

FLOOD THREATENS BIG DAMAGE IN WISCONSIN

Small Buildings Swept Away When Black River Rises to Great Height

(By Associated Press.) GREENWOOD, Wis., June 8.—With the Black River already at its greatest flood height and rising fast, the town and others are in great danger. The waters have torn out the municipal light and power company's dam and have swept away 250 feet of reinforced concrete levee. Small buildings are being whirled down the stream. One steel bridge has given away and others are threatened. Scores of families have been driven from their homes and have sought shelter in the higher places. At Henlock, four miles north of here, the sawmill and mill of the W. O. Withers Lumber company, have been torn down by the bursting of the dam and a steel bridge has been wrecked. At Withers Lumber company's dam, the mill has been turned into a water still in a matter of minutes. At Green, fifteen miles north of here, four feet of water is swirling through the streets, houses are filled, sidewalks carried away and small buildings demolished. The dam here will reach many thousands of dollars.

Minor Damage Reported

Vessels Have Difficulty Making Headway Against Gale
SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—No abatement was apparent this morning in the storm which has swept the entire coast for the last forty-eight hours. More than twenty-five northbound vessels from this port were having difficulty in making headway against the northwest gale, which at times reached a velocity of more than eighty miles an hour. Radio messages from several vessels said their passengers were suffering all the discomforts of a winter hurricane. Life-saving stations between San Francisco and Puget Sound have been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for any craft that might become disabled.

FORT VALLEY DEPLORES DEATH OF HENRY D. MARKS
(Special District to The Journal.) FORT VALLEY, Ga., June 8.—Doubtless one of the greatest blows that could have come to Fort Valley fruit growers and shippers was the death of Henry D. Marks, manager of the Fort Valley Fruit exchange.

Mr. Marks appealed to Fort Valley folk as a man of rare forthrightness and integrity of mind and character. He was peculiarly endeared to all of the fruit men of this section with whom he had dealing.

A large number of men from Fort Valley went up to Macon Tuesday evening to be present at the funeral of Mr. Marks and also accompanied the body to Eufrasia, where it was interred.

Immigrant Girls Show Remarkable Results in Learning

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, June 8.—Forty young immigrant girls employed in a machine garment factory and who a year ago were unable to express their thoughts in English or write their names legibly, last night were giving excellent evidence of literacy at the first graduation exercises of the city school system. Miss Anne Morgan was among the women in attendance.

The forty girls ranged in years from thirteen to twenty-two. Some of them have been in the country less than two years, others above five. Last night they read brief essays, which as a whole, made a history of the white goods industry from its beginnings in the master country, and while most of them spoke imperfectly, all showed a remarkable grasp of English. The girls were not compelled to go to school. The school went to them. For three hours every day they were taught in the factory, in batches, and while they studied their pay went on. The firm acknowledges that it has been the real beneficiary in efficiency.

HONOLULU MAY NOT TAKE LEVER FROM U. S.
HONOLULU, June 8.—The Honolulu board of health has received a request from the U. S. government for permission to send John R. Barry, the alienated and quarantined, local opposition to the proposed plan has been aroused and it is doubtful if Barry's transfer to Hawaii will be permitted. On June 2, Barry announced his presence in a Washington hotel at which Vice President Marshall lives. He escaped from the quarantine station at Port Townsend, Wash., on May 15.

FIRST CLAIM ARISING FROM SHIPWRECK PAID
MONTREAL, June 8.—The first claim arising out of the sinking of the Empress of Ireland was settled here yesterday when a firm of marine insurance agents paid on behalf of the shipowner to a leading local bank a claim of over $14,000 for registered mail on board the Empress. The lost package was a commercial document which the bank was sending to England.

SHERIFF TO KEEP PEACE NEAR ROCKEFELLER HOME

Plans to Stop Big Strike Demonstration in Tarrytown on Saturday

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 8.—Renewed efforts on the part of the local police department and the officers of Sheriff Doyle of West Chester county, to maintain the peace of this village, marked the close today of the first of the right being waged by Alexander Berkman and others for the right to hold public meetings in protest of the policy pursued by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., with reference to the Colorado mine strike.

White Berkman was in Brooklyn and New York in search of recruits for an army which he declares will invade the United States to hold a demonstration, Sheriff Doyle was marshaling a force capable of handling a crowd of 250 persons and, if possible, prevent a recurrence of last Saturday's clash when thirteen Industrial Workers of the World members were arrested.

