

Adair Tribute Suggested By Chas. C. McGehee, Jr.

CHARLES C. McGEHEE, JR.

Manager of Home Life Insurance Company Desires Credit for Starting the Movement

To Charles C. McGehee, Jr., whose name was the first of those on the communication addressed to The Journal last Thursday, belongs credit as the originator of the definite movement to confer on Forrest Adair some evidence of Atlanta's appreciation of his work, just as to Mr. Adair now this to any of his co-workers belongs the credit for the great success of that work.

Just before the Shriners opened their meeting, and while the preparations for it were being accelerated in the final moments, Mr. McGehee offered the suggestion to a friend.

"If this thing's a success," said he, "we ought to impress Forrest Adair somehow with our appreciation. What do you think of it?"

The friend thought well of it, and there the matter rested. Shriners week was a success, an astonishing success.

Then Mr. McGehee renewed the suggestion, which had occurred meanwhile to a number of other people. He found some of his friends agreeing so heartily that they signed with him a letter to The Journal, asking that paper to further the movement.

The other signers of that letter were: Lowry Arnold, Captain J. W. English, Colonel R. J. Lowry, John E. Murphy, Colonel Frederic J. Baxon, Thomas B. Pain, Robert F. Maddox, Ernest Wood-

GOVERNMENT CONFESSION IN NAVAL STORES CASE?

No! Pressed Indictment Against G. M. Boardman Starts Persistent Rumor

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) SAVANNAH, Ga., May 19.—That a confession has been made to the government in the celebrated naval stores trust case is the intimation about the federal court here today. The case is set down for trial on Monday, and rumors have the department of justice is to rely largely upon the admissions of one of those indicted at the time the indictments were found, have been very persistent during the past few days.

They were added to this morning when it was found that the indictment against George Head Boardman, the former Jacksonville representative of the American Naval Stores company, had been not pressed by order of the attorney general.

The order to this effect is now on file in the United States clerk's office. No explanation has yet been given as to why this was done. It is understood the government will use Mr. Boardman as a witness in the case.

ruff, Reuben R. Arnold and Ivan E. Allen. They and Mr. McGehee were the original eleven who started the ball-rolling. The Journal gave it another boost, and away it went, with the people of Atlanta doing all the rest.

But to Charles C. McGehee, Jr., manager of the Home Life Insurance company, belongs the original credit for many of the most remarkable spontaneous expressions that Atlanta ever has uttered.

T. R. ARRIVES IN N. Y. HARBOR FROM BRAZIL

Steamship Aidan Brings Explorer. Safely After 12-Day Voyage

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, May 19.—The steamship Aidan, bearing Theodore Roosevelt, arrived here this afternoon after a voyage lasting twelve days. At the request of Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, the plans of the villagers of Oyster Bay to welcome Mr. Roosevelt have been postponed for at least twenty-four hours. There was to have been a parade tonight.

Now it is planned to have Mr. Roosevelt dine quietly with his family at Sagamore Hill tonight. If he feels well enough and tomorrow evening go down to the village. Then, the villagers hope, he will make a brief address. At any rate the village band will play. The colonel's friends will not have a chance to greet the returning traveler if the plans of his family are carried out. They have arranged to have a strictly family party meet him at Oyster Bay, where he will be landed at a private pier, a short distance from his home.

DONALDSON RESIGNS AFTER FIGHT WITH GIRARDEAU

Head of Public Works Denies Difficulty With Warden Was
Cause of His Action

SI H. Donaldson, county superintendent of public works, has tendered his resignation to the board of county commissioners, effective next Saturday.

This means the "complete elimination" of the Donaldson influence in the county convict system, recommended some months ago by the grand jury, which made the famous convict probe.

Mr. Donaldson's resignation follows a fight with Charles H. Girardeau, former justice of the peace, and now warden of the county.

While Donaldson denies the little conflict resulted in his resignation, it is known there has been friction between the superintendent of public works and the warden since two positions were separated and Girardeau named warden.

The fight between the two county officials occurred Saturday night in a meat market on Broad street. Saturday morning Donaldson appeared before the public works committee of the county board and criticized the work of Girardeau as a warden.

That evening the two men met in the meat market, and when Donaldson admitted the criticism blows were exchanged. The two were separated by the proprietor of the market and did not continue their fight on the outside.

Changes in the public works department of the county have been made rapidly recently. A few months ago Thomas H. Connelley, who had been superintendent and warden for more than thirty years, was removed from the position and named superintendent of public works. Donaldson being elevated to the position of superintendent of public works and warden. Then came the grand jury investigation and Thomas Donaldson was discharged, while the positions of superintendent of public works and warden were separated. Girardeau being named warden.

The board of county commissioners will probably hold a special session to act on Donaldson's resignation and to name his successor if the resignation is accepted.

BOARD MEETS SATURDAY

Toll C. Waters, chairman of the board of county commissioners, has called a special meeting of the board for Saturday morning at 11 o'clock to act on the Donaldson resignation.

Board members say it is extremely probable that either J. T. Anderson or Oscar Jones, now in charge of convict camps, will be elevated to the position of superintendent of public works.

While numerous applications for the job have already been received by members of the board it is not known if the commission favors the elevation of a man from the ranks. At least they believe in giving the men already in the service of the county a trial before employing some new man to take the position.

It has been learned that the specific complaint, which started the Donaldson-Girardeau row, was a statement to the public works committee by Donaldson that the work of the Broad street camp had been inspired by Girardeau who, without consulting him, transferred eight convicts from that camp to the Sandy Spring (home) camp last Sunday.

Donaldson, it is said, complained that as the result of the transfer he did not have enough men in the Broad street camp to properly handle paying machines.

