

WILSON FOR PROBE PREPAREDNESS FOR WAR

President Favors Investigation, but Is Opposed to Plan for Commission

(By Associated Press.)—Washington, Dec. 8.—President Wilson today called to his favored the disclosure of all facts connected with the preparedness of the United States for national defense and declared that while the subject should be discussed as fully as possible, the question hinged on the method of investigation. The commission plan proposed by Representative Gardner he disapproves.

The president said he had no special knowledge of the existence of any lobby for stirring up military discussion, but he believed that there was such an organized effort. He declared his confidence in the military officials in opposition to any efforts to involve the United States in a military movement. The president refused to say whether he believed partnership entered into efforts to investigate the question because he thought partnership should not be mentioned by government officials in connection with a subject concerning foreign relations.

Progress of an inquiry in congress into the nation's military preparedness appeared bright today. The question was to be brought up in the senate in Senator Lodge's resolution calling for investigation by a national security commission. The senator had given notice of his intention to call up his resolution today. A similar resolution introduced by Representative Gardner is pending in the house and he has announced he would press it for passage. In addition, several other bills and resolutions have been introduced.

The event of the investigation is ordered, it was believed today it would be undertaken by the military and naval committees of congress rather than by a national security commission. President Wilson's opposition to an inquiry by such a commission on the ground that it would be an interference with the handling of a question which might create very unfavorable international impressions, it is thought, will have considerable weight in congress in determining whether the investigation is provided for, shall be conducted. The president is known to favor inquiry by the regular congressional committees.

Military and naval committees of congress now are confining their practical attention to an investigation into the subject in the frame of arms and munitions. At hearings before these committees high army and navy officers have given evidence in both arms of the service. Today Rear Admiral Fletcher and Fletcher were called before the house naval committee regarding the preparedness of the navy.

WHAT DYSPETICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, are also those of the digestive system. Therefore, dyspeptics should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is rich in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste, and as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve elements, and which are usually so, are unsatisfactory and lacking in the vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starch, sweet or fatty foods, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on a diet of fruit, I would suggest that they should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of malted magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Malted magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the cause of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than any other remedy. I believe in the medicinal value of malted magnesia, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of doing so. I have treated stomachs with drugs instead of food, and at the end of the day I have found that a little malted magnesia from time to time, with a little water, will take the place of any food, and if it is not right." ## AMERICAN RED CROSS TO EXTEND WORK IN EUROPE

German Medical Authorities Have Greatest Confidence in American Surgeons

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)—Glasgow, Scotland, Nov. 18.—(The Glasgow Herald.)—An extension of activities is contemplated for the American Red Cross hospital detachments assigned to Germany and now located at Gliwicz and Cosel. In this extreme southeastern tip of Silesia, only a few miles from the Russian and Austrian frontiers. The American surgeons and nurses have stood the first month's test so well that the German medical authorities have the greatest confidence in their skill and devotion. They have assigned to the American hospitals only serious and delicate cases among the wounded reaching the two towns from the Polish battlefields.

The unit at Gliwicz, under command of Dr. Charles H. Sanders, of Washington, already has taken over, in addition to the emergency hospital in the city, a private clinic, with accommodations for more than 100 patients. It is the request of the German Red Cross for three additional American surgeons is granted that they be given entire charge of the large city hospital with 200 beds. Dr. John P. Spearman, of Baltimore, assigned to this unit, has been called upon frequently to operate in other hospitals in Gliwicz, particularly in cases requiring delicate operations, his specialty.

The second unit, under Dr. R. F. Brady, of Norway, Me., has charge of the large garrison hospital at Cosel, a quaint old fortress town, whose ramparts are now leveled. The town, with a population of barely 700, provides accommodations for 1,200 wounded. A new hospital with 150 beds is about to be opened there and the work of other beds will be entrusted to Dr. John Lancer, of New York, and a German assistant, Dr. H. H. Newman, of Knoxville, Tenn., attached to this unit. It is acting as general consulting surgeons in cases requiring delicate operations in Cosel and this time is largely occupied with operations in other hospitals.