In an announcement made public to-day Judge Morehouse declared that Berkman would not be permitted to hold a public meeting on the night of tomorrow when the twelve remaining prisoners are brought here for arraignment. One of the original thirteen described the cause of the speech yesterday and was released after a suspended sentence of six months in the penitentiary. It is expected that an effort will be made tomorrow to have the cause of the twelve prisoners considered by the grand jury.

The Rev. R. E. Caine, of the Methodist church, whose invitation to Berkman to deliver with him on the Rockefeller issue was withdrawn at the request of other ministers of the village, has announced that he has accepted Berkman's proposal to hold the debate in the near future in New York.

How to Beautify the Hair

A Simple and Inexpensive Home Method
The hair is like a flower—a little care and proper nourishment does wonders just as a plant without soil and water withers and dies, so will the hair so if not given proper nourishment. The scalp must be perfectly healthy and free from dandruff, as the scalp is to the hair what good soil is to plants and flowers.
If your hair is not pretty; if it is losing its color, too dry, falling out, or if the scalp itches and burns, you can overcome all of these conditions by using Facialis Shave, which supplies every hair need. It soaks right in to the hair roots, stimulates them and furnishes the nourishment that is needed for the hair to grow not only long and heavy, but fluffy, soft, lustrous and gloriously radiant.

You can get a bottle of this inexpensive but so effective and helpful hair tonic from Jacob's 11 Stores, or at drug and toilet counters everywhere. Improvement begins with the very first application. Besides stopping the scalp irritation it removes every bit of dandruff. The use of this unequalled hair tonic will surely give your hair new life and beauty.—(Advt.)

DR. E. A. TIGNER AGAIN HEADS GEORGIA DENTISTS

All Other Officers Are Re-elected at Session in Ansley Friday

With Dr. E. A. Tigner, of Milwaukee, as president, all officers of the Georgia Dental Society, in forty-seventh annual session at the Ansley hotel, were re-elected Friday morning.

Dr. M. D. Huff, of Atlanta, is first vice president; Dr. A. A. Williams, of Columbus, second vice president; Dr. W. M. Zirkle, of Atlanta, treasurer, and Dr. M. M. Forbes, of Atlanta, secretary.

One of the features of Friday morning's session was a paper on "Dental Education," by Dr. Henry W. Perkins, of the department of dentistry of Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn.

A college course is called, by courtesy, in education," said Dr. Morgan. "A college course is not an education—it is only the beginning of an education."

A college course cannot do more than teach on the rudiments of the science of dentistry, and the student cannot too soon learn that college training merely equips him to study intelligently.

We are living in a scientific age, and with the increase of science relating to our profession has come the multiplication of instructions and subtlety taught until the faculties of some of our American dental schools look like a young city directory," Dr. Morgan declared.

Dr. Morgan concluded by asking the aid of dentists in establishing scholarships for young students.

"I do not believe the student who goes his way through school can get out of it. A few do—but they are not the leaders. There is an obligation here. May I ask will the profession ever meet it?"

Dr. Homer C. Brown, of Columbus, Ohio, president of the National Dental Association, invited all of the members present to attend the convention of that body in Rochester two weeks hence.

Dr. Brown stated the national association had grown from 740 to 500 members to 12,500 under its recently reorganized constitution and by the aid of a progressive assistance for sixteen years the southern branch of the National Dental Association dissolved into Thursday afternoon. Its members will continue to be active in the national association, but will be affiliated through state associations, branches of the national organization.

This action was taken at the convention of Georgia and southern dentists at the Ansley hotel, an predicted in Thursday's Journal. Dr. Homer Brown, of Columbus, Ohio, president of the national association, outlined the recent changes in the constitution and the ways which made the existence of the union, in any other sectional branch, impracticable.

Under the new constitution, said Dr. Brown, the units of the national organization will be state branches and these are automatically members of the national association. This will probably mean a reorganization of the Georgia State Dental society, all of whose members are not at present members of the national body.

Friday afternoon the following clinics will be held:

Different Forms of Attachments in Plate Work—Dr. W. K. Lambright, Atlanta, Ga.

Infected Stumps in Preparation of Porcelain Inlays—Dr. W. W. Chisolm, Atlanta, Ga.

Non-Voluntary Gold Filling Using "Sugra's" Filling—Dr. B. Holly Smith, Baltimore, Md.

Interruption Taking—Dr. D. D. Atkinson, Brunswick, Ga.

The "Catheter Method of Root Canal Filling"—Dr. C. N. Higgins, Atlanta, Ga.