While no specific probe of the fight itself will be made, a hot discussion among the members of the board over the long existing friction between the two officials is certain.

NEW YORK HOTEL MAN HIGHLY PRAISES ATLANTA "Most Progressive City in the South," Says Walton H. Marshall

Praise of Atlanta as "the most progressive city in the south" comes from Walton H. Marshall, manager of the Hotel Vanderbilt, New York, one of the best known hotel men in the country.

"There are few in the nation to equal it," said Mr. Marshall, Monday afternoon, after spending some hours here on his way to New York from a tour of the south. With him was Albert E. Martin, assistant manager of the Vanderbilt. "If there is a more promising city on the American continent, outside of New York, I have not yet seen it."

Mr. Marshall said he visited Atlanta five years ago.

"But I hardly recognized the city this morning," he continued. "Its growth is amazing. The town seems to grow on general principles and the Atlanta spirit. Oh, yes, we've heard of the Atlanta spirit even as far away as New York. It is worth bragging about. I don't blame the tropical Atlanta for it, but the downtown district has the inspiring aspect of the great big cities of the north. There is plenty of pep and ginger here."

ATLANTA ART ASSN. TO HOLD EXHIBITION HERE

Fifty Canvases to Be Put on Display in the Governor's Executive Mansion

The Atlanta Art association, of which Mrs. Samuel Tamm is president, has arranged for a fine exhibit of pictures during the next few weeks. Fifty canvases have been sent to the city by the American Federation of Arts of Washington, D. C., and as soon as they are hung the public will have the opportunity of seeing them.

Mr. John Marshall Slaton, wife of the governor, and a number of the association and is much interested in the exhibit, and has offered the use of the executive mansion for the exhibition and Tuesday, the work of hanging the pictures began.

The mansion will probably be open to the public during the latter part of the week and the exact day of the opening will be announced later.

The pictures will remain in the city for a week or two, and Atlantians who are interested in art will have a splendid opportunity to see some really good canvases.

The American Federation of Arts represents the highest authority on art matters in this country. Robert W. De Forest is its president. The pictures which will be shown in the Atlanta exhibit have been carefully chosen. They will be of educational value to the artist and with modern art and at the same time will prove a delight to those who have a genuine appreciation of the art.

Totem Pole Left by Shriners Now Stands In Lobby of Piedmont

Whatever else the Shriners may have left in Atlanta, one evidence of their visit will probably outlive itself on the loungers in the lobby of the Piedmont hotel for many days to come.

It will outlive because it is very long and very tall and very weird and garish in color and emblem from the fur seal's teeth to the head of an Esquimo god.

The totem pole is a replica of one sixty feet high that came from Alaska and now towers in the heart of the city of Seattle. It was brought to Atlanta by Nile temple, of that city.

The day before the Nile patrol left, the totem pole mysteriously disappeared. The day after they left, it reappeared as mysteriously. Nobody knows who took it or where it went—so.

But the inference is that when Yarnes' noble visit Seattle in 1913, they will bear the pole in triumph to the city on the sound.

PEACHTREE HEIGHTS PARK GIVEN ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Installation of Latest Type
Completed by Company
Owning Property

The company owning Peachtree heights park, has completed installation of electric lights of the latest type throughout, making the ground very bright and the city is every way the equal of city parks so far as conveniences are concerned.

Because of lots in the park, who are planning to build homes, and prospective purchasers looking over the park, the company has suggested that the only thing necessary to perfect the subdivision was street lighting.

The Peachtree heights company anticipates on this suggestion by stopping at once the cost, and takes pleasure in the fact that everything possible has been done to complete the improvement of the property.

Another notable feature of the park is a bordered and hundred feet wide road with wide park space in the middle for grass and flowers.

The company next Saturday will hold an auction sale of twenty lots.

SCRIBBLERS WANT BUREAU TO MARKET THEIR WARES

At the regular meeting of the Writers club of Atlanta Monday at the Carnegie library a committee was appointed to formulate plans for the establishment of a bureau for the purpose of marketing literary products of members of the club.

The suggestion was made by William H. Miller, who was appointed chairman of the committee. A report will be made Monday week.

The club elevated John Temple Graves to the position of honorary president and named William P. Parkhurst as president. Milton McGovern was elected treasurer.

The reading of the day was a short story written by Mrs. Lottie Belle Wylie and read by Miss Mary Smith.

COUNCIL SETS RECORD FOR BRIEF SESSION

Little Business to Transact, and Meeting Adjourns in 55
Minutes

The general council Monday afternoon held one of the shortest regular sessions in its history, lasting exactly fifty-five minutes. During thirty minutes very few council committees could get a quorum for their meetings, and hence there was little before the general council to be disposed of.

Councilman James M. Wood introduced a charter amendment, which was referred to the special committee on charter amendments, authorizing the city to annex the smoke ordinance to plants outside of the city limits, but sufficiently close to be a nuisance to people inside of the city.

Alderman Armstrong introduced an ordinance prohibiting persons, firms or corporations from selling at fire or bankruptcy sales any goods that are not really from fire or bankruptcy stocks, and prohibiting representation as to the value of goods in bargain advertising.

The ordinance was referred to the ordinance committee. Alderman Armstrong stated that the merchants approve of the ordinance.

A conference committee appointed on the transfer of $1,000 from the auto repair fund to the auto purchase fund of the sanitary department, which transfer the common council passed but the aldermen board held up, maintaining the committee's report was adopted.

A contract for constructing two groups of lateral sewers was awarded to F. P. Harvey & Co., of Memphis, for $13,910.

