

GERMANS IN POLAND PICTURED AS FLEEING FROM THE RUSSIANS

Report From Petrograd Says
They Abandoned Lodz, 75
Miles From Warsaw, and Driven From Sokhatchoff

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 25.—Regarding the operations in Poland a dispatch from a Petrograd correspondent of Reuters' Telegram company says:
"The precipitate flight of the Germans, 75 miles west of Warsaw, has been followed by the Russian troops. They made an unsuccessful attempt to arrest the offensive Russian movement by clinging to positions at Sokhatchoff from which, however, they were dislodged with heavy losses."

According to a dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Rotterdam the Russian Zettung of Berlin says that the Russians, who had withdrawn most of their troops from Lodz, have now sent 80,000 men there who are strenuously fortifying the town. The Russians, the paper says, are clearly determined to keep Lodz at all costs.

A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Rotterdam says the following statement issued in Vienna:
"A telegram dated Sunday noon from the northeastern theater of war says Austria had taken a position in a nearly uninterrupted line from the northern shore of the Zettung mountains to the southern shore of the Danube, before the fortress of Przemyśl. The Austrians have now sent 100,000 men to the district of Przemyśl, against the main army of the Russians from the Caucasus, Siberia and Turkestan."

"The Austrian offensive across the Carpathians attracted strong hostile forces."
"In the middle of Galicia, where both armies occupy fortified positions, the line is stagnant."
"Northeast of Przemyśl and on the lower Danube the Austrians have been repulsed by the Russian forces."

"In Russian Poland strong forces are facing one another. Since the outbreak there has been fighting north of the Vistula between Inowroclaw and Warsaw."

According to the Star's Rome correspondent the German crown prince provided over the Austro-German council of war, held on October 14, when the German advance on the Vistula was decided on, which has met with such a decided defeat.

Germans Seem Determined to Force Battle to End
the Campaign

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Oct. 25.—In the battle of the north it is not the large number of German troops that they are confronted with, but a nation exasperated, representing the most drastic invasion that has had to face. This is the way the French characterize the contest along the left wing while they with the English redoubt their efforts to break the formidable mass of German troops. The incessant advances and withdrawals of the allies and German, particularly in the north, furnished early to the public a picture of a campaign of a general result. The German, judging from their faithful accounts, seem determined to force the battle to an issue. Nevertheless, the French, after analyzing the situation as indicated in the latest war office statements, continued to hold the view that while awaiting further news from the front there is considerable interest in the active line of fighting. The French regarding the German correspondence and associates. The Institute is expected to meet today. There has been a considerable difference of views among the members as well as the academy because the Institute, for the French has taken a large part in the discussion. Because of statutory dispositions and decrees there has been some difficulty in reaching a decision. Incidentally, one of the questions was whether the French should be ordered to return all of the diplomatic orders and titles retained from Germany.

Company of Hungry French Soldiers Eat Lunch With Germans

After Battle Halts at Nightfall, Foes Dine Together
Under a Flag of Truce, Says
Report From Berlin

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—A unique dinner party is reported in a soldier's letter from the front.

At a point where the German and French lines approached to within a few hundred yards from each other, apparently to the west of Rheims, the fighting stopped at nightfall, and the Germans were just going to their mess hall at the nearby field kitchen, when an officer was seen to mount the French trenchworks waving a flag of truce. A German officer went out to meet him. The Frenchman, who turned out to be the captain of a company, explained that his men were very hungry, having had nothing to eat for several days. The German officer, who was asked to be the captain of a company, explained that his men were very hungry, having had nothing to eat for several days.

"How many men have you," was asked. "About a hundred," was the answer. "All right, call out your men," said the German. The company thereupon laid aside their arms and came over to the Germans, where they sat down and ate their supper with their enemies. The captain is reported to have said his men were so famished they could not be able to continue fighting without something to eat."