Foreign hospital detachments by rule of the German government are not assigned to the front as the front is brought as near the front as possible under this regulation. Gliwicz is only fifteen miles from the Russian frontier and the roar of cannon is occasionally heard in the streets. Cosel is twenty-five miles further east, but also receives its wounded from the front. Most of the cases cared for in both places are of the seriously wounded, those able to bear longer transportation being sent by hospital train direct to the interior.

PORTUGAL TO SEND MORE TROOPS TO WEST AFRICA

Germany Is Said to Have Armed Many Portuguese African Natives

(By Associated Press.)—Lisbon, Nov. 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The government is preparing to send 5,000 more troops to Angola, Portuguese West Africa. Two thousand men were sent in September, 500 marines in October, and 1,000 more are being fitted out for departure this month.

It appears Germany has armed great numbers of Portuguese African natives which are commanded by German officers. The prevailing view in Portugal appears to be that the most useful war in Africa can take in the war is in Africa. The British to carry the war into the German African colonies.

The question has got into politics here. The Royalists are accused of being pro-German and intriguing to prevent Portugal taking an energetic part in the war.

A German steamer lying here tried to slip out of the bay recently but was caught and brought back by a Portuguese warship.

FLEETS AMERICAN WATERS ARE DISCUSSED

Pan-American Governing Board Considers Asking for Their Withdrawal

(By Associated Press.)—WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Proposed negotiations with belligerent powers of Europe for withdrawal of their warships from waters near the shores of American republics were before the governing board of the Pan-American union today for discussion, with a view to bringing about union of action on the part of the interested nations. Secretary Bryan, of the state department, ex-officio chairman of the board, had called the meeting so various suggestions advanced must be submitted to the diplomatic representatives of all the republics of this hemisphere.

It was expected that any action taken by the board would be of an advisory character, and that following the meeting a commission probably would be appointed to work out a plan for the solution of the problem.

Even though the United States should not join in any step finally taken, it is thought here that Argentina, Brazil and Chile undoubtedly will address the European powers, urging that they remove their warships from South American waters and thereby eliminate a constant source of possible trouble.

(By Associated Press.)—GENOA, Dec. 7.—(Via Rome.)—The American Christmas ship, Jason, which arrived here today with gifts for the war orphans of Austria and Germany, was stopped by three warships while on her way to this port from Marseilles. The warships, as soon as they learned the character of the vessel and her cargo, immediately drew off but not before the officers had wished God-speed to the Jason and her mission.

When Commander Courtney and other officials from the Jason came ashore they were welcomed at their hotel by the representative of the German government, who officially welcomed them and their gifts. The German delegation consisted of Baron Adolph Lutz, chairman of the king of Bavaria, Gottlieb Kreis, councillor of the ministry of foreign affairs, Dr. Ferdinand May, councillor of the government of Munich, and Franz von Hert, German consul general at Genoa. The delegation was accompanied by Baron Miste, the Austrian consul, who explained the mission of the people of Germany, expressed gratitude for the kindly thought of the children of America, whose gifts, he said, were deeply appreciated.

The German government was designated by the Berlin government as the official representative of the central committee of the Red Cross. Baron Lutz, speaking in the name of the German government, people of Germany, expressed gratitude for the kindly thought of the children of America, whose gifts, he said, were deeply appreciated.

here and there, a ship of war is hidden to carry it or some wandering ray displays it, would take a long time to get to the bottom of the matter. It is not only the ships of war, but the ships of commerce, the ships of industry, the ships of agriculture, the ships of commerce, the ships of industry, the ships of agriculture.

them to see. This is a matter which, as I have said, seems small, but is in reality very great. Its importance has only to be looked into to be appreciated.

Another topic I shall take leave to mention goes deeper into the principles of our national life and policy. It is the subject of national defense.

It cannot be discussed without first answering some very searching questions. It is said in some quarters that we are not prepared to meet the emergency. What is meant by being prepared? It is meant that we are not ready upon brief notice to put a nation in the field, a nation of men trained to arms. Of course we are not ready to do that, and we shall never be in time of peace so long as we retain our present political principles and institutions. And what is it that I suggest we should be prepared to do? To defend ourselves against attack? We have always found means to do that, and shall find them whenever it is necessary without calling our people away from their necessary tasks to time of peace.