CHARLES A. COOK HAS ATTACK OF INDIGESTION

Son of Secretary of State
Causes Family Great Anxiety for Several Hours

While on the way to his boarding house, 311 Courtland street, from downtown late Monday afternoon Charles A. Cook, traveling representative of the Corn Products company, and son of Secretary of State Philip Cook, was seized with an attack of acute indigestion and fell to the sidewalk on Ellis street, in front of the latter club.

Several persons saw Mr. Cook fall and they hastened to his assistance. He was unable to give his address and they placed him in an automobile and carried him to a boarding house at 321 Courtland street and summoned physicians.

Some one who saw Mr. Cook taken into the automobile concluded he had been hurt in an automobile accident and they telephoned his father's residence to that effect. Secretary and Mrs. Cook spent an anxious night calling the various hospitals. Neither the police nor the hospitals could furnish any information of an automobile accident and it was not until Tuesday morning that Secretary Cook learned the whereabouts of his son.

The young man's wife was advised of his condition and whereabouts late Monday evening and she spent the night at his bedside. It was reported Tuesday morning that he would probably be sufficiently recovered during the day to go to P. F. Harvey & Co., of Memphis, for $13,910.

He was recovered to his father's home on Linden street.

Splendid Specials In Wash Goods

Another dress, another skirt, another waist at prices that make them easily possible.

Let's see just what the price cutter's trip to the Wash Goods Section has done:

He has made 12½c a yard Batistes, 28 inches wide, light grounds with stripes and pretty little floral patterns, 9c.

And here now are 19c a yard, cotton mulls with wee small flowers scattered over them in natural shades, 28 inches wide, 15c.

Very fresh and neat silk striped crepes that were 35c a yard and that suggest waists and dresses, 28 inches wide, are marked 25c. At the same price are checked and striped crepes in blues and pinks that were 29c.

And linens—Smooth French linens and rough ramie linens, 48 inches wide, in about every color that a woman would think of for a suit or skirt are reduced from 65c a yard to 39c.

But one of the best things from your viewpoint the price cutter did was the remarkable repricing of ratines—$1.00 ratines to 75c, plain shades of spring and smart black and white checks that every one seems to want—90c ratines to 59c, plain shades and black and white checks—and a few pieces of rich $3.50 broadcloth ratines, 45 inches wide, in navy, lavender, tans and rose were made $1.95 a yard.

In all, the Price Cutter has made a day for you to buy the wash fabrics that you are going to need this summer!

The selling will start with the opening of the store at 8:30.

The Frolaset Corset

A Corset That Laces In Front

We believe in selling the best merchandise the market affords.

And since a corset is one of the most important garments of a woman's wardrobe—the appearance of her figure depending on it—we aim to sell only such corsets as are designed on the very latest lines.

The newest figure today is the relaxed, uncorseted effect. To create this figure we advise the use of a proper corset—one with a very low bust and flexible boning.

We're showing a number of Frolaset models for every type of figure that will give you this very appearance.

And the front-lacing principle itself should commend itself to you. If you're not familiar with the Frolaset, permit us to show you the new models.

PHYSICIANS KNOW

Usually Sickness Begins with Torpid Liver and Constipation.

And that's the trouble. Constipation should never be neglected. All food eaten has some indigestible waste which the liver cleans away day by day. An over-supply or a change in your habits sometimes causes the liver to neglect a few particles, which remain in the stomach and make it more difficult the next day for the liver to do its cleansing work. So this waste accumulates and clogs the liver, and causes constipation. That is not all. If the waste is not eliminated, it ferments and generates uric acid, a poisonous substance which enters the blood stream and is carried along through the system to poison it. Self-poisoning or auto-intoxication, this is termed medically. When uric acid is deposited in the joints and muscles you have rheumatism. When it touches the nerves, you have paralysis, nervous prostration, and poisonous irritation of the delicate

Buttons, Buzzers and Many Guards Protect John D. From Harm

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 19.—In addition to doubling his guards from four to eight, John D. Rockefeller has had installed about the grounds of his Pleasant Hills estate a system of electric lights which can flash by pressing a button at the head of his bed.
Before the demonstrations by the Industrial Workers of the World at the downtown offices of the Standard Oil company and the threats that they were on duty. With the new system of lighting the flashing of lights is answered by the guards who press buttons and sound buzzers about their employer's bed.
A similar system is being installed at the home of John D. Rockefeller, 25

ADAMS IS TRAINED

BY GENERAL GOODWIN.
The general staff Monday afternoon adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, that Adams be trained for his splendid services in bringing to Atlanta the reinforcements of the 1st division, and for his magnificent work in connection with the arrangements for entertaining the tens of thousands of troops who were with us at this time. While Mr. Adams has excellent assistants from the various companies who worked in conjunction with him, his dynamic force that made the convention such an unqualified success is entirely from him, and to him should unstinted praise be given."
The resolution was introduced by Alderman James R. Nutting and unanimously adopted.

The conference of southern life insurance companies will be formally organized at a meeting at 10 o'clock in the Piedmont hotel on Thursday morning.

The afternoon session Tuesday and Wednesday will be made by Dr. J. T. J. Medical Examination Board, and a Committee of Cost of Living. There will be two addresses on the second day and final day. Mr. Taft had been identified with the Southern Express company for over twenty years. He was route agent with headquarters in Augusta at the time of his death.
The remains were taken to LaGrange, Ga., for interment in the family lot. They were accompanied by the family and a number of his business associates from Atlanta. Funeral services were held in LaGrange Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

GRAND JURY TO HOLD FIRST MEET WEDNESDAY

The new Fulton county grand jury will hold its first meeting on Wednesday since it was charged by Judge Ben H. Hill to probe the bribery and perjury charges in the Frank case.
Only seven bills against accused persons, now in jail, have been prepared for the grand jury. It is probable that the probe of the "Frank case" charges will not commence for several days.
Many of the bills can be rapidly disposed of by the court, which is in session if indicted persons are present. As a result it is probable that a number of these cases will be cleared up before grand jury commences its main work.