ATTACK ON CANADA IS NOT PLAN OF GERMANY

German Ambassador Amplifies
Statement in Regard to Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The German point of view is that by joining in a European war Canada has put herself outside of the pale of the Monroe doctrine, but Germany has not the intention of attacking Canada, nor colonizing Canada. The statement today was issued here by the German ambassador.

To further explain the reason that caused the German government in a formal note delivered to the state department by Count Bernstorff, voluntarily pledging Germany not to attempt colonial expansion in South America, no matter what the outcome of the war, the embassy issued this statement.

"The note was written at that time because Winston Churchill had said, in his message to the American people, that if Germany was victorious in the present war she would attack the American hemisphere."

Engines of Air, Land

Frail Human Engines Small
Factor in Bloodiest of All Battles of Present War, Declares Correspondent

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 25.—The correspondent of the Daily News, who has been in an armored train to the banks of the Yser, gives a good description of the battle in the northwest. He says:
"The battle rages along the Yser with frightful destruction of life. Air engines, sea engines and land engines death-sweep this desolate country vertically, horizontally and transversely. Through it the little frail human engine crawls and digs, walks and runs, skirmishes, charges and blunders in little individual fights and tumbles, tired and puzzled, ordered here and there, sleeping where they can, never washing and crying unnoted. A friend may find himself dying on a friendly shore and few are to blame."

"Thursday the Germans were driven back over the Yser. Friday they again fought a footing again, and Saturday they were again hurled back. Now a bridge blown up by one side is repaired by the other; it is again blown up by the first or left as a death trap for the enemy is actually crossing."

"Actions by armored trains, some of the river most reckless crossings are attempted daily. Each day accumulates an unwritten record of individual daring feats, accepted as part of the daily war. Day by day our men push out on these long, red glow of perfect health and your body is changed into a clean, healthy condition. Aches and pains and itching stop. All sores are healed. Smith's Blood and Liver Syrup has been used for generations to purify the blood. It is made from an old Indian formula and is dispensed by most druggists in half quart bottles for only $1. or will be sent express postpaid by John B. Daniel, 4 Wall St., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)"

RUSH PLANS FOR OPENING ATLANTA RESERVE BANK

McAdoo Orders Bank Opened November 16 Instead of November 30

Secretary McAdoo's order that the reserve banks open on November 16, as the bankers themselves had voted, has resulted in additional preparations for the opening of the federal reserve bank of Atlanta.

The directors of the bank will meet in Atlanta some day this week. The date, hour and place of meeting, however, have been kept secret, owing to the fact that the directors are afraid of being deluged with applications for shares.

The meeting will determine the location of the Atlanta bank as well as arrange other details of the opening. It is believed that by the end of the week the preparations will have been completed.

Local bankers seem to be pleased with Secretary McAdoo's order. The smaller reserve cities had all along been clamoring for an early opening.

BURGLAR STEALS $1,000 AFTER DESPERATE FIGHT

Joseph Ruben Seriously Slashed With Razor in Hands of a Negro

Joseph Ruben, of 284 East Main street, is at the Grady hospital suffering from a number of wounds, the result of a Monday morning fight in his home with a negro who leaped from the window after Ruben had placed $1,000 in a safe.

Ruben was awakened about 11 o'clock in the morning by a noise downstairs, which seemed to come from the dining room, where he had placed $1,000 in a safe.

As he entered the room with a revolver in his hand, the burglar, a negro, had rifled the safe, and turned upon him flourishing a razor.

In the clinch the negro cut deep gashes in Ruben's face and hands. Ruben managed to fire one of his shots, but the burglar was not hurt.

Officers Holly and Colly, patrolling the street, saw the fight, and rushed to the scene. They found Ruben bleeding profusely from his wounds, and called an ambulance, which took him to the Grady hospital.

The negro made good his escape, save for a few dollars which he dropped getting out the window, he got all the money he wanted.