Indirect Method of Making Gold Inlays—Dr. Thomas P. Hixman, Atlanta, Georgia.

"Grown and Bridge Work"—Dr. H. H. Johnson, Macon, Ga.

X-Ray Radiograph Exposed and Developed Before Each Section—Dr. Gillie Elkin.

PERKINS THINKS COLONEL WILL RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Letter Says Roosevelt Seriously Considers Making Race in New York

(By Associated Press.)

DES MOINES, Ia., June 5.—Theodore Roosevelt is seriously considering the proposition of becoming a Progressive candidate for governor of New York, according to a letter received here by David Hineshaw, national Progressive organizer here, from George W. Perkins, of New York. Some of Colonel Roosevelt's plans for the campaign were told by Mr. Perkins in the letter, which contains the following paragraph:

"When he first came home, he said he did not see how he could possibly do this, but when he left here I think he was weighing the matter with great care and that if he makes up his mind that duty calls him to make the race here for the sake of conditions existing in this state and because of the Progressive demand for him he will get into the race and accept the nomination for governor."

Secretary Upheld in Order Segregating White and Negro Employees

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
WASHINGTON, Ga., June 5.—Thomas S. McAdoo, candidate for the short term in the United States senate yesterday spoke here in defense of Secretary McAdoo's order segregating white and negro employees of the treasury department.

Mr. Felder said:
For the first time in more than fifty years a southern man sits in the White House. Southern men, as cabinet officers, are his closest counselors. In both houses of the national congress southern men occupy positions of prominence and power. The south is about to regain the proud prestige which was before the War Between the States. Left bleeding, bankrupt and prostrate at the close of that mighty conflict, all nearly paralyzed, her fertile fields grew up in weeds; an immense horde of ignorant negroes, only a few generations removed from the savage jungles of Africa, made free; their political equality protected by federal bayonets; refused to the teachings of social equality the government of our state the hands of unscrupulous politicians from the north which followed the army of occupation; the credit of our state destroyed and her fair name besmirched; all participation in national affairs denied; the genius, consistency and devotion of the southern white man ignored and the negro, the domination of the negro and carpet bagger was overthrown and control of the government regained. Our lands were rehabilitated; our burned cities, homes and school houses were rebuilt; industry was revived; renewed participation in the national government was secured; until now, in the year 1914, the south is back again in saddle.

THE SOUTH'S RECORD.

In glory in the record of our people, and clinging to the traditions of the old south and the principles for which our fathers fought and died, and his two brothers, clad in the uniform of the Confederate soldier, followed their great captain to the unshaken defeat and contributed their share to the noble achievements of the Army of Northern Virginia. In 1862 the body of my father's brother was buried in my old home town of Perry, leaving his life-long staining the soil of the commonwealth, and while, as a southern senator, I would love and honor the flag of our supreme republic, I should always remember that heritage which my father left me in allegiance to the "Conquered Banner."

The white people of the south are the only pure American stock in the whole union. Our white population is less than 2 per cent foreign, whereas in the north and west the percentage ranges from 35 to 65. Our blood is unadulterated and undiluted. The southern white man has the favor of his being that our coming country is a white man's country to be governed by white men and white men only, and I want to say here and now, if it elected to the United States senate I will oppose to the utmost of my power, in committee or on the floor of the senate and elsewhere the appointment of a negro to any public responsibility or power, regardless of geographical location.

While practically all of the negroes of this country are inherently and constitutionally unfit to exercise the franchise or to exercise the right of suffrage, the exclusion from the office of even the most capable negro is with me a racial question and one open to argument. Washington City has considered the negro's "garden of earth." In the streets cars of Washington negro men sit side by side with white women. In all of the great departments of our government white employees are required to work side by side with negro employees and in many other ways are forced into intimate association with them.

Couple Keeps Wedding Secret Nearly a Year And Sets New Record

Friends Surprised With News That Miss Celeste Stone Became Wife of Dr. L. R. Beech in Chattanooga August 18, 1913

A record for keeping a wedding secret has been set by Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Beech. Married last August in Chattanooga, they have only just announced it, and the announcement has come as a great surprise to all their friends in Atlanta.

Mrs. Beech was Miss Celeste Stone. She has lived in Atlanta for many years, coming here from Kentucky. Dr. Beech is a well-known young Atlanta physician.

The young people had known each other for some time. August 18, 1913, they left Atlanta on the same train. Dr. Beech had been vacationing in Mississippi, and Miss Stone to spend several weeks at her old home in Kentucky.

