation by the Burns' agents is still progressing satisfactorily according to Dan S. Lubin, of New Orleans, now in charge of the Burns' forces.

Burns has finished his investigation of certain angles of the case, which took him to New York and other eastern cities, and officials of his office, expected him to return on a train which reaches Atlanta at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

It is expected also that Guy W. Bidgood, another of the Burns' lieutenants, will come to Atlanta this time with the "chief."

While the Burns agents claim to have discovered new evidence, it is their opinion that no damaging information until the final report on the case has been prepared. Burns has not yet talked with Jim Conley, Frank's negro accuser, or with a number of other witnesses in the case, whom he expects to interview before the final report is made.

ANXIOUS TO KNOW IF CHINESE IS HIGH-BINDER

The police of East Point are making an investigation to see whether or not Sam Wing, bound over for attempted burglary, and taken to the Fulton county jail, is a member of the notorious Hip-Sing tong, but she lived in Atlanta for thirty years, and her whole career here is being investigated by the state's agents.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey still refuses to discuss the Frank case in any of its phases, but detectives presumably working under the direction of the state's attorney, are investigating the charge by the defense that Mary Rich, about 2:15 o'clock on the day of the murder, saw Conley come out of the alley behind the pencil factory and then return to the building by the same route, thereby explaining the mystery of the broken lock on the basement door.

Good Food, Fresh Air, Rest, Only Tuberculosis Cure, Say U. S. Officials

In spite of the statements of a number of individuals who have recently claimed that they have found a "cure" for consumption, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the highest authority on the disease in America, in a bulletin just published, declares that there is no information at hand to justify the belief that any specific cure for tuberculosis has been discovered which deserves the confidence of the medical profession and the people.

Backing up these statements, the United States public health service declares that outside of the three essentials in the treatment of consumption, namely rest, fresh air, and good food, there is no drug known, however rare or expensive it may be that has any curative action in this disease, and all remedies advertised as such are to be avoided. Patent cough medicines are harmful; radium, X-rays or electricity in any of its forms have no special value in tuberculosis of the lungs. No serum has yet been found that will cure it, and there is no plaster or poultice which has an effect on the disease itself.

Tango Safe in Boston

BOSTON, March 31.—The house of representatives today refused to place a ban on the tango. A bill, which would make dancers of the tango or so-called animal dances liable to arrest, fine and imprisonment was defeated overwhelmingly.

JAMES ROBERT PAGETT SUCCUMBS TO APOPLEXY

Slight Attack of Indigestion Monday Night Is Followed by Death Tuesday Morning

Mr. James Robert Pagett, for twenty-four years with A. D. Adair and McCarty Brothers, but more recently of unexpectedly Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock of apoplexy at his residence, 151 Forrest avenue.

He complained of indigestion Monday night, but this trouble appeared to be slight. He slept brokenly, and early Tuesday morning his condition was found to be serious. Before physicians could arrive, he sank into a semi-comatose condition, which was followed by death.

Mr. Pagett's health had not been good for a year, but his decline in strength had not been sufficient to interfere with his activity in business.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Charles E. Pagett, and two daughters, Miss Annie Lou Pagett and Mrs. S. R. Bridges.

Mr. Pagett was born in Anderson, S. C., August 31, 1859, and moved to Atlanta about 1890. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, and was a member of the Capital City club.

His death will be the cause of regret to a circle of friends throughout Atlanta and a large part of Georgia.

GIVERS ARE WARNED AGAINST ORIENTALS

J. C. Logan Says Two Solicitors Are at Work on Atlanta Philanthropists

J. C. Logan, secretary of the Associated Charities, has sent out warning to philanthropically inclined Atlantians to watch out for two Oriental solicitors now in Atlanta, who make a practice of collecting funds under the guise of missionaries who want money for starving women and children in any part of Asia that they happen to think of.

Fifteen or twenty of such fakers have been through Atlanta in times past, says Mr. Logan, but an active campaign is being waged against them. It was for the elimination of just such graft as this, says Mr. Logan, that he suggested a board of public welfare be created by the city of Atlanta.

CHARLES J. CAMPBELL DIES AT HIS HOME

Succumbs Following Illness of a Week, Leaving Bride of Three Months

Charles J. Campbell, aged twenty-four years, died Tuesday morning at his residence, 39 Crew street, after an illness of one week only.

He is survived by his bride of less than three months. She was Miss Marguerite Vigneaux prior to her wedding, which took place on January 16. Mr. Campbell's mother, Mrs. Nora Campbell, and his sister, Miss Mary Campbell, also survive him.

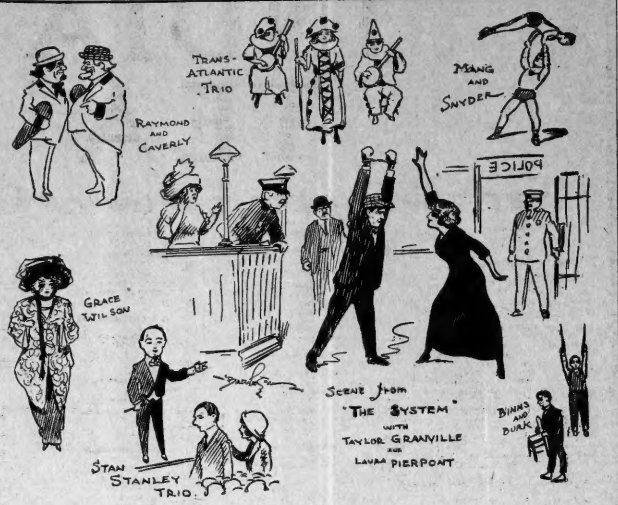

He became ill last Tuesday with pneumonia, and the disease quickly fastened itself on his lungs, death following within a few days.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, and interment will be in West View cemetery.

NEGRO ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Wofford Johnson, colored, was acquitted by a superior court jury Tuesday of the charge of murdering Mamie Bennett, colored, on the Marietta road on January 27, 1914.

THE BILL AT THE FORSYTH AS SEEN BY BREWERTON

THEATERS

(Criticisms of initial performances at the local theaters are written by members of The Journal staff. All other matter appearing in this column is furnished by the theater management.)

A laugh and a thrill mark the Forsyth bill this week, with in-betweens of sufficient entertainment to stack the whole program up as one of the best vaudevilles Atlanta has seen this season.

"The System," booked as the headliner, is worthy its placing. Well-acted and well-staged, this intensely interesting sketch of life in the underworld brings in crooks and policemen enough to satisfy the most bloodthirsty, while there is a tender little love story running through the whole playlet.

You feel that you should worry when Stan Stanley, the bouncing boy, hurtles through the air with his neck at such an angle that destruction is inevitable, but the next moment he has whirled and struck and and you are convulsed with laughter. The bouncing boy looks as if he had just stepped out of a Goldberg cartoon, and that is the highest compliment we can pay him.

There was much applause when Harry Clarke and the Transatlantic Trio appeared, for Clarke is an old Atlanta boy and his friends were out in force to give him the hand. The banjo is Harry's weapon and he uses it to good effect on a variety of selections, including grand opera.

Other good acts are Mang and Snyder, Raymond and Caverly, Binns and Bert and Grace Wilson.

With the indorsement of every critic in New York, the New Era Producing company will present at the Atlanta for five performances beginning Wednesday the biggest musical success of this and many seasons, "Adele" has a cast of metropolitan artists including Carolyn Thomson, Annetet Flack, prima donna of the New York Hippodrome for three seasons; Alfred Kappeler, well remembered for his excellent singing and acting in the "Arcadians" and the "Waltz Dream." George O'Donnell, a grand opera basso with European and American experience and a score or more of equally important members. "Adele" is by Paul Herve and Jean Briquet, authors of "Alma," a musical play of French origin, which had a long and successful tour in this country.

COTTON MARKET STEADY; PRICES LITTLE CHANGED

Market in New York Closed 4 Points Off to 3 Points Up From Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 31.—There was a renewed demand by shorts to cover at the opening of the cotton market this morning and after starting off at an advance of 3 to 5 points active months sold 9 to 14 net points higher, making new high ground for the season.

Prices turned easier toward midday under realizing and after the last March option had covered May contracts, sold a point or two under last night's closing figures.

Reactionary sentiment became more general on the afternoon setback but offerings were well enough taken around yesterday's closing price for July to check the decline.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, March 31.—Reports of a large Liverpool English bidding, the better Liverpool cables than due and unsettled weather over the cotton belt put the price of cotton up 4 to 8 points up on the opening today. In the early closing the advance was widened to 8 to 9 points.

Profit-taking met the market at the advance and increased sufficiently to bring about a reaction which put prices off from the most recent gains, but left them under yesterday's close. months 3 to 5 points under.

At noon the market stood 1 to 2 up net.

VETERAN IS AWARDED MONEY FOUND BURIED

There Were Several Claimants Before Judge, but Winner Described His Coin

(By Associated Press.)

BREMERTON, Wash., March 31.—A tin can of money found buried on the beach near the Bremerton navy yard by boys several weeks ago belongs to John F. Doolittle, a civil war veteran, residing at the Port Orchard Soldiers' Home, Superior Judge French decided yesterday. Several claimants appeared when the can, supposed to contain $1,000 was found, among them being Doolittle and Edward R. Wilson, paymaster of the cruiser South Dakota.

Wilson based his claim on the theft of $2,000 from the safe of the cruiser Philadelphia one years ago, asserting the buried treasure must be part of the loot.

Doolittle told the court he buried the money himself November 23, 1911, placing forty-one $10 goldpieces and three $10 goldpieces in a new coffee can. After all claimants were heard Judge French opened the can and found it contained $40 in gold, the number of pieces tallying with Doolittle's description.

MACON MAN WRITES CARD

fied that a part of this statement is true, but I shall be slow to believe the remainder. Some things are unthinkable. And why do I say that? Because I have heard two of the above-named persons curse, abuse and denounce Speer in most unmeasured terms—not once or twice, but time and time again through a long series of years. To say that either of these men has been gum-shoeing and pussy-footing Speer down easy would be hard to believe. Such perfidious conduct would involve a degree of bad faith not common even in a low type of humanity. Facts are and when once they are known they will be given to the public without fear, favor or affection for anybody. When a Georgia politician attempts to play 'wild hog' with his constituents he should be caught, marked and turned out to grass until he gets tame.

"I happen to know that one of the parties here mentioned as being in favor of 'an easy let down' for Speer was imprudent enough at one time to indorse Speer for promotion on the bench. Whether this indorsement was one of those at Savannah—simply to get rid of Speer in Georgia—I will not say. The indorsement was there as here stated, and when the impeachment of Speer was threatened, of course, embarrassments followed, and a 'speak-easy' movement was inaugurated by somebody.

"Speaking of judicial indorsements, it seems strange what queer tactics some smart men will employ in carrying out their political purposes. This thing of trying to run a rascal out of one office by indorsing him for some other and a better one is a fatal folly and one not justified by political expediency or professional ethics. It is pleasant to know that the practice has been confined to Macon and Savannah.

"There ought to be and there is a limit to self-stultification, but when a cowardly politician finds himself in a close place he will always take the shortest, safest route to escape punishment and exposure.

"In my personal letter to Speer in 1912 there is this paragraph.

"'What you got in Nova Scotia, please think of the close shave Swayne, of Florida, had, then make up your mind whether you will take the Handford route to escape judicial disgrace, or stand up like Archbold and meet your fate like a man. Think this over in Nova Scotia.'

"WANTED SPEER'S PLACE?"

"You will observe, Mr. Editor, that the above was written nearly two years ago, and long before there had been any talk of impeachment proceedings against Speer. But I see he took my hint or suggestion seriously to heart and governed himself accordingly. And no one can blame Speer for defending his judicial life, and especially when he finds the congressional delegation from Georgia is in favor of 'retiring' or 'letting him down easy' to avoid a trial. The base conduct of these Georgia congressmen must have been great encouragement to Speer, and like cowards naturally force themselves upon us. What were our Georgia congressmen driving at? Were they wholly unselfish in their action? Or did any one or more of the Georgia delegation have any ulterior object in view when they proposed that retirement plan? Why did these Georgia congressmen seek to serve Speer in a compromising manner? Why did they seek to give Speer more than he wanted? Can it be safely presumed that any one or more of these truckling little politicians wanted Speer's place on the bench? Can it be presumed that the federal court judgeship, the state governorship and the United States senatorship one or all played any part in the 'let down easy' plan, worked up for Speer? Who knows? Who will ever know the truth about it? Will somebody give us the facts?

"If there is a Georgia congressman now in Washington who is fool enough to believe that the great majority of people living in Speer's judicial district want an 'easy let down' for him, such a congressman is not fit to represent his district, and he had better be looking after his political fences. No one man can be elected to congress from the southern portion of the state who is known to be in favor of compromising with Speer and letting him down easy.

"TRADING POLITICIANS.

"There is much to justify the belief that we are at the mercy of a gang of little trading politicians at Washington, and all claiming to be Democrats. God save the mark! If there is anything lower, cheaper or meaner than a Democratic trading politician, hell has not yet developed it. What we want are the facts, and if none of these things here referred to are true, then what was it that first inspired the 'let down easy' proposition? Who first proposed it? In whose fertile brain did the retirement idea first find a lodgment?

"Some duties are hard to perform, and all men do not live up to their public obligations. Indeed, there are but few men in this world big enough and brave enough to rise above their environments and do their duty regardless. Most men consult their immediate surroundings and when seemingly insurmountable obstacles spring up, where least expected, they at once submit to the inevitable and defeat follows. A desperately reckless man, one who seems to court danger for the danger's sake, is rarely understood and never appreciated. Show me one man leading a forlorn hope and I will show you 10,000 traitors ready to desert their people and betray their party.

"There are many complications surrounding this Speer case in Washington. No man can tell what the outcome will be. It is, therefore, idle to indulge in guess work and conjecture. We should not try to anticipate for better or for worse. Let chance do its work and fate do its worst, and we will meet conditions as we find them, nothing discouraged, nothing dismayed —at what will happen. Let come what may, great good is bound to follow as a result of this Speer investigation. The worst than can happen to those of us who helped to bring on this public exposure will be better than a further submission to the infamous outrages so long tamely submitted to at the hands of a monstrous judicial monster. When tyranny and oppression become unbearable, they must be resisted at all hazards. Brave men understand this, cowards do not.

"CAN PROVE CHARGES."

"Speaking for myself, I want to say that I have never brought a charge against Speer that I can't prove, and have never said anything about him that I would take back. The record must stand as made, until I can make it stronger.

"The following is Speer's card, which speaks for itself. It has never been brought into question, and therefore to be accepted at its full face value. We must look at the facts as we find them:

"February 19, 1914.

"Judges Andrew J. Cobb and E. H. Calloway.