A STUBBORN COUGH IS WEARING AND RISKY

Your system is run down and you have but a low degree of vital resistance when a cough "hangs on" as often happens in the spring of the year. Chronic diseased conditions of the nose and throat result, and a good many cases of lung trouble are directly due to neglected colds. Foley's Honey and Tar is thoroughly effective in bronchitis, coughs, hoarseness, tickling, throat, bronchial asthma and the chronic coughs of elderly people. It soothes and soothes the inflamed mucous membranes, and should always be in the household where there are children, as it is the best safe thing you can give your child for cough or whooping fits, and that alone recommends it to careful parents. And its superior healing and soothing qualities, and its quick beneficial action, make it the best medicine for coughs and colds that you can buy. In 5c, 10c and 25c bottles everywhere. Do not take any but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. For sale everywhere.—(Adv.)

WOMAN HAS A NARROW ESCAPE AS LADDER FALLS

Extension Affair Buckles and Drops to Street as She Jumps to Safety

An unknown lady narrowly escaped death at Whitehall and Alabama streets Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock when a forty-foot extension ladder "buckled" and dropped to the sidewalk.
The ladder was being used by Brown McCreary, stenographer, who was at work on the north side of the building occupied by Jacob's drug store. Without apparent reason, the jointing in the middle of the ladder gave way and both sections dropped to the sidewalk.
A lady, who declined to give her name, was passing immediately under the ladder at the time and saved herself from being crushed only by bare presence of mind, jumping to the protection of the coping of the building. The upper portion of the ladder fell across the auto of attorney J. E. Hines, which was standing near, but did little damage except to the paint. The accident created considerable excitement as the streets were crowded at the time.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

It is strange how fast news travels. There isn't anything that travels faster. The day after it happened everybody on the Green Meadows and in the Green Forest and around the Smiling Pool knew all about the job that Buster Bear had played on Reddy Fox and Granny Fox and Old Man Coyote. Buster didn't tell it himself, and he was very sure that Reddy and Granny and Old Man Coyote didn't tell it. Peter Rabbit didn't tell it, because Peter was safe in the dear Old Briar Patch when it happened and didn't see anything at all until the Merry Little Princess of Old Mother Goose came dancing that way and told him about it. It must have been Hooley the Owl who told it, for he was the only one who saw it. Anyway, some one told it, and then everybody knew about it. Paddy the Beaver chuckled over it as he swam about in his private pond deep in the Green Forest. Grandfather Frog chuckled over it as he sat on his big green lily-pad in the Smiling Pool, waiting for foolish green flies. Danny Meadow Mouse chuckled over it as he scampered along his little paths under the grass on the Green Meadows. Johny Quack chuckled as he sat on his doorstep, in the far corner of the Old Orchard. And quite suddenly all the little people who had been afraid of Buster Bear again began to feel quite as brave as toward him. You see not one of them loves Reddy or Granny Fox or Old Man Coyote.

So Buster Bear as he prowled about in the Green Forest found that he was no longer lonely. Every one he met was very polite and said good morning, and hoped he was feeling very well. After all, he had not really done anything from his great claws, but they didn't run away and hide when he had been doing and this made Buster feel a great deal better and a whole lot more at home.

He began to think that he would go back to the Green Forest after all and not go back to the Great Woods from which he had come as he had been afraid of doing. It was very pleasant, very pleasant indeed, to have some one to speak to, and because he really is so close to the Green Forest, he had begun to think how he could show his neighbors that he really was their friend and not their enemy.

He was studying and studying about this when who should come along but Jimmy Skunk.

"Now, you know Jimmy, I'm afraid of anybody and when he was Buster Bear, I was Buster Bear," said Jimmy Skunk.

"Good morning," replied Jimmy Skunk, rather cross.

"I hope you are feeling happy this fine morning," said Buster, who wanted to be friendly.

"I'd feel happier if I could find some fat," grumbled Jimmy.

"Is that all you need to make you happy?" asked Buster.

"Yes, I saw three only a few minutes ago."

"Where?" asked Jimmy eagerly, and his face brightened and his voice didn't sound so grumpy.

"They ran under that old log and I guess they're there now," replied Buster.

Jimmy's face felt. The log was so big that he knew that he couldn't budge it if he tried all day. He was just about to say something unpleasant when Buster walked over and with a few quick strokes of his claws he had moved the log back a few feet.

"A dozen fat beetles started to crawl out from under the log. No time at all; he had found one in the stomach of Jimmy Skunk. He looked up at the twinkling eyes of Buster Bear.

"It is a fine morning," said he. "I think we are going to be friends."

"Of course we are," replied Buster promptly. "Let's go look for some more beetles."

Tennessee Woman's Press

And Authors' Club

The Tennessee Woman's Press and Authors' Club will hold its annual meeting on June 15, 16 and 17 at the Springs, Tenn.

This meeting will be in the nature of a house party, as the members will be the guests of the management from 10:00 a. m. until the morning train of the 17th, and we are expected to arrive on the Memphis special Monday morning. (Change cars at Morristown.) Luncheon Monday will be the first round. The first session will be Monday afternoon.

Every member is expected to come prepared to speak on her favorite subject. Two evening programs Monday and Tuesday will not be formally arranged, but will be literary symposiums at which all present will be called upon for a brief talk or toast on one of the two evenings.