By the time the train reached Chattanooga they had reached a decision. They missed one train and were married. Then they separated for their vacations and did not meet again until their return to Atlanta later in the fall.

It was decided to keep the wedding a secret until Dr. Beech had finished his internship at the Atlanta hospital. This was done. Not a soul but the principals knew of the wedding until June 1, when Dr. Beech concluded his term and announced that Dr. and Mrs. Beech will be at home to their friends in the future at 47 Drewry street.

Stenography Mastered By Man With His Arms Severed Near Shoulder

BALTIMORE, June 5.—Though both arms were severed within three inches of the shoulders six years ago, David Jones, of this city, has mastered stenography. With the aid of several rubber bands to fasten a pencil or penholder to the right arm, he is able to write in an exceptionally neat manner.

Jones, who is thirty years old, met with the accident which necessitated amputation of both arms while he was working on a steel structure. Afterward he became an omniscient typewriter and his intention is to make use of shorthand in the rough drafting of literary articles.

GIRL'S DREAM OF CITY DISPELLED BY REALITY

Little Ella Burk, Disappointed,
Again Turns Footsteps
Back to the Farm

Fourteen-year-old Ella Burk, mother and fatherless, came to Atlanta to make her fortune, gave it up and had job after one day's trial, started to walk to Columbia, got as far as West End and stopped there, exhausted, Friday she was given a railroad ticket to Columbus and left the city, declaring she was badly disappointed in her vision of city life and that Atlanta was not what it is cracked up to be.

This is her story. Ever since she can remember she has "worked the fields" at Arden, Ga. Her mother and father are no more. Her mother died when she was only a few months old. One day out she had cotton and picked cotton and planted cotton on the plantation of Polk county.

During this time she lived in a sort of half adopted state with Mrs. Mary Burk, but little cotton picker, though she was, she had her dreams and one day she was of the big city, "where money grows on trees."

Wednesday night she told Mrs. Bell Burk, her aunt, she had a great idea. She was leaving. She had saved a little money and spent it all on a railroad ticket to Atlanta. Here she arrived Friday morning, her heart high with hope and her pocketbook stripped of her last cent.

All day she tramped Atlanta's streets looking for work and at every doorway she was turned away with an impatient shake of the head. Worn out and homesick, every attempt to gain employment failed, her little dreams turned to ashes. She set out for the only place she had to go, Columbus, the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Hayes.

About 7 o'clock Thursday evening Mrs. William Tracy, hearing a noise on the front porch of her home, 445 Lee street, tried to open the door. A bedraggled little figure crouched on the porch, one hand leaning wearily against a white pillar, one tired foot curled beneath her thin cotton dress. The little cotton picker's walk was ended. Mrs. Tracy telephoned to police headquarters and the little girl was taken in a patrol wagon. She spent the night under the care of Mrs. Behndorf, and after a good breakfast Friday morning declared she was all right again.

But she shook her head when they asked her if she wanted to stay in Atlanta. "I don't like the city," she said, and when she boarded the Columbus train at 10 o'clock her feet turned toward the open fields instead of the gray, towering buildings of the city.

COUNCIL DEFERS ACTION ON JUNE MONEY SHEET

Sends It Back for Second Time to Finance Committee, Which Is Divided

General council Thursday afternoon postponed action on the June appropriation sheet until an adjourned session next Monday, and deferred action on the June money sheet to the finance committee. It was the second time the finance committee had reported a sheet to the council. Because of the division of the committee, council both times declined to consider either the majority or the minority report.

The committee's split hinges on the way to be made of a surplus amounting to $10,000. One faction, headed by Chairman Montgomery, want to give the money to the school department. The other, headed by Alderman Kelley, of the Second ward, want to give the money to the South Ybor street reading project.

The aldermanic board met immediately following the adjournment of general council Thursday afternoon and non-aldermanic street between Edgewood avenue and Locust street. The common council, acting separately, had granted the franchise. The aldermen were divided over the street, and the common council was divided over the same question.

DORSEY'S DEMURRER IN LEO FRANK CASE IS HEARD BY COURT

Dorsey being that that also has been adjudicated by the supreme court, and that a motion to set aside the verdict is not a proper remedy. The solicitor then argued in support of his contention that a motion to set aside a judgment must be predicated on a defect which appears on the face of the record or pleading. He differed between a motion to set aside judgment and a motion to set aside judgment, but took the position that to remove legal status either of these motions must be based on a defect in the record.