"Gentlemen—You have submitted to me this morning the inquiry of the Hon. W. C. Adamson, representative from Georgia, relative to the retirement from the judgeship I hold at this time. In reply, I have to state, if the judiciary committee, in accordance with their conceptions of duty, after considering all the matters which has been submitted to them, withdraw the charges against me in a manner as publicly as they have been made, I will not be unwilling to accept retirement upon the terms that I might do when I attain the age of seventy. I state this, however, mainly because I feel that my health has been to some extent impaired by my long labors as judge. I will, however, accept nothing except the most unequivocal exoneration. I will accept no retirement except honorable retirement. Unless this is offered me, and after complete vindication, I stand on my rights as a judge and an American citizen, let the consequences be what they may.

"With highest regards and appreciation of your devoted and most valuable services in the ascertainment of the truth, with regard to the unfounded accusations against me, I am, as ever,

"Faithfully yours,

"EMORY SPEER.

COMMENDS SPEER.

"Now, Messrs. Editors, in what sort of position does this card place Speer? Does it not place him on high ground so far as this particular matter is concerned? Most assuredly. But, where does it leave our Georgia delegation or so many thereof as were parties to the 'let-down-easy' proposition? Has it occurred to you that the dodging, vacillating, wishy-washy, double-dealing manner of handling this Speer matter by our congressmen has been well calculated to give more or less embarrassment to the subcommittee of the house? What must Chairman Webb think of the 'let-down-easy' plan as suggested by the Georgia delegation? How does it compare with what the subcommittee heard while in Macon and Savannah?

"CASE OF COLD FEET."

"We must not forget that congress sent Chairman Webb and his committee to Georgia to investigate Speer's judicial conduct. The resolution which passed the house directing Mr. Webb to come to Georgia is said to have been unanimous. The subcommittee came here, and after spending a week each in Macon and Savannah, they returned to Washington to find—what? To find a portion or all of the Georgia delegation suffering from a bad case of 'cold feet,' and advocating a retirement scheme instead of impeachment for Speer. I insist that this condition of affairs was not well calculated to strengthen or encourage Chairman Webb in the full performance of his most delicate duty. He had a right to expect better things of a Georgia congressman.

"To say the least, the situation as here presented is a most discreditable one. It is something such a variance with Democratic decency and Democratic discipline. Nothing but disappointment, dishonor and disgrace can come of it.

"The word compromise should never have been allowed to enter into this contest. The fight made on Speer by the government was on the principle that he was a guilty scoundrel. The fight should have been continued, and fought out to a finish on that line. There can be no middle ground in the premises and there should have been no wavering or shadow of turning on the part of the officials of the government when once they took up this fight. Much less should there have been any hide-and-seek game played by our congressman.

SPLIT NO HAIRS.

"Speer as the defendant in this criminal prosecution, is entitled to an open, full-handed deal, without political interference of official intermeddling. Speer is a judicial coward, a petty tyrant, a pompous humbug, a villainous rascal, a corrupt scoundrel and a general all-around imposter, or else he is the worst slandered specimen of judicial incompetence that ever ornamented a federal bench. If, after a full, fair trial he is declared guilty of any of the serious charges brought against him, then let the verdict be so recorded. If, on the other hand, he is found to be innocent of all the charges preferred against him, then let him have a clean bill of health without compromise or concealment. Let there be no splitting of hairs in the case.

"THE LAST REFUGE."

"As I understand the present situation in Washington, Speer's chief defense, his main protection and his strongest support, outside of that given him by the Georgia delegation, grows out of the fact that he is a Republican. And while his Republicanism is of the well known renegade and rescue-getting variety, he is still a Republican all the same. Being a Republican, he has of course worked the political perfection racket for all it is worth. Speer knows, as everybody else knows, that with the United States senate about equally divided in political sentiments, the impeachment of a Republican judge under the conditions here named would be next to impossible. And while the hero of political persecution in a case of this kind is 'the last refuge of a judicial scoundrel,' Speer has the right to avail himself of it if he wants to.

"It may be very becoming in both of our old political parties to take care of Speer as they can of all their members, but if it were possible for the house committee to put it up to the senate to say whether a degenerate who ran his daughter away from home and whipped his wife should be allowed to sit on the bench in Georgia it might change the complexion of things very materially. Desperate cases require desperate remedies.

PROPOSAL TO SPEER.

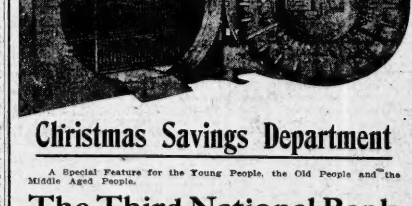

"And right here, lest I forget it, I want to make Speer this plain proposition: If he or any of his friends will get from ex-President Taft a written statement to the effect that he knows or believes that Speer is a perfectly clean, honest, upright, conscientious and well-behaved judge, I will withdraw all charges I ever made against Speer except two. If, however, Speer fails to get such a statement from Mr. Taft, then he must agree to resign at once.

"HAS TO BE WATCHED."

"An author of high repute has said: 'The persons best prepared to write history are those who have helped make it.' When General William Mahone, of Virginia, was at the zenith of his military and political glory, some of his friends asked him why he did not take a little time off, and write the history of his life. Mahone replied: 'I am too busy making history to write it.'

"Emory Speer has been making some little history himself, for the past two years, and, unlike Mahone, he will doubtless attempt to write it to suit himself. But Speer must remember that others have helped him make this history, and they, too, have rights in the premises, and will be prepared to write a little history as well as make it. A writer of pure fiction, Speer has no rival, but when dealing with plain, home-made history, he will have to be watched. He has no talent for the collation of facts, and his greatest difficulty is to keep the record straight. The judge who has been caught falsifying the records of his own court would not be apt to write correct history.

GIRLS! GROW LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR!

LUSTROUS, CHARMING--25 CENT DANDERINE

No more dandruff or falling hair—A real surprise awaits you.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth w. a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise always everyone who tries this.

A NOTABLE SALE OF WASH GOODS

Savings Average More Than Half on Inexpensive Fabrics and Rich Embroidered Dress Patterns

The Selling Starts at Nine O'clock

There come times in good store-keeping when it is the order of the day to clear out odd lots and stray lengths.

The only question is, what is the best time for such an operation, for it means the drastic cutting of prices.

Most stores wait until the end of the season, feeling that as long as the demand is good there is no occasion for cutting prices.

The feeling here is different.

We plan these clear-aways for the time they will do the most good.

And so this one tomorrow.

It is a broad-gauged, big affair. There are wash goods for simplest dresses; there are the exquisite embroidered voiles, crepes and ratines that were priced, until now, as high as $7.50 a yard, now $2.68. There are embroidered dress patterns with the flouncings on the band and the plain material.

The fighting around Torreon has reached the stage where the generals will have to match to see who won.

The Press of the Nation Supports the President.

One of the most interesting circumstances of the canal tolls issue is the unanimity with which newspapers of the better element are upholding the President. Not only the rank and file of the Democratic press, whose loyalty to party principle was naturally to be expected, but broad-minded, thoughtful papers of Republican and "Progressive" persuasion as well realize that the Administration has taken its stand on national honor and national interest, and are lending their earnest support. There could be no better evidence of the country's judgment on this important question, no surer token that the people are with the President in his appeal for square dealing abroad and at home.

The Boston Transcript, which has consistently opposed the Wilson administration on most economic and political issues, regards the matter of canal tolls as superior to partisanship, and the President's attitude as wise and just. "Speaker Clark," says the Transcript, "has been led by his personal bitterness and desire for revenge into a course perilous to his own future. The House is likely to support the President, and we shall see the Speaker humbled by it. A Speaker who heads a revolt against his party administration and fails has emphasized the power of the former."

The Chicago Tribune, the ablest champion of the "Progressive" party's cause, takes Congressman Murdock and his followers in the House sharply to task for having aided the coastwise shipping monopoly against the Administration. "Some Republican Senators and Congressmen," says the Tribune, "think that the defeat of any measure of the Democratic administration must redound to the benefit of the Republican party. They think that because a particular special interest has the courage to fight for a subsidy against the public interest, it is strong enough to protect them from public repudiation. They count upon the effect of a few subsidized "public" meetings. They count upon the effect of subsidized campaigns. They think that the shipping trust alone can do what all the other trusts have failed in. They bank upon the return of venality and deceit in politics. There are Democratic and Progressive "representatives" of the same stripe. But the Democrats will eventually hide behind the President. This the Republicans and Progressives cannot do. They must face the enlightened future unprotected. The disgraceful exposures which will be made will find their parties without a guiltless leader. The Republicans who vote to continue the canal tolls robbery will vote against their party's return to power."

These voices, one a Republican from New England, one a "Progressive" from the West, are, indeed, significant.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger considers it unfortunate "that a question affecting the integrity of the nation should have been involved even for a night in the nursing of a political grievance." But, says the Public Ledger, "The House very properly put the discussion on a higher plane by outveting the allied forces of repudiation, revenge and jingoism. The action of the House was a rebuke to Speaker Clark. It was a prophecy of final triumph for the real Americanism, which, irrespective of party divisions, has high aspirations, splendid ideals, a reputation for fair dealing to uphold, a conscious regard for the right because it is the right. The President was not afraid to put his leadership to the test."

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, known the nation over for the soundness and independence of its judgment, declares: "The present combination of ship subsidists, presidential aspirants and hate-England feudists, working for the defeat of the President's tolls policy, is also a combination designed to destroy President Wilson's prestige as a party leader and throw the party back ten years. If the plot succeeds, the future chance of the Democratic party fulfilling the high hopes aroused by Wilson's first year will be cut right through the middle."

The New York World takes a similar view, in saying: "The time is past when the Panama tolls bill can be judged alone on its economic merits and demerits. The time is past when it can be judged alone on the issue of treaty obligations. A new issue has been created. Is the Democratic party to be split by the enemies of democratic principles? Is a Democratic President to be repudiated because he has kept the faith? Is the Democratic party to drive itself out of power and sink back to an impotent minority? Nobody can decide this except the Democrats in Congress. The President is not on trial. They are on trial. If they pull him down, they pull themselves down, they pull their party down, and democracy will wander in the wilderness for another sixteen years."

Happily, all omens point to complete victory for the President. In this prospect, the New York Herald rejoices. "Let those who are fearful that the President will be defeated on the free tolls issue have misgivings no longer," says the Herald. "Yesterday's (Thursday's) vote in the House of Representatives was convincing. It spelled Waterloo for those flamboyant warriors on paper who would involve us for the sake of appealing to prejudice."

The revolt attempted by Speaker Clark has ended forlornly; indeed, it has ended ridiculously. It has served merely to confirm and strengthen the President's leadership. The fact that the President "has won handily" over all elements of opposition "will have an important effect, not only upon the progress of the tolls bill in the Senate," thinks the New York Evening Post, "but also upon the success of his policies generally." The Clark fiasco leads the New York Sun to remark: "It is clear to everybody outside of Washington's small rancors and gabble that if Mr. Wilson continues to be sound in mind and body, his renomination is as certain as the number of days in a week. The most irritated of the Democratic brethren know it; it adds to their sorrow. The Hon. Champ Clark and anybody else of the disgruntled ambitious have about as much chance of success as a fossil steed, Eohippus or Orohippus, has of winning the next Derby."

Examples of press comment favorable to the President's policy might be multiplied through columns and pages and entire editions. It is not significant that great national newspapers of all parties and all sections should join in approving the Administration's stand? Is it not predestined that a policy, on which the country's keenest and soberest thought is so nearly a unit, shall triumph and shall prove to be of everlasting good for the American people?

A Welcome Issue.

A situation that seemed fraught with peril for the British Liberal party is new proving highly advantageous. The question of Irish Home Rule provoked a crisis that taxed to the utmost the statesmanship and ingenuity of the Asquith ministry, but when from that crisis sprang the incomparably more serious issue of popular rule in England, the Tories were straightway put on the defensive. When it became evident that the Tories had gone so far as to encourage a mutiny in the army in their effort to defeat a Government bill, and that the supremacy of civil as opposed to military power had been challenged, the spirit of Englishmen, regardless of party divisions, was stirred to resentment.

It is now Mr. Bonar Law, leader of the Tory, or Unionist, party in Parliament, who is called upon to explain. There have been blunders on the part of certain members of the Liberal cabinet. The Secretary of War, Colonel Seely, blundered when he temporized and compromised with the army officers who threatened to resign unless they were given assurances of not having to take part in any movement to put down a contingent rebellion in Ulster. His course, however, has been vigorously repudiated by the cabinet, he has severed his connection with the Government, and Liberal ministry has taken an unflinching stand against military dictation to Parliament.

Should there come an appeal to the country on this issue, the Liberals would be overwhelmingly returned to power. Indeed, they could not ask for an issue more favorable to themselves and more disastrous to their opponents. They now stand as the conservators of the nation's civil liberties, for home rule in England as well as for home rule in Ireland.

The effect of these circumstances will undoubtedly be to clear the way for the enactment of the Irish Home Rule bill. It is now apparent that much of Sir Edward Carson's bluster was based on an expectation that revolt in the British army would leave the Government helpless to enforce a Home Rule program, or would lead, perhaps, to an overthrow of the Liberal ministry. But events have taken another course. The Liberals are stronger than ever before, the army mutiny has proved a boomerang to those who incited it, and the way for Liberal legislation is open.

The Provencal Poet

In France a poet may write in a dialect unintelligible to the mass of his fellow countrymen and become famous. In Great Britain or in this country such a thing would be impossible. When British and American poets adapt their native speech to literary purposes, as did Scott and Lowell and many others, they can be easily understood without the aid of a dictionary. Even William Barnes, with his quaint and picturesque poems in the Dorset dialect, was not incomprehensible, but neither did he reach anything more than a fame based on curiosity. But Frederic Mistral, writing all his long life in his native Provencal, and practically writing but his native Provencal, has been exalted among the great poets, not merely of his time and country, but of all times and all countries. He lived in one of the most romantically secluded corners of France, and, throwing himself heart and soul in his youth into the movement that sought the preservation of Provencal traditions and the Provencal language, he became not merely the leader of a literary revival but a celebrated poet. With his associates he accomplished the unforseen and made of Provence a literary country within a literary country.

Mistral was more than poet, however. He was the custodian of Provence's wonderful heritage of the past. He collected the vanishing proverbs, the legends, the folklore, the word-of-mouth poetry and prose of his people and preserved them forever. His reputation, meager at first and confined wholly to Provence, spread slowly. He became know elsewhere in France, he was acclaimed in Paris, his writings have been translated into French, into English, into many other languages. He was granted a long life and during every moment of it he remained, despite the unexpected worldwide celebrity that came to him, a Provencal of the Provencals. His country, his people, his language, his literature were his life.—Boston Transcript.