The social as well as the literary features will be emphasized, the house party arrangement making this delightful possible.

All members expecting to attend should notify the secretary, Miss Laura Thompson, 800 West Main avenue, Knoxville, as soon as possible of acceptance, else they cannot be included as members of the house party to be entertained by the hotel management.

NEW YORK—It is astonishing how many women can afford to wear the small hat with the straight brim. When the millinery tried to exploit this shape they failed, because women were accustomed to the soft brim which rolled around the face and behind the ears. It was graceful, it accentuated the virtue of one's face, it did not bring out the hair line, and it required no special features.

The hat with the straight brim does not have these admirable advantages, and yet in its present incarnation, it is worn without disadvantage to the face by a vast number of women.

Some of the Americans seem not to have learned the French trick of milking ever is new and smart; she has an artistic method of arranging her face and hair to suit the demands of the hat. She knows how to handle the pencil, the comb and box of rouge, not so much to make her hair artificial, as to give her lines that will suit the hat she wears.

This is true art, but it has come through centuries of practice and cannot be achieved over night.

To the vast number of Americans such facial work is impossible. The average Anglo-Saxon face does not lend itself to a variety of changes. Her eyes, nose and mouth and chin cannot be changed by artistic means, and she seems to be unable to make up for each part. She is always on the stage as far as her appearance is concerned, and she seems to be able to look any or sad, serious or anxious, angular or curved at pleasure.

Because she arranged her face as a stage artist would do, that is, in the most spirit, she had no shame about it, and is quite as apt to do it in public as in private.

The Englisher, on the other hand, when Talbot brought out the first lacquered hat last winter, every one was keen about it, but there is evidence of the falling off in popularity because of its commonness and its low price. It is like the lacquered hat which is one of those popular novelties that lead to the apex of fashion and then went down in an aerobical manner.

But the varnished straw is really good and there is no reason why women should not indulge in it all summer. It may do as many other fashions do, retire and return. There is usually a period in every popular style when the world is tired of it and avoids it, and this period usually arrives shortly after the beginning.

After the reaction against it, a handful of conservative people take it up, and little by little it gains headway. Possibly a year from the start it has gone through three strong phases, one of popularity, one of unpopularity and steady acceptance.

The hat in the sketch is a varnished straw and has proved acceptable to a large number of women during this month. Its straight brim is trying, especially since the new collar has been accepted, which calls for the hair drawn away from the brow. There is not a touch of ribbon to soften it or decrease the height of the crown, but the blue flowers and green stems and leaves are helpful in giving color to the costume.

Many of the American women seem to prefer hat fashions arranged in some "box" but the American women seem to like the fantastic wings and quills that the milliners have turned out and used as a substitute for the banned plume.

As summer approaches, and as the summer deepens we will return to the wings and quills, for the sun has a way of playing havoc with artificial as well as natural ones.

MISS CECEL LETCHER.

Miss Letcher won the British women's golf championship recently, defeating Miss Gladys Hagen, woman champion of the United States. Miss Letcher is only 23 years old, and is the best of a famous club of sisters who have figured in many championship matches.

A Message to the Children

Listen little children: this is for you. Next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock there is going to be assembled on the grounds of the Thelma Remus home at West End, one of the most wonderful congregations of pretty girls and handsome boys that can be imagined. They are going to dance the Maypole dances, three poles in all, tied with bright ribbons and strung with gay flowers, and take part in the program. Besides there will be a lovely May queen, Louise Nichols, who will be attended by a hundred little children, dancing, singing, scattering flowers in her path and making appropriate speeches for just the sort of gracious queen she will be.

Then after the queen takes her scepter, "The Thimble Finger Waltz" will begin to pour out streams of good music, and the "Star of the Galaxy" will be alive with ginger cake, candy and all for your pleasure. There will be a Rabbit Hunt and candy eggs, and "Miss Meadows and de dale" will be on the grounds to see that you have a good time and that nothing but pleasure comes your way.

You will have a good time, and out of the ribbons on the Maypoles and have a good time generally. So if you want to see where Atlanta's greatest friend to little children lives, and write for you, and loved you, take a Whitcomb street car and go out to Gordon street to The Wren's Nest and—there you are.

Mrs. A. M. Wilson and a number of ladies will be there to meet you and make you have a good time, so ask your mother and father to let you go, and, better still, to go there with you and see the beautiful chimes, too, where so many lovely beads are made, and see where the little birds are being housed and where every child in the world that goes there can enjoy himself.

I am telling you about this because I want you to have a real good time and see the prettiest May festival ever given in Atlanta.

Fashion Fads

Variety in the combination of styles has never been greater than now.

The influence of the styles of 1890 and 1899 is shown on the day dresses of today.

Earrings are very popular again owing to Queen Victoria's fondness for them.

Fashionable men and women now go to evening clothes to the movie picture shows in the West End of London.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

NEW YORK—It is astonishing how many women can afford to wear the small hat with the straight brim. When the millinery tried to exploit this shape they failed, because women were accustomed to the soft brim which rolled around the face and behind the ears. It was graceful, it accentuated the virtue of one's face, it did not bring out the hair line, and it required no special features.

The hat with the straight brim does not have these admirable advantages, and yet in its present incarnation, it is worn without disadvantage to the face by a vast number of women.

Some of the Americans seem not to have learned the French trick of milking ever is new and smart; she has an artistic method of arranging her face and hair to suit the demands of the hat. She knows how to handle the pencil, the comb and box of rouge, not so much to make her hair artificial, as to give her lines that will suit the hat she wears.