The solicitor read decisions of the supreme court that a motion to set aside judgment must be made during the time in which judgment was rendered, and that a motion to set aside can be made at any time within the statute of limitations, which is three years after rendition of judgment. One of the decisions cited by Mr. Dorsey was in the case of Regopoulos vs. the State, set out in 115 Ga. This case was decided by the supreme court on April 24, 1902, before the creation of the court of appeals. In that case, the defendant argued that this and other like decisions rendered by the supreme court were the organization of the court of appeals would control decisions and cases of like nature in the court of appeals.

The point was made in Regopoulos following a brief reference to the case of Lyons vs. the State, decided by the supreme court November 9, 1902, the decision being written by Judge Ben Hill. In that case, the defendant moved for judgment of acquittal, and the court of appeals, now the judge presiding over the motion, refused to grant it.

The decision in the Lyons case allowed a setting aside of the verdict, and the court of appeals held that the defendant had been contravened. The solicitor then argued that the court would see that the Lyons case was not analogous to the present issue, and that it was a point of law.

In the case of Regopoulos vs. the State, the defendant, after conviction, made a motion to arrest judgment on the grounds that he had been granted with an incorrect list of witnesses who had been before the jury, and in granting his constitutional right in this regard had not been prejudiced by the higher court, and later the defendant moved to set aside the verdict. This also was overruled. In both instances the court held that the defendant had no right to a record on which the motion could be predicated.

The solicitor continued citations to support his contention that a motion to set aside must be based on error appearing on the face of the record. He cited the motion for judgment of acquittal made by Judge Roan, and argued, and decided, and appealed without success. He said, the grounds of the motion to set aside might have been argued in the court of appeals, and he said he would argue them there.

He quoted Daniels vs. Towars, in which the supreme court decided that the defendant had no right to a record on which the motion could be predicated. He said, the grounds of the motion to set aside might have been argued in the court of appeals, and he said he would argue them there.

WITNESS SAYS MORGAN DID NOT DOMINATE BOARD

New Haven Director on Stand
Testifies That Directors
Were Not "Dummies"

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Lewis C. Ledyard, continuing his testimony to the new Haven railroad board, testified today before the interstate commerce commission, that the new Haven directors were "dummies" or that they were not "dummies". Morgan, who was president of the board, testified that he had often had opposed Mr. Morgan, that the board meetings were well attended and that generally all the directors took part in the proceedings.

The profit of John L. Hillard in the Boston and Maine transaction Mr. Ledyard said he had heard of "outrages". He said he had told Mr. Melton, he had told him that the directors took part in the proceedings.

Under questioning by Chief Counsel Polk, for the commission, Mr. Ledyard refused to testify that one of the directors in the New Haven minutes relating to a Billington company transaction was "false", but said it did not represent what had occurred at the meeting.

Mr. Ledyard's testimony was elicited by a lively cross-examination by Polk, in which the witness insisted on the importance of the question. He said he believed he had been told that the directors took part in the proceedings.

ROBBER IN DINING CAR MEETS WARM RECEPTION

Series of Thefts Interrupted
When Guard Fires on Negro Intruder

A series of petty thefts from dining cars on the Central of Georgia railway yards, which have been going on for several weeks, were interrupted early Friday morning when a guard fired on a train speeding toward town at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour. According to L. E. Cox, of Haverhill, manager of the Central of Georgia dining cars, some one has been intentionally robbing the cars for several weeks.

Thursday night he placed a guard, Frank Ellis, colored, on board a dining car, and told him to look out for the train. Early Friday morning the door was tried to be opened, and a guard fired on the intruder. The intruder was killed and a negro arrested.

Ellis fired five times at him. The black dropped to the ground from the moving car. He is believed to have been a recent graduate from the county penitentiary in search for the thief.

and evening Venus and Neptune are friendly.

Business projects should be conducted in a conservative manner. The aspect is most unfavorable for all enterprises that involve the element of risk. Investment and speculation should be shunned under this configuration.

It is an unfortunate time to deal with bankers and stock brokers. Treasurers and cashiers, also, are subject to an ill omen.

Losses through misplaced confidence, dishonesty and wrong judgment are common when Jupiter is evilly disposed.
There is an augury of money scandals in high places. Revelations concerning big financial schemes will be made before the autumn.

The aspect is not a fortunate one for surgical operations. Dentistry, also, is under an unlucky ray.