Forty-five Minutes for Dinner

The kaiser's rule that no official dinner shall last more than forty-five minutes in the eating is based in wisdom and buttressed in hygiene. In three-quarters of an hour the most vigorous man, eating properly, can provide himself with all the food his body needs and more liquids than are good for him. In that period one willing—so to do can exceed the counsels of intelligent living and rise from the table, not still hungry as he should, but stuffed and stupefied. The kaiser is no national to overeat or overdrink. He has set his authority against excesses consistently; a rational being, he will not dig his grave with his teeth. But, sound as the objection to long feasts is, his forty-five-minute limit cannot be accepted.

Hereabout neither his authority nor his example is needed to restrict dinner to moderate terms. The days of many courses, multitudinous wines, early downsittings and late uprisings, passed long ago. Not how much, but how good, is the motto of host and hostess. Four courses make a dinner, sufficient for its practical purpose, not so heavy as to dull the mind, not so long as to drag out to weariness; pleasant, stimulating, satisfying. France has the League of Two Dishes; its members will have nothing more, but will attain perfection in their limited menu. But one perfect dish makes a dinner. Who, having found it, wants or will tolerate more? And not too much of perfection, either.

Yet the time limit itself does not appeal. Food and drink do not make a feast. Conversation must be had, and conversation never flourishes so well as about the board. The retreat from the dining room snaps the thread of association and silences the most fluent. There are times when this is a relief. Five minutes after dinner is for such. But on those happy occasions when the "right" guests are on hand, forty-five minutes may be spent with profitable enjoyment after coffee alone. When no intervention of Ironclad rule, no operation of time table tyranny, can be tolerated. Those dinners end naturally and gracefully, in a silence that pays tribute to what has gone before, and no diner takes account of time or food or of gross material things that detract from the pleasure of living.

Meanwhile let us rejoice that the world has emancipated itself from the slow moving, solemn, soul destroying functions called dinners that, described by the chroniclers of their times, make us wonder how our fathers remained true to virtue and endured to their ripe old ages!—New York Sun.

The Complete Anthropologist

As usual the last word on the subject has come from Germany. In his epoch-making book on "Modern Love and Modern Logic" Prof. Junker, of the University of Zabern, has demonstrated in masterly fashion how every physical and mental trait of the woman of today may be traced back to the time when the primitive male, whenever he wanted a wife, went out and caught one.

Why, for example, is long hair common among women and not among men? The explanation is simple enough. The primitive wife hunter would naturally seize his victim and future wife by the hair, especially if he were on horseback and going at full speed. The short-haired captive escaped capture and died unmated. The long-haired women perpetuated their kind. Thus, says Prof. Junker, although in the course of time women have got out of the habit of dragging upon their long-streaming locks (laughter and Locken) as a badge of servitude and have even learned to take pride in them, ladies will occasionally speak quite sharply to their maids who are engaged in brushing their hair for the theater. This is undoubtedly an atavistic remembrance of primitive times.

Incidentally, Prof. Junker points out that the same explanation will account for the evolution of a short-haired male race. Primitive woman, taken captive and thrown over the male's shoulder, would naturally struggle to escape. Burying her fingers in the man's hair, she would pull with all her might, tearing out large handfuls. This is why men, as a rule, are short-haired, with a tendency to baldness; the only exception being poets and musicians, who knew how to win women without pulling them and so were seldom in danger of depilation.

The age-old habit of struggling to get away from her future husband and of looking back with tears to the paternal home from which she was being abducted, undoubtedly, according to Prof. Junker, accounts for woman's present habit of facing backwards when she travels on railroad cars. The writer does not allude to a second peculiarity closely connected with the first, from which in fact it seems to have been derived. We refer to woman's difficulty in finding the proper change when paying her fare to the conductor, or, better still, when she is purchasing her ticket at the ticket seller's window with fifteen men in a line behind her and the train just pulling in. Under marriage by capture, woman never traveled or her own accord, but was always being hauled or carried. Hence, the queen survivals of inexperience in the matter of rapid transit.

As between a primitive maiden who went in for tight sandals and one who wore loose footgear or, better still, went barefoot, which would be most likely to escape the clutches of the wife hunter? Obviously the free-shod maiden, says Prof. Junker, (die freifussige Jungfrau) would go free; whereas, her frivolous companion could only hobble and so fall a victim to marriage. This is why women of today still habitually suffer from tight footgear. And again, the primitive maiden who sought the refuge of the family tent with slightful remained safe, but the girl addicted to loitering outside after dark was inevitably captured and married, and passed on to her descendants the faculty for getting to the theater fifteen minutes late.

As for the habit common among women of crying at weddings, says Prof. Junker, the cause must be obvious. When women were captured for marriage they always cried. On the whole, we cannot say too much for this latest profound contribution to the anthropology of the Deeper Feminism.—New York Evening Post.

Constantinople Is Greek

One of the most characteristic things about Constantinople is that while it has become Turkish it has not ceased to be Greek. The same is true of Thrace, Macedonia and Asia Minor, which contain a large Turkish population, but which still form a part of the Greek world to which they always belonged. The two races have indisputably influenced each other, as their languages and certain of their customs prove. A good deal of Greek blood now flows, too, in Turkish veins. Nevertheless, there has been remarkably little assimilation, after 500 years, of one element by the other. They coexist, each perfectly distinct and each claiming with perfect reason the land as his own.

This is perhaps one cause why religious festivals are so common among the Greeks of Turkey. It is as a religious community that they have remained separate since the conquest. Through their religious observances they live what is left them of a national life and assert their claim to the great tradition of their race. The fact doubtless has something to do with the persistence of superstitions that elsewhere tend to disappear. At all events those observances are extremely interesting. They have a local color, for one thing, of a kind that has become rare in Europe and is scarcely ever existent in America. Then they are reckoned by the Julian calendar, now thirteen days behind our own, and that puts them into a certain perspective. Their true perspective, however, reaches much farther back. For in it merely that they compose a body of tradition from which we of the West have diverged or separated. Our religious customs and beliefs did not spring out of our own soil. We transplanted them in full flower from Rome, and she in turn had already borrowed largely from Greece and the East. But in the Levant such beliefs and customs present a native growth, whose roots run far deeper than Christianity.—From "Greek Feasts," by H. G. Dwight in the April Scribner.

The Frank Trial

(Kansas City Times.)

One of the developments of the age of steam and electricity has been that injustice, or even the suspicion of injustice, can no longer be localized. If a French officer is believed to have been unjustly exiled, the world takes up his case. The trial of a Russian Jew for ritual murder becomes an international affair. In the last few weeks a murder case of Atlanta, Ga., has become of national importance.

Leo M. Frank, superintendent of a pencil company of Atlanta, was convicted last year of the murder of one of the employes of the company, Mary Phagan, under circumstances of peculiar atrocity. His sentence has been affirmed by the supreme court of the state, and the date of the execution set for April 17.

But recently a revulsion of feeling has set in in Atlanta, based on the assumption that Frank did not have a fair trial. The only witness against him was a man whom The Atlanta Journal describes as "an irresponsible, drunken negro." The judge who presided at the trial, in refusing a new trial, made the statement that he had been unable to make up his mind as to the accused man's guilt. Three of the leading clergymen in the city have taken up the matter and the agitation has spread throughout the community. Miss Jane Addams has called on the women of Atlanta to ask for a further investigation and leading periodicals and newspapers have commented on the case. All this agitation is founded not on the contention that Frank's innocence has been proved, but on a belief that the facts were not fairly developed in the original trial. Frank's attorneys have called in W. J. Burns, and on the strength of new evidence that he has found, will ask for a new trial.

It is a mark of advancing civilization that not only the locality itself, but the nation, is aroused over the possibility of putting to death a man whose guilt is in doubt.

The Atlanta Journal and a number of the leading papers of the state are emphasizing the fact that Frank did not have a fair trial, and are asking that the condemned man be given a rehearing. The News hardly feels that a child murder case in Georgia may be guilty of this atrocious crime, but we do not believe him guilty upon the testimony of the negro Jim Conley, who confesses to placing the body of the murdered girl in the basement of the building and, to the writing of the notes that were found near the body. If Frank is guilty, the state need have nothing to fear in a second trial. If he is innocent, let him have another chance to prove it. Justice demands that he be given another hearing.—Wars County News.

A Maker of Songs

Who was Stephen Collins Foster? In a room filled with Americans of this generation how many could say? Very few—perhaps none.

An ironic commentary on the familiar saying that "if a man were permitted to make all the ballads, he need not care who should make the laws of a nation."

Foster made the ballads of his country—songs that after the half century since his death are not yet dead. Some of them may never die while America is America. Certainly there is life still in "Down on the Suwanee River," or, more correctly speaking, "The Old Folks at Home," and "The Old Kentucky Home." Foster's sentimental songs, once "the rage," have not survived except in the memory of Foster's generation. The excessive sentimentality of his period and the doggerel character of the verse have been too much for what merit such popular songs as "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming" and "Nellie Bly" could claim. And yet his place in American music will be secure, for his work was really indigenous and characteristic. A musical critic says that "he possessed an extremely fertile melodic vein which in a musically more cultivated environment, in an atmosphere like that of Vienna in the eighteenth century, would have refined into the sort of genius that was Schubert's."

In Pittsburg, where he was born, a monument has been erected to Foster, and a public spirited citizen, Mr. Park, has bought the Foster homestead for a public memorial, so he is not without honor in his own city, but his name has not lasted like his most famous songs. Perhaps both will regain a wider knowledge when the "ragtime" craze has faded away.—Chicago Tribune.

THE AMERICAN LIBRARY

IV.—THE AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

More than a thousand library workers will attend the annual meeting of the American Library association, to be held in Washington the last week in May. When the first American library convention was held in New York in 1853, it was attended by only eighty-two "librarians and other persons interested in bibliography," and of so little importance did the work seem that this convention effected no permanent organization.

The American Library association dates from the Centennial exposition held in Philadelphia in 1876. A three days' library conference was held there in connection with the exposition and, as a result, on October 6, 1876, the association was formed. It was incorporated three years later in the state of Massachusetts.

Its motto is "the best reading for the largest number, at the least cost." Its purpose, as set forth in its current handbook, "are the promotion of library interests, the interchange of experience and opinion, the obtaining of larger results from library labor and expenditure, and the advancement of the profession of librarianship."

In addition to its work of advancing the general library interest, the association aims also to accomplish specific benefits for library workers. These aims are stated as follows: (1) by organization and force of members to effect needed reforms and improvements, most of which could not be brought about by individual effort; (2) by co-operation to lessen the labor and expense of library administration; (2) by discussion and comparison to utilize the combined experiments and experience of the profession in perfecting plans and methods and in solving difficulties; (4) by meetings and correspondence to promote acquaintance and esprit de corps.

The membership of the association is large, since any person or institution actually engaged in library work is eligible to membership. The association now numbers on its rolls 2,700 members, including nearly 400 institutional members. Less than a hundred of these members are found in Canada and foreign countries, the remainder all being in the United States.

Conventions of the association have been held annually since its organization in 1876, except in the years 1880 and 1884. In addition to these annual conventions, the association has participated officially in three international library congresses; in London in 1877; again in London in 1897, and in Brussels in 1910.

Most of the work of the association is done by its committees, which include those on library administration, library training, federal and state relations, international relations, book buying, book binding, public documents, co-ordination, work with the blind, co-operation with the National Education association, costs and methods of cataloging, deterioration of news print paper, relation of the public library to the municipality, ventilation and lighting of library buildings, and fire insurance rates for libraries. The names of these committees indicate their individual purpose and, taken together, illustrate the broad scope of the practical work of the association.

A most important feature of the association work is carried on through its publishing board. In addition to the publication of its annual volume of proceedings, and bulletins of information, the publishing board issues a large number of handbooks concerning the practical problems of librarianship. These include pamphlets offering suggestions tending to create interest in the establishment of libraries, as well as more advanced works on cataloging and other technical problems faced by experts in the larger and older libraries. The publishing board is supported in part by the sales of its publications, and in part by the income from an endowment fund of $100,000, the gift of Andrew Carnegie.

The most interesting of its publications, so far as the general public is concerned, are those having to do with the selection of books for libraries, and incidentally for individuals. At the World's fair in Chicago in 1893, the association issued a model library of 5,000 volumes. The United States bureau of education published a classified catalog of this collection that had a very wide distribution. At the St. Louis World's fair, in 1904, another model library of 5,000 volmes, arranged by the association, was exhibited. A classified catalog of this exhibit library was published by the Library of Congress, and it also has had a very wide sale. A supplement has also been published, covering the most important books issued from 1904 to 1911, thus bringing the model library almost down to date.

The association also publishes monthly the "A. L. A. Book List." In this book list is published the combined results of the judgments of a large number of scholarly experts and of co-operating librarians on currently published books best worth purchasing by libraries. Every title of a book included in these lists is accompanied by a descriptive note. These lists are followed quite generally by libraries in their choice of books to be purchased. They are also used a great deal by private individuals who desire to read to good purpose, and this fruitful source of all the light shall well be extended.

Indeed, for the purpose of making the book lists more popular and extending their appeal to all book lovers, it has been seriously proposed to change the name from the conventional "A. L. A. Book List" to some other title that will better express the scope and purpose of the monthly bulletin. The foregoing lists cover only American and English books. In addition to these, the publishing board has also issued a number of lists of foreign books suited to public libraries, including lists of French, German, Italian, Polish, Hungarian, Norwegian, Danish and Swedish works.

In the earlier years, the work of the American Library association was devoted in large part to the solution of technical problems of librarianship. There were few accepted standards and no uniformity in the methods of cataloging employed in different libraries. It was toward establishing definite standards of uniformity and efficiency that the energies of the association were bent.

While not all such problems are solved, of late years it has been felt that so many of them have reached practical solution that the association now gives increasing attention to the more vital and human questions of librarianship.

It does not neglect in any way the technical problems; indeed, these have increased rather than diminished in number. But with the establishment of certain standards, less time and care are required, so that the librarians are free to lay plans for broadening the scope of library influence. They are concerned with the problem of teaching all the people to appreciate the opportunity that library affords them, of making the library more useful with its work, and so on. A great deal of thought is being devoted to extending the library work through special institutions such as women's clubs and debating societies. Then, there is the humanitarian work of supplying reading matter to persons in hospitals and institutions, and to the blind.

The social and political importance of this extensive and intensive library work cannot be overestimated. In the language of Henry E. Legler, librarian of the Chicago public library, "The evolution of the book is the history of the unfoldment of human rights. The humblest citizen today has at his command books in number and in kind which royal treasuries could not have purchased 500 years ago."

MEALS AT ALL HOURS TO BE READY FOR SHRINERS

Continuous Service Will Be Given Visitors in Atlanta Hotels and Restaurants

Instead of the normal program of "three a day," the public dining rooms of Atlanta will stage continuous performances of their meal service during Shriners' week. Whole regiments of additional waiters, and whole battalions of additional cooks, are to be imported into the city to make this possible.