Allow me to speak with great plainness and directness. I am not a militarist and to avoid my convictions with me. I have always tried to know what America is, what her people think, what they are, what they most cherish and what they most desire. In my own heart—some of the great convictions of our people—I believe that the people of this country are not prepared to meet the emergency. What is meant by being prepared? It is meant that we are not ready upon brief notice to put a nation in the field, a nation of men trained to arms. Of course we are not ready to do that, and we shall never be in time of peace so long as we retain our present political principles and institutions. And what is it that I suggest we should be prepared to do? To defend ourselves against attack? We have always found means to do that, and shall find them whenever it is necessary without calling our people away from their necessary tasks to time of peace.

We are at peace with the world. No one who speaks common sense can doubt that. But there is a danger of interpretation of reality can say that there is reason to fear that from any quarter the independence of the integrity of our territory is threatened. Dread of the power of any other nation we are incapable of. We are not jealous of rivalry in the fields of commerce or of industry. We are not jealous of the means to live our own lives as we will. We are not jealous of the means to live our own lives as we will.

From the first we have had a clear and settled policy with regard to military establishments. We never have had, and while we retain our present principles and ideals we never shall have, a standing army. We are not prepared to meet the emergency. What is meant by being prepared? It is meant that we are not ready upon brief notice to put a nation in the field, a nation of men trained to arms. Of course we are not ready to do that, and we shall never be in time of peace so long as we retain our present political principles and institutions. ## GAS COMPANY DECLARES TURNER AVOIDS FACTS

Says Statement Published Monday Was Unjust Attack on Company

Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, in city hall, there will be a second conference between members of council and representatives of the Atlanta Gas Light company in reference to a reduction of gas rates. At this meeting the company is expected to answer a list of questions which were submitted to it by the members of council who took part in the first conference, held last Friday night.

The gas company on Tuesday issued the following statement in reply to the statement of City Electrician R. C. Turner, which was published in The Journal Monday:

"We ask your brief indulgence for smart on a publication in Monday afternoon's issue of this paper that a public officer not only wears fittingly the dignity of your employment but also speaks authoritatively and with impartiality when he discusses matters of public interest. Your city electrician, Mr. R. C. Turner, by virtue of the office has conferred on him in more in the public eye and ear than if he were a private citizen.

"Conducting his periodic foray against this company and striving to induce prejudice and antagonism against it, Mr. Turner has presumed to address you with neither authority nor impartiality.

"He has procured the publication of a statement and specious arguments to give the public a false impression of the gas rates.

"He has set himself, an officer of all the city's interests alike, to prosecute as a public service and a tax-paying corporation, with no cleaner methods than those of scandal-mongering.

"He has said and written and published apparently anything that has occurred to him, without the slightest effort to support his assertions, and you have been patient and fair with us in our sincere effort to reveal the facts he misrepresented.

"In Monday's Journal a card signed by Mr. Turner was printed as news. No portion of it related to the matter of gas rates, and, therefore, ordinarily it would not have invited reply from us.

"But the concluding paragraph overstepped the line you yourselves have drawn in your statutes. Those paragraphs scolded us for our statements of the truth and for having bought newspaper space in which to present them fully to you. Then those paragraphs went further. Over the signature of Mr. Turner, they belied this company.

"The Atlanta Gas Light company is to incoherently thing to be accused wantonly of using and honorable men known among all of you, in the true composite of their personalities. It is open to and afraid of any honest, intelligent and veracious investigation of its methods and affairs.

"We have met Mr. Turner's errors with truth. That is the evidence on which his effort is to be judged. We met him with the newspaper. We met him

PLAN TO FIND WORK FOR CITY'S UNEMPLOYED

Special Council Committee Will Confer With Mayor Tuesday Afternoon

Following the plea of organized labor and the Evangelical Ministers' association that needed municipal work be done at once to give employment to men who have lost their jobs through the financial depression, a special committee of council will hold a conference with the mayor Tuesday afternoon.

Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of construction, is mapping out a plan to expend $11,000 of the unexpended portion of the last bond issue, and this will be presented to the committee.

The amount of the last bond issue has been held by the city to buy material for sewer construction, the work to be done by the county convicts, and the money is now unpaid because the county has not had enough convicts to put on the work.

The money will have to be expended on specified sewers, and Captain Clayton says that by waiting for the county convicts to do the work the sewers can be constructed at one-third the expense necessary if free labor is employed.