EFFORT TO BE MADE TO REORGANIZE CHARITIES

Meeting Will Be Held Monday Afternoon in Council Chamber

All members of the Associated Charities who are interested in the work of the organization, will attend the meeting at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in the council chamber of city hall when the Associated Charities will discuss and make some effort will be made to continue its function in a new and better way.

At the meeting, the general secretary will read his report, the directors will make their report, showing that the organization must depend on account of lack of funds, and the board will then resign in a body. The members will be asked to appoint a receiver to liquidate the association's affairs.

According to Linton C. Hopkins, one of the directors, the board has no plan whereby the work of the Associated Charities can be carried out, but that some plan will be advanced and discussed at the meeting, in the general opinion among members who regard it as organized charity work done away with in Atlanta and who have expressed the fear that hundreds of the city's poor will be left in dire straits if it is permitted.

A large number of destitute families have been dependent on the Associated Charities since it was organized, and the termination of the organization, it is pointed out, would mean that the thousands of growing children of the city, who are in need of help, would be left to their fate.

It is for this reason that loyal Atlantians are urged to attend the meeting, and set their wits to work to evolve some scheme by which these people be helped; by which the subscription the public is willing to give for this work, may not be wholly lost.

NEW DANCE TO FEATURE BENEFIT FOR BELGIANS

Castle Gavotte Will Be Danced by Society Girls at the Vaudeville Show

The new castle gavotte, danced in costume by twelve Atlanta society girls, trained under the special direction of Mrs. William Lawson Peel, will be one of the unique numbers at the society vaudeville which will be presented at the Grand theater Thursday night for the benefit of the destitute people of Belgium.

A large crowd is certain to attend the affair, which not only has the merit of a cause so worthy, but is sure to be an entertainment novel and amusing as any Atlanta has seen in many weeks.

H. L. Deliva, who has arranged for the benefit, has received letters showing conditions in Belgium are truly horrible. Actuated by the simple desire to keep intact their national honor, the people of the little kingdom have seen their brothers and fathers slain, their cities and their villages war ravaged, their country swept clean of food and sustenance, their very existence placed in jeopardy.

They are helpless unless the people of America come to their rescue. Atlanta, in common with other cities, is answering their appeal. Proceeds of the vaudeville, with the proceeds of the benefit, will be a big drop in the bucket.

Other numbers on the program are a tableau, by Miss Catherine Ellis, "After the Battle," a big dancing number under the direction of Prof. Victor Zebler, and a sketch entitled "The Call to Arms."

G. Adair Wins Golf Cup; Tenn. Has Visions of Football Championship

G. Adair Wins Cup Offered in Golf Tourney

Winner Defeated W. F. Spalding 4-3, in Final Match Yesterday—Tournament Has Proven Big Success and Will Be Repeated Annually

Defeating W. F. Spalding 4-3, George Adair proved the winner of the handsome cup offered in the big invitation golf tourney, staged by the Druid Hills Golf club, which came to a finish Sunday. Spalding had earned the right to play Adair senior in the final round by defeating Perry Adair in a close match on Saturday. Spalding played superb golf against Perry, but his game was unequal to that of George Adair when the pair met. Adair was 1 up on the first nine holes and the count stood the same for the second. In the afternoon he had increased this lead by one hole on the first nine, and he won the match by taking the fifteenth.

This tournament has proven a highly successful affair. In point of number of entries, it was the second largest tournament ever held in the south. The Druid Hills club has come in for praise with its first class plant, and other clubs in the city for the exemplary manner in which the tournament has been handled. No less has been the praise for the conditions of the course, fair greens and putting greens, for which the bulk of credit is due Willie Mann, the professional at the course. Druid Hills is easily the most picturesque course in the city, and special efforts had been made to have it in the very best shape possible.

This tournament was the first of its kind ever staged here but it is probable that it will be repeated from year to year. The idea of bringing so many of the golfers in the city as possible into such a tournament is a fine one, and George Adair may be heralded as the city champion with full rights to the title.