Even before grand opera week some of the leading hotels will begin this extended service that their workers may be trained by the time the grand opera crowds arrive. When the Shriners and their friends begin to pour into the city a few days later every detail will be smoothed and the big machinery for feeding the hungry will be moving without a hitch.

Plans for this program were discussed by the hotel men of the local association at their meeting a month ago. At that meeting the manager of one of the biggest hotels informed his colleagues that he had placed his requisitions several days before, not only for increased supplies, but also for additional help in the kitchen and dining room. The other hotel men followed suit at once. The restaurant owners lost no time in doing likewise.

"Every food purveyor in Atlanta knows now what the city will be up against in feeding the crowds coming to the Shrine meet," said Forrest Adair Tuesday. "There can be no danger of famine unless all their plans fall through."

Every packing house located or represented in Atlanta, and every commission firm operating in the city, is placing abnormal orders for delivery during Shrine week.

Columbia Shriners Now Have Mascot Too Many

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 31.—Local Shriners who contemplate attending the grand convocation of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, to be held in Atlanta during the week beginning May 11, are up against it. The temple here decided to storm the Georgia capital in great style, and accordingly put in an order with some animal people for two camels.

Both of the ships of the desert arrived a few days ago. Yesterday another ship came in, when Mrs. Camel presented Mr. Camel with a camelet." And now the Columbia Shriners, with three camels on their hands, are wondering what they are going to do with the new arrival.

VICTIM OF ELEVATOR ACCIDENT MAY RECOVER

Walter Moore, 35 years old, a brick mason, 70 Pearl street, who was hurt in an elevator accident in the Ansley hotel late Monday night, is expected to recover, according to Grady hospital authorities.

His head was badly cut and mashed when the elevator caught him between the ceiling of the basement floor and the top of the cage.

POST FARMERS' NAMES IN ATLANTA POSTOFFICE

To further facilitate the dealings between producer and consumer so far as the parcel post is concerned, Postmaster General Burleson has advised Postmaster Bolling H. Jones to place in a conspicuous place in the postoffice a list of farmers who are offering produce, butter and eggs for sale.

This experiment is being tried in several large cities. As fast as names are sent to Mr. Jones they will be printed and placed on the bulletin board in the corridor.

B'NAI B'RITH LODGE TO CLOSE ANNUAL SESSION

Fortieth Convention of Order Held in Atlanta Proves Unusually Interesting

The fortieth annual convention of District Grand Lodge, No. , of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, which has been in session in Atlanta since Sunday, will close Tuesday afternoon.

The morning session was devoted to business matters for the most part, the winding up of routine affairs consuming most of the time. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, and the delegates will reassemble at 3 in the afternoon for a farewell session before adjourning.

The convention has been unusually interesting this year, and the forty or more delegates have entered enthusiastically into plans for future enlargement of the order's work.

Girl in "Adele" Breaks Big Audience Record; Her Total 8,564,000

Miss Nannette Flack, who will be seen in the French operatta, "Adele," at the Atlanta this week, opening Wednesday, has the distinction of having sung to more people in the past five years than any other singer in the world.

Many will doubt this, but it is nevertheless a fact that can easily be figured out. For three years prior to her starring tour in "Alma" Miss Flack was the prima donna at the Hippodrome in New York City where everyone knows it is next to impossible to get a seat at any performance.

The capacity of that world-famous playhouse is 1,400, without standing room. There are twelve performances a week which would mean playing to 67,200 people. There are forty weeks to the season. This total gives 2,688,000 patrons per year, making a grand total of 8,064,000 in three years.

During the tour of "Alma" capacity houses greeted this well known success from coast to coast, so it is conceded that a half million people saw it during the forty weeks the company was on tour, bringing the total up to 8,564,000.

Since the opening of "Adele" more than 350,000 people have witnessed this really excellent production, making the great grand total in the neighborhood of 8,914,000 to whom Miss Flack has sung.

HEALTHY HAIR---NO MORE DANDRUFF

Parisian Sage Makes Dry, Unattractive Hair Soft, Fluffy, Abundant and Radiant with Life.

It's entirely needless to have unsightly, matted, stringy or faded hair. A little care is all that is needed to make it soft, pretty, perfectly healthy, and free from dandruff, the hair destroyer.

Use Parisian Sage—it supplies hair needs and is absolutely harmless. It cleanses the scalp of all dandruff, quickly stops itching, head and falling hair, and is one of the best tonics to stimulate the hair and make it grow long and beautiful.

Parisian Sage is a tea-colored liquid, delicately perfumed—not sticky or greasy—that comes in a fifty-cent bottle at all drug and toilet counters. Always avoid on money back if not satisfied plan by Jacobs' Pharmacy.

Get a bottle today—pour a little on a sponge or cloth and rub lightly over the hair, taking a small strand at a time—rub it into the scalp. Presto! the dandruff disappears, your head feels fine, the hair is pretty and perfectly healthy.

Try Parisian Sage now. It will not only save your hair and make it grow, but give it that incomparable gloss and beauty you desire.—(Advt.)

INTERESTING GOSSIP OF INTERESTING PEOPLE

Miss Donna Bain, a former Atlanta girl, who is at present making her home in New York is dancing this week at the Cosmopolitan fete which is proving one of the most original and delightful events held in Gotham for some time past.

In the following account a few of the bright and sparkling features which mark the fete are mentioned.

Original Entertainment at Armory.

Suffragist husbands are working hard at the Cosmopolitan fete at the Seventy-first regiment armory. A dozen of them are giving tango lessons, dancing with all comers at 25 cents a dance. Another baked a cake for the cooking contest and got an honorable mention.

"I'm losing a pound a day," declared Alfred Elso, who danced steadily from 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 11 last night and found a line of partners waiting when he returned from dinner. "But it's lots of fun, whether they can dance or not."

Frederick Gillette is another husband who was never allowed to sit out, and other good dancers who maxixed for the cause were Perry Hamilton, Charles Rogers, Richard Repko and Harold Morganthau.

But the girls who needed tango practice were not the only ones who could get a partner for a quarter, and a high-footed group which included several dancing teachers initiated young men into the mysteries of the one-step. Among them were Miss Lillian Bair, Miss Donna Bain, Miss Carrie de Pinna, Miss Dorothy Hines, Miss Jennie Rippo, Miss Louise Robitzek, Miss Catherine Ecab and Miss Eleanor Anhalt.

There were eighteen entries in the leaf cake contest, Mrs. W. L. Benedict taking first prize and Mrs. S. A. Reeve second. A complication arose from the fact that Mrs. Reeve was one of the judges. A cake which she had sent to be sold got into the contest by mistake, and though she recognized it and dutifully voted against it, Mrs. Charles Winch and Mrs. McKelvey outvoted her.

Paul Pierce, editor of the National Food Magazine, finding that nobody was barred from the contest, stirred up a boiled sponge cake and sent it in in the hope of beating his wife's. It did, for it got an honorable mention, and if it had been cooked one-sixteenth of a second longer it would have taken a prize.

"If it had only been a welsh rabbit I would have had a first," he declared.

Love Letters of Henrik Ibsen.

From Christiania comes the report that a Norwegian author, Roenne Petersen, proposes to publish a large volume of Ibsen love letters. The letters are the property of a famous theatrical star, referred to as "Henriette," who still lives. It is said that she is no party to the publication and even contemplates legal action to prohibit their circulation.

Ibsen's liason endured when as a young man, he held a position at the Bergen theater from 1851 to 1857. "Henriette" eventually married a merchant and was foolishly trusting enough to hand over the billets doux into the safekeeping of a woman friend, Frau Petersen, whose son is the present publisher. Happening to alight upon the letters, safely stored away, the son sees no wrong in giving them to the world. But Ibsen's son, Sigurd, is furious and proposes to show that if his father's letters belong to any man they belong to him.

Post Lenten Gayeties in New York.

Ultra modern ideas in art are to prevail at the cubist ball to be held on Monday night, April 13, at the Hotel Biltmore, under the auspices of Auxiliary No. 19 of the Stony Wold sanatorium.

Some of the attractions of the evening, besides the cubic costumes, will include a "Blue Mood Dance," to be done by debutantes, which will illustrate the post-cubic motion. A specially arranged cubist dance is to be a take-off on some of the most extreme modernist paintings. In a Boadicea dance the dancers will wear blue gowns, topped with blue wigs. The manixe, the tango, and the hesitation dances are also to be post-impressionist. Even the waitresses are to appear in futurist costume.

The guests are invited to come in fancy dress, "as cubic as possible," although this is by no means obligatory.

OUR ASTROLOGER

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

HOROSCOPE.
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 1914.

He who would have Power Should watch each passing hour.

Early today the stars are kindly in their influence. Astrologers find the sun and Uranus in benefic aspect in the morning, and, later, when Saturn and Mercury are adverse, Jupiter exercises a beneficial sway.

It is an auspicious time for conducting large negotiations. Selling is under a favorable sign. Clothiers and dealers in woolens should benefit.

The day is a fortunate one for judges, lawyers of every rank, legislators and ecclesiastics. Fame is coming to a priest who is a reformer.

Again promotions in the army and navy are foreshadowed as the result of activities in protecting the country from neighboring foes.

Owing to the influence of the sun all who hold the fate of others in their power should be peculiarly lucky in carrying out their most ambitious projects.

There is a promising indication for persons who handle gold. Jewelers and smiths, miners of money and lawsayers should prosper while this government prevails.

There is a prognostication of a great discovery in mineral deposits in a western state.

The planets are not helpful to writers, sculptors, artists, students and professional men, who are warned to delay any important work until conditions are better.

The omen is threatening for old persons. They should guard and conserve physical energy. The signs foretell many deaths, and those to whom great success has come are said to be especially in peril.

The seers prophesy troubles for the Panama exposition, and repeat the prediction that obstacles will continue to hamper the management, which is to win great success in the end.

The moon is in a sign believed to increase ambition. It also favors investigation and public inquiries. There is a prophesy that congressman will attempt to start a nation-wide movement to purify political conditions.

Persons whose birthdate it is probably will have a year of balanced good and evil. Gains and losses, pleasures and disappointments are promised by the stars. Changes are subject to a fortunate sway. Young women should be exceedingly discreet.

Children born on this day have the guidance of friendly stars. Boys will be successful in business. More than one marriage is presaged. Girls will be happy in love affairs.

SCHOOL BOOK BOARD TO HOLD LIVELY SESSION

Legislative Investigating Committee Will Meet Here Friday Morning

A lively session is expected Friday morning when the legislative school book investigating committee meets at the state capitol to make up a report for the general assembly.

At the suggestion of Representative C. R. McCrory, of Schley county, author of the school book investigating resolution, several Georgians have been summoned to appear before the committee and tell what they know regarding the advantage which would accrue to the State and its school children if the state printed its own school books.

Those summoned to appear are: J. E. Sheppard, of Americus; L. L. McNair, of Macon; H. S. Bowden, of Blakely; E. T. Moon, of LaGrange; I. H. Beck, of Carrollton, and Thomas E. Watson, of Thomson.

Chairman M. L. Brittain, who at the direction of the committee, has obtained information relative to the cost of printing textbooks in every state of the union and in many foreign countries, will make his report.

The members of the special investigating committee are: M. L. Brittain, chairman; Representatives C. R. McCrory, of Schley; Representative A. G. Foster, of Newton; State Senator J. T. Payton, of Mt. Airy; Representative W. J. Nunnally, of Floyd; Representative H. C. Shuptrine, of Chatham. The members of the committee, who are also members of the state board of education are T. J. Woofter, of Athens, and Dr. G. R. Glenn, of Dahlonega.

"THE GENIUS" TUESDAY TO AID ELKS' CHARITY

Big Audience to Greet Repetition at the Grand of Players' Club Success

The biggest and most appreciative audience that has greeted any former production by the Players' club is expected to fill the Grand theater Tuesday night well in advance of the curtain's rise on the first act of "The Genius."

The cast, comprised among the very best talent in the club, has been rehearsing busily for a number of days past, and the excellence of their performance is assured.

Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin and Lamar Hill, the former as Nell Graham, artists' model, and the latter as Victor Le Mercier, the young French painter, will appear for the first time in the cast of this piece. Their art in previous plays by the club warrants the anticipation with which the audience will await their appearance Tuesday night.

Hamilton Douglas, Jr., will play the role of Otto Vogelsberger, the musician, in which he appeared when "The Genius" was presented for the first time on Friday last. The part of Jack Spencer, a rich young man in search of art, will be portrayed by Frank Taylor. Franklin M. Mikell will appear in the character of Cyrus W. Jenkins, a self-made man. The other parts will be taken as follows:

Mrs. Van Dusen, a worldly woman—Mrs. E. J. Barnes.

Josephine Van Dusen, an art-struck young lady—Mrs. Robert Small.

Mrs. Browne Smythe, of the "400"—Mrs. A. C. Weller.

Miss Trevor, a would-be model—Miss Coburn.

Lilly Scott, a gigging girl—Miss Frances Clarke.

Cyril Fanchar, a rich aesthete—Mrs. C. Fred Bonawitz.

Bryan Macgonigal, a sculptor—Dana Beiser.

Percy Clutterbuck, a self-constituted critic—A. C. Weller.

The dancing of the Brazilian maxixe will be presented as a curtain-raiser by Guy Murray and Miss Katherine Wheaton. These two dancers are already popular in Atlanta. Their performance Tuesday night will add much to the interest of the evening.

The full proceeds of the performance will be contributed by the Players' club to the charity fund of Atlanta lodge No. 78, B. P. O. Elks. The advance sale of seats has been very large. The remaining seats will be on sale at the Grand box office throughout Tuesday.

After the performance, the players and Past Exalted Ruler Walter P. Andrews will be the guests of Exalted Ruler A. L. Dunn at the Elks' home on East Ellis street.

LAFRANCE FIRE ENGINE BOUGHT BY THE CITY

Auto Apparatus for Eighth Ward Has 100-H. P. and Pumps 800 Gals. Minute

The bid of the American LaFrance company for an automobile fire engine for the new Eighth ward fire station was accepted Tuesday morning by the city purchasing agent, W. E. Chambers, acting in conjunction with Mayor Woodward, Comptroller Goldsmith and Chairman Humphrey, of the council finance committee.

The LaFrance bid was $8,250. The engine is a triple combination pump chemical and hose wagon. It has a 100-horse power, six-cylinder motor and the pump is guaranteed to deliver 800 gallons of water per minute. The company guarantees to keep the engine in first-class working order and to keep it supplied with tires for five years. The engine is to be equipped with a selfstarter, which the company claims is worth $250.

The automobile apparatus now in use at the Tenth ward station in Oakland City is a LaFrance machine, bought last year. For it the city paid $8,000. Its guaranteed pumping capacity is 700 gallons per minute. It has no self-starter.

These differences, and the difference in price, impressed Mayor Woodward very favorably.