Moreover, by utilizing the bond money in this way work could be started that would give employment to 400 unskilled laborers. For instance, there is $25,000 unexpended in the Highland avenue sewer fund, on which the county is working, and Captain Clayton says that if free labor were on the other end of the sewer might be started.

The council committee appointed to devise means of putting the unemployed to work is composed of Captain Clayton, chairman; Humphrey, Hall and Smith and Alderman Kelley.

MRS. EUDORA WALTHALL BURIED IN WEST VIEW

The funeral of Mrs. Eudora Walthall, wife of W. P. Walthall, well known real estate dealer of Atlanta, who died suddenly Monday morning at her home, 229 Euclid avenue, was held at Sacred Heart church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The interment was in West View.

There, he sought a committee of council. We are meeting him there. He has threatened the committee with appeal to the railroad commission, and before council even has heard the conclusion he asserts the matter will be carried up to the state body. If it is, we will meet him again, there, with truth.

MOVE COTTON BALES AWAY FROM FIREWORKS

Fire Chief W. B. Cummings is urging the merchants who have bales of cotton placed on the streets, to remove them to some less exposed position before the Christmas holidays and the fireworks season.

Chief Cummings urges particularly that the bales of cotton be removed from the lobbies of hotels and stores and other places frequented by the public, as he says that there is a greater danger of a conflagration in those places.

This Is Fair Notice to All A Sale of 155 Suits

Of Such Worth, at Such Prices That We Can Call This the Best of the Season

This is our brief---

We have put on the racks one-hundred-fifty-five suits from our own stocks, and priced them in the way that Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. now and then do price things when it comes time to effect a clearaway.

If we are any judges of values, the clearaway will be quick and certain, and we will accomplish what we set about when we made these prices. And you who take this announcement to yourselves will profit richly.

For it is a far, far better thing we do than we have ever done---at this season. But the prices tell that.

$7.50--For $18.75 to $29.50 Suits. $11.50--For $25.00 to $35.00 Suits. $14.75--For $33.50 to $50.00 Suits

Long and medium long coats, plain and tunic skirts; gabardines, serges, broadcloths, cheviots, ripple cloths in navy, brown, green, black, a few in Copenhagen; from makers who for originality and smartness of styles keep the leadership among themselves.

But perhaps this, the judgment of the women of Atlanta tells better than anything else just what you may expect.---

When we had upwards of three hundred suits such as these we announced them at prices a third more than the prices above. These one hundred fifty-five are all that remain of that lot. Early choice will be best.

SHRINERS TO CELEBRATE IN AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary
Program One of Most Interesting in Years

The Atlanta auditorium has seen some brilliant and joyous parties in the few brief years of its existence, but none has been so gay and so well attended as the twenty-fifth anniversary of Yasar Temple, Ancient Noble Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

The great hall is elaborately decorated with emblems of the order and with bunting and American flags. The partners will wear full dress and fests and their ladies will be resplendent in evening gowns. The patrol of Yasar temple will be fitted out in their gorgeous dress uniforms. Two brass bands will furnish the music. And there will be an abundance of refreshments.

The formal program of the evening was as follows:
8:15 o'clock—Shriners and their ladies assemble.
Entrance of twenty-five survivors of the original 166 who organized Yasar temple, escorted by Yasar patrol and introduced by Past Potentate John A. Hyde.

Song by anniversary chorus.
Patriotic drill.
Police band.
Moving pictures of Shrine parade in Atlanta last May.

Dance.
Dance directed by Miss Ethel Moulton and Robert J. Ball, Jr., who will lead the dance.

Members of Yasar temple will be admitted on presentation of their 1914 card at the door. Visiting nobles are cordially invited to attend.

John A. Hyde, chairman of the glad committee, wants every member of this committee to be at the auditorium. Those who cannot attend should send a card to the chairman. The glad committee consists of the following: Fred J. Paxton, W. A. Foster, J. H. Van Dyke, R. N. Frazier, J. J. L. H. Duncan, Chris. Essig, Douglas Barnes, Ed C. Semans, Frank Omdell, J. I. He declined to give the church a definite answer, but officers of the institution, who are anxious for him to accept the call, are very optimistic and expect an affirmative answer from Dr. White some Sunday morning, when he promised to visit them his decision.