This is true art, but it has come through centuries of practice and cannot be achieved over night.

To the vast number of Americans such facial work is impossible. The average Anglo-Saxon face does not lend itself to a variety of changes. Her eyes, nose and mouth and chin cannot be changed by artistic means, and she seems to be unable to make up for each part. She is always on the stage as far as her appearance is concerned, and she seems to be able to look any or sad, serious or anxious, angular or curved at pleasure.

Because she arranged her face as a stage artist would do, that is, in the most spirit, she had no shame about it, and is quite as apt to do it in public as in private.

The Englisher, on the other hand, when Talbot brought out the first lacquered hat last winter, every one was keen about it, but there is evidence of the falling off in popularity because of its commonness and its low price. It is like the lacquered hat which is one of those popular novelties that lead to the apex of fashion and then went down in an aerobical manner.

But the varnished straw is really good and there is no reason why women should not indulge in it all summer. It may do as many other fashions do, retire and return. There is usually a period in every popular style when the world is tired of it and avoids it, and this period usually arrives shortly after the beginning.

After the reaction against it, a handful of conservative people take it up, and little by little it gains headway. Possibly a year from the start it has gone through three strong phases, one of popularity, one of unpopularity and steady acceptance.

The Cardinal Principles

—that underlie the whole-hearted, honest policy of our business are VALUE, SERVICE and SATISFACTION

Our conservatism withholds us ever from making any statement concerning our methods that would sound too liberal.

All thinking people must acknowledge the modern definition of Honesty, which recognizes that every business transaction should be mutually profitable.

You'll agree that any contract worth making must have an incentive at both ends.

The strongest inducements that we could offer to you are "full value" for your money—a guarantee of perfect satisfaction and our best service—with a genuine welcome, whether you buy or not.

Buying and selling take care of themselves when terms of mutual confidence and understanding have been made.

We have many tempting propositions to offer you in DEPENDABLE FURNITURE. We can furnish every room in the home, however simple or pretentious that home may be.

Our Porch Furniture in Fiber Rush, Wicker and Mission "holds its own" anywhere.

Georgia Girl Weds in South Africa

THE ATLANTA JOURNAL. A black and white photograph of a woman, likely the bride, standing outdoors. She is wearing a light-colored dress and has her hair styled in an updo. The background is slightly blurred, showing some foliage.

The celebration of Peace Day by the Atlanta Women's club, Monday afternoon was an occasion marked by expressions of lofty ideals, human sympathy and the highest type of citizenship.

Miss Alice Baxter, state chairman of the Peace movement, presided at the meeting. Miss Baxter spoke of the power of the spiritual thought of a body of people to radiate for strength and universal betterment.

PEACE DAY PROGRAM. Dr. J. J. Hale, secretary of the Georgia Peace society, was fervent in his invocation for peace and the brotherhood of man.

Mr. Peyton Todd's rendition of "Peace on Earth" was a vocal tribute to the spirit of the meeting.

Prof. T. D. Terry, a Confederate veteran, told many interesting reminiscences of the late war while the speaker of the peace societies and what the development will mean future generations.

Bishop Nelson of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, spoke of the silent and gentle methods of the peace movement, that has received no assistance from the political machine in America, holds the key to the peace problem," said Bishop Nelson, and he told of peace treaties made by the United States government, and of the attitude of this country in recent conferences on the adjustment of international problems. All signs and symbols of war should be abolished and the speaker in closing an instructive address.

Mrs. John M. Slaton read with dramatic effect Mrs. Browning's "Mother and Poet." The interpretation was accurate in the expression of feeling and emotion by the reader, expressing the mother's grief over the loss of two sons in war.

America was sung by the audience led by Mrs. Peyton Todd.

An artistic effect was given the Peace day celebration by the miniature stage that was distributed by the Women's Relief corps.

The audience met the speakers for the afternoon while tea was being served.

OUR ASTROLOGER

"The stars inspire, but do not compel."

FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 20, 1914.

Astrology reads this as a day exceptionally favorable for most persons, since Mercury and Uranus exert power for good with little opposition from adverse planets.

Mercury's aspect is favorable for the business of trade and manufacturing and promises success in large enterprises. Manual workers in the skilled trades are subject to lucky conditions according to the stars, since dexterity and industry are believed to be increased under this configuration.

What is demanded for the success of power to gain attention by force of personality should prosper today. Promoters, agents and even canvassers should prosper greatly, since the astral way is so to add the power to talk convincingly.

The sign is especially favorable for advertising, which depends on novelty of ideas and originality for execution. In this connection it is foretold that sweeping changes in methods of advertising are probably within the next decade.

Conditions are promising for the opening of new offices and shops. Renovation and changes of all sorts are under good direction.

There is no fortune in business today. The stars favor the busy and give hope of gain. There is an especially fair omen for all women who work in fields where nursing and ministrations to suffering persons supreme effort. Hospital corps are subject to a helpful government. Uranus is in a place that should bring prosperity to all who travel for the purpose. It is a propitious time to investigate whatever is odd, curious and mysterious.

It is predicted that a famous traveler will start disseminating among learned men who disagree concerning trophies and specimens from unknown or little traveled regions of the earth.

As the good aspects of Uranus are conducive to friendships between persons of opposite sex, this is supposed to be a fortunate day for making new acquaintances.

Persons whose birthdate it is have an encouraging augury for the year. They are warned against speculation or money-lending. Travel and change that bring happiness are probable.

Children born on this day have kindly stars to guide them. They are likely to have rather comical features as they partake of Taurus and Gemini characteristics. Venus and Mercury influence them, and they should combine with artistic gifts powers to make the most of their talents.