"You will note that the purchasing department is still saving the city money, notwithstanding Councilman Jesse Lee's criticisms," he remarked. "The price we pay for this LaFrance apparatus is about what the city should have paid last year. The LaFrance company is beginning to get its prices down to a reasonable basis. I am glad to say."

The new Eighth ward station is not yet built. The money to build it is in the appropriation sheet and an architect is now at work on the plans. It will be built as soon as possible.

The delivery of the new engine will not wait, however, on completion of the new station. It will be delivered within the next thirty days and will be temporarily stationed at the fire station on North avenue, from which point, with its superior speed over horse-drawn apparatus, it can take fairly good care of the north end of the Eighth ward while the new station is being built.

PASTOR, WHO HELPED MANY CHURCHES, DIES

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

Everybody on the Green Meadows and in the Green Forest who heard Sammy Jay thought that he had gone crazy. He certainly acted as if he were crazy. He couldn't sit still long enough to answer questions, but flew here and flew there, and flew everywhere, all the time screaming so fast that he mixed his words all up. It was no wonder that his neighbors thought that Sammy was crazy.

But he wasn't. No, sir, he wasn't. He was just excited, terribly excited. And it was all because of what he had seen deep in the Green Forest. But his little neighbors didn't know anything about this, and so they thought that something was wrong with Sammy's head, and they said to each other: "Poor Sammy Jay. Isn't it too bad? What could have happened to make him go crazy?"

Now, all this made Sammy worse than before. You know, when you try to tell a thing and people cannot understand you, you are very apt to grow impatient. Most people are, anyway. And it was so with Sammy Jay. He tried to tell what he had seen, but was so excited that his words tumbled over each other and were so mixed up that no one could understand what he was trying to tell, and this made Sammy more excited than ever, so that his talk was more mixed up than ever. Worse still, he began to lose his temper, and he quite lost it when he happened to overhear some of his neighbors say that he certainly was crazy. For the time being he quite forgot everything else and just told everybody what he thought of them, and what he told them wasn't at all nice.

Now, about this time Blacky the Crow, Sammy's Cousin, Blacky the Crow. He heard Sammy calling his neighbors bad names, and he heard the other little people saying that Sammy was crazy. He hunted up Uncle Billy Possum and asked him what all the fuss was about. Uncle Billy told him how Sammy Jay had come screaming about something he had seen deep in the Green Forest, and how nobody could make any sense of what he said. "He told us that it had great big claws in its mouth," said Uncle Billy, grinning at the memory. "Do you wonder, Brer Crow, that we uns think he is foolish in his head?"

Blacky said he didn't wonder at all, and then flew away to look for Sammy Jay. He had no trouble in finding him, for he had only to listen to hear Sammy's angry voice. He flew right over to where Sammy was.

"You come over to the Lone Pine with me!" said he, sharply.

Now, if there is any one in all the Green Forest or on the Green Meadows for whom Sammy Jay has respect it is for his big cousin, Blacky the Crow. You see, smart and sly and clever as Sammy Jay is, Blacky the Crow is smarter and more sly and more clever, and Sammy knows it. So when Blacky told him to come to the Lone Pine with him, Sammy went.

"Now, Sammy, tell me all about it," said Blacky, when they were comfortably seated in the Lone Pine. So Sammy began at the beginning and told his story, and this time he told it quite straight, for every time he began to get excited Blacky would fix his sharp eyes on him in a way that made Sammy feel uncomfortable, and he would at once calm down. It was a queer story that Sammy told, and when he had finished Blacky the Crow looked as if he didn't believe a word of it. Poor Sammy saw this.

"You don't think I am crazy, too, do you, Cousin Blacky?" he asked.

"I don't know," replied Blacky. "I really don't know what to think."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BACKS FIFTH REGIMENT

Committee Will Try to Interest Merchants in Move to Save Organization

Following the adoption Monday afternoon by the directors of the Atlanta chamber of commerce of resolutions indorsing the worth and value of the Fifth Georgia regiment and the appropriation of $100 to show their determination to aid the organization in retaining its present standard of excellency, the military committee of the chamber and a committee from the militia will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to arrange a campaign to interest merchants and secure their support.

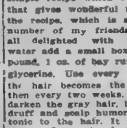

The chamber of commerce has placed itself squarely behind the Fifth in an effort to obtain recognition from quarters where now enlistment in "Atlanta's Own" is being discouraged. There will be thorough co-operation between the chamber committee and the committee from the regiment and indications already point toward a complete victory for the soldiers.

How I Darkened My Gray Hair

Lady Gives Simple Home Recipe That She Used to Darken Her Gray Hair.

For years I tried to restore my gray hair to its natural color with the prepared dyes and stains, but none of them gave satisfaction and they were all expensive. I finally ran onto a simple recipe which I mixed at home that gives wonderful results. I gave the recipe, which is as follows, to a number of my friends, and they are all delighted with it. To 7 oz. of water add a small box of Barbo Compound, 1 oz. of bay rum and 1-4 oz. of glycerine. Use every other day until the hair becomes the required shade, then every two weeks. It will not only darken the gray hair, but removes dandruff and scalp humors, and acts as a tonic to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy, does not rub off and does not color the scalp. You can prepare it at home at very little expense.—(Advt.)

Pres. Gilmore Well Paid For League Service

Head of New League Draws Annual Stipend of $15,000. Was Chosen Temporary Head and Has Made Good. Deserves Credit for Progress Made

BALTIMORE, Md., March 31.—In the columns and columns of matters that have been written about the wonderful progress made by the Federal league and among the hundreds and hundreds of encomiums handed President James A. Gilmore never once has anything been said about the salary which "Fighting Jim" receives for giving his services to this baseball organization. With the majority of the magnates on hand here recently it was figured a good occasion for a bit of scouting along this line, and it can be authoritatively stated that Jim Gilmore, the man who six months ago was unknown in the baseball world, is today drawing the princely salary of $15,000 a year for his work. That's a pretty stiff figure at first blush, but these Federal league folks do not seem to do things in half-way fashion, and what's more, Gilmore will deserve every cent of it if he continues along the lines he has traveled thus far.

At the Indianapolis meeting, when the election of a president was one of the vital topics up for discussion, attention was called to the prominence of the man who could occupy the president's chair. To him would probably go the major portion of the credit for either making it or breaking the organization. This prediction has been amply fulfilled, for Gilmore is the idol to day after day as the man who has turned the trick, and he has also realized that he has had valuable assistance, but the president of a league is a man who must shoulder practically all of the responsibilities and who, accordingly, gets the credit, when any is forthcoming.

Didn't Seek Job.

Jim Gilmore today is president of the Federal league, not because he sought the job, and, as a matter of fact, he tried to avoid it. When John Powers, the first president, was paid up in full for the year and told to take an extended vacation, Gilmore became the acting president. At the first Chicago meeting during the latter part of the year, Gilmore was elected to the presidency. The election was only temporary, since Gilmore did not want the job, but agreed to accept it until someone else could be found, for, apparently, the public demanded that the league go ahead with its business if it expected any assistance.

Ned Hanlon, then not connected with the organization, was spoken of as a possible man for the job, but the Baltimorean would not consider it, and Dave Fultz, president of the Players' Fraternity, was finally agreed upon as the man to head the league, and his name frequently appeared in this connection. As leader of the players' organization, it was expected that he would wield a large influence with the men on the field, and when he had shown himself a leader or ability. There was a hitch somewhere, apparently, on the salary question. It is not believed that Fultz was offered $16,000, for the organization was then not in the strong position it now commands. Anyway, Fultz did not get the job, and Gilmore stuck to his guns. Evidently he began to like the work, and soon the league assumed such large proportions and Gilmore became so closely identified with its every movement that the talk of getting another man was heard no more. Jim Gilmore was making good, and with a vengeance, and to put anybody else on the job looked the unwisest sort of move. As a matter of fact, after the tentative arrangements with Fultz fell through there was no further effort to find anyone else, although Tom Lynch's name was mentioned several times.

By voting its president a salary of $15,000 a year, the organization showed itself one real thing, it is more than any National league boss received prior to Governor Tener, and, of course, way above anything ever offered the boss of a league starting out on its second season.

That the matter of a salary for the league's chief executive is one that has been the subject of much discussion is attested by the fact that the amount was not determined upon until the last meeting in Chicago, a month or so ago.

To date, there appeared to be but one mistake that Jim Gilmore has made, and that was when he sent out telegrams to the club presidents advising them to go after men whether or not they had signed contracts. Evidently this action was thought over and rescinded, for there has been no signing of contract men and evidently will be none. A move of that sort would not have gained many sympathizers for the organization and might have cost it a large number of well-wishers.

That he has seen it was a bad move, and evidently changed it, shows what a big man he truly is. To a person with "show me" tendencies, Jim Gilmore will prove worth every sou marquis of that $15,000.

THE SPORTLIGHT
BY GRANTLAND RICE

CHANCE TO JENNINGS.

In days of old when Cubs were bold
And Tigers held their sway;
When year by year we copped the smear
Of each world series play;
When you and I split up the pie
That came in golden streams;
When we were there with miles to spare—
How long ago it seems.

In days of light when Brown was right
And Pfeister had the smoke;
Or when Wild Bill relayed the pill
And curbed the batsman's poke;
When Tinker wrought and Evers fought
And Mullin ruled the glen;
O good old days of pennant way—
When will you come again?

THE DOUBLE EHIFT.

Word comes from the south that Hughey Jennings is planning to make a desperate sortie on third place and that Frank Chance will make an equally desperate charge to lead his Yanks into the promised land of the first division.

About the only people in the way of this double achievement are the Athletics, Senators, Red Sox, White Sox and Naps. But for all that, no one can blame the two great leaders for entertaining this yearning desire to report again in old-time society—to mix again where they once ruled.

BACK UP THE STAIRWAY.

It's easy enough to figure why Chance and Jennings are turning longing eyes on the crest once more. To the fellow who ever had anything the sum of $25.50 looks like a lot of money. But to the fellow who once had a million poverty comes with an awful crack. And only six years ago Chance and Jennings were to pennant-play and world series glory what John J. McGraw and Connie Mack are today.

They had the field sewed up. Chance's great machine ruled the National league as effectively as Mack's today rules the American. Jennings, like McGraw, engineered three pennant winners in a row without winning a big pot. Six years ago they had no rivals. None but old Doc Time, the bloke who never lost a start, although several have carried him into extra innings before he put over the winning clout. And today from the sunless depths of the second division the two erstwhile conquerers in the gaudy realms of Swat are calling on the War Gods of Fortune to lead them back as high as fourth place for a sniff or a peck at the old homestead that is now being overrun with alien feet.

"BEATING BACK."

Although still quite a distance away, Chance and Jennings are slowly "beating back."

1914 will, in acctuality, be Chance's first test year. 1913 doesn't count, for it took him a year to get rid of what he had and start all over. His real campaigning will date from this April, when he crowds his young legion up against the whaling Mackmen and then shifts from this bunch to Walter Johnson.

The odds are certainly against either Chance or Jennings finishing in the first four spots this year, although both clubs are sure to be a big jump ahead of 1913 form.

As far as certainties go in this game you can figure it a certainty that Philadelphia and Washington will be up there. So to finish in the upper set they will have to beat out both the Red Sox and the White Sox, of Cleveland and one of the two Soxes. And both the Soxes look to be better fixed than they were last spring.

The Yanks last seasonn finished eight games back of the Tigers and the Tigers concluded a matter of thirteen games back of the White Sox. The Yanks finished twenty-three games back of the first division—a notable gap to be overcome in one season. But while the gap is wide, you can gamble that both Chance and Jennings will display better and more interesting wares than either could show a year ago. Chance has improved his pitching staff immensely and has added speed. If Jennings can get only fair pitching, Cobb and Crawford alone will give him a healthy attack.

ANOTHER SMOKY BAPTISM.

Chance draws another Baptism of fire this spring. In place of being able to take the start gently and set away in fair shape, he has his first twenty-four games against Philadelphia, Washington and Boston—the three clubs that finished 1-2-3 last season and are fairly likely to repeat the trick.

There's no chance for a Yank oasis. They move from Baker, Bender and Collins to Johnson, Gandil and Milan; and from this shift on to Wood and Speaker—quite a jutty little start for a team of youngsters.

LOOK OUT FOR KONEY.

With all the old pep baked out of his system under a St. Louis sun last summer, Koney stumped from a .330 normal average to .276. But if you desire to lamp an exhibition of mauling the missile, keep your eye peeled on Koney this campaign. If he doesn't peel the hide off the ball around .330 again we'll quit guessing—for twelve hours.

With no intention of being disagreeable or being the bearer of morbid tidings we feel that the other seven clubs should be informed that Walter Johnson has set his mark at forty victories this summer. He got thirty-two in 1912, thirty-six in 1913, and wants forty for the year at hand. At this same increasing rate he is liable to break up the league by 1918.

The Braves have already left last place. Suppose the Browns also leave this year? Good night to running a sporting column. With Murphy eliminated the wreckage will be ultimate and complete.

Braves to Play 2 More Games

The local baseball association has announced a change in the exhibition game schedule, whereby the Boston Braves will appear here for another series of two games. These will be played on Friday and Saturday of this week, following the final two games with the Naps tomorrow and Thursday.

According to the schedule announced several weeks since, the Macon club of the Sally league was booked to fill the last two dates of the present week. However, Manager George Stinson has asked to have the games cancelled and President Callaway agreed to the proposition. Since the Braves were not booked for any games on these dates, they have consented to play here. This change in the schedule will doubtless be welcomed by local fans since it will enable many who did not see the Braves in action on Saturday of last week, to take a look at them this time.

As a friendly tip, it may be stated that any who care to look on one of the cleverest pairs around the second station in the big leagues, will do well to go out and see Johnny Evers and Rabbit Maranville in action.

Emory Seniors Defeat Sophs

EMORY COLLEGE, Oxford, Ga., March 31.—Another afternoon's playing in Emory's interclass baseball games places the percentage column:

| | Won. | Lost. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Juniors | 1 | 0 | 1.000 |
| Seniors | 1 | 0 | .500 |
| Sophomores | 1 | 1 | .500 |
| Freshmen | 0 | 1 | .000 |

Hickson broke up an interesting ball game Monday afternoon, when, with the score tied and one man down, he drove a circuit smash to deep left and scored Rivers, the runner ahead of him. This, in short, tells the story of why the Seniors won over the Sophomores by the score of 3 to 2.

The game had been nip and tuck through seven innings, when rain came in for a five minutes intermission. After the rest, and the Sophs had secured their half of the eighth inning, the Seniors came in and Hickson did turn the trick.

The game had all the thrills that go to make a lively afternoon. Lester, the Senior southpaw, hobbled out on a sprained ankle to do his turn in the box, and worked nobly, fanning nine batters and corralling up two hits. The Seniors tied up the score in the last half of the seventh round when Outler, the diminutive worker at the short station, stole home.