Calhoun St. School Is Robbed of Clock, B. I. and Graphophone

The pupils of Calhoun Street school did not march into the building Tuesday morning to the usual strains of "Tipperary," played on a graphophone. No school bell tolled the hour of 8:30, and no clock ticked in the eighth grade room.

For a burglar, or several burglars, entered the building Monday night and removed the graphophone, the bell and the clock, according to the police. The police think a wagon was used to haul away the loot; several neighbors think they remember hearing the bell ringing shortly late Monday night—this must have been when the thief was taking it down.

The burglars entered through a rear window. Monday night the police were told of a robbery in the home of Mrs. Joseph Kahn, Washington and Bass streets. Jewelry valued at $300 is said to have been stolen.

DR. F. C. McCONNELL IS COMING TO ATLANTA

Texas Minister Will Assume Pastorate of Druid Hills
Baptist Church in Jan.

When Dr. F. C. McConnell, pastor of the First Baptist church of Waco, Tex., arrives here in January to take the pastorate of the Druid Hills Baptist church, which he has accepted, Atlanta will greet one of the most prominent Baptist ministers in the entire south.

Added to that, Atlanta will greet a native Georgian, for Dr. McConnell was born in the mountains of north Georgia and was educated at Hiram College and Mercer university at Macon.

News that he had suddenly decided to come to Atlanta was received Monday in the following telegram to W. D. Greene, clerk of the Druid Hills church: "Rejoice that he has come. Church unanimously declined to accept resignation. Will get it settled soon. I, my purpose to reach you January 1. F. C. McConnell."

In reaching this decision, Dr. McConnell is leaving the second largest Baptist church in Texas for one not recently organized and not yet firmly established, but with his rare vigor, prestige and magnetism, it is expected he will build it into a flourishing institution before he has been here long.

He has served some of the leading

Mrs. Nellie Peter Black, honorary president of the Free Kindergarten association of Atlanta, has written the following Christmas appeal and in her interesting sketch outlines the meaning of the Christmas letter which is issued each year by the association to further the beautiful work being done among the little children of the city. Mrs. Black says:

Ever since the Free Kindergarten association began its work in 1895 Atlanta has generously responded to every appeal made to assist in meeting the expense account. Christmas has been the season for the annual letters from the children asking for help and other associations have recognized this to be the custom and has not interfered with their plan for raising money.

Fantastic, Not to Say Freakish, Are the Latest Millinery Fancies

One of fashion's wildest whims this season is the "monkey cap," that is, the cap trimmed with monkey fur, and it makes more or less of a "monkey" of the girl who wears it. The cap can fit as close to the head as a high-crown, and it is trimmed with a long fringe of black monkey fur. Two stiff black wings at the right side give it the final barbaric touch. Really, fantastic, though more becoming to the "teetlebees" than a tall pointed hat, which is usually worn with sport coats or the ever popular Baltimore. Can.

Christmas Appeal for the Free Kindergarten School

Mrs. Nellie Peter Black, honorary president of the Free Kindergarten association of Atlanta, has written the following Christmas appeal and in her interesting sketch outlines the meaning of the Christmas letter which is issued each year by the association to further the beautiful work being done among the little children of the city. Mrs. Black says:

Ever since the Free Kindergarten association began its work in 1895 Atlanta has generously responded to every appeal made to assist in meeting the expense account. Christmas has been the season for the annual letters from the children asking for help and other associations have recognized this to be the custom and has not interfered with their plan for raising money.

Boxing Jimmy Pappas, Greek Bantam, Never Put Out

Boxer Who Meets Kid Herman, King of Southern Bantams, Has Yet to Take Count—Has Given Away Weight in Every Local Bout

Jimmy Pappas, the great little Greek bantam, who battles Kid Herman, the southern champion from New Orleans, at the Bijou theatre Tuesday night, has never been knocked out.

Pappas has had nearly 100 fights during his career, but he has still to be defeated. In all these fights Jimmy has only met two boys of weight. On nearly every occasion he has been asked to meet boys from ten to fifteen pounds over his own pounds.

Moore, of Memphis, and Tim Callahan, of Savannah, are the only local boys who have fought with him. In his bouts in Atlanta Jimmy won't even extend Goodwin for a baby in his hands.