Allegory gives warning against unwise inter-writing. Scandals in which correspondence reveals secrets are forebodened. Many divorces are indicated for the autumn.

There is an unfavorable augury for summer romances, which may bring mis-erious results to grief. The stars indicate a peculiar tendency toward romance among persons who are not young.

Venus is in aspect this evening, which is most encouraging for all social affairs. Receptions, dinners and dances are very likely to be selected to impart gaiety and light-heartedness.

Profit and gain through whatever brings pleasure to the public are promised this evening. Musicians, restaurant keepers and hotel proprietors should benefit particularly.

Nurses are especially fortunate while this configuration lasts. They should gain recognition and money.

Scarcity of water and a prevalence of high winds are foretold for certain parts of England and the United Kingdom.
Tourists may find unpleasant conditions for motoring.

Persons whose birthdate it is have rather an unlucky omen. Warning against litigation and speculation is given by the stars. Loss of money is foreshadowed.

What Anne
Rittenhouse Says

Figured Coats of Cotton Fabric Worn

Over Afternoon Gowns in the Country.

NEW YORK.—The last two seasons have developed many loose coats which have gradually drifted into caps.
There is a strong rivalry now between the two shapes. The more a coat looks like a cape, the more fashionable it is.
The shoulders bear the bulk of all the top garments, for everything is cut to swing loose from the back of the neck.

So many women dislike caps that the short full coat is in no danger of being cast aside. The sleekness, the combination of coat and cape that has met with most approval because it is elegant.
This feature redounds it, is the opinion of the woman who does not wish her arms held bondage by a cape.

The material is a figured cotton fabric that Rodier introduced into the Paris markets and which has been widely used by such customers as Paul Poiret and others of his kind.

It has been used for gowns, or tunics over white gowns, or short turtle-tail jackets over white tulle skirts, but its use as a wrap is admirable.

Cape Coats For Afternoon.
The lining of the cape which is sketched, is thin white silk, but women who like brilliant colors will find this kind of wrap an admirable vehicle for a gay lining. Red, tan, brown, or bright pink Chinese blue, are some of the shades of solid colors that look well in these full summer wraps.

Those who like plaids and stripes can use them, but with less artistic effect.
Where the latter materials and designs are best in the long cape of dark blue and black cloth which have become so very fashionable for outdoor wear.

While these dark coats are very fashionable, women do not care to wear them over a thin gown for a wedding or a garden party or a drive in the late afternoon. They hide the frock for one thing, and for another, they are too warm unless the afternoon is unusually chilly.

These cape coats of figured cotton fabrics give one an air of gravity and lend just enough warmth. They are enough to crush the frock, and are sufficiently open to show more of the frock beneath.

As a rule, one adopts with them the kind of garden hat that goes with floral fabrics. The one in the sketch is of pale blue covered with white chiffon and trimmed with blue velvet ribbon and bunches of detached violets in deep purple. This hat, as you see, droops over the face in the approved mid-Victorian manner.

Will Garden Hats Come In?
It is interesting to speculate on mid-Victorian fashions. They are rare in the fashion makers' may retreat, and the American women may block the adventure into the nineteenth century, but the present moment, one sees many flying straws that show the direction from which the wind blows.

We have already accepted the ruffled skirt and now we see a strong return to garden hats with wide flapping brims and long streamers of velvet ribbon in back.

Less Cottolene is required than butter or lard

Prove this claim for yourself. Take any favorite recipe that calls for shortening. Use Cottolene instead of butter or lard, only take one-third less Cottolene. Just try it and see if you do not have equally as good if not better results, when using Cottolene.

Do this every time you cook and you will notice a difference in your grocery bills.

Foods made with Cottolene are more wholesome and digest more easily than those made with ordinary shortenings.

Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill's Opinion:
"For several years I have used Cottolene in my own kitchen and find it very satisfactory. I am glad to commend it."

Why not begin today the use of Cottolene? Every housewife will be interested in our valuable FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS, compiled by Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln and four other cookery experts.

Don't Eat Much Meat in Summer

You should eat meat very sparingly during hot weather, because meat heats the system and, when the mercury is high, you need cooling foods. There are foods just as nutritious and some more nutritious than meat. Take, for example,

FAUST
SPAGHETTI

One single 10c package of this wholesome food is four times more nutritious than a pound of the finest steak. Faust Spaghetti is rich in gluten, the food element that makes bone and muscle. It is a cooling food, also, and can be prepared in many ways. Makes rich, savory, appetizing dishes that can be very easily prepared. A 10c package will make a Faust Spaghetti dinner for a family of seven. Surely, that's economical. Send for free recipe book.