The golfing committee, composed of Walter Browne, Henry Perry and Milt Saul, have left nothing undone to make the tournament a success, and their efforts have been singularly successful. Local golfers are congratulating them on the satisfactory manner in which all details were handled.

Following are the winners of the different flights: George Adair defeated W. F. Spalding for the tournament cup in the first flight 4-3.

C. V. Rainwater won the defeated eight, first flight cup, defeating A. Davidson 2-1.

R. P. Jones won the second flight cup, defeating L. D. Scott 3-1.

MAKING READY FOR SATURDAY

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

"We reached the top," said Manager Stallings, "by always keeping in the game."

Which is the answer, first and last, And fore and aft, and all the time; Berett of any mystic cast From pallid prose or rhinal rhyme; Berett of any vague reply Or deep reasoned beneath the lid, To show the essence of the way And how it happened as it did.

How did the few who've reached the crest, In any clime or any age, Move out against the final test And carve their name upon the Page? Not by a sport or any bluff The rugged few fought on to fame; You know the answer well enough "By always keeping in the game."

There is no moral hitched to this— No dull philosophy to shoot; But in the daily bit or miss It has its place amid the loot; Not in the way of lofty thought To hold the reader in suspense, But where the grinding job is wrought Just as a bit of common sense.

The finest tribute to the Braves is not that they kept eternally in the game against the Athletics, but that they insisted on keeping in the game when they were an unkempt lot in their own league.

"What," queries a reader, "do you think of western football against eastern after the Notre Dame-Yale game?" We have never tried to compare any feature save western and eastern systems of attack. While Yale smashed Notre Dame, she did so with as fine a variety of open play as any one would want to see. Certainly Yale eleven, under the old set, soggy system, would have never won by any such score—if at all.

Considering what Harvard's second crew did at Henley, why not shoot Harvard's second eleven against Michigan, Yale or Princeton if the regulars begin to get bumped a bit and a trifle harassed?

Count that day lost Whose sporting line paraded See not the Yankees sold Or H. Zim traded.

"In drop kicking," queries H. F. D., "would you look at the football or the goal posts?" If we were doing said drop kicking we'd keep about nine-tenths of our vision on the tackle or guard charging through to sneer us against the sod.

For that matter, we've seen two bores battle and swing away without looking at each other. Both were trying to count the house.

When Sam Langford swung that last one against Gunboat Smith's frontpiece the white heavyweight probably felt a deep regret that he hadn't remained in England and taken his chance against a Zeppelin bomb. There's always a chance to duck from under a Zeppelin bomb—if you see it first.

Russell is now in such a deplorable condition that only about forty-seven different parties are trying to purchase the Cubs and Yanks.

"McGraw will take fifty-two players south to Marlin," says an exchange. Many are called, but few get up.

SHARP SPORT JABS

Hank G'Day and a few other big league managers know something about that river of doubt.

Jim Scott pitched for a reform school team. Suggest they send the whole White Sox team there.

What is a winter baseball story without a denial the next day?

They put Johnny Evers at the head of a parade in Troy, N. Y. "He's a devil in his home town."

Johnny Kling lost a billiard match. Probably wasn't anything hot.

Vision of Title Dances Before Tennessee Boys

Knoxville Eleven Is Now Priming for Game With Commodores on Nov. 7. Only Vandy and Sewanee Stand Between Them and S. I. A. A. Championship

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 25.—On Vanderbilt, the slogan which is ringing on the campus of the University of Tennessee today, following the defeat of the "thin red line" representing the University of Alabama on Saturday. The Commodores are next, and the local boys believe that after many years of patient laboring and waiting, they are due to conquer the hosts of Medgum. Next Saturday the Volunteers tackle the University of Chattanooga, but this will be hardly more than a practice game for Coach Cleveland's men.