Bondurant, a Soph outfielder, warded off one tally when he cut a runner off at home after he had caught a long fly. The scheduled Junior-Freshmen game was called off because of rain, and will be played some time this week at a time to be agreed upon by the captains.

| Seniors | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 0 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 2 | 3 | — | 8 | 8 | 5 |
| Sophs | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 2 | 0 | — | 2 | 6 | 3 |

Referee Wellborn Corrects Report

Herewith is given a communication concerning the score printed in Sunday's Journal of a game of basketball between the girls of Decatur High school and those of the Lithonia High school. The report in question was sent in by telephone to The Journal:

Sporting Editor Atlanta Journal:

Sunday's Journal had an account of a basketball game that was played between Decatur High school girls and the Lithonia team. The correct score however was Lithonia, 10 and Decatur 9. As the head official of this game, and hence, according to the rules, my duty to pass on the scores, I ask you to please make this correction in an early issue of your paper, as I approved of only 19 points for Lithonia and 9 points for Decatur. Any other score will be incorrect, and unapproved. Thanking you for this correction—I do not hold you responsible for the error, for you evidently printed the report as given to you—and asking you to give this equal prominence as the former report, I am,

Very truly,
WEYMAN P. WELLBORN,
Referee.

A. A. U. Will Get Money by the Pound

CHICAGO, March 31.—Forty-one pounds of pennies, totalling $60.45, have been donated to the Amateur Athletic union by Chicago children to aid in financing the American Olympic team that will go to Berlin in 1916, it was announced today. The pennies were collected at city playgrounds.

Federals Opening Dates Half-Holiday

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 31.—The house of delegates late last night unanimously passed a joint resolution to make April 18 a half holiday in Baltimore in honor of the opening of the Federal league baseball season.

Indications are that the resolution will meet with no opposition in the senate.

BOXERS ARE READY FOR BOUTS AT ORPHEUM TONIGHT

TONIGHT'S CARD

Jimmy Grant, of Atlanta, vs. K. O. Eggers, of New York, ten rounds for bantamweight championship of the south.

Battling Kelly, of Atlanta, vs. Kid York, of Atlanta, ten rounds. Featherweights.

Battling Sheppard vs. Young Nelson, of Atlanta, ten rounds. Bantamweights.

Everything is in readiness for the big boxing contests at the Orpheum theater tonight. Three corking ten-round bouts are on the card, and the fans should see enough real milling to last them for some time.

The big bout of the evening, of course, will be the ten-round engagement between Jimmy Grant, pride of Atlanta, and K. O. Eggers, New York's best bantamweight. On the result of this bout hinges the future of Jimmy Grant's fighting career. A great fighter as well as a little gentleman, Jimmy has made a wonderful hit with local fighting fans.

He will carry into the ring with him tonight the best wishes of his many friends in this city. In fact, Grant is about the hope of Atlanta's fighting material. Kid Young, Meyer Price and Spider Britt have been beaten so often that all have turned their eyes to the dark-haired, hard-hitting little 118-pounder. Should Jimmy win he will be the idol of local boxing followers. He will then be in line for a crack at Kid Williams, a chance he has been after for over a year.

Grant is probably the most confident party in Atlanta that he can take the easterner to a licing. All he asks is for a boy to make the poundage and he usually takes care of the rest of the argument. So far, no one has been able to make him take second money, and hundreds of fans in Atlanta are wondering if Eggers carries enough guns to make Jimmy carry off the smaller share of the purse.

One thing is certain, and that is that little Jimmy is in the best shape of his life. He will be handled by Jimmy Ferry, a wonderful handler of fighters. Ferry's heart and soul are with Jimmy, and he promises to do everything in his power to bring "Jeems" home with the bacon.

In Eggers, this Grant boy faces one of the toughest pieces of fighting machinery in the bantamweight division. Eggers has fought them all and has a wonderful lot of experience. Among his opponents are Kid Herman, Frankie Burns, Arthur Simons, Young Sinnett, Young Wagner and many other crack bantams. He has the experience on Jimmy and will also have a few pounds in weight.

However, tonight's battle should be a corker. Two tough little bantams, fit and ready and waiting for the sound of the gong calling them to the center of the ring. The boys will weigh in at 8 o'clock, both agreeing to weigh 118 pounds at that hour.

The Kelly-York affair should also prove a treat. These boys have met on a few occasions and there is still much doubt as to which is the better boy. Both are comers and are battlers of the aggressive type. They should certainly make the fur fly.

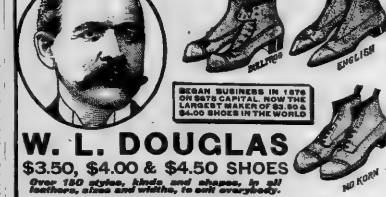

The opening bout of the night will be a ten-round go between Battling Sheppard and Young Nelson, the newsboy bantams. They should give the fans a lot of fun for the opener.

Tickets for the bouts are going rapidly and a packed house will surely greet the ringmen. The pasteboard can be purchased at The Rex and Tumlin Bros. cigar stores. Prices of $1, $1.50 and $2 prevail.

A section of seats have been made for negroes at this battle. Heretofore no space has been reserved for negro fight fans, but the management has made arrangements to take care of such as may desire to see tonight's card.

Checker Sharks Get Together

UNION, S. C., Marc 31.—F. B. Fishburne, of Greenville, S. C., and G. C. Anderson, of Mount Airy, N. C., began Monday a five days' checker tournament here. Thirty games will be played and the winner will claim the southern championship. Four games thus far have been played, each contestant winning one and the remaining two being drawn.

Nap Hurlers Talk With Atty.

Pitchers Blanding and Kohler Hold Conference With Lawyer Over Federal League Matter

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 31.—Fred Blanding and George Kahler, pitchers, against whom the Federal league has threatened to bring suits to enjoin them from playing with the Cleveland Americans, spent Monday here in consultation with the attorneys of the Cleveland club. They arrived secretly early yesterday from the training camp at Athens, Ga., and left last night to join the team at Atlanta.

Manager Birmingham, who is at present stopping at the Ansley hotel with his team, stated that he had received no information concerning the conference between the two hurlers and Cleveland attorneys. Both of these players insist that they will surely play with the Naps during the approaching season. They state that they are perfectly satisfied with the contracts which they now have with the Naps, and that they will not play with the Federal leaguers under any circumstances. They are expected to reach Atlanta some time during the afternoon.

O'Neill, Birmingham and Beasley, playing with the scribe, made a triple play against the Naps, indicating that the Naps are still playing that same kind of ball on the bases.

Western Golfer to Play in England

CHICAGO, March 31.—Fraser Hale, who held the eastern interscholastic golf championship in 1910 and 1911, will sail for Liverpool about April 15 to take part in the British amateur golf championship tournament at Sandwich, Kent, May 18 to 23.

Hale is a member of the Edgewater and Skokie Golf clubs and is twenty-one years of age. He is rated as one of the best players of the younger school in the west.

Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., may take part in the British championship but he has not yet come to a decision.

Simmons Won From Young Sinnot

NEW ORLEANS, March 31.—Arthur Simmons, of New Orleans, out-pointed Young Sinnot, of Rock Island, Ill., in a ten-round no-decision contest here last night. Simmons won the fourth, fifth, sixth, ninth and tenth rounds and in the ninth had Sinnot groggy. The third, seventh and eighth were even and Sinnot had the first two. They are bantamweights.

The fight was one of a series of elimination bouts, the winner of the series to fight Johnny Coulon, of Chicago, bantamweight champion.

Rain Prevented Local Game; Crackers Lost to Braves

DIANA DILLPICKLES IN "DRESSED FOR COLD WEATHER" A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM

Rain Prevented Game; Crackers Lost to Braves

Heavy Downpour Began as Naps and Dents Were Practicing—Two Doubles by Deal and Gowdy Win Macon Game in Sixth Inning

A ripping, pouring, torrential rain, beginning just as the two teams were getting ready for fielding practice, prevented any combat at Ponce de Leon Monday afternoon, between the Naps and a mixed team of Crackers and Cleveland players. Elliott Dent was handling the local bunch, and was preparing to send his stalwarts into the field for a bit of practice when the downpour began. Jack Doescher had just tipped Manager Dent off to the fact that Manager Birmingham intended to lend him Nick Cullop to do the pitching, together with Joe Jackson and Nap Lajoie. Dent was jubilant and announced that his crew would surely win that old ball game.

Owing to the heavy rainfall it is very doubtful whether any game will be played today. However, should the sun come out and dry things off a bit before 3 o'clock, the two teams will meet this afternoon. Both the Naps and the Crackers are pulling for better weather by tomorrow, in order that the games scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday may be played. So far the Naps have had five games scheduled here, of which only one has been played, owing to unfavorable weather.

That Macon game produced some good hurling on both sides. The Crackers made just four safe taps off Rudolph, while Browning and Perryman held the Braves to eight. Two doubles bunched off of the former in the fourth scored the only run of the contest. Except for that one instance, the Bostonians were never dangerous. Maranville and Evers each grabbed two hits.

Manager Bill Smith and Joe Dunn had a run-in with Umpire Augie Moran in the sixth, and both were banished. However, Ham Reynolds had already been put in and taken out of the game by hitting for Browning in the first half of this session, and the Crackers had no catcher left, so Dunn was allowed to stick. The trouble arose over decisions on strikes to Gilbert, whereby the Boston gardener was allowed to walk.

Manager Smith changed his line-up in the Macon game, and also made some shifts in his batting order. Harry Holland was sent in at short, leaving Schwind on the bench. Long led the batting order with McConnell second, Holland third, and Welchonce fourth. The other followed in the order used in former contests.

Suit Against Pittsburg Feds

PITTSBURG, March 31.—A foreign attachment in a suit in assumpsit against the Exposition Park association, owners of the Pittsburg Federal league baseball club, was entered in the local courts Monday by Charles H. McSwigan, who claims the association is indebted to him for $2,460 for salary and commission for selling stock. Three local banks and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad were named as garnishees. The sheriff was directed to attach the leasehold and the Federal league franchise and all personal property of the defendant in the hands of the garnishees. Bail to dissolve the attachment was fixed at $6,920.

Reds' Regulars Turtles Blank

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 31.—Liebhardt and Steele, pitching for the Memphis Southern league team, were effective at all stages of Monday's game against the Cincinnati National league "regulars," while Bowan, who started for Cincinnati, was pounded freely. Memphis won, 6 to 0. Seven of the hits and all of the runs were made during the three innings Rowan pitched.

Fifty-Two Gridiron Candidates at Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 31.—Fifty-two students, including several members of last year's championship team, announced themselves candidates for the Harvard football eleven last night at a meeting called by Captain Brickley, preliminary to the start of spring practice Wednesday.

Tigers May Get Big Grid Game

Committee Considers Proposition to Stage Contest on New Palmer Stadium This Fall

NEW YORK, March 31.—Several army and navy officers representing the athletic associations of West Point and Annapolis, who met here to discuss possible places for holding the Army-Navy football game next November, expect to visit Princeton today to learn what arrangement might be made for staging the contest within the new Palmer stadium, which will be completed before fall. Princeton is said to be the navy's second choice if West Point refuses to play in Philadelphia, where it was suggested that the game might take place on the American or the National league baseball grounds. The committee reached no agreement yesterday and it was considered likely that the final selection might have to be made by the Secretaries of the army and navy.

West Point wants the game played on the Polo grounds in this city again, but the navy objects to the long trip here. Franklin field of the University of Pennsylvania virtually was eliminated from further consideration, it was said, owing to the limited seating capacity. The conferees today included Lieutenant Philip Mathews and Lieutenant J. K. Jamison, for the army, and H. A. Pierce and R. M. Comford, for the navy.

Three Golfers Make Score of 77

PINEHURST, N. C., March 31.—Three players registered 77 Monday in the first 18-hole round of the 36-hole qualifications in the fourteenth annual United North and South Amateur golf championship tournament. Walter J. Travis, of Garden City, Long Island, Chisholm Beach, of Fox Hills, Long Island, and F. A. Robeson, of the Pawling school, New York, were the players who led the field. G. Worthington, of Delaware, made the course in 78, and F. M. Lasater, of Charlotte, N. C., recorded a 79.

College Games

At Lexington, Va.—Washington and Lee, 2; University of Vermont, 1.

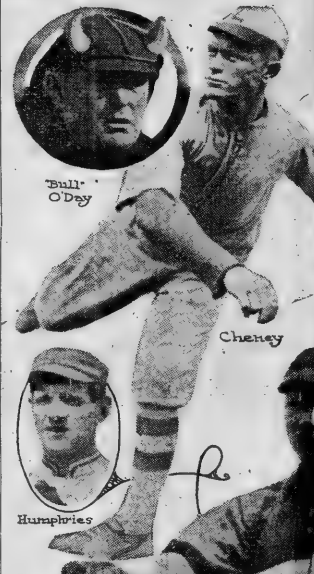

At Raleigh, N. C.—A. and M. of N. C., 6; Amherst, 0.

Outfielder Dion's tryout with the Oakland club lasted thirty-five minutes and forty-two seconds, or 2 min. 18 seconds less than says an Oakland note, who wrote so persistantly to Devlin declaring that he had been playing with the New Haven club and in Maine, and that his only trouble had been that he had suffered no accident. Kid Sullivan and Manager Devlin took turns batting flies to the boy Thursday afternoon and decided finally for fear that the boy might brain himself.

The "hammer brigade" which went after Hal Chase last year has evidently aroused the fighting spirit in Chicago's first baseman, who has found what he needed. Chase had fallen into fast ways, but this spring he has astonished the Chicago scribes with the brilliancy of his work and the return of all his remarkable agility and aggressiveness.

Scout Billy Doyle announced last week that his baseball schools at Portsmouth and Trenton, Ohio, were to open on March 24 with 80 pupils. Among his instructors are Dick Smith, Charley Hickman and Pete Childs.

ONCE MIGHTY CUBS NOW JOKE OF GAME---FULLERTON

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 31.—Kipling wrote: "I have seen Empire rise and, having seen it, I devoutly desire never to see it again."

If Kip meant the Cubs he felt as I do today. Having lived and breathed with Cub teams for many years, it is rather sad to see the wreckage of a grand team floating around the country displaying a brand of baseball that would be a joke in St. Louis.

The Cubs, a major league team which, six weeks ago, loomed up as a pennant contender, have spent a month learning how to play the hit and run. Shades of Johnny Barney, think of it—a modern team practicing hit and run.

The team that was doped to fight the Giants hard this year looks now as if it would be very lucky to finish in the first division. After a month of hard training the men do not know where they are to play. O'Day has shifted his men around—and the last combination seems worse than the first. He has weakened two positions in an effort to strengthen one.

To study the team frankly, Saier is a great first baseman. Sweeny is a fair outfielder. He was a very ordinary player for five years and a very good one for two years. At his best he is 20 points worse than Evers in both offense and defense. Zimmerman is a bad ball player on defense and a great hitter. He lost more games for the Cubs last year by fielding and base running than he won by batting. He is not and never will be a good shortstop. Leach quit third base because he was failing arm years ago.