Players Fraternity Seeks to Enlist Players of the Southern League

LITTLE PAL--WELL, HOW COULD HE KNOW SHE WAS MILITANT?

--BY LEO

THE SPOTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

PLANNING A VACATION.
Look here, Diogenes, like if you will Off to the mountain or to the sea;
Toward or toward or valley or hill.
Any spot you may hanker to be:
Best it to Newport, White Sulphur, Coney,
Hot Springs or Canada, Horn Springs or Tate,
Summer resorts that are ripping or phoney,
Eastward or northward or here in the state;
Pack up your grip for a rollicking trip,
Off with a dash and a smash and a rip,
Put up your cuds for a launt with the blonds,
Ridding or swimming or soaking the suds--

BUT
If you don't mind when starting,
Old Dub,
Kindly leave me behind with a lease
On your Tub.

Kindly leave me your tub in the shade of a tree
And then you can bat to the mountains or sea,
For the thought has arrived with considerable zest
To combine a vacation with leisure and rest.
Where a fellow can eat a bit, stay off his feet a bit,
Sleep all he wants to--and dress as he will.
Hear, then, Diogenes, hear, then, my plaintive wheeze:
Leave me your Tub, please--and send in the bill.

If the Athletics, as reported or rumored, will lose $100,000 this season, how much will the Kansas City Feds clear? Or how many pieces of eight would you surrender for 80 per cent of their profits?

THE FED RAID.
The reported raid of the Feds upon Johnson, Cobb and others recalls a lingering memory of our childhood.
We had a keen interest one day in a certain slice of pie. We had already figured out what our share would be, but when company drifted in and we discovered this slice was to be cut three ways we lost all further interest in it and proceeded to direct our gastronomic endeavor along other lines of food--not quite so palatable perhaps, but at least subject to such division.

Packy McFarland quit the prize ring with $200,000. We'd almost quit the newspaper business for that. Any tempters around?

At this date a year ago America never had a chance in the polo grounds. Her Big Four were demoralized and all hope had flown. Now England's chance is supposed to be extremely thin. Which is why we are getting set for an untimely shock and for an alibi when the upset arrives.

"When my pitchers get going good," remarked Manager Mack. Does neither heart nor soul linger in that unyielding breast?

C. S'ING THE PENNANT.
It may be that Griff is making an attempt to Christian Science the pennant. If thinking a thing and believing a thing hard enough will produce desired results he should certainly land.
The Old Fox is fairly positive that he has the best club in the league. "We're not quite so powerful as Mack's," he admits, "but a better-balanced club and a much better defensive one. And we've improved up there at bat, too," says the Senatorial pilot. "Enough to raise the ducce on this coming western trip, where I believe we'll make a better showing than the Athletics."

The fact that Herzog held the Reds well up in May in Little. The fact that he put them a trifle higher by June backs a miracle off the board.
Why, W. William de Morgan wrote: "It never can happen again!" he must have been pondering over the Redland episode of 1914. The only wonder is that it happened in the first place, considering the fact that Herzog started with material much weaker than that under Tinker's rule--the worst playing material, in fact, that any club had on display in either league.

STILL MORE OF IT.
John McGraw or Fred Clarke will have to go against either Frank Baker or Walter Johnson.
But at that they have an edge on Fielding Yost, who has to go up against both Brickley and Mahan without the semblance of a choice.

LUCKY BILL.
Now doth the critic spend his days
Swarining that Francis Bacon wrote
The Bulk of Mr. Shakespeare's plays--
That Bill was not the acting poet;
And, working in, around, about,
With some points fresh and other witty,
Goes on to prove beyond a doubt
That Bard of Avon was not guilty.
O would that some far day from here
When I am "dust to dust returned,"
When my selection, far and near,
Are panned and sneered at, knocked and spurned;
O would that it might thusly be
When they are handing me the cuf,
That some one will arise for me
And prove I did not write the stuff.

Winning the golf championship of France is something like one of his old records--"setting the half-mile mark over a clay track in a brown bog, attached to a bay horse with one white hoof."