A short program will be given. The members of this class are Mary

This is the answer I have found. For those who seek the ways of Fate. For ever on the endless road. Time, tide and Ty for no man wait. For Time holds ever on its way. And Tide keeps naught of human will. Above all Fate rules the fray. But Ty is more remorseless still.

EXCLUSIVE ANNOUNCEMENT.
Here, I write a satirical combat, "Is a great chance for you to put over a scorp. Tell us who is going to win at Sandwich." The best we can do is to tell you the only system we have at hand for advance information. Write the names of the 240 entered on slips of paper, drop said slips in a hat and then pick one out. The answer will be about as close as the next one makes who is depending exclusively upon the dope.

ALL A GAMBLE.
With a long siege of eighteen-hundred matches we don't believe any man entered in better than a 15 to 1 shot. Here's an example: You've heard and read a lot about Hilton, Ball, Harris, Outmet, Travers, Evans, etc., but in Thursday's competition some of the Englishmen totally unknown to this part of the world beats Travers, Evans, Outmet, Hilton, Ball and most of the rest by 6 or 7 strokes, blowing himself to a 72.

It would be a wonderful achievement for America to finish first. But the odds, with all her ten entries, are about 6 to 1 that she won't.

BUNK IN BASEBALL.
We referred a number of times last winter to the large quantity of bunk that of late years had become tangled up in baseball. Part of this had to do with the over-enthusiasm shown in the off season and with the over-inflated certain portions of the game. The latest segment of Granddunk on display is over-paddling the daily attendance.

In place of rival managers fighting for players and over lawsuits, they might put in this series of representing a crop of the bunk that has been developing so rapidly of late.

But even at that, the Granddunk is still a trifle airy of the Granddunk. In the early forecasts the esteemed Braves were to finish about third and the Tigers about sixth. The Braves can still finish third and the Tigers sixth, but we are placing no bets in that general direction.

If the Braves continue in the same direction much longer they should soon emerge about fifteen rods from the suburbs of Pekin.

Not forgetting to mention in the scramble at large that Buck Herzog has so far delivered more stuff than any manager in baseball. He had the worst club in either league to start with, and a club that had had all the pep and ambushed pounded out over a long period of disaster.

He had all this, plus a board of directors to manage, and he's still there in polite society. Herzog deserves a quantity of polite mention for what he has accomplished and the same is extended freely and with pleasure.

"THIS MAKES IT 201." pens in a fan. "Why doesn't some one refer to Harry Covey as the Giant killer? So far I have only seen this reference printed on 200 occasions."

TIGER SPEED.
One of the biggest factors so far in Detroit's success is the speed which Jennings has incorporated in his cast. Outside of Stanley, there isn't a member of the squad who isn't fleet of foot and a handy bloke at fitting around the top paths. But infield and outfield are composed of people who can travel with great rapidity from spot to spot. And as speed is one of the greatest factors in any present winning ambition, you have another reason why the Tigers might cut in on that world series manna, the output of which was rudely interrupted in 1909.

If any one is now thinking of offering $500,000 for the Cubs we suggest, in the interest of humanity, that he first dispatch a physician to examine the state of Mr. Taft's heart.

"Travers went out in 35 and came in in 42." Why the device didn't stay out?

Jugland may have a better polo team at home than he is sending after the cup, but we see no reason why America should commit heart-hats on this account.

The Tigers some day might decide to start against the Yanks without Cobb and Crawford, but we doubt seriously that Chance would protest the battle on this account—especially if he won.

"In the tell clutch of circumstance I have not winced nor cried aloud," wrote Mr. Henley. Thereby showing:

1.—That in his day no Feds were under grabbing off his star ball player.

2.—That he had never paid out $1 to see a brace of white boys enmeshed in mortal combat.

3.—That he had never bet a lot of money that the Tigers wouldn't finish in the first division.

No, Mavrus, there is little or no truth in the rumor that the winner of the British championship will play the ultimate victor of our match with B. L. T. for the championship of the world. There was some talk of it, but while they won't play with out it we won't even play with our shirts on if it gets that hot.

FULLERTON'S GOSSIP
The editor of fashion that skirts shall be fuller this year is vain. They show it, but while they won't play with out it we won't even play with our shirts on if it gets that hot.

John McGraw received pass No. 1 to the Brooklyn Fed grounds, proving that the Feds will take any kind of a "hance."

We expect Cy Dryden to jump to the federal league as soon as he hears that Baltimore has a "hance."

We hereby notify six parties that the 100s have opened both at Brooklyn and outland, making the total number of hats we win at, with some loss. Also, the old Kelly is at home for fun.

The reason portership is 36 cents near the Fed grounds.

Crackers Drop Second Game to Mobile Gulls

Mobile Team Takes Second Game of Series From Smith-men, 6-3—Doeschner Hurls Well but Gets Bad Breaks; Eibel Hits Homer With Two On

BY ELLIOTT BENT.
MOBILE, Ala., May 19.—The Gulls took the second game from Bill Smith's champions Monday, 5 to 3. Like the opening game of the series which we lost, 2 to 1, we were unable to come through with the necessary wallop at the proper time. We had many chances to score more runs, but as usual we did not get the breaks.

We depended upon Jack Doeschner, our most reliable pitcher, to hold the Gulls down, and against him Manager Lord sent a young southpaw named Townsend. Doeschner was a little wild in the first inning and later on the men that he walked finally crossed the plate.

Jack Eibel was the Crackers' pinch hitter and drove the ball over right field corner to Schmidt's right, sending Holland and Kircher in ahead of him. Eibel's homer was the second one of the game, for Mackay's Eibel, who was out in the fourth, drove a homer over the right field fence for a home run.