Still this same Goodwin boy went ten rounds with Young Sinner and was not able to last. Underwood outwitted Jimmy fully fifteen rounds. He proved easier than Goodwin. Jimmy stopped him in three rounds in one bout and in eight rounds in the next. In the bout that lasted eight rounds each session was cut to two minutes.

Just what Pappas will be able to do with this Herman boy is hard to tell at this time. Herman is a wonderful ring general and he will be watching Pappas at all times. It may be easy to beat the second-rounders around the country, but when a fellow is pitted against a scrapper of Herman's class he must have something to win. As one who can go through such boys as Kid Williams, Eddie Campbell, Johnny Frazee, Young Sinner and Eddie Coulson must.

Tuesday night's bout looks to be by far the closest little ring engagement offered fans here in some time. The boys appear evenly matched and will enter the ring at 11 o'clock. The bout is scheduled to last eight rounds.

Joe Dunn Will Manage Dallas. Joe Dunn, who was an Atlanta uniform last season will assume a managerial role when the call to arms is sounded again. Joe Dunn who has the brunt of the catching has come to terms with the Dallas club and has accepted the position.

In other words, in Pappas' case the executive committee was serving a court of inquiry, trial court and court of appeal. Surely if there was any feeling or sentiment in the meeting that he should be reinstated he was entitled to the full benefit thereof, since he had all along denied the facts on which he was originally disqualified.

Without taking up the facts which led to his original disqualification, a few facts concerning his career since he was ruled out may be cited in support of his petition for reinstatement.

The primary object of the association is to keep college athletes free of professional athletics, wherever the fact can be established that a man has entered an institution primarily for the purpose of playing on a team and receiving compensation for his services.

Press was ruled out more than a year ago. Since he was put under the ban he has been regularly in attendance at school, and his instructors are authority for the statement that he keeps up his class room at all times, and is in fact one of the best students in school.

Furthermore, he has turned out, for every branch of sport indulged in by his college, playing with the scrub team, despite the fact that he knew he would not play with the regular team. He did this through basketball, track work, and basketball last year, and again this fall he played football throughout, though allowed to play in only one or two games with non-I. A. A. teams.

Now, if Press had been what is commonly termed a "ringer" he would have lost no time in sticking around at Tech where he knew he could not play on any of the teams. Had he entered the institution on a financial inducement he would doubtless have been cut off by the party supplying the funds. His next move would have been to enter some other institution, where he would have been allowed to play, and where he would have received the desired financial compensation. This would surely have been his course, if he had been of the regular finger type.

His course since he has been disbarred most certainly argues in his favor for a reinstatement. He denies the facts which led to his original ruling out. Under these circumstances, the executive committee of the association should certainly give him a fair and impartial hearing at their annual meeting, even though his college is no longer a member thereof.

American, National and International League Representatives Gathered in New York Awaiting Notice to Begin Framing War Measures

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Baseball moguls are represented in New York today by the American, National and International League representatives. They are waiting for notice to begin framing war measures.

At a dinner given last night at the Waldorf, the moguls were waiting for notice to begin framing war measures.

The meeting of the national league was to open the season of the year. The national league board of directors met for this afternoon session in the annual meeting. The presence of John Johnson and a number of the American league representatives was reported to the press.

Questions involving the transfer of Jersey City and Baltimore clubs to the American league were discussed. The club owners are expected to be back in two or three days.

Braves Drop Damage Suit. BALTIMORE, Dec. 8.—The Boston National League baseball club withdrew its suit for conspiracy in the case of pitcher Jack Quinn, in the United States district court, here Monday.

The suit was for $25,000 and was instituted against the Federal league, the Baltimore Federal league club, Jack Quinn, A. Gilmore, Edward Hanlon, Otto Knabe and John Ficus, who is the real owner of the club.

The council for the plaintiff stated in court that the suit was realized in the loss of Quinn, inasmuch as Quinn was the star of the team and the greatest possible honors in the baseball world.

Whether Press should have been ruled out or not to begin with is a matter of debate, and we have no intention of discussing the proposition in this connection. However, it is certain that he was entitled to a full hearing, instead of being ruled out without any hearing.