The team put up a great game against Alabama Saturday, and there is little wonder that the student body is in ecstasies over the outcome. Only once before within the history of football games between the two schools has Tennessee ever beaten Alabama, and that was just ten years ago, when they triumphed by a score of 9 to 0. The boys have further cause for jubilation in the fact that this game was won without the services of "Red" Rains, the star halfback and ground gainer of the team. Rains was out because of injuries received in the game with Louisville last week, but will surely be ready for the Vanderbilt game even if he does not get into Saturday's battle with Chattanooga.

Coach Cleveland will begin priming his men now for the Vanderbilt game. With Chattanooga to play Saturday a let up may be permitted, and then the real campaign for Vandy. The Commodores, on the other hand, have a hard game before them for Saturday in Virginia. It is hardly probable that they can be in the best of shape for November 7 after their hard game Saturday with Carolina, and another coming this week.

Already victims of a championship of the S. I. A. A. are before the local warriors. They have two more battles standing between them and such a claim. Vanderbilt and then Sewanee must be disposed of, before any claim to first honors can be put forward. Of course Tennessee does not meet Alabama, but they should be some satisfaction in looking after Donahue's team. If either of these is able to beat the Alabama eleven, and Tennessee can beat Vanderbilt and Sewanee, the local collegians will have the best claim of any even though no clear title can be established.

Not since 1909 have the Tennessee boys been so formidable on the gridiron, and no doubt that year has enthusiasm been so high. The team lost to Vanderbilt after one of the hardest games ever seen in Knoxville, and this defeat took the spirit out of the team. However, the boys are going down to Nashville with full expectations of getting the verdict, and fired by their great showing last season when Vandy won by a single point they expect to come away victors. Tennessee has never won the S. I. A. A. championship, and this year they seem to carry the best chance they have ever had.

TRAILING THE NEWS By INNIS BROWN

Saturday brought its quota of surprises on the gridiron. Here in the south nothing very startling occurred, however. Possibly the most notable victory under the conditions was that of Tennessee over Alabama. The Volunteers won by a decisive score, making the second time within the gridiron history of the two teams that such a thing has happened. The victory was clinched by a touchdown margin, which makes it clean-cut enough to show it was earned.

It was rather unfortunate that Rains, of the winners, and Poplin, of the losers, were not in the game. The former was out because of injuries, while the latter was ruled out under protest. Doubtless the loss of Poplin crippled Tennessee more than that of Rains crippled Tennessee. Rains is, however, probably the greatest player on the Knoxville team, but in Cameron, Coach Cleveland had an excellent substitute. On the other hand, Poplin was the spirit and inspiration of his team. Early in the season Coach Graves stated that if he could dig up a quarterback to replace the game, state-famous Poplin, he would have found a corking good team. Poplin appeared to have been injured, but he still had him ruled out just on the eve of one of his hardest games, a severe loss. This action on part of Tennessee was, of course, justified, according to the letter of the law, if they had the proof on Poplin. But at the same time, it must take a certain amount of satisfaction from their victory to know that they were battling a team bewildered by the loss of their field general at the last minute, when there was little chance to drill another man to take his place. A host of football fans who were pulling for Tennessee to win would have preferred that any protest be reserved until this game was played.

The local game between Tech and V. M. I. left a very pleasant impression with all parties. The Jackets have nothing to cause any regrets over their showing. During the early stages of the game, they were fumbling rather badly, but this was corrected to a large extent later. Furthermore if any supporters of the Techies were disappointed with the handling of their favorites to score early, they may do well to remember that the local eleven was meeting a game, hard-fighting bunch, who were in the game for all they were worth from the jump. There should be some satisfaction in Tech supporters in the fact that Coach Johnson was there with reserve strength in sufficient quantities to keep shooting in new material. The further the game went, the more sure was Tech to overcome the opposition.

On the other hand, the Cadets have nothing to regret in their loss, but they were surrendering to a superior force in strength and numbers. This was their first appearance on an Atlanta gridiron, and when they left the field, they had won the admiration of all fair-minded fans. Coach Gordon and all his men deserve full praise for the way in which the team should prove highly satisfactory to Tech.