Brookie was a joke as a major league possibility, and O'Day evidently realized it quickly. Schulte is one of the best and this season seems to be more in earnest than ever. Murphy ordered Sheckard released and Williams kept last year, admitting that Sheckard was a better man while Williams was cheaper.

Good is just a fair player.

The one find of the season, Mollwitz, is a corking player; one who would win a place on five teams in the league, but, with Saier on first, his ability is not available.

The catching department is of pennant caliber, and the pitching staff is formidable. The strength of the team before Evers was fired lay in the hope that the pitchers would come into their own this year. Vaughan, Pierce and Cheney are of top caliber. Eddie Stack is an ought-to-have-been.

Johnston probably will be an outfield regular; a very fair man who hits well, has speed and who is at least better than either Williams or Good.

Select Men for Paris Meeting

American Olympic Committee Names Delegates to Attend June Congress in That City

NEW YORK, March 31.—At a meeting of the American Olympic committee held last night at the New York Athletic club and presided over by Colonel Robert M. Thompson, financial, executive, selection and general committees were appointed as well as a committee of ten delegates to the international Olympic congress, which will assemble June 15 at Paris.

The delegates appointed are Colonel R. M. Thompson, James E. Sullivan, Supreme Court Justice Bartow S. Weeks, Dr. Lorenz Hammond and Dr. G. Manning, all of this city; Everett C. Brown, Chicago; Alfred J. Lill, president of the Amateur Athletic union, and Joseph B. MacCabe, Boston; Lieutenant R. Laning, Washington, D. C., and one other to be named later.

Prof. William M. Sloane, of Columbia university, Dr. G. R. Manning, and James Sullivan were selected as a committee on publicity to inform the European countries how the American committee selects and manages Olympic athletes. Prof. Sloane said that during a recent visit to Europe he found that many believe the American committee paid all the training expenses of the athletes, whereas they only assumed responsibility for the expenses after the men selected had reported here ready for the trip.

A star vote on the advisability of women taking part in competitions showed that those assembled were in favor of women competing only in class games such as tennis, gymnastics, archery, etc.

It was decided to call upon all athletic clubs, colleges and schools throughout the country to follow the plan adopted by the New York Athletic club to raise a national Olympic fund by donating a certain sum each year in addition to voluntary subscriptions.

Dinkins' Hit Won for Tigers

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

SEWANEE, Tenn., March 31.—In the first game of the season Sewanee won in an eleven-inning contest yesterday afternoon from the Southern Presbyterian university of Clarksville. The score stood 5 and 5 in the ninth, but in the eleventh Dinkins led off with a single and scored on the visiting baseman's wild heave of McGowan's grounder.

The game was rather slow at times, owing to the soggy condition of the diamond, but several sensational catches by the fielding outfield added to the interest in the game. The hitting of Sewanee's catcher, Pat Dinkins, featured, while Wood carried off the honors for the visitors. The two teams will play the final game of the series Tuesday.

|---|---|---|---|
| Sewanee. | 6 | 9 | 3 |
| S. P. U. | 5 | 10 | 2 |

Batteries: For Sewanee, Hammond, Walker and Dinkins; for S. P. U., Ferguson and Hartman.

McGraw May Buy Houston

HOUSTON, Tex., March 31.—J. B. Roberts, part owner of the Houston baseball club franchise in the Texas league, after a conference last night with John J. McGraw, manager of the New York National league club, announced that McGraw had made an offer for the outright purchase of the local club. No amount was specified but it is known that the Houston franchise is estimated to be worth about $50,000.

The Houston magnates have until Tuesday night to accept McGraw's offer. New York club out of Houston, to accept plans to have his brother, now residing in New York, manage the local team.

Delmont Defeats Frank Manilla

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 31.—Gene Delmont, of Memphis, last night knocked out Frankie Manilla, of Oklahoma City, Okla., in the second round of what was to have been an eight-round bout staged here last night. Announcement was made from the ringside that Delmont will meet Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion in an eight-round no-decision bout here next Monday night.

"Pop Boy" Smith Goes to Venice

CHICAGO, March 31.—Clarence Smith, pitcher, was sold Monday by the Chicago Americans to the Venice club of the Pacific Coast league. Smith came to the White Sox last spring from the Birmingham club of the Southern league.

Herzog Would Work Catchers In Their Turns

New Manager of Cincinnati Reds Does Not Believe in Holding One Receiver in Reserve While Another Does Nearly All the Work—Thinks Practice Harmful

ALEXANDRIA, La., March 31.—Herzog and Tinker agree to a dot on one point—that at least two catchers should be worked right along, keeping both in actual playing practice, and that the "second catcher" should not be left rusting on the bench. This old, old idea of having one man catch every day until hurt or sick, with the "second catcher" only going into double-headers, has been overdone. No member of a team needs the enervating work of a game more than a catcher, and all the morning practice won't make up for lack of games. In the old days one man might be doing all the catching, but the second backstop would be in the outfield, thus at least keeping him in playing shape. Chief Zimmer once caught a whole season, and the second catcher, Tommy Dowers, passed out almost unheard of. Buck Ewing did all the work for the champion Giants of 1888 and 1889; the reserve catchers, Brown and Murphy, frustated into uselessness and disappeared. John Kling did it all for the Cubs a couple of seasons—Tommy Raub and Jack O'Neill got so crude from lack of work that they vanished from the fast company. Larry McLean used to do nearly all the catching for the Reds, and from Clarke would have done it all but later had not the management shifted. Billy Sullivan caught all the White Sox games in 1906, when he was disabled it was found that three reserve catchers had gone rusty, not one of them in shape to work. Frankie Roth was obtained and saved the flag by catching fifteen magnificent games in succession. Later Roth came to Cincinnati and rusted out of class and company because McLean did all the masking. Last summer, when Chief Meyers was hurt, McGraw found both Wilson and Hartley as rusty as a neglected chain-cable, and bought McLean in a hurry. Tinker made both Clarke and Kling work plenty of games; both were thus kept in actual practice and were fit for duty all the time. Herzog will try the same trick, if he secures a catcher good enough for the alteration scheme—a third rater will never do. On form shown at Alexandria, Gonzales would be the man if he only spoke and understood better English, while Von Kolnitz is a very reliable wonder, but is only a boy starting his career.

Nat'l Commish Reverses Board

CINCINNATI, March 31.—A decision of importance to minor league players was made Monday by the National Base ball commission in the claims of Player George C. Smith, who asked the commission to reverse the decision of the notional board's disallowance of his claim to be declared a free agent. The commission granted the player's request.

Last fall the player was released by the Cleveland club to the Toledo, O., club, which later desired to release him to another league and gave the Charleston, W. Va., club the option on his services as a catcher.

According to previous findings this option should have been exercised by February 1, 1914, but the player did not receive a contract until February 25. The commission holds that the failure of the Charleston club to tender a contract by February 1 cancelled that its right to his services and gives the player liberty to contract with any club he may elect.

Chicago Boat Won First Race

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 31.—The southern championship speed boat races for 1914 opened here Monday. The first event, a half-mile trial against time, was won by the Hydro Bullet, of Chicago, which traveled at the rate of 48.9 miles an hour. Earl C. Deakin is the Hydro Bullet's owner.

The first heat in the contest for boats of the twenty-foot class, six laps over a two and one-half knot course, was won by the Oregon Kid, owned by S. F. Brock, of Portland, Ore. The winning boat was not pushed at any time.

The third and final event of the day, a fifteen-knot handicap race, was won by the Hydro Bullet, which covered the distance in 23.38.

Coach Nickalls Favors Strict Training Rules

English Instructor of Penn's Crew Candidates Prescribes Daily Routine for His Charges—Also Names Very Limited Diet and Forbids Dancing

NEW YORK, March 31.—Whatever may be the training customs in English athletics it is evident that Vivian Nickalls, the new crew coach at the University of Pennsylvania, does not intend to depart radically from methods in vogue at Pennsylvania in past years. It has been frequently stated abroad that the English amateur athlete and oarsman does not train with the same care or rigorousness that is observed in college athletic circles in this country. It is explained therefore that the success of the American athlete is due to the fact that he makes a business of what is viewed abroad as play or recreation.

Coach Nickalls does not apparently share these views, or at least believes in the proverb, "When in Rome do as they do at Rome." He has laid down as a strict a set of rules and instructions to govern the career candidates as Charles Courtney or Jim Rice could prepare. The printed rules cover the entire working hours of the oarsmen and even the diet of the men is outlined. Persimmon can be gained from Nickalls, should it be deemed necessary to temporarily break these rules, which are in part as follows:

Hours—Bed, 10:30; rise in the morning, 7:30; breakfast, 8:15; lunch, 1; dinner, 7:30 (walk on the road earlier if possible). Every man must run before breakfast, the distance to be prescribed by the coach. Those living in college must get together and run on the track if possible. Those living at home must get out and run on the road.

No smoking allowed on any pretense whatever. Chewing of gum is also deprecated.

Lemonade, barley water, tea and coffee may be used for drinks, but use of sugar in moderation. Don't drink water with ice in it and don't drink milk. Ice cream after meals may be eaten but once a day.

Don't eat pork, veal, duck, goose, wild fowl, oysters, crabs, lobsters or any shell fish. Don't eat too much bread. Chew your food well and eat slowly.

If you wish to break any of these rules apply to the coach; if you might want to go to a dinner; he will give you leave, but don't go without leave. Don't dance. If you are sick, tell the coach.

If any of these rules are rebelled by anyone, whoever he may be, and it comes to the coach's notice, that man will be discharged from the rowing squad.

"You are on your honor. Be true to yourself and remember always that if you do not obey these rules you are hurting not only your self-respect but the character of the crew of which you are a part."

It is more or less a coincidence that the publication of these training rules was laid down by Nickalls should be made the day on which Oxford and Cambridge meet in their annual boat race on the Thames. Nickalls gained his initial reputation as an oarsman while at Oxford and in after years coached the varsity crew of Oxford against the light blue. He was with his brother Guy Nickalls, now a coach at Yale, one of the best oarsmen ever developed at Oxford during the period of the inter-varsity races which extends back to 1841.

Since the initial race that year the eight-oared crews of Oxford and Cambridge have met seventy times. On the eve of the seventy-first race of the series the score shows that Oxford has won thirty-nine races; Cambridge thirty, while the race of 1877 resulted in a dead heat. The course is four and one-quarter miles and the best time 18:19 made by Oxford in 1911. American college regatta records and much these figures for the intercollegiate regatta record of Cornell in 1901 is 18:53 1-5 for four miles, while the best time for the Harvard-Yale regatta was made by Yale crew of 1888 when the Blue won the four mile race in 19:10. That the Thames course is faster than the New London stretch would appear to be indicated by the fact that the Harvard crew of 1906 was defeated by Cambridge by two lengths in 19:18, on September 3 of that year, after Harvard won from Yale in a four mile race at New London by a margin of 100 seconds in 23:3 on June 28 of the same year.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Work in the Poultry Yard for April

THIS month is the busiest month in the year for poultrymen. Hatching and caring for little chicks should be at its full height during this month. Those who have not already hatched off a large number of chicks should not delay the set as many hens and incubators as possible. As a rule April hatched chickens are the best that are produced during the season, and the man who can get off most of his chickens during this month can count safely on winning prizes at the shows this fall and winter, also count on getting quantities of eggs.

One should also look out for insects and by beginning now to fight them you can keep them down. The coops, nests and houses should be whitewashed, using some good disinfectant or crude carbolic acid in the whitewash. The nests and roosts should be thoroughly painted with one gallon of carbolic acid to five gallons of crude petroleum. Either one or mixed dip them in a solution of one part some of the standard disinfectants to fifty parts water during some warm day, and it will kill not only the lice but the insects and not be bothered with them during the year. Chickens will not lay or keep healthy when they are infested with insects, and we have to fight them before cool weather comes. It is better to start now and get them under control.

with Agasco Spray. If this can not be had use one gallon of carbolic acid, two gallons of kerosene oil and 10c worth of moth balls. By mixing these together they make a fine paint and no insects will stay where this is applied thoroughly. Where any have been setting the nests should be thoroughly cleaned and painted with some of these disinfectants. If this work is thoroughly done and repeated three times during the year you need not fear any mites.

Another thing that should be watched closely during the spring months, there is usually a lot of rain and if any mud holes or standing water should be filled up around the premises they should be looked after closely, dig them up and fill them with sand, and do not allow the chickens to drink this water. It is very poisonous and will kill many chickens. It is a good idea to spade or plow the yards thoroughly and a heavy coating of oats, wheat, or some kind of grain should be planted in the yards. This makes the chickens take exercise and furnishes an abundance of green, tender sprouts for them to enjoy. This is very important and will not only make your chickens healthy but will make them produce eggs and eggs that will hatch better. Both old and young chickens enjoy these tender sprouts and they help to digest their food and keep their systems in perfect condition.

The fruit trees in the poultry yards should be thoroughly sprayed during this month if you wish to have fruit in abundance and free from worms and insects. A bulletin telling what to use can be had of the state entomologist at the state capitol. This is very important, and as many people have fruit trees in their poultry yards this should be looked after now and a little later they should be sprayed again. Nearly every poultryman has a spraying machine for whitewashing trees. Throughout the entire south, with all kinds of plants and animals we have more or less insects to contend with, and by making a fight on them during the first days of April we can usually keep them under control and save much of little value. Also we can save many of our birds, an abundance of eggs and plenty fruit free from insects and diseases by spraying the trees now and making a vigorous fight on such enemies.

These little things looked after in time will mean many dollars to you, and should not be put off anylonger. Yours very truly,

Grigsby Dennis

Three New Bungalows

We have just constructed three bungalows of the highest type.

If you are thinking of building your own home and are not in the market for one of ready built, it will pay you to take a look at any one of these three places, either they represent absolutely the latest ideas in building. The inside arrangement is one that will please any one. These homes are very compact, yet very roomy; no waste space, every foot of space being utilized for the benefit of the occupant. This important fact has been taught us by our past experience in building and we believe that these homes represent some of our best work.

The tile bath rooms, combination fixtures and furnace are of different type from those used by the average builder.

The important inside detail work, such as hardwood floors, beamed ceiling, panel walls, show evidence of workmanship that is different and better than the average.

These homes have sleeping porches and a number of other advantages that will have to be seen to be appreciated.

We believe that in these three homes we have every idea worked out that could possibly be wished for by any one, and we will be very glad to take you out at any time to see them. We feel sure that you will be interested and for a good look, anyhow we will be glad of the opportunity.

One of Atlanta's best residence parts, West End park, 12 Willard street, on lot 70x150 feet.