Baseball Moguls Resting on Arms Ready for Fight

American, National and International League Representatives Gathered in New York Awaiting Notice to Begin Framing War Measures

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Baseball moguls are represented in New York today by the American, National and International League representatives. They are waiting for notice to begin framing war measures.

At a dinner given last night at the Waldorf, the moguls were waiting for notice to begin framing war measures.

The meeting of the national league was to open the season of the year. The national league board of directors met for this afternoon session in the annual meeting. The presence of John Johnson and a number of the American league representatives was reported to the press.

Questions involving the transfer of Jersey City and Baltimore clubs to the American league were discussed. The club owners are expected to be back in two or three days.

Braves Drop Damage Suit. BALTIMORE, Dec. 8.—The Boston National League baseball club withdrew its suit for conspiracy in the case of pitcher Jack Quinn, in the United States district court, here Monday.

The suit was for $25,000 and was instituted against the Federal league, the Baltimore Federal league club, Jack Quinn, A. Gilmore, Edward Hanlon, Otto Knabe and John Ficus, who is the real owner of the club.

The council for the plaintiff stated in court that the suit was realized in the loss of Quinn, inasmuch as Quinn was the star of the team and the greatest possible honors in the baseball world.

Whether Press should have been ruled out or not to begin with is a matter of debate, and we have no intention of discussing the proposition in this connection. However, it is certain that he was entitled to a full hearing, instead of being ruled out without any hearing.

For the purpose of the meeting of last year, the committee was serving a court of inquiry, trial court and court of appeal. Surely if there was any feeling or sentiment in the meeting that he should be reinstated he was entitled to the full benefit thereof, since he had all along denied the facts on which he was originally disqualified.

Without taking up the facts which led to his original disqualification, a few facts concerning his career since he was ruled out may be cited in support of his petition for reinstatement.

The primary object of the association is to keep college athletes free of professional athletics, wherever the fact can be established that a man has entered an institution primarily for the purpose of playing on a team and receiving compensation for his services.

Press was ruled out more than a year ago. Since he was put under the ban he has been regularly in attendance at school, and his instructors are authority for the statement that he keeps up his class room at all times, and is in fact one of the best students in school.

Furthermore, he has turned out, for every branch of sport indulged in by his college, playing with the scrub team, despite the fact that he knew he would not play with the regular team. He did this through basketball, track work, and basketball last year, and again this fall he played football throughout, though allowed to play in only one or two games with non-I. A. A. teams.

Now, if Press had been what is commonly termed a "ringer" he would have lost no time in sticking around at Tech where he knew he could not play on any of the teams. Had he entered the institution on a financial inducement he would doubtless have been cut off by the party supplying the funds. His next move would have been to enter some other institution, where he would have been allowed to play, and where he would have received the desired financial compensation. This would surely have been his course, if he had been of the regular finger type.

His course since he has been disbarred most certainly argues in his favor for a reinstatement. He denies the facts which led to his original ruling out. Under these circumstances, the executive committee of the association should certainly give him a fair and impartial hearing at their annual meeting, even though his college is no longer a member thereof.

Mrs. Paine Wins Mandot Draws Golfing Title With Kilbane

Defeats Mrs. A. V. Gude, Jr., in Final Match of First Flight at Druid Hills

By defeating Mrs. A. V. Gude, Jr., Mrs. Paine won for herself the title of the champion woman golfer of Atlanta. In addition to the title, Mrs. Paine will be awarded the handsome trophy offered for the winner of the first flight tournament which has just come to a close.

The match was a brilliant affair and the loser put up a game battle. At the turn on the first nine holes, Mrs. Paine was four up, but Mrs. Gude cut this lead down, and the two were tied for the sixteenth hole. Mrs. Paine won the match.

Mrs. Paine won the second flight cup, when Mrs. Alexander defeated her. Miss Dorothy Harman won the third flight cup. She defeated Miss Margaret Lewis, 5/3 in eighteen holes. Mrs. J. E. Allen won the fourth flight cup. She defeated Mrs. J. W. Mason for the first flight, when she beat Mrs. Guy Woodford 3/1. Mrs. G. A. Howell defeated Mrs. J. W. Mason for the second flight. Miss Moberly defeated Mrs. J. W. Mason for the third flight. This was a very close match and lasted 19 holes. The match was even when the pair reached 18 holes, the 19th was won by Mrs. Moberly.