The game between Vanderbilt and North Carolina proved these two to be on about as near an equal footing as one could figure, in spite of the fact that Carolina won. From all accounts the game was a jump-out from the white to the black.

This is the season of the year when the football season is in full swing, and it can get three naps on any campus.

Yale's victory against Sewanee was a triumph for "Eastern Football" in general.

It is unfair to charge that Yale Camp cannot stand anything in the line of a point ten miles off the Cape.

Eastern Teams Use Open Game

Forward Passes and Open Formations Featured Big Games Saturday—Yale's Defeat a Surprise

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The most advanced type of aerial football ever witnessed on eastern gridirons furnished a sensational climax in Saturday's games. Forward passes, lateral passes and field goals produced a series of startling upsets, unrequited on any one day in many years.

Yale eleven, believed by its adherents to be on the march for championship honors, fell before Washington and Princeton, an institution with an enrollment of 300 students.

All three touchdowns came directly as the result of forward passes or lateral passes. Harvard by a late minute rush in their game with Princeton, for a second time in a fortnight barely staved off defeat. Weaknesses in the defenses of Logan, Mahan, Pennock, Hardwick and other regulars, the Crimson was completely outplayed and but for several fumbles at critical moments would have been decisively beaten. Forward passes and field goals featured the game.

In defeating Dartmouth, Princeton showed the most versatile attack and defense of the day in the east. Here also forward passes and field goals figured prominently, although the Tigers showed they could smash through the line and skirt the ends when necessary.

For a second time this season a western eleven was crushed by an eastern team, when Syracuse completely outplayed Michigan. This game was almost devoid of open play, the Wolverines presumably saving any sensational passing efforts for their game with Harvard next Saturday.

Forward passing was responsible for the single touchdown by which Pennsylvania defeated Carle.

Donald Fraser Eleven Loses

Dartmouth school team, of Rome, vanquished the Donald Fraser eleven Saturday at Decatur by a score of 23 to 0. At no time was Donald Fraser in danger of scoring, and they could not withstand the Romans varied attack. Four touchdowns were made in the first quarter, after which Dartmouth scored a touchdown on the first play of the game and the other three came in rapid order.

This is the first game of the year in which Dartmouth has been badly crippled when she lost to Chattanooga (high school, 2 to 6, one week ago in Chattanooga).

Dartmouth plays Georgia Military academy on November 7 and a great deal of interest is being shown in the coming struggle.

GILBERT DAY IN NEW ORLEANS SUNDAY

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 25.—"Gilbert day" was observed here Sunday at the opening of the local winter baseball league in honor of Larry Gilbert, outfielder of the Boston National League club, who resides here. The player received numerous presents from local admirers, and Martin Hehrman, mayor of New Orleans, delivered an address on Gilbert's single in the third inning of the game brought in the run and won the contest by a score of 5 to 2.

However, the boys are going down to Nashville with full expectations of getting the verdict, and fired by their great showing last season when Vandy won by a single point they expect to come away victors. Tennessee has never won the S. I. A. A. championship, and this year they seem to carry the best chance they have ever had.

Not since 1909 have the Tennessee boys been so formidable on the gridiron, and no doubt that year has enthusiasm been so high. The team lost to Vanderbilt after one of the hardest games ever seen in Knoxville, and this defeat took the spirit out of the team. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTIONS.
Marshallville, Ga. I want to ask a special favor as you can give me the correct way. We expect to move to Marshallville, Ga. and establish a large nursery and truck farm. My wife has a pet cat that will scratch anyone who touches
it. I want to know if there is any way to get rid of this cat. I have heard of a medicine called "catnip" but I don't know if it will work. Please let me know how to make the catnip and if it will work.

ANSWER.
It would be best for you to ship
the cat by express. She can stand the journey. I have heard of a medicine called "catnip" but I don't know if it will work. Please let me know how to make the catnip and if it will work.