The Gulls started scoring in the first inning, when Lord, sending Holland to second, Odeli scored on Kirby's double and center field fence. Lord walked, Perry sacrificed him to second. THE FIGHT GAME DOES NOT APPEAL TO FITZSIMMONS, JR.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Bill Fitzsimmons, who announced that he was training his son and heir to become the next heavyweight champion. It was felt that the son of the great fighter must necessarily also be a great fighter. Consequently the sporting world is awaiting the youngster's debut with some impatience and is wondering why it does not take place.

The reason came to light recently when some one on the inside divulged the facts in the case. Young Fitzsimmons does not want to be a fighter. In fact he wouldn't care if he never saw a boxing glove again.

Now this unexpected lack of war-like spirit in his offspring has grieved the old warrior sorely. He has read the accounts of Fitz's great battles, and he was filled with the spirit of conquest. Following his way through the ring formed by the aviator youngsters he found himself face to face with Fitz, Jr.

Only for one moment he hesitated. It took him that long to spit on his hands and motion for a clear space. Master Fitzsimmons eyed these warlike preparations with considerable astonishment not only because he had done nothing to cause them but also because the other was his inferior in size. However, he was given little time for speculation as to the newcomer's intent. A left to the eye instantly followed by a lunge right to the nose preceded the loud announcement that young Fitzsimmons was easy prey, even if his pop was a fighter.

And did young Fitzsimmons straightaway annihilate his impudent foe with one well placed wallop cooled from his father's noted collection? He did not. Instead he host a masterly retreat, with one hand held to his eye and the other to his damaged nose.

And it is even so to this day. Bob, Jr., would have peace at any cost, and all his father's arguments, cautions and blows cannot make him alter his policy.

Random Ravings Of an Idle Fan
Just as one had come to think Meade, Col. and Capt. of Matty, the talk of trading Big Six to the Cardinals bone up.

Ten Thousand Dollar Beauty Sent to the Minors' reads a headline. That's nothing. They kicked a million dollar lemon plump out of baseball in Chicago some time back.

After lamping Willie Ritchie's demands for a ten-round fight with a second round, one is inclined to wonder just what the champion would ask for a forty-session match with Joe Gans or a Battling Nelson.

However, Rask promoters have something to be thankful for. They have no Federal invasion to fear.

It's not surprising that Zybkos, who has his own commission in wrestling, threw Knuschnien. The wonder is that a gink loaded down with that monster was even able to stagger to the mat.

Tell me not of Wagner's cloutings. Or how Baker will give the pill. Of this puny, near-great hitting I have had an ample fill. They say that Knuschnien's record in that, early morning man. When he smacks a cool in thousand With the jawbone of an ass.

Residents of Kansas City are very nervy guys. After standing for wrestling matches they got up an awful howl because the federal government had awarded a national reserve bank.

Court Takes Up Johnson's Case

CHICAGO, May 19.—The United States circuit court of appeals Monday took under advisement the appeal of the federal district attorney for a hearing in the case of Jack Johnson, who is a prize fighter, convicted of violating the Mann law.

The high court recently ruled that Johnson should be retried on some of the counts of the indictment against him and that he should be sentenced to a year and a day in the penitentiary by the district court.

Building Continues to Show Increase, Year's Deficit Being Reduced to $70,000.—Committees to Report at Real Estate Board's Luncheon on Friday Next—Drewry Street Sale—Sales Recorded—West End Park Auction

Building continues to show an increase, and the year's deficit which at one time was considerable, has been reduced to $70,000.

While it is doubtful whether May will show a greater value for real estate than by June 1, it will show a substantial increase. A good many substantial loans have been made for small buildings, the clear, open weather being favorable for building operations of all kinds.

REALTY LUNCHEON FRIDAY.
The Atlanta Real Estate board will hold its regular monthly luncheon on Friday at the Hotel Ansley, P. D. Davies, of Collins Brothers & Davies, will be the host.

No special business is slated for discussion, but the committee appointed by Harris G. White, president of the board, is interested in various organizations in sending delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at Pittsburgh next July, will make reports on progress.

The chances are pretty good to land the 1914 convention of the national association in Atlanta, but to do this Atlanta will have to send an impressive delegation. Delegates are wanted not only from the Atlanta real estate board, but also from the various other organizations of the city, such as the city and state chambers of commerce.

YOUR MONEY
What Dividends on Public Utilities?
By JOHN M. GORMAN.

One of the problems state commissions for the regulation of public utilities—street railways, light and power plants, etc.—have to tackle is to determine a fair rate of earnings on stock. Naturally, the companies and investors are deeply interested. More and more the state commissions are tending to fix a per cent as a fair rate. They argue that because of state takes a hand in running the companies, fixing rates to be charged to consumers, insuring the companies against destructive competition, supervising their issues of stocks and bonds to prevent "watering," the securities put out by them have become so unpopular that the investor ought to be willing to accept a return of 6 per cent on his money when the exchanges for public utility stock.

In contrast to the commissions usually view, there is another. It is that the average public utility has to go through a growing stage, when a tility stock to 6 per cent may drive investors away from such stocks, and retard development. He points out that the two commissions which control public utilities in New York state spend $100,000 a year (6 per cent on the $2,000,000 of stock owned) in salaries and expenses to retard development, the cost of supporting them is too great.

As I understand the commission's action, it is to prevent the removal of stock which has no vote for the financial and physical development of the big companies; but for the average investor that would be a good thing, a safeguard of his interests. Mr. Wolfe says, such stocks in a good investment when it pays 6 per cent.