The cups will be presented Saturday afternoon at the weekly tea tournament. The tournament has proven very successful, and the club expects to repeat it next year. It will doubtless be made an annual affair.

Macon Player Hurt. CLARKSVILLE, Ark., Dec. 8.—Albert Nashman, a member of the Macon, Ga. team of the South Atlantic league, was seriously injured here Monday when he fell from a tree while gathering medicine. Physicians declare his condition critical.

Balfords Get Bender. BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 8.—Chief forester Balfords and his wife, the Philadelphia Athletics, has signed a two-year contract to play with the Baltimore Orioles. It was officially announced Monday.

New Orleans Pug Boxes Twelve Rounds With King of Featherweights No Decision

AKRON, Ohio, Dec. 8.—Joseph Mandot, of New Orleans, a lightweight, and King of Featherweights, fought a 12-round match here last night. The bout was a clever one and while no decision was given, the newspaper writers said it was even.

Mandot was unmarked at the end of the fight. In the first two rounds King of Featherweights was on the edge, but in the eighth, Mandot landed a knock-out blow. King of Featherweights recovered a bad cut over the right eye and his face was bloody until the end of the fight.

The last two rounds were fast, but King of Featherweights often went wild. Thirteenth was rough. Both men fell to the floor several times. The fight appeared rougher at the end of the bout.

Not once during the fight did Mandot land his famous right swing, although he tried repeatedly.

REVIVALIST CHAPMAN MAY COME TO ATLANTA

Evangelical Ministers' Association Want Him to Hold Services Here

Having failed to persuade Billy Sunday to hold a revival in Atlanta, members of the Evangelical Ministers' association are trying to get Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, revivalist famous the country over, to conduct meetings here early next spring.

Billy Sunday's refusal was announced by the committee in charge before the ministers at Monday's meeting, and it was stated that Dr. Chapman could be secured from February 15 to March 15.

The committee will investigate and report further.

"We are now at a crucial point," said Dr. Richard Orme Pines, speaking in favor of the revival, "if we can prevent the advent of the Lord Jesus Christ at the same time we are giving material help to the unemployed and poor, it will be a great thing for the church."

Strange Beast Slain Near City; Here's How It Looks--What Is It?

A strange and sinister beast of an unknown variety has been tracked to its lair on the outskirts of Atlanta, brought to bay by the hunt dogs of W. R. Mitchell, masterman for the Georgia Railway and Power company, and dispatched to the happy hunting grounds with a bullet through the eye.

It was killed Tuesday morning by Mr. Mitchell in the backyard of his home, 27 Flora avenue, Edgewood, where it was running about in mysterious circles. So far, so good, but the question remains: What is it?

It is about the size of a pig, with fur like a mink's, face like a possum, eyes like a bear, tail crossed between the legs of a rascal and the broad paddle of a beaver, claws of an anteater, and ears like the red fox. It is black with white stripes behind the ears.

Mr. Mitchell brought his prey to the Johnson office, where he was told it was something of a beast to a woman. The copy boy was sure it was a polar bear.

Mr. Mitchell pointed out that it did not perform the odorous functions of a polar bear.

The magazine printer from Clariville voted it was a mink. But the disbeliever located the mink in the middle of the frozen north.

The sporting editor, called on for his opinion, gave one glance and asserted with scorn that it was a civet. As no one knew what a civet was, he was about to get away with it, until a handsome corpulent defined civet as "a penicillin of carnivorous animal native to the warm regions of Asia and Africa which yields civet, which, when largely diluted with oil or other materials, becomes an agreeable perfume."

The sporting editor retired.

Mr. Mitchell finally sought Dan Carey, manager of police, at city hall. Mr. Carey said he would have to analyze

Dorsey appears not to be disturbed by the probable move to the Federal detention, and when told of the alleged plan to appeal on the ground of influence, he smilingly quoted the rhyme about the king of France marching his 50,000 men up the hill and then marching down the hill again.

Further, the rhyme he refused to tell. However, he has not changed his original plan to present to Judge Ben H. Hill on Wednesday morning a writ of habeas corpus on which Frank will be arraigned probably Thursday or Friday, and the date for the execution of his sentence again fixed.