Denies Bowden Has Been Sold

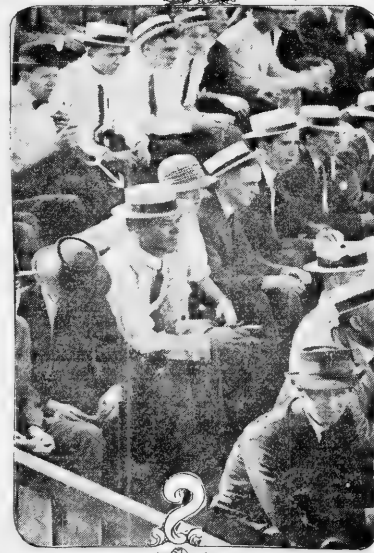

RASTON, Ga., June 5.--Denial was made today by President W. H. Young of the Raston club, as to the report from Kansas City, that Outfielder Timon Bowden, of the Raston club, had been sold to the Savannah Monday of this week, for $10,000. Bowden was asked for $10,000, but was not sold at that price, said Mr. Young, "but all were declined. Bowden has not been sold, nor has any club even so much as an option."

Players' Frat Wants Southern Leaguers in Fold

President Dave Fultz Now on Trip to Cities in the Circuit to Discuss Matter--Says All of Larger Minor Leagues Will Join

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 5.--Dave Fultz, the president of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, was in Memphis Thursday and left last night for Nashville.
His visit was for the purpose of taking the Southern league players as a body into the organization.
The players of the two clubs now playing here--Memphis and Montgomery--welcomed the proposition for them to come into the fraternity with enthusiasm and it is a certainty that the players of the Southern league will come into the organization unanimously.
Fultz was in Chattanooga Wednesday and the players of the Chattanooga and Birmingham clubs expressed their willingness to join.

With the players of the International and American association and with the Southern players sure to join, all of the players of the larger minor organizations will be members with the exception of the Pacific Coast league and the Western league, and Fultz expects the players of these two leagues to soon come into the fold.

Fultz was enthusiastic over the prospect of the fraternity and stated that disputes between players and club owners would eventually be settled by a committee representing the players and the one representing the national association.

Fultz's activities in the Southern league have met with good results and within the next two days when he will visit Nashville and Atlanta he will have the plauds of every player in the Southern league who are not already members of the fraternity to join.

Fultz stated that there was no disposition on the part of the fraternity to discriminate against players of the Federal league and that he thought that players of that league would eventually become members, although at the present time they had signified no intention of joining.

How to Save Your Eyes

Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windshields" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of these, and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes? Do you rest them? You know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy, you work your eyes until you go to bed. That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription, which has been used by thousands of people, may work equal wonders for you. Use it a short time, and you will find your eyes begin to disappear as if magic? Try this prescription. Go to the nearest wide-awake drug store and get a bottle of Colman's Eye Ointment. Fill it with warm water, drop in one tablet and allow it to thoroughly dissolve with this liquid. Just close your eyes quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are low blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. Colman's Eye Ointment is a thoroughly effective in multitude of cases. Now that you have been warned, don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes. Write at once to think us as long as you live for publishing this prescription.—(Adv.)

Studebaker
Economic Light weight SIX
$1575

Assembled "Sixes" must come down in price.

But they cannot come up to the Studebaker SIX manufactured quality.

The very hugeness of Studebaker SIX production is reason enough.

No car produced in smaller quantities can have manufacturing advantages like Studebaker's.

The largest, most complete laboratory in the automobile industry—one that specifies formulae, analyzes and tests steels constantly, one that determines the exact number and kind of heat treatments required to bring out strength and hardness.

The best organized and most efficient engineering department in the industry—the only one in active charge of car manufacturing.

The finest of foundry and machine equipment in the world. These various factors make the Studebaker SIX the greatest motor car value in the world—at any price.

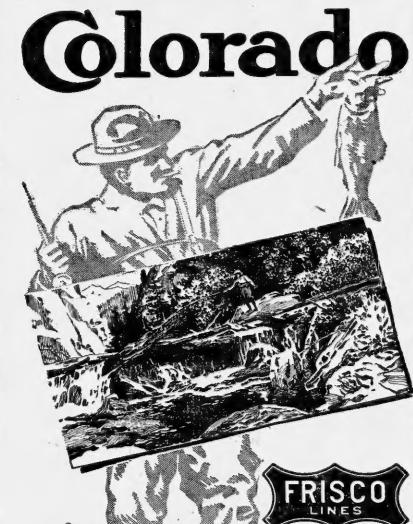

And no car produced in smaller quantities can possibly equal such advantages.

Send for the Studebaker Proof Book, describing Studebaker manufacturing methods.