About 150 feet off Gordon street, Nos. 260 and 264 Lauren street, on lots 50x180 each. This location is very desirable, owing to its nearness to Gordon street car line and beautiful Rockett park.

These places are six rooms, sleeping porch, combination fixtures, tile bath, hardwood floors and are furnace heated.

Price, $5,300 each. Very reasonable terms.

FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR

FUNDS ON HAND FOR IMMEDIATE DISPOSAL AT 7 AND 8 PER CENT.

Highland is going to be a thoroughfare. It is being extended on and on, and you know, it is the thoroughfares that make the big money. This is an eight-room, two-story modern home with a 60x210 lot. Everything you want inside and can be bought on mighty attractive terms.

PIEDMONT AVE, $6,500.

$6,500 for a seven-room bungalow with two baths and sleeping porch, located in the best part of the street below the Driving Club, and facing Piedmont Park. Lot is 65x155, and is practically worth the price we ask, without the house at all.

BUILDING LOTS.

More money can be made in buying a good lot either to hold or improve, and when you run across a 50x150 lot facing a five-minute car line, shaded and level, in a good neighborhood, you ought to grab at it at $1,350. You can put a bungalow on it and make a handsome profit. A mile and a little while. Some one will be sure to pay you a profit. Come in and ask us about some lots we have on Lucile avenue, in the prettiest section of West End; $1,350 to $1,500. We think you will say they are the biggest bargains you have seen in many a day.

GRADY BOND ELECTION ON MAY 5, IS ASSURED

Special Committee Indorses Move and Council Will Adopt Report

That the proposed $750,000 bond issue for Grady hospital will be submitted to the voters of Atlanta on May 5 is practically assured. Monday afternoon a special committee of the general council unanimously indorsed the proposition.

Council met in special session at the call of Mayor Woodward for the purpose of acting on the request of the general committee in charge of the hospital movement, this request being that the bond issue be submitted on the above date. Several members of the committee made speeches outlining the needs of the hospital and urging favorable action on the request.

Council, after some discussion, directed the appointment of a special committee of five by the mayor to look into the details of the proposition, and then took a recess until Wednesday afternoon to hear the committee's report. The committee met immediately after council adjourned, and in less than an hour unanimously adopted a report to recommend to council that the bonds be submitted on May 5. The adoption of the committee report was thought to be virtually a foregone conclusion, in as much as the committee included the only members of council who were even inclined to oppose the proposition.

The bonds will be dated from July 1, 1914, and will be issued serially. A feature of the issue will be $20,000 worth of bonds of the denomination of $100 each, or "baby bonds" as they are sometimes called. This was done at the suggestion of Mayor Woodward. The baby bonds will be offered to local investors whose means do not permit them to buy bonds of $1,000 each, which will be the denomination of the remaining $720,000 of the issue.

May 5 is the date on which the county primary is to be held for the election of county commissioners, sheriff, tax collector, tax receiver, etc., and was selected by the hospital committee because they believe the county primary will serve to bring out a large vote, which is always the most difficult undertaking in a bond campaign. The booths for the bond election will be located as near possible to the booths for the county primary, so that the voters will lose no time in voting on the bond issue.

HEAD OF SCHOOL RAPS PRESENT SOCIAL SYSTEM

Says Method in Vogue Makes Children of Rich Selfish Parasites

(By Associated Press.)

BALTIMORE, Md., March 31.—At a conference here last night for the purpose of limiting the social distractions of pupils in private schools, Mrs. John Meigs, head of a school in Pottsville, Pa., said the present system of social pleasures deprived the children of rich parents of initiative and developed selfish parasites.

"A fashionable woman of New York told me the other day," said Mrs. Meigs, "that it was a shame to allow young children to get home from social affairs at 4 o'clock in the morning, but she said she had no objection to their coming in at 2 o'clock.

"Most of our boys and girls are helped by every one as soon as they come into the world and they never do anything of their own initiative while they are growing up. They take everything from us and give nothing in return and develop into selfish parasites."

ASSAILS DELEGATION FOR DISCOURTESIES

(By Associated Press.)

SEATTLE, Wash., March 31.—William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce, speaking at the headquarters of the Democratic State league last night complained good naturedly off the discourtesy shown, he said, by members of the Washington delegation in congress in assailing the Wilson administration after all that administration had done in the way of developing the Pacific northwest and Alaska.

Taking up the predictions of disaster to Washington industries as a result of Canadian competition, he asked: "Is it possible that British Columbia is peopled by a race of beings so superior to you that you are unable to do things as well as they do them?"

RESTAURANT PROPRIETOR AND CONDUCTOR IN FIGHT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

AMERICUS, Ga., March 31.—In a personal difficulty between Conductor H. E. Hurley and D. S. Sayre, proprietor of a local restaurant last night, Sayre received two bullet wounds, one in the thigh and the other the lower abdomen while Conductor Hurley received a hard blow in the face.

Neither of Sayre's wounds is dangerous, in the opinion of physicians. One shot passed entirely through Sayre's right thigh and lodged beneath the skin, where physicians removed it without difficulty. The bullet wound in the abdomen proved not serious.

MRS. ANNIE W. COBBS DIES AT MONTGOMERY

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 31.—After an illness of less than twelve hours, Mrs. Annie Westcott Cobbs, wife of C. Claude Cobbs, and one of the most prominent club and society women of Alabama, died at her home Monday. She became ill Sunday afternoon and her condition grew worse until her death.

Funeral services were conducted today at the Church of the Ascension, the officiating clergymen, being the rector, the Rev. Frederick DuM. Devall.

WIFE SAID SHE WOULD WORRY SPOUSE TO DEATH

Then She Left With Children, Shattering Romance of Sunny Italy

A romance of sunny Italy was rudely shattered Sunday when Mrs. Laura Daddorio, wife of Samuel Daddorih, a prosperous cement construction worker of 323 Cooper street, left her husband for parts unknown, taking their three little children with her.

Samuel Daddorio married Laura in Carpinato, Italy, fourteen years ago. Five years ago they came to this country, where Daddorio soon rose from the position of skilled workman to that of a concrete contractor and construction expert. Recently, however, things did not go so well for the young Italians. The wife, according to Daddorio, began to worry him on every occasion, and finally announced she was going to kill him by worrying him to death.

Sunday she disappeared with the three children—Mary, ten years old; George, seven years old, and little Samuel, Jr., a year and a half old. She has no relatives in Atlanta and knows few people. According to the husband, she has no money. He thinks she is hiding from him in Atlanta, but fears she might have left the city. And, according to Daddorio, she did all this simply to carry out her threat of literally worrying him to death.

After a fruitless search all over the city, Daddorio went to see two lawyers —James H. Dodgen and George F. Gober—and, telling them his story with the aid of an interpreter, asked for help in finding the lost children.

To Sore Feet Victims Here Is Welcome News

The following is absolutely the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot ailments: "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for fully fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts. The effect is really wonderful. All soreness goes instantly and the feet feel delightful. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. A twenty-five cent box of Calocide is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. Any druggist has Calocide compound in stock or he can get it in a few hours from his wholesale house. Prepared by Medical Formula Co., Chicago, Ill., and Dayton, Ohio.—(Advt.)

Hooray! Baby To Rule the House
No Longer Do Women Fear the Greatest of All Human Blessings.

It is a comfort to know that those much-talked-of pains that are said to precede child-bearing may easily be avoided. No woman need fear the slightest discomfort if she will fortify herself with the well-known and time-honored remedy, "Mother's Friend."

This is a penetrating, external application that at once softens and makes pliant the abdominal muscles and ligaments. They naturally expand without the slightest strain and thus not only banish all tendency to nervous, twitching spells, but there is an entire freedom from nausea, discomfort, sleeplessness and dread that so often leave their impress upon the babe.

The occasion is, therefore, one of unbounded joyful anticipation, and too much stress cannot be laid upon the remarkable influence which a mother's happy, prenatal disposition has upon the health and fortunes of the generation to come.

You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 230 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Free illustrated book.

PHYSICIANS KNOW

Usually Sickness Begins with Torpid Liver and Constipation.

And that's the trouble. Constipation should never be neglected. Why?

All food eaten has some indigestible waste which the liver clears away each day. An over-supply or a change in your habits sometimes causes the liver to neglect a few particles, which remain in the stomach and make it more difficult the next day for the liver to do its cleansing work. So this waste accumulates and clogs the intestinal canal and causes constipation. That is not all. If the waste is not eliminated it ferments and generates uric acid, a poisonous substance which gets into the blood stream and is carried along through the system to poison it. Self-poisoning or autotoxemia, this is termed medically.

When uric acid is deposited in the joints and muscles you have rheumatism when it touches the nerves, neuralgia, paralysis, nervous prostration, and poisonous irritation of the delicate linings of the bowels, throat or stomach: it causes catarrh. These are but the more common effects of uric acid diseases; as the poison acts in the blood it causes many more serious difficulties developing. And constipation and a torpid liver are at the beginning.

Many people take calomel for a bilious attack, such as calomel, work up the liver and bowels to compulsory action, and then leave them weakened. And that is how SALOL LIVER SALT is different. It absolutely dissolves the uric acid that has accumulated and passes it off in the urine; it flushes and cleanses the intestinal canal, relieving the liver from the pressure of clogged ferments too, and the liver of itself resumes its normal activity. There is no nausea, vomiting or griping, because the action is natural, not forced. It acts quickly, but mildly, and it cures.

Take a glass of EFFERVESCENT SALOL LIVER SALT before breakfast. It is a good habit. The drink is effervescent and pleasant, and simply wonderful in its medicinal effect, upon the liver. Try it. One-half pound jar, by mail, postpaid). Jacobs' Pharmacy, Atlanta.—(Advt.)

WILSON SUPPORTERS CONFIDENT AS TOLLS REPEAL NEARS VOTE

be seen by hundreds of witnesses."

The newspaper he named, he said, "along with every editor in America who hopes to be an ambassador, minister plenipotentiary, consul general or in some other fat and juicy job has been endeavoring to place me in antagonism to the president ever since the election. These papers declare I am opposing this surrender to Great Britain as an opening gun in my campaign for president in 1916. It may be that these obsequious courtiers to know that I never hinted to any human being that I would be a candidate in 1916, and that I am not a candidate. Consequently their slander has been a gratuitous mental degradation."

Continuing Speaker Clark said:

WISHES WILSON WELL.

"I never entertained the slightest ill will toward the president about the Baltimore convention. I did what I did all I could to elect him. I have steadfastly supported him until we are called on to violate a plank in the platform which I absolutely refuse to do any such thing.

"The fact that I am making this fight for our platform pledge may end my public career. There are many things worse than being defeated for congress or defeated for the presidency, or even worse than to be defeated for the presidency and one of them is to repudiate the platform on which you are elected.

"I can be happy without the presidency. I can be happy without the speakership. If my constituents should retire me to private life, I can still be happy in the love and affection of my wife and children, in the society of my books and in cultivating flowers and trees."

Newspaper attacks, the speaker charged, had been actuated to "unite and throw-beat me into doing an un-American thing—an utterly unjustifiable thing—a thing which will excite the scorn and derision of the civilized world."

Asserting that he had no criticism for his Democratic colleagues who would vote for repeal, the speaker pleaded that "if we must differ, let us differ in kindness." Then he launched into an argument on the merits of the toll issue.

"Who would be the chief beneficiaries of the repeal bill?" he asked. "The transcontinental railroad—the Canadian Pacific and the Tehuantepec National railway heading the list. To do a thing to enable them to hold up their rates is altruistic generosity run mad and an outrage on the American people. I refuse to indorse any such program."

Observing that the president had shown "no reluctance in discharging his duties and exercising his powers to the utmost," Speaker Clark said:

"When he was elected president he declared he had become ipso facto leader of the party in the nation." Mr. Clark said the declaration was correct, "but even leadership has its limitations."

"I am willing to follow where he leads so long as he is in the White House and so long as he does not ask us to repudiate a plain platform declaration," said the speaker.

Representative Adamson, of Georgia, who was prepared to close the arguments for the repeal advocates, appeared on the floor early with a large number of documents and data pertaining to the tolls question. With him were Representatives Sherley and Covington. Two of the principal speakers for the bill on the final program

The administration leaders planned to secure a vote on the bill before the adjournment of the house tonight and with about five hours' debate left. But realizing that when the house met, both sided pressed for the use of every available minute of time. The leaders were anxious to hurry the house along, fearing interruptions might force the bill over until tomorrow, calendar Wednesday, which would precipitate parliamentary complications.

The opponents of the bill prepared to make the most of their single opportunity to amend the bill and a carefully drawn motion was framed to commit the bill to the interstate and foreign commerce committee with instructions to report it back amended. After a conference it was agreed that Representative Borenius, of Michigan, leading the Democrats opposed to the bill, should present the motion, thus overcoming the scruples of Democrats who might object to supporting a proposition advanced from the Republican side of the aisle. The provisions of the motion to recommit were carefully kept secret.

HUMPHREY LAUDS CLARK.

Representative Humphrey, of Washington, Republican, the first speaker, denounced the Democratic position as "more contemptible than the English language can express," and declared the condition had been brought about by the "egotistical blunderfus" of the administration in the Mexican situation.

He lauded Majority Leader Underwood and Speaker Clark, who, he said, "by rebels had much to do with the early repulses at Gomez Palacio. Only about one in thirty exploded.

General Villa is a fighting man. He was everywhere, and his greatest delight was to join the assaults on foot and throw hand grenades himself.

Ultimately he will take Torreon. When we left Saturday morning the fight was in progress. It was slow, stubborn work, as the rebels had to fight from house to house, the enemy retreating from position to position through holes knocked in the mud-houses, which are built one against another.

REPORTER ESCAPES.

Reed and Dorman, like other correspondents and photographers, were not only forbidden to send out news after the attack on Torreon began, but they themselves were forbidden to leave.

According to Reed, they bribed a section hand to allow them to use a gasoline propelled rail vehicle, which carried them to Bermejillo. There they caught a hospital train, which carried them to Chihuahua. All along the line they were stopped and questioned, but they still had their safe conduct passes from Villa, and managed to get through. As the verbal order against their departure had not been properly promulgated, Reedsays:

We slept—actually slept—on the roof of the caboose to Chihuahua. In our waking moments we could hear the moans and cries of the wounded. As the wounded died they were simply shoved out of the cars. We didn't stop to bury them.

Reed and Dorman agreed that the superiority of the federals' artillery should have given them permanent victory, but for Velasco's failure to follow up his advantage.

"TIZ" PUTS JOY IN SORE, ACHING FEET

"My, how 'TIZ' gladdens tired, swollen, sweaty feet—It's glorious!"

"TIZ" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters, bunions and chilblains.

"TIZ" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "TIZ" brings restful foot-comfort. "TIZ" is magical, grand, wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Ah! how comfortable, how happy you feel. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a 25-cent box of "TIZ" now from any druggist or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy. Just think! a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents.—(Advt.)
